

Chapter 39 Mom, Dad!

The following day, Katherine walked inside DERS hotels, this was by far the biggest hotel in the city. The most expensive hall there was being occupied by guests of Mr. Wayne's banquet. Mr. Wayne and his wife, Mrs. Kate were holding a banquet here today and they had specifically invited a few notable people in the city to celebrate with them.

Katherine had never intend on going before but she changed her mind and even asked Julie to get her an invitation card so that she can have access in. She has her reasons for changing her mind. She was also well aware of what awaits her in here.

As soon as she stepped inside, she walked towards one of the tables but was immediately sighted by Julie who was seated side by side with Sharon, "she really came. Look at her." Julie said to Sharon who was busy drinking and eating fried chicken as at the time.

Sharon looked to the direction of Julie's sight and indeed sighted Katherine, "what ordersity! Is she out of her mind?"

"She sure is, I can't wait to see what Mr. Wayne and miss Kate would do to her," Julie said.

"Shouldn't we inform Mrs. Kate that Katherine is here already, there are many people present here, she may not see her until the banquet is over," as soon as Sharon finished suggesting, a voice sounded close to them.

"Mrs. Julie, Mrs. Sharon, how are you?"

Julie and Sharon looked towards the direction of the woman that just spoke and saw Mrs. kate.

"Oh miss Kate. Good evening," the two women greeted respectfully.

"I'm glad the both of you made it here, enjoy your meal," Mrs. Kate said, she had been going from tables to tables to greet those who had come to the banquet.

"Mrs. Kate," Sharon suddenly stopped her and she looked at her.

"Can I help you with something, Mrs. Sharon?" She asked.

"Erm... Have you seen that woman over there?" Sharon pointed at Kathrine. When Mrs. Kate saw her, her expression became furious.

"Isn't that Katherine? How dare she step her foot to my family's banquet. She's definitely looking for death," she said and stormed away from them and began to walk towards Katherine's table.

Katherine stood at once and began to walk towards the toilet while Mrs. Kate followed wordlessly. Kate suddenly lost sight of her as soon as she entered the female's toilet.

"Bitch, where are you, step forward?" Kate shouted angrily then Katherine stepped forward.

"I didn't kill Charles. I was framed and I have prove. I also know whom the true killer of Charles is. I came so that I can meet you in person and tell you," Katherine spoke immediately.

Looking at Katherine closer again after many years, Kate couldn't help but wonder why she she had a very close resemblance with her. She even bore some similarities with Charles. Perhaps, Katherine's similarities with her is just a coincidence.

Many years ago, she had wanted to look into why Katherine had the same resemblance with her and her son but it was during that time that she killed Charles so she dropped the idea and sent her to prison.

"You! You made me childless and you still have the mind to talk?" Mrs. Kate was very angry at Katherine.

"Mrs. Kate. Even the best police officer could be wrong in his investigation. You can't be absolutely sure I'm the murderer of your son." She added, "I'm the surgeon General now and I have more than enough, so it's not like I'm here to curry your favor, far from it. I'm here to talk to only make you see things in the right way." Katherine said.

"I'm not interested in whatever you have to say, I'll get you beaten up," she threatened and placed a call across to the head of the securities outside.

"Send five strong men to the female's toilet now, there is someone that needs to be dealt with," she said into the phone.

"On it, ma," the head of security said then she hung up.

"Miss. Kate, did you hate me that much?" Katherine asked.

"I hate you with passion. Seeing you makes me remember my murdered son. Everytime I see you, I will always inflict pain on you." She said. "Just wait for the men to come and watch how you will be beaten mercilessly."

After she finished saying this, five tall and burly men appeared. They were dressed in security uniform and had batons in their hands.

"I'm the Surgeon General of Aurora Island, I won't advise you all to make a move," she said.

One of the five burly men laughed, "I don't give a fuck who you are. You have offended Mrs. Kate and you must suffer." The man then shouted, "beat her up."

Four men charged at Katherine and in a few seconds, she sent them lifeless to the floor. Her kicks and punches were so strong, they were as mighty as that of a mountain.

The last man standing was shock, he couldn't make a move, he looked at mrs. Kate and said, "Mrs. Kate, shall we bring more men over?"

Even Kate was amazed at her fighting skills, she shouted on the man, "get away from here."

The man sped off quickly.

"Get out of this banquet. I don't want to see you and don't ever appear before me again," Mrs. Kate said and turned, but as she walked away, her long hair accidentally hung in a nail.

"Ouch!" She winced in pain and managed to pull her hair off the nail, "who put this nail here?" She screamed in anger even as she stormed off the female's toilet.

Katherine walked up to were the nail was and wanted to remove it so that someone's else's hair won't get stuck in it but she suddenly saw Mrs. Kate's strands of hair on the floor. She bent and picked it up, while holding the hair with a hand, she forced the nail out completely from its hole with the second hand.

What does she needs her hair for? She then decided to go and throw it in the dustbin and leave the banquet since Mrs. Kate wouldn't give her a listening ear.

As she walked towards where the dustbin was, she suddenly heard some women laughing, "Mrs. Kate must be dealing with that bitch right now."

"Hahaha... I heard Mrs. Kate is ruthless. I'm sure she will at least make her loose one of her arms." The second woman laughed.

"Mrs Kate will never know she's her daughter... For the rest of her life, she will keep thinking of her to be the murderer of her son. Not knowing that she's her biological daughter," the first woman, who apparently was Julie said.

Katherine was shocked to hear that. Her heart crawled slowly to her throat and she freezed on the spot. Did she heard what Julie said, right? Is Julie not her mother? Is it Kate that is her mother? How? But she grew up in Julie's arms...

Her mind then trailed to Kate's hair that was in her hand, she sped out of the hotel quickly and once she entered the car, she drove over to the hospital. In a few seconds, she was already in the paternity test department. She had the paternity test result done in no time. She waited anxiously for the result.

Could she have heard rightly? Katherine had a lot of thoughts and questions going through her mind. At the end, the doctor who performed the DNA test walked up to her and handed the test result to her.

On receiving it, she was shocked at the result. She stood at once and furrowed her brow in shock. Turns out Kate is her biological mother, uncontrollable tears flowed down her cheek. She forgot that she was in the public. She immediately left the hospital and ran inside her car. When her mind trailed back to how Kate had ordered the security guards to beat her, her heart ripped apart in pain.

Does that mean Charles is her brother? Julie killed her brother and made it look like she was the one who did the killing. She should have known that Julie isn't her mother, she had treated her with hatred all her life.

She couldn't help the tears that kept falling off her eyes. Should she show this result to Mrs. Kate? Can she believe her? Katherine then drove back to the hotel but they wouldn't let her in.

So she waited at the underground garage of the hotel until it was the following morning when the banquet came to an end. When people started trooping out, she waited by a side, waiting to see Kate.

As soon as she sighted Kate and her husband, Wayne, who should be her father. She ran to them but the securities guarding them stopped her.

"Mrs. Kate, I have something to show you...please have a look," she was referring to the DNA test result in her hand.

"Hubby, this is that insane woman. I'm surprised she's still lurking around," Mrs. Kate told Wayne.

"Are you daring us because you are the Surgeom General? You wicked murderer, don't tempt me to order a thousand men to beat you to death," Wayne added angrily, "that you can easily beat four men doesn't mean you can beat a thousand men. Get out you heartless woman!" He shouted at her.

Tears dropped down her face as she saw Wayne shouted on her. Kate also shot her a very disgusting look. She watched with a sorrowful heart as the security men lead Kate and Wayne to their car. As their car and the cars of their escorts drove away, her mind dropped into a bottomless abyss.

"Mom, dad!" She mumbled sadly, crying like a baby.
