

Chapter 17 Stay With Me

The door of the room that Katherine was opened and Donna walked in with a drink in her hand, she handed it over to Richard who was unbuckling his belt.

Donna had seen Derick go inside Katherine's house multiple times and she has started to suspect that something was off. She was scared that Derick might eventually find out whom he really had a night stand with seven years ago. Derick didn't seem to have any problem with Katherine but if Derick watch what is about to happen now between Richard and Katherine, he will definitely dislike her and stay away from her, believing she's still having an affair with her ex husband.

Donna was the one who helped Richard to infiltrate the military base during this period cause actually, civilians are not permitted to enter the military base from 6PM in the evening.

Moreso, Donna is trying all within her ability to set Katherine up to be deranked. She hated the fact that Katherine has of higher rank than her. That's a big slap to her face. When everyone sees how shameless Katherine is, they will protest for her be deranked or for her to be transferred back to Eastern Ocean City.

Richard received the drink from her and asked, "what's this for?"

"If you really want to fuck her to satisfaction, take this drink. It will aid you to perform better on bed," Donna said. She had already set a secret camera in the room that will record everything.

Also, the camera had been connected to her facebook live and Instagram live. Once Richard gets into the act, all civilian and every military officers will watch the surgeon General having sex with her divorced ex husband. That way, she will be shamed and be a subject of ridicule forever.

Seven years ago, alongside Sharon, they set her up to be fucked by a stranger and ruined her. They didn't expect that she will rise back, but what if she rises back? She, Donna, will always bring her down again.

"Leave and close the door," Richard said to Donna. She nodded and walked out.

Richard deliberated on whether to take the drug. What if he takes the drug and loses consciousness of himself. Unlike before when he trusted Donna, he can't fully trust her again. As for the sex, he can have sex without having to use drug.

He dropped the cup of wine on a table that was right beside the window and immediately pulled off his belt. While he was pulling off his trouser, Katherine turned and saw him undressing. She understood what was about to happen.

It was taking her lots of strength to stay conscious. An ordinary civilian would have lay like a dead person on the bed but she still kept on struggling to stay awake. It was a painful struggle but she will never let this bastard touch her again.

When Richard was left with only a boxer, he walked towards the bed and suddenly received a kick that sent him to the ground. He screamed in pain cause the kick was hard.

Katherine got down at once and ran to the door with all her strength, but as soon as she opened the door, she saw Donna standing by the door.

Apparently, Donna was waiting by the door so she can know through their sounds if they have started having sex. She didn't expect to suddenly hear loud screams.

Thinking that Donna must be the one behind this set up, afterall, she was the one who set her up to be fucked by a stranger seven years ago, she grabbed her hair and kicked her inside then locked the door from outside on the both of them.

But this was where her strength could carry her to, Katherine fell to the floor and totally lost consciousness.

Whereas, Richard was so angry that Katherine kicked him and escaped. He had picked the drink that he abandoned out of anger and sipped it in. To his surprise, his manhood hardened like a rock and his urge to have sex increased vehemently.

It was at this time that he saw a woman being thrown inside, not minding whom the woman was, he grabbed her and threw her to the bed. Unfortunately for Donna, while she was being thrown inside, her thumb had mistakenly pressed on the button on her phone that will connect the live camera to her Facebook live and Instagram live.

"Richard, have you gone mad? It's me Donna." She shouted.

"Who cares!" He ripped her cloth in anger. His manhood struggling to pop out of his boxer.

She tried to push him away but he wouldn't budge. He was so violent and just wanted to have sex.

Whereas, in the lounge where the welcome dinner party was being held, whispers and rumors had been going on about what was happening on Donna's Facebook account. Since Donna was a senior officer, most junior officers present didn't dare to talk loud but resorted to whispering amidst themselves.

Surgeon General Wendi was eating some cakes on her table merrily when her assistant whispered the rumors to her. She immediately brought out her phone and went to Donna's Facebook account only to see a violent man trying to have sex with her.

"Oh my gosh! How shameful!" She exclaimed bitterly for her dear friend. Isn't Katherine supposed to be the woman being fucked by this man. How did Donna ended up being a victim? Wendi was stupefied.

The rumor spread quickly like wildfire out of the lounge and soon reached the ear of the god of war. He was having a very important night meeting with the Grandwar masters and the Grandwar kings when Alessio informed him.

"Excuse me, officers!" He said and brought out his phone, he was stunned to see the profane scene going on live. Everyone in the world would see his fiancée being fucked by another man! Not only will this bring shame to Donna, it will also bring shame to him.

For many years, he had maintained an upright reputation and there had never been a scandal to his name. What is this woman trying to do?

"We will suspend this meeting to same time tomorrow," he said and stood at once then walked out with Alessio.

The Grandwar masters and Grandwar kings were shocked at the sudden adjournment. What they were discussing was important but also urgent as well. But no one dared to say a word but to quickly disperse from the scene.

Derick was already inside a car and Alessio was driving him speedily to the military lounge, once they arrived there, he stepped down at once and walked quickly inside.

This time, almost everyone in the city had gone to check Donna's Facebook account. Some media houses even chirped it in their news. Once Derick's presence was made known in the lounge, everyone suddenly had their heart in their throat.

The lounge was bigger than many hotels and had 280 extra large rooms. It was one of the rooms that the welcome dinner party was being held. The entire building became dead silent as soon as Derick entered.

Alessio following behind him.

Alessio soon located the exact room that the profane scene was taking place. Once they got before the room, he noticed an unconscious body on the floor. Looking closer, he realized that this person was Katherine?

"Alessio, save the woman inside," Derick commanded and carried Katherine from the floor. He couldn't carry her out through the main entrance cause then, people would be wondering why he was carrying her when he could call the medical officers to attend to her.

But if anything happens to this woman, his mother will be unhappy about it. So he has to ensure she's safe. As he carried her through the backdoor, he kept wondering how she could get in that position. Did someone hit or did she just slump? And why was she before the exact door that Donna and a man were fornicating?

He soon got by the car and he placed her gently in the backseat, when he was about pulling back, Katherine pulled him back. She regained her consciousness slightly when she felt someone carry her from the floor. She had no idea whom this person is and she didn't have the strength yet to struggle out of the person.

But the person's scent was so alluring. Once she felt like the person dropped her somewhere, she reached out to grab the person.

Derick was stunned to see Katherine act in this way. The man's scent and aura was making the drug in her more effective, she was feeling horny and helpless and she couldn't help it. She pulled him even further to her chest.

"Are you alright?" Derick didn't resist her pull, instead, he watched her strange reaction closely. This time, he noticed her moist pink lips that yearned to be kissed.

He hadn't recovered from the guilt of fucking Donna without her consent years ago, he must never fall for this again.

"Stay with me," Katherine suddenly bursted out when she noticed he was now pulling his body away.
