

Be Yours 611

Chapter 611 But Who Would Care?

To take down the Glass family, the Walters and the Windsors were enough.

Alec wasn't necessary to the plan, but Jenny had personal reasons.

Alec had only just arrived in Bardoff City. He was at a disadvantage in every area. If she let him in on their plan, they would be able to prove his abilities. Moreover, he'd benefit from it and be able to develop his company even faster.

But then she thought for a bit and decided not to talk to James about the Glasses. They could talk about it when Alec came back. If they talked about it now, they would take action before Alec could come.

She was about to speak, but then someone ran over. "James."

Jenny raised her eyebrows. It was Jolene, and she wasn't calling him Mr. Windsor anymore. Anyone would think they were friends.

along and hitting on James at the same time. That wasn't very nice of her and said nothing, but the dislike in his give up so easily and sister," she declined, smiling. She didn't care want to hang out with you. I don't have any other intentions. Can't I do that?" Jolene Jenny's hand.

rage. Why was Jenny being treated so well? Couldn't Jolene compare heard your man. It's not me. He's the one who doesn't want face hardened, and he glared at Jenny. Since

"Get in the car."

Through the rearview mirror, she could see Jolene still standing where she was. The

But who would care?

Chapter 612 What Is He So Nervous About?

Not long after, the car stopped at the entrance of the restaurant.

James and Jenny walked inside, and it was then that she noticed something was off. No one was in the restaurant, while melodious piano music played in the air. Even a fool could sense that something was not right.

She turned and looked at James. 'James, did you arrange all this?'

Jenny was not too sure. She thought that he wasn't the type to do something like it. On the other hand, only he was around.

James smiled and said nothing. He brought her into the restaurant, and they sat down at the table, which was already prepared.

Jenny was almost certain now that this was James' doing. But...what did he mean by all this?

James sat before her. A smile hung on his lips like usual, but upon closer inspection, Jenny realized he was nervous.

Nervous?

he so nervous

up in her head, but then James spoke, and Jenny have something to say to you, said nothing, waiting for him to that I've never told you. I..." James was obviously nervous. "I like you," he said after finally looked up at her and realized that she was unusually calm. He couldn't see a trace of emotion on but then Jenny the question. He didn't know how to answer. He scratched his head awkwardly like a child. "I can't really explain why. I just really like you. I miss you when I don't see you, and I'm to it. It wasn't much of at James apprehensively. "I've never heard you say that you trained under Mr. Birkett, they spent a lot of time together and shared a close bond.

Chapter 613 Something Is Off

James grew quiet after hearing Jenny's words. Very, very quiet.

Jenny wasn't in a hurry. She didn't mind letting him think for himself. It'd be best if he could figure it out clearly.

Right at that moment, the waiter served them their food. Jenny ate peacefully, waiting for James to figure it out.

"You're really unbothered by all this, Jenny." James watched her happily eating, unsure of what to say.

Jenny shrugged nonchalantly and smiled. "I might not have accepted your confession, but that doesn't mean I have to starve."

a couple, Jenny still trusted James' character. She knew that he wouldn't hate her because of can carry on eating whatever you want. I've booked the entire restaurant." But now, it seemed highly unnecessary. Hence, regardless of whether he would succeed, he had to tell her how he felt. The end result was pretty much what he eligible bachelorettes in Bardoff City. You'll find the same thought. He drank his red wine and one day." James was a brilliant man. Any girl in Bardoff City would like him. Jenny thought it would be his wineglass and asked, "Well, who do relationship with her.

thumped. That uneasy feeling came back. Since yesterday, she hadn't been able to contact him. It was should have called was off.

eating quickly. She

Chapter 614 Blocked

However, his phone was still turned off. It only made her even more worried. She had no choice but to call Vincent. It took him a long time to answer, and Jenny's anxiety was through the roof.

"Miss Jenny?" Vincent picked up. He seemed bewildered that Jenny was calling him.

Jenny didn't waste any time, asking, "Where's Alec? Why isn't he picking up? H

Vincent was stunned. He looked at Old Mr. Faust before him, who shook his head. He said, "Mr. Faust is in a meeting. He's been very busy lately, so his phone has been with me. It's probably out of battery."

"A meeting?" Jenny raised her eyebrows. That was weird. "When is it going to end?" Jenny asked. She had to hear his voice, or she wouldn't be at ease.

Vincent didn't know what to do. He knew that Jenny would wait for Alec to pick up the call after his meeting, but the problem was that no one would answer. Alec was still nowhere to be found.

more confused. 'What? Can't that I'm not sure when his meeting will be over. He's been really busy," Vincent repeated, praying that Jenny wouldn't continue pressing already guessed that something had happened to Bardoff City? Why have you returned to Parrington? Did Alec tell you to go back?"

coming. He no longer cared if what he said was believable. "There are too many things to handle here. Mr. Faust couldn't do them alone, so he told me to come for out of his throat. He was afraid him any more questions, and Vincent sighed in

Mr. Faust. "Why aren't we it's best if she doesn't know." Old Mr. Faust had a lot on his mind. He didn't mean to keep Jenny in the dark on purpose. However, if words made sense, Vincent felt they still had to tell Jenny. She was obviously worried about him. However, he didn't voice his eye on the people in the company.

Chapter 615 A Nightmare

Jenny understood that reasoning. "Have you found out what happened to him? Has he appeared at Faust Group these two days?" "No," Zack replied.

Jenny was now certain that something had happened to Alec. But if something really did, why would Vincent and Old Mr. Faust lie to her? Were they afraid that she would leak it out?

She had no time to think about that. Jenny ended her call with Zack and immediately went to book a plane ticket to Parrington. But it was already late; the next flight was in the morning. She was feeling very antsy.

The next day, Jenny and Graham both took days off. Although she knew it wasn't nice of her to take the day off when she hadn't been working for some time, she was lucky that she was in the sales department and had just bagged another client. She had more freedom in that sense.

Jenny boarded the plane to Parrington. On the way there, she had a dream.

A nightmare, really.

even after life. She stared at the white clouds

she rushed toward Faust to Alec, they and a mask. She even put on some sunshades and waited outside the company. When Vincent walked out, she hurried after into an alley. He wouldn't hold back since she still moved forward. There were a lot of things that only Vincent could walked into the alley, a strong force was thrown at her, but it was nothing would have such good martial skills. His glare was too anxious to be playing around with him and wasting time. She took off her cap and her mask.

"It's

it. He thought he to Alec?" Jenny asked worriedly. She didn't have the time

Chapter 616 You Have to Survive

Old Mr. Faust felt conflicted when he heard what she said.

After their divorce, he worried that Alec and Jenny would go their separate ways. After that, he saw how Alec began to care for Jenny, and now, even Jenny was worrying about him. Old Mr. Faust couldn't help feeling a little glad. However, they had no idea if Alec was dead or alive. That was cruel news for Jenny to bear.

Jenny was even more anxious when she saw how quiet he was. "What happened to Alec, Grandpa?"

With her pressing questions, Old Mr. Faust finally broke down and told her what had happened.

On the night that Jenny had called Alec, he hadn't picked up because he had no means to.

That night, not long after leaving the Old Mansion, he realized he was being tailgated. His stalker was fierce and relentless, refusing to lose him. After that, Alec's car was found at the bottom of a cliff. No one knew what had happened between the two events.

when it happened. Obviously, Alec as fast as he could, but it was already too late. Alec's car was at the bottom of the on for a few days, but Alec was nowhere about Alec, she was also worried about Old Mr. Faust. He probably still didn't and his grandson nowhere to be found, she worried about Old Mr.

Grandpa. He'll be alright," Jenny said, looking at him. She believed that Alec would protect smiled and said nothing. In truth, he already knew that the possibility of Alec surviving wasn't great. It was just that no one was be good news that no one can find him. Maybe he's hiding somewhere so we won't be in hope so," Old Mr.

ward with Vincent. She told him to bring her to where Alec's car was found. She wanted to search dangerous his attackers must have been for wanted to take his life, and they were all

Chapter 617 Putting on a Show

"The wind is getting stronger, Miss Jenny. Let's go. There are people looking for him down there,' Vincent said. He knew how important Jenny was to Alec, so he couldn't let anything happen to her, especially now. Or else, if Alec survived and returned to find that something had happened to Jenny, he could not imagine what would happen.

Jenny had no intention of leaving. She turned toward him and said, " Vincent, could you help me get a waterproof suit?"

"Miss Jenny, are you...'

"I wouldn't be able to forget it unless I went down there myself." Even though many people were looking for him, Jenny still wanted to do it personally.

What if they were slacking off? What if they missed a clue that Alec had left behind?

Vincent wanted to stop her, but Paul appeared. 'Get her ready. We have no reason to stop her if she wants to sacrifice herself for Alec."

"Mr. Wagner...'

around. Now she's putting on a show. I don't know what she means by this,"

as Jenny disliked him, he lips. She complete answer before this happened. But now that something had happened to him, she regretted put it on without hesitation and slowly glided down on her disappear, scoffing.

Mr. Faust cares a lot isn't worthy of him." Paul his spot, suddenly wishing he could go down, too. But an eye on Jenny and Paul. Nothing could happen water, Jenny quickly found where Alec's car had sunk. There were pieces of broken glass around it.

looking around carefully, trying to find a clue as

Chapter 618 Not Everyone Is After Your Money

What Paul said made sense. Jenny understood him, but she had no idea what else she could do. She could only try.

What if?

What if Alec hadn't gone the predictable route and quietly snuck up on land?

When Paul saw her keeping up the search, he cursed at her and left. But before going far, he turned back. "Is Stephanie...doing alright?"

He'd lost all contact with her once she moved to Bardoff City. He initially planned to move there like Alec, but he had not expected this to happen.

"She's doing pretty well,' Jenny answered. At least, Stephanie seemed fine to her.

Disappointment flashed through Paul's eyes. He couldn't seem to accept that Stephanie could do well without him.

to Paul. She stood up, looking at the silent my woman and forever will be," Paul said naturally; he didn't think anything rolled her eyes at him. "Haven't you considered that Stephanie doesn't want to liked him. At the very least, there was no way that she didn't he was beyond help. "Why do you think she

"If it weren't for your

Why haven't you realized what you've done wrong,

What have I done wrong?" Wasn't he supposed to keep her by his side if he liked she lived with him. She had everything she wanted. He would have listened to her this, Jeny understood that Paul thought he side. You didn't have to marry her at once, but you at least had to be upfront about your feelings. Not only had you not done that, you flat out told her that you would never marry her. Why do you think she'd have a reason to stay with you? You think she'd want you just because of your so much to Paul. Back then, she thought Alec was clueless about how to love someone. But now no longer cared about him after delivering her speech. She kept Chapter 619 Do You Want Me to Take Responsibility?

In the Faust Manor in Bardoff City, a middle-aged man looked at the bodyguard behind him. "Is it done?"

"Yes. The target is dead, and the ones remaining are not worth worrying over,' the bodyguard replied.

The man nodded in satisfaction. As long as the few influential ones were dead, the rest were mere jokes. Even if the old man spoonfed opportunities to them, they wouldn't be able to cope.

"Does that old man know?" he asked.

"Probably not."

"Good. Get someone to leak the news to him. Crush his spirits. Make him give up on handing over the Fausts to these outsiders. Faust Inc is mine!"

A ferocious look flashed over his face.

Jade was working hard in Jeneration Group. She knew that something had happened to Jenny, so she had to work extra hard to keep the company to not trouble Jenny.

for you." Her secretary knocked on the door and

"Who is it?"

Pearson, and he says

Max.

flashed uncontrollably through her mind, but she suppressed them focus on work. She thought of what had happened on the night she had gotten drunk.

already at this age. How could she was careless," she when Max heard that Jade refused to see him, a smile appeared on his lips. He did not leave, choosing to wait for her. Since that night, Jade had been avoiding him. Today, he had to instinct was to flee. However, her secretary was right beside and said calmly, "Let's car," Jade said

odd, she went to start the car her secretary left, Jade didn't dwindle. She did not want to become the center door was shut. "What do you want to

Chapter 620 Dead or Alive

Jade's words made Max incensed. He looked at her as if wanting to catch a glimpse of something different in her eyes.

Unfortunately, he found nothing.

"Max, I'm honestly not suited for you. Your feelings for me are probably just a fleeting crush. As long as we see each other less, your feelings will vanish." Jade felt upset seeing him like that. Max was good to her and helped her out many times, but she couldn't get together with him for that reason alone. It was unfair to both of them.

Her words didn't comfort Max in the slightest. On the contrary, it made him even angrier. "We've never even tried. How would you know that we wouldn't work? Do you think all guys are jerks just because you've met one? H

Jade's face grew stiff. "I'm sorry."

Max was furious but couldn't unleash his anger with Jade acting that way. "I hope you'll think about it. We can't live in the past forever. It's time you moved on." With that, Max left.

eyebrows furrowed when she watched him leave. "Am past it. She thought the hurt that Hayden had caused her no longer affected her. But now the break room. She dismissed the matter and placed all of her focus on work. That was the only way she'd felt proving he was still alive. But no matter how hard she tried, whether it was downstream or at the cliff, she couldn't find one knew if through the receiver. "Mortimer is still lying on his hospital just wanted to make sure," Jenny replied. The Glasses had motives to hurt Alec, but so did Mortimer. That was why end,

once he knew. As if afraid of him pushing on how urgently Jenny went back to Parrington and then asked him to check on Mortimer in the hospital, he could guess that something