

Beg You All 205

Chapter 205: You are turning your elbow to the outside

Time passed in a flash, and it was noon the next day.

The school bell rang. Chu Tian was just about to go to the milk tea shop to meet Li Niannian for lunch when he was interrupted during his lunch break. Suddenly, a voice came from behind him.

“Chu Tian.”

Huh?

Chu Tian looked back and smiled, “Yang Hui, what’s wrong?”

It was Yang Hui and Sun Min.

They were both students in the third nursing class, and Chu Tian considered them among the few good-looking and attractive individuals in the class, with scores above 90.

Moreover, Yang Hui and Sun Min were known to be more open-minded compared to others in their class. If it weren’t for being in a nursing class, Chu Tian wouldn’t have guessed that these two girls were much stronger than boys when it came to teasing and joking around.

When talking about men and women, sometimes Chu Tian wanted to blush.

Yang Hui and Sun Min were the pioneers in the class talking about men and women. The boldness of their conversation made Chu Tian feel that he had learned a lot of knowledge.

Moreover, the two of them were girls who favored vanity, but they weren't as good as Sun Nana.

"Are you busy during lunch?" Yang Hui and Sun Min held hands and smiled at Chu Tian. He suddenly felt like he was being targeted by two mischievous girls.

"Uh, not really," Chu Tian pondered for a moment and said, "What's up?"

"Why don't we have lunch together?" Sun Min suggested with a smile. "The two of us want to talk to you about something."

Talk to me about something?

This... what did they have to talk about with me?

Chu Tian, Yang Hui, and Sun Min didn't have much of a relationship with each other. They were just classmates. Usually, they would only say a few words and joke around.

Seeing the two of them smiling, Chu Tian thought for a bit and asked curiously, "What is it?"

"Oh, it's nothing." Yang Hui said, "It's just a meal together. We'll treat you."

Oh?

It looked like something was really wrong here!

Chu Tian smiled and said, "That's fine, then let's have a meal together. Where are we going to eat?"

Yang Hui said, "We won't eat in the school canteen anymore. Let's go eat outside."

"Sounds good," Chu Tian said, taking out his phone. "Let me send a message first."

He quickly messaged Li Niannian: "Sister Nian, you can eat by yourself today. I'm having lunch with my classmates."

Soon, Li Niannian replied: "You brat, why didn't you tell me earlier that you ordered so many dishes?"

Chu Tian: "Hey, love you, muahahaha."

Li Niannian said, "I'll kick you to death. Then go eat with your classmates. I'll take it home. Let's see if Sis gets up and eats together."

Chu Tian, "Um."

After chatting with Li Niannian, Chu Tian put away his phone and left the classroom with Yang Hui and Sun-Min.

Twenty minutes later!

Outside Haicheng Medical University, there was a restaurant near the window. After Chu Tian and the other two ordered a few dishes, Yang Hui poured a cup of water for Chu Tian and said, "Hey, Chu Tian, are you working in a pure bar?"

The matter of Chu Tian working in a pure bar was not a secret in the class. Basically, everyone knew.

"That's right," Chu Tian said. "It can be considered a part-time job. I do some chores at the bar. It pays 25$ per hour, and with a few hours of work each night, I can cover my food expenses for the day and still have some money left."

"That's pretty good." Sun Min said, "How did you find this job?"

"This..." Chu Tian looked at Sun Min and suddenly smiled, "It can't be. Do you two also want to work in a bar? The two of you don't have money, do you?"

"It's not about the money," Yang Hui explained. "We're just idle and bored, and we want to experience life and see the world."

"That's right." Sun Min said, "Chu Tian, we heard that this pure bar often has a lot of rich people going there. Is that true?"

Chu Tian chuckled, seemingly recalling something. "That's true. The second floor of the bar is the private room area, and it's not uncommon for a single private room to cost tens of thousands of dollars. Every day, the rooms are fully booked. Sometimes, a single private room can spend hundreds of thousands of dollars in a night. Just recently, there was a large private room where someone celebrated their birthday, and they spent nearly 3 million in one night."

Spending nearly 3 million in one night?

Hearing Chu Tian's words, Yang Hui and Sun-Min couldn't help but stare at him. "Did you spend 3 million in one night? So rich?"

"Really." Chu Tian nodded and said, "There are too many middle-class people in Haicheng, just like the card seats on the first floor. This kind of small table, spending ten thousand to twenty thousand a night, is too common, and there are also many rich people. With that kind of wine on the table, there are thousands of them. That girl took the initiative to strike up a conversation, just like choosing a concubine."

Hearing Chu Tian's words, Yang Hui and Sun Min couldn't help but look at each other.

Seeing this, Chu Tian continued, "So, to tell the truth, do you two want to go to the bar and catch rich people?"

"What?" Yang Hui and Sun-Min smiled awkwardly and said, "I just want to broaden my horizons. We don't have a boyfriend, and we don't have anything to do tonight. It's all you. There are only two men in our class, so we don't have enough points. You were even taken away by class six."

“That’s right.” Sun Min pouted and said, “Chu Tian, I’m not talking about you. You really aren’t a righteous person. All the girls in our class are waiting to be picked up. You’re really good. If you don’t pick up the girls in your own class and go to the sixth class to pick up Bai Xiaochun, our guys won’t be able to score enough points. Now that it’s good, it’s even so.”

“No.” Chu Tian chuckled and said, “Our class girls are too outstanding.”

“If you’re outstanding, why don’t you go to other classes instead of your own?”

“Not good enough.” Chu Tian smiled and said, “The main thing is, I’m not worthy of the girls in our class. They are really too outstanding. Just like the two of you, I won’t be able to catch up with you.”

“Then you should chase first.” Yang Hui said, “If you don’t chase, how do you know you can’t catch up?”

“That’s right.” Sun Min said, “You just turned your elbow outwards. Don’t say it’s useless.”

Seeing that it was about to become a competition, Chu Tian quickly smiled and said, “Alright, alright, let’s not talk about this anymore. Let’s talk about the two of you. You two want to work in a bar?”
