

Be Yours 461

Chapter 461 You Ruined Me

After hearing what Alec said, Jenny was surprised. She didn't expect that Alec had already seen a psychiatrist. While feeling relieved, she still had some worries. Since a psychiatrist was already involved, why was Alec still in his current state?

Jenny didn't know much about psychology, so she didn't comment much. "That's good," she said. She didn't insist on Alec seeing the psychiatrist she recommended. She believed things would eventually get better as long as he continued to see a doctor. The two didn't discuss the matter any further. After dinner, Jenny got up to clean the dishes and left Alec's place after washing them.

Jenny was just about to take a shower and call it a day when she got home, but someone knocked on her door loudly. Before she could even ask who was there, a drunken voice sounded from outside.

"Jenny! Open the door! You've ruined everything for me. Are you happy now? I got divorced from Sam because of you. I would've been Alec's wife if it weren't for you. I wouldn't have ended up in this miserable state!"

and she was making quite the ruckus. If this went on, Jenny's neighbors would surely complain. Thinking of that, Jenny reluctantly opened the door. She could immediately smell the alcohol on Yvonne, which caused her to frown and think, "My unit, Alec also heard Yvonne's voice. He opened his door with a grim expression. Yvonne looked at Jenny, then at Alec, and tearfully walked toward him, saying, her she would submit to fate and become poor. She believed that with Alec's help, she could be successful no matter of patience when it came to dealing with and didn't answer.

you mercy. Otherwise, based on what you did to Jenny, you would've died many times over," Alec but shiver. "Have you forgotten about the days when you were struggling? I was the one who was with you, not Jenny or anyone else. It was me! Why do you think I had to deal with Jenny? It's all because

Chapter 462 You'll Face Retribution

Yvonne couldn't understand what Jenny had pointed out. Even if she did, she adamantly refused to accept it as the truth.

"Do you think you've won? Do you think Alec really loves you that much?" Yvonne asked. She then scoffed, "His heart belongs to Quinn, and you're just a substitute!"

Alec's expression changed in an instant. He'd been wondering who would've told Jenny about Quinn, but now it seemed Yvonne played a part in it.

"Shut up!" Alec bellowed as he moved toward Yvonne.

"What are you doing? Do you intend to kill me so that I'll be silenced?" Yvonne asked and laughed at her own question. She never imagined that she and Alec would face off like this one day.

Alec was now standing in front of Yvonne, ready to strike, but Jenny stepped forward and stopped him.

is no victory or defeat. I rely on myself. I don't care about the relationship between Alec and Quinn, and I'm not afraid of losing Alec as well. Yvonne, do you understand?"

two feet, so she wasn't could do it either. "Easy for you to say. Are you sure you got to where you are today without Alec's help?" Yvonne sneered, not convinced by Jenny's words at all. Jenny was about to speak, but Yvonne interrupted her, "The Dickmans were taken over because Alec intervened. It wouldn't have happened if he didn't stop the Blooms. Wasn't your clothing design company used to be mine? Can you really say that your she had hit Jenny where it hurt with her sharp words. However, Jenny didn't care, nor was she angry. "Alec's collaboration with my elder brother has nothing to do with me. I got the company..." She paused, then smiled helplessly. "Why am I telling you all this? You have it in your mind that I relied on Alec to get to where I am. No was she doing something so meaningless?

mind her. If she

go

had to make sure Jenny was back in her unit safely before he could relax. Jenny door closed, Alec's gentle demeanor from just a second ago vanished completely. His face turned cold and grim as he reply, but in her heart, she truth. Even without Jenny, I

Chapter 463 Things Won't End Well for Them

No one would take what she said seriously. Alec didn't, and not even Yvonne herself. When she came to think of it, what kind of retribution would really lead someone like Alec to his doom?

She left the Perry Residence and stood on the side of the road, not knowing where she could go or who she could turn to. The Dickmans were gone, and she'd divorced Sam. The world was such a big place, but there was no place for her.

"How ridiculous!" Yvonne sneered inwardly.

She was once the proud young lady of the Dickman family. She was at the top of the world, yet, she fell from grace because she fell for Alec. Standing under the streetlamp, she looked around in confusion. In her drunkenness, she was a little unsteady on her feet. She held on to the pole, and it was unclear what she was thinking.

Following a loud rumble, several motorcycles stopped in front of her. Someone got off one of them and approached her.

“Hey, pretty. You look like you need a place to crash. Come on, I’ll take you in.”

of her. His striking red hair failed to leave a good first impression on quite fierce.

“Get lost!”

forward to grab her. He didn’t pull Yvonne onto his motorcycle but to an unoccupied alley not far away. Soon, Yvonne’s cries could be heard coming from the alley, accompanied by the laughter of the gangsters, who sounded up and couldn’t see anything. She deduced that something must have happened. Jenny didn’t think too much about it and turned, walking back to her have been waiting for her for some time. Jenny saw him as soon as for me?” Jenny couldn’t help but be an incident downstairs. I’m concerned didn’t really care about what had happened, but he’d heard a little about it. Word got around that a woman was sexually assaulted by gangsters. Alec was naturally worried for Jenny when such to be so nervous. You know what I’m capable of.” Jenny was think the same. “How many times has it been? Have you not learned your lesson

Chapter 464 You Think Too Highly of Me

Jenny had just arrived at her office and hadn’t had a chance to do her rounds when someone knocked on her door. She was quite surprised to see Natalia when she opened it.

“Dr. Walter,” Natalia said, forcing a smile as she walked in. She didn’t know how to face Jenny, but for the sake of her grandfather, she had to swallow her embarrassment.

Jenny sat on her chair and watched as Natalia approached her. “Do you need something, Miss Cruz?” she asked.

Natalia nodded. “Yes,” she said, taking a seat in front of Jenny. Jenny waited for her to speak. However, Natalia fell silent, seemingly unsure of how to begin. She felt embarrassed, especially because she and Alec had pretended to be a couple.

“Dr. Walter, have you and Alec gotten back together?” she finally asked.

some time, so she assumed Alec must have explained everything to Jenny by then. Jenny frowned upon hearing that.

so pardon me for not entertaining such a very awkward, but she had to press on. "I'm sorry, that's not what I'm here to talk about. I actually get to

now. "I actually came to request you to perform surgery on my grandfather in Bardoff City," she said and handed Jenny her grandfather's medical to take it from her. She looked at Natalia, feeling amused and helpless at the same time. "Miss Cruz, the medical skills of the famous doctors in Bardoff City are no worse is beyond cure and surgery would be meaningless, but I can't thought of her grandfather's passing. Even if there was only a small glimmer of hope, she was determined to try her best. Jenny looked at Natalia in a new light after hearing her words. She took the medical records and quickly read through them; her Cruz, your grandfather's condition indeed doesn't require surgery."

Chapter 465 No Surrender

To Natalia, Jenny was officially her savior by saying those words. Having a choice was good news to her; it was worrisome if there wasn't any choice available at all.

"Your grandfather's condition is indeed very serious, and you know this yourself," Jenny said calmly as she looked at Natalia. Upon seeing her nod, she continued, "The only way to extend his lifespan would be through surgery."

Hearing her words, Natalia's eyes widened in disbelief. "Is surgery still possible? The doctors in Bardoff City don't recommend going for surgery."

"While surgery is possible, the risk is extremely high. What they said was not entirely wrong."

Not everyone was willing to take risks, especially when it concerned the head of the Cruz family. No one could bear the responsibility if he were to die by their hands.

as there's a chance, I won't give up," Natalia said firmly without any could relate to her desire to save her grandfather. Nevertheless, she still reminded Natalia of the risks. "I have to make it clear that although surgery is possible, the chances of your grandfather not if it really..." She gritted her teeth and made her final decision. "Whatever the sure your parents won't object?"

to be delayed because of opposition coming from Natalia's parents. If that happened, it would complicate things, and it would

it. If it meant saving her grandfather, everything else didn't matter. "When can we perform the surgery?" My wanted the surgery to be done as soon as possible, fearing that further delay would make things hospitals and get them to work together. Both hospitals will have to collaborate so that I can perform the surgery in grandfather but couldn't do so recklessly. They would still need to arrange as soon as possible." Natalia nodded. At this office, she stopped at the doorway. "Dr. Walter, Alec and I were only pretending to be in a relationship and

Chapter 466 Jonathan's Sister

Suddenly, she thought of something, and a hint of a smile appeared on her gloomy face. However, her smile was somewhat chilling to look at. She got up from the hospital bed, walked out of the ward, and headed straight to the nurse's station.

"Excuse me, can you tell me which ward Alicia Flynn is staying in?" she asked the nurse at the station with a smile. Her injured face made her look particularly pitiful.

The nurses all knew why she was admitted to the hospital, and they couldn't help but feel a little sympathetic toward her. "She's in Room 308 on the third floor."

"Okay, thank you," Yvonne said. She then turned and headed toward the third floor.

Alicia was Jonathan's younger sister. When Jonathan had promised to help Yvonne deal with Jenny, his condition was that she would fork out the money to save Alicia's life. At that time, she had only paid a deposit. Truth be told, she wasn't even sure if Alicia was still alive.

Since she was still in the hospital, it meant that she was alive. If that was the case, Yvonne naturally had to go see her. After all, Jonathan lost his life because of Jenny. As his sister, Alicia would want to avenge him.

Room 308 on the third floor, she pushed open the door and saw Alicia leaning feeling somewhat wary about the person who just walked to her. "You're Jonathan's sister, right?"

he? Why hasn't her the moment she woke up. However, she'd been awake for some time, and Jonathan hadn't come come and see you." Yvonne pretended to be sad and my brother?" Yvonne sighed, seemingly unsure of what to say. It made Alicia for your treatment?" Yvonne asked tentatively, afraid of revealing too head and answered, "I don't know.

correct. It was indeed your brother's money." Yvonne replied, breathing a sigh of

The deposit she'd given was definitely not enough. As for the rest long as Alicia didn't know the source as well, she could perfect her

Chapter 467 You're Responsible Too

Yvonne was clever, as not everything she'd told Alicia was fake. For example, the fact that she'd hired Jonathan and that Jonathan had committed suicide were all true. Even if Alicia looked into it later, she would find things were as she said.

"My brother has committed suicide?" Alicia asked wordlessly.

She was in shock for quite some time as she looked at Yvonne incredulously. The truth was too much for her to bear. The next second, she started shouting at Yvonne angrily, "Don't talk nonsense here. My brother wouldn't have committed suicide!"

He was such a capable person. How would he be driven to take his own life?

"Don't get too worked up. It's not good for your recovery." Yvonne pretended to give her caring words of advice before she continued, "I know you'll find all this hard to accept, but it's the truth. If you don't believe me, you can investigate it after you leave the hospital."

Jonathan's death was related to Jenny anyway. She had sent him to prison, and she was also the one who wanted to sue Jonathan. As to why Jonathan committed suicide, nobody knew. Perhaps he'd really found it unacceptable to be sentenced to life in prison.

a hurry. In any case, judging from the that person you mentioned?" After a while, Alicia asked through gritted teeth as she came answer her question directly but spoke up with fear, "She is powerful and influential in Parrington, and you're no match for her. Give up your thoughts of revenge. Go far away after name!" Alicia was unwilling to give up. How could she just let it go when her brother had died

She's a doctor working at a hospital, but she has a good relationship with Alec Faust. You're Alicia gritted her teeth. She silently swore in her heart, do you plan to do?" Yvonne was curious. She was afraid that Alicia would fail to cause Jenny any harm at all. If that happened, everything she'd done do, so she couldn't a solution before coming to her. She cautiously asked, "I remember Jonathan mentioning that he had a very mentor..." Alicia fell deep into thought and nodded after a while. "I've met him a few times. He's this situation you have to ask your brother's mentor for help. After all, your brother was his

Chapter 468 I'm Around

Alicia looked at Yvonne's wounded face and gathered that she wasn't having a good time either. At that moment, she didn't know what to do with her.

"You can leave now and don't show up in front of me again. I'll investigate what you just said. If you were one bit untruthful, I wouldn't let it slide." Alicia warned.

"Little girl, what made you think you have what it takes to come after me? Who do you think you are?" she sarcastically asked internally, thinking people these days like to talk big. If it weren't for the fact that Jonathan had a mentor that might be of use, she wouldn't bother coming to see someone as useless as Alicia.

At the hospital, after a busy day, Jenny was about to leave work when Alec appeared in her office.

"Weren't we supposed to see Grandpa tonight? Haven't you finished your work?" Alec asked, showing some concern.

Jenny finished organizing the patient files and got up from her chair. "I'm done. Let's go."

"Okay."

walked out of the office and out of the hospital, many people saw and Mr. Faust made up with each other?" they asked. They all knew about Jenny and Alec's breakup and that Alec was now with Natalia. They even felt sorry for Jenny, as she was missing out on such a good man like Alec. They assumed Alec was a good man because it was rare for someone of his status to show know." Morgan shook her head. She really only is she skilled in medicine, but she also found a good man like Mr. Faust," someone sighed with opinion, Jenny eyes, Dr. Walter is the best person in the didn't continue the conversation with Old Mansion. On their way there, Jenny pondered how to get Old Mr. Faust to tell her the truth later. Asking him straight wouldn't work, so she had to come up didn't know what she was thinking and was somewhat worried. "Mortimer is also at the Old Mansion. If you Mansion. Although Alec didn't like it, Mortimer was, after all, Old just pretend he doesn't exist." Knowing that Alec and Mortimer had

Chapter 469 Why Bother Asking Me

"Grandpa."

Mortimer ignored Jenny, and Jenny also couldn't be bothered to pay attention to him. She looked at the old man sitting nearby and walked toward him with a smile.

The old man nodded, smiling. "Jenny, it's been a long time since you've visited me."

“You know I’m busy. Please don’t be mad at me.” Jenny returned the smile. The two got along very well. An outsider would have thought that Jenny was still his granddaughter-in-law.

“I understand. Of course I’m not mad at you.” Old Mr. Faust wasn’t senile. He knew why Jenny hadn’t visited the Old Mansion better than anyone else.

As they spoke, Mortimer and Alec sat in the living room and said nothing. They just listened to Jenny and Old Mr. Faust’s conversation.

“Grandpa, shall we go to the study to talk?” After the pleasantries were exchanged, Jenny was ready to get to the point. She came with a purpose today.

“Okay.” He stood up and looked at Alec and Mortimer, who he could roughly guess. He wasn’t sure if Jenny would get the answers she wanted this time. When they reached the study, he

on the sofa and stand on ceremony and proceeded to sit facing him. “Grandpa, you can probably guess why I’m here, smiled at him, waiting for him to didn’t seem to have any intention of divulging anything. “Tell you what, Jenny? I’ve no idea what you’re talking

Old

“You really know how to

to Bardoff City a few days

his emotions were not exactly as calm we talked about some things,” Jenny continued, keeping her gaze on Old Mr. Faust’s face, not wanting to miss any reaction

“I heard

really,” Jenny

but he didn’t really seem sorry for

Chapter 470 No Wonder

Jenny felt that she got her work cut out for her. She wouldn’t be here testing the waters if she knew everything.

“Although I know everything, I still want to hear it directly from you. After all, I always thought you were genuinely kind to me.” She looked at Old Mr. Faust with a deep gaze.

He felt unsettled being looked at like that. At first, he’d arranged for Alec to marry Jenny with a specific purpose in mind. Later, even he couldn’t tell whether he wanted her to be his grandson’s spouse because of her identity or truly accepted her as his granddaughter-in-law.

Now, telling her these things seemed to be meaningless.

Old Mr. Faust sighed and didn't doubt what Jenny had said. "Jenny, since you put it that way, I won't deny it any longer. I did arrange for Alec to marry you because of your identity."

Jenny had an indescribable feeling in her heart, but she wasn't too sad. After all, this was something she'd expected.

influential, but they could also even be considered one in Parrington but compared to one of the Ten was shocked to hear that, but she didn't show the expression on her face.

I see," Jenny daughter of that family. That was an easy assumption to make since among the Ten a daughter. In view of that, how too many questions, but she didn't rush to ask them all at once. Instead, she slowly said, " Since I am the daughter of the Walters, why did I grow up in Orchid Village? You should know not too sure," Old Mr. Faust answered, shaking his head. Nevertheless, he still told Jenny what he knew, "I heard that when your father and mother were together, the Walters opposed it. They all thought your mother was unsuitable for their family, so when your mother was pregnant with you, she was attacked by people hired by the Walters. You almost asked, feeling that she was getting thought bringing you back to the