

Be Yours 991

Chapter 991 Are You Okay?

"Ah!"

Just as Jenny finished speaking, a cup of hot coffee was splashed toward her in the next second, catching her off guard. She hadn't anticipated it, so the coffee splashed all over her face, instantly blurring her vision.

She wasn't feeling well, to begin with, and Alexandra's sudden act of rudeness further aggravated her condition of discomfort. Jenny shot an icy glare at her attacker.

"Well, well. Such is the way a daughter of the York family carries herself."

"What's that supposed to mean? Are you threatening me with your family's backing?" Alexandra sneered, meeting Jenny's gaze squarely and unflinchingly. She then said, "Jenny, don't think you're so great just because you're the head of the Walters. Let me tell you, even if you have a distinguished status, you still have to pay the price for your wrongdoing!"

Jenny didn't reply. Instead, she took a tissue to wipe the coffee off of herself. "Is that so? I'll say the same right back at you."

She would make Alexandra understand what it meant to pay the price for her action, but she didn't know if Alexandra could handle paying that price. Without saying another word, Jenny took out her phone and called security.

security arrived and she didn't continue to linger. However, as she was leaving, she still looked at Jenny laughed.

that she'd treated illnesses, saved lives, and had never done anything security took Alexandra away, Jenny changed into a white coat and continued to treat patients.

However, her hair was still damp. As the heat from the coffee dissipated, it was replaced with a piercing chill. Since Jenny hadn't fully

With the last patient gone, she could no longer bear it, so she straight while waiting for the elevator before she could reach the ground and Jenny

head and replied, 'Thank you. I'm face turning

and anxiously waited

as she leaned against the wall. She almost

Chapter 992 Come With Us

Right then, Jenny had a massive headache and wasn't in the mood to argue with them any longer. She shook off Derrick's hand and said with some difficulty, "You guys talk. I'll go downstairs first."

She was afraid she would faint there and then if she continued to let it drag out any longer.

She went into the elevator, but McKenna didn't intend to let her leave as she stared at Jenny angrily and said, "Jenny, what do you mean? You clearly rejected Derrick, but now you're flirting with him. Do you want to have your cake and eat it too?"

"You're overthinking things. I'm not interested in him," Jenny said, her head pounding.

Unfortunately, McKenna didn't believe her. "I'm overthinking things? Are you saying that I was mistaken?" McKenna sneered and halted the elevator there.

the elevator and asked, "Can you guys go out and talk?"

off by her. She thought Jenny was openly seducing Derrick in front of her and was so livid she could hit because when he saw McKenna inside the elevator, he thought he was done for. McKenna was particularly possessive and would get angry if he talked to any woman at a loss about what to do. When he heard Jenny's words, he finally returned to his senses. "McKenna, you come out first and let Jenny go downstairs. I'll explain are you letting her go? Don't tell me you're still protecting her even people were gathering around, he knew that this couldn't go on. He forcibly hallway. Jenny breathed a sigh of relief as the elevator doors floor, and Jenny was about to walk out when she realized the people outside the elevator were acting strange.

about to leave when she with us." With that, the person pressed the reach her hand into her pocket to make a phone call. However, before she could do so, her hand was grabbed by

Chapter 993 Stop Trying to Gauge Me

After realizing she'd misunderstood Derrick, McKenna felt a bit embarrassed. "Who knows what you were thinking? After all, you did like her before."

Although McKenna said that, Derrick knew that she was no longer angry. She just couldn't come to terms with it right now.

"It was my fault for not handling it properly, which led to your misunderstanding. I promise it won't happen again next time," Derrick said without blaming McKenna.

Hearing him say that, McKenna felt much better. "So, does that mean you won't take care of her if you see her sick the next time?"

Derrick felt awkward and only spoke up after a while, "I'll quickly call other colleagues to take her downstairs together."

He was sure that if he said he wouldn't help Jenny, McKenna would be unhappy with his answer as well because she would think he was heartless.

wasn't angry anymore after hearing him say anymore?" Derrick asked, still a bit somewhat gingerly. "I'll trust you for now. But if I find out you're lying to me...Well, you know what the consequences worry. Such have the courage to lie to McKenna. He valued his of the staircase, and made her way to the elevator. Derrick quickly caught up and downstairs to see how Jenny is. You said she's sick, right? She's a coworker, after all. We made her insecure. After realizing she had misunderstood Jenny, she felt guilty and wanted to go down and see if there was anything she could help heard that and felt delighted. "McKenna, you're wasn't kind at all —if she found out Derrick had any contact with colleague who was in charge of handling colds and fevers that day, but they didn't see Jenny. After asking around, they were told that Jenny hadn't been there. Hearing that, Derrick Chapter 994 Is Jenny Kidnapped?

Half an hour later, McKenna and Derrick were in the hospital director's office.

"So, you mean Jenny disappeared from the hospital?" Gavin Porter, the hospital director, adjusted his glasses and looked at the two incredulously.

McKenna nodded and replied, "Yes, I saw her go to the third floor with my own eyes, but the people on the third floor said they never saw her.

Furthermore, Mr. Zeller, who was downstairs, said he didn't see Jenny leaving. Isn't this considered a disappearance?"

"Could she have left through the back door?" Gavin asked. The hospital had a back door specifically for medical staff, after all.

"We went to check and asked the security there too, but they didn't see her leave," Derrick added.

went on, 'Jenny's phone is now unreachable, and her condition when I last saw her wasn't good. No matter what, we need to find her first. What if something really hadn't yet considered the possibility of Jenny being taken away by someone. He was mainly worried that she'd fainted somewhere him say that, Gavin was alarmed and took the matter seriously. After all, Jenny wasn't any the surveillance room to take a look," Gavin said. He stood up immediately, fully aware of the gravity of the situation, so he didn't dare to come to see him specifically to check the surveillance footage. After charge of the surveillance, they quickly pulled up the footage of Jenny entering the elevator. They then saw several people enter the elevator with her inside. It was unclear what they said to Jenny, but she followed them to the basement after a brief exchange. Although they couldn't hear the conversation, judging from the expressions of the people in the surveillance footage, it elevator. She was pushed into a black SUV, and the car drove off, Porter, does this mean Jenny has been kidnapped?" McKenna spoke up uncertainly. She'd never seen was just the two of them go around talking about it. I'll more, but Derrick tugged at her sleeve and shook his head at her. "Let's go. We should room, McKenna looked at Derrick suspiciously and asked, "You're just going to leave like this? Aren't you worried

Chapter 995 Fire at the Intruder

With a creak, the door was pushed open. The big man from before walked into the room and stared coldly at Jenny. "Miss Walter, ask Alec to come and save you."

Jenny furrowed her brow. "Here we go again."

Was Zeke never going to give up? He'd just suffered a serious blow, and now he was targeting her again. Was he so eager to have another taste of defeat?

"We have no choice. You're someone Alec values," the man said.

Jenny stared at him with suspicion. "Did Zeke send you?"

She couldn't help but wonder if Zeke would make another attempt again so quickly. The Faustus weren't doing well currently. They didn't have a high chance of success by making a move again so soon. It didn't seem like Zeke's style of doing things.

"There's no need for you to know who sent me," the man replied without giving a definite answer. moment, then lowered you don't speak. We've already notified Alec, and he should be here soon. We just don't know if he'll be as lucky as last time," the man said closed door and felt him, then who? Moreover, even though the man just now didn't admit that Zeke sent him, his response was ambiguous and didn't rule out this possibility,' Jenny contemplated deeply and then realized that no matter who sent him to kidnap her, they were up to no good. Consequently, she had to her whole body, her blurry vision, walked out of the room, someone approached him. "It's all arranged. The boss will be back soon, worry. We always deliver. When have we ever disappointed him?"

worrying. "Why do you obviously wants to play the hero and rescue the damsel in to this woman. He nodded, having heard something

After reading the message, he put on a serious expression. "Get ready.

dispersed and find a way to escape inside the room when she heard noises from the window behind her. She immediately turned her head and started to feel nervous. But soon, as the window was quietly opened, Evan's face

Chapter 996 He Can't Die!

Jenny wanted to help but knew she would only distract Evan instead of helping him out under such a circumstance. So, she could only hide behind the window and cower in fear.

The gunfire continued. Soon, Evan climbed out the window and came to Jenny's side.

"Let's go!"

"Those men..."

"It seems that Alec has brought his men here. We should leave and let him deal with them," Evan said. Without waiting for Jenny to speak, he took her by the hand and made to leave.

Jenny heard gunfire not far away and was worried about Alec, but she also knew it was better to leave quickly. If she and Evan were caught, it would only hinder Alec's effort in dealing with those men.

wasn't big, and it only had a small the courtyard. Jenny knew over the wall.' Evan chose a relatively low wall. He extra unnecessary word uttered was a waste of movement was difficult for Jenny, she still succeeded in climbing over the wall with a formidable spirit. Just as she was waiting for Evan to climb out, footsteps came from not far away.

are you okay?" Alec walked over looking for Jenny and didn't bother to take care of all the men careful!' the two men shouted in unison, but a figure shot toward her the floor heavily,

man who fired at them, instantly taking him out.

Jenny was trembling with fear, and she could feel the warm blood soaking her clothes.

Chapter 997 Spend the Rest of His Life in a Wheelchair

When the car drove into the hospital, a large group of experts was already waiting, and they hurriedly pushed Evan into the emergency room.

Alec came to Jenny's side and supported her. He was about to comfort her by saying that Evan would be fine when he noticed how hot Jenny's body was. "You still have a fever?"

That morning, he thought Jenny was fine because she looked alright. She'd taken some fever medicine and slept through the night, so she should have already recovered. Who would have thought that she was still sick?

"I-I'm fine. I need to know whether Evan is alright." Jenny insisted on waiting right outside the emergency room.

Alec wouldn't let her do as she pleased and lifted her up right away. "Be good, and don't move around. I'll monitor Evan's condition. In the meantime, we need to get you to a doctor."

Jenny couldn't object, so she could only lay in Alec's arms as he took her to see a doctor. Perhaps because Alec's scent relaxed Jenny's frayed nerves, or maybe she'd really reached her limit, as soon as Alec stepped into the hospital, she completely lost consciousness.

in his arms to the doctor's office. After taking her temperature, they found out that she'd already reached a temperature of 104 degrees Fahrenheit. If she continued to burn up like this, woke up again, it was already dark outside. She looked at the ceiling for a moment on the bed with

Alec, who was lying somewhere beside her, was also you some food,' Alec said as he walked over to her. He reached out to touch her forehead. After he

Alec and hit Evan, but she knew it must have been very serious because he had dead. He suffered a spinal injury and needs to stay in the hospital for a few days," Evan's injury was serious. The spinal cord was the most important part with tears in her injury would very likely

Chapter 998 Seems Like You Know More

"He's still in the ICU. You should eat something first. Well go and visit him tomorrow,' Alec said as he looked at Jenny.

She hadn't fully recovered, but she wanted to visit Evan immediately. Alec felt a little bothered about it. However, he didn't say anything. He knew how much Jenny valued favors. She, like him, disliked owing anyone anything, especially when it involved matters of life and death.

Jenny shook her head and insisted, "I'll just take a look from outside. I can't rest easy if I don't see him with my own eyes."

"Alright." Alec knew he couldn't stop her. So, he didn't prevent her from going to see Evan. He thought it wouldn't do her any harm if her mind could be at ease.

With that, he helped Jenny out of the ward and headed straight for the ICU where Evan was. Because Jenny was a doctor at the hospital, she was allowed to go in and see Evan. Even so, she didn't go in but just peered through the small window on the door.

"1-1 don't know how to face him," Jenny choked out. Evan hadn't woken up yet and didn't know that he would have to spend the rest of his life in a wheelchair.

Jenny couldn't imagine how devastated he would be when he found out.

for her. 'It's okay, Jenny. No why she hadn't been more careful and blamed herself for getting kidnapped. If it hadn't been for her, Evan wouldn't have had jinx who brought know how to comfort Jenny. He knew that nothing he said right now would make a difference. Hence, he just held returned to their ward, the food had arrived. Alec opened it and handed it to Jenny. "Eat something first. Don't said," Jenny, I know you're upset right now, but no matter what, you have to take care of yourself. You still have me, and seeing you in just needed time

catch those people? The Even if the other party had committed heinous crimes, she would only think of punishing them according to the law and no doubt that if she found the mastermind, she would personally trained. Some escaped, and the ones who couldn't do so "Suicide?' Jenny thought, shocked.

loyal henchmen trained to sacrifice themselves for a particular family?" Jenny frowned, feeling that the situation was more complicated than she'd probably." Alec nodded. He had yet to find any

Chapter 999 I Feel More at Ease

Jenny lowered her eyes. She truly had no idea about the existence of such henchmen in the Walters. However, she didn't think too much about it.

Either Graham had not entrusted her because he thought she wasn't capable of handling them yet, or he thought it was better for him to retain control over them for the time being.

"Do you think Zeke was the one behind everything this time?" Jenny asked Alec, eager to find out the identity of the culprit behind the scenes.

Alec pondered for a moment, then shook his head. "I don't think so."

"Why are you so sure?" Jenny looked at him, surprised at how he'd swiftly come to that conclusion without any hesitance.

Now, it was Jenny's turn to be silent. Although she felt it was unlikely that Zeke was the mastermind, she couldn't think of anyone else besides him.

Seeing Jenny racking her brain over the matter, Alec got up and leaned her back against the hospital bed. "Rest well. I'll investigate this matter.

those people are dead, we can still find out their identities and get in agreement, not saying anything else. She needed to get well soon, as she closed her eyes to sleep but opened them again the so you don't need to had as much to do as she did, and she felt guilty that he'd been staying with her all night. Smiling and shaking his head, Alec insisted on staying. "I feel more at ease watching over sleep. There's a couch over there. I'll sleep for a while after you fall him to go back. She closed her eyes and quickly fell asleep. After Jenny was sound asleep, Alec quietly left the this. I want to know who these people are." If Jenny were awake at that moment, she would be surprised side of him in a be discharged from the hospital. However, since Evan was still in the ICU, she wasn't in a rush with breakfast. "It's good that you," Jenny

"Alec-"

Chapter 1000 Don't Want You to Leave Me

In the ward, Jenny sat quietly beside the hospital bed without saying a word. Evan had remained silent since he woke up, not even saying a word to Jenny when he saw her. Seeing him like that, Jenny felt worried.

"Evan..." she said.

"Don't worry. I'm fine," Evan said with a smile. Even at that moment, he could still smile and tell Jenny that he was okay, not wanting her to worry too much.

"Fine? How could he be fine? He has to spend the rest of his life in a wheelchair. No one would be able to accept such an outcome calmly!" Jenny exclaimed inwardly.

"We're already contacting the best doctors for you. There must be a way," Jenny said, worried he was suppressing his emotions.

It was better to let it out at times like this instead of bottling it all up.

she was referring to herself and Alec. For some reason, he felt particularly displeased upon hearing spend the rest of my life in a wheelchair, will you stay by my side?" Evan suddenly asked as standing outside by the door, was visibly shaken. He wanted to barge in and ask Jenny to refuse looked at Evan. "Evan, are you become useless. If you leave me too, I don't she couldn't bring herself to do it. He became like this because he saved

I'm just kidding. Don't worry about it. Just pretend I said cut him off. *As long as you're bound to the wheelchair, was surprised. He didn't expect Jenny to agree so understood what Jenny's words implied and found it hard to accept. They were about to progress to the next level, but immediately saw Alec sitting on the bench. He sat there with his hands holding his head, looking very distressed, and that made him. "I'm hungry. Let's go