

Beast Tamer 191

Chapter 191: Matryoshka King, Fondly Butterfly Immortal Orchid! (Two in One)_3

Yet beyond the legend of their “Matryoshka beast” , the Silkworm Cocoon Fairy Garden, a semi-hidden faction, possesses a decidedly fantastical heritage.

It is said that each young member, whether from the direct line or side branches, upon awakening their Destiny Guidebook, receives a Fondly Butterfly Immortal Orchid.

Regardless of whether they awakened a Destiny Guardian Beast or what abilities it possesses,

They could only contract with the Fondly Butterfly Immortal Orchid beast.

Even though everyone starts the same, the resources and family background direct descendants have far surpass those of the side branch disciples.

Thus, in the end, the best cultivated Fondly Butterfly Immortal Orchids often come from the main line of the direct descendants, with all side branches serving as mere support.

For the Fondly Butterfly Immortal Orchid’s bloodline to advance further in crucial moments, they can intertwine roots.

A stronger Fondly Butterfly Immortal Orchid can absorb a weaker one, using the energy contained within it to enhance its own bloodline.

Therefore, side branch members of the Silkworm Cocoon Fairy Garden who form contracts with the Fondly Butterfly Immortal Orchid, hardly anyone ever survives to a ripe old age.

All of them end up becoming nourishment for the main line.

For a Beast Master who can only contract with one beast, having that beast sacrifice its life to strengthen another of its kind is akin to wasting decades of their life.

In such a faction, can there truly be no hatred between the main line and the side branches?

However, it seems there has never been a case of rebellion from the side branches of the Silkworm Cocoon Fairy Garden.

Seems like the oppression from the main line has already deprived the side branches of even their courage to fight back!

“Little Wood, I have already formed a contract with the Extreme Electric Cloud Leopard you gave me yesterday.”

“Since my beast pursues speed and lethality, I might as well carry on down this road.”

Fang Mu responded with a smile.

“Second Brother, you can make your own decisions regarding the direction of the beast contract!”

“I just have to go back and beg Master to help you and Big Sis strengthen your beasts.”

Fang Mu has always wanted to subtly change Fang Yuan and Fang Qin’s perceptions of his status as a Grandmaster Creator’s disciple.

The last time he spoke with Fang Qin and Fang Yuan, Fang Mu hadn’t paid much attention and used the word “let”.

Both Fang Yuan and Fang Qin are sensitive to the word “let”.

Fang Qin has repeatedly urged him to respect their Master on many occasions.

So this time, Fang Mu purposely used the word “beg”.

He deliberately spoke in a soft tone, akin to a child asking their kin for a favor.

Fang Mu made a plan in his mind, tentatively naming it 'Proud Big Brother and Sister Cultivation Plan 1.0'.

After talking about the situation of the Guardian Beasts, Fang Mu received a file sent by She Wan on his mobile phone.

Fang Mu forwarded the file to both Fang Qin and Fang Yuan, saying, "Big Sis, Second Brother, you guys take a look at this portfolio." "Each of you select two or three Grandmaster-level weavers!"

"Then I'll let She Wan contact these weavers."

"They will arrive in JA city in the next few days to provide service based on our schedule and location."

After finishing the strengthening of Fang Qin's two beasts, Fang Mu was very relaxed.

Leopard beasts are far less troublesome to cultivate than dragon breeds.

After Fang Yuan has chosen the beasts he wished to contract, Fang Mu just had to infuse some Blood Aged Wine into each Bronze Rank leopard beast.

As for Fang Yuan's Sabretooth Snow Leopard, which had already reached Platinum Rank, owing to its Perfect Quality, there was still some way to go before it could be upgraded to Epic Quality.

The effects of Blood Aged Wine are greatest the first time it's used.

Fang Mu plans to use the first effect of the Blood Aged Wine on the cutting edge, striving to elevate the Sabretooth Snow Leopard's quality to Legendary while it's still at Platinum Rank.

Then, seizing the momentum, he hoped to evolve the Sabretooth Snow

Leopard into a Tearing Sky Cold Leopard when it ascends to Diamond Rank.

In the next few days, Fang Mu planned to prepare a batch of high-star Creator's elixirs for Fang Yuan, specifically for the Sabretooth Snow Leopard, the Extreme Electric Cloud Leopard, and the other two beasts Fang Yuan was about to contract.

Fang Yuan and Fang Qin could still stay at home for three or four more days.

With his acting skills and subtle influence on Fang Yuan and Fang Qin, they would definitely be able to take the elixirs he prepared for them with peace of mind when they left.

By ten o'clock, the siblings ended their late-night chat.

Even if they're not beasts, summer mosquitoes can have an even greater impact on Beast Masters than some beasts!

Fang Yuan's room was next to Fang Mu's.

Walking side by side down the long hallway on the third floor, Fang Mu turned to Fang Yuan and said,

"Second Brother, once the guild is set up, I'd like you to help me keep an eye out for valuable beasts with cultivation potential."

"And some beasts that can be called auspicious."

As for spirit materials, Fang Mu in possession of Blood Aged Wine hardly has any need.

Also, when someone seeks his help, providing their own spirit materials is the most basic courtesy.

Fang Mu usually uses fairly common spirit materials to refine and purify elemental energy.

Even a third-rate small guild could easily get them, so Fang Mu didn't deliberately mention it to Fang Yuan.

Fang Yuan nodded heavily upon hearing this.

All things considered, this was the first request Fang Mu had made of him since setting up the guild.

Fang Yuan had long guessed that Fang Mu's Master was willing to let Fang Mu set up a guild to establish a reliable resource-gathering channel.

Otherwise, there would be no need to expend so many Creator resources just for the sake of Fang Mu, a disciple!

Therefore, Fang Mu's current request to him was likely a request made by Fang Mu's Master to Fang Mu.

No matter what, he had to do this well!

Fang Yuan was afraid that if he didn't do well, Fang Mu would be implicated as a result.

"Little Wood, I've noted all of these, you can rest assured and leave it to me!"

“When I come across those rare beasts with cultivation potential and those that are auspicious, I’ll contact you!”

“After all, we often call each other anyway.”

Returning to his room, Fang Mu read for over two hours.

Although it was already past midnight, Fang Mu didn’t feel the slightest bit sleepy.

Lately, Fang Mu had caught a break, no longer having to dash back and forth between the Creator’s Guild and the Cleaner Division like he used to. His energy was abundant every day.

Fang Mu is not the kind of person who can sit idle, so he decided to find something to do.

Suddenly, Fang Mu had a great idea.. Why not finish his promotion battle in the ranking section of the Battle Network!

Chapter 192: Battle Network “King of Avoiding Challenges”! (Two in One)_I

Fang Mu had recently logged into the Battle Network for the first time and had participated in battles both in the age division and the level division.

He had fought in six battles in total, of which five felt rather boring for Fang.

Fang Mu was not the type who liked to show off. After participating in the age division once, he had no plans of doing so again.

For Fang Mu, the Sequential Spiritual Instrument was not only a convenience for his daily life, but more importantly, it was a means of preserving his life.

Unlike some greenhorn, Fang Mu had no intention of showing off his new Sequential Spiritual Instrument, the Forest Resentment Bell, in the age division.

The only match that Fang Mu found satisfactory was the one against the Iron Arm Fire Monkey.

However, even that battle did not fully satisfy him.

That's because the Iron Arm Fire Monkey had only forced two skills out of the Rainy Doll, and did not manage to trigger any of the Rainy Doll's unique traits.

Furthermore, the Rainy Doll's most powerful attribute currently was its ability to transform into a Blood Noble.

When Fang Mu logged into the Battle Network again, he was oblivious to the chaos that had been stirred up in the Battle Network following his previous battles.

Even at the moment when Fang Mu was about to enter the level division for his promotion match, there was still a live stream happening in the age division on the Battle Network.

The streamer was Huan Wang, who had previously battled with Fang Mu in the age division.

Before his match against Fang Mu, Huan Wang had been a popular streamer in the age division.

Many low-level and mid-level Spirit-smithing Masters, even advanced Spirit Forgers, had cooperated with Huan Wang.

They allowed Huan Wang to use the spiritual instruments they forged in battle, then sold them in the livestream.

However, ever since Huan Wang lost the battle against Fang Mu, many Spirit-smithing Masters felt he had ruined his image as a noble.

They believed that marketing the spiritual instruments they forged under Huan Wang's name was akin to devaluing their brand.

There were plenty of streamers in the age division of the Battle Network, they saw no need to associate exclusively with Huan Wang.

Just as they had all assembled for the sake of profit, they also dispersed due to the same reason.

While Huan Wang had anticipated certain backlash, he had never imagined its severity.

She Jiazhen, a direct descendant of the Lu Dushe clan, had collaborated with him to gain access to the Spirit-smithing Masters at his disposal.

She Jiazhen even deliberately sourced for a Thunder Leopard Bracelet, a diamond spiritual instrument that required a considerable expenditure to trigger.

Huan Wang interpreted this as a flattering act.

Huan Wang did not believe that She Jiazhen, with his noble birth, would choose to trigger the Thunder Leopard Bracelet during a battle.

The Thunder Leopard Bracelet could perhaps be triggered in the Battle Network, but attempting the same in reality could result in backlash from the spiritual instrument.

Unless being protected by a powerful individual, survival would be unlikely. If there was indeed a powerful individual for protection, there would no longer be a need to activate the Thunder Leopard Bracelet in the first place.

Huan Wang could still recall the expressions on the faces of She Jiazhen's henchmen, Zhang He and Zhao Zihan, when he had logged off from the Battle Network.

She Jiazhen remained composed and did not ignore him because of his loss of power. However, She Jiazhen ceased discussing further collaborations with him.

This caused Huan Wang to feel greatly accomplished.

Usually, Huan Wang only streamed for two hours, not spending even a minute longer on the Battle Network.

Unless his livestream received a great deal of monetary rewards or a high-tier spiritual instrument used during the battle was directly purchased, Huan Wang would not stream an extra game.

Although Huan Wang knew that no matter how hard he tried, his popularity would not rise back to its peak due to the collapse of his public image.

However, even a slight increase in traffic meant good things for Huan Wang at this point.

Not all Spirit-smiths had chosen to end their collaboration with him.

However, if he could not produce any results soon, these Spirit-smiths would abandon him before long.

Therefore, Huan Wang had to work hard to prove he still has value!

Huan Wang, who usually only streamed for two hours, had now been streaming for ten hours.

Having faced ridicule from both casual viewers and fans, all Huan Wang could do was to self-deprecatingly say, "Falling into hard times, folks!"

Yet, despite streaming for an extra eight hours, Huan Wang's earnings from donations were still only a tenth of the usual two-hour stream.

Huan Wang's battles had always been exciting to watch because he was able to use new high-tier spiritual instruments every day.

But now, the Spirit Forgers who were collaborating with him were reluctant to lend him high-tier spiritual instruments.

Huan Wang could only use the gold and platinum spiritual instruments he had previously bought at a high price to please those advanced Spirit-smiths for his livestream.

Huan Wang understood that without new tricks, the viewers on his livestream would soon get bored.

However, he was out of ideas.

When he used to stream, Huan Wang enjoyed watching the barrage of comments, as viewers showered him with compliments.

His viewers used to type messages calling him a “tycoon” and “awesome”.

However, the change in the direction of the comments in recent days deterred Huan Wang from checking the barrage.

Just as Huan Wang was growing tired and thought to end the livestream when there were only several thousand viewers remaining, he glanced at the barrage of comments.

A few comments by regular viewers floated across his screen.

[Imperial_Shimofu]: “Huanzi, ever since you lost last time, I felt that maybe you could try changing your streaming mode and give the level division a try!”

[Goddess's_Veil]: "I agree! I've been watching Young Huan for three years, and the main reason I stuck around is because of his engaging commentary during livestreams. The age division is only for entertainment, if you want to make a name for yourself, you should go to the level division!"

[Nine_Salted_Fish]: "I came here to see spiritual instruments, but without new instruments and only these old ones we've seen countless times, it doesn't do the job.. It might be better to give the level division a try! I wonder if Huanzi has strong Beast Master's strength or not, and whether he can survive in the level division!?"

Chapter 193: Battle Network "King of Avoiding Challenges"! (Two in One)_2

If Wang Huan had seen such a message before, he would have ignored it.

Those who advised him to switch to the ranking division area had no idea how profitable the age division area was.

Indeed, he had no work to do without advanced spiritual instruments.

The number of fans was dropping daily because he was stalling in the age division area.

It would be better trying his luck in the ranking division area.

Wang Huan, a native of Lu City, came from a modest family within the city's upper circles.

Seeing much, Wang Huan knew that power was the key to everything.

The Lu Du Five Clans were powerful not just because of their vast industry and wealth, but also because they had martial power to guard their resources and money.

Understanding this, Wang Huan invested almost all his money in enhancing his Beast Master's strength.

Reflecting on the two Main Battle Mystic Beasts he had carefully cultivated, Wang Huan felt that he, as a Biproong Star Tamer, could indeed make a name for himself in the ranking division area!

His current ranking in the ranking division seemed to be in silver.

It was an excellent chance to rise through the ranks, fighting all the way to Gold.

Wang Huan's success wasn't purely based on luck.

He was someone with exceptional execution skills.

Having had the idea, Wang Huan, in his familiar voice, said fervently in the live streaming room.

“You guys want to see me fight in the ranking division, huh!? Okay, I’ll go play a few games to test the waters!”

“Honestly, I’ve wanted to try the ranking division for a long time!”

Having said that, Wang Huan immediately switched from the age division to the ranking division.

Then looking at his current ranking of Silver Five, with ninety-seven points,

he said,

“Folks, it’s late, I’ll just try a few games!”

“I’ll end the stream when I reach Silver Four with twenty victory points!” “Approximately three games, maybe twenty or thirty minutes”

“Friends, give me some support. Sweep the free Battle Blades. If possible, reward me with Battle Cars!”

“I’m starting right away!”

[Super Titanium Straight Man]: Has he really wanted to go the ranking division for a long time? Who can believe this lie! It must be because he can't compete in the age division anymore and is thinking of going to the ranking division for gold!

[Sunset over Wu Hill, a touch of red]: We know the truth but won't spill it. We can still be friends! However, Young Huan's rank is rather disappointing, it's not even as high as mine!

[Touch of Old Times]: What's happening? He has already switched divisions! If he can win consecutively until Silver Four with twenty victory points, I'll reward him with five Battle Cars! I support the anchor's transformation!

[My Dearest Love]: I'll start by giving a warship. Then, no matter when, as long as he wins five consecutive games, I'll give one more! Stay in the ranking division and run your streams well!

Before the duel with Jianmu, Wang Huan never thought about live-streaming in the ranking Division.

But as a live streamer, Wang Huan could say anything.

As soon as Wang Huan switched divisions, he knew that some people would question him and he would lose some fans.

But it was an inevitable part of making a living.

Wang Huan was left with no other choice when he decided to switch divisions.

However, once the choice was really made, Wang Huan found that the people who supported his change of divisions were not in the minority.

Wang Huan had never thought about the ranking division before.

With his strength, Wang Huan was confident that he could fight all the way up to Gold.

There was no doubt that he could score three consecutive wins tonight and reach Silver Four with twenty victory points.

Both of his Mystic Beasts were Gold-standard, so there was no reason for him to fail at Silver rank.

To win all the way up to Gold, he needed to play at least sixty or seventy rounds.

[My Dearest Love] was a bit famous on the Battle Network.

However, this user did not gain fame like the hosts did through the battles.

He had made a name for himself entirely through generous donations!

On the Battle Network, a warship was the highest level of gift, worth one hundred thousand Dragon Rising Coins.

The Battle Network and the host divided the profits equally, so Wang Huan still had fifty thousand Dragon Rising Coins left.

Receiving more than ten warships could earn him six to seven hundred thousand Dragon Rising Coins.

Just by receiving donations from one person, he could maintain his shop for the next two or three months.

If he could create more program effects, he should receive even more donations from the audience.

With no pressure, Wang Huan started queueing for the ranking battle, ready to wreak havoc in the Silver Division.

In about half a year, he should be able to become a Three Point Star Beast Master.

After becoming a Three Point Star Beast Master, he would elevate his beasts to Platinum level.

Even if he couldn't continue in the Age Division, he would surely have a place in the Ranking Division!

Liu Tiantian was somewhat plunged into shock when she found out that all of Jianmu's battle videos had disappeared from the Battle Network.

It took her a few days to recover.

This resulted in her underperforming when she went to offline commentary, disappointing many high-ranking officials in the Beastmaster Alliance who used to appreciate Liu Tiantian.

Fortunately, Liu Tiantian quickly realized her unusual condition and made adjustments in a very short time.

She redeemed her image in the eyes of these officials through exceptional performances in subsequent commentaries.

This enabled Liu Tiantian to continue commentating on the group matches in the following week.

Lately, Liu Tiantian, for some reason, would constantly log onto the Battle Network to check for news on Jianmu.

After logging in, she would not check the latest news as she did before.

After reading some of the books recommended by her seniors late at night, she subconsciously logged onto the Battle Network again..

Chapter 194: Battle Network “King of Avoiding Challenges”! (Two in One)_3

Liu Tiantian had investigated Jianmu and found that Jianmu was a complete unknown.

He had never participated in a competition in any age group, and the same goes for the Ranking division!

The power or person who erased Jianmu’s fight videos from the Battle Network didn’t choose to erase the rumors about Jianmu.

This indicates that the power or person behind Jianmu just doesn’t want Jianmu’s spiritual instrument and Guardian Beast to be exposed.

Under these circumstances, it is quite possible that Jianmu will still have a chance to face opponents on the Battle Network in the future.

Liu Tiantian was very confident about her speculation.

But after a whole week, Liu Tiantian checked the Battle Network every day without discovering any new rumors about Jianmu.

This made Liu Tiantian feel a little discouraged and deflated.

Not only Liu Tiantian, but all those who had watched Fang Mu's two past battle videos, the grumpy old men always hanging around in the Skin Peeling House, and even lots of Battle Network hosts and no-name reporters.

They were all keeping an eye on the situation with Jianmu.

News about Jianmu could still generate tremendous heat whenever it was released.

For journalists making a living on the Battle Network, this heat and the related views translate into money.

Once anyone gets new information about Jianmu, even if it's not exclusive, there's a chance for them to make a fortune.

Those hosts who are paying attention to Jianmu are hoping that they, too, can matchup with him.

Xin Guang gained considerable exposure from his one-time face-off with Jianmu during the time the videos were not deleted.

As a result, he was directly accepted as a trainee by a large club.

After two and a half years of training, Xin Guang will have a chance for an evaluation.

If he passes, he will be permitted to stay on the main team of the large club as a substitute.

If he fails, he won't be kicked out, but will be relegated to the B or C team to participate in some commercial city leagues.

This worst-case scenario is still far better than Xin Guang's original dream.

Xin Guang can be said to have fully relied on Jianmu's popularity.

Under Jianmu's shining spotlight, even his opponent, Xin Guang, basked in the glory.

The ultimate goal of many Battle Network hosts is to earn the appreciation of a club.

But becoming part of a large club is extremely difficult.

Xin Guang paved a shortcut purely based on luck.

This shortcut can be replicated by anyone who encounters Jianmu!

Given that all the Battle Network hosts across all ranking divisions wanted to meet Jianmu,

The average live broadcast duration on the Battle Network increased by over two hours in the past week.

Many Battle Network journalists reported on this phenomenon.

For those who love watching live streams, this week's broadcasts were simply too enjoyable!

Hosts who used to log off once their slots were up, now find excuses to extend their broadcasts.

Once they learned the reason from the articles published by Battle Network journalists,

Jianmu, who hadn't showed up on the Battle Network and hadn't had a single match in the past week, was hailed as the "King of Avoiding Challenges".

At this time, Fang Mu had started his first promotion match.

Fang Mu was transported to the battlefield and found that the battleground for the Bronze to Silver promotion matches was more than four times larger than the one for the calibration matches.

The ten-meter-wide and sixty-meter-long field had become twenty meters wide and one hundred and twenty meters long.

Clearly, the increase in battlefield size was to give Silver Stage Guardian Beasts enough room to perform.

When a Guardian Beast reaches the Silver Stage, it possesses two skills.

When a Beastmaster contracts two Guardian Beasts, they can coordinate and formulate battle strategies.

Only with sufficient distance can the entire battle be considered fair.

Some Elemental Beasts that excel at long-range attacks have extremely weak physical defenses.

Without enough distance, these long-range attack beasts might get knocked out by melee beasts before they can even use their skills.

During his standoff with Fang Mu, Xin Guang didn't choose to attack immediately with his Iron Arm Fire Monkey when he saw that Fang Mu had summoned a Silver Stage Half-Elf.

On one hand, he was startled by the appearance of Rainy Doll, delaying his judgment.

On the other hand, Xin Guang felt that in the sixty-meter long arena, the two Beast Masters weren't standing at the two ends of the field.

The distance between them was only about forty meters.

Facing an Elemental Beast adept at long range attacks, even his Half-Elf's Iron Arm Fire Monkey could close in quickly.

Even if it couldn't threaten Rainy Doll, the Iron Arm Fire Monkey's [Fire Eye Burn] could still kill Jianmu in a surprise attack.

However, it became clear that Xin Guang miscalculated.

Xin Guang was deeply troubled by this.

If he had performed better during his matchup with Jianmu,

There was a good chance he could have gotten a better contract when he was recognized by the large club.

Fang Mu thought the opponents he would meet in the promotion matches would be stronger than those in the calibration matches.

However, Fang Mu soon realized he had miscalculated.

The opponent he met in the first promotion match only had two Bronze Stage Guardian Beasts, and there was no cooperation between these two Beasts.

Both were aggressive beasts, acting rashly on their own, which is indeed an easy way to take advantage based on body strength in lower-ranking duels.

No wonder they made it to the promotion match from Bronze to Silver.

Fang Mu hastily dispatched the two opponents he was matched up within his two successive matches.

When Fang Mu was preparing for the third match, he suddenly received an official message from the Battle Network.

[V Battle Net]: Given that your account “Jianmu” has high hidden scores, you’ve been granted a chance to skip a few ranks.

If you choose to use the opportunity to skip ranks, the system will match you with an opponent at Silver Rank Level Four. If you defeat the opponent, you can directly advance to Silver Rank Level Four.

Fang Mu became interested at once.

After participating in the Battle Network contest last time, Fang Mu specially researched the situation in the Battle Network Ranking division.

He learned about the concept of hidden scores in the Ranking division.

If your hidden scores are high enough and you win two matches in a row, you can get a chance to skip a few ranks from the Battle Network during your final promotion match.

Since Fang Mu began playing in the Battle Network Ranking division, he has always been on a winning streak, but so far, he has only played seven matches.

Unexpectedly, he could get this opportunity during the promotion match after winning seven matches in a row.

With Rainy Doll, his Legendary Quality Silver Rank Level Ten Guardian Beast, Fang Mu had nothing to fear in the Silver Rank.

Fang Mu was eager to face off against a strong opponent, so he immediately accepted the Battle Network's offer..

Chapter 195: Thunder Horn Rhinoceros and White Plum Healing Deer! (Two in One)_I

At the same time, Fang Mu realized something.

That was why his average opponent during the rating matches was stronger than the ones he faced in the promotion matches.

It must be because of the hidden points!

After all the rating matches were over, the hidden points he had accumulated through consecutive wins should have been cleared.

Now, after winning two consecutive promotion matches, he got such an opportunity. It seemed that triggering a ranking jump was not difficult.

Fang Mu believed the Battle Network did not establish the ranking jump mechanism solely for the convenience of Beast Masters who wanted to rank up.

It was also aimed at enhancing the experience of other Beast Masters in battles, so they wouldn't be matched with opponents who were too strong.

Fang Mu's guess about Battle Network's intentions was quite accurate. However, eight out of ten ranking jump opportunities sent out by the Battle Network would be directly refused.

Few were as audacious and talented as Fang Mu!

Actually, except for people like Fang Mu who had just started on the Battle Network, others usually rose a tiny notch after losing some and winning some.

The ranking points in the Battle Network were of great benefit to reality.

Therefore, as soon as other Beast Masters improved a bit, they would try to raise their ranking as much as possible.

Many Beast Masters had played in the promotion matches seven or eight times, and due to a lucky streak of winning two games in a row, they received a ranking jump chance sent by the Battle Network.

But once they accepted this opportunity and lost, the previous winning streak would be in vain.

Of course, there were also bolder ones who wanted to take a risk and aim for a bigger win.

But when there were enough examples of being beaten up, those brash ones learned their lesson.

To ensure the fairness of the ranking jump, the Battle Network often matched players with opponents who had higher hidden points in the ranking they intended to jump to.

Such opponents might not even be at the current ranking in terms of strength.

Fang Mu played two promotion matches. During the second match, he realized that the opponent recognized him!

This surprised Fang Mu. When did he become so well-known on the Battle Network!?

Fang Mu, who never visited gossip forums, had no idea about how popular he was on the Battle Network.

He was even more unaware that although there were no videos, the news of his re-entry into the Battle Network had already spread.

Many Battle Network reporters and hosts acted upon hearing the news.

However, unfortunately, Jianmu was not a host and simply could not figure out Jianmu's movements.

Seeing the unexpected opponent he encountered in his ranking jump, Fang Mu raised an eyebrow in surprise.

Could it be that there are so few people dueling on the Battle Network at midnight?

He ran into someone he had matched with before in just his third match today!

This person named [Huan] was previously in the Age Division, right? He even seemed to be a host!

Why is he in the Ranking Division now!?

Fang Mu had a good memory and didn't suffer from face blindness.

Moreover, it was this host named [Huan] who made Fang Mu aware of the automatic protection function of the Dragon Soul in the Sequential Spiritual Instrument, the Purple Ice Crystal Ring.

Although Fang Mu was a bit surprised, he directly summoned the Rainy Doll.

Since the last Battle Network competition, Fang Mu's Rainy Doll had leveled up six times.

There was no significant difference in appearance compared to before.

However, if a scholar who had studied Elemental Beasts saw the current Rainy Doll, he would definitely be astonished at Fang Mu's way of cultivating the Rainy Doll.

The blue, orange, red, and black colors on Rainy Doll's body are considerably brighter than before.

This indicated that the Rainy Doll's internal elemental storage had increased exponentially compared to before.

An increase in the internal elemental reserve of an Elemental Beast would cause its combat power to rise exponentially.

Huan Wang had been live-streaming for over eight hours. He had to keep the atmosphere lively in the live room throughout the process.

He was completely exhausted!

The only thing that kept him going was that after another victory, he could avail of a warship reward, finish the broadcast and rest.

Frankly speaking, it felt somewhat shameless for Huan Wang to bully those Beast Masters who only had Bronze or Silver Stage Guardian Beasts with his Gold Stage Guardian Beast.

But for the sake of more consecutive wins and more fans' rewards,

Huan Wang stubbornly refused the ranking jump opportunity he had just received.

Huan Wang had not yet had a chance to pay attention to his opponent's information, while the audience in the live broadcast room, who had a bird's-eye view, went insane!

[Xiao Xue Will Arrive]: Jian, Jianmu! What kind of godly destiny is this!? I'm shipping Huan and Mu CP! This kind of karmic relationship cannot be encountered unless one digs up the grave from the opponent's past eighteen lives!

[Everlasting Killer]: Enough! CP can be grounded, but not be grounded to the underworld! I bet Huanzi will turn green when he finds out he's matched with Jianmu!

[Peipei Time]: Young Huan's two Guardian Beasts are both at the Gold Stage and have been upgraded to Perfect Quality. Since Spiritual Instruments can't be used in the Ranking Division, do you think Young Huan is going to take revenge this time?

[Solo-cupping Stupid Fish]: I think this revenge is definitely going to happen!

No matter how awesome a Silver Stage Half-Elf is, it can't possibly defeat two Gold Stage Guardian Beasts that have been cultivated with excellent resources!

While the comments were flying rapidly in the live broadcast room, Huan Wang noticed information about his opponent.

[Jianmu]: Age sixteen, male, ranking: (Bronze promotion match, in the middle of a ranking jump).

This name and age were like a demon in Huan Wang's heart.

Even after switching divisions, this name and age still gave Huan Wang the creeps.

But upon thinking that Jianmu owned a Silver Stage Half-Elf Guardian Beast, Huan Wang felt a thrill rushing up his spine..

Chapter 196: Thunder Horn Rhinoceros and White Plum Healing Deer! (Two in One)_2

This kind of excitement made Huan Wang's body tremble uncontrollably.

The saying goes that you get up where you fall.

He had been defeated by Fang Mu in the age group, now if he could beat Fang Mu in the ranking division.

With Fang Mu's sizzling popularity, he'd have successfully marked his stay in the ranking division!

The thought of being able to continue making big money happily led Huan Wang to make a decision.

He had to drag out the combat time as long as possible!

The news of him encountering Fang Mu in the live broadcast would spread quickly, and many people would flood his live streaming room.

Riding Fang Mu's coattails to hype up his own livestream, he'd be in a prime position to succeed.

Even a pig could fly in a strong wind, let alone himself who he believed wasn't a pig at all.

He was a little dragon!

But he could drag out the time only if Fang Mu gave him a chance!

Huan Wang believed that Fang Mu shouldn't decide to attack him directly unless he decided to summon a guardian beast.

Nevertheless, Huan Wang casually waved at Fang Mu from a distance. "Long time no see, Jianmu! Didn't expect us to bump into each other like this!"

Huan's tone sounded as if he'd bumped into an old friend he hadn't seen in years.

Anyone with clear intelligence could easily see through this obvious stalling tactic.

But there were always some gullible spectators in the live broadcast room who weren't good at thinking.

[Speaker Bull]: What!? Young Huan and Fang Mu know each other!? I knew Young Huan was a true aristocrat!

[Heroic Hero]: He knew him, yet he was so brutal last time. Is this how he treats friends?

For the clear-headed people in the live broadcast room, they simply ignored idiotic comments.

There was no qualification to log into the Battle Network, as long as one was a Beast Master, so it's not surprising that all sorts would appear.

Some perfectly clear-minded people, such as certain Battle Network anchors and journalists who heard the news and rushed over, were quite disdained by Huan Wang's blatant association and delaying tactics!

A young man who has a Sequential Spiritual Instrument and contracted an Elemental Beast, and whose bloodline is elevated to a Half-Elf at the silver stage – this isn't someone a small-time Battle Network livestream can simply be acquainted with.

It shouldn't be easy to attach oneself to this genuinely gifted individual!

Fang Mu instantly saw through Wang Huan's petty tricks.

In his previous life, the livestreaming industry was much more developed than in this one.

He may not have eaten a Black Back Mountain Pig before, but he had seen one run!

Fang Mu didn't plan to give this broadcast host named [Huan] any chance to stall.

The Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen had suggested wanting to devour soul power many times, but all had been refused by Fang Mu.

After being refused five or six times by Fang Mu, the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen started to become autistic, not even wanting to hatch the eggs she laid!

What could Fang Mu do about such an irresponsible and temperamental queen ant?

He had to humor her!

Fang Mu directly gave orders to Rainy Doll.

"Clear Sky, Silent Tear!"

Upon hearing Fang Mu's command, the shy and gentle Rainy Doll immediately executed his instructions.

Rainy Doll's figure faded a bit, her clothes were no longer as splendid as before, and the cloud beneath her feet also shrank quite a bit.

Water mist spread out from Rainy Doll as the origin, in an instant.

Light rain began to fall in the water mist.

As Rainy Doll's tears welled up and rolled down her cheeks, the speed of the water mist spread became even faster!

The accumulated rain on the ground corroded the green brick floor, creating a bizarre mist that was white with a hint of yellow.

Huan Wang thought that by taking the initiative to greet and flatter Jianmu for their previous duel, it could stall for a long time.

What youngster wouldn't like to be flattered?!

But now, Jianmu didn't give him any chance to continue talking and went straight on the offensive.

If it were any other Silver Stage Guardian Beast, Huan Wang would not need to worry too much.

However, first of all, this Silver Stage Half-Elf was an expert in using poison. It could even dissolve something as large as an Iron Arm Fire Monkey into thick juice, leaving no corpse behind.

This kind of malignancy was too terrifying for creatures of flesh and blood.

Once it could break through the defenses of creatures of flesh and blood, there wouldn't be much difference between a Gold Stage and Silver Stage guardian beasts, both would suffer damage.

However, the resistance of Gold Stage guardian beasts was much higher than that of Silver Stage guardian beasts, they should be able to withstand it for a longer time!

The two guardian beasts contracted by Huan Wang included one whose fighting style was similar to that of the Iron Arm Fire Monkey, a frontline aggressive-type beast which launched dual-attacks with its physical form and elemental damage. This kind of guardian beast was very popular in teams, unlike control-type beasts and long-range group attack beasts, which were quite picky about their team's choice.

The other guardian beast was a Healing Series beast, and it also had detoxification abilities.

This was Huan Wang's confidence in the face of Fang Mu!

In response to Rainy Doll, who was already on the attack, Huan Wang waved his hand, and directly summoned his two guardian beasts.

A rhinoceros, five meters long with two huge horns on its head, appeared in front of Huan Wang.

The longer horn of this rhinoceros exceeded two meters while the shorter one was about 1.2 meters long.

Such long horns seemed disproportionate on this 5-meter-long rhinoceros, but they showed the rhinoceros's unparalleled lethal power and aggressiveness.

The rhinoceros's skin was covered with a layer of brownish-yellow substance, similar to calluses.

With his knowledge, Fang Mu knew that this was the unique shield-like layer of skins of the Shield Rhinoceros.

It had a very strong defensive effect!

Chapter 197: Thunder Horn Rhinoceros and White Plum Healing Deer! (Two in One)_3

It could resist physical damage from external attacks while also preventing elemental damage invasion.

By the rhinoceros, a little deer with snow-white fur and light green plum spots stood idly.

The small deer was about the same size as a pet cat.

After being summoned, it immediately hopped into Huan Wang's arms.

The horns of the deer lit up slightly, and a light green plum-shaped mark was immediately imprinted on the double-horned rhinoceros in front of it.

As soon as Huan Wang had summoned his beasts, Fang Mu used his Eye of Omniscience to investigate them.

[Beast Name]: Thunder Horn Rhinoceros

[Beast Species]: Shield Rhinoceros / Horned Rhinoceros Genus

[Beast Level]: Gold (6/10)

[Beast Element]: Earth System [Beast Potential]: Platinum [Beast Quality]: Perfect

Skills:

[Cleave Horn]: When charging forward, the double horns cleave ahead to release two horn blades, when the two blades overlap, the second blade will amplify the power of the first one.

[Earth spikes Step]: Stomp forward with both feet, the body and the area in front of the feet form spikes of earth element, which pin the targets to the ground; the ground under the influence also grows spikes within a certain range.

[Rhinoceros Type Armor]: An armor made up of earth elements condenses on the body, replicating its physique adding a layer of defense, the armor isolates elemental damage but significantly reduces movement speed.

Exclusive Traits:

[Heavyweight Musculature]: Each muscle in its body increases its original weight, providing strength far beyond its peers.

[Beast Name]: White Plum Healing Deer

[Beast Species]: Short-legged Deer / Flower Petal Deer Genus

[Beast Level]: Gold (9/10) [Beast Element]: Wood System/ Earth System

[Beast Potential]: Platinum [Beast Quality]: Perfect

Skills:

[Heal Wound]: Through the horns, a green glow with healing effects heals the physical injuries of the target, it is extremely effective on external wounds.

[Flower Blessing Mark]: Imprints a flower-shaped mark on the target, the target marked with the flower-shaped mark will be more receptive to healing energy and it can also increase its self-healing range.

[White Plum Blessing]: Blesses the target with the power of purity, the blessed target can expel any toxins in their body.

Exclusive Traits:

[Active Empowerment]: It activates the vitality of the target while healing them, accelerating their metabolism.

After an investigation, Fang Mu's face became serious at first, but then he immediately relaxed.

Finally, he could participate in a decent fight!

This Thunder Horn Rhinoceros is a strong attacking beast but can be excellently described as defensive too.

It is clear that Huan Wang has spent abundant resources on the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros.

If it was not periodically fed with earth elemental energy, the skills acquired with the promotion of its rank would not resonate with the earth element energy with such strength.

When this Thunder Horn Rhinoceros activates its gold-level skill, Rhinoceros Type Armor, it can form a solid fortress to resist external attacks.

Yet, it also boasts a strong offensive power during normal attacks.

The Cleave Horn skill may be average – its highlight being a two-stage amplification.

But the Earth Spikes Step skill is simply brutal.

Using its hoofs, it forms an earth spike to pin the target to the ground. Given the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros's weight and strength, few beasts of the same rank can defend against this attack.

Once the target is pinned to the ground by this earth spike, its suffering has only just begun.

An enormous surge of earth spikes erupts from beneath the opponent's beast, threatening to impale the enemy plunged into the ground by the Earth Spike Trample attack.

The exclusive characteristic of Heavy Muscle enhances Thunder Horn Rhinoceros' strength while significantly boosting its defense.

Pairing it with the Gold-Level skill Rhino Type Armor effectively neutralizes the Rainy Doll's reliance on its venomous attacks.

Add to that the White Plum Healing Deer, a healing beast that Huan Wang might have cultivated with more resources, supporting the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros from the sidelines.

Additionally, the White Plum Healing Deer has a detoxification effect.

If Fang Mu's Rainy Doll remains at the same power level as their previous battle,

Even with the unique feature [Poison Mark Fragments], it would be difficult to damage the Rhino Type Armor layered over the Level-6 Gold Thunder Horn Rhinoceros.

Yet, Rainy Doll is absorbing various Poison Crystals every day, enhancing the venom it contains.

Since the increased ranks and quality expedited the acquisition of Poison Crystals, the pace has increased substantially.

The venom level of Rainy Doll differs every day.

As of now, Rainy Doll has completely covered Fang Mu's half of the field using the skill Silent Tear.

The present coverage area of Silent Tear has almost reached Rainy Doll's limit.

Fang Mu feels a twinge of regret for the coverage area of Rainy Doll's skill on the battlefield.

If Rainy Doll could cover the entire battlefield, the fight would be much easier!

If the viewers of Huan Wang's live stream room knew Fang Mu's thoughts, they would certainly shout "Shameless"!

As Rainy Doll's coverage of the battlefield has already caused a commotion in Huan Wang's streaming room.

[Choose Nine]: Crazy! Even a Silver Stage Elemental Beast, having become a Half-Elf, shouldn't be able to influence the elements within a radius of thirty meters, right? Why do I feel that many Gold Stage Elemental Beasts can't reach this range!?

[Dream of Snow Moon Flower]: Don't feel, just believe! In outdoor battles, Elemental Beasts can draw energy from nature or integrate with certain weather conditions. It wouldn't surprise me if Jianmu's Elemental Beast covered a 200-meter area in rainy weather! But the Elemental concentration in the simulated Battle Network Arena equals the outside world, so you can't draw that much from it! It all depends on their own ability!

[Blue Tinted with Sunshine]: Damn! Is this a Silver Stage Half-Elf? I'm really curious about the quality of this Silver Stage Half-Elf. Can any expert analyze [Farewell Poetry]: Based on the current situation, when Jianmu's beast advances to Gold Stage, it should at least cover a radius of 100 meters around him! Even at the peak of Gold Stage, covering a radius of 150 meters wouldn't be impossible!

Many Battle Network journalists and audiences in the live streaming room constantly express their surprise and admiration.

Coverage of the battlefield is an extremely important hidden value for any beast.

Usually, Domain-Type Control Beasts have the best battlefield coverage.

However, the Silver Stage Half-Elf contracted by Jianmu compares favorably with the battlefield coverage of a Silver Stage Domain-Type Control Beast! Huan Wang realizes this and immediately launches a counterattack.

He can't let Jianmu's Rainy Doll get too close to his half of the field.

Because Elemental Beasts often have many long-range attacks.

Huan Wang fears that if the distance is too close, Jianmu might choose to attack him, the Beast Master, directly.

Human Beast Masters are feeble.

Even the robust Iron Arm Fire Monkey, once affected by its toxin, can be reduced to a concentrated liquid in a minute.

If he gets a touch of it, he may not have the opportunity to let White Plum Healing Deer use its skill White Plum Blessing to remove the toxins on him.

He too would corrode like a soft, succulent beast.

Huan Wang fears his own attack but is extremely confident about the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros he has painstakingly cultivated.

Huan Wang operates two Gold-Stage Beasts, facing Jianmu who has only summoned one Silver-Stage Beast.

Huan Wang certainly can't bring out all of his hidden trump cards at once.

In the eyes of the live broadcast audience, this will make him seem too cowardly!

If this were to get out, wouldn't Huan Wang lose face!?

Now the audience in the live streaming room has started calling him "Huanzi".

Huan Wang secretly thinks that someday, the audience in the live streaming room will call him "Young Huan" again!

Since the dignity was lost because of Jianmu, he will pick it back up from Jianmu!

On receiving instructions from Huan Wang, the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros has already charged into the area covered by Rainy Doll's Silent Tear..

Chapter 198: Blood Race! It's Actually the Blood Race! (Two in One)_I

As a Battle Network streamer, Huan Wang's top priority was always the show's presentation.

Other than those streamers who only ever play defensively, acting too timid during a battle is a surefire way to lose followers.

However, Huan Wang had not considered that, other than being defensive, to play dumb is equally detrimental to a streamer's popularity!

[Jia Jia Doesn't Eat Meat]: Huanzi let his guard down! Didn't he see the posts about the Jianmu Guardian Beast? Jianmu's half-elf can suppress the fire output of the Iron Arm Fire Monkey's Fire Arm Dance. It certainly has an element-suppressing effect!

[What Happened at Base 13]: I really don't get what the streamer is thinking.

Does he underestimate a Silver Stage half-elf or is he just messing around!? Isn't the ultimate goal of a rank match to win?

[Income is not enough]: Can you put in more effort? Who knows when we'll see Jianmu online again! Can you pressure Jianmu into showing more of his cards?

[Worshipping the Past]: I watch the ranked division for learning battle techniques, what is the streamer's maverick approach here? Are all the streamers who switch from the age division this stupid?

Originally, Huan Wang planned to occasionally check the changes in the number of viewers in the live broadcast room during his battle with Jianmu and then look at the barrage of feedback.

However, Rainy Doll didn't give Huan Wang time to do so.

As soon as the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros entered the range of Silent Tear, Rainy Doll began sobbing profusely.

She cried as if she was a young girl betrayed by eight hundred boyfriends!

Drops as big as beans fell from Rainy Doll's sapphire-like eyes, splashing onto her rainclouds underneath.

The ink-colored clouds rapidly swelled and became denser.

The shields of rain around the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros were so dense that they appeared like falling columns of water, with hardly any distance between each raindrop.

If a cyclonic wind were to pass at this moment, it could certainly fuse the numerous raindrops together.

The yellow-green rainwater instantly soaked the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros from head to toe.

Since the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros belongs to the Shield Rhinoceros family of Guardian Beasts, it is covered in a thick layer of armor.

Under the pelting rain, the dried and thickened outer shield layer wasn't immediately broken through.

Instead, it was merely charred by the Acid Poison and Erosion Poison, emitting smoke and the unpleasant smell of burning hair.

Though the armor of the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros wasn't directly penetrated, not all parts of the rhinoceros were covered by it.

The Thunder Horn Rhinoceros has eyelids to protect its eyes, but there's no shielding armor on the eyelids.

The eye sockets of the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros are inherently recessed, much like the clavicles of a graceful woman filled with rainwater, that can harbor fish.

In an instant, the Acid Poison and Erosion Poison soaked through the Rhinoceros' eyelids.

The eyelid started dehydrating and cracking under the acidic corrosion, revealing fresh red flesh.

But the flesh only remained red for a moment. Under the influence of the Mold Poison, it quickly turned into a rotten, brownish-green color.

With the eyeball as the breakthrough point, the toxins invaded the body of the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros.

Within a short span of three seconds, the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros was blinded.

Animals can use their sense of hearing to determine direction in addition to sight.

If it weren't for the long hairs in his rhino ears, whether the Thunder Rhinoceros would be deaf before blind was uncertain.

These hairs were quickly melted by the Acid Poison and Erosion Poison.

What was originally defensive hair turned into a drain stick, diverting rainwater into the rhinoceros's cochlea.

The Thunder Horn Rhinoceros let out a terrible scream.

The change in the battlefield situation immediately drew Huan Wang's attention, so he could not attend to other things.

He had to focus all his energy on the battle in front of him.

Huan Wang knew that Jianmu's Silver Stage half-elf had a strong toxicity, but he didn't expect the toxicity to be so strong.

It actually caused such significant damage to his Thunder Horn Rhino when crossing a significant rank gap!

This level of toxicity was beyond reason.

Even without seeing the comments in the broadcast room, Huan Wang knew that the barrage of comments wouldn't be praising him.

While issuing commands to the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros through his spiritual power, asking it to use the Rhino Type Armor skill.

He covered his body with an armor layer using the surrounding earth element energy to isolate the toxins.

Due to the Rhino Type Armor significantly slowing down the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros, it practically became a stationary target in the rain curtain.

After directing the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros, Huan Wang commanded the White Plum Healing Deer in his arms to cast the healing spell 'White Plum Blessing and Healing' on the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros, which had been hit with the Flower Blessing Mark.

On one hand, healing the damage to the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros, and on the other, removing the toxins from its body.

Because of the Active Empowerment exclusive characteristic, the Rhino's slightly fractured shield was showing signs of recovery.

[Fearless of Typing]: Young Huan's beast withstood Jianmu's attack. If the poison doesn't take effect, Jianmu should lose, right?

[Plane Tree on the High Board]: Stupid! Too stupid! At the height of stupidity! Not using defensive power before entering the rain curtain and using it after entering has made you a sitting duck! If you had simply stormed past him and launched a suicide attack, Jianmu would have been killed instantly unless he summoned another beast, as he has no melee ability!

[As Your Heart Desires]: Why do I feel that the mold growing in the rhinoceros's eye sockets is spreading faster than before? That area around the mouth, those mycelium crawling out are disgusting!

Chapter 199: Blood Race! It's Actually the Blood Race! (Two in One)_2

Fang Mu was waiting for the White Plum Healing Deer to treat the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros.

The skill of the White Plum can eliminate Acid Poison, Erosion Poison, Blood Poison, and even has a certain detoxifying effect on spiritual toxins.

But in the face of Mold Poison and cell toxins from the Black Nightmare Snake, they are helpless!

On the contrary, these living Mold Poisons and cell toxins would increase metabolism and proliferate under the influence of White Plum's unique Active Empowerment skill.

The shell of the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros is thick, and its unique muscle bulk makes the hardness of the tense muscles similar to the bones.

Even with the current toxicity strength of Rainy Doll, it would take some effort to break through these muscles.

However, poison attack never required breaking all the defenses of the opponent.

As long as you can break through a spot and let the poison penetrate into the circulation system.

That would be equivalent to victory!

Under the effect of White Plum Healing Deer's Active Empowerment, the body metabolism of Thunder Horn Rhinoceros accelerates, which speeds up the internal cycle.

Mold Poison and cell toxins have already been transported throughout the body of the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros.

After the cell toxin broke the lymph, the veins of the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros showed signs of blackening because of the Mold Poison.

Fang Mu knew that Huan Wang would allow the White Plum Healing Deer to treat Thunder Horn Rhinoceros.

But he didn't expect Huan Wang to let Thunder Horn Rhinoceros perform the skill "Rhino Type Armor" in the rain curtain.

It turned the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros into a slow-moving iron shell turtle directly.

In this situation, choosing to keep attacking forcefully is the right decision!

Especially in the Battle Network where injuries and deaths don't affect reality.

Fang Mu attributed this basic mistake made by Huan Wang to the fact that Huan Wang had been fighting mostly with spiritual instruments in the age division, seldomly through Guardian Beasts.

Battle experience can only be accumulated bit by bit through fights.

This also explains why although the Dragon Rising Federation emphasizes cultural knowledge for high school students, they would arrange for practical classes in the afternoon where students are monitored for actual combat practice.

Huan Wang asking the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros to go on defense was a subconscious stress response.

Huan Wang quickly realized that a command error had occurred.

Feeling the condition of the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros, Huan Wang said to himself.

Even if he let the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros lift the golden level skill Rhino Type Armor, relying on the White Plum Healing Deer's treatment of the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros and the expulsion of toxins.

At least the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros can hold on for a minute and a half.

In Huan Wang's view, the unique heavy muscles of Thunder Horn Rhinoceros was a great asset.

However, Huan Wang had no idea that Fang Mu had already seen through the abilities of his two Guardian Beasts in battle.

Huan Wang quickly reissued multiple commands, making Thunder Horn Rhinoceros completely removed his defense.

At the same time, through spiritual power, Huan Wang personally directed the way for Thunder Horn Rhinoceros, who was both deaf and blind.

He made the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros to indiscriminately use the skill Cleaving Horns and Earth Spikes Step in a wide range.

Huan Wang originally wanted to use the second showdown with Jianmu to salvage his lost dignity.

As a result, his second fight was even more embarrassing than the first.

During the first fight, he was killed by a Sequential Spiritual Instrument, which merely damaged his gentleman image.

This time, with his two golden level Guardian Beasts, he lost to Jianmu, who had only a Silver Stage Guardian Beast.

Therefore, he would inevitably be labeled as incapable and stupid.

So, he could only win, and not lose!

In the Ranking Division where one cannot use the spiritual instrument, what good is Jianmu's Sequential Spiritual Instrument?

When Huan Wang removed his golden-level skill Rhino Type Armor, Fang Mu directly made the Rainy Doll use the special skill of Poison Mark Fragments, which had never been revealed before on the Battle Network.

As long as Thunder Horn Rhinoceros is harmed once by the toxins of Rainy Doll, a poison print will be marked.

If it were not for the fact that the Silver Stage Rainy Doll could only mark up to fifteen Poison Marks on a single target.

By now, Thunder Horn Rhinoceros should be covered with hundreds of poison prints in the rain curtain.

“Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang!”

Five loud sounds echoed from the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros, which had just lifted its Rhino Type Armor.

The heavy muscles that Huan Wang considered as a trump card, and the shield skin layer that grew back under the continuous treatment by the White Plum Healing Deer.

Just like paper mâché, five bloody holes larger than a washbasin were blown open.

Revealing the stark white bones inside the abdomen of Thunder Horn Rhinoceros.

These five loud bangs not only stunned Huan Wang but also the audience in the live broadcast room.

And Liu Tiantian, who had just heard the news about Jianmu and came to watch the battle in Huan Wang's live broadcast room.

"Hundred Miles Tornado": What the hell! Why do I feel like I didn't understand it? How did Huanzi's Thunder Horn Rhinoceros get so severely injured?

The audience with the same doubt as Hundred Miles Tornado occupied half of the viewers in the live broadcast room.

The bullet screen has started guessing about this situation.

"Sword Shadow Traceless": Did Jianmu summon his second Guardian Beast a long time ago? This second beast just has invisibility ability, so we couldn't see his second Guardian Beast.

"Hold on": Impossible! If there really is a Guardian Beast that can become completely invisible, who is at the Silver Stage, it should not go unnoticed by two Golden Stage Guardian Beasts!

"Arrogant Time": Agree! The rain near Thunder Horn Rhinoceros has never stopped, even if this Guardian Beast can be invisible, can it also be immune to the poison? Inflicting such a wound on Thunder Horn Rhinoceros, even a platinum-tier Guardian Beast can't do it easily, can it?

Chapter 200: Blood Race! It's Actually the Blood Race! (Two in One)_3

Now, Huan Wang's live-stream room has become the eye of the storm in the entire Battle Network, where all eyes are converging.

Prior to engaging with Jianmu, there were only a few thousand viewers left in Huan Wang's live-stream room.

But now, the number of viewers in Huan Wang's live-stream room has directly broken through to the seven-digit mark.

This already surpasses the highest viewership in Huan Wang's live-streaming career.

Apart from special correspondents like Liu Tiantian.

Due to Jianmu's Half-Elf, the discussion about it on well-known forums like Skin Peeling House has been particularly high recently.

This has piqued the interest of many low and intermediate crafting masters, and even the assistants of senior creators, in this Half-Elf of Fang Mu.

They have even taken the precious time to write a few posts.

At this moment, there is an audience who is the assistant of a senior creator and an intermediate crafting master himself, throwing a comment.

[Under Boyang]: This consecutive five-hit attack should be executed by this Half-Elf, but it's not entirely clear how it was executed unless I participate in the battle myself and get a close-up on the state of the Guardian Beast to confirm.

The account [Under Boyang] is quite popular on the Battle Network. Although he doesn't stream, he is a celebrity.

Assistants of senior creators on the Battle Network rarely post, and in addition to that, [Under Boyang] is an intermediate crafting master himself.

He often posts debunking threads, and each time many people would comment under [Under Boyang]'s posts.

Therefore, when they saw the message from [Under Boyang], no one doubted him.

After all, unless someone has reached the level of a Master Creator, they wouldn't dare to question the words of a Senior Creator's assistant and Intermediate Crafting Master.

However, the comment from [Under Boyang] caused all the viewers, including Liu Tiantian, to show their surprise.

Damn! I've always thought that Jianmu's Half-Elf was skilled at using poison. How could its physical damage be so strong!

You can defeat your opponent with force. Why do you have to use poison?

The fresh blood flowing out of the five holes in the body of the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros quickly turned into dark red frozen blood under the effect of the Blood Poison.

The Acid Poison and Erosion Poison began their corrosive journey.

In the face of such severe physical injuries on the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros, the healing effect and the detoxifying effect of the White Plum Healing Deer became less obvious.

Huan Wang gritted his teeth, deciding to have the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros make its final attack.

The Thunder Horn Rhinoceros was now less than 20 meters away from Jianmu.

It would enter the attack range of the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros's skill [Cleave Horn] in another five meters.

Although the horn cleaved by the longer horn could only reach as far as twelve meters, the second horn cleaved would augment the first cleaved horn.

It would have no problem wiping Jianmu out at a distance of fifteen meters.

Huan Wang, on one hand, had the White Plum Healing Deer surpass its limits to infuse all of its healing energy into the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros.

On the other hand, he excessively pressured the rather dazed Thunder Horn Rhinoceros through spiritual power, forcing it to stay awake.

Huan Wang's gaze pierced through the rain curtain and stared directly at Jianmu, wanting to see panic on Jianmu's face.

The Thunder Horn Rhinoceros, which was already close, couldn't be defended against by a fragile Half-Elf.

However, Huan Wang didn't get what he wished for.

Because the expression on Jianmu's face now is the same as when he faced the attack he launched using the diamond ranked spiritual instrument the Thunder Leopard Bracelet; calm and unruffled.

It was as if he didn't think much of him at all.

This caused Huan Wang's heart to waver inadvertently, and he couldn't help but shout out in anger.

"Jianmu, I'd like to see how you dodge this!"

"Thunder Horn Rhinoceros, use Earth Spikes Step forward and follow it with successive Cleave Horns!"

When Thunder Horn Rhinoceros uses Earth Spikes Step, it'll leap forward, making the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros jump forward by half its body length.

The Thunder Horn Rhinoceros is more than five meters long. Jumping forward by half its body length would leave it less than twelve meters away from Jianmu.

The first cleaved horn, even without the amplification of the second cleaved horn, could still hit Jianmu.

Previously, Jianmu had defeated himself using a sequential spiritual instrument but had managed to kill him through a silver spiritual instrument, stabbing his neck to death.

Huan Wang had his eyes wide open, waiting to see Jianmu being chopped into mush by the cleaved horns.

The Thunder Horn Rhinoceros had already started the preliminary motion to use Earth Spikes Step, lifting its front hooves ready to leap forward.

However, the body of the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros came to a sudden halt mid-air, unable to slam its hooves on the ground to activate the second segment of damage from the Earth Spikes Step.

Because at some unknown time, Jianmu's Half-Elf had quietly transformed into a handsome Blood Noble, a vampire.

The golden half-long hair of the Blood Noble was swaying in the rain mist.

A pair of hands, as white as porcelain, gripped on the long horn of the Thunder Horn Rhinoceros like holding a shattered toy.

Vampire! It's a Vampire!

The sudden transformation once again surprised the viewers in the live-stream room, inducing a unanimous thought in everyone.

Why does it feel like watch a suspense film when watching Jianmu battle?

It's difficult to predict what capability the Guardian Beast of Jianmu would exercise or what type of attack it would carry out next.

This is only one of Jianmu's Guardian Beasts.. What about the others?