

Beloved Dog 791

Chapter 791

I was asked to speak to Tilura

“Then what about having Mr. Takumi do it? Lady Tilura seems to be fond of him. She relied on Mr. Takumi while Rahle was away.”

“Yes. I think that might work... Mr. Takumi, I am sorry to have to ask you this...but could you speak with her?”

“Uh...”

Before I could nominate Sebastian, he nominated me instead.

“...Why not Sebastian? I think that is more fitting. You know, he has so much more experience...”

“Yes, I could do it. However, she is not in a good mood right now. And it would not be mine or Lyra’s place to... Not that she is the kind of person to look down on us.”

“Perhaps I shouldn’t be asking you, since it is my fault...but I really do think she will find it easier to talk to you.”

“If you are going to insist that much... I suppose I have no choice.”

Oh, so you will go? Thank you.”

“Well, it’s the least I can do, considering how much you do for me. Uh, can I take Leo too?”

“Wou?”

“Of course. Tilura is very fond of Leo. It might help her.

“Yes. Sorry to get you involved, Leo.”

“Wuff!”

“Can I go too, papa?”

“Hmmm. No, you better stay here with Claire.”

I knew that Leo would help Tilura calm down a little.

But with Liza, it might be a little too much. The place would be crowded. Ms. Lyra was also there already.

“Okay! I’ll stay with sister Claire then!”

“Thank you, Liza. And thank you, Mr. Takumi and Leo.”

“Yes.”

“Wou.”

Just as I was about to go into the mansion with Leo, I suddenly heard Rahle crying.

“Kiii!”

“Ah...”

“Wuff...”

The two Cockatrice fledglings at Rahle’s feet... Indeed, they were the reason for the fight to begin with. We had not talked about what to do with them yet.

“...While you are talking with Tilura, I will speak about this matter with Sebastian.”

“Very well. They seem really scared because of Leo, and almost being eaten...so please be gentle with them.”

“Yes, leave it to us”

“We will not treat them badly. For Lady Tilura.”

“Wou!”

“Kii!”

“Pii!”

“Pii!”

And so I left the little birds to Claire and Sebastian, and headed into the house.

“Tilura. Can I come in?”

“Wou!”

“Mr. Takumi...this is your room. So you don't need to ask...”

“Haha. Well, I just thought it would be polite.”

“Wuff-wuff.”

When I entered the house, one of the maids told me that Tilura and Ms. Lyra had gone to the room that we were using. Regardless, I did not want to alarm her by barging in.

“Sorry coming here without permission...”

“Haha. It’s fine. This is not my house. I’m just being allowed to stay here for now. Anyway, try this. And you too, Ms. Lyra...”

As I had a little idea, I had stopped by the kitchens.

Since the konjac milk tree had been made as a test, I wanted them to try it...

Chapter 792

I gave them the trial drinks

“What is this, Mr. Takumi?”

“I would have brought it if you told me... But thank you.”

In order to help pacify her, I had extra milk and sugar put in Tilura’s tea.

When I told Ms. Helena it was for Tilura, she was happy to bring out the sugar... As for mine and Ms. Lyra’s, there was no sugar inside, which was the original plan.

As for Leo, I promised to give her milk and grape juice later.

“It’s the drink that I was talking about yesterday. While this is just a test, I had some sugar put inside. I think it should taste good, so give it a taste. Ah, you should mix it with a spoon.”

“Okay... Ah, it is delicious! And there is something inside that is quite chewy. How interesting.”

Normally, you would drink it with a straw, but since we didn’t have any, I told her to use a spoon instead.

Regardless, Tilura seemed to like it, and had no trouble eating it with the spoon.

As for me... It was not bad. But definitely not what I remembered... It felt like something was missing. I suppose you needed sugar or syrup.

Ms. Lyra also looked a little conflicted with hers... Like she did not understand why there were chewy chunks inside of her tea.

Well, I was not the person to invent the drink, so I had no answer for that.

“...So, do you feel better?”

“I’m sorry for causing trouble for you and Leo...”

“We don’t mind. Sometimes siblings argue like that.”

After seeing that Tilura seemed quite happy, I tried talking to her.

“Wuff.”

“Thank you, Leo.”

Tilura sighed and leaned against Leo.

And then she buried her face into Leo’s fur and thanked her, just like Liza had earlier.

It almost seemed like she was holding back tears.

“By the way. Claire was wondering about your sword training recently. Is there a reason that you seem distracted?”

“!”

“Wou...”

As soon as I mentioned Claire, she froze and clutched onto Leo even tighter. Leo then looked at me accusingly.

“Uh... I just wondered...is there something else on your mind? I’m not angry that you fought with Claire. I just want to know the reason.”

“...She didn’t send you here to lecture me?”

“Not at all. If anything, you are justified in being angry after that. I think she should have listened more...”

I tried to make it clear that I was on her side. Which was mostly genuine.

I didn’t want to make Claire the villain here, but I understood Tilura’s perspective... And I had said as much in a roundabout way, so I hoped that Claire would understand.

“...I know that I can’t just be saying that I hate studying...”

“Yes...”

“I can train fine when I am with you and Leo...but I can’t focus when alone...”

“And why is that?”

Not wanting to rush her, I waited patiently for her answer.

Leo also sat without moving while Tilura held onto her. And Ms. Lyra waited quietly a short distance away.

“...I’m lonely.”

“Lonely? But even when you are training alone, the rest of us are still in the garden? And you do not study alone either... Is it because Rahle was gone?”

“I was the most lonely without Rahle...but it’s not just that...”

“I see...”

So she was feeling lonely regardless of Rahle being here.

She did not really travel anywhere, and seemed to be with Leo and Liza a lot. So why was she lonely?

If that problem could be solved, perhaps she would be able to concentrate better, and Claire would not have to get angry with her...

Chapter 793

Tilura talked about why she felt lonely

“Do you know why you feel like that?”

“...Because you, Leo and Liza...are leaving...and so is my sister.”

“Oh...”

“Wuff?”

“You are talking about our plans to create herb fields in Range village...”

“Yes...”

“I see... Well, it is true that we will move away from here.”

As we would be relying on Weed Cultivation a lot, I would have to go, obviously... It would not be realistic to be going back and forth all of the time.

As for Claire, she wouldn't even be in Range village all that much, as she would be looking for other villages and towns to sell the herbs. So that meant she would not be able to be in this mansion for too long.

We were already starting to build a house in Range village, which would be like our base.

And so Tilura might feel as if she was being left behind.

I did wonder why she didn't go to the main house with Mr. Ekenhart. But I suppose there were reasons for that.

"I know that what you and Claire are trying to do is important. And everyone isn't leaving because they hate me... But I can't help but feel sad when I think about it happening..."

"Yes, yes... I understand. Especially since you always spend so much time with Leo and Liza... And with even Claire leaving..."

"Yes..."

Tilura was smart for her age, and so she understood the significance of the work that was to be done.

And she knew that it was not because we disliked her.

But she still felt lonely with the idea.

"...That's why you can't concentrate on studying and training?"

"Because when I think about how everyone will be gone soon... I want to spend as much time with them as possible... I know that I can't play all day, but... Rahle was gone up until today. And Claire is always so busy. That's why I always think of playing..."

"So you won't feel too lonely when the time comes?"

“I don’t know if I won’t feel lonely. But playing does help me forget a little.”

After thinking of it like that, it was no wonder she became mad when Claire rebuked her regarding her studies.

“I see. It would help distract you. Especially if it is fun.”

“Wou...”

I nodded in agreement.

Leo looked apologetic, as if she should have sensed it. And so she pushed her nose against Tilura.

I felt partly to blame as well...

I was only thinking about how welcomed we were by the villagers, and how I would have to hire people.

It was the same with Claire and Sebastian. There were many things to reflect on.

After all, if we moved to Range village, that meant Tilura alone would stay here. It should have been obvious to notice.

Not only that, but without realizing her feelings, we were constantly talking about the future and what we would do over there.

And were not thinking about how we would miss her... Well, I’m sure if we did realize, we would have felt sad...

Chapter 794

Leo’s sneeze was effective in lightening the mood

“Yes... I feel sad about going away as well. Don’t you agree, Leo?”

“...Wou...”

“Leo...”

Leo nodded in agreement and poked Tilura with her nose.

It was probably her way of apologizing for not knowing. Or maybe it was her way of showing that they were still together now.

Tilura seemed to understand this, as she gently patted Leo on the nose.

It kind of reminded me of when Liza and Leo first became close.

Speaking of which...

“Tilura...wait...”

“Wa...wa...wa-chooo!”

“Ahhh! Le-Leo!?”

“It must have felt ticklish... Ms. Lyra. Excuse me...”

“No, not at all.”

Just like before, Leo sneezed loudly.

Though, this time she had done her best to hold it in.

But as it was in vain, Ms. Lyra had to clean Tilura with a towel.

Still, I did feel like there was a lighter atmosphere in the room because of it.

“Wo-wou...”

“Ahaha! Don’t worry, Leo. It was because I touched your nose. Still, that was so loud!”

While she was laughing, her eyes were also a little teary. I suppose it was due to the heightened emotions of the past hour.

“Everything will be fine. I can’t promise that you won’t feel lonely, but we will think about what can be done. Won’t we, Leo?”

“Wou!”

“...Mr. Takumi, Leo...it’s too tight...”

“Oh, sorry.”

“Wou-wou.”

I had patted her on the head, and hugged her, along with Leo. Thanks to being distracted, Tilura did not cry after all. It was not necessarily good to hold back your emotions, but I thought she could unleash them onto Claire later.

“By the way, Tilura?”

“What?”

“You have Rahle now. And a special saddle. That means you can easily fly and visit us when you want.”

“Yes, that’s true.”

“While not as fast as Leo, if you fly, it should not take long to reach Range village. After all, Leo can reach it in half a day, and she isn’t even running at full speed.”

“Yes! I will be able to visit all of you! So I can just go every day!”

“Uh...I don't know about every day...”

After all, I doubted they would let her travel alone. So someone would have to go with her each time. Sebastian...no, he couldn't do that.

Also, Rahle would become tired. Well, I suppose that problem could be solved with some herbs.

In any case, I wanted her to consider it as a possible solution.

It would not be enough though...so we would have to think of other things.

Perhaps we could invite children from the orphanage to come to the mansion? Well, there might be problems with that.

“In any case...it should be possible to meet often, or find other ways to keep you occupied.”

“Yes... Thank you, Mr. Takumi. I hadn't thought about that. I was just thinking about playing while I could...”

“Well...at your age, it cannot be helped.”

If anything, it was impressive that she thought to hold it in without complaining.

Regardless, there was nothing I could do alone. So I would have to talk to Claire and Sebastian about it...

Chapter 795

Tilura had calmed down

“Wuff. Wuff!”

“Uh, that’s fine too... But you might get tired. Anyway, we will consider that idea.”

“Wou...”

Leo had suggested that she could run to the mansion at full speed. That way, she could make a round trip in one day.

Though, she could not carry people while running at top speed. Also, I was worried that it would be too much for her.

“In any case, do you feel better now?”

“Yes. Thanks to you, I was able to organize my thoughts.”

“Wuff.”

Tilura nodded energetically. She still seemed a little tense, but I supposed she would be fine.

“Alright then. Let’s go and see Claire, so she can apologize to you.”

“Huh? I’m not the one who is going to apologize?”

“She rejected what you had to say, without understanding. Though...I should do the same. I’m sorry, Tilura. I was thinking about other things, and didn’t notice...”

While leading Tilura outside of the room, I jokingly made a suggestion. Well...it wasn’t completely a joke. It would help to settle this whole matter.

“You too!? Um...yes. And I’m sorry for not talking about it honestly.”

“Yes, now there are no hard feelings. Not that we were fighting... But it’s easier like that, isn’t it?”

It wasn't about who was wrong. They were both just getting emotional. And so they should be able to make up if they apologize.

I did not want them to be like this, as things would be awkward.

“Mr. Takumi, I could apologize even without that!

“Ahaha. That's true. Yes, you are able to apologize. But you should remember this. Though it doesn't always work. But if you realize that you are wrong and apologize, people will forgive you most of the time. Of course, if it's more serious, then a mere apology won't be enough. But for just an argument, it should be fine.”

“Yes. Thank you.”

“Wuff?”

Leo looked at me suspiciously, as if she knew I was just quoting someone. But I ignored her.

While she had looked very uncomfortable during the argument, it seems like she was listening to me and Sebastian earlier...

As for Ms. Lyra, she just stood there and smiled.

“Kyau...”

“Haha! That tickles!”

“Hehe. Sherry likes to be pettered here. I suppose it is here for Liza?”

“Uh...Claire?”

“Oh!”

“Ah, it’s papa and mama!”

“Kyau!”

When we returned to the garden, I saw that Claire was rubbing Sherry’s stomach with one hand, and petting Liza’s tail with the other.

I almost felt bad, disturbing them now... But I called to her with Tilura. Claire quickly returned to herself and turned to look at us while getting up to her feet...

Chapter 796

The sisters made up

“...Wuff.”

“...See, Leo?”

“Mama!”

“Wou!”

Liza rushed to me, while Sherry rushed to Tilura. Well, it was more like a jump. But Tilura managed to catch her.

Leo was a little sad that no one went to her.

“Tilura? Well...”

“Claire...umm...”

Claire and Tilura were now facing each other and seemed awkward.

I suppose they were not used to apologizing to each other.

I was starting to wonder if they needed a little help. But then Sebastian suddenly appeared behind Claire.

“Lady Claire was quite sad, thinking that you hated her, Lady Tilura.”

“Se-Sebastian!?”

“Hoho. You were wondering if she would forgive you if you apologized. And if you could play together... But then you said she would probably have more fun with Leo or Rahle... I think you should just say such things without hiding it.”

“...I...I didn't say any of that...well, I did, but... You can't just repeat it!”

Sebastian was being quite ruthless.

While he was probably right...it also looked like he was doing it for his own amusement.

In any case, it was best that they talk, or he would continue to tease them.

“Well! Claire. And Tilura. Come on now.”

“...Yes.”

“Fine...”

Ignoring Sebastian, I called to them encouragingly.

“Tilura... I'm sorry. I should have asked you about what you were thinking. Instead of just saying no.”

“I am sorry too. I didn't think about you, and just did what I wanted. I should have talked to you about it first... I'm sorry.”

“Yes...we both did not talk to each other honestly up until now. And so from now on, I will try to listen to you more.”

Well, it looked like things would be fine.

“Good. So you’ve made up now. How about you shake on it?”

I put their hands together to make them shake.

“Hey, Mr. Takumi?”

“Mr. Takumi is so forceful. But thank you.”

“Tilura... Yes, thank you. Hehe. When was the last time we held hands, Tilura? We used to do it all of the time when you were smaller...”

“You always held my hand because you were afraid that I would run off somewhere!”

“Oh, was I? Well, back then, I was trying to be like mother. Still, I will always be your older sister. And so I will not leave you. At least, not for a long time.”

“Mr. Takumi said that too. And with Leo and Liza...and Rahle. They won’t all just leave me!”

“Wuff!”

“Kii.”

“Pii?”

“Pii?”

The Cockatrice fledglings were still confused about what was happening... Well, they were taken here. And then Claire and Tilura started arguing. And now they were fine again. It was no wonder they were confused.

Chapter 797

We talked about what to do with the Cockatrices

“Pii. Pii?”

“Pii. Pii-pii?”

“They are rather cute, now that I look at them carefully...”

Apparently, the Cockatrices had decided to take a different approach, and were not appealing to us with their cuteness.

They looked like pigeons, and tilted their heads to the side and walked around.

“Hmm. So they eat grains. Not meat or vegetables.

“Yes, Sebastian. That is what Rahle said.”

“Kii.”

Tilura had been speaking to Rahle, and she relayed the information to Sebastian.

Grains...

Well, you could get wheat easily here or any other village. And it was not expensive.

So that would not be much of a problem.

“Kii-kii. Kii!”

“I understand! Uhhh, Rahle says they cannot fly very much, so they will not escape. Also, they don’t have the ability to petrify yet. So they are just like any other birds.”

As she said this, the Cockatrices beat their wings as much as they could. But they could barely fly harder than Tilura’s head.

That meant they could not go over the wall that surrounded the house.

“Well, with Leo, Rahle and Sherry around, I don’t think anyone would even think they were dangerous.”

“Indeed. They seem scared. Even the guards here could handle them. The servants as well.”

“Pii!”

“Pii!”

If you took out the petrification ability, they had no way to fight at all. Especially not at this size.

While I talked to Claire and Sebastian about such things, the two birds perched on Tilura’s shoulders, and they rubbed against her.

They sure were desperate.

“After seeing them like this, no one could consider eating them...”

“And it is too late to take them back...”

“Pii!”

“Piii!”

“They said that they don’t want to go back.”

“Well, they would just be food for the other monsters if we took them to the forest now...”

Liza was able to understand them, and interpreted for us.

“Yes. Now that they are here, we cannot abandon them. I suppose it would be best to take care of them here...”

“Wou!”

“Kii! Kikii!”

Said Claire, and Leo and Rahle agreed.

“That being said, does anyone know how to raise them?”

“While we know they eat grains...I suppose they can be left alone in the garden?”

“Kii-kii!”

“As long as they do not cause any trouble, I suppose that is fine. And they can be washed if they get dirty...”

“Like taking a bath?”

I wondered how they felt about washing. They might hate it like Leo...

“Pii?”

“...Pii?”

“Uhhh... They say they prefer sand.”

“Kii! Kii!”

“Pii!”

“...Is Rahle telling them to be glad they didn’t get eaten?”

“Yes, Mr. Takumi.”

I just had a hunch, based on the situation.

Still, sand...huh...

Chapter 798

Where to find clean sand

“Sand... I suppose that won’t be difficult. But where should the sandbox be built?”

“It cannot be in the middle of the garden.”

It was where Leo, Liza and Sherry played. Also, Tilura and I trained in it as well.

Also, we were planting herbs as part of my research with Weed Cultivation.

Hmm...? Weed Cultivation?

“Uh, I was just wondering... The sand just has to be clean, right?”

“Pii-pii.”

“They say it should be dry and smooth.”

“Hmm. Dry and smooth...”

That was easy to understand. It did need anything else inside.

“Do you have an idea?”

“Over there. There was plenty of sand that I didn’t know what to do with.”

“I see... What remains after using Weed Cultivation.”

“Yes. I think we should test it out.”

As plants grew at a ridiculous speed, they absorbed all of the nutrients from the soil.

And this caused something like a small desert to form.

In any case, we all went to the spot, and I took the Cockatrices down from Tilura’s shoulders.

While they looked a little scared, they seemed to realize that this was preferable to being handled by Leo or Rahle, and they quieted down.

“Pi! Pipii!”

“Pipi. Pii!”

“They seem to be having fun.”

“Kii.”

“They like it, papa.”

“Indeed...”

“Wuff-wuff.”

“Kyau?”

“Is there something different about this sand, since it was made with Weed Cultivation?”

“It does not look that different. But perhaps it is related somehow.”

The Cockatrics immediately started to bathe happily in the sand.

They rubbed it in their feathers... It seemed like it was mostly about drying off and removing bugs.

Leo looked like she wanted to play inside as well. But I stopped her. She could play with Tilura and Liza later.

Sherry was also watching curiously.

“Pii-pii?”

“Pii?”

“Pii! Pii!”

“Hmm? What is it?”

The Cockatrices seemed to be talking as if they just noticed something.

“Ah, that’s...Leo?”

“Wuff?”

“Pii-pii.”

They tried to walk towards the field of herbs.

And so I was about to stop them from going, but then Leo pulled me by the sleeve.

As if to say that it was fine, and that I should watch.

When I looked around, the others seemed worried as well. Only Liza, who understood what they were saying, was fine.

Well, I trusted Leo, and decided to just watch.

“Pi?”

“Pii-pii.”

“Did it eat something...bugs?”

“Wou.”

The Cockatrices moved among the plants and seemed to be pecking at something. And on closed inspection, I saw that it was bugs.

“Now that I think about it...birds do like them... Rahle?”

“Kii!”

“Rahle hates them.”

“I see... Well, the Cockatrices seem to enjoy them.”

“Pii!”

“Pii-pii!”

I watched them run happily around the field and eat the bugs. They were surprisingly helpful.

“Hmm...it is usual for bugs to appear near plants... But they are good at finding ones that would escape the human eye.”

Apparently, the butlers would occasionally help to remove them...

Chapter 799

A role for the Cockatrice fledglings

Plants made with Weed Cultivation were sometimes picked immediately, but the ones that were left sometimes attracted bugs... But then again, they also tended to wither quickly, which did not leave much time for the bugs to gather.

“With the other plants around the mansion as well, the servants kept an eye on them for bugs... But perhaps we have an alternative now?”

“Indeed. But there are only two, which is not much... But I suppose they can protect some of the plants. And they are able to do it without damaging anything.”

“Pii. Pii.”

“Piii!”

While watching them patrol the fields, we decided to ask Rahle about the Cockatrices.

Of course, Tilura and Liza interpreted, as did Leo.

Apparently, they were considered cleaners among the monsters of the forest. And adult Cockatrices were able to eat very large bugs.

As they ate bugs in the ground, their beaks also helped to soften the soil, making it easier for trees to grow in the forest.

And so if Cockatrices were there, the trees grew well. And so some monsters left them alone.

Though, that did not include monsters that were hungry, or monsters like Rahle.

Obviously, orcs and trolls attacked them as well.

Regardless, after hearing all of this, Sebastian wondered if they could not be used for farming. But it would be difficult to catch them. And they were unlikely to listen to what we said.

And so it was unlikely.

“So, it’s decided then?”

“Yes. It should be fine if Rahle keeps an eye on them. And they won’t require much attention.”

“Indeed. They will wash themselves if you put water out. Same with the sand. If anything, they can be helpful with the herb fields.”

We would build a small shed for them to sleep in and stay dry when it rains. And during the day, they can patrol the fields and gardens and eat bugs.

They would not fly away or hurt any humans. Especially with Rahle nearby.

“That’s great. You can live here without worry now.”

“Pii-pii!”

“Pii!”

“...They really seem to like Tilura.”

“Yes. I suppose it was because she defended them from the beginning.”

The Cockatrice children were chirping happily again as they sat on Tilura’s shoulders.

Perhaps bird-type monsters just liked her? Well, Leo and Sherry did as well. And there were dogs in Range village. Perhaps animals and monsters liked her?

“Well, if they will watch the plants around the house during the day, there will not be much time to play.”

“Yes. I guess she can just play with them when playing with Leo and the others. ...So, there is no need to reject Tilura’s way of thinking.”

“Ahaha. Yes.”

I had told Claire and Sebastian what was on Tilura’s mind.

Sebastian had already guessed at it. But Claire was like me, and hadn’t really considered it.

And so she was rather apologetic now.

However, she was now watching Tilrua and smiling. And I was sure that the same thing would not happen again...

Chapter 800

The Cockatrices were named

“Hmm...what to do...”

“Hey, papa? Was Liza’s idea bad?”

“No, not exactly... But I think you don’t need to choose every time...”

“Wuff...”

“Tsk. Leo sighed... Well, I can’t criticize others when it comes to giving out names.”

After the decision was made concerning the Cockatrice fledglings, we ate dinner outside, and then I returned to my room and pondered.

There was a reason for this.

Liza and Tilura had suggested that we name the Cockatrices. And then there was the issue of familiars.

Naming monsters would result in a contract. And so it could not be done so lightly.

But then I wondered about Liza naming the fenrirs. Though, it turned out that it was different with beastkin.

So I thought, what if someone else thought of a name, and Liza was the one to name them? And so Tilura and Sebastian had ideas, but Liza decided first.

And while it could be taken back, they then asked me to think of a name instead.

Though, Sebastian already knew that I was no good with names.

Not that Liza was any better. But since I had no confidence in it, I started to think we should just stick with the first idea... However, it was late, so I would tell Claire and Sebastian tomorrow.

“Alright, we will go with your names then, Liza.”

“Yay! Cokka and Triss!”

“Y-yes. Fine.”

“Wou.”

If Liza was happy, then that was good.

Leo was nodding as well.

“We will tell the others about it tomorrow then.”

“Yes!”

“Wuff!”

And so we left the room and went out into the garden.

I had not done my swings today yet... As Tilura had that fight with Claire, she was resting today.

Apparently, she was going to spend time with Claire and Sherry... I hoped it would help with her feelings of loneliness.

“...They seem to be getting along. I almost forgot how Rahle had brought them here.”

“Rahle’s wings look warm.”

“Wou? Wuff.”

“Of course, mama is the warmest.”

“Wuff!”

“Let’s talk a little more quietly. Or you will wake them up.”

“Okay.”

“Wou.”

When we reached the garden, Rahle and the Cockatrices were sleeping peacefully near the herb fields.

Perhaps this was Rahle’s way of repenting...

“Alright, time for bed.”

“Yes!”

“Wou?”

“Hmm...I’ll sleep with mama!”

I trained quietly so as to not disturb their sleep, and after taking a bath, we returned to the room.

Liza then hugged Leo and looked very satisfied. Perhaps they were influenced by Rahle.

Well, Leo was warm, so she wouldn’t even need a blanket.

And like that, we quickly drifted off to sleep...

The next day, Liza announced her names for the Cockatrices, and Sebastian looked disappointed, just as expected.

It really wasn’t a serious matter though.

Besides, Cokka and Triss spread their wings happily when they heard the names... So they seemed to be fond of it.
