Chapter 891 She Will Not Let This Pass So Easily

Maybe because Jenny still looked worried, Alec used the Nobel Prize as an example, and she understood clearly.

"Why don't the Faustus and Walters establish it together? This way, the pool of funds will be greater, and we will be able to help even more people." After some thought, the Walters could join in too. It was her problem, anyway, and she was grateful to Alec for being so willing to help. She couldn't let him work alone.

Alec was naturally willing to collaborate with her. "Of course. However, you must think about how this will come across to the outside world."

"What do you mean?" Jenny wasn't too sure what he was saying.

"If the Faustus and the Walters collaborate, people are going to think that our families want to team up.' There would even be people who might think they would marry.

However, Alec and Jenny had a history. On top of that, Luke would sometimes appear next to her side. It would easily cause a misunderstanding.

Chapter 892 Do You Need Help Even with This?

"I'm not sure, but it's a possibility." Alec had the same musings as Jenny. He didn't think that Blake was the type to let things go. The incident was quite possibly a pointed attack on him.

Jenny raised an eyebrow. With a hint of sarcasm, she said, "It's all a certain someone's fault for breaking her heart and making her angry."

"Don't blame me, Jenny." Alec waved his hands, not wanting to admit to being a heartbreaker. "I lost my memories. Most importantly, even when I had amnesia, I had no intention of getting together with her. She initiated our working together. I had no other intentions with her." Alec felt that he had to make it clear in case he left a bad taste in Jenny's mouth.

Jenny murmured in response. She didn't know if she believed it or not.

Alec wanted to elaborate, but Jenny quickly said, "I know. You don't have to explain so many things to me."

"Well, you'll have to take care of things. If you don't think of a way to take her away, they'll only grow closer. Is that what you want?" Evan was sure Gilbert didn't want to see that happening.

Gilbert was exasperated. He had no choice but to agree. "Alright. But you have to do it yourself next time."

Jenny wasn't stupid. If they did it over and over, she'd figure it out.

They had just managed to repair their relationship. Gilbert didn't want to upset her again.

Evan didn't care about what he said. He hung up. He'd figure it out if it happened again. Gilbert was in the same boat, anyway. Flying solo wasn't as easy as all that.

In the coffee shop, Jenny received a call from Gilbert. She learned that Zack had just arrived in Bardoff City. Naturally, she would be anxious to meet him. Alec's suggestion to have dinner together was brushed off just like that.

Chapter 894 As You Wish

Before Jenny's call got through, Evan's car arrived at the entrance. Seeing this, Jenny understood.

She simply gave up on calling and put her phone away. "Looks like it's not just a family gathering. Let's go."

"Alright." Alec smiled and glanced mockingly at Evan, who was just getting out of his car. He knew it was strange that Gilbert suddenly interrupted Jenny like that. Now that Evan had appeared, Alec instantly guessed that it had to do with Evan.

When Evan saw that Alec was around, he was bewildered. "Why are you here, Alec?"

"Jenny invited me over. Do you have a problem with that?" Alec raised an eyebrow as if daring him.

Evan raised an eyebrow, looking at Jenny, who was not far off. "Do you want him to tag along, Jenny? This is a family gathering. Who is he to come?"

Alec didn't mind. It wasn't so much his wishes as it was what they both deserved.

"Do you think Zeke will let you go just because you used the Watkins as a scapegoat?" Evan smiled. To him, it didn't matter to Zeke who killed

Xavier. It only mattered that Alec could not live.

Zeke truly did not want to give the Faustus to Alec.

Alec smiled lightly, not worried. "That's none of my business. I only need to survive in his hands. You don't have to worry about me."

Evan scoffed. "Would I be worried if it didn't concern Jenny's safety? You should understand the position that you're in now. The closer you are to Jenny, the more dangerous it is for her. You wouldn't think the Faust boy is any good, would you?"

He felt that if Alec truly liked Jenny, he would have to keep his distance from her. In fact, it was best if they cut off all forms of communication. It was all genuinely for Jenny's safety.

Chapter 896 Zack's Girlfriend

Everything went quiet. Gilbert wasn't expecting Jenny to admit her feelings for Alec.

After a while, he sighed. 'It's your life. Although I don't like Alec, I won't interfere. Supporting Evan is just my way of giving you another option.*

Hearing him say that, Jenny felt that her reaction was over the top. "I'm sorry, Gilbert. I wasn't...'

"I'm not blaming you. Blame me for the shoddy planning that's making you unhappy.' He knew that Jenny was not happy about Evan eating together with them. Jenny said he was her brother, but they all knew that time had diluted their relationship. Evan was no more than just a friend to her. She probably wouldn't want him to join in on their family gathering. That was why she brought Alec over.

They didn't continue the conversation. A woman's voice floated from the living room. Jenny was bewildered, looking at Gilbert in disbelief. "Why... why is there a woman in this house?"

"You'll know when you see her." Gilbert didn't explain much, merely sending her off to the living room.

Jenny was curious to know, so she did not refuse. She went into the living room.

Chapter 897 Am I That Sort of Person?

Not long after, Gilbert had the food prepared. Everyone sat at the table and began to eat.

The atmosphere was better than Jenny expected. The table was pleasant as long as Alec and Evan kept their mouths shut.

It was mostly Zack telling the story of how he and Janet got to know each other and fell in love. Jenny felt envious. It was all she wanted. To love the person she had feelings for without all the complicated emotions.

Alec saw the envious look in her eyes and felt upset. It was his fault. Forget what happened before their divorce. They hadn't interacted and were basically strangers. What he regretted was becoming her boyfriend and then failing to cherish what they had. That was what caused this to happen today.

After dinner, they were in no rush to leave. Gilbert ushered Zack and Evan to the study, obviously meaning for a company meeting.

Jenny didn't know what it was about. She didn't know what Evan, a part of Walter Inc, could discuss with Gilbert.

Chapter 898 Why Are You Regretful?

"Now that I think about it, I regret a lot of things." Alec looked at Jenny with mixed feelings.

Jenny was confused. "Why?"

"If it weren't for my arrogance, we might not have broken up," he said.

He sighed. With Mortimer's sudden appearance, he worried that the man would attack Jenny, which was why he distanced himself from her. He didn't even object to breaking up. He thought he was protecting her, but he was really just hurting her.

Jenny didn't argue. "Maybe we didn't trust each other enough back then."

"It's not that. I didn't understand you. I didn't know what would be best for you." If he knew what her decision was, and knew that she was not afraid of danger, he might not have chosen to distance himself from her. The misunderstandings would not have happened, and they would not have broken up.

Chapter 899 Do You Think Something Is Off with Her?

"Jenny?" Janet noticed Jenny was staring at her with a suspicious look in her eyes. She felt bewildered and anxious.

Had she found out? She couldn't have. It was their first day meeting each other.

Jenny snapped back to reality and shook her head. "Sorry. I drifted off."

"Ah." Janet retracted her gaze, not holding eye contact with Jenny. She felt uncomfortable.

Jenny said nothing else, and the three of them waited for the three men to finish talking.

Fortunately, it was not a long wait as they were soon finished. Zack came out from the study and went straight towards Janet. It was obvious that he really liked her.

Jenny was happy for him, but at the same time, she worried.

Chapter 900 Currying Favor

Gilbert sent Jenny home. When she saw the massive garden, for some reason, Jenny felt lonely.

Afterward, she called Alfred and asked him to help her buy an apartment near the hospital so she could easily travel to and fro.

After Graham left, Jenny lived there alone. In such a big place, she was not happy at all. In fact, she couldn't get used to it.

She hadn't made up her mind about moving yet, but today, she had.

She wasn't worried about Walter Castle. There was a butler to keep things running, and it wouldn't go to ruins. Jenny would only consider moving back if Graham came back. She didn't like living in such a big place alone.

After washing up, Jenny lay in her bed. She wanted to be at the hospital early tomorrow to tell the little girl's mother about the charity, so she wouldn't be anxious to leave the hospital.

In a daze, Jenny quickly fell asleep. It was then that Gilbert reached his villa.
