

Beast Tamer 70

Chapter 70: Soul Parasite Ant_1

To the previous Fang Mu, ten million Dragon Rising Coins was an unbelievable number.

But for the Fang Mu of the present, ten million Dragon Rising Coins was nothing.

He could make that much in a few hours by using Sucking.

But this level of spending surprised Lu Xiaoyin secretly.

Even an assistant to a high-star Creator shouldn't be so extravagant, should they?

After all, there is a big difference between an assistant and a high-star Creator themselves.

Wu Guixiang, however, was not surprised at all.

The young man even wore the Sequential Spiritual Instrument on his hand.

Compared to the Sequential Spiritual Instrument, what is ten million Dragon Rising Coins worth!

After returning to his room, Fang Mu, with the left hand that just had its marrow sucked by the Bone-sucking blood leech-

Grabbed the now full and drowsy Bone-sucking blood leech and squeezed its body hard.

He forcefully squeezed out the marrow the Bone-sucking blood leech had just absorbed, dripping it onto the Purple Ice Crystal Ring he had just taken off.

With the Purple Ice Crystal Ring's continuous absorption of Fang Mu's marrow, he felt that his connection with the Purple Ice Crystal Ring was growing stronger.

Eventually, it seemed that he and the Purple Ice Crystal Ring had become as close as blood kin.

Fang Mu closed his eyes and immersed his mind in the Purple Ice Crystal Ring's interior.

Suddenly, before Fang Mu's eyes appeared an ancient dragon with wings spanning more than 30 meters, its body covered in milky-silver scales.

This ancient dragon had sharp beaks, bat-like wings, and a silver dragon tail that was longer than its wingspan.

The tail was extraordinarily sturdy, with the scales at the tail-end spreading out, much like a snake emerging from its hole.

This must be the Dragon Soul of the Hollow-winged Pterosaur that Shui Miao had mentioned earlier.

The current Fang Mu can only use the basic function of the Purple Ice Crystal Ring, and he can not control the Dragon Soul of the Hollow-winged Pterosaur to stimulate the true power of the Purple Ice Crystal Ring.

Only when Fang Mu becomes a Five Point Star Beastmaster will the power of the Sequential Treasure Instrument, Purple Ice Crystal Ring, truly manifest itself.

After the Marrow Pact with the Purple Ice Crystal Ring, Fang Mu put the still-living Bone-sucking blood leech and fifty Needle Mosquitoes into the ring.

Then, he transferred all the items stored in the Mirror Turtle Pendant to the Purple Ice Crystal Ring.

The space inside the Mirror Turtle Pendant is only about ten square meters.

Meanwhile, the storage space inside the Purple Ice Crystal Ring is as large as two football stadiums!

From now on, whatever Fang Mu wants to store, the space within the Purple Ice Crystal Ring is more than enough!

As for the now available Mirror Turtle Pendant, it is carefully put away by Fang

Mil.

This is the memory of Fang Mu's parents in this lifetime.

While the iron is hot, Fang Mu took the Brocade Box containing the Covenant

Servant Soul Ant Queen.

He planned to contract with the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen.

Because the process to contract with the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen does not require spiritual power, only nurturing with soul power.

So it didn't matter if Fang Mu did not have Contracting Blood right now. However, once he had extra Contracting Blood, Fang Mu was still going to add a drop to the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen.

Contracting Blood can not only replace spiritual power to make contracts with life forms.

It can also promote life to make positive level transitions.

The benefits of Contracting Blood have already been demonstrated by the two beneficiaries, Bone-sucking blood leech and Clean Water Spirit.

After the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen's life level transition, it will surely become stronger.

And it will bring more benefits to Fang Mu.

Shui Miao stressed specifically not to open this Brocade Box weaved of Spirit Guiding Silk Worm Silk casually.

After opening the Brocade Box, it's best to lead the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen into one's soul and start the contracting and nurturing process within five minutes.

Fang Mu naturally would not slacken off or overlook this matter that Shui Miao emphasized.

Upon opening the Brocade Box, Fang Mu saw a half-transparent ant as small as a pinky fingernail cap languishing in a corner of the box.

Its bulging abdomen took up five-sixths of its body.

If it wasn't for the antenna still trembling slightly, Fang Mu almost thought this Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen was already dead!

Fang Mu used the Eye of Omniscience to investigate the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen.

[Beast Name]: Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen

[Beast Species]: Ant Family/Soul Bearer Ant Genus

[Beast Level]: Bronze(1/10)

[Beast Element]: Soul System [Beast Potential]: Silver [Beast Quality]: Ordinary

Skills:

[Soul Bearer Ant Brood]: By producing and cultivating young ants, it invades the target's soul. Normally, it helps the target's soul resist external attacks. When urged by the mother body, the offspring can turn around and devour the target's soul.

Potential Evolution:

(As the queen of a colony, it can't evolve. Forcibly inducing mutation will result in loss of maternal authority and ability.)

After investigating, Fang Mu couldn't help but nod approvingly.

The Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen takes control of other targets by using its bronze level skill [Soul Bearer Ant Brood].

Even though the Ghost System Beast can protect the soul from being invaded by the offspring of the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen.

However, when the contractor intentionally suppresses the Ghost System Beast, the Covenant Servant Soul Ant can still parasitize the Beast Master's soul.

Once the Ant offspring builds a nest inside the soul of the parasitized individual.

Even if the parasitized person resists with the Ghost System Beast.

The Covenant Servant Soul Ant would rely on the defenses of the Soul Nest to first destroy the parasitized person's soul.

Moreover, if the Covenant Servant Soul Ant parasitizes inside the soul and collides violently with the Ghost System Beast inside the soul.

It will inevitably cause a complete collapse of the entire soul.

Therefore, as long as the target is parasitized by the skill [Soul Bearer Ant Brood] of the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen.

Fang Mu could control the life and death of this person.

After Fang Mu used the Eye of Omniscience to finish investigating the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen.

He placed the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen on his forehead.

Through soul power, he began nurturing the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen.

When Fang Mu was a mere mortal, he couldn't invoke spiritual power and soul power.

But having awakened the Destiny Guidebook, he became a Beast Master.

Using the Destiny Guidebook, Fang Mu could directly feel the existence of his spiritual and soul power.

And he was able to invoke them.

Even though Shui Miao didn't mention it, as a biologist in his past life, Fang

Mu knew very well.

When an ant becomes a queen, it mates through a nuptial flight.

But this Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen was clearly wingless, having been removed artificially.

This made the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen extremely weak.

Upon encountering a soul force, it would instinctively absorb it, nurturing itself.

Thus, Fang Mu was able to easily brand his own soul onto the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen.

In less than three minutes, the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen began to become ethereal, preparing to retreat into Fang Mu's soul.

Fang Mu's possession of two souls left the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen extremely puzzled.

This confusion arose from the instinct of the creature.

In the end, the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen probed Fang Mu's two souls.

It entered into Fang Mu's current soul, which nourishes his Destiny Guardian Beast, the Fool's Shadow.

In response to his previous life's soul, which nourishes the Blood of Abundance, the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen instinctively felt fear after probing it.

Fang Mu could clearly sense all of this.

Upon entering Fang Mu's current life's soul, the condition of the Covenant Servant Soul Ant Queen had significantly improved.

After collapsing in a corner of Fang Mu's soul for a half an incense stick's time, it began to build its nest..
