

Beast Tamer 89

Chapter 89: To Hell With Being Low-Key!_I

Typically, for a private deal like this, a special list would be given out before the trading event begins.

This list details the items that will be auctioned during the trade event.

A trading event backed by private power is a good place to exchange supplies while also providing a platform for power and fame.

Many prominent figures especially enjoy these gatherings as a means to network with powerful individuals or members of other influential groups.

That being said, it's undeniable that some people come solely in pursuit of a particular item.

Before meeting with Lu Yuyu, the people from the Lionheart Brigade showed him the list of items that would be auctioned at the trade fair.

Lu Yuyu had initially wanted to show the list to Fang Mu.

However, considering Fang Mu's status, he refrained from doing so.

A disciple of a Grandmaster Creator would not be interested in anything the Lionheart Brigade had on offer.

After all, the strongest member of the entire Lionheart Brigade did not even possess a sequential guardian beast.

They didn't have access to truly top-notch treasures!

This resulted in Fang Mu being completely oblivious about the items up for auction at the trade fair.

But at the mention of Frost Language Snow Dragon, Fang Mu's eyes suddenly lit up.

Fang Qin had given up the Frost Dragon Fish for Fang Yuan and Yan Wood.

As a water-born guardian beast with dragon bloodline, Frost Language Snow Dragon is many levels higher than the Frost Dragon Fish!

While it can be said that the Frost Dragon Fish only has a thin dragon bloodline inside its body.

Whether it can awaken the dragon bloodline inside its body is still unknown.

Then Frost Language Snow Dragon is indeed a guardian beast with a relatively rich dragon bloodline!

All it needs is one more step in its bloodline evolution to become a Jiaolong.

Becoming a very noble branch in the dragon race guardians, the existence of a Jiaolong species!

Compared to the wrestling-savvy Dinosaur Beast, Jiaolong Beast is even more adept at elemental attacks.

In Fang Mu's view, it also had a higher aesthetic appeal!

Because the higher the rank of the guardian beast, the more spiritual power a Beast Master needs to consume to form a contract.

Therefore, low-rank guardian beasts with stronger bloodlines tend to have higher value!

To be able to be auctioned by the Lionheart Brigade and worth mentioning by Lu Yuyu.

This Frost Language Snow Dragon, if not Copper Stage, must at least be a Silver Stage entity!

Fang Mu had already made up his mind.

To hell with being low-profile!

No matter what, he would secure this Frost Language Snow Dragon for Fang Qin!

In fact, since the first time Fang Mu failed to awaken his Destiny Guidebook.

He could distinctly feel Fang Qin, Fang Yuan, and the usually carefree Yan Wood.

Are instinctively avoiding bringing up matters related to the field of Beast Masters in front of him.

The three of them did this very clearly because they were afraid that after he heard about the situation related to the field of Beast Masters.

He would be bothered by the fact that he hadn't awakened his Destiny Guidebook.

At first, Fang Mu was indeed very despondent.

As a transmigrator, the fact that he couldn't awaken his Destiny Guidebook was as good as not being able to fully integrate into this world.

But Fang Mu had a robust heart.

After the second failure, he had already made adjustments in his heart.

Clear on his life plan.

Fang Mu always possessed the soul of an adult.

Fang Qin, Fang Yuan, and Yan Wood synchronously avoided mentioning anything related to Beast Masters.

But that didn't mean Fang Mu didn't understand their direction of guardian beast compatibility and the situation of their Destiny Guardian Beasts.

After all, before Fang Mu first tried to awaken, the three of them had already awakened their Destiny Guardian Beasts.

And contracted their first guardian beast other than their Destiny Guardian Beast.

Fang Mu was certain that the Frost Language Snow Dragon was a perfect match for Fang Qin.

Fang Qin's Destiny Guardian Beast could accelerate the growth of the Frost Language Snow Dragon.

If Fang Qin had not encountered himself when embarking today's mission, and saw the Frost Language Snow Dragon during the trade fair.

He'd surely be filled with admiration and longing!

Just like when Fang Mu himself yearned to become a Beast Master!

While Lu Yuyu was speaking, Liu Jihui, who was appointed to accommodate Fang Mu, had already knocked on the entrance door.

As the door to the quiet room opened, he hurriedly bowed towards the direction of the room.

Then he said reverently.

"Sir Jianmu, Miss Luo, Mr. Lu!"

“The auction will start in three minutes. Would you like to go down and join?”

“If you prefer to stay and continue chatting in the quiet room...”

“I can arrange for more food for you!”

Upon hearing this, Lu Yuyu waved his hand and said,

“Take us down there to have a look!”

“Arrange a private booth, my brother doesn’t like noise.”

When Zhang Ran heard this, an irrepressible joy shone on his face.

The arrival of a Grandmaster Creator’s disciple at the headquarters of the Lionheart Brigade, Swiss Lion Garden, has certainly brought honor to their door.

The Lionheart Brigade had intentionally leaked this news.

It could be said that “Sir Jianmu” has stealthily become the protagonist of this auction.

“Sir Jianmu” coming to the auction venue would definitely enhance the reputation of the Lionheart Brigade.

Lu Yuyu stood beside “Sir Jianmu.”

What Lu Yuyu requested could be considered as “Sir Jianmu’s” request.

Even if there were no private booths in the main hall of the Swiss Lion Garden,

If he informed Deputy Head Liu Jihui,

Most likely, Liu Jihui would postpone the auction and set up a booth specifically for the auction.

In fact, the booth for Fang Mu had been prepared long ago.

Even if Fang Mu hadn’t requested it, Liu Jihui wouldn’t have let him sit amidst the crowd.

If anyone happened to bump into Fang Mu, it would reflect poorly on the hospitality of the Lionheart Brigade.

As they left the lobby, Fang Mu's gaze landed on Fang Qin.

Fang Qin tightly suppressed his urge to look at Fang Mu, fearing that Fang Mu might give everything away.

He stood half a step behind Luo Su.

Luo Su's thought process was always unconventional, a fact verified by her childhood friend, Lu Yuyu.

She had always been observant of "Sir Jianmu."

Therefore, Luo Su noticed that "Sir Jianmu's" gaze had been occasionally resting on Fang Qin ever since they left the lobby.

Based on her previous interactions, Luo Su found "Sir Jianmu" to be quite composed,

Not like a young man at all.

If the mature “Sir Jianmu” and Fang Qin really got together, they should have a lot in common!

Fang Mu resembled his father a little more,

While Fang Qin looked a lot like his mother.

Despite this, there was a slight resemblance in Fang Qin and Fang Mu’s features.

The more Lu Yuyu looked at Fang Qin, the more familiar he seemed.

However, Lu Yuyu was sure that he had absolutely never met Fang Qin before!

Seeing her fiancé Lu Yuyu’s gaze constantly on Fang Qin,

Luo Su, didn’t feel any sense of marital crisis at all.

She actually felt relieved that the foolish Lu Yuyu’s thoughts were finally in sync with hers!

Harboring the idea of playing matchmaker for Fang Qin and “Sir Jianmu”,

Luo Su did not insist Fang Qin to stay outside the booth and let him stay inside.

The Lionheart Brigade had held auctions before.

These booths were specially prepared for VIP guests!

The white crystal that formed the booths had been specially treated for reflection.

People inside the booth could clearly see everything outside,

While those outside could not pry into the inside.

Fang Mu was invited by Liu Jihui through his connection with Lu Yuyu.

Liu Jihui only conversed a few words with him when he received Fang Mu.

Therefore, Liu Jihui did not dare to question Fang Mu casually during the conversation, fearing to upset Fang Mu.

After the conversations, Liu Jihui reiterated the rules of the auction.

Then he announced the official opening of the auction!

The rules of the auction were simple and revealed the World of Beast Masters' thirst for resources of high-star creators.

Any item can be bid on with Dragon Rising Coins.

However, when others bid with resources in place of Dragon Rising Coins, In the event of equal pricing, the bid involving resources gets priority.

The better the quality of the creator resources put in, the higher the priority!

This type of bidding made Fang Mu understand that high-quality resources were often traded in kind..
