

Beast Tamer 821

Chapter 821: The Four Auspicious Take Charge!

Fang Mu had no idea what was going through Yan Wood's mind.

If Fang Mu had known at this moment what Yan Wood was thinking, he would have undoubtedly burst into laughter.

Yan Wood likely hadn't realized yet what being a disciple of a Grandmaster Creator could bring to her.

Once Yi Han announced Yan Wood's status as a Grandmaster Creator's disciple, who knew how many people would be scrambling to join the Mu Yan Club Guild.

Those major powers wishing to get on good terms with Yan Wood might even encourage the younger generation in their families, who had not planned to join the club guild, to proactively apply for an interview at the Mu Yan Club Guild.

At that time, it would no longer be Yan Wood wracking her brain to pick team members, but rather the elite prodigies lining up, hoping Yan Wood would give them a chance.

Fang Mu had experienced all of these things before.

If Yan Wood could cleverly utilize these relationships, it would greatly benefit her development and growth.

Soon, the Beast Car stopped in front of the Mu Yan Club Guild.

The architectural team found by Fang Yuan for Yan Wood was excellent. This team incorporated many decorative and rare spiritual materials into the infrastructure during construction, provided by gnomes.

While the overall standards of the Mu Yan Club Guild couldn't reach that of the Jianmu Commerce Association, it did meet the top-tier club's standards.

Lu Yuyu was originally in JA City when he heard that Fang Mu wanted to enlist the help of his family's Grandmaster Craftsmen.

Lu Yuyu immediately left JA City for The Capital, arriving early in the morning at the Mu Yan Club with two Grandmaster Craftsmen from his family.

Seeing Fang Mu and Yan Wood step out of the Beast Car, Lu Yuyu hurried up to them, smiling broadly.

"Brother, I have brought two elders from our family. It's been a long time; you seem to have gotten a bit taller and a bit tanner."

In all greetings, what best bridges the gap between people is making the other person feel cared for.

Fang Mu indeed had grown a bit taller, by about two centimeters.

Now Fang Mu's height had reached 179 centimeters, just a centimeter shy of 180 centimeters, the average height of a male idol.

Fang Mu was still in high school and had not yet graduated, having heard that boys could still grow taller during college.

His older brother, Fang Yuan's height was there for reference. By the time Fang Mu was twenty-five or twenty-six, he would at least be over 183 centimeters tall.

In recent times, while in the Panfeng Federation, Fang Mu got tanned and weathered by the sunlight and sandstorms, darkening his skin.

Fang Qin, Fang Yuan, and Yan Wood all had said the same thing when they saw him.

Lu Yuyu and Fang Mu shared more than just a cooperative relationship; the two, like Feng Chenhao, had been through many experiences and were considered friends by Fang Mu.

“Brother Lv, I appreciate you making the trip personally. Why don’t you stay in The Capital with me for a while?”

“In a few days, when I return to JA City, we can travel together!”

As a Director of the JA City Beastmaster Alliance, Lu Yuyu had many daily responsibilities.

Had it been anyone else inviting Lu Yuyu, he would have declined without hesitation.

But the person inviting him was Fang Mu, and that made a difference!

“Brother, since you’ve said so, I’ll stay in The Capital for a while,” Lu Yuyu replied.

“It’s also a good chance for me to visit my grandfather, who I haven’t seen in over a month.”

“What brings you to The Capital this time?”

“I’ve just got a new Beast Car; I wouldn’t want to be anyone else’s chauffeur, but I’d gladly be yours!”

How could Fang Mu possibly let Lu Yuyu serve as his chauffeur!?

Fang Mu quickly waved his hand and said,

“Brother Lv, aside from reuniting with my family, I’m here to visit a few elders, so I won’t trouble you with that!”

“This is my Third Sister; she manages this club guild. I hope you can communicate more with my Third Sister in the future.”

“If my Third Sister has any ideas, you could have the craftsmen in your family help realize them!”

Hearing this, Lu Yuyu quickly replied,

“Of course!”

He then handed his business card to Yan Wood and said,

“Nice to meet you, I’m Lu Yuyu, a Director at the JA City Beastmaster Alliance!”

“If you have any issues, especially concerning craftsmanship, just call me.”

“I will rush over immediately to resolve them!”

Yan Wood was not at all socially awkward; she was always very enthusiastic when meeting new friends.

“Hello, I’m Yan Wood. This recently established club guild of mine is in need of renovation and a change in the furniture and overall decor style.”

“Once you’ve toured the interior, I’d like you to produce a specific design for me.”

“If I find the design satisfactory, we’ll start the work immediately, aiming to finish in less than a month.”

Hearing this, Lu Yuyu introduced the two Grandmaster Craftsmen behind him to Yan Wood and Fang Mu.

Fang Mu had met one of these Grandmaster Craftsmen before.

The mountainside villa near Jinghai Tianyu University in JA City was personally designed by this Grandmaster Craftsman.

This alone was proof enough of the depths of this Grandmaster Craftsman's skills.

Fang Mu greatly admired this Grandmaster Craftsman's design style; the minimalist yet luxurious decor was very suitable to showcase the pedigree of a club guild.

Upon hearing Lu Yuyu's introductions, both Fang Mu and Yan Wood did not put on airs.

Instead, they greeted the two Grandmaster Craftsmen warmly.

Chapter 822: Four Auspicious Beings Take Charge!_2

After greeting Fang Mu and Yan Wood, the two Grandmaster Craftsmen didn't continue to follow Lu Yuyu.

Instead, they began to inspect the interior of the Club Guild and started conceptualizing in their minds.

They were considering how to outline a design plan for this Club Guild.

None of them knew that Yan Wood had already been taken as a disciple by a Grandmaster Creator.

Just based on the help Fang Mu provided in keystone construction, these two Grandmaster Craftsmen dared not be the slightest bit negligent in their work.

If the final design wasn't to Yan Wood's satisfaction, it would inevitably affect their ongoing cooperation with Fang Mu in future keystone construction projects.

Moreover, Fang Mu had helped keystone construction so much that it effectively elevated keystone construction's profile.

Keystone construction had become a sought-after power in The Capital.

Many forces proactively reached out to keystone construction, hoping to establish a good relationship.

Now was an off-season for craftsmen's work.

With winter approaching, few forces or individuals chose this time to construct infrastructure.

Yet keystone construction managed to take on several major orders, which came their way specifically because of the known good relationship between keystone construction and Fang Mu.

Lu Yuyu did not engage in craftsmanship-related work, purely because it didn't interest him.

Truth be told, Lu Yuyu himself was also an advanced craftsman.

If it weren't for the fact that he had not focused his efforts on improving his craftsmanship skills, he could have become a Master Craftsman before the age of fifty.

Due to his understanding of craftsmanship knowledge and his personal aesthetic standards, Lu Yuyu offered many suggestions to Yan Wood.

The vast majority of these suggestions were enlightening for her.

Back when Fang Mu was creating the Mountain Manor, Lu Yuyu had proposed many ideas.

After the implementation of these ideas, Fang Mu's Mountain Manor indeed gained a touch more style.

A large portion of Yan Wood's thoughts were devoted to developing the Mu Yan Club.

Upon hearing Lu Yuyu's ideas, she eagerly began discussing with him, and they continuously finalized matters concerning the arrangements.

In this aspect, Lu Yuyu was much more professional than Fang Mu.

The knowledge of craftsmanship that Fang Mu had previously studied only overlapped with that of Spirit Material Analysis.

It belonged to an entirely different knowledge system.

Creators emphasize theoretical knowledge and must thoroughly understand ample theory before beginning practical operations.

Whereas craftsmen focus on the adept application of skills.

With Lu Yuyu, a professional, present, Fang Mu no longer participated in the layout of the Muyan Club Guild.

Fang Mu had previously asked Lu Xiaoyin to keep an eye out for floral Guardian Beasts related to auspiciousness.

Lu Xiaoyin herself had gone with Fang Mu to the Panfeng Federation but that didn't hinder her from arranging the tasks in advance.

This time, when Lu Xiaoyin and Fang Mu returned to the Dragon Rising Federation, the servant Xiaoyin had assigned beforehand had already helped her bid on four plants at several auctions, all of which fell under the category of auspiciousness.

They were Dragon Bamboo, Sea Silk Chrysanthemum, Seven Dai Mei, and Hydrangea Hanging Orchid.

These four plant-type beastmasters belonging to the auspicious category did not rank high.

The top auspicious beasts were traded at private meetings and would never appear at large auctions.

The more established the power, the more they preferred to keep auspicious beasts at home.

Whether as house decorations or for breeding, they could showcase their family's heritage and style to guests!

Once these four low-grade auspicious plants reached Fang Mu's hands, he nurtured them with Blood Aged Wine.

These four auspicious plant-type beastmasters impressively underwent transformations.

Dragon Bamboo evolved into Panlong Square Bamboo, with joints meandering and winding like a young dragon spiraling into the heavens.

The leaves were lush, touched with a faint gold, as though illuminating the radiance beside an auspicious dragon.

It was evident that Panlong Square Bamboo surpassed the category of low-grade auspicious and was among the top in the middle-grade auspicious section.

Sea Silk Chrysanthemum evolved into Sea Wave Silk Chrysanthemum, the entire plant a pale blue, with long, silky petals resembling waves, possessing a unique, elegant beauty.

The faint scent it emitted had an excellent revitalizing effect.

The moisture exhaled by the flower buds kept the room humid.

Among all the chrysanthemum guardian beasts Fang Mu had seen, the Sea Wave Silk Chrysanthemum had the best appearance!

Planted in a green jade basin and standing about half a meter tall, each sea blue chrysanthemum was as big as a human head!

With seven or eight chrysanthemums blooming at the same time, no matter where they were placed, they would become the focal point of the view.

The Seven Dai Mei was very unique; ordinary plum blossoms only have five petals, and some mutated plum blossoms occasionally have six.

Yet the Seven Dai Mei plum blossoms had seven petals, with the inner three curling inward, enveloping the pistil.

The outer four petals folded outward, making each plum blossom look exceptionally full.

After being cultivated with Blood Aged Wine by Fang Mu, the Seven Dai Mei had evolved into the Imperial Dai Stacked Plum.

The plum tree, originally half a meter, had grown straight up to three meters.

As long as sufficient life energy and wood system energy were used to irrigate the roots of the Imperial Dai Stacked Plum, it would enter the “rain of flowers” state.

Each cluster of plum blossoms could only stay on the branches for about three minutes before being replaced by new blossoms, turning into a fluttering shower of flowers.

When the petals fell to the ground, the wood system energy inside would evaporate into the air, forming a distant plum fragrance.

After evaporating the wood system energy inside, the petals vanished on their own.

In his previous life, Fang Mu had seen the cherry blossoms of March, but compared to the Imperial Dai Stacked Plum, cherry blossoms were plainly inferior!

If the Imperial Dai Stacked Plum were to be entered into a competition, it would definitely qualify as the very top atmospheric-type guardian beast!

What's more, the color of the Imperial Dai Stacked Plum petals was a light pink and not gaudy.

Therefore, it could be placed in any room without being vulgar or overpowering, preserving the room's original charm.

The Hydrangea Hanging Orchid was the only one among these four plant-type beastmasters that, after being cultivated with Blood Aged Wine, reached the status of a high-grade auspicious beastmaster.

The stem of the Hydrangea Hanging Orchid was as thick as a thumb, and it took stems of such robustness to support clusters of blue-purple ball-shaped flowers as large as a bowl.

A ten-meter stem would hang down with more than seventy hydrangea-shaped blossoms.

A Hydrangea Hanging Orchid with more than fifteen stems and over a thousand flowers created a spectacle that was indeed hard to come by in everyday life.

Even before Fang Mu cultivated it with Blood Aged Wine, the Hydrangea Hanging Orchid was already such an exquisite sight.

After being cultivated with Blood Aged Wine, the stem of the Hydrangea Hanging Orchid reached the thickness of a woman's wrist.

The flowers tripled in size from their original foundation.

The diameter reached an astonishing thirty centimeters!

The color of the flowers changed from a vibrant blue-purple to a gradient of pink, blue, and purple, which would dreamily shift under different lighting.

The fifteen vine-like stems had now become as many as thirty-five, and the length of the stems extended from ten meters to twenty meters.

After evolution, the Hydrangea Hanging Orchid was now called the Jingjing Hanging Orchid.

Arranged in a room, allowing its vines to climb freely on the walls, the Jingjing Hanging Orchid could create a dreamlike scene.

Fang Mu directly took out the few auspicious plant-type guardian beasts he had just cultivated and started to find suitable places to arrange them in the hall of the Mu Yan Club Guild.

In the architecture of a major power, what truly displayed the underlying strength was never about how many Grandmaster craftsmen resources were used.

Grandmaster craftsmen could be hired with money.

Things attainable with money were not considered precious in the Beastmaster's world.

Only mid-sized and small forces would value Grandmaster craftsman resources so highly.

Truly top-tier powers were concerned about how many Grandmaster Creator resources were used in the process of environment decoration.

Fang Mu placed the Panlong Square Bamboo, Sea Wave Silk Chrysanthemum, Imperial Dai Stacked Plum, and Jingjing Hanging Orchid in the hall of the Mu Yan Club Guild.

It immediately elevated the level of the Mu Yan Club Guild.

It set the Mu Yan Club apart from other top-tier club guilds.

Any discerning person who came to the Mu Yan Club Guild could recognize its extraordinary nature at a glance.

With these auspicious plant-type guardian beasts that could represent the depth of the club, combined with the Keystone Construction backing Yan Wood and Lu Yuyu overhauling the internal and external facilities of the Mu Yan Club Guild,

Fang Mu could finally rest easy!

Chapter 823: Bewildered Bee Gesang!

Fang Mu first placed the Sea Wave Silk Chrysanthemum on a display table in the resting area.

That table originally held a fierce tiger statue carved from Huang Huang Jing crystal by a Grandmaster Craftsman.

Huang Huang Jing carried a hint of fierce qi, making it suitable for carving ferocious animals.

Under the skillful hands of a Grandmaster Craftsman, the tiger carved from Huang Huang Jing was incredibly lifelike!

However, such objects carrying evil qi felt somewhat out of place in a resting area.

This type of evil qi makes one's nerves become alert, and such items are usually placed in conference rooms of the mercenary guild or adventure group.

The purpose is to use the fierce qi to concentrate people's attention.

In addition, the tiger's form was also not compatible with the refreshing decor style of the Mu Yan Club.

It seems that it was placed here solely because it was a work of a Grandmaster Craftsman from Huang Huang Jing.

In the past, Fang Mu upon arriving at Mu Yan Club, encountering such decor would only have felt astonishment.

Just like when Fang Mu first visited the headquarters of the Lionheart Brigade.

But now, Fang Mu found these only tacky and tasteless.

Third-rate forces displaying resources in a third-rate way.

Due to different backgrounds and levels, third-rate forces simply cannot learn the way second-rate forces display their heritage!

Third-rate forces favor displaying precious items openly, while second-rate forces begin to learn how to match them.

First-rate forces, however, only need a few decorations in an elegant room to fully display a gentleman's taste.

Just like the auspicious plant beasts Fang Mu brought out.

Yan Wood, upon seeing these four auspicious plants, simply thought they looked beautiful.

Seeing Fang Mu about to place the Jade Basin containing the Sea Wave Silk Chrysanthemum on the table in the resting area, Yan Wood hurried over wanting to help.

Lu Yuyu, upon seeing this, was shocked and quickly stepped forward to block in front of Yan Wood, saying,

“Your arm is injured, let me handle this kind of work!”

“I will return to JA City with Fang Mu soon, and will come back within a couple of days until the arrangement of the Mu Yan Club is completed with you.”

“Once the design is finished, tell me what feel you want, and I can look for more Grandmaster Craftsmen to make furniture that fits this feel, and let you choose.”

Lu Yuyu spoke very sincerely and had already quickly walked up to Fang Mu in a few steps, helping Fang Mu lift the Huang Huang Jing statue from the table.

Taking the opportunity, Fang Mu placed the Sea Wave Silk Chrysanthemum on it, and in an instant, the whole resting area felt different.

Although Yan Wood had not always been scorned from childhood, she rarely received help from outsiders.

It’s not that Yan Wood was unlikable, but because the Beastmaster world inherently respects the strong and values resources, its undertones are cold.

Yan Wood had just felt Lu Yuyu’s kindness and care, and she smiled at Lu Yuyu.

“Brother Lv, I must be at least ten years younger than you, call me Xiao Yan, please!”

“I suppose I will be troubling you a lot more later on!”

Upon hearing this, Lu Yuyu quickly responded with a smile,

“Family doesn’t speak of two worlds; it’s only right!”

“You’re setting up a club, and I come from a craftsman family, so I certainly can’t let you encounter any hardware issues!”

Fang Mu really appreciated this about Lu Yuyu.

Fang Mu didn’t like others flattering him, and although there were hints of flattery in Lu Yuyu’s actions, it was more about being thorough in his work.

It was precisely because of Lu Yuyu’s thoroughness that Fang Mu had continued to cooperate with Keystone Construction until now.

With Fang Mu’s current status, a force like Keystone Construction could hardly even reach him anymore.

Lu Yuyu did not keep holding the fierce tiger sculpture, instead, he packed the sculpture into a spare piece of gold Spatial Equipment.

He himself would need to supervise the construction in the Mu Yan Club Guild, which inevitably involved moving furniture back and forth.

Even now, Lu Yuyu was still amazed at the value of the four plant auspicious beasts Fang Mu brought out.

“Little brother, if you put this Chrysanthemum Auspicious Beast up for auction, those top forces would definitely fight over it.”

“I wonder how much you paid for this Chrysanthemum Auspicious Beast?”

Auspicious beasts come in many kinds, among them, those that enhance spiritual power, beneficial for Beast Masters, are known as Sacred Relics and are the most precious.

Besides Sacred Relics, auspicious beasts are divided into eight major categories.

Plum, Orchid, Bamboo, and Chrysanthemum, auspicious beasts with beautiful implications, rank as second among the top three varieties, known as decorative auspicious beasts.

Such auspicious beasts can be placed in any environment and decor, neither overshadowing the main attractions nor enhancing the style.

Sometimes they are even more cherished by great powers than lucky beasts.

Lu Yuyu was very curious about the value of such auspicious beasts.

Because it had hitched a ride on Fang Mu's rising ship, Keystone Construction's influence had grown stronger.

Lu Yuyu intended to add some of these auspicious beasts to his family's old house.

His remark was less about caring for the Sea Wave Silk Chrysanthemum itself and more about Lu Yuyu wanting Fang Mu to help his family find a way to trade such auspicious beasts.

Fang Mu naturally understood Lu Yuyu's intention right away.

If it were anyone else casually seeking such auspicious beast routes, Fang Mu would definitely have ignored them.

Because cultivating such auspicious requires consuming Blood Aged Wine.

Even though the consumption isn't massive, it ultimately affects the condensation speed of the Covenant Blood Essence.

Lu Yuyu had already helped his family a great deal in the past.

Although Fang Mu's family had provided Grandmaster Creator resources to Keystone Construction, the debt Keystone Construction owed to Fang Mu was much greater than the help requested for construction.

Chapter 824: Bewildering Bee Gesang! _2

Lu Yuyu was now repaying a favor, but it was undeniable that he had brought great convenience to Fang Mu.

At that time, Fang Mu was unable to buy the beautifully scenic mountaintop near Jinghai Tianyu University.

Nor could he build a mountain manor in a short period of time.

Therefore, Fang Mu was willing to provide some convenience for Lu Yuyu.

"Brother Lv, I still have some of these auspicious plants on hand."

"There are two pots of Gem Bee Galsang that have already grown eight auxiliary branches, and it's easy for each branch to sprout six clusters of flowers."

"Each cluster's petals stack up to more than six layers, displaying a warm yellow color."

"They have the effects of purifying the air and detoxifying."

"They can also attract some non-aggressive bees to gather honey among the Gem Bee Galsang."

"Keeping some Gem Bees near these two pots of Gem Bee Galsang also makes for a beautiful sight."

“If you are interested in these two pots of Gem Bee Galsang, I can have someone send them over tonight!”

“Consider it a thank-you for the help you provided to my Third Sister!”

“These two pots of Gem Bee Galsang are probably not available on the market, just like these four pots of specially cultivated auspicious vegetation.”

“Although they don’t reach High Grade Auspicious, they’re at the peak of Middle Grade Auspicious!”

In fact, the servant assigned by Lu Yuyu had collected a total of six pots of auspicious plants for Fang Mu.

These two pots of Gem Bee Galsang greatly enhanced the style of the environment.

However, unfortunately, Yan Wood had been afraid of insects since she was little, and she simply couldn’t stand having a swarm of bees coming in and out of the Mu Yan Club.

Fang Mu didn’t like the Gem Bee Galsang, nor did he plan to place them in his manor in JA City, for Gem Bees were a type of insect beast that liked to fly far distances.

If Gem Bees were captured by someone with ulterior motives, it would be easy for them to find their way to his manor.

After all, Gem Bees were not cheap, and many upper-class women would make brooches out of the bodies of dead Gem Bees to wear.

If an adventure group discovered the traces of Gem Bees, they might very well engage in theft or even plundering.

Fang Qin had always advised Fang Mu from a young age not to flaunt his wealth, and he frequently reminded Fang Mu of this, especially when in JA City.

The security in the Dragon Rising Federation was excellent, and their punitive measures were strongly enforced.

But one's safety should not depend on the cowardice of criminals.

So, these two pots of Gem Bee Galsang were of no value to Fang Mu.

Upon hearing this, Lu Yuyu was overjoyed because he truly loved the Gem Bee Galsang that Fang Mu mentioned, as Keystone Construction often used the bodies of Gem Bees in crafting furniture and handling affairs.

The bodies of Gem Bees were far more malleable compared to real gemstones.

Unlike gemstones, which are brittle and prone to shatter during the setting process, this makes the use of Gem Bee carcasses broader than that of traditional gemstones.

Keystone Construction had bred three swarms of Gem Bees, one of which was the rare purple variant Gem Bee.

Though it appeared to be a ruby bee, it exhibited a purple sheen effect under light, oscillating between red and purple.

Because Gem Bees liked to travel far for honey, sometimes they flew too far and escaped the queen's control, refusing to return to the swarm.

Every Gem Bee that does not return to the swarm represents a loss for Keystone Construction.

If two pots of Gem Bee Galsang were placed inside Keystone Construction, it would not only significantly increase the rate of return of the Gem Bees but add a new feature to Keystone Construction's landscape.

“Brother, I really like the Gem Bee Galsang you mentioned.”

“We at Keystone Construction farm Gem Bees, but I can’t always take advantage of you, little brother.”

“I’ll tell my grandfather about this, so he could personally create a mural and set it into the grand wall of the Mu Yan Club’s hall!”

“My grandfather just reached the level of Peak Artisan Master last month.”

“Since reaching that level, he has been pondering and has yet to create anything new!”

Being a Grandmaster Craftsman holds significant status within the Dragon Rising Federation, but there’s still a notable gap compared to a Master Creator.

However, reaching the level of a Peak Artisan Master, being just one step away from becoming a Saint Craftsman, positions a Peak Artisan Master in a place where they can start to compare with newly-minted Master Creators!

A Grandmaster Craftsman’s first piece after reaching the peak and their last piece are the most collectible.

Lu Jirui was particularly skilled at carving murals.

Lu Yuyu hadn’t merely taken advantage of himself; such reciprocation was certainly full of sincerity!

This made Fang Mu appreciate Lu Yuyu even more, and it also confirmed for Fang Mu that he would continue to work with Keystone Construction in the future.

“Then I’ll have to trouble you, elder brother!”

After speaking, Fang Mu placed the Gongdai Diemei at the vestibule between the reception area and the rest area.

The fluttering rain of flowers became a beautifully aesthetic partition.

Fang Mu placed the Panlong Square Bamboo right by the entrance.

The soaring dragon-like posture of the Panlong Square Bamboo was indeed a very auspicious sign.

Although it was only Middle Grade Auspicious, if it were really put up for auction, the price of the Panlong Square Bamboo might not actually be lower than that of the Jingjing Hanging Orchid!

Fang Mu did not rush to arrange the Jingjing Hanging Orchid and turned to Yan Wood to say,

“Third Sister, arranging these three auspicious plants on the first floor is already enough.”

“You see, place this Jingjing Hanging Orchid on the second and third floors.”

“Whether it’s in the dining area or the conference room, both are good choices!”

Upon hearing this, Yan Wood quickly responded with a smile,

“Let’s place it in the dining area, actually, the place I want to modify the most is the dining area.”

“The design of the dining area is too old-fashioned, it focuses a bit too much on functionality!”

“We have professional nutritionists, and when the nutritionist is preparing meals in the dining area, only staff are present.”

“So, the dining area does not need to cater to both the staff and the players’ respective range of activity.”

“Moreover, it’s a delight to see the Jingjing Hanging Orchid while dining.”

“I believe that even if battles are real-life, the players’ moods can still be healed!”

Lu Yuyu, listening to Yan Wood’s words, chuckled inwardly.

The Mu Yan Club was not yet well-known primarily because the club had not yet officially started recruiting externally.

Once the Mu Yan Club officially starts recruiting externally, letting outsiders know about the depth of Mu Yan Club, it seems that neither Fang Mu nor Yan Wood would skimp on their own players’ treatment!

Soon, the Mu Yan Club would gather a batch of top players, making it difficult to lose in major competitions!

The most important aspect considered by players before joining a club is the overall depth of the club.

The deeper the roots of a club, the more resources one would obtain after joining it.

This is also why some younger-generation powerhouses, even if they are backups in the third or fourth team, prefer to stay in large clubs rather than be a main player in smaller clubs!

Fang Mu placed his hand on Yan Wood’s shoulder.

“Third Sister, the Mu Yan Club is your realm, follow your heart and do as you please!”

“Later, when I want to participate in major competitions, I might just have to join the Mu Yan Club!”

Upon hearing this, Yan Wood’s eyes lit up.

“Little Wood, saying this, do you mean there’s a chance for you to join my team in the future?”

Fang Mu quickly shook his head in response.

“Once Mu Yan Club becomes a large Club Guild, any competition could send two teams to participate!”

“If I want to form a battle team for the competition, I will definitely need to pull together my own team.”

“Third Sister, at that time, our two teams will be competitors!”

Lu Yuyu, listening to the conversation between Fang Mu and Yan Wood, felt very envious.

Everyone wishes to be born into a powerful force.

But powerful forces rarely have brotherly affection!

From birth, those of similar ages in the same generation must start competing and fighting each other.

And as they grow up, people from the same force tend to be cold towards familial affection.

Just then, a rough voice called out from the doorway.

“Hey! Who’s in charge of this club?”

“Is your club planning to participate in the elimination contest this year?”

“If so, I am here on behalf of Declaration Sword Club to invite you to a training match between our sides!”

Upon hearing this, Fang Mu’s brows slightly frowned.

The tone of this rough voice was truly impolite, Fang Mu disliked people who lacked manners.

Chapter 825: Deal with the Eyesore!

At that moment, Yan Wood had already turned her head, her face full of anger, and said,

“What exactly is your problem!?”

“I’ve already declined your requests several times, is the Declaration Sword Club here just to provoke trouble!?”

“I’ve said it last time, our club has just been established, we haven’t even recruited any team members, how can we have a training match with you!?”

Yan Wood was not a bad-tempered person and always very polite to others.

From Yan Wood’s words, Fang Mu realized that this loud and brash man had been here more than once before.

Normally, club guilds would arrange training matches amongst each other, and at many times, two equal-level club guilds would be fierce competitors, with their fans clashing in life-and-death struggles.

Privately, though, the relationships between these club guilds were often very good.

Training matches were the best way to promote teamwork within a group.

But just as Yan Wood said, the Mu Yan Club Guild hadn't even finished renovating, let alone have team members.

No sooner had the sign been put up than this guy had come several times to arrange training matches, if not to cause trouble, then what else could it be for?

However, according to Fang Mu's understanding of Yan Wood, even so, she wouldn't be so furious.

Fang Mu, not knowing the full situation, didn't immediately intervene but prepared to observe and see how things would unfold.

He wanted to see what exactly the Declaration Sword Club was plotting!

If it wasn't something harmful, Fang Mu was not planning to fuss over it with the Declaration Sword Club.

But if Declaration Sword Club intended to set a trap for his Third Sister, then Fang Mu wouldn't be so polite!

The middle-aged man showed a look of surprise when he noticed two other people inside the room.

During his previous visits, only this young lady had been here to interview for staff positions at the club.

Could these two be new hires for the Mu Yan Club?

"What else could I be here for? I'm here to arrange a training match!"

“An exhibition match would work, too. This is already my fifth time here.”

“The Beastmaster Alliance encourages friendly exchanges between the clubs.”

“I’ve approached you five times, and you’ve refused every time. According to the Beastmaster Alliance’s regulations, I can report this to the Alliance and earn your Alliance Points!”

“Now I’m asking you once again, and I have recorded every time I’ve come before.”

“If you refuse, it’s all evidence.”

This man’s words infuriated Yan Wood, causing her to clench her teeth tightly.

Every industry had its unspoken rules, and Yan Wood was all too aware of this.

Apart from the Declaration Sword Club, people from several other club guilds also often visited the Mu Yan Club.

These clubs were smaller and had players but didn’t have the qualifications to compete in the major competitions.

A few years ago, the Beastmaster Alliance had specifically organized a minor league for clubs.

This allowed smaller clubs to earn each other’s Points through training matches, challenges, and exhibition matches.

The top fifty clubs in Points could compete in the minor league, vying for two major competition slots allocated by the Beastmaster Alliance to minor clubs.

The intention behind the Beastmaster Alliance's minor league was to enhance the competitiveness of club guilds, preventing those unable to participate in major leagues from losing heart.

It also provided a stage for players already contracted to some clubs to showcase their abilities.

The Beastmaster Alliance had good intentions, but some club guilds with ulterior motives exploited loopholes.

Yan Wood stepped up to the burly man and said, enunciating each word,

"You don't need to threaten me. You report the situation to the Beastmaster Alliance, and I will also report it."

"The Beastmaster Alliance won't just listen to your side of the story."

"As a newly established club with no players, what are we supposed to use for a training match!?"

Lu Yuyu now understood the whole situation.

Such incidents had not been uncommon in recent years.

The Beastmaster Alliance was fully aware of these circumstances.

The reason for their inaction was that the benefits of the minor league indeed outweighed its drawbacks.

In just a few years, some players from the minor leagues had already made spectacular debuts at major events.

Moreover, for these artificially created disputes, it was not possible for the Beastmaster Alliance to expend too much manpower and resources to investigate.

As an Executor dispatched outward, Lu Yuyu had resolved several similar situations in JA City before.

Normally, before a club set out to trouble another club, they would first investigate the background of that club.

If they unwittingly encountered firm resistance, the backlash could be unbearable!

The Declaration Sword Club wasn't just careless, they were also not very capable.

If Declaration Sword Club had been capable, they would have known that the Mu Yan Club was backed by the Jianmu Commerce Association, which was highly sought after throughout the entire Dragon Rising Federation!

Provoking the Mu Yan Club was a surefire way to court disaster.

Such a trivial matter was definitely something Fang Mu shouldn't have to deal with personally.

Just as Lu Yuyu was preparing to step forward, only to hear the man brazenly saying,

"I don't care, your club is already established!"

"I've come five times now, and don't think you can find a way to get your Points back at the Beastmaster Alliance!"

"You don't even know what force is behind our Declaration Sword Club."

Hearing what the man said, Lu Yuyu shook his head speechlessly.

Panlong Square Bamboo was displayed right at the entrance; anyone with a bit of insight should be able to discern the foundation of the Mu Yan Club.

Lacking players did not mean the Mu Yan Club was easy to bully.

Chapter 826: Annoying, Then Deal With It!_2

This middle-aged man seemed to come aggressively, but in reality, he was just a straw man.

If he had not spoken these words, it would have been just an individual act of the Declaration Sword Club.

However, by uttering these words, it was bound to implicate the people behind the Declaration Sword Club.

Lu Yuyu really wanted to know who had such authority.

Probably, the people behind the Declaration Sword Club were either unaware of this man's actions.

If the backers truly knew of this man's actions and still let him behave this way, then that person was also of a not very high level.

"I'm not interested in knowing which power backs your Declaration Sword Club, but I warn you, stop looking for trouble at the Mu Yan Club from now on!"

"Otherwise, it won't be as simple as just the Beastmaster Alliance punishing your Declaration Sword Club!"

"If your Declaration Sword Club disagrees, you can come..."

Lu Yuyu hadn't finished speaking when a calm and gentle female voice came from the doorway.

“Hello, my name is Lin Lu, and I’m the head of the club affairs team.”

“President Fang asked me to come over.”

“I suppose you two must be Miss Yan and Young Master Mu, correct!?”

After warmly greeting Fang Mu and Yan Wood, Lin Lu smilingly said to Lu Yuyu.

“Executor Lv, I didn’t expect to see you here!”

“The last time I saw you was half a year ago, I heard you were transferred to Jinghai Province.”

“Jinghai Province has beautiful and tranquil scenery, especially JA City with its pleasant climate; I bet many dispatched executors are envious of you!”

Lin Lu’s words were very orderly, as if she were speaking to an old friend she hadn’t seen for a long time, giving a very comfortable feeling.

This middle-aged man did not recognize Lu Yuyu, nor did he recognize Fang Mu and Yan Wood, but he recognized Lin Lu.

Lin Lu had worked for multiple A-class club guilds, including one that won the league championship during her tenure.

The entire team was brought up by Lin Lu herself and did not belong to any club; it was entirely owned by Lin Lu.

Among all the heads of club affairs teams, Lin Lu couldn’t claim she was the best.

After all, many other club affairs heads had the same reputation as Lin Lu.

Professional leagues are held every year, and all championship clubs' affairs managers are awarded the title of gold-medal principal.

But Lin Lu's team was absolutely the best, the kind you couldn't poach with money!

Fang Yuan, to recruit Lin Lu, had given her some additional conditions.

Lin Lu also held the Jianmu Commerce Association in high regard.

Even the most robust bird, unless it could produce Creator resources like the golden phoenix, always needs a branch to rely on.

This man had just boasted mightily of the Declaration Sword Club, but compared to Lin Lu, the Declaration Sword Club was nothing!

Lin Lu addressing the man and the woman as Young Master Mu and Miss Yan indicated their identities were certainly extraordinary!

The title of Executor instantly made the middle-aged man think of the dispatched executors of the Beastmaster Alliance.

The subsequent words from Lin Lu confirmed this.

The dispatched executors of the Beastmaster Alliance wield tremendous power, the kind of people the Declaration Sword Club could not curry favor with, let alone provoke!

Cold sweat seeped from the back of the middle-aged man, and his face no longer held any earlier arrogance or haughtiness.

He wished he could find a hole to crawl into or just turn and run.

But the event had occurred, and his threatening words repeatedly spoken aloud, running would not solve any problem.

This middle-aged man had reached the position of one of the heads of the Declaration Sword Club only because of his elder sister.

Both Lin Lu and this Executor Lv had the authority to hold the Declaration Sword Club Guild accountable.

They could even cause the Declaration Sword Club Guild to be expelled from among various club guilds.

The Declaration Sword Club Guild had invested most of his brother-in-law's fortune, and if it were lost, he would face dire consequences!

Not to mention that his sister wouldn't be able to protect him, even she would be implicated.

Fang Mu smiled and took Lin Lu's hand that was extended towards him.

"You aren't much older than us, so I will call you Sister Lin!"

"I'll be entrusting my Third Sister's side to you for assistance hereafter. In the club guild, my Third Sister will be mainly responsible for selecting the team members, while you will need to handle all other affairs."

"Usually, my Third Sister will go to learn from Grandmaster Yi Han, so you two just need to communicate frequently!"

Although Yan Wood was older than Fang Mu, Fang Mu, with his "fatherly" mentality, always stood up for Yan Wood.

Lin Lu and Lu Yuyu were greatly heartened by these words.

Lu Yuyu had his mouth wide open, and even Lin Lu, who usually had strong mental composure, couldn't help but show a look of astonishment on his face.

What does this mean? To study with Master Yi Han?

Could it be that Yan Wood has been taken in as a disciple by Master Yi Han?

Neither Lin Lu nor Lu Yuyu had heard about this.

Given Yi Han's high-profile personality, if he had made such a decision to take a disciple, he would certainly have announced it to the world.

If these words had come from anyone else's mouth, Lin Lu would not have believed them, even if it killed him.

But these words coming from Fang Mu's mouth were different!

Fang Mu was a disciple of a Grandmaster Creator, and this Grandmaster Creator's level was definitely higher than Yi Han's.

The fact that Yi Han took Yan Wood as a disciple, and coupling it with the two Grandmaster Creators behind the family, made it not too difficult to understand the competitiveness.

Previously, Yan Wood's Mu Yan Club Guild had relied on the halo around Fang Mu, but now Yan Wood also had a similar halo around her.

Lin Lu was extremely relieved that he had accepted Fang Yuan's invitation to come to the Mu Yan Club and manage the operations with his team.

As long as he did his job well, it was like becoming a trusted associate of a Grandmaster Creator's disciple.

The benefits this brought him were far more substantial than any championships his team could win!

Various clubs had to invest their own resources in training athletes.

By signing contracts with clubs, athletes became deeply tied to the clubs, compelling them to follow the club's directives.

Otherwise, they would be sidelined by the club.

This control over athletes ensured that the resources clubs invested in them wouldn't go to waste.

The competition among various clubs was essentially who could invest more resources into their own athletes.

With a Grandmaster Creator behind it, the Mu Yan Club wasn't without a chance to win the championship.

That burly man was already scared stiff.

Seeing the burly man moving to help up the Panlong Square Bamboo, Lin Lu quickly had two people from his team restrain the man and drag him out.

The leaves the burly man knocked off the auspicious bamboo at the entrance were far beyond what he could afford to compensate for.

"Young Master Mu, Miss Yan, let me handle these troublemakers. I'll make sure the Declaration Sword Club provides an explanation to our Mu Yan Club."

“I have a professional nutrition team here. How about we try their cooking at noon to see if there’s anything that needs improvement!”

Lin Lu had already decided to fully commit himself and his team to the Mu Yan Club.

Thus, Lin Lu was now carefully studying the characters of both Fang Mu and Yan Wood.

The handling of this middle-aged man could reveal the personalities of Yan Wood and Fang Mu.

If Yan Wood and Fang Mu could not let go of this matter with the man, it meant that they were not magnanimous people.

In such a case, Lin Lu would need to be careful about how he interacted with Fang Mu and Yan Wood.

He should avoid displeasing them with some of his arrangements for the club.

If Fang Mu and Yan Wood handed the matter over to him, showing a very open attitude,

Lin Lu would then be able to boldly manage the club guild!

Yan Wood no longer wanted to see this middle-aged man.

In her eyes, he was simply a ruffian.

For people like him, Yan Wood’s attitude had always been to avoid them as much as possible.

“Let him go. Tell him not to come around the Mu Yan Club causing trouble again!”

Lin Lu was slightly stunned to hear this.

What did Yan Wood mean by this? Was she just going to let this middle-aged man go?

It was then that Lin Lu heard Fang Mu say very seriously,

“Sister Lin, you need to follow up seriously on the matter with Declaration Sword Club.”

“I need to know the final result within two days!”

Chapter 827: Waves of a Fateful Meeting!

Fang Mu was not the kind of person to nitpick over every little thing, handling matters with great magnanimity.

But Fang Mu was also no saint, unable to simply let things slide after someone repeatedly caused trouble.

In Fang Mu’s previous life, there was room for the existence of saints in a harmonious society that could tolerate them.

However, in the Beastmaster world, a place of extreme cruelty, being a saint would not only harm oneself, but also harm those close to one.

The Mu Yan Club had just been established. If the outside world knew that even a minor player like the Declaration Sword Club dared to trouble the Mu Yan Club, and that they faced no retaliation after the fact,

it would undoubtedly make people think that the Mu Yan Club lacked resolve.

Many players would consider whether, if they encountered trouble after joining the Mu Yan Club, the club would play nice or stand up for them.

Making an example out of someone was the best way to prevent external disturbances.

Fang Mu would not randomly pick an Unlucky Guy to make an example of.

But now that the Declaration Sword Club had put themselves in the line of fire, Fang Mu saw no need to hold back!

As a team leader serving top clubs, Lin Lu had extensive connections in the club field.

Handling such a matter could, in fact, be completed in an afternoon.

Fang Mu gave Lin Lu two days, wanting to see how Lin Lu would manage the aftermath of the incident and use it to his advantage.

A good club manager needs to know how to build the club's reputation.

Upon hearing Fang Mu's words, Lin Lu hurriedly said,

"Young Master Mu, by five o'clock this evening, I will be able to inform you of the outcome with the Declaration Sword Club."

"By tomorrow afternoon, I can use this incident to ensure that no other club guild dares to bother the Mu Yan Club again!"

Lin Lu now understood that Yan Wood was generous and forgiving, whereas Fang Mu's eyes would brook no sand.

Just by looking at the name of the Mu Yan Club, one would know that it was established jointly by Yan Wood and Fang Mu.

From how Yan Wood treated Fang Mu, Lin Lu could be sure that, although she was the nominal head of the Mu Yan Club, when it came to making decisions, Fang Mu's word was what truly mattered.

Hearing Lin Lu's response, Fang Mu knew that Lin Lu had understood the implications of his words.

A smart and capable person was worth investing resources in to cultivate!

"Mr. Lin, I'm not sure what my elder brother promised you, but as long as you lead the team well at the Mu Yan Club and assist my Third Sister in managing it,"

"every year I will give you a vial of Life Elixir with 90% purity as your extra bonus!"

"Just stay with the Mu Yan Club for five years, and the purity of the Life Elixirs you receive each year can be increased by an additional two percentage points!"

These words were Fang Mu's promise to Lin Lu.

Whether Lin Lu qualified for such a reward would depend on his future performance!

If Lin Lu's performance dissatisfied Yan Wood or himself, he would be directly replaced.

With the current influence of the Fang Family, finding a team within the Dragon Rising Federation to match Lin Lu's caliber was not a difficult task.

Should the Mu Yan Club publicly recruit, many such teams would come knocking.

Hearing Fang Mu's words completely broke Lin Lu's usual smile!

Extreme ecstasy showed on Lin Lu's face; a Life Elixir with 90% purity had appeared on the Beastmaster Web for the last time with a price tag of three hundred million Dragon Rising Coins.

Lin Lu's annual income was only twelve million Dragon Rising Coins.

Sounding nice, he was a manager serving large clubs; frankly, he was the head of a service team!

The money earned by the team had to be shared, or there wouldn't be so many talented people following him!

Fang Mu's annual bonus alone was equivalent to twenty years of Lin Lu's income!

With such a promise from Fang Mu, Lin Lu would do everything in his power to handle all affairs well and keep his team within the Mu Yan Club Guild.

A Life Elixir with a purity of 92% had never appeared on the market.

Such purity elixirs could be exchanged for any resource within the entire Dragon Rising Federation.

The selling price was, to put it mildly, above six billion Dragon Rising Coins.

To have such prospects after a five-year tenure, Lin Lu felt he had become a winner in life!

An excellent manager knows that remaining calm and composed is a fundamental skill set.

Upon realizing his lapse, Lin Lu quickly adjusted his mood and then proactively addressed Fang Mu,

“Young Master Mu, I see that a construction team has arrived outside; I can take my team to arrange and build the foundation.”

“There’s no need for you and Miss Yan to worry about it here!”

“After dealing with the matter of the Declaration Sword Club Guild, I will actively approach a few club guilds with strong capabilities.”

“Once our Mu Yan Club’s main team members are selected, we can set up exhibition matches with those powerful teams.”

“Such promotion can quickly enhance the reputation of our Mu Yan Club!”

Fang Mu simply nodded in response to Lin Lu’s words.

Having spent so many resources to find a professional team like Lin Lu’s, there was no need for them to focus too much on the Mu Yan Club anymore.

As for Yan Wood, Fang Mu and Fang Yuan unanimously believed that she lacked management talent.

If Yan Wood became aware of her shortcomings and spent time developing these skills, it would inevitably affect her progress in terms of strength.

Chapter 828: The Gathering Storm!_2

This just seems like a loss that’s not worth the cost!

Fang Mu brought the four auspicious plants to the Mu Yan Club, and after meeting the team that Fang Yuan had selected for Yan Wood, there was nothing else for him to do there.

Just now, Fang Mu received the call from Yi Han.

The Yi Family had prepared a lavish lunch and invited Fang Mu and Yan Wood over.

Fang Mu was already planning to take Yan Wood to visit the Yi Mansion, so he did not refuse Yi Han's invitation in person.

No matter what Yi Han's purpose and considerations for taking Yan Wood as a disciple were, Yi Han was now genuinely his elder.

Fang Mu's attitude toward Yi Han would certainly be even more respectful than before!

With Lin Lu watching over the Mu Yan Club, Yan Wood had also reigned in her worries.

"Third Sister, we'll dine at the Yi Mansion later," he said.

"Just yesterday Uncle Yi took you on as a disciple, and today he's inviting you over, probably planning to introduce you to the Yi Family members."

"As Yi Han's only direct disciple, your status in the Yi Family will be even higher than the Yi Family's own direct descendants!"

Upon hearing this, Yan Wood couldn't help feeling nervous.

Meeting so many esteemed adults all at once was somewhat daunting to Yan Wood.

Yan Wood was not like Fang Yuan, who had been the president of Jianmu Commerce Association for a long time and was already accustomed to socializing with influential figures.

Yan Wood was, at most, a College student who had not yet graduated.

“Little Wood, do you think the younger generation of the Yi Family will harbor hostility toward me if I keep visiting the Yi Mansion?”

“When teacher had just become a Grandmaster Creator, many powerful figures from top forces visited with their heirs.”

“The teacher had publicly stated that his direct disciple would be selected from the younger generation of the Yi Family.”

After understanding Yan Wood’s concerns, Fang Mu shook his head with a smile and said,

“Third Sister, you’re overthinking it!”

“Whether it’s the younger or the older generation of the Yi Family’s direct descendants, as long as they’re not out of their minds, no one would dare to offend you openly!”

“You don’t have to worry about having an unpleasant relationship with them!”

“Remember, you have me backing you. This is the gift I’ve prepared for Master Yi Han.”

“Once I leave, remember to give these five brocade boxes to Master Yi Han, and don’t worry about the rest. I can manage it all for you!”

“Third Sister, there are many outstanding individuals in the younger generation of the Yi Family.”

“If they are interested in joining the Mu Yan Club after learning of its establishment,”

“you might consider the intentions of those Yi Family juniors.”

With Fang Mu’s words, Yan Wood felt her heart settle.

If Fang Mu said he could handle everything, he definitely could.

Yet, Yan Wood was curious when Fang Mu started paying attention to her team members!

Then it struck her, that’s why Fang Mu was speaking in such a way.

His words were telling her to make more connections with the younger members of Yi Family.

To use her status as a direct disciple of Master Yi Han, to forge many connections and resources.

These connections and resources could help her, the Jianmu Commerce Association, and her eldest sister, Fang Qin!

“Little Wood, I understand what you mean. I know why my master took me as his disciple, and I also know what to do as a Grandmaster Disciple.”

Fang Mu’s face broke into a beaming smile upon hearing this.

Now, every single member of his family of four had grown into towering trees.

In that moment, Fang Mu’s heart was filled with comfort and contentment.

On the way to the Yi Mansion, Fang Mu thought about the news Yi Han had shared with him last night and was quite curious about it.

Why would the Dragon Rising Federation be choosing leaders from different age groups within the younger generation?

Given Fang Mu's understanding of the Dragon Rising Federation, the Purple Que School Palace mainly trained those from poorer backgrounds, or those with average or slightly better circumstances.

The truly influential young members of great forces typically used their own family resources for growth.

They were not in the purview of the Purple Que School Palace of the Dragon Rising Federation.

Purple Que School Palace, as an official power, couldn't possibly disburse such an abundance of precious resources to a small minority.

Yet now, Purple Que School Palace wished to single out this portion of talents, to serve as leaders for each age group.

There must be some purpose behind such a sudden decision.

Otherwise, neither the Dracoid Research Institute nor the Creator Alliance would invest a great deal of resources to support this matter.

What's more important is that Fang Mu learned some details from Liu Xi, that the Panfeng Federation Royal Court, far distant from the Dragon Rising Federation, had received similar news.

It was said that a Master Creator affiliated with the Contract Garden had gone to the Ten-thousand Nations Federation to announce Contract Garden's resolution.

How could there be such a coincidence in the world!?

If this selection of the younger generation for various age groups was advocated and implemented by the Contract Garden, then the chosen leaders of these age groups would very likely usher in significant changes in this world.

Fang Mu felt fortunate that he had been providing resources for his brothers and sisters ever since his rise.

After two to three months of comprehensive cultivation with the resources of a Grandmaster Creator, Fang Qin, Yan Wood, and Fang Yuan had stepped into the ranks of the top talents of their respective age groups.

In terms of Guardian Beasts, all three were top matches, limited only by their Beast Master levels.

As soon as the family gathering concluded, Fang Mu had given Fang Qin the lotus root powder from the Sunset Elegant Lotus, then distributed the available Brilliant Golden Honey to the others.

With the help of Brilliant Golden Honey, the Beast Master levels of all three would rapidly improve.

Fang Mu also handed over the Flower Beads of the Heaven Fragrance Peony to the trio.

Then, with the assistance of Scenery Transfer Jade, it was almost a certainty that the three would comprehend the First-class Mysterious Chapter.

This trend led by the younger generation of the Main World had just been set and was yet to start.

There should be plenty of preparation time!

If all four members of the Fang Family could stand atop this wave, then Fang Mu's journey to the Beastmaster world, leaving everything behind, would not be in vain.

Fang Mu intended not only to make plans for Fang Qin, Yan Wood, and Fang Yuan but also to take the lead in this trend himself.

With this in mind, Fang Mu planned to take Xi Xi to the Abdominal Territory Worm's Abdominal Space after returning, to purify a wave of Spiritual Energy.

He would use the purified Pure Spirit Qi to cultivate the Blood Brewing Grapevine.

Each auxiliary vine on the Blood Brewing Grapevine had undergone a cruciform bifurcation, showing a tendency to bear fruit.

The Blood Brewing Grapevine, as a Guardian Beast capable of producing Blood Energy, hoped to accelerate the condensation of the Covenant Blood Essence.

When Huang Yuan, ruler of the Panfeng Federation Royal Court, had not yet received the message, the Dragon Rising Federation had already begun to implement the plan.

This indicated that Contract Garden had varying attitudes toward federations of different tiers of strength.

Today, going to the Yi Mansion, once Yi Han publicly revealed Yan Wood's identity to the entire Yi Family.

Fang Mu, before leaving, even if he didn't actively seek out Master Yi Han, Yi Han would likely take the initiative to communicate with him privately.

To negotiate a deal regarding Master Creator resources.

Fang Mu planned to use this opportunity to ask Master Yi Han about the ultimate purpose of the selection for different age segments of the younger generation.

The moment Fang Mu's Beast Car arrived at the gate of Yi Mansion, he saw Yi Han dressed in a long robe of green silk, standing with his hands behind his back at the Yi Family's entrance.

It was clear he was waiting for Yan Wood and Fang Mu to arrive!

Yi Han, a Grandmaster Creator, was the Yi Family's face. Yi Han's personal wait at the door for Yan Wood and Fang Mu showed more sincerity than if all the other members of Yi Family, except Yi Han, were standing there!

The Beast Car was driven by Lu Bo, who, after spending a long time trailing behind Fang Yuan, had seen Master Yi Han on numerous occasions.

Even so, Lu Bo was still very cautious upon seeing Master Yi Han.

Lu Bo hopped down from the driver's seat of the Beast Car and was just about to help Fang Mu and Yan Wood open the car door when he heard a majestic voice full of vigor near his ear.

"This old man will welcome his own disciples!"

After speaking, Yi Han reached out and pulled open the car door.

Seeing this, Yan Wood quickly jumped down from the car and supported Yi Han.

"Master, it's somewhat late for my visit, how can I trouble you to meet me at the door!"

Yi Han laughed heartily upon hearing this.

"Your master is not among the oldest of the Grandmaster Creators and still can walk; your visit is not late at all!"

"The family banquet is not yet ready!"

Chapter 829: Yi Han's Hospitality!

Lu Bo did not know that Fang Yan had been accepted as a disciple by Grandmaster Yi Han.

Before Yi Han publicly announced taking on Fang Yan as his apprentice, Fang Yuan would not spread the news on his own initiative.

It was very easy for variables to emerge in such a situation.

If he disseminated the news prematurely, and Yi Han delayed announcing it, it would inevitably lead other forces to speculate unnecessarily.

Lu Bo was completely shocked, yet genuinely happy for Fang Yan.

Ever since Fang Yan began her studies in The Capital, Lu Bo had seen her quite frequently.

Like Fang Yuan, Lu Bo genuinely treated Fang Yan as a beloved younger sister.

Whenever Fang Yuan took Fang Yan out for meals on weekends, Lu Bo would always rush to pay the bill, to reduce the burden on Fang Yuan in supporting his siblings and to alleviate the pressure their older sister had to endure.

Lu Bo was stunned by the situation before him.

Fang Mu followed closely behind Fang Yan as he got out of the car, his lips twitching subtly twice.

Though Yi Han seemed much more low-key in appearance, that arrogant streak inside him hadn't lessened at all!

Yi Han's statement was to imply to Fang Yan that he was younger than other Grandmaster Creators when he achieved his status.

It was uncertain if Fang Yan could understand such a "Yi Han style" of boasting.

The gifts Fang Mu had Fang Yan give to Yi Han were of great help to Yi Han.

Upon seeing the gifts, Yi Han should start thinking about how he could reciprocate!

Fang Mu himself did not need to gain any resources from Yi Han, now that everything at Jianmu Commerce Association was on track.

Yi Han's reciprocation could only be towards his Third Sister, Fang Yan!

Two months had passed since Yi Han became a Grandmaster Creator, and Contract Garden was most likely to send someone to contact Yi Han.

As long as Yi Han was not foolish, he would absolutely join Contract Garden.

Fang Mu prepared to use Yi Han to thoroughly understand the situation of Contract Garden!

That way, when he flew the flag of Contract Garden, it would look completely foolproof, without giving anyone a chance to catch him out.

Yi Han had originally planned to stand at the door with the younger members of the Yi Family to welcome Fang Yan.

But upon reflection, Yi Han felt that such formality was excessive, as if treating Fang Yan like a mere guest.

Having taken on an apprentice, Yi Han would, by all means, throw a banquet to announce it to the world.

Leaders of major powers would then attend the evening banquet at Yi Mansion.

At that time, by showing off all the Yi Family's grandeur, he could also show Fang Mu how much he valued Fang Yan!

Just last night, Yi Han immediately convened an internal family meeting to announce his intentions to take Fang Yan as his Direct Disciple.

This caused a great surprise throughout the Yi Family.

Yi Han had already hinted more than once at his plans to take a Direct Descendant of the Yi Family as his Direct Disciple. How had he suddenly taken an outsider?

After understanding Fang Yan's background, the high-ranking members of the Yi Family not only did not oppose, but were also exceptionally enthusiastic!

Yi Han had used most of the Grandmaster Creator resources he traded with Fang Mu himself but had still released a portion to the family.

Many high-ranking members of the Yi Family benefited as a result.

By taking Fang Yan as his disciple, Yi Han's relations with both Fang Mu and Qixing Grandmaster would become even closer than before.

This meant that Yi Han could obtain more resources from Fang Mu than originally expected!

Even if the traded resources did not increase, it would make this channel of transaction much more stable.

Although these high-ranking members of the Yi Family all hoped that their descendants would be chosen by Yi Han, now the young members of the Yi Family were no longer vying for the position of Direct Disciple, but instead, all of them could receive careful guidance from Yi Han!

This situation was only beneficial and not detrimental to the high-ranking members of the Yi Family.

However, for the younger members of the Yi Family, this situation genuinely caused a sense of disappointed aspirations to arise in their hearts.

The moment the young members of the Yi Family heard the news, they harbored feelings of animosity towards Fang Yan.

But soon, the smarter among the younger members deeply buried their jealousy and dissatisfaction towards Fang Yan.

As Yi Han's Direct Disciple, Fang Yan's status in the Yi Family was second only to Yi Han, much higher than their own!

Only by maintaining a good relationship with Yi Han would it benefit their own development.

Those who couldn't catch up, those with heads stuffed with muscles, dared to show the slightest disrespect toward Fang Yan, and if the matter reached Yi Han's ears, even if they were Direct Descendants, they were very likely to be demoted to the Side Branches.

Although Fang Yan had been quite nervous initially, as soon as she truly entered Yi Mansion, she found herself treated almost like a princess!

Fang Mu and Fang Yuan were not the type who particularly cared about food; as long as it was tasty and healthy, it was suffice!

Grandmaster Creator Yi Han, on the other hand, was extremely particular about his food.

Fang Yan did not recognize many of the delicacies on the table.

Yi Han introduced the high-ranking members of the Yi Family to both Fang Yan and Fang Mu. After taking Fang Yan as his disciple, Yi Han no longer made his efforts to please Fang Mu so obvious.

He treated Fang Mu like a kind elder.

Before taking their seats, Yi Han pointed at the first chair beside the main seat and said,

“Little Wood, you sit there, and Xiao Yan, sit one on each side of me!”

“This is the first time since I became a Grandmaster Creator that Yi Mansion has hosted a banquet of this scale.”

“Even the family members assigned to distant assignments were urgently called back by me last night.”

Upon hearing this, Fang Mu did not refuse Yi Han’s hospitality.

Giving Fang Mu’s stature in his own right, there was no need to insist on sitting with the younger members of the Yi Family.

It is most appropriate for me to sit by Yi Han's side!

As the saying goes, a gentleman sets himself right first; only if Fang Mu cherishes his own status will others respect him even more.

“Uncle Yi, then I'll sit by your side, one on the left and one on the right along with Third Sister!”

“The banquet you've prepared for us is truly precious, many of these items are things I've never eaten before!”

Fang Mu spoke very frankly, as there was no need for him to force a persona in this situation.

Not all powerful individuals concern themselves with culinary pleasures, for example, Shu Liangjun and Shui Miao have no such particularities when it comes to food.

Yi Han laughed heartily upon hearing this.

He was very satisfied with the banquet he had specially prepared for today.

Yi Han took Yan Wood's hand with one of his, and Fang Mu's with the other, leading them both to their seats.

Only after the three of them were seated did the executives of the Yi Family take their places below Fang Mu and Yan Wood.

As for the younger generation of the Yi Family, even those most favored by Yi Han were not allowed to sit at this table.

Firstly, Yi Han saw no need to promote a few younger members of the Yi Family to curry favor with Fang Mu.

The relationship between Fang Mu and the Yi Family was already secure.

Secondly, Yi Han was well aware that some of the younger Yi Family members harbored intentions towards Yan Wood.

Yi Han planned to use this dinner to dispel these people's thoughts about Yan Wood.

"Little Wood, Xiao Yan, try this dish of Phoenix Marrow Dragon Tendon."

"This dish of Phoenix Marrow Dragon Tendon is made with the main tendon of a Diamond Rank Sub-Dragon, stir-fried over high heat."

"It's also thickened with the marrow of a sunny-feathered phoenix as an ingredient, and slow-cooked with the milk of a snowfield cold cow!"

"The chefs of our Yi Mansion are extremely skilled, this dish is their signature specialty, meant to strengthen muscles and bones, and nourish blood and tendons!"

After speaking, Yi Han personally served a spoonful for Fang Mu and Yan Wood.

This scene not only stunned the younger Yi Family members speechless but also left the Yi Family's executives looking as if they had seen a ghost.

When had Yi Han ever been so considerate, even personally serving food to someone?

Yan Wood and Fang Mu ate joyously without any pressure, but these executives and juniors of the Yi Family felt as if they were sitting on pins and needles.

Fearful of making any mistake that would offend Yan Wood and Fang Mu.

Those younger members who had felt discontent towards Yan Wood had long since pushed those feelings aside, each one considering how to establish a good relationship with Yan Wood.

Yan Wood was not a Yi Family member, which meant they could pursue her.

If someone managed to win over Yan Wood, their status in the Yi Family would naturally rise!

Although being a son-in-law in one's own family might sound strange, if it turned out to be true, then the days to come would be blissfully carefree!

Just a few words from Yan Wood to Yi Han, and would Yi Han not cultivate them?

After the meal, Yi Han assigned the foremost female Elder from the Yi Family Elder Council to take Yan Wood to see the room.

Yan Wood's room in the Yi Mansion had been arranged overnight just the night before.

To decorate this room, Yi Han specifically took some items out from the Yi Family's treasure vault.

The luxury level of Yan Wood's room was already on par with Yi Han's own.

Yi Mengzhen looked at Yan Wood with gentle eyes and said with a smile,

"Miss Yan, if there is anything you need in your daily life that you find inconvenient to mention to the Family Head, just tell me."

"I will handle it for you as soon as I can!"

“This room was arranged overnight by the Family Head, and I intentionally added a few things, I hope you’ll like it!”

Upon entering the room, and seeing this 800 square meter bedroom, besides the three plant-based auspicious items, there was also a huge glass fish tank fired from colored glaze.

The tank was landscaped with various precious jade stones, and it contained five to six dozen tiny fish, each no bigger than a thumb.

Yan Wood recognized these fish as Pearl Colorful-Lin-Fish, a type of ornamental pet fish that was exceedingly valuable because of their beauty.

For each additional color on their bodies, their price doubled!

The Pearl Colorful-Lin-Fish in the tank had at least five colors, and some even boasted up to nine!

Yan Wood couldn’t begin to estimate the cost of decorating this room!

She thought back to before she came, when Fang Mu gave her a Brocade Box, emphasizing that the Creator resources within were not meant for enhancing strength.

But he was there at the Yi Family to see to all that needed to be arranged.

Yan Wood took out a bottle of Life Elixir with eighty percent purity from her Spatial Equipment and handed it to Yi Mengzhen.

“If there’s ever anything I need in the future, I’ll have to trouble you quite a bit!”

Yi Mengzhen, who was so gentle toward Yan Wood, had added a few items to the room before even meeting Yan Wood.

It was partly to ingratiate herself with Yi Han, and partly to form a good relationship with Yan Wood.

Yi Mengzhen had only hoped to leave a good impression on Yan Wood today, but never expected Yan Wood to take the initiative to befriend her, and to do so with such generosity!

This allowed Yi Mengzhen to recognize that Yan Wood was a smart person.

Moreover, Yan Wood had a large amount of Creator resources at her disposal.

Yi Mengzhen was somewhat clueless as to whether those resources were brought from the Jianmu Commerce Association by Yan Wood or given to her by Yi Han.

In any case, no matter which situation it was, it was worth befriending Yan Wood.

Meanwhile, after dinner, Yi Han directly invited Fang Mu to the Yi Family's reception room.

Fang Mu was well aware of what Yi Han wanted to do by calling him over.

With Fang Mu's emotional intelligence, he would usually take the initiative in such a situation.

But this time, Fang Mu did not do so, preferring to wait for Yi Han to make the first move to propose a trade for Grandmaster Creator resources.

Fang Mu's actions were a form of signaling to Yi Han, indicating that in their cooperation, he held the initiative.

Previously, when dealing with Yi Han, there was a lot of pretending involved; although Fang Mu acted tough, his heart lacked confidence.

But now, facing Yi Han, Fang Mu no longer felt the need to be insecure!

The power wielded by the Infinite Tower was enough to arm-wrestle with a newly promoted Grandmaster Creator.

Yi Han chatted idly with Fang Mu for a few minutes. Seeing that Fang Mu did not bring up the matter, Yi Han quickly broached the relevant topic.

“Little Wood, to be frank, right now I urgently need a batch of high-star Grandmaster Creator resources.”

“I need these resources to enhance the strength of three Guardian Beasts.”

“Do you think you could find a way for me to trade for these resources from a Qixing Grandmaster?”

At these words, Fang Mu’s mouth twitched slightly.

Yi Han really doesn’t consider me an outsider to say such things to me!

Asking me to seek benefits from my master on his behalf!

But on second thought, Fang Mu realized why Yi Han would make such a move.

No one knew that the so-called Qixing Grandmaster was actually himself.

In Yi Han’s eyes, as a disciple of Qixing who assists in Qixing’s matters, one aspect was to gain Qixing’s favor, and the other was to secure resources for oneself!

Yi Han was looking to leverage Fang Mu's status for cooperation!

Fang Mu himself had contemplated trading with Yi Han, so under these circumstances, there was no need to reject Yi Han.

"Uncle Yi, solutions are made by people who are willing to think. As long as one is willing to use their brains, there's always a way," Fang Mu said.

"May I ask how many Grandmaster Creator resources you need?"

"Now that you've taken my Third Sister as your disciple, we're practically family. I'll definitely find a way to help you if I can."

"But you should understand, Uncle Yi, my status is just that of a disciple to a Grandmaster Creator, not someone who can help with everything!"

"So don't ask for the impossible and put me in a difficult position!"

Now that it was just Fang Mu and Yi Han, Fang Mu spoke his mind openly and honestly.

Fang Mu's words carried an utmost sincerity, which made Yi Han feel an instant closeness to Fang Mu.

Yi Han gave an embarrassed smile.

"Little Wood, I'm not making outrageous demands; I really do need those resources!"

"You do what you can, and aside from giving the corresponding resources to your master,

"I will also offer an extra twenty percent as your compensation for helping me!"

“If you really can’t do it, you can just reject me and I won’t say another word!”

“If you can’t help me this time, I will still need your help in the future.”
