

Be Yours 501

Chapter 501 You Shouldn't Have Told Me

Jenny walked out of Walter Inc and sat in Alec's car. He was waiting for her downstairs. He had wanted to rush in to get her several times, but in the end, he had not. It wasn't because he was afraid of Walter Inc. It was because he was afraid of affecting Jenny's plans.

Thankfully, she was alright.

"How was the discussion?" Alec started the car, asking seemingly casually.

Jenny nodded, smiling. "It was alright. My plan worked."

Jenny succeeded at both obtaining the companies and moving into the Walters' home. Her trip was not wasted. Then, she looked at Alec in embarrassment. "I'm going to move into their house tonight. What are your plans after this? Are you going to stay in Bardoff City?"

feeling guilty. But there were some things that she just had to he said. "Faust Group's company is doing well here. I'm preparing to expand it while things city, after all. Developments would be better here."

to protect you in Bardoff City. Alec was confident that in a few years, he would make Faust Group a prominent existence that was moved. She knew that Alec was doing he realized that it was an office complex. He looked at Jenny curiously. "Are you bringing me here to show me the city and all, but it had potential. Plus, the costs here would be down from the car. He followed her

Alec said nothing as looked at the half-renovated area and said, "This is the Walkers' office

Chapter 502 Unacceptable

Alec knew what she was thinking, and it was precisely because of it that he was feeling torn. "You should know that Paul is my friend." And they were close friends.

Jenny nodded and looked at him, smiling. "So, are you planning to tell him?"

Their gazes met. Jenny was smiling, but Alec was not.

Time passed. They didn't know how long. Alec smiled exasperatedly. "No."

The corners of Jenny's lips lifted. "I knew you weren't the irrational type. This clearly shows that the one in the wrong is Paul."

"Well, you may be misunderstanding him, too. Stephanie is not living as horribly in his house as you think she is." At least to the extent of his understanding, Stephanie didn't care to be polite to Paul. They went about doing their own things, neither of them really suffering.

about it. 'If he honestly liked her, he should have pursued her and given her a chance to choose, not force her to be by his side with

She had to agree with Paul, or

When are you planning on letting them move?" he asked. He was wondering if he had to give it and looked at the renovations. "It should be soon. Once I settle my business here in Bardoff City, I'll bring them over from said nothing much. Jenny had already made

be no point in wasting complex. Alec brought Jenny to lunch at a restaurant in the sky. Jenny looked down at the streets, a feeling of awe washing over her. The city was glamorous. She didn't know if she'd maintain grow stronger

thoughts, it that Graham

where it was today because of Graham. Besides, those two companies were tiny, not worthy enough Rowena thought differently.

Chapter 503 He'd Even Scheme Against His Own Daughter

Rowena didn't think she'd be able to keep Jenny's assault a secret from Graham, but she wasn't afraid. So what if he knew? He couldn't kill her.

Besides, nothing had happened to Jenny. And even if she was hurt, Graham would not dare touch Rowena.

She didn't say any of this out loud. She was not as stupid as that.

"I don't know what you're saying," she said, denying it.

"Ash has confessed she was carrying out your orders. Are you still going to deny it?" Graham looked at her coldly. He knew long ago that Rowena Glass was not a good person, but he didn't think she would be cruel to that extent.

Rowena was stunned, but she kept her expression neutral. "Are you going to believe everything she says? Who knows if she's been bribed to say that? H publicly known that Jenny is my daughter. She'll move into Walter Castle today. From now on, the power to carry out his threats, which was why he dared to incensed. "What right does Jenny have to be part of the Walters? She's just the footing because of the slap, and she stared at

But now...

was hitting her. What else would happen in the dare imagine what would happen. She only thought of her daughter, looked at her coldly. "All these years, you never learned planning." Rowena straightened her said nothing. She continued, "You've given her two insignificant companies today and permitted her to move to Walter Castle. But what about tomorrow? Are you going to give her was indeed planning for this. Only Jenny was

Chapter 504 You've Changed a Lot

Graham couldn't be bothered to answer Rowena's accusatory questions." Would Jolene have turned out like this if not for a mother like you? Why don't you reflect on your own faults and stop blaming me? You haven't changed one bit all these years, Rowena."

She would never think that there was anything wrong with herself. Anything that happened would always be someone else's fault. She would never be to blame.

"Yes. I have not changed one bit. Didn't you know that?" Rowena smiled coldly. But you've changed a lot, Graham."

They glared at each other, neither backing down. It was only when the assistant came knocking that Graham said, "Jenny is coming to dinner tonight. Get the cook to prepare a few more dishes."

"Graham Walter!" Rowena glared at him. Was he actually telling her to be a host to Jenny now?

at her coldly, his eyes frosty. He was no longer

She wished to argue, but she found no reason

if they protect you, Rowena, they won't go against me.

Rowena out here and there, but they weren't helping her because she was part of the Glasses. They helped because she was the matriarch to think that they even after a long time. Graham waved her off. "Go away and do the things you're supposed to do.

all of this was Jenny's fault. Things would not have become like this if she hadn't appeared want Jenny to die. If she was honestly only here to be one of prepared to hand the Walters over to her. How could Rowena accept this? She couldn't just watch her daughter, Jolene,

Chapter 505 No One Can Take This Away From You

It was night and Alec drove Jenny to Walter Castle.

"Be careful. Call me if anything happens. I'll be right here." With his identity, it would not be appropriate for him to follow her inside. The only thing he could do was stay at the entrance.

Jenny, who was opening the door, heard this and turned. "There's no need. He's my biological father. My life should be spared."

Jenny couldn't bear to make such a busy person as Alec stay there and wait for her.

"That's true." Alec nodded in agreement, but he did not mean to leave.

Jenny had no choice but to say, "You can go to work. Don't waste your time here. You can come back after I call you."

"Fine." Finally, Alec agreed.

toward the villa. Graham had probably told the maids of her arrival beforehand, which was why someone brought were indeed part of the Ten Elites. To be able to powerful, alright," Alec

He had already heard from Jenny about what had happened years back. He didn't want to be the next Graham, which was why he had to make himself stronger. That way, no maid brought Jenny to the dining room. "Miss Walter, you

Jenny nodded and thanked the maid. She went over to the sofa and sat, not feeling any Jolene appeared at the stairs. They saw Jenny that Jenny was part of the Walters. This was the only

She had to act like one. If not thinking of herself as an outsider at all." Jolene gnashed her

Who said otherwise? This bitch might be here in Bardoff City you have to help me! I can't accept someone like that

Chapter 507 Don't Blame Me for Being Ruthless

Jolene ended up being unable to hit Jenny. She was being held back by her mother and couldn't move at all.

Graham didn't explode because of this, but he warned, "If you dare to lay hands on your sister again, don't blame me for being ruthless."

Jenny had just come back. He dreadfully wanted to give her the best of everything he could. Hel naturally would not condone any bullying toward her.

Jolene was so angry that she trembled all over. She looked at her father as if she were looking at a stranger. "Have you ever thought of me as your daughter, Dad?" Graham had never been nice to her all these years. But the moment Jenny returned, she was enjoying something that Jolene never had. How could she accept that?

"I wonder if you're even my daughter." On one side was obedient Jenny, and on the other was the proud, arrogant Jolene. Graham wished he didn't have a daughter like her.

Rowena flared up at once. "What do you mean by that, Graham? Don't you dare go overboard!"

are you getting so agitated for? I'm just saying." He truly was just making a statement. Why I'd be agitated. You're humiliating me," her. He looked at the maids. "Get the food out." He nodded and

Jolene stood rooted on their spots, staring at the two of them me, Mom? Are you protecting that bitch, too?" Jolene clenched her sighed exasperatedly. "Jolene, your father will definitely protect her right now.

all over me?" Jolene couldn't accept it.

Even with your father protecting her, he can't always be by

I don't believe that we can't get to they could get rid of Jenny, Jolene would have Graham as her father all to herself. No

Jolene sat in front of Jenny and

Chapter 508 If You Provoke Me on Purpose

Jenny was surprised. Jolene was a little smarter than she thought. She expected Jolene to insist on antagonizing her until the end. If that was so, she wouldn't be much of a threat. But if Jolene knew how to control herself, she was harder to deal with.

"What a nuisance," Jenny thought.

If it weren't for Jolene talking bad about her, Jenny would have ignored her. She might not even have considered moving in. But Jolene wanted to smear her name, and Rowena had even arranged for someone to assassinate her. How could Jenny let this go?

She couldn't.

Graham looked at the quiet Jenny and was worried that she would refuse. "You can go. You don't have to take Jenny around. I'll be taking her."

"You're always so busy at these events, dad. You won't have the time--"

"No one is as important as Jenny," Graham said, cutting her off.

on overdrive. She couldn't understand why Graham's attitude

"It's okay. You can go about your matters. My sister

Jolene's skin. She felt a chill don't have to be afraid of her. Just tell me if she dares to bully you," Graham told her. He obviously suspected smiled dryly and said, "I wouldn't bully her,

He handed Jenny a bowl of mashed potatoes, ignoring Jolene.

found dinner delicious. Rowena and Jolene the maids to clear out a room for her. Although it was

I only roughly arranged it. If you don't renovations. She didn't hate it. She wasn't going to stay there often, anyway.

need to be so polite." Graham was feeling upset. He saw that Jenny hadn't really accepted him

"We haven't met for so many years. You have to give me some didn't oppose him directly, Graham could wait.

Chapter 509 How Much Money Do You Want?

Jenny's words had come straight from her heart, but Jolene didn't believe a word. She had already pegged Jenny as her rival, here to steal everything away from her.

She scoffed and said, "What a lovely excuse. Why would you come here if you weren't interested in the Walters?"

"Because of you and your mother." Jenny smirked. If it weren't for them, she might not have come back.

Jolene didn't want to continue with the topic. She thought there was no point in it. "Tell me, what do you want?"

Jenny frowned and laughed. "What can I do? Why can't I understand what you're saying?"

much money do you want to leave the Walters?" Jolene asked. In mighty. Couldn't she understand plain English? Hadn't Jenny

Jenny asked her dollars. You will leave the Walters and never come back."

didn't have a million dollars to spare, her mother probably wouldn't have a problem giving it to her.

Walters are indeed

her a million dollars; Jenny was surprised that Jolene could start from a million dollars. That meant a million dollars wasn't really

Are you taking it or not?" Jolene didn't receive the answer she wanted. "Why should I take it? The Walters are so rich. As long as I stay, I'd be able to easily get more angered once more. That was what she was afraid of. She controlled herself as best as she could. She remembered what Rowena had said. Jolene was far more impatient than Jenny. She had to change, or else she would be the Walters over to you. That's impossible, I'm telling you. Although they say you're their lost daughter, no one is a fool. They know who you are. They just haven't exposed you yet. But me? My mom is also one of the Ten Elites. My mom is worth millions more

Chapter 510 I've got It Covered

The next day, Jenny left Walter Castle early in the morning. When Graham went to the dining room, he didn't see Jenny.

"Where's Jenny?" he asked the butler.

"Miss Jenny left early in the morning. She said that there are things she must tend to and that you needn't worry," the butler said.

After Graham announced Jenny's identity to the public, she was now the eldest daughter. As for Jolene, she was only the second eldest.

Graham nodded. He didn't press any more questions. He knew that Jenny had her own things to morning? It can't be a scandal, can it? She needs to know her place as a daughter of the Walter family." She was suggesting that Jenny was from of yours? Without the Walters backing her up, she built an empire of her own. She is a famous doctor in Parrington, and she had performed surgery on Mr. Cruz. She has provoked by those words. "Who knows if that's true? And she was relying on men to get that company. You know she's been divorced before. That ex-husband of hers is powerful in Parrington. She could have been relying on him." Rowena had investigated every detail about Jenny and had spread the information out. Jenny was now the laughingstock of the elites of Bardoff

Even if she had returned to the Walters and became their eldest banged his utensils on the table. He glared at Rowena. "It seems that my the Glasses' attitude to her, she went to try it out for herself. The result had disappointed her.

back. She was not expecting them to be so nonchalant about her life all so that they would

the word, the Glasses would Graham now.

wanting to argue with him. She couldn't let Graham know that she