

Beast Tamer 61

Chapter 61: The Real Big Client! _1

One hundred bottles of Life Elixir with sixty percent purity every day for a month.

Isn't that three thousand bottles?!

God!

Those who can receive Fang Mu's goods are simply too fortunate!

If it were to be converted into Dragon Rising Coins, it could approximately be sold for about one billion Dragon Rising Coins!

Such a huge sum of money in the Keystone Construction where Lu Yuyu works, is a substantial amount.

If the family wants to mobilize such a large sum of money, multiple internal meetings would have to be conducted before it could finally be decided upon.

Yet, Fang Mu talks about it as if it's a trivial matter.

Given Fang Mu's status, his words carry weight and there's no possibility of him deceiving him.

Lu Yuyu was completely astounded by Fang Mu's lavish offer!

Fang Mu had expected Lu Yuyu to react this way.

Lu Yuyu wanted to cultivate a deeper relationship with Fang Mu, but he didn't know how to initiate it.

The same went for Fang Mu!

Fang Mu had the resources of a Creator, but he had to build his own network of relationships one by one.

Whether it was Lu Yuyu's status as an Executor of the Beastmaster Alliance or the Keystone Construction behind him, either could bring convenience to Fang. Once Fang Yuan obtained the funds, his first task was to buy land for construction.

The Lu family, an old, reputable family of craftsmen that has been passed down for five or six hundred years, would be an exceptional choice.

Fang Mu could use Lu Yuyu's channels to conduct transactions with the Lu family.

Having the Lu family directly approach Fang Yuan could undoubtedly save a lot of his efforts.

It could also ensure an impressive front for the Commerce Association.

Fang Mu and Lu Yuyu had no ties between them and didn't know each other before.

Lu Yuyu's enthusiasm towards him was purely because he held the resources of a Creator.

The best way to deepen their relationship at this moment was to shock Lu Yuyu with his Creator's resources.

Make him urgently want to connect with him!

Looking at Lu Yuyu's current expression, Fang Mu knew that his purpose had been achieved.

During Fang Mu's conversation with Lu Yuyu, they oblivious to the fierce battle happening on the Steward's Network.

The person who had successfully bid for the ninety percent pure Life Elixir was eagerly waiting for Fang Mu's reply.

Fang Mu hadn't had his dinner yet.

During his time at the Creator's Guild, Fang Mu's stomach had already grumbled twice, which Lu Yuyu heard.

Lu Yuyu invited Fang Mu to have dinner once again.

Just like yesterday, Fang Mu declined Lu Yuyu's invitation.

Fang Mu had just received a message from his personal steward.

The garbage collected from the breeding base had been piled up in the factory.

To prevent the stench from spreading, the long neglected air ducts had been repaired.

After handling the Steward's Network affairs upon reaching home, Fang Mu planned to immediately deal with the garbage enriched with Water Elemental

Energy with his Guardian Beast.

Therefore, Fang Mu didn't have any extra time to spend on socializing.

His relationship with Lu Yuyu wasn't sustained through simple social interactions, but rather his own resources and abilities.

For not being able to invite Fang Mu over, Lu Yuyu seemed slightly regretful.

However, big shots like Sir Jianmu weren't easy to please!

Fang Mu left the Creator's Guild before Lu Yuyu. Before he left, Fang Mu took a special look at Lu Yuyu's silver hair.

The more Fang Mu looked, the more worried he became.

After making a contract with Eden Greenfield, his hair wouldn't turn green, would it?

Did his life need to be adorned with green because it was too plain?

The parts of a Contractor's body that underwent changes after contracting a Domain-Type Control Beast varied.

He didn't necessarily have to have his hair turn green.

Of course, it would be better not to change the color of his hair, or any other body hair!

At a noodle restaurant in his residential area, Fang Mu swiftly finished a bowl of piping-hot noodles in less than ten minutes.

Fang Mu immediately logged into the Steward's Network and found that two people had sent him messages.

They were from Fang Yuan and a stranger who had bid for the Life Elixir.

Since being bombarded with messages after posting last time, Fang Mu set up a restriction on private chatting from strangers.

Only those who had conducted transactions with Fang Mu could communicate with him on the Steward's Network.

Fang Mu didn't need to waste his time searching for relevant information on the Steward's Network.

When he wanted to "fish", he would simply put up a bidding item directly in the auction area of the Steward's Network!

Looking at the messages sent by the two contacts, Fang Mu didn't hesitate.

He clicked on the message sent by Fang Yuan first.

[YuanQinYanMu]: Sir Jianmu, I have completed the planning for the Commerce Association. Please have a look! Let me know if there are any shortcomings, and I will promptly find a solution.

Fang Mu knew that his second brother Fang Yuan must not have slept the whole night.

If he didn't reply, Fang Yuan likely wouldn't be able to sleep tonight either.

Fang Mu first opened the file sent by Fang Yuan.

After going through it carefully, Fang Mu discovered that his second brother certainly had a natural talent for business!

Fang Mu hadn't been involved in business in his previous life, and therefore was not an industry insider.

But that didn't prevent Fang Mu from verifying that this plan was excellent.

[Stellar Start]: The plan you gave me is very good. Starting from tomorrow, I will provide the agreed-upon resources for you!

Rather than calling it the Jianmu Commerce Association, Fang Mu would prefer if Fang Yuan's name was added to make it Yuanmu Commerce Association.

But since Fang Xiaoyuan was "fished" by him.

If he were to propose this, even if Fang Xiaoyuan were a fool, he would realize there was a problem.

So let's call it the Jianmu Commerce Association!

At this point, Fang Yuan's Steward's Network account showed as offline.

Fang Mu was pressed for time and would soon log off from the Steward's Network.

It looks like he probably wouldn't get a reply from Fang Yuan today.

Regardless, Fang Yuan would definitely be able to sleep well tonight.

Once Fang Yuan's mind was completely at ease, Fang Mu opened the private chat sent by [Amber Button].

While sending a message to Fang Yuan, Fang Mu noticed the official message prompt.

His ninety percent pure Life Elixir had surprisingly fetched a high bid of three hundred million Dragon Rising Coins.

Even though there were only a few Grandmaster Creators, a Life Elixir with ninety percent purity was something a Grandmaster Creator could make offhand.

In the seventh level of the Merit Hall of the Jing Hai “Scavenger” division, there happens to be a bottle of Life Elixir with ninety percent purity.

The items on the seventh floor of the Merit Hall were just for show.

As the Green Screen Knight, Feng Lin did not have the privilege to access them; only the Bishops at the headquarters had that power.

Based on the conversion ratio of merit to Dragon Rising Coins,

A bottle of Life Elixir with ninety percent purity is approximately worth eighty million Dragon Rising Coins.

Of course, even if you have the channel, it would be very difficult to buy it at a price of eighty million Dragon Rising Coins.

However, if your channel is strong enough, you should be able to buy a bottle with one and a half billion at the very least.

The person with the Steward’s Network account named [Amber Button] was willing to pay almost four times the price to buy this bottle of Life Elixir. Clearly, this person’s true intent was not the elixir itself, but Fang Mu.

A smile appeared on Fang Mu’s face.

He was finally about to get a major client!