

Beast Tamer 161

Chapter 161 I still have two senior brothers! (Two in one)_3

Lin Ziyuan knew this well, but this kind of strategy would not work when dealing with disciples of a Grandmaster Creator.

In his transactions with Sir Jianmu, he was never on the same level.

Sir Jianmu was high in the clouds, while he was stuck in a rut on the ground.

Therefore, Lin Ziyuan did not use any negotiation tactics, but chose to express his most sincere emotions.

He hoped that this would demonstrate his sincerity to Fang Mu.

Lu Yuyu saw through Lin Ziyuan's intentions.

Since Lin Ziyuan had made it clear that he wanted to bring all the accumulated elite craftsman resources of Mountain-opening Construction to the Jianmu Commerce Association.

They could wait until all the elite craftsman resources are brought over, then let Fang Yuan pick and choose.

Yet Lin Ziyuan still insisted that Fang Yuan go to Mountain-opening

Construction in Lu City to make his selections first, before bringing these elite craftsman resources to the Jianmu Commerce Association.

He did not want to miss the opportunity to please Fang Yuan.

As soon as Fang Mu heard this and just as he was about to speak, Lin Ziyuan asked tentatively.

“Sir Jianmu, you just mentioned those Master-level resources, I wonder if our Mountain-opening Construction has the qualifications to exchange for them?” Fang Mu raised his eyebrows at the question.

It seemed that the bait he had thrown was noticed by the fish and it finally bit the hook!

“My master, apart from me, this disciple, has two assistants, who can be considered my senior brothers.”

“Both of them are Master Creators, so I have quite a few Master-level resources in my possession! ”

“They often give me some elixirs, so I wonder what Mountain-opening

Construction is interested in exchanging for?”

“I have no shortage of anything here, if you want to exchange, just use Dragon Rising Coins!”

“However, those five bottles of Life Elixir with 90% purity that I just mentioned, they are already a way of expressing gratitude to your Mountain – opening Construction. ”

“Therefore, if you want to trade for Master-level elixirs, it will be sold at 1.3 times the market price.”

“This opportunity is only available today.”

“If you hadn’t expressed your willingness to cooperate just now, I might not have agreed to your request!”

Fang Mu sighed slightly as he spoke.

Once some drama starts, there is no way to stop it.

A Grandmaster Creator capable of concocting Grandmaster-level potions generally wouldn't spend time on making Master-level elixirs.

And Fang Mu's usual transactions mainly involve Grandmaster-level elixirs.

So Fang Mu needed to find a suitable reason.

It might be a little far-fetched to say that a Grandmaster Creator has two Master Creators as assistants, but it's not totally unreasonable.

Fang Mu once heard from Feng Lin that many senior creators, who were only one step away from becoming Master Creators, were very willing to follow a Grandmaster Creator for guidance, but they struggled to find a way to do so.

After saying these words, it was as if he had not only a Grandmaster Creator but also two Master Creators backing him up.

This made Fang Mu's golden body seem even bigger than before!

Of course, coming up with such a reason won't let Fang Mu show the slightest mistake.

Because the elite creator resources Fang Mu can offer, let alone a Grandmaster Creator and two Master creators.

Even if there were three Grandmaster Creators and six Master Creators, Fang Mu could handle it!

When Lu Yuyu and Lin Ziyuan heard Fang Mu's words, they bit their tongues at the same time.

They both let out a painful hiss.

No wonder Fang Mu was so arrogant! In addition to having a Grandmaster Creator as a master, he also had two Master Creators as senior brothers.

The term "senior brother" is not quite accurate.

Because when Fang Mu mentioned 'senior brothers', he prefaced it with 'can be considered as'.

This implied that these two Master Creators were merely assistants working for Fang Mu's teacher, Teacher Fang Mu was the real disciple.

Assistants would usually serve the creator they follow.

And Fang Mu, being the rightful disciple, was essentially like a young master.

No wonder his senior brothers always share elixirs with him!

If Fang Mu was seen as a soaring Jiaolong by Lu Yuyu and Lin Ziyuan before, now, in their eyes, Fang Mu had turned into a True Dragon soaring in the highest heavens!

As for Fang Mu's proposal to sell at 1.3 times the market price, Lin Ziyuan felt it was completely reasonable!

The term 'market price' can only measure low-end resources and cannot gauge high-end resources.

For instance, a Dragon Tiger Bed crafted by a Grandmaster Craftsman that was rumored to be worth four million Dragon Rising Coins.

However, in reality, four million Dragon Rising Coins wouldn't get you a Dragon Tiger Bed crafted by a Grandmaster Craftsman.

You would need connections to get one for five million fifty thousand.

If this applies to the resources of elite craftsmen, it would apply even more so to the even rarer resources of elite creators!

For Mountain-opening Construction, it would be hard for it to gain access to Master Creators' channels.

Even if they did manage to gain access, the creator resources that

Mountain-opening Construction could get from them would be very limited.

Furthermore, in order to maintain these channels with the Master Creators, Mountain-opening Construction would have to put up with their moods and bribe them with generous gifts annually.

Lin Ziyuan could imagine how excited his father and grandfather would be when he told them about this.

His grandfather's two Guardian Beasts were stuck at a certain threshold.

The five bottles of Life Elixir with a purity of ninety percent would probably allow his grandfather's two Guardian Beasts to reach that level!

This way, his position as the young Family Head of Mountain-opening Construction would be even more secure..

Chapter 162 Starwheel Gathering! (2 in 1)_1

Fang Mu plans to obtain 1.5 Billion Dragon Rising Coins from the Mountain-opening Construction. This is his goal.

He has already completed two-thirds of his goal.

With these 1.5 Billion Dragon Rising Coins, Fang Mu would no longer need to exchange Master Creator resources for Dragon Rising Coins for a long time.

The early rotation of the Jianmu Commerce Association no longer needed to be a concern for Fang Yuan.

After showing his substantial Master Creator resource reserves, Fang Mu didn't rush to speak up.

Instead, he awaited Lin Ziyuan and Lu Yuyu to take the initiative. If he were to start talking first, his previous words wouldn't hold!

Just like a billionaire wouldn't show off their wealth easily!

Fang Mu couldn't rely on his abundant Master Creator resources to throw them around casually.

Because a disciple of a Grandmaster Creator would undoubtedly be aware of the status of a Creator, and therefore understand the value of the resources in their hands.

The first one to speak in the end was Lu Yuyu, who was very familiar with Fang

"Bro, I wonder if you would have some thick skin to spare me ten vials of life elixirs with a purity of eighty percent and five vials of wind elemental potions with the same purity?!"

"I am willing to exchange them at 1.4 times the market price."

Hearing this, Fang Mu intentionally kept silent for ten seconds.

Fang Mu could feel that Lu Yuyu's atmosphere had become chaotic in just that moment, then lightly opened his mouth.

"Brother Lv, I believe we are friends now."

"We agreed at 1.3 times the price, so that's what we'll stick to!"

"If Brother Lv comes across any information about the High-Level Blood Race Heart and Shadow Eye Stone in the future, remember to keep an eye out for me!"

"I'm very interested in these resources found on exotic beasts!"

Lu Yuyu remembered that when Fang Mu was with the Lionheart Brigade, he had specifically chosen these materials from exotic beasts.

Lu Yuyu said seriously and earnestly to Fang Mu.

"Thanks, bro!"

"Inside the Beastmaster Alliance Headquarters, they seem to have just stocked up on two Shadow Eye Stones."

"I will work with Zi Yuan to try and help you exchange those two Shadow Eye Stones!"

"The high-level Blood Tribe's heart occasionally appears at some private trading events, I will have my people pay extra attention!"

"Once encountered, I help you reserve it."

Upon hearing this, excitement was written all over Fang Mu's face.

Fang Mu remembered that Feng Lin had mentioned before that the Dracoid Research Institute needed Shadow Eye Stones to study the enhancement effects on the Ghost System Beast.

As soon as there are any Shadow Eye Stones, Scavenger is required by the Dracoid Research Institute.

For this reason, Fang Mu didn't speak to Lu Yuyu about Shadow Eye Stones.

As a result now that he had mentioned it, he discovered all of a sudden that the Beastmaster Alliance Headquarters actually had two Shadow Eye Stones in their possession.

With these two Shadow Eye Stones, Fool's Shadow should be able to ascend to Perfect Quality and gain the first exclusive characteristic!

"Brother Lv, thank you!"

"I do have the elixirs you requested."

"However, the purity of the Wind Elemental Potion is not eighty percent, but eighty-five percent."

These words of Fang Mu made it seem as if he was delivering a huge piece of good news to Lu Yuyu.

Wind Elemental Potion with a purity of eighty-five percent, only those experienced Master Creators could concoct.

It seems that at least one of Fang Mu's two elder disciples has been a Master Creator for quite a long time.

"Bro, the total market price of these elixirs is 302 million Dragon Rising Coins, and 1.3 times that is 416 million."

“I will let my family know, and the Dragon Rising Coins should be transferred to your card by tonight!”

Upon seeing the transaction between Lu Yuyu and Fang Mu go so smoothly, Lin Ziyuan plucked up the courage to ask a his own request.

“Sir Jianmu, I would also like to have ten vials of Life Elixir with a purity of eighty percent, and five vials of an Earth Element Potion with a purity above eighty percent?”

Fang Mu secretly thought, I really overachieved!

“The Earth Element Potion I have are all with a purity of eighty-five percent, so it looks like your price will be the same as Lv’s.”

Lin Ziyuan had been communicating with his grandfather while talking with Fang Mu.

He learned that the total cash flow that their family could move was around 4-5 billion.

Lin Ziyuan said directly.

“Sir Jianmu, I should be able to transfer 1.416 billion Dragon Rising Coins to your card by tonight!”

“Please submit your card number in the group chat at that time!” Fang Mu liked this kind of immediate transaction.

Considering the time, his sister Fang Qin should be back soon.

Just as Fang Mu was about to finish the group voice call, he heard Lu Yuyu say in a rather hurried tone.

“Bro, since Ah Su is not here, I would like to negotiate the exchange of Master Creator resources on her behalf.

Hearing this, Fang Mu didn’t directly agree with Lu Yuyu, instead he began to speak.

“If Sister Luo ever wants to trade Master Creator resources, just let my sister bring me a message!”

“It’s not that complicated!”

“I have something to do here, I’ll cut off now.”

“Later, I will invite some people to the group, you might have opportunities to collaborate amongst you.”

After finishing his sentence, Fang Mu hung up the group call, leaving Lu Yuyu and Lin Ziyuan on the other side of the line.

At the moment, Lin Ziyuan’s face was filled with an uncontrollable smile.

The whole Mountain-opening Construction hadn’t had such great news in a long time!

The Master Creator resources exchanged from Jianmu, once put into good use, could help many of the high-end forces of Mountain-opening Construction to make a breakthrough..

Chapter 163: Starwheel Gathering! (2 in 1)_2

Only when the power of high-end forces is improved, can the Mountain-opening Construction grasp more wealth!

Reminded of the last thing Fang Mu said, Lin Ziyuan spoke to Lu Yuyu.

“Ah Yu, I think Jianmu wants Sister Luo to help his sister more!”

Lu Yuyu nodded in agreement when he heard this.

In his impression, Fang Mu had expressed this intention to him and Luo Su more than once.

It seemed that he needed to emphasize this to Luo Su again when he returned.

Lu Yuyu could recognize that Fang Mu treated his siblings well.

Or it could be said that Fang Mu must be extremely protective of his siblings.

If someone offended Fang Mu, Fang Mu might let it go.

But once someone offended Fang Mu’s siblings, this person would surely suffer.

The fact that Fang Mu wanted to bring more people into the group for mutual cooperation excited and intrigued Lu Yuyu and Lin Ziyuan immensely.

Because both of them knew very well that the people who could be brought into the group by Fang Mu must be out of the ordinary!

Every one of these individuals has a vast network of connections behind him.

If everyone overlaps these networking circles within Fang Mu’s group, they could accomplish many things that a single person could not connect.

This would be of great benefit to everyone in the group.

The network is equivalent to resources.

Only someone like Fang Mu, who has the Grandmaster Creator as a master and two Master Creators as mentors, can form such a group and make everyone in the group admire and submit willingly.

Lu Yuyu and Lin Ziyuan considered Fang Mu's approach as a benefit to the group members.

But Fang Mu did so purely for his benefit.

To better collect or acquire resources in the future, to reasonably monetize the resources of the high-star Creators in his hands, and to accomplish some things.

Fang Mu was very clear that the resources of the high-star Creators flowing from his hands would lead to many breakthroughs in the Beast Master's strength.

Fang Mu could not guarantee that he would only give the resources of high-star creators over to his followers.

But it also needs to ensure that after these high-star creators' resources are released, a force centered around him can be formed.

In this way, when he encounters a problem in the future, these forces that need to obtain high-star creators' resources from him will spontaneously support and protect him.

This practice can, to some extent, maximize the value of high-star creators' resources.

This is what Fang Mu wants to do.

Fang Mu thought about bringing Feng Chenhao into the group.

But as it stands now, Feng Chenhao clearly does not qualify.

Not long ago, Fang Mu provided Feng Chenhao with a large batch of materials for making cosmetics.

Aside from a series of rare materials such as Condensed Jade Dew and the powder of Yingbei pearls, there's also Heavenly Fragrant Peony flower powder and Restoring Appearance Palm Oil.

Fang Mu has already sent a message to Feng Chenhao, telling him about the effect of Restoring Appearance Palm oil.

Once Feng Chenhao creates the brand "Peach Beguile" within Qing Cang Province.

Every bottle of cosmetics sold with the added Heavenly Fragrance Peony Flower Powder and Restoring Appearance Palm Oil will secure a loyal customer.

Soon, the reputation of the Peach Beguile brand will explode.

Within half a year, the fame of Peach Beguile would sweep across the entire Dragon Rising Federation.

And Peach Beguile does not need to worry about distribution.

All products under the Peach Beguile brand can be displayed in Jianmu Commerce Association, bringing mutual fame to both parties.

In two to three months, when Fang Mu brings Feng Chenhao into the group, Feng Chenhao will already have a say in the group.

Otherwise, if Feng Chenhao is brought over now, the significant difference in resources and abilities between each other will bring a lot of pressure on Feng

Chenhao.

Seeing that it was already three in the afternoon, Fang Mu picked up his phone and dialed Fang Qin's number.

"Little Wood, I won't be home for another hour.'

"I should have been home earlier, but Frost Language Snow Dragon showed signs of breaking through on the road."

"I remember you saying that I should try to raise the bloodline level of Frost Language Snow Dragon before promoting the rank, so I always forced Frost Language Snow Dragon to suppress the breakthrough."

"I've lost more than an hour."

Hearing this, Fang Mu knew that Fang Qin had begun to use the Creator resources he had provided, otherwise Frost Language Snow Dragon wouldn't have grown so quickly!

This filled Fang Mu with delight.

It felt the same as when his mom looked pretty wearing the necklace he had bought her for Mother's Day.

"Big sister, Second brother just got back, otherwise, I would have asked you to come back too."

"I'll ask the master to help you enhance the bloodline of Frost Language Snow Dragon and upgrade its quality at the same time."

Fang Qin had already asked Fang Mu several times before.

Fang Qin knew that Fang Mu was a considerate person so this time, Fang Qin gladly accepted Fang Mu's offer.

She enjoyed the care of her grown-up "Little Dumpling."

Suddenly, Fang Mu thought of something.

If Luo Su didn't have any important business, she wouldn't refuse to join the group voice chat initiated by Fang Mu as a Grandmaster Disciple.

The one who owed him the most was not Lu Yuyu, but Luo Su.

As the deputy commander of Jinghai Army, Luo Su takes up half a day for meetings.

The more Fang Mu thought about it, the more he furrowed his brow.

Has something happened in the Jinghai Army!?

Now that his big sister is serving as Luo Su's deputy, if any major incident occurs in Jinghai Army or if they go out on a large-scale mission, it may put Fang Qin in danger..

Chapter 164: Starwheel Gathering! (2 in 1) _ 3

If Fang Qin hadn't lost those three fingers, Fang Mu might not be worried.

But the three fingers that Fang Qin lost alerted Fang Mu; when she went out on missions, the slightest mistake could mean he would never see Fang Qin again!

“Big sister, did something happen on your end?”

“I just called Brother Lv, he said that Sister Luo Su has been in a meeting for most of the day.”

Fang Qin knew that Fang Mu was always a curious person, but his curiosity mainly lay in knowledge, not in other trivial matters.

For Fang Mu to ask this now, he was showing concern for her.

While she was leaving, Fang Qin did pick up on some rumors.

However, since Fang Qin was eager to get home to meet her two younger brothers, she hurried off, not sure if the news she had heard was accurate.

“Little Wood, you’ve heard of the Scavengers, haven’t you?”

“Within the Scavengers, there are three Bishop Flowers, one of which, the Dragon Mother, is planning to take a disciple.” “She wants to select from the various groups.”

Upon hearing this, Fang Mu’s eyes lit up.

He had been travelling under the guise of a Qixing Disciple of a Grandmaster Creator and had enjoyed numerous benefits.

This suggests that finding a good master is extremely beneficial for personal development.

He is not just familiar with the Scavengers, he is one of them.

He is well aware of the position of the Bishop Flowers within the Scavengers.

To become a Bishop Flowers, one must be a Hexagram Beastmaster and own a Guardian Beast with an early Sequential order.

Fang Mu had heard from Feng Lin about Dragon Mother, and knew that all her Guardian Beasts were of the dragon race.

The affinity of Fang Qin's Guardian Beast matched perfectly with the direction of Dragon Mother's Guardian Beast affinity.

Generally, when a strong person chooses a disciple, they will select someone whose beast affinity matches their own.

Otherwise, unless this strong person is a Spirit-smithing Master or Creator, they will have a hard time offering any practical guidance to the disciple.

Fang Mu mused for a moment, then asked Fang Qin very seriously.

"Big sister, do you have any thoughts on becoming a disciple of the Dragon Mother?"

Fang Mu's words stunned Fang Qin on the other end of the phone.

Faced with Fang Mu's question, Fang Qin didn't know how to respond.

Because Fang Qin had never dared to fantasize about such things.

Did she want to become a disciple of the Dragon Mother!

Of course, she did!

There's probably no one who doesn't want to find a strong master!

But the pressures of life had long robbed Fang Qin, who was already an adult, of such ambition.

So when she heard this news, Fang Qin could only subconsciously envy the person who was about to be chosen as the Dragon Mother's disciple.

She didn't dare to think that she could be the one chosen.

But now Fang Mu's words had shattered the mental shackles that had long bound Fang Qin, making her suddenly harbor such a longing and expectation.

Fang Qin asked tremulously.

"Little Wood, I... can I really do it!?"

Listening to Fang Qin's diffident counter-question, Fang Mu felt a pang in his heart.

The more hesitant and unconfident Fang Qin's counter-question was,

The more he felt that he and Yan Wood had weighed heavily on Fang Qin in the past, bending the back of Fang Qin under the burden of life.

A boundless sense of regret for Fang Qin welled up in Fang Mu's heart.

With an exceptionally firm tone, Fang Mu said to Fang Qin.

“Big sister, you can definitely do it!”

“Don’t rush off like you did before, after two or three days at home. Instead, stay at home for a week.”

“Your Iron Thorn Carp, which you first contracted, should have spiritual materials that can enhance the dragon bloodline as food, right?”

“The Iron Thorn Carp also has a chance to evolve into the Black Steel Leviathan Carp, and ultimately into the Ink Gold Water Dragon.”

“Although the Hidden Jiao, a type of Jiaolong in Guardian Beasts, is not good at fighting in the air, it can multiply its strength in water.”

“It complements very well with the Frost Language Snow Dragon which you are currently contracted to.”

“If it manages to evolve into an Ink Gold Water Dragon at the Diamond rank, then there is a high chance that it can transform into a dragon when stepping into the Sequential stage!”

“And this is just the predetermined evolutionary path of the Iron Thorn Carp.” “During the evolution process, there may be many unexpected surprises.”

Fang Qin listens to Fang Mu’s words and presses her lips together strongly.

From Fang Mu’s words, Fang Qin felt that Fang Mu was pouring everything he had into her without any reservation.

It seemed like he didn’t mind using the most precious Creator resource on her, no matter how precious it was!

At the time of her first Guardian Beast contract, she was constantly hesitating between contracting with Iron Thorn Carp or Quick Arrow Bowfish.

The Quick Arrow Bowfish is very easy to cultivate, and has very strong combat power before the Platinum rank.

But after reaching the Platinum rank, due to its single attack method, it will sink to the level of a lower Guardian Beast.

The Iron Thorn Carp is hard to cultivate, and is not strong before the Gold rank.

But it does have the possibility to transform into a dragon.

Back then, because she was young and thought less, Fang Qin chose Iron Thorn Carp.

Fang Qin always regretted that decision.

If she had chosen the Quick Arrow Bowfish back then, she could have joined an adventure group after graduating from college.

Then it wouldn't be necessary for Fang Yuan to join the Ten Thousand Treasures Commerce to earn money to support the family!

However, it now appears that the decision she made when she was young might have opened up a possibility for her to fulfill herself.

"Sister, after becoming a disciple of a powerhouse like Dragon Mother, you can also help the family like me, starting a new chapter in your life!" "I'll call Sister Luo Su at night, and ask about the specifics."

After saying these words, Fang Mu added in his heart.

I'd better call Feng Lin too, indirectly asking about Dragon Mother's psychological expectations for her disciple.

Feng Lin seems to be very familiar with Dragon Mother, and I should be able to get some useful information.

Just when Fang Mu was about to end the call, he suddenly felt a surge of fluctuation from the Star Cloud Messenger inside his Destiny Guidebook.

Seeing this, Fang Mu's eyes lit up, knowing that the Starwheel gathering was about to start!

Fang Mu directly summoned Starlight in his room.

The moment Starlight was summoned, she asked Fang Mu quietly.

"Father, do you wish to enter the Starwheel realm through the Star Void?" "I had already set the coordinates within the Starwheel realm before hatching!" When Fang Mu heard this, he remembered what Shui Miao had told him. Attendees of the Starwheel meetings usually wear a specially made mask on their face.

Fang Mu had prepared the mask for the Starwheel meeting even before the birth of the Star Cloud Messenger!

Fang Mu's mask was pure silver, with a green tree that Fang Mu painted on it himself with dye.

This tree shades the sky, connects the stars, and on its leaves there are occasional Phoenix birds with the form "soaring up for ninety thousand miles".

The pattern of the tree on the pure silver mask brought with it an impressive sense of prosperity.

The image of this green tree is exactly the one from the "Shan Hai Jing" known as the "Tree of Heaven, Jianmu".

Wearing this carefully prepared mask, Fang Mu said to Starlight.

“Starlight, take me to the Starwheel region!”

Just as Fang Mu’s words fell, intense spatial fluctuations shimmered around Starlight.

Starlight’s figure flashed, appearing behind Fang Mu.

The five-meter-tall Starlight wrapped her arms around him, and in a protective stance, she stepped into the star-gate opened beneath her feet.

She brought Fang Mu into a space filled with shining stars.

Even with Starlight’s protection, the teleportation over an unknown distance still gave Fang Mu a slight sense of discomfort.

By the time Fang Mu recovered from this discomfort, he sharply noticed that nine pairs of eyes were carefully scrutinizing him..

Chapter 165 The Authority of Libra and Dragon Ball! (Two in One)_I

Attending the Starwheel Conference for the first time, Fang Mu was undeniably nervous.

Based on She Wan’s strength and her status within the Starwheel, one could see the considerable power of the Starwheel organization.

All the members sitting in the South-North Sky Constellation Chairs within the Starwheel, are Hexagram Beastmasters who have Sequential Guardian Beasts.

However, these members don’t even have opportunities to appear at Starwheel’s conference.

To participate in the conference on Starwheel’s territory, a significant sacrifice has to be made.

Including Shui Miao, the nine people sitting on the Golden chair each possessed potentially limitless strength and background.

However, amid the tension, Fang Mu felt no fear, for he had his confidence!

Fang Mu, participating in this Starwheel Conference, represented a Grandmaster Creator.

He was invited by the Starwheel itself.

There would be a new addition on Starwheel's Golden Chair, and the other members already knew and approved of it.

Shui Miao's attitude towards himself would basically equate to the attitudes of other members within Starwheel.

The resources of high-star creators are never sufficient, no matter how many you have.

For those who can't find the resources of High Star creators, they might just have a bottle of Life Elixir of ninety-percent purity.

That bottle of Life Elixir would be used when the Guardian Beast breaks through.

However, the more resources from a Creator that many Guardian Beasts use daily, the more potential they will have.

For instance, the Rainy Doll that Fang Mu contracted.

Therefore, if possible, these members sitting on the Golden chairs in Starwheel would certainly love to obtain more high-star creator resources from him.

Understanding this, the tension in Fang Mu's heart immediately vanished.

What replaced it was the confident yet polite demeanor that Fang Mu showed when facing Shui Miao.

Fang Mu looked around and found twelve chairs topped with brilliant stars. Still, only nine of these chairs had shining constellations above them.

On these nine chairs sat differently posed figures, each wearing a mask.

Behind these figures, dark shadows tens or even hundreds of meters high were visible.

The shadows swallowed a gray-black spatial haze and their hands exhibited a protective stance.

These shadows, resembling a spirit behind them, were obviously the messengers who brought the other nine official Starwheel members to Starwheel's territory.

The starlight behind him only extended five meters, comparing it to the messengers behind the official Starwheel members made it seem like a baby who still couldn't drink milk.

It was rather pitiful in comparison.

Fang Mu didn't know that the Star Cloud Messenger behind him had already left a deep impression on everyone present.

Having the most contact with Fang Mu, Shui Miao was unable to resist closing his folding fan as he observed the Star Cloud Messenger behind him.

Behind his blue-gold mask, his eyes were filled with shocked astonishment.

Shui Miao had dealt with several Grandmaster Creators and had grown tired of their unusual behavior. Yet, he still had to be subordinate to them for the resources of the grandmaster-level creators.

So, Shui Miao wanted to find a Grandmaster Creator to become an official member of Starwheel.

Not long after this idea arose, Qixing happened to appear.

After all, what Fang Mu initially held in the Beastmaster Web under the Qixing account was just a bottle of Life Elixir with ninety-percent purity.

The bottle of Life Elixir with ninety-two percent purity that Fang Mu gave to Shui Miao later let Shui Miao recognize that Qixing indeed had a certain standard in the realm of Grandmaster Creators.

Shui Miao had some expectations for Qixing's creator abilities.

But he did not expect Qixing to be able to elevate the Bloodline of the Descendant Star Messenger to the Star Cloud Messenger at the copper tier.

Only a few of the Grandmaster Creators who preside over the All Nations Union could achieve this level of capability in the field of Grandmaster Creators.

When Shui Miao mentioned the Star Scar Angel in the past, he believed that there was a chance for Qixing to cultivate an Angel based on his level.

But now, it seems, what Qixing may be able to cultivate is not limited to a Star Scar Angel.

According to the ancient books of Starwheel, there are more evolutions beyond the Star Scar Angel.

These can evolve into higher level Angels, but the detailed records have been lost.

Right now, Shui Miao feels that maybe Qixing can make these lost records reappear!

In the past, Shui Miao gave Jianmu a Sequential Spiritual Instrument, the Purple Ice Crystal Ring.

While it was said to be a gift for Jianmu, Shui Miao clearly understood.

This carefully selected Sequential Spiritual Instrument with space storage was likely to be used by Qixing for Marrow Pact.

After all, Beast Spirits of space series are too rare.

If Shui Miao were not a Forging Spirit Grandmaster, there would basically be no channels to obtain Spiritual Instruments like the Purple Ice Crystal Ring.

As a result, during Jianmu's representation of Qixing at the Starwheel Conference, the Purple Ice Crystal Ring was worn on his hand.

This was enough to indicate how much recognition and fondness Qixing had for Jianmu.

Giving a Sequential Spiritual Instrument to a disciple was beyond mere fondness.

There's no favoritism that goes that far!

Qixing must have seen Jianmu as his successor, or rather, the inheritor of his mantle.

Shui Miao felt relieved that he chose to befriend Jianmu.

In dealing with Jianmu, he undoubtedly had more advantages than others.

If even Shui Miao was so surprised to see the Star Cloud Messenger at the copper tier.

What's more, for others who were meeting Fang Mu for the first time, or even those who mistook Fang Mu for Qixing, a Starwheel member..

Chapter 166 The Authority of Libra and Dragon Ball! (Two in One)_2

At that moment, everyone shared a common thought.

That was, this bronze-ranked Star Cloud Messenger was one way that Qixing was flexing his muscle to Starwheel, the newly joined organization.

If there had been any doubts about the creator abilities of Qixing before.

Then at this moment, after seeing this bronze-ranked Star Cloud Messenger.

All present understood just how powerful Qixing was at the level of a Grandmaster Creator.

Just as Shui Miao was about to be the first to welcome Fang Mu.

An old man, his face obscured by a purple gold mask, placed an incense burner in front of him on the round table with his wrinkled and thin palm that was covered in age spots.

The fog rising from the incense burner transformed into a Purple Xuan Bird, and it let out a pleasing symphony at the moment the incense burner touched the table.

While stroking his mutton chops, the old man said warmly. "Hello Qixing, the remaining three seats are Pisces, Leo, and Libra."

"Which seat do you want to sit in?"

"Each seat comes with a legend, and this legend gives each seat a particular function.'

“Pisces represents wealth, Leo represents power, and Libra represents fairness.

“Of course, these functions exist only in the legends of Starwheel.”

“Which seat you want to sit in ultimately depends on your personal preference! ”

“When I chose Taurus, it was because I hoped that my body could be as strong as a bull.”

“As one grows old, one always wants to live a few more years.”

Upon hearing this, Fang Mu’s mind was filled with thoughts.

Every seat comes with a legend, and there must be a reason behind the legends of each seat.

Even if they were just randomly made up, they still represent the wisdom of earlier generations.

Fang Mu’s birthday fell towards the end of August, so according to the horoscope, he should choose Virgo.

But firstly, someone had already taken the seat of Virgo, and secondly, the members of Starwheel referred to each other by their codes.

Fang Mu didn’t want to be called “Virgo” every time he attended a meeting.

So Fang Mu decided to choose based on the function assigned to each seat by the legend.

The function of Pisces is wealth, but to Fang Mu, wealth is something he creates himself.

Joining the Starwheel was just for the purpose of exchanging the wealth he had for some other useful things through it.

The function of Leo is power, and everyone who can join Starwheel as a formal member is a big shot.

If he still chose Leo after the old man, code-named Taurus, had introduced the functions of the seats, he would appear too utilitarian and too ambitious.

By a process of elimination, only the Libra seat was left among the three empty chairs.

The function of Libra is fairness.

Fang Mu joined the Starwheel for the purpose of exchanging resources in a fair way.

“My name is Jianmu, Qixing is my master.”

“I will likely be the one representing my master at the Starwheel gatherings! ” “I have already told Aquarius about my master’s decision, and Aquarius agreed.”

“Before I came to attend the meeting, my master told me not to take advantage of others and not to let others take advantage of me.”

“The principle of equality and reciprocity of the Starwheel was one of the reasons my master decided to join.”

“I choose Libra!”

Having said that, Fang Mu walked slowly towards the chair marked with the Libra constellation.

At this moment, except for Shui Miao, the other eight people present finally understood why Aquarius didn’t disclose any information during the last meeting.

As for Qixing's behavior of letting his disciple attend the Starwheel meetings on his behalf, apart from the already informed Shui Miao, the other eight people didn't find it surprising.

No one in this world could attempt to understand the eccentricity of a Grandmaster Creator.

High-star creators spent most of their day immersed in the blending of Spiritual Liquid, so there was a high chance they would have social anxiety.

It was not difficult to understand their reluctance to meet people.

This disciple of Qixing, Jianmu, spoke clearly and confidently. He didn't seem like a difficult person to communicate with.

It should be much easier to deal with Jianmu than with Qixing.

Jianmu repeatedly emphasized equality and reciprocity in his words, and also chose the seat of Libra.

To negotiate on equal terms with a Grandmaster Creator, what a delight!

Many people's minds began to work actively.

Even Capricorn, who spent the whole meeting tearing at a rag doll and usually didn't utter a word.

He was now thinking about how to get along better with Jianmu.

Next to the chair of Libra were the seats of Virgo and Scorpio.

The short-haired woman sitting in the Scorpio seat, clad in tight leather armor, was clearly not good with words.

The corner of her mouth twitched behind her mask, but before she could utter a sound.

The woman sitting next to her, clad in an ornate long dress and rings almost covering her hands, spoke first.

“Libra, if you want to form a contract with your chosen seat, just place your palm against the back of the chair.”

“Let the messenger mark it!”

“The next time you enter Starwheel’s domain, you will automatically appear on the Libra seat.”

The woman’s voice was very soft.

As the woman spoke, lotus blossoms bloomed behind her pink gold mask.

Finally, under the starry sky, they connected into a full sky of lotus shadows, extremely gorgeous.

This scene stunned Fang Mu for a moment. It was hard to imagine what kind of Guardian Beast could give a Beast Master such an ability.

But of course, this was something he definitely couldn’t ask out loud.

Regardless of the situation, asking a Beast Master about their Guardian Beast’s status was extremely impolite.

Following the woman's suggestion, Fang Mu placed his hand on the back of the Libra seat..

Chapter 167 The Authority of Libra and Dragon Ball! (Two in One)_3

The moment Starlight made a mark on the back of the chair through Fang Mu's palm, a large portion of the stars in the constellation lit up.

The moment Fang Mu sat on the chair, the star cloud that represented Libra lit up entirely, illuminating his figure.

It also allowed the other nine members of the Starwheel to see the mask on Fang Mu's face.

While the Starwheel members were observing him, Fang Mu was also observing each of them in return.

Anyway, since he was wearing a mask, even if he stared at a member for too long, it wouldn't seem impolite.

Fang Mu was afraid of being put in a passive position in the Starwheel.

Because once you are the passive one, the only way to change the current situation is to resist!

Only by using enough power to suppress the opponent can the passive situation be transformed into an active one.

However, everything that Fang Mu has now, is attained by wearing a tiger's skin and acting.

Fang Mu has always been subtly reinforcing the stereotype that the people around him have of him.

Then he influenced the new people he came into contact with through the people around him, such as Lu Xiaoyin, She Wan, and Lv Yuyu, deepening their unquestionable belief in his identity as a founding sect disciple.

Now, in any situation in JA City, Fang Mu has the room to maneuver.

But here in Starwheel territory, every person present could easily best him.

In order not to be cornered, Fang Mu chose to come clean at the beginning. He spoke in the verb of his master Qixing, saying not to let others take advantage of him.

This in itself is a warning to other members of the Starwheel, and it also reveals his bottom line right off the bat.

It makes other people instinctively keep a good handle on their dealings with him.

Although Fang Mu knows that the members of Starwheel are not likely to cause him trouble, and may even actively seek his acquaintance, like Shui Miao. But no matter what, Fang Mu always likes to plan for the worst in advance.

Only in this way can he avoid putting himself in danger.

Shui Miao also placed the folding fan in his hand on the table, creating a crisp sound of jade clashing.

Then, Shui Miao gently clapped his hands.

“Libra, it’s been nearly a month since we last met.” “Thank you for the life elixir you gave me, with a purity of 92%.” “The life elixir you gave me helped me out a lot.”

Upon hearing this, Fang Mu smile gently, and very politely said,

“I should thank you for the Sequential Spiritual Instrument and other gifts you sent me!”

“That Bottle of Life Elixir was specially handed to me by my master. He said that once you give me something and I choose to accept it, I would give you the elixir!”

Fang Mu now understood the value of high purity life elixirs more than he did when he first met Shui Miao.

Sequential Spiritual Instruments are produced by Spirit Forging Masters.

Top-tier Spirit Forging Masters might occasionally get lucky and make one.

But only a Grandmaster Creator could produce a life elixir with a purity of over 90%.

Shui Miao must be genuinely grateful to him!

If the return gift he gave to Shui Miao last time was a life elixir with a purity of 90%,

Then Shui Miao might be at a disadvantage.

After all, a Sequential Spiritual Instrument that can store things is rare.

But the Life Elixir he gave to Shui Miao had a purity of 92%, so when they settled accounts, Shui Miao ended up with a slight advantage.

The purity of the Life Elixir over 90% sees the price double with each 1% increase.

Under normal circumstances, for Shui Miao expressing his gratitude, Fang Mu would just need to nod and return polite platitudes.

But Fang Mu was speaking these words to express himself to the other Starwheel members.

“I have also brought thank-you gifts to express my gratitude for attending the Starwheel meeting this time.”

“So, would you consider giving me some gifts, in exchange for the gifts I brought?”

After saying this, Fang Mu increasingly felt like he’s become a “fishing scheme” boy.

Previously, he had only “fished” Fang Xiaoyuan’s attention, but now he was starting to “fish” for the attention of the entire Starwheel members!

The attendees present were astute, and through Fang Mu’s words, they quickly grasped many details.

The Life Elixir with a purity of 92% from the last meeting was now well known through Shui Miao.

Upon hearing Fang Mu’s voice and realizing he was a young man,

Even the most cautious member, Capricorn, held no suspicions towards Fang

Members began reaching for their wallets, pondering what they should offer to Fang Mu,

This time, sitting next to Fang Mu, the black-armored, short-haired woman who didn’t get a chance to speak, turned to him.

Her usually cold and aloof voice surprisingly had a hint of warmth.

“Libra, previously I did not know that you were representing your master in attending the meeting.”

“So, I did not prepare a gift especially for you.”

“I heard from Aquarius that you come from the Dragon Rising Federation, a place that values dragon beasts greatly.”

“Once a dragon beast enters the sequence, after its death, the power of its bloodline and soul will condense into a Dragon Pearl.”

“I happen to have a Dragon Pearl from which the dragon soul has been extracted. ”

“Since the soul extraction was done just a week ago, the power of the bloodline inside these Dragon Pearl Fragments hasn’t dissipated much.”

“I shall give these Dragon Pearl Fragments to you as a welcome gift!”

While speaking, Scorpio, the short-haired woman clad in black armor, took out a Trapped Dragon Wooden Box from her Storage Spiritual Instrument, Scorpio tossed the box to her Messenger behind her,

Following that, a channel for transporting supplies was set up between the

Messenger behind Scorpio and the Starlight,

Conveying the Dragon Pearl Fragments that were stored in the Trapped Dragon Wooden Box into the Starlight.

Before attending the Starwheel meeting, Fang Mu had been thinking about how to help Fang Qin in upgrading the contract with his Iron Thorn Carp. Stimulating the dragon bloodline in the Iron Thorn Carp is no easy task, One thing is the continuous failures and wasted resources,

Just like how people who have not awakened their Destiny Guidebook respond less and less to low-frequency spiritual stimulation,

With constant stimulation by resources that awaken the dragon bloodline, the Iron Thorn Carp would become less and less sensitive to them.

However, now that he had this Dragon Pearl Fragment, which contained the bloodline power of a sequential dragon beast, the Iron Thorn Carp absorbing the dragon bloodline within the fragments

Even if it might not directly transform into a dragon, turning into a lesser dragon variant is becoming an absolute certainty.

If the “Dragon Mother” genuinely wanted to find a capable Beast Master with potential as her disciple, then Fang Qin would unquestionably be a perfect choice.

The Cleaner Guild had a clear grasp of his information, naturally, they would know that Fang Qin was his sister,

The relationship between Masters and disciples in the World of Beast Masters is quite similar to the ancient times from Fang Mu’s previous world.

The Master is only second to actual parents,

Therefore, the “Dragon Mother” should clearly know that upon accepting Fang Qin as her disciple, she would essentially become her family.

The reason why Fang Mu thought this way wasn’t because of blind confidence, But because as a disciple of the Grandmaster Creator, he should hold such confidence!

Chapter 168 Legacy of the Beauty God: Omen Butterfly! (Two in One)_I

Had this short-haired woman in the black leather armor simply gifted Fang Mu some unwanted items and resources, Fang Mu would have reciprocated, but he wouldn’t have been grateful.

Dragon pearls can only be produced within the body of a dragon beast that has entered the Sequential state.

This level of resource is beyond Fang Mu's current understanding; he doesn't know how much these dragon pearl fragments are worth.

Nor does he know which type of dragon beast they originated from.

Dragon pearls generated within different dragon beasts vary greatly in price.

Therefore, Fang Mu is unsure of the potency of the Life Elixir he should reciprocate with.

If this were a transaction, he could directly take out the trapped dragon wooden box he just obtained from his Starlight and examine the dragon pearl fragments inside.

However, it would be rude to examine a reciprocal gift directly in the presence of others.

Therefore, Fang Mu decided to simply present a ninety-two percent purity Life Elixir and observe Scorpio's reaction.

When he returns, Fang Mu can use his current channels to investigate the value of the dragon pearl fragments.

The Dragon Soul is the most valued part of a dragon pearl.

Even if these dragon pearl fragments have only been stored for a week, they couldn't possibly be worth more than the Purple Ice Crystal Ring, which contains the hollow cavity of a pterodactyl's Dragon Soul inside.

If he presented a Creator resource worth more than the fragments, what would Scorpio do? Would he reciprocate?

The response could let Fang Mu know if Scorpio is a trustworthy person. After all, he's perceived as a teenager within the Starwheel.

Appearing naive in this situation is not only unsurprising to the other Starwheel members, but also perceived as genuine.

"Thanks for your gift, Scorpio."

"My master only gave me ten Life Elixirs of the same concentration."

"This is my reciprocity."

With that, Fang Mu took out a Life Elixir of the same purity he'd given to Shui Miao from his Purple Ice Crystal Ring.

The moment Fang Mu presented the Life Elixir, it glowed a luminous green among the stars.

Mimicking Scorpio's action, Fang Mu tossed the Life Elixir to his Starlight behind him.

He then instructed Starlight to build a bridge to Scorpio's Messenger and deliver it.

The first elder who talked to Fang Mu, the woman playing with her golden braids on her neck sitting with legs crossed, the figure clutching a doll so ambiguous no one could make out if it was a man or woman, the young girl wearing a cat face mask and dressed dazzlingly in Rococo style style...

All in the land of Starwheel were attracted by the gloss emanating from the Life Elixir with a purity of ninety-two percent the moment Fang Mu presented it.

Was Qixing so wealthy to grant such a potent Life Elixir as a reciprocal gift to his disciple? Unbelievable!

What was more, Fang Mu had ten vials in total!

Apart from Jianmu, there were only nine formal members in the Starwheel.

Nine people vying for ten Life Elixirs with a purity of ninety-two percent.

Even after each person got one, someone could still get two.

Everyone's mind began to reel, wondering how they could negotiate with Jianmu to get two of those high purity Life Elixirs.

This is exactly the reaction Fang Mu wanted!

Even if he didn't know the exact value of the resources, and the person receiving his gift was not meticulous enough to compensate him equally.

The other Starwheel members, in order to win his favor and trade for more Life Elixirs, would probably come forward with suggestions.

Under these circumstances, it would be hard for Fang Mu to be at a disadvantage!

Furthermore, in the eyes of the Starwheel members, he supposedly has a Grandmaster Creator as his master.

Nobody would be naive enough to think they could deceive a Grandmaster Creator, right?

Compared to one-off deals, anyone who isn't a fool would prefer a long-term mutually beneficial relationship.

He himself brought up equal and reciprocal exchange as soon as he arrived at the Starwheel.

So as long as the trading party offered enough resources, it doesn't have to be a one-off deal, they could trade in large amounts at once.

All transactions on Starwheel involve high-level resources.

Even if he offered more high ranking Creator resources, it wouldn't look suspicious.

The short-haired woman, Scorpio, didn't like to carry too many supplies.

For Scorpio, a minimalist, carrying extra supplies would be a burden.

The dragon pearl fragments she had were barely found from her spatial storage spiritual instrument.

However, what she gave to Fang Mu, the dragon pearl fragments, were not equivalent to the ninety-two percent pure Life Elixir.

Even so, Scorpio couldn't just take the Life Elixir and say nothing.

If Qixing found out, he would immediately blacklist her, eliminating any chance of acquiring Creator resources in the future.

Scorpio touched the pure black mask on her face, devoid of any markings, pondering what else she had that was equivalent to this Life Elixir. Even if it wasn't equivalent, the price could only be higher, not lower!

This thought stumped Scorpio.

All her resources were stored with her attendants, and what she carried were only necessities.

If it hadn't been for the dragon pearl fragments which she hadn't got around to storing yet, Scorpio wouldn't have had anything for a reciprocal gift when she met Fang Mu!

She did have some Sequential spiritual weapons on her, but they all had been contracted by marrow pacts, making them non-tradeable..

Chapter 169 Legacy of the Beauty God: Omen Butterfly! (Two in One)_2

In the end, Scorpio gritted his teeth and took out a butterfly with wings as dark as ink adorned with odd purple patterns.

The butterfly kept flapping its wings after being released by the Scorpio.

Its wings held a purple glow like ten thousand morning glows, shimmering translucent hues amidst the stars.

The bright starlight did not overshadow its colors.

At this point, Scorpio felt rather distressed.

If it weren't for the fear of a bad influence, and Fang Mu returning a life elixir with a purity of ninety-two percent as a gift, Scorpio would, in no way, consider surrendering the beast he plans to contract.

Alchemy potions produced by a Grandmaster Creator, rare though they are, are still a human creation.

Still, some Guardian Beasts have an intrinsic elegance, one that the world may never see a second time.

Scorpio, his voice dry and hoarse, started to introduce the creature.

"Libra, you can go back and ask your master if he has ever heard of the Purple Sky Beauty God Butterfly."

“This butterfly beast is called the Omen Butterfly, carrying the bloodline of the most beautiful beast from the 6th Epoch.”

“The gift you gave me is too precious; please accept this Omen Butterfly!”

Fang Mu had never heard of the Purple Sky Beauty God Butterfly.

But for a creature to stand out among the thousands of living beings, worthy of the title ‘most beautiful,’ it definitely bore good looks worthy of praise!

Just as Fang Mu was about to use the Eye of Omniscience power of his Destiny Guardian Beast, the Fool’s Shadow, to examine the data of the Omen Butterfly.

He heard Scorpio continue to speak.

“The Omen Butterfly is a rare Undying species among the Insect Beasts.”

“While it cannot fight on its own, it has extremely strong auxiliary and curse effects.

“If you make a contract with an Undead Beast in the future, the Omen Butterfly can possess the Undead Beast.”

“It can elevate the power of your Undead Beast!”

“I have upgraded the Omen Butterfly to an Epic Quality, both of its unique attributes are exceptional.”

“The only challenge is that its cultivation in the future needs a substantial consumption of high-purity life elixirs to strengthen the Omen Butterfly’s constitution.”

“To ensure the butterfly’s constitution can withstand the decay brought by the Dead Qi!”

Since Scorpio decided to give the precious Omen Butterfly as a gift to Fang Mu,

Even if Scorpio is reticent, he must clearly express its value.

Fang Mu was already curious about the abilities of the Omen Butterfly.

Upon hearing Scorpio's introduction, Fang Mu eagerly examined the Omen Butterfly.

[Beast Name]: Omen Butterfly [Beast Species]: Lepidoptera/Beauty God Butterfly Genus

[Beast Level]: Bronze (10/10) [Beast Element]: Undying Element

[Beast Potential]: Silver [Beast Quality]: Epic

Skill:

[Death Omen]: Creates a curse using Dead Qi to weaken the living, making them more susceptible to damage.

Exclusive trait:

[Butterfly Funeral Praise]: Enters the bodies of dead creatures, allowing the soul flame of the dead to burn brighter, increasing strength and generating curse effects.

[Death's Blessing]: It enters the body of a living being right before their life is extinguished, using its own Dead Qi to temporarily sustain the life of the being. However, during this process, the being will be tainted by the Dead Qi, eventually turning into an Undead Life, and the soul will not be able to move on.

Evolutionary Path:

1 Omen Flash Butterfly, 2 Death Decree Butterfly, 3 Nightmare Curse Butterfly.

Upon examination, Fang Mu could confirm that Scorpio's words were not unfounded.

Even if Scorpio were to cheat him, the data under the Eye of Omniscience could not.

The Omen Butterfly is a beast of the Beauty God Butterfly Genus.

Based on its species, the Omen Butterfly must have a connection with the mythical Purple Sky Beauty God Butterfly.

The exclusive attribute, Butterfly Funeral Praise, which Scorpio praised, revealed that Scorpio valued this attribute of the Omen Butterfly.

Usually, Beast Masters would not directly contract with an Undead Beast.

Undead Beasts, differentiated as a branch of the Dark-element Beasts, vary in power.

Weak Undead Beasts are just a bunch of bone scraps put together, and can be easily dismantled even by ordinary people.

Strong Undead Beasts, on the other hand, can even rival Ghost System Beasts.

However, when it comes to value, Undead Beasts can never be compared with Ghost System Beasts.

Firstly, contracting a Ghost System Beast only requires Soul Power. There's no need to consume spiritual power, thus not reducing the Beast Master's Comprehension Power towards the Guardian Mark.

Secondly, after contracting with an Undead Beast, the Contractor will be tainted by Dead Qi, often resulting in a short lifespan.

Only members of evil organizations like the Ancient Genesis, Eternal Alchemy Association, and the Evil Heart Sect would aim for an Undead Beast.

Scorpio must have contracted with an Undead Beast or have a way to control an Undead Beast since he valued the exclusive attribute of the Omen Butterfly, Butterfly Funeral Praise so much.

Some Dark Element Beasts and Ghost System Beasts possess the ability to dominate Undead Beasts.

However, in Fang Mu's opinion, the skill Death Omen from the Omen Butterfly is more useful to him than the exclusive attribute Butterfly Funeral Praise.

The skill Death Omen weakens the living, making them susceptible, similar to how individuals are more prone to catch a cold when they are weak.

Once a Beast enters a weakened state, its anti-poison capabilities will be greatly reduced.

This essentially enhances the attack capabilities of Fang Mu's Rainy Doll.

The enhancement of damage can also pair up with other Beasts Fang Mu plans to contract with in the future.

Contracting with the Omen Butterfly will, to a certain extent, enhance Fang Mu's overall offensive power.

As for the second exclusive attribute, Death's Blessing, although it has a significant downside, it could be a life-saving divine skill in certain situations..

Chapter 170 Legacy of the Beauty God: Omen Butterfly! (Two in One)_3

Often, the demise of a Guardian Beast is not due to incurable injuries.

Rather, the severity of the injuries is such that it doesn't leave enough time for the therapist to heal them.

In these situations, the special trait of Death's Blessing can be very effective.

A living being contaminated by Dead Qi is difficult for ordinary therapists to treat.

Some Beast Masters encounter Undead Species Guardian Beasts in the wilderness, and their bodies are hurt by them.

The best method of self-preservation in this circumstance is to cleanse the wound with a Life Elixir.

The concentration of the Life Elixir used depends on the severity of the injury.

Fang Mu has plenty of Life Elixirs, even those with a purity of one hundred percent can be brought out.

Constantly cleansing the wound with these high-concentration Life Elixirs can significantly prolong the time it takes for a living being to turn into an Undead Creature.

Fang Mu was overjoyed to accept the Omen Butterfly that Scorpio gifted him.

Coincidentally, he wondered why Scorpio was still willing to give him the Omen Butterfly, even if he was reluctant to part with it.

The Omen Butterfly is classified as a living being.

Even as an Undead Species Guardian Beast, it must still resist the invasion of Dead Qi.

As the Omen Butterfly grows stronger, the purity and quantity of the Life Elixir it needs daily also increases.

If a Grandmaster Creator cannot be tied to its side all the time, it would be difficult for the Omen Butterfly to reach the Sequential rank.

There is a vast gap between a Diamond Rank Beast Master and a Sequential Beast Master.

A Sequential Beast Master of the same element could fight against ten Diamond Rank Beast Masters and still not be disadvantaged.

Therefore, on battlefields that have Sequential Beast Masters, Diamond Rank Beast Masters often fail to make an impact.

While talking with She Wan, Fang Mu learned that she seldom summons her two Diamond rank Guardian Beasts in combat.

Even though these two Diamond rank Guardian Beasts were chosen by She Wan from thousands of choices after she advanced to Hexagram Beastmaster.

They are more compatible with She Wan's combat style compared to the Guardian Beasts she had contracted before.

However, due to the vast difference in strength, the Diamond Ranked Guardian Beasts easily become live targets for Sequential Guardian Beasts on the battlefield.

The death of a Guardian Beast harms the spiritual power of the Beast Master, and the page of the Destiny Guidebook contracted with the deceased beast also shatters.

When the Destiny Guidebook is damaged, the Mysterious Patterns and Chapters that have been comprehended cannot be used.

Only when the page of the Destiny Guidebook is restored can they be used again.

This is why, in the world of Beast Masters, even if a Beast Master has reached a very high level, he is still unwilling to give up the Guardian Beasts contracted by mistake in his youth.

Apart from genuine affection, it is more about being unable to bear the corresponding consequences.

Fang Mu plans to contract with the Omen Butterfly after he contracts with Eden Greenfield and has spare Contracting Blood.

Shui Miao saw Fang Mu accepting the Omen Butterfly without any reaction.

So, he knew that Fang Mu was not aware of the value of the Omen Butterfly.

The Omen Butterfly is one of the few Undead Species Guardian Beasts that can resist Dead Qi and maintain life.

When the Omen Butterfly resists Dead Qi itself, it does not affect the Beast Master.

Moreover, the bloodline of the American God Butterfly is too rare.

Previously, Shui Miao heard that Scorpio had spent resources far exceeding 1.3 billion Mingy You Coins in order to acquire the Omen Butterfly.

The purchasing power of the Mingy You Coins is almost on par with that of the Dragon Rising Coins.

The Dark Continent, where the Mingy You Federation is located, produces an abundance of Dark-element beasts.

As a branch of the dark element, Undead Species Guardian Beasts are not valuable in the Mingy You Federation.

However, if taken to another federation, the Omen Butterfly with a Beautiful Goddess Butterfly Bloodline would be priced at least one hundred and twenty percent higher.

Selling at a high price of 1.6 billion.

Scorpio would only bring out the Omen Butterfly if she didn't have any other supplies to give as a gift.

Shui Miao was certain that Qixing is not someone who takes advantage.

An avaricious person would not teach their disciple to emphasize the principle of equality and reciprocity time and time again.

Thus, Shui Miao decided to give Fang Mu a reminder.

"Scorpio, as far as I know, Scorpio spent 1.3 billion to acquire this Omen Butterfly," he said.

"The bloodline of the American God Butterfly in the Omen Butterfly isn't diluted. It could potentially evolve into the Beauty Butterfly, or even other types of American God Butterflies even if it can't evolve into the legendary Purple Sky Beauty God Butterfly lineage."

As he said this, Shui Miao purposely winked at Fang Mu.

He hoped that Fang Mu would understand his intention.

Fang Mu, after hearing Shui Miao's words, was taken aback, but quickly understood the implication of Shui Miao's verbal cue.

Fang Mu had seen the evolutionary path of the Omen Butterfly. It was evident that the Omen Flash Butterfly was the evolution of the Omen Butterfly based on its bloodline.

If that were the case, then the legendary Purple Sky Beauty God Butterfly very likely evolved from some kind of Flash Butterfly.

Shui Miao mentioned the worth of the Omen Butterfly as a reminder for himself.

So he could make the right decision when he's clear about the situation of the Omen Butterfly.

Fang Mu was especially grateful to Shui Miao for this.

It would be difficult for him to ascertain the worth of the Omen Butterfly on his own when he returns home with the current available channels.

Moreover, as this is Scorpio's second reciprocal gift, he might not pay much attention to the value of the Omen Butterfly after returning home.

If no gesture is made the next time he attends the Starwheel gathering, people will have the impression that Qixing only talks about equality and reciprocity upfront, whereas, in his heart, he likes to take advantage of others.

If so, the persona Fang Mu painstakingly cultivated would collapse!

Shui Miao gave him a pointer this time, but he won't be reminding him for every transaction in the future.

With this in mind, Fang Mu felt a sudden lump in his throat.

He took out a bottle of Life Elixir with a purity of ninety-two percent once more, and indignantly threw it backward towards Starlight.

Then he said in a cold tone, deliberately emphasizing his youthful indignation to the utmost.

“I came to the gathering on Master’s orders.”

“Master’s requirement is for equality and reciprocity, I haven’t been under Master for a long time and my knowledge is limited.”

“I don’t know the value of many Guardian Beasts and spiritual materials.”

“So from now on, I hope you can clearly tell me the value of the Guardian

Beasts and spiritual materials! ”

“That way, I won’t annoy Master when I go back!”
