Chapter 97 Extreme Electric Cloud Leopard!_I

At first, Lu Yuyu was only interested in Fang Mu because of the resources Fang Mu had as a Creator.

But after getting to know him, Lu Yuyu genuinely started to like Fang Mu!

Especially since he still owed Fang Mu a favor.

Even if Fang Mu was wealthy, Lu Yuyu couldn't bear seeing his friend getting ripped off!

Fang Mu's interest in the Shadow Eye Stone was due to the fact that it was the source of the Fool's Shadow's vibration.

If the Fool's Shadow truly needed the Shadow Eye Stone in order to improve its quality.

Then his Destiny Guardian Beast, the Fool's Shadow, was a massive resource sinkhole!

Fang Mu turned to look at Liu Jihui, hesitating for a moment before speaking.

"I don't have enough Dragon Soaring Coins, but I'm really interested in this Shadow Eye Stone!"

“How about this, I give Lionheart Brigade an opportunity to order Element Potions.”

“You can order various Element Potions of different purity according to the price of 200 million Dragon Soaring Coins from me!”

“You can pick up the goods at the Creator’s Guild within a week at the latest each time you place an order!”

People often take things for granted when they come easily.

Also, it wasn’t convenient for Fang Mu to take out too many high-star creator resources at once.

Therefore, Fang Mu planned to prolong the transaction.

Fang Mu believed Liu Jihui wouldn’t object to this!

On the contrary, Liu Jihui would be overjoyed, thus sensing his sincerity.

Both Liu Jihui and Lu Yuyu were stunned by the first half of Fang Mu’s statement.

Regardless of Fang Mu claiming he didn't have enough money, he still offered Creator resources.

This was similar to when you ask someone for a pound of iron, and they respond that they only have gold!

Lu Yuyu looked at Liu Jihui, who was trembling with excitement and surprise, with envy in his eyes.

The price of 200 million Dragon Soaring Coins was equivalent to Element Potions with a purity of ninety percent.

For Liu Jihui's Guardian Beast, the Three-Eyed Terror Wolf, only one opportunity was needed to accomplish sequential.

A Wind Elemental Potion with ninety percent purity could possibly help the Three-Eyed Terror Wolf cross that threshold.

Liu Jihui placed the Shadow Eye Stone from the tray into the inkwell.

It sat next to the Blood Race Earl's Heart and the box of Black Nightmare Snake venom sac. He said,

“Thank you, Sir Jianmu, for giving me such an opportunity!”

“I want to exchange this for a Wind Elemental Potion with ninety percent purity, and another with eighty percent purity.”

“I don’t need anything else!”

Fang Mu pocketed the three things he’d chosen and looked at Liu Jihui deeply.

Previously, when Luo Su was here, he had discussed Liu Jihui with Lu Yuyu.

Luo Su said that Liu Jihui was a selfish individual through and through.

He was able to lead the Lionheart Brigade because the Captain of the Lionheart Brigade was always in hibernation.

Bearing the curse, he had almost no chance of waking up.

Moreover, there were rumors that Liu Jihui was connected to the Captain’s condition!

Fang Mu had offered Liu Jihui a broad condition.

But when presented with this opportunity, Liu Jihui only thought about himself and didn't consider the other members of the Lionheart Brigade.

Keep in mind that many members of the Lionheart Brigade had Guardian Beasts close to reaching the Diamond Level Peak.

Fang Mu showed that he wanted to befriend Liu Jihui because he needed an armed force.

Whether the Lionheart Brigade was useful to Fang Mu or not, having them was better than not having them at all!

Liu Jihui, the delicate egoist, best knew how to seek gains and avoid harm!

As long as Fang Mu continually provided creator resources, Liu Jihui should be easily managed!

"As per our previous agreement, go to the Creator's Guild to pick them up in seven days!"

"Even if I'm not there, someone will be there to give you the two Wind Elemental Potions!"

While speaking, Fang Mu opened the book again and checked the Guardian Beasts within.

After looking through, Fang Mu didn't know if it was because his own standards had become higher, or the Lionheart Brigade's treasured Guardian Beasts did not meet his expectations.

He was nearly done flipping through the entire book, but he couldn't find any he had a liking for.

Despite some Guardian Beasts being nurtured to Epic Quality at the bronze level.

Fang Mu now prefers selecting Guardian Beast with a long-term perspective, leaning towards those with evolutionary potential.

Just as he was about to finish flipping through this book, Fang Mu's attention immediately landed on one name.

Extreme Electric Cloud Leopard!

Perfect Quality Extreme Electric Cloud Leopard at that!

The book indicated specific attributes exclusive to the Extreme Electric Cloud Leopard.

[Lightning Step]: Steps on the summoned lightning, doubling the damage inflicted by the lightning through its four feet!

As for its bronze level skill [Store Lightning], it stores the power of lightning within itself, transforming it into leopard spots on its body, and releasing the absorbed lightning power at critical moments.

The Extreme Electric Cloud Leopard is a beast possessing both electricity and wind elements and has strong resistance to electric power.

It can easily store lightning power five to six times its own strength.

If primed with high-concentration electrical elemental potions from a young age, storing lightning power nine to ten times its own strength is within the realm of possibility.

Fang Yuan has an affinity for felid Guardian Beasts, and generally, Fang Yuan can form a covenant with any felid type.

However, Fang Yuan's Destiny Guardian Beast is the Vicious Leopard Demon of the Phantom Spirit System.

The Phantom Spirit and Fairy Spirit Guardian Beasts possess similar mysteries.

The difference lies in the fact that Fairy Spirit Guardian Beasts usually have physical entities.

The Phantom Spirit Guardian Beasts, on the other hand, exist in a spiritual form.

At one point, scholars believed that Phantom Spirit Guardian Beasts could be categorized within the Soul System.

However, due to the view of some scholars that Phantom Spirit Guardian

Beasts lack the ability to attack and defend souls,

The Phantom Spirit Guardian Beasts were extracted as an independent category.

In terms of rarity, the phantom spirit demon leopard contracted by Fang Yuan from the Destiny Illustrated Handbook is rarer than Hu Tao's puppet class Destiny Guardian Beast – Bird Armor Puppet.

Fang Mu had once heard Fang Yuan mention that his Destiny Guardian Beast, Vicious Leopard Demon, could fuse with the two contracted leopards.

Fusion essentially amalgamates Fang Yuan's contracted leopard Guardian Beasts with the Vicious Leopard Demon itself into a whole.

The gain from the fusion is far greater than the boost achieved from combination among Guardian Beasts!

However, the Vicious Leopard Demon did not provide Fang Yuan with any substantial benefit.

On the contrary, under the circumstance where Fang Yuan could only afford to nurture one leopard Guardian Beast, the Vicious Leopard Demon was utterly ineffective.

It was as if Fang Yuan had not awakened a Destiny Guardian Beast.

Only because Fang Yuan realized that he needed to expend way more resources than Fang Qin and Yan Wood to get the same level of improvement,

Did Fang Yuan insist on joining the Ten Thousand Treasures Commerce, even at the cost of making Fang Qin cry.

Instead of choosing to join the Beastmaster Alliance and pursuing his dream.

The Extreme Electric Cloud Leopard is, first and foremost, a rare electric Guardian Beast.

Electric Guardian Beasts possess strong explosiveness and are fast.

The Extreme Electric Cloud Leopard's wind attribute further boosts its speed!

Secondly, the cloud leopard is among the nobility of leopards.

Legends hold that the bloodline of the cloud leopard hails from the glorious Deep Blue Kingdom of the Fifth Epoch and has been passed down to this day.

Highly sought after by noble Beast Masters!

If the Frost Language Snow Dragon was a custom-made Guardian Beast for Fang Qin,

Then this Extreme Electric Cloud Leopard was a custom-made Guardian Beast for Fang Yuan!

Fang Mu obtained this Extreme Electric Cloud Leopard from Liu Jihui on the spot.

Liu Jihui had specifically reserved the Extreme Electric Cloud Leopard six months ago for the purpose of establishing connections with important figures.

Now that it had been chosen by Fang Mu, it had served its purpose.

With his desired item in hand, Fang Mu decided not to linger at the Swiss Lion Garden.

Fang Qin was still waiting for his phone call!

So, after putting the Extreme Electric Cloud Leopard who was in an iron cage into the Purple Ice Crystal Ring, Fang Mu and Lu Yuyu left the Swiss Lion Garden together.

After parting ways with Lu Yuyu, Fang Mu returned to the dilapidated old factory to call Fang Qin before sorting through the day's gains.

His two Destiny Guardian Beasts, Fool's Shadow and Blood of Abundance, were still in need of nurturing!
