

Beast Tamer 181

Chapter 181 I am the Weaving Grandmaster! (Two in One) _2

But he never conceited when he encounters problems.

Especially after Fang Mu became the apprentice of the Grandmaster Creator,

Fang Yuan became even more cautious than before.

He was afraid that he might affect Fang Mu in some way.

Secondly, during the entire middle school period, the Dragon Rising Federation emphasized more on the students' academic education.

Only when they entered college, the weight of the practical course's scores began to increase.

In all the college exams, the practical course accounted for sixty percent of the total score while the academic course only accounted for forty percent.

Even though university focuses on practical courses, it is still hard to pass if one does not perform well in academic courses.

Fang Yuan did not understand why such a score distribution was adopted.

After all, strength is fundamental when fighting in the wild.

However, since becoming the Golden Gloves of the Ten Thousand Treasures Commerce and participating in several missions.

Fang Yuan realized that the knowledge gained through academic classes was a lifesaver in the wilderness.

Without the knowledge acquired in Beast observation and Spirit Material Analysis classes, when the food prepared for survival in the wild was consumed,

One would not even be able to tell what can be eaten and what cannot.

One would succumb to poison before encountering any danger!

Fang Yuan did not continue the topic of his niece's grades, which was a sore point for Aunt Wu.

Fang Mu quietly ate the honeydew in the crushed ice, thinking to himself.

Improving the academic score by forty points in one year was almost impossible.

Because the knowledge in the field of Guardian Beast resembles a tree structure.

Main branches are independent, but secondary branches overlap with each other.

If the foundation wasn't solid in the beginning, fixing it while the foundations are ambiguous could easily confuse the intertwined secondary branches.

Once mixed up, it is hard to sort things out effectively.

Unless all the previously learned knowledge was brought out for consolidation!

Such a huge amount of learning, under stressful circumstances for high school students,

It would be impossible even if they only slept four hours a day and used their meal times for studying.

This was also why the threshold for a Junior Creator was so high!

After finishing the crushed ice and returning home, Fang Yuan and Fang Qin each went back to their rooms to rest for the night.

Anyway, both of them had planned to stay at home for a week, so they had plenty of opportunities to be together.

During the dinner and shopping with Fang Yuan and Fang Qin, Fang Mu was left only with the driver, He Qing.

He told Lu Xiaoyin and She Wan to return to the mansion beforehand.

Otherwise, with a private butler and guard following, even if Fang Mu didn't feel uncomfortable, Fang Yuan and Fang Qin would feel uneasy! She Wan and Lu Xiaoyin planned to greet Fang Mu when they saw him return,

But as soon as She Wan entered the house, she was kept by Fang Mu.

This made She Wan excited yet confused.

She Wan was excited that Fang Mu finally remembered her.

But what she didn't understand was that Fang Mu was supposed to be spending time with his brother and sister recently, and that she rarely had the chance to go out with him.

So what could he possibly want now?

What She Wan feared the most was that Fang Mu would ask her to go to the Capital with Fang Yuan to help manage the Jianmu Commerce Association, Or to stay with Fang Qin to ensure her safety.

The fact that Fang Mu trusts She Wan to perform these two tasks is proof of the trust Fang Mu has in her.

But if she can't stay by Fang Mu's side, how can she continue to develop in the future?

Even if Fang Mu doesn't value her as much as staying by his side, it's still better than being sent far away as a trusted aide!

Fang Mu had She Wan sit on the sofa and chatted casually with her.

At this time, Fang Mu's thoughts were spinning rapidly.

How could he use She Wan to mobilize the resources of the Lu City She Family in a way that was natural and make She Wan more grateful to him?

Now the Keystone Construction, Origin Construction, and Mountain-opening Construction, are all tied to his boat.

Although She Wan has now become his guard, Lu City's She Family has nothing concrete to do with him.

Lu City's She Family's function is to breed Beast Familiars.

Just by looking at this function, the Lu City's She Family is a major consumer of Creator resources.

As a result, the Lu City She Family should be desperately craving the high-star Creator resources he holds.

Although She Wan has never said it, she must have thought about it before becoming his guard, wanting to help the She Family through him.

A noblewoman from a family like She would never stop considering the glory of her family.

In this case, Fang Mu felt that he should "fish" her in again!

Previously he "caught" Fang Yuan by offering him high-star Creator resources, and now it was his turn to "catch" She Wan!

He was supposed to be a disciple of a Grandmaster Creator.

If he acted as if he had just found out that She Wan came from the Lu City She Family, it would appear abrupt and awkward.

So, Fang Mu simply adopted an attitude that he knew She Wan was a noble daughter of the Lu City She Family.

“She Wan, does your family have any rare and valuable leopard beasts?”

Fang Yuan’s Destiny Guardian Beast, the Vicious Leopard Demon, in addition to being able to fuse leopard beasts through its Innate Divine Ability,

Its specific attribute [Leopard Pact] reduces the consumption of spiritual power when contracting with leopard beasts.

Which means Fang Yuan could probably contract four leopard beasts, which would be equivalent to others contracting two.

And as the Vicious Leopard Demon’s rank and quality continue to rise, the effect of the special attribute [Leopard Pact] will increase..

Chapter 182 I am the Weaving Grandmaster! (Two in One) _3

After knowing her own identity, She Wan's family could easily get information about Fang Yuan and Fang Qin.

Therefore, it is reasonable for her to want to obtain excellent Leopard Beasts through She Wan!

She Wan was overjoyed upon hearing Fang Mu's words.

She had been waiting for Fang Mu to bring up the topic of her family.

Only when Fang Mu proactively mentioned her family would she dare to attempt to communicate with Fang Mu on behalf of her family.

Trading with Fang Mu under the name of the family.

Two days ago, the family had called She Wan multiple times, urging her to help them establish contact with Fang Mu.

The family felt that as someone close to Fang Mu, She Wan would be able to accomplish this easily.

But from She Wan's point of view, it was extremely difficult to fulfill this task! When those in her family face cooperation negotiations with Fang Mu, they don't need to feel any pressure.

But her future was in Fang Mu's hands.

If Fang Mu was displeased, no one in the family could take the blame for her!

Now that Fang Mu mentioned wanting to acquire Leopard Beasts, She Wan found a way for her family to communicate with him.

"Young Master, although Leopard Beasts are less common in the realm of Beast Familiars. "

"Several rare ones have been preserved in our family."

"These rare Leopard Beasts that the family has kept all have quite strong potential in terms of bloodline, even though their strengths are only at the Bronze level."

"All these guardians beasts are prepared to be sold as merchandise, so their quality will not be enhanced too high."

"Often they will only have Perfect Quality."

"If you need them, Young Master, I would immediately have people from my family contact you!"

Hearing She Wan's words, Fang Mu knew that She Family indeed wanted to establish a connection with him through her.

Seeing the situation, whatever Fang Mu needed, he could ask for it without hesitation.

"There's no need for people from your family to contact me."

"You can represent your family and handle this matter."

"This huge estate needs more manpower. You can choose some trustworthy gardeners and chefs, and then bring them to register with Lu Xiaoyin."

Fang Mu's words seemed offhand, as though he was discussing something inconsequential.

Fang Mu wanted resources from the She Family to facilitate his own needs.

Therefore, there was no need for Fang Mu to communicate too much with the members of the She Family.

Over-communicating would be troublesome, and speaking with the crafty, elderly members of the She Family could potentially reveal his act.

It seemed that She Wan would be delighted to serve as the bridge of communication between him and the She Family!

As a Noble Lady of the family, She Wan would be willing to make certain sacrifices for the family's glory.

Similarly, She Wan would strive for power within the family, aiming to get closer to the core of the family's authority.

Even after becoming Fang Mu's guard, this mindset remained unchanged.

She Wan could not overly rely on Fang Mu in the family struggles.

But when Fang Mu provided opportunities, she would definitely seize them!

If she became the bridge between the family and a Grandmaster Creator, and this bridge could be of help to the family.

The family would definitely rely on her more.

"Master, I will contact my family later and handle this matter."

“I have a mansion in Lu City with thirty staff members inside, including two chefs.’

“One chef is skilled in foreign cuisine, while the other is good at cooking various dishes from throughout the Federation.”

“I ate at the Sea Banquet Palace twice before.”

“Honestly, the two chefs I hired are not inferior to those at the Sea Banquet

Palace. ”

“At certain aspects, they may even outperform the chefs at the Sea Banquet

Palace. ”

“After all, the two chefs I hired have received the special chef certification issued by the Dragon Rising Federation’s triennial cooking contest.” Despite her cold demeanor, She Wan was actually a genuine foodie.

She was willing to spend a lot for good food.

She had initially spent a lot of resources to hire these two chefs.

Selecting chefs when becoming a guard for Fang Mu would definitely seem presumptuous from a noble lady, so they remained in her mansion in Lu City with other staff members.

She had to spend resources every month to maintain their living.

This made She Wan feel like it was a loss.

She Wan even considered laying off these servants and chefs next month.

She was glad she hadn't made any moves yet.

These people turned out to be useful!

When it came to training servants and chefs, She Wan inherited the strict requirements common to scions of major families.

She Wan was confident that Fang Mu would be utterly satisfied with her well-trained staff.

Hearing She Wan's words, Fang Mu raised an eyebrow.

Indeed, it was easier to get things done with the right connections! Better cooking than the chefs in Sea Banquet Palace

Hiring such a chef to cook at home would make every meal enjoyable.

Fang Mu planned to have these chefs prepare a variety of tasty nutritional meals and store them in his Purple Ice Crystal Ring.

He had long been tired of eating the nutritional meals provided by the Beastmaster Alliance!

Eating more than thirty similar tasting nutritional meals every day was a torment.

After hiring a good chef, he could enjoy a variety of flavors for his meals every day.

Fang Mu could then experience thirty times the joy of an average person every day.

"Good! I trust your ability."

“By the way, do you know any reliable Grandmaster Weavers in Lu City?”

“I plan to tailor some clothes for my family.”

Fang Mu’s tone was as casual as when one chats idly before saying goodnight.

Speaking of Grandmaster Weavers, She Wan knew quite a few.

But the reason She Wan knew these Grandmaster Weavers was not to order clothes from them.

Instead, she wanted to discuss design insights or ask for help solving problems when she encountered them.

Perhaps they could find a solution by studying the problem together. “Master, if you trust me, I can tailor outfits for your siblings.”

“Aside from being a Hexagram Beastmaster, I’ve always been interested in designing outfits.”

“So I’ve been studying how to become a weaver since my early teens.” “I’ve been a Weaving Grandmaster for more than five years now!”

Chapter 183 The Pillar Bloodline of the Main Dragon Species! (Two in One)_I

Weaving Grandmaster!?

For such a long time, a Weaving Grandmaster has been by their side, even serving as their guard.

Having become a Hexagram Beast with a Sequential Guardian Beast in their forties.

And also dedicate a substantial amount of time to the study of the craft of weaving.

Fang Mu couldn't decide whether to marvel at She Wan's astonishing talent as a Beast Tamer or a Weaver!

A Grandmaster Weaver in their forties can be considered the youngest amongst the ranks of Grandmaster Weavers.

Allowing She Wan to make custom clothes for Fang Qin, Fang Yuan, Yan Wood and even himself wouldn't be a problem.

The Jianmu business association will be officially opening soon.

In a short span of more than a month, a Weaver can guarantee the quality of each piece of clothing, can complete only up to two pieces.

Two pieces of clothing wouldn't be able to meet Fang Yuan's daily needs.

The Red Sleeves of Jianmu Commerce Association are out and about every day, they can't possibly wear just two sets of clothes every month.

Commerce associations are the most flamboyant establishments.

If Fang Yuan can be seen wearing different custom clothes designed by a Weaving Grandmaster every day.

It would be enough to reflect the wealthy and deep-rooted nature of Jianmu Commerce Association from the side.

As She Wan also has to ensure his safety, she couldn't possibly dedicate all her time and energy into making clothes.

The nobility in custom-tailored clothes comes not only from the high cost of the spiritual materials used.

More importantly it comes from a Grandmaster Weaver taking one to two months' time, periodically re-measuring the customer's body dimensions and modifying the clothing.

The diligent labor of a Grandmaster Weaver can infuse a piece of lavish clothing with a noble bearing.

She Wan wouldn't possibly be making trips to the Capital every now and then. "In the future, besides being my bodyguard, just focus on making my clothes!" Upon hearing these words, She Wan's face, which was already full of joy, brightened up even more.

Originally, she only had the duty of being Fang Mu's personal bodyguard.

Now she has been given a new duty, becoming Fang Mu's personal clothing tailor!

Such an opportunity presented to her, She Wan couldn't possibly not seize it! "Young Master, we Grandmaster Weavers have a dedicated exchange group." "Not only does this exchange group have Grandmaster Weavers from Lu City." "But also a considerable number of Grandmaster Weavers from each province!"

"Every single Grandmaster Weaver in there has a design style unique to themselves."

"I will go ask in the group, and see who is planning to take up work."

"Then, I will get these Weavers who are planning to take up work to send some pictures of their works."

“So that Miss and Second Young Master can choose their style.”

“If these Weavers knew they were serving you, no matter where they are, they would be willing to make a trip to JA City!”

Fang Mu mumbled.

So this is how these Grandmaster Weavers serve their high-end customers!

The extravagance of this world truly knows no bounds!

After She Wan left the room, Fang Mu summoned Fang Qin’s two Guardian Beasts, Frost Language Snow Dragon and Iron Thorn Carp.

Then Fang Mu brought out that basin of gnawed Diamond-Level Sleepy Moss and placed it in front of Iron Thorn Carp and Frost Language Snow Dragon.

Fang Mu thought to himself.

He couldn’t keep feeding the sheep without letting the sheep graze.

Every time after shearing the Diamond-Level Sleepy Moss, he should always feed it some Life Elixir.

Otherwise, even if the self-repairing ability of the Sleepy Moss is extremely strong, it would eventually give out if it's always eaten this way!

"Iron Thorn, Frost Language, both of you take a bite of this Sleepy Moss!"

"When you wake up afterwards, your bloodline, rank, and quality would all see some improvement!"

Hearing Fang Mu's words, Iron Thorn Carp slapped its tail against Frost Language Snow Dragon's neck.

This slap made Frost Language Snow Dragon let out an angry growl.

Iron Thorn Carp didn't care about this, upon seeing that the slap didn't work, it gave Frost Language Snow Dragon another roundhouse kick.

After Iron Thorn Carp's one-two punch, Frost Language Snow Dragon, this little rascal, obediently bit into the Diamond-Level Sleepy Moss.

Only after a minute did it completely keel over.

Given the Copper Rank strength of Frost Language Snow Dragon, after eating such a big bite of Sleepy Moss, it would probably sleep for at least a week!

After setting Frost Language Snow Dragon straight, Iron Thorn Carp calmly wagged its tail at Fang Mu.

Rubbing Fang Mu's palm with the only part of its head that had no thorns, it also bit into the Sleepy Moss.

It took a whole three minutes before it finally fell asleep.

Frost Language Snow Dragon's personality is rebellious, even though they're Fang Qin's younger siblings, Frost Language Snow Dragon isn't very friendly towards them.

Its attitude towards other people is even worse!

At most, without Fang Qin's orders, it wouldn't actively attack.

But for some reason, Fang Mu took quite a liking towards Frost Language Snow Dragon's personality.

A Guardian Beast being loyal to its contractor is enough!

A lot of Guardian Beasts' personalities are quite like the pet dog from Fang Mu's previous life, the Husky.

Such Guardian Beasts are quite charming in their daily lives, but they're too lively on the battlefield.

Once the contractor hasn't established effective constraints, it might possibly cause some issues, it questions the contractor's control over the Guardian Beast.

Different Guardian Beasts' personality also subtly influence the Beast Tamer's fighting style..

Chapter 184 The Pillar Bloodline of the Main Dragon Species! (Two in One)_2

The Vermilion Sun Crane, the Guardian Beast with whom Yan Wood made a contract, has a personality similar to a husky's.

In order to coordinate well with the Vermilion Sun Crane, Yan Wood had been practicing command extensively.

It wasn't until the year before last that she was able to develop a tacit understanding with the Vermilion Sun Crane.

If she had a Guardian Beast with the personality of the Rainy Doll, Yan Wood would only need a few weeks to develop a tacit understanding with it.

Ever since the last time he helped Lu Xiaoyin enhance her Guardian Beast, Fang Mu realized the drawbacks of his own room.

At times, Fang Mu needed his room to have the ability to isolate the aura of Guardian beasts.

This would make many things more convenient for Fang Mu.

So, the next morning, Fang Mu voiced his needs to Lu Jihui.

Upon hearing this, Lu Jihui immediately halted his work for a day, gathered several Master-level craftsmen, and used Diamond-level Metal Spirit Material Shielding Crystal Gold to remodel the walls of Fang Mu's room.

More than three tons of Shielding Crystal Gold was crushed and spread throughout Fang Mu's room.

This allowed the walls of Fang Mu's room to effectively isolate the aura of any Guardian Beast below Sequential Rank.

The Shielding Crystal Gold's ability to block out spiritual power was stronger than its ability to block out the aura of Guardian Beasts.

Fang Mu was enhancing the Frost Language Snow Dragon and the Iron Thorn Carp in his room.

Even Fang Qin, whose room was just upstairs, couldn't sense it!

Fang Mu directly took out the Dragon Pearl fragments he had exchanged for from Scorpio.

He planned to make a thorough inspection of the Dragon Pearl, a spiritual material derived from a Sequential Dragon Race Guardian Beast.

The Dragon Pearl fragments currently stored in the Dragon Trap Wood Box were the first Sequential Rank spiritual materials that Fang Mu had come into contact with.

The moment he opened the wooden box, Fang Mu didn't feel any aura emanating from it.

The fragments in the box were small, the smallest being only the size of a little fingernail.

The largest was about a quarter the size of Fang Mu's palm.

From the size of these fragments, one could guess that a complete Dragon Pearl would be a sphere with a diameter of about twenty centimeters.

To the naked eye, the Dragon Pearl fragments had a luster similar to that of pearls.

Yet, compared to pearls, the luster of the Dragon Pearl was much deeper, subtler, and grander!

Fang Mu had thought that the Dragon Pearl fragments would emit a furious Dragon Race pressure.

But in fact, the pressure contained in the Dragon Pearl was as subtle as that of a Sequential Spiritual Instrument.

If a person without enough knowledge came across the Dragon Pearl fragments, they definitely wouldn't see them as valuable.

The Iron Thorn Carp, a carp-class Guardian Beast, had teeth located in its throat, and its lips were relatively soft.

Moreover, at the end of the lips of carp-class Guardian Beasts, there is a very flexible joint.

Fang Mu forcefully held down the joint at the end of the Iron Thorn Carp's lips and pried its lips downwards.

The mouth of the Iron Thorn Carp, which was big enough to fit a basketball, was opened by Fang Mu!

Fang Mu directly poured all the Dragon Pearl fragments from the Trapped Dragon Wooden Box into the mouth of the Iron Thorn Carp.

He then immediately summoned the Destiny Guardian Beast – Blood of Abundance and took out all the Blood Aged Wine inside it.

He placed it in a crystal bottle that was bigger than a kettle.

Fang Mu planned to wait for the Dragon Pearl fragments to aid the enhancement of the Iron Thorn Carp's bloodline.

Then, depending on the degree of enhancement the Dragon Pearl fragments brought to the Iron Thorn Carp's bloodline, he would decide when to pour the Blood Aged Wine into the Iron Thorn Carp's mouth.

This would help the Iron Thorn Carp take a crucial step at a critical moment!

The protective layer of the Dragon Pearl fragments was extremely sturdy, and even after half an hour, the dormant Iron Thorn Carp showed no changes.

The hand in which Fang Mu held the crystal bottle began to tingle slightly.

Suddenly, a grand momentum emanated from within the Iron Thorn Carp.

This momentum almost knocked Fang Mu, who was standing in front of the Iron Thorn Carp, off his feet.

Fortunately, Fang Mu was able to hold onto the bottle's mouth.

Otherwise, at least five liters of Blood Aged Wine would have been wasted!

The grand momentum within the Iron Thorn Carp caused a sound like the flowing of tidal water to echo throughout Fang Mu's room.

Dragon roars emitted from within the Iron Thorn Carp.

The three-meter-long body of the Iron Thorn Carp suddenly started to expand, its scales, harder than iron, were torn apart in an instant.

A large amount of red blood seeped out from the Iron Thorn Carp.

Scales and spines fell to the ground with the blood, making a crisp sound.

This scene was rather hard to watch.

But for a Guardian Beast with a Dragon bloodline, this was quite normal.

Dragon transformation was a process of life and death!

The Flood Dragon-class Guardian Beasts wanting to transform into True Dragons were required to go through a refinement by dragon fire due to the alteration of their Bloodlines.

Only by enduring the refining of the Dragon Fire could one gain the opportunity to transform into a True Dragon!

At Diamond Level, Guardian Beasts are almost never able to transform into True Dragons.

Only by continuously advancing from the Ninth Sequential Rank to the Sixth

Sequential Rank would there be a possibility of transforming into a True Dragon!

In the history of the Dragon Rising Federation, only the Dragon Mother's Dragon race Guardian Beast transformed into a True Dragon at the Sixth Sequential Rank.

All Fang Mu needed to do now was to watch as the Iron Thorn Carp underwent its transformation step by step!

The Iron Thorn Carp's body did not stop expanding after the first growth phase.

It quickly expanded from three meters in length to eight meters.

Blood was dispersed all over the place, and the bloody smell in the room was so strong that it stung one's nose.

The newly grown scales and spines were torn apart again before they could adjust to the sudden growth of body size. The process repeated over and over.

Fang Mu could feel the Dragon Bloodline aura from the Iron Thorn Carp becoming more and more dense.

The blood flowing out had also turned from its original red color to a unique dark golden color inherent to the Dragon race Guardian Beast's Bloodline.

Suddenly, Fang Mu's ears caught a sound like the breaking of tendons and bones..

Chapter 185 The Pillar Bloodline of the Main Dragon Species! (Two in One)_3

This sound was several times louder than the one Fang Mu made when he broke off manganese iron in that blood-red fog!

Fang Mu knew that the Iron Thorn Carp was starting to transform into a dragon.

A Fish Beast transforms into a dragon by first shattering all the skeleton in its body, and then a muscle called dragon tendon emerges to reconnect them.

This process is terribly agonizing and bloody.

If it weren't for the Iron Thorn Carp devouring Sleep Moss and falling unconscious-

It would definitely be thrashing about the room in agony at this moment, ruining the room Fang Mu had just renovated!

As the sound of shattering bones became more frequent, the body of the Iron Thorn Carp gradually elongated, and its figure slimmed down considerably.

Then, one by one, steel spikes emerged from the Iron Thorn Carp's flesh.

The steel spikes sprouted around all seven fins.

Apart from the seven fins, the entire eight-meter body of the Iron Thorn Carp was covered in steel spikes.

The head of the Iron Thorn Carp had become broad and majestic compared to before.

The original half-meter-long beard exploded and grew nearly two meters.

Even though its bloodline had not yet reached the dragon race, the beard had an uncanny resemblance to the whiskers of a dragon.

Fine ink-colored steel scales continued to grow at the tips of the steel spikes.

Fang Mu knew that the Iron Thorn Carp's bloodline had transformed into the Black Steel Leviathan Carp at this point.

But this was just the beginning!

As soon as the shape of the Black Steel Leviathan Carp was complete — its scales, which were several times harder than before, once again cracked under the powerful bloodline power inside its body.

Blood covered the body of the Black Steel Leviathan Carp once more. If the previous transformation of the Black Steel Leviathan Carp included a buffer time-

At this moment, the Black Steel Leviathan Carp changed directly into a colossal creature more than twenty meters in length.

The rapid growth of its body made the original spikes and scale armor on the Black Steel Leviathan Carp look like delicate doll clothes worn by a two-meter, well-built man.

The moment those spikes and scale armor fell to the ground, the Black Steel Leviathan Carp looked like a squirming blood-colored meatball.

As the meatball wriggled, the Black Steel Leviathan Carp's body kept on stretching.

Above its head, it suddenly sprouted two ink-colored horns, each adorned with a gold pattern.

Once the horns appeared, it was clear that the Black Steel Leviathan Carp had fully transformed into a true Jiaolong, a dragon-like aquatic creature.

It had bypassed the Frost Language Snow Dragon in terms of bloodline alone.

Fang Mu had never imagined that a single Dragon Pearl Fragment could directly elevate the Iron Thorn Carp's bloodline to the Ink Gold Water Dragon!

Fang Mu had originally planned to use the Blood Aged Wine to help the Iron Thorn Carp transform into a true Jiaolong!

Within the transformed Iron Thorn Carp, now the Ink Gold Water Dragon, there still remained a tsunami-like potency of dragon bloodline.

Obviously, the dragon bloodline power within the Dragon Pearl Fragments hadn't been exhausted.

Fang Mu thought to himself-

Could it be that the evolution of the Iron Thorn Carp bloodline to the Ink Gold Water Dragon wasn't the end of it tonight?

Blood Aged Wine has the ability to induce further evolution in the Ink Gold Water Dragon's bloodline.

Could Fang Mu combine Blood Aged Wine with the remaining bloodline power in the Dragon Pearl Fragments to further promote the Iron Thorn Carp on the basis of the Ink Gold Water Dragon!?

Jiaolong scales, akin to black ink crystal, were patched all over the body of the Ink Gold Water Dragon.

Each dragon scale had three gold patterns at the end.

These three gold patterns, when illuminated by the light, ripple like a surging river.

After the bloodline evolved into a Jiaolong, the physical form was basically fixed.

Unless ranking increases, there wouldn't usually be significant changes in size.

Therefore, the advancement of the Ink Gold Water Dragon's bloodline wasn't as bloody as before.

However, the seemingly invisible tension only transformed into internal turmoil.

Fang Mu noticed that two tumor-like protrusions appeared at the front of the Ink Gold Water Dragon's back.

This protrusion was getting larger, but for the moment, it couldn't break through the dragon scales.

The continuous swelling of the protrusions on its back made the shape of the Ink Gold Water Dragon's body become strange.

When the two back tumors grew to a diameter of one meter, Fang Mu could clearly feel that.

There was barely any dragon bloodline power left in the Dragon Pearl Fragments within the Ink Gold Water Dragon.

Fang Mu immediately stepped forward.

However, Fang Mu couldn't pry open the mouth of the Ink Gold Water Dragon like he did with the Iron Thorn Carp!

Moreover, the Ink Gold Water Dragon was a female Jiaolong, and Fang Mu couldn't do what he did before.

The state of the Ink Gold Water Dragon couldn't be put on hold at this moment.

After the last bit of Bloodline Power in the Dragon Pearl Fragments was exhausted, the Ink Gold Water Dragon's bloodline would solidify.

The two bumps on its back might retract due to lack of energy.

The perfectly symmetrical bumps on the back of the Ink Gold Water Dragon corresponded exactly to a pure blood Jiaolong Beast, which could evolve into the Main Dragon Species, also known as a True Dragon.

This Main Dragon Species is called Ying Dragon.

The Ying Dragon with Primary Dragon Bloodline is good at flying and has strong combat capabilities on land.

Following this bloodline evolution, the Ink Gold Water Dragon, who was originally only suitable for fighting in water, would become a more versatile Guardian Beast.

Moreover, the Ying Dragon's bloodline is one of the twelve main branches of the primary dragon species and has the opportunity to advance and evolve towards the top of the sequence.

What Fang Mu must do right now is break through the defense of the Ink Gold Water Dragon and inject the Blood Aged Wine into its body.

Fang Mu tried to make the Blood of Abundance emit a blood-red mist.

Following Fang Mu's command, the blood-red fog immediately enveloped him.

Fang Mu instantly felt his strength greatly increased.

He took out the syringes stored in the Purple Ice Crystal Ring, and quickly filled them with Blood Aged Wine.

Then, he quickly came to the Ink Gold Water Dragon and stabbed it into its relatively fragile belly.

Syringes made of Diamond-grade metal spirit material radium uranium steel don't need to worry about damage.

The only thing Fang Mu had to worry about was his own lack of strength.

However, Fang Mu was overthinking it.

Fang Mu found that when he was enveloped by the blood-red fog, piercing the abdomen of the Ink Gold Water Dragon with the syringe was as easy as piercing a piece of paper with a pencil.

Fang Mu didn't care whether the injected Blood Aged Wine was excessive or not.

Even if the injected Blood Aged Wine was excessive, it would only benefit the Ink Gold Water Dragon, not harm it.

Fang Mu didn't mind using the Blood Aged Wine on Fang Qin's Guardian Beast at all.

The moment he injected the fifteenth tube of Blood Aged Wine into the Ink Gold Water Dragon's body.

Fang Mu only saw the protrusions on the back of the Ink Gold Water Dragon five meters in front of him suddenly burst.

A pair of wings, reaching thirty meters in span, spread out, revealing a magnificent azure-purple hue..

Chapter 186 Cangluan Ying Jiao and Jing Canghai! (Two-in-One)_I

The wings that sprouted from the Ink Gold Water Dragon looked very similar to those of the bat-like Sovereign Beasts.

But it seemed sturdier than the wings of the bat-like Sovereign Beasts.

The wide wing bones were not attached to flesh but were supported by tough bony plates internally.

Tough tendon membranes were attached to the bony plates, and there were thick scales on the outside of the flesh.

The spikes growing out of the wing bone tips increased the speed of the wings and brought great lethality to the wings.

Fang Mu felt that it was just a blink of an eye. At the moment when the wings on the back of the Ink Gold Water Dragon were opened.

The body of the Ink Gold Water Dragon changed from its original ink color to a blue-purple color similar to the color of the wings.

But the color of the body is obviously deeper than the color of the wings.

The blue-purple scales on the body like crystals, the three gold patterns at the end still exist.

It's even clearer than before.

Fang Mu used the Fool's Shadow's Innate Divine Ability of the Eye of Omniscience for a close examination of the Ink Gold Water Dragon which has grown wings at this moment.

[Beast Name]: Cangluan Ying Jiao [Beast Species]: Dragon Clan/Ying Jiao Species [Beast Level]: Platinum (8/10) [Beast Element]: Water System/Earth System

[Beast Potential]: Diamond [Beast Quality]: Epic quality

Skill:

[Roar of Cang]: Through the roar of manipulating the Water Elemental Energy to form a rapid current, restricts the actions of the target and causes fear.

[Mountain Shock]: Adds weight to oneself through Earth Elements, hits the target with the momentum of a mountain, presses the target under one's body, and bone-crushing effects will be added when attacking.

[Cloud Wing]: Agitates the wings to condense clouds, will greatly increase one's speed when in the clouds, and can manipulate the clouds to restrict and attack the target.

[Jing Canghai]: Turns water and earth elemental energy into a sea with one's bloodline, promotes growth in Aquatic Sovereign Beasts within the range, and strangulates a designated target in the sea. The target being strangled will be transformed into nutrients in the water for self-recovery.

Exclusive Features:

[Brave Scales]: Strengthens scale armor through bloodline power. Every time scale armor is broken after an attack, the hardness of scales on the other parts will increase.

[Mountains and Seas]: When near mountains and seas, you can extract elemental energy from the mountains and seas with your own bloodline to charge your own elements.

Evolutionary Path:

1: Canglun Dragon, 2: Zhenhai Jiao, 3: Pan Stone Jiao.

Upon examination, Fang Mu found that the bloodline of the Ink Gold Water Dragon had indeed mutated!

It mutated into a pure-blooded Jiaolong Species Sovereign Beast named Ying Jiao!

Under the promotion of Dragon Ball Fragments and the induction of Blood Aged Wine, the quality has successfully been upgraded from Perfect quality to Epic quality.

And the quality has reached a very high-end level of Epic quality.

As long as you continue to use materials that can promote the Dragon

Bloodline and cultivate with high-concentration Life Elixirs,

After getting promoted to the Diamond Rank, it can naturally be upgraded to Legendary Quality!

Fang Mu used the Eye of Omniscience to check the data of the Iron Thorn Carp.

Apart from the exclusive feature of Brave Scales gained when the Iron Thorn Carp was upgraded to Perfect Quality, all the skills have undergone a complete transformation.

Fang Mu is sure that even if Fang Qin stood in front of Cangluan Ying Jiao, if it were not for the perception of the covenant and the contact at the spiritual level,

Fang Qin would absolutely not believe that this Cangluan Ying Jiao was his Sovereign Beast.

As a dual attribute (water and earth) Sovereign Beast, the Iron Thorn Carp, despite its bloodline mutation due to the effects of Dragon Ball Fragments and the induction of Blood Aged Wine,

After the mutation, it is still a water and earth dual attribute Dragon species Sovereign Beast.

This is very much in line with the norm of Beast Evolution and Mutation.

Through the Beast Species, it can be seen that Cangluan Ying Jiao has got close to becoming a True Dragon!

Just one more evolution step is needed, and it should be able to become a True Dragon by ascending to the Main Dragon Species.

At this time, Cangluan Ying Jiao is still asleep, but it's not as lethargic as it was before.

Sleep Moss numbs the whole body of the Sovereign Beast, and in the process of anesthesia, there will be no movement at all.

However, Cangluan Ying Jiao has begun to change its posture during its sleepy state.

It changed from lying prostrate at the beginning to coiling its body now.

Fang Mu knew that in another hour or two, Cangluan Ying Jiao should be able to wake up.

Fang Mu could imagine the look of surprise and joy on Fang Qin's face when she saw Cangluan Ying Jiao.

The fact that the Hidden Dragon could not become one of the twelve pillars of the Main Dragon Species Sovereign Beasts was due to the limitations of the Hidden Dragon in battle.

A Hidden Jiao that originally should have evolved into a Hidden Dragon had mutated into a Ying Jiao.

Fang Mu felt that it had little to do with his own Blood Aged Wine, it was mostly due to the Hidden Jiao species Sovereign Beast, which produced the Dragon Ball Fragments, its hidden True Dragon bloodline.

After all, a Sovereign Beast's bloodline cannot be generated out of thin air. This is a common-sense issue.

The four skills that the Iron Thorn Carp gained from the Bronze Rank to the Platinum Rank were not powerful and focused more on close combat.

It was classified as a close combat Defensive Beast Conqueror.

However, the defensive ability of the Iron Thorn Carp does not rely on condensing elemental shields like traditional Defensive Beast Conquerors.

It resists damage with its own scale armor.

Such Sovereign Beasts are often at the forefront in battles and need to bear a great deal of risk.

Although the current Cangluan Ying Jiao still retains some close combat methods, it can already be regarded as a Beast that relies on long-range combat!

The Copper Rank skill Roar of Cang creates a rush of water vapor, which can control a Sovereign Beast that is close to its own strength..

Chapter 187 Cangluan Ying Jiao and Jing Canghai! (Two-in-One)_2

However, for those Guardian Beasts that are far weaker than himself, or those that have no defensive capability.

Cangluan Ying Jiao would directly tear them to shreds with the skill Roar of Cang.

The Silver-ranked Skill Luanzhen is the melee method that is still inherited after Iron Thorn Carp evolved into Cangluan Ying Jiao.

The strength of the Luanzhen skill mainly depends on the power of the Guardian Beast itself.

Weight would enhance the strength.

With its size of over twenty meters and a weight of hundreds of tons, Cangluan Ying Jiao would dive from high altitude to perform Luanzhen.

It's rare that any Guardian Beast could withstand it!

Moreover, Cangluan Ying Jiao's attack also comes with Bone Crusher effect.

This Bone Crusher effect specifically counters Defensive Beast Conquerors with extreme defensive power.

The Gold-ranked Skill Cloud Wing can be considered an enhancing auxiliary skill for itself, as well as a trinity of offense, defense, and control.

It greatly enhances the attack distance of Cangluan Ying Jiao!

At the same time, it could also produce cloud vapor during combat to conceal its traces.

After seeing the skill effect of the Platinum-ranked Skill Jing Cang Hai, the smile on Fang Mu's face never stopped.

Some Guardian Beasts with special strategic significance are known as Strategic Level Beasts.

In warfare, these Guardian Beasts can effectively influence the battlefield situation, and even determine the final outcome of the war.

There is also a special type of Guardian Beast that, if obtained by a federation or a major force, can enhance the internal strength of that federation or force.

This type of Guardian Beast is collectively referred to as Foundation Level Beasts.

For example, the Sacred Relic Sakura Tempering Carp can help Beast Masters within a certain range refine and strengthen their spiritual power, accelerating the growth rate of their spiritual power.

Having such ability, it is enough to be called a Foundation Level Beast.

Simply with the Platinum Skill Jing Cang Hai, Fang Qin's Cangluan Ying Jiao can be called an excellent Strategic Level Beast.

Jing Cang Hai allows Cangluan Ying Jiao through its own Bloodline Power, to mobilize water and earth Elemental Energies to transform into a maritime region.

In other words, as Cangluan Ying Jiao's bloodline continues to improve, its power becomes stronger and stronger.

The sea area transformed will also get bigger and bigger!

Jing Cang Hai can nourish Water system beasts that are transformed into the maritime region by Cangluan Ying Jiao.

This makes Fang Qin have the qualification to become the core of the faction in large-scale battles.

Because the Jinghai Army often needs to undertake maritime operations, nearly all its members would contract a Water system beast as much as possible.

This makes Fang Qin's Guardian Beast, Cangluan Ying Jiao, very compatible with the Jinghai Army.

The Jinghai Army can completely build a combat system centered on Cangluan Ying Jiao.

Jing Cang Hai can enhance the strength of the entire group.

This enhancement effect is absolutely incomparable to that of common Supportive Beast Controllers!

Moreover, Cangluan Ying Jiao's Platinum Skill Jing Cang Hai, also has extremely strong attack power.

If the enemy has powerful Guardian Beasts or Beast Masters entering into the maritime region transformed by Cangluan Ying Jiao to fight.

Cangluan Ying Jiao can then target and assassinate them within the maritime region.

Directly attacking the core unit under layers of enemy defense!

Jing Cang Hai, is a skill that consumes a lot when deployed, and is difficult to maintain for a long time.

However, once a target dies in the maritime region, it will turn into nutrients in the sea area to recover Cangluan Ying Jiao's own consumption.

With such excellent potential Guardian Beast as Fang Qin, Fang Mu really couldn't think of any reason for "Dragon Mother" to refuse.

The exclusive characteristic Brave Scales comprehensively enhances Cangluan Ying Jiao's defensive power.

If Cangluan Ying Jiao is attacked in battle and a part of the scales are damaged, then the hardness of the scales on other parts would increase.

The more injured Cangluan Ying Jiao is, the stronger its defensive power becomes.

In a team, Fang Qin, who serves as the center and standard, will inevitably have dedicated Healing Beast Tamers by his side for personal care.

Once Cangluan Ying Jiao is injured, someone will immediately heal it.

This also makes the exclusive characteristic Brave Scales become even more sturdy to some extent.

The exclusive characteristic Mountains and Seas, which is obtained after upgrading to Epic Quality, appeared only after Iron Thorn Carp evolved into Cangluan Ying Jiao.

The exclusive characteristic Mountains and Seas is very compatible with Cangluan Ying Jiao's bloodline.

The Dragon Rising Federation has vast territory, surrounded by the sea on three sides, with large proportions of sea areas and mountains.

As long as Cangluan Ying Jiao is near the sea or the mountains, it can deploy the exclusive characteristic Mountains and Seas.

Cangluan Ying Jiao can recharge its own Elemental Energy through the Elemental Energy contained in the mountains and oceans.

The exclusive characteristic Mountains and Seas is compatible with all skills of Cangluan Ying Jiao from Copper to Platinum ranks.

It can effectively enhance these four skills and improve Cangluan Ying Jiao's continuous combat capability.

Fang Mu reached out and touched Cangluan Ying Jiao's majestic body, feeling the chill and hardness of the scales on its body.

Fang Mu then retracted Cangluan Ying Jiao back into his Purple Ice Crystal Ring.

In terms of future evolutionary direction, Cangluan Ying Jiao should definitely continue to evolve towards the Cangluan Dragon.

As a being with two attributes, it will become a True Dragon with Ying Dragon bloodline.

As for other evolutionary paths like Zhenhai Jiao, it means giving up the earth element in its body.

And to transform itself into a pure Water system beast.

In truth, the Water attribute is more suitable for the Ying Dragon bloodline.

However, this method of evolution can only be attempted when advancing to Diamond Rank.

It will waste some of Cangluan Ying Jiao's evolutionary potential.

Rather than this, it would be better to let Cangluan Ying Jiao continue with its dual attributes.

Cangluan Ying Jiao is, after all, a product of a fortunate coincidence under the pouring of resources.

Who knows if more surprises could come in its future evolution..

Chapter 188 Cangluan Ying Jiao and Jing Canghai! (Two-in-One)_3

Compared to the evolutionary path of Zhenhai Jiao, the evolutionary path of Pan Stone Jiao is better.

Once evolved into Pan Stone Jiao, another bloodline evolution could potentially transform it into an Earth-Attribute Elemental Dragon.

Elemental Dragons are skilled at manipulating elemental energy and belong to the twelve major branches of the master dragon bloodline.

The defensive capability of Pan Stone Jiao is definitely much stronger than Cangluan Ying Jiao.

This fits well with Fang Mu's wish for Fang Qin to be safe.

However, once the bloodline of Cangluan Ying Jiao mutates towards Pan Stone Jiao, its skills will undergo a change once again.

The bloodline of the Elemental Dragon does not hold the same value as the platinum skill, Jing Canghai, currently possessed by Cangluan Ying Jiao.

After strengthening Cangluan Ying Jiao, Fang Mu started to probe Frost Language Snow Dragon.

Fang Mu had already designed the evolutionary path for Frost Language Snow Dragon.

It only needs to metamorphose according to its own bloodline towards Jiao Dragon Species.

Fang Qin has been forcefully suppressing the rank of Frost Language Snow Dragon, constantly allowing it to accumulate bloodline power.

During this process, the quality of the Frost Language Snow Dragon has risen to epic quality.

Of course, this has a lot to do with the many high-purity water attribute elixirs that Fang Mu has given to Fang Qin!

Now, the Frost Language Snow Dragon is only missing Blood Aged Wine!

Since the blood red fog released by the Blood of Abundance could enhance his own strength, Fang Mu did not go to find Jiao Ding.

Instead, he directly used a syringe to inject Blood Aged Wine into the body of the Frost Language Snow Dragon from its back.

The delicate scales on the Frost Language Snow Dragon's pale-blue body suddenly exploded, making its body look fatter.

A large amount of blood flowed out from under the exploding scales.

Fang Mu found this scene hair-raising.

If a person with a fear of dense textures were forced to watch this scene, They'd likely be scared into becoming a frightened, bristling cat.

The body of the Frost Language Snow Dragon began to extend, and it stopped growing when it reached a length of about twelve meters.

The metamorphosis of Frost Language Snow Dragon was far less terrifying than that of Iron Thorn Carp.

The new scales were still pale blue, but these pale blue scales were tainted with a layer of frost.

Fang Mu noted that Frost Language Snow Dragon did not grow two horns on its head as expected, but instead, a single horn sprouted from the center of its forehead.

Fang Mu immediately knew that the evolved Frost Tone Snow Dragonling had a trace of Horned Dragon bloodline.

This single horn is the best proof!

The levels of the Horned Dragon and Hidden Jiao are nearly identical, both not part of the twelve major branches of the master dragon bloodline.

However, just as I was able to use Dragon Pearl Fragments and Blood Aged Wine to evolve Iron Thorn Carp into Ink Gold Water Dragon, and then metamorphose it again into Cangluan Ying Jiao,

So can I change the bloodline of Horned Dragon in Frost Tone Snow Dragonling once again.

Fang Mu checked the data of Frost Tone Snow Dragonling.

The exclusive feature that Frost Tone Snow Dragonling gained from reaching the epic quality is called [Frost Ash].

[Frost Ash]: Any target tainted with its own frost or frozen by itself will be eroded by frost and stripped of life energy. Once the target's life energy is completely stripped, an explosion will occur, igniting frost flames within range.

This exclusive feature, Frost Ash, greatly enhances the offensive power of the Frost Tone Snow Dragonling, which excels at wide-range elemental attacks.

Even if the snowfall under the skill [Frostfall] cannot cause substantial damage to the target, it can make their life energy fade away.

This effect is very suitable for battles between armies.

Once a Guardian Beast or Beast Master dies in the enemy army, the exploded frost flames will strike the surrounding teammates.

If the frost flames explode in a crowd, a chain reaction might occur, igniting a banquet intertwined with frost and flames.

On the Evolutionary Path, the first evolution route, Frost Tone Horned Dragon, further activated the bloodline of the Horned Dragon within the body.

The second evolution route, Eternal Frozen Snow Jiao, just from the name, one can discern that this evolution direction further enhances the attack power of the Frost Language Snow Dragonling.

However, the dragon race Guardian Beast differs from other types of Guardian Beasts. The enhancement of the bloodline is a matter that must be given priority during the breeding process of the dragon race Guardian Beast.

Therefore, the Eternal Frozen Snow Jiao is not under consideration by Fang

The third evolution route, Extremely Cold Qiu Yao, is even less than the second evolution route, Eternal Frozen Snow Jiao.

Looking at all the evolution routes of the Frost Language Snow Dragonling,

Fang Mu felt that the most suitable bloodline evolution route for Frost Language Snow Dragonling in the future should be evolution in the direction of the Elemental Dragon.

It seems that I must find a way to get the fragments of the Dragon Pearl with the bloodline of the Elemental Dragon of sequential rank ice attribute before the Frost Language Snow Dragonling is promoted to Diamond Rank.

Fang Mu, who also took back the Frost Language Snow Dragonling into the Purple Ice Crystal Ring, held his forehead with his hand when he looked at his messy room.

Just now, all his thoughts were on the strengthening of the Guardian Beasts.

But now, after strengthening the Guardian Beasts, smelling the strong smell of blood in the room.

Fang Mu felt really overwhelmed.

However, cleaning up isn't a big deal for Fang Mu, because Fang Mu has a good home helper, Suck Suck!

After summoning Suck Suck, Fang Mu knelt down and gently patted the Suck Suck part wrapped in the Mechanical Heart and said.

"Suck Suck, it's mealtime!"

"Try a new taste!"

Under the condition of Fang Mu squeezing his own handle, Suck Suck started eating and drinking with satisfaction.

Originally, Suck Suck was used to eating Alien Beast corpses, and he was tired of seeing the things of flesh and blood.

But as soon as the Jiao's blood entered his mouth, Suck Suck made a happy laugh simulated by gears.

The laugh simulated by the turning of the gears had a feeling of electro-acoustic music.

It's like a boorish man's giggle emitted through a voice changer.

Combined with Suck Suck's swallowing of the blood, scales, and thorns on the ground, it gives a feeling of hair-raising.

However, for such a scene, Fang Mu has long been used to it!

In Fang Mu's room, Lu Jihong specifically installed a full-length mirror made of White Crystal.

Fang Mu only looks at the mirror when he goes out on weekdays, to see if his appearance and demeanor are tidy.

Apart from this, Fang Mu basically never thinks about standing in front of the mirror and scrutinizing himself all day long.

The process of Frost Language Snow Dragon evolving into Frost Language Snow Dragonling didn't shed much blood.

But the process of Iron Thorn Carp evolving all the way into Cangluan Ying Jiao almost flooded Fang Mu's room.

Therefore, when cleaning the room with Suck Suck, Fang Mu has to pass by the full-length mirror.

Fang Mu casually took a glance at the full-length mirror.

Upon seeing it, Fang Mu's eyes widened abruptly.

Because Fang Mu found out that his hair in the mirror had become as red as blood and had dropped till his neck, and his eyes had completely turned black.

The pupils were occupied by a bubble-wrapped black goat's skull.

Just like the pupil distance of a normal person's eyes will automatically adjust. Fang Mu found that when he looked at the mirror closely, the bubble would dilate and contract.

The rotation speed of the black goat skull in the center of the bubble also changed.

Fang Mu subconsciously reached out and gently touched his eyes that looked like exaggerated beauty pupils.

If it wasn't for living in a Beastmaster world, Fang Mu would definitely think that some evil god has arrived when he saw such a figure..

Chapter 189 Matryoshka King, Fondly Butterfly Immortal Orchid! (Two in One)_I

Fang Mu forced himself to calm down, pondering why he had transformed into his current state.

Fang Mu, without noticing, focused his thoughts on his Destiny Guardian Beast, the Blood of Abundance.

Fang Mu felt that his current style was much too similar to that of the Blood of Abundance.

The Destiny Guardian Beast was initially without thought or consciousness.

However, with the increase in rank and quality, the Destiny Guardian Beast gradually becomes more intelligent.

The Blood of Abundance seemed to sense Fang Mu's thoughts and was set into motion as if it had been wronged, its walls resembling a digestive tract writhing rapidly.

It was as if it was silently accusing a shadow hidden behind itself.

Fang Mu didn't have the mindset to clean his room with Xixi at this time anymore.

After allowing Xixi to tidy up the room himself, Fang Mu began researching himself in an academic manner.

Fang Mu put the Blood of Abundance back into the Destiny Guidebook first.

Before Fang Mu could find out the specifics, he realized that the color of his hair and eyes were back to what they used to be the second the Blood of Abundance disappeared.

Fang Mu summoned the Blood of Abundance once again.

After a while, Fang Mu found that his eyes and hair color remained unchanged.

Suddenly, as if realizing something, Fang Mu mentally urged the Blood of Abundance to release the blood red fog.

Fang Mu discovered his strength increased when enshrouded by the blood red fog.

His pupils and hair color also transformed instantly into the previous, almost demonic, look.

Although the abilities of Destiny Guardian Beasts are peculiar, and there were cases where the Contractor had been enhanced, Fang Mu felt he'd rather not appear like this in public unless extremely necessary.

Otherwise, it might attract unnecessary trouble.

Even evils organizations like the Ancient Genesis, Evil Heart Sect, and Eternal Alchemy Association would probably accept him as a member seeing his transformed self.

Fang Mu always had a big heart.

Facing anything, he would thoroughly consider it but also accept what came fillingly!

Just like after Fang Mu was born, it only took him a day to accept the fact that he had traveled to another world.

So the changes the blood red fog brought to himself did not affect Fang Mu's good night sleep.

Fang Mu had completely relaxed these past few days.

In the daytime, he would go shopping with Fang Qin and Fang Yuan to buy some necessities for life.

In the evening, the three siblings would sit together in the front yard of the mansion and chat.

Rather than keeping the Grandmaster Craftsman's painstakingly crafted stone sculptures, Fang Mu preferred to plant some plants or raise a few adorable guardian beasts in the courtyard.

From the first day they arrived at the manor, Fang Yuan released the Sabretooth Snow Leopard.

The platinum-rank Sabretooth Snow Leopard was running all over the hill behind the manor.

This hill was in the city because it was next to Jinghai Tianyu University.

Despite excellent protection, a hill of 140-150,000 square meters can only accommodate a few golden-rank wolf beasts or some Black Back Mountain Pigs.

The Black Back Mountain Pig become extremely delicious when it reach copper tier, and by the time it hit the gold tier, it could be called a world-class delicacy!

Not to mention that Fang Mu's appetite had increased because of the Blood of Abundance.

Even if that hadn't been the case, devouring five kilos of Black Back Mountain Pig bones alone wouldn't be a problem for Fang Mu!

Fang Yuan knew that Fang Mu was now a Beast Master of the One-point Stars, his Beast Master's strength could only reach the Silver Stage, despite protection from She Wan, there was no security risk for Fang Mu living in the manor.

However, Fang Yuan had the Sabretooth Snow Leopard eliminate the Gold-rank wolf beasts prowling on the mountain just the same.

After dealing with the dangerous guardian beasts on the mountain, the Sabretooth Snow Leopard hunted the only golden tier Black Back Mountain Pig on the mountain.

Seeing this, Fang Qin cooked up a good meal using the Black Back Mountain Pig at night.

Sweet and sour ribs, braised spinal bones, pig bone and bamboo shoot soup, cold dressed pig skin jelly, charcoal grilled pork feet, hand ripped pig's heart...

Fang Qin made an impressive eight dishes in total and even kept two servings for Lu Xiaoyin and She Wan.

Lu Xiaoyin and She Wan were overjoyed.

Since Fang Qin had kept food for the two of them, they knew they had her approval.

What could be better than being accepted by the people they pledged loyalty to, their closest brother and sister!

However, Lu Xiaoyin and She Wan were clearly celebrating too soon.

When Fang Qin said she was cooking, both Fang Mu and Fang Yuan couldn't help but cringe.

If Yan Wood's cooking could be considered a form of "dark cuisine", then Yan Wood could easily pass the buck to Fang Qin.

Because Yan Wood learned her cooking skills from Fang Qin!

Fang Mu only hoped Fang Qin wouldn't ruin a perfectly fine Black Back Mountain Pig and make it taste like a stinky turtle!

Fang Mu and Fang Yuan grew up eating Fang Qin's cooking, which they were already accustomed to.

Just as people who always drink Chinese medicine can drink cold Chinese medicine without any reaction, without even needing to rinse their mouth with boiled water afterwards.

On the contrary, after a long period of not eating Fang Qin's cooking, now that they ate it again, Fang Mu and Fang Yuan felt a sense of warmth and nostalgia.

However, neither Lu Xiaoyin nor She Wan had ever experienced Fang Qin's cooking.

Lu Xiaoyin took a bite of the sweet and sour spare ribs, which looked appetizing, only to feel like a Black Back Mountain Pig had crashed into her mouth, snorting around and heading straight for the back of her throat!

If it were not for Lu Xiaoyin's strong determination, the sweet and sour spareribs in her mouth would have been spat out by now.

She Wan was even worse off than Lu Xiaoyin..

Chapter 190: Matryoshka King, Fondly Butterfly Immortal Orchid! (Two in One)_2

After all, Lu Xiaoyin had endured hardship for several years when she was younger.

However, as a noble lady of the Lu Dushe clan, She Wan was brought up indulging in the lap of luxury.

The chefs who made her meals were especially hired for their national award -winning culinary skills.

She Wan's taste was more than sufficient to judge any gourmet competition.

At this moment, She Wan felt like her taste buds had been brutally assaulted.

In order to swallow this sour and sweet pork ribs, She Wan couldn't help but mobilize her spiritual power to numb her taste buds with high-frequency spiritual fluctuations.

After struggling to swallow the pork ribs, She Wan hesitated on which dish to pick next.

The sweet and sour pork ribs were supposedly the easiest dish to make among the few, and She Wan had a hard time imagining what the other dishes tasted like.

However, Fang Qin had prepared so much that if she didn't eat more, it would seem like she wasn't showing support.

She Wan couldn't help but take a stealthy glance at Fang Mu and thought to herself.

Having endured such hardships since childhood, it's no wonder he studied so hard!

Fang Mu noticed She Wan and Lu Xiaoyin's struggle with each bite as if it took enormous determination, so he quickly interjected.

"She Wan, Xiao Yin, why don't you go see Grandmaster Lv Jihong?"

"They should be almost done with their work. Ask them to have a good meal at the Sea Banquet Palace."

Upon hearing Fang Mu's words, even She Wan who had strong control over her emotions barely concealed her delight. Fang Mu as a boss was just too considerate!

She Wan was the first to reply.

"I'll go find Grandmaster Lv Jihong with Xiao Yin!"

"Young Master, I've already contacted several Grandmaster Weavers, and they have sent me their design collections."

"I'll send it to your Q-Wechat later."

"As soon as you choose one, they will immediately head to JA City."

"If required, they can also go to other cities for service!"

Fang Mu nodded upon hearing this.

After Lu Xiaoyin and She Wan left, Fang Mu, taking advantage of his bottomless stomach, ate a few more bowls of rice.

Fang Qin laughed so hard her eyes were almost closed.

Fang Qin saw Fang Yuan had only eaten half a bowl of rice, she immediately brought over a dish.

She put a little of every dish on a plate for Fang Yuan, and placed it in front of him with annoyance.

“Even the Gold-ranked Black Back Mountain Pig doesn’t appeal to you! If it weren’t for Little Wood, where could we get such good food? ”

“You used to eat two bowls of rice when you were in college. Why are you eating less now?”

Fang Yuan twitched at the corner of his eye and started eating resignedly.

This isn’t about the Black Back Mountain Pig, is it, sister?

You’ve clearly turned the Black Back Mountain Pig into a disgusting turtle with your cooking!

How does this pig bone and green bamboo shoot soup taste like snail rice noodles?!

If it weren't for the fact that Fang Yuan had personally witnessed Fang Qin buying the seasonings, and their home was not prepared with any seasonings beforehand,

He would have suspected that Fang Qin had cooked the pig bones and green bamboo shoots with snail rice noodle soup!

Fang Yuan remembered the first time he tasted takeout when he started college, and he felt like he had discovered a new world.

He would even promote the restaurant he ate at to everyone in his dormitory.

However, his roommates all looked at him with weird expressions.

Later, Fang Yuan found out what was going on.

It turned out that the restaurant was widely recognized as the worst one in Jinghai Tianyu University.

After finishing his meal, Fang Yuan held back a burp.

Fang Yuan was afraid that it would taste like snail rice noodles, and it would make him feel sick.

Fang Mu turned to Fang Yuan and said.

“Brother, you know that the She family from Lu city is mainly known for rearing Beast Familiars, right?”

“I have spoken with She Wan and asked her to help you choose some Leopard Beasts that are especially suitable for you to contract from her family!”

“Those Leopard Beasts should be able to be shipped over by tomorrow, by then you should take a good look and choose.”

“Choose two Leopard Beasts to form a contract, including the Extreme Electric Cloud Leopard that I’ve prepared for you.”

“Because of your Destiny Guardian Beast, the Vicious Leopard Demon, it would only be equivalent to contracting two Guardian Beasts like everyone else.” Fang Yuan, who fully understood Fang Mu’s situation, excitedly nodded.

The Vicious Leopard Demon Destiny Guardian Beast is a nightmare for the poor.

For those without resources, it’s better to not have one.

But for those with background and resources, The Vicious Leopard Demon can be considered a very excellent entity.

If each Leopard Beast gets good nurturing resources.

Four Leopard Beasts fused by the Vicious Leopard Demon, can undoubtedly be considered the best among their rank in one-on-one combat!

“Only magic can defeat magic!”

The reason it cannot be called the strongest of its rank is not only because Fang Yuan knows there are superior forces out there,

But also because there are Destiny Guardian Beasts and Guardian Beasts that can be nested just like the Vicious Leopard Demon.

It is rumored that the Silkworm Cocoon Fairy Garden, a powerful force, has a Destiny Guardian Beast known as the Fondly Butterfly Immortal Orchid.

The Fondly Butterfly Immortal Orchid is the king of Guardian Beast nesting.

Every time the Fondly Butterfly Immortal Orchid advances in rank and quality, it has a chance to grow a flower stalk, which can produce varying numbers of flowers.

Each flower of the Fondly Butterfly Immortal Orchid can parasitize a Butterfly Beast, and establish a symbiotic relationship.

It is rumored that the current Family Head of the Silkworm Cocoon Fairy Garden has grown seven flower stalks on his Fondly Butterfly Immortal Orchid, totalling thirty-nine orchid flowers.

Which means, apart from nurturing the Fondly Butterfly Immortal Orchid, the current Family Head of the Silkworm Cocoon Fairy Garden also needs to grow thirty-nine Butterfly Beasts.

Fang Yuan found it hard to imagine what kind of consumption it would be for a person to nurture thirty-nine Butterfly Beasts in terms of resources..
