

Beast Tamer 1071

Chapter 1071: Fang Mu's New Butler!

Choosing advantages is the instinct of all living beings, and Grandmaster Creators are no exception.

Extraterrestrial Embryos belong to the forbidden category, yet there are distinctions within the banned substances.

For those ordinary Beast Masters, it might be forbidden, but Grandmaster Creators are qualified to study it.

Fang Mu used a Life Elixir with a 98% purity to irrigate the Heaven-Supporting Fusang Leaf.

He interacted with the Creators of the Ten-thousand Nations Federation as a Saint Creator.

These Creators of the Ten-thousand Nations Federation also wished to form connections with him, just like Xu Fengnian and Wang Mi did.

The Sea of Domains' tidal cycle every several decades greatly helped Fang Mu, providing ample resources for nurturing his Destiny Beast, Fool's Shadow.

Zhang Renbin came to see Fang Mu, and it wasn't just for one matter.

Ever since he successfully joined under Fang Mu's command, Zhang Renbin had been thinking about pulling other regiments in.

He wanted other regiments to become forces under Fang Mu's command, just like the Ji Feng Travel Group.

Fang Mu made a promise to Zhang Renbin.

He would let Zhang Renbin manage the regiments that pledged allegiance under him.

Bringing other regiments under Fang Mu's command was the best way for Zhang Renbin to enhance his own ability to manage power.

"Master, have you heard of the Sword Shark Regiment and the Wild Thunder Regiment?"

"The strength of the Sword Shark Regiment is comparable to the Ji Feng Travel Group, and the Wild Thunder Regiment is even stronger."

"The leaders of these two regiments are old friends of mine."

“I have explained the situation to them, and both are willing to come under your command and rely on your glory!”

Zhang Renbin, in his endeavors to pull other regiments to Fang Mu, naturally prioritized those he was familiar with.

Firstly, for any regiment to associate with a Grandmaster Creator is in itself an incredible opportunity.

As the saying goes, ‘riches never flow to outsiders’ fields’, such good fortune should naturally be first offered to friends.

Secondly, although Fang Mu had granted Zhang Renbin the autonomy to manage other regiments’ leaders, Zhang needed to ensure he could effectively control these leaders.

Approaching these familiar leaders made it convenient for Zhang Renbin to manage them.

Once he had a leading position in both the Sword Shark Regiment and the Wild Thunder Regiment, the snowball effect would have begun.

When other regiments were later brought under Fang Mu’s command, both the Sword Shark Regiment and the Wild Thunder Regiment would become forces he could utilize.

Fang Mu responded directly.

“Since I’ve given you the responsibility of managing other regiments’ leaders, you can go ahead and negotiate directly with the leaders of the Sword Shark Regiment and the Wild Thunder Regiment on my behalf.”

“I will provide you with the necessary resources.”

Soon, Fang Mu had to compete for a wood property Growth Type Sanctuary, and he really didn’t have much time to spare.

If every time Zhang Renbin recruited a regiment for him, he had to personally negotiate with these regiments’ leaders, it would consume much of Fang Mu’s time and also not be conducive to maintaining his aura of mystery.

Zhang Renbin was very astute, knowing what should and should not be done.

Since the leaders of the Sword Shark Regiment and the Wild Thunder Regiment could be persuaded by Zhang Renbin, it also proved their intentions.

They were motivated by resources, and Fang Mu’s desire to recruit regiments was likewise driven by resources.

Zhang Renbin, having bound the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen, could control the leaders of other regiments absolutely with the newly produced Soul Parasite Ants.

Therefore, Fang Mu was not worried that any regiment under Zhang Renbin's control would act against his interests.

Zhang Renbin was overjoyed at Fang Mu's words.

Zhang Renbin hadn't expected Fang Mu to trust him so much.

That after delegating power to him the previous time, there were no further instructions required.

Zhang Renbin once again felt Fang Mu's trust in him, making him determined to manage everything perfectly to not let Fang Mu down.

"Master, rest assured, I will manage everything well!"

"If any resources are needed, I will discuss it with Sister Wan."

"If these regiments wish to trade supplies, I will also convey that to Sister Wan."

Zhang Renbin was much older than She Wan.

Now using “Sister Wan” to address She Wan was a way to curry favor.

During the time Fang Mu was in seclusion, She Wan had become Fang Mu’s spokesperson.

This made Zhang Renbin recognize She Wan’s status.

Fang Mu nodded at the words.

Indeed, for this matter, Zhang Renbin could just communicate with She Wan.

If Zhang Renbin kept contacting him about these issues through the Legend Butterfly, Fang Mu would definitely be annoyed.

Xiao Yin had already headed to Tide Bay, supervising Tide Bay on behalf of Fang Mu.

She Wan, as a guard, had reluctantly taken on Xiao Yin’s role as a personal housekeeper.

Fang Mu felt it was necessary to train a few talents who could stay by his side to handle affairs.

Suddenly, Fang Mu thought of Liu Xi.

According to Liu Xi, before his transformation into an Evil Spirit, he had excellent domestic talents and helped manage a continent.

Fang Mu wasn't sure how many federations were established on that continent, nor was he sure of the continent's size.

But anyone who could take on such a task must be a Cream of the Crop!

Liu Xi's abilities would not diminish even after transforming into an Evil Spirit.

Thinking of this, Fang Mu directly contacted Liu Xi through the soul and soon received a response from him.

Liu Xi was indeed very skilled at handling such matters.

However, as a Heavenly Evil Spirit, Liu Xi was not suitable to appear before people.

But Liu Xi could easily control two bodies, using these bodies as puppets to help Fang Mu handle affairs.

Chapter 1072: Fang Mu's New Butler!_2

This type of body was easy to find; in the wilderness, there were the corpses of dead Beast Masters everywhere.

One could simply take the remains of a couple of Beast Masters, alter their faces and they would be ready to get started with related tasks.

Liu Xi had extremely strong execution abilities.

Fang Mu had just sent Zhang Renbin away when the two bodies controlled by Liu Xi had already reported to the Mountain Manor.

To make it easier to distinguish between them, Liu Xi named the older one Liu Yi.

Liu Yi appeared to be in his forties, with a face that, after modifications, looked quite distinguished.

But this dignity was restrained, giving the first impression that this person must have lived a life of leisure and luxury.

He had a vast amount of resources at his disposal.

The younger one was called Liu Er, looking about twenty-three or twenty-four years old.

With an ordinary face, his demeanor remained composed.

He stood by Fang Mu's side as if he were merely part of the backdrop.

Liu Xi intended to send out Liu Yi to negotiate with other forces on behalf of Fang Mu.

Liu Er would follow Fang Mu closely and assist with various matters.

Neither She Wan nor Shu Liangjun were surprised by the sudden addition of two people by Fang Mu's side.

Fang Mu indeed needed some helpers at the moment.

She Wan secretly breathed a sigh of relief.

She Wan was really not suited for the role of a personal assistant.

She could manage for a short period, but over a long duration, mistakes were bound to happen.

Knowing her own abilities was She Wan's strength; she never ventured to do things beyond her capacity.

If Fang Mu hadn't thought of hiring a personal assistant after sending away Lu Xiaoyin, She Wan would have suggested it for him.

Fang Mu's wounded soul was healing day by day.

Swallowing several Green Worms daily allowed Fang Mu's soul to recover very quickly.

Su Qing took the Spiritual Elixirs provided by Fang Mu in advance and returned to Chonghuaju.

According to the scheduled time, Su Qing should have brought a group of plant-type beasts with the potential to become Flower Spirits to Fang Mu's Mountain Manor several days ago.

Su Qing specially explained the reasons for her delay to Fang Mu.

The new batch of Floral Beasts cultivated by Chonghuaju was simply too numerous.

Su Qing planned to select the highest quality Floral Beasts for Fang Mu as much as possible.

Not all the Flower Spirits screened by Chonghuaju had a certain chance of transforming into Flower Spirits.

After careful selection, the success rate of becoming Flower Spirits was only between sixty and sixty-five percent.

What Su Qing intended to do was to raise the success rate of the Floral Beasts she was going to give to Fang Mu, aiming to increase it above seventy-five percent.

Only then could she prove her sincerity to Fang Mu.

However, being late was her fault, so as compensation, Su Qing would bring an extra Two Winged Flower Spirit as a gift for Fang Mu.

It's true that Su Qing was a senior member of Chonghuaju.

But the fact that Su Qing could mobilize Chonghuaju's resources to such an extent in order to please Fang Mu,

Couldn't be separated from the strong support of other senior figures at Chonghuaju.

There was a Grandmaster Creator within Chonghuaju, who was on the level of a Senior Creation Zenith Master.

Otherwise, Chonghuaju simply couldn't have cultivated so many high-level Flower Spirits.

This elder was known as Flower Granny and had never been the palace master of Chonghuaju.

Yet for over three hundred years, she had been one of the three solid pillars of Chonghuaju's Elder Council.

Upon learning that Su Qing had obtained so many high-purity Spiritual Elixirs from Fang Mu, Flower Granny was certain that Qixing must be a Saint Creator.

News came from Contract Garden that an orange-red leaf had appeared on the Sky-Reaching Fusang Tree.

Among the Creators that Contract Garden had recently been in contact with, only Qixing's level was unknown.

Flower Granny thought to herself.

She wondered how Su Qing had managed to establish a connection with a disciple of Qixing, to be able to directly exchange for high-level Creator resources!

This channel had to be maintained at all costs by Chonghuaju, it must not be lost!

In the long run, Chonghuaju's strength would increase just by having a channel related to a Saint Creator!

Su Qing would arrive at the Mountain Manor in the evening, and Fang Mu would welcome her.

One reason was that Su Qing was an official member of the Celestial Council.

Moreover, Su Qing had been a great help to Fang Mu.

The Exhausted Blood Flower Spirit allowed Fang Mu to condense Covenant Blood Essence more quickly.

The Green Worm Hibiscus Flower Spirit was just perfect for Fang Mu to confidently use [Order Realm Peeking].

Otherwise, Fang Mu would have struggled to find a treasure like the Green Worm to quickly heal his soul's wounds!

Fang Mu was silently calculating in his heart.

This time, in the struggle to seize the Wood Property Growth Type Secret Land, there had already been a total of seven Order Strong on his side.

Fang Mu would bring Liu Xi with him, and with Liu Xi included, there would be eight Order Strong.

However, Liu Xi wasn't in her most powerful state.

Because Mister Hei, whom Liu Xi controlled, needed to remain at the Jianmu Commerce Association headquarters.

Among Fang Mu's eight Order Strong, two were Grandmaster Creators, making the team extremely valuable in terms of quality.

Fang Mu hesitated over whether or not to invite Su Qing to participate in this operation.

Fang Mu had already cooperated with Su Qing once, and finding her help again could further strengthen their relationship.

Secondly, it would also show off his capabilities to Su Qing.

Letting Su Qing know that even a Grandmaster Creator had to give him face and help him out.

After participating in the operation, Su Qing would inevitably bring the news back to Chonghuaju.

This would make Chonghuaju naturally want to tighten their ties with him even more.

With Su Qing added in, a lineup of nine Order Strong was already sufficient.

This eased the pressure in Fang Mu's heart, making it unnecessary to ensure that he must invite members to help him at the Stardisk Meeting.

Last time, Fang Mu only managed to attract Su Qing even after offering Spiritual Elixirs.

Of course, this had a lot to do with the urgency of Fang Mu's time.

But it also proved that every member of the Celestial Assembly had a vast resource chain behind them.

If they had their own matters to attend to, they wouldn't delay their important affairs for these high-level Creator resources.

Shui Miao had also given him a promise.

Fang Mu felt that this Growth Type Sanctuary was almost certainly within his grasp.

After all, Fang Mu had dispatched no less than nine Order Strong to compete for it.

The only true treasures Fang Mu had on hand, apart from the Crescent Moon Pendant on his chest and that purple-black Small Tower, were no more.

Those high-tier Sequential equipments would ultimately be hard-pressed to withstand the attacks of Order Strong.

And both the Blood of Abundance and the Fool's Shadow, as Fang Mu's Destiny Guardian Beasts, were a part of him and couldn't be regarded as treasures.

Fang Mu needed to gather some real treasures as the foundation for himself and the Infinite Tower.

When Su Qing saw Fang Mu, a warm smile appeared on her face.

Su Qing's smile overshadowed even the mist sprayed by the Heaven Fragrance Peony.

Su Qing was extremely beautiful, unmatched by any other woman Fang Mu knew.

Fang Mu thought to himself, could eating flowers really make one more attractive?

Su Qing was always very subtle in expressing her emotions.

The last time Fang Mu saw Su Qing, she wasn't as forthcoming as she was now.

"A Qing, you've come at just the right time,"

"It's just about time for lunch, let's eat together!"

"I've collected a lot of Heaven Fragrance Peony flowers for you from Master, and I also have something I want to tell you."

Upon hearing this, Su Qing hurriedly said.

“Ah Mu, you can tell me straight away if you have something; I will do my utmost to help!”

“The Life Elixirs and Spiritual Elixirs you’ve given me have improved my strength.”

“I was just planning to properly thank you!”

Fang Mu waved his hand upon hearing this.

“A Qing, you got what you deserved; no need to thank me.”

“Let’s talk about it after we’ve eaten.”

After the meal, only Fang Mu, Su Qing, and Liu Er remained in the dining room.

Ever since Fang Mu sat down for the meal, Liu Er had stayed behind him like a shadow.

She Wan had taken up the role of a Guard again, no longer lingering by Fang Mu’s side like a personal butler.

"A Qing, I plan to compete for a Growth Type Sanctuary,"

"I wonder if you'd be interested?"

Upon hearing this, Su Qing's expression turned solemn, as contending for a Growth Type Sanctuary was no small matter.

Even Order Strong faced risks.

But since Fang Mu asked, Su Qing immediately agreed.

"Ah Mu, I don't have any pressing issues recently and can join the operation,"

"If you need help, I can assist in making contacts for you."

Chapter 1073:

Su Qing made her decision with great determination when she said these words.

Su Qing was a member of Chonghuaju.

But what Su Qing was proposing was not to contact Chonghuaju—instead, she aimed to help Fang Mu find support.

Presently, Chonghuaju had set its heart on nurturing Flower Spirits and enhancing the younger generation.

Several of Chonghuaju's older generation strong practitioners had gone into seclusion recently.

The older generation strong practitioners who had not gone into seclusion were mentoring the young members selected by Chonghuaju.

The three Infinite Silver Silkworms that Fang Mu had given her, Su Qing had already made arrangements for them.

Flower Granny, a Senior Creation Zenith Master, had accepted an invitation from a friend and gone to visit the Beast-binding Hall.

This matter was really not something to bother Flower Granny with.

Therefore, Su Qing was prepared to use her own connections and favors to help Fang Mu.

It wasn't difficult for Su Qing to summon a few Order Strong with her own energy.

Only, she would have to repay these favors slowly in the future.

Fang Mu had extended an invitation to Su Qing without revealing his own side's lineup; he wanted to see how Su Qing would respond.

If Su Qing showed resistance and opposition upon learning that he was preparing to contend for a Growth Type Secret land,

Fang Mu would no longer engage in such close transactions with Su Qing in the future.

Although transactions would still occur for the sake of Chonghuaju's resources, Su Qing and Chonghuaju would become marginal figures for Fang Mu from here on out.

Not only did Su Qing not reject the invitation, but she even directly offered to help Fang Mu.

Fang Mu was extremely pleased with Su Qing's response.

In Fang Mu's eyes, Su Qing had already become a first-tier partner, her status on par with the Twelve Pavilion and the Glorious Clan.

“A Qing, if you’re willing to join, you can come with me!”

“I’ve already arranged for people on my side.”

With a serious tone, Su Qing said to Fang Mu,

“Ah Mu, the last time that Growth Type Secret land appeared, Chonghuaju was one of the contenders.”

“Only those who have experienced it personally know how brutal that contention was.”

“During the strife, to strike at their opponents, the various forces will even form alliances with each other.”

“In that battle, connections were just as important as strength.”

“If you want to secure the Growth Type Secret land with certainty, you absolutely must prepare a sufficient number of personnel!”

“Otherwise, you’re very likely to be schemed against in the contest!”

“The news of the Growth Type Secret land appearing will even attract Grandmaster Creators.”

Su Qing was not a talkative person; it was rare for her to say so much.

What Su Yiren meant was clear: she wanted Fang Mu to be careful not to act on impulse.

Because becoming complacent in the struggle for the Growth Type Secret land after smooth sailing would lead to dropping one’s guard.

Su Qing didn’t have a comprehensive understanding of Fang Mu; she had only worked with him once before.

This matter had always been under the guise of Qixing, leading Su Qing to believe that the operation targeting the Blood Race Queen was all arranged by Qixing and had nothing directly to do with Fang Mu.

Shu Liangjun was also aware that Fang Mu was keen on contending for this Growth Type Secret land.

But having seen Fang Mu’s performance in the Ancient Battlefield, Shu Liangjun wasn’t worried about him at all.

Despite Fang Mu’s young age, he always came out on top in the game of wits, not giving anyone a chance to get the better of him!

“A Qing, I understand your concern, and it just so happens that I have two Grandmaster Creators joining me.”

“These two Grandmaster Creators will contend for this Growth Type Secret land for me.”

“More than a dozen Order Strong should be sufficient!”

“I’ve always liked making friends. After joining and becoming an official member of Starwheel, I’ve already met the real identities of four Starwheel members.”

“In a few days at the Stardisk Meeting, I’ll send out invitations.”

“To see if anyone is willing to meet with me in reality.”

Fang Mu spoke with composure, his tone unmoved even when mentioning the two Grandmaster Creators—as if they were naturally supposed to help Fang Mu.

Su Qing was left deeply shocked by Fang Mu’s words.

Seeking help from Order Strong was an entirely different matter from seeking help from Creators with Order strength!

Creators had abilities at their disposal, with concocting elixirs being the best way to accumulate connections and acquire resources.

Instead of concocting elixirs, these two Grandmaster Creators were helping Fang Mu contend for the Growth Type Secret land.

It clearly showed how much these two Grandmaster Creators valued, or rather, wanted to build a relationship with Fang Mu!

Indeed, more than a dozen Order Strong were plenty to contend for the Growth Type Secret land.

The major powers, under the advocacy of Contract Garden, were about to be reordered, with many hermits' strengths joining in.

At this time, even with the appearance of a Growth Type Secret land, the major powers would not dispatch too many personnel.

Su Qing had also met Starwheel members offline.

But not nearly as frequently as Fang Mu had.

Ever since Fang Mu joined Starwheel, he had changed the atmosphere within the group.

This was a good thing for Starwheel, significantly bridging the gap between its members.

For instance, Shu Liangjun and Shui Miao had not had much interaction before.

But because of Fang Mu, their relationship had become much closer.

“Ah Mu, since that’s the case, I’ll stay with you before the operation!”

“I hope you can introduce me to these two Grandmaster Creators at that time.”

Su Qing expressed her expectations frankly to Fang Mu.

Traveling together, it would be at least a dozen or so days.

Chapter 1074: The Possibility of the Abdominal Territory Worm Transforming into a Butterfly!_2

If Fang Mu were to introduce her, she was very likely to become acquainted with the two Grandmaster Creators, opening up two new channels for herself.

Of course, this would mean that she owed Fang Mu a favor.

As for the favor she owed, Su Qing would think of a way to repay Fang Mu.

Fang Mu, upon hearing this, responded with a smile.

“Naturally!”

“A Qing, even if you hadn’t mentioned it, I would have introduced you to the two Grandmaster Creators myself!”

“It’s getting late now; I’ll have Liu Er prepare a room for you,”

“I’ll handle these Floral Beasts that you entrusted to me.”

“I’ve discovered that many beasts react intensely to Spiritual Energy, especially these plant-type beasts.”

Su Qing nodded in agreement upon hearing Fang Mu’s words.

The Granny of Repeated Flower Residence had nurtured Flower Spirits for many years and knew exactly what was needed for these Floral Beasts to transform into Flower Spirits and for Flower Spirits to grow.

Spiritual Energy indeed greatly benefitted Flower Spirits. Most of them reacted to Spiritual Energy.

Those Flower Spirits that reacted strongly to Spiritual Energy and absorbed relatively pure Spiritual Energy could even undergo evolution in their bloodlines.

However, Spiritual Energy was exceedingly precious.

The Spiritual Energy concocted by Granny of Repeated Flower Residence wasn't even enough for Beast Masters, let alone for absorption by Flower Spirits!

Probably only Granny's own Flower Spirits were regularly treated to Spiritual Energy absorption.

Fang Mu intended to use Spiritual Energy to nurture these Flower Spirits.

If that was indeed the case, then it was a Blessing for these Flower Spirits to have ended up in Fang Mu's hands!

Upon hearing Fang Mu's instructions, Liu Er bowed respectfully to Su Qing.

Su Qing suddenly realized that Liu Er was using a very special form of etiquette.

This etiquette was documented in ancient texts and was prevalent during the fifth and sixth Epochs.

Many children from prestigious forces and members of powerful clans were infatuated with learning ancient etiquette to become more proper and elegant.

Due to the incompleteness of the ancient texts, the great forces had to collect various ancient texts.

They had to compile the contents of various considerations together to avoid ending up with a tiger that looks like a dog.

Liu Er was a servant of Fang Mu, allowing a servant to adopt such level of refinement.

This made Su Qing firmly believe that Qixing must be someone who pursued high quality of life and had extreme attention to detail!

This made Su Qing, when looking at Fang Mu again, always feel like there were a pair of wise eyes watching her through Fang Mu.

Fang Mu was unaware of Su Qing's thoughts

If he had known, Fang Mu would have just sighed softly, thinking that Su Qing had deified him!

Through his interactions with Su Qing, he had subtly established a persona in Su Qing's mind.

And he made Su Qing thoroughly convinced of his persona.

Initially, Fang Mu had needed careful planning and excellent acting skills to achieve this.

Now that Fang Mu had powerful strength by his side and could provide resources to support his identity,

Fang Mu was able to achieve the same goal without even trying.

Su Qing had given him a total of one hundred and fifty Floral Beasts.

If one were to speak of these Floral Beasts, each one was of top-notch quality.

Even those impoverished trading companies would not have wanted to auction such high-level beasts.

Fang Mu planned to transplant all these Floral Beasts into the Abdominal Space of the Abdominal Territory Worm, planting them around a spring.

Nourished by the spring water.

Even if the Floral Beasts had some major issues, their survival could still be ensured.

The Spiritual Energy in the Abdominal Space was not something Fang Mu would claim to be especially pure, but it was exceptionally rich.

Enough for these Floral Beasts to absorb.

Taking this opportunity, Fang Mu also wanted to check the growth conditions of a few carefully nurtured plant-type beasts in the Abdominal Space.

Fang Mu summoned the Abdominal Territory Worm.

Fang Mu had been in closed-door cultivation recently, entrusting Gu Kun with all matters within his Abdominal Space. Fang Mu felt very reassured.

This allowed Fang Mu to neglect the Abdominal Territory Worm for a while.

The size of the current Abdominal Territory Worm had grown slightly larger than before.

Fang Mu knew this must be because the Abdominal Territory Worm had absorbed a large amount of Life Elixir and Space Energy Elixir he provided, resulting in an upgrade in its rank.

With that thought, Fang Mu quickly shook his head.

If it were just a rank upgrade, the Spatial Haze used by the Abdominal Territory Worm to shield its own aura wouldn't be this dense.

Moreover, many vibrant patterns had appeared on the body of the Abdominal Territory Worm.

These patterns contained an immense Life Energy.

These patterns must be related to the increase in strength of the Abdominal Territory Worm.

Fang Mu immediately used the "Innate Divine Skill [Eye of Omniscience]" of Fool's Shadow to inspect the Abdominal Territory Worm.

[Beast Name]: Abdominal Territory Worm

[Beast Species]: Soft-bodied class/Pouch worm species

[Beast Level]: Diamond Rank (6/10)

[Beast Element]: Space Series

[Beast Potential]: Diamond Rank

[Beast Quality]: Legendary Quality

Skill:

[Wormhole Travel]: Moves its body in a designated direction, performing continuous short-range movements in a shuttle manner.

[Wormhole Mark]: Marks a fixed location using a secretion from its abdomen; after marking, it can return to the marked location by consuming Spatial Energy as a cost (the consumed Spatial Energy will diminish as the purity increases).

[Secret Realm Energy]: Designates a type of energy as a special energy source for the sanctuary, allowing the Abdominal Territory Worm to produce the special energy for the sanctuary by consuming its own Life Energy.

[Larva Replacement]: Consumes Spatial Energy to produce larvae in its abdomen; larvae buried in the ground can expand the coverage area of its abilities. Other lifeforms can establish temporary contracts with the larvae to enable the swapping of positions between larvae; after relocating, the larvae explode, contaminating the space around them and making it disadvantageous for teleportation.

[Mystery Expansion]: Absorbs more energy to strengthen itself; when it is saturated with energy, the space of the Abdominal Environment at the same rank can be about 1.3 times its original area. (If the energy source is damaged, the expanded space of the Abdominal Environment will collapse, and the food within the expanded space will be banished into the spatial flux).

Exclusive Traits:

[Staunch Shell]: As long as its external shell is not breached and life not terminated, it will not affect the stability of the internal space.

[Double Mystic Land]: Besides its abdominal sanctuary, it can temporarily construct a hidden sanctuary in the void to conceal itself. The sanctuary remains undetectable by regular means until breached.

[Setting Nurturing]: Consumes energy to connect with the objects inside the sanctuary space, sensing their states and supplementing the environment which the sanctuary space cannot provide from the outside.

Evolutionary Path:

①: Spirit Realm Pupa, ②: Pouch Worm, ③: Transformation Worm.

Upon investigation, the Abdominal Territory Worm indeed had advanced to Diamond Level Legendary Quality as Fang Mu had anticipated.

Fang Mu wasn't surprised at all by the Abdominal Territory Worm's rapid increase in power.

Fang Mu needed the Abdominal Territory Worm to quickly enhance its strength.

The stronger the Abdominal Territory Worm, the easier it was for Fang Mu to obtain more Spiritual Energy through its exclusive trait [Secret Realm Energy].

Fang Mu now understood the value of Spiritual Energy.

For those at Order-level strength, Spiritual Elixirs were even more precious than Life Elixirs.

The Abdominal Territory Worm consuming Life Elixirs and Space Elixirs was akin to an old ox drinking water, utterly unappreciative.

One could say the Abdominal Territory Worm lived a life of luxury with Fang Mu from a young age.

So, even though the Abdominal Territory Worm wasn't Fang Mu's Contract Beast, it was still exceptionally close to Fang Mu.

However, what currently fascinated Fang Mu about the Abdominal Territory Worm was not its newly acquired skills or exclusive traits.

It was the Evolutionary Path of the Abdominal Territory Worm.

After the Abdominal Territory Worm's skill [Secret Realm Energy] had selected an Energy, the Evolutionary Path was revealed.

Fang Mu explored all three Evolutionary Paths and found them all quite intriguing.

The first Evolutionary Path, Spirit Realm Pupa, transformed the Abdominal Territory Worm from its worm form to a pupa form.

Could it be possible that by following this path, the Abdominal Territory Worm could eventually transform into a butterfly?

Chapter 1075: Lily Lily – Flower of Midsummer!

From caterpillar to butterfly, it is a process of life level transformation.

It will greatly enhance the original bloodline without changing it.

Besides harboring a sanctuary, the Abdominal Territory Worm also serves as Fang Mu's mount.

But in terms of aesthetic appeal, the caterpillar definitely does not match the butterfly's attractiveness.

Among the three evolutionary paths, Fang Mu would resolutely choose the first one—Spirit Realm Pupa.

The name Spirit Realm Pupa itself suggests a connection with the Spiritual Energy bound to the Abdominal Territory Worm.

The second evolutionary path, Pouch Worm, likely utilizes the poly-pocket nature of the worm's body to compartmentalize the sanctuary within.

This compartmentalization is beneficial for the nurturing of beasts, but this benefit comes with significant limitations.

It allows the Sunset Elegant Lotus within the Abdomen Environment to possess the effect of a plant-type beastmaster bred within.

Once compartmentalized, the effect of the Sunset Elegant Lotus will only be reflected in one Pouch Entity.

The third evolutionary path, Transformation Worm, according to Fang Mu's speculation and the information obtained from real data investigations.

Is most likely the externalization of the environment within the Abdomen Space, transforming it into a mortal paradise.

The Abdomen Space is an environment bred within the body of the Abdominal Territory Worm, isolated from the outside world.

The Spirit Beings within the Abdomen Space struggle to receive the sunlight and dew from the outside.

This hinders the growth of the guardian beasts within the Abdomen Space.

If it evolves towards the Transformation Worm pathway, it would completely circumvent the effects caused by the inability to exchange energy with the outside world.

However, this would lose the concealment offered by the Abdomen Space.

The secrecy of the Abdomen Space has always been the aspect of the Abdominal Territory Worm that Fang Mu values most.

Furthermore, the Abdominal Territory Worm has acquired an exclusive skill named [Setting Nurturing] after ascending to the Diamond Rank.

The magnificent patterns on the Abdominal Territory Worm's body are the result of the exclusive characteristic [Setting Nurturing].

[Setting Nurturing] allows the Abdominal Territory Worm to consume energy to connect with things inside the Abdomen Space, sensing their condition, and then altering its body patterns to provide the best living conditions for those beings linked to the Abdominal Territory Worm from within the outside world.

This is why Fang Mu would never consider the third evolutionary path of the Transformation Worm.

In addition to the exclusive feature [Setting Nurturing], the Abdominal Territory Worm also gained a skill called [Mystery Expansion] after advancing to the Diamond Rank.

[Mystery Expansion] enables the Abdominal Territory Worm to absorb more energy, strengthening itself at a high cost in order to expand the area of the Abdomen Space.

This expansion increases the Abdomen Space to one point three times its original size.

Knowing that every inch of soil within the Abdomen Space is exceedingly precious, additional area means more guardian beasts can receive the nurturing of Spiritual Energy.

However, when the core of the Abdominal Territory Worm is damaged, it leads to the collapse of the additionally expanded Abdomen Space.

Things within the expanded space are banished into spatial turmoil.

Once the guardian beasts raised in the Abdomen Space are banished into the void and sliced by the spatial turbulence,

These lower-ranking guardian beasts would be shredded into dust within a very short time.

Nevertheless, the Abdominal Territory Worm has never been a beast utilised for combat.

As long as Fang Mu rides the Abdominal Territory Worm, he would arrange for a powerful force to protect it.

If the Abdominal Territory Worm ever sustains core damage, Fang Mu is bound to be injured as well.

Therefore, the negative effects of [Mystery Expansion] are virtually nil to Fang Mu.

Currently, the Abdominal Territory Worm has reached Diamond Rank Six, and Fang Mu will continue to provide Life Elixirs and Space Energy Elixirs for it.

Enabling the Abdominal Territory Worm to advance to Diamond Level Ten Legendary Quality as soon as possible and then sprint towards the Squential.

The Abdominal Territory Worm transforming into a Spirit Realm Pupa, stepping onto the Squential is a very good opportunity.

As the rank and quality of the Abdominal Territory Worm continuously improve, so does its Spiritual Intelligence.

The Abdominal Territory Worm's Spiritual Intelligence is now comparable to that of a five or six-year-old child.

A child knows best who is kind to them.

The attachment of the Abdominal Territory Worm to Fang Mu exceeds that of the kitten he raised in his previous life.

It is not inferior compared to Xi Xi.

When Fang Mu entered the Abdomen Space, he saw Gu Kun earnestly using Life Elixirs to water the Lily Lily that Fang Mu had acquired from Feng Lin.

This Lily Lily had already changed significantly from before.

The plant was small initially, but now Lily Lily had successfully completed its evolution.

It evolved into Lily Lily Overshadowed.

The evolution of the Lily Lily bloodline demonstrated to Fang Mu its formidable evolutionary capability.

Fang Mu used the Innate Divine Skill [Eye of Omniscience] from Fool's Shadow to examine Lily Lily.

He found that Lily Lily had evolved into a Silver Level Seven of Legendary Quality.

Fang Mu had instructed Gu Kun to ensure Lily Lily advanced to Legendary Quality at Copper Level Ten before progressing to Silver.

Gu Kun's earnest care for Lily Lily at this moment made it clear to Fang Mu that Gu Kun was firmly implementing his instructions.

[Beast Name]: Lily Lily Overshadowed

[Beast Species]: Sedum/Lotus Flower

[Beast Level]: Silver (7/10)

[Beast Element]: Wood

[Beast Potential]: Gold

[Beast Quality]: Legendary

Skills:

[Heal]: Heals the target's lost Qi and Blood and can treat injuries.

[Happy Healing]: All healing abilities carry a joyous effect, and targets nourished by the joyous effect will enter a state of extreme happiness. This state may cause the target to lose the will to fight for a short time.

Chapter 1076: Lily Lily · Flower of Midsummer!_2

Exclusive Traits:

[Life Protection]: The Life Energy that dissipates from oneself is stored in the core of the flower. When the Contractor's Life Energy is depleted, this stored Life Energy can be infused into the Contractor's body to replenish their Life Energy.

[Life Fountain]: Emanates Life Energy outward from oneself, healing designated allies and applying a Forbidden Treatment effect on designated enemy targets.

[Life Principle Peeling]: Utilizes one's Special Energy to catalyze Life Energy, then extracts the Life Energy that has been catalyzed with Special Energy from the target's body. (This extraction does not damage the target's essence, but it does lower the life level of the peeled target.)

Evolutionary Path:

①: Lily Lily·Foliage Flower, ②: Lily Flower Fairy, ③: Hundred Lily Flower Witch.

The data of Lily Lily caught Fang Mu's eye.

[Happy Healing], this skill is more of a Control Skill than a healing-type skill.

By healing, it causes the target to lose their combat consciousness, which is a terrifying Control Skill.

There are many types of control, such as blinding, paralysis, and stiffness, which are typical control skills that can be dispelled by Supportive Beast Controllers as negative effects.

But Lily Lily's [Happy Healing] skill is a healing skill.

This causes the target to lose combat consciousness due to an overwhelming sense of happiness, and it is not considered a negative control effect.

It can have a surprising effect in battle, facilitating the assassination of the enemy's leader or elite units.

What really made Fang Mu appreciate Lily Lily-Foliage Bud was its exclusive trait [Life Principle Peeling] obtained upon ascending to Legendary Quality.

Any Beastmaster with Legendary Quality is hard to disappoint its Contractor.

This statement is equally applicable to the now extinct Lily Lily.

[Life Principle Peeling], this exclusive trait, seems complex in the data, but is actually very simple.

If Lily Lily injects its special energy into a target and extracts the Life Energy that has already bonded with the flesh through this energy.

It lowers the Life Level of the targeted Beast.

This ability could be disgustingly efficient if used for destruction.

It could obliterate years of effort from other Beast Masters in an instant.

However, this ability can be used not only for destruction but also for redemption.

During the training of Guardian Beasts, Beast Masters may inevitably lead their beasts down a wrong evolutionary path due to their choices.

This growth is regarded as irreversible in the common knowledge of Beast Masters.

The exclusive trait [Life Principle Peeling] of Lily Lily breaks this common knowledge of the Beastmaster world, turning the irreversible into reversible.

But from this perspective, Lily Lily-Foliage Bud can be considered a foundational-level Beast.

In the evolutionary path, since Fang Mu chose the evolution of Lily Lily itself, he suppressed Lily Lily's acquisition of the Fairy Bloodline.

Thus, Lily Lily-Foliage Flower is currently the best evolutionary path for Lily Lily Foliage Bud!

Noticing Fang Mu's arrival, Gu Kun quickly came to Fang Mu's side.

Having not seen Fang Mu for a long time, Gu Kun immediately gave Fang Mu a grand salute.

Even with the exclusive trait "Many Buds," the production of pollen by the Bearing Spirit Hibiscus was still scarce.

Fang Mu couldn't apply it on a large scale to plant-type guardian beasts.

He could only choose the most potential-rich plant-type guardian beasts to enjoy the stimulating effects of the Bearing Spirit Hibiscus pollen!

Chapter 1077: Sundial King Lotus!

Many plant-type beastmasters can be propagated through special methods.

After propagation, careful cultivation can yield a new plant.

However, Huai Spirit Hibiscus is not one of them.

Propagating it would only damage the essence of the Huai Spirit Hibiscus and reduce the pollen yield.

Thus, there is no way to change the scarce pollen production of Huai Spirit Hibiscus.

Gu Kun didn't say much as Fang Mu observed the Huai Spirit Hibiscus; he just quietly stood by Fang Mu's side.

Gu Kun knew that Fang Mu's observation of these plants was also a way of assessing him.

Apart from the unique trait of "Birth-giving Pollen," Huai Spirit Hibiscus had also gained a new skill called "Root Locking Spirit."

The skill "Root Locking Spirit" has some usefulness.

The essence of the skill "Root Locking Spirit" is to lock Spiritual Energy with the root whiskers, allowing the Huai Spirit Hibiscus to absorb Spiritual Energy even in an environment where it's scarce.

This skill is rather selfish.

But that's how biological evolution works; it always tries to ensure its interests in the natural environment.

However, this selfish skill "Root Locking Spirit" can increase the concentration of Spiritual Energy around the roots of Huai Spirit Hibiscus.

It also nurtures the surrounding beastmasters near the Huai Spirit Hibiscus.

Fang Mu's gaze didn't linger long on the Huai Spirit Hibiscus.

The biggest change within the Abdomen Environment wasn't the Huai Spirit Hibiscus but the Lotus Overlooking The Day, which had already evolved from the Sunset Elegant Lotus.

The Lotus Overlooking The Day had now evolved into the Lotus King Overlooking the Day, sprawling like a small mountain above the stream.

Covering half of the stream beneath its lotus leaves.

The last time Fang Mu left the Abdominal Space, Lotus Overlooking The Day was still at the Platinum Tier level 8 with Legendary Quality.

This shows that the Lotus Overlooking The Day was nourished by pure Spiritual Energy during its ascent to the Diamond Rank, allowing its bloodline to transform autonomously.

The ability of its bloodline to evolve effortlessly indicates that the Lotus King Overlooking the Day has extremely high bloodline potential.

After stepping into the Diamond Rank, the space of the Abdominal Territory Worm expanded considerably.

The current Abdominal Space is now as large as a school's small auditorium.

With such a large area, the entire space shines as bright as midday under the radiance of the Lotus King Overlooking the Day.

However, the light emitted by the Lotus King Overlooking the Day differs drastically from the outer world's light.

The radiance emitted by the Lotus King Overlooking the Day isn't glaring at all; instead, it gives a very comfortable feeling under its illumination.

Fang Mu doesn't lack undead on hand.

The Ling Poison Dark Lotus evolved into the Ling Poison King Lotus and was planted in Above the Green Field of Eden Dreamland.

The body of the Ling Poison King Lotus is incredibly huge; compared to Ling Poison King Lotus, Lotus King Overlooking the Day is miniature.

However, the size of the Lotus King Overlooking the Day is just right for the Abdomen Environment.

If the size of the Lotus King Overlooking the Day had exceeded the width of the river, it would occupy much of the living space of other plant-type beastmasters.

This would lead to a significant reduction in the number of beastmasters cultivated in the Abdomen Environment.

Even if the Lotus King Overlooking the Day could increase production, Fang Mu would have to remove it from the Abdomen Environment.

Once moved out of the Abdomen Environment, the value of Lotus King Overlooking the Day would definitely be greatly reduced!

Fang Mu used the Eye of Omniscience to inspect the Lotus King Overlooking the Day that had ascended to the Diamond Stage.

[Beast Name]: Lotus King Overlooking the Day

[Beast Species]: Main Lotus Family / King Lotus Genus

[Beast Level]: Diamond (3/10)

[Beast Element]: Water System / Wood System

[Beast Potential]: Diamond

[Beast Quality]: Legendary

Skills:

[Lingri Shine]: After the flowers bloom and enter the sunny radiance state, the productivity of all water and wood dual-element beastmasters covered by the sunny radiance will increase based on the original.

[Containing Spiritual Stamen]: The sunny radiance state will activate the inherently Spirit-producing stamens, allowing the stamens to hold more Spiritual Energy.

[Bone-regrowth Lotus Roots]: The lotus roots produced have an effect that activates the genetic template; prolonged nurturing through lotus roots can help the target to complete their defective genetic templates.

[Dirt-purifying Fragrance]: The fragrance emitted by itself can purify the dirty energy in the surrounding environment; the fragrance will put the surrounding lives in a caring state, enhancing the resistance of surrounding beings to toxins.

[Lotus Body Gestation]: In an energy-abundant environment, the lotus body will naturally enter a gestational state to enhance its own production. With sufficient energy nourishment, even in a gestational state, it won't cause harm to itself.

Exclusive Traits:

[Accelerated Lotus Formation]: In a high-concentration Spiritual Energy environment with enough Life Energy, dual wood and water element energy absorption can accelerate the formation of lotus roots, and in necessary times, it can use up lotus roots to maintain its current growth state.

[Sunlight Care]: Protects targets under sunny radiance, doubling the effects of Lingri Shine on the target, significantly increasing the target's production.

[Lingri Seed Formation]: Consumes the energy in lotus roots to cause the lotus flower to condense into lotus seeds; the lotus seeds contain pure grass and wood dual-type energy, which can be directly absorbed by other beings.

Evolutionary Path:

①: Sundial King Lotus, ②: Turbulent King Lotus, ③: Lingri Healing Lotus.

Fang Mu remained silent for a moment after reviewing the data of the Lotus King Overlooking the Day; he had never seen a beastmaster as capable as the Lotus King Overlooking the Day.

The skills of the Lotus King Overlooking the Day are really fantastic!

The Diamond Level Skills [Lotus Body Gestation] greatly increase the speed at which the Lotus King Overlooking the Day grows lotus roots and produces lotus seeds.

Chapter 1078: Sundial King Lotus!_2

Fang Mu maximized the effect of the Skill [Bone Lotus] and the Exclusive Trait [Sun Overcoming Fruits].

The distant potted Wine Blood Grape also sprouted clusters of tiny purplish-blue grapes.

These tiny purplish-blue clusters would gradually mature, turning into bunches of dark red Wine Blood Grapes.

When Fang Mu first obtained the Wine Blood Grapes, he was extremely eager for their maturation.

But now that Fang Mu had the Exhausted Blood Flower Spirit, Wine Blood Grapes could only be considered as one of the things in Fang Mu's possession used to assist with blood production.

Fang Mu could replace the function of the Wine Blood Grapes before they even matured, within a short period.

This was enough to prove just how fast Fang Mu's members were growing.

Fang Mu's supplies would undergo a transformation every once in a while.

Such a rate of development was simply incomparable to other forces.

Gu Kun did not speak while Fang Mu was observing the Lotus King Overlooking the Day.

Because although Gu Kun had put effort into cultivating the Lotus King Overlooking the Day, he had only been performing his regular duties without expending too much effort.

After Gu Kun learned that Fang Mu valued the Wine Blood Grapes and intended to collect their leaves,

During this time, Gu Kun had collected the fallen leaves of the Wine Blood Grapes for Fang Mu.

He kept them in the box that he would carry with him every day.

Gu Kun brought out the Brocade Box and handed it to Fang Mu.

“Young Master, inside this box are the leaves that have fallen from the Wine Blood Grapes during this period,” Gu Kun said.

“I do not know if you still need these leaves?”

“I have soaked these leaves in Life Elixir that I have mixed, keeping them in a very fresh state!”

Fang Mu had told Gu Kun the names of all the Guardian Beasts within the Abdomen Environment.

It was Gu Kun’s compulsory course to write down these names and cultivation methods.

Even if Gu Kun had been parasitized by the Soul Parasite Ant and contracted the Infinite Silver Silkworm, Fang Mu would not let Gu Kun leave the Abdominal Space.

The secrets that Gu Kun held were too important for Fang Mu.

Once the other forces in the world learned that there was a space that could produce Spiritual Energy at will,

Even if they knew a Saint Creator stood behind Fang Mu, they would surely take action.

The prestige of a Saint Creator could not suppress human greed.

Clear reward and punishment can be said to be an essential quality of those in high positions.

Having developed his power step by step to this stage, Fang Mu was naturally aware of this point.

Fang Mu raised his hand to pat Gu Kun on the shoulder, smiling as he spoke.

“Xiao Kun, you’ve also been working hard in the Abdomen Environment for several months,” he said.

“You have always been diligent during these months, and this is your reward.”

As he said this, Fang Mu placed a large Brocade Box in front of Gu Kun.

The Brocade Box reached up to Gu Kun’s chest.

Upon opening the Brocade Box, Gu Kun saw layer upon layer of Life Elixirs, wood element potions, and Water Elemental Potions.

All added up, there must have been at least five to six hundred bottles.

Upon seeing this, Gu Kun quickly knelt down, speaking in a panic.

“Young Master, I absolutely dare not accept these resources!”

Upon hearing this, Fang Mu tapped the Brocade Box gently with his index finger.

“Xiao Kun, the supplies in this Brocade Box are for maintaining the day-to-day operation of the Abdomen Environment,” Fang Mu explained.

“What I mean is, from now on, you can freely use the supplies I provide you with to strengthen yourself.”

“You no longer need to report to me.”

“If you plan to make a contract with a Guardian Beast in the future, you can tell me your requirements.”

“These resources are enough for you to carry out the optimal cultivation of a Guardian Beast.”

“I hope you will continue to devote your current enthusiasm to the cultivation of Guardian Beasts in the Abdomen Environment!”

Upon hearing this, the panic in Gu Kun’s heart did not decrease, but instead increased a bit more.

The reward from Fang Mu was equivalent to giving him unlimited access to use the resources to enhance his own strength.

Such treatment was probably already on par with that of the disciples of the Grandmaster Creator Fang Mu.

Gu Kun, still young, did not understand the situation in the realm of Grandmaster Creator.

He was unaware of what such a vast amount of resources meant.

If Gu Kun’s brother, Gu Che, were here, his thoughts would be very different from Gu Kun’s.

Just as Gu Kun was about to express his thanks, he heard Fang Mu continue.

“You have been wholehearted in serving me, and I will not only repay your devotion to your immediate family, the Town Rock Family,” Fang Mu assured.

“Next year, when supplying the Town Rock Family with supplies, they will receive an additional portion.”

“I will have the person delivering the resources tell the Town Rock Family that these extra supplies were earned through your hard work.”

Upon hearing Fang Mu’s words, Gu Kun’s eyes reddened for a moment.

Gu Kun had not suffered the slightest indignity at Fang Mu’s hands and thoroughly enjoyed living within the Abdomen Environment.

For a person without too much ambition and with a tranquil mind, living in the Abdomen Environment is like living in paradise.

Fang Mu had always provided Gu Kun with the best in food, clothing, shelter, and transportation.

This level of provision was such that even Gu Che of Clan Zhenyan could not compare.

But Gu Kun, who had just arrived here, did not know all this.

Gu Kun would never forget how, on that night, his father and grandfather had persuaded him.

They had left Gu Kun with no choice but to decide to move to a completely foreign environment.

Gu Kun missed his relatives dearly, yet also understood that it was his own family who had given up on him.

Gu Kun did not covet a reunion with his family.

If he could show his family that he was living well and had brought honor to the family through this way, Gu Kun would be completely satisfied.

“Thank you, young master, for your grace!”

“I will definitely continue to work hard in the future!”

“As this space keeps expanding, I’m finding it increasingly difficult to manage on my own.”

“May I ask if you could arrange for a few more people to work in this space?”

“It would be like finding me some company!”

Fang Mu was very fond of Gu Kun’s candid nature, which involved speaking his mind whenever he thought of something.

This made it very easy for Fang Mu to communicate with Gu Kun.

Fang Mu had long thought of arranging for more people in the Abdomen Environment.

Fang Mu would fully cultivate the Abdominal Territory Worm.

Once the Abdominal Territory Worm reached the Sequential, the area of the Abdomen Environment would expand at least threefold.

Even if Gu Kun were to work tirelessly, he would not be able to manage the Abdomen Environment on his own.

The mere fact that Gu Kun would make such a request showed that he still had the heart of a youth and was not afraid that new people would share in the rewards he received.

After pondering for a moment, Fang Mu asked Gu Kun.

“Xiao Kun, in the Panfeng Federation, people often get engaged at a very young age. You must have a childhood sweetheart, right?”

“Or do you have any close relatives from the side branches of the family?”

“I can arrange for them to be brought over, so you have playmates in this space and won’t feel too lonely!”

Upon hearing this, Gu Kun showed a surprised expression on his face.

Compared to Fang Mu allowing him to freely use those resources for Cultivating Beasts, this might be the greatest grace for Gu Kun.

“Young master, I will give you a letter to take with you before you leave.”

“You can arrange for it to be read aloud when the time comes!”

“The Lotus Companion Jade Cicada you asked me to take special care of is finally not so scared of people anymore.”

“Although it has only risen by one major stage, advancing from the Silver Stage to the Golden Stage.”

“But the bloodline of this Lotus Companion Jade Cicada has evolved.”

“It should have evolved into what you previously mentioned as the Banmu Yuchan.”

“Now besides perching on that King Lotus, it also often lands on other plant-type beastmasters.”

Fang Mu reached out and ruffled the disheveled hair atop Gu Kun’s head.

Gu Kun was only a few years younger than Fang Mu, but as a transmigrator, Fang Mu always found himself thinking with the age of his previous life.

This little fellow Gu Kun had an innocent side but was also quite smart.

In writing this letter, Gu Kun did not tell Fang Mu to hand it over to Clan Zhenyan but mentioned it being read aloud.

This indicated that he knew Fang Mu did not want him to communicate with the outside world or expose the situation within the Abdomen Environment.

Gu Kun was very eager about his recent proposal. Writing the letter was for fear that Fang Mu might forget the content to be narrated.

It included someone from Gu Kun's thoughts whom he missed.

"Xiao Kun, you go write that letter now."

"Later, you will help me sort out a batch of Floral Beasts."

"You mentioned the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada evolved into a Banmu Yuchan; I just want to check out this little guy."

"You say it's no longer so afraid of people, but it is probably just no longer afraid of you."

"Look, as soon as I arrived, the little guy went into hiding!"

Chapter 1079: Snow Realm White Tan!

Gu Kun scratched the broken hairs on his forehead upon hearing Fang Mu's words, and gave Fang Mu an embarrassed smile.

It seemed that things were indeed as Fang Mu had said.

All this time, Gu Kun had been staying in the Abdomen Environment space with the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada, which had become accustomed to his presence.

Moreover, since he would feed the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada wood element potions from time to time, it was no longer afraid of him.

Fang Mu had not visited the Abdomen Environment space for a long time, and had not established a contract with the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada.

The Lotus Companion Jade Cicada was so timid, it would have hidden under the leaves of some plant long ago at the sight of a stranger.

"Young Master, let me find the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada first, then I'll write the letter!" said Gu Kun.

After finishing his words, Gu Kun took a bottle of wood element potion from the brocade box in front of him and walked to a work table far away from Fang Mu.

He lightly tapped the potion bottle with his finger.

Then, he opened the potion bottle and held it up high.

Soon after, Fang Mu heard several faint cicada cries.

From under the leaves of a distant Blood Brewing Grapevine, a dark green cicada-type beast flew out.

The quarter palm-size cicada landed securely on the mouth of the potion bottle.

Seizing the opportunity, Fang Mu used the Innate Divine Skill [Eye of Omniscience] of Fool's Shadow.

He thoroughly examined the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada.

[Beast Name]: Lotus Companion Jade Cicada

[Beast Species]: Cicada Family/Hemiptera Order

[Beast Level]: Gold (6/10)

[Beast Element]: Wood

[Beast Potential]: Gold

[Beast Quality]: Perfect

Skills:

[New Leaf Cry]: The cicada's cry helps accelerate the growth of plants and the sprouting of new leaves. The crying duration each day must not exceed a certain limit, or it would cause the new leaves to wither.

[Jade Cicada Molting]: Every once in a while, it moults its shell, which can accelerate the comprehensive growth of plants and make their roots and stems stronger.

[Accompanying Wood Life]: Lands on a designated plant-type beast, combining its aura with that of the plant-type beast, significantly increasing the beast's growth rate and fruit production without any negative effects.

Exclusive Trait:

[Reincarnation Metamorphosis]: When it reaches its prime, it uses the energy of its prime state to induce its own reincarnation, successfully returning to a juvenile state. (The prime state of reincarnation is related to its developmental potential.)

Evolutionary Path:

1: Lotus King Overlooking the Day, 2: Banmu Yuchan, 3: Spring Vibrant Cicada.

This little guy really evolved just as Gu Kun had said.

It had transformed from the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada to the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada.

When it was still the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada, its benefits were only targeted at lotus-type beasts.

Now it was targeting all wood property beasts; the scope of its application had suddenly widened!

The best direction for the evolution of the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada along the evolutionary path was towards Lotus King Overlooking the Day.

Weeds on the plains come and go with each passing year.

Prosperity represents the lush state of plants.

If the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada evolved into the Lotus King Overlooking the Day, the enhancement to plants would greatly increase from the original basis.

Fang Mu was unclear of the effects of Banmu Yuchan.

However, since it was ranked after Lotus King Overlooking the Day by Fool's Shadow, Banmu Yuchan was considered inferior in overall assessment.

The third evolutionary path, Spring Vibrant Cicada, evolved the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada into a healing beast.

The development potential of beasts is limited.

By allocating the limited potential to healing, the ability of the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada to benefit wood property beasts was greatly restricted.

When the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada was first brought into the Abdomen Environment for cultivation, it was merely a Silver Stage Elite beast.

Now, the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada had advanced to the Perfection Quality of Gold Rank.

The Lotus Companion Jade Cicada had acquired a new skill and exclusive trait.

The new skill [Accompanying Wood Life] meant its production ability for a specific plant-type beast had been multiplied.

While the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada was using [Accompanying Wood Life] to specifically improve a plant-type beast's production capabilities, it did not hinder the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada from enhancing other plant-type beasts with skills like [New Leaf Cry] and [Jade Cicada Molting].

If it were before, Fang Mu would certainly have had the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada use the skill [Accompanying Wood Life] to promote the production of Wine Blood Grapes from the Blood Brewing Grapevine.

Now, with the curse from Exhausted Blood Flower Spirit, it had met Fang Mu's requirements for forming Covenant Blood Essence.

Soon Fang Mu would cultivate hundreds of flower-type plants in the Abdomen Environment space.

At that time, Fang Mu would select the most outstanding one for the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada to cultivate.

For now, he would let the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada enhance the Lotus King Overlooking the Day!

He aimed to help the Lotus King Overlooking the Day reach its Sequential rank as soon as possible.

Fang Mu might not be able to handle the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada, but Gu Kun could.

Gu Kun had been feeding the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada for a long time, and an emotional bond had formed between them.

Otherwise, with the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada's fear of people, it wouldn't let Gu Kun hold it in his hand.

Gu Kun approached Fang Mu while holding the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada, but Fang Mu quickly gestured for Gu Kun to stop.

He signaled to Gu Kun not to bring the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada closer to him.

With no contract between Gu Kun and the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada, this could easily breach the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada's trust.

Once trust was fractured, it would likely take a long time to rebuild.

The exclusive trait [Reincarnation Metamorphosis] made Fang Mu understand why the Lotus Companion Jade Cicada could live so long in that ancient battlefield sanctuary.

Turns out, it was because of the special trait [Reincarnation Metamorphosis].

Chapter 1080: Snow Realm White Tam! _2

[Reincarnation Metamorphosis] When the Banmu Yuchan reaches its most flourishing state, it uses all its internal energy to step into reincarnation and return to its juvenile stage.

This cycle repeats, approaching a state akin to immortality.

Fang Mu valued the Banmu Yuchan not for its near-immortal state, but for its enhancement of plant-type beastmasters.

Therefore, Fang Mu would artificially control the Banmu Yuchan to prevent it from undergoing reincarnation at its peak.

If the Banmu Yuchan were to autonomously reincarnate at its peak, Fang Mu would have wasted all the resources he invested in nurturing the Banmu Yuchan!

Fortunately, the peak state of the Banmu Yuchan is related to its own potential.

Fang Mu used such top-notch resources to cultivate the Banmu Yuchan, having already pushed its limits extremely high.

It wasn't easy for the Banmu Yuchan to reach its peak state.

After searching the Abdominal Space, Fang Mu suddenly felt it necessary to hire two craftsmen and keep them in the Abdominal Space to work on its construction.

Fang Mu was fond of wooden furniture.

Whether it was the control panel or the shelves used to display items inside the Abdominal Space, all were made of wood.

Under the nourishment of Spiritual Energy, this wood had undergone a transformation towards jade-quality.

However, due to the insufficient concentration of Spiritual Energy, the jade-quality transformation process had only reached fifty to sixty percent.

But even this semi-jade-quality wood was still a coveted treasure fiercely contested by major powers!

No power was willing to induce such wood to undergo jade-quality transformation with pure Spiritual Energy.

The jade-quality wood existing in the Main World was all discovered in various ancient battlefields.

After Fang Mu finished collecting the leaves of the Blood Brewing Grapevine, Gu Kun also finished writing a letter and handed it to Fang Mu.

Fang Mu carefully stored the letter in the Purple Ice Crystal Ring and said to Gu Kun seriously,

“Xiao Kun, in a few days I will need to contest a resource.”

“You will have to wait until I return to bring the people from the Town Rock Family into the Abdominal Space.”

“There’s no need for you to eagerly anticipate, just peacefully do what you need to do.”

Upon hearing Fang Mu’s words, Gu Kun felt even more reassured.

Having been by Fang Mu’s side for a long time, Gu Kun knew that Fang Mu was not a man to make empty promises.

Fearing his own constant worry, Fang Mu had specially reminded him.

Gu Kun was deeply grateful to Fang Mu from the bottom of his heart.

Since entering the Abdominal Space, everything he had done was what he was supposed to do.

But Fang Mu not only took notice of his actions but was also willing to console his loneliness, allowing him to choose his companions.

Being with a good master like Fang Mu, Gu Kun knew his later life would not be troubled even for a single day!

“Don’t worry, young master, I will continue to do everything as usual!”

“Once the new people enter the Abdominal Space, I will be responsible for instructing them.”

“And supervise them to ensure they do what they should!”

Fang Mu smiled at these words, saying nothing more.

Gu Kun had a considerably deep and stable temperament for his age.

If Fang Mu had not trusted Gu Kun's ability to handle this, he would not have let Gu Kun choose his companions.

Fang Mu handed over five silver spiritual instruments to Gu Kun.

These instruments contained those floral beasts with the potential to advance to Flower Spirits.

These plant-type beastmasters needed to be moved next to Plant Spring, requiring pot dragging, soil changing, and root system inspection, and then replanted with high-quality soil.

This task was meticulous and required careful attention.

Fang Mu did not have the time to accompany Gu Kun and work together on this.

After explaining how it should be done, Fang Mu left the Abdominal Space.

When the Abdominal Territory Worm steps into the sequence, Fang Mu will properly construct the entire Abdominal Space.

In addition to giving Fang Mu one hundred fifty plant-type beastmasters, Su Qing also gifted Fang Mu a Two Winged Flower Spirit.

The Snowfield White Dawn Flower Spirit is a type of Flower Spirit that can be mass-produced by Chonghuaju.

Of course, this mass production only amounts to about five or six spirits per year.

The Snowfield White Dawn is an entity that can mimic domain-type Guardian Beasts, but the Snowfield created by the Snowfield White Dawn still falls short of a true domain.

Planting a Snowfield White Dawn into a Beast Taming Base allows the base to cultivate a series of ice and snow Guardian Beasts.

Fang Mu did not have this type of Guardian Beast on hand and did not plan to start a new business just because he had obtained the Snowfield White Dawn Flower Spirit.

Fang Mu decided to give the Snowfield White Dawn Flower Spirit to Jiang Tuo.

The Snowfield White Dawn Flower Spirit had a significant nurturing effect on Jiang Tuo's Destiny Guardian Beast Bingxiao as well as those few Ice Ghosts.

It could subtly enhance the strength and speed of improvement of Bingxiao and those few Ice Ghosts.

Seeing the Snowfield White Dawn Flower Spirit constantly trying to please him after knowing its destiny,

Fang Mu raised his hand and touched the little head of the Snowfield White Dawn Flower Spirit.

"Little guy, as a Two Winged Flower Spirit, you probably don't have a name yet."

"I won't name you myself."

"Because soon you will meet your new master, and he will name and nurture you!"

With that, Fang Mu put away the Snowfield White Dawn Flower Spirit.

Fang Mu had been in closed-door cultivation for a while and hadn't competed in the Battle Network doubles division with Hu Tao for some time.

Fang Mu prepared to find Hu Tao and have a few good matches!

Upon learning from He Deen that Hu Tao was currently competing in a singles division on the Battle Network and had even been invited to the Gold Battle Hall, a look of surprise appeared on Fang Mu's face.

During his own cultivation retreat, Hu Tao, that little girl, had really been up to a lot, even making it to the Gold Battle Hall!

It's worth noting that neither of Fang Mu's identities on the Battle Network had fought in the Gold Battle Hall.

Hu Tao had been with Fang Mu through his hardest times and held a very important place in Fang Mu's heart.

Fang Mu wanted to witness Hu Tao's growth and moments of glory.

After logging onto the Battle Network, Fang Mu didn't contact Hu Tao immediately, not wanting her to get nervous because he was watching.

The audience size of the Gold Battle Hall was much larger than that of the Silver Battle Hall, which would already bring great pressure to Hu Tao.

Letting Hu Tao get nervous because of him, in case her performance was affected, would not be good!

The tickets for Hu Tao's match in the Gold Battle Hall were already sold out long ago.

Even scalped tickets were unavailable.

After thinking for a moment, Fang Mu contacted his personal reporter, Liu Tiantian.

Liu Tiantian was now also Hu Tao's personal reporter; presumably, Liu Tiantian would have tickets to Hu Tao's Gold Battle Hall match.

Compared to watching Hu Tao's match in the livestream rooms that had broadcasting rights, Fang Mu preferred cheering for Hu Tao in person.

Since Liu Tiantian had secured the exclusive agency rights for Hu Tao, she was extremely happy.

As a streamer, Hu Tao would often appear on the Battle Network.

Liu Tiantian could focus her work around Hu Tao, unlike before when she only worked as Fang Mu's personal reporter which felt more like being an idle person.

Hu Tao and Liu Tiantian communicated very closely, Fang Mu hardly ever took the initiative to send messages to Liu Tiantian.

Seeing the message from Fang Mu, Liu Tiantian suddenly felt a bit struck.

The identity of Fang Mu as a Grandmaster Disciple on the Battle Network was no longer a secret.

In Liu Tiantian's view, disciples of the Grandmaster should be exceptionally busy.

Yet Fang Mu was willing to set aside his tasks to cheer for Hu Tao.

It seemed Hu Tao wasn't yet aware.

Otherwise, Hu Tao could have directly applied for front row seats in the Gold Battle Hall.

The Battle Network always favored star players qualified to ascend the various Ranking Battle Halls.

[Liu Tiantian]: Sir Jianmu, I do have tickets; how many do you need?

[Liu Tiantian]: There are only about ten minutes left until the match, and I can only apply to the Gold Battle Hall for up to ten tickets at the moment.

[Liu Tiantian]: I guarantee three of those tickets are in the front row!

If Fang Mu had contacted Liu Tiantian twenty minutes earlier, Liu Tiantian could have had the Battle Network officially reserve dozens or even hundreds of tickets.

But now, ten tickets were the maximum extent of Liu Tiantian's power.

Hearing this, Fang Mu pondered for a moment, then asked Liu Tiantian.

[Jianmu]: Does Hu Tao have the qualifications to apply for tickets?

Liu Tiantian was stunned when she saw the message from Fang Mu, unsure what Fang Mu's question meant.
