

Beast Tamer 791

Chapter 791 The Unveiled Third One! _1

The Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother, invoking her Exclusive Trait "Cruel Maternity," urgently needed nutrients.

The body of the Broken Rock Tyrant Dragon was the best source of nutrients for the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother!

The expectant mother, the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother, leaped, clinging onto the hind leg of the Broken Rock Tyrant Dragon.

She began chewing at the spot that had just been torn apart by the Swift Rend Claw.

Mass amounts of flesh was swallowed by the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother, and due to the effects of the skills "Cruel Maternity" and "Flesh Newborn," one after another, Grave Sacrifice Children were being born by the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother.

This spectacle caused the atmosphere in Cai Boshen's livestream to reach a new climax.

"Aspect of Rain": Holy shit, this is terrifying! What the hell is this? This Corpse Hunter in a wedding dress can actually give birth during battle! I'm definitely going to have nightmares tonight!

Despite his complaints, the more the Aspect of Rain watched, the more thrilling it became.

Seeing a Beast Master who had contracted an Undead Species Guardian Beast fight like this was not something you saw every day.

"Nothing at All": Can anyone tell me what rank these born Corpse Hunters are? The hind leg of the Broken Rock Tyrant Dragon is almost eaten up. Why can't it struggle free from the control of the Giant Brutal Butcher? Isn't the Giant Brutal Butcher supposed to be just a Silver Stage Guardian Beast? But the Broken Rock Tyrant Dragon is Platinum Stage!

"Nothing at All" expressed the sentiments of many spectators, but no one could give a clear answer.

The spectators were planning to pay attention to the Skin Peeling House after the event, as Yan Luo would definitely be a topic of discussion there.

Many spectators thought that there were more mysteries surrounding Yan Luo compared to Jianmu.

Fear was spreading in Cai Boshen's livestream, and many timid spectators had already left.

They planned to watch the recorded fight later with a friend, as watching it alone was too horrifying!

This spectacle also gave Cai Boshen a chilling feeling.

Cai Boshen had never been fond of watching horror movies since he was young, he was extremely afraid of eerie and creepy scenes.

The sight of the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother voraciously devouring the Broken Rock Tyrant Dragon while giving birth, genuinely terrified Cai Boshen.

As a Platinum Stage Legendary Quality Guardian Beast, the flesh and blood of the Broken Rock Tyrant Dragon, after being contaminated by dead qi, was an excellent source of energy for the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother.

At the instance when the seventh Grave Sacrifice Child was born, one of them evolved into the Grave Sacrifice Nanny.

After being born, the Grave Sacrifice Nanny grabbed a Grave Sacrifice Child and crushed it, absorbing it into its body as its first sacrifice.

However, this sort of sacrifice was just beginning.

The Grave Sacrifice Nanny continued to sacrifice Grave Sacrifice Children endlessly, only stopping after sacrificing four, hence completing the utilization of its Exclusive Trait "Brutal Paternity."

With the continuous sacrifices, the Grave Sacrifice Child's Exclusive Trait "Twisted Filial Piety" accumulated grudges up to ten layers.

Each time it was killed, it gained one layer of grudge, and each time it was sacrificed, it piled up three layers of grudge, making sacrifice the best way to stack grudges.

The Grave Sacrifice Children could then use their Exclusive Trait "Twisted Filial Piety" to sacrifice to the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother and the Grave Sacrifice Nanny at any time.

However, Fang Mu didn't allow the Grave Sacrifice Children to do so at the moment.

"Twisted Filial Piety" would induce the Grave Sacrifice Children to mutate and become new undead.

Under such circumstances, the more Grave Sacrifice Children there were, the better!

If the previous sight of the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother devouring the Broken Rock Tyrant Dragon was already bone-chilling, then the use of the Grave Sacrifice Nanny's Exclusive Trait "Brutal Paternity," was downright horrifying, savage and ghastly.

These three Corpse Hunters seemed like a family of three, but the relationship between them was too terrifying and eerie!

At this time, although the Broken Rock Tyrant Dragon was being controlled by the Hook Heart Grub Infant and being devoured by the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother, and its actions were also being restricted by the Giant Brutal Butcher.

However, the Broken Rock Tyrant Dragon was still resisting vigorously.

Whilst the Hook Heart Grub Infant and Giant Brutal Butcher were restricting the dragon, the dragon was also restricting the Pair.

If either party were to falter, the Broken Rock Tyrant Dragon could potentially break free.

Thankfully, the Grave Sacrifice Children were able to boost the Giant Brutal Butcher and the Hook Heart Grub Infant constantly using their Exclusive Trait "Corpse Spirit Fire Seed."

Otherwise, the Giant Brutal Butcher, who had been using his Exclusive Trait [Life Sacrifice Restraint] continuously, would probably have collapsed now!

The following battle was between the Ritual Cemetery Three Treasures and the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus.

Before the Ritual Cemetery Three Treasures showed clear signs of defeat, Fang Mu wouldn't summon new Undead Species Guardian Beasts.

Fang Mu's real ace cards were the Dead Territory Zombie, evolved from the Rotting Nightmare Stiffness, and the Stealthy Hidden One.

He hadn't used these two Undead Species Guardian Beasts yet.

Because Fang Mu wanted to explore the limits of the Ritual Cemetery Three Treasures through this battle.

Moreover, he wanted to estimate just how strong the enemy he could defeat using Yan Luo's identity based on this.

Fang Mu didn't know much about Cai Boshen, as in the last battle he had instantly killed him.

However, that didn't prevent Fang Mu from acknowledging Cai Boshen's strength.

Cai Boshen's two Sub-Dragons were both eligible to evolve into Master Dragons, with the combination of wind and earth attributes for defense, control, and offense.

It was clear that Cai Boshen had put a lot of thought into the selection of his Guardian Beasts.

Though Cai Boshen wasn't considered Fang Mu's opponent, there's no denying that Cai Boshen was an excellent touchstone.

Chapter 792 The Unveiled Third One! _2

Right now, Fang Mu wanted to use Cai Boshen as a touchstone to test his own strength.

If he could defeat Cai Boshen, Fang Mu's identity as Yan Luo would have the qualifications to enter the Golden Rank, and even charge into the higher ranks!

Cai Boshen's Battle Network profile showed that he was a certified main team member of the club.

Cai Boshen was pretty unfortunate to have been matched up with him twice in a row!

Fang Mu had been using the power of the Ritual Cemetery Three Treasures.

After a brief bout of negative emotions, Cai Boshen forcibly subdued the fear in his heart.

He commanded the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus to launch a combination of [Wind Slash], [Wind Roar Stab], and [Tornado Positioning] towards the noticeably enhanced Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother.

[Tornado Positioning] controlled and pulled, [Wind Slash] attacked openly, and [Wind Roar Stab] ambushed secretly.

This set of skills always made Cai Boshen invincible.

Last time he used this three-hit combo, the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus didn't use its exclusive skill [Wind Gather].

But in the face of the current unfavorable situation, Cai Boshen had ordered the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus to use [Wind Gather].

Massive amounts of wind elemental energy converged towards the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus, turning into its stored energy.

Right now, the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus was like a magic machine gun.

But this time, the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus didn't manage to rip apart the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother as it wanted.

Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother's exclusive skill [Brutal Paternity] could increase its defense capability by sacrificing Ritual Cemetery Children.

The four Ritual Cemetery Children were sacrificed and merged into the body of the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother.

Under the control of [Tornado Positioning], both [Wind Slash] and [Wind Roar Stab] struck the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother.

[Wind Slash] scored a cut on the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother's body, and [Wind Roar Stab] plunged into its body, but it wasn't enough to penetrate completely.

The Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother launched the skill [Spine Lock], shooting its spinal cord like a whip at the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus after pulling it out of its body.

If it were a regular Silver Stage Guardian Beast attack, Cai Boshen would not have ordered the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus to dodge.

But Yan Luo's Silver Stage Guardian Beasts were too extraordinary.

The Corpse Hunter had clearly been killed by the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus, but when it was reborn by the Mother Corpse Hunter and sacrificed the other Corpse Hunter units, its strength clearly increased compared to before.

Otherwise, it wouldn't have been able to withstand the offensive launched by the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus after using [Wind Gather].

Cai Boshen commanded the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus to use the exclusive skill [Hardened Scales] to reinforce the hardness of its scales.

When it takes close-range physical damage, it can rebound the damage by vibrating its scales.

This was an exclusive skill that Cai Boshen had always taken pride in, it was a divine skill against other melee Guardian Beasts.

With this exclusive skill, the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus had won significant battles for Cai Boshen.

Cai Boshen didn't know that Fang Mu had already seen through the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus's abilities.

Fang Mu had let the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother pounce at the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus in order for it to launch four attacks boosted by the Ritual Cemetery Children.

Put simply, the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother was there to die.

Fang Mu needed to use the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother to probe just how strong the defensive strength of the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus was.

If the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus' defense was too extraordinary, to the point that even the amplified Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother couldn't break it.

Then Fang Mu would have to send out the Stealthy Hidden One.

If Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother could break the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus's defense, Fang Mu would let the Ritual Cemetery Children use their exclusive skill [Twisted Filial piety], refining away the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother and the Grave Sacrifice Mother.

And collectively enhancing the copied Ritual Cemetery Children units.

These collectively altered Ritual Cemetery Children would then launch an attack on the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus.

The Mist Wind Arthurdactylus flapped its wings forcefully, launching a [Wind Slash] at Spine Lock at the same time.

The Spine Lock was immediately shattered.

But Spine Lock wasn't a one-time control effect. After the Spine Lock was broken, the Dead Qi within it would form new chains to bind the target again.

Taking advantage of the second bind, the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother landed on the wing of the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus.

In that instant, it launched two [Swift Rend Claw] strikes.

For every Ritual Cemetery Child sacrificed, it could only enhance one attack of the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother.

On the Dragon's wings of the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus, there was only a layer of bone membrane without any scales.

This bone membrane was directly torn open in two large gashes by the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother.

The Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother, using the left wing of the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus as the starting point, then rushed towards Mist Wind Arthurdactylus' other wing.

Under the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus' fierce resistance, Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother was hit by two Wind Slashes and three Wind Roar Stabs.

The Soul Flame began to weaken.

However, the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother still launched a Swift Rend Claw, ripping open the bone membrane of the other wing.

Then, they left the last enhanced opportunity for attack to its unique feature, [Sacrifice Armoured Gesture].

However, this time the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother did not use [Sacrifice Armoured Gesture] to resist the attack, but instead sacrificed itself to self-detonate through the effect of [Sacrifice Armoured Gesture].

A violent explosion sounded on the wing of the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus, which had only taken one hit.

Not only was the bone membrane blown open into a large hole, but the rigid bone supporting the membrane was also broken off.

Once the rigid bone was blown off, this pterodactyl lost the ability to glide across the sky.

The attack by the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother on the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus was interpreted by many in the live stream room as Fang Mu Yama showing off after gaining the advantage.

Guiding his own Guardian Beast to its death.

However, the four attacks by the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother took place in a flash, directly undermining the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus' air superiority perfectly.

The Undead Species of Guardian Beasts under Fang Mu Yama obviously did not have the ability to fly.

The Mist Wind Arthurdactylus, which could fly in the air and attack the ground, could cause a great deal of trouble to these Guardian Beasts of Fang Mu Yama.

It was clear that Cai Boshen understood this.

In the previous battles, Cai Boshen frequently took advantage of the aerial superiority of Mist Wind Arthurdactylus to attack the enemy.

This time, Cai Boshen did not do so. Firstly, because he underestimated Fang Mu Yama's strength at the beginning.

Secondly, he was dazed by Fang Mu Yama's sharp and clear combat style.

Fang Mu Yama first controlled the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus, then broke Mist Wind Arthurdactylus' air superiority.

This clear combat goal suggests that Fang Mu Yama has most likely undergone targeted training.

If Fang Mu knew what others were thinking, he would surely scratch his head awkwardly.

Truth be told, Fang Mu does not have much combat experience.

Fang Mu's current combat experience only came from a few battles on the Battle Network under his two identities.

Everyone has a time when they're young. Fang Mu, in his previous life, had a phase where he was particularly fond of a strategic game.

His high school grades were even affected due to his obsession with this game.

Later, in order to be admitted to his desired college, Fang Mu forcibly quit playing the game.

However, the years of playing strategic games allowed Fang Mu to accumulate many theoretical combat skills.

Nowadays, Fang Mu applied those theoretical skills in actual combat, which made his combat style seem very seasoned.

Cai Boshen never thought that Fang Mu Yama's Guardian Beast would be so weird.

At the cost of sacrificing itself and self-detonating, it broke the wing bone of the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus.

Now, the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus could only play its position on the ground against Fang Mu's Undead Species Guardian Beasts.

While Cai Boshen was somewhat resentful in his heart, he wasn't too panicked.

Thanks to the exclusive feature [Hardened Scales], the close combat Ability of the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus was not much weaker than that of the Broken Rock Tyrant Dragon.

It's just a pity that he now cannot control the Broken Rock Tyrant Dragon.

Otherwise, under the application of the Broken Rock Tyrant Dragon's exclusive features [Tyrant Fury] and [Absorb Earth], the use of the skill [Ground Shaking Wave] could instantly kill all of Fang Mu's Undead Species Guardian Beasts.

This battle has indeed taught Cai Boshen a lesson -- regardless of the type of enemy, it is important to take the upper hand from the beginning.

Cai Boshen was left with a lump in his throat that he could neither swallow nor spit out.

Cai Boshen could foresee what situation he would face on the Battle Network if after losing to Jianmu, he lost to Fang Mu Yama again.

Upon thinking of this, Cai Boshen decided to take a gamble, and simply revealed his third Guardian Beast, which he had never shown before.

It was precisely with this Guardian Beast that Cai Boshen was able to complete the advancement of the Broken Rock Tyrant Dragon and the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus.

Chapter 793 Spirit Mayfly!_1

Initially, Cai Boshen had a tough time signing a contract with this Guardian Beast.

These hardships still cause a shudder within Cai Boshen's spirit whenever he recalls them.

Cai Boshen closed his eyes, his originally black pupils turning silver-green under his eyelids.

With a sudden flicker, Cai Boshen opened his eyes looking at Fang Mu.

The Spirit Mayfly, a unique kind of Guardian Beast, can parasitize within the spiritual power of the contractor.

It enhances the contractor's spiritual power.

During battles, if the Spirit Mayfly is summoned, it can bind the target's spiritual power.

Forcing the Beast Master to momentarily lose control over their Guardian Beast.

This unique Guardian Beast, Spirit Mayfly, is proudly advertised as a family inherited Guardian Beast by the Cyan Stone Business Association.

But in fact, the Spirit Mayfly was discovered on an ancient battlefield by the Cyan Stone Business Association, and only six of them were found.

Cai Boshen is the most outstanding direct descendant of the younger generation in the Cyan Stone Business Association, with his father being the patriarch of the family.

So, he was able to sign a contract with a Spirit Mayfly as soon as he became a Beast Master.

The Cyan Stone Business Association also has several other excellent direct descendants.

However, because Cai Boshen contracted the Spirit Mayfly, none of the direct descendants from the Cyan Stone Business Association can rival Cai Boshen in terms of status.

Cai Boshen has hardly ever summoned the Spirit Mayfly in public.

Cai Boshen decided to do so now because he wanted to use this opportunity to keep his dream of becoming a star alive.

Otherwise, if he were to lose to Yan Luo, a One-point Stars Beast Master again, he would certainly lose face to continue live broadcasting on the Battle Network.

Let alone live broadcasting on the Battle Network, he might even lose face to continue being the main team member in the Soul Rain Club.

Cai Boshen certainly does not want to be greeted by a chorus of boos as soon as he enters the competition field in the future.

His Spirit Mayfly is also at the Platinum level.

Although its quality does not measure up to Legendary Quality and is only of Epic Quality.

Still, controlling Yan Luo's spiritual power must be a piece of cake!

After all, no matter how much spiritual power a One-point Stars Beast Master has, how much more can it be?

But very soon, Cai Boshen realized he was wrong.

The Spirit Mayfly flew out of Cai Boshen's pupils and went straight into Yan Luo's spiritual power.

Cai Boshen initially thought that the Spirit Mayfly should be able to lock Yan Luo's spiritual power quite easily.

However, through his senses, Cai Boshen perceived that the Spirit Mayfly was situated in a shadowy space.

A hidden shadow fiercely rushed towards the Spirit Mayfly.

Then the Spirit Mayfly was enclosed by a transparent bubble, and Cai Boshen lost control over it.

As if his contract with the Spirit Mayfly never existed.

But the Spirit Mayfly wasn't dead because Cai Boshen's spiritual power wasn't wounded.

But because Cai Boshen lost connection with the Spirit Mayfly, his spiritual power started to weaken.

It became difficult for Cai Boshen to maintain the contract with the Broken Rock Tyrant Dragon and the Mist Wind Arthurdactylus.

In an instant, Cai Boshen's spiritual power crumbled under the enormous pressure of the two Legendary Quality Platinum-level Guardian Beasts.

Cai Boshen collapsed to the ground, and the duel ended abruptly.

Not even giving Fang Mu time to test what kinds of abnormalities the Grave Sacrifice Child, through its exclusive feature [Twisted Filial Piety], could bring after refining the Grave Sacrifice Pregnant Mother and the Grave Sacrifice Father.

Fang Mu didn't expect that his Destiny Guardian Beast, the Fool's Shadow, would have this ability to safeguard his spiritual power!

When the Spirit Mayfly charged at him, Fang Mu used the Fool's Shadow's Innate Divine Ability [Eye of Omniscience] to scrutinize the Spirit Mayfly.

[Beast Name]: Spirit Mayfly

[Beast Species]: Mayfly Family/Mayfly Genus

[Beast Level]: Platinum (1/10)

[Beast Element]: Spirit Series

[Beast Potential]: Diamond

[Beast Quality]: Epic

Skills:

[Mental Reserve]: It increases its own spiritual power as its rank continues to increase, keeping its spiritual power at a full state.

[Spiritual Nourishment]: It nourishes its own spiritual power, enhancing the rate of increase mental power, and has a faint promoting effect on the spiritual power combined with the external and itself.

[Spirit Chain]: It enters the target's spirit, locking the enemy's spiritual power with its own.

[Mental Exile]: When the spiritual power captured by the Spirit Mayfly is weaker than it, it can sacrifice a portion of its own spirit power and exile the target's mental power out of the target's body.

Exclusive Traits:

[Mayfly Leaping]: When targeting a group of spiritual power, it could directly enter into the target's spiritual power for instantaneous inter-spirit transmission.

[Accelerated Recovery]: When spiritual power is consumed, the more it is consumed, the faster the spiritual power will recover, until the spiritual power is full.

Evolutionary Path:

①: Spirit Mayfly·Storage, ②: Spirit Mayfly·Sword, ③: Spirit Mayfly·Explosion.

When Fang Mu matched up against Cai Boshen under the guise of Jianmu, he was curious about how this Biprong Star Tamer could have contracted a Platinum-level Guardian Beast.

And Cai Boshen contracted two of them at once.

This is much more demanding on the spiritual power than contracting a single Platinum-level Guardian Beast!

After the duel, Fang Mu specifically asked She Wan whether she knew about the Cyan Stone Business Association situation.

Chapter 794 Spirit Mayfly!_2

As a noble lady from the Lu Dushe clan, She Wan had a certain understanding of the major forces within the Dragon Rising Federation.

When Fang Mu mentioned the Cyan Stone Business Association, She Wan subconsciously thought that he was probably enquiring about their unique Guardian Beasts passed down through the generations.

She Wan did indeed study the Cyan Stone Business Association's unique Guardian Beasts and knew some insider information.

However, as the inheritors, the Cyan Stone Business Association never showcased them to outsiders.

She Wan's knowledge was quite superficial.

When She Wan mentioned these Guardian Beasts, Fang Mu became very interested in the Guardian Beasts inherited by the Cyan Stone Business Association.

If it weren't for Fang Mu's urgency to travel to the Panfeng Federation, he would have liked to trade with the Cyan Stone Business Association.

He wondered if the Cyan Stone Business Association would part with one of these unique Guardian Beasts.

Fang Mu felt it was absolutely necessary for himself to contract a beast that could allow his other Guardian Beasts to ascend in rank.

In that way, his combat abilities could make a qualitative leap.

What Fang Mu possessed most were resources of a Grandmaster Creator.

For other forces, resources of a Grandmaster Creator were extremely valuable.

In these circumstances, Fang Mu believed he could intrigue the Cyan Stone Business Association.

Hearing from others is fundamentally different from seeing for yourself.

When She Wan previously brought up Spirit Mayfly, Fang Mu was just interested in it.

Now, however, Fang Mu considered Spirit Mayfly as a must-have.

The usefulness of Spirit Mayfly was not just to allow one's Guardian Beasts to advance to another level.

The reason why Spirit Mayfly could allow a contracted Guardian Beast to ascend in rank was due to its copper-grade skill [Pure Reserve].

In addition to enabling Guardian Beasts to advance in rank, Spirit Mayfly could also, with its silver-grade skill [Spiritual Nourishment], promote the increase of the contractor's spiritual power.

In Fang Mu's eyes, this ability is no less valuable than the ability of Spirit Mayfly to allow Guardian Beasts to ascend in rank.

After all, increasing the spiritual power of a Beast Master is fundamental in commanding Guardian Beasts.

The golden-grade skills [Spirit Chain] and [Mental Exile] both have the ability to limit the enemy's spiritual power.

Both skills could be perfectly combined with each other.

Once the target's spiritual power is exiled from their body, the target would become a living corpse, losing the connection with their Guardian Beasts.

Without the control of a Beast Master, Guardian Beasts would fall into a temporarily confused state.

The strength they could display would drastically reduce compared to their original foundations.

The exclusive characteristic [Bug Hop] of Spirit Mayfly made it difficult for other targets to defend or evade when the Spirit Mayfly attacked their spiritual power.

Apart from the above abilities, Spirit Mayfly's exclusive characteristic [Accelerated Recovery] is the essence of a Beast Master's combat power enhancement.

Whether a Beast Master was commanding Guardian Beasts, using a spiritual tool, or casting a spell, it would consume spiritual power.

With the exclusive characteristic [Accelerated Recovery], a Beast Master's frequency of using spiritual instruments and commanding Guardian Beasts in battle could increase.

After casting a spell and depleting all spiritual power, they could recover faster than other Beast Masters.

This allows a Beast Master to have the upper hand in a protracted battle.

It was a shame that Cai Boshen, with his two sub-dragons paired with Spirit Mayfly, encountered himself, thought Fang Mu.

For the first time, Fang Mu's Destiny Guardian Beast had joined the fight on the Battle Network in a passive manner.

Fang Mu only had Spirit Mayfly on his mind and lost the spirit to compete.

When Fang Mu exited the Battle Network, the barrage in Cai Boshen's live broadcast room was even more intense than during the fight.

[Xuxiao Ren]: Cai Boshen, I advise you to quit the internet! Don't show your face again! Claiming to be the ceiling of a Biprong Star Tamer, then losing to two One-point Star Beast Masters in a row, I would be too ashamed to continue live streaming if I were you!

[Hope it's Better Than Yesterday]: I think there's no need to criticize Cai. His strength is self-evident; it's just that Yan Luo's strength is too strong! Anyone who encounters Yan Luo is likely to end up in the same situation.

[The Pigeon Doesn't Pigeon]: Indeed, Yan Luo is very strong and seems to have a lot of combat experience! But I didn't really understand how Cai Boshen lost.

Apart from a small portion of audience criticizing Cai Boshen, most viewers shifted their attention to Yan Luo.

It was clear that Yan Luo was a rising star.

By defeating Cai Boshen, Yan Luo had demonstrated his strengths.

The current Yan Luo could officially go face-to-face with Jianmu.

After watching this match, no one dared to say that Yan Luo didn't deserve to face off against Jianmu!

Yan Luo and Jianmu both had legendary quality silver-stage Guardian Beasts. It was impossible to say who was stronger, Yan Luo or Jianmu, before their showdown.

Cai Boshen reluctantly chose to end his live broadcast while looking at the barrage of comments in the chatroom.

No matter how thick-skinned Cai Boshen was, he simply couldn't continue broadcasting at this point.

All mentions of him in the chatroom were just for mockery, so how could he go on?

All the topics in his live broadcast room were about the man who had just beaten him. Continuing to broadcast would only bring him humiliation.

Exiting Soul Rain Club Guild was something Cai Boshen was certainly unwilling to do.

Firstly, there was nothing wrong with his character. Even if he had lost two matches, he wouldn't be banned from the Beastmaster Alliance.

Once the situation had eased, he would have the chance to make a comeback as long as he performed well enough.

Huan Wang was the perfect example of this.

The number of viewers Huan Wang got every time he went live was no less than that of the main players in a renowned Club Guild.

The popularity in Huan Wang's live broadcast room was purely brought by Jianmu.

Cai Boshen knew very well that he could follow this path too.

However, Cai Boshen quickly dismissed this idea because he was really unwilling to lose his dignity.

His family wouldn't allow him to gain popularity in this way.

Secondly, the Soul Rain Club Guild was his family's own business.

At first, his family didn't care about Soul Rain Club Guild at all.

If it weren't for his star dreams and joining the Soul Rain Club Guild, would the Soul Rain Club Guild have received so much financial input?

If he left Soul Rain Club Guild, all the funds his family invested in it would be in vain!

Cai Boshen could only lie low for a while and see how things develop before deciding when to make a comeback.

Before, Yan Luo was Cai Boshen's opponent, but now Cai Boshen really hoped that Yan Luo could become famous and rise swiftly.

This way, there wouldn't be so many people talking about him losing to Yan Luo!

Damn it, is it so great to have the resources of a Grandmaster Creator!

Why Yan Luo and Jianmu are so strong?!

When Cai Boshen left the live broadcast, everyone was looking forward to Yan Luo's next match.

But they were kept waiting and saw no sign of Yan Luo fighting in the second round.

The discussion groups moved from various live broadcast rooms to the Battle Network's Skin Peeling House, where many people started to analyze Yan Luo's Undead Species Guardian Beast.

All kinds of versions were emerging, and Yan Luo's popularity started to pick up.

Though his current popularity was not enough for him to compete against Jianmu, some people began to compare him with Jianmu once more.

Fang Mu didn't know about this.

Fang Mu had only fought one match on the Battle Network, and it lasted for more than ten minutes.

There was still some time before Fang Yuan was finished with the Business Association's festivity.

Fang Mu didn't call to disturb Fang Yuan; instead, he sent Fang Yuan a message.

He asked Fang Yuan leave a note for the head of the Cyan Stone Business Association to attend the Business Association's festivity.

No matter which city Cyan Stone Business Association was in, they would definitely participate in a ceremony of the Business Association's function like the Business Association's festivity.

She Wan had returned from the She Family's old house, so Fang Mu decided to go directly to the Capital overnight to meet with the head of the Cyan Stone Business Association.

He was going to see if he could trade the Spirit Mayfly treasure from the head of the Cyan Stone Business Association.

If Fang Mu could trade for the Spirit Mayfly, all of his Guardian Beasts could advance to the gold rank before he became a Biprong Star Tamer.

Fang Mu called Shu Liangjun back, and he did not use the Beastmaster Alliance's teleportation array to go to the Capital this time.

Shu Liangjun was able to make this short distance teleport directly through his own Guardian Beast.

Fang Mu did not know that while he was on his way to the Capital, the heads of the eight departments of the Dragon Rising Federation, who had not met for a long time, had gathered together.

They were preparing to attend a grand festivity launched by the Contract Garden!

Chapter 795 Contract Garden and the Four Major Competitions!_1

In a spacious conference room, a series of large purple copper basins were placed against the walls.

Red-golden vines sprouted in the purple copper basins, climbing up the wall like dragons making their way to the top center of the wall.

On these vines, fine scales were clearly visible, gracefully presenting the form of a dragon.

The vines were known as Red Dragon Vines, a homophonic symbol planted in the Dragon Rising Federation's Royal Court, signifying the continuous prosperity of the Federation.

Apart from these Red Dragon Vines, dozens of crystal tanks half-buried in the ground were arranged in the meeting room, each filled with Colored Golden Scales.

When nourished, these splendid carps, known as Colored Golden Scales, have a certain chance of transforming into a Brocade Auspicious Dragon.

Upon birth, the Brocade Auspicious Dragon goes directly into the earth's veins, bringing harmony and blessing to a whole continent.

They are a rare supreme auspicious being in the world!

At this moment, 22 impressive individuals were seating before the table, each with a chubby, round, semi-transparent Guardian Beast floating above their heads.

The spiritual power emitted by these 22 Guardian Beasts continuously formed a communication network.

These communication networks interlinked with each other and merged into a much larger network.

The twenty-two important figures of the Dragon Rising Federation's eight departments were communicating with the Contract Garden through this network.

While it's said that the Ten-thousand Nations Federation manages many federations, the Contract Garden holds the actual absolute authority.

However, the Contract Garden rarely gives orders to the federations.

This kind of situation hasn't happened for hundreds of years.

After a while, the semi-transparent Guardian Beasts above the heads of the twenty-two important figures of the Dragon Rising Federation descended onto the ground.

The intense spiritual fluctuations disappeared, and all twenty-two eyes opened simultaneously.

The Dragon Mother's eyes were filled with a strange look, not knowing why the Contract Garden would make such a decision.

Actually the Dream Beasts are not unique to the Dragon Rising Federation. The technology to cultivate Dream Beasts was initially provided by the Contract Garden.

The Dragon Rising Federation has paid a hefty price to acquire this technology from the Contract Garden, and it is being promoted throughout the federation.

This allows the Beast Masters of the Dragon Rising Federation to engage in harmless duels on the Battle Network.

Over the past few decades, the Battle Network has become an integral part of the lives of the Dragon Rising Federation's Beast Masters and significantly increased their fighting capabilities.

This has given the Dragon Rising Federation an increasing advantage in its competition with the other federations.

Currently, out of thousands of federations around the world, less than 30 possess the ability to build a Battle Network using Dream Beasts within their federation.

But now the Contract Garden plans to promote this technology amongst all federations, allowing every federation to possess a Battle Network.

Then, according to the different regions, the Battle Networks between the large federations will be integrated and divided into four competition districts.

It will be divided into three age groups: Under 20, Under 30, and Under 40.

Each district would select ten prodigies from each age group to represent their district for inter-district competitions.

The resources provided by the Grandmaster Creators released by the Contract Garden every year will be allocated based on the district ranking.

The Dragon Rising Federation has three Grandmaster Creators, and there are people within the federation who are producing resources for these Creators, so the resources available from the Grandmaster Creators will continue to increase.

However, some federations don't have Grandmaster Creators, and they can only obtain resources from outside.

Obtaining resources from the Contract Garden is the lowest cost method for a federation without a Grandmaster Creator.

The competition for resources from Grandmaster Creators usually involves the elder generation.

Strongmen's battles are always unpredictable, which has caused an accumulation of grudges between many federations.

The Contract Garden's division into four districts, and the competition format, not only promote unity among the districts but also encourages federations to value the development of the younger generation.

The thought and initial intention of the Contract Garden are good, but there are numerous challenges in enforcing these plans.

However, since the decision was made by the Contract Garden, this seemingly difficult implementation strategy can definitely be carried out smoothly.

The Dragon Rising Federation has always been greatly promoting the development of the Battle Network, encouraging the younger generation to battle on the network.

The e-sports industry for the Battle Network wouldn't be so successful and developing so smoothly without a large amount of invested resources!

Dragon Rising Federation is located in the East Competition District, the strength of which is not considered strong among the four districts.

Because only four federations in the entire East Competition District possess a Battle Network, making it the lowest ranked among the four districts.

Luckily the four federations in East Competition District with Battle Networks are relatively strong.

Since ten prodigies from each age group are to be selected to represent the district, competition within each district must first be conducted.

Dragon Rising Federation should also start preparing for this!

The elderly figure in the lead seat did not speak, instead, a man dressed in a white robe sitting on its right spoke sternly.

"Let Purple Que School Palace handle the selection for the under twenty age group."

"The age group from twenty to thirty will be jointly selected by the Purple Que School Palace and the Beastmaster Alliance."

"The thirty to forty age group will be jointly selected by the Beastmaster Alliance and Dragon Guard Sacred Hall."

"What do you think?"

Ji Wanliu is in charge of managing the affairs of the Royal Court of Dragon Rising Federation. He practically manages eight departments and has the authority to arrange the management work of each department.

Ji Wanliu, as his name suggests, is a master of strategy with thousands of schemes in mind.

Chapter 796:

But in the end, all these considerations were aimed at making the Dragon Rising Federation even stronger.

Upon receiving the news from the Contract Garden, Ji Wanliu made the most correct decision.

People under the age of twenty are usually educated in schools, with few exceptions.

Therefore, it is most fitting to entrust the Purple Que School Palace with the selection.

From the age of twenty to thirty, besides going to school, one would join the Beastmaster Alliance to become a certified Beast Master.

In this age group, the Beastmaster Alliance has more influence than the Purple Que School Palace.

Beast Masters from thirty to forty years old either join private forces, various legions, city guards, or public departments.

This happens to be within the jurisdiction of the Beastmaster Alliance and the Dragon Guard Sacred Hall.

But just after Ji Wanliu proposed this, a burly man raised a different opinion.

This man was dressed in light blue leather armor adorned with many metal rivets.

A long-tailed rat stood on this burly man's shoulder, suppressing much of the man's sharp aura.

The man was named Pang Hu, one of the two presidents of the Beastmaster Alliance.

He was responsible for the security management of the Beastmaster Alliance and was undoubtedly a god of death.

"We just need to disseminate the relevant information and collect information from the Battle Network within three months to select a sufficient number of people for training."

"Perhaps some members of the powers have not yet participated in trials on the Battle Network."

"But once the message is disseminated, which power wouldn't want its disciples to represent the Dragon Rising Federation to compete for a spot in the East Competition District?"

"Also, I propose that we first pre-select thirty people for each ranking, and then have them compete internally."

"Finally, we will select ten to represent the Dragon Rising Federation in the pursuit of eligibility in the East Competition District."

"Each Beast Master contracts with a different Guardian Beast, and the abilities of the Guardian Beasts counteract each other. There's always a case of the weak overtaking the strong."

"Therefore, to judge a Beast Master's strength based on a single duel seems somewhat arbitrary."

"I think only a series of battles can fully assess a Beast Master's overall ability."

Pang Hu said these words not to gain resources for the Beastmaster Alliance.

By taking on this task, there are not only benefits, but also responsibilities.

For it will ultimately involve the Dragon Rising Federation gaining resources from the Grandmaster Creator.

Don't be fooled by the fact that the Dragon Rising Federation has a Grandmaster Creator, as resources associated with them are equally scarce in the Federation.

Pang Hu just thought that leaving this matter to the Beastmaster Alliance would be more convenient.

Upon hearing Pang Hu's words, Ji Wanliu remained calm and prepared to listen to the opinions of others.

A white-haired old man with a beard that had grown down to his chest chuckled and said.

"It's rare for Pang Hu to advocate taking on tasks like he is now. It's indeed easier if the Beastmaster Alliance handles this."

"If those forces still do not let their members duel on the Battle Network and attract our attention after receiving the news."

"Even if we unearth them, these forces might not want to let their members represent the Dragon Rising Federation in the battle."

"So it will be more reliable to chose from the Battle Network!"

"The Purple Que School Palace and the Dragon Guard Sacred Hall can assist the Beastmaster Alliance."

"If the Beastmaster Alliance has any needs, just speak up and discuss it with us at the Purple Que School Palace."

"We at the Purple Que School Palace will do our utmost!"

When Su Bar made his position, he only represented the Purple Que School Palace, not the Dragon Guard Sacred Hall.

It's up to Master Xie Heng of the Dragon Guard Sacred Hall to make decisions about Dragon Guard Sacred Hall.

But in Su Bar's view, Xie Heng had no reason to refuse.

Except for fighting and killing, Xie Heng has always shown little interest in other things.

Xie Heng was also not suited to this meticulous sort of task.

Pang Hu, on the other hand, had a finer grasp of the details, and was proficient in personnel selection.

Just as Su Bar thought, Xie Heng immediately agreed and said.

"I share the same thoughts with Elder Su, Elder Pang, if there's anything you need help with, feel free to tell me!"

Upon hearing this, Ji Wanliu nodded and said.

"Let's proceed according to the results of our current discussions!"

"Pang Hu will primarily handle this matter, with the assistance of Xie Heng and Old Su."

The president of the Creator's Guild, Sect Master Xiao Xiang, stated gently after Ji Wanliu confirmed everything.

"Our Creator's Guild will provide resources for the thirty Beast Masters selected from each age group in the preliminaries."

"We'll help the selected members improve their abilities in a short period."

"Old Pang can spread this news."

"Even those hidden forces that do not wish to expose their family descendants can't resist such temptation!"

Following Sect Master Xiao Xiang, the one in charge of the Dracoid Research Institute, Shuoyang Grandmaster, had his word.

"Our Dracoid Research Institute will also provide resources to the thirty Beastmasters selected from each age bracket in the preliminaries."

"You must all be busy with your own things daily, however, you should all still be familiar with the name Qixing!"

"Qixing's disciple is only sixteen or seventeen years old this year. I believe Qixing's disciple has the potential to represent the Dragon Rising Federation in the district selection!"

Shuoyang had been a Creation Grandmaster for a long time, but this was the first time he had ever heard the name Qixing.

Shuoyang had just become a Creation Grandmaster when he received an invitation from the Contract Garden to join.

As a Senior Creation Zenith Master, Shuoyang holds a certain status within the Contract Garden.

Those Junior and Mid-level Creation Grandmasters often fawn over Shuoyang, hoping to get his guidance.

After becoming a Creation Grandmaster, one's own Creation Master level becomes increasingly difficult to advance.

Getting pointers from a Creation Grandmaster who is more capable than oneself is the best way to improve oneself.

Shuoyang jogged his memory, thinking of all the Creation Grandmasters he knew.

He could confirm that the name Qixing was not among those Creation Grandmasters.

So, Shuoyang thought that Qixing's name was likely a pseudonym.

As for whether Qixing had joined the Contract Garden, Shuoyang did not believe it.

The Contract Garden is an organization that safeguards the interests of Creation Grandmasters, and there are no binding rules for Creation Grandmasters at all.

Joining the Contract Garden was like finding a reliance for a Creation Grandmaster.

In the Contract Garden, various Creation Grandmasters are always researching topics.

Shuoyang had gotten many inspirations from these topic researches.

Many of the Contract Garden's Creation Grandmasters are very mysterious, and they only get to know the content of the meetings within the Contract Garden through Communication Beasts.

Until now, many Creation Grandmasters have barely shown their faces.

Shuoyang didn't know whether Qixing was one of them.

At first, when Shuo Yang heard the name Qixing, someone said that Qixing was just a Junior Creation Master.

But soon after, during the fight over the Sacred Relic of Sakura Fall by Qixing's disciple, Qixing's status had risen to that of a Mid-level Creation Master.

Then, during the trade with the Scavenger, Qixing even took out supplies that only a Senior Creation Zenith Master could control.

In just a few months, Qixing constantly refreshed people's understanding, yet Qixing and his disciples acted very low-key.

In Shuoyang's heart, it was almost certain that Qixing was at least a Top-level Creation Grandmaster!

As for whether Qixing was a Holy Creator, Shuo Yang was uncertain.

If Qixing was indeed a Holy Creator, regardless of whether Qixing was a citizen of the Dragon Rising Federation, it would be a blessing for the Dragon Rising Federation that Qixing took Fang Mu as his disciple.

Dragon Mother and Ninth Sacrifice, the two Bishops Flowers looked at each other, neither of them expecting that Shuoyang would mention Qixing at the Royal Court Meeting.

Until now, Dragon Mother and Ninth Sacrifice had not yet figured out Qixing's details.

In reality, neither Dragon Mother nor Ninth Sacrifice had deliberately set out to investigate Qixing's identity, afraid that doing so would provoke Qixing's displeasure.

All they needed to do was to take good care of Qixing's disciple, Fang Mu, and trade Creation Grandmaster resources with Fang Mu for a long time.

Ji Wanliu didn't pick up on Shuoyang's words, but instead he changed the topic.

"All of you must have read ancient books, knowing that in the fifth and sixth epochs every Federation had their own Federal envoy."

"But in the Seventh Era, no Federation has elected a Federal envoy."

"How about our Dragon Rising Federation revive the old tradition and conduct a selection for the Federal envoy?"

Chapter 797:

Ji Wanliu clearly understood what it meant to be a Federal envoy.

Old records provided an exceedingly precise description of a Federal envoy.

For a federation, the position of a Federal envoy held an unusually sacred symbol, it's significance could sometimes even rival the significance of any one sector's representative within the federation.

Therefore, the selection of a Federal envoy was a matter of great importance for a federation.

Even someone with Ji Wanliu's status couldn't make the decision alone.

Instead, it required the joint discussion of all the heads of the eight major departments of the Dragon Rising Federation.

The final decision or resolution was to be established based on this discussion.

Although Ji Wanliu's proposal had come suddenly, he had already thought it over very carefully in his heart.

In doing this, the Contract Garden aimed to foster new generations apart from allocating resources to the Grandmaster Creator, and bring the young generation to the forefront.

If the Dragon Rising Federation made such a decision, it could be said that it was adhering to the intention of the Contract Garden.

Once the other federations figured out the Contract Garden's decision, most of them would probably opt for the same course of action.

In fact, Ji Wanliu had proposed this resolution of giving glory to the younger generation two years ago.

However, at that time, disasters occurred frequently, and dimensional rifts would occasionally open here and there in the Dragon Rising Federation.

Everyone's attention was placed on protecting the Dragon Rising Federation.

Hence, Ji Wanliu had put aside his idea.

Bringing up the selection of the Dragon Teng envoy again could also be considered as raising an old issue.

Upon hearing Ji Wanliu's words, the Royal Court's conference room of the Dragon Rising Federation lapsed into a brief silence.

"Dragon Mother" was in favor of Ji Wanliu's proposal deep down; she always believed that the young were the future of a federation.

However, she did not immediately respond to Ji Wanliu. In such occasions, "Dragon Mother" needed to avoid showing favoritism.

Because her grandson Mo Shang ranked among the top of his generation in terms of power, within the age group of twenty to thirty.

If she spoke now, people might get the impression that she intends to push her grandson into the position of Dragon-Teng envoy.

Firstly, she had no such intention and did not want to be misunderstood.

Secondly, her grandson Mo Shang had won all these on his own merits.

If Mo Shang ended up becoming the Dragon Rising envoy, this would instead tarnish his reputation.

Although "Dragon Mother" did not speak, Ninth Sacrifice was the first one to back Ji Wanliu's proposal.

"I have always believed that the younger generation is a federation's future, and Old Ji's decision is very good; it's indeed necessary for our Dragon Rising Federation to select the Dragon-Teng envoy!"

"Choosing the Dragon-Teng envoy could greatly stimulate the enthusiasm of the younger generation."

"Allowing Dragon Rising Federation to strive for as many Grandmaster Creator resources as possible from the Contract Garden during the competition in the East Competition District, and even the four major competition districts."

Just as the words of Ninth Sacrifice came to a halt, Pang Hu frowned and said,

"I have no objections to the selection of a Federal envoy, after all, it's an idea recorded in the ancient books from five or six epochs ago."

"The ancient books record the importance of a Federal envoy to a federation, but they don't record any selection criteria for the Federal envoy."

"To lead the young, power alone is not enough."

"Morality, character, and a sense of justice are also measurement standards!"

"The Dragon-Teng envoy chosen by our Dragon Rising Federation cannot be wicked or deceitful."

"So, power ranking alone should not be the determinant in the selection of a Federal envoy!"

Pang Hu's words made many people present start to ponder deeply.

Ji Wanliu was very satisfied with this situation.

Whatever he proposed could be guaranteed without any error through everyone's discussion.

As the administrator of the Purple Que School Palace, Su Bar was well aware that the outcome of a duel between young Beast Masters was often influenced by many random factors.

In order to ensure the absolute power of the Federal envoy, each age group should have two Federal envoys.

The Dragon Rising Federation could indeed appoint some additional Federal envoys.

However, if too many Federal envoys were appointed, it would defeat the original purpose of having a Federal envoy.

A federation should have role models, but there shouldn't be too many.

Otherwise, the younger generation would focus on which Alliance envoy is stronger, just like celebrity chasers, and overlook the positive role that Federal envoys represent.

So, Su Bar made a suggestion.

"Since the main reason for our Dragon Rising Federation to select the Dragon-Teng envoy is due to the Contract Garden's decision to divide the competition districts, we must have a Dragon-Teng envoy in each age group."

"To truly represent each age group as a commander-in-chief!"

"I propose selecting two Dragon-Teng envoys for each age group, ranked as the Chief envoy and the Deputy envoy based on their strength."

"The Chief envoy is responsible for managing the affairs of the Dragon-Teng envoy, and the Deputy envoy has the power to assist and supervise the Chief envoy."

"The selection of the Dragon-Teng envoy should not be rushed, we can first release the news."

"It's not too late to confirm the Dragon-Teng envoy after the selection in the whole East Competition District is finished!"

"In addition, the Dragon-Teng envoy should be reselected every two to three years, when the resources are allocated by the Contract Garden."

"On the one hand, it's to select better quality strong individuals, on the other hand, with age, the Dragon-Teng envoy will inevitably exceed the age limitation of each segment."

"Choosing once before each competition in the four major competition districts held by the Contract Garden is the most appropriate."

The suggestions made by Su Bar were very detailed. Before the others could carefully consider, it's inappropriate for them to immediately respond to Su Bar's suggestions.

Ji Wanliu didn't intend to make the decision immediately either, so he addressed the others,

"Everyone, please consider this matter as an important topic, we'll decide on it at the next Royal Court meeting."

Chapter 798:

"It's time to implement our resolution."

Shuoyang and Xiaoxiang are both Grandmaster Creators. They have the most authority and interaction within the Dragon Rising Federation.

In the past, all decisions made by Ji Wanliu were discussed privately with the Grandmasters Shuoyang and Xiaoxiang.

Now, Ji Wanliu has finally stopped consulting them on every matter as he used to do.

Both Shuoyang and Xiaoxiang believe that selecting a Federation envoy is a good thing for the Dragon Rising Federation, not a bad one.

Both strongly support this decision.

After exchanging glances with Master Shuoyang, Xiaoxiang said,

“The chosen Dragon-Teng Envoys will be personally trained by me.”

“I will provide them with Grandmaster Creator resources to further enhance their abilities.”

“These resources will not be accounted as contributions from the Creator’s Guild to the Dragon Rising Federation, but rather as my personal gifts to these Dragon-Teng Envoys!”

Even before Xiaoxiang had finished speaking, Master Shuoyang responded,

“According to Elder Su, there will be a total of six Federation envoys.”

“The resources required by these six individuals would indeed be a substantial investment!”

“I cannot let Master Xiaoxiang bear the cost of these resources alone.”

“I will provide resources for the three regular Federation envoys!”

“The resources I provide will not be counted as contributions from the Dracoid Research Institute to the Dragon Rising Federation.”

“The future of the Dragon Rising Federation requires collective effort from our eight departments!”

Both Shuoyang and Xiaoxiang are born and raised Federation citizens.

They have been silently contributing to the Dragon Rising Federation over the years.

Otherwise, with their statuses as Grandmaster Creators, they could have easily taken up positions in the Ten-thousand Nations Federation.

Seeking a higher position in the Ten-thousand Nations Federation is much more comfortable than staying within a single federation.

However, neither Shuoyang nor Xiaoxiang did so, instead, they quietly held up the mantle of the Dragon Rising Federation.

They have consistently provided the federation with creator resources.

This has allowed the Dragon Rising Federation to steadily advance its ranking within the Ten-thousand Nations Federation.

Many creators, not to mention becoming Grandmaster Creators, aspire to the status of a Master Creator. They would eagerly leave their own federation to join the Ten-thousand Nations Federation.

Once a federation experiences the departure of its high-level creators, it is doomed to struggle with development!

However, it is quite common for creators to leave their original federation in search of better opportunities once their abilities enhance.

After all, as people who produce scarce resources, they aspire to receive the best treatment.

Some small federations are unable to offer the kind of treatment that a Grandmaster Creator needs.

After sending a message to Fang Yuan, Fang Mu is unaware of the changes in the Main World caused by the decision made in the Contract Garden.

What occupies Fang Mu's mind is a unique Spirit Series Guardian Beast called the Spirit Mayfly that belongs to the Qing Shi Business Association.

The Spirit Mayfly is crucial to Fang Mu's enhancement of his abilities.

As the golden sleeve of Jianmu Commerce Association and the de facto chairman, Fang Yuan has become the absolute center of the business festival.

All the participating guilds want to curry favor with the newly risen Jianmu Commerce Association!

If this had happened two months ago, Fang Yuan would have struggled to deal with the situation.

But now, Fang Yuan is used to it.

Fang Yuan proficiently interacts with other powers at the festival, while the newly minted Grandmaster Creator from Dragon Rising Federation, Master Yi Han, stands by his side, clearly guarding him.

The heads of large guilds at the scene couldn't help but look at Fang Yuan with newfound respect.

It turns out that there are not one, but two Grandmaster Creators behind Jianmu Commerce Association!

No wonder Jianmu Commerce Association has the audacity to prepare for opening the Contemplation Hall.

Everyone knows that it takes a lot of resources to open a Contemplation Hall!

Opening a Contemplation Hall requires a large amount of creator resources.

This is not only about the demand for high-level creator resources but also the enormous need for low-level creator resources.

It fundamentally tests the strength of a power.

Originally, many powers who operated Contemplation Halls wanted to prevent the Jianmu Trade Association from stepping into their field.

Because once Jianmu Trade Association took part, it would inevitably affect the distribution of profits.

However, after the news of the connections of the Jianmu Trade Association spread tonight, it's unlikely that any power could harbor such thought anymore.

Besides the newly promoted Grandmaster Creator, Yi Han, even the two masters of the Chang Le Pavilion brought people to personally support the Jianmu Trade Association.

The Chang Le Pavilion's influence in the Dragon Rising Federation is quite mysterious, rarely appearing in Dust World.

However, every time the Chang Le Pavilion appeared in Dust World, they achieved extraordinary accomplishments.

These include affecting the life and death of two top-tier powers.

Should any power offend the Jianmu Trade Association, it's likely that Chang Le Pavilion wouldn't mind standing up for Jianmu.

With an understanding of the connections of the Jianmu Trade Association, the chairmen of several grand business associations made personal appearances just to connect with Fang Yuan.

Among them was Cai Guili, the Chairman of the Cyan Stone Business Association.

The Cyan Stone Business Association is quite well-known in the entire business world, but compared to those ranked within the top ten, it still lacks depth.

At this moment, the chairmen of the top ten associations were standing next to a young man with sword-like eyebrows, eagerly conversing with him.

Cai Guili was well aware of the gap between the Cyan Stone Business Association and the top ten associations.

Though the Cyan Stone Business Association ranks within the top thirty in the Dragon Rising Federation, it did not belong to the exclusive circle of the top ten.

This left Cai Guili awkwardly standing to the side.

Cai Guili silently thought that the chairmen of the top ten associations were focused on building relationships with the Jianmu Trade Association.

Under these circumstances, these individuals would probably plan to invite Fang Yuan to a banquet after the conclusion of the Business Association Festival.

Whether or not Fang Yuan would be willing to attend, Cai Guili likely wouldn't have the opportunity to connect with him.

His intention to connect with the Jianmu Trade Association was in hopes of obtaining resources from them.

What could Fang Yuan, the chairman of the Jianmu Trade Association, hope to gain from him?

Just as Cai Guili was losing hope, he saw Fang Yuan pick up his phone and start to browse.

Surrounded by a multitude of company chairmen, whatever could make Fang Yuan pick up his phone would most likely be an extremely important message.

Cai Guili watched as Fang Yuan quickly pressed a few keys on his phone. After setting it down, his gaze began to sweep around.

Scanning around, Fang Yuan's gaze suddenly fell onto Cai Guili.

As their eyes met, Cai Guili inexplicably felt a wave of pressure.

Cai Guili managed to regain his composure, then nodded to Fang Yuan with a smile as a greeting.

Cai Guili had thought his encounter with Fang Yuan's gaze was only a coincidence, but he didn't expect Fang Yuan to reciprocate with a smile.

And then he walked through the crowd, headed straight for Cai Guili.

Similarly, Master Yi Han also followed Fang Yuan's side.

Realizing this, Cai Guili immediately understood that the chairman of Jianmu Trade Association, Fang Yuan, was headed towards him.

Thinking back to Fang Yuan picking up his phone as though he was replying to a message, could his action have something to do with the message he received?

It would be the only explanation as to why Fang Yuan suddenly showed interest in him.

If Fang Yuan had planned to connect with the Cyan Stone Business Association earlier, he wouldn't have waited until now to approach him.

Seeing Fang Yuan walk up to him, Cai Guili hastily bowed to him.

He then bowed to Yi Han, who was standing by Fang Yuan's side.

In the face of a Grandmaster Creator, Cai Guili instinctively expressed his respect.

Individuals of a Grandmaster Creator's level were very hard for someone like Cai Guili to approach previously.

Fang Yuan was somewhat curious, wondering why Fang Mu would want him to dialogue with the chairman of the Cyan Stone Business Association.

However, Fang Yuan assumed that Fang Mu must have a deeper reason behind this.

Regarding Fang Mu's matters, Fang Yuan had always paid more attention to them than his own.

Fang Yuan immediately disregarded the other chairmen who wanted to connect with him and invited Cai Guili, the chairman of the Cyan Stone Business Association, giving him quite an honor.

This allowed Cai Guili to make quite an impression at the Business Association Festival!

Chapter 799: The Face of Jianmu Commerce Association!_1

Otherwise, the Cyan Stone Business Association would hardly be noticeable in the entire Merchant Association Festival.

“President Cai, tonight many presidents of other associations have expressed their desire to visit our Jianmu Association and attend our banquet.”

“Do you have time?”

“If you do, we would love for you to join us at the Jianmu Association!”

Fang Qin, Fang Yuan, Yan Wood, and Fang Mu were all excellently nurtured since childhood. Their parents run a Beast Taming Base.

For merchants who sell Guardian Beasts and spirit materials, politeness is essential.

After the accidental death of their parents, Fang Qin took great pains in teaching Fang Mu and Yan Wood about manners while raising them from a very young age.

When addressing others, Fang Yuan customarily uses the term “you”.

Moreover, since Fang Yuan joined the Ten Thousand Treasures Commerce as Golden Gloves, he often interacts with other forces, making the use of “you” almost a habit.

But ever since he became the president of Jianmu Association, Fang Yuan staunchly prevents himself from addressing others as “you”.

Larger associations attach great importance to dignity. When the president of a major association addresses other association presidents as “you”, it is not seen as a sign of respect.

Instead, it gives the impression that their own association lacks confidence and wants to ingratiate itself with the other association.

Fang Yuan found it challenging to break this habit at first, but with time, he has adapted to his role as a leader.

Fang Yuan’s invitation delighted Cai Guili.

Fang Yuan personally invited him to attend a banquet at the headquarters of the Jianmu Association, which likely indicates that he has something to discuss.

Cai Guili is no fool; he knows Fang Yuan’s intent is not to ask for assistance.

Business associations often experience cash flow problems, and between major associations, borrowing funds from each other is common if the interest is agreeable. Many cash-rich associations are willing to lend money for a short period.

After all, before finding a worthy investment, gaining a handsome return on interest can be very profitable.

But how could a force with a Grandmaster Creator ever have a cash flow problem?

The few elixirs exhibited by the Jianmu Association at the festival could each fetch over a billion if sold.

Before the start of the Merchant Association Festival, many forces were speculating about the relationship between Peach Beguile and Jianmu Association.

About a month ago, Peach Beguile publicly announced its intention to establish friendly cooperation with the Jianmu Association.

Based on the situation at the festival, it seems that Peach Beguile and Jianmu are closely-related companies.

Moreover, Jianmu seems to be the main player, with Peach Beguile in a secondary role.

Otherwise, Peach Beguile wouldn't have refrained from releasing products for over a month, only to display them all at the Jianmu sector during the Merchant Association Festival!

Peach Beguile's ability to accumulate wealth might even surpass those associations ranked below 50!

Peach Beguile's cosmetic products have a substantial market share, but their production volume is limited.

This allows Peach Beguile to charge premium prices for its brand.

The head of such a powerhouse reaching out to him is likely because of the Spiritual Mayflies in the possession of Cyan Stone Business Association.

In recent years, numerous forces have approached the Cyan Stone Business Association, hoping to trade for the Spiritual Mayflies.

This includes several powerful forces from the Outer Realm.

Cai Guili has always gently refused these forces, as he fully understands the importance of the Spiritual Mayflies to his family.

Responsible for propelling the Cyan Stone Business Association from 90th to 29th on the association chart in a span of just thirty years, the Spiritual Mayflies have significantly empowered the family.

Trading with other powers may bring short-term gains, but it won't empower the Cyan Stone Business Association for long-term development.

Spiritual Mayflies, originating from an ancient battlefield, have always been a secret of the Cyan Stone Business Association.

Upon acquiring six Spiritual Mayflies, Cai Guili and the creators in his family attempted to breed them.

Cai Guili found that breeding Spiritual Mayflies was extremely difficult.

During the process, Spiritual Mayflies attacked each other, causing one of them to be severely wounded and still unable to fully recover.

If Jianmu Association wishes to acquire Spiritual Mayflies from the Cai Family, even offering Grandmaster Creator resources that are hard to refuse, Cai Guili would still painfully turn down Fang Yuan.

However, if Jianmu Association proposes to jointly breed the Spiritual Mayflies with the Cyan Stone Business Association, and share in the benefits once the breeding is successful, that would be a deal Cai Guili would want to make!

Every association president capable of leading an association is cunning, always striving to consider the association's best interests.

Having made up his mind, Cai Guili bowed to Fang Yuan and said,

“It is my honor to be invited by President Fang to attend the banquet. Before coming to the festival, I heard the auspicious cries of the musical magpies at home.”

“Now I finally understand why they were calling!”

Upon hearing this, Fang Yuan raised his eyebrows. Musical Magpies sleep as of 5 p.m. and only chirp around noon.

Cai Guili’s opening line being so lucky bodes well. It suggests that Cai Guili is a sly character!

Fang Mu will arrive in the Capital tonight, and Fang Yuan is unsure what he wants with Cai Guili.

As long as he can keep Cai Guili in, that’s all that matters!

The presidents of other major associations who were watching felt a flash of embarrassment.

They’ve all been trying to curry favor with Fang Yuan, but even though he is enthusiastic, he has always kept his distance.

Chapter 800: The Face of Jianmu Commerce Association!_2

All the presidents of the top ten business associations could understand this.

A business association backed by a Grandmaster Creator had no need to maintain good relationships with other associations.

Being a Creator is the primary productive force in the Beastmaster world—a common knowledge.

Yet Fang Yuan was so indifferent to them and extended a warm invitation to Cai Guili.

Could it be that in Fang Yuan's eyes, the Qing Shi Business Association, ranked twenty-ninth, was more important than their top ten ranked associations!?

These cunning old foxes quickly suppressed their displeasure and soon figured out Fang Yuan's purpose in contacting Chairman Cai Gui Li of the Qing Shi Business Association.

The Jianmu Commerce Association was also eyeing the Spirit Mayflies!

It was uncertain whether this time Cai Guili would give in or withhold when facing a new rising business association backed by a Grandmaster Creator.

The presidents of the top ten business associations had all individually approached Cai Guili, hoping to obtain Spirit Mayflies.

They were all refused by Cai Guili.

That was also why, although the presidents of the top ten business associations had not communicated with each other about this matter, they all held a strong aversion towards Cai Guili.

They attended the banquet held by Fang Yuan at the Jianmu Commerce Association with the aim of forming connections with Jianmu Commerce Association.

They would not skip Jianmu Commerce Association's banquet just because Cai Guili was attending.

This made these business association presidents somewhat uneasy.

Yi Han was standing by Fang Yuan's side when he saw the content of a text on Fang Yuan's phone, knowing that Fang Mu would be coming to The Capital tonight.

Yi Han had always wanted to deepen the trading relations with Fang Mu and trade for more Grandmaster Creator resources from him.

Two months ago, when Yi Han had just become a Grandmaster Creator, he was haughty.

Although he had started cooperating with Fang Mu, he hadn't taken the Grandmaster Creator resources obtained from Fang Mu seriously.

But now, Yi Han no longer thought the same way.

The Grandmaster Creator resources traded from Fang Mu had mostly been used by Yi Han himself.

The other members of the Yi Family hardly had the opportunity.

Yi Han, wishing to enhance his strength, had a massive demand for Grandmaster Creator resources, but a newly promoted Grandmaster could only produce a limited amount of high-level resources.

To increase the production of Grandmaster Creator resources, it would be difficult without seven or eight years of training.

This made Yi Han value the cooperation with Fang Mu even more and made him want to curry favor with Fang Mu more than before!

Knowing that Fang Mu was coming to The Capital and would surely visit him, before Fang Mu's visit, if he could owe Fang Mu more favors, then it would be difficult for Fang Mu to refuse his trading requests!

Thinking this, Yi Han said to Fang Yuan with a smile,

“President Fang, I too would like to join in the fun at Jianmu Commerce Association’s banquet tonight. Could you possibly spare an extra pair of chopsticks for this old man?”

Upon hearing this, a look of surprise appeared in Fang Yuan’s eyes.

Fang Yuan had thought of inviting Yi Han to this banquet, but as a Grandmaster Creator, Yi Han must surely be very busy.

Yi Han’s attendance at the commercial festival was solely because of Fang Mu—Fang Yuan didn’t want to make Fang Mu owe Yi Han more favors because of his own invitation.

Yet, unexpectedly, Yi Han himself proposed attending the Jianmu Commerce Association’s banquet!

“Grandmaster Yi, your attendance at the Jianmu Commerce Association’s banquet is an honor for us, and I naturally welcome you!”

“Please, take the seat of honor at the banquet!”

If Yi Han were to attend a banquet hosted by another business association and they didn’t reserve the seat of honor for him, Yi Han would probably flip the table!

But now, at Jianmu Commerce Association, Yi Han dared not take that seat.

The figure backing Jianmu Commerce Association was Qixing, whose rank as a Grandmaster Creator was higher than his own.

To take the seat of honor would be akin to climbing above Qixing on top of her head?

Attending the banquet under the pretense of forming a connection with Fang Mu, the core purpose was still to connect with Qixing behind Fang Mu.

Fang Mu was just a medium for him to reach Qixing.

If not for Qixing, Fang Mu would just be an ordinary young man in his eyes, someone Yi Han wouldn’t even spare a glance.

Yi Han quickly replied,

“I’ll refrain from taking the seat of honor, even if I wished, I couldn’t possibly take it.”

“It’s better for President Fang to take the seat!”

“Haha, I’m just here to join the fun and to exchange some feelings,” he said.

“When I have time in the future, I will always visit the Jianmu Commerce Association!”

Fang Yuan knew upon hearing this that Yi Han was trying to curry favor with Fang Mu.

The favors given out are eventually due to be repaid, which did not please Fang Yuan, but rather made him slightly frown.

The Jianmu Commerce Association really wasn’t at a point where they needed to owe a Grandmaster Creator any favors.

However, since Yi Han was helping the Jianmu Commerce Association gain exposure, Fang Yuan certainly couldn’t ignore the gesture.

When Yi Han first mentioned he would attend the banquet of the Jianmu Commerce Association, shock appeared on everyone's faces there.

Who was Yi Han? A newly promoted Grandmaster Creator!

Since Yi Han had become a Grandmaster Creator, the Yi Family's threshold was nearly worn out by visitors.

Yi Han was incredibly busy.

Yet now, Yi Han was willing to waste time attending a banquet at the Jianmu Commerce Association.

The impression Yi Han gave was no longer just supporting the Jianmu Commerce Association, it seemed like he was ingratiating himself with them!

Especially when Yi Han said, "I won't take the main seat, as I wouldn't presume to sit there."

Grandmaster Creators usually cherish their reputations greatly, and Yi Han was particularly proud.

That Yi Han made such a comment was enough to show that the Grandmaster Creator behind the Jianmu Commerce Association was even more formidable than Yi Han.

This surprised the other Presidents of the Commerce Associations invited by Fang Yuan and brought delighted and honored expressions to their faces.

And those Presidents who hadn't been invited by Fang Yuan showed faces full of disappointment and envy.

Going to the banquet at the Jianmu Commerce Association not only enabled one to connect with, and get closer to, the Jianmu Commerce Association.

It was also a chance to network with Master Yi Han.

An opportunity to connect with a Grandmaster Creator was impossible to find elsewhere.

After inviting Cai Guili, Fang Yuan continued to make conversation with other Presidents of various Commerce Associations.

The Commerce Festival was essentially coming to an end.

Fang Yuan's mind was no longer on the Commerce Festival; the text message from Fang Mu had firstly reassured him of Fang Mu's safety, and secondly, Fang Mu was arriving in The Capital tonight.

Fang Yuan was looking forward to reuniting with Fang Mu.

Conveniently, Yan Wood and Fang Qin were both in The Capital, and Fang Yuan decided to invite Yan Wood and Fang Qin to come over later.

He wanted Yan Wood and Fang Qin to come to the Jianmu Commerce Association tonight.

The family hadn't had a good meal together for a while.

...

The night grew deep, and the early autumn night in The Capital had already taken on a hint of chill, yet it wasn't as damp as in Lu City.

This dry and cool weather instinctively made people feel refreshed; Fang Mu really liked such a climate.

Since he had been transported to The Capital by Shu Liangjun, Nan Zhen's role by Fang Mu's side was becoming increasingly minimal.

Fang Yuan had told Fang Mu about his plans to establish the Contemplation Hall.

Nan Zhen's Three-headed Hellhound, once it entered the Sequential, was capable of simulating a dark attribute environment, which could be employed at the Contemplation Hall.

As Nan Zhen had nothing else to do by his side, Fang Yuan figured it might be better for Nan Zhen to stay at the Contemplation Hall he planned to establish in the future.

Nan Zhen possessed certain management abilities and could take up a managerial position within the Contemplation Hall.

Fang Mu had already discussed this matter with Nan Zhen before coming, and Nan Zhen had no objections.

In fact, Nan Zhen had long realized that it was difficult for him to fulfill the role of Fang Mu's chauffeur.

Fang Mu had gone to the Outer Realm to train and had only taken She Wan and Lu Xiaoyin with him, not taking himself along.

Rather than staying by Fang Mu's side and being of no use, it was better to create some value elsewhere.

If he forcefully clung to Fang Mu's side, by the time the Contemplation Hall was prepared and some time had passed, the managerial positions might no longer be available to him!

Ever since he had been by Fang Mu's side, it had always been Fang Mu helping him to improve his strength.

Nan Zhen was very grateful to Fang Mu and wanted to achieve something significant in the Contemplation Hall to repay Fang Mu.

Arriving at the entrance of the Jianmu Commerce Association, seeing the silhouette ahead, Fang Mu's eyes suddenly brightened.
