

Beloved Dog 1071

Chapter 1071

I thought of ways for the fenrirs to be liked

“Leo is so amazing!”

“Leo!”

“Will this town become its own country one day too?”

“Wuff-wuff? Wuff!”

After Walter finished his story, the children then crowded around Leo excitedly.

They now had a new appreciation for Silver Fenrirs, but Leo was a little confused as to why she was suddenly being praised.

Still, she eventually sat down and puffed out her chest proudly.

“Hah...that was unexpectedly tiring.”

“Good job, Walter. You had them captivated. They were so quiet while listening to you.”

“Well, I have read many books, and was able to take things from them in order to put together a story on the spot.”

So it was all made up after all...

“Still, it may be a good way to teach people about Silver Fenrirs.”

“Claire?”

“Lady Claire?”

She was muttering to herself while watching the children and Leo play.

Walter and I turned to her with curiosity.

“Well, as you know, our family holds them in very high regard. But even then, there are some people on these lands that feel differently.”

“I...see...”

They were still monsters, and so it was not surprising that people still feared them. But even if they were not monsters, people had their own likes and dislikes. Similar to how some humans did not care for cats or dogs.

“Up until now, Silver Fenrirs and humans did not have anything to do with each other. All we had was the legend. But now that more people are meeting with Leo... I have wondered... Thankfully, people in Ractos are mostly receptive. But it would be different in other places.”

“That’s...true. Things went smoothly in Range village and Bleiyu village. But there is no guarantee it will always be like that.”

“Yes. But if your suggestion about the stations is realized, then people will have more opportunities to see fenrirs. So spreading stories like Walter could be helpful.”

These children would eventually grow as well. And so it should have a lasting effect.

“We cannot force people to change. But talking to them may change their mind a little. And then the fenrirs will be able to help people more.”

“Though, most people would be scared to ride them at first...even Walter was.”

As for me, I did wish that Walter’s stories were a little more friendly... And not just about Leo or Silver Fenrirs. Stories that made the fenrirs seem more cute, for instance.

Still, it was not a bad idea.

“Bye-bye! See you again!”

“Let’s play again, Liza!”

“Yes, lets!”

“We’ll be back!”

“Wuff-wuff!”

Just as the sun was starting to set, we said our goodbyes to the children by the entrance.

Everyone had so much fun, and they were all smiles while waving their hands...

“Alright then. Let’s go back to the west gate and return to the mansion from there.”

“Yes. It should be dinner time when we arrive... No, maybe a little earlier than that?”

“Well, it will be a little faster when riding on fenrirs.”

“Ugh...”

“It won’t take long, Walter. Hang in there.”

“Yes, it’s so comfortable. You should enjoy the ride more.”

We talked while making our way to the west gate.

And while Walter walked with heavy feet, Cheryl and Chita tried to encourage him...

Chapter 1072

We left Ractos and returned to the mansion

“Let me down!!”

“Yes, yes. Please calm yourself, Mr. Walter.”

“Hey, don’t move so much back there!”

After reuniting with the fenrirs, we departed from Ractos.

Walter’s screams and Keith and Aloysius’s frantic voices rang in my ears as we made our way back to the mansion.

“...Papa.”

“What is it?”

“No, it’s nothing.”

Visiting the old house had probably brought back many memories of Mr. Reyndorf.

Perhaps she was thinking that something like that would happen again with me.

Playing at the orphanage had lifted her spirits somewhat, but leaving them had likely made her feel lonely again...

We arrived shortly after, thanks to the speed of the fenrirs, and I returned to my room.

Chita and the others had left our belongings there, and I watched as Liza put away the rest of her allowance.

“Ah, that’s right. Liza.”

“What, papa?”

“Wuff?”

I took the thing out of my pocket.

“Here. Leo ripped the last one, right? So...if you put it away, it should be fine.”

“Ah, it’s the same one! Thank you!”

I had ordered it while Liza and Tilura were looking around at Mr. Haines’s store.

It was the cloth that she had bought with her allowance.

“Wuff! Wuff!”

“No, Leo. That really was your fault. Don’t play with it again and rip it, alright?”

“Wuff...”

After that, Liza stored the cloth in the puzzle box, along with the money, and played with it for some time.

Apparently, this was fun, as it opened differently.

Shortly after, Ms. Gelda called us for dinner, and so we went out into the garden.

On the way, Sebastian approached me, and so Leo and Liza went on ahead.

“Mr. Takumi. I have finished with teaching those who stayed in the mansion.”

“Teaching...? Uh, thank you.”

They had stayed in order to learn more about me and the mansion. Sebastian must have been very happy to be able to teach them.

“I will have to do the same with those who went with you today...”

“Yes, of course. Um, how was the reaction?”

“Most were satisfied. Some were confused at first. Thankfully, they saw you with Leo and how you used the Gift.”

That was the best way to persuade someone, I suppose... It was a good thing that I showed them.

“By the way... About the slums...”

“Hmm... I did get a report from Aloysius. While there are things to consider...what he said to Lady Tilura is not wrong. Besides, I do not think she will take his advice and act in a way that will cause trouble.”

Sebastian agreed with him, and felt that servants should help and support their masters.

And that meant helping Claire and Tilura accomplish what it was they wanted to do.

Chapter 1073

Leo, Liza and I went to sleep

“Indeed. Well, she might act impulsive sometimes.”

“Hopefully, she will confide in us first... By the way, Mr. Takumi. After seeing you for a while now, I know that you are not the kind of person who acts selfishly or is too impulsive...but for the most part, it can apply to you as well.”

“Ah... Well, I am going to hire servants soon.”

“Indeed. There is only so much that you can do alone. Though, you do have Leo, and may not like relying on others too much. But you should know that the servants are always happy to help you.”

“Haha...I will keep that in mind.”

I was definitely not used to relying on servants. So there was a part of me that did not like asking them to do things... And Sebastian seemed to have noticed it.

“Also, you must choose from the candidates soon.”

“Yes... Well, my mind is mostly made up.”

While there were still things I didn't know, I now had a decent idea in regards to their personalities and abilities.

The trip to Ractos had helped as well.

“That is good to hear. I look forward to seeing who you choose.... But I do not recommend Walter at all. He is so useless when riding on fenris...”

Sebastian grumbled with a sigh.

He was very harsh when it came to his son. I could only chuckle. Though, I did not feel like Walter was useless at all.

Though, Sebastian clearly knew that. He had once said that Walter could be the house steward if he had the drive.

Indeed, it was not good how he would shut down after riding on the fenrirs... But I had a feeling that he would become invaluable in the future....

Well, I would have to give it some serious thought.

It really was getting to the point where I had to make a decision...

Later, after finishing my training and taking a bath, I returned to the room.

“Alright, Leo. Everything alright?”

“Wuff.”

“Mama is so fluffy...”

Liza and I were leaning against Leo.

“Now, just pull of the blanket...”

“Thanks, papa.”

“For what? I just thought it would be nice to sleep against Leo for a change.”

“Haha.”

“Wuff.”

Leo was warm enough, but I decided to use a large blanket, just in case.

Leo wagged her tail happily. She had already forgotten about the horrible bath earlier.

Though, I didn’t want her to get too excited, as we were about to go to sleep.

When she was still a Maltese, I often held her and fell asleep... But now it was like the opposite... but it seemed like such a natural thing.

“Oh, Liza has already fallen asleep. Well, it was a busy day.”

“Wuff...”

As I thought back to old times and petted Leo to calm her down, I heard Liza’s breathing softly in her sleep.

Though, her ears twitched occasionally as if she were listening to us.

Indeed, she had cried so much that she nearly lost her voice over Mr. Reyndorf...and then played a lot at the orphanage. So she would be exhausted...

Chapter 1074

A servant selection meeting was held

“Hmm...”

The next morning, I was deep in thought while sitting on my chair with arms crossed.

“Mr. Takumi. Why don’t you rest for now?”

“...Indeed. I think I will take a short break.”

At Ms. Lyra’s words, I stopped staring at the documents and stretched my stiff limbs.

As I was deciding who to hire today, I had decided to stay in my room for as long as possible... In fact, it was probably the first time I had stayed in my room this long.

As for Liza and Leo, they were with Tilura in the gardening, helping her with training.

The actual servant candidates had gone out for a ride with the fenrirs. Claire and Sebastian were likely with them.

Right now, it was just Ms. Lyra, Ms. Gelda and Milina who were in the room... In other words, the three who would be coming with me.

“Ah, thank you, Milina.”

I bowed as she put a cup of tea on the table.

“I suppose that a head butler and head maid should be selected first?”

“Yes. Of course, it is not a strict rule... But it will make things easier to organize. Especially when you hire more people.”

“Yes...”

I took a sip of Milina’s tea, which was quite good.

It wasn’t as good as Ms. Lyra’s, but she had improved, so it was important to praise her.

“Considering age and ability, I would want to choose Alfred... And that would mean hiring Jane as well. But I’m sure she wouldn’t mind...”

“In fact, those two would be a good fit for head butler and head maid.”

“That’s true. I am definitely considering Alfred for that position. But as for the head maid...”

“Do you have some kind of problem with Ms. Jane?”

Ms. Lyra asked me with a puzzled expression. The truth was...

“No. But I was hoping that you would take that position.”

“What? Me!?”

“Oh, Lyra. You’ve finally got a promotion!”

“Well, Ms. Lyra is very capable, unlike me.”

While Ms. Lyra was shocked, the other two seemed very happy for her.

“Oh, not me. It is much too early for me. Even Ms. Emelia would be better suited.”

“Perhaps, if you’re only looking at experience and ability... But you are the one who has been helping me ever since I came to this house. You know us very well...” s

“I am happy to hear that...”

Ms. Lyra was very modest. Indeed, Ms. Jane and Ms. Emelia had likely been working much longer than she.

But as Sebastian had said to me...it was best to choose someone who was easy to work with. Someone I could talk to casually.

Besides, Leo and Liza were used to being around her, and she helped them a lot.

Of course, working as the head maid would likely be quite different...

But even with that considered, I still felt that Ms. Lyra was the right person for the job.

Chapter 1075

We discussed selecting servants

“Ms. Lyra. Are you against being head maid?”

“No. While I am not sure that I am right for it...it is not as if I don’t want...”

“Then it’s decided. Well, I will talk to the others about it first. But it’s my opinion that you should be the head maid.”

“...Thank you.”

While it might sound a little forceful, if she didn't mind, I wanted her to have the position.

"I'm so happy for you, Ms. Lyra..."

"Milina? What's the matter?"

"No... It's just that I wish that I could also be more useful..."

"You are useful enough. And once the herb fields are ready, you will help with making the medicines."

"About that... I was also thinking that it would be nice to help you and Leo and Liza."

"But weren't you saying that it was your goal to study herbs and medicine? Didn't you want to be useful to everyone, and help all of the people in need?"

In fact, that had been the reason that I hired her.

"Hah..."

"...Uh, do you have something to say too, Ms. Gelda?"

"No, not really... I make too many mistakes at work, and I need to fix that. But if I can't...I don't know what I'll do..."

"Ah... Uh, hahah...right..."

Hmm... I had no idea what kind of advice I could give her.

In the end, I was listening to their troubles more than resting. Regardless, after finishing my tea, I went back to the matter of hiring servants.

“Well, tentatively...I’ve decided on Alfred and Ms. Jane.”

“Yes. There should be no problem.”

“After that...”

While looking at the documents with the detailed lists, I selected the others.

With advice from Ms. Lyra and the others, I was mostly decided on Keith and Chita.

“Why not Mr. Aloysius and Ms. Cheryl?”

“Hmm... When going to the slums, I was impressed with Aloysius’s knowledge. But I think he would be more useful if he stayed here.”

“To help Lady Tilura?”

“Yes. Considering the matter of the slums, he would be more useful to Tilura than me.”

“Indeed, he will be able to give advice to Lady Tilura. Though, he is not from Ractos. But most of are.”

“Yes, as long as she asks people who are from Ractos as well. On the other hand, there are not many people who have experienced what he did. So he could be quite valuable personnel for Tilura..”

After Liza and Deam, I was starting to be associated with the slums. However, after leaving for Range village, it would likely be Tilura who had a stronger tie to the place.

“I understand your thoughts on Mr. Aloysius now. And what about Ms. Cheryl?”

“Ms. Cheryl is...”

She was the one who had very strict views on her job. As if it was a duty. Something she must do. She kind of reminded me of how I used to be. And I had thought about it hard, but...

Chapter 1076

I thought about each of the candidates

After Aloysius, I was asked about Ms. Lyra.

She was like me. Always thinking that you needed to work hard at the company, and how you had just been hired, and could not quit and inconvenience others... That mindset had affected my health... Several times.

Of course, I could keep an eye on her to make sure she didn't overextend herself. But then I realized that there were a lot of reliable people here, so there was no need to worry.

They would not be like my old boss, who would force us to do impossible tasks. Or make us work without being able to rest.

In that case, a place like this would offer her more and better opportunities.

While I did not mention my old company, I explained what I could to Ms. Lyra and the others until they were satisfied.

"And then there is Mr. Winfield..."

Liza and Claire had thoughts about him.

However, nothing else had been brought up since then. No problems at all...

"I did not sense anything...he is a hard worker."

"Me as well."

"I feel the same... It's only Liza and Claire who seem to feel differently. But..."

“Yes. Lady Claire is the one who hired most of us. And so if she has thoughts...it would be best to take them seriously.”

“That’s true.”

“There are times when Lady Liza notices small things that we do not. Like if someone seems a little down...”

Sometimes, she did seem more sensitive to the emotions of others.

It probably had to do with being a beastkin.

Regardless, if there was anything seriously wrong, the others would have noticed as well.

Besides, he had been selected by Mr. Ekenhart himself. Still, I would not make a decision in regards to him yet...

“And the others...”

There was Gilbert and Walter.

Gilbert was the youngest out of the butlers, and close to my own age... And while I had no issues with his abilities, it seemed best for the youngest to stay at this mansion.

“And then there is Mr. Walter...”

“Hmm... If he wasn’t so scared of fenrirs, his wealth of knowledge would be very useful.”

“Though, I did not like how he seemed to be judging you at first, master.”

“But Lady Claire recommends him. In order to help Mr. Takumi with his knowledge...”

“Yes. Because there is so much that I still don’t know about in this world...”

Walter was the last one, and we all thought hard.

“Not only is he very knowledgeable, but after what happened at the orphanage, I think that I would like to choose him.”

“The orphanage... Ah, he was telling the children a story.”

“Yes. A story he invented on the spot. And the children listened to him quietly.”

If he stayed in the mansion, there would be no children around aside from Tilura. So perhaps he would be more useful in Range village, where he could tell stories to the children there?

“Well, that has nothing to do with his work as a butler... Also, there is the matter of Sebastian.”

“Mr. Sebastian is usually a pleasant man. But when it comes to Mr. Walter, he can be a little scary.”

“While he might scold us a little when we fail, he is especially hard on his son...”

Chapter 1077

I moved on to selecting the other employees

“Indeed, he forces Walter to ride on the fenrirs when he does not want to. Sometimes, it feels a little extreme.”

“With most people, he seems to enjoy some light teasing. But it’s quite different with Mr. Walter. And so perhaps it would be better if they were not in the same house...”

In the future, if they hired new servants, they would see how Sebastian was more strict with Walter.

That in itself might not be a bad thing. But perhaps they would not like to see Walter treated differently. It could be seen as a kind of favoritism.

On the other hand, if Walter decided to go against his father’s wishes, it could create a rift... Though, Sebastian would likely crush any opposition.

“Well, it’s not like they will never see each other if he goes to Range village. Perhaps occasional visits is the right amount of distance for them.”

While I still had to check with the people in question, for now, I finished choosing the servants.

“Hah...that part is done.”

I put down the document and let out a sigh.

While I made the decisions, there were a lot of discussions with the others, which was a little tiring. I drank some more tea and rested.

“Next is the people you will hire to work in the fields of Range village.”

“Ah, yes...”

After resting, I was considering going to the gardens to check up on Leo and the others, when Ms. Lyra put a new stack of documents on my desk.

It was the list of potential employees, including both those I had met, and those I had not.

“For now, Ms. Delia and Mr. Peter will definitely be hired... Uh, this one looks promising?”

“This person has no farming experience, but would be suited for simple tasks.”

“Ah, what about this person? It says that he has helped to concoct medicine before.”

“This man was born close to the main house...”

Like that, we looked through the document and picked the ones that seemed promising, and shared our opinions on them.

I had a feeling this was going to be a lot harder than expected...

“Papa! Come over here! Feri and the others are going to do something interesting!”

“Huh!? Ah, Liza. You should knock before entering...”

“Nevermind that! Hurry up!”

After deciding on most of the employees, the door suddenly burst open, and then Liza entered.

As I had been so focused on looking at the documents, I was surprised by the intrusion. It was bad for my heart. Even Ms. Gelda and Milina were surprised.

“...Well, you have finished most of it. The rest can wait. You will tire yourself out, Mr. Takumi.”

“I’m sorry, Ms. Lyra. Alright, what is it, Liza?”

“They are going to fight! And so I had to call you!”

“Huh? They are going to what...?”

She sounded so happy, so I was confused.

Well, it was clearly nothing serious, judging by her expression. Perhaps they had found a monster to battle?

“Hurry, hurry! Mama is waiting outside!”

“Uh, alright then. Sorry, Ms. Lyra...”

“Not at all. We will clean up here.”

Liza pulled me out of the room.

It was rare for her to be this strong-willed about something... Perhaps visiting the slums and the graveyard had had a good effect on her.

I thought as I nearly tripped in the hallway... She sure had a strong grip...

Chapter 1078

The fenrirs were going to compare their strength

“So, why are you here...?”

“Wuff?”

I asked while climbing down from Leo.

I had assumed that she knew everything, but she tilted her head to the side.

We were currently at the spot where we had once defeated the orcs and trolls.

As far as the eyes could see, it was just fields of grass and a few scattered trees.

Here, the fenrirs were sitting in a row while facing us... It seemed like they were about to start something.

“Mr. Takumi.”

“Claire. Uh, what is this?”

“Allow me to explain.”

Sebastian said as he stepped forward.

Around them, Alfred and a few other servants were also standing. So they must have been going on a ride.

Even Rahle was nearby with Tilura.

“So...you are going to see who the strongest fenrir is?”

“Yes. At first, they were going to see who the fastest was. But since they had to carry us...”

According to Sebastian, it was triggered when Liza happened to ask the question.

Of course, Feri was the leader of the pack, and believed himself to be the strongest.

Perhaps Fen wanted to look good in front of Sherry, as he said that he was stronger now and would not lose.

“I asked Lady Liza to call you, as you might be able to stop them..”

“Ever since Liza left, I was worried that they would start fighting...”

While Claire said it like she was scared, she did not look that troubled.

Even the others seemed like they actually wanted to see the fenrirs fight.

“Hah... Well, it might help them release some stress. If that’s the case, then perhaps we should just let them...”

“Wuff-wuff!”

“Mama says it’s important to exercise!”

“Yes...that’s why we let them run...”

They were similar to wolves, who lived through hunting in packs.

But something had to be done right here, right now... And judging by the looks of Feri and Fen, it would be difficult to stop them.

Leo would probably be able to stop them, but they might voice their dissatisfaction later.

“Uh... First of all, no magic! If you used magic, it would put everyone else in danger!”

“Wuff! Wuff?”

Leo was saying that she could block the magic for us, but the rule would still stand.

I really did not want them to go all out.

“You may not be able to avoid minor injuries, but don’t go too far!”

We decided on other rules after that. Like not targeting specific areas like the eyes.

Any minor injuries or scratches could be healed with Loe, but I still wanted them to hold back.

“...Why is Riruru and Sherry here? I thought this was between Feri and Fen?”

“Grau? Gau-gau!”

“Kyau!”

For some reason, they were also sitting in the line as if waiting.

Apparently, while they were not as pumped up as the other two, they also wanted to fight.

However, it seemed less aggressive, almost playful...

“Grau-gau-gau! Grau!”

Riruru moved her front paws and barked.

I suppose she was trying to explain the situation to me... But I had no idea what she was saying...

Chapter 1079

Sometimes, they liked to place bets

“...Liza, what are they saying?”

“Um...”

I then had Liza interpret for Sherry and Riruru.

Apparently, Riruru was going to use this opportunity to teach Sherry some fighting techniques.

Sherry had grown quite a lot. When we had first found her, she would not have been able to keep up with the others when they ran.

I thought she was very cute, and we could still pick her up. But she would eventually reach the same size as the others.

“By the way, what do you think about them fighting, Riruru?”

“Grau? Gau-grau.”

According to Liza, she was saying that Fen would win.

Well, I suppose she was a little biased.

“No, I don’t mean your prediction of the results...”

“Gau?”

She looked at me questioningly. I was wondering how she felt about them fighting like this in the first place.

However, after this was explained to her, I discovered that she did not think much of it at all.

Like it was a stupid game that was beneath her.

“Wuff!”

“Gurr!”

“Grau!”

After talking with Riruru, the two other fenrirs faced each other while Leo turned to them and barked.

“...Even from here, you can feel a kind of pressure.”

“Yes... Both Feri and Fen are so serious.”

I nodded at Claire and planted my feet firmly on the ground so I would not be knocked away while watching.

Even though they would not be using magic, we still had to stand far away in order to not be hit by anything.

“Who do you think will win, Mr. Takumi?”

“Huh? Hmm... Riruru said that Fen will win. But I think it will be Feri.”

Sebastian asked while standing behind Claire.

“I see... And what about the rest of you...”

“I also think it will be Feri. He must be strong if he is the leader of the pack.”

“My bets are on Fen.”

Sebastian then asked the others for their predictions. It seemed that more people thought that Feri would win.

“Now, I will take you chips. I will...bet on Fen as well.”

“Sebastian, I bet on Feri.”

“Certainly.”

“...Huh?”

I saw that Sebastian was going around and collecting money.

Even Claire handed him some.

“What about you, Mr. Takumi? It’s one silver to participate.”

“Silver... Are you sure about this?”

“There is no problem. While the rate might be a little high, we do this regularly.”

“I-I see...”

In Japan, that would be nearly ten thousand yen.

It was definitely expensive for just participating. But I suppose it was because everyone here was related to the duke.

According to Sebastian, they did such things often.

There were some rules put in place. Such as not being able to borrow, or needing to be an adult. But otherwise, it was seen as a little diversion during any competition that might occur.

“Alright, I will join you. As I said before, I’m going with Feri.”

“Yes, certainly.”

Sebastian accepted the silver coin.

Apparently, that was all that was collected, and you could not raise the amount. And the people who won would split the winnings equally.

Well, if they allowed you to bet as much as you wanted, then it would make things more complicated and difficult to calculate...

Chapter 1080

The fight between Feri and Fen began

“Oh, it looks like it’s about to start.”

“Yes...”

After collecting all of the money, Sebastian returned to his spot.

The fenrirs were crouching low as if getting ready to move.

“...Wuff... Wou!!”

“Grau!”

“Gurr!”

After looking at both of them, Leo nodded and barked loudly.

In the next instant, the two dashed forward at an incredible speed.

“Gau-grau!”

“Gurr! Gurr!”

Fen was the first to move.

While running, he jumped upwards and attacked Feri while descending.

However, Feri jumped to the side to dodge the attack. And as soon as he landed on the ground, he jumped towards Feri.

“Grau!? Gau!”

“Gurr...”

Fen had landed with a loud thud, and as Feri snapped his jaws and tried to bite, he jumped back.

After losing his target, Feri slowly turned in the direction that Fen had gone, and barked.

“...Perhaps we should move farther back.”

“Yes. Oh...Riruru?”

Every time they jumped, we felt the vibration from the ground, and a cloud of dust reached us.

As for Riruru, she moved in front of us and lay low.

“Grau.”

“Kyau!”

“Riruru is saying that she’ll protect us.”

“Ah, thank you.”

Apparently, she was going to stop any shockwaves from reaching us.

Of course, she could not protect everyone alone, and so a few people moved towards Rahle.

“Gurr. Gau!”

“Gau!? Gau!”

This time, it was Feri who barked and jumped towards Fen.

And when he did, his paws made holes in the ground, and a great gust of wind blew.

It was a good thing we were hiding behind Riruru... Otherwise, Claire would have likely been blown off of her feet.

Even though he was nearly the size of a horse, Feri’s movements were so swift that I could barely follow him.

It was then that Fen barked loudly and turned around.

“Hmm?”

“Gau!”

“Guur!?”

With front paws on the ground, he kicked back with his hind legs towards Feri.

It must have been unexpected, as Feri was hit in the jaw and yelped while being launched into the air.

“Gau! Gau-wau!”

“Gurr!”

Fen leapt forward for a followup attack. And then he kicked the air and accelerated towards Feri.

However, Feri also kicked the air, causing him to descend more quickly

But while I thought he would crash into the ground...he rotated his body and landed.

In the meantime, Fen also changed course in the air and headed towards Feri.

“...I didn’t know that they could move like this.”

“I’m surprised too...I can’t even follow them now.”

“Yes, I’ve given up...”

Claire muttered, and I agreed.

Though, Leo, Riruru and Rahle were still watching, so they could likely see it...

“Woah...! Thank you, Riruru.”

“Gau.”

For a second, I saw them clash and then the ground cracked and a shockwave shot towards us.

It was a little surprising, but Riruru blocked it with her magic.

“Are they really not using magic...? Thank goodness Mr. Takumi stopped them.”

“I did not think it would be like this. So I’m relieved as well...”
