Chapter 28: The Losers And The Rich

Being together with a woman like Li Sisi, one will not feel bored no matter how long.

She possesses a high emotional IQ, knows how to chat, knows how to mess around, tease and seduce you. Practically everything about her was wonderful. She truly shows her years of experience.

And, most importantly, she was very beautiful. Both her figure and appearance were eye candy-level. Just looking at her would make one feel delighted and refreshed.

It would not be an exaggeration to say that Li Sisi was a beauty on par with Bai Xiaochun.

But, her style was completely different from Bai Xiaochun.

Bai Xiaochun gave off a sensation like her name – fair and pure. Her beauty could incite a man's desire to protect her.

[1. Bai → White, Xiao → Little, Chun → Pure.]

As for Li Sisi, she possess charm, grace and sex appeal. Her every little movement was enough to tempt one's heart and incite a man's beastly desire to possess her.

“For the first floor, we’ll have an ordinary club hall. It’ll be a place where everyone could hang out at. As for the second floor, we’ll convert it to private rooms. I’ve checked our dimensions, we can convert the second floor to six small rooms and two large rooms.”

As she spoke, Li Xixi cut apart a pared apple and handed half to Chu Tian.

“Speaking of it, I’ve never been to a club before,” Chu Tian received the half apple and took a bite, “Big sis Sisi, what’s the difference between a private room and the ordinary club hall?”

“There’s a major difference,” said Li Sisi with a meaningful smile, “For those that booked private rooms, they can have stand-alone performances there. For example, if your job is to accompany some clients of yours to have some fun, you will most definitely choose to book a private room. After all, you will be able to discuss private matters better there. It’s similar to the private karaoke rooms. In a private room, you wouldn’t just be drinking. You’ll also have to have some fun in there to liven up the atmosphere.”

“Thus, we’ll generally send over some girls and have them have fun with the clients. Things like putting up a show, dancing, singing, little drinking games and whatnot. Once everyone’s happy and drunk, the business contacts will be settled then.”

Chu Tian imagined the scenario in his head, “So people actually go to clubs to discuss business?”

“Of course,” Li Sisi flicked her hair back, “More and more people are discussing businesses in clubs now. It’s all so that they can enjoy themselves while discussing business. If the setting is too formal, people will be too cool-headed and rational. They’re discussing in clubs all so that they can do so while high in spirit and happiness. Once that high passes, it’ll be very difficult to discuss things.”

Chu Tian nodded, “Oh, that’s right. Big sis Sisi, a club must cost a lot to operate, right?”

“That depends,” said Li Sisi, “Generally, a booth will spend at least two to three thousand. Furthermore, while this might be a vast sum for ordinary people, those with money will generally order a table of foreign wines and alcohols the moment they arrive. That will cost tens or hundreds of thousands. Once that happens, the girls will automatically go up to them. At that point, it’ll be like you can choose your concubines. One set of girls after another. As long as your table is still not full, girls will continue to come to you without stop.”

“Thus, picking up girls in a club comes in two ways. The losers will have to rely on their mouth. They would need to know how to talk. Those that are able to court girls with their words will be able to bring them away. As for the rich people, they rely on their alcohol. Once they fill a table with alcohol, the girls will automatically come to them.”

Losers rely on their mouth?

The rich people rely on their alcohol?

Chu Tian laughed, “Sounds good to me. Big sis Sisi, you do your thing. Everything’s up to you.”

“You really trust me this much?” Li Sisi smiled and leaned toward Chu Tian, “Hey, young master, let me ask you something. Exactly what does your parents do?”

From yesterday till now, Li Sisi had considered Chu Tian to be a second generation rich.

Although it was a misunderstanding, Chu Tian did not bother to explain to her.

[2. Chu Tian is a nouveau riche, he made his money himself and not from his parents.]

Chu Tian pondered for a bit before shaking his head, “Big sis Sisi, aren’t you tired?”

“Fine then.”

Thinking that it was unsuitable for Chu Tian to reveal what his parents do, Li Sisi pursed up her lips and revealed a smile, “Big sis will go to sleep then. I’ll have to meet up with my interior decorator friend this afternoon. I need him to help me design this place. Well then, see you later.”

After saying those words, with a smile still on her face, Li Sisi winked at Chu Tian. Then, she barefooted her way into Chu Tian’s bedroom. She didn’t even bother to close the door. It was completely open to Chu Tian’s view.

Seeing this, Chu Tian couldn’t help but force a smile and breathe in a mouthful of air.

Sigh!

Truly a demoness. He was teased beyond his control.

After Li Sisi entered his room, Chu Tian decided to lay down on the sofa.

It was not only Li Sisi who didn’t get enough sleep. He also didn’t get enough sleep.

Even though he went to bed before 2AM last night, he continued to watch videos on his phone and didn't fall asleep until 3AM.

On top of that, he just ate and was quite full. Thus, a sense of drowsiness assailed him.

.....

After an unknown period of time, the sound of a phone vibration woke Chu Tian up.

Chu Tian opened his eyes and discovered that it was Li Sisi's phone that was vibrating.

Chu Tian picked up the phone and saw that it was a wechat message notification. Furthermore, he noticed it was already 2PM in the afternoon. He got up from his sofa, grabbed the phone and entered his room.

Li Sisi was still sleeping on his bed. She was sleeping on her side and had a faint smile on her face. It seemed like she was enjoying her sleep. Seeing that, Chu Tian smiled and patted her shoulder, "Big sis Sisi."

"Mmm?"

A faint humm was heard. Languidly, Li Sisi rolled away.

"It's time to wake up," said Chu Tian with a smile, "It's 2 in the afternoon now. Someone sent you a message."

“So annoying. I was enjoying my dream here,” Semi-awake, Li Sisi feigned anger coquettishly. Muddle-headed, she sat up on the bed.

Seeing that, Chu Tian smiled and handed her the phone, “Take your time waking up. I’ll go and wash my face.”

After he said those words, Chu Tian turned around and entered the washroom to wash up.
