Chapter 50: The Hidden Dragon Soars Over the Abyss_I

Interrupted by He Qing, Feng Lin suppressed that eager feeling in her heart.

That's true!

The boy is in the Burn House burning corpses. If she went there now, she could only watch from the outside.

Instead of waiting for the young man to come out, it would be better to go and retrieve his information first.

Thus, she could get to know this young man before they met.

"Do you know what his name is?"

Upon hearing this, He Qing immediately responded.

"Miss Fang Lin, he said his name is Jianmu."

Feng Lin lightly nodded upon hearing this.

“You will probably also go to the door of 2144 Burn House later, to witness the birth of a new record.

“If you have nothing urgent to do now, how about we go and confirm Jianmu’s age again?”

Feng Lin could remember the names of all the formal members of the Scavengers division in Jinghai Province, she naturally did her homework in advance.

Thus, she had a certain understanding of the guardian beasts that the formal members have registered.

Feng Lin knew that He Qing had contracted the Inch Bone Soft Snake.

The Inch Bone Soft Snake was very good at determining bone age.

If He Qing said that this young man was less than twenty years old, then he must be less than twenty years old.

This was very important, He Qing would never joke about it.

But it would still be good for her to confirm it again.

Under twenty is a wide range, the younger the age, the higher the potential.

Although they have both made history, the difference between eighteen and twenty years old is drastic.

She will have to report the situation of Jianmu to the headquarters in the end.

Therefore, she needed to know precise personal details.

Naturally, He Qing wouldn't refuse Feng Lin's invitation.

After contracting the Inch Bone Soft Snake, He Qing could determine the specific year of anyone's bone age by just touching it.

However, when it came to Fang Mu's bone age, He Qing could only roughly guess.

This was partly because He Qing didn't thoroughly undress Fang Mu and carefully feel his bones.

On the other hand, He Qing always felt that there was a certain aura emanating from Fang Mu.

It was able to shield his senses.

This feeling was very strange, He Qing had never felt this way about anyone else before.

This might be related to Jianmu's Destiny Guardian Beast or certain functional contracted beasts.

As the "Green Screen Knight" among the Scavengers, Feng Lin held real power in the organization.

She could easily retrieve "Jianmu's" information from the headquarters.

The information of each member within the "Scavengers" was top secret.

Her own investigation was due to her consideration of whether "Jianmu" had broken the record.

Therefore, Feng Lin did not choose to share the information with He Qing.

Jianmu, Fang Mu.

When a young man is out and does not use his real name,

Either this young man is quirky,

Or he is a boy with a story.

Looking at the age after seeing the name, Feng Lin was once again thrown off guard.

What! Sixteen years old!

At the age of sixteen, he broke the record of being the youngest member of the “Scavengers”!

Fang Mu’s age was utterly beyond Feng Lin’s expectation!

If Fang Mu was only dealing with Vanguard Beast Corpses, it wouldn’t be a big deal.

The key was among the two hundred Vanguard Beast Corpses he had dealt with, there were six Blood Clan Newborn Corpses!

Undoubtedly, this significantly increased Fang Mu’s value!

Even if Fang Mu was from Jinghai High School for Beast Masters, he shouldn't have been this astonishing!

Because this was fundamentally not something a high school student should be able to do.

After confirming Fang Mu's information, Feng Lin made a call to Chi Lianfeng.

Chi Lianfeng, as the principal of Jinghai High School for Beast Masters, was entirely devoted to imparting knowledge and educating people.

Although his body was old, Chi Lianfeng would occasionally choose to supervise practical lessons.

Chi Lianfeng never expected that he would receive a call from Feng Lin.

Moreover, Feng Lin specified that she wanted the information and family background of a student from Jinghai High School for Beast Masters.

Feng Lin had two reasons for doing so.

One was not to let Chi Lianfeng guess her purpose.

The other was to avoid triggering Fang Mu's wariness and not to interfere with his high school life.

Feng Lin has always held one truth.

That is, all actions have a purpose.

Before figuring out why Fang Mu chose to hide his identity.

Feng Lin didn't want to expose his true identity recklessly.

The "Scavengers" is an official organization.

Among the eight official organizations, it holds a higher rank than the Purple Que School Palace, which oversees all major high schools.

Therefore, Chi Lianfeng, although unsure of Feng Lin's intent, couldn't refuse her.

Soon, two files were sent to Feng Lin's mailbox.

One was a list of Guardian Beast Masters enrolled in Jinghai High School for Beast Masters, the other was a list of ordinary students.

Without second thought, Feng Lin opened the list of Beast Masters to search.

Feng Lin searched hard for two hours, scanning through the list six or seven times.

Even her eyes started to blur.

Yet, she failed to locate Fang Mu's file.

If it wasn't for her certainty that Chi Lianfeng would not lie,

Feng Lin would have suspected Chi Lianfeng deliberately hid Fang Mu's information.

Feng Lin confirmed once more and found Fang Mu still absent.

So, she casually opened the profile of ordinary students.

Upon looking, Fang Mu's file was glaringly placed in the first position.

Feng Lin blinked her eyes in confirmation, sure she was not seeing things, then clicked it.

Feng Lin discovered that from the start of his freshman year, Fang Mu's score for the six-item written test, a thousand points in total, never dropped below nine hundred.

Apart from hovering among the top twenty in the grade in his first semester of freshman year, he had been maintaining the top position consecutively from the second semester of his freshman year.

If Fang Mu was a Beast Master, he would definitely be an excellent candidate to become a Creator!

Moreover, since Fang Mu was capable of handling alien beast corpses, it was impossible for him not to have a contract beast.

Therefore, there were issues with the data she had! Fang Mu was not just concealing his real name outside, but also his Beast Master identity.

No matter how she looked at it, it seemed extraordinary.

All these would not be too far from now, when she met Fang Mu,

Fang Mu should give her an answer.

Otherwise, a person who genuinely wishes to hide would not have broken the “Scavengers” record, by doing such high-profile things.

Feng Lin couldn’t help but develop a strong interest in Fang Mu.

At this moment, Fang Mu, who was casually listening to “Xi Xi” as it chewed through the alien beast corps with its metal cilia, yawned.

“Xi Xi’s” ability to induce sleep was top-notch!

If it wasn’t for some past historical legends forbidding Beast Masters from live-streaming their Guardians on the net, “Xi Xi” definitely had the potential to become a top sleep-aid broadcaster.

In this Bloodline Newborn Corpse incineration room, there were no Blood Clan Newborn Corpses.

This made Fang Mu clearly feel an aggrieved ambiance from “Xi Xi”.

It was as if a child, feeling aggrieved, was asking his mother, why she made stewed cabbage instead of sweet and sour ribs for lunch today.

Noticing “Xi Xi’s” emotions, Fang Mu felt worried.

In the beginning, “Xi Xi” would even excitedly eat the “Hua Hua Dan” left by the Aromatherapy Rabbit.

But now, after eating the corpse of a Blood Clan Newborn, even the corpses of ordinary alien beasts failed to interest it!

So, when they went to the old factory building that night, would “Xi Xi” eating those garbage filled with water elemental energy, be similar to letting Old Eight eat a secret recipe hamburger?!

After “Xi Xi” finished consuming the heavily decayed carcass of a Sour Bagworm,

Fang Mu took off his high-temperature protective suit, took a deep breath,

Picked up the professionalism of a drama queen, and then gently pushed open the incineration room door.

At this moment, a genius named Fang Mu was ready to rise to fame in the Dragon Soaring!
