BENEATH HER DARKNESS: The Alpha's Little Demon Chapter 11

011 – I'm Taking Her Home

LUCY.

Beast growled, opening his mouth so wide that his breath was blowing on me. I pinched my nose with my two fingers and giggled as I waited for him to stop with his growling and began teasing him.

“Your breath stinks. Who did you eat? Alpha Ethan?” I asked in a low voice before I reached for his head way above me and patted him gently. “Good boy... Now Alpha Stone can't give me to him.”

I had no idea why I was telling him this when I knew Alpha Stone could hear it too. Well, he knew I didn't want to be with Alpha Ethan, but I just wanted to make it clear.

Beasts whimpered before he started licking my face again, and my hands went to his jaw, trying to hold on to him because he was slightly pushing me backward. He has a strong, hard tongue, and I wondered if Alpha Stone had one as well.

Oh, the things he could do with a strong and hard tongue! That would be amazing.

I was still reveling in my dirty thoughts of the Alpha when, all of a sudden, my hands moved on their own, almost falling into my front if I was not able to catch myself because the jaw I was holding on to shrank. The next thing I knew, I was cupping Alpha Stone's jaw while he was licking me with his eyes closed.

I smiled and counted to five before I opened my mouth to speak.

"Alpha..." I tried to soften my voice.

"Hmmm..."

"Do I taste nice?"

"Hmmm..."

He continued to lick me, and to be honest, I was enjoying it. I couldn't stop the giggles from escaping my lips when his tongue swiped over my throat. His eyes suddenly snapped open and widened before he scrambled to back away from me.

He was already standing in front of me in an instant. His hard cock pointed up and was just a few inches from my face. He brushed his hands over his hair, a scowl written on his face as he glared at me.

Shit! Do something! I wanted to see more of his dick, but I knew I shouldn't. So, I covered my face with my hands and hoped that my cheeks were turning red already.

Soon, I heard footsteps moving away.

I slid my fingers apart so both my eyes could see through them, and my gaze immediately fell to his perfect ass as he walked away in the direction where his Beta was.

This man was too perfect! But he was grumpy and had mood swings – not that it would be a problem. I was sure I could handle that. I would rather have a man more wicked than me.

A man for me.

I let my hands fall to my lap as I stared down at them. This was not good. I was letting my lust take over me. I had goals. I wanted my mate. Not him.

“Take the Omega.” I heard him tell his Beta.

“Are you sure? She has no wolf. You don’t need her.” Beta Collin’s voice was respectful but determined.

My head snapped up to look at them. And then everything blurred. I couldn’t hear what they were discussing but my eyes watered. It felt like my heart was being crushed.
When was the last time pain like this took over me?

A decade ago – when Mom died. All of a sudden, I felt alone. My hand reached for the necklace I placed inside the jacket’s pocket and gripped it tightly as if it could help lessen the pain of being rejected.

BETA COLLIN.

I think coming here was a bad idea. I thought everything was going according to plan. I just wanted an Omega for the Alpha so he could have an heir soon. And after that, we would let her go since the Alpha had no plan of taking anyone as his Luna.

But why did we end up with a wolfless female?

That fucking means she wouldn't get pregnant. And I doubt if Alpha Stone was not aware she didn't have a wolf. I was sure he could smell her being wolfless and yet he bought her.

"What's wrong if I don't have a wolf?" The Omega asked, and she sounded.

scared.

But I didn't have time to reply when the Alpha's voice rang in my head.

'Motherfucker, I told you to look at me!' He was growling, and I felt the color drain from my whole body the moment

my head tilted to look at the middle of the arena.

I was so lost in my conversation with the Omega that I didn't realize both Alphas shifted into their wolves, and this meant fucking trouble.

'Is Alpha Ethan dead?' I asked, my gaze trying to see if he was still breathing as he lay on the arena floor.

'No! My wolf has no fucking interest in him! Take the Omega out of here now!' His words were cut off by a loud growl, and I was guessing Beasts didn't like that he ordered me to take the Omega away. 2

Fuck! Fuck! Fuck!

"Run!" I bellowed, and for Goddess' sake, I hoped this Omega was smart enough to understand what was happening.

I leaped from my position and let my wolf, Brutus, out. I tried to block Beast from reaching the Omega, but the Alpha's wolf had no intention of stopping.

Instead, he slammed his body into mine.

with such full force that my wolf flew to the other side, landing with a loud thud.

I scampered on my paws, grateful that I landed flat on the ground and, despite the pain, I felt nothing was broken. I rushed back to where Beast was. Three other males had shifted into their wolves and were trying to block him, but Beast was in full rage. He wasn't attacking to kill, which was strange, but he was dodging and trying to get away from them.

'Alpha!' I tried to reach his mind, but he wasn't responding. He might be using all his energy to restrain his wolf.

Soon, I was back on my paws in front of Beast. He snarled at me before he leaped and bumped his big body into mine again.

'Motherfucker, Adan!' I growled at the Alpha in my head, because this time I slammed into the wall and it hit my back hard.

Beast was able to get away, and I wanted to run after him, but he hit me hard this time.

After a while, Adan finally connected with my head. He said the Omega was safe and that Beast had no intention of hurting her.

And I thought when he said that, it meant Beast didn't go after the Omega and probably went out to the forest to run. So imagine my surprise when I went out to check where Beast went and found him licking the Omega like he was a tamed dog.

"Take the Omega." The Alpha told me as soon as he was just a few feet away from me after I saw him lick the Omega in his human form.

'Are you sure? She has no wolf. You don't need her.' I told him, wanting him to be aware of the female's condition.

I handed him the clothes that were given to me inside before I went to find Beast.

He grabbed the shorts hastily and grunted in a very low voice as if he didn't want anyone to hear. "Did you fucking see how he tamed my wolf? I need her for Beast."

"Are you aware from the get-go that she doesn't have a wolf?" I asked in a low voice as well.

"Yes."

“And yet you bought her.”

“Are you fucking questioning my decisions?”

“I brought you here to find a female who will bear you an heir, and yet you purchased a female who has no chance of becoming pregnant. What the hell is wrong with you?”

“Shut the fuck up! I think you forgot who's the fucking Alpha here!”

“Come on, Adan! I'm talking here as your friend! We need a female capable of being pregnant!”

“Drop it. If you don't want to take her home, fine! But I will. I'm taking her home!” His eyes were dilating and I knew

I lost it.

I get it now why he wanted to take her home because she could tame his wolf, but before he found out that, why the fuck did he buy her for a fucking 1.5 million

Oll—I'm Taking Her Home

when he knew she couldn't get pregnant now or sooner?

I let out a sigh and breezily ran my hands over my hair before I darted my eyes to the Omega, only for a growl to reverberate from my chest.

“Hey!” I shouted at her. “Where are you going?”

But the Omega wasn't looking back. She was just walking away.

“Omega!” Alpha Stone roared, and I thought the whole ground shook, making the Omega halt her step.

She slowly turned around, and I swear I saw her eyes pooling with tears before she blinked them back.

“Where are you going?” The Alpha was already making his way to where she was, which was already near the forest line, leading to a vast forest that connected almost all the packs in this area.

“Out of here. I know you don’t need me anymore. But I’m not going back there. I don’t want to be auctioned anymore. The money you paid for me, just give me some time. I will pay you...”

“So how many fucking installments would that be?” The Alpha stopped ten feet away from where she stood and crossed his arms against his chest.

“I only owe you five hundred thousand.”

“What?”

I wanted to laugh now. I knew why she said that.

“Alpha Ethan will pay the one million. He lost. So I only owe you five hundred thousand.”

Yup. Fucking smart.

“And where do you think you’re going to get the money to pay me that five hundred thousand?”

“I don’t know. But I’ll find a way.”

“Like sell yourself?”

“If I need to, why not?”

“But you don’t want to be auctioned? Come here now. I’m buying you for five hundred thousand, so you can pay me back. Closed deal.” He said it in one breath before he turned around and motioned for me to take the Omega.

“Follow me, Omega. I want to know who the fuck Cesar is.” He added as he stormed off and walked back inside the building.
