Chapter 521: Two Dragon Tails!_1

By the name itself, it could be inferred that the main ability of Rain-horned Dragon is to cause rainfall.

This ability perfectly complements the Rainy Doll's current skill.

The Dark Nightmare Tiger ingests the Rain-horned Dragon's Dragon Ball, causing the python tail on its back to adapt to the form of the Rain-horned Dragon.

After inheriting the ability of the Rain-horned Dragon, the python tail can effectively assist the Rainy Doll in controlling the arena, expanding her coverage area on the battlefield.

The Rainy Doll's toxins can spread through the rainwater brought by the Rain-horned Dragon.

Originally, the Dark Nightmare Tiger, after consuming the Covenant Blood Essence, only exhibited signs of enlargement. The muscle lines became clearer, and the bones became thicker.

The fur color changed from gray-black to a dark ink black.

Those originally obscure black patterns on its body became indistinguishable as the fur darkened, and the two python tails on its back also became thicker.

Scales like crystals began to appear on the python's body.

However, after Fang Mu fed the Rain-horned Dragon's Dragon Ball to the Dark Nightmare Tiger, roars of dragons were heard from within the beast.

Fang Mu knew that this was the Dragon Soul within the Rain-horned Dragon's Dragon Ball resisting, not wanting to be assimilated by the Dark Nightmare Tiger.

But aside from allowing Fang Mu to contract with the Dark Nightmare Tiger, the Contracting Blood also serves as the best catalyst for the Dark Nightmare Tiger's bloodline evolution and absorption of the Dragon Ball.

The dragon roars grew louder, clearly heard by Shui Miao, Shu Liangjun, She Wan and the others outside the house.

This dragon roar not only enveloped Fang Mu's residence but also spread throughout the entire Si Ning Mansion.

This was the final wail and death knell of the Rain-horned Dragon as a Sequential Dragon race Guardian Beast.

Because of the previous transaction, everyone living in the Si Ning Mansion recognised the nature of the entity living in the house from which the dragon roars were emanating.

Many of those living in the Si Ning Mansion were actually guests at Fang Mu's previous transaction meeting.

Therefore, no one dared to disturb Fang Mu at this time.

Shui Miao and Shu Liangjun were each busy with their respective tasks.

Wanting to remove the contaminants from his body, Shu Liangjun needed to make thorough preparations.

Otherwise, he might not be able to save his legs.

Having confirmed that he could still live a long life, Shu Liangjun did not want to lose his legs and need others' assistance to move.

She Wan, justifiably so, was sticking to her duty as a guard and standing by Fang Mu's door.

This was to ensure that if there were any issues inside the house, she could rush to Fang Mu's assistance at the first call.

The current situation of the Dark Nightmare Tiger's bloodline transformation was even more brutal than when Fang Qin's Iron Thorn Carp evolved into Cangluan Ying Jiao.

Stimulated by the Rain-horned Dragon's Dragon Ball, the Dark Nightmare Tiger's skeleton grew, with the growth speed of its muscles and fur unable to keep up with that of its skeleton.

The Dark Nightmare Tiger's skeleton abruptly broke through the obstacles of its muscles and fur, protruding out of its body.

From a body length of less than three meters, it expanded to five meters, and the Dark Nightmare Tiger's skeleton grew twice as wide and more than once as long as before.

As a result, the Dark Nightmare Tiger's muscles and fur were completely torn apart, hanging on its skeleton, and the blood was scattered all over the ground.

Fang Mu could see every piece of flesh on the Dark Nightmare Tiger's skeleton regenerating muscle fibers at a rapid rate, trying to wrap around its huge skeleton.

In just over ten minutes, Fang Mu witnessed the miraculous assembly technique of the Creator, where each cell functioned like a puzzle piece, forcibly reassembling the Dark Nightmare Tiger.

The Dark Nightmare Tiger was now a mighty beast!

But the evolution and transformation of the bloodline were apparently not over yet, as both of the Dark Nightmare Tiger's python tails grew to seven or eight meters during the reconstruction of its body.

By rights, both python tails should have been coiled on the back of the Dark Nightmare Tiger. However, currently, only one python tail was quietly coiled on its back.

The other python tail was frantically thrashing on the ground, shattering the cyan and green floor tiles in the room.

The dark red blood seeped underneath the floor tiles, making it impossible for a vacuum cleaner to clean the area thoroughly.

The roaring of the dragon soul in the tiger's abdomen had stopped. Fang Mu knew the reason for this development was because the energy from within the dragon ball was altering the tiger's python tail.

Once the python tail was completely remodeled by the energy within the dragon ball, the Dark Nightmare Tiger would complete its evolution to become a Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger.

Now, Fang Mu could feel that he had made a contract with the Dark Nightmare Tiger, clearly sensing the tiger's pain through the contract.

But as the Contractor, Fang Mu could not alleviate the Dark Nightmare Tiger's pain.

Some hardships were inevitable for a bloodline transformation.

The black python tail of the Dark Nightmare Tiger, with its scales similar to black crystals, was completely shed off.

New scales with a sky-blue color and white cloud patterns grew out of the python tail's skin.

The triangular python head changed shape, a horn sharply protruding from its top.

A Dragon's beard and whiskers, unique to the Guardian Beasts of Dragon races, grew around the python head's neck.

At the same time, the ink-colored fur on the Dark Nightmare Tiger also started falling, inch by inch, much like a house cat shedding fur.

Deep blue fur grew from the Dark Nightmare Tiger's body.

It enabled Fang Mu to view the black patterns on the beast's body once again.

The curtains fell when the python tail released the roar of a dragon. The Dark Nightmare Tiger opened its tiger eyes and let out a devastating roar.

Immediately after, with a leap, it came right in front of Fang Mu, trying to rub Fang Mu's neck with its head.

Fang Mu hastily stopped the beast's actions.

"Meet Dragon, although your fur now appears soft, each hair is as hard and sharp as a steel needle."

Chapter 522: Two dragon tails!_2

"Half of my body would be completely gone in one swipe from you!"

Hearing Fang Mu's words, Meet Dragon squatted in place, feeling aggrieved and scratched at his own head with a claw.

It's over! The happiness is gone!

I can no longer cuddle with Fang Mu!

Coming up next to Meet Dragon, he reaches out to stroke Meet Dragon's fur.

If he stroked Meet Dragon's fur anticlockwise, his hand would be instantly punctured, but stroking clockwise doesn't seem to be a problem!

Fang Mu used the Eye of Omniscience to investigate Meet Dragon during the process of touching him.

[Beast Name]: Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger

[Beast Species]: Feline/Python Tiger

[Beast Level]: Silver (9/10)

[Beast Element]: Water/Dark

[Beast Potential]: Silver

[Beast Quality]: Epic

Skills:

[Dragon Armor]: Uses the Dragon Bloodline in the python-tail and the beast's own elemental energy to shape an external layer of armor. The bloodline energy and elemental energy contained in the armor can reduce the damage inflicted by other energy attacks by means of impact offsetting.

[Blood Spreading]: Every time it gets injured or causes damage to an enemy, its ferocity increases. Each layer of ferocity can upgrade power and speed by one percent, and the stimulation degree of the bloodline in the python tail.

Exclusive Traits:

[Multiplying Python-tail]: The python tail splits once per level up, after the split and with proper nurture, it does not affect the ability and potential of a single python tail.

①: First Python Tail: Rain-horned Dragon

[Unban of the severed tail]: Completely unseals the dragon bloodline in the python tail by severing the tail; consumes the bloodline to transform the python tail into a dragon, upon timely replenishment of life energy, a new python tail can grow after the previous tail has been severed.

Evolutionary Path:

①: Binding Dragon Tiger Demon, ②: Emperor Tiger of the Hidden Dragon, ③: Dragon Power Curse Tiger.

After inspection, Fang Mu found that Dark Nightmare Tiger's evolution towards Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger led to a change in the data as a whole.

Firstly, throughout the process of forming a covenant and undergoing bloodline evolution, the level jumped four times, reaching directly to Silver Grade nine.

The Quality also escalated from its original Perfect Quality to Epic Quality.

Fang Mu could sense that Meet Dragon is only a step away from achieving Legendary Quality.

Even calling it a thin layer of paper wouldn't be an exaggeration!

Fang Mu will feed Meet Dragon another Dragon Ball later on, causing another python tail of Meet Dragon to undergo the same transformation.

It can be said that Meet Dragon's ascension to Legendary Quality is already set in stone!

Only two complete Dragon Balls enabled Meet Dragon to upgrade its Quality to Legendary, and this is still under the circumstance that Meet Dragon had consumed a drop of Covenant Blood Essence.

This indicates how difficult it is to uplift the Beast Quality to Legendary for Copper and Silver Stages!

Now, Dragon Balls didn't mean much to Fang Mu.

However, no power dared to claim that they could easily produce a complete Dragon Ball.

Originally, Meet Dragon was a Pure Dark attribute Beast, but now its beast element has transformed into a dual Water/Dark System.

It is also evident that the Water System plays the dominant role among all the elements put together.

While Meet Dragon was still a Dark Nightmare Tiger, its Copper Grade Skill was [Dark Armor], which has now changed to [Dragon Armor].

[Dark Armor] shapes an external layer of armor through Dark elemental energy to offset elemental energy attacks other than dark element ones.

[Dragon Armor], on the other hand, merges both Dark and Water elemental energies with the Dragon Bloodline in the python tail to form the armor.

[Dragon Armor] can offset any form of energy attack and is no longer restricted solely to elemental energy.

This significantly enhances Meet Dragon's defensive abilities.

The Silver Grade Skill [Blood Spreading] maintained its original ability, but it also increased the stimulation degree of the bloodline in the python tail during combat.

The power of Dragon Race's Beasts primarily emanates from the bloodline, hence enhancing the ignition of the bloodline implies a comprehensive strengthening of the python tail's power.

This further intensifies Meet Dragon's attack capacity.

The newly acquired exclusive trait of Epic Quality [Unban of the severed tail] reflects great power, compelling Fang Mu to deeply contemplate Meet Dragon's spendthrift potential.

Each unsealing of the dragon tail not only requires severing the tail but also consumes a Dragon Ball.

Is Meet Dragon treating Dragon Balls as if they were worth nothing?

Unless absolutely necessary, Fang Mu would hesitate to let Meet Dragon use the exclusive trait [Unban of the severed tail].

However, it must be admitted that [Unban of the severed tail] has a merit that allows the Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger to replace the Dragon Ball it absorbs.

There's no need to worry that Meet Dragon would absorb the wrong Dragon Ball, thus affecting the coordination between the python tails.

From now on, Fang Mu can continuously adjust the Dragon Balls, in order to maintain Meet Dragon at an absolutely perfect state.

In the three most superior evolutionary paths selected by the Eye of Omniscience, Fang Mu is more inclined towards Binding Dragon Tiger Demon, and Emperor Tiger of the Hidden Dragon.

The third path, Dragon Power Curse Tiger, still involves deeply tapping into Meet Dragon's Dark Attribute.

If Fang Mu feeds Meet Dragon entirely with Dark Attribute Dragon Balls, it could possibly evolve this way.

However, Fang Mu has never planned to feed Meet Dragon with Dark Attribute Dragon Balls.

In the case of consuming Dragon Balls with dual attributes of Water and Fire, this evolutionary path will not significantly improve Meet Dragon.

Binding Dragon Tiger Demon is the evolution of Meet Dragon into the Fairy Bloodline. In the Beastmaster World, animal types evolving into fairies does not mean those kind of brutish humanoid monsters.

They are, instead, humanoid creatures no more than a meter tall, with fairy wings on their backs, appearing extremely adorable.

Evolution towards the fairy bloodline will deepen Meet Dragon's wisdom and control over the elements.

Whereas the evolution path as Emperor Tiger of the Hidden Dragon significantly triggers Meet Dragon's Beast King's Bloodline.

Chapter 523: Two Dragon Tails! _3

This gives the Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger a dominant position among the tiger type familiars.

Not only fairy type control beasts and dragon race control beasts have oppression on their bloodlines, but beast familiars also have oppression on their bloodlines.

However, the oppression of bloodlines among beast familiars is much weaker compared with fairy type control beasts and dragon race control beasts.

Fang Mu was somewhat torn between these two evolution paths.

He planned to wait until the Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger grew up and reached the moment when it needed a bloodline transformation.

Then, he would choose its evolutionary path based on its battle system.

By then, he would also have a good discussion with the Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger to see which evolutionary path it was more interested in.

Looking at the remaining eight Dragon Balls, he started to choose from the remaining eight.

Because the Rainy Doll could only possibly evolve into Gemini of Lake Flame when promoted to the golden stage, to better cooperate with the Rainy Doll, the Meet Dragon should also choose a water attribute Dragon Orb.

At present, the water attribute Dragon Balls that Fang Mu can use are only two, namely the Underworld River Hidden Dragon and the Milky Way Waterfall Dragon.

The Milky Way Waterfall Dragon is a pure elemental master dragon, and the control of the water attribute by the Dragon Ball of the Milky Way Waterfall Dragon must be stronger than the Underworld River Hidden Dragon.

However, the Underworld River Hidden Dragon is a dark and water dual attribute control beast, which perfectly fits the attributes of the Dark Nightmare Tiger.

It enhances the dark attribute of the Dark Nightmare Tiger itself.

After all the considerations, Fang Mu finally chose the Milky Way Waterfall Dragon.

The Milky Way Waterfall Dragon is good at strong water system offensive abilities, and this kind of strong offensive ability is exactly what Jianmu identity lacks.

The way the Rainy Doll fights is continuous harvesting, and it basically has no control ability without transforming into a Blood Noble through [Water Spirit Conversion].

Compared to increasing the dark attribute of Meet Dragon, it is undoubtedly more important to make up for the lack of fighting.

Having made a decision, Fang Mu handed the Dragon Ball of the Milky Way Waterfall Dragon to Meet Dragon and said softly.

“Meet Dragon, you’re probably going to have to suffer some more, and after enduring these sufferings, your other python tail will be able to transform into a dragon tail!”

“Also, your quality will be able to improve!”

Fang Mu felt that Meet Dragon, having just experienced such a cruel bloodline transformation, had most likely been left with a psychological trauma.

He was likely to resist suffering again and needed some guidance.

But Fang Mu had not expected that as soon as he put the Dragon Ball of the Milky Way Waterfall Dragon in front of Meet Dragon, Meet Dragon immediately swallowed the Dragon Ball of the Milky Way Waterfall Dragon with great anticipation.

It was clear that the increase of life levels made Meet Dragon completely ignore the pain he had previously suffered.

After Meet Dragon swallowed the Dragon Ball of Milky Way Waterfall Dragon, there was again the sound of dragon chants from his abdomen.

However, this time Meet Dragon’s skeleton did not grow rapidly and burst through the flesh like before.

Thick water vapor seeped out from within Meet Dragon’s body.

At first, the water vapor that seeped out was transparent, but soon the water vapor turned a faint red color.

And the red was constantly deepening.

Fang Mu was quick to judge what was really going on.

After swallowing the Dragon Ball of Milky Way Waterfall Dragon, the water vapor inside the Dragon Ball of Milky Way Waterfall Dragon was tempering Meet Dragon.

This allows Meet Dragon's body to withstand more water elemental energy.

If before, Meet Dragon's body was merely a water glass, limited in its capacity to hold water elemental energy.

Then, under the transformation of the Dragon Ball of Milky Way Waterfall Dragon, Meet Dragon's body gradually changed from a cup of water to a bucket of water.

This allows Meet Dragon to more easily manipulate the water elements in the environment to launch attacks through its own water elemental energy during battle.

Suddenly, Meet Dragon's breath changed sharply, and Fang Mu knew that under the absorption of the Dragon Ball of Milky Way Waterfall Dragon and the transformation of the Dragon Ball of Milky Way Waterfall Dragon on Meet Dragon.

Meet Dragon's quality had been raised from epic quality to legendary quality.

Fang Mu immediately used the Eye of Omniscience to investigate Meet Dragon.

Fang Mu found that Meet Dragon's exclusive characteristic, newly obtained by advancing to legendary quality, was [Auspicious Dragon Gather].

[Auspicious Dragon Gather]: Whenever there is an extra dragon tail, its overall abilities will be enhanced to a certain extent. Under the situation where one dragon tail is being attacked, it can choose other dragon tails to bear the injury.

The exclusive characteristic of Meet Dragon being promoted to legendary quality, [Auspicious Dragon Gather], Fang Mu did not know how to evaluate it for a while.

If [Auspicious Dragon Gather] is not strong, [Auspicious Dragon Gather] can enhance itself in all aspects.

Under the situation of Meet Dragon's promotion to sequential rank with six dragon tails, Meet Dragon can increase its total strength by 70 percent, without any side effects.

Such an increase is probably rare for control beasts.

But if [Auspicious Dragon Gather] is strong, the early increase of [Auspicious Dragon Gather] is too weak.

Silver Stage can only increase itself by 20 percent.

This ability is far less than the explosive or high-endurance exclusive traits of other Silver Stage control beasts.

In any case, [Auspicious Dragon Gather] is a potential stock.

In Fang Mu's view, compared to its own enhancement, [Auspicious Dragon Gather]'s capability of helping other dragon tails to share injuries is also worth mentioning.

When one dragon tail is injured, the other dragon tails help to share the injury. This can effectively prevent the attacked dragon tail from being destroyed instantly.

This minimizes Fang Mu's loss of resources and prevents Meet Dragon from losing a tactic in battle.

Gradually, the water vapor on Meet Dragon's body ran out.

There was no increase in the size of Meet Dragon's body, and it did not look any more robust than before.

But Fang Mu can feel that Meet Dragon's physical fitness is much stronger than before!

The only remaining python tail behind Meet Dragon turned pale blue, looking semi-transparent, somewhere between elemental and physical body.

Water flows continuously spouted from his mouth, circling Meet Dragon's body.

After devouring another Dragon Ball, Meet Dragon's rank had risen to Silver Rank Level Ten.

If it weren't for the limitation of Fang Mu's Beast Master's star level, Meet Dragon could easily break through to the golden rank.

Now, Fang Mu really wants to make the Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger and Rainy Doll fight. On the one hand, to polish the coordination of his two control beasts.

On the other hand, Fang Mu also wants to personally feel how strong the Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger really is.

Chapter 524: Invitation to the Performance Competition!_1

The most convenient way to fight is undoubtedly through the Battle Network.

The Battle Network is a great place for self-assessment and honing the combat mechanisms.

It has been a long time since Fang Mu last fought in the Battle Network.

Fang Mu has now advanced to the Silver Ranks with eighty-one victory points through the promotion competition.

At this rank, all the Beast Masters Fang Mu encounters possess at least a Silver Stage Guardian Beast, and many even have Gold Stage Guardian Beasts.

Competing with these individuals effectively validates Fang Mu's strength.

For the next few days, Fang Mu plans to cultivate the Mechanism Fortress and the Abdominal Territory Worm, and wait for the possible opening of an Epoch relic said to contain a living body.

The Abdominal Territory Worm simply needs constant feeding of Life Elixirs and Space Potions.

The Mechanism Fortress can increase its ranks and levels through digestion of spiritual instrument fragments, needing no effort from Fang Mu.

Based on the current presence of Dead Qi and turbid energy, the Epoch relic would not be open for another two days.

In these two days, Fang Mu can competently fight in the Battle Network and aim to level up his Battle Network rank to Gold.

Fang Mu believes that once he advances his Battle Network ranking to Gold, he has pretty much reached the pinnacle.

At the Gold rank, one may encounter Beast Masters who possess Platinum Stage Guardian Beasts.

In fact, not only when reaching Gold but even during Silver Rank promotion games, there is a chance to come across Beast Masters possessing Platinum Stage Guardian Beasts.

The Rainy Doll, using the [Water Spirit Conversion], can become as strong as a Gold-tier Blood Noble within a minute, but it can't threaten a Platinum-stage Beast.

But faced with those who have contracted Platinum Stage Guardian Beasts, Fang Mu still has fighting power.

In real-world fights, unless necessary, Fang Mu would never let the Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger use its exclusive ability, Unban of the severed tail.

Because using the exclusive ability, Unban of the severed tail, in the real world would lead to the Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger losing a dragon tail.

However, using the exclusive ability, Unban of the severed tail, on the Battle Network wouldn't affect the Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger itself.

Upon this thought, Fang Mu was eager to call out the Dream Beast and enter the Battle Network through it.

Fang Mu had never paid attention to Battle Network news and was oblivious to the splash he had made with his two identities: Jianmu and Yan Luo.

Among Fang Mu's two identities, Jianmu is more famous than Yan Luo.

Because Fang Mu introduces himself as Jianmu when interacting with the outside world.

This has led major powers who have had a chance to learn about Jianmu's information to match the identity of Jianmu on the Battle Network with the identity of a Grandmaster Disciple.

That made Jianmu owning a Silver Stage Half-Elf seem less exaggerated.

Fang Mu, as Jianmu, never live-streamed on the Battle Network, but he already had many fans there.

Jianmu has attracted the attention of many medium and large clubs.

All the clubs are very clear about what a Silver Stage Half-Elf implies and have started to investigate Jianmu.

Upon discovering that Jianmu is the disciple of a Grandmaster Creator, many clubs abandoned the idea of recruiting him.

How could a disciple of a Grandmaster Creator join a club and sign a contract to win honor for the club?

The conditions set by Grade A and Grade B clubs for player contracts are extremely rigorous, even for headliners.

Because the Club Guild has to take responsibility for the cultivation of the players' Guardian Beasts, which involves a considerable investment of resources.

No club is willing to invest these resources in a player, only to watch helplessly as the player they've nurtured turns on them.

If Jianmu breaks the stringent contract with the clubs due to discontent with the Club Guild's arrangements, what can the contracted Club Guild possibly say?

As a disciple of a Grandmaster Creator, Jianmu and the Grandmaster Creator behind him could easily pay the contract termination fee.

The termination fee imposed by the club is exorbitant for a common person, but not for the disciple of a Grandmaster Creator.

And, if he really pays, would the Club Guild dare to accept it?

No one knows how many people and powers want to establish a relationship with Jianmu, and would gladly take the opportunity to appease Jianmu by suppressing the club that overstepped forbearance and collected the breach of contract fee from Jianmu.

That's why it's always said that even if a Creator is kind and merciful, you must never offend him!

Those medium and large clubs that could poke into Jianmu's identity didn't dare invite him, and small clubs naturally didn't dare to send messages to Jianmu's Battle Network account either.

The identity of Fang Mu as Yan Luo suddenly rose to prominence, controlling three high-quality Silver Stage Undead Species Guardian Beasts.

Given the rarity of Beast Masters who have contracted with Undead Species Guardian Beasts, many looked at Yan Luo with curiosity.

At first glance, they noticed the finely-tuned coordination between Yan Luo's Guardian Beasts.

The meat shield among them could pin down a front-line Guardian Beast stronger than itself and could also launch effective attacks during the entanglement.

In terms of One-point Stars Beast Masters, Yan Luo's position is basically dominant.

On the one hand, this is due to Yan Luo's powerful beasts and, on the other hand, because very few One-point Stars Beast Masters will contract with three Guardian Beasts.

Yan Luo's sudden rise on the Battle Network has garnered a part of the fans who adore the Undead Species Guardian Beasts.

Chapter 525: Invitation to the Performance Competition!_2

Most of his fans are passionate about the dark culture, wearing spiritual instruments and accessories heavily influenced by a darker style.

Even these fans know that Yan Luo's potential is limited and it will be very difficult to comprehend mysterious patterns in the future.

Many users began to make speculations about Yan Luo's identity, fascinated by conspiracy theories and taking delight in wild speculations.

It's clear that Yan Luo, who has upgraded his guardian beast to a high quality at the Silver Stage, is not lacking in resources.

Someone with plenty of resources who has contracted with so many beasts from a young age is likely a side branch of some major family.

The family might have feared Yan Luo's talent, worrying it would overshadow the status of their direct descendants. As a result, they might have chosen to limit Yan Luo's potential from a young age.

A young genius with significant strengths, painted with elements of tragedy.

Despite always wearing a mask, Yan Luo has attracted a large number of female fans.

Among them, some fans could not help but compare Yan Luo with Jianmu.

However, this notion was quickly suppressed by Jianmu's fans.

"Someone with no potential should not bother someone who has contracted with a Silver Stage Half-Elf! Moreover, this Silver Stage Half-Elf can even unleash the power of a gold-level peak!"

Liu Tiantian had applied to Battle Network for exclusive interviewing rights with Jianmu.

A contracted reporter like Liu Tiantian is fully qualified to exclusively cover a main player from a Grade A club or a lead player from a Grade B club.

Jianmu's popularity is far from that of players from Grade A clubs or lead players from Grade B clubs!

This led Liu Tiantian to successfully apply for exclusive interviewing rights with Jianmu.

However, Liu Tiantian found it awkward to discover that after obtaining the exclusive reporting rights, Jianmu had not appeared on the Battle Network since.

Reporters who have applied for exclusive rights can no longer report on other players at will.

This was particularly embarrassing for Liu Tiantian.

Liu Tiantian could only focus all her energy on preparing for the commentary.

Thanks to her thorough preparation, Liu Tiantian was recognized for her commentary in several city collegiate competitions and was given more opportunities.

It can be considered as a blessing in disguise.

Apart from commentating on matches, Liu Tiantian spent most of her time on the Battle Network, hoping to catch Jianmu the moment he logs on.

Jianmu is not a Battle Network live streamer. Even if Jianmu competes on the Battle Network, Liu Tiantian cannot access his live status immediately.

Unless Jianmu happens to run into a live broadcast.

While there were fewer live streamers when Jianmu was in the Bronze Rank, in the Silver Ranks most Battle Network users would start streaming.

Starting a live stream can both attract fans and gain recognition from clubs, travel teams, and mercenary groups.

In a world where resources are scarce, every opportunity is important.

This is especially true for those who are relatively weak.

Therefore, Liu Tiantian believed that if Jianmu challenged someone on the Battle Network, she would most likely get a chance to watch him as long as she staying logged in.

There is now a dedicated forum on the Battle Network for Jianmu. Whenever Jianmu competes against a streamer, people will immediately notify everyone.

As long as you're in Jianmu's forum, you can almost get the latest news about Jianmu.

Although there have been nearly zero updates about Jianmu on the Battle Network, Liu Tiantian doesn't regret applying for exclusive rights to Jianmu's news.

Because Liu Tiantian knew very well that once Jianmu appeared on the Battle Network for a fight and brought out a new beast,

She will have plenty of material to write about.

It has been over a month, and Jianmu's Silver Stage Half-Elf is still all the rage on the Battle Network.

Fang Mu has no idea that his battles on the Battle Network have become a topic of conversation and anticipation.

Fang Mu entered the information of the Subduing Dragon Nightmare Tiger into Shi Meng Beast first, and then initiated a match.

A long-haired girl with princess curls, Duan Qingxin, who was live streaming, couldn't help but exclaim at the sight of her opponent.

Duan Qingxin had just graduated from high school and was less than a month into her college life, filled with expectations and curiosity.

Being able to enroll in Sacred Moon University, the third-ranked university in The Capital, Duan Qingxin could be considered the cream of the crop.

In addition to her extraordinary scholastic performance, Duan Qingxin always had stunning looks, earning her the title of the school's "most beautiful girl" in high school.

Even in college, she is still considered one of the top ten beauties of her department.

This has made Duan Qingxin very popular at the university, continuously receiving love letters from peers and senior students.

Unfortunately for them, Duan Qingxin was always focused on enhancing her own abilities, and during the holidays, Duan Qingxin came across a top-quality idol on the Battle Network.

This led her to not consider having a relationship in university.

Thus, upon entering college, Duan Qingxin started live-streaming on the Battle Network.

In less than half a month, Duan Qingxin gained a large fanbase due to her excellent performance and sweet appearance.

She even made it to the starboard of Battle Network live streamers for a few days.

Obviously, Duan Qingxin's success in a short amount of time is related to her looks.

But more than that, it's her plant-type beasts, which have a high ornamental value, and her clear strategic deployment and well-timed commentary during her live stream.

When Duan Qingxin saw the person matched on the opposite side, the normally calm and elegant girl couldn't help but shout in surprise.

Chapter 526: Invitation to the Performance Competition!_3

"Gah! I...I...Am I dreaming?!"

"I can't believe I'm up against Jianmu!"

The high-quality idol that Duan Qingxin encountered on the Battle Network during his vacation is Jianmu.

It was Jianmu who changed Duan Qingxin's idea of enjoying campus life and youth at the Sacred Moon University.

Improving his strength is far more important than enjoying his youth!

Not only was Duan Qingxin surprised, but also many fans in Duan Qingxin's live stream room.

[Qingyinyin]: It's Jianmu geigei! I'm going to report this on the forum! The owner will surely highlight this breaking news!

[Jingwan]: It's over! I think our anchor's winning streak is about to break! I remember Jianmu's silver-ranked Half-Elf can transform into a Blood Noble, very fierce! It even lifted that gold-ranked rhino up!

[Demon Endless]: It should be alright, right? Our Heartfelt uses poison, so it doesn't necessarily mean he's powerless! If a toxic Guardian Beast is controlled well, it's not impossible to kill the enemy above their rank!

[Ice Chrysanthemum Speechless]: Everyone in the live stream room knows that Heartfelt's Guardian Beasts use poison. The key is that Jianmu's Guardian Beasts also use poison! Elemental Beasts of the Toxic System have much higher resistance than plant-type beastmasters!

[Little Fatty Lose Weight]: Winning or losing doesn't matter this time, Heartfelt will get great exposure. By then, all of us will be considered old fans when Heartfelt becomes a big anchor!

Duan Qingxin, who was always good at handling things, didn't even dare to greet his idol Jianmu at this moment.

Fang Mu raised his eyebrow when he saw the information of his opponent.

The other party did not hide his game count. Fifty-two games had brought him to ninety-three victory points in Silver Ranks, which proved his strong strength.

But it won't be excessively strong.

Like Fang Mu himself, he reached the Silver Level Three just by playing twenty or so games, many of which were ranking matches.

For such an opponent who wouldn't push him to give his full strength, Fang Mu didn't want to waste time.

He simply summoned Rainy Doll.

Seeing that the two Guardian Beasts summoned by the enemy were one at Gold Rank One with a perfect quality, and one at Silver Rank Level Ten with a perfect quality.

Both were plant-type beastmasters that specialize in output but not good at moving.

Fang Mu directly let Rainy Doll take control of the field, leaving no chance for those two plants to release their poisonous attack.

After the last battle of Rainy Doll, Fang Mu had enhanced it again.

He had crystalized the toxin that could damage the high-sequence Guardian Beast, Giant Toothed Whale, and fed it to Rainy Doll.

Since Rainy Doll itself already contains a large amount of Acid Poison and Erosion Poison, these two kinds of toxins are extremely deadly to plant-type beastmasters.

When the rain curtain of Rainy Doll fell on the two enemy plant-type beastmasters, the two beautifully blooming floral beastmasters immediately rotted and wilted.

Rainy Doll holds a great advantage over other Guardian Beasts that need to control the field.

Rainy Doll is also a field-controller, but it can move freely.

The battle was predictably concluded with Fang Mu's victory.

An influx of spectators flooded Duan Qingxin's live stream room in an instant, a viewership that Duan Qingxin, a newbie, should not have had.

Duan Qingxin would have been thrilled under normal circumstances seeing the increase in viewership.

But at this moment, Duan Qingxin's mind was not on his live stream room, but on watching Jianmu from a distance.

For the first time, Duan Qingxin deeply felt the gap between him and his idol.

This young boy, who is clearly much younger than him, is someone he can only look up to.

Somehow, just before his two Guardian Beasts were about to die, Duan Qingxin grew courageous.

The courage supported Duan Qingxin, allowing him to wave and shout at Jianmu.

"Jianmu, I'm your fan! I'm currently in my first year at Sacred Moon University in the Capital!"

"I will strive to become a professional player in the club in the future!"

Fang Mu, who was about to queue up for the next match, paused upon hearing his words.

In his previous life, Fang Mu, a biologist, never had the chance to publicize himself.

As a dual-life person, this was Fang Mu's first encounter with fans.

Looking at Duan Qingxin, who was waving at him, Fang Mu also waved back at Duan Qingxin in response.

Then he gave Duan Qingxin a thumbs up.

Then, alongside the death of Duan Qingxin's two Guardian Beasts, Fang Mu unpaired from the match with Duan Qingxin.

The news of Fang Mu once again logging onto the Battle Network to play had spread from Duan Qingxin's live stream room to Jianmu's forum, and then throughout the Battle Network.

Liu Tiantian rushed into Duan Qingxin's live stream as soon as she got the news.

She didn't expect that the battle would end immediately after she entered the stream despite her constant monitoring in Jianmu's forum.

But Liu Tiantian was not disappointed.

Because Liu Tiantian knew that after this battle, Jianmu would likely not stop but continue instead.

Now, many Silver Rank players are probably streaming live, hoping to match up with Fang Mu.

The fact that this Battle Network anchor called Heartfelt says Jianmu is his idol couldn't surprise Liu Tiantian.

It's normal in Heartfelt's age to idolize a young person who has strength, potential, and is likely a Grandmaster Disciple.

Not to mention Heartfelt, even Liu Tiantian, who is at least ten years older than Fang Mu, is also a fan of Jianmu.

Compared to other club players, what attracts people more to Jianmu is his mysterious demeanor.

All along, Jianmu has always given off a calm and composed image. Yet no one would have thought that Jianmu could be so warm.

The final thumbs up must become a major source of motivation in the life of this anchor named Heartfelt.

Just as Liu Tiantian predicted, many Battle Network anchors, despite having asked for a break from their fans today or being out of their broadcasting schedule, had started their live streams.

The example set by Wang Huan made all Battle Network anchors aware of the popularity they could get from Fang Mu.

Fang Mu, who had won a match, saw his victory points increased from eighty-two to one hundred, just enough for him to play in the Silver Three promotion match.

Just as Fang Mu was about to play in the promotion match, hoping to meet some tough opponents there.

Fang Mu suddenly received an invitation to an exhibition game from the Battle Network officials.

Chapter 527: Jianmu's Opponent!_1

Fang Mu had never heard of the term "exhibition match" on the Battle Network before.

Fang Mu mainly used the Battle Network to improve his own fighting skills, essentially treating it as a tool to hone his abilities.

After all, Fang Mu didn't have many opportunities to fight in real life.

His Guardian Beast, Rainy Doll, wasn't suitable for fighting at all. Even a single drop of its rain could damage another Guardian Beast's core and potentially kill it.

This was why Fang Mu consistently logged onto the Battle Network.

Otherwise, with Fang Mu's resources, he could have easily found various types of training partners for strategic battles.

[V Battle Net]: Hello, Jianmu! I am the administrator for the Battle Network Silver Rank Division. You've won consecutive battles and have reached the promotion match for Silver Three. On behalf of the Battle Network, I would like to invite you to participate in the Silver Battle Hall exhibition match.

Facing something he was unfamiliar with, Fang Mu chose to ask directly without any hesitation.

[Jianmu]: What's an exhibition match? How is it different from a regular promotion match?

Fang Mu hadn't heard of exhibition matches before, but he had heard of the Silver Battle Hall.

The Battle Network has six Battle Halls: Bronze, Silver, Gold, Platinum, Diamond, and Sacred War Halls.

Highly skilled Beast Masters often come to these Battle Halls to duel and allow others to watch.

The Battle Network sells tickets to these matches as a way to make money from these Beast Masters.

Could it be that the Beast Masters who previously battled in the Battle Halls were invited to participate in exhibition matches?

Fang Mu didn't mind other people watching his battles.

However, if there were no benefits, he didn't see any point in participating in an exhibition match.

Right now, what Fang Mu wanted most was to quickly raise his Battle Network ranking.

Yang Mingyu had just been promoted to the administrator of the Battle Network's Silver Division not too long ago.

The administrators of the Battle Network, each in charge of their respective divisions, regulated their respective Battle Halls.

The Bronze and Silver Battle Halls weren't really known for being impressive. Even when dazzling Beast Masters were selected from the Bronze Battle Hall to fight in exhibition matches, the highest level Guardian Beasts they had were silver-level, which wasn't very compelling to watch.

The Silver Battle Hall was the same.

Audiences usually found exhibition matches at the Gold Battle Halls and above to be more exciting, as battles between platinum-level Guardian Beasts were more entertaining.

However, as the newly appointed Battle Network Silver Division administrator, Yang Mingyu discovered an oddity within the Silver Division.

This oddity was Jianmu!

Jianmu's popularity on the Battle Network was even higher than many Grade B club players!

And Jianmu's presence as a topic of discussion on the Battle Network was constantly increasing.

The popularity and heat of these Grade B club players were achieved through hundreds of battles. Before they became star players, they were all streamers.

However, Jianmu only had a handful of fights, and only around three or four of these battles were exposed to the public through streamers.

Yang Mingyu saw Jianmu as a chosen one, naturally drawing attention and creating a buzz.

If given enough exposure, Jianmu's popularity could even rival the superstar players of the Grade B clubs, or even the ordinary players of the Grade A clubs.

Given Jianmu's display of skill, the Silver Division was just a temporary stop. Jianmu would soon leave the Silver Division and enter the larger arena of the Gold Division.

Knowing this, Yang Mingyu tried to seize the opportunity to catch Jianmu, this rising star, before he could leave the Silver Division.

He hoped Jianmu could bring some heat to the Silver Division before leaving, thereby helping himself out a bit.

Seeing that Jianmu didn't know about exhibition matches, Yang Mingyu decided not to give Jianmu a detailed introduction about them.

The entire Battle Network is connected through Dream Beasts, and in the Battle Network, the Dream Beast is god!

In exhibition matches, Yang Mingyu can have the Dream Beast shield the Beast Master's senses from the distractions of outside spectators.

In essence, an exhibition match didn't differ from a normal duel for a Beast Master.

Yang Mingyu planned to emphasize to Jianmu the benefits of participating in an exhibition match.

[V Battle Net]: Exhibition matches can increase your fame and earn you more Battle Network points.

[V Battle Net]: If you're willing to accept two successive exhibition matches and win both, I can let you skip ranks and move directly to the promotion match of the Golden Rank.

Normally, an exhibition match is a single match. However, Yang Mingyu saw potential in Jianmu's popularity and sought to retain him with this offer.

The promise Yang Mingyu made was the absolute limit of what he could offer.

In Yang Mingyu's view, the first two benefits he proposed were more appealing.

As for shooting straight to the promotion match of the Golden Rank, in his perspective, it was just an added bonus.

Because in Yang Mingyu's view, with Jianmu's strength, even if he didn't skip ranks to fight in the Gold Rank promotion match, it would only involve a few more matches.

What Yang Mingyu didn't know was that the first two appealing points he thought would sway Fang Mu held no interest for him at all.

Fang Mu was more interested in Yang Mingyu's offer for him to advance directly to the Gold Rank promotion match.

This not only would save Fang Mu a lot of time, but also facilitate him in meeting stronger opponents earlier, thereby pushing his limits.

Without needing Yang Mingyu to go on, Fang Mu responded immediately.

[Jianmu]: Okay! I accept the invitation to participate in the exhibition match. Is it arranged immediately?

Yang Mingyu originally thought it would take some effort to persuade Jianmu, but to his surprise, it went incredibly smoothly!

[V Battle Net]: Exhibition matches require publicity. If you're in a hurry, then the match can be held in two hours!

Chapter 528: Jianmu's Opponent!_2

[V Battle Net]: If you don't enjoy the cheers of the live audience and the noisy atmosphere, you can use your Dream Beast to block it out and treat this as a regular qualification match.

[V Battle Net]: Since you're skipping two sub-levels, the opponents prepared for you will be highly formidable. I hope you are psychologically prepared!

Yang Mingyu was quite nervous when he said these words.

Young people always like to pursue consecutive wins while playing Battle Net, so they don't like to face very strong opponents.

Yang Mingyu was very afraid that Jianmu would be one such individual.

Fang Mu's eyes lit up upon seeing the message from Battle Net.

They can arrange formidable opponents, what good news!

Fang Mu felt it was unnecessary to block out the audience's noise as suggested by the official from Battle Network.

A Beast Master fighting in the field can't simply shut out external noises.

Those members of various clubs who are fighting can't demand silence from the audience either.

The audience's noise can exercise contestants' mental poise and help them focus better in battle.

Fang Mu saw no reason to miss such an opportunity.

These two hours of preparation would be just enough time for Fang Mu to strengthen the Ling Poison Dark Lotus.

Ling Poison Dark Lotus was one step away from reaching Legendary Quality. Fang Mu could feed the Ling Poison Dark Lotus a pure Life Elixir to coax a quality promotion in the beast.

If Fang Mu continually lets Ling Poison Dark Lotus absorb Blood Aged Wine, there is a high chance Ling Poison Dark Lotus will evolve into Ling Poison King Lotus.

Fang Mu can also plant the Bright Moon Golden Osmanthus seed in the [Above the Green Field] area of Eden Dreamland.

There was no time to plant a second plant-type beastmaster species in Eden Dreamland due to the recent succession of events.

If Ling Poison Dark Lotus evolves into Ling Poison King Lotus, it will play a significant role in the upcoming battle.

However, Bright Moon Golden Osmanthus with its special properties, [Moon Under Laurel] and [Tree Heart Same Life], are both functional skills.

The exclusive property [Tree Heart Same Life] has only just condensed a tree heart, far from overflowing.

Therefore, Bright Moon Golden Osmanthus could do little in battle.

Bright Moon Golden Osmanthus had a long way to go before promoting to Legendary Quality.

Two hours would be just enough for Fang Mu to complete the two tasks.

[Jianmu]: Just arrange it as you see fit, remind me five minutes before the exhibition match via the Dream Beast.

Upon seeing Jianmu's message, Yang Mingyu was relieved, and immediately set off to prepare and promote the event.

Countless people on Battle Net were waiting for Jianmu's match. Upon hearing the news, Huan Wang, Jianmu's number one star-crossed CP, logged into Battle Net and started a live stream, despite his 41-degree fever.

Huan Wang spoke weakly.

"I think there's no reason Jianmu would play just one match after logging on Battle Net. He ought to participate in three to five matches at least!"

"So don't worry, friends, we still have a chance!"

[Blazing]: You wish! We've been waiting almost 20 minutes and there's no new news. The forums are quiet too. At least two or three battles could finish in 20 minutes. It's not possible that not even one anchor can match up in two or three battles, right!?

[Stained Ending]: What if that battle was Jianmu's last for today? Maybe Jianmu has already finished several duels before this, but they weren't broadcasted!

Seeing Stained Ending's bullet screen comment, Huan Wang quickly responded.

"That's impossible! Everybody can see Jianmu's matches. The previous battle just added one more to Jianmu's total match count. Surely, Jianmu just logged on!"

[Blood Not Cold]: Young Huan, why does your voice sound so weak? Are you missing Jianmu so much!? Do you want Jianmu's Dragon Soul to spit on you again?

Seeing the bullet screen comment from Blood Not Cold, Huan Wang clenched his teeth involuntarily.

Huan Wang really wanted to ask how the other major anchors dealt with having half their fans being trolls.

If it were normal trolls, Huan Wang could have fired back, but the ones on his live stream were donators!

Huan Wang's live stream was a microcosm of Battle Net. Those who waited for Jianmu's battle started to feel somewhat disappointed after half an hour, especially Liu Tiantian.

If Jianmu logged onto Battle Net to play just one match, and it was even an effortless instant kill.

What news of note could she possibly write about?

Just as Liu Tiantian was feeling disappointed, her phone rang.

Liu Tiantian, as a contracted reporter for Battle Net, had saved the numbers of many Battle Net employees and leaders, including Yang Mingyu's.

Yang Mingyu, as a manager of a major division of Battle Net, was someone Liu Tiantian had never had the chance to meet before.

Liu Tiantian was left wondering, why would Yang Mingyu call her out of the blue?

Anxious, she answered the call.

"Manager Yang, I'm Liu Tiantian, contracted reporter for Battle Net."

Yang Mingyu originally wanted to find some reporters to help promote Jianmu's exhibition match, but was informed by the manager in charge of contracted reporters that Liu Tiantian had been exclusively assigned to cover Jianmu. If he wanted to promote the match, he had to talk to Liu Tiantian.

This greatly surprised Yang Mingyu!

Given the limited time for promotion, Yang Mingyu was worried Liu Tiantian was busy and that she wouldn't have time.

So, instead of asking the Dream Beast to notify Liu Tiantian, he called her directly.

Chapter 529: Jianmu's Opponent!_3

"Liu Tiantian, you're the exclusive reporter for Jianmu, aren't you?"

"Jianmu is set to perform in the Silver Battle Hall in an hour and a half from now, two matches in a row."

"One of the battles is against Zhang Kai, the main player of Sky Club's C team, and the other is against Cai Boshen, the main player of Soul Rain Club's A team."

"Please help with the promotion, and quickly. I want to see your promotional materials in ten minutes!"

Without giving Liu Tiantian a chance to respond, Yang Mingyu hung up the phone.

Yang Mingyu was busy with many things, every minute was precious.

If he could manage this well and earn praise from above, he would have a great chance of taking over the position of Platinum Zone Director when they step down.

After hearing Yang Mingyu's words, Liu Tiantian's eyes suddenly burst with an intense sparkle.

As if stars had appeared in a moment of silence, reflected in her pupils.

So, Jianmu hadn't been participating in matched duels all this time because he was preparing for the exhibition match!

But the opponents Yang Mingyu had arranged for Jianmu were a bit too strong, weren't they?

Having often commented on college leagues and various competitions, Liu Tiantian was no stranger to Zhang Kai and Cai Boshen.

Sky Club was a large club that was just rated a Grade B club in the league two years ago.

The club guild of Sky Club was jointly invested by two major forces.

Although Zhang Kai was just a main player in the C-team of the reserves, Zhang Kai already owned a high-level gold and a peak gold beast, now that he was about to graduate from college.

As the big competition season was approaching, Sky Club might very likely have upgraded the power of Zhang Kai's high-level gold beast.

That Yang Mingyu had arranged such an opponent for Jianmu was clearly because he knew that Jianmu's silver half-elf-transformed Blood Noble had peak gold-level combat power.

A Gold Peak Blood Noble mimicked would probably be at a disadvantage in a head-on fight with Zhang Kai's Gold Peak beast of the same level.

And a silver half-elf wanting to fight beyond its rank must have a time limit.

Judging from Jianmu's age, he must be only a Biprong Star Tamer. To contend with them, Fang Mu would have to bring out a new beast.

And this new beast also needs to have the ability to fight beyond its rank in order to have a chance against Zhang Kai of Sky Club.

Soul Rain Club is just a medium-sized club, but its development momentum is extremely strong.

Cai Boshen is said to be the young master of Green Stone Trading, the owner behind Soul Rain Club.

He joined the Soul Rain Club solely because he had the desire to be a star.

Green Stone Trading acquired a special type of beast from the Outer Realm. Once this type of beast is contracted by the contractor, it can enhance their spiritual power.

Allowing a Biprong Star Tamer to overcome the limit of the peak of the gold rank in the contract beast aspect, and contract a platinum first-level beast.

Cai Boshen contracted this kind of beast that can enhance spiritual power.

This has become Cai Boshen's biggest selling point, giving Cai Boshen higher popularity than the main players of the Soul Rain Club.

You should know that platinum rank beasts and gold rank beasts are two completely different things.

Having a One-Point Star Beast Master fight against Cai Boshen, who owns a platinum-tier Beast, would very likely result in only one possible outcome: defeat.

Liu Tiantian felt both sympathetic towards Jianmu and a bit happy.

Zhang Kai and Cai Boshen would surely force Jianmu to reveal his trump card.

When that happens, she would finally get to see Jianmu's new Beast, and writing news would no longer be a struggle for lack of material!

Fang Mu was unaware that Yang Mingyu, after pulling his hair out, had chosen the two most powerful and prominent people among all the Silver Ranked Beast Masters.

After planting the Moon Gold Osmanthus Seed in his exclusive property, “Above the Green Field,” in Eden Dreamland, Fang Mu began to strengthen his Ling Poison Dark Lotus which had already reached Silver Rank Level Ten.

The Ling Poison Dark Lotus was more vigorous than before, and the diameter of the lotus at least increased by ten centimeters!

The Ling Poison Dark Lotus now had two lotus flowers and three leaves. Fang Mu poured a bottle of pure life elixir and a full thousand milliliters of Blood Aged Wine onto the roots of the Ling Poison Dark Lotus.

Fang Mu originally thought that the Ling Poison Dark Lotus would rapidly grow under the nourishment of the Blood Aged Wine and Life Elixir. However, he didn’t expect the entire Ling Poison Dark Lotus to wither directly on Eden Dreamland.

Just as Fang Mu was anxiously examining the situation, a tender lotus leaf sprouted from Eden Dreamland.

This tender lotus leaf, brimming with an unspeakable vitality, began to grow rapidly after it sprouted from Eden Dreamland!

Fang Mu used the Eye of Omniscience to investigate this tender lotus leaf.

Upon investigation, Fang Mu found that the name of the lotus leaf that regrew was no longer Ling Poison Dark Lotus, but rather, Ling Poison King Lotus!

[Beast Name]: Ling Poison King Lotus

[Beast Species]: Nymphaeaceae/King Lotus

[Beast Level]: Silver (10/10)

[Beast Element]: Wood

[Beast Potential]: Gold

[Beast Quality]: Legendary

Skills:

[Poison Gathering]: Gathers poisons nearby its roots through the root system, locking them within the range of the roots, providing a slight healing effect to the area covered by the roots.

[Zhen Fragrance]: The lotus transforms the absorbed toxins into a fragrance, which can stimulate our spiritual power to weaken the control over the mind, causing the enemy's spirit to enter a state of chaos.

Exclusive Attributes:

[Leaf Lotus Dance]: The lotus leaves autonomously resist external attacks, releasing the violent toxins accumulated inside, enhancing its defenses. The lotus can collect the violent toxins during battles, condense them into the lotus core, and use it to attack the target.

[Cicada, Frog, Lodging on Lotus]: For each leaf that grows, a frog soul of a lower rank can be chosen to host on it. For each lotus that blossoms, a cicada soul of a lower rank can be chosen to host in it. (The hosted souls co-exist with the Ling Poison Dark Lotus and if they want to increase their power, they need to share the energy inside the Ling Poison Dark Lotus.)

[Bound Earth Lotus Body]: The roots dig deep into the ground, absorbing the deep nutrients to reinforce its own lotus body. The lotus body will then grow larger. The target standing on the lotus can rapidly replenish its lost energy through the energy supplied by the lotus body.

Evolutionary Path:

①: Immaculate King Lotus, ②: Poisonous King Lotus, ③: Poisonous Witch Lotus.

Chapter 530: The Boiling Silver Battle Hall!_1

The growth rate of this tender lotus leaf was simply indescribable.

Within a blink of an eye after its tip poked out of Eden Dreamland, it had grown to the size of a grindstone.

And this was just the beginning.

The grindstone-sized tender new leaf quickly expanded in diameter, stopping only when it reached nearly four meters.

Soon after, two more tender lotus leaves broke through the soil, both growing to a four-meter diameter in a short amount of time.

Short-term growth and germination of plants require a large amount of Life Energy.

Fang Mu then took out a bottle of Life Elixir with a purity of 100% and poured it on the roots of the Ling Poison King Lotus.

The tender lotus leaves gradually deepened from a light green color, eventually turning into a deep emerald green.

At first glance, the front of the Ling Poison King Lotus leaves had no embellishments, and they were no different from normal lotus leaves.

However, the back of each leaf had thick veins every few centimeters.

These thick veins gave the King Lotus leaf an extremely strong load-bearing capacity, no wonder it could withstand the weight of other creatures standing on it!

Fang Mu imagined the Ling Poison King Lotus brandishing its four-meter diameter leaves, using the Lotus Leaf Dance to deflect attacks, and releasing toxins to increase its defensive properties.

How much damage could it withstand!

In the future, Fang Mu could stand on the Ling Poison King Lotus's leaves during battle, enjoying the effects of its exclusive feature, [Bound Earth Lotus Body], to recover his energy consumption.

Thanks to the exclusive feature [Bound Earth Lotus Body] obtained after the Ling Poison Dark Lotus evolved into a legendary quality, it could root deeply into the earth.

It absorbed the nutrients deep in the ground to strengthen the lotus body, turning it into a giant.

To Fang Mu, the Ling Poison Dark Lotus's leaves were now large enough.

He was curious about how large the lotus body would become after the Ling Poison King Lotus absorbs the earth's energy by using [Bound Earth Lotus Body].

Since he was about to duel on the Battle Network, Fang Mu did not have the Ling Poison King Lotus test the [Bound Earth Lotus Body].

This attempt could be made on the Battle Network.

After the three lotus leaves grew, two flower spikes emerged from between the leaves.

The two spikes quickly blossomed into two large light purple lotus flowers.

Each flower was almost three meters in diameter, not much smaller than the leaves.

With hundreds of overlapping light purple petals, each flower was incredibly beautiful.

During the battle, such huge lotus flowers could collect highly toxic substances using Leaf Lotus Dance, condensing them into lotus hearts for attacking targets.

In cooperation with the Rainy Doll, it could be a potent offensive move.

When it was still the Ling Poison Dark Lotus, the Leaf Lotus Dance could condense the highly toxic substances into lotus hearts where each lotus heart contained a fixed amount of toxins.

This was related to the tolerance of each individual flower.

The three-meter large flowers of the Ling Poison King Lotus now, each petal had a deep purple vein underneath.

Its tolerance had increased tens of times than before!

This temporary boost before the battle had indeed provided Fang Mu with an extra trump card.

As for the exclusive feature [Cicada, Frog, Lodging on Lotus], Fang Mu still chose to feed it the souls of Rain Curtain Cicada and Poison Dart Frog.

With Fang Mu's investment in resources, the souls of the three Poison Dart Frogs and two Rain Curtain Cicadas had all reached a level comparable to the Ling Poison King Lotus.

The frogs and cicadas could be used as five Silver Peak Guardian Beasts in battle.

The souls of the Poison Dart Frogs and the Rain Curtain Cicadas did not focus on individual attacks.

Instead, they served the functional evolution of Eden Dreamland, coordinated with the Rainy Doll.

Their actual usefulness in battle would surely surpass that of common Silver Peak Guardian Beasts.

The skill [Zhen Fragrance] obtained by the Ling Poison Dark Lotus when it evolved into the Silver stage was a very powerful field-control skill.

But since it was planted on the Eden Dreamland, Fang Mu could only use the Ling Poison King Lotus's exclusive features due to [Above the Green Field].

As a result, [Zhen Fragrance], a high-quality field-control skill, had little relevance to Fang Mu.

This made Fang Mu feel a little regretful.

If the Lionheart Brigade chose to elevate the Ling Poison King Lotus to the Silver stage when they were selling it, even if the contractor would have to spend more spiritual power, the price would likely be higher than the Bronze Ling Poison Dark Lotus.

[Zhen Fragrance] not only increases allies' strength, controls enemies, an area effect skill, but also consumes the toxins absorbed by the Ling Poison King Lotus.

It would make the Ling Poison King Lotus serve the Scavenger much better.

At this time, the soul of a Rain Curtain Cicada fell on Fang Mu's ear and chirped twice.

This caused Fang Mu's face to show a relieved expression.

He should not consider the Ling Poison King Lotus as a separate Guardian Beast, but as part of Eden Dreamland.

And through the Covenant Blood Essence, he didn't know how many Guardian Beasts he could contract in his lifetime.

More exciting and powerful Guardian Beasts are always waiting in the future.

Fang Mu set his focus on the future evolution path of the Ling Poison King Lotus.

The Immaculate King Lotus clearly represented the evolution of the Ling Poison King Lotus based on its own bloodline.

Immaculate refers to being free from any impurities; pristine.

Evolution towards the Immaculate King Lotus would make the Ling Poison King Lotus's ability to collect and expel toxins stronger.

This was perfectly in line with Fang Mu's requirements and expectations.

The second evolutionary path, Poisonous King Lotus, enhances the offensive ability of the Ling Poison King Lotus.
