Chapter 1491: Dragon Blood Baptism!

Regarding Elder Jiang's current remarks, Fang Mu was both surprised and delighted.

Yet Fang Mu maintained a calm expression as he asked Elder Jiang.

"Elder Jiang, staying in this Giant Beast World isn't something to joke about lightly. You must know, this Giant Beast World is exceedingly dangerous."

"Even my mentor hasn't thoroughly explored this Giant Beast World. Remaining here brings a significant risk of unforeseen incidents."

"Are you truly set on staying in this dimensional world?"

"Don't forget about Xiao Tuo."

Deep down, Fang Mu was willing to let Elder Jiang remain in this dimensional world because, before Elder Jiang made this request, Fang Mu had already harbored similar thoughts in his mind.

However, Fang Mu needed to say everything he should, allowing Elder Jiang to carefully consider the matter in his heart.

Only after Elder Jiang persisted in his decision following Fang Mu's admonition would Fang Mu feel reassured about letting Elder Jiang stay in this Giant Beast World.

Elder Jiang had never been one to act without thorough consideration. Even before Fang Mu spoke, Elder Jiang had already thought about Jiang Tuo.

Previously, Jiang Tuo was a pitiable young man who couldn't even properly bond with his Destiny Guardian Beast.

Now, with Fang Mu's help, Jiang Tuo had contracted multiple Heaven Calamity Ghost Series Beasts and had become an unparalleled leader among his peers!

Jiang Tuo's future was bright, requiring no further worry from Elder Jiang.

What Elder Jiang could provide for Jiang Tuo's future was far less significant than the cultivation Fang Mu had given him.

Thus, the concerns in Elder Jiang's heart about Jiang Tuo had greatly diminished.

With his grandson now having a proper path forward, Elder Jiang wanted to live for himself.

Elder Jiang was deeply longing to explore this higher-level world, and now that the opportunity had arisen, he wished to conduct a deeper exploration of this high-dimensional world.

"Little Mu, I don't need to worry about Xiao Tuo anymore. If possible, I truly wish to remain in this dimensional world and try exploring its depths."

"The creatures in this world have bodies of such immense size, which would allow me to study the energy circuits within while dissecting them, thereby enhancing my spirit-smithing-related abilities!"

"If possible, I would like to select twenty advanced Spirit Forgers to join me in entering this dimensional world."

"I intend to treat these twenty advanced Spirit Forgers as direct disciples and guide them personally."

“With these twenty advanced Spirit Forgers, we could establish a fully functional underground base to serve as a shelter in this dimensional world!”

Elder Jiang not only clarified his resolution but also shared the thoughts hidden within his heart.

When Fang Mu heard this, he realized that Elder Jiang’s mind had been made up and said:

“Elder Jiang, since you wish to remain in this dimensional world, I’ll convey your request to Master.”

“I believe Master will likely grant your request!”

“First, set up the restrictions around the dimensional channel, then I’ll take you out to gather additional supplies and help you select twenty advanced Spirit Forgers that meet your standards!”

“After that, spend some quality time with Xiao Tuo. In one or two days, if I get Master’s confirmation, I’ll bring you back here.”

“If there are any circumstances or discoveries over here, you can inform the Legend Butterfly, then send the Legend Butterfly through the dimensional channel.”

Currently, Fang Mu didn’t possess a Guardian Beast capable of relaying messages through the dimensional channel, so he would ask Liu Xi to craft a puppet to guard his room.

As soon as the Legend Butterfly came out, the puppet could immediately receive its message and report it to Fang Mu.

Elder Jiang felt a surge of joy upon hearing Fang Mu’s words.

Fang Mu's response suggested there was much likelihood of Elder Jiang having the opportunity to explore this higher-dimensional world.

Had Fang Mu thought Qixing would not approve, he surely wouldn't have spoken so freely at this moment.

While Elder Jiang possessed a spirit of adventure, he also valued his life deeply.

As he worked on the underground base, Elder Jiang would carefully consider safety measures.

Elder Jiang diligently began layering restrictions on the dimensional channel, while Fang Mu released the Sequential-grade Mechanism Fortress, entered its interior, and observed the state of the Blood of Abundance.

The Blood of Abundance continually absorbed and digested the remnants of those giant beasts; however, the bodies of the Jeh Ancient Snake and Two-headed Crane Phoenix had yet to be processed or assimilated.

Through digesting those giant beast remains, the Blood of Abundance's quality didn't stagnate upon reaching Legendary Quality, but rather continued to improve slowly.

In the Beastmaster world, the Blood of Abundance would never gain access to such abundant flesh and blood to digest and absorb.

Moreover, in the Beastmaster World, the majority of living beings had low physical tier quality, with notable levels only in their energy tiers.

The relatively weak corpses of these Guardian Beasts offered little benefit to the Blood of Abundance, which showed minimal interest in these low physical-strength Beastmaster World remains.

Fang Mu believed the flesh of these two giant beasts—whose physical qualities might have surpassed the Gods' Domain level—would likely allow the Blood of Abundance to advance toward godlike quality.

Even if this outcome couldn't be achieved right now, Fang Mu was confident that, through ongoing cultivation of Golan and Yun He, he would be able to hunt stronger giant beasts for the Blood of Abundance to absorb in the future.

Chapter 1492: Dragon Blood Baptism!_2

Jiang Weng needed a considerable amount of time to set up the restrictions, and Fang Mu took this opportunity to prepare for enhancing the Fulong Yanhu.

Ever since Fang Mu returned from his envoy mission to the Han Yang Empire and Lian Dai became his protector, Fang Mu had amassed a large amount of Sea Clan resources, among which were many complete Dragon Balls.

Because Fang Mu had been too busy previously and hadn't had the chance to use Fulong Yanhu, he had not invested time in cultivating it until now.

But now Fang Mu felt the necessity to cultivate Fulong Yanhu.

There was a strong possibility that this round of cultivation could trigger a bloodline transformation in Fulong Yanhu, taking it beyond its original foundation.

With this thought, Fang Mu summoned Fulong Yanhu.

Fulong Yanhu roared twice indignantly upon being summoned, swinging its two dragon tails behind it in dissatisfaction toward Fang Mu.

Soon after, Fulong Yanhu approached and crouched on the ground, rubbing the part of its nose not covered in sharp fur against Fang Mu's palm.

Fang Mu felt Fulong Yanhu's emotions and quickly patted its nose, apologetically saying,

"Meet Dragon, I've been much too busy lately; I've somewhat neglected you."

"From now on, I will make sure to carve out time to play with you. I won't let you stay confined in my Destiny Guidebook."

Actually, even during this busy period, Fang Mu hadn't completely neglected the Guardian Beasts he had contracted.

Through spiritual power, Fang Mu made efforts to communicate with his Guardian Beasts regularly, including Fulong Yanhu.

But Fulong Yanhu, who loved bustling activity and was deeply attached to Fang Mu, was especially sensitive to even a slight lack of attention.

As a result, even a bit of neglect from Fang Mu would leave Fulong Yanhu feeling unusually despondent.

In front of others, Meet Dragon emitted the grandeur of a mighty tiger beast infused with the aura of the Main Dragon Species, yet before Fang Mu, it transformed into a kitten-like creature.

Of course, with Meet Dragon's massive size, Fang Mu had never prepared suitable toys for it to play with.

Fang Mu used the Innate Divine Ability [Eye of Omniscience] provided by Fool's Shadow to investigate Meet Dragon's current state.

[Beast Name]: Fulong Yanhu

[Beast Type]: Feline/Python Tiger

[Beast Level]: Platinum Rank (10/10)

[Beast Element]: Water/Electric

[Beast Potential]: Diamond Rank

[Beast Quality]: Legendary Quality

Skills:

[Dragon Armor]: Forms an armor layer outside its fur using the Dragon Bloodline in its python tail and its elemental energy. The bloodline and elemental energies within the armor counteract other forms of energy, reducing incoming damage.

[Bloody Mouth]: Each time Fulong Yanhu takes damage or inflicts damage, its ferocity level increases. Each layer of ferocity increases strength and speed by 1%, while amplifying the activation level of the bloodline in its python tail.

[Dragon-Tiger Roar]: The tiger's roar accelerates the growth rate of ferocity levels, while the dragon's roar intimidates opponents. If the opponent is not affected by the intimidating effect, it will enhance the activation of Fulong Yanhu's Dragon Bloodline.

[Dragon Blood Baptism]: Injects the Guardian Beast Dragon Bloodline from its python tail into its body, temporarily transforming its bloodline into Dragon Race attributes. This significantly enhances the

Exclusive Traits:

[Proliferating Python Tail]: Upon reaching a higher rank, the python tail splits. The split tail, when nurtured, retains the abilities and potential of the original tail.

①: First Python Tail: Rain-horned Dragon

③: Third Python Tail: Extreme Thunder Dragon

[Unban of the Severed Tail]: By severing the python tail, the bloodline of the Guardian Beast Dragon Race within the tail is completely unbound. The bloodline consumed during this process transforms the tail into a dragon. Life energy quickly regenerates the severed tail.

[Prosperous Dragon Gather]: For each additional python tail, overall capabilities are significantly enhanced. When one tail sustains damage, it can transfer the injury to another tail.

Evolutionary Path:

①: Binding Dragon Tiger Demon, ②: Emperor Tiger of the Hidden Dragon, ③: Dragon Power Curse Tiger.

The last time Fang Mu analyzed Fulong Yanhu's data, it had only reached the Gold Rank.

Now upgraded to the Platinum Rank, Fulong Yanhu has gained a new skill named [Dragon Blood Baptism].

During battle, the reverse flow of Dragon Blood temporarily alters its own bloodline, strengthening its mastery of the abilities within its dragon tails.

In its elementalized state, Fulong Yanhu becomes immune to external physical damage, allowing it to focus solely on attacking the opponent!

In its elementalized form, Fulong Yanhu exhibits exceptional resistance to elemental attacks; ordinary elemental assaults cannot harm it.

For the third python tail, Fang Mu opted not to select another water-based tail but instead chose the Dragon Ball of the Extreme Thunder Dragon, granting Fulong Yanhu formidable lightning attack capabilities.

The electric attribute compensates for the water attribute's lack of offensive power, turning Fulong Yanhu into a truly devastating force.

Currently, as a Platinum Rank beast, Fulong Yanhu can bond with a fourth python tail. Its first python tail, Rain-horned Dragon, specializes in setting up extensive water environments.

The Extreme Thunder Dragon tail amplifies offensive capabilities while adding a paralyzing effect.

With just the synergy between the Extreme Thunder Dragon's tail and the water attribute, Fulong Yanhu's offense is already flawless!

Its Dragon Ball grants fast condensation abilities, ideal for aquatic combat, but lacks synergy with Fulong Yanhu's existing water attributes.

The Ice Sealed Soaring Dragon specializes in using water vapor to rapidly freeze environments and create seal effects, effectively stripping away other elemental energies.

The denser the water vapor in an environment, the stronger its freezing capabilities.

In aquatic domains, an Ice Sealed Soaring Dragon could easily defeat two to three Dragons of similar rank, such as Glacier Hidden Dragon or Glacier Cold Dragon.

After careful deliberation, Fang Mu decided to use the Dragon Ball from the Ice Sealed Soaring Dragon for its stronger synergy with the other dragon tails.

“Meet Dragon, didn't you always say you wanted to devour another Dragon Ball to further strengthen yourself?”

“Swallow this Dragon Ball. Your bloodline has already reached the threshold for ascension. The Ice Sealed Soaring Dragon, which produced this Dragon Ball, was at least Sequence Four in strength during its life.”

“With the immense energy contained within this Dragon Ball, coupled with some Blood Aged Wine from me, it should be enough for your bloodline transformation!”

Meet Dragon trusted Fang Mu’s decision deeply. Its python tail opened wide and swallowed the Dragon Ball whole.

Chapter 1493: Binding Dragon Tiger Demon!

But as a fierce Tiger Type Familiar, Meet Dragon’s domineering side is more apparent.

At this moment, Meet Dragon’s front limbs are bent, its body trembling slightly as it crouches on the ground.

While trembling, Meet Dragon emits low whimpering sounds.

Seeing this, Fang Mu reached out to stroke Meet Dragon's snout, comforting it.

"Meet Dragon, this is the critical moment of your transformation. Hold on a bit longer!"

"After this evolution, your bloodline will ascend, and you will become a Fairy Type Beast. Compared to before, your combat power will at least double!"

Having said this, Fang Mu took out a stalk of 麻沸菖蒲 (Numbing Sedge) and prepared to peel away its silken hairs to cover Meet Dragon's python tail, which was in the midst of evolution, to alleviate the pain.

Looking at Meet Dragon's current state, Fang Mu felt a pang of heartache.

Meet Dragon, so unyielding, must have reached its limit of endurance.

Otherwise, it wouldn't appear so pitiful!

Yet applying this 麻沸菖蒲 to its python tail might somewhat affect Meet Dragon's absorption of the Ice Sealed Soaring Dragon's Dragon Ball.

When Meet Dragon saw Fang Mu take out the 麻沸菖蒲, its voice, though trembling, was resolute as it spoke to him.

"Fang Mu, I can endure. I have already endured those previous times, and although this time is more painful than before..."

"...my strength has also grown stronger than before!"

"If I cannot withstand the pain of absorbing a Dragon Ball, how will I protect you in the future?!"

After speaking, Meet Dragon forced its forelegs to straighten, gritting its teeth and silencing its whimpers, enduring the transformation in its python tail.

The dragon features of its python tail became more pronounced. Bright blue, gem-like, shimmering silver scales began to grow on its body.

The head of the python sprouted long dragon manes and whiskers, with two midnight-blue, curved dragon horns emerging upward from its crown.

The dragon aura of this tail, dominant over its other three python tails, rapidly grew stronger.

Before long, its presence overshadowed the other three entirely.

Fang Mu, who had been holding his breath, finally exhaled in relief, only for Meet Dragon to suddenly let out a heartrending wail. Every inch of its skin erupted with a thick mist of blood.

The blood mist was so dense that even Fang Mu could scarcely make out Meet Dragon's form.

Fang Mu knew that such a change indicated a significant transformation in Meet Dragon's bloodline!

Previously, when nurturing Meet Dragon, Fang Mu had always been conflicted.

He wavered between evolving Meet Dragon towards the Binding Dragon Tiger Demon path or the Emperor Tiger of the Hidden Dragon path.

After much deliberation, Fang Mu ultimately chose the Binding Dragon Tiger Demon as its evolution path.

To facilitate this transition, the Sequential-level Fairy essence blood was an indispensable catalyst!

The Binding Dragon Tiger Demon excelled in practical combat, equally matched with the Emperor Tiger of the Hidden Dragon.

The bloodline of the Emperor Tiger of the Hidden Dragon exhibited a formidable suppressive effect over both Dragon and Tiger Type Familiars.

However, in terms of potential, the Tiger Type Beast's bloodline was inferior to that of the Fairy Type Beasts.

This was particularly true for Meet Dragon, whose future required the continuous absorption of Dragon Balls, advancing along a path of Battle Elemental Energy mastery.

Fang Mu scattered the extraordinarily rare Sequential-level Fairy essence blood and the Blood Aged Wine onto Meet Dragon.

Meet Dragon quickly absorbed the blood and wine, enduring the excruciating pain of its evolution process.

For a Tiger Type Familiar to evolve into a Fairy Type Beast, its entire body structure had to be reconstructed.

This was no small feat!

Fang Mu was uncertain whether Meet Dragon's sheer willpower alone could see it through this trial.

He called out to Meet Dragon.

“Meet Dragon, if you feel like you can’t go on, I’ll immediately provide the 麻沸菖蒲 for you!”

“At a time like this, don’t push yourself too hard!”

Upon hearing this, Meet Dragon clenched its teeth and let out a roaring cry, signaling to Fang Mu that it could persevere.

Time trickled onward. The blood mist surrounding Meet Dragon thickened instead of fading.

Fang Mu stood vigil, unwavering, by Meet Dragon’s side through the haze of blood.

Suddenly, Fang Mu sensed a shift in Meet Dragon’s aura from within the mist. This signified that Meet Dragon had ascended to Diamond Rank.

Fang Mu promptly utilized the Innate Divine Skill [Eye of Omniscience] from the Fool’s Shadow to inspect the evolution of the now Diamond-ranked Meet Dragon.

Upon inspection, Fang Mu’s heart settled in relief, for Meet Dragon had successfully evolved into a Binding Dragon Tiger Demon.

[Beast Name]: Binding Dragon Tiger Demon

[Beast Species]: Beast-Fairy Class / Dragon-Tiger Demon Subspecies

[Beast Level]: Diamond Rank (1/10)

[Beast Element]: Water System / Electricity System

[Beast Potential]: Diamond Rank

[Beast Quality]: Legendary Quality

Skills:

[Dragon Armor]: Forms an armor layer on the fur using the dragon bloodline energy in its python tail combined with its elemental energy. The armor's intrinsic bloodline and elemental energies clash with incoming attacks to reduce damage.

[Bloody Mouth]: Each time it inflicts or suffers damage, its ferocity increases. Every layer of ferocity boosts strength and speed by 1%, while further activating the bloodline within its python tail.

Chapter 1494: Binding Dragon Tiger Demon!_2

[Dragon-Tiger Roar]: The tiger's roar can stir up its innate ferocity, accelerating the growth of its savagery. The dragon's roar can intimidate enemies, and if the enemy remains unaffected by the intimidation, it will elevate the activation level of its Dragon Bloodline.

[Dragon Blood Baptism]: Injects the Primary Dragon Bloodline within the dragon's tail into the body, temporarily transforming one's bloodline into a Dragon Beast type. This significantly enhances one's control and utilization of the Dragon Bloodline while placing oneself in an elementalized state, rendering immunity to physical attacks.

[Elemental Resonance]: For each elemental energy mastered, this ability enhances the recovery speed of that energy and augments control over it. Actively triggering Elemental Resonance will cause a massive elemental burst, gathering surrounding elemental energy towards oneself while dealing significant elemental damage to enemies.

Exclusive Traits:

[Proliferating Python Tail]: Each time a major rank is elevated, the python tail splits. Post-split, proper nurturing ensures no compromise in the abilities or potential of individual tails.

①: First Python Tail: Rain-horned Dragon

②: Second Python Tail: Milky Way Waterfall Dragon

③: Third Python Tail: Extreme Thunder Dragon

④: Fourth Python Tail: Ice Sealed Soaring Dragon

[Unban of the Severed Tail]: By severing the tail, the Dragon Bloodline within is completely unsealed, consuming the bloodline to transform the python tail into a dragon. Supplementing life energy allows the severed tail to regenerate.

[Auspicious Dragon Gather]: With each additional dragon tail, all aspects of one's abilities are enhanced to a certain extent. If one tail is attacked, other tails can be chosen to absorb the injuries.

Evolutionary Path:

①: Dragon-Tiger Demon Spirit, ②: Subduing Dragon Emperor Tiger, ③: Dragon Might Curse Tiger.

Upon learning that Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger successfully ascended to Diamond Rank, with its bloodline fully transformed into Binding Dragon Tiger Demon, Fang Mu began pondering the choice of its fifth python tail.

According to Fang Mu's original decision, the fifth dragon tail of Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger should be chosen to align with either the electric or ice attribute to enhance synergy with its primary attribute.

However, the Diamond Level Skill [Elemental Resonance] forced Fang Mu to reconsider his decision.

[Elemental Resonance] made it evident that the more elemental attributes Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger mastered, the greater benefit it would derive from Resonance.

[Elemental Resonance] not only accelerates the recovery rate of Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger's elemental energy and its utilization capabilities.

It also gathers surrounding elemental energy towards itself.

This necessitated Fang Mu to select a dragon tail encompassing an attribute the beast had not yet mastered.

Only by doing so could the effect of [Elemental Resonance] be maximized!

Thinking this through, Fang Mu decided that among his current Dragon Balls, the Dragon Ball of the Hurricane Spiral Dragon would be the most suitable for Binding Dragon Tiger Demon's python tail.

Hurricane Spiral Dragon is a Master Dragon with exceptionally strong control abilities. If Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger can restrain its target during battle, it can inflict greater damage on the target.

Although the wind attribute dragon tail cannot form effective synergy with other attributes, it still promotes offensive capabilities to some extent.

Previously, Fang Mu did not consider the Dragon Ball of Hurricane Spiral Dragon due to its excessively high internal energy.

The Hurricane Spiral Dragon in its life possessed at least Sequential Rank Two abilities.

Recklessly feeding such an energy-rich Dragon Ball to Binding Dragon Tiger Demon's tail could risk injuring the beast's origin if it failed to endure.

Now that Binding Dragon Tiger Demon has advanced to Diamond Rank and awakened the Fairy Bloodline, its Primary Dragon Bloodline has become notably purer.

The once-gigantic beast, standing two stories tall, had shrunk to Fang Mu's palm-sized creature.

At its back, two pairs of wings composed of multicolored elemental energy fluttered. Ever since Fang Mu contracted Binding Dragon Tiger Demon, he had always provided it with the highest-quality resources.

Just after this recent transformation into the Fairy type, the beast had already become a Four-winged Fairy. Fang Mu found this slightly unfamiliar.

Yet this realization brought Fang Mu immense joy!

Binding Dragon Tiger Demon now possesses two pairs of wings at merely Diamond Rank, a bloodline potential even greater than any faction specializing in Fairy Type Beast Control could cultivate.

The beast exhibits immense potential in the Fairy Bloodline aspect.

At this moment, Meet Dragon had completed its advancement and bloodline transformation, though it had not yet recovered from its recent agony.

Fang Mu had seen numerous Fairy Type Beasts, yet among all he encountered, Meet Dragon stood unrivaled in magnificence!

For its evolutionary path, Fang Mu planned to deepen Meet Dragon's Fairy Bloodline, guiding its transformation towards becoming a Dragon-Tiger Demon Spirit.

Once Meet Dragon recuperated from its previous struggle, it realized its body had shrunk in size. It no longer posed any danger to Fang Mu, even when approaching Fang Mu affectionately.

Such intimacy with Fang Mu had never been possible before. Cradled in his arms, Meet Dragon seemed to have discovered a new world.

Unlike Fang Mu's other colossal Guardian Beasts, Meet Dragon's compact size made it convenient to stay by his side.

As Meet Dragon plotted its schemes, Fang Mu extended the Dragon Ball of Hurricane Spiral Dragon toward it.

Meet Dragon utilized its newly grown dragon tail from the Diamond Rank advancement to swallow the Dragon Ball of Hurricane Spiral Dragon into its belly.

Its ascension to Diamond Rank and bloodline transformation allowed Meet Dragon to digest this Dragon Ball more effortlessly than the previous Dragon Ball of Ice Sealed Soaring Dragon.

Having declared his identity as a Saint Creator's disciple in the Beastmaster World, traveling with Meet Dragon the Four-winged Fairy, though conspicuous, would not draw undue criticism.

In the Dimensional World, Meet Dragon's strength could provide vital assistance to Fang Mu at critical moments.

Elder Jiang continued setting up the restrictions, steadily inscribing energy circuits to facilitate subterranean infrastructure within the barriers.

After all, in the Beastmaster World, Saint Creators represented the pinnacle of power. All phenomena beyond ordinary comprehension were creations of the Saint Creators!

Glancing toward the distant figures of Jeh Ancient Snake and Three-Headed Crane Phoenix, Elder Jiang softly asked Fang Mu.

"Little Wood, are these creatures under the control of Master Qixing as well?!"

"These beasts, if unleashed into our world, could likely obliterate most of the human Federation!"

Fang Mu smiled in response and said.

“Elder Jiang, you’re correct. These beasts are indeed under my mentor’s command.”

“But my mentor has only just begun nurturing them. With more cultivation, they won’t merely ravage half the human Federation in the Beastmaster World!”

Chapter 1495: A Cooperation You Won’t Regret!

Fang Mu held great expectations for the Jeh Ancient Snake and the Three-Headed Crane Phoenix.

Firstly, because Fang Mu had seen the adult forms of the Jeh Ancient Snake and the Two-Headed Crane Phoenix.

The strength of the adult Jeh Ancient Snake and Two-Headed Crane Phoenix was already capable of sweeping through the Beastmaster World.

Fang Mu was uncertain about the strength of the Eternal Mother Yongle and Han Ming, but their power fundamentally remained within the Gods’ Domain level.

Surpassing the Gods’ Domain level was essentially impossible.

If Han Ming and the Eternal Mother Yongle could exceed the Gods’ Domain level, they wouldn’t be so passive when working with the Sea Clan.

Even at the Gods’ Domain level, Han Ming and the Eternal Mother Yongle might not necessarily defeat the adult Jeh Ancient Snake and Two-Headed Crane Phoenix.

Secondly, Golan and Yun He, these two little ones, underwent a bloodline transformation after absorbing the Covenant Blood Essence provided by Fang Mu, even before they hatched.

Under these circumstances, their potential was bound to surpass that of their parents!

If Fang Mu weren't sure of this, he wouldn't have made such claims to Elder Jiang given his cautious nature.

Hearing Fang Mu's words, Elder Jiang was deeply astonished.

The two dimensional creatures Master Qixing controlled in the higher Dimensional Worlds could effortlessly dominate the Beastmaster World.

Yet Saint Creators like Han Ming and the Eternal Mother Yongle were unable to make significant contributions in dealing with the Extraterrestrial Embryos.

This revealed just how far Qixing's abilities overshadowed those of Han Ming and the Eternal Mother Yongle, despite all being Saint Creators!

Elder Jiang once inquired about the purity levels of the ice-type Element Potions Jiang Tuo regularly used.

Jiang Tuo presented an Ice Elemental Potion, and its purity nearly made Elder Jiang's eyes pop out of his sockets.

The Ice Elemental Potions Jiang Tuo used had a staggering purity of 96%!

Such a level of purity had reached the pinnacle of a Grandmaster Creator's expertise. However, even at this peak, crafting Element Potions with 96% purity had an extremely low success rate.

"Xiao Tuo, do you always use Element Potions with such purity, or do you only occasionally come across such high-quality Ice Elemental Potions?"

Understanding the questioning tone in his grandfather's voice, Jiang Tuo immediately took out a brocade box containing fifty to sixty unused Ice Elemental Potions.

"Grandpa, these were all given to me by Brother Mu. This box of potions is only enough for about four months of raising the Four Ice Ghosts."

"And if I contract a fifth Ice Ghost in the future, my consumption will increase even further!"

"Every time I run out of potions, I just need to inform Brother Mu, and he'll provide more. There are even a few potions in here with 98% purity!"

"Brother Mu treats me very kindly, Grandpa, so you don't need to worry!"

Hearing this, Elder Jiang couldn't help but think to himself that "kindly" was an understatement!

Ice Elemental Potions of Saint Creator grade being readily available for Jiang Tuo's use was ample evidence of just how immense Qixing's resource reserves truly were!

By bringing Jiang Tuo under Fang Mu's wing, Elder Jiang had essentially established a connection to Qixing—reaching the pinnacle of the Beastmaster World.

The distinction between Qixing and the Saint Creators Han Ming and the Eternal Mother Yongle lay in this: Qixing, having reached the apex of his power, was not confined by the world's limitations.

Qixing was actively pushing into new worlds.

Now, Elder Jiang himself had become a pioneer in new world exploration!

"Little Wood, I've already set up the restrictions. If there's nothing else, you can take me away now!"

“Once I gather my resources and lead twenty Spirit-smithing Masters into the Giant Beast World, I’ll establish a foundation there.”

“I heard you’ve collected a large number of Radar Akio and Magic Mirror Banana Trees from the Beast Collection Merchants’ Association. Neither the Radar Akio nor the Magic Mirror Banana Trees hold any significance in the Giant Beast World.”

“They aren’t even worthy of being food for the giant creatures!”

“By hiding the Radar Akio among the fallen leaves, we can monitor the vicinity near the Dimensional Channel. At the very least, we’ll be able to detect powerful enemies within a hundred-mile radius in advance and respond accordingly!”

Previously, Fang Mu had considered planting Radar Akio and Magic Mirror Banana Trees in the Giant Beast World, but he soon dismissed the idea.

After all, the creatures in the Giant Beast World were so colossal in size that even hundreds or thousands of kilometers were merely short distances for them!

Deploying Radar Akio would require an excessive amount of manpower and resources without guaranteeing effective countermeasures, rendering it somewhat impractical.

This Giant Beast World was unlike the Dimensional Worlds of Tianyuan Qiongyan or Swallow Gorge Waggle. The two demanded fundamentally different approaches.

“Elder Jiang, as you mentioned earlier, the Jeh Ancient Snake and the Three-Headed Crane Phoenix both possess extraordinary sensory abilities. Depending on their perception alone would be far more effective than deploying Radar Akio!”

“You only need to construct underground infrastructure near the Dimensional Channel. If anything unusual arises, notify me directly.”

“The Jeh Ancient Snake and the Three-Headed Crane Phoenix will hunt independently in the Giant Beast World to strengthen themselves.”

“The continuous growth of their strength will be our most significant asset in exploring this Giant Beast World!”

Chapter 1496: A Cooperation You Won't Regret!_2

“In a while, I will contract something with the ability to create clones, allowing my clone to enter the Giant Beast World.”

“Once my clone is in the Giant Beast World, we can proceed with new actions from there.”

In the past, whenever dealing with seniors like Jiang Weng, Fang Mu would readily allow them to pursue their ideas.

But when it comes to exploring higher-dimensional worlds, Fang Mu is equally strict, even with these venerable elders.

Fang Mu wanted Jiang Weng to stay in the Giant Beast World solely to act as his steward and message-bearer in that world.

There was no need for Jiang Weng to exhaust himself with unnecessary tasks.

Such behavior would essentially be a waste of the already limited Spirit-smithing Master resources in the Infinite Tower!

Though the Radar Akio and Magic Mirror Banana Tree are small in size, their energy levels are extremely high.

Even if they are buried beneath the foliage, they can still be detected by the Giant Beasts!

In the eyes of these lower-energy-level Giant Beasts, Radar Akio and Magic Mirror Banana Tree are considered supreme nourishment!

Upon hearing Fang Mu's words, Jiang Weng quickly nodded and said.

"Little Wood, then I'll follow your instructions and start building the infrastructure first!"

Jiang Weng harbored no dissatisfaction over Fang Mu not approving his proposal.

When it came to the Dimensional World, Jiang Weng admittedly lacked understanding; he had merely made a suggestion.

Fang Mu had already planned everything out at this moment, and Jiang Weng only needed to follow Fang Mu's arrangements.

Fang Mu returned to the Beastmaster World with Jiang Weng, but he didn't escort Jiang Weng back to the headquarters of the Jianmu Commerce Association.

Jiang Weng would return to the Half Mountain Manor in three days.

Shu Liangjun sent a message to Fang Mu via the Legend Butterfly a day later, informing him that the pollution energy had been delivered to Qi Qi.

The Evil King Ling Kang used this pollution energy to make everything progress very smoothly.

After receiving Shu Liangjun's message, Fang Mu felt a sense of relief, grateful that during his time exploring the Giant Beast World, nothing had gone wrong on the Evil King's side.

While in the Giant Beast World, Fang Mu couldn't receive messages from the Beastmaster World.

Not long after Shu Liangjun used the Legend Butterfly to contact Fang Mu, Qi Qi reached out to Fang Mu too.

“Little Wood, thank you for helping our Ancient Genesis. With the pollution energy you provided, it shouldn’t be long before Ling Kang can fully master the fifth pollution source fused with his body, preventing the pollution energy from running rampant inside him!”

Hearing this, Fang Mu smiled and said.

“Elder Qi Qi, you make it sound too formal!”

“My Master was worried that the pollution energy previously sent to the Evil King wasn’t sufficient, so he has been working on refining more pure pollution energy during this time.”

“I’ll trouble Elder Shu to deliver another batch soon. I’m confident that with another stockpile of pure pollution energy, the Evil King will achieve the optimal state before absorbing the sixth pollution source!”

Fang Mu and Qi Qi were both members of the Starwheel Gathering and shared a certain camaraderie.

However, their relationship wasn’t close enough for Fang Mu to provide resources unconditionally to Qi Qi!

Especially since the pure pollution energy Fang Mu was currently providing to Qi Qi was something Fang Mu himself severely lacked.

Fang Mu needed this pure pollution energy to cultivate the Sacred Radiance Bone Fragment.

By bringing up his Master, Master Qixing, Fang Mu aimed to owe Qi Qi a favor.

Previously, Fang Mu hadn't considered relying on Qi Qi or the Evil King Ling Kang; he'd only sought to establish connections with them.

But circumstances had now changed. Fang Mu needed manpower for his plan to explore and develop the Giant Beast World.

The Divine Domain-level strength of Qi Qi and Ling Kang made them perfect candidates!

With their capabilities, they had the strength to contend with the Giant Beasts in the Giant Beast World!

Since they utilized pollution entities for combat, the destructive potential of these entities against the powerful physical defenses of the Giant Beasts was much greater than that of traditional Beast Masters using elemental energy through Guardian Beasts.

For his exploration and development goals in the Giant Beast World, Fang Mu would certainly have to employ some strategies to gain the support of Qi Qi and Ling Kang.

However, Fang Mu wasn't merely trying to exploit Qi Qi and Ling Kang; both of them could gain significant benefits during their exploration of the Giant Beast World.

The vital energy contained within the Giant Beasts' bodies was supreme nourishment for their pollution entities.

Qi Qi was deeply moved by these words; he never imagined that Master Qixing would go to such lengths to consider the well-being of him and Ling Kang!

Having previously witnessed firsthand the difficulty of mastering a sixth pollution source through pollution entities, Qi Qi couldn't help but worry about Ling Kang's current condition.

When Qi Qi had succeeded in mastering his sixth pollution source, he had always credited it to sheer luck.

Even with fortune on his side, Qi Qi had endured countless near-death experiences, and even now, recalling that period filled him with lingering fear!

Qi Qi, about to express his gratitude again, was interrupted as Fang Mu spoke.

“When the Evil King fully recovers his injured essence and prepares to absorb the sixth pollution source, I’d appreciate it if he could inform me in advance!”

“While my Master may find it inconvenient to assist in person, I will personally deliver some resources to aid the Evil King. Hopefully, this will help make his path to the Divine Domain smoother.”

“Even if, by some misfortune, something unexpected occurs, I can notify my Master immediately, so we can find a solution in time!”

Qi Qi, not the type to stay composed in emotional moments, was deeply touched to the point of being speechless.

Fang Mu’s assurances provided a safeguard for the Evil King, making the prospect of his advancement to the Divine Domain level nearly foolproof.

Qi Qi was now certain of his feelings for the Evil King. Fang Mu’s support was not just for the Evil King—it was for him as well!

“Little Wood, as always, whether it’s me or Ling Kang, if you or Master Qixing ever need anything, please don’t hesitate to ask!”

Hearing this, Fang Mu smiled knowingly and said.

“Elder Qi Qi, rest assured that when the time comes, I won’t hold back!”

“However, there are times when help isn’t simply about asking for assistance—it’s about mutual collaboration and ensuring mutual benefits!”

“If it were just about seeking help, whether from human or Sea Clan God Territory Powerhouses, I’m sure they’d eagerly volunteer to assist my Master!”

“Once the Evil King successfully absorbs the sixth pollution source and ascends to the Divine Domain, we should indeed discuss potential cooperation opportunities!”

Fang Mu felt it was necessary to plant this idea in Qi Qi’s mind now, so Qi Qi would have some mental preparation.

When they discussed the matter of exploring and developing the Giant Beast World later, Qi Qi would be more receptive!

Currently, the Main World offered little in terms of resources capable of further improving the strength of powerhouses like Qi Qi and Ling Kang.

The fact that both had grown to such power levels showed they were adventurous, ambitious, and driven individuals.

Even if they weren’t as enthusiastic as Jiang Weng about exploring the Giant Beast World, the knowledge of its existence alone would undoubtedly spark ideas in their minds!

Especially since the resources provided by the Giant Beasts in the Giant Beast World would perfectly match the needs of Qi Qi and Ling Kang.

Qi Qi, catching the underlying meaning in Fang Mu’s words, was moved.

If anyone else had said this, Qi Qi might have been wary.

But since it was Fang Mu speaking on behalf of Saint Creator Qixing, Qi Qi was willing to pay a price for the chance to connect with Qixing.

Moreover, Fang Mu emphasized collaboration. Collaboration inherently pursued mutual benefits for all parties involved!

“Little Wood, it’s our honor to cooperate with Master Qixing. When the time comes, I hope you can give us an introduction.”

“I can assure you that Master Qixing will not regret working with us!”

“Throughout the collaboration, we will bring genuine sincerity and offer our full cooperation to Master Qixing!”

Qi Qi’s words expressed his intent to repay Master Qixing’s kindness while also striving to secure opportunities for himself and the Evil King.
