

Chapter 47 Coleen May Be A Suspec

When it was 10PM in the evening, Derrick became greatly worried about Katherine's whereabouts. He had watched Katherine leave the supreme house around 4PM, she should have returned to the base since. Why would she stay this late out at night?

He then stood and went to Samantha's room, on getting there, he knocked. The room opened in no time, Samantha's eyes were very puffy as she had been told bedtime stories to the kids for three hours before they eventually fell asleep. Samantha trains as a soldier and performs daily tasks given to her by her superiors and at the same time, take a good care of Katherine's kids so she barely have time to rest.

"Did Katherine tell you where she went to? Or when she would be back?" He asked.

"Marshall!" She saluted first of all and then spoke, "she did told me she was going on a dinner date with Coleen, one of the generals."

"Well, it's after 10PM and she's not back yet, did you think she will come back soon?" He asked.

"After 10? Katherine doesn't stay late. Something may be off," Samantha said, "excuse me, Marshall?" She rushed to the bathroom and washed her face then came back but Derrick already left her doorstep.

She rushed out and saw him walking out of the house.

"Marshall!" She ran after him. Derrick paused and after she appeared, she said, "why don't we check if Coleen is back?"

"I already told Alessio to bring Coleen for me." He said.

"Got it, sir." Samantha said and secretly await the presence of Alessio. She has a crush on Alessio, no doubt but even her knows that it can't go beyond crush. Alessio is just like his master, Derrick. They seemed to be so work oriented that they never think about women talkless of having feelings for them. They were equally good at one thing, killing. And their hearts is only occupied with one thing as well, war. These people looked like ones that can never love anyone until they die.

Derrick's mother even died yet he didn't grief her at all, Alessio had also lost his younger brother in battle once upon a time but there was no tears that came down from his face. These men were without doubt heartless.

A few minutes later, Alessio drove over in a power bike then stepped down from the power bike. Samantha became very nervous nonetheless saluted him, "General!" Alessio was a lieutenant general with three stars while Derrick was a five star General. Derrick occupied the highest ranking in the military and that's why he's popularly referred to as the god of war.

A god of war is literally one that had won at least five wars for his countries and occupied the highest rank in the military.

Alessio eased Samantha, he only glanced at her then set his gaze on Derrick, "Marshall, Coleen is in the medical building, he's badly injured."

"What happened to him?"

"I found out that there was a robbery attack in Mam restaurant where Coleen and Katherine went to eat. A few people were injured while a few were kidnapped. Others were left unharmed." He answered.

Derrick's eyes ignited at once, "If Katherine is not injured then she's obviously kidnapped."

"My guess, sir." Alessio answered.

Could her kidnap be random or did someone intentionally set the robbery up just to have her kidnapped? Derrick thought to himself. Could it be Richard? Richard seems to be her only enemy. But what if he's not the one? Different thoughts filled his heart. He needs to find Katherine as soon as possible.

Meanwhile, Katherine was seated in a beautiful bedroom but she was tied up to the bed. Her hands and legs were tied to the pole and a man was standing right beside the bed, this man was Richard.

"Did you think I'll let you go for killing my father?" He asked with a very angry look. Then he suddenly placed his hand in his belt, unhooked it and removed it from his waist.

Katherine could already see the bulge in his trouser, her heart skipped when she thought of what he's about to do to her, "what are you about to do?" She asked fearfully.

"What does it look like? It's not like it's our first time of having sex. It's been so long I tasted you, I want to have a taste of you again before I think of what next to do to you," Richard said.

"You are about to rape me, Richard. Don't even dare." She warned. She then tried to free herself from the heavy rope that tied her hands to the bed.

Richard then pull off his white shirt, his bare body that used to look adorable to her in the past now looked disgusting, he didn't find him enchanting like she used to in the past. She spat towards him and said, "you dog!"

"Feel free to call me any name but at least, I'm not a murderer like you. In the name of revenge for how I divorced you for sleeping around years ago, you killed my father. Yes, call it raping, I don't care." Then he pulled down his pant trouser leaving him with his short boxer.

The bulge on his short boxer became very obvious, she could see how it's charging hard, obviously ready up to drill any available hole.

This mustn't happened, Katherine thought to herself and looked around, trying to see what she can use to escape but there was nothing in sight.

"There is no escape route here, bitch," he said and suddenly walked towards the window, he opened the curtain and saw heavy rain pouring.

"Oh. It's even good that rain is falling," he said and walked to the edge of the bed, "did you remember how we always have sex during the rain? The sex always hit different. I'm about to make you experience one." He smirked.

"Grrrrr..." Katherine gnashed her teeth in anger, trying to forcefully free herself from this godforsaken ropes but it was impossible.

Richard scoffed at her and took her hand towards her legs, all of a sudden, his phone chirped. He stood and went to pick it up, seeing that it was Donna, he answered and said, "what's it?"

"I found this out late, sorry. But Derrick and his assistant had left the base for the past twenty minutes. I think they must be searching for Katherine," she said.

"They can't find her here, don't worry. They can search all they want," he said.

"Richard, are you sure? You don't want to underestimate the ability of the god of war," she said.

"Donna, don't call me after this cause I'll be busy fucking a bitch," he said and hung up. Then he walked out of the room and peeped through the front window of the small house that he was. He had taken Katherine to the suburb of the city and he believed that it will be Impossible for anyone to find her here.

Seeing that there was no one in sight, he turned to begin to walk inside, all of a sudden, he heard a loud kick on the door. With a palpitating heart, he turned and watched as the door came crumbling down. Two tall and fearful men walked in, they were Derrick and Alessio.

How in the world did they find him? How were they even sure he was the one that kidnapped Katherine. These bastards are fucking smart indeed, he thought to himself and suddenly made his face devoid of fear.

"Why are you here and why do you break down my door? Military men shouldn't go about bullying civilian," he said.

"If I find Katherine here, I'll have to end you here," Although Derrick spoke calmly, his words were full of powers and it made Richard's heart skipped. What does he mean by ending him here?

"Well, Katherine isn't here, sorry. Please leave, I'm only taking a rest here," as soon as he finished speaking, a woman's scream came through.

Derrick recognized the voice at once to be that of Katherine, when Alessio was about to run to the direction of the scream, Derrick stopped him.

"Make sure he doesn't escape," Derrick said and walked over to the room the scream came from. He opened the door and saw Katherine tied to the bed.

"Katherine," he ran to her and immediately began to help to loosen her rope. The rope were so hard and strong that it was taking him lots of efforts and time so he brought out his dagger and used it in cutting the ropes from her hands and legs.

Then he helped her up from the bed and drawled her closer to himself, "your ex husband again?"

Katherine nodded sadly, she didn't like the condition that he found her.

"Can I ask if he touched you?" By touching, Derrick was referring to sex, he could not have mentioned sex bluntly, he thought it may make her feel embarrassed.

"No, he was just about to," Katherine understood the hidden meaning behind his words. Standing closer to him now, she could perceive his scent, not only was his scent so enticing and attracting, it was familiar. As if she had perceived that scent somewhere in the past.

She looked small before him but she didn't mind anymore, infact, she even liked it that way.

"What exactly happened? I need to know now before I know what to do with Richard," he said.

"I was in the restaurant with Coleen when all of a sudden, he stood, saying that he wants to go and ease himself. We were already done eating then so my expectation was for him to come back so we can leave the restaurant, all of a sudden, I started hearing gun shots. I had to fall to my knees like others in surrender but I suddenly heard steps approaching me then I was suddenly made to sniff in a toxic substance." She paused and added, "then I woke and found myself here."

"The robbery was Richard's set up but Coleen... I think he's a suspect too." Derrick said.

Katherine thought, indeed, why will the robbery attack happen when he went to ease himself? Was that why he kept telling her to wait after they had finished eating?

