

Beast Tamer 1381

Chapter 1381: Fang Yuan and Tang Lingxi! Fang Mu is exceptionally selfless towards his own family members.

In the selection of Ghost System Beasts, Fang Mu offered his brothers and sisters the same conditions as himself. Fang Mu, being a Contractor of a Heaven Calamity Ghost Series Summoning Beast, was well aware of the immense resources needed to contract such a beast.

Even though Xi Xi's rank had advanced to the Platinum Tier, financially supporting another Heaven Calamity Ghost Series Summoning Beast in an optimal manner still posed quite a pressure.

Especially since all three of Fang Mu's elder brothers and sisters could choose to contract a Heaven Calamity Ghost Series Summoning Beast.

Upon hearing this, Fang Qin hurriedly shook his head.

"Little Wood, Heaven Calamity Ghost Series Summoning Beasts can only control Dead Creatures. I appreciate watching others contract these beings, but the idea of contracting one myself makes my skin crawl."

"The Guardian Beasts I've contracted mainly bear the Water attribute. It's better for me to choose a Water-attribute Disaster-Level Ghost-Beast for the contract!"

As an experienced Beast Master, Fang Qin had a clear plan for his path as a Beast Master.

Yan Wood spoke from the side.

"This Fire-Affinity Disaster-Level Ghost-Beast would be more suitable for me; I'll go with this one!"

"I don't find Dead Creatures scary, but despite their coolness, they don't align with the direction I've taken in my previous Guardian Beast choices."

“I’m afraid that if I were to command a horde of Dead Creatures in battle, it might affect the others on the team, as well as the Guardian Beasts I’ve currently contracted.”

Fang Yuan didn’t say much; his strategic planning for himself was far clearer than Yan Wood and Fang Qin’s.

Fang Yuan is a person with distinct ideas and would only choose Thunder System Beasts among the Catastrophe Class Ghost-Beasts.

Fang Yuan looked at the Fire-Affinity Disaster-Level Ghost-Beast that Fang Mu had handed over to Yan Wood, which had caused a significant uproar.

As the president of the Mu Commerce Association, Fang Yuan had heard of this matter.

The president of the Beast Collection Merchants’ Association chose to cooperate directly with Longteng Federation officials upon arrival at the Dragon Rising Federation, benefiting many projects including Jianmu Commerce Association and Jianmu’s visualization.

Gu Ting’s arrival in the Dragon Rising Federation was clearly intended to court Fang Mu’s favor.

Previously, there had been little interaction between the Beast Collection Merchants’ Association and the Dragon Rising Federation.

Now that this Fire-Affinity Disaster-Level Ghost-Beast had appeared in Fang Mu’s hands, it indicated that the matter had been essentially resolved.

Fang Mu would probably explain the situation to himself later on.

If they could acquire the Beast Resources of the Beast Collection Merchants’ Association, then Jianmu’s visualization would be able to enter a state of rapid development.

Otherwise, merely having the infrastructure in place is not enough, without proper implementation of Guardian Beasts, which prevents the Beast Collection Merchants' Association from accommodating a large number of guests to promote their scholarship funds for the Dragon Rising Federation.

"Little Wood, since you're planning to rest for a while, do you plan to stay here for a few days?"

Upon hearing this, Fang Mu nodded and said.

"Big brother, I can stay here for two days. After that, I have to go back to deal with some matters."

In two days, the Original Blood Nuwa Female would produce enough Nuwa Blood, which Fang Mu would have to deliver immediately to Lian Dai.

As the King of the Han Yang Empire, Lian Dai had many matters to attend to following the cooperation between Humans and the Sea Clan.

Once Lian Dai has the Nuwa Blood, she can return to the Han Yang Empire.

Fang Mu had already tested the effects of Nuwa Blood, which the Original Blood Nuwa Female produced by absorbing the Blood Aged Wine from the bottom of the Blood of Abundance; its efficacy was stronger than that of the Blood Aged Wine.

In particular, Nuwa Blood has the effect of purging impurities from the bloodline.

With Nuwa Blood aiding Lian Dai in absorbing impurities from her bloodline, her Mermaid Bloodline would become increasingly pure.

With her bloodline purified, Lian Dai's strength is bound to improve rapidly within a very short period!

Hearing that Fang Mu could stay with him for two days, Fang Yuan immediately said.

“Little Wood, it’s rare for you to have so much time to rest. Big sister, why don’t you also call Mo Shang over?”

“Judging by the time, Mo Shang’s training should be nearly complete too. It’s a good opportunity for our family to get together!”

The relationship between Fang Qin and Mo Shang is extremely stable, having been together for more than four months, and Fang Yuan has long acknowledged their relationship.

Yan Wood said with a giggle.

“Second brother, you don’t need to say anything, big sister will definitely call brother Mo Shang over!”

“Why don’t you invite sister Lingxi to this family gathering as well?”

“Why not just ask sister Lingxi to come over outright!”

“Sister Lingxi has been with you for as long as brother Mo Shang has been with big sister.”

“I remember, second brother, that you confessed and confirmed your relationship with sister Lingxi just the week before last!”

Upon hearing this, Fang Yuan somewhat sheepishly ran his hand through his hair.

“I’ll go call Lingxi over in a bit; it will also be a good occasion for big sister and Little Wood to formally meet Lingxi!”

The reason Fang Yuan didn’t say he was going to introduce Tang Lingxi to Yan Wood was that Yan Wood and Tang Lingxi had already been good friends.

Fang Yuan didn't tell Yan Wood about his relationship with Tang Lingxi; she must have learned about it from Tang Lingxi herself.

Fang Yuan has always been family-oriented. Before Fang Mu declared that he had become a disciple of Qixing, the responsibility of supporting the family always fell on Fang Yuan.

Those familiar with Fang Yuan know that he is a brother demon, giving a large portion of the resources he earned to his siblings.

Otherwise, with the resources that Fang Yuan himself earned, he could continuously strengthen himself and steadily improve his strength.

Chapter 1382: Fang Yuan and Tang Lingxi!_2

Tang Lingxi did not despise Fang Yuan's actions to support his family and even provided him considerable overt and covert help.

For Fang Yuan, Tang Lingxi was a treasure as precious as his family, but when it comes to expressing feelings, Fang Yuan was always not very good at it and preferred actions over words!

Previously, it was Tang Lingxi who took the initiative to confess her feelings to Fang Yuan, and Fang Yuan rejected her at that time because the burden he carried was too heavy.

He couldn't offer Tang Lingxi happiness.

As the daughter of the president of Ten Thousand Treasures Commerce, Tang Lingxi was like a fairy at that time.

Fang Yuan wasn't afraid of bearing pressures himself, but he didn't want Tang Lingxi to endure too much external pressure by being with him.

Later, Fang Yuan managed Jianmu Commerce Association under the guise of Golden Sleeve, and Fang Mu's identity as a Grandmaster Disciple of the Founding Sect became known.

The roles of Tang Lingxi and Fang Yuan reversed, with Fang Yuan becoming an esteemed figure, and Tang Lingxi turning into an ordinary person.

Tang Lingxi, known for her strong personality, did not wait for Fang Yuan's situation to improve before discussing their relationship.

But for Fang Yuan, Tang Lingxi was very resolute.

The heiress of Ten Thousand Treasures Commerce, Tang Lingxi, left the association directly to follow and work for Fang Yuan.

For a long period, Tang Lingxi even worked harder than Fang Yuan!

Not only did Fang Yuan notice this, but Yan Wood, Fang Qin, and Fang Mu also saw it.

All three were very supportive of Fang Yuan and Tang Lingxi.

As for Tang and Fang Yuan's relationship, the happiest was Tang Xiao, the president of Ten Thousand Treasures Commerce.

Tang Xiao recognized Fang Yuan's potential when he was still poor and promoted him considerably.

Otherwise, it would not have been possible for Fang Yuan, who was in his twenties, to become the captain of the Golden Glove Squad of Ten Thousand Treasures Commerce.

As a businessman, Tang Xiao inevitably sought personal gain and acted prudently, but he respected his daughter's feelings.

Just as Tang Xiao helped Fang Yuan back then, Fang Yuan also helped Tang Xiao a lot.

Fang Yuan handed over the fast trading channels of the Jianmu Commerce Association to Ten Thousand Treasures Commerce.

Even though Ten Thousand Treasures Commerce cannot yet rank in the top fifty of the Dragon Rising Federation, it has already reached the sixth position in the rankings of Jinghai Province!

Now that Tang Lingxi and Fang Yuan are officially together, he has practically become the father-in-law of the president of Jianmu Commerce Association, and people wherever he goes give him some respect.

Tang Xiao valued Fang Yuan because he saw him as a principled person.

Therefore, Tang Xiao always maintained his bottom line in his cooperation with Fang Yuan, not doing anything that would affect Jianmu Commerce Association's interests and reputation.

It is because Tang Xiao understands Fang Yuan that their cooperation has been so pleasant.

If Tang Xiao took advantage of his relation with Fang Yuan to engage in inappropriate activities, Fang Yuan would decisively cut off the cooperation with Ten Thousand Treasures Commerce.

Fang Yuan wanted to repay Tang Xiao in more ways than just this; he didn't want Tang Xiao to tarnish Fang Mu's reputation!

Fang Mu did not spend too much effort on his siblings' relationship matters.

According to Fang Mu, Tang Lingxi is a very capable person, referring not to her combat capabilities, but her managerial skills.

In Fang Mu's view, managerial talents are even scarcer than combat talents, and he plans to talk about this with Fang Yuan later.

Cultivating such managerial talents requires more investment than training a combat talent.

It's a priority to cultivate one's own people when they have such capabilities.

After a casual chat, Fang Mu took Fang Yuan to his office.

Fang Yuan's office was still decorated as it was during Fang Mu's last visit, which looked quite good at the time.

However, now that Fang Mu's perspective has broadened, the decoration inside Fang Yuan's office seemed somewhat shabby.

"Brother, I have a batch of jade-transformed wood that has been handed over to Keystone Construction."

"Let them prioritize crafting the furniture for your office once they finish."

"Replace all these furniture made by craftsman Grandmasters."

Fang Mu thought it over and decided not to let Fang Yuan hand over those replaced pieces of furniture to him. In fact, Fang Mu could have taken these pieces to the Abdomen Environment Space to finish their jade-ification, as they were all the handiwork of a Grandmaster Craftsman!

However, doing so would be too conspicuous.

The furniture, even if not circulated out, could inevitably be seen by outsiders.

Every piece of furniture crafted by a Grandmaster Craftsman has the Grandmaster Craftsman's unique imprint. These Grandmaster Craftsmen are the most aware of whether they used jade-ified wood to make furniture.

Fang Mu found it unnecessary to do something so conspicuous.

Fang Mu raised his hand and took out a white-based pearl with a layer of cyan blue luminescence floating on it.

This pearl was about the size of Fang Mu's fist.

Feeling the radiant essence released from the pearl, Fang Yuan felt his spirit lifted and his mind in a thoroughly clear state.

"Little Wood, what is this?"

Fang Mu said with a smile.

"Second Brother, you have so many things to manage every day, and it's inevitable that you are often in a tense state."

"This Clear Radiance Sun Pearl is condensed from a deceased Order-level Beast, Clear Radiance Sunshell."

"Placing it in the room can soothe your taut spirit and ease your mood."

"This time, in addition to providing resources, I also have something to discuss with you."

"I handed over the list you gave me to the president of Beast Collection Merchants' Association, Gu Ting. Gu Ting promised to help us acquire the guardian beasts listed."

"They will be delivered within two months."

"Before that, Second Brother, see to it that the staff of the Contemplation Hall is prepared in advance!"

“I’ve heard that there’s always malicious competition among the large Contemplation Halls, poaching talents from each other.”

“Make sure that these people you find are guaranteed loyal, to avoid similar troubles after training them.”

Fang Yuan directly summoned the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen he had contracted; the ant queen summoned by Fang Yuan was a new queen produced by Fang Mu’s Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen.

Now this new queen had achieved significant growth under Fang Yuan.

Upon seeing Fang Yuan’s new queen still in the Golden Stage, Fang Mu knew Fang Yuan must have been restraining the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen’s growth, always making this queen produce ant offspring.

Fang Yuan, after summoning the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen, said,

“Little Wood, my ant queen has been constantly active; I drink a large amount of Soul Potion daily and let this queen directly consume the Soul Potion.”

“I didn’t consider this queen’s evolutionary potential; I didn’t intend for her to grow much under me.”

“My purpose in cultivating this queen was to control those key members into whom we have invested substantial resources.”

“Now, the number of ant offspring produced has reached over four hundred. In two months, the number can easily surpass two thousand.”

“Two thousand ant offspring are enough to control the core members in Jianmu Contemplation!”

“As for the other members, I plan to gradually bring them under control over three years, preventing any mishaps.”

“All this time, I’ve been greatly concerned about how to manage the hearts of these subordinates.”

“With the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen, everything has become simpler!”

“Those who have contracted Covenant Servant Soul Ant offspring very well understand that only after contracting can one receive a huge influx of resources.”

“They are very willing to promote this, with many actively vying for it.”

“The Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen allows me to trust other core members more and similarly soothes their minds.”

Hearing this, Fang Mu nodded in agreement.

The control method provided by the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen can indeed simplify everything within a power faction.

Having reached this step, Fang Mu really had nothing to worry about!

Fang Mu changed the topic and asked Fang Yuan earnestly,

“Second Brother, do you think Sister Lingxi is capable of independently handling the role of Vice President of the Jianmu Commerce Association?”

Chapter 1383: Fang Yuan’s Ghost System Guardian Beast!

Tang Lingxi is now essentially Fang Mu’s sister-in-law, and Fang Mu treats Tang Lingxi with great respect.

Having such a person loyally follow Fang Yuan is, in Fang Mu's view, extremely rare.

Not just Fang Mu, Fang Qin and Yan Wood equally recognize Tang Lingxi's value.

Regarding Tang Lingxi's arrangement, Fang Mu would definitely seek Fang Yuan's opinion.

When Fang Yuan heard what Fang Mu said, he was momentarily startled, knowing that Fang Mu was thinking of nurturing Tang Lingxi.

It is very likely that the next step is to provide resources for Tang Lingxi and offer her the appropriate opportunities for experience.

Fang Yuan has spent a long time with Tang Lingxi and knows her extremely well.

Tang Lingxi is meticulous in her work and possesses strong abilities.

Otherwise, Fang Yuan would not have allowed Tang Lingxi and Lu Bo to become his key aides!

In managing the Jianmu Commerce Association, Fang Yuan never practiced nepotism.

After serious consideration, Fang Yuan responsibly said,

"From an capability perspective, Lingxi is qualified to be the Vice President of the Jianmu Commerce Association."

"At Jianmu, Lingxi is handling even more responsibilities than I am!"

Hearing Fang Yuan's words, Fang Mu said,

"If that's the case, then I will help Sister Lingxi get a good opportunity."

“Master Wu Xin hopes that I can recommend a disciple to him, and I plan to directly recommend Sister Lingxi.”

“Master Wu Xin is a Grandmaster Creator behind the Beast Collection Merchants’ Association, with the level of a mid-tier Grandmaster Creator.”

“By becoming Master Wu Xin’s disciple, sister-in-law will be facilitated in dealing with all business affairs with the Beast Collection Merchants’ Association.”

“The Guardian Beast channel is extremely crucial for Jianmu, having Sister Lingxi, who is absolutely one of our own, manage it will allow us to be at ease.”

Fang Yuan was greatly surprised by Fang Mu’s words; Fang Mu actually wanted to give Tang Lingxi a chance to become a Grandmaster Creator’s disciple!

Fang Yuan knew all too well what it meant to become a disciple of a Grandmaster Creator.

The Jianmu Commerce Association had managed to develop to this extent not just because of the resources provided by Fang Mu but more so due to Fang Mu’s identity.

And not just because of Fang Mu being a Saint Creator’s disciple.

When Fang Mu played the card of being a Grandmaster Creator’s disciple, the Jianmu Commerce Association was already flourishing as it is now.

“Little Wood, this opportunity is too precious, I...”

Before Fang Yuan could finish speaking, Fang Mu had already interjected.

“Second brother, you’re right, but it’s precisely because this opportunity is so precious that we need to ensure it stays in the hands of our own people.”

“Rest assured, Sister Lingxi, as a disciple of Master Wu Xin, will definitely not suffer any wrong!”

“Since the establishment of the Jianmu Commerce Association, Sister Lingxi has been working there, and her contributions are enough to rank among the top three in the Association.”

“Sister Lingxi deserves this opportunity!”

“Of course, how it should be handled is not just for us two to decide; we should also consider Sister Lingxi’s opinion.”

“Ability not only depends on talent but more so on acquired experience.”

“Cooperating with the Beast Collection Merchants’ Association is just the perfect opportunity for her!”

This time, Fang Yuan did not refuse but instead patted Fang Mu’s shoulder and earnestly said,

“Little Wood, thank you, brother!”

“Now, second brother can’t help you much anymore, but I can definitely manage these businesses well!”

Fang Mu smiled and said,

“Second brother, managing these businesses well for me is already a huge help!”

“From now on, the development of Jianmu Commerce Association should not focus primarily on profit, but more on accumulating resources.”

“And we need to accumulate resources much more aggressively than before!”

“Not only the rare supplies but accumulating basic supplies is also necessary!”

“Stock up on these materials; we will inevitably need them in the future!”

Fang Yuan etched Fang Mu’s words deeply into his memory.

All commerce associations in the world mainly focus on profitability, but ever since Fang Mu started the Jianmu Commerce Association, he had always been unconcerned about its profitability, allowing himself to use the resources earned to prepare supplies.

And these resources of Jianmu Commerce Association were primarily from external sales to Creators for resource acquisition.

Clearly, Fang Mu considered the Jianmu Commerce Association as a channel for gathering and accumulating resources.

Understanding Fang Mu’s purpose, Fang Yuan had always developed the Jianmu Commerce Association accordingly.

Previously, when helping Fang Mu collect Thunder System Spiritual Materials, Fang Yuan had overpaid for many materials.

It was precisely Fang Yuan’s accumulation of resources that solved many urgent needs for Fang Mu.

After finishing their conversation, Fang Mu left Fang Yuan’s Office, and it was almost time for lunch.

Tang Lingxi was happily chatting with Yan Wood, her face showing a shy yet joyous smile.

This was the first time Fang Yuan invited Tang Lingxi to join a family dinner.

Tang Lingxi understood that Fang Yuan bringing her to this family dinner meant officially disclosing their relationship to his family.

Seeing Fang Yuan and Fang Mu walking over, Tang Lingxi first smiled at Fang Yuan, then she lifted her eyes toward Fang Mu.

Fang Mu, as a Saint Creator's disciple, was a truly prominent figure not only in the Dragon Rising Federation but in the entire world.

Tang Lingxi had not had contact with Fang Mu before.

In Tang Lingxi's mind, Fang Mu was very mysterious, yet she also knew that within this family, Fang Mu was the person with the most authority.

Chapter 1384:

Tang Lingxi stood up and gave Fang Mu a respectful greeting.

"Ah Yuan always mentions you, Little Wood. Now we finally have the opportunity to meet!"

"This time Ah Yuan notified me at the last minute to come over. My cooking skills are no worse than any outside chef."

"You should also try my cooking next time!"

Tang Lingxi was serious and cold when handling affairs.

But in her daily life and interactions with others, Tang Lingxi was always very gentle.

Fang Mu quickly went forward to offer Tang Lingxi a hand and said.

“Sister Lingxi, this is indeed our first formal meeting, my second brother has kept you hidden too well before!”

After saying this, Fang Mu took out a bracelet set with densely packed pink-purple crystals from the Purple Ice Crystal Ring and handed it to Tang Lingxi.

“Sister Lingxi, I heard from second brother that you are a healing Beast Master. This bracelet can enhance your healing abilities.”

“In times of danger, the Beast Spirit inside can also actively protect your safety.”

Previously, when facing Mo Shang, Fang Mu had not prepared any gift, as Mo Shang is Dragon Mother’s grandson and had easy access to all sorts of top-notch resources.

Moreover, at that time, Fang Mu did not have any gifts that were particularly suitable for Mo Shang, so he just gave Mo Shang an Infinite Silver Silkworm and invited him to join the Infinite Tower.

Now facing Tang Lingxi, Fang Mu giving a gift to Tang Lingxi is not just polite but more so an expression of Fang Mu’s acceptance of her.

It lets Tang Lingxi know that the Fang Family is very welcoming and happy to have her join their big family.

Tang Lingxi did not immediately take the Sequential Spiritual Instrument Fang Mu handed to her but looked towards Fang Yuan.

Fang Yuan nodded at Tang Lingxi.

“Sister Lingxi, this is Little Wood’s thoughtfulness, you should accept it.”

Fang Yuan did not immediately discuss with Tang Lingxi what Fang Mu had mentioned before.

These matters could wait until after the dinner when he would find an opportunity to talk to Tang Lingxi slowly.

Fang Yuan believed that Tang Lingxi would be delighted to find out and would cherish the opportunity.

Initially, Tang Lingxi was a very cheerful and confident person, but ever since she found out Fang Mu was a disciple of the Saint Creator, she became increasingly self-conscious when interacting with him.

Fang Yuan tried many ways but to no great effect, and this state of affairs if it continued for a long time, would not be favorable for his relationship with Tang Lingxi.

Once Tang Lingxi becomes a disciple of the Grandmaster Creator, everything will surely turn around.

Two people in love always share some similarities, and Fang Yuan feels that what he shares most with Tang Lingxi is the frighteningly high pride in each other.

The long-overdue family dinner made Fang Mu feel extremely comfortable.

After the dinner, Fang Mu agreed with Yan Wood to take a walk around The Capital.

Yan Wood bought a lot of snacks in big and small packages, thinking Fang Mu would like them, preparing to pack them for Fang Mu to take away when he leaves.

Fang Mu enjoyed such times very much and was exceptionally happy.

The next afternoon, Du Rui and Yang Paiyun's assistants arrived at Jianmu Commerce Association and brought the Heaven Calamity Ghost Series Beasts to Fang Mu.

Fang Mu, Fang Yuan, and Fang Qin jointly selected two Ghost System Beasts that were most suitable.

Next, Fang Yuan, Fang Qin, and Yan Wood would all go into retreat to complete the contract with the Ghost System Beast.

Fang Mu had already distributed the Prayers to Heaven's Tears a long time ago, and the three of them had already used it.

Among them, Fang Yuan was the luckiest, achieving the highest increase in Soul Energy through Prayers to Heaven's Tears.

After contracting with this Ghost System Beast, Fang Yuan should be able to increase his spiritual power further in a few years and proceed to contract with a new Ghost System Beast.

With the help of Prayers to Heaven's Tears, Fang Qin and Yan Wood had less growth in Soul Power.

After a few more years, they would only be able to contract with one more Ghost Device.

By then, Fang Mu will create a Ghost Device for the two of them with an integration rate of over ninety percent.

Having such a Ghost Device would not result in much less enhancement of one's strength than contracting with an additional Ghost System Beast.

Fang Mu didn't rush to leave; instead, he prepared to assist Fang Yuan, Fang Qin, and Yan Wood in contracting the Ghost System Beast.

Contracting a Ghost System Beast necessitates soul protection.

Previously, when contracting a Ghost System Beast, if not for Fang Mu possessing Twin Souls, which was uncommon, he might have been impacted by the energy carried by Yan Yubanruo, resulting in soul damage.

At that time, Fang Mu contracted Yan Yubanruo fearlessly, due to ignorance.

Fang Mu later learned that many who contracted Ghost System Beasts ended up with soul damage due to the beasts themselves.

Fang Mu had on hand various Spiritual Materials to enhance Defense Capability of the soul; using these, he could ensure his elder brother and sisters wouldn't be affected after contracting a Ghost System Beast.

Fang Mu informed Fang Yuan, Fang Qin, and Yan Wood about the dangers of contracting Ghost System Beasts, seeing it necessary for them, as the parties involved, to be informed.

Upon hearing this, the three of them immediately took it seriously.

Fang Qin spoke up first.

"Then let me be the first to contract it!"

"After I'm done, I'll share my general experience with you two to help you prepare!"

"Plus, I am the oldest and my Soul Energy is the strongest!"

Hearing this, Fang Mu inwardly criticized himself for overstating the dangers out of concern.

He hurriedly said,

"I've already contracted a Ghost System Beast and I have the Spiritual Materials provided by our master. With these at hand, even without using Prayers to Heaven's Tears, there will be no problems. Moreover, you've already contracted and used Prayers to Heaven's Tears!"

"Any one of you three can contract it first!"

Upon hearing Fang Mu's words, Fang Qin was reassured, and eventually, Fang Yuan went forward to contract the Ghost System Beast.

The Heaven Calamity Series Ghost Beast that Fang Yuan was contracting looked quite special, with Thunder Energy visibly shifting shapes atop its form.

Fang Mu first lit a piece of jade-like Submerged Water Incense in the quiet room, then took out a piece of Soul-stabilizing Snow Ginseng and spoke to Fang Yuan,

"Elder brother, take this Soul-stabilizing Snow Ginseng with this bottle of Spiritual Elixir."

"After fifteen minutes, when you feel the chill has completely enveloped your soul, you can begin to contract the Ghost System Beast using your Soul Power!"

Following Fang Mu's instructions, Fang Yuan consumed the Soul-stabilizing Snow Ginseng.

The taste of the Soul-stabilizing Snow Ginseng was unpleasant; it was so spicy that Fang Yuan's tongue went numb.

However, after eating it, Fang Yuan felt a surge of chill arise from his stomach, wrapping around his soul.

Fang Yuan felt his soul was exceptionally comfortable!

After the chill fully enveloped his soul, Fang Yuan reached out with his Soul Power towards the Thunder-attributed Heaven Calamity Ghost Series Beast.

Fang Yuan had high expectations for the contract with the Ghost System Beast.

Fang Yuan, who greatly valued personal strength, believed that contracting this Ghost System Beast could turn his strength upside down, possibly propelling him to a completely new level.

Soul System Spiritual Materials like Soul-stabilizing Snow Ginseng are extremely precious, and using them to contract a Ghost System Beast seemed almost extravagant.

The resplendent purple flames, flecked with gold, rolled over the eggshell in front of Fang Yuan, who was also enveloped in the brilliant Ghost Flames unique to Heaven Calamity Ghost Series Beasts.

A man with one long and one short horn on his head crashed his fists through the eggshell.

This man was dressed in a luxurious purple-gold half-body armor with a kilt long enough to protect the ankles below.

Behind the man were two large drums, from which thundering sounds echoed continuously.

Even though the drums were not yet struck, thunder and lightning had already formed a five-square-meter pool of Thunder Energy beneath the feet of the Ghost System Beast.

As the Ghost System Beast opened its eyes, the energy in the pool of Thunder Energy began to interweave, continuously changing into an array of shapes.

This change was clearly linked to the abilities of this Thunder-attributed Heaven Calamity Ghost Series Beast.

Fang Mu employed the Eye of Omniscience to examine the status of the Ghost System Beast.

Chapter 1385: Impure Rain Girl!

[Beast Name]: Illusory Thunder Tengu

[Beast Species]: Ghost King Order/General Ghost Type

[Beast Level]: Copper (1/10)

[Beast Element]: Thunder System

[Beast Potential]: Silver

[Beast Quality]: Perfect

Skills:

[Thunder Condensation]: Utilizes its own essence to refine objects that do not surpass its essence, transforming thunder and lightning into these objects during battle, either enhancing a designated target or attacking the enemy.

Exclusive traits:

[Thunder Realm Energy Storage]: Forms a thunder marsh outside its body made of thunder energy, where it can store extra energy. During combat, it can directly activate the energy stored in the thunder marsh for its own use.

While Fang Mu observed the abilities of Fang Yuan's Ghost Series Divine Beast, Fang Yuan was also sensing his own Ghost Series Divine Beast.

In Fang Mu's view, Fang Yuan's Ghost Series Divine Beast is an all-around unit because the skill [Thunder Condensation] allows Fang Yuan to transform thunder and lightning into any form.

The most suitable objects for the Illusory Thunder Tengu to refine using its own essence are spiritual instruments.

Spiritual instruments have various forms and functions; selecting defensive spiritual instruments for condensation can enhance the team's defense capability, while choosing offensive spiritual instruments for condensation allows continual transformation of spiritual instruments to attack the opponent during combat.

From this skill alone, the Illusory Thunder Tengu has elevated Fang Yuan's combat capabilities.

It matches all the divine beasts currently contracted by Fang Yuan, as well as his own Ghost Series Divine Beast.

The exclusive trait [Thunder Realm Energy Storage] endows the Illusory Thunder Tengu with a prolonged combat capability.

Utilizing the accumulated thunder energy in the thunder marsh for sustained combat.

Having experienced arena battles, Fang Mu fully understands how important sustained combat capability is for a Beast Master.

When facing opponents of equal or greater strength, sustained combat capability gives oneself at least a 20% greater chance of winning.

"Little Wood, with this new contracted Ghost Series Divine Beast, I am more confident in the selections within the Dragon Rising Federation and in representing the Dragon Rising Federation in battles in the Second World!"

Fang Mu responded with a smile.

"Your Ghost Series Divine Beast is currently at Copper Perfect Quality, and once you elevate its rank and quality, it's destined to become even more powerful!"

"Perhaps, during the process of upgrading, it might even bring you some unexpected surprises."

After saying this, Fang Mu handed over a large amount of Soul of Death and Thunder Energy to Fang Yuan.

“With these Souls of Death and Thunder Energy, you can feed your Ghost Series Divine Beast, and within a month, it could nearly reach Diamond Rank!”

“The Souls of Death I’ve provided are enough to elevate it to Diamond Rank; you don’t need to skimp on these.”

“I have a stable channel to acquire Souls of Death!”

“As for Thunder Energy, I don’t have much on hand right now, but after some time, I will provide you with more.”

“Before you use up all this Thunder Energy, the subsequent supply I provide will definitely be adequate!”

“During this period, you must focus on enhancing your strength. Once Jiang Lao finishes crafting the Spirit Capturing Box, we can look into crafting Ghost Devices for you and your elder sister!”

Fang Yuan took the resources provided by Fang Mu, with so many Souls of Death and pure Thunder Energy, it would be easy to elevate the strength of his Ghost Series Divine Beast to the upper limit of his current rank.

“Little Wood, I will prioritize enhancing my strength during this time, since you’ve resolved the issue of Beast Resources, there’s nothing much for me to attend to anyway.”

“My Ghost Series Divine Beast has already been contracted, I’m going to call our elder sister in.”

“We three should finish contracting the Ghost Series Divine Beasts earlier to avoid wasting too much of your time!”

Soon, Fang Qin was called in by Fang Yuan.

The Water-Attribute Cataclysm Level Ghost-Series Divine Beast chosen by herself showed no special signs on the eggshell, but Fang Qin had a good feeling about this Ghost Series Divine Beast.

In Fang Qin's words, it felt as though this Ghost Series Divine Beast was summoning her.

Fang Mu is a typical materialist and doesn't quite believe in fate.

However, Fang Mu respected Fang Qin's choice, as no one could be certain of the abilities of this Ghost Series Divine Beast before contracting it.

At the very least, the attribute of this Ghost Series Divine Beast truly matched that of Fang Qin.

Just as he had previously protected Fang Yuan, Fang Mu handed a Soul-stabilizing Snow Ginseng to Fang Qin.

The fully jade-converted Submerged Water Incense had not yet burned out, and Fang Mu did not need to add more to the incense burner.

Under Fang Mu's guidance, Fang Qin swallowed the whole Soul-stabilizing Snow Ginseng with a Spiritual Elixir.

When the Soul-stabilizing Snow Ginseng released its chill, enveloping the soul, Fang Qin contracted the Ghost Series Divine Beast still inside the eggshell in front of her.

Fang Mu only saw a hazy image of a woman emerging from the eggshell. This image imprinted on Fang Qin's body, turning her hair instantly into a splendid blue, igniting water-blue Ghost Flames on her body.

There were no Ghost Flames ignited on the eggshell in front of Fang Qin; instead, it just fell to the ground with a "clatter" and shattered into pieces.

Fang Qin's Ghost Flames were far more vigorous than the typical Beast Master's Ghost Flames ignited upon contracting a Ghost Series Divine Beast. Subsequently, Fang Qin's eyes also turned blue.

Aside from igniting Ghost Flames, there are no other visible changes on a Beast Master after contracting a Ghost Series Divine Beast.

Chapter 1386: Impure Rain Girl!_2

Fang Qin displayed such a distinctive change, which can only be explained by one possibility: the Ghost System Beast that Fang Qin contracted is the rare possession type!

The rarity of possession type Ghost System Beasts is as uncommon as exclusive traits related to fusion with Guardian Beasts.

Regardless of the abilities of Fang Qin's Ghost System Beast, being able to contract a possession type is already considered very fortunate!

Not to mention that Fang Qin may still have the possibility to contract another Ghost System Beast in the future.

The Ghost Flame ignited on Fang Qin has not only not weakened after such a long time, but has become even more intense than before.

A pair of blue wings made of Ghost Flame appeared behind Fang Qin, allowing Fang Qin's body to float in mid-air.

These wings looked like two open parasols, and Fang Qin's eyelashes, which became blue as well, blended seamlessly with her blue eyes.

This made Fang Qin's appearance ascend at least one level in attractiveness, and it should be noted that Fang Qin's appearance was already top-notch.

Fang Mu used the Innate Divine Ability [Eye of Omniscience] of the Fool's Shadow to investigate Fang Qin's Ghost System Beast.

[Beast Name]: Impure Rain Girl

[Beast Species]: Ghost King Order/Ghost Princess Class

[Beast Level]: Copper (1/10)

[Beast Element]: Water System

[Beast Potential]: Silver

[Beast Quality]: Perfect

Skills:

[Rain Incarnation]: The self merges with the Contractor, transforming the Contractor into an elemental body—the incarnation of rain. The rain summoned within the area can mark targets with ally or enemy designation. If a target is determined as an enemy, the cursed Impure Rain inflicts a layer of weakness as a negative effect. If a target is determined as an ally, the blessed Clean Rain can dispel its own negative effects and has some detoxifying effects.

Exclusive Traits:

[Borrow Clouds Make Rain]: The self utilizes burning Ghost Flame to attract clouds from the sky, causing them to converge towards the self. These clouds can increase the range of the rain curtain, allowing the Impure Rain to be summoned on a large scale during overcast and rainy conditions.

Fang Mu was stunned upon seeing the Ghost System Beast named Impure Rain Girl contracted by Fang Qin for quite a while.

For a moment, Fang Mu didn't even know how to evaluate Impure Rain Girl.

From the perspective of large-scale warfare, once trained, Impure Rain Girl could become a Ghost System Beast worthy of deification.

In one-on-one confrontations between Fang Qin and an enemy, Impure Rain Girl essentially has little presence.

The weakening effect of the Impure Rain and the supportive amplification effect of the Clean Rain seem too weak when observed individually.

This is because Impure Rain Girl's skills are not aimed at just a single unit but can affect a super-wide range of group targets.

And impact all allied and enemy units within the entire super-wide range.

Cangluan Ying Jiao, the Dragon race Guardian Beast that has awakened the Main Dragon Bloodline, makes Fang Qin a Strategic Level talent.

Fang Mu has heard from the Dragon Mother that Fang Qin's current Strategic Level is A+.

The reason Cangluan Ying Jiao could be rated as A+ is greatly due to its ability to efficiently draw energy from nearby mountains and seas for high-efficiency sustaining when in proximity to them, thanks to its bloodline.

Don't be fooled by Fang Yan's Huifeng Yingrihe being a dual-elemental Fire and Light Attribute Guardian Beast; it can actually amplify all elemental Guardian Beasts.

Allowing Guardian Beasts of all elements to deal fire attribute damage.

This makes Fang Yan's strategic evaluation higher than Fang Qin's, rated as S-rank.

Now that Fang Qin has contracted Impure Rain Girl, an S-rank Catastrophe Class Water Attribute Ghost System Beast, Fang Qin's evaluation is likely to directly reach S+!

In large-scale battles, enhancing the team's offense is inherently less effective than providing support for the allies and weakening the enemies.

Fang Qin and Fang Yan are now essentially two strategic pillars of the Dragon Rising Federation.

Once Fang Qin and Fang Yan grow and join large-scale battles, even if their own side's overall strength is weaker than the enemy's, there's a great chance of defeating the opponent!

The exclusive trait [Borrow Clouds Make Rain] of the Impure Rain Girl allows her to use the natural weather of a rainy day to expand the scope of the cleansing rain, effectively making Fang Qin the deity of rain.

This was right after Fang Qin had just contracted with the Impure Rain Girl.

With the advancement of the Impure Rain Girl's tier and quality and the acquisition of new skills and traits, Fang Qin's strength would further increase.

Fang Qin disconnected from the fusion with the Impure Rain Girl and returned to her original state; the Impure Rain Girl also entered into Fang Qin's soul.

"Little Wood's Ghost System Guardian Beast has enhanced my strategic significance."

"With my abilities, I don't think I'm suited for participating in arena battles."

"And whether it's the might of my Cangluan Ying Jiao or the capabilities of the Ghost System Guardian Beast, neither should be revealed to the outside."

"I plan to discuss with my master after I return to see if it's still necessary to continue representing the Dragon Rising Federation in duels."

Even after becoming a disciple of the Dragon Mother, Fang Qin remained a member of the Iron Anchor Navy.

Compared to showing off as an individual hero, Fang Qin placed greater importance on the collective interest.

Indeed, within the age group of 20 to 30, Fang Qin's strength ranked in the first tier but was not the strongest.

This had nothing to do with the star level of the Beast Master or the level and quality of the Guardian Beast.

Fang Qin's Guardian Beast was indeed not adept at solo combat; the power displayed by the Cangluan Ying Jiao in single combat was not even as strong as Fang Qin's other Guardian Beast evolved from the Iron Thorn Carp.

Fang Mu highly approved of Fang Qin's suggestion.

"Big Sister, you definitely need to report the abilities of your Ghost System Guardian Beast to the Dragon Mother; as your master, she will surely make the most fitting decision for you."

"Just let the Dragon Mother arrange it at that time!"

"Compared to revealing such a trump card that can represent the foundation of the Dragon Rising Federation in a battle, it's better to save it for a critical moment!"

"Big sister, take these resources. With them, your Ghost System Guardian Beast will be able to grow within a month."

Due to the Blue Curse Orchid, Fang Mu didn't have many Thunder attribute Elixirs on hand, but he did have a significant stockpile of Water attribute Elixirs, enough for Fang Qin to use.

Not long ago, Fang Qin had lost three fingers in battle. Apart from wanting to alleviate Fang Yuan's burden, her desperate efforts were also to assist Fang Mu in obtaining an elixir capable of low-frequency stimulation of spiritual power.

Now, with her brother's help, she has not only become a leader among her peers but also a pillar of talent for the Dragon Rising Federation.

All this made Fang Qin feel as if she were in a dream.

Fang Qin had always been clear-headed; the Dragon Mother was willing to take her as a disciple solely because of Fang Mu.

If it weren't for Fang Mu enhancing the bloodline of her Guardian Beast and finding her a powerful Dragon race Guardian Beast.

Just with her Platinum Tier Iron Thorn Carp, how could the Dragon Mother ever take notice of her?

Even if the Dragon Mother wanted to select disciples from the Iron Anchor Navy, she herself would likely not have qualified to enter her sight at that time.

Fang Qin stepped forward and gently hugged Fang Mu, whispering.

"Little Wood, you're always worrying about us, don't forget to take care of yourself!"

"More than how great you can become, as your sister, I wish for you to grow up safely!"

"But I also know you're someone who can't stop, and I will try to be your strong support while watching you grow!"

After saying that, Fang Qin let go of her embrace, turned around, and left the room, ready to call Yan Wood in.

Fang Mu, feeling the lingering warmth on his body, showed a warm smile on his face.

In reality, rather than never stopping, Fang Mu wished to protect his little home.

But in a world where strength is paramount, unceasing self-improvement is the best way to protect.

Ever since Fang Mu revealed his status as a Qixing Disciple and this status was recognized by both Humans and the Sea Clan, he had become one of the most powerful people in the Beastmaster world.

Chapter 1387: Massacre Fire Yan Ba!

The fact that Fang Mu could shake the Beast Collection Merchants' Association by merely expressing his discontent shows how much influence he has.

Fang Mu is now completely focusing his attention on the higher-dimensional world at the other end of the Sea of Domains.

After accumulating resources and enhancing his own strength, Fang Mu will launch an assault towards the dimensional world on the other side of the Sea of Domains.

With the King-level extraterrestrial creature Tianyuan Qiongyan under contract, Fang Mu will surely be able to break new ground when venturing into the dimensional world across the Sea of Domains.

However, Fang Mu won't naively assume that the King-level Alien Creature represents the strongest entity in another dimensional world.

King-level Extraterrestrial Beings are merely the strongest creatures that have invaded the Beastmaster world from the other end of the dimensional spectrum. Who knows what levels of strength exist in the dimensional world connected by the Sea of Domains?

Therefore, it's essential to make various preparations before setting out to explore this dimensional world.

And when the time comes, the assistance of Lian Dai, a Divine Realm Level Strong, will surely be indispensable.

Enhancing Lian Dai's bloodline for Fang Mu is also beneficial for himself.

Yan Wood enters the room and finds Fang Mu frowning in thought.

Yan Wood doesn't immediately call out to Fang Mu, not wanting to interrupt his contemplation.

Despite regularly playing and joking with Fang Mu, Yan Wood as his sister never fails to provide support during critical moments.

After a while, Fang Mu snaps out of his deep thoughts and sees Yan Wood in front of him. He smiles and scratches his head, saying,

"Sorry, Third Sister, I was thinking about something and didn't notice you come in."

Yan Wood looks at Fang Mu with some heartache. Being a disciple of a Saint Creator is definitely not an easy role.

Yan Wood is now a true disciple of a Grandmaster Creator, a bond that Fang Mu helped her establish.

Yi Han, considering Fang Mu's status, doesn't dare to impose too many demands on Yan Wood.

But whether it's daily learning or representing Yi Han to do certain tasks or meet certain people, pressure is inevitable.

The pressure Fang Mu has to bear is only going to be greater than her own!

Yan Wood doesn't say much, understanding that Fang Mu can't simply relax just because she tells him to in such an environment.

Yan Wood only blames her own weakness, as Fang Mu's growth rate far surpasses her own.

Even if she can't become Fang Mu's haven with her strength, as long as she works hard enough, she will often have the chance to help Fang Mu in the future.

"There's nothing to apologize for, Little Wood, I just got here," she says.

"I heard from Second Brother that you went through a lot of trouble to get this Heaven Calamity Ghost Series Beast with the Fire Attribute for me."

"And because of this, you encountered quite a bit of difficulty; thank you, Little Wood!"

Upon hearing this, Fang Mu quickly waved his hands and said,

"Third Sister, why are you being so formal with me? I think this Ghost System Beast suits you very well."

"I hope I haven't chosen the wrong one for you!"

In fact, choosing a Ghost System Beast for someone close is quite pressure-inducing because no one knows the specific abilities of a Ghost System Beast before contracting.

What Fang Mu thinks is suitable for Yan Wood might not necessarily be right for her.

For example, he wasn't optimistic about the Impure Rain Girl that Fang Qin had just contracted.

Yan Wood said seriously,

"Little Wood, you know what my situation was like when I first contracted a Guardian Beast. Back then, even after understanding two Mystic Ruhn, I didn't manage to join a decent Club Guild."

“It was you who let me contract the Xi Hui Reflective Crane that gave me strategic value and my own fighting style.”

“Heaven Calamity Ghost Series Beasts each have their utilities, none of them are weak.”

“My Reflecting Sun Crane’s abilities are extremely versatile, so no matter what, any contract would be suitable!”

After speaking, Yan Wood took the Soul-stabilizing Snow Ginseng handed over by Fang Mu and ingested it. Under Fang Mu’s witness, she contracted the hard-won Ghost System Beast.

Brilliant crimson Ghost Flames ignited on both the eggshell and Yan Wood’s body, slowly turning a layer of golden orange color.

Immediately after, the eggshell cracked from the inside, and the first thing to emerge were two pairs of wings. Then, a woman, covered with wounds, leapt out of the eggshell.

These wounds gave the woman an air of tragic beauty; instead of Blood, hot lava flowed from her injuries.

The lava, before even touching the ground, turned into ghastly fumes of gray-black with undertones of orange-red light.

It was reminiscent of volcanic ash spewed from a volcano’s crater.

The battle-damaged girl reached forward with her hands, and the gray mist immediately condensed into a long spear made of obsidian in front of her.

With a slight movement of the spearhead, a large amount of lava was splashed out. It was clear that she was a Ghost System Beast proficient in combat!

Fang Mu used his Innate Divine Skill [Eye of Omniscience], granted by the Fool's Shadow, to examine Yan Wood's newly contracted Ghost System Beast.

[Beast Name]: Massacre Fire Yan Ba

[Beast Species]: Ghost King Order/Battle Ghost Species

[Beast Level]: Copper (1/10)

[Beast Attribute]: Fire

[Beast Potential]: Silver

[Beast Quality]: Perfect

Skill:

[Wedge of Death]: Remain in a constantly injured state, where personal injuries enhance one's combat strength. When killing targets, one can heal their injuries using the opponent's wounds. Every opponent faced in battle will start with similar injuries.

Exclusive Trait:

[Battle Flame Slayer Gun]: Whenever one's long spear kills a target, it stimulates the activity of Fire Elemental Energy in the surroundings, allowing the nearby Fire Elements to quickly self-replicate.

Chapter 1388: Massacre Fire Yan Ba! _2

After reviewing the skills and unique characteristics of the Massacre Fire Yan Ba, Fang Mu was finally able to put his mind at ease.

Fang Mu knew that Yan Wood's favorite type of battle was the arena combat style; otherwise, she would not have formed the Club Guild.

This Massacre Fire Yan Ba not only possesses formidable combat capabilities but also provides enhancement and support effects.

With its unique skill, Battle Flame Slayer Gun, it can increase the elemental concentration of the fire elements in the surrounding environment and encourage their division by defeating opponents.

This exclusive characteristic could very well synergize with the abilities of the Xi Hui Reflective Crane.

Moreover, with the skill Wedge of Death, the Massacre Fire Yan Ba could easily kill its opponents.

These wounds on the Massacre Fire Yan Ba were not in vain; they functioned like a curse. In battles with designated targets, the target would suffer grave injuries just like the Massacre Fire Yan Ba.

However, its powerful attacks could help it to recover.

The continually transforming injuries also became its own battle strength. This gave the Massacre Fire Yan Ba the ability to suppress and win against more powerful opponents during combat.

Yan Wood did not lack support-type abilities; what she lacked was units with powerful combat capability.

The Massacre Fire Yan Ba perfectly met Yan Wood's requirements.

Before Fang Mu could even open his mouth, Yan Wood already expressed her excitement.

"Little Wood, I absolutely adore this Ghost System Beast you prepared for me!"

“I was worrying about whether participating in the 20 to 30-year-old age group’s internal selection of the Dragon Rising Federation might embarrass my master, but if I can strengthen the Massacre Fire Yan Ba’s power in this one month plus remaining, I should be able to defeat most of my opponents.”

“In next year’s club competition, the Yan Mu Club could definitely achieve good results under my lead!”

Fang Mu provided Yan Wood with resources to enhance the Massacre Fire Yan Ba.

“Third Sister, you should use the Brilliant Golden Honey I gave you earlier in conjunction with Sacred Relics. Only when you become a Four-pointed Star Beast Master can your overall combat capability be further improved!”

Fang Mu contracted Ghost System Beasts for Fang Yuan, Fang Qin, and Yan Wood; his trip to The Capital was thus concluded perfectly.

Mo Shang had the Dragon Mother on his side, so even though Mo Shang was a member of the Infinite Tower, Fang Mu did not need to provide him with additional resources.

Fang Mu had already agreed with Mo Shang; should he need anything, he would contact Fang Mu directly.

Upon returning to the Half Mountain Manor, Fang Mu received a whole bottle of Nuwa Blood from the Original Blood Nuwa Female, which made her somewhat weak.

She needed to rest inside the Blood of Abundance for a period in order to recover.

After obtaining the Nuwa Blood, Fang Mu sought Lian Dai, who had been comfortably staying at Half Mountain Manor during this period.

The food from the Human World did not suit Lian Dai’s palette, but each meal Fang Mu prepared a bottle of high-purity Spiritual Elixir for her.

Using a high-purity Spiritual Elixir as an after-meal beverage was truly extravagant.

Even Lian Dai, a God-Realm Expert, seldom experienced such luxury.

Lian Dai knew that Fang Mu had asked her to wait here, and he would surely look for her afterwards.

Fang Mu is a person who handles things with great precision; knowing he had many matters to attend to in the Sea Country, he would not make her wait too long.

The fact that Fang Mu found her exactly after five days indicated that he must have prepared everything for her.

Lian Dai had no personal connections with Qixing; she could receive so many resources only because Fang Mu personally made efforts for her.

This made Lian Dai appreciate Fang Mu even more.

And after receiving the Mermaid Blessing, Lian Dai also developed certain feelings for Fang Mu.

Lian Dai now regarded Fang Mu as her junior and as a half-member of the Merfolk Tribe.

When Fang Mu saw Lian Dai, he smiled and said to her,

“Aunt Dai, thank you for waiting. This bottle is the good stuff that will cleanse impurities from your body!”

“Master hopes you could use it here immediately; it will also facilitate recording the effects.”

“This item is extremely precious, with hardly any opportunity to use it before.”

“The cost to obtain this bottle was significant.”

Fang Mu needed to make Lian Dai aware of the value of Wah Blood, but Fang Mu did not exaggerate or seek to take credit.

To produce this bottle of Wah Blood, Original Blood Nuwa Female had to absorb a large amount of Blood Aged Wine at the bottom of Blood of Abundance, all of which contributed to the cost of this Wah Blood.

Such precious Wah Blood was not something Fang Mu could use lightly.

Now that the opportunity had arisen, Fang Mu felt it necessary to record the effects of Wah Blood.

Lian Dai spoke to Fang Mu very earnestly.

“Little Wood, I have kept in mind everything you have done for me. Since you want to see the effects, I will now ingest these elixirs!”

“That way, you can record any situation that arises.”

“I am also curious to see how much impurity this bottle of elixir can remove from my body. Is there anything I need to prepare before taking this elixir?”

“If there’s nothing to prepare, I will start ingesting these elixirs now.”

“You can rest assured that during the bloodline purification process, I won’t let my aura leak out and will not affect the Qixing Grandmaster.”

Fang Mu had never used Wah Blood before and wasn’t actually sure what to do.

Luckily, Fang Mu had asked Original Blood Nuwa Female in advance, who indicated that Wah Blood could be ingested directly by the living body.

No preparation was necessary beforehand.

Fang Mu spoke to Lian Dai in a very relaxed tone.

“Aunt Dai, just take the contents of this bottle directly, no other preparations are needed.”

Hearing Fang Mu’s firm reply, Lian Dai opened the potion bottle handed to her by Fang Mu and drank the red liquid inside.

The moment the red liquid touched her lips, Lian Dai guessed that it was likely the blood of some creature.

However, it was probably not just the blood of some creature but also included some Elixirs mixed by Qixing.

Because this blood had almost no salty taste when entering her mouth.

Lian Dai didn’t even have time to fully taste the liquid, as it seemed to directly penetrate her energy barrier and infiltrate her body everywhere.

A significant portion even directly merged into her blood.

This elixir was so aggressive that she couldn’t even protect herself from it.

Lian Dai did not try to fight against the elixir but quietly waited for the changes about to occur from this elixir spreading throughout her body.

Lian Dai found that the impurities always opposing her inside her body were continuously attracted by the substances in the elixir and adhered together with the elixir's energy.

These impurities, on being attracted by the elixir, detached themselves from affecting her body.

That is to say, the longstanding issues with her bloodline were so easily resolved by this elixir!

As the elixir continued to attract the impurities within her body, her Mermaid Bloodline was also constantly being elevated.

This enhancement speed was much faster compared to how she used to absorb Spiritual Elixirs to expel impurities.

If the speed of her impurity removal using Pure Spirit Qi was like a Copper Level little fish continuously swimming, the current speed of this elixir removing her bloodline impurities was at least like a Platinum Tier Fast Shark.

Time passed by minute by minute, and after a full half hour, the elixir was still absorbing impurities inside her.

Gradually feeling the energy in the elixir losing its effect, Lian Dai awkwardly said to Fang Mu,

"Little Wood, this elixir is about to lose its effect."

"I need to expel the impurities absorbed by the elixir through my skin, and only by returning to the sea and utilizing the surging Water Elemental Energy there can I achieve this."

"Wait here for me, I will be back soon!"

Chapter 1389: The Effects of Nuwa Blood!

Lian Dai's figure disappeared in front of Fang Mu.

Seeing this, Fang Mu raised his eyebrows, it seemed that the effects of Nuwa Blood were quite good, otherwise Lian Dai wouldn't need to urgently expel the impurities from her body.

If the quantity of impurities in the body was small, Lian Dai could digest those impurities by herself.

Fang Mu had been observing Lian Dai after she drank the Nuwa Blood, and one could say that for the past hour or so, from the external appearances, it seemed like nothing had happened.

This meant that consuming Nuwa Blood to purify the Bloodline did not cause much disturbance.

Of course, this did not rule out that Lian Dai was deliberately suppressing her Bloodline, which prevented any disturbances.

Fang Mu would later verify this with Lian Dai.

If Lian Dai was not deliberately suppressing her Bloodline, then Fang Mu could freely use Nuwa Blood to strengthen other beings in the future.

Lian Dai did not make Fang Mu wait long, and returned to him after a few minutes.

Fang Mu noticed that the originally grotesque gray scales on Lian Dai's cheeks had almost completely disappeared, now one could only see faint lines if looking closely at her cheeks.

These lines were like shadows accentuating the contours of Lian Dai's cheeks, making her look somewhat thin, but they no longer had any negative impact on her appearance.

What Lian Dai previously hated the most was others staring at her cheeks continuously.

In Lian Dai's view, this behavior was an insult to herself, as if mocking her Bloodline.

But now, Lian Dai was not only not annoyed by Fang Mu gazing at her cheeks, but actually very pleased.

Lian Dai had already noticed the complexion of her face when expelling the impurities from her body.

Lian Dai knew that the gray scales on her face had mostly receded.

Lian Dai, even if relying on the relationship with Saint Creator Qixing, had never thought her Bloodline could be purified to this extent.

Fang Mu was truly a blessing for her, in Lian Dai's eyes, Fang Mu had nearly recreated her.

This kind of grace was unrelated to strength.

Lian Dai now felt the joy of a girl transforming from an ugly duckling into a beautiful swan.

What Lian Dai most wanted to conceal in the past had become the capital for her to boast.

The purity of the Bloodline made Lian Dai's pink-gold hair more brilliantly colored, and the front of each scale on her tail shimmered with a faint blue glow.

In the Merfolk Tribe, blue is the most prestigious color, all mermaids have an obsession with blue in their genes.

This could be seen from the decoration of Lian Dai's own chamber.

Returning in front of Fang Mu, Lian Dai bowed solemnly to him.

"Little Wood, I thank you for your help, please convey a message to Master Qixing."

"From now on, whatever task you ask of me, I, Lian Dai, will certainly face danger and not shirk."

Fang Mu did not help Lian Dai up but accepted her bow.

As Lian Dai stood upright again, Fang Mu spoke.

“Aunt Dai, there might indeed be something in the future where I need your help, and it could be somewhat dangerous.”

When Fang Mu explores the other side of the Sea of Domains in the Dimensional World, having a God-Realm Expert by his side would definitely be safer than venturing alone with only the King-level Tianyuan Qiongyan.

Since Fang Mu needed Lian Dai’s help, this was a good opportunity to make his request.

Hearing that it might be dangerous, Lian Dai showed a surprised expression.

In this world, there really weren’t many things that could pose a danger to her, even using the phrase ‘basically none’ was not out of line.

Especially since Lian Dai’s Bloodline had just been enhanced, in a few years her power would definitely surpass that of the Sea Lord.

“Little Wood, whatever you need me to do, just speak freely.”

“To serve for Master Qixing, as I said, I will face even fiery pits or deadly perils without hesitation, what’s a little danger!?”

After receiving such a reply from Lian Dai, Fang Mu directly said.

“Aunt Dai, this time the tide is fierce, and it is still uncertain whether it has reached its peak, still, a large number of Extraterrestrial Embryos are entering our world.”

“My master wishes to explore the other end of the Sea of Domains to ascertain the cause of the tide and also to understand more about the world at the other end of the Sea of Domains.”

“This tide has made our world and the world at the other end of the Sea of Domains increasingly close, I think it is very necessary to understand the world on the other side.”

When speaking of this matter to Lian Dai, Fang Mu could not possibly say that exploring the world at the other end of the Sea of Domains is because he wants to conquer that world.

Fang Mu needed to find a reasonable pretext, and this unusual tide is the best reason.

Lian Dai was very surprised by such a request.

Judging from the King-level Extraterrestrial Beings that have strayed here, the world at the other end of the Sea of Domains must be extremely dangerous.

But Fang Mu’s proposal was exactly what Lian Dai desired.

Lian Dai had already harbored thoughts of exploring the world at the other end of the Sea of Domains.

As the King of the Han Yang Empire, Lian Dai bore many responsibilities, with the most fundamental duty being to protect the Han Yang Empire.

Because of the geographical location of the Han Yang Empire, each tide severely impacts it.

This is a calamity that the Han Yang Empire has had to face for a long time.

This tide has caused severe losses to the Han Yang Empire, the empire will need nearly a century’s accumulation just to manage the water territories.

Chapter 1390: The Effects of Nuwa Blood!_2

Lian Dai wanted to address the issue from the root. Lian Dai had once brought up this idea to the other major Sea Countries.

However, the other three big Sea Countries including the Sea Lord did not agree with Lian Dai.

Indeed, every tide in the Sea of Domains affects all members of the Sea Clan.

But the other Sea Clans and the Sea Lord have tacitly acknowledged that the Han Yang Empire is the main battlefield, and whatever happens, the Han Yang Empire will bear the brunt of it.

The other three big Sea Countries and the Sea Lord only needed to be responsible for providing supplies.

This made the Sea Lord and the other three big Sea Countries unwilling to take on the unknown risks.

This forced Lian Dai to give up on her previous idea.

Now, whether to repay Master Qixing or for the Han Yang Empire itself, Lian Dai had no reason to refuse.

Moreover, through this collaboration, Lian Dai felt that she could also strengthen her relationship with Saint Creator Qixing.

The closer her relationship with Master Qixing, enhanced by Fang Mu's support, the more resources she naturally obtained.

Lian Dai had not yet helped Master Qixing in any significant way but just by obtaining a King-level Exotic Body for him, she had already gained so many benefits.

This made Lian Dai foster the idea of depending more on Master Qixing.

Maybe in the future, she could obtain Nuwa Blood, pushing her bloodline even further.

With one more advancement in her bloodline, she was not far from becoming a pure blood mermaid.

“This matter once initiated will also benefit the Han Yang Empire itself. As soon as Master Qixing is ready to explore the other end of the Sea of Domains, just let me know!”

Upon hearing this, Fang Mu did not continue on the matter, but changed the topic to Lian Dai.

“Aunt Dai, did you deliberately suppress your own bloodline when you were swallowing that elixir just now?”

Lian Dai knew that Fang Mu wanted to know about the effects of the blood elixir she had just swallowed in her body.

Lian Dai explained,

“Little Wood, I didn’t deliberately suppress my bloodline. The elixir I swallowed just now will automatically disperse to all parts of my body upon entering and start absorbing impurities in my body.”

“Afterwards, all that needs to be done is to operate the energy within the body to disperse these impurities and expel them out of the body.”

“This absorption of impurities in the bloodline can even erase some of the inherent deficiencies in the bloodline.”

“Otherwise, for a mermaid like me whose bloodline isn’t pure, it would be very difficult to reach this level through conventional means, even with numerous spiritual elixirs.”

Fang Mu and Lian Dai talked for a long time about the effects of the Nuwa Blood, after which Fang Mu suggested that Lian Dai return to the Han Yang Empire.

After Lian Dai left, Fang Mu logged into the Second World; it was just two or three days since Fang Mu last logged into the Second World.

However, the situation in the Second World had greatly changed.

Eternal Mother Yongle had really sped up the development of the Second World, which now included schools officially organized by Contract Garden.

Every day Contract Garden officially arranges fifty Intermediate Crafting Masters, ten Senior Creators, and three Master Creators to hold public classes.

Although these creators charge for public classes, the fees are much less than outside, generally only twenty to thirty percent.

Contract Garden is doing this to develop those without resources but with potential talent for crafting.

Since the public classes are conducted in the Second World, there is no limit to the number of participants for each class.

Anyone who wishes to participate can register, and these fees are used to maintain the Second World Service Centers built by various Federations.

Practically every public class sees a vast number of participants.

Fang Mu secretly thought if he hadn't awakened the Destiny Guidebook, he might have been like others, scrambling to attend these public classes held by the creators in the Second World.

The opening of Beast Collection Merchants' Association was extremely grand, which was because it had offended Saint Creator Qixing, leading many clients to cease cooperation with the Beast Collection Merchants' Association.

But now there was news from the Beast Collection Merchants' Association, saying that the disciple of the Saint Creator, Qixing, has now become the patron of the Beast Collection Merchants' Association.

And this information was corroborated by Yi Han.

This made those customers who refused to cooperate with the Beast Collection Merchants' Association hastily re-establish contact.

Many customers who did not choose to cooperate with the Beast Collection Merchants' Association also chose to collaborate with them, many of which were previously unattainable despite the Association's efforts.

At this moment, Gu Ting did not put on airs, nor did he make things difficult for those who had previously cooperated with the Beast Collection Merchants' Association.

Firstly, it was not necessary for the Beast Collection Merchants' Association to do such things as they were open for business.

Secondly, doing so could likely affect the reputations of Qixing, Yang Paiyun, and Du Rui.

Rather than venting his frustration, Gu Ting hoped more to improve the Beast Collection Merchants' Association under his guidance.

Now, Gu Ting was securely the top leader among the four chairmen of the Beast Language Federation.

The Beast Language Federation's stores in the Second World could be described as bustling, with sales reaching new highs over the past three days.

In the battle zones, many individuals distinguished themselves, like Jiang Tuo, but Fang Mu was undeniably the star amongst them.

The main reason Fang Mu attracted so much attention in the Second World was his contracting of numerous Diamond Rank Undead Guardian Beasts before the age of twenty.

Being able to contract such high-level Guardian Beasts under the age of twenty was legendary in itself.

Furthermore, Fang Mu was not yet twenty, but rather seventeen or eighteen years old.

As the saying goes, laymen enjoy the show, insiders appreciate the technique; those unfamiliar with or lacking a deep foundation in Beast Mastery marveled at the Beast Level of Fang Mu's Guardian Beasts.

Those with some understanding of Beast Mastery focused entirely on the bloodline and strength of each of Fang Mu's Guardian Beasts.

The Undead Species of Guardian Beasts is itself a very niche category among Guardian Beasts, and cultivating such niche Undead Guardian Beasts to this level is no easy task.

It requires more resources than usual to cultivate ordinary Guardian Beasts.

The cultivation of these Guardian Beasts revealed Yan Luo's foundation, and Yan Luo just happened to be in the Dragon Rising Federation.

Many people had started to speculate about the relationship between Yan Luo and Saint Creator Qixing.

Jiang Tuo was addicted to dueling in the Second World, spending half his day immersed there, indistinguishable from an internet-addicted teenager.

Given that injuries and deaths simulated in the Second World were extremely realistic, it was fortunate that Jiang Tuo always managed to defeat his opponents.

Otherwise, dying dozens of times a day would likely leave severe psychological after-effects in a normal person.

Fang Mu specifically told Jiang Tuo not to duel so frequently every day.

Otherwise, it could leave mental scars on Jiang Tuo.

After reaching the Platinum Rank, Jiang Tuo could no longer ensure victory in every duel.

As he began losing more frequently, Jiang Tuo started to regulate himself.

Currently, Hu Tao was managing Jiang Tuo's livestream and fan group in the Second World, and when she saw Fang Mu log into the Second World, she quickly sent him a message.

[Tao Tao Sauce]: Ah Mu, are you planning to duel in the Second World? If you duel again today, you'll likely reach the Hall Stage promotion match!

After pondering the message from Hu Tao, Fang Mu replied.

[Yan Luo]: Ah Tao, if I keep winning, I'll just go ahead and reach the Hall Stage today!

[Yan Luo]: If I lose a match, then I'll fight up to the Hall Stage promotion match, and leave the remaining promotion matches for tomorrow!

Until now, Fang Mu has been undefeated in the duels he participated in the Second World and has not suffered any defeats.

Hu Tao is aware of what sort of strength Fang Mu possesses.

Fang Mu still has four or five Dead Creatures he hasn't summoned yet, and reaching the Diamond Phase Level One at under twenty is already the limit.

At this age, there might be others who could give Fang Mu a hard fight, forcing him to summon a few more Dead Creatures.

But defeating Fang Mu is practically impossible unless he intentionally loses.

It seems like Fang Mu is prepared for a drawn-out battle today.

Fang Mu logged into the Second World several days later than others; Hu Tao estimated that Fang Mu would be the first Beast Master under the age of twenty to reach the Hall Stage!
