

Beg You All 24

Chapter 24: Li Sisi's Coming

Seeing that the man had successfully obtained the usage of Wang Xiaofeng's computers, the woman said, "Citizen Wang Xiaofeng, the email he's about to send is somewhat classified. Let's give him some personal space to send that email."

"Oh, I understand."

Hearing those words from that woman, Wang Xiaofeng did not overthink things and left the computer room with that woman, leaving only the man behind.

At this moment, the man stared at the computer screens and smiled. Then, his hands began to pound away at the keyboard.

A dozen or so minutes later!

At the time when the woman and Wang Xiaofeng were still chatting in the living room downstairs, the man walked down the stairs.

After the man arrived beside the woman, he placed his mouth toward her ear and whispered.

The woman nodded. She then said, "Citizen Wang Xiaofeng, something came up. Thus, we might not be able to wait for that Shadow to respond. It would appear that we can only hand the money to you and have you pass it onto him."

“Officers, please rest assured,” Wang Xiaofeng smiled, “While I am someone very fond of money, I do not possess the nerve to embezzle this reward money. I will definitely transfer the money to Shadow without a single cent less.”

“Mn,” the woman smiled and then took out her phone, “In that case, tell me your bank account number.”

.....

Five minutes later!

After walking out from Wang Xiaofeng’s villa, the woman first looked around. Then, she asked, “Mouse, are you certain that Shadow does not wish to be involved with us?”

“I’m certain,” replied the man, “I’ve seen their chat records. He did mention that he does not wish to be involved with the government and does not wish to reveal his identity.”

The woman nodded, “Then, did you manage to make any other discovery?”

“I have,” replied the man with a mischievous smile, “From their chat records, I found out that Shadow had just completed a 30 million job. It seemed to be removing a video from the internet. I went ahead and properly searched through Wang Xiaofeng’s computer. From my search, I managed to find out the contact details of the job’s client. It’s a qq number. I’ve remembered that number already.”

The woman smiled, “How certain are you that we’ll be able to track him?”

“Big sis, you’re looking down on me too much, no?” said the man. “It’s not a question of how certain but whether when.”

“You’re quite confident,” laughed the woman, “Come, let’s go and get a room. Big sis will pay for it.”

.....

Half an hour later!

In a hotel room not far away from where Wang Xiaofeng lives, the man was sitting before a computer and typing away on his keyboard. As for the woman, she was looking at him from the side.

Finally, the man smiled, “Big sis, I’ve hacked in. Look, this account only has a single friend – ‘Shadow.’ That’s most definitely him.”

“What’s next?” asked the woman.

“Let me try tracing that Shadow’s qq number. Let’s see if I can track him down through his qq number.”

As he spoke, the man continued to type away at his keyboard.

After a dozen or so minutes, the man stopped with a look of confusion.

Seeing that, the woman asked, "Are you unable to trace him?"

"He made protections against tracking," the man shook his head, "It's the same as his account on the Hacker's Forum. It's simply impossible to track him. Never would I imagine for that guy to be this cautious. Right now, the only thing I can do would be to reveal their qq chat record and see if I can find anything from their conversation."

After saying those words, the man continued to type away at his keyboard.

.....

At the same time!

Haicheng. Inside the rental apartment. Chu Tian was still sleeping soundly.

Suddenly, his cell phone started ringing. Drowsy-eyed, Chu Tian opened his eyes and picked up his phone.

Seeing that it was Li Sisi calling him, Chu Tian accepted the call, "Hello, Big sis Sisi."

As Li Sisi was twelve years older than him and they were getting along pretty well yesterday, Chu Tian began to address her in a close manner.

“My dear boss, what are you up to right now?”

Hearing Li Sisi’s somewhat coquettish voice, Chu Tian couldn’t help but smile. He rubbed his face and said, “Big sis Sisi, can you act a bit more normal? I’m at a young and vigorous age. I wouldn’t be able to withstand your teasing.”

“Hahaha...”

Li Sisi burst into laughter, “Big sis love to mess around with young boys like you. It’s so fun. Well then, let’s talk proper business. What are you doing right now?”

“I just woke up,” Chu Tian got up from his head, “I went to sleep a bit late last night.”

“In that case, is there any woman in your house?” asked Li Sisi.

“I wish,” said Chu Tian, “Unfortunately, I’m the only one here.”

“That’s simple to solve. Big sis will deliver herself over. That’ll satisfy your wish.”

“Eh...” Chu Tian was left speechless, “What do you mean by that?”

“I’m by your university,” said Li Sisi, “Last night, I contacted someone who reclaim used items. All the chairs, tables, bowls, cups, plates, ladles, and various other tableware as well as the air conditioner and whatnot has all been sold. They’re currently being moved. Judging from their speed, the earliest they’ll finish would be around noon. Right now, I have nowhere to go. Thus, I figured I might go check out your place.”

“That’s fine with me,” said Chu Tian, “I’ll send you my address through Wechat.”

“Do you want anything to eat?” Li Sisi asked, “I can buy some breakfast and fruits on the way there. I haven’t eaten anything for breakfast yet. We can eat together.”

“Anything’s fine with me,” said Chu Tian, “I’m not picky.”

“Then I’ll just buy something. I’ll be there in roughly half an hour.”

“Sounds good.”

After hanging up on the phone, Chu Tian did a stretch before sending his address to Li Sisi. Then, he put on some shorts and went to wash up.