

Beast Tamer 1111

Chapter 1111: Fang Mu's First Pollutant!

The Diamond Level Skills of the Undead Domain Emperor, "Body Poison Covering Ground," along with its core skills "Land Contamination" and "Death Ground Worm," all worked synergistically.

The exclusive feature "Death Ground Nightmare" also had a certain influence.

It allowed the miasma diffused above the land of death not only to contaminate the living's spiritual power but also to corrode their physical bodies.

Even the Flying Beasts couldn't escape the control of the Undead Domain Emperor.

Another skill "Worm Death Mark" was an extended skill of "Death Ground Worm."

When the worms came into contact with the living, instead of choosing to attack, the worms could turn into a curse and merge into the target's body, forming a death mark on the target's body that could gather Dead Qi.

The death mark would channel the Dead Qi diffused in the surrounding environment into the body of the living, causing extremely severe effects.

A large invasion of Dead Qi was very likely to cause life to wither.

The Undead Domain Emperor was the core among Fang Mu's Undead Species beasts.

The domain ability of the Undead Domain Emperor provided an excellent environment for the offense, defense, and energy recovery of all undead creatures.

However, compared to the Undead Domain Emperor, Fang Mu always had high hopes for the Stealthy Hidden One, an assassin-type undead creature.

Looking at the faint grey-black mist that enveloped the Stealthy Hidden One,

Fang Mu knew that the Stealthy Hidden One must have successfully evolved into the Grey Fog Hermit.

Before the Bloodline Transformation, while not deploying the skill "Reversal Tracking Stab," the Stealthy Hidden One carried a massive bone scythe behind him, which was very noticeable.

But after the bloodline evolved into the Grey Fog Hermit, a layer of misty grey fog draped over the Stealthy Hidden One's body.

This made it difficult to spot the Grey Fog Hermit, even without deploying the skill "Hiding Sting."

Especially after the Undead Domain Emperor had deployed the exclusive feature "Death Ground Nightmare."

However, the more restrained the aura of the Grey Fog Hermit became, the more it indicated the strength of the Grey Fog Hermit.

Fang Mu used the Innate Divine Skill [Eye of Omniscience] of Mobius to inspect the Grey Fog Hermit.

[Beast Name]: Grey Fog Hermit

[Beast Species]: Spirit Class/Killer Spirit

[Beast Level]: Platinum (1/10)

[Beast Element]: Undying

[Beast Potential]: Diamond

[Beast Quality]: Legendary

Skills:

[Hiding Sting]: Conceal one's own aura, release fierce energy in the surrounding environment to hide and build up force for a mighty strike, the effect of concealment enhances when other beasts deploy their presence.

[Doom Scythe]: Gather back the fierce energy to oneself, reveal trace, and slash with the bone scythe behind causing massive damage to the target while applying White Bone effect on them; it absorbs the fierce energy from the target if they are killed in one hit, if not, immediately disperses the fierce energy and enters a hidden state.

[Instant Shadow Slash]: Exponentially consumes internal energy to launch three continuous attacks on the target, each attack enhances on the basic state and by the third attack, can specify the flipping of a Curse Bone Coin.

[Bone Double]: When attacking other targets, if the target is under the effect of White Bone and enters into Bone State, the self can swap places with the Bone Unit when subjected to a vigorous attack, allowing the Bone Unit to sustain damage instead.

Exclusive Features:

[Spirit of Death Mark]: Place a mark using fierce energy on the living, with each attack afterward able to choose a mark to teleport to.

[Sensory Breakdown]: Able to effectively judge the target's guard during an attack, then prioritize attacking the opponent's weak spots.

[Curse Bone Coin]: Every time an attack is made on the opponent, the Curse Bone Coin will flip randomly.

① Obverse: Enhances the ability to build up energy.

② Reverse: Has a chance to apply the White Bone effect on the target, if the target already has the White Bone effect, it will expand its influence on the target.

Evolutionary Path:

① Secret Walker, ② Bone Thorn Evil Spirit, ③ Dream-Interrupting Evil Spirit.

Upon inspection, Fang Mu's face showed an excited expression.

The Grey Fog Hermit, with its ascension in tier, did not disappoint Fang Mu at all.

Whether it was the skill [Instant Shadow Slash] or [Bone Double], both were top-notch skills.

Both skills were related to the Legendary Quality exclusive feature [Curse Bone Coin].

This discovery confirmed for Fang Mu that exclusive features indeed influenced the acquisition of skills as the Guardian Beast advanced.

Thus, the earlier a beast is elevated to Legendary Quality, the more advantageous it is for the acquisition of subsequent skills!

Even with a Beast Master of equivalent level who contracted similar beasts, there was still a massive difference.

It fundamentally related to the way they were cultivated.

The Golden Stage skill [Instant Shadow Slash] of the Grey Fog Hermit allowed it to launch three segmented attacks on the target simultaneously.

The prowess of these three attacks escalated.

Though the three slashes of the bone scythe required double energy consumption from within the Grey Fog Hermit, each of the continuous three strikes could trigger the effect of the Curse Bone Coin.

By the last hit, it could specify the flipping of the [Curse Bone Coin].

Guaranteed to apply the White Bone effect on the target.

Through experimentation, Fang Mu discovered that during the attacking process of the Grey Fog Hermit, the chance of the Curse Bone Coin flipping to the obverse side was substantially higher than flipping to the reverse.

Chapter 1112: Fang Mu's First Pollutant! _2

Enhancing the power of his accumulated strength was equivalent to enhancing his attack power.

However, when the Stealthy Hidden One encountered a powerful opponent, it was very likely that it couldn't kill its enemy.

Randomly accumulating power was far less useful than turning the target into a Bone State!

This allowed the Grey Fog Hermit's Gold Level Skill, "Instant Shadow Slash," and the Platinum Tier Skill, "White Bone Substitute," to link perfectly.

The “White Bone Substitute” could only activate when there were targets in Bone State on the battlefield.

Even the Grey Fog Hermit, with its excellent capacity for concealment, would inevitably be targeted during an attack.

If Fang Mu encountered a Guardian Beast like the Grey Fog Hermit on the battlefield, he would definitely clean it up immediately.

Even if it was likely to cost him a great deal.

Due to functional and strategic reasons, obtaining a defensive ability was invaluable for the Grey Fog Hermit.

Moreover, this defensive ability was also closely related to offense.

When facing fierce attacks from the enemy, the Grey Fog Hermit would switch positions with the target in Bone State.

This unexpected position switch not only protected the Grey Fog Hermit from the enemy’s attacks.

It also turned the enemy's Boned unit into the target of their own concentrated fire.

Feeling Fang Mu's appreciation for the Grey Fog Hermit, Yan Yubanruo said softly,

"Fang Mu, I admit that this Stealthy Hidden One has great potential."

"However, compared to the newly acquired Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness, it is somewhat inferior."

"If I were to choose again, I would prefer to have the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness as my Ghost Servant!"

Yan Yubanruo expressed her high esteem for the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness to Fang Mu without reservation.

She didn't even consider that the Ghost Soul Mermaid was standing right beside her.

From Yan Yubanruo's reference to the Worshipper, Fang Mu knew that the Worshipper had successfully evolved.

However, there was not much difference in appearance between the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness and when it was still a Worshipper.

To be precise, its limbs had just grown a bit longer.

The posture it assumed while standing also became slightly more bizarre.

For an Undead Creature like the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness, which fought through physical means, long limbs could significantly enhance its close-combat abilities.

Seeing Fang Mu observing the appearance of the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness, there was no change in Fang Mu's facial expression.

Yan Yubanruo hurriedly instructed the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness to turn its body around.

Fang Mu then saw a grotesque face growing on the back of the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness's head.

The face had a huge mouth that covered almost the entire cross-section of the back of the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness's head, looking extraordinarily ferocious and bizarre.

Fang Mu used the "Eye of Omniscience" to check the data of the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness.

[Beast Name]: Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness

[Beast Species]: Main Corpse Sect / Corpse Sect

[Beast Level]: Platinum (10)

[Beast Element]: Undead

[Beast Potential]: Diamond

[Beast Quality]: Legendary

Skills:

[Prayers of Light]: Absorbs the light from the surrounding environment and transforms this light into its own strength. It enhances itself with the light as much as the body can withstand.

[Amulet Light Shock]: When it hits the target's body, it explosively unleashes the power amplified by the light element to deliver an overwhelming strike (the ability boosted by the light element will decrease, but will not enter a weakened state).

[Dark Blessing]: In circumstances filled with dark element energy, dark element energy will protect itself, enhancing its defense capability. When necessary, it absorbs the dark element around to heal its wounds, ensuring its Soul Flame does not extinguish as long as the dark element persists.

[Dark Flame Devours]: Dark element transforms into flames, scorching the area, and as long as the dark element does not dissipate, the dark flame's burning continues. Energy lost by the opponent during the dark element's burning replenishes its own energy drain.

Exclusive Traits:

[Cruel Nature]: Upon contact with the blood of the living, its ferocity is greatly stimulated, and it enters a hunting state, increasing the damage inflicted on the injured and absorbing the life energy of the specified victim, transforming it into Dead Qi that can be harnessed by itself.

[Super Sensitive Body]: The joints in every part of the body are exceptionally sensitive, allowing it to strike the target effectively with unexpected poses during combat.

[Sophistry Evil Mouth]: By absorbing light and dark dual attribute energy through the evil mouth grown behind its brain, using light-dark dual attribute energy to enhance itself and inducing peculiar mutations (Each mutation occurs in an unpredictable direction, and before the energy is fully released, it will not attack its own units but cannot control its slaughter of surrounding life).

Evolution direction:

① Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness, ② Darkness Devourer, ③ Light Worshipper Burner.

Indeed, the face and the giant mouth that grew at the back of the brain of the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness, as well as the exclusive trait gained from ascending to Legendary Quality, are related.

The exclusive trait [Sophistry Evil Mouth] is precisely the reason for the mask that grew behind the brain of the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness.

When still a Light Worshipper, it could only devour light elemental energy.

But after evolving into Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness, it can absorb both light and dark dual attribute energies.

With the skill [Prayers of Light], the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness can absorb a vast amount of light, causing the environment to be enveloped in complete darkness.

The darkness brought about by absorbing light also amplifies the strength of the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness.

As these light and dark dual attribute elemental energies are absorbed by the Evil Mouth, the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness undergoes mutations.

Fool's Shadow describes this mutation as peculiar, and before experimenting, Fang Mu is unsure of how much strength this mutation can bring to the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness.

However, Fang Mu knows that due to the nature of the mutation not having a fixed direction,

Every time the exclusive trait [Sophistry Evil Mouth] is used, the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness will be in a completely different state.

Since it is uncontrollable before the energy is fully released,

Thus, unless absolutely necessary, Fang Mu will not activate the exclusive trait [Sophistry Evil Mouth] of Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness.

The first two skills of Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness are related to the light attribute.

After bloodline evolution, the latter two skills are related to the dark attribute.

A delicate balance between light and dark has been achieved.

The Golden Stage Skill [Dark Blessing] allows the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness to protect itself through dark elemental energy.

These dark elemental energies not only enhance the defensive capability of Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness but also use the surrounding dark elements to recover its injuries.

In the process of battle, the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness enhances its strength through [Prayers of Light] while using dark elements to recover from injuries.

This allows Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness to fight more aggressively, without fear of trading blows with injuries,

Since under the protection of dark elements, even if the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness suffers heavy injuries, the Soul Flame will not be extinguished.

Platinum Tier Skill [Dark Flame Devours] is a range type of elemental damage that transforms dark elements into flames.

Among the undead creatures controlled by Yan Yubanruo, Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness is one of the few Guardian Beasts capable of conducting ranged elemental attacks.

[Dark Flame Devours] covers a large area.

After burning the target, Dark Flame spreads to surrounding objects as the target struggles.

Most importantly, once [Dark Flame Devours] is activated, as long as the dark elements in the surroundings are not fully dissipated, the scorching of Dark Flame will not cease.

Recovering life energy and recovering energy are two completely different situations in a beast's battle.

Recovering life energy ensures that the Guardian Beast does not suffer severe injuries.

Recovering energy ensures the Guardian Beast can fight persistently.

The damage [Dark Flame Devours] inflicts on target units is converted into energy, feeding back to the Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness.

This enables Light Worshipper Devouring Darkness to continuously fight fiercely on the battlefield.

Currently, Fang Mu has finished investigating all undead creatures controlled through the exclusive trait [Puppeteer Control] by Yan Yubanruo.

Understanding these undead creatures allows Fang Mu to skillfully counter his opponents in battles.

Up next, Fang Mu plans to contract a special-grade pollutant using his newly condensed Contracting Blood Essence.

For Special-grade pollutants that can continuously increase in strength without being limited by the Beast Master's rank,

Fang Mu has already been very much looking forward to it.

Chapter 1113: The Chosen Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment!

Fang Mu had already contracted with the Vicious Illusion Sparrow.

With the Contracting Blood obtained, Fang Mu could now contract with special-grade pollutants.

Fang Mu had been trading with the Green Magician from Ancient Genesis.

Fang Mu provided resources to the Green Magician without restricting the level of pollutants he could get in return.

He acquired many pollutants of low, medium, and high levels.

High-level pollutants were good supplies for those forces selling pollutants.

However, in Fang Mu's case, he only valued special-grade pollutants.

Pollutants below special-grade were all given to Xi Xi to digest.

Xi Xi would condense these pollutants into contamination crystals.

Fang Mu planned to keep these contamination crystals after contracting pollutants to upgrade the pollutant levels.

The upgrade of pollutant levels was not limited by the level of the Beast Masters.

Fang Mu wanted to possess the ability to fight beyond his own level, and contracting pollutants was the best way to do it.

During the trade with the Green Magician, the Green Magician also traded some of his stockpiled special-grade pollutants with Fang Mu.

However, compared to those special-grade pollutants obtained from Shu Liangjun's body,

Those obtained from Shu Liangjun suited Fang Mu better for making contracts!

With only one drop of Contracting Blood, Fang Mu still had to choose from three special-grade pollutants.

Fang Mu simply took out all three special-grade pollutants.

He investigated each of these special-grade pollutants one by one.

[Contaminated Subject]: Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment

[Pollution Type]: Weapon

[Pollution Level]: Silver (10/10)

[Pollution Subject Element]: Metal

[Pollution Potential]: Golden Stage

[Beast Quality]: Special-grade

Source of Contamination:

[Sacred Luminous Evil Thought]: When an angel species Beast fell, the regrets left behind were absorbed by another angel; the evil thoughts completely corrupted the other angel until it transformed the bodily energy source of a pure angel species.

Pollution function:

[Evil Radiance Temptation]: The bone fragment uses pollution energy to replicate and form a bone chain, which when attacking a target, can bring out the target's evil thoughts and entice them to release those evil thoughts within them.

...

[Contaminated Subject]: Vicious Lust Silk

[Pollution Type]: Enhancement

[Pollution Level]: Silver (10/10)

[Pollution Subject Element]: Metal

[Pollution Potential]: Golden Stage

[Beast Quality]: Special-grade

Source of Contamination:

[Love Lost Heart Seed]: A girl, abandoned by love, thought she had found her soulmate but was used and discarded; dying with a heart full of love yet pessimistic about affection, this mixture of sorrow and romance completely corrupted her pure heart into a heart seed.

Pollution function:

[Affectionate Guardian]: Through the emotional silk, the emotions of others are contaminated, making attackers see their target as the person they are closest to in their heart.

...

[Contaminated Subject]: Hundred Eyes Rubik's Cube

[Pollution Type]: Amplification Category

[Pollution Level]: Silver (10/10)

[Pollution Subject Element]: Metal

[Pollution Potential]: Golden Stage

[Beast Quality]: Special-grade

Source of Contamination:

[Captivating Mist]: Resentment formed from tens of thousands of lives whose eyes were taken in a special ritual, devouring even more living creatures to form a mist.

Pollution function:

[Angry Eye Curse]: ① Open Eye: Opens hundreds of eyes to stare at the target, depriving the target of light perception and inflicting a severe injury effect. ② Closed Eye: Closes some of the eyes to pray, stimulating the activity of pollution energy, enhancing other pollutants, and transmitting its own pollution energy to other desired pollutants through prayers.

By this time, these three special-grade pollutants had been upgraded from Silver Rank Level Three or Five to Silver Rank Level Ten.

These three special-grade pollutants had released pollution energy during Fang Mu's cultivation process, which had a significant impact on Fang Mu's body.

If it weren't for the emanation from his two Destiny Guardian Beasts helping Fang Mu withstand the pollutants' emissions,

Fang Mu's body would have been eroded by the pollution energy, causing uncontrollable effects!

The pollution function, [Angry Eye Curse] of the Hundred Eyes Rubik's Cube, besides being able to deprive targets of their senses,

Its main capability lies in enhancing other pollutants.

Therefore, the Hundred Eyes Rubik's Cube was not suitable as the first pollutant for Fang Mu to contract.

The pollution function, [Affectionate Guardian] of the Vicious Lust Silk, allowed Fang Mu to infect targets through the emotional silk,

Making enemies intent on killing him see him as their closest person.

This emotional control-type capability was nothing ordinary charm abilities could compare to.

Once the rank of the pollutant Vicious Lust Silk was elevated, even against Sequential Strong individuals, Fang Mu could handle them calmly.

However, using the pollution function of the special-grade pollutant Vicious Lust Silk to threaten Order Strong individuals was difficult!

Order Strong individuals could communicate with the world's will.

To have an effect from the pollution function of Vicious Lust Silk on them, his own rank needed to reach Order as well!

But if we were to discuss practicality, the weapon-type special-grade pollutant, Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment, was undoubtedly more powerful.

The Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment could be used as a weapon.

In the absence of a Ghost Device, the existence of the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment meant that Fang Mu did not need to hurry in forging a Ghost Device.

Chapter 1114: The Chosen Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment!_2

Strive to ensure that the Ghost Device is in its optimal state when being forged!

The Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment's pollution function, "Blessing of the Sacred," turns the bone fragments into a bone chain.

The serpent-like bone chain, when attacking a target, would provoke the evil thoughts within the target.

Under a barrage of continuous attacks, the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment could even tempt the target to release the evil thoughts inside.

The target, releasing evil thoughts, has their mind controlled by them.

It's akin to entering a berserk state, where combat capability indeed gets significantly boosted.

However, for a strong warrior, this would undoubtedly make them easier to handle.

A true warrior values flexible combat thinking and a sharp mind over sheer power, to adapt to all possible sudden circumstances that may arise during combat.

After some thought, Fang Mu decided to first form a contract with the special-grade pollutant, the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment.

Fang Mu made this choice for two reasons: first, because the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment indeed had a higher priority than the Vicious Lust Silk.

Second, because Fang Mu had a particularly fitting special-grade pollution source for the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment.

Once consumed by the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment, this special-grade pollution source could reveal a second pollution function.

The acquisition of a special-grade pollutant's pollution function is linked to the consumption of a pollution source of equivalent level.

Throughout his dealings with the Green Magician, Fang Mu had been paying close attention to this kind of pollution source.

However, both special-grade pollutants and special-grade pollution sources are exceedingly rare.

Finding parts that are mutually compatible is incredibly challenging.

During his communication with the Green Magician through a Communication Beast,

Fang Mu learned that even for an Ancient Genesis of the Eight Evil Seed, a being could at most consume four different pollution sources before reaching their limit.

Every one of the Eight Evil Seed from the Ancient Genesis were formidable, renowned warriors.

The Ancient Genesis, due to its emotionless approach, seldom encountered forces of the same caliber daring to clash with them.

Thus, the Eight Evil Seed had all the time and energy to collect pollution sources and pollutants from all over the world.

The reason they could only allow their contracted pollutants to consume four pollution sources is that the more sources a pollutant consumes, the more severe the aberration in its pollution energy.

Beyond four times, it had the potential to threaten even Order-level strong warriors.

The publicly proclaimed strength of the Eight Evil Seed from the Ancient Genesis is Sequential Peak.

However, any warrior who has had contact with the Eight Evil Seed knows that their strength is far beyond just Sequential Peak.

The Green Magician's response to Fang Mu confirmed that the Eight Evil Seed must all be warriors who have already stepped into the Order-level.

An Order Strong warrior who has contracted a special-grade pollutant would be slightly less formidable in a duel compared to a Beast Master who has contracted a common Guardian Beast.

But the threatening nature of a pollutant is much stronger than that of a common Guardian Beast.

Once contaminated by the pollution energy of a pollutant, the life form's very essence is immediately compromised.

Take the case of She Junjie's Sequential Rank Whale-typed Guardian Beast, which couldn't recover from its injuries due to contamination by pollution energy.

Gazing at the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment in front of him, which shimmered with the pale light of the moon, Fang Mu poured the freshly condensed Covenant Blood Essence onto it.

The moment the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment came into contact with the Covenant Blood Essence, it burst forth with a holy light.

The Covenant Blood Essence was quickly absorbed by the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment.

Yet, from the outside, the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment didn't look like anything evil.

It matched the aura of the Truth Hall perfectly.

The light it emitted wasn't as pure as the Clean Radiant Light, but it was more lively.

This was due to the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment's pollution source, "Sacred Glory Evil Thought," being related to the Angel Species Guardian Beast.

It was the residual thought left when an Angel Species Beast fell, which was then absorbed by another angel.

The evil thought corrupted another angel that consumed the residual, turning a holy angel's flesh completely, to form the pollution source.

Fang Mu quite liked this sense of disguise.

If one was not attacked by the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment and subjected to the erosion of its pollution energy, and with Fang Mu, the Contractor, preventing the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment from releasing its aura outward, others would not be able to detect the fact that it was a pollutant at all!

At this moment, Fang Mu could feel the aura of the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment completely attuned to his own frequency.

When Fang Mu reached out to touch the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment, even though the Blood of Abundance and Fool's Shadow did not release energy to help Fang Mu resist, the pollution energy released by the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment.

This pollution energy still did not cause any effect on Fang Mu.

Instead, under the nourishment of the pollution energy, Fang Mu found it quite comfortable.

With a thought, Fang Mu replicated the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment to form a huge chain sword behind him.

As Fang Mu willed it, like a Spiritual Snake, the chain sword unfurled to attack, exceptionally agile.

Since there was no limit to the splitting of the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment.

As the rank continuously climbed, the splitting capability of the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment also grew stronger.

After Fang Mu elevated the rank of the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment, this one chain sword would transform into several.

Several sacrosanct chain swords hovered behind Fang Mu, guarding him like Spiritual Snakes.

Undoubtedly, this would enhance Fang Mu's might and mysterious air in battle.

Fang Mu now had two identities.

The identity of Jianmu was that of a disciple of the Saint Creator Qixing, controlling Guardian Beasts like the Lake Flame Gemini, the Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger, and the Eden Dreamland.

Fang Mu's other identity, Yan Luo, was the Infinite Envoy of the Infinite Tower.

Legends of the Infinite Tower were widespread among all the major powers, with countless seeking cooperation with the Infinite Tower.

Neither the Vicious Illusion Sparrow contracted by Fang Mu nor the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment fit with the identities of Yan Luo or Jianmu.

Fang Mu felt that if necessary, he could completely create another pseudonym and carve out a new identity.

Switching among different identities seamlessly, Fang Mu would be able to comfortably contact various major powers.

Fang Mu fed the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment the large quantity of Contamination Crystals he had hoarded beforehand.

Through exchange with the Green magician, Fang Mu came to understand.

To raise a Special-grade Pollutant to Platinum Tier, one should try to devour a pollution source of the same rank to have a better guarantee.

Fang Mu remembered the words of the Green magician.

On such matters, Fang Mu dared not be careless or neglectful.

Should there be any mistakes, leading the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment to be destroyed,

Fang Mu would not only have wasted a drop of Covenant Blood Essence but would also have squandered a piece of pollution that he deemed valuable.

With the devouring of the Contamination Crystals, the rank of the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment rose at an extremely rapid pace.

Much faster than if it were to absorb lower-tier pollutants to enhance its power!

The purely refined Contamination Crystals, with a purity of one hundred percent by Xi Xi, could be directly absorbed by the polluter.

Upon absorption, an immediate elevation in rank could take place.

Fang Mu did not use many Contamination Crystals before the rank of the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment ascended to the tenth level of Platinum Tier.

When Fang Mu allowed the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment to split using the power of [Evil Radiance Temptation], six chain swords, each tens of meters long, appeared behind him.

These chain swords, like flower buds, protected Fang Mu within them, with every tremble emitting a changing aura and intensity of light and shadow.

They framed Fang Mu as if he were a figure from a dream.

Fang Mu took out a Special-grade Pollutant that was compatible with the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment.

This Special-grade Pollutant was contained in a tiny bowl made of Mithril.

Lining the inside of the small Mithril bowl was a thick layer of Evil-Suppressing Steel Stone.

Only Evil-Suppressing Steel Stone, a rare spiritual material from the Catastrophe Class Subterranean Dimensional Rifts, could contain the pollutant and prevent unnecessary contamination from escaping.

The liquid within this Silver Bowl emanated a clear radiance, occasionally conveying the laughter of a woman and the roar of a man.

At the moment when the woman's laughter and the man's roar sounded together, the liquid in the bowl tended to shift towards a dark red color.

This Special-grade Pollutant was called [Sacred Melody Plunder].

Under the Eye of Omniscience, the data of this Special-grade Pollutant displayed itself.

[Sacred Melody Plunder]: During an assembly of angels, a Saintess with sacred blood stripped the renown from a Pureblood Angel with illustrious combat achievements, contaminating the Pureblood Angel's Angel Reincarnation Pool. The Pureblood Angel drew his sword and struck at the Saintess carrying sacred blood, the contaminated Angel Reincarnation Pool, and the flesh and blood of both condensed into a Sacred Melody contrary to the sacred blood.

Chapter 1115: Wingless Saintess and Maimed War Envoy!

[Sacred Melody Plunder]This special-grade contamination source was specifically highlighted by the Green Magician during his trade with Fang Mu, revealing its preciousness.

[Sacred Melody Plunder]The reason this special-grade contamination source is so precious is that it contains the remains of two angels.

Moreover, one of those angels carried sacred blood and was merged with an Angel Reincarnation Pool.

As a contamination source, the more complex the composition within, the greater the potential for future use.

Among all the special-grade contamination sources traded, the Green Magician only made special emphasis on [Sacred Melody Plunder].

Coincidentally, [Sacred Melody Plunder]was selected by Fang Mu to be combined with the Contaminated Subject: Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment.

The silver bowl emitted an sinister complex aura from [Sacred Melody Plunder], causing Fang Mu's skin to crawl.

Inside the silver bowl, the gentle laughter of a woman and the angry shouts of a man clashed yet were distinctly different energies, courteously opposing each other.

Still, they maintained a delicate balance.

With a wave of his hand, the six chain swords behind Fang Mu, shining with a cold light, transformed into bone fragments no bigger than half of Fang Mu's palm.

The bone fragments felt smooth and rustic.

If placed in Fang Mu's past life, saying that it swindled twenty or thirty elders would definitely have been believable.

The Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment, which would have impacted Fang Mu, warmed to his touch as he held it.

Under the contract of Covenant Blood Essence, the polluting energy within the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment no longer affected Fang Mu.

Instead, it would help Fang Mu counter other pollutants and their effects on him.

Fang Mu weighed the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment before throwing it into the Secret Silver Tiny Bowl.

The Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment struck the Evil-suppressing Steel Jade lining the inner side of the bowl, issuing a crisp, pleasing sound.

Originally, the two contesting energies within the contamination source [Sacred Melody Plunder] immediately shifted against each other upon the intrusion of the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment.

A fierce altercation ensued between them in terms of aura.

Fang Mu mused secretly, thankful for the Green Magician's advice to elevate the pollutant to the Platinum Tier before attempting to accommodate the contamination source.

Had the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment not been elevated to the Platinum Tier, it might have been dissolved in [Sacred Melody Plunder]!

The cool holy light emitted by the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment gradually enveloped the silver bowl.

No matter how violently [Sacred Melody Plunder] struggled, it could not escape being absorbed by the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment.

The luminescent white bone fragment, much like a neon light, shifted from white to dark red and then back to white again.

As the transformation sped up, patterns eventually solidified on both sides of the bone fragment.

On the front, a pattern of a girl with eyes covered by silk ribbons and hands crossed over her chest emerged.

She wore a loose robe, giving off the aura of a priestess in a temple.

Her petite figure, in contrast with the grand robe, appeared especially dignified and regal.

Yet such a magnificent robe was tattered and stained with blood.

It conveyed a sense of broken beauty.

On the back was a man with a huge shield in his left hand while his right hand had disappeared.

This man's eyes were also covered by silk ribbons.

His face bore an indescribable expression, and the shield in his left hand was cracked.

A short dagger embedded with an orange gemstone pierced through the man's armor and into his heart.

The patterns on the front and back sides of the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment clearly related to the contamination source [Sacred Melody Plunder].

Unlike other Beast Masters, Fang Mu didn't settle down to spend a lot of time comprehending the changes in the artifact's strength after its upgrade.

Instead, he directly used Innate Divine Ability [Eye of Omniscience] from Fool's Shadow to inspect the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment that had evolved by absorbing the new contamination source.

[Contaminated Subject]: Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment

[Pollution Type]: Weapon

[Pollution Level]: Platinum Tier (10/10)

[Pollution System]: Metal

[Pollution Potential]: Diamond Rank

[Beast Quality]: Superior

Contamination source:

[Sacred Luminous Evil Thought]: The lingering resentments of an Angel Species Beast corrupted by others were absorbed by another angel, leading to the complete corruption of this angel until the angelic body was refined into a source of energy contrary to holy blood.

[Sacred Melody Plunder]: In an angelic congregation, a Saintess with holy blood deprived a distinguished Pureblood Angel of his prestige, polluting his Angel Reincarnation Pool; the Pureblood Angel attacked the blood-carrying Saintess with his sword, and the polluted Angel Reincarnation Pool, along with their blood and flesh, coalesced into a melody contrary to sacred blood.

Pollution function:

[Evil Radiance Temptation]: The bone piece uses polluting energy to replicate into a bone chain, which during an attack can invoke and entice the release of corrupt thoughts from the target.

[Bidirectional Plunder]: Wingless Saintess and Maimed War Envoy can only be summoned one at a time; both possess the ability to plunder the energy of things.

(1) Wingless Saintess: If the Wingless Saintess castle is summoned, as a sacrifice, it can plunder the target's power related to will and rules. (The Wingless Saintess, even without using its ability, also possesses certain combat strength.)

(2) Maimed War Envoy: If the Maimed War Envoy is summoned, as a sacrifice, it can plunder the target's defensive abilities. (The Maimed War Envoy, even without using its ability, also possesses certain combat strength.)

Chapter 1116:

Fang Mu had reviewed so much data that the ability "Two-way Stripping" gave him the most complex feeling of all.

Yet, under the data's introduction, this ability was not difficult to understand at all.

Fang Mu stimulated the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment, and behind him, six chain swords appeared once again.

What was different this time was that dark red blood patterns had emerged on the originally lustrous white chain swords.

This change lent the chain swords an eerie feel.

From an aesthetic point of view, the current chain swords looked much better than before.

However, such swords were too extravagant and flashy.

If Fang Mu were to create another identity, then the actions of that identity should also be as flashy as the abilities displayed by the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment!

Fang Mu first used the function “Two-way Stripping” of the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment to summon the Wingless Saintess.

The appearance of the Wingless Saintess was exactly the same as the image engraved on the front of the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment, donned in a plain white, lavish high priest robe.

The tattered high priest robe and the bloodstains on it should have made the Wingless Saintess look extremely wretched.

Yet, at that moment, the Wingless Saintess exuded an extremely eerie aura.

From the moment Fang Mu saw the upgraded data of the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment, he had placed extraordinary importance on the abilities of the Wingless Saintess.

The Wingless Saintess actually had the power to strip away the will and rule energy of the target!

In the world of Beast Masters, the energy of will and rules was primarily manifested in Mysterious Patterns and Chapters.

Fang Mu raised his hand to summon the first Mysterious Pattern he had mastered and had the Wingless Saintess sacrifice herself to strip the Mysterious Pattern from his hand.

Fang Mu discovered that as the figure of the Wingless Saintess dimmed a bit, the Mysterious Pattern in his hand clearly remained, yet he had lost control over the Mysterious Pattern.

Once summoned, if the Wingless Saintess perished, she was able to recondense within the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment by consuming contamination energy.

This meant that Fang Mu didn't have to worry at all about the consumption of self-sacrifice by the Wingless Saintess.

Stripping the Beast Masters of their Mysterious Patterns and Chapters would greatly limit their strength.

In the entire Beastmaster world, there might be abilities like the Wingless Saintess capable of affecting Beast Masters deploying Mysterious Patterns and Chapters.

But Fang Mu had never seen nor heard of such a thing before.

This ability, if kept secret, could catch an opponent off guard in battle.

Under Fang Mu's deliberate concealment of the Wingless Saintess's powers, those who had the chance to witness her abilities became mere dust under Fang Mu's feet.

Compared to the Wingless Saintess, the diminishing of targets' defense capability by the Maimed War Envoy seemed less impressive.

Yet, this was still a very useful effect in combat.

The Combat Capability of the Maimed War Envoy was also much stronger than that of the Wingless Saintess.

After testing by Fang Mu, at Level 10 in Platinum Rank, the strength of the Maimed War Envoy was equivalent to a Defensive Beast of Level 10 in Platinum Rank Legendary Quality.

The Wingless Saintess was equivalent to an Aggressive Type Beast of early Platinum Rank Legendary Quality.

Fang Mu always felt that the short dagger stuck in the chest of the Maimed War Envoy was related to the Wingless Saintess.

Only during the deployment of the contamination ability “Two-way Stripping.”

It was impossible for the Maimed War Envoy and the Wingless Saintess to appear at the same time.

Otherwise, Fang Mu would have wanted to experiment to see if there would be any special changes after the Wingless Saintess pulled out the short dagger from the chest of the Maimed War Envoy.

With the help of the Blood Exhausted Other Side Flower Spirit Curse, consolidating the next drop of Covenant Essence Blood did not take too long.

However, Fang Mu had many choices and did not necessarily have to contract another Special-grade Pollutant immediately.

With enough Contracting Blood, Fang Mu planned to renew the contracts of the Abdominal Territory Worm and the Heavy Cherry Washing Carp.

He aimed to use the Contracting Blood to allow these foundational level Guardian Beasts, which had significant effects around him, to achieve breakthroughs in their bloodlines.

This also enhanced Fang Mu’s control over this plethora of Guardian Beasts.

Simply put, Fang Mu fed all the pollutants he had accumulated to the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment.

He prepared to see just how far the rank of the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment could be elevated!

In less than an hour, all of the Contamination Crystals had been completely absorbed by the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment.

The Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment steadily climbed through the ranks and had reached the Diamond Rank.

During its entry into the sequence, there were no obstructions.

It ultimately reached Sequence Six smoothly.

Although the Contamination Crystals used came from hundreds of sources of pollutants, these pollutants represented an indescribable massive fortune.

But to be able to utilize these resources to elevate the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment to such a level, Fang Mu was extremely satisfied in his heart.

Despite Fang Mu currently being only a One-point Star Beast Master, his strength had already surpassed many Hexagram Beastmasters.

Take She Wan, Fang Mu's guard for example, Fang Mu could easily kill She Wan's Silver Void Purple Spider using the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment.

While it required some effort to face She Wan's Ghost System Beast, Soulswap Mantong, he could still kill it relying on the capabilities of the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment.

Now, Fang Mu could call himself a veteran powerhouse!

Fang Mu still had a large amount of pollutants and sources of pollution at hand.

Xi Xi had not yet had the chance to absorb these pollutants and pollution sources.

Fang Mu planned to adjust Xi Xi's feeding schedule, allowing Xi Xi to absorb the pollution sources and pollutants first.

Fang Mu wanted to see if with the resources he controlled, he could elevate the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment to the peak of the sequence in a short period.

Or even reach the level of Order!

Fang Mu had not relaxed for long in his manor before he received a communication request from Zhang Renbin via the Communication Beast, Legend Butterfly.

Fang Mu connected with Zhang Renbin through the Legend Butterfly.

[Zhang Renbin]: “Master, the elder next to you directly teleported us near the Thousand Ravine Ocean Trench, and we are exploring the area under a private capacity. We’ve found that there are quite a few strong forces also exploring here.”

[Zhang Renbin]: “The Witch School couldn’t successfully intercept the information.”

Upon hearing this, Fang Mu’s expression did not show any fluctuations.

Fang Mu had already anticipated a situation like this.

The Witch School, while powerful, had not reached the very top tier.

Organizations like the Contract Garden represent the strongest collective of humans in the World of Beast Masters and are not counted in the power rankings.

All Beast Masters rely on Creator resources.

Creators are the most honored beings in the Beastmaster world.

Only those forces that can be self-sufficient in Creator resources can develop without restrictions.

This has resulted in only the Ten-thousand Nations Federation and the Bliss Palace, which both have Saint Creators, being called the topmost forces.

If the Ten-thousand Nations Federation and Bliss Palace had handled the information lockdown, even if the information wasn't fully contained,

No force would dare openly contest with the Ten-thousand Nations Federation and Bliss Palace.

However, unless there is a significant benefit, neither the Bliss Palace nor the Ten-thousand Nations Federation would take such action easily.

Doing so would affect the reputation of both the Ten-thousand Nations Federation and Bliss Palace.

In recent years, the Ten-thousand Nations Federation have always been aggressively taking over resources, which has significantly weakened their deterrent power.

Many powerful federations no longer accept control from the Ten-thousand Nations Federation.

For instance, the Dragon Rising Federation doesn't have a subordinate relationship with the Ten-thousand Nations Federation but a partnership.

This is because Dragon Rising Federation has someone like Shuo Yang, a Senior Creation Zenith Master.

Any federation with a Grandmaster Creator has autonomy.

Those federations that only have Master Creators but no Grandmasters,

Are the ones controlled and leveraged by the Ten-thousand Nations Federation.

Just like Panfeng Federation's Royal Court head, Huang Yuan, who must be monitored by the envoys of the Ten-thousand Nations Federation.

[Fang Mu]: "Zhang, get to the point."

[Fang Mu]: "The fact that you were able to bring me the message already proves that the Witch School couldn't hold the information."

[Fang Mu]: “I want to roughly understand which forces are involved in the struggle for this Wood Attribute Growth Type Secret Land?”

Chapter 1117: The Gathering at Contract Garden!

Zhang Renbin, upon hearing this, knew that Fang Mu was the type that didn't like to waste words.

Zhang Renbin hurriedly spoke up.

Zhang Renbin: Master, I haven't had the chance to find out which groups from the human forces are involved or how many strong individuals are participating on our side.

Zhang Renbin: But after investigating with two seniors, I've discovered that there are Beast Controlling Forces involved, and not just one!

Zhang Renbin: I'm wondering if the Emperor Beast Court also has its eyes on this Wood Attribute Growth Type Sanctuary, right?

Fang Mu showed a surprised expression upon hearing this.

Within the Emperor Beast Court, Fang Mu had his spies.

Zhuo An was Fang Mu's spy in the Emperor Beast Court.

Zhuo An had received a fair amount of supplies from him and, with his scheming, made the Emperor Beast Court believe that Zhuo An had obtained the inheritance within the large Ancient Battlefield.

This had made Zhuo An the third seat on the Eternal Dark Council.

Soon he would be able to become the Vice Chairman of the Eternal Dark Council.

Zhuo An was capable of receiving related messages within the Emperor Beast Court.

If Zhuo An knew anything, he would certainly take the initiative to inform Fang Mu.

During this time, Fang Mu had learned much about the Emperor Beast Court from Zhuo An.

Fang Mu planned to verify with Zhuo An after ending the call with Zhang Renbin.

See if the Emperor Beast Court truly had sent forces to vie for the Wood Attribute Growth Type Sanctuary.

If the Emperor Beast Court really had such intentions, then Fang Mu would have to re-evaluate whether the strength of his men was sufficient!

If the Emperor Beast Court really competed for resources in the Human Federation's territory, they would spare no effort.

Over the years, the relationship between the Emperor Beast Court and the Contract Garden had become increasingly strained.

The Contract Garden's restrictions on the Emperor Beast Court had also lessened.

The Ten-thousand Nations Federation had even had several direct conflicts with the Emperor Beast Court.

Indeed, the Beast Controlling Force needed supplies from human Creators, but this did not mean that there was no Creator resource production within the Beast Controlling Force.

Fang Mu once heard from Zhuo An that a Prophet lived in the Wisdom Forest.

The Prophet and his clan possessed the same abilities as the Creator.

However, the Prophet would only allocate Grandmaster Creator resources to his own Chosen Clan.

The Yin-Yang Lian Leopard Clan was the Chosen Clan under this Prophet.

For this reason, Zhuo An was able to learn so much information related to the Prophet.

Fang Mu was quite interested in the Prophet and his Chosen Clan as spoken about by Zhuo An.

But Fang Mu was well aware he had no chance of meeting this Prophet.

From Zhuo An's descriptions, Fang Mu understood that although the Prophet was detached from the Emperor Beast Court, he wielded an extraordinary influence within it.

Fang Mu: Brother Zhang, I'll verify the matter you've mentioned. You needn't focus too much on the Beast Controlling Force. The most important thing is to understand the situation with the human forces!

Zhang Renbin, who was communicating with Fang Mu through the Legend Butterfly, was extremely shocked upon hearing this.

Could it be that Fang Mu had such power within the Emperor Beast Court!?

For a human to reach into the depths of the Beast Controlling Force, this was something Zhang Renbin had never imagined before!

This matter must certainly be a secret for Fang Mu.

The fact that Fang Mu would share this secret with him showed Fang Mu's trust in him.

Zhang Renbin would not dare to recklessly spread such sensitive information!

Zhang Renbin: Master, from now on we will focus all our attention on the human forces.

Zhang Renbin: If there are any findings, I will continue to report to you!

Fang Mu had just ended the conversation with Zhang Renbin when he immediately contacted Zhuo An through the Legend Butterfly.

When Fang Mu had set his sights on the Wood Attribute Growth Type Sanctuary, he had mentioned it to Zhuo An.

If these Beast Controlling Forces really were sent by the Emperor Beast Court and Zhuo An had not informed him, then Fang Mu would cease to nurture Zhuo An any further!

A tool that served no purpose would be personally destroyed by Fang Mu.

During the last operation, Zhuo An had voluntarily taken a hit for Shui Miao, and Fang Mu knew exactly what his intentions were.

Fang Mu indulged Zhuo An's ulterior motives and acknowledged his loyalty.

Not only did he help Zhuo An recover his origin but also provided him with numerous Spiritual Elixirs.

For Zhuo An to take a step further after stepping into Order!

In that operation, Zhuo An essentially became the biggest beneficiary.

Under such circumstances, if Zhuo An could not relieve Fang Mu of his worries, then Zhuo An truly did not need to exist!

Fang Mu's initiative was not immediately responded to by Zhuo An.

Almost two whole hours later, Zhuo An finally contacted Fang Mu through the Legend Butterfly.

As soon as Fang Mu answered, Zhuo An hurriedly said.

Zhuo An: Master, I just had a meeting in the Eternal Dark Council and really couldn't get away!

Zhuo An: As soon as the meeting ended, I came to find you!

Zhuo An: May I ask if you have any commands?

Zhuo An, who also experienced life and death in the operation against the Blood Race Queen, valued life more than those who hadn't faced such peril.

On one hand, Zhuo An used the Spiritual Elixirs gifted by Fang Mu to improve his strength; on the other hand, he tried his best to maneuver and manage his position within the Emperor Beast Court.

With the resources provided by Fang Mu, Zhuo An had no concerns about improving his strength.

Zhuo An preferred to expend his energy on the pursuit of power and influence.

Higher-level Guardian Beasts were no less intelligent than adult humans, some even smarter.

This gave rise to highly sophisticated socialization within the Beast Controlling Force.

The various intrigues and transactions within the Emperor Beast Court were even more exaggerated than those in the human world.

Chapter 1118: A Gathering at Contract Garden!_2

Zhuo An sincerely submitted to Fang Mu, first because he had witnessed the depth of Fang Mu's capabilities and understood the strength of Fang Mu's forces.

Fang Mu's power was enough to make one soar swiftly in the Beastmaster world.

Second, Fang Mu was truly generous with the rewards given to his subordinates.

Zhuo An liked this feeling of immediate reciprocation after contributing.

Faced with Fang Mu's initiative to reach out, Zhuo An responded with exceptional earnestness.

Fang Mu directly asked,

“Zhuo An,” said Fang Mu, “you should remember the Wood Attribute Growth Type Secret Land that I mentioned to you.”

“Do you have any news regarding this Wood Attribute Growth Type Secret Land within the Emperor Beast Court?”

Zhuo An felt somewhat perplexed by Fang Mu’s question.

Why suddenly bring up the Wood Attribute Growth Type Secret Land?

Zhuo An was certain that he hadn’t heard anything about it recently.

“Master,” Zhuo An said, “I’ve been presiding over matters in the Eternal Dark Council recently, as well as routinely inquiring about the creatures created with essence blood obtained from you. I’m not very aware of the situation within the Emperor Beast Court.”

“However, I can assure you that I have not heard any news related to this Wood Attribute Growth Type Secret Land.”

“If I had heard any relevant information, I would have definitely reported it to you!”

Fang Mu, upon hearing this, spoke in a cold voice,

“Zhuo An, do not forget the mission I entrusted to you!”

“Are you saying that cozying up within the Emperor Beast Court is now more important than the mission I gave you?”

“Go and investigate the relevant news right now, and report back to me at the earliest opportunity! Do you understand!?”

“If I feel you’ve been neglecting your duties again, I won’t hesitate to train someone else in your place!”

Hearing Fang Mu’s words, Zhuo An broke out in a cold sweat and immediately recognized his error.

He had indeed devoted too much energy to his personal development and had not been as diligent as before in gathering intelligence on the Emperor Beast Court for Fang Mu.

After assuring Fang Mu, Zhuo An immediately began investigating the news within the Emperor Beast Court.

The investigation yielded some results indeed.

Some tribes within the Emperor Beast Court had heard of a Growth Type Secret Land appearing within the Human Federation's sphere of influence.

Whether those Beast Controlling Forces with knowledge of the secret land had started to vie for the Wood Attribute Growth Type Secret Land, Zhuo An did not know.

What Zhuo An was sure of was that the official Emperor Beast Court had not made any moves to compete for the secret land.

This was because the Emperor Beast Court had previously been warned by the Contract Garden for investigating a large ancient battlefield within the Panfeng Federation's territory and contesting for other sanctuaries.

During that operation, numerous Human Forces' members indeed perished at the hands of strong figures from the Beast Taming Tribes.

The Emperor Beast Court could not ignore the warning from the Contract Garden.

Should the Emperor Beast Court disregard the Contract Garden's warning, the Contract Garden would certainly opt for war against the Emperor Beast Court.

The Emperor Beast Court had its means to produce Creator resources, but it still had to seek ways to trade for Creator resources from Human Forces.

After confirming that the official Emperor Beast Court had issued no orders concerning this Wood Attribute Growth Type Secret Land, Zhuo An breathed a sigh of relief.

At the very least, in this situation, even if he had been lax, he wouldn't be unable to account to Fang Mu.

Having received the news from Zhuo An, Fang Mu chose not to say much more to him.

After the warning, Zhuo An would naturally be on alert.

The words that Fang Mu had just spoken to Zhuo An were not a threat.

Fang Mu could reward his subordinates generously.

But in terms of managing his followers, Fang Mu was equally strict.

As the number of people under Fang Mu's command grew, it was indeed challenging to maintain discipline without such strictness.

As a superior, Fang Mu was also constantly growing stronger.

Since the actions of those Beast Taming Tribes were unrelated to the Emperor Beast Court, Fang Mu needn't have any reservations.

For a foundation-level treasure such as the Wood Attribute Growth Type Secret Land, it was only natural that some Beastmaster Tribes harbored thoughts of seizing it.

These past few days, Fang Mu had been continually receiving messages from Zhang Renbin.

Fang Mu thought to himself that the Human Forces jostling for the Wood Attribute Growth Type Secret Land were indeed numerous!

However, among these human forces, the Witch School was indeed the most dominant.

The Ten-thousand Nations Federation did not publicly express a desire to contend for the Wood Attribute Growth Type Secret Land.

Yet, two branch forces under the Ten-thousand Nations Federation's command each made their presence known.

Fang Mu had originally been relieved that no one from Bliss Palace had shown up, as they would have definitely clashed with the Ten-thousand Nations Federation.

But less than a day after Fang Mu's relief, he learned that people from Bliss Palace had also appeared near the Thousand Ravine Ocean Trench.

Fang Mu rubbed his temples, realizing that the struggle for the Wood Attribute Growth Type Secret Land would not be easy.

Zhang Renbin was accompanied by Su Qing and Shui Miao.

Through her contracted Four Winged Flower Spirit, Su Qing was covertly sensing the Wooden Attribute Growth Type Secret Land.

She determined that the Secret Land would be fully accessible and ready for harvesting in nine days.

Because Shu Liangjun was there, Fang Mu didn't have to hurry on his way.

Judging by the time, the gathering at Contract Garden was about to start.

Fang Mu was both curious and anxious about the gathering at Contract Garden.

He was about to participate in the world's top-tier meeting of the human world as a Saint Creator.

However, Fang Mu was not certain whether the Crescent Moon Pendant on his chest would accompany him through the Heaven-Supporting Fusang Leaf to the gathering in Contract Garden's otherworldly space, just as when he had met with Xu Fengnian and Wang Mi in the Consciousness Space before.

The gatherings at Contract Garden generally took place at exactly noon.

Wang Mi and Xu Fengnian were also waiting for the gathering to convene before taking action with Fang Mu.

Every meeting at Contract Garden held countless opportunities.

Usually, the gatherings at Contract Garden did not involve scholarly exchanges; they were mainly for Grandmaster Creators to trade supplies and allocate resources.

Occasionally, a Saint Creator might issue some complex quests.

Whatever the task issued by a Saint Creator, no matter how difficult, the other Grandmaster Creators would scramble to take on the task to ease the Saint Creator's concerns.

The hope was that the Saint Creator would provide them with guidance.

Of course, in addition to the exchange of supplies, the gatherings at Contract Garden also settled some important matters involving the human world.

For instance, the competitions between the four major regions were decided during several Contract Garden gatherings.

Fang Mu fiddled with the Heaven-Supporting Fusang Leaf in his hands within the cultivation chamber, feeling its guidance.

Hesitating for a moment, Fang Mu placed his palm on the Crescent Moon Pendant on his chest, trying to activate it.

Communicating with the Crescent Moon Pendant through his spiritual power, the pendant indeed responded to him.

The Crescent Moon Pendant released an energy that enveloped Fang Mu's soul.

For when he had previously entered the Consciousness Space, Fang Mu had felt the Pendant's energy wrap around his soul.

During the time Fang Mu communicated with the Crescent Moon Pendant, the Consciousness Space was already filled with figures of varied postures.

The chairs beneath most figures were composed of verdant green and gold, except for three distinctive chairs.

These three chairs were covered in gold and red hues, and only two of them were occupied by seated figures.

Both figures were shrouded in dense light.

One form of light was that of a towering, robust cypress tree, seated atop a mountain range, exuding an air of majesty greater than that of the high mountain itself!

The branches of the cypress seemed to overshadow the lofty mountains.

Another form of light resembled a celestial female deity with eight arms, each clasping a different-colored silk ribbon.

These silk ribbons interwove behind her floating figure.

Behind the woman, a flow of pale purple river water swirled.

The purple aura contained within the water gave the woman's apparition an exceptionally solemn and dignified Dharma Aspect.

This was the Dharma Aspect only Peak Order Practitioners possessed.

Of course, within Contract Garden there were far more than these two Peak Order Practitioners.

Yet out of respect for the two, the other Peak Order Practitioners did not reveal their own Dharma Aspects.

The eyes of the crowd converged on the unoccupied gold and red chair.

Chapter 1119: Rewards That Can Be Called Insane!

Today, the Grandmaster Creators in the Contract Garden were well aware that the Contract Garden was about to welcome its third Saint Creator.

It was Han Ming who had made the title of Saint Creator renowned. This had created a higher level above the Grandmaster Creators.

Not long after setting the tier of Saint Creator, Han Ming had announced his promotion from a Top Creation Master to a Saint Creator.

After becoming a Saint Creator, Han Ming's behavior within the Contract Garden had gradually become more domineering.

While the Eternal Mother Yongle was still at the level of Top Creation Master, due to the conflict with Bliss Palace, Han Ming had forcefully caused the Eternal Mother Yongle to retreat from the world for over two hundred years.

Han Ming had never expected the Eternal Mother Yongle to also surpass the threshold of Top Creation Master and become a Saint Creator.

This gave the Eternal Mother Yongle the capital to stand up against Han Ming.

In the meetings at Contract Garden, the Eternal Mother Yongle had often been at loggerheads with Han Ming.

This made the hearts of all the Grandmaster Creators feel exceedingly troubled.

Initially, when only Han Ming was a Saint Creator, almost all the Grandmaster Creators would try to curry favor with him.

But now, due to the existence of the Eternal Mother Yongle, these Grandmaster Creators no longer dared to ingratiate themselves with Han Ming as they had before.

Currying favor with Han Ming wouldn't necessarily gain his attention, but it would definitely provoke the displeasure of the Eternal Mother Yongle.

For these Grandmaster Creators, this was a loss-making deal.

Of course, these Grandmaster Creators also didn't dare to curry favor with the Eternal Mother Yongle.

Pleasing the Eternal Mother Yongle meant offending Han Ming.

Now, with the appearance of this new Saint Creator, it would surely change the currently awkward situation.

In the Contract Garden, a Saint Creator had the right to make proposals and could put forward any resolution.

But the decision-making power was determined by a collective vote among all the Grandmaster Creators.

Having three Saint Creators made opinions more varied and also ensured the fairness of decisions among the Grandmaster Creators.

Han Ming's lineage of Grandmaster Creators held significant power in the Contract Garden, overpowering the Eternal Mother Yongle faction.

This was partly because the Eternal Mother Yongle was reluctant to spend time courting other Grandmaster Creators.

The character of the Eternal Mother Yongle was much more reclusive than Han Ming's.

Otherwise, Bliss Palace wouldn't have been so mysterious to the outside world.

Secondly, after all, Han Ming had become a Saint Creator more than two hundred years before the Eternal Mother Yongle.

Even if the Eternal Mother Yongle had the intention to vie with Han Ming in the Contract Garden, it would take time and effort to maneuver through it.

Now, with a new Saint Creator added, this newcomer's decisions would influence the tilt of the scales.

This severely weakened Han Ming's influence within the Contract Garden.

Should this new Saint Creator choose to side with the Eternal Mother Yongle, the Grandmaster Creators who were attached to Han Ming's faction would wisely distance themselves from him.

Currying favor with one Saint Creator while displeasing two was not something a wise person would do!

Those two figures seated on the golden-red chairs, surrounded by their Dharma Aspects, did not show any displeasure at the new companion's tardiness.

A Saint Creator was well aware of what being at the same level as oneself meant.

It could be said that the moment the Eternal Mother Yongle and Han Ming knew of the third Saint Creator's appearance within Contract Garden, they had made up their minds to forge a connection with this Saint Creator.

Suddenly, the vacant golden-red chair shimmered brilliantly, and a radiant moon emerged proudly from the sparkling light.

The bright moon rose slowly. Under its widespread illumination, the Dharma Aspects of the two adjacent seats seemed somewhat overshadowed.

Fang Mu's consciousness had already entered this consciousness space.

Seeing this, Fang Mu hurriedly contained the energy emanating from the Crescent Moon Pendant.

Fang Mu had no intention of showing up the other two Saint Creators in this meeting!

Han Ming and the Eternal Mother Yongle maintained their Dharma Aspects, quickly reaching a level to contend with the moon.

Han Ming chuckled lightly.

“Qixing, you’ve really hidden deep. I had no idea about you before today!”

“It’s also a kind of fate that we meet at the Contract Garden gathering.”

Hearing Han Ming’s words, many Grandmaster Creators present couldn’t help but mutter silently.

Among them were Wang Mi and Xu Fengnian.

Han Ming’s statement was indeed awkward. Even without fate, after Qixing joined the Contract Garden, he would definitely attend the meetings.

If that were considered fate, then wouldn’t Qixing have a connection with everyone present!?

However awkward Han Ming's words were, his initiative in greeting Qixing clearly showed his attitude.

Han Ming was showing goodwill to Qixing!

Besides these Grandmaster Creators with peculiar expressions, many others looked curiously and expectantly towards the direction where Fang Mu was seated.

These included Yi Han, Flower Granny of Chonghuaju, the Shuoyang Grandmaster from Dragon Rising Federation, Sect Master Xiao Xiang, and Big Tavern Master Lang Huan from Yayue Place.

People like Lang Huan and Flower Granny were apt to conceal their status as Grandmaster Creators.

But during gatherings in the Contract Garden, there really was no need to hide!

Yi Han had already secretly pledged allegiance to Qixing, becoming one of Qixing's subordinates.

However, this was Yi Han's first time seeing Qixing.

Yi Han's previous communications with Qixing had all been conducted through Fang Mu.

Yi Han was still more familiar with Fang Mu.

Lang Huan and Flower Granny had feelings similar to Yi Han's.

Chonghuaju and Yayue Place had both initiated collaborations with Qixing.

Only, compared to Chonghuaju, the cooperation between Yayue Place and Qixing was much deeper!

Chapter 1120: Rewards That Can Only Be Described as Insane!_2

Shuoyang and Sect Master Xiao Xiang were curious about Qixing, mainly because Qixing had suddenly appeared within the territory of the Dragon Rising Federation.

At first, neither of them took Qixing very seriously, thinking that Qixing was a new Grandmaster Creator like Yi Han.

Revealing his title was meant to enjoy the glory that came with the status of a Grandmaster Creator.

It was during the dispute over the Sacred Relic "Sakura Fall" that Shuoyang and Xiao Xiang realized that Qixing was at least a Senior Creation Zenith Master.

Both had been looking for an opportunity to visit Qixing.

After learning that Qixing was in seclusion, they both dismissed the thought.

Their intention in seeking Qixing was to make his acquaintance, not to annoy him or create any hard feelings.

Finally, they had the chance to behold Qixing's presence.

After Han Ming had greeted Qixing, the resonant voice of the Eternal Mother Yongle addressed Fang Mu.

"Qixing, we welcome you to choose to become a member of the Contract Garden and join us in guarding the development of humans in this world!"

"To celebrate the arrival of Qixing, I will distribute a bottle of Life Elixir with a purity of ninety-four percent to everyone present!"

Compared to Han Ming's awkward greeting, Eternal Mother Yongle, though she communicated with Qixing later, her gesture carried more the meaning of forming ties!

Including the Eternal Mother Yongle, Han Ming, and Qixing, there were ninety-seven members of the Contract Garden.

To welcome Qixing, the Eternal Mother Yongle offered ninety-six bottles of Life Elixir with a purity of ninety-four percent, which was quite the generous gesture!

A Grandmaster Creator would not dare to do such a thing!

Ninety-six bottles of Life Elixir with a purity of ninety-four percent almost equaled the output of a Senior Creation Zenith Master over several months.

Yet such an expenditure was trivial for a Saint Creator.

Fang Mu first smiled at Han Ming and said,

“Fate is not only about the right moment but also about how we get along in the future.”

“Sometimes, even without fate, if the interaction is pleasant, fate will still come uninvited!”

Fang Mu’s words sounded to the other Creators as if he intended to befriend Han Ming.

Or rather, Qixing was extending an olive branch to Han Ming, hoping to nurture a good relationship with him in the future.

Hearing this, Han Ming smiled and nodded at Fang Mu, very pleased with Qixing's words.

Han Ming and Eternal Mother Yongle had not engaged in any resource exchange.

But that didn't mean Han Ming wasn't open to it.

The resources held by a Saint Creator were all extraordinary, and only the non-precious ones didn't catch their eye.

However, not all these resources were always useful.

Thus, the exchange of resources among Saint Creators could lead to trading some of the world's most superior spiritual materials.

In Han Ming's heart, because Qixing responded to him first, he felt Qixing had a better impression of him as an established Saint Creator.

Han Ming didn't expect that after responding to him, Qixing would then turn to the Eternal Mother Yongle and say,

"Such a welcome is truly extravagant!"

"To show my sincerity, I will distribute ninety-six bottles of Spiritual Elixir with a purity of eighty percent to every member present."

The Eternal Mother Yongle's willingness to expend resources to welcome him was a gesture from the heart.

Fang Mu responded to the Eternal Mother Yongle's sentiment in the most lavish way, also proving his financial capability to the Creators present.

As a Saint Creator, the Eternal Mother Yongle didn't lack for such resources.

Fang Mu didn't need to help with the cost of those Life Elixirs.

Doing so was somewhat dismissive of the Eternal Mother Yongle.

Having understood the status of a Saint Creator, Fang Mu was mentally prepared.

In the Contract Garden, he would not seek trouble with anyone deliberately, nor would he flatter anyone in particular.

Fang Mu would reciprocate based on how others treated him.

Given the thoughtful treatment from the Eternal Mother Yongle, he would respond to and forge ties with her even more sincerely.

Unlike with the more established Saint Creator, Han Ming.

Upon hearing Fang Mu's words, the Eternal Mother Yongle, through her Dharma Aspect, expressed her pleasure.

"I hope we have more opportunities for exchange in the future!"

"I have heard from those under my command that they had previously made the acquaintance of your disciple."

"Your disciple had a stunning performance in the large Ancient Battlefield that appeared in the Panfeng Federation."

Otherwise, human forces would never be able to stand toe-to-toe with the Beast Controlling Force of the Emperor Beast Court!

Fang Mu, as someone who had experienced it firsthand, had gone through the exploration of that large ancient battlefield himself.

Fang Mu was well aware of all the minutiae that had occurred within the massive ancient battlefield.

Fang Mu certainly had exerted a great deal of effort during the competition between the human forces and the Beast Controlling Force for the qualifications to enter the relics.

But to be honest, that operation should be chalked up to Fang Mu's reliance on the ancient relic map recorded in old books, as he strategized against both the human forces and the Beast Controlling Force.

After Eternal Mother Yongle had warmly welcomed him, she took the initiative to bring up the identity of "Jianmu," her nominal disciple from Qixing.

This indicated an even further step in Eternal Mother Yongle's gesture of goodwill.

Fang Mu had indeed intended to use the identity of Jianmu as a spokesperson for Qixing.

Since Eternal Mother Yongle had brought it up, Fang Mu naturally seized the opportunity to elaborate!

“Little Wood’s performance has never let me down.”

“It’s just a pity that the legacy inside those relics ultimately fell into the hands of the Beast Controlling Force.”

When Fang Mu mentioned Jianmu, pride and relief were brimming in his voice.

Moreover, the use of the nickname Little Wood made it clear to those present, even those who had never been in contact with Qixing before, how much Qixing valued his disciples.

All the Grandmaster Creators remembered this point.

If they were to encounter Qixing disciples in the future, even if they couldn’t form an association with the disciples of Qixing, they must ensure that they did not offend them!

Seeing the lively conversation between Qixing and Eternal Mother Yongle, Han Ming felt a hint of dissatisfaction in his heart.

Han Ming didn’t believe that Qixing was unaware of the past friction between himself and Eternal Mother Yongle.

The fact that Qixing and Eternal Mother Yongle were interacting so jovially clearly indicated that they did not regard him seriously!

However, Han Ming had no way to lash out.

Not only that, Han Ming had to further strive to win over Qixing.

“I, too, am pleased that Qixing is joining Contract Garden, and will gift each person a bottle of Life Elixir with a purity of ninety-six percent.”

“You must remember, this gain you have achieved is all thanks to borrowing Qixing’s light!”

Fang Mu was someone who found it difficult to harbor animosity towards others.

From his brief interactions with Han Ming, Fang Mu didn’t hold any ill feelings toward him.

Nonetheless, in Fang Mu’s eyes, Han Ming was not clever.

Han Ming was too inattentive to the feelings of the other Grandmaster Creators.

Even if he had a large number of followers, these followers might not be sincere in their treatment of Han Ming.

The same Life Elixirs, with a purity of ninety-six percent, were distributed to every Grandmaster Creator present.

Eternal Mother Yongle chose to distribute, while Han Ming chose to gift.

Clearly, Han Ming saw himself as a superior, and the others as inferiors.

Unlike Eternal Mother Yongle, who opted for equal treatment of the other Grandmaster Creators in Contract Garden!

“Well, I’ll thank you for this in advance!”

Having said that to Han Ming, Fang Mu continued on.

“Since Han Ming welcomes me so warmly, I will also distribute ninety-six bottles of Spiritual Elixir with a purity of eighty percent.”

“I hope to have the opportunity to exchange ideas with all my peers in the future!”

Fang Mu's words caused an array of expressions among the Grandmaster Creators present.

Qixing's statement indicated that Fang Mu was someone of great wealth and bearing.

Qixing must surely have substantial Saint Creator resources at his disposal.

Otherwise, he couldn't possibly afford to distribute nearly two hundred bottles of Spiritual Elixirs with a purity of eighty percent!

Though Spiritual Elixirs with a purity of eighty percent had a value comparable to Life Elixirs with a purity of ninety-six percent, the formulation of the Spiritual Elixirs was even more challenging.

A Saint Creator would not casually make light of his resource reserves.

That Qixing could do so suggested that preparing Spiritual Elixirs with a purity of eighty percent was not difficult for him!

Either Qixing had advanced to a new level after becoming a Saint Creator,

Or Qixing had a large number of Guardian Beasts capable of producing spiritual energy.

It was these prehistoric Guardian Beasts imbued with spiritual energy that supported Qixing's ability to offer such an extravagant level of gifting!