

Beast Tamer 371

Chapter 371: Turns out, my master really does care about me!_1

Fang Qin was selected by the Jinghai Army.

Although Fang Qin's selection had a lot to do with Fang Mu, it was not solely because of Fang Mu.

Even without the relationship with Fang Mu, a disciple of the Grandmaster Creator, Fang Qin would still stand out amongst his peers in the Jinghai Army during the selection process based on his Frost Tone Snow Dragonling and Cangluan Ying Jiao.

The Jinghai Army was selecting disciples for the "Dragon Mother".

If Fang Qin's ability did not meet the standard, the Jinghai Army would not dare to forcefully recommend Fang Qin to the "Dragon Mother", even if it meant gaining Fang Mu's favor.

The "Dragon Mother" learned about Fang Qin's abilities and his two Guardian Beasts from the reports of the Jinghai Army, but she did not know the specific skills and exclusive features of his two beasts.

Ever since Luo Su came to know about Fang Qin's main battle beast, Cangluan Ying Jiao, whose platinum skill was "Jing Canghai" and the exclusive feature "Mountains and Seas" allowed it to draw elemental energy from the mountains and oceans for self-charging through its bloodline...

Luo Su intentionally formed a small action team for Fang Qin and began cultivating him as a key figure in the Jinghai Army.

The information the Jinghai Army provided to the "Dragon Mother" about Fang Qin only included an S-ranking for his Guardian Beasts, without disclosing specific details.

According to the rating standards of the Jinghai Army for Guardian Beasts, an S-ranking is sufficient proof of the beast's power.

The “Dragon Mother” had always thought that Fang Qin’s dragon beast, like her grandson’s Mo Shang, was primarily offensive and had the ability to fight at a higher rank.

She did not expect that Fang Qin’s dragon beast was primarily functional instead.

The Dragon Rising Federation has no shortage of powerful individual soldiers. What it lacks are talents who can play a strategic role in large-scale campaigns.

The “Dragon Mother” has always focused on individual strength, and over the years, she has come to regret this choice.

Because no matter how skilled she is at the individual combat path, she would still be restricted by equally powerful opponents in large-scale battles.

It is far less effective than those with strategic significance.

Before coming to JA City, the “Dragon Mother” deliberately inquired about Fang Qin’s situation, learning that his previous main battle beast was the Iron Thorn Carp and later he contracted a beast called Frost Language Snow Dragon.

The Cangluan Ying Jiao belonged to the dual elements of water and earth, it was clear that it did not evolve from the Frost Language Snow Dragon.

The Iron Thorn Carp is also a dual-element beast of water and earth, but does the Iron Thorn Carp really have a chance to evolve into Cangluan Ying Jiao?

Even the “Dragon Mother”, with her broad knowledge, couldn’t help but question this in her heart.

The massive dragon wings on Cangluan Ying Jiao’s back indicate that it belongs to the Ying Jiao Chordata Dragon class and will evolve towards the Ying Dragon’s bloodline among the twelve major Dragon Beast bloodlines in the future.

The bloodline difference between the Iron Thorn Carp and Cangluan Ying Jiao is like the difference between heaven and earth.

Normally, if an Iron Thorn Carp could evolve into a Dragon Carp, it would already be saying thank you to heaven and earth.

The “Dragon Mother” is very familiar with the Creator Shuo Yang. In her impression, even Shuo Yang would find it difficult to accomplish this feat.

To forcefully enhance the dragon’s bloodline in the body of the Guardian Beast would consume several complete Dragon Balls, which is clearly not a cost-effective deal.

In a moment, two guesses emerged in the “Dragon Mother’s” mind.

Either the Grandmaster Creator, Qixing, has only shown the tip of the iceberg regarding his true capabilities, and his real ability far exceeds the simplicity of a senior creation zenith master,

Or, Qixing is extremely attached to Fang Mu. Despite the huge expense in energy and resources, he does his utmost to help Fang Mu’s sister upgrade her Beast Master’s strength.

Regardless of which guess is true, it deepens the “Dragon Mother’s” resolve to take Fang Qin as her disciple.

The “Dragon Mother” was not in a hurry to show herself, but continued to watch Fang Qin’s performance from above the building.

As her assessment of Fang Qin was not yet over.

When Fang Qin was studying at Jinghai Tianyu University, he was excellent in almost every survival test.

After joining the Jinghai Army, he always led the charge in order to earn merits and increase income, his combat capability was far superior to that of ordinary people.

The combat experience gained on the battlefield is far more profound and flexible than the experience gained from arena combat.

After unfolding “Jing Canghai” to replenish and enhance the stamina of the Aquatic Sovereign Beasts of other members in his squad,

Fang Qin continued to expand the coverage of “Jing Canghai”, stretching it out in front of the approaching Demon Tide.

Most demons possess fire attributes, and being in a water environment can significantly weaken their combat capabilities.

While amplifying the abilities of his allies, Fang Qin also restricts the enemy within his capabilities, and he almost simultaneously activates his unique feature, “Mountains and Seas”.

As JA City is adjacent to Green Ring Mountain and Jing Tao Sea, and the outer area of Jing Tao Sea is connected to the ocean,

The exclusive feature “Mountains and Seas” can greatly replenish the self-energy consumed by Cangluan Ying Jiao in JA City.

After successfully launching auxiliary supplements for endurance, Cangluan Ying Jiao, under Fang Qin’s command, didn’t idle but consecutively launched the bronze-level skill “Roar of Cang” and the gold-level skill “Cloud Wing”.

“Roar of Cang” stirred up a rapid current in the Sea of “Jing Canghai” without targeting those demons below the heavy artillery class.

Demons below the heavy artillery class pose no threat to the squad and as soon as they cross the red line, they will be immediately killed by the aquatic beasts in the team.

Those beasts above the heavy artillery class, however, would pose a problem for the squad.

After “Roar of Cang” controlled its target, Cangluan Ying Jiao flapped its wings to condense the clouds and exerted the skill “Cloud Wing” to control the beasts above the heavy artillery class for the second time.

Chapter 372: Turns out, my master really does care about me!_2

It significantly reduced the speed of those cannon-grade alien beasts, alleviating the pressure on the team’s defense.

All these actions were put into action smoothly, showing an appreciative expression on Dragon Mother’s face.

After many demons were killed and frozen by the Guardian Beasts of the team using ice type energy, Fang Qin instructed Frost Tone Snow Dragonling to stain the dead demons with frost and snow condensed from the skill [Frostfall]. He then had Frost Tone Snow Dragonling use the skill [Frost Ash].

The demon corpses stained with [Frostfall] exploded, and a large area of frost flames ignited in the demon tide instantly.

The cold frost flames froze the bodies of the demons.

Once the injured demons in the front slowed down, the healthy demons behind would be held back.

Under normal circumstances, a small team with only about ten platinum tier Guardian Beasts would have difficulty stopping a demon tide with dozens of terror-grade demons.

After all, terror-grade demons can be considered relatively powerful among all terror-level beasts.

Fang Qin didn’t know that Dragon Mother was watching his every move.

Fang Qin estimated Cangluan Ying Jiao's energy and let Cangluan Ying Jiao strangle the terror-grade demons using the skill [Jing Canghai] as long as its energy exceeded fifty percent.

The strangled terror-grade demons would turn into nutrients in the water for Cangluan Ying Jiao's recovery.

Demons have a certain level of wisdom once they reach the cannon-grade, especially in the demon tide where there are dozens of terror-grade demons leading.

These terror-grade demons would lead the way in throwing fireballs and demon corpses at Cangluan Ying Jiao.

Relying on the skill [Jing Canghai] to kill demons for self-recovery, Cangluan Ying Jiao in the battlefield was always in a full-blood condition.

The look in Dragon Mother's eyes towards Fang Qin became more and more content.

Fang Qin gave Dragon Mother a satisfactory answer, and Dragon Mother felt that there was no need to continue wasting her time and Fang Qin's time.

A dragon's chirp exploded in Fang Qin's ear, and a giant Red Violent Dragon appeared in front of the demon tide.

Red flames first constructed a red armor on the Red Violent Dragon, and then the red flames completely burned the remaining demons and corpses to nothing.

Fang Qin had participated in many large-scale battles and was used to grand scenes.

As a member of the Jinghai Army, Fang Qin had long seen sequential-tier Guardian Beasts on the battlefield.

Fang Qin felt that the pressure from these sequential-tier Guardian Beasts would deter thousands of soldiers, and the morale of tens of thousands of Jinghai Army soldiers would be suppressed under the brutal power of the sequential-tier Guardian Beasts.

Facing the targeted pressure of the sequential-tier Guardian Beasts, Fang Qin was in a state of suffocation for at least fifteen minutes, as if his life's throat had been suppressed.

It was thanks to the Jinghai Army soldier's training and strong willpower that Fang Qin could adjust and continue fighting.

This was the case when the Sequential Guardian Beast did not target him.

However, the pressure this Red Violent Dragon brought to people's hearts, spirits, and souls was much stronger than the Sequential Guardian Beast he had seen on the battlefield.

It was as if the two were not at the same level.

This thousand-meter-long, sky-blocking Red Violent Dragon was like the king of the entire JA City, with red flames under its feet that seemed to be able to burn anything in JA City to ashes.

The Red Violent Dragon's left foot had a clear broken finger. Fang Qin wondered how strong a Guardian Beast must be to hurt a creature like Red Violent Dragon.

For over an hour, this Red Violent Dragon has been moving around JA City, annihilating the strong ones of the Evil Heart Sect hidden in the dark.

Fang Qin didn't initially realize that the Red Violent Dragon was Dragon Mother's Guardian Beast, but someone in the team recognized it.

Now that Dragon Mother's Guardian Beast stood before him, Fang Qin had a moment of enlightenment in his heart.

More than half an hour ago, there was no longer an alien beast wave in the city.

He had agreed to Luo Su's request to rush to the Cleaner Division in preparation for meeting with Dragon Mother, but on his way there, Luo Su had given him a temporary assignment to lead a small team to deal with a roaming demon tide.

At the time, Fang Qin had been a little confused, wondering what kind of urgent situation would make Luo Su arrange for him to go into battle.

His inability to reach the Cleaner Division within an hour would inevitably affect the meeting with Dragon Mother.

Making Dragon Mother wait for him at the Cleaner Division, regardless of the reason, was extremely impolite.

In the battle, Fang Qin discovered that there were no civilians to protect or important buildings around this roaming demon tide, so this must have been a test from Dragon Mother.

If Dragon Mother had not taken a liking to him, she would most likely have left in disappointment.

Now that the Guardian Beast had appeared in front of him, it meant that he had most likely passed Dragon Mother's test.

Fang Qin looked up at the top of the Red Violent Dragon, where a figure was standing.

From Fang Qin's perspective, the figure was standing against the light, so Fang Qin couldn't see it clearly.

Just then, a gentle voice came from the Red Violent Dragon's head.

"Xiao Qin, come up and go to the Cleaner Division with me!"

Dragon Mother has finally found a disciple to her liking.

Having seen Fang Qin's combat ability, Dragon Mother would still choose Fang Qin even without Fang Mu's relation.

Dragon Mother has always acted ostentatiously, and there's no need to hide when she has found a disciple, unlike others.

Once she returns to the Capital, Dragon Mother plans to host a banquet to invite those old guys.

Chapter 373: Turns out, my master really does care about me!_3

Every time old masters took apprentices, they gifted extravagantly. Since he finally had an apprentice, it was time for him to reciprocate and gift his apprentice something special.

Dragon Mother invited Fang Qin to ride her primary mystic beast, a favor considered of the utmost honor among the members of the Jinghai Army.

The members of Fang Qin's squad in the Jinghai Army envied him greatly, but they were equally joyous for him.

Over the years, they have all seen the hardships Fang Qin had undergone.

Although perplexed by Fang Qin's flourishing resources and the subsequent transformation of his guardian beasts, none of the members asked for the reason behind his good fortune.

There were also people within the Jinghai Army who gossiped about or envied Fang Qin behind his back, but these people were, of course, kept out of Fang Qin's squad by Luo Su.

If Fang Qin, the captain of a special operations squad, was accepted by Dragon Mother as a disciple, the rest of the squad members would greatly benefit.

According to an old adage, if one person ascends to heaven, even the chickens and dogs of the house will rise too. And this doesn't even consider the resources the Jinghai Army would dedicate to the squad in the future.

Once accepted as Dragon Mother's disciple, Fang Qin's strength would surely increase.

The stronger Fang Qin became, the safer the whole squad would be in combat.

Although Fang Qin was surprised and fearful when he received the invitation from Dragon Mother, he did not shy away.

He called back his Frost Tone Snow Dragonling and rode on the back of his Cangluan Ying Jiao, which carried him towards the head of the Red Violent Dragon.

Fang Qin understood that the fact he was accepted as Dragon Mother's disciple had little to do with him personally – it was mostly because of his younger brother, who improved the bloodlines and quality of his guardian beasts.

The status and connections of his younger brother as Grandmaster Creator's disciple were among the main reasons Dragon Mother chose him.

His little brother had paved the way for him; Fang Qin did not feel insecure about this.

If he approached Dragon Mother in fear and awe, that would have made all of his younger brother's efforts go in vain.

Others might not be aware of Fang Mu's past, but Fang Qin knew all too well.

Fang Mu went from an ordinary, helpless man to the disciple of a Grandmaster Creator, who turned back to take care of him, and his siblings, Fang Yuan and Yan Wood.

The journey wasn't as simple as Fang Mu made it seem.

The best way Fang Qin could console his brother was by making the most of the opportunities Fang Mu created for him.

Respect for Dragon Mother shone on Fang Qin's face, overlaid with an air of composure and tranquility.

Dragon Mother was fond of individuals like Fang Qin, steadfast and resolute.

Apart from his combat skills and abilities, Fang Qin's temperament also pleased Dragon Mother immensely.

Dragon Mother reached out her hand to Fang Qin.

As soon as Fang Qin placed his hand in hers, she quickly pulled him to her side, standing with him atop the head of the Crimson Armor.

Ever since the Red Violent Dragon appeared, Cangluan Ying Jiao had been trembling, holding its breath within itself.

Dragon beasts were particularly sensitive to differences in bloodline ranks.

Despite the Red Armor's dragon might not being directed at Cangluan Ying Jiao, it almost had a stress response under the influence of the dragon might.

The Frost Tone Snow Dragonling, despite having a lower rank in terms of bloodline than Cangluan Ying Jiao, was so affected by the dragon might that it fell to Fang Qin's side, not daring to fly at all.

Thanks to the long-established pact between Cangluan Ying Jiao and Fang Qin, it mustered up the courage to fly towards the top of the Red Armor.

Knowing that Dragon Mother favored Fang Qin and was planning to take him as a disciple, the Red Armor emitted a friendly air towards Cangluan Ying Jiao.

Moreover, it amplified its dragon might on Cangluan Ying Jiao.

Otherwise, even if it had Fang Qin's command, Cangluan Ying Jiao would not dare to approach within ten meters of the red armor.

News of Dragon Mother inviting Fang Qin to ride her main battle mystic beast, the Red Armor, soon spread.

Before Dragon Mother could even arrive with Fang Qin at the Cleaner Division, Feng Lin received the news.

Feng Lin turned towards Fang Mu and said with a smile,

"Your preparations were not in vain, Fang Mu – Dragon Mother has indeed taken a liking to your sister, Fang Qin!"

Fang Mu heaved a sigh of relief and broke out into laughter,

"I did not make any preparations. Master helped my elder sister slightly enhance her mystic beasts."

"My goodness, Master truly loves me!"

When Feng Lin heard what Fang Mu said, her envy shifted from Fang Qin to Fang Mu.

She couldn't imagine just how good Qixing, the person backing Fang Mu, was to him that he'd even tried to cultivate Fang Mu's sister.

Before, Feng Lin was the only one who could get in touch with Qixing through Fang Mu.

Now, Dragon Mother had a far closer relationship with Fang Mu than Feng Lin. This was excellent news for Feng Lin.

Through her relationship with Fang Mu, she could draw closer to Dragon Mother.

The master behind Fang Mu was a fabrication; his words about the master were only said to fool Feng Lin.

Dragon Mother had seen Fang Qin's mystic beasts in person and was sure to have her suspicions.

Feng Lin was in close contact with Fang Mu, so Dragon Mother would inevitably ask Feng Lin for answers.

Instead of letting Dragon Mother come up with any other wild conjectures, it would be better to attribute everything to the adoration of his so-called master.

Fang Mu managed to provide Fang Qin with Dragon Mother's support before embarking on his journey. If Fang Yuan and Yan Wood ran into trouble, Dragon Mother, due to her relationship with Fang Qin, would surely not stand idly by.

This was like insurance for Fang Yuan and Yan Wood.

In a few days, Fang Yuan would visit Chang Le Pavilion on Fang Mu's behalf to establish a deep collaboration between Fang Mu and Chang Le Pavilion.

Both Chang Le Pavilion and Yi Han would become sturdy support for Fang Yuan and the Mu Commerce Association, thus leaving Fang Mu with nothing to worry about.

After meeting Dragon Mother today, Fang Mu only needed to calmly wait for the calls from Golden Bull and Shui Miao.

Golden Bull was coming to see him to extend his lifespan and would surely start preparations right after the Starwheel meet-up.

Shui Miao was coming to discuss with him how to customize spiritual instruments. Fang Mu did not have any specific idea for designing spiritual instruments.

High-level Sequential Spiritual Instruments would rely primarily on the automatic protection from the beast spirit even if he made a Marrow Pact with them.

For Fang Mu to advance to a Hexagram Beastmaster and smoothly use high-level Sequential Spiritual Instruments would take a considerable amount of time.

However, Fang Mu could discuss the customization of ghost devices with Shui Miao.

Although customizing ghost devices came at an extra cost, Fang Mu was confident that he could afford it.

Chapter 374: Sequential Nine: Rain-horned Dragon_1

While Fang Mu and Feng Lin were chatting, “Dragon Mother” had already escorted Fang Qin to the Cleaner Division.

Because she was entertaining Fang Mu, Feng Lin did not, as usual, greet “Dragon Mother” at the door.

Ever since understanding from Fang Mu and Yi Han’s competition that Qixing is a Senior Creator, Fang Mu’s status in the eyes of all the major powers of the Dragon Rising Federation has seen a substantial rise.

Fang Mu is not just a member of the cleaners, but also a distinguished guest.

Trading Grandmaster Creator resources with Fang Mu, who is a member of the cleaners, is surely easier than trading with Grandmaster Shuoyang and Sect Master Xiao Xiang.

Upon seeing Fang Mu, Fang Qin wanted to instinctively give Fang Mu a hug.

But thinking of “Dragon Mother” and Feng Lin by her side, Fang Qin can’t help but stop in discretion.

Seeing this, “Dragon Mother” laughed and spoke to Fang Qin.

“Xiao Qin, you are now my disciple, as long as you don’t do anything harmful to the Dragon Rising Federation, you shouldn’t have too many concerns.”

“In the future, you can rely not only on your brother but also on me, your master.”

“From now on, I will protect you until I lose my senses or you become stronger than me.”

After finishing her words to Fang Qin, “Dragon Mother” turned to Fang Mu, noticing that his eyes were fixed on her.

“Dragon Mother” nodded to Fang Mu.

At first glance, “Dragon Mother’s” words were a statement to Fang Qin, but they were also said to Fang Mu.

Fang Mu and “Dragon Mother” met each other’s eyes, and Fang Mu gave her a serious bow.

As a Grandmaster Disciple of a Grandmaster Creator, there was no need for Fang Mu to display such modesty before “Dragon Mother”.

It should be noted that when dealing with Yi Han, also a Grandmaster Creator, Fang Mu behaved with character, refusing Yi Han without hesitation when he needed to.

Fang Mu giving a bow to “Dragon Mother” was because he recognized the latter’s status as Fang Qin’s teacher.

With “Dragon Mother’s” words, if she wished to trade Grandmaster Creator resources with Fang Mu in the future, as long as she could afford the price, Fang Mu would definitely not refuse.

Fang Qin felt the care and protection that “Dragon Mother” had for her from her words.

Since “Dragon Mother” had spoken, Fang Qin no longer suppressed the excitement in her heart or her longing for Fang Mu.

Even though she knew that She Wan, an Advanced Sequential, was protecting Fang Mu, Fang Qin was still afraid more than once that Fang Mu would be in danger.

Moreover, now being accepted as a disciple by “Dragon Mother”, Fang Qin really wanted to share her joy with the people closest to her.

With no reservations or restraint, Fang Qin took a step forward, directly hugging Fang Mu.

Fang Mu naturally hugged Fang Qin back, gently patting her back twice.

Fang Mu did not say much. He had already anticipated this outcome, and had already arranged it with Fang Qin in advance.

Although Fang Qin was not sure, she had at least an eighty percent confidence that she would be accepted as a disciple by “Dragon Mother”.

The outcome was plotted by her little brother Fang Mu for her.

Unlike the surprise, more emotions are exchanged between Fang Mu and Fang Qin as siblings.

Before Fang Mu and Fang Qin could talk much, “Dragon Mother” turned to Feng Lin and asked.

“Has the damage been calculated?”

Upon her words, Feng Lin nodded seriously and somberly.

“The Cleaner Division in Jinghai Province is located in JA City, which is the heart of the Alien Beast Corpse exchange.”

“A Mr. Red from the Evil Heart Sect, leading several high-level alien beasts, damaged the passage as soon as they appeared.”

“These passages have to be reconstructed with the help of Gnomes, which I have already arranged.”

“By tomorrow night, these passages would be rebuilt.”

“These passages must be completed, otherwise it would take more manpower and resources to restore the environment.”

“The conservative estimate is a cost of ninety billion Dragon Rising Coins!”

Upon her words, “Dragon Mother” frowned, ninety billion Dragon Rising Coins were not a small sum.

In these years, the Sanitation Workers Headquarters has been dedicated to the development of divisions. Each development of a division benefits more citizens of the Dragon Rising Federation and relieves the pressure on the surrounding Cleaner Divisions.

There are far fewer Cleaner Divisions in the northwest direction compared to the southeast. Every Cleaner Division in the northwest is operating at overcapacity.

At this critical moment, because JA City was suddenly attacked by the Evil Heart Sect, it is not very realistic for the headquarters to allocate ninety billion Dragon Rising Coins for a Cleaner Division that has been heavily hit.

“Dragon Mother” pondered for a moment before asking Feng Lin.

“If you were to solve one third of the funding for your Cleaner Division, could you do it?”

Feng Lin had already guessed there would be such a situation, otherwise she wouldn’t have proposed a deal with Fang Mu.

So Feng Lin told “Dragon Mother” in detail about the deal with Fang Mu.

“Dragon Mother” is not only the Bishop of Flowers at the Cleaner Headquarters, but now also half a senior to Fang Mu.

Presumably after understanding Fang Mu’s contributions and sacrifices to the post-war reconstruction of the Cleaner Divisions, “Dragon Mother” would commend Fang Mu for his contribution when she returns to the headquarters.

If Feng Lin didn’t mention Fang Mu’s help in post-war reconstruction and only said that she had resolved the deficit of thirty billion Dragon Rising Coins,

The commendation should have fallen on Feng Lin.

Feng Lin is now a Private Soul Forging Master for Fang Mu. She wouldn’t take Fang Mu’s credit having benefited much from him, lest she lose out on a bigger opportunity.

Chapter 375: Sequential Nine: Rain-horned Dragon_2

Upon hearing Feng Lin's words, "Dragon Mother"'s furrowed brows relaxed, and the last hint of scrutiny in her gaze towards Fang Mu finally dissipated completely.

The entire Dragon Rising Federation official forces had always been somewhat perplexed about Qixing, which was comprised under Fang Mu.

The sudden appearance of a Grandmaster Creator within the Dragon Rising Federation could definitely be regarded as a major event.

If this Grandmaster Creator held good intentions towards the Dragon Rising Federation, it would greatly enhance the foundation of the federation.

However, if he harbored ill will, the Dragon Rising Federation would suffer immense losses.

Since Fang Mu had joined the Cleaner Division, it became the Cleaner Division's responsibility to scrutinize Qixing.

Besides wanting to see Fang Qin, "Dragon Mother" had taken on this task during her visit to JA City.

Through the collaboration between Fang Mu and Feng Lin, "Dragon Mother" was able to affirm that both Fang Mu and Qixing, the power behind him, held sufficient goodwill towards the Dragon Rising Federation.

Otherwise, Qixing would have had no reason to allow Fang Mu to assist in the post-war reconstruction of the Cleaner Division, and Fang Mu wouldn't have handed his sister over to her.

"Dragon Mother" had learned of Fang Mu's sacrifices from the sequential powerhouses of the Jinghai Beastmaster High School.

Without Fang Mu's intervention, Jinghai Beastmaster High School would have fallen into a Dead Zone under the assault of the beasts before she even arrived.

The Cleaner Division and the school were the primary targets of the Evil Heart Sect's attack this time.

If it wasn't for the chance arrival of two scholars from the Purple Que School Palace who were giving lectures at Jinghai Tianyu University, Jinghai Tianyu University would not have been in a much better state than Jinghai Beastmaster High School was without Fang Mu's help.

"Fang Mu, you have made a great contribution to the whole of JA City. As a member of the Cleaner Division, I have decided to commend you in my capacity as Bishop Flowers."

"Is there anything you want?"

"No matter how precious the thing you desire, feel free to tell me."

Fang Mu had expected that the Cleaner Division would reward his actions, and Feng Lin had just mentioned it to him.

Fang Mu wouldn't be polite with "Dragon Mother", as being overly polite with her would make him seem too insincere and worldly-wise.

He was still a high school student, honest and youthful, which was his greatest camouflage.

It's hard for people to be suspicious of someone who has a youthful heart and is straightforward.

Thus, Fang Mu directly stated his demand.

"I want a complete Dragon Ball."

Fang Mu's words surprised "Dragon Mother", and she immediately replied,

"I mean, is there anything you want for yourself? You don't need to procure resources for Xiao Qin."

“After Xiao Qin becomes my disciple, there will be no shortage of resources.”

Fang Mu’s action somewhat displeased “Dragon Mother”.

In “Dragon Mother”’s view, it seems like Fang Mu was belittling her.

Although her resources as a Grandmaster Creator was definitely not as plentiful as Qixing’s, she might not necessarily be inferior to Qixing in terms of spiritual material supplies.

As Bishop Flowers of the Cleaner Division, “Dragon Mother” had full control over the allocation of all the resources of the Cleaner Division.

Any current powerhouse would not tolerate being disdained by the younger generation.

But Fang Mu was not truly a naive young man ignorant of worldly wisdom.

In his previous life, Fang Mu, as a rising star in the academic circle, had followed many old professors since his college days, achieving proficiency in worldly wisdom.

He immediately discerned the change in “Dragon Mother”’s tone.

“Senior, you misunderstood. The Dragon Ball I want is not concerned with the bloodline of its Dragon Beast, but preferably not borne of a dinosaur species.”

“I want to collect the complete Dragon Ball to cultivate my own Beast. Otherwise, my master would have helped me to seek it.”

“My master is in seclusion, so it would be good if I can obtain it myself to save him some trouble.”

Hearing Fang Mu's words, "Dragon Mother" softened her expression and subconsciously came to favor Fang Mu a little more.

"Dragon Mother" had concluded that Fang Qin's Iron Thorn Carp, which had evolved into Cangluan Ying Jiao, must have used many Dragon Balls with Ying dragon bloodline as induction.

The fact that Fang Mu was willing to give the resources he also needed to his sister showed how deep their bond was.

"I have a collection of complete Dragon Balls."

"Well, I happen to have a whole Dragon Ball from the sequential ninth Rain-horned Dragon."

"A Dragon Ball of the Rain-horned Dragon has a dual attribute of water and thunder. It is excellent for cultivating beasts or forging spiritual instruments."

After introducing the Dragon Ball in her hand, "Dragon Mother" directly threw the Rain-horned Dragon Ball to Fang Mu.

From the moment he heard the name of the Rain-horned Dragon, an irrepressible joy arose in Fang Mu's heart.

Fang Mu wanted a complete Dragon Ball to cultivate the Dark Nightmare Tiger that he hadn't had time to make a contract with, so that the Dark Nightmare Tiger could evolve in the direction of the Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger.

The Dark Nightmare Tiger's unique feature was the [Proliferating Python Tail]. Once each Python Tail consumes a complete Dragon Ball, it can specialize towards a dragon form and obtain corresponding attributes and abilities.

The Rain-horned Dragon has an extremely strong ability to cause rainfall. Whenever a wild Rain-horned Dragon appears, flash floods and mudslides frequently occur in its path.

Once the Python Tail of the Dark Nightmare Tiger consumes the Dragon Ball of the Rain-horned Dragon, it will be able to coordinate with the Rainy Doll.

When the Rainy Doll is merged into the curtain of rain laid by the Python Tail of the Dark Nightmare Tiger, it could expand the range of the rain curtain and conserve energy when using skills.

Moreover, the Rain-horned Dragon could command thunder, which is why it was a Water and Thunder Dual Attribute Dragon-type Beast.

In the rain curtain, thunder has conductivity, enabling the transformation from a single attack to a group attack, paralyzing all enemies within the range.

This was equivalent to giving Fang Mu a control skill.

Chapter 376: Sequential Nine: Rain-horned Dragon_3

Now that he had a complete Dragon Ball, once Fang Mu contracts with the Dark Nightmare Tiger, he could induce the bloodline of the Dark Nightmare Tiger to evolve towards the Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger.

Complete Dragon Balls were too precious a resource, and it would be somewhat difficult for Fang Mu to obtain a significant amount just through Starwheel gatherings.

“Thank you, Dragon Mother, the Dragon Ball of the Rain-horned Dragon will be of use to me!”

Upon hearing this, Dragon Mother merely waved her hand in dismissal.

“This is something you deserve, it isn’t a gift from me, so there is no need for you to thank me.”

“The Jinghai Army has already taken over all sectors of JA City, and they’re cleaning up after the battle.”

“Your protection of Jinghai High School for Beast Masters and your help at Jinghai Tianyu University are equivalent to helping the Purple Que School Palace.”

“The Purple Que School Palace will surely contact the Jinghai Army, resulting in a portion of the spoils being distributed to you.”

“So when the time comes, don’t be shy about what you want from the spoils.”

Upon hearing this, Fang Mu nodded.

If asked whether there was anything Fang Mu wanted right now, he would certainly have something in mind.

What he wanted most was definitely the Skin Hacker.

In order to hasten the Electronic Butterfly’s control over the Skin Hacker and the corpse of the Blood Race Prince,

He had left Vacuum to devour the bodies of the Tile Bone Stinger and the Withering Cold Tyrant Octopus in the manor.

The best way to enhance the Skin Hacker controlled by the Electronic Butterfly is to devour more Skin Hackers.

Since the Skin Hacker is an ominous technic researched by the Eternal Alchemy Association, the Evil Heart Sect had paid a considerable price to acquire the manufacturing method for Skin Hackers.

Unless Fang Mu initiates contact with the people after Evil Heart Sect and the Eternal Alchemy Association, it would be difficult to get Skin Hackers and Flesh Hackers.

Acquiring Flesh Hackers and Skin Hackers from the Jinghai Army would be the best plan at the moment, and Fang Mu saw no reason not to seize this opportunity.

“When the Jinghai Army contacts me, I will voice my requirements immediately.”

In fact, even if the Jinghai Army didn’t take the initiative to contact him, Fang Mu was planning to take the initiative to find Luo Su.

In recent months, Fang Mu had been cooperating with the Jinghai Army.

The Jinghai Army had gained significant benefits from Fang Mu, resulting in an overall improvement in the quality of their beast masters.

If he proposed a trade with the Jinghai Army, Fang Mu didn’t think they would refuse him.

After all, the benefits of the Skin Hacker and Flesh Hacker to the Jinghai Army aren’t as great as the resources of a Grandmaster Creator.

Getting hold of high-level Sequential Spiritual Instruments is indeed a good method to guarantee personal security.

But in the face of a formidable enemy, the Beast Soul can only be deployed once in nearly a month.

Fang Mu can’t promise himself that he’ll only encounter danger once a month.

Utilizing Vacuum’s special ability, Electronic Butterfly, to procure humanoid weapons is safer than using higher-order Sequential Spiritual Tools.

For this operation against JA City, the Evil Heart Sect deployed at least three agents known as “Mr. Red”, and at least five known as “Mr. Gray”.

If Fang Mu could get ahold of these Skin Hackers and the Flesh Hackers often used by the Evil Heart Sect and allow them to be devoured and assimilated by the Skin Hacker controlled by the Electronic Butterfly,

Even if he couldn't get a Skin Hacker capable of matching a level-five beastmaster, he could definitely get one that could match the peak of level six.

This would boost Fang Mu's individual strength even beyond that of She Wan, a Sequential powerhouse.

Later, when confronted with any danger, the humanoid weapon transformed from the Skin Hacker would serve as a trump card.

Fang Mu had obtained many Blood Race Prince Hearts through trade in Starwheel Land. It shouldn't be too difficult to acquire a complete Blood Race Prince's corpse.

By then, the power of this humanoid weapon controlled by the Electronic Butterfly, the Blood Race Prince, would rapidly increase.

With the deaths of numerous Evil Heart Sect powerhouses, the Jinghai Army would surely obtain a considerable quantity of Sequential Beast corpses.

Once the Jinghai Army slices the useful materials from the Beast corpses, Fang Mu could arrange a trade for the remaining parts to use as food for Vacuum.

When Vacuum utilizes the Electronic Butterfly to assimilate the Flesh Hackers, Skin Hackers, and Blood Race Prince, it will serve as consumption for acceleration.

Dragon Mother decided not to stay long in the Cleaner Division.

Since her purpose for coming to JA City had been fulfilled, Dragon Mother intended to report back on the Evil Heart Sect as soon as possible.

Considering how to promptly allocate funds for the Jinghai Province Cleaner Division would also help to relieve some of Feng Lin's pressure.

Dragon Mother had decided to take Fang Qin back to the capital with her, a decision Fang Qin gladly accepted.

It had been a while since Fang Qin saw Yan Wood, and this trip to the capital was a good opportunity to visit Yan Wood and assist Fang Yuan.

Fang Yuan is always so busy that he only gets rest in the late night,

Wasn't he also saying that the Trade Fair was coming up? Being a disciple of "Dragon Mother" and attending the Trade Fair could boost her brother's businesses.

After Dragon Mother left with Fang Qin, Fang Mu returned to the manor accompanied by the Beast Car driven by Yin Nanzhen.

Yin Nanzhen increasingly felt that Fang Mu was a godly person.

Not only was he able to request an audience with Feng Lin, he even managed to arrange a meeting with a bigwig like Dragon Mother!

This aura was beyond Yin Nanzhen's comprehension.

She Wan found this rather speechless. Yin Nanzhen was just too shallow!

Even though he clearly knows that Fang Mu's instructor is a Grandmaster Creator, he's still surprised that Fang Mu could meet with Dragon Mother.

In Chang Le Pavilion, there were two individuals who were in no way inferior to Dragon Mother. Their reputation and power in the Outer Realm far surpassed their reputation and power in the Dragon Soaring Federation.

No sooner had Fang Mu returned to the manor than he received a phone call from Fang Yuan just as he was about to sit down and sip some Blood Replenishing Tea.

After Dragon Mother took care of the dimensional rift in JA City, news of this rapidly reached The Capital.

“Second Brother, Third Sister, don’t worry. I was just with Eldest Sister, and we’re both safe.”

“Eldest Sister is with Dragon Mother on her way to The Capital, you guys will be able to meet in a few days!”

Fang Mu had not kept Fang Yuan and Yan Wood in the dark about his plans to gain Dragon Mother’s tutelage for Fang Qin.

Fang Yuan and Yan Wood immediately knew that Fang Qin had succeeded once they heard Fang Mu’s words, and they were both exceptionally happy for Fang Qin.

After chatting for a while, Fang Mu hung up and prepared to return to his room to check on Vacuum’s progress.

Chapter 377: The prosperous Fang Mu!_1

Even for warriors who have just stepped off the battlefield, the sight of Xixi feeding would make their skin crawl.

Xixi, who always eats whenever she can, has already found the most comfortable way to do so.

Xixi likes to first wrap objects in metallic filaments, then quickly wriggles them.

She grinds the objects to a pulp with her tooth-like metallic structures, as if she were shaving ice.

If the carcass is highly decomposed, a yellow-green gas will fill the air around Xixi.

Thanks to Xixi's ability to use the Skill [Waste Recycling], these gases will not disperse and will instead be directly absorbed into her body.

So when Xixi feeds, she not only doesn't amplify the smell of decaying corpses but can even purify the air.

If the carcass is particularly fresh, clouds of blood mist will explode one after another during Xixi's feeding process, making "gurgling" sounds.

Fang Mu has long been used to this scene, which looks terrifying and evil to anyone else.

In his previous life, to carry out academic research, Fang Mu had dissected many animal carcasses with his professors, seeing flesh and blood merely as the foundation of life.

Fang Mu's thoughts aligned perfectly with the Eternal Alchemy Association's definition of life.

However, the magnitude of Fang Mu's thoughts and that of the Eternal Alchemy Association were vastly different.

The Eternal Alchemy Association focuses on the flesh itself, while Fang Mu's focus is on the microscopic level of cellular molecules.

This is a collision between the knowledge of Fang Mu's previous life and the Beastmaster world he is now in.

Fang Mu's previous life was about developing technology; in this life, it's about the improvement and exploration of Beast Master's strength and bloodline.

Both worlds are steadily climbing towards their peaks.

If the Eternal Alchemy Association could master the knowledge of cellular molecules, the exploration of immortality would not be impossible with the various extraordinary abilities of Guardian Beasts.

Fang Mu no longer needed to explore the enhancement of lifespan using the knowledge he had mastered in his previous life, because Fang Mu already had the Ten Longevity Carp.

The existence of the Ten Longevity Carp has fulfilled the Eternal Alchemy Association's pursuit of lifespan.

By continuously promoting the evolution of the Ten Longevity Carp, Fang Mu could perpetually prolong his and others' lives.

Golden Bull, one of the official members of Starwheel, was attracted by Fang Mu's ability.

Currently, using the Ten Longevity Carp, Fang Mu could only extend Golden Bull's short life of less than a year to ten years.

Even if Fang Mu didn't ask Golden Bull to stay by his side for protection, Golden Bull would likely not leave during those ten years.

Because if he left Fang Mu's side, Golden Bull would definitely worry about Fang Mu being in danger, or not being able to reach his side in time before his life span ended in ten years.

Pushing open the door, Fang Mu found his room was a mess.

Even though he had been away for a while, Xixi hadn't even finished eating a single auxiliary tentacle of the Withering Cold Tyrant Octopus.

Fang Mu quickly figured out that Xixi had to use the Mechanical Heart to condense the life energy and various attributes within the body of the Withering Cold Tyrant Octopus into crystals.

The Withering Cold Tyrant Octopus is a Sequential Beast. Decomposing its corpse is definitely much slower than decomposing those of Soldier Level Beasts.

Based on Xixi's current eating speed, it would probably take about ten days to fully devour the corpse of the Withering Cold Tyrant Octopus.

Fortunately, Fang Mu had arranged a vacant space in his Purple Ice Crystal Ring, then put both the Withering Cold Tyrant Octopus and the Tile Bone Stinger back into the space of the Purple Ice Crystal Ring for Xixi to devour.

Suddenly, Fang Mu realized something. The Tile Bone Stinger has a thin bloodline of the Olden Days, and the Tyrant Octopus's bloodline is quite superior among invertebrates.

It can promote the evolution and mutation of many invertebrates.

Only Dragon Beasts can condense Dragon Balls in their bodies, locking the Bloodline Power inside.

The extraction of most Beast's bloodlines is extremely difficult. The Common Level Skill [Blood Suck] of the Origin Blood Wad Carp that Fang Mu commands can suck the energy from the target's blood, solidifying a special Essence Of Blood from it.

That is, the so-called Essence Blood.

Fang Mu called the Origin Blood Wad Carp out of the Blood of Abundance and let it try to use the Blood Suck Skill on the corpses of the Withering Cold Tyrant Octopus and Tile Bone Stinger.

Fang Mu originally thought the Origin Blood Wad Carp, being only at Silver Stage, would need a long time to absorb the two Sequential Beasts using the Skill [Blood Suck].

But in reality, the Origin Blood Wad Carp only took less than six hours to solidify the Essence Blood containing the Olden Days Bloodline from the Tile Bone Stinger and the Tyrant Blood from the Withering Cold Tyrant Octopus.

The Essence Blood containing the Olden Days Bloodline was a purple-grey color and emitted a dull aura.

This aura gave Fang Mu an inexplicably unusual feeling.

Instinctively, Fang Mu resisted the Essence Blood containing the Olden Days Bloodline, as if it was something beneath contempt.

The Tyrant Essence Blood was blue-green and exceptionally viscous, carrying a nauseating fishy odor.

It was as if the slime secreted by invertebrates had been concentrated using some special method.

These two Essence Bloods, originating from Sequential Beasts, were treasures to anyone. Even the Grandmasters of the Founding Sect would buy these kinds of resources for regular use.

For concocting elixirs, Essence Blood is a high-end material. However, for Fang Mu, Essence Blood was useless.

Because Fang Mu's method of promoting a Beast's Bloodline wasn't through elixirs, but through the Blood Aged Wine produced by his own blood in the Blood of Abundance.

Late at night, Fang Mu received a message from the academy announcing a week-long vacation. It informed him that online classes would commence after the week had passed.

Chapter 378: The prosperous Fang Mu!_2

Online classes continue until the campus is rebuilt.

Fang Mu estimated that even if the Purple Que School Palace arranged for gnomes to build the school district, there would most likely be no chance to return to school this semester.

The school was closed for renovation and the library couldn't be accessed.

Without the library, Fang Mu had no reason to continue going to school.

Fang Mu had already asked Feng Lin to apply to the school on his behalf, and the school had called Fang Mu the next day at noon.

The school asked Fang Mu to confirm whether he no longer wanted to participate in the school's educational arrangement, and instead self-study until the end of the semester to participate in the final unified exam.

After Fang Mu expressed his confirmation to the school, he became a free man.

For the past few days, Fang Mu has been quietly at home, helping Feng Chenhao to strengthen a batch of Guardian Beasts.

Peach Beguile was developing very rapidly, and now it had six stores, two of which had spread to Yunjue Province outside of Qing Cang Province.

The doorsteps of every store were being trampled by those wealthy women.

Facing the situation of scarce supplies, Feng Chenhao took the initiative to increase the prices of limited products.

He raised the prices to the maximum limit.

If the prices were set any higher, the Peach Beguile brand would have to face supervision from the market department.

However, the price increase did not dampen the demand for Peach Beguile products, and the new co-branded series sold out quickly after being released.

Feng Chenhao was initially uneasy, ready to personally see whether the new co-branded series would be flooded with bad reviews due to the price increase.

The Peach Beguile brand wasn't his, Fang Mu was the major shareholder.

Basically, he was working for Fang Mu.

If he ruined the brand's reputation, he wouldn't know how to answer to Fang Mu.

What Feng Chenhao didn't know was that most of the Peach Beguile products were in the hands of scalpers, apart from the portion bought by genuinely wealthy women.

The cosmetics of Peach Beguile brand, due to the addition of Cleanry Plum Dew which has a strong preservation effect, the Cleanry Plum Dew prevents spoilage.

In addition to the pollen from Heaven Fragrance Peony and Age Fix Palm Oil which has a preservative effect, each Peach Beguile product can have a shelf life of more than five years.

Some essential oil products even have a shelf life of up to eight years.

The ultra-long shelf life has made all products under the Peach Beguile brand a recognized investment product among wealthy women.

Once any product is associated with investment, price is no longer a problem.

On the contrary, the higher the price, the more sought after it is.

Feng Chenhao informed Fang Mu of this situation afterwards.

Fang Mu didn't blame Feng Chenhao for raising prices unilaterally.

Since Fang Mu wanted to make Peach Beguile the top tier of luxury cosmetics, the higher the better.

The smell of Heaven Fragrance Peony can't be copied by other brands, and the effect of Age Fix Palm Oil can't be replaced.

Even if the price increase of Peach Beguile products really causes dissatisfaction, those unhappy people will still have to pay.

Feng Chenhao is preparing to go to The Capital to meet Fang Yuan before taking Peach Beguile's new co-branded series to the commerce association festival.

To sell the new co-branded products of Peach Beguile at the booth of Mu Commerce Association.

Feng Chenhao was very nervous about meeting Fang Mu's family for the first time, afraid that he might not satisfy Fang Yuan with his performance at the commerce association festival.

Therefore, Feng Chenhao deliberately put a lot of thought into the co-branding, paying out of his own pocket to buy some ancient books from the fifth and sixth epochs.

Feng Chenhao discovered that among the female powerhouses of the fifth and sixth epochs, one female powerhouse controlled seven different colored moons and always liked to wear a moonlight-colored robe, always holding a rabbit in her arms.

Feng Chenhao really liked these character introductions, by collaborating with them and having a famous artist provide illustrations, the packaging can be maximized in its exquisite degree.

It also makes the bonus cards inside even more collectible.

At first, Feng Chenhao didn't understand why Fang Mu wanted to include hand-drawn cards in the product packaging box and emphasized signing a contract with the artist, prohibiting the artist from making similar-themed hand-drawn works.

Now Feng Chenhao understood.

Those cards have now become a popular collectible among the wealthy women.

Due to the rare number of special hand-drawn cards, these special hand-drawn cards were even more expensive than the cosmetics themselves.

The development of Peach Beguile made Fang Mu more and more mythical in Feng Chenhao's mind.

Feng Chenhao always felt that Fang Mu had a planned development route for Peach Beguile from the very beginning when he named the brand Peach Beguile.

Everything seems to be within Fang Mu's expectations.

Otherwise, Fang Mu should not be so calm when he mentions the achievements of Peach Beguile to him.

Fang Mu didn't know Feng Chenhao's thoughts. If he knew, he would definitely sigh secretly, "Indeed, deification is the best way to control people's hearts!"

Fang Mu just applied some small business strategies from his past life, the real big moves have not been used yet!

Finally, on the fourth day in the evening, Fang Mu got a call from Luo Su.

Fang Mu thought to himself that the Jinghai army had finally finished cleaning the battlefield!

After greeting Fang Mu, Luo Su went straight to the point.

"Fang Mu, we are very grateful to you for your contributions to JA City. You not only protected Jinghai High School for Beast Masters but also helped Jinghai Tianyu University, and dispatched medical supplies to the entire JA City."

“At least hundreds of thousands of people were able to survive this calamity because of you, and you should have a part in these war spoils.”

Chapter 379: The Bountiful Fang Mu!_3

“Purple Que School Palace will not participate in the distribution of these spoils of war. The portion that was meant for the colleges in JA City will be handed over to you, as a token of our gratitude,” she said.

Fang Mu didn’t take Luo Su’s words, instead, he spoke directly to Luo Su.

“Sister Luo Su, to be honest, I have my eyes fixed on those Skin Hijackers and Stitched Hijackers made by the Evil Heart Sect,” he confessed.

“I hope I can get my hands on those Skin Hijackers and Stitched Hijackers,” he continued.

Fang Mu and Luo Su have a deep relationship. The Origin that Luo Su belonged to has cultivated two new Sequential powerhouses with the help of the Grandmaster Creator resources provided by Fang Mu.

Luo Su still owes him a favor.

But after hearing Fang Mu’s words, Luo Su’s face showed a bit of embarrassment.

The Skin Hijackers were easy enough to deal with, each one comparable to the level of a Diamond Level Beast Master.

The power of those Stitched Hijackers hovered around the eighth and seventh Sequence, with three of them even reaching the sixth Sequence.

Without the secret method of the Eternal Alchemy Association and the Evil Heart Sect, even if the soul of a powerhouse was found, it would be impossible to refine the soul to the level of controlling a Stitched Hijacker.

However, this doesn't diminish the value of the Stitched Hijackers.

Fang Mu's contribution to JA City at most could only earn him five Skin Hijackers and two Stitched Hijackers of the eighth Sequence.

If the number of Stitched Hijackers was small, Luo Su wouldn't refuse Fang Mu even if it meant digging into her own pocket.

But right now, the number of Stitched Hijackers was simply too high, Luo Su wouldn't be able to afford it even if she wanted to.

As the deputy leader of Jinghai Army, protecting Jinghai Province is Luo Su's duty. Luo Su couldn't possibly do something that goes against the interests of the Jinghai Army.

To secretly hand over the Stitched Hijackers to Fang Mu.

Fang Mu noticed that Luo Su didn't respond immediately after he voiced his request and figured that Luo Su must have misunderstood him.

"Sister Luo Su, I'm not asking for these Skin Hijackers and Stitched Hijackers for free, I'm hoping to make a deal with the Jinghai Army," he explained.

Upon hearing Fang Mu's words, Luo Su relaxed.

"Fang Mu, I will relay your request to the Corps Commander. I can assure you that the Corps Commander will definitely agree to your trade proposal," she assured him.

"However, it's always a bit evil to use such things as Skin Hijackers and Stitched Hijackers. Using them isn't exactly the right path," she advised him.

Upon hearing this, Fang Mu just laughed.

“After Sister Luo Su consults with the Corps Commander, just give me the total price!” he said.

“I trust that Sister Luo Su will not let me be at a loss,” he added.

Luo Su probably thought that Fang Mu wanted to trade these Skin Hijackers and Stitched Hijackers in an attempt to control these humanoid weapons, fearing he might lose sight of what’s important.

After all, with a Grandmaster Creator as a backing, it’s not impossible to figure out how to control the Skin Hijackers and Stitched Hijackers.

Organizations like the Eternal Alchemy Association and the Evil Heart Sect, despite causing chaos everywhere, have always tried to maintain good relations with high Star Creators.

Many high Star Creators have been covertly cooperating with these organizations.

For instance, Grandmaster Creator Xiao Xiang once cooperated with the Ancient Genesis, jointly cleaning up a large-scale pollution source.

Fang Mu’s control over the Skin Hijackers and Stitched Hijackers relied on the Exclusive Feature [Electronic Butterfly]. Fang Mu wanted these in order to further enhance his power over beasts.

There’s absolutely no chance of him straying from the right path.

“Fang Mu, rest assured, even if it means forcing a loss on Old Lv, I’ll never let you suffer a loss!” Luo Su declared.

“The Jinghai Army has already made an inventory of the spoils of war available from this battle,” she continued.

“Apart from the seven severely damaged Skin Hijackers and one Stitched Hijacker, there are forty-three relatively intact Skin Hijackers and eight Stitched Hijackers.”

“If you are planning to exchange them for Master-level Creator resources, you will need at least three hundred bottles of Life Elixir of 80% purity.”

“If you prefer Life Elixir of 90% purity, then you only need twenty bottles.”

“That’s the lowest price I can offer you!”

As she said this, Luo Su’s voice shook slightly. Giving this kind of quotation required her to withstand a lot of pressure.

Doing some quick calculations in his head, Fang Mu directly said,

“Sister Luo Su, the severely damaged Skin Hijackers and Stitched Hijackers also hand them over to me!”

“I’ll give you twenty-five bottles of Life Elixir of 90% purity.”

“In addition, I’ll give you one extra bottle of Life Elixir of 92% purity as a token of gratitude.”

“Apart from that, I hope, Sister Luo Su, you could also help me get the carcasses of those Sequential Beasts.”

“I don’t need the parts that could be used as spiritual materials, I just need the flesh that contains energy!”

Deep down, Fang Mu considered that She Wan managed to get a Stitched Hijacker for him, counting down the Evil Heart Sect selected fifty Skin Hijackers and ten Stitched Hijackers for the assault on JA City.

Ten Stitched Hijackers represented those seven Mr. Grays and three Mr. Reds. The entire JA City survived such a luxurious enemy arrangement.

Fang Mu lived in JA City for more than ten years and it was the first time he knew that so many powerhouses were hidden in the city.

Luo Su was there to help him, and Fang Mu wouldn't let those who were lending him a hand to bear any pressure.

So Fang Mu directly increased the quantity of Life Elixir to twenty-five bottles, giving Luo Su a good explanation for the Army Commander.

If the Jinghai Army felt they were at a loss trading with him, even with Luo Su's relationship, it would not be as smooth in the future.

Hearing Fang Mu's words, Luo Su felt all the pressure lifted from her mind.

If Luo Su was asked to comment on Fang Mu at this moment, her assessment of Fang Mu would be just two words: Fair-minded!

Fang Mu not only eased her pressure but also because of her help, gave her a bottle of Life Elixir of 92% purity as a thank-you gift.

"Rest assured, Fang Mu, all the flesh of those Sequential Beasts will definitely be yours," she told him.

After chatting casually with Fang Mu for a while, Luo Su hung up the phone and went off to deal with more pressing matters.

By evening, Luo Su herself made a trip to Fang Mu's manor, personally handing over all the Stitched Hijackers and Skin Hijackers to him.

Fang Mu didn't immediately hand over the Life Elixir to Luo Su, but agreed to have Lu Xiaoyin deliver the Elixirs to the Quiet Sea Army Headquarters within a month.

Producing such a large amount of Life Elixir at once was too shocking, so Fang Mu certainly had to be a bit cautious.

However, Fang Mu gave the Life Elixir intended as a thank-you gift to Luo Su that very night, and turned to Luo Su.

“Sister Luo Su, I also want to discuss a business venture with you worth 300 billion Dragon Rising coins!” he told her.

Chapter 380: Fang Mu’s “Aircraft Carrier Hacker”!_1

A look of surprise suddenly appeared on Luo Su’s face upon hearing Fang Mu’s words.

A business deal worth 30 billion Dragon Rising Coins!?

30 billion Dragon Rising Coins is not a small sum, and this level of transaction could be handled by the Jinghai Army if negotiated with them.

But to negotiate this transaction with her, it was something she simply could not digest.

The capital chain of Origin Construction, where she worked, only amounted to roughly 450 billion Dragon Rising Coins in total.

However, Luo Su, who was familiar with Fang Mu, understood one thing; doing business with Fang Mu would ensure she would not suffer a loss.

On this point, Luo Su, Lu Yuyu, and Lin Ziyuan had reached a consensus.

Even if she might make a slight loss in the transaction with Fang Mu, it was not something unacceptable.

Because the top forces of their three companies had successfully doubled their power, all thanks to the cultivation resources of Grandmaster Creator Fang Mu.

Considering Mountain-opening Construction's connection with the Gao Family of Lu City, Mountain-opening Construction could occasionally obtain some higher-level resources of Master Creators from the Gao Family.

Grandmaster Creator resources were equally precious to the Gao Family of Lu City.

Even if Mountain-opening Construction made significant contributions to the Gao Family, it would be difficult to receive the reward of Grandmaster Creator resources.

After all, Mountain-opening Construction did not have a marital alliance with the Gao Family of Lu City and while supported by them, was not considered part of the Gao Family's close relatives.

Even Mountain-opening Construction had such difficulties, let alone Origin Construction and Keystone Construction ever acquiring any Grandmaster Creator resources, even acquiring Master Creator resources was difficult.

The three of them had long decided to tie themselves to Fang Mu's ship and face any situation together with him.

"Fang Mu, I'm sure I can't handle a business deal of 30 billion Dragon Rising Coins on my own, and neither can my family behind me."

"But if you give me some time to raise some funds in my family, we should be able to come up with 8 billion Dragon Rising Coins!"

Before speaking, Luo Su carefully calculated her family's current situation and cautiously offered an estimate of 8 billion Dragon Rising Coins.

A craftsman's family should, in theory, earn money through their skills and have a plentiful cash flow.

And indeed, this was the case.

But Origin Construction, backed by Luo Su, had been doing business with Fang Mu all along, funding the spiritual materials for the construction of the manor and the headquarters of the Jianmu Commerce Association, including the extensive use of gnome resources.

To help Fang Mu build the manor and the headquarters of the Jianmu Commerce Association, Origin Construction had at least rejected ten orders in the past three months.

In addition, Fang Mu had also traded Grandmaster Creator resources with Origin Construction, collecting some cash from them.

Trading is a way to earn money through buying and selling. The Grandmaster Creator resources obtained from Fang Mu would definitely not be sold by Origin Construction, but would instead be reserved for the strong ones in the family to use.

The outgoing without income had caused some issues with Origin Construction's cash flow.

Given this situation, Luo Su was already committed to selling off the accumulated resources in the family by offering an estimate of 8 billion Dragon Rising Coins.

The resources hoarded in the family, no matter how rare, could still be bought, but there was no remedy for missing out on Fang Mu's deals.

Fang Mu did not expect Luo Su to make such a high offer.

Fang Mu originally planned to leave a part of the resources for barter in the group and disseminate the rest through other means.

After all, he had agreed with Feng Lin that the time limit would be two months.

For a craftsman family like Keystone Construction, Origin Construction, and Mountain-opening Construction, besides relying on undertaking building projects to earn money, they also relied on selling the furniture made by the master-level and grandmaster-level craftsmen in the family.

These pieces of furniture were basically priced in the seven-digits, and it was possible for a complete set of furniture sold together to reach the high seven-digit numbers.

After all, a large set of furniture takes a Master Craftsman or a Grandmaster Craftsman several years to make.

However, ever since the three craftsman families started collaborating with the Jianmu Commerce Association, all the grandmaster-level furniture had been transported to the Jianmu Commerce Association for display and sale.

These pieces of furniture could not be converted into cash.

It seems he had somewhat underestimated the foundation of the craftsman families!

The overall strength of Keystone Construction and Origin Construction was more or less similar. If Origin Construction could come up with 8 billion Dragon Rising Coins, Keystone Construction wouldn't be far behind.

Mountain-opening Construction was stronger than Origin Construction and Keystone Construction, so the least amount of Dragon Rising Coins it could provide would also be in the billions.

In the past month, Peach Beguile had earned a large amount of cash flow, and even though Feng Chenhao didn't receive much of a share, the funds he received were quite substantial.

It was time for Fang Mu to bring Feng Chenhao into the group chat!

If Feng Chenhao was willing to exchange for Grandmaster Creator resources, Fang Mu was willing to give him a chance.

Lu Yuyu, Luo Su, Lin Ziyuan, and Feng Chenhao were all pieces of the puzzle in Fang Mu's network of relationships.

Since Fang Mu and Feng Chenhao co-founded the Peach Beguile brand, Feng Chenhao had become the executor of Fang Mu's brand.

Fang Mu's relationship with Feng Chenhao was much closer than that with Lu Yuyu, Luo Su, and Lin Ziyuan.

The stronger Feng Chenhao's strength was, the more advantageous it would be for Fang Mu.

Fang Mu was raising funds to help the Qinghai Cleaner Division, and he had no need to hide this from Luo Su.

Fang Mu directly said to Luo Su.

"Sister Luo Su, it's okay if we complete this transaction within two months, after all, my funds are for helping the Cleaner Division."

"The time I agreed with the Cleaner Division is two months."

"Since I get cash from you to help the Cleaner Division, it's like you're helping me too!"
