Chapter 871 He's Been Murdered

Luke watched him jump. For a moment, he couldn't quite believe it. Was Alec submitting so easily without a struggle?

He didn't think there would be a river waiting for him to swim in, did he?

"Idiot!" Luke thought. Then, he said to someone, "Look around below. You must see his corpse with your own eyes."

"Yes, sir!" His bodyguard nodded.

Just before Luke was about to call Xavier, his phone rang. It was his father's secretary. He thought that he was calling to track his progress. Before the secretary could speak, he said, "Tell my father the plan worked. Alec is dead."

"Xavier... something's happened to him." The secretary was panicking on the other end, his voice trembling.

Chapter 872 A Solid Reason

Jenny was feeling a whirlwind of emotions. She was glad that they hadn't found him. Yet, she worried about him.

She still had no clue what had happened. However, based on what they said, Alec was dead in their eyes, which meant he was in bad shape.

She began looking as well, but the reality of it was grim. She had to focus on finding him on top of keeping herself hidden. It was slow progress. The only silver lining was that they had not found him either, so he could have survived.

She was about to keep searching, but then her phone rang. She was stunned.

On the quiet cliff, a single word uttered would have been loud. And this was a ringtone. Jenny was instantly discovered.

Chapter 873 Who Would Have Thought

When Luke heard that there was a helicopter on the premises, he nearly fainted.

How could no one have told him about the helicopter? Wouldn't he have detected something amiss if he had known?

Anger surged in his heart. But then, he looked at the emergency room not far off. He suppressed the anger. He couldn't rush over now. He could only pray that Alec was already dead. If he were alive, and his father was the one who died, Luke would faint from anger.

Soon, the lights above the emergency room went off. The doctor walked out. 'I'm sorry. We have tried our best.'

"What did you say? You fucking piece of trash!" Luke wanted to rush forward to hit him.

With a loud bang, Zeke brought his cane down on the floor. Luke had no choice but to control himself.

Luke didn't retort. It was obvious now that Alec, indeed, had prepared himself. "Grandpa, why did he come even though he knew we would attack him? Isn't that just asking for trouble?"
He couldn't figure out why Alec would do something like that. What was the point?
"He is clever. He would not do something to endanger his life on purpose unless he had a reason." Zeke understood that about Alec.
Luke only understood half of it. "What reason?"
"I don't know yet." Zeke frowned. He hadn't figured it out.
Luke changed the topic. "Who killed my father? The surviving bodyguards said a group of people rushed

Chapter 875 You Have Me in Your Heart

News of Xavier's murder spread through Bardoff City like wildfire. Nearly everyone strengthened their security systems to avoid something like that happening to them.

If someone had attacked the Fausts, it didn't just mean that those killers were arrogant. It meant that the Fausts were defenseless. They were now the city's laughingstock.

Precisely because of that, Xavier's memorial was not a large affair. Only close friends and relatives came to visit, and he was then buried in the Fausts' graveyard. The Fausts seemed to want it to die down as quickly as possible. They didn't even seem to want to hunt down the attackers.

Everyone was curious to know what the Fausts' action meant. Someone as pompous as Xavier had been killed. Were they going to take it lying down?

In Bardoff Hospital, Jenny completed her rounds and walked into Alec's ward. He had been there for two to three days, but he could still not be discharged. After all, he was shot and then thrown off a cliff. Although he had saved his own life by hanging on to the roots under the cliff, he had gotten hurt in the process.

When she got in, Alec was on the phone. He was delegating work to one of his employees. Jenny turned to leave, but Alec swiftly hung up and smiled at her. "So you came."

Alec didn't know whether or not to be amused. It felt like Jenny was there for a bedtime story.

He told her everything about the plan and his preparations. However, he did not say that those people belonged to Evan. He just said that they were his. After all, he had made a promise to Evan.

After Alec was done speaking, Jenny's face turned solemn. "So, Xavier was killed by your men?"

"Yes." Alec nodded.

"Did you have to kill him?" Jenny frowned. She couldn't understand. She knew the Fausts were fighting tooth and nail to be the next heir. However, she thought it was only just a fight. She was not expecting murder.

Chapter 877 As Expected of Mr. Faust

Jenny gave him a thumbs-up after he was done. 'As expected of Mr. Faust.' "Don't tease me, Jenny.' Alec felt embarrassed. He was afraid that she would have a bad impression of him. He wasn't just a mindless killer.

If he did not make a move on the Fausts, Xavier would never let go of his hold on his position. Alec was forced to do it.

Jenny smiled lightly. "I'm not teasing you. I'm honestly admiring you. You're a natural businessman. The Fausts will be yours, and you will bring them to the new light."

Although the Fausts looked to be in their prime, Jenny could feel that the family wasn't as amazing as they looked. They were only tough on the outside. Otherwise, Zeke would not have done this to select his heir. He would not be so worried if they were truly capable.

Alec didn't care about it right now. What he cared about was something else.

He looked at Jenny and asked, "Can you forgive me now? I didn't tell you because I didn't know if it was in my right to do so. What if I told you about it, and you told me it was none of your business? What would I do, then?"

Alec glanced at him and said, 'Since they can't take the proper routes, you'll just have to let them go along the borders. This shouldn't be a hard task for you.'

"I don't need you to say it." Evan glared at him. "I already did, but I'm worried that the Fausts have already prepared for that."

"No matter how strong they are, they cannot place guards at every border. If you let your men leave one by one, the rates of success are high," Alec said.

Unfortunately, his words received no praise. "Do you think this is a vacation? It was hard enough for them to travel in a group. If they split up, they'd have no chance of crossing the borders."

The borders that they talked about were not legal routes to take. They were basically sneaking over to the other country. It was extremely risky. Evan had prepared for them to use a path they had used before. However, he was still worried for them.

"I didn't know you were so sentimental towards your henchmen. I thought you were the type to assassinate them all afterward," Alec teased.

Chapter 879 Are You Willing To Help Me

Evan suddenly filled with the urge to punch him. He could work just for money, but if Alec used Jenny against him, Evan would never work for him.

"You'd better pray that you're this lucky every time!" With that, Evan left. He didn't want to linger around Alec any longer.

Alec didn't mind. He did not feel the slightest twinge of remorse. Evan acted like this was a big loss, but Alec knew very well that he was not a saint. If he were, he would not be in his position.

Even after a few days, Alec remained in the hospital. His wounds were already pretty much healed. If he were in another hospital, he would have fought to get out.

However, this was Bardoff Hospital. As long as he stayed, he would be able to see Jenny every day. Naturally, he would not wish to be discharged.

Chapter 880 I'll Be Waiting

Zeke smiled knowingly. "I will be waiting for your good news, Alec." "However, it's been so long. I'm afraid I won't be able to find anything out," Alec said. He felt that Zeke was giving him this impossible task on purpose, so he would have a reason to attack him later.

As if prepared for his answer, Zeke said, "Don't worry. I already caught two of the killers. I'll let you be the interrogator. You can't let me down!"

In truth, he had already interrogated them. Finding nothing, he had gone to see Alec.

He felt it had something to do with Alec, and those two killers would get upset when they saw him. If Alec were the one to interrogate them, they'd be unable to deal with the betrayal and blabber about everything.
