

Divorce is the Best Choice by Riley Mccarthy

Chapter 443 - 474

Chapter 443 Feel free to require
Thinking about this, her previously collapsed world was repaired bit by bit.
She looked at Will Gardner and said a more important thing, "When Dad told me about him and Mom earlier, I asked him why he would drink to drown his sorrows when Mom died, and he told me that he and Mom had been a couple for decades after all, although there was no sensational love, the companionship was real."
It was this sentence.
Overturned her previous perceptions.
"They were in love with each other." Will Gardner was more certain now, "It's just that your father confused love with habit, or as I just said, he didn't dare to admit that it was love."
The marriage, each other had a favorite person.
In such a case, even if they were fond of each other, it will not be truly expressed.
"I'll talk to your father sometime." Will Gardner took the initiative to take this task, "To give you a satisfactory answer."
"Okay."
Sarah Yeats agreed.
The two went back and nestled in the sofa to watch TV.
At first, both of them were watching the TV seriously.
Watching and watching.
The atmosphere became sexy with the images on the TV.
In the picture, the main hero and heroine of the film was on the boat passionately kissing, like fire, all the desires being ignited.
Sarah Yeats subconsciously pressed the fast-forward button, wanting to skip this image.
"Press back." said he.
Sarah Yeats had already skipped that clip, feigning incomprehension and asked, "You like to see that image?"
"Like."
"So direct."
.....
She fondled the telecontroller and negotiated with him, "It's already skipped, if you want to watch it, you can slide to it alone after watching it later, okay?"
"You like to watch the coming plot?" Will Gardner's eyelid slightly raised and asked.
Sarah Yeats nodded her head.
Will Gardner also did not speak again.
This reaction made Sarah Yeats doubtful. She felt that Captain Leon was not as the normal.
That was not his normal case
She was thinking about it.
The plot changed to even more sexy than just now.

The characters were having sex
But it was cut at that time.
Will Gardner lips raised, looking at her, "So you like this."
Sarah Yeats,
"..."
How did she know the next was sex.
"Do you need me to help you edit down all the images just now and play them on a loop?" Will Gardner teased her, "I also know a few movies with similar plots, need I to edit down those with you?"
"Have you seen this movie?" Sarah Yeats quickly realized that something was wrong. She knew why Captain Leon was so bashful after asking that earlier. It was because there was a pit waiting for her.
"Don't change the subject." Will Gardner perfectly changed the topic, "You still haven't answered what I just said."
Sarah Yeats, "....."
She decisively clicked the back button and secretly swore that she would never watch romance movies with Captain Leon again.
"Angry?" Will Gardner still had a smile.
"Come upstairs with me."
"Hmm?"
"I want to get you laid." Sarah Yeats's revenge came.
This was what Will Gardner did not expect, "Now?"
"Now." Sarah Yeats had already thought how to tease him.
"Don't think I don't know what you're thinking." said he. "Lead me on, then leave me alone".
Sarah Yeats's idea screwed.
How this can be guessed?
Then she came over and sat on him, looking at him face to face,
"Then will you come for me?"
"Yes." Will Gardner said slowly with low voice.
He had to release her anger.
Otherwise, it's not easy to find her back if running away.
"If you don't mind, this place can also be used as a bed." Will Gardner's hand clasped her waist and rubbed at the position of her tailbone, "Get me laid here."
Sarah Yeats got up and slipped away.
The first thing she did was running back upstairs without looking back.
At this moment she understood a very important thing.
Captain Leon was impossible to have the emotion of shyness.
Will Gardner saw her fleeing, his heart relieving. otherwise he really didn't know what to do just now, and he couldn't really let her flirt, after all, he used up condoms last night.
Sarah Yeats ran upstairs to the room and complained on the group chats.
The idea was that the other two were not reliable at all.
Jacob, [Pumpkin awesome! I was really not expecting you to dare to sleep with Captain Leon.]

Jim, [How was the experience?]

Jacob, [Was Captain Leon ok?]

Sarah Yeats, "....."

Sarah Yeats suddenly did not know how to answer.

It also became clear that these two people were watching the show.

While thinking about this, a text message appeared on her phone.

[I put a credit card in the mailbox outside the villa where Eve Kent lives, I paid for her expenses during this time. I will work hard so that she can marry me freely. –Edgar Williams] After sending this message, Edgar Williams went to Jason Noth. Since he had decided to love, he had to show his attitude.

When he went to Jason Noth and asked him to take him to work properly, Jason Noth's face, which was always cool and indifferent, was more than a little puzzled, "Have you taken the wrong medicine?"

"No." Edgar Williams lost his usual arbitrariness, the whole person was a lot more calm, "Yesterday, I talked to Sarah Yeats about Eve Kent, she felt that I was not suitable to be with Eve Kent, after thinking carefully, I think she was right."

Jason Noth paused.

Sarah Yeats.....

It's been almost two months since he'd heard this name.

"You taught me how to manage a business." Edgar Williams talked to him, good-looking eyes flooded with seriousness, "I want to make some achievements to show my parents and Eve Kent, so they know that I am also capable."

Only when he had the ability can he be qualified to oppose his parents' marriage arrangement.

Only then would he be able to help Eve Kent to be steadfast.

"As for the conditions, feel free to ask." Edgar Williams said generously.

Even if Jason Noth wanted him to help him with free voluntary work for the rest of his life, he would still agree.

Chapter 444 What's in your mind for Sarah Yeats now

Jason Noth's looked over and his tone was somewhat cold, "Are you serious?"

"Yep."

Edgar Williams's attitude was clear.

Jason Noth looked at the document in his hand, but his thoughts had already drifted away.

When Edgar Williams saw that he did not speak for a long time, he urged, "Can you give a quick answer?"

"I can promise you, but my request can not let anyone know except you and me."

Jason Noth was silent for a while before he said these in a somewhat low voice.

Edgar Williams agreed without even thinking about it, "No problem."

"Mm."

"What's your request?"

Jason Noth's pitch-black eyes were flooded with black.
Edgar Williams incidentally made a guess, "You wouldn't want me to break up Sarah Yeats and Will Gardner, would you?"
If so, he definitely can't agree to this.
Not to mention that if Eve Kent found out about this, she would definitely alienate him more and more, but this matter itself is rather wicked.
He was determined not to do it.
He has a daughter.
"Every time you go to visit Eve Kent, help me pay attention to Sarah Yeats." Jason Noth's head was full of Sarah Yeats, the heart being suppressed, "Do not need to inquire too much and ask questions, just say what you would get."
Edgar Williams paused.
He opened his mouth, "You....."
"Yes or not?"
"She already has a boyfriend."
"I know."
"They have a good relationship, the odds are that they will not break up."
"Don't need you to remind."
He knew how much that person loved Sarah Yeats after the day he left New York. Naturally, it was also clear that once the two were together, Will Gardner would not let Sarah Yeats suffer any further harm, letting alone giving him a single chance.
Edgar Williams could not understand his behavior and thoughts, "Then you still"
"You just need to do as I say." Jason Noth's tone was cold, and those eyes had emotions that had been forcibly suppressed, "As long as you promise, I will help you double all of Williams Group's performance this year."
"No problem." Edgar Williams readily agreed.
It's just telling him what he'd seen and heard, not anything unethical.
It's not a big deal.
When Edgar Williams saw the blue of his eyelids and the red blood in his eyes, he patted him on the shoulder, "Don't go to work today, go with me to drink and relax, look how tired you are."
"There are still things to be done."
"Let's talk about it tomorrow."
Edgar Williams did not care about his will, dragging him and leaving.
Chris watched them leave, and he drove a car to follow them, seeing them enter a clubhouse, then he sent a message to Edgar Williams.
Chris, [Mr.Williams, the boss has not rested and eaten properly for almost two months, if possible, I hope you will let him drink less later.
Not having a good rest and irregular diet for a long time was not suitable for drinking alcohol.
These two months.
The boss has already had stomach disease. If he hurt his body by drinking, he didn't know how to explain to the boss's parents.
Edgar Williams finished ordering wine before he saw this message.

After he answered it, he got the staff go to prepare the meal.

This request, made the staff inside baffled, "Mr. Williams, we do not have meals here....."

"Have someone go next door and buy some, it should be light and nourishing to the stomach." Edgar Williams handed the card over and tipped.

The staff immediately went.

Jason Noth was puzzled by his behavior, and his cool voice was like winter water, "You're here to eat?"

"The meal was ordered for you." Edgar Williams also said explicitly, he also noticed that Jason Noth's complexion was not as good as before, "You should have had time to eat dinner. Eat first, so later drinking is not so easy to get you drunk."

"No need." Jason Noth refused.

Edgar Williams only smiled and did not say anything.

The staff soon bought the light and appetizing meals over.

When Edgar Williams handed it over, Jason Noth didn't even look at it, he directly picked up the wine next to it and started drinking it.

"Eve Kent was now living very close to Sarah Yeats, and there was only a villa in between." Edgar Williams was true to his word, talking to him about the conditions, "If you eat this meal before drinking, I can make a few more trips towards New York."

Jason Noth's hand holding the cup stalled in the air.

Only after a while did he fondled the cup and naturally said, "She'll see you if you go?"

"Yes." Edgar Williams said with great certainty.

Jason Noth gave him a disgusted look and just thought he was talking shit.

Edgar Williams added a sentence before he drank, which was also the most important one, "My child was born, and the mother agreed that I could go see October anytime, and this matter also got Sarah Yeats's permission, and she gave me the access card to the villa area."

A simple sentence made Jason Noth stop all movements.

It was as if he had been pressed the pause button, and his entire being stood still.

"Eat your meal first." Edgar Williams took his glass down and handed the meal over, "I promise to bring you back some news about Sarah Yeats every time I go to New York."

Jason Noth didn't answer, just ate the whole meal.

It's a good thing this was in a private room, otherwise this scene would have caused a crowd of people to watch.

"Jason." Edgar Williams was somewhat complicated by his reaction.

Jason Noth's movement of eating was eye catching, and the whole person also maintained that indifference, "Just say if you have something."

"What is your mind for Sarah Yeats right now." Edgar Williams was a little worried about his current state, after all it was really bad, "Is it still holding on to the hope that she will turn back, or is it just aimlessly waiting."

"Neither." Jason Noth knew exactly what he was doing.

He knew Sarah Yeats would not turn back, and he knew that no matter what happened in the future they would not return to the beginning, but the heart was not something that can be controlled if you want to.

Edgar Williams's face was complicated, "Then what do you think."

"Not much thought." Jason Noth did not tell him the truth.

It was only Chris who knew it.

Jason Noth ate and then drank with Edgar Williams. Edgar Williams was in no mood to drink after learning of his state, but he could see that Jason Noth's situation was bad, so he drank with him.

"Will you and Eve Kent..... make up?" Jason Noth asked as he drank his fourth cup.

"I don't know." Edgar Williams was also unclear, just said, "But it does not matter, as long as she was not with other people, I will often go to see her and little October, and always wait for her until she is willing to marry me."

With his understanding of Eve Kent, if it wasn't for that accident back then, she wouldn't have gotten married to him.

As an entertainer in the entertainment industry, she was choosing to marry late, and now if she makes a comeback, she probably won't consider relationships.

The odds were still a little bit better for him.

Chapter 445 Say now that you won't, not afraid that you will regret afterwards?

"Pretty good." Jason Noth said these two words in a slightly muffled voice and then drank the wine in his cup.

If he and Sarah Yeats also have a child as a tie.....

This thought just popped up and was dispelled by him.

It's better not to.

Now it was good.

If he and Sarah Yeats really have a child, it will not change the end of the two of them now, the only thing that may change was Sarah Yeats's future relationship was not very good.

He can't give her a happy and stable life, so he can't ruin her current life.

"You take your time, I'll go back first." Jason Noth put the cup on the table, "Lucas is also in Atlanta, I will help you call him out to accompany you."

"No need." Edgar Williams wasn't in the mood to drink.

Then Jason Noth left.

Edgar Williams felt that something was very wrong with him now.

He sent a message to Chris to inquire.

In just under two months, he felt that Jason Noth had changed to another person.

Chris's reply being very official, the boss's business, he will not casually tell other people, even the boss's brother.

After seeing Jason Noth walked out from inside, he immediately welcomed, "Boss, please get into."

Jason Noth got into the car with him.

As every time before, Jason Noth sat in the back seat and Chris sat in the driver's seat.

"Boss, you can drink some more if you want." Chris saw that he was still sober and added, "I'm waiting for you here, you don't have to worry about getting drunk and not being able to return home."

What said to Mr. Williams before was because he did not eat much.

Drinking with an empty stomach hurts the stomach and body.

But after Mr. Williams told him that the boss had eaten, he was quite relieved.

The boss has not had a good sleep for a long time, so sometimes he really hoped that he got drunk and had a good sleep.

"No more drinks, go back first."

Chris did not say more, starting the car and leaving.

On the way back.

Jason Noth kept looking out the window, his eyes full of thoughts.

Chris hadn't seen him like this for a long, long time, so much so that he made a guess after seeing it, "Boss, do you have something in your mind?"

Jason Noth was silent and did not say anything.

Chris did not ask further questions.

The only noise in the car was the slight tire noise coming from the car tires.

Just when Chris thought his boss wouldn't answer, Jason Noth's dull voice was full of heartache, "She really doesn't want to see me."

"Who?"

"Sarah Yeats."

Jason Noth's voice was complicated.

Chris's eyesight paused, and his thoughts paused for a moment.

For this period of time, he or Serial Lance, no one mentioned Miss Yeats in front of him, for fear that mentioning more would aggravate his condition.

But now.....

Was it Mr. Williams who said something to him?

"She moved." Jason Noth said this with difficulty, "Moved to the villa area."

No one knew what he was feeling when he heard Edgar Williams said that there was only a villa between Eve Kent and Sarah Yeats's place.

At that time he had only one thought in his head, How much she didn't want to see him so she moved.

Was he really..... that annoying to her?

"Just moving, how can it be related to it." Chris thought not as complicated as him, just literally to understand the meaning of the words, "Maybe it was Miss Yeats that planned to live with Will Gardner.”

Jason Noth did not answer it.

He didn't know what Sarah Yeats was thinking, nor did he know the real purpose of her move.

But as soon as he thought that it was possible that she moved because he knew where she lived originally and she was afraid that he would bother her, his heart was like shouldering a huge rock that he couldn't breathe.

“If you want to know, I'll go and ask around for you.” Chris did not want to see him like that.

“No need.” Jason Noth refused, “It doesn't matter anymore whether it was or not.”

The only one who were affected was just him.

He was not important.

Chris did not reply, but he decided to inquire clearly.

If he doesn't inquire, this matter will become a thorn in the flesh, and it will still hurt for a long, long time.

In case it was a misunderstanding.

Wouldn't it be to suffer for nothing?

“Should we ask Dr. Lance to come over tonight.” Chris was afraid he wouldn't be able to sleep all night, “If you don't sleep properly for such a long time, your body really won't be able to carry it.”

“No need.”

“Boss.”

“No need.”

Jason Noth still said the same thing.

Chris was really worried about his health, so much that a sentence came out, “Can you not always do things that you regret.”

“Not listening to me in the past led to regretting divorcing Miss Yeats now and not treating her properly.” Chris this time was serious with his words, really worried about him, “Now do listen to advice, in case meeting someone you want to take care of for a lifetime.”

“It won't happen.” Jason Noth said with great certainty.

“You do not be so sure. Before you mentioned divorce with Miss Yeats, I said you would certainly regret, how did you reply at that time?” Chris deliberately said that to irritate him, “Now you say no, not afraid afterwards regretting?”

Jason Noth didn't speak.

He didn't even want to argue with Chris.

When mentioning the past, he thought of all the stupid things he had done. “Life was long. There was no hurdle that cannot be overcome.” Chris as a bystander to see clearly, “Someday in the future, you will certainly also meet a good lover for life, like Miss Yeats and Will Gardner.”

Jason Noth still did not speak.

He does not know what the future holds, and he only knows that now and for some time after, his heart belonging to Sarah Yeats.

As for why not a lifetime.....

The reason for this was that he doesn't dare to be sure of anything anymore.

Matters concerning feelings and private life, as long as he was very sure of, almost all were regretting.

"Even if you don't think for yourself, you have to think for your family who cares about you." Chris slowly said, looking at him through the rearview mirror, "Once one day you collapse from exhaustion, your parents and elderly grandfather will be anxious deadly."

"You can shut up now." Jason Noth compromised with a cold tone,

"Have Serial Lance come over at 10,30."

"Okay!"

Chris immediately contacted.

When Serial Lance learned about this, he stopped sleeping and rolled over and got out of bed, "Are you sure Jason Noth asked me to come over?"

"Sure."

"Really sure?"

"Sure."

"Wait, I'll come right over." Serial Lance had guilt towards Jason Noth after all, putting on his clothes quickly and going out.

He had not dared to leave Atlanta because he knew Jason Noth would find him for help

Chapter 446 If you are not afraid of being beaten by Will, then do whatever you want. Just two minutes after 10 p.m., Serial arrived.

Chris took him upstairs to the study to see Jason. On the way, Serial started to gossip about Jason, "Did he get up on the wrong side of the bed today?How come I was asked to hypnotize him to sleep?"

Jason had never accepted Serial's idea of hypnotizing him to sleep before.

But today, he suddenly asked for this, which really made Serial confused.

"Boss may finally straighten out his thinking." Chris did not explain too much.

He didn't exactly know what was conversation between Boss and Edgar, but he did hear Boss talking about moving house.

As for the rest.

He had no idea.

"I hope he really straighten out his thinking." Serial was more worried about Jason's situation.

Chris didn't say anything more and took him upstairs to the study, then closed the door after sending him in, leaving the space for the two of them.

Jason was as indifferent as usual.

Serial didn't hypnotize him immediately, but sat on the sofa opposite Jason and said, "An effective hypnosis requires your complete cooperation, so if your consciousness resists, it won't work."

"I know." said Jason coldly.

“Why did you suddenly accept the idea of hypnotizing you to sleep tonight?”

“Because I want to have a good sleep tonight.”

His simple answer made Serial understand that Jason didn't really straighten out his thinking.

Serial sat there in a casual manner, with a few more warmth in his demeanor. “You are tangled in the past, but you and Sarah no longer owe each other. You don't have to keep falling into self-blame because of the past.”

“I did not.” answered Jason with only three words.

He wasn't blaming himself.

He was regretting.

Regretting all the things in the past, regretting that he didn't know how to truly love someone from the beginning.

Serial sensed that Jason didn't want to talk so much. He said, “Get ready, I'll start hypnosis.”

Jason did as he said. He went to shower, and then lay down on the bed in the bedroom.

The hypnosis went very smoothly, and Jason was very cooperative throughout the process. He was so cooperative that it only took about ten minutes for him to fall into a deep sleep.

After the hypnosis ended.

Serial tucked Jason on his bed with a blanket, and made sure he was sleeping steadily before leaving.

Chris had been waiting outside. When he learned that the hypnosis went well, he was slightly relieved.

“I still hope you can persuade him to accept psychological guidance.” said Serial with his nice thin lips, conveying his tenderness and sincerity that had never been felt before, “If he still can't sleep well, he will wear himself out.”

Chris promised him.

But deep down, he knew that no one can persuade Boss to accept any advices, unless Boss could figure out by himself.

“Where is his recent medical report?” Serial was really concerned about Jason's health, “Did it come out?”

“Yes, I just got it when I came off duty, but I haven't had the time to read it yet.” said Chris while leading Serial to go downstairs.

Serial went with him to get the report.

When he saw Jason's current physical condition, he frowned.

Chris was also startled for a moment.

“What happened to him?” Serial looked at the data and the medical condition in a gloomy mood, “He even got gastritis.”

Chris was silent and did not say anything.

For this period of time.

Boss did not eat well. Sometimes he ate nothing, sometimes he would have only one small bite of the dishes.

Ordinary people wouldn't have the physical strength to work if they did not eat properly, but Boss acted normally with full spirit, and doubled his work.

"You can go have some rest." Serial thought that he must talk to Jason, "Don't let Jason work in the next few days. I'll talk to him."

Chris was in silence.

He was tempted to say, "It's useless even if you talk to him."

Boss had always acted according to his own will, even his parents could not persuade him to do anything, let alone Serial.

But he could not say it.

Dr. Lance was clearly going to play hardball with Boss.

"Fine." Chris agreed, in case of troubles, he also added, "If there is something that you can't manage, just call me. I will come in time."

Serial nodded. He would spend the night in Jason's villa.

Jason woke up the next day and saw Serial. He did not say a word at first. After taking a glass of water and drinking for two sips, he said, "You may leave now."

"No rush."

"What?"

"There's something I need to talk to you." Serial sat on the sofa and threw his medical report on the table, "Look at this."

Jason thought it was a business document and took it over. When he saw that it was his own medical report, he paused, then naturally flipped it over. Page by page, he read all the results of the report.

After that, he threw the medical report on the table. He tone was indifferent, just like before. "I read it. What do you want to talk about?"

"There's nothing you want to talk about?"

"About what?"

"What else can we talk about?" asked Serial in reply.

"I don't know." Jason did not want to talk about these things at all.

His eyes were cold. "If there is nothing else you want to say, you can pack up and leave. I've got work to do, excuse me."

Serial stood up and held his shoulders, "Sit down!" Jason was confused.

"It's only been two months, and you already have several abnormal data." Serial was the most worried about Jason's physical health.

"You also got gastritis. If you don't take it seriously, you'll end up in a bad health in less than a year."

He only sleeps for two or three hours of sleep a day, and never catches up on sleep. Irregular diet had also caused troubles to his stomach.

If everybody just left him like this, Jason was very likely to die suddenly one day!

"Nobody knows me better than me." Jason was really aware of his own physical condition, but he then said something exasperating, "I l've no intention to pop off yet."

There were several times he felt pain in the chest while working, and he stopped working and went to rest immediately.

He was not a fool.

He would take his life seriously.

"If you know yourself so well, why don't you look at the index of your heart?" Serial was really worried about that Jason might end up in a sudden death, "From this day on, you must eat well and rest well. If you don't do so, you know the consequences."

Jason looked at Serial in confusion.

As if his eyes was asking a question.

Are you threatening me?

"What consequences?"

"You know them." said Serial firmly and painstakingly.

Jason, who didn't care much about the medical report, answered him naturally, "Well, I'm not so sure."

"If you don't rest and eat well, I'll tell Sarah how you've spent the past two months, and then show her your medical report." Serial threatened. He knew that was best way to control Jason.

Not surprise.

The moment these words came out, Jason's surrounding aura went cold.

Jason looked at Serial. His eyes were like icy water pools. "If you are not afraid of being beaten by Will, then do whatever you want."

Chapter 447 Fighting

In fact, Jason was afraid.

He was afraid that Serial would tell Sarah about this. He was also afraid that he would tell Sarah more things about himself.

He really didn't want to disturb her life anymore.

"Will won't beat me up." said Serial with great certainty. He also braced himself to have a deep chat with Jason. "Start with today's breakfast. If you still won't rest properly, I'll tell her about you."

"Serial." Jason got a little angry.

Serial met his gaze naturally.

As the former heir of a super big family, he wouldn't lose to Jason in terms of aura.

It was just that he was guilty because he did something.

"I know what you're thinking, and I also know that you don't want to bother Sarah with your own affairs anymore." Serial changed a way to talk to him, "But if you continue to be like this, your parents will know it sooner or later, and they will let Sarah advise you to live a good life."

Jason's eyes grew colder and colder.

Mom and dad won't bother Sarah, he was sure of that, but sooner or later, things will reach Sarah's ears.

He didn't know about Sarah's attitude for him, nor did he know what did she really think of him in her heart.

He only knew that...

He could not let Sarah know about this.

"If you dare to let her know, I'll tell your parents about your search for Bella." It was Jason's first time to threaten somebody like this. "And then I'll tell everything I know between you and Bella in your circle."

Once people knew about those things between Bella and Serial, the two of them would definitely be in the middle of public opinion.

At that time.

Something bad will definitely happen.

Serial would never let Bella go through something like that.

“Whatever. I don’t care.” Serial’s answer was unexpected. “My families knew that I left them because of Bella. So I don’t care if you tell everyone about this in the circle. In fact, if everyone knows that Bella is mine, they’ll stop coveting her.”

“What if it ruins her future?” Jason suddenly felt that he could not understand Serial.

“Your words could indeed threaten the person I was five years ago, but things aren’t the way they were now.” Serial viewed life affairs very naturally. “Bella and I now are the gods of the circle, no one wants to go against us.”

When you’re just a ordinary person, some public opinion can crush you.

But when you reach a field that others have not reached, some voices will automatically disappear.

Bella was no longer making money by being a doctor, and neither was he.

If things had to be like that...

He didn’t care about the public opinion whatsoever.

No matter what, he would stand by her side and help her block everything away.

“I hope you can listen to my word of advice, cherish your health.”

Serial spoke to him in a serious manner. “I am a few years older than you, just like a brother. I have experienced the same thing you are experiencing now.”

When he was forced to leave Bella, he was living in hell.

But he got through it.

“Get out.” Jason tried to kicked him out.

“Have some breakfast first.” Serial was clearly trying to supervise him, “I’ll call Sarah now if you don’t.”

The cold air around Jason almost condensed into substance.

Serial and he did not give way to each other.

The two of them stalled for a while, and then Jason walked towards outside.

He made his attitude very clear. He was not going to eat anything when he had no appetite, and he wouldn’t accept Serial’s threats.

However.

Serial was determined to fight with him to the end today.

The moment he left, Serial took out his cell phone and called Sarah, and turned on the amplified sound.

The voice of beep could be heard very clearly in the empty living room.

“Take a guess. How long will Sarah answer the phone?” said Serial slowly.

Jason stopped because of these words, and his feet stood there as if they had been rooted.

The beeping of the phone continued, and Serial did not speak again. He believed that Jason would make the right choice.

When it came to the sixth beep.

Sarah picked up.

The moment the phone was connected, Jason's body went frozen invisibly.

Sarah's voice was as light as ever, and it was clear that her relationship with Serial was not close, "Hello."

"Looking for your help to make a security system." Serial gave Jason a chance and didn't tell Sarah directly about his situation, "The effect should be better than Noths group's. You can name a price."

"Not interested." Sarah refused without hesitation.

How dare he mentioned the Noths group.

If it wasn't for Serial, she wouldn't have had so many incidents with Jason.

They wouldn't be together for so many times from the beginning.

Sarah hung up the second she finished. It was obvious that she didn't want to talk too much with him.

Serial knew the result before he called. He took the phone in his hand and said one last thing to Jason, "Are you sure you still don't want to have breakfast?"

"You think it's funny?" Jason didn't understand.

"What do you mean?"

"I'm letting you go now. The previous agreement is cancelled. And I'll tear up that contract in front of you." Jason didn't want to get involved with Serial anymore. He was really not someone you can deal with. "From now on, you go back to New York immediately."

"I'm not going to leave until you are cured." said Serial.

He also wanted to go back, but it was useless to go back now.

Bella had booked a flight to leave New York a month ago, and her whereabouts were hidden by K, so he couldn't find her even if he wanted to.

He was not going to leave Atlanta for the time being until his staff found out some news of Bella.

Jason's eyes were like the icy water pool being put on an extra layer of frost. "Serial, you should know that I have little patience." "Well, I have a lot of patience." answered Serial in a careless way.

He did not take Jason's anger seriously at all. "At worst, you and I are both lost. My loss is not big deal, as for you... it seems like you won't lose anything, either."

"Maybe it will also make Sarah get back together with you because of the guilt." Serial deliberately said these words.

Jason clenched his fists in a sudden.

Serial sensed it.

Jason has been holding it in for too long since the accident, except for the night he got drunk once in New York, he never had let out his emotions again.

A long-term repression will make someone have psychological problems.

In addition, he did not treasure his health at all. It was just a matter of time of his collapse if he chose to suppress his feelings.

In order to completely irritate Jason, Serial deliberately said words that would stimulate him, "Do you want to pretend to be a terminal patient? I'll tell Sarah that you have been blaming yourself and regretting because of the past, so you did not rest and eat properly, and got a stomach cancer."

"Then I'll let your parents say something similar."

"Just tell her that you are dying, and your last wish is to be able to spend some ordinary and peaceful days with her."

"Maybe in this way, Sarah will be in guilt. She may break up with Will, only to be with you."

"Boom!"

Jason gave him a punch without ceremony.

Serial had expected Jason to have this action. The moment Jason punched over, Serial hurriedly raised his hand to block.

Chapter 448 The knot should be tight.

"Why did you hit me? You think I can't handle the situation?" Serial continued to stimulate him, trying to let all of his emotions out. "Well, I can assure you, as long as I was telling lies from the beginning, K could not find out."

Jason was still clenching his fists, "If you dare to do anything stupid, I will absolutely put your and Bella's reputations to shame."

"You are that angry, huh?" asked Serial.

Jason's eyes were like knives.

The coldness around him reached the extreme at this moment.

"If you don't want me to say anything to her, well then, I won't do it." Serial brought the topic to the point. "As long as you eat well from now on and receive hypnosis and psychological guidance, I promise I won't say a word to her."

Jason did not answer. He went back to have his breakfast on the table.

Serial stood aside, watching Jason's eating. When Jason was finished, Serial was relieved.

Jason finished eating and came to Serial. He was still indifferent.

"Come. We can go to the backyard to have some practices. I need a coach to tell me how to fight."

Serial was speechless.

Do you have to be that serious?

Even though Serial was very reluctant to do so, but in order to adjust Jason's emotions, he chose to follow Jason to the backyard.

Want a fight, huh?

He's not afraid.

As for Chris's side.

Not long after he arrived at the office, he received a call from Mr. and Mrs. Noth, and the couple made an appointment with him.

Chris went to the family mansion of Noths to meet with them. He noticed their solemn faces, figuring that they might have known something.

After a brief opening statement.

Mr. Noth cut to the case, "Did Jason have a full medical checkup a few days ago?"

Chris paused.

Then he answered honestly, "Yes."

"What was the result?"

"Everything is normal."

"We called you here alone to know his true condition." said Mrs. Noth warmly. Her frowning eyebrows showed her worry. "Given his recent life routine, his physical statement can't be normal."

Although this time Jason was still the same as before.

But this weekend, when Jason went back to the old mansion, his spirit was clearly not as good as before. His appetite was not too good, and he seemed to have lost a lot of weight.

"If the report did find something wrong with him, I hope you can tell us." Mr. Noth added.

"He's fine. I assure you." Chris promised Jason not to tell his parents about this, so he could only lied to them. "Although his spirit and appetite are not so good recently, he made sure he got enough rest time, and his office is always stocked with food."

Hearing this.

Mr. Noth and Mrs. Noth knew that Chris wouldn't tell them anything.

Mrs. Noth's gentle eyes darkened, revealing a desolate look.

"Can you show us the physical examination report?" asked Mr. Noth.

"I'll send it over later when I go back to the office." Chris had prepared a fake medical report. It was Boss's instruction. "Please don't worry about him. Boss is fine."

The Noths couple just nodded.

Chris was nervous.

He was ashamed of lying in front of his boss's parents.

But he knew what it felt. If something happend to him, he also did not want his parents to know. After all, in the world of adults, most people tended to tell good news, instead of bad ones.

If you tell them bad things, you could only see them worrying about you, and they couldn't help you solve any problems.

It is better to carry on by yourself.

After the meeting, Chris went back to the company to pick up the fake medical report.

Watching Chris leave, Mrs. Noth's heart was still in worries. "Is Jason really all right?"

"There's no way he's all right." Mr. Noth was telling half truth and half lies. He knew what was the most appropriate way to appease Mrs. Noth. "But you don't have to worry about him too much. Jason's a grown up and he knows how to live his own life."

"I'm still worried..." Mrs. Noth was still not relieved.

"I'll go talk to him tonight." Mr. Noth always treat Jason with freerange parenting, "If there is something wrong, I'll tell you, okay?"

Mrs. Noth could not think of any other solutions, so she could only say yes to her husband.

She knew her son so well.

Though she did not have many conversations with her son after he grew up, she still knew her child very well.

There was something wrong with Jason in these two months.

When Chris returned to the company, he reported to Boss on this matter, then sent the fake medical report to his parents.

Jason made a simple reply to Chris. He didn't worry about this.

The reason was also simple.

Serial gave him medicine.

"One pill a day." Serial gave him a bottle of medicine, only one. "If you are finished, come to me to get a second bottle. If you don't take the medicine in a proper way, I'll go to Sarah."

"You may leave now."

"Remember to take your medicine."

Jason didn't answer.

When Serial left the gate, Jason immediately made a phone call, asking someone to check on Bella.

He couldn't live in Serial's threat for the rest of his life. At this time, he must take the initiative to negotiate with Serial.

Humanity has always been greedy.

If you compromise once, you'll then compromise a second time and a third time.

He had to avoid that in advance.

"Boss, you can ask Miss Yeats if you want to know something about Bella." Chris knew that the relationship between Bella and Sarah was close, so when he got the order to check on Bella, he called Boss immediately. "Miss Yeats should know."

Jason refused.

He would not bother Sarah for unnecessary things.

But...

He thought of the hacker he hadn't contacted in a long time.

He sent an email to the hacker, using the email address which was only for contacting the hacker. Jason said in the email that he had a patient who needed medical treatment and wanted to find Dr. Bella, asking if she could help.

By "patient", of course he meant Serial.

Sarah was planning to sneak away when she received this email.

She was in the garage. She got on the driver's seat of the car and was about to leave. When she saw the email appeared on her phone, she paused for a second and replied, "No results found."

Bella said that this time she was going to travel and relax for a while. She could just be herself during this time.

If so.

She wouldn't care about a patient or what not.

After replying, she was about to leave. But Will stood in front of the car before she could start the car.

The two looked at each other through the windshield.

Sarah's palms began to sweat.

"Want to sneak away?" Will paced up and down to the driver's door and opened it to look at her.

“How did you untie the rope so quickly?” Sarah was a little bit of unease. She didn’t know what Will would do next. “I tied you up. The knot should be tight.”

It was said that Captain Leon would be on a business trip, but last night he suddenly said the trip was cancelled, and he would stay here to be with her for a few days.

She had no doubt at first.

Until she found that he ordered a kind of small box on his phone.

Although that may be simply hoarding, but she still thought that she needed to leave first, in case one day Captain Leon really intended to let her to make up for the lack of diligence, telling her to take more exercise.

If that happened, she would be worn out.

Will was unhurried. He looked at her and lightly raised his eyebrows. “Have you forgotten who taught you the way to tie people up?”

Chapter 449 I know what kind of person will is.

Sarah was silent.

These words sounded so familiar.

Will’s eyes fell on the car keys she had just inserted, said carelessly, “Are you going to get off the car by yourself, or do you want me to do it for you?”

“I need to go on a business trip now.” said Sarah seriously. It’s hard to find a single sign that she was lying. “I wasn’t sneaking away.”

“You wasn’t?”

“I wasn’t.”

“I don’t buy it.” Will did not talk to her anything more this time.

Sarah was very well prepared and already had plan B. “If you don’t believe me, I can call Sivan right in front of you. There is a business collaboration abroad waiting for me. I’ll go with him. He is on his way to the airport.”

Will glanced at both of her hands. She was not holding a communication device, and he found no earphones on her ears.

There is no possibility of making plans at this moment of time.

“There are also contracts and some files for this collaboration in the luggage.” Sarah was really well prepared for this leave, “You can open it up and see it for yourself.”

“How long is the business trip?”

“I can’t say for sure. It might take a week if it goes well, a month if it doesn’t.”

Will’s eyes were still on her.

He was sure that this must be a lie, but she acted so sincerely, which made him ran out of ideas.

After all, Sarah had no reason to sneak away.

And he was not a bad guy.

“Call me before you come back.” Will didn’t ask anything more. His eyes were cold but clear. “I’ll pick you up at the airport.”

Sarah was relieved. “Okay.”

After a while, Sivan came.

When his car arrived, Will’s distant black eyes went darker.

Didn't she said she need to go to the airport?

Why did Sivan come?

While Will was still suspecting, Sarah was not nervous at all. From the words she need to say to the progress of certain matters, all of the arrangements were set steady by her in the morning.

Sivan parked his car nearby, then came over with some documents in his hand.

"Sivan? Why are you here?" asked Will intentionally.

"I came to pick up Boss to the airport." Sivan's face was as cold as ever, "Some files needs to be checked by her on the way." "Wouldn't it be more convenient to check them on the phone?" Will had always been suspicious, but he could not find the evidence, "You can also check them on the plane."

"The files are on the cloud backup, and they need to be networked to check." answered Sivan. His tone was so calm that no one would suspect. "Also, it's better to check the files face to face than on the phone."

While he was explaining.

Sivan had opened the computer and started to talk business to Sarah.

They were talking real business.

Sarah was also talking to Sivan seriously.

Judging from the content of their coverstaion, there was nothing to doubt.

"Rest of the files will be checked in the car." Sivan put his laptop away and said in a businesslike manner, "If we don't leave now, we may not be able to get to the airport on time."

"Okay." answered Sarah.

Sivan helped her get her luggage.

They were very tacit. Will's eyes looked at Sarah for a moment.

"I'll go on the business trip with Sivan first." Sarah came to Will and gave him a hug,

"I'll call you when I come back."

"Okay." Will did not force her to stay.

After all.

He also had to go on an errand.

After watching the two of them leave, Will called someone to book a flightt for him to go abroad.

Sarah didn't know Will's action. After the car drove out of the villa region, she was relieved and became less nervous.

"Boss, you are very afraid of Will?" asked Sivan.

"No." Sarah sat with him in the back seat, while there was a driver driving in front, "I was just simply playing some games with him, so as to encourage affections between us."

Sivan was speechless.

She was definitely telling lies.

And she was definitely afraid of Will.

"He should find out that you lied to him." Sivan told her his observation, hoping that she would be able to deal with it calmly, "What are you going to do?"

"It's normal for him to find out. As long as he doesn't find the exact evidence, there's nothing he can do to me." Sarah knew Will well, "He is a man who cares about evidence.”

Sivan thought there was something wrong in her words, but he couldn't name it.

Sivan decided not to go further on this matter.

On the way, Sivan said, “Then I'll cancel your flight, and let someone else come to pick you up after driving out of the city later.”

“No.” Sarah had already decided, “I'll go on that business trip with you.”

Sivan was really going on a business trip.

That was why she had plan B. Last night, when she saw Captain Leon bought that thing, she called Sivan, telling him that if she had not called him at nine in the morning, use the excuse of checking files, so as to come to pick her up.

Sivan was confused.

He sensitively sensed that something was wrong. “You had a fight?” Wouldn't every new couple want to be with each other every day?

Why did she want to take a business trip?

“No.” explained Sarah. She did not want to hide this from Sivan.

“The engagement ring is about to be ready. I was going to see the sample. If there is something wrong, I can tell them to change.”

Hearing this, Sivan was a little relieved.

He didn't say anything more about Sarah's proposal to Will.

As long as she was happy about it.

“Boss.” Sivan suddenly thought of a problem.

“Hmm?”

“I want to ask you something.”

“Go ahead.”

“If one day, you find that Will is together with another woman, what will you do?” asked Sivan seriously.

“I'll go to them to see what they are talking about. If it's about business, I'll leave them alone first.” Sarah is very rational and won't just mess around for no reason. “If it's something bad, I'll also wait for them to finish first and talk to him afterwards.”

She does not like misunderstandings and does not think that seeing is necessarily believing.

There are many things that need to be said in a clear way.

“Aren't you afraid that Will might cheat on you?” This was Sivan's biggest worry.

“No.” said Sarah with certainty. Her eyes were also flooded with seriousness. “He won't.”

Captain Leon is not that kind of man. He won't do such a thing.

His character determines his style of handling affairs.

Sivan did not know how to describe his feelings. He was rejoicing at her words, but at the same time, he was a little worried.

He was rejoicing at that, after having been through a bad relationship, she could still believe in the one she loves as always, and she was still frank and sincere as before.

But Sivan also worried that she would be hurt by love twice.

At this moment.

His felt really complicated.

“Don’t worry, I know what kind of person Will is.” Sarah saw his emotions through his calm face. She tried to placate him. “If he really does something bad to me one day, my people will punish him for me.”

Chapter 450 This matter is a bit complicated

Captain Leon was the guiding light for them.

They all trusted him, but if he did anything wrong, they would definitely not let him go. Sivan said yes.

They got on the plane together. After they arrived at the airport and got off the plane, they went into the same hotel.

Sarah first took a picture and sent it to Will, telling him that she and Sivan had arrived at the hotel, ready to rest, and asked what he was doing.

Will was at the airport.

He was surprised to see her message when he was boarding the plane. He texted her.

Will, I’m at the airport, ready for a business trip.

Sarah, Business trip?

Will, It’s a company business, but don’t worry, I’m sure I’ll go back to New York before you.

Sarah, OK.

They stopped chatting after saying goodbye.

Sarah was also a little tired after a few hours of flying, so she lay down on the bed to sleep after ending the conversation. Early the next morning.

She got up and went about her business.

Sivan also went to talk about cooperation.

They went to work separately and agreed to call each other after everything was done. Then they together went back to New York.

Sarah first went to meet with the custom ring designer, and saw the ring before its final completion step. She did not propose any suggestion.

Both rings were very nice.

Sarah went back to the hotel after making the appointment to get the ring in ten days.

She was planning to go outside and have a trip these ten days, and prepared for her honeymoon trip later.

But all this was stopped by a phone call from Wilson.

It was eight o’clock that night.

She was having dinner when Wilson called her and said in a mysterious tone,

“Pumpkin, I want to ask you one thing.”

“What?”

“Do you know what Will is doing recently?”

“What happened?”

“I want to have a talk with him.”

“He is busy these days.” Sarah ate her meal while answering him and did not feel anything unusual, “Last night he was on a business trip. I will tell you when he returns to New York.”

Wilson then kept silent.

Sarah waited for a while but Wilson still said nothing.

She asked, "What's wrong?"

"Do you know what he's traveling for?" Wilson was on the balcony of a restaurant, looking at a man and a woman talking and laughing in the restaurant, and his eyebrows frowned.

He didn't know how to tell Sarah that Will was chatting with a beautiful woman happily.

This was a business trip?

"Business." Sarah noticed that his tone was a little strange, "Are you in a hurry? I can call him if you're in a hurry."

"OK. It's better to have video call." After Wilson said this, Sarah hung up the phone. He didn't leave but continued watching them.

What if he was the one who misunderstood?

Will looked very sincere and loyal, who wouldn't cheat.

You couldn't jump to conclusions without being sure of things, so let's see.

Will then looked at his phone, then texted a few words on his phone and put it back down.

Meanwhile.

Wilson also received a message from Sarah.

Sarah, He's talking to someone and will call me after 10,00.

Wilson frowned at once.

Just then.

What more exasperating happened!

Will opened one of the boxes, took out a lady's ring, and then handed it to the woman sitting opposite him.

The woman seemed a little surprised, but still took it and put it on her finger.

Wilson was astonished.

He was really angry.

He took out his phone and took a picture of this, intending to send it to Sarah, but stopped the second he clicked on the dialog box.

No.

He couldn't just send it then.

He clicked the back button again.

He planned to go to Will to ask him what happened later. After all that, he could tell Pumpkin this.

Thinking of this, he continued to watch them and saw that the woman was observing the ring on her hand, with a gentle smile on her face.

It was such a sweet image.

After a while.

Wilson couldn't stand looking at it anymore.

He went directly to the parking lot and sat in the car waiting.

As long as Will came out of the restaurant, he would definitely pass by here.

The more he thought about it, the angrier he was. He even wanted to beat Will up.

His secretary called him several times, but he hung up and let him go back first.

Another five minutes passed.

Will walked out of the restaurant.

He said goodbye to the woman with a smile.

Wilson was irritated at once, and when the woman drove away, he got down from his car and greeted warmly, "Will? What a coincidence. You are also here."

Will paused for a moment.

After looking back and seeing it was Wilson, he also greeted in a low voice, "Wilson."

"Coming here on business?" Wilson glanced at the restaurant and paced in front of him.

"Not really a business trip." Will also did not expect to see Wilson here, "Just came over to do some business, I'll be back in a few days."

"Is that so?" Wilson was unhappy obviously.

Will told Sarah that he was traveling for business.

But he told Wilson that he was just doing something.

Liar!

"Yes." Will sensed his mood change but didn't think too much about it, "You came over here on business?"

"Yes." Wilson took out his cell phone, "When I was on the business trip. I encountered one thing. I don't know what to do then."

Will asked naturally, "What is it?"

"Seeing a friend's husband cheated." Wilson unlocked the phone and did a part of the padding first, "Still thinking about whether to tell my friend."

"If it were me, I would say as long as I was sure this was true." Will gave a suggestion.

The friend's character and the way to handle things.

All would affect whether to say it or not.

Wilson tapped the photo inside the phone and pointed the screen at him, "Then you help me look at this and see if it's real or fake."

Will then also saw the two people in the photo.

One was him, and the other was the designer he had just made an appointment with.

Only a moment.

He knew what was going on.

"It's a misunderstanding." Will was sensible and calm. He glanced around and said, "I will explain to you somewhere else. This matter is a bit complicated."

Chapter 451 You didn't do anything disloyal

"Okay." Wilson wasn't impulsive this time.

In fact, he still believed that Will was nice and loyal, who didn't hurt Sarah. But what he just saw did make people have to think more.

Will found a cafe.

As they just sat down.

Wilson said first seriously, "Explain. If the explanation is not reasonable, I will tell Pumpkin."

"The person in the photo is the designer I have an appointment with. I was talking to her about the proposal ring and the engagement ring." Will said clearly and sincerely, "I plan to propose to Sarah some time later, to give her a surprise."

Wilson's eyebrows were slightly knitted.

It was sensible.

But he always felt a little uncomfortable as he thought of Will giving the ring to that designer to wear.

He should what did it mean that a man gave a woman a ring to wear.

"You can ask any questions you have." Will could see that Wilson was still confused.

"If that's the case, you shouldn't give that woman the ring you gave to Pumpkin to wear." Wilson said without hesitation, "She's still satisfied with the ring."

"Misunderstanding." Will said again.

Will could never give the ring customized for Sarah to someone else to wear.

Wilson waited for him to explain.

"The two rings you saw are just templates." Wilson thought about the proposal with Sarah when he said this, "I gave it to her to wear because I wanted to tell her that the inner ring design like that would make the person who wore it uncomfortable and let her try it."

Sarah was a pianist, and a martial artist, as well as a calligrapher.

She was also very sensitive to things on her hands.

He couldn't give her a ring that would make her uncomfortable.

"She was teasing me and said that she didn't expect me to love someone so meticulously." What Will said was true and he did not want to be misunderstood, "If you do not believe me, I can go with you to the restaurant to retrieve the monitoring."

"No need." Wilson already believed.

When Will said these, he was recalling the images of that time.

No matter which sentence, it matched with their expression at that time.

Will should not be lying.

"You believe me, right?"

"Yes." Wilson deleted the photo, and said awkwardly, "Sorry. I misunderstood you."

"No need to apologize. I'm glad Sarah has a brother like you who thinks of her in everything." Will did not have any negative emotions, and then asked an important thing, "You should not have told her yet, right?"

At that time when he was talking with the designer, Sarah gave him a video call.

He hung up and sent her a message.

The message she sent was normal, but he was worried that she might misunderstand.

"Not yet." Wilson was glad that he didn't tell her.

"I hope you can help me keep it a secret." Will said and his eyes lit up, "I want to surprise her with the proposal."

"No problem!" Wilson agreed.

After this matter was resolved, Wilson was relieved.

He was really afraid that Pumpkin would encounter this kind of thing again. Once Will really cheated, she might not believe in love again in this life.

If so, no one could heal her.

After all these, Wilson went back.

He called Sarah first to tell her not to call Will again.

"You don't need to call Will, and I've already talked to him." Wilson talked to Sarah on the phone and incidentally said something else to relieve her, "Do you want to come over here to have fun. I have found several fun places."

"You turn the camera." Sarah stared at the picture thoughtfully.

Wilson was confused.

But he still did as he was told.

He showed her the whole hotel room, and at the end he asked,

"What's wrong?"

"You come to Room 503."

"לי"

"Upstairs."

"You're over here?"

"Yes."

Wilson felt that it was too coincidental.

He didn't even hang up the phone. He just took it and headed upstairs.

When Sarah saw the inside of the elevator, she was already 100 percent sure that this was the hotel she was staying in.

She hung up the phone and got up to open the door of her room, waiting for Wilson in the living room.

When Wilson arrived, he saw that the door was open. When he was about to knock on the door, he saw Sarah sitting on the sofa inside.

"Pumpkin?" Wilson was really surprised, "Why are you here? Did you come here on business?"

Or.....

To follow Will?

"I have some personal matters." Sarah did not tell him specifically.

"What personal matter?"

"Secret."

"You can trust me."

"No."

Sarah said straightforwardly.

Only Julian, Jacob and Jim knew this.

"Then forget it." Wilson didn't ask further and directly changed the topic, "Do you know where Will is?"

"Where?"

"Also here." Wilson just chatted leisurely, "When I finished talking about cooperation and came out of the restaurant, I met him outside the restaurant.”

Sarah was surprised.

Here?

She remembered that Captain Leon had no cooperation projects in this city.

How did he come here?

Sarah was thinking about whether he followed here.

Once she thought of this, she was nervous and said, “Do you know when he will leave?”

“Not sure, but certainly not in these two days.” Wilson said so but then he felt that this might expose Will’s secret, “You are going to find him?”

“No.” Sarah pursed her lips and began to think, “Can you do me a favor?”

“Go ahead.”

“Have someone keep an eye on him for me these days, and if I’ll meet up with him, let me know in advance.”

“??”

What did she mean?

Wilson was confused.

If this weren’t his sister, he would have to wonder if she was going to do something disloyal.

“I can’t let him know what I will do. You have someone keep an eye on him.” Sarah said, “After the matter is completed, I can help you deal with some business in the Yeats Group.”

“You..... cheated?” Wilson said.

“What?”

“Ahem.” Wilson also realized that what he had said was improper and said, “I mean why are you so afraid of meeting him. You didn’t cheat after all.”

“I want to surprise him. I can’t let him know.” Sarah changed her words.

Chapter 452 It hurts me so much

Wilson was even more puzzled.

What kind of surprise required such a big show? She even promised him to deal with matters in the Yeats Group.

Seeing that he was only staring at her, Sarah asked a follow-up question, “Deal or not?”

“You first tell me what surprise it is.” Wilson asked, “In case the surprise you thought would be a shock to him.”

“It won’t be a shock.”

“You talk to me first.”

Wilson was insistent.

Sarah was silent, and she looked complicated.

“I’ll see whether to help you after you talk to me.” Wilson continued.
If it were anything else, he would have agreed without hesitation.
But it was different.
It wasn’t a small thing since Pumpkin even promised him that.
“I can tell you.” Sarah knew what kind of personality Wilson has, and he would find it out, “but you have to promise that after I tell you, you won’t tell anyone else. Only you and I know it.”
“OK.” Wilson agreed.
Sarah said, “I plan to propose to Will.”
What?
What?
Wilson was puzzled and surprised, as if what she said were very outrageous,
“Propose?”
“Yes.”
“Propose!!!”
“Yes.”
“Your’re a girl.” Wilson said straightforwardly, “This is what Will should do.”
“There is no law that says only the man can propose.” Sarah also wanted to show her fondness and care, “I want him to know that I have him in my future.”
Wilson didn’t know what to say.
What the hell??
Will was ordering a proposal ring, and Sarah wanted to propose.
They were so tacit...
“You don’t need to propose. He will feel your love and care in daily life.” Wilson tried to persuade her since in his mind, he still thought that it was the man who should propose.
The proposal meant that he wanted to be with this girl for the rest of his life.
He wanted to have a family with her.
He wanted to protect her and love her.
“I’ve already made up my mind.” Sarah said straightforwardly and seriously, “You just need to help me.”
“Really?”
“Yes.”
“No matter what I will say, you won’t change it?”
“Yeah.”
“Okay.” Wilson also knew her character. No one could change her mind once she made up her mind, “I will help you keep an eye on him, but you have to tell me in advance where you’re going and what you’re going to do every day.”
“Okay.” Sarah agreed.
She then told him about her itinerary for the next two days.
When Wilson learned that she had also customized a proposal ring, he was touched.
They were a little taciturn? The rings were both customized over here.
“Pumpkin.” Wilson suddenly thought of a very important issue.
Sarah sent her schedule to him and then raised her head to look at him, saying, “What’s wrong?”

“Have you ever thought of a possibility.”

“What?”

“What if he also plans to propose to you?”

“There’s always one to propose first.” Sarah did not care about this.

After all, Captain Leon also talked about this matter before, “It won’t be in one day.”

“What if he also customized a ring?” Wilson asked, “Will you wear the ring you prepared or he prepared?”

“I wear the one he prepared and he wears the one I prepared.” Sarah said.

Well.....

It’s OK.

“When do you plan to propose to him?” Wilson first help Will get more information from her, and when the time comes, he directly let Will first propose, “After you get the ring, or not yet set?”

“Before May.” Sarah gave a time.

Wilson nodded.

It was May 1st, Sunday. There was still a full month until the end of the month.

As long as Will got it done quickly, he could totally set the proposal in front of Sarah’s.

“Then let me know if you set the proposal date.” Wilson intended to get through to Will afterwards, “I’ll also help you prepare for it.”

“No need.” Sarah refused.

Wilson did not understand, “Why?”

“You think I don’t know what you’re thinking?” Sarah saw through him and said, “I am not going to let you go and talk to him.”

“Am I such a person?”

“Yes.”

“It hurts me so much.”

“No.” Sarah said seriously, “You will only be awkward since I have known your plan.”

It was Pumpkin.

The guess was really accurate.

He had to continue the show, “Why not I tell him the ring you prepared directly if I am going to really talk to him about it?”

“You will not break your words once you promise.” Sarah really knew him.

Wilson might seem unreliable, but he was a man who kept his promises.

He wouldn’t break his words.

“Go back early and rest.” Sarah didn’t have the intention to talk to him more, “I’m going to sleep.”

Wilson said good night to her and left.

Back in his room, he was in a dilemma whether to test Will or not.

In the end, he didn’t think about anything else and went straight to bed.

During the next two days.

Wilson helped Sarah well.

Even Will felt he was stalked by someone these days and when he returned to the hotel, he had people look into the matter.

His trip had been approved by the organization. Few people saw his face and he shouldn't be stalked.

The most important thing was that those dangerous people should not appear in this place. After all, it's a romantic and pleasant city.

The third day.

He received a call and it was his man, "Boss, your intuition is correct. There is indeed someone who has been following you for the past two days."

"Who?"

"Wilson from the Yeats Group."

After hearing this, Will was surprised.

Wilson?

"Do we arrest the person?" The person on the other side slowly said.

"No."

"There is one more thing."

"Go ahead."

"Ms. Yeats is also here." The voice on the other side was clear, and there was respect for Will in his tone, "We found that Wilson had met with Ms. Yeats three days ago."

Chapter 453 Do you believe me when I say there is a reason for this?

Atha?

Will was surprised.

He recalled that Wilson had come to him and he was confused whether Wilson keep his words. Did he go to see Sarah? Didn't Wilson believe him?

This thought was denied by himself as soon as it came out.

If it was true, Sarah would have called him long ago.

"Boss, do you need us to investigate in detail?"

"No, you don't have to care about this matter."

He hung up the phone after he finished speaking.

These people were all his people.

They were all top notch in detection, counter-surveillance, physical skills, marksmanship.

He fondled the phone in his hand, thought for a moment and then called Wilson to have a meet.

Wilson didn't think more. He felt that Will wanted him to help propose to Sarah.

They met at a restaurant.

It was only after the food was served that Wilson took the initiative to ask, "Is there something wrong?"

"You don't believe me?" Will slowly said.

"What?"

Wilson was confused.

He didn't know what Will was talking about.

"Do you still suspect that I have affairs with someone else?" Will was wearing a suit, reserved and elegant.

"What do I suspect this for?" Wilson didn't know why he asked that, "Didn't you say that she's a designer? Why do I suspect you?"

Will stared at him.

Wilson was even more confused.

What's wrong with this?

"Since there is no suspicion, then why did you ask someone to quietly follow me?" Will didn't beat around the bush when talking to the person he's familiar with.

As Wilson was just about to retort, he remembered what Sarah said to him.

She asked him to keep an eye on Will.

He couldn't let him meet up with Pumpkin.

"Well....." Wilson couldn't tell him directly and stammered, "If I say that there is a reason, do you believe it?"

"Yes."

"Really?"

"Yes."

"I can assure you that I don't suspect you and I believe what you told me before." Wilson didn't expect what he did to be discovered, "But I can't tell you the reason."

If he told Will, he betrayed Pumpkin.

He couldn't.

Will just stared at him.

He smiled and said his guess in a low voice, "Related to Sarah, right?"

"You" Wilson suddenly stopped in a hurry and said, "How come? No."

"Didn't you just meet up with her that night."

"?"

"Don't look at me like that. I just found out about it."

"Then you know what she's doing here?"

"Not really, but it's certain that she's not here on business." Will said in a charming voice, "She doesn't want me to know, and I won't look into it."

"You're not afraid of her cheating?" Wilson pursed his lips.

He indeed thought that you better check it out.

He kinda hoped that Will knew that Sarah was planning a marriage proposal.

But Will gave Sarah enough freedom and he wouldn't ask more about things that Sarah didn't want him to know.

He knew she would tell him when the time came.

"She won't." Will said happily. He was sweet when thinking of the person he loves, "I trust her."

"That's good." Wilson said bitterly.

He felt that Will was dumb.

He even didn't check it.

Then would Sarah propose first?

“By the way.” Wilson tried hard to let him know more, “When do you plan to propose to her? Let me know if you need help.”

“Not yet.” His answer was similar to that of Sarah, but more detailed than hers, “I will discuss with her friends after the ring is ready. We’ll set a time in advance to trick her out before proposing.”

“OK.”

Wilson was still happy since Will didn’t ask it at all.

He thought Will was smart.....

Will looked at him and asked seriously, “You have something on your mind?”

“No.” Wilson retorted very unnaturally.

What he thought was also simple.

He had acted so heartfelt, and he thought Will had to ask him anyhow!

But he was naïve. Will wouldn’t care much about others except Sarah.

What Will thought was that he’d better not ask more since Wilson didn’t want to talk about it.

They just ate their meals.

.....

Will was thinking when to find Sarah and whether to call her first.

But What Wilson thought was that Will was so dumb.

After the meal, they left separately.

Wilson wanted to give him a hint when he was leaving, but Will didn’t get it at all. Instead, Will just said not all things must be said.

Wilson was upset. He directly got into the car and left.

After he arrived at the hotel, he wanted to go upstairs to see Sarah and talk to her about what happened. Then he saw Will standing outside Sarah’s door ready to knock.

He hurriedly took out his phone and sent a message to her.

After sending it, he went to greet, “Will, why are you here?”

“To see Sarah.”

When he said this, Sarah just happened to open the door.

After seeing that Wilson was also there, she just let both in.

“Finished all work?” Will had told her that he would see her, and that’s why Sarah wasn’t surprised.

“Not yet.” Sarah put on a good show and led them to sit down in the living room of the suite, “Still sorting out the information Sivan brought over. He has to go to a meeting tomorrow afternoon, and I have to help him sort this out.”

Will and Wilson both went over and looked at her.

Wilson didn’t know what was going on.

Didn’t Sarah say that she was not a business trip?

Look at documents and the things that are being dealt with! It didn’t look like she was acting.

“Sit first. Tea and drinks are over there. Help yourself.” Sarah acted well and she didn’t want will find that, “I have to take care of these first.”

Wilson subconsciously looked towards Will.

The latter knew she was putting on a show, did not say anything.

He went to get two cups of water and just sat on the sofa seeing for with her work. her dealing

No data found.

Chapter 455 Can they say very unreliable

Will, however, did not agree and carried her and headed inside.

Sarah’s body was stiff.

With a timid heart

“What’s with the look like I’m going to eat you.” Will flirted with her, and there was a smile between those good-looking eyebrows, “Even if you want to do something with me, you still have to ask me if I agree.”

Sarah, “.

The words.

As if she really wanted to sleep with him.

“Get cleaned up early and go to bed.” Will didn’t tease her anymore, knowing her thin skin, “Let’s go out tomorrow.”

“I have got something tomorrow.”

“The day after tomorrow.”

“The day after tomorrow also got something.”

“Atha.”

“Hmm?”

“Don’t you think you’re treating me a bit cold?” Will came to her, his tone low, “I came over to see you, you kicked me out, I asked you out for a night out and you didn’t have time.”

Sarah, “.....

11

How to take this?

“Or do you want to do something behind my back?” Will’s words were scamming her and flirting, “Or maybe you have a date with someone else and don’t have time for me.”

“No.” Sarah explained, a little worried that he went to check.

If he really wanted to investigate.

Probably couldn’t hide.

Jim and Jacob were on her side, but they’d be honest under Leon’s “interrogation” about things like this that weren’t particularly important to them.

As for her trip, hiding it doesn’t seem to help much.

“I’ll work overtime tomorrow to finish things up, and let Sivano talk about the cooperation the day after tomorrow.” Sarah played her part perfectly and didn’t reveal herself, “How about I go with you for some fun?”

“That’s more like it.” Will nodded on her nose.

In recent years, he had to seek approval from the organization every time he left the country, and if it was not necessary, he did not leave the country.

This time the approval was not particularly long, and he still wanted to take Sarah to play all the fun and nice places here.

After the negotiation.

Will went out and Sarah started to wash up.

The next morning, Will went off to do his own business and Sarah handed over some of the work to Sivan and went off to follow up on the ring.

But what she didn't expect would happen was an accident in the middle of the way. Kidnapping.

At this time she sat in the car.

The calm state of her just looked at those people in the car and asked very lightly, "Who are you?"

"Little sister, don't be afraid, we are just kidding with you." The one sitting on the passenger side was a man with a face full of stubble, a little naive when he smiled, but fierce when he was stern, "Your man is Will, right?"

Wariness rose in Sarah's body as she heard this.

It was perhaps because the days had been so comfortable for so long, or because she hadn't thought about kidnapping or anything like that happening in this place, that she had been dragged to the car in a moment.

But it won't be hard for her to leave.

It's just that.....

She suddenly didn't want to leave now.

Who these people were, what their relationship to Leon was, and what the purpose of kidnapping her was, she would not be able to sleep or eat until she found out.

It would be really dangerous if they were coming for Leon, his enemies, always top notch. enemies, always top notch.

"Don't be so cold." The stubbled man still smiled, showing his affability as much as possible, "We were really just joking with you."

"A joke would have pistols pointed at me?" Sarah was calm.

There were two guns in the car now both pointed at herself.

As long as she moved, they may shoot at any time.

"It's because we're afraid you'll spoil things for us if you run away." The man with the stubble explained, "In order for things to go a little smoother, you may need to suffer a little now."

As he said this, someone brought over a rope to tie her up.

Sarah did not struggle.

No surprises.

These people will take her to their base camp.

While she was thinking about this, Sarah noticed the way the group tied the knot of the rope, it was familiar, special and familiar.

"Don't worry, we really won't hurt you." The stubble man added, "Just think of it as playing a real-life escape room, wake up from a nap and it's over."

"Who are you?"

"Can't say yet." "Why did you kidnap me."

“Wanted to meet with Will.”

Sarah’s brimming peach blossom eyes were colder than ever before.

The stubble man gave a wink to the person next to him, and someone handed her a drink in front of her.

“Drink this and you will fall asleep, and when you wake up everything will be back to normal.” The stubble man explained,

“You will be fine, and so will Will.”

Sarah did not drink.

No matter who they were, she would not drink.

Life and initiative are only safe when they are in your own hands.

The stubble man didn’t care after he saw her not drink, he’d warned what he needed to warn, he’d said what he needed to say, and even if she was scared and cried afterwards, that was none of his business.

That was it.

Sarah was taken away.

An hour or so later, they took her to a secret base.

Sarah was blindfolded and tied to a chair, during which the clicking sound of someone taking pictures was heard, and then the door to the room was closed.

Sarah sat there for a while listening to make sure there was no one else in the room and then started trying to figure out how to untie the knot.

Meanwhile.

The other side.

The man took the picture and then went to the stubble man.

“Boss, the photos are ready.”

“Email them to Will anonymously and tell him to come to this place alone.”

“Okay.”

They immediately went to do it.

The entire room had a relaxed atmosphere, not at all like the place where the kidnapers were.

“Boss, why are you looking so sad.” The man who had sent the email put his phone away and looked at him with a puzzled expression, “Didn’t you kidnap her?”

“Don’t you guys feel like something’s wrong?” The man with the stubble stared deep in thought, his heart a little complicated, “Isn’t Will’s little girlfriend a little too calm? A normal soft little girl would have been crying after seeing a gun pointed at her.”

The crowd looked at each other.

“It seems a bit odd.”

“She gives me the feeling like she has been through this kind of thing many times.”

“Could it be that she knows what Will used to do, that’s why she’s not afraid and has the courage in her heart.”

“Impossible, rely on others have courage is always false, can do this calm and easy.”

The stubble man said extremely serious, "If I guess correctly, this little sister should have seen big scenes."

"What big scene?"

"You mean she is like Will?"

"No." The stubble man didn't know either and had to take a hard guess,

"I heard this little sister is a golden girl and has probably been kidnapped many times since she was a child."

The crowd, "....." This guess.

Can they say very unreliable?

"You two come with me to interrogate." The stubble man was suddenly interested in seeing Sarah's guts, "Let's see if she's toughing it out or if she really has the guts."

Chapter 456 What was the purpose of your kidnapping me

"Boss..... didn't you say we weren't allowed to touch a finger of that little sister?" The young follower was a little puzzled, "And said that anyone who made her cry and got her hurt would be miserable, so why do we have to go to trial now."

If there were something happen during the trial

Will would have eaten them alive.

"It's not a real trial, I just want to see." The man with the stubble knew what was important, "Curious."

The crowd hesitated, obviously hesitating.

With a firm heart, the bearded man suddenly had a stern face, "What kind of eyes are you guys giving me, talking as if I'm afraid of him."

"You're not afraid, you just lost in the special organization competition."

"And lost three times in a row."

"Will only participated three times."

"The past champion met Will and became the runner-up, indeed not afraid."

The two juniors said one word to the other, stiffening the stubble man's anger.

He snorted coldly, with a stern face, "Then I'll let you see whether I'm afraid or not!"

After saying that he went to the room where Sarah was kept.

Sarah was untying the rope and was about to succeed, but the door was suddenly opened, she could only be forced to stop the action.

The way the rope was tied was similar to Leon's.

Difficult to untie.

The stubble man saw her sitting there very quietly, curiosity was immediately hooked up, he went over to help her to untie the blindfolded cloth and pulled a chair sat down opposite Sarah.

As for the two little brothers.

Naturally, they stood behind him.

Seeing the light again was a little uncomfortable for Sarah, and it took about a second for her to fully adjust. adapt to it.

"Tell me about your relationship with Will, and then tell me about his life, then I'll let you go." The man with stubble simply wanted to try.

Sarah's eyes glanced over the three of them and finally fell back on the stubble man,

“Your words, not to be trusted.”

“How could you believe me.”

“Give me back my phone.”

“Little sister, I advise you not to go too far.” The stubble man said word for word, “What is this place you should be clear, our methods, not you a little girl can endure.” Sarah did not speak.

Her hands, tied behind her back, continued to untie the knots

The stubble man thought she had an arrogant spirit and gave a wink to the little brother next to him, “Go and bring her our appetizer.”

“What appetizer?” The little brother was a bit confused.

He was afraid.

What if it wasn't the appetizer he understood, wouldn't he be looking for death?

The man with stubble was furious, not understanding how this tacit understanding was lost, “What appetizer? We have a second appetizer here?”

The little brother understood instantly, but was puzzled on his way to get it.

Was it simply curiosity to ask? What's with the appetizers, that stuff wasn't a joke.

Doubt is doubt.

He still went to get it.

When brought over, the stubble man took the small thing in his hand and waved it in front of Sarah, “Don't look at this thing small, just flick it on your leg, on your arm, and the bones in your whole leg and your whole arm will crack.”

“And then what.” Sarah remained bashful.

By this time she recognised the man too.

The leader of a special organisation in America. He was friends with Leon, and America. was also allies with her home country.

Stubble man, “??”

Then?

He can't really flick on her.

If he did, Will would really destroy him.

“I don't know why you tied me up here, and I don't want to know what your purpose is.” Sarah gave them one last chance, “But if you don't release me, I won't be polite.”

The stubble man and the two minions both glanced over her body.

Tied up and still not polite?

How not polite?

“Then I'll see what happens.” The stubble man was really curious, “Let's see how you will be impolite.”

Sarah had already untied the rope at this time.

For the purpose of this group of people she still did not know, before she thought they might just want to joke with Will, but now that the interrogators took out this, it was enough to see that it wasn't a joke.

A good ally turned out like this, she wondered if something had changed up there.

But no matter what, she could not let Leonn come straight to the risk.

The stubble man did not take the enemy lightly, outwardly looking lazy actually watching Sarah's every move, "How come you're still not moving?"

The moment the words left his mouth.

Sarah's hands suddenly moved, the rope fell to the ground at once.

This thing attracted the attention of three people, even the stubble man, whose attention was also diverted by this incident.

"Swish!"

The playing card in Sarah's hand flew over.

The guns in the hands of the two minions were knocked away and the stubble man reached out and clamped down on the pounding king of spades.

Sarah picked up the two pistols on the ground in this gap and pointed at the two minions and one at the stubble man.

Two minions, "!!!"

Damn!

The stubble man was also surprised to the extreme.

Under normal circumstances, he was perfectly capable of picking up a gun when Sarah did, and then confronting her gun to gun.

But today he blundered.

One is that this person is Will's girlfriend, he did not bring full vigilance and wariness, the second is that he was shocked that this girl could untie the rope he tied, but also so good.

Of course, the most important point was the playing cards in her hands.

He did not care about the gun Sarah was pointing at him, instead he rubbed the playing card in his hand and slowly said, "There is only one young girl I know who can play poker so well."

The words fell.

He turned the k on the poker card towards Sarah.

Thin lips slowly said, "k."

"What is the purpose of your kidnapping me." Sarah was on guard, not in any mood because the other had guessed who she was.

This man had been friends with Leon, and it wasn't at all surprising to learn that he had a team member named k.

"Don't be so angry." The stubble man's attitude was all different after he knew she was k. He was neither as careful to coax nor as fierce as before, "I'm friends with your captain, you should know that."

Sarah, "....."

Nonsense.

If she didn't know, she would have shot and wounded someone.

"First put the gun down, let's talk slowly." The man with stubble said word for word.

Sarah did not reply and was not distracted away.

She knew very well what kind of person she was opposite. In the words of the captain, this person looked simple and honest, tall in size, but was actually top in all aspects.

Chapter 457 Enough to finish abusing you
So far.

He had only lost to the captain in global single combat.

Although her skills, marksmanship and abilities were impressive in the squad, they were not as good as Leon's, and she would have been at a disadvantage in the same situation against him.

Now that she had caught her opponent off-guard, she must not lose this opportunity she had so easily seized because of her opponent's words.

"Boss, you said she was k."

"The k who defeated you and Ike with Will during the double combat?"

The two little brothers were shocked.

The k hadn't shown up in front of everyone.

Whenever something happened, Will said that k wasn't exactly inside the organisation and couldn't show up to affect her real life.

But now!

k turned out to be such a fair-skinned, good-looking girl.

"Fuck off." The stubble man felt that these two guys were too disrespectful, "If it wasn't for that Ike guy not helping out in the first place, I wouldn't be losing."

"Well, you're right." The two people were extremely perfunctory.

For what they said, Sarah's mind was not affected at all.

The man with stubble was very appreciative of this concentration of hers.

But they were not enemies, and after knowing Sarah's identity he didn't tease anymore, not to mention he didn't have the advantage now.

"K, put the gun down and we'll go to the other room and talk slowly." The stubble man persuaded, also put down the poker in his hand, "This kidnapping is pure entertainment, we mainly want to see what Will's reaction will be when he finds out."

Sarah did not move.

She didn't know the truth, didn't know what was going on up there, so naturally she wouldn't relax casually.

The stubble man sighed silently in his heart, "If you don't believe me I'll give Will a call now."

"You call." Sarah's very faint words.

Various emotions intertwined.

He obediently gave the phone call.

The result.....

No one answered.

"Boss it's not good! Something's wrong!"

"Will has put an end to our base!"

"Boss!"

The man outside suddenly burst in.

The man with stubble, "?"

The two little brothers, "?"

Sarah, "?"

All three men showed some confusion at the same time.

The stubble man knew the character of his men, and did not spend any more time with Sarah, turned around and walked towards the outside.
Just opened the door, a red dot appeared on his brow.
“Boss.....,” the two minions panicked, knowing the joke was too big this time, “There’s a sniper.”
The man with stubble, “?”
He was being targeted.
Can he not know!
“Will! Get your ass out here.” The stubble man was furious enough, never expecting this guy to be serious, “I was just playing a joke with you, and you’re taking it seriously.”
And brought a sniper.
You bastard!
In the midst of angry curses.
Will appeared in a suit, his demeanour was noble and gentle, his bearing elegant and distinguished.
He stood just a short distance away, his thin lips pursed in an arc, his voice unhurried,
“You tied up my life and you’re telling me it was a joke?”
“Shit!” The stubble man let out a low curse.
Why was this guy so carnal now.
Life.
Life, my ass!
“Where are my men?” The stubble man scanned the area and didn’t see any of his own men walking around, “What did you do with them all.”
“Just knocked out and locked up, if not for the thought of leaving two more people to report to you, you will have no one left in this base.” Will said this seriously, his eyesight relieved to confirm Sarah was safe.
“Don’t be so extreme.”
“You are the one who messed up first.”
The words came out.
The man with stubble knew he was in the wrong.
He sidled up to Sarah and apologised, sincerely, “It was my fault, I wanted to scare Will, to see how he would react when his girlfriend was caught, but I didn’t expect it to come to this.”
Sarah subconsciously looked at Will.
It didn’t matter to her, it was mostly Leon.
“If you really want to apologize, bring out your newly developed weapons.”
Will walked over, lazy and reserved, “verbal apology is more meaningless.”
Stubble man, “.....”
He was outraged.
How could this guy still be so annoying!
“If you don’t take this give us your card.” Will had never been polite, “it is not easy to come here, I should always take something back.”
The stubble man was not stingy and had his bank card given to Sarah.
Will Helped her to take it.
This matter ended in a farce.

When the stubble man went to get his things, Sarah asked about the situation and was relieved to learn that the two sides were still on friendly terms.

“He’s Laird I’ve often mentioned before.” When Will confirmed that she was really okay, he introduced the man to her, “The god of America with over three hundred and fifty missions without a single failure.”

“Guess so.” Sarah nodded.

Although they had participated in the competition together, but at that time, shuttling through the jungle, it was impossible to see the real face of everyone.

She did not go to the award.

“Don’t worry, it’s okay.” Will knows Laird, naturally clear that he had business in addition to pranks, “next time you encounter this kind of nonsense, directly beat him, and leave the consequences to me.”

“Okay.” Sarah agreed.

The moment he received the photos, he knew that Sarah was taken away by Laird’s people.

The photo had the logo of their base on it, so it was likely that the photo was not taken by Laird, but by one of his men.

When they talked about this, Laird also came in with a stack of information.

He was gossiping the whole time.

He gossiped Will and Sarah all over again.

“I know it’s a joke, but bring the sniper anyway.” This was Laird’s biggest worry, anger beyond words. “What if it goes off, my life is worth a lot of money.”

“If it goes off, take your head to the prize.”

“Damn it!”

They gossiped each other.

Laird was angry enough by Will every time.

“Alright.” Will did not want to waste time with these people, “Let’s get in the business.”

“Here you go.” Laird handed it and said, “The Global Special Organization Competition is about to start again, this time every country will send the most elite forces, the country that wins the championship will have the highest right to honor and a generous reward.”

“It has nothing to do with me.” Will only glanced at it and put it down.

“Will!”

“I’ve already retired.”

“I know.” Laird was keen for him to get involved. “But your boss said that there’s no problem on their end, so you can always get involved.”

“I won’t get in.”

“You have been the winner for so many years, aren’t you afraid of being ridiculed if you lose?”

“Won’t lose.” Will said with certainty, “The people I personally raised up is enough to finish off you.”

Chapter 458 Be busy loving me

There are many elite forces in America, and he is just one of them.

He believed they had no problem.

Laird, however, had a little unhappy, he still wanted to see Will, "You think your heir can kick me off?"

"Do you think so?" Will slowly said, those good-looking eyes with self-confidence, "He is super dope."

"You really not going?"

"No."

"Why?"

"I'm not the only one who can compete." Will made it very clear.

America was strong, and we wouldn't lose.

But if country needed him to return to the battlefield, he would not hesitate to return.

"You are unable to let go of your little girlfriend, aren't you?" Laird made a guess, his eyes glanced at Sarah, "Afraid she will be sad if you go?"

"I'm afraid you'll cry". Will's reply was always just right, "I don't know who loses and comes to me every year to dislike me".

Laird, "....."

Was that a dislike?

It was clearly a declaration of war.

"Don't just kidnap my people." Will handed the information back to him with a very firm attitude, "Forget it this time, if there's a next time, I won't be as polite as I was this time."

"Aren't you a little too shameless?"

"?"

"Taking my card?"

"In our terms, it's called moral damages."

Laird already knew what kind of man Will was, and in this moment he was sensible enough not to dislike each other with him any more.

He knew very well that if he disliked him, then the only person who would get angry and cry would be himself.

Will held Sarah's hand and fondle the black card that Laird gave him, "We'll be here for a few days, and we'll have someone sent you the card on the day we leave."

Laird was furious, but he was the one who was in the wrong, so he could only admit it.

A short while later.

Sarah and Will left.

The person in the driver's seat opened his mouth to Will and Sarah, "Boss, madam."

Sarah, "?"

This is?

"He's retired from the army like me, codenamed Wolf." Will introduced,

"There are many more like him, all on base."

"This....." Sarah was slightly hesitant.

There was a question.

After all, it was a bit complicated.

"The base and they are all approved and exist legally." Will looked at her and knew what she was thinking, "I am responsible for arranging various training for them, if there is a task, they also assist the organization's people."

In the base, there was absolute freedom.

The reason for the existence of training was just to be able to keep in good shape.

The main reason, of course, was that his leaders were afraid that he would be idle, so they gave him something to do.

Also asked him to help pick some people with potential.

"That's good." Sarah was immediately relieved.

"It's rare to come over here once, let's go shopping." Will took the schedule to her and told her about his plan, "See if there is any conflict with your time, cross out the ones that conflict and reschedule."

Sarah looked at the detailed schedule and her heart warmed up all of a sudden.

At this time she suddenly remembered that whenever Leon went abroad, he was required to get approved to go out, extremely inconvenient.

"No problem." Sarah handed the schedule back to him.

For the ring, she could find time to go over and look at it.

But it's rare to come this way once, it's better to follow the Leon and have a good time first.

After receiving the promise, Will gave her a day of preparation time, he knew she must have their own personal business. Since she would accompany him to play, he just left the rest of the day to her.

Sarah immediately went to do their own thing.

Although the purpose of coming here was for the ring, but Leon had an appointment with her, she had to go.

After Will sent her back to the hotel, another person appeared in the car. This person was exactly the same sniper from before.

"Boss."

"Hmm?"

"Is that really K just now?" asked Laura with some curiosity, her wheatcomplexioned face in high spirits.

Wolf also gossiped a bit more.

They were not gossipy people, but if they met people and things that interest them, then they started to gossip.

Will's thin lips were slightly pursed and his voice was slightly provocative,

"Yes."

"Your girlfriend?"

"Hmm."

"Can you let us meet up and talk with her?" Laura had something to say,

"She is my idol."

"She's also my idol."

Wolf also spoke.

Will was pleasant.

His own girlfriend was so excellent, and it was difficult not to be happy.

"How do I remember that some people said their idol was me?" Will eyes crossed over the two of them one by one, his voice lazy and loose, "Come on, just change your mind?"

"In here you are idol, but for online things k is." Laura playful, with the serious look when carrying out the task was completely different, "you just ask the people around you, everybody would worship the king of hackers."

The online god.

Came without a shadow and went without a trace.

As long as the information was online, she could find out if she wanted to.

Most importantly, apart from being the king of hackers, she was not physically weak, such as shooting and detection were top notch.

Besides, she was so good looking.

If she's single, they would want to chase after her!

"Want to see her so badly?"

"Want to."

"Go buy a pillow and sleep." Will spoke to them with such a tone, "You can see it in your dreams."

Laura, "....."

Wolf, "....."

Do you want to be so petty?

Not just wanting to meet his girlfriend?

"She's very busy, she doesn't have time to chat with you guys." Will opened his mouth and slowly said, "If you guys are really looking for her for something, I can pass on the message for you."

The first thing that happened was that they looked at each other, and a thought popped up in their hearts.

How busy would it be?

Out of curiosity, Laura gossiped, "Busy with what?"

"Busy loving me." Will's thin lips raised, low voice with a characteristic sexy.

The two people were silent.

How come they didn't find the boss so good at showing affection before.

"Don't bother anyway."

The two people did not say more.

As far as the conversation just went, they had every reason to think that their boss was just waiting for them to ask the question so that they could express their love openly and honestly.

"Does captain know that you love to show your love so much?" They popped up.

Chapter 459 Marriage proposal plan

"It doesn't matter whether you know or not." Will Gardner didn't care about this at all, "I've retired now."

The two people very tacitly did not speak again.

The next few days were spent.

Sarah Yeats finished choosing the wedding ring, and then she went to all the interesting places in this city with Will Gardner.

In order to revenge, Will Gardner used Laird's bank card the whole time.

One deduction message after another, let Laird mentality breakdown, so that when later Will Gardner asked people to return the card, Laird called to curse him.

“Let’s just watch on.” Laird began to say especially serious, “I’ll beat your successor in this special organization competition, so that you can only get a runner-up title!”

“I’ll wait.” Will Gardner replied.

After the phone hung up.

Sarah Yeats looked at him with some complexity.

Will Gardner sensed that there was a load on her mind, “What’s the matter?”

“Are you really not going?”

“Yes.”

“Is the successor very powerful?”

“Well, the other guys with me are also very powerful.” Will Gardner said and explained all these matters to Sarah Yeats, “I should not go to the first few times originally, but a few of them pretended to be sick. The leader of the team let me go.”

The organization had a lot of talents inside, and there were many people with abilities comparable to him.

He was not worried about this competition at all.

He could be sure that he would win.

“That’s good.” Sarah Yeats also did not ask in detail because this was, after all, the organization’s business.

After she finished her things,

Sarah Yeats intended to go back.

The original plan was to wait for Will Gardner to go back together, but Will Gardner let her go back first, saying that he had a little personal business to deal with.

The communication way between them was always straight, so when he said that she could go back first, she would go back.

There was no need to wait him.

Sarah Yeats considered the matter that she had to go back to set up the proposal scene, so she agreed and went back with Wilson Yeats.

On the private plane back,

Wilson Yeats always gossiped about where she and Wilson Yeats went these days.

Sarah Yeats thought that there was nothing to hide, so she told him everything.

However, this was not his real purpose.

After he asking her many questions, he mentioned about the proposal, “When do you plan to propose to Will Gardner?”

“Once I go back, I will prepare this thing.” Sarah Yeats looked at the schedule that she would be free, so she planned to propose early.

The things needed on the proposal should be prepared properly. In addition, besides all the most basic scene layout, she also intended to use a lot of drones to propose.

The drone program was simple and could be done in a moment.

But it still needed to spend some time to prepare on the design.

“So fast!” Wilson Yeats was really not expecting it. So he sweated, “Do you really not plan to wait for him to propose to you?”

“I’ll take the initiative.” Sarah Yeats said.

However, she was already thinking about how the drone should be designed to arrange the shape.

The shape of the drone should be amazing.

It also should be spectacular.

In addition, it should be known by many people.

Wilson Yeats began to think about things. As soon as they arrived, he found an excuse to separate from Sarah Yeats to have a phone call to Will Gardner.

He also did not say that Sarah Yeats wanted to propose marriage. He just wanted him to propose her quickly.

As for Sarah Yeats, after going home to watch Eve Kent and October, she went to find Jacob and a few of them.

They could share their ideas on her proposal.

She did not have enough romantic cells, so she needed their help.

Inside the living room of Jacob's house.

Several people sat together. After listening to Sarah Yeats's proposal plan, Jacob was the first to speak, "This is simple. You can directly let the drones line up into the words that Will Gardner I love you."

"It is stunning and spectacular. In addition, many people can see." Jacob added.

Jim supported, "Yes!"

Julian White, "..."

He felt that...

This was something that only the burgeoning rich could do.

"Julian, what do you think?" Sarah Yeats felt that something was wrong, but she could not say exactly what was wrong.

"I think." Julian White glanced at Jacob and Jim.

They didn't wait for him to get the words out.

The two gave him a look with a dangerous look.

The real highlight of the proposal was on the captain, and it would be fine for Pumpkin to prepare casually.

For captain, he would not even need a drone. He would be happy when he knew Pumpkin for her intention to propose to him.

If he really took Pumpkin's proposal seriously, he would do nothing to his proposal to her.

Sarah Yeats saw that he thought for a long time and did not finish the sentence. She thought he had some concerns, "Feel free to say."

"I think this is a bit rustic." In the midst of Jacob and Jim threatening eyes, Julian White still put the words out, "It did not bring out the value of the drones."

"Keep talking." Sarah Yeats was listening carefully.

"Using drones to pose in big letters is not as good as a fireworks show."

Julian White said very directly, "The price is not so expensive, but more beautiful."

"Fireworks?"

"Yes."

"It seems like it's not impossible." A new idea suddenly popped up in Sarah Yeats's mind.

But this idea required a little new technology.

She needed to modify the drone.

Jacob and Jim both breathed a sigh of relief in unison when they heard her saying.

Julian White's face was complicated as he coughed lightly and inquired,

Sarah, do you really think this is okay?"

"Yes."

"Fireworks seem a little cheesy too."

"Fireworks are not cheesy. That's because you've seen too much." Jacob did not want Julian White here to stir things up. If he continued to raise his idea, the captain's plan would be no more interesting. Jacob said, "Pumpkin likes fireworks even she watched another hundred or thousand times of fireworks."

"But isn't this a proposal to the captain?" Julian White said. Here was the key point.

It was a proposal to the captain.

Shouldn't it be liked by the captain?

"Just fireworks." Sarah Yeats already had a plan in mind and decided, "The proposal is temporarily postponed for a month, I'll let someone prepare it."

Jacob, "?"

Jim, "?"

Julian White, "?"

All three were a little surprised.

Was a fireworks proposal simple?

"During this period of time you guys help me pay attention to the captain's situation, I'll contact the fireworks company and the leader who is responsible for drones of Angel International Group." Sarah Yeats wanted to surprise Will Gardner, "During this period if the captain asks me what I am doing, you guys just say you want to play with drones and let me help you modify one."

"Okay." They all agreed.

Sarah Yeats gathered with them for a while before leaving.

Jim had a few more doubts in his mind, "Is Pumpkin really planning to use fireworks?"

"Not only fireworks, but also drones." Jacob also had a few more moments to think and was curious, "Is she using a drone to pose the words that Will Gardner I love you while setting off fireworks?"

"But fireworks with drones will be very dangerous." Jim said, "It is highly likely that a drone crash situation will occur."

Chapter 460 If you lie down with dogs, you will get up with fleas

"Sarah just said to go to find the fireworks company and the leader of the drone to talk about things. It should be the intention to solve this problem." Julian White said with seriousness, "I heard from Robert Shawn that Sarah studied drones in the university abroad."

"If she can really solve this problem, it is estimated that several more patents can be applied for.”

“Suddenly I am a little curious about Pumpkin’s proposal.”

“I’m more looking forward to the captain’s expression.”

Three people talked a lot.

For some time after that,

Sarah Yeats spent the whole day in the drone base, modifying the drones, testing them, and modifying them again. She was so busy.

Will Gardner came back a few days later but not seeing her. When he called her, she always said she is busy with the drones. When she came back, she always slept because of tiredness.

The result of this was that Will Gardner gave Jacob and others a lesson.

Because the answer they gave Will Gardner was that Sarah Yeats went to the base in order to help them transform the drones they liked.

As her friends,

they should help her.

If it was not for the fact that they have to help Will to plan the proposal, Will Gardner would teach them a hard lesson.

A blink of an eye,

another month passed.

The design of Sarah Yeats’s drone completed. The program had also been written.

When she was relieved, she immediately found Will Gardner and showed him her new achievement designed by her and the designer.

Will Gardner found the great progress and cared about her, “Do not break your neck again next time. You do not need to do like this just because they want to play.”

“Got it.” Sarah Yeats said with a guilty in her mind.

Sarah let Jacob and Jim take the blame for her.

It seemed like she had to make up for them afterwards.

“Is there any discomfort during the menstrual period this month?” Will Gardner rubbed her head. He cared a lot about what should be cared.

Sarah Yeats stunned.

The whole person froze for a moment.

Will Gardner found some small changes in her face, “What’s wrong?”

“Menstruation hasn’t come this month...” Sarah Yeats was a little nervous, “I can’t be pregnant, right?”

The normal menstrual period had already passed.

She usually postponed a day or two every month.

It was never been the case that she hadn’t come for such a long time.

The most important thing was that her appetite was not very good and she felt a little regurgitation. She was not fussy about food.

She usually postponed a day or two every month.
It was never been the case that she hadn’t come for such a long time.
The most important thing was that her appetite was not very good and she felt a little regurgitation. She was not fussy about food.
“You are not pregnant.” Will Gardner said with certainty. His low voice had a soothing magic, “We only had sex twice. We did take every precautions, so you will not be pregnant.”
“But I have a poor appetite and a little regurgitation.” Sarah Yeats unconsciously brainstormed some things.
Will Gardner looked serious at once.
He took her hand and gave her enough security, “I’ll take you to hospital.”
“No need to go to hospital.” Sarah Yeats refused, “Maybe the disorder of the physiological cycle caused by staying up late recently. I’ll wait a few more days. If it hasn’t come, I’ll go.”
Will Gardner wanted to persuade her, but Sarah Yeats insisted not to go.
She had never been too fond of hospitals. If it was a small illness or pain, she would carry it through. If there was no need to go to the hospital, she would not go to the hospital.
The day after that, although Sarah Yeats seemed calm, she was actually anxious about this matter.
She thought about taking her own pulse by herself, but it would not be correct in her current situation.
This led her being in a state of worry.
Will Gardner saw her worries.
He searched the internet to find out other ways to test whether she is pregnant or not besides the hospital. After finding out, he went to buy a pregnancy test.
The result of the test was one bar.
At that moment,
Sarah Yeats’s whole heart was relieved.
Watching her behavior, Will Gardner felt a little bit guilty in his mind.
He came in front of her with the kind of tone that can make people relax,
“Are you so afraid of pregnancy?”
“A little.” Sarah Yeats said honestly, “I’m not ready to be a mother yet.”
She loved children.
But it still took a bit of preparation time.

“With adequate contraception, the chances of pregnancy will be minimized.” Will Gardner rubbed her head and soothed her, “Don’t worry too much.”

Although he said these words, he made a decision in his mind.

He would not have sex with her again before they got married.

If the physiological period was delayed, she would have to be afraid again.

“I know.” Sarah Yeats nodded her head.

After Will Gardner let her rest well, he personally went to make food for her.

Now it seemed that the biggest reason for the delayed physiological period was that she stayed up late and did not eat regularly.

Sarah Yeats felt his concern and care and called out to him before he walked out of the room, “Captain!”

“What’s the matter?”

“I like you.” Sarah Yeats expressed her fondness.

Will Gardner lightly raised his eyebrows to re-step in front of her, raised his hand and pinched her face, with a few preaching in his tone, “Please give me a reason for sudden confession, otherwise I would suspect if you have done something wrong.”

Sarah Yeats, “...”

She didn’t know how to reply him.

“Say it, for the sake of the sentence you like me, I forgive you.” Will Gardner touched her again and he felt that was so good.

“There is a reason why you are single for thirty years.” Sarah Yeats felt that he was even more uncomprehending than her.

“There is indeed a reason.”

“?”

“Waiting for certain people.”

Sarah Yeats shut up.

For the millionth time, she realized that in terms of fighting, she was no match for the captain.

Will Gardner was in a good mood when she was defeated. He said with his thin lips slightly raised, “What is this expression? Are you impatient?”

“You should go to cook.” Sarah Yeats changed the topic and really did not know how to take his words, “I’m a little hungry.”

“Changing the subject?”

“Asking while knowing the answer.”

Will Gardner laughed.

He was not expecting this guy to admit so quickly.

Sarah Yeats felt that captain was good at everything, but he loved to tease and poke fun at people.

Wicked fun!

“Captain, we have an old saying that If you lie down with dogs, you will get up with fleas.” Sarah Yeats felt the need to remind and said extra serious,

“You always make fun of me. Are you not afraid that one day I also make fun of you?” Will Gardner looked at her in a good way, “I am looking forward to it.”

He was curious.

How could this guy make fun of him.

She would only make fun of him with single with thirty years.

“Are you sure?” Sarah Yeats had never seen such a strange request.

Will Gardner said with certainty, “Yes, I am sure.”

“Then what if I say your nickname.”

“Whatever you want.”

Zack Snyder could not tell her his nickname, and she had not contacted parents after the last meeting, so naturally she could not have known.

As for Susan Pruitt,

she was less likely to say.

“When I went to your home last time, your mother already told me your nickname.”

Sarah Yeats intended to give the captain a little psychological pressure first.

Will Gardner did not believe it at all. If she had known last time, she could not wait until now to say it.

He naturally returned her, “Did my mother?”

Chapter 461 I hugged you when you were little

“Yes.” Sarah Yeats nodded her head.

“Then tell me about it.” Will Gardner thought she was scaring him, and his goodlooking lips raised a curve, “What is my nickname?”

“Really say it?”

“Yes.”

“Mickey.”

Sarah Yeats blurted out.

Your mother had said that the captain didn't like that nickname, and after the age of five, he even didn't let them call it. He even fought with Zack Snyder over it.

The nickname of Mickey did not match the appearance and temperament of him. But it seemed that the captain was not the person caring about the nickname.

Will Gardner's always lazy and diffident face appeared a surprised expression.

Only a moment,

he was back to normal.

His eyes were as normal, but the whole person had a few more mysterious and unpredictable expression. So he asked with a strong tone, “Did my mother really tell you?”

“Yes.” Sarah Yeats nodded, guessing his mood, “Your mother said the name given to the girl is Minnie, and the name given to you is Mickey.”

Will Gardner raised his hand and pinched his brow, the corners of his lips showed a few curves that made people guess.

Mom really ...

betrayed him without hesitation.

“Do you really not like this pet name?” Sarah Yeats's brimming eyes met his.

“I didn't like it before, but now it's okay.” Will Gardner said the big truth, raised his hand and rubbed on her head. His tone rose, “If you call it, it's acceptable.”

Sarah Yeats pursed her lips, a little complicated.

She thought she just joked too much.

But for her, she would not want others to say things she did not like.

“Cap.....”

“Why your expressions look like this?” Will Gardner instantly guessed what she was thinking.

“In fact, this nickname is quite good. Mickey Mouse is so cute, but it just does not match with your temperament.” Sarah Yeats organized her words. She also secretly decided in the future that no matter how the captain made fun of her, she would not take this to call him.

“You can call it if you like. It is not a forbidden word.” Will Gardner raised his hand and knocked on her head, incidentally said, “I don’t like this nickname because of Zack Snyder.”

Sarah Yeats, “?”

Was there a story between them?

She asked a follow-up question, “What happened to him?”

“After he knew my nickname was Mickey, he purposely named a dog Mickey.” Will Gardner still remembered the kind of anger he felt as a child, “At that time, his temper could not be suppressed, and the solution he could think of was to just punch.”

Sarah Yeats paused for a moment.

Now she realized.

“Then he now ...” She remembered that the relationship between the two was quite good.

“Now he does not dare to do it again because he is afraid of being pitted.” Will Gardner smiled and told her about the past, “That dog has also died of old age.”

Until now he still remembered that he beat Zack Snyder many times.

Once he called his nickname, he beat him.

The two families were friends for many generations, and Zack Snyder was a man who was not afraid of being beaten up when he was a child.

When his parents knew that he called the dog Mickey, they taught him a lesson for many times. They even used feather duster to beat him once. But there was no effect. Finally he was afraid of being beaten, so he changed to call him Will Gardner.

In the world of children, they can be taught a lesson only by children.

Zack Snyder was traitorous when he was a child. He would do everything which his parents did not let him do.

“If he calls you by your nickname again, I’ll help you beat him up.” Sarah

Yeats also said, “Tonight you can have a rest and I will go to cook.”

Will Gardner pulled her back.

Sarah Yeats looked confused.

“Sit down.” Will Gardner pressed her to sit down on the sofa, “The kitchen is my territory, you are not allowed to step in.”

“Captain..”

“Do you want to be taught a lesson?”

She knew him very well.

This lesson was not the common lesson.

“One hour will be okay.” Will Gardner rubbed her head and her very smooth hair became a little messy. “Go to take a bath, so you can rest early later.”

Sarah Yeats agreed.

In the evening, after the two of them ate, Sarah Yeats asked Will Gardner if he had photos of his childhood. Listening to his past with Zack Snyder, she was suddenly very curious about what he looked like as a child.

She wanted to know that whether he was different from the past.

“Want to see the photos?”

“Yes,”

“Exchange.” Will Gardner was also interested in her photos, “Yours must also be shown to me.”

Sarah Yeats decisively agreed.

She went to her room and brought over one of the albums of their family of four, which contained photos of her and Muffin from childhood to adulthood and even from infancy to a few years ago.

It was just a simple matter of watching each others childhood, but Will Gardner moved his eyes when he saw Sarah Yeats’s childhood photos.

He took one of the photos and asked her, “Is this you?”

“Yes, I was about two years old at that time.” Sarah Yeats recognized at once.

Will Gardner suddenly smiled. His clear eyes swirled with pleasure.

Sarah Yeats, “?”

She took another photo.

She thought that she was not ugly.

The clothes, hairstyle and everything were also what most children look like.

“What’s wrong?”

“Atha.” Will Gardner’s lazy voice called her with his eyes full of her.

Sarah Yeats trailed up, “Hmm?”

“I hugged you when you were little.”

“?”

“Just when you were in the age in the picture.”

“?”

“This boy in the picture with you was me at the age of seven.”

Sarah Yeats stunned, then immediately took the photo from his hand, on which was two-year-old her with an older brother she didn’t know.

The memories of two years old were blurred. If this photo hadn’t been there, she wouldn’t have known there was such a moment.

“Is this you?” She pointed to the photo of the cute boy with a little shyness.

Will Gardner’s thin lips pursed slightly, “Yes.”

“You...” Sarah Yeats suddenly did not know what to say.

Although she could not remember what happened when she was two years old, she had heard her mother tell the story of this photo.

At that time, her aunt took her to a resort in the countryside for fun. Her aunt was responsible for setting up the tent, while her mother held her for fun.

Later, a couple also brought a child over. In the words of the mother, the child looked only seven or eight years old, but like a small adult. And she also said Sarah saw him, grabbed his fingers and not let go.

The boy...

was captain?

"I have two pictures that are similar to yours." Will Gardner slowly said, opened his album and pulled out two photos, and then handed over, "Look." Sarah Yeats took the photos.

One was exactly the same as the one she just took.

The other one was a photo of her aunt, mother, captain's parents and him.

Will Gardner's clear eyes were full of smiles.

It was no wonder that when Atha came to the organization for training, he felt her mother looked familiar after he reviewed the information, so he had seen her when he was a child.

Although a long time has passed, he still remembered what happened that day after seeing the photo.

At that time, his parents were afraid that he would be bored at home alone and would be autistic, so they took him out to play, and that grassy resort was often visited by parents with their children.

Chapter 462 Is there some regrets

When they arrived, they pitched their tent next to Atha's.

The two families chatted together afterwards. Atha liked him very much, and after her mother taught her to call him brother, she kept calling him very sweetly and softly.

After that, the two families chatted and he played with her.

The adults were happy to talk, and Atha kept giggling at him, like a baby.

"Did you like me when you watched my face since that time?" Will Gardner saw her still staring at the photo, and his lazy voice rang out.

Sarah Yeats, "..."

A two-year-old child would not care about appearance.

It was that she would get with the person who looked good to get along with.

"Children are not face judger." Sarah Yeats defended herself, "It should be that you were good to get alone with, so I would play with you."

"Then what happened to giggling at me all the time?"

"And grabbed my finger and wouldn't let go."

"Called me so sweetly."

Sarah Yeats was mentally breakdown.

What kind of experience was it of having someone help you remember things that you couldn't even remember?

No matter what he said, she had no reason to refute.

Because she didn't know whether it was true or not.

"Why don't you call me brother now?" Will Gardner glanced at her nicely. He was touched.

"These are all your side of the story." The cheeks of Sarah Yeats were a little hot.

Although that was something she did as a child, she felt embarrassed when these things were so bluntly said by others. "Wait for me to make a phone call to ask my aunt."

After mom died, her aunt rarely came back.

In order to avoid marriage imposed by grandpa, she went abroad alone, and now lived outside all year round and rarely came back. Occasionally she would call Muffin when she was free.

Now thinking about her aunt...

She found that they had been out of touch for a long time.

Will Gardner's eyebrow tipped. He let her call her aunt.

The phone did not take long to connect. Aunt has always loved Sarah Yeats and Rita Yeats.

The first thing she needed to do was to make sure that everything was fine to aunt before she got to the point of asking about the past, "Did I really like that boy at that time?"

"Other than your mother, the person you liked the most that day was him." Aunt had an excellent temperament and looked very charming, "When we separated and I wanted to hug you, you kept pulling his hands and refused to let go."

Sarah Yeats, "..."

"Why do you suddenly ask this." Aunt inquired.

"When I looked at the photo I found that the little boy in the photo was my current boyfriend." Sarah Yeats also did not hide. Aunt knew her relationship. "He said I had been giggling at him at that time, so I wanted to make a phone call to ask for confirmation."

"He was not wrong."

"Not only did you giggle at people, you also kept calling him brother, asking this for a while, asking that for a while and talking too much."

"When we parted, you couldn't let go and cried."

"If not for that the age difference was big and that little boy was sensible, your mother would plan to ask his mother to mention the matter of the child marriage."

What her aunt said was heard by Will Gardner.

He took out his cell phone and sent a message to his mother, 'Why didn't you set a child marriage with me when I were a child?'

If they had a child marriage, maybe he and Atha were childhood friends.

Elaine Gardner, '?'

Elaine Gardner, 'You had a fight with Sarah?'

Will Gardner, 'No, we are fine. We just talked about this, so I want to ask you.'

Elaine Gardner, 'I wanted to decide a child marriage to you. But you rejected.'

Elaine Gardner, 'When you were seven years old, we met a two-year-old girl on the way to play. When we parted, you were still unwilling to part. Your father and I seldom saw you liked a girl, so we decided to talk to the parents of that girl. But you stopped us.'

Looking at the words,
Will Gardner just got a little impression of this.
He seemed to..... stop them.
At that time, he did not think that the child marriage had any use. If there was destiny that tied them together, they would meet again, and if not, there was no need to bind that cute little girl for life through child marriage.
Most importantly, he felt that they would only meet that one time.
Elaine Gardner, 'Don't be a playboy. Once you chose to stay with Sarah, you should care about her. She's a good girl to cherish.'
Will Gardner replied one word Okay.
Then he glanced at Sarah Yeats, who was still on the phone, and sent another message, 'Sarah Yeats is the little girl who was two years old.'
After sending this message, he put the phone away.
If there was just a little bit of guilt before that he hadn't confessed his feelings to her, then now it was intense regret.
If he had agreed at that time.
Atha would only meet him and would not have experienced those unhappy events with Jason Noth.
For a moment, all kinds of complicated emotions spread in Will Gardner's minds. The emotions that were happy just now were all covered by those complications at the moment.
"What's wrong?" Sarah Yeats hung up the phone and then noticed that his emotions were not quite right.
Will Gardner's deep black eyes were a little deeper and he asked a unintelligible question, "Will you blame me?"
"What?"
"If it wasn't me, you wouldn't have had that unhappy marriage in the past."
Will Gardner was not a sentimental person.
On the contrary,
he was a person who looked at everything with a very open mind.
But at this moment, after learning that he had a short time with Sarah Yeats when he was a child and they almost had a child marriage, his mental defense deviated a little.
"What's wrong?" Sarah Yeats sensitively perceived the abnormality.
Will Gardner had a bad mood. With all kinds of complicated emotions, he handed her the phone.
Sarah Yeats finished reading the part of his chat with Elaine Gardner. After seeing that his face was full of complications, she handed the phone back to him, enlightening, "It has nothing to do with you, and it has nothing to do with blame."
"I am a person who is more resistant to child marriage. if there really is a child marriage, maybe I would not love you anymore." Sarah Yeats was open-minded about all this, "You have to believe that they are the best arrangements."
She was two years old and he was seven years old.
She had not yet started kindergarten, while he was already in elementary school.
Two or three years old children are particularly prone to play together with their little ones. They will all forget after only playing together one afternoon.

"You are right." Will Gardner figured it out after rationalizing his thoughts for a while.

With Atha's character, if she knew that he was her baby date when she entered the organization for training, she might become a deadly rival with him.

This guy was good at holding a grudge.

"But....." Will Gardner figured it out and then his nature returned.

Sarah Yeats had not yet noticed and was unaware of the fall into the pit,

"What?"

"Is there some regrets without my companion from childhood to adulthood?" Will Gardner tone of voice slightly raised, with a few scattered.

Chapter 463 Did they mix it up

"No." Sarah Yeats replied very seriously, still fighting to win on this point, "Without your existence, I will become the child king."

If the captain and she really had a child marriage, she still had some difficulty to imagine.

As a child, she did not like to be protected by others.

She liked deal with things independently.

She always thought that relying on others was very unreliable. Only one person was strong enough, can he or she protect themselves.

If she had been protected by the captain all the time, she would probably be a spoiled child. Such a personality was not suitable for her.

"You are something!"

"Yes."

"I'm quite sorry." Will Gardner suddenly popped up a sentence out.

Sarah Yeats was slightly puzzled.

Haven't he already figured it out? Why to regret again?

"If you and I had a child marriage, I would have a follower." Will Gardner joked, "Every day you called me brother, I must be very happy."

Sarah Yeats, "..."

He would keep talking this, right?

Will Gardner eyes fell on her, with some lazy, "How about fulfilling my wish, calling me brother?"

request.

"Really do not call?"

"There should be many people to call your brother when you were a kid."

"?"

"Lola." Sarah Yeats countered with a serious talk with him, "Last time she also called you brother Will, and said that she was used to calling you since childhood."

Will Gardner paused.

He was ill-considered.

"If you really want me to call you brother, I'll give her a call for you." Sarah Yeats stirred things up, "Ask her whether she still wants to call you so."

"It is meaningless to let others call me brother." Will Gardner said with eyes titillating and voice alluring, "I only like to hear you call."
"Brother."
Will Gardner's thin lips pursed.
This guy,
still let people do not know how to take the trick.
"Not as cute as when you were a kid." He began to be a fault-finder.
Sarah Yeats knew that he was stirring up troubles, and she was particularly serious, "Why don't you imitate how I called as a child? I'll imitate you."
"No one can learn your sweet and soft sound." Will Gardner responded extremely fast with indifferent tone, "It is okay that you do not learn how to call. You will call me when it is suitable."
Sarah Yeats, "..."
She did not know how to reply him.
She did not fool around with him on this matter again.
After chatting, she put the album back and went to bed to lie down and sleep.
Perhaps she saw a picture of her mom, or maybe she talked to her aunt on the phone.
She dreamed about her mom.
Unlike the previous time, this time mom did not go away, did not run. She hugged her and said she felt relieved that she was with Will Gardner.
"Mommy..."
Sarah Yeats murmured a word in her dream.
Will Gardner was sensitive to hear. He reached out and held her in his arms, giving her a sense of security.
This night, Sarah Yeats slept very peacefully.
After the two woke up in the morning, each of them was busy with their own business.
Last night's photos did not affect so many things, but except one thing. Both of them could not wait to propose to each other.
Sarah Yeats began to display all the proposal staffs and to make a final plan for proposal with Jacob and other people after all the things were wellprepared.
Jacob and Jim both listened to her plan and then asked only one question, "Are you sure to propose to the captain on June 12?"
"Yes."
"No more changes?"
"No more changes."
After getting this answer from her, Jacob and Jim were relieved.
There was still several days before June 12, so it should still not be too late to inform the captain.
"There's just one problem that hasn't been solved ..." Sarah Yeats watched the plan in her hand and was never 100% sure about the most important part, "I don't know how to ask the captain out."
"It's a very simple thing." Julian White blurted out.
Once Sarah asked him to come out,
the captain would not refuse.
"Not simple, it's hard." Sarah Yeats thought about everything, "For a scene like being proposed to, the captain has to attend in full costume.”

If he needs to attend in costume, he will definitely make him suspicious.’

But there is no other ways to make him not suspicious.’

“This is simple.” Jacob and Jim would inform Sarah and Will and arranged things clearly, “Leave it to us. When the time comes, you just need to cooperate with us to tell a lie. We guarantee to ask the captain out for you.”

“Really?”

“Really.”

Jacob and Jim both answered with certainty.

Sarah Yeats had a lot of trust in them and agreed.

After everything was planned out that day, Jacob and Jim went to find Will Gardner. They planned not to reveal the will of both sides to propose, so they would not reveal.

They had an appointment in a private room in a store. Will Gardner also held the proposal plan in his hand.

“How about you propose on the 12th?” Jacob’s lying skills were still very good. Jacob was serious that nobody could find any signs of lie, “Then I go with Jim to lie to Pumpkin and let her put on good makeup, dress exquisite and go with us.”

“Will she believe it?” Will Gardner only doubted this.

“Yes.” Jim assured, “Pumpkin is very good to us, and she knows those private matters of ours.”

The three of them were never polite to the other two. When they needed anything, they were willing to help each other.

They were true friends and could tell everything to each other.

“How much do you make sure?” Will Gardner is a little more cautious than before.

It was the proposal. Atha certainly hoped that she is beautiful to be proposed. He didn’t want to have any mistakes or accidents.

Jacob and Jim had a look at each other and gave the answer, ‘100% sure.’

It must be 100% sure.

Pumpkin was also going to propose to the captain that day.

She must have dressed up nicely!

“This is the venue and the entire process of the proposal.” Will Gardner gave them the plan, one for each of them, “It’s best to ask her out at night. The location is already marked on it. You guys are responsible for calling her out for me. Robert Shawn and the others will arrange the rest of things.”

“Good.” The two agreed.

They went through the proposal plan one by one.

After finished watching it, they sighed that they are perfect couple. Even the proposal scene and the way are almost the same.

They was suddenly a little curious that who would be better.

“You two don’t say anything in front of her.” Will Gardner admonished. He wanted that everything was fine, “Must be concealed.”

“Okay.”

The two people agreed extremely quickly.

At the same time.

The other side,

Julian White was called over by Robert Shawn and others.

The purpose was also simple, to help Will Gardner set up the proposal venue and all other related work.

“Marriage proposal?” Julian White were amazed. There was a sense of uncertainty between the words, “Are you sure i was the captain who proposed to Sarah?”

On the 12th, wasn't it Sarah who proposed to the captain?

Did they mix it up?

Chapter 464 Proposing to each other

“The whole plan is written in the document, so don't pretend that you know nothing about it.” James said in a calm tone and urged him, “Hurry up and go to work, we got no time to waste.”

Hearing this, Julian was still in a state of confusion.

He took a look at the document he handed him.

The content in it was indeed all about the plan of how Captain Leon would propose to Sarah.

But!

Sarah also told him that she would propose to Captain Leon that day.

Pushing his glasses up his nose with his finger, Robert came up to him and whispered.”Don't say anything about this plan to Sarah. When the time comes, Jacob and Jim will give her a surprise, so keep it a secret now.”

Julian was a bit dumbfounded.

Jacob and Jim were supposed to know that Sarah was going to propose to Captain Leon.

How come they changed their mind and decided to help Captain Leon this time?

Seeing the confusion on Julian's face, Robert asked. “What's wrong?”

“I remember that Sarah told me she has something important to do that day. Didn't she tell you this?” Julian asked tentatively. “Are you sure Jacob and Jim could manage to invite her here?”

“Of course.” Robert said with certainty, “They have already come up with a great idea.”

With disbelief in his mind, Julian quickly made a phone call to Jacob.

He wanted to know why their plan had been changed.

Who was going to propose at last? Captain Leon or Sarah?

When Jacob saw Julian's phone call, he soon knew what he was going to ask. Then he picked up the phone and said.”The plan has been changed, Don't tell anyone else about our new plan right now.”

“What exactly is our new plan now?” Julian asked with a frown, “We were supposed to help Sarah propose to Captain Leon according to the plan, why you suddenly changed your mind to help Captain Leon instead?”

“Well, because we never expected they would propose to each other at the same time,” Jacob explained.

Julian, “What?”

So they both had the thought to propose.

What a creepy coincidence!

“Only you and me, Jim and Robert know this.” Jacob knew that Julian would feel confused so he said in advance, “We need to help both of them finish their proposal, don’t tell anyone about our plan.”

It took a while for Julian to fully understand what was going on after he heard Jacob’s words.

He didn’t know much about Captain Leon’s proposal and felt a little worried. “So who would propose first?”

“It’s Sarah that sends Captain Leon flowers first according to the plan. After Sarah’s proposal, they would soon go to the location where Captain Leon propose to her. ”

Jacob said.

“Captain Leon doesn’t know anything about this, right?”

“Of course, he doesn’t know.”

“Then what Captain Leon would do if Sarah succeeds in proposing before he does?”

It was unreasonable for them to propose twice.

One time would be enough no matter who proposed first.

After all, it should be all right since they were willing to marry each other.

“I guess he would change his plan as soon as he figures out what happened.” Jacob said firmly, “Captain Leon has always been smart, even if we don’t remind him, he would soon find out that Sarah was trying to propose to him.”

According to Sarah’s proposal, she was going to send flowers to Captain Leon in a teddy bear costume without showing her face in front of him.

After that, the drones would fly in a heart-shaped formation and deliver the ring to Sarah.

Then she would propose to Captain Leon under the drones and fireworks.

Captain Leon should soon notice what was going on when he saw Zack and Susan show up.

“Even if Captain Leon couldn’t notice it in time, he still got plenty of chances to put the ring on Sarah’s finger after the proposal,” Jacob said with a kind smile on his face.

Hearing these words, Julian was slightly relieved.

Although in the deep of his heart,

He still hope Captain Leon could propose first.

Because it would surely make everyone know that Captain Leon loved Sarah so much and wanted her to be happy.

After Julian hung up the phone.

He quickly went back to his work to fulfilling their new plan.

As for Sarah, she already made up her mind to share her proposal with Susan and Zack.

Both of them were shocked when they heard that she was going to propose to Will. Zack even couldn’t believe what he heard and asked, “Are you sure that you want to propose to Will instead of waiting for Will’s proposal?”

“Yes, I’m sure.” Sarah nodded.

“Really?”

“Why?”

“Are you afraid that Will doesn’t propose to you? I guess that’s why you decide to propose to him first.”

“No.” Sarah knew that Captain Leon would surely propose to her sooner or later, but she also wanted to tell him that she liked him too, “It’s just because I want to be with him as soon as possible, so I decide to propose to him first.”

Hearing her words, Zack frowned.

Because he thought it was a man’s duty to propose to the woman he loved.

But if Will had learned that his beloved was also planning to propose to him, he would be overjoyed.

After all, this was not only romantic.

But also better than countless sweet words.

“When the time comes, please help me send him a bouquet. Jacob will tell you what to do when you met him.” Sarah came to them mainly for discussing when to propose, so she asked. “Do you have time to do it for me this weekend?”

“Yes, of course,” Susan replied without any hesitation.

“Does Will know anything about this?” Zack narrowed his eyes and asked.

In his kind of view, Will should take the initiative to propose to Sarah.

And he was sure Will had already planned to do so.

“He does not know, every part of this plan is top secret,” Sarah told him the truth.

Although Zack was talkative, he knew how to do the right thing at the right time and was as reliable as Julian.

Therefore, Sarah was sure he could keep their secret.

“Okay.” Zack finally nodded and decided to help her.

After the plan was settled.

Sarah soon left.

When Sarah disappeared from their sight, Susan looked at Zack and asked,

“Are you jealous?”

“What?”

“Are you jealous because Will was going to get married?”

“No, I’m not.” Zack said in a serious tone, “Don’t you know I’m also going to marry a beauty soon?”

Of course, he was not lying.

Every man in the world would feel happy when he learned that his beloved was going to propose to him because he knew she loved him and was willing to stay with him for the rest of her life.

But Zack was different, he just wanted Susan to be happy whether she was willing to marry him or not.

He also wanted to let her know.

He would try his best to make her happy if she choose to marry him.

“Who is the beauty you are referring to?” Susan asked.

“That beauty would be you, Susan.”

“Then why haven’t you proposed to me yet?”

After hearing Susan’s question.

Zack was stunned with his eyes wide open. Suddenly, Zack stammered with his eyes full of surprise and joy, "Do..... do you want me to propose to you?"
What?
shiro
Susan was asking him to propose to her!!!
"It seems that you got no intention to be with me at all." After saying so, Susan stood up and pretended to leave. "Have you ever thought about proposing to me?"
"Wait! Please don't go. I will propose to you right here, right now!" Zack said hurriedly with his face flushed.
All the time.
He was waiting for a chance to tell Susan that he loved her. But when he looked into her eyes, he was too shy to speak it out.

Chapter 465 I won't make it difficult for you
The two of them have been childhood friends for more than 20 years, and their families also got along with each other very well.
In the other words, they were the perfect match in every aspect.
Finally, Zack made up his mind to propose to Susan.
"Tomorrow I'll take you to buy a wedding ring." Zack was looking forward to marrying Susan into his family, "After that, I will propose to you formally as soon as possible."
Hearing his words, Susan didn't say anything in response, but the weak smile on her face already told Zack her answer.
Zack never felt so happy in his life.
But when the two had dinner together.
Zack suddenly lost in thought and was about to ask Susan something.
Noticing the serious look on his face, Susan took the initiative to talk.
"Is there anything you want to say to me?" Susan asked in a soft tone.
She had already decided to answer all his questions and be honest with her future husband.
Even If he wanted to know what kind of wedding dress she liked the most, she would tell him sincerely.
Because she didn't want to make him feel worried.
"Susan....." Although Zack was afraid of making her angry, he still plucked up the courage and asked, "Do you still like that young master of the Davis family now?"
Susan, "What?"
Susan put down the tableware and frowned.
Looking at her reaction, Zack's heart thumped.
It seemed that she still liked that man.
"It's okay, I'm just curious. Whether you like him or not, I will always be with you....."
Zack felt a little disappointed when he said so. He dared not propose to Susan in the past 20 years just because he thought she liked that man, not him.
Hearing this, Susan rolled her eyes and said nothing.
"Susan, promise me that you won't leave me alone after I propose to you. If you want to be with him afterward, I won't let you go." Zack didn't dare to look into Susan's eyes when he said these brave words.

Susan shook her head and sighed helplessly.

It seemed that Zack's EQ was much lower than what she expected.

"I would never let you go no matter what happened." Zack said so with a serious face,

"So when I propose to you, you have to think it over before giving me the answer."

He did not want to say these words when proposing, so he decided to say them in advance.

No matter what kind of decision Susan was going to make at last

He would never go against her will.

"Have you ever done an EQ test before?" Susan asked him in a cold voice.

Zack, "No, I haven't."

"I strongly recommend you improve your EQ in the future."

"What?"

Zack was at a loss for what to say.

But somehow he felt that Susan was scolding him.

"Are you jealous again?" Susan wanted to punch him in the face at that moment, but she soon realized that she never told him that he was the only man she loved in her life.

"Of course not," Zack replied in a calm tone. He just wanted to know why Susan changed her mind in such a short time. "Susan, I know you have liked him for a long, long time, but it's okay."

It has been more than 10 years since she fell in love with the young master of the Davis family.

That's why he felt worried about her sudden decision.

If it were him, he would not forget his beloved so quickly.

Not to mention Susan was very emotional since he was a child.

"Yes, you're right." Susan finally decided to tell him the truth, "I indeed have fallen in love with a man since I was young, and I will continue to love him for the rest of my life."

Zack, "What?????"

Zack, "Really???"

Hearing this, Zack's mind went blank.

He never expected Susan could say something like this.

"How could you....."

"Go ahead, I'm listening."

"How could you treat me like this!" Zack said so with his eyes filled with sorrow and anger, "Didn't you say that you want me to marry you? Why are you suddenly changing your mind?"

Zack shook his head and tried his best to figure out what was going on.

Now he felt so regretful to ask her that kind of question.

It was he who made her change her mind!

"He is the only one I liked since my childhood, so I would never forget him." Susan looked Zack right in the eyes and said in a very serious tone.

"Susan!"

Zack called her name in anger.

He felt like himself just like a fool.

“Did that young master of the Davis family call you just now?” He dropped the tableware on the table and asked angrily, “Didn’t you say that he has already fallen in love with someone else? He is undeserving of your affections.”

Out of Susan’s expectations, Zack chose to comfort her instead of scolding her.

Although he was angry.

He was just angry at himself for not being able to keep her by his side.

At that moment, Susan felt Zack was not only silly but also kind. Even if she didn’t confess her love for him, he would still be her best friend and stay by her side.

With her eyes filled with tears, Susan was touched by his silly words at last.

“Zack.” Susan called his name and said in a low voice, “You are the most stupid fool in the whole world.”

“What.....” Zack replied with confusion.

“The dumbest fool on this planet.”

“What if I still think about getting married and having children with him, what would you do?” Susan said the harshest words with the gentlest tone this time.

Hearing these words, Zack was stunned.

After a few seconds.

He looked away from her and said in a trembling voice, “I will let you go.”

“Do you still want to propose to me?”

“No, I don’t.”

Because there was no need to propose anymore.

Zack would keep his word if he chose to let her go.

“Okay.” Susan lowered her head and said.

Zack did not say anything this time.

The atmosphere at the dinner table was somewhat unbearably oppressive.

“Then will you still love me?” Susan raised her head and asked again.

“Although I like you, I’m still a man with self-respect.” Zack almost burst into anger when he said so, but even so, he didn’t want to hurt Susan with harsh words, “Yes, I have a crush on you a long long time ago, and I’m so afraid of losing you that I didn’t confess my love for the past 20 years. I admit I’m a coward, but I do have selfrespect.”

Since Susan had made up her mind, it would be too shameless for him to harass her.

Zack could accept her past including her old love story.

But he couldn’t accept that she still loved someone else after the proposal.

“I will explain everything to both of our parents about why we break up.”

Zack said with a weak smile, “Don’t worry, I promise I won’t make it difficult for you.”

“Do you want to break up?”

“Yes...”

Although it was just one word, Zack felt so hard to speak it out.

Suddenly, Susan took a deep breath and said word by word, “To be honest, the beauty that you liked since your childhood, she also loved you from that time.”

Zack was shocked when he heard these words.

Before he could say a word, Susan added, “I have never liked the young master of the Davis family, you are the only one that I loved in my life.” “What do you..... mean?” Zack stammered.

“At first, I was not sure that you like me or not, so I lied to you that I liked the young master of the Davis family.” Susan finally told him the truth, “After all, you had confessed that you would protect me as a sister for the rest of your life.”

Chapter 466 Just say you love me

Susan thought Zack didn't like her since he just treated her as his younger sister.

So she decided to treat him as her elder brother as well.

“You, are you telling me the truth?” Zack asked with disbelief.

“Yes.”

“You liked me before?”

“Of course.”

“We liked each other since we were a child?”

“Yes.”

Susan answered his question without any hesitation. Zack was so delighted after hearing these words.

“You wouldn't be lying, right?” Zack pursed his lips and asked in a soft tone, “You always told me that you liked the young master of the Davis family, How can I trust you this time?”

“I lied to you because you always want me to be your sister before.” Susan pursed her lips and said.

Sometimes she wanted to be a girl like Sarah.

Because if Sarah were here, she would confess her love without thinking.

If she succeed in proposing, she would stay with the one she loved, and if she failed, she would start a new life and let the past be the past.

That night.

Zack asked Susan a lot of questions.

When he was sure that Susan liked him a long time ago, he happily hugged her and kissed her several times.

After he put her down, Susan asked.

“Do you still want to break up with me?”

“No! No! Honey, I promise I would never say it again.”

“Do you still want to propose to me?”

“Yes! Yes! Darling, I swear I will soon propose to you!”

Susan took a glance at him and then pushed him away.

But Zack soon held her in his arms again and said, “I was so worried that I might lose you when you said those harsh words to me just now.”

He would probably burst into tears if she left him alone.

But now he was relieved.

“Let go of me!” Susan pushed him away with her face flushed.

“I would never let you go unless you kiss me on the cheek.”

“Zack!”

“What’s up? My dear!”

“If you don’t let go of me right now, I’ll slap you in the face instead of kissing you on the cheek.”

“Come on, Susan. I’m just trying to improve our relationship.” Zack held her tighter and whispered in her ear, “My heart is still aching after you said so many harsh words to me, and now you have to fix it with your kiss.”

“Well, I got the same feeling when you treat me as your sister. Now it’s time to pay the price, my big brother!” Susan replied with an evil smile.

For the past 20 years, Susan suffered a lot for secret love.

Every time she saw him laughing and drinking with other girls in the nightclubs, she couldn’t help clenching her fist.....

Although Susan could pretend that she never liked him, she couldn’t lie to herself. All of sudden.

Susan’s face darkened and broke loose from his embrace.

Then she said in a very cold tone.

“Speaking of which, I suddenly remember that you asked me to introduce one of my female friends to you before. Did you date her?”

“My stomach!” Zack shouted.

“What?”

“My stomach is aching, I need to go to the toilet.”

“You are not going anywhere before answering my questions! Do you still like her?” Susan said with a fake smile on her face.

“No, I didn’t even know her name, let alone fall in love with her.” Zack hurried to explain, “I didn’t know you liked me at that time, so I was just trying to talk with you. Because the longer I keep talking to you, the longer you would stay by my side.”

Susan, “.....”

Zack, “Susan, Are you jealous?”

“Shut up.”

“Come on, give me a kiss!”

“Beat it.”

“Susan.....”

“Just leave me alone.”

“Okay!” Zack winked at her and said, “See you later, honey. Call me if you feel lonely!”

After saying that, Zack left.

He couldn’t wait to tell Will that he was about to get married.

Zack took out his cell phone and began to edit the message.

With a simile on his face.

Zack soon sent the message to Will.

At this time, Will just returned home and had dinner with Sarah. When he saw the message, he replied with a sneer, [If I were you, I would feel ashamed.]

Zack, [I know you are jealous, aren’t you?]

Will, [Why should I be jealous of a man who got no courage to confess his love?]

Zack, [Susan and I have liked each other since we were young, do you have any childhood sweethearts?]

Will rolled his eyes after reading his words.

Then he put down the phone and decided to enjoy his dinner first.

After dinner.

He went upstairs with Sarah.

When Sarah saw him put their photos on the bed, she asked with confusion,

“What are you doing with these photos?”

“I will send them to Zack.”

“Why?”

“He just bragged to me that Susan liked him since they were young.” Will sent the photos to Zack while talking to Sarah, “I have to tell him that you liked me so much that you wouldn’t let go of my hand at the age of two.”

Sarah, “.....”

What were these two men doing?

Zack soon received Will’s message.

Zack, [Are you sure the little girl in that photo is Sarah? I wouldn’t believe it.]

After a while, Will sent him one of Sarah’s family portraits.

Zack was shocked after he knew that the two-year-old girl in the photos with Will was indeed Sarah.

So Sarah was Will’s childhood sweetheart.

[It doesn’t matter anymore, because Susan and I are going to get married.]

Zack replied. [Anyway, we are the perfect match in the world.]

[No, I think you are not worthy of her since Susan is much smarter than you.

How could you take 20 years to realize that she likes you?] Will asked.

[You can ask Susan whether you are stupid or not.]

Zack, [.....]

His intuition told him.

Susan would probably say that he was the stupidest dumbass in the world.

After the small talk, Will put the photos back into the album.

In the meantime, Sarah took out her phone and began to send messages to Jacob and Jim. She wanted to make sure they had fulfilled their tasks according to her proposal.

The two of them replied to her that everything was in order.

After putting the photos back into the album, Will soon noticed Sarah was doing something suspicious, then he asked, “What are you doing with your cellphone?”

“Nothing.”

Sarah quickly turned off her phone and put it in her pocket.

Her weird reaction attracted Will’s attention, he took a glance at her pocket and remarked casually, “Sarah, I know you are lying.”

“Well, I just talked to Jacob about our favorite movies.”

“Really?”

“Yes.”

“Okay, then show me your phone,” Will stepped forward and said.

Sarah wouldn't be so nervous if she was telling the truth.
He could tell that she was hiding something from him.

Chapter 467 Caught in the act

"The phone is my belonging." Sarah covered her pocket with her hands and tried to reason with him, "So you can't take it from me according to the law."

"You are my fiancée, have you talked to any other men on the phone behind my back?" Will came up to her and asked in a serious tone.

Sarah, "....."

Sarah was already in a state of panic.

Will looked into her eyes and continued, "Yes? Or no?"

"No."

"Really?"

"Yes....."

Sarah lowered her head and answered in a low voice.

Will narrowed his eyes and asked, "Can you swear to God? If you lied to me, you will have to sleep with me tonight."

Sarah, "?"

Sarah, "!"

With her eyes wide open, Sarah said, "Are you serious?"

"Of course."

"Okay, I'm sorry, I lied."

"Never mind." Will said with a kind smile, "So what are you hiding from me?"

"Do you want to know?" Sarah asked.

"Yes, I'm waiting for your explanation."

Will finished his words and waited for her answer.

Sarah hesitated.

She had planned her proposal for a long time.

And she was going to give him a surprise that he would never forget in his life.

So she didn't want to tell him anything about her plan right now.

"I admit that we talked about you just now, but I swear I didn't say anything bad about you." After thinking for while, Sarah said so.

Will, "How about you show me your phone right now?"

"No."

"Why?"

"Sorry, Will," Sarah said apologetically.

"If you don't show me your phone, how do I know whether you are telling the truth or not?" Will deliberately teased her with these words.

But as soon he finished his words.

Sarah quickly stood on tiptoe and kissed him on the cheek.

With her face flushed, Sarah said in a soft tone, "Can you believe me now?"

"Well, I think one kiss is not enough." Will looked at her delicate face and said gently.

Hearing this, Sarah kissed him again.

And this time she did it much better than before.

However, before Sarah could react.

Will suddenly held her in his arms and kissed her on the lips.

After they kissed each other for a while, Sarah stepped back and asked. "I have done what you asked, so can you believe me now?" Will looked at her red thin lips and said, "Okay, I believe you." After saying so, He finally let go of her. "Thanks, Will. I need to go now"

Sarah was trying to leave right after she said so. But Will grasped her arm before she could escape. Then he brought her back into his arms and asked, "Are you ready for the punishment?"

Hearing this, Sarah was confused. What did he want?

"You will have to sleep with me tonight because you lied to me. How about we take a shower first?" Will narrowed his eyes and asked. Sarah's cheeks suddenly turned red. She lowered her head and tried to say something. Finally, she decided to change the subject, "Let's talk about that after we get married."

"I'll let you go as soon as you answer my question," Will said with an evil smile on his face.

"Will, You're so naughty!"

"Yes."

"Rascal!"

"You could say that."

"You set me up!"

"Right."

Sarah, "....."

Sarah didn't know what to say next. Seeing the depressed look on her face, Will burst into laughter and said, "I told you one kiss is not enough, let's take the shower together."

"No! I promise... I promise you I will make it up for you on the wedding night!" Sarah stamped her foot and said angrily. After saying so, she quickly shook off his hand and dashed to the door. But Will soon blocked her way and stopped her. Sarah stared at Will for a few seconds and said. "Get out of my way! I hate you!"

"Okay, don't forget your promise."

With a kind smile on his face, Will finally stepped aside and opened the door for her.

After Sarah slipped away, Will decided to ask Eve to help him with his proposal.

The next morning.

After Sarah went to work, Will soon left the house and met Eve. Will wanted all his friends and family members to be witnesses of his proposal.

When Eve saw him in the courtyard, she was walking with her baby. Then she came up to him and said, "Are you Will?"

Sarah showed her Will's photo before.

So she soon recognized him at the first sight.

She didn't expect that he was more handsome than in the photo.

"Yes, I'm Sarah's boyfriend" Will stood outside the courtyard and said, "I'm sorry to intrude on you like this."

Eve invited him into the courtyard.

She was Sarah's best friend and they have lived here together for a long time.

Will entered the courtyard after he was invited to come in.

This was a basic courtesy.

Eve gave the baby to the maid and handed him a cup of tea. Then she asked, "Is there anything I can do to help?"

"I'm going to propose to Sarah, I hope you can come and be a witness." Will said sincerely, "Are you free this weekend?"

"Yes, no problem," Eve answered at first.

"Many thanks."

"My pleasure."

"Please don't tell Sarah about this," Will said in a low voice. But before he finished his words, Sarah suddenly showed up.

"Did you just call my name?" Sarah came up to him and asked, "Will, why did you come here?"

Will,

Eve, "....."

What a coincidence!

Fortunately, Sarah didn't pay so much attention to their conversation. She was playing with the baby at that time.

Seeing the serious look on their faces, Sarah felt something was wrong.

Then she asked with confusion.

"What's wrong with you? Why aren't you guys talking?"

"It's a secret," Eve replied with a soft smile on her face.

Will didn't expect Sarah to be here.

"Why are you here?" He asked.

"It's a secret," Sarah replied.

Hearing the conversation between Sarah and Will, Eve couldn't help but burst into laughter.

Chapter 468 You really want me to proposal to you?

"I can only think of one thing that the captain come to you and still let you keep it a secret." Sarah Yeats was very smart.

Eve Kent asked, "What."

Will Gardner was not calm.

He knew very well that Sarah Yeats must have guessed the thing.

"The marriage proposal." Sarah Yeats sighted at Eve Kent, noting the changes in her expression, "Right?"

The reason why she didn't stare at the captain was because she knew very well how good the captain's acting skills were, and it was impossible to find flaws from his face.

Unfortunately, she forgot one thing.
Eve Kent is an actor.
And an actor with excellent performance.
Although she was surprised to hear Sarah Yeats's words, she only squeezed a smile and said nothing.
Sarah Yeats confounded a moment because of her reaction.
Not right?
"You really want me to propose to you?" Will Gardner was relieved when Eve Kent not flubbed the thing.
Sarah Yeats, "....."
Is it really not a marriage proposal?
Her eyes looked back and forth between the two.
If it wasn't a proposal, then what was it?
"I'll take you to choose a ring after lunch later." Will Gardner was so tricky that she couldn't respond quickly, "I'll pick a day to propose to you after the ring is chosen."
Sarah Yeats pressed her lips, any suspicion that it was a proposal was completely dispelled at this time.
Take her to pick out a ring.....
"What kind of proposal scene do you like?" Will Gardner asked her again.
"It's not a proposal, so what were you guys just talking about?" Sarah Yeats suddenly felt confused.
Logistically speaking, the captain talked to Eve Kent aside from proposal, was discussing the marriage thing. After all, Eve Kent was her friend.
she was not pregnant or had a baby.
There is no need for him to gain experience.
There is the most important point.
If it was about the child, there was no need to keep it a secret.
Eve Kent and Will Gardner glanced at each other, the former did not speak, leaving this matter to Will Gardner to handle himself.
"You'll know after that." Will Gardner stood up and rubbed her head.
Sarah Yeats was still guessing.
But no matter how she thought, she couldn't guess.
Will Gardner held her hand, his lazy low voice was charming, "Go back and pack first, we'll go choose a ring after lunch."
"You go back first, I have something to talk with Eve Kent." Sarah Yeats intended to know something from Eve Kent, his expression was lighter than before, wait for me unch."
"Picking out a ring this afternoon?"
"We are not in a hurry. It's never too late to go after that."
After she had made a decision, Will Gardner did not say anything more.
she can't know anything from Eve Kent no matter what she say.
After leaving space for them, he was ready to leave. But he didn't expect to run into someone outside the door – Edgar Williams.
His eyes glanced briefly over him, and then he was gone
No greeting, no conversation.
As if two strangers who do not know each other.

Edgar Williams watched him leave until his back was farther and farther away from him, then he took out his phone and sent a message out, [I just got a very bad news about you.

Jason Noth, [What.]

Edgar Williams tapped his fingers on it.

He realized how hurtful the thing was and deleted words.

The first thing he did was to meet Eve Kent and October, but he didn't expect to know Will Gardner talking about proposing to Sarah Yeats, and he was just going to go in and listen carefully when he saw Sarah Yeats coming this way. He hid himself because he didn't want to argue with her.

As soon as he came out, he ran into Will Gardner.

He did not return the message for a long time, and then Jason Noth sent question mark.

After knowing that Edgar Williams would contact Eve Kent today, he kept his phone in front of him waiting for messages.

No news now can be called bad news

He waited some more.

Edgar Williams still didn't return the message.

He wanted to put the phone aside and concentrate on his work.

But the mind is full of Sarah Yeats's things. He simply can not get down to work without getting a reply from Edgar Williams,

Chris saw him in this condition.

No need to guess.

He knew it must be related to Miss Yeats's matter.

"Boss, there is a project in New York on the 12th that you need to talk about in person." Chris was reporting the schedule, "Do you need to turn it down?"

New York is a place full of all kinds of complex emotions for the boss.

Everything good and bad has been there.

During this period of time the boss did sleep well under the theart of Serial Lance, but his appetite has been bad.

If boss went to New York and accidentally met with Miss Yeats, he was really afraid that boss's true feelings would be exposed.

"No. Jason Noth was more nonchalant than ever, "I'll go."

Chris pursed his lips and gave up persuasion.

He was just there to talk about a project.

It shouldn't be that coincidental to run into MissYeats.

Jason Noth saw that he was still standing there and did not leave, "Is there anything else?" said Jason Noth in a bored voice.

"Yes."

"Go ahead."

"I know the reason why Miss Yeats moved." Chris wanted to solve his confusion.

Jason Noth froze.

Not waiting for him to speak.

Chris said, "She moved to a villa with Will Gardner not because of you, but to make life more convenient."

He didn't know it until he asked Sivan.

It is pretty heart breaking for Jason Noth.

This result.

It's better to move because she don't want him to bother.

"Boss?" Chris noticed that his eyes were a bit off, and called out tentatively.

"Got it." Jason Noth's voice was low, and his face was an inscrutable look, "do what you need to do."

Chris nodded and then left.

When he left the office he glanced back, his feelings was a bit complicated.

Now the boss's mood is more unpredictable, but he is less angry than before. It's like he's grown up overnight so that he's calmed down a lot.

Meanwhile,

His heart was closed, too.

No one but himself can open his mind.

Jason Noth did not do anything during the morning, but had been sitting in the chair waiting for Edgar Williams to send a message.

But after much deliberation, he didn't urge a message.

As for Edgar Williams.

He did not know how to reply to Jason Noth, then he intended to ask Eve Kent some concrete information before returning to his words.

For his appearance, Eve Kent and Sarah Yeats also did not care much.

Wait until noon.

Sarah Yeats wanted to tease October before going back, but she fell asleep while they were eating.

She didn't stay any longer and went back to Will Gardner

Chapter 469 Be serious

As for the rest two people, they got along well.

After Sarah Yeats left, Edgar chatted with Eve as he folded the kid's clothes, "I bought some clothes and daily necessities for October, and I hope you can accept them."

"Mm."

"And I bought you....."

"No need."

Eve refused directly.

It was reasonable for him to buy something for October.

But they were strangers at this moment.

Knowing that already, Edgar was still kind of sad.

But what made him pleased was that she accepted the stuff for October.

"October won't wake soon, so you can do you business." said Eve who didn't want to stay with Edgar, "I'll tell you when she wakes up."

"It's okay, and I'll wait."

It was impossible for Eve to drive him away.

Edgar wanted to have a conversation, but failed to get a proper chance all the time.

After a while.

Eve realized that.

It was hard to ignore Edgar's eyes.

“Just tell me what do you want to say.” said Eve who didn’t want to waste time in this way.

“I heard that Will planed to propose to Sarah” said Edgar after thinking twice, “Is that true?”

Eve was stunned for a while.

She answered as she took up the clothes, “That’s none of your business.”

“Just asking.” said Edgar slowly.

Eve didn’t say anything more.

In Eve’s heart, she knew it was Jason who let Edgar to do that.

Her answer would be known by Jason at once.

“What do you think of Will?” chatted Edgar as he changed the topic, “Is he qualified to be Sarah’s husband?”

“I don’t know.” said Eve vaguely, trying to make Edgar uncomfortable, “but he is much better than Jason.”

Eve never met Will and didn’t know how Will treated Sarah.

But she could made sure that this man could bring Sarah happiness according to the recent change of Sarah.

Atha was shy in the past.

But she began to be active recently.

More smiles were appearing on her face.

“You are right, and it was right for Sarah to divorce with Jason.” said Edgar who betrayed Jason at once, “Jason marry Ahta without proposing. It is lucky for her to have Will who will do that.”

Eve didn’t continue after packed up the clothes for October.

Edgar knew that he was not welcome, but he had to do that.

Or he would lose his wife.

After that.

Eve read the script in the room while Edgar sat downstairs alone.

After looking up, Edgar texted Jason, [It might be hard for you to accept.]

Jason replied, [Just tell me.]

Pursing his lips, Edgar texted, [Will plans to propose to Atha.]

Seeing that, Jason was stunned with the phone in his hand.

Proposal.....

Edgar added, [If he makes it, you will never have a chance.]

The process of developing love relationship was the first step.

A successful proposal meant they really loved each other.

Both of them were loyal, and no one could break them up after the marriage.

The message really made Jason so uncomfortable.

It was true that he never proposed to Atha.

Needless to say, the romantic feeling.

Overwhelmed by Various emotions, He texted slowly, [When?]

Edgar, [The 12th, but I don’t know the detail.]

Jason, [It is alright]

After doing that, Jason lied on the chait with his phone nearby, thinking what had happened between him and Sarah.

Because of that, Jason could not work well the whole day.
Finally, he asked Chris to take his place at that day.
He decided to be a witness of Sarah's happiness.
Realizing something was wrong, Chirs was in a dilemma.
Time always flew.
It was the 10th.
Will invited all the people who were important to Sarah, including, Eric,Rita and Wilson.
Her auntie should be there too, but she just was able to attend their wedding ceremony.
As for Sarah.
She did better than him.
At first, Sarah intended to invite the parents of Will, but she didn't do that since she realized that Will didn't want his parents to show up there before.
As for the reason, he answered, "If they see that, I will become a gigolo all my life in their minds."
So she listened to him.
As for Zack.
Will didn't care about.
"Are you planning to propose to me since you ask so many questions." said Will who realized that she did that deliberately.
"I am just thinking." said Sarah who didn't want to tell the truth, "I am not sure which kind of proposal you like."
"The simple."
"Hmm?"
"I prefer simple proposal."
"How simple?" said Sarah who realized her plan needed change.
In fact, her plan was kind of complicated.
She began to wonder if she could succeed.
Hugging Sarah, Will said, "for example, the sex."
Sarah was speechless.
That was embarrassing.
"Another example, the present moment." said Will again.
"I'm serious." said Sarah who suddenly lost confidence in her proposal, "Be serious."
"I'm answering your question very seriously." said Will.
He would accept the proposal of Atha at any time.
Knowing Will was serious, Sarah said as she pursed his lips, "How could you be casual, since the one who is proposed would want something romantic always."
"You are talking about girls."
"Hmm."
"Am I a girl?"

Chapter 470 Captain Leon, A Real God

"You can be like a girl." Sarah Yeats responded with a slight roll of her eyes.

Will Gardner laughed and raised his hand to knock her on the head, "You really want to be a man, do you?"

"No."

"Huh?"

"I just wanted to see what you're like when you're shy." Sarah Yeats said solemnly. After spending so much time together, Captain Leon seemed to be so calm that he would only make her blush, and he was never shy at all.

Will Gardner's eyes were stained with a little smile, "Then you have to work hard."

Sarah Yeats was silent.

She tried in vain.

After all, she was no match for him.

"Do you really prefer a simple proposal?" Thinking about her proposal, Sarah Yeats asked again.

Will Gardner replied softly.

"Let's go pick out the ring first." Sarah Yeats nudged the conversation, "When the time is right, I'll ask you to marry me."

"Proposing should be something I do."

"There is no such law."

"It's my rule."

"Well."

Sarah Yeats looked like a nice girl, but inside she's already thinking about how Captain Leon reacted when she proposed to him on the 12th..

They spent the whole afternoon on the sofa, talking and watching movies.

In the evening, Sarah Yeats remembered something.

It would seem strange, unhandsome and unromantic for her to fly a drone and deliver the ring in front of Captain Leon during the proposal.

She should get someone to secretly fly the drone for her and then have the ring drop from the sky based on her gestures or words.

That would be romantic.

She thought, just do it.

She immediately slipped out of Will Gardner's arms, planning to contact Wilson Yeats. Jacob and them all had important things to do, and asking them to help her secretly will disrupt the steps. Although Muffin was familiar with drones, she liked to join in the fun, so she was afraid of affecting her happiness.

It was better to choose Wilson Yeats.

He had more time, and he was more interested in those things, and it would be a good practice for his future proposal.

When Will Gardner saw her suddenly stand up, he pressed the pause button of the remote control and glanced at her, "What's wrong?"

"I'm going to the bathroom." Sarah Yeats took the phone and left.

Will Gardner, however, had doubts about her behavior.

He knew how much Sarah Yeats didn't like to play with her phone. She barely touched her phone except to answer messages and calls.

But during this time...

She seemed to be constantly on the phone, not even forgetting to take it to the bathroom, which was out of character for her.

She must be hiding something from him.

Sarah Yeats had no idea she was under suspicion.

After slipping into the bathroom, she sent a message to Wilson Yeats. When she didn't hear back, she called immediately.

Wilson Yeats, [I have something urgent to ask you for help ! ! ! !]

Sarah Yeats was confused, [What's the emergency?]

Wilson Yeats sent her a location. He said he would die if she didn't show up.

Sarah Yeats was so confused that she asked him what happened. Wilson Yeats didn't return the message. It was as if she had been so excited that the person she had texted was a figment of her mind.

Although she knew he was in no danger, she decided to look for him.

After all, he was a brother who had cared for her since she was a baby.

After taking the phone, she opened the door and walked out. Unexpectedly, she ran into Will Gardner who was leaning on the corridor.

"Captain Leon? She paused, and asked, somewhat guiltily, "Are you going in?"

"I'm waiting for you."

"?"

Why did he wait for her?

Will Gardner looked at the phone in her hand and said, "How do you feel?"

"What?" Sarah Yeats had no idea.

"Playing on your phone in the bathroom."

Sarah Yeats, "!"

Sarah Yeats was stunned and didn't know what to do.

She thought she was a little sloppy.

How could she forget that Captain Leon was a man of extraordinary observation. It's easy for him to spot something unusual without paying attention.

"I'm not playing on my phone." Her reaction was also fast. After a short pause, she looked natural again, "I brought my phone in case I didn't have any paper in the bathroom, so I could contact you."

"Is that so?" Will Gardner pressed his lips and ended his speech with a rising voice.

Sarah Yeats knew what he meant, "Don't you believe me?"

"I do."

"You really don't."

Will Gardner looked inside. There was a smile in his eyes that he could not hide.

Sarah Yeats was disturbed by his smile, "Never mind. I'm going down."

"Next time you want me to believe you, flush the toilet on your way out." Will Gardner pointed out her flaws, saying languidly, "The details matter."

Sarah Yeats, "....."

Sarah Yeats's mood was not good.

She tried to say that she had forgotten to flush and wanted to go back and do it again.

But she didn't get a chance to act. Will Gardner took her hand and went downstairs, never giving her the chance to play again.

"....."

"What do you want for dinner?"

"Huh?"

"What?" Will Gardner pulled her down as if the incident were a minor episode. "No dinner tonight?"

"Of course I eat." Sarah Yeats's mood was not as good as before, "but I have to go out first. Just now my brother sent me a message asking me to help him. I don't know what happened to him yet."

"Shall I accompany you?"

"No."

"When will you be back?"

"I don't know yet. I'll let you know when I'm sure."

Will Gardner said yes.

He and Sarah Yeats were lovers as well as individuals. He'll be there if she needs him. He wouldn't stop her from doing what she wanted to do.

After that, Sarah Yeats walked out the door with her phone and drove to the location that Wilson Yeats had given her.

On the way there, Sarah Yeats sighed that Captain Leon was really worthy of being their leader.

Even when he wasn't in the organization.

He was able to rely on his instinct to spot anomalies in the first place.

Fortunately, the time for the proposal was near, and she was smart, or he would have snuffed it out before it had even begun.

But.....

She suddenly began to worry about the future.

If they ever had children and she wanted to do something with them, she wouldn't be able to hide it from him.

After all, Captain Leon was a real god.

While thinking about this, Wilson Yeats sent her a message, "My nice Pumpkin, have you come?"

Sarah Yeats glanced at the message and didn't reply. She just drove seriously.

What on earth could make him so anxious?

At the moment, Wilson Yeats was sitting elegantly in the restaurant. He was both gentle and polite, maintaining his poise as the head of the Yeats Group. Sitting opposite him was a nice-looking, fashionably dressed girl. Needless to say, that was an awkward blind date

"Wilson, let's go shopping for a while after dinner." The girl smiled and looked at Wilson Yeats with appreciation.

Wilson Yeats politely refused, "I'm running out of time today and I have some things to do at home. Maybe another day."

Chapter 471 He didn't hesitate to cheat his son

In adults' world, there was only one meaning when someone said the word next time, maybe on another day or in the future, and the meaning was there was no next time, and that was what he said. She should understand it.

"Didn't Auntie say you're fine today?" Miss Jones asked as if she didn't know what he meant, "And she said we can play as long as we want."

Wilson expected it, but he didn't hesitate to clear it.

"She said it's okay because they have nothing to do with me today." Wilson explained, "Actually, I have some personal matters."

"It's okay. I'll wait for you to finish." Miss Jones smiled slightly.

Wilson couldn't help but feel frustrated. He made it clear for her to understand what he wanted her to know but didn't this young lady get it?

"By the way, Auntie said you like to watch musicals." Miss Jones said again, obviously matching him, "I happen to have two tickets for musicals here. Let's go see them together tomorrow."

"Thank you for your kindness, but I have something to do tomorrow. I can't go, sorry." Wilson still refused.

He upheld a principle that if you didn't give people the illusion, they wouldn't be assumed. He thought if he kept on refusing until the end, she would understand what he meant.

"Then tell me when you are free." Miss Jones answered naturally, took out her phone, and clicked on WhatsApp, "Let's add a friend."

Wilson didn't move. His heart was tired, and it could be easy for him to scold her without hesitation if she was rude and had the worst temper, but that young lady spoke softly without forcing him. She looked gentle and beautiful.

He was so embarrassed to speak up, after all. He couldn't help but think, what if Miss Jones didn't understand the meaning behind his words? What if she understood the literal meaning of it?

"Wilson?" Miss Jones was still holding the phone.

Wilson froze and went to get the mobile phone in his pocket in various complicated moods.

The whole process was so complicated for him. He knew after Miss Jones added him, she would contact him. She would ask him again to go to the musical show, and by that, how would he refuse?

girls.

Wilson felt sorry for his conscience because he was used to rejecting

Just as he was thinking about it, a call came in from the mobile phone he had just taken out, and when he saw it was Sarah calling, his eyes burst in surprise!

Then he realized he had lost his composure and coughed lightly, "Sorry, I'll answer the phone first." He said.

"Okay." Miss Jones nodded with a gentle expression on her face. There was a bit of loneliness that flashed through her beautiful almond eyes.

Wilson didn't notice and directly slid the answer button to answer Sarah's call. "What! Did you have a car accident?"

Sarah was very puzzled. She was standing at the restaurant's door. She couldn't remember that she said she was in a car accident.

"Are the police and doctors here?" Wilson really had acting talent, "Are you seriously injured?"

With just one glance, from where Sarah stood, she could see Wilson, and now she knew why he asked her to come here.

"You wait! Brother will come right away." Wilson acted on the phone alone and sighed in his heart that his sister's call came promptly, "Don't be afraid, everything will be fine." He hung up the phone after he spoke.

Thinking of leaving, he stopped and said to Miss Jones, "I'm sorry, my sister got into a car accident suddenly. I have to rush over to see her."

"Mr. Yeats." Miss Jones stood up, even changing her address.

Wilson didn't realize it yet, "What's wrong?" He asked.

"Even if you don't want me to be your WhatsApp friend, there's no need to lie like this." Miss Jones tightened her hand grip on the phone slightly.

Her tone was sincere, "I have a crush on you. I want to go further with you, but it doesn't mean I will always rely on you."

Miss Jones pretended not to understand the rejection at the beginning to give herself a chance, but now it seemed that was no longer necessary.

If he didn't dislike her very much, he didn't need to lie to her.

"I..." Wilson froze.

"I haven't seen you for a few days, and you started cursing me?" Sarah came over and exposed his lie without hesitation, "When did I tell you that I was in a car accident?"

Wilson panicked. He wanted to explain but he couldn't speak.

"Here's the phone." Sarah spread one hand towards Wilson.

Wilson obediently turned in. He was Sarah's brother. He couldn't refuse every time Pumpkin asked him to do something.

Sarah clicked on Wilson's WhatsApp QR code. She handed it to Miss Jones and said a word of apology. "Sorry, my brother is not very smart because he is against the idea on blind dating."

"It's okay." Miss Jones felt very comfortable.

"Let's be mutual as well," Sarah said proactively, and she felt she was a very good girl through what she said just now.

Miss Jones hesitated.

From a realistic point of view, she wanted to join, but in terms of self-esteem, she couldn't add it.

He rejected her so thoroughly just now. If she added her now, wouldn't it seem that she was cheap?

Furthermore, that was not Wilson who asked her to add.

When Miss Jones was hesitating, Sarah also realized her thoughts, threw Wilson's mobile phone to him, took out her mobile phone, opened the QR code, and handed it over. "Sorry, I took the wrong mobile phone. Here's my WhatsApp number."

There was only one reason for this. Sarah still wanted to add her brother's WhatsApp so she could add it. If she didn't want to, she would take out her WhatsApp number to help her ease the embarrassment.

Wilson was puzzled. He knew his sister was not a social cow. Sarah didn't like to make friends.

"In the future, if you encounter problems, you can come to me." Sarah added.

Miss Jones was very gentle when she smiled, like a little princess," Okay."

The two became friends, and Wilson was left to dry. He realized what he did was not good.

"How about I add one too?" He said awkwardly,

Sarah and Miss Jones' eyes fell on him at the same time.

Wilson pursed his lips. He felt very uncomfortable. "I lied just now because I didn't want to have a blind date, but... you can make friends."

Miss Jones' hand was a bit shaky and hesitant. She didn't know what to do for a while.

"Several people around me got engaged within two days of the blind date and married within a month." Wilson told the truth and didn't lie, "That's why I said what I just said."

"And you?"

"What?"

"What do you think about getting married?"

"Fate, fit, and liking." Wilson said, "The three are indispensable."

If they liked each other, but the two were not suitable, they would be separated even if they were together.

It was just a matter of how to be specific.

"What about the QR code?" Miss Jones decided to add it anyway.

Chapter 472 This damn fate

She understood his previous behavior and his resistance to blind dates. If she went on a blind date because someone forced her, she would probably be the same. She would subconsciously reject all good or bad people.

Wilson froze for a moment, "What?"

"WhatsApp QR code." Miss Jones said slowly.

Wilson reacted immediately and handed over the unlocked phone.

With just a few scans, the two became friends.

Fearing that he was going through the motions,

"If you still feel inappropriate after getting along for a while, you can tell me directly and then delete me in your contact or you can block me." Miss Jones said.

"Okay..." Wilson froze for a moment. He had never been good at deleting, but he agreed.

"Aren't you going shopping?" Wilson was still a little guilty that he lied, "I'll take you there." He said politely.

"No need." Miss Jones refused with gentleness.

"If possible, I still want to invite you to watch a musical with me tomorrow. Of course, if you have something to do, you don't have to."

"This..." Wilson was embarrassed but finally agreed, "I'm free."

Anyway, tomorrow was the weekend and it wasn't necessary for him to go to the company.

Miss Jones breathed a sigh of relief, nodded slightly to them and left in her driver's car. Wilson began to act like a brother when no one else was around. "Why did you expose me just now?I have a face to maintain.”

“Can I calm down with just one meal?”

“Two meals.”

“Speaking as if I couldn’t please myself.”

“Monthly subscription.”

“You said it!”Wilson immediately agreed, “You can’t go back on your word.”

Sarah hummed,genuinely thinking he was childish.

A dramatist.

“In the future,if you don’t like others,you can just refuse them. There’s no need to lie to avoid them.”Sarah told him.

She feared that he would mess around like this.”You can also make it clear from the beginning if you don’t like blind dates.”

Wilson scratched his head, “Isn’t this the first blind date without experience?”

He didn’t even know what kind of fantasies his mother had,but she filled him up for these two days, all of which were blind dates!

Wilson wittily avoided one yesterday. That morning he also escaped on another one.

This one was supposed to slip away too, but his Mom called and scolded him, saying he would not be allowed to go home if he did it again,and for this reason, he could only come to the appointment.

“Why don’t you go home with me tonight and tell my parents not to force me to go on a blind date.”Wilson said tentatively,”They all believe what you say.”

The whole family,except grandpa,almost everyone likes Pumpkin,her words,and she did her best.

Sarah glanced at him.

“Don’t tell me you don’t want to.”Wilson said directly, “I’m your brother.”

“After years of being single,it’s time to find a girlfriend,”Sarah said after a moment of silence.

Wilson was angry and acted very similarly, “I’ve been single for so many years, because I helped you manage the Yeats Group.If I didn’t focus on my career,I would already be full of children and grandchildren.”

“You are amazing,”Sarah said perfunctorily.

The house would be full of children and grandchildren.

Thankfully he could tell.

“Pumpkin.”Wilson could only turn to her.

“Go and date.I’ll take care of Yeats Group.”Sarah suddenly said.

Everyone was stunned.

“Are you serious?”

“Well.”Sarah said solemnly,”In order not to delay your full children and grandchildren. We’ll let you go,be free.”

Wilson was reluctant.He admitted he didn’t want to manage because Wilson wanted to play around before.,But that was not the case now,if Wilson resigned from the position of Yeats Group,his parents would arrange a blind date for him so he couldn’t use the company’s business as a hindrance.

"Forget it. I don't want my sister to work hard." Wilson said in a high-sounding voice, "You can have a good relationship with Will. Besides, I promised to help you manage it for a few more years. I don't want to leave the company."

Sarah knew he was making excuses, but she also hoped her brother could fall in love freely instead of one exhausting blind date after another.

"I can tell my uncle and aunt." Sarah said, "but you have to promise me two things."

"You say!" Wilson was suddenly happy.

"The first thing is to get along with the girl just now in a normal state, and don't get conflicted just because you met on a blind date," Sarah said slowly,

"No problem." Wilson agreed very readily.

"Second, do something for me on Monday." Sarah talked about her affairs, "This matter is between us only, no one can know this without my consent."

"OK!" Wilson agreed again.

He knew well that nothing Pumpkin asked him to do would be worse so he would always agree.

"Okay, I'll call my aunt and the others later." Sarah also fulfilled her promise, "Let them-"

"-Wait." Wilson suddenly realized. "Did you just say Monday?"

"Yup!"

"When?"

"Night," Sarah answered him.

"What do you want me to help you with?" Wilson asked again.

It was the 12th Next Monday. It was the same day his brother-in-law would propose to his Pumpkin.

He couldn't help but think if Will hadn't asked Pumpkin or if she wanted him to help because it had something to do with it.

"I was going to propose to Will that night," Sarah told him, and he knew about it anyway.

It was supposed to be at the end of May, but fireworks and drones needed an improvement, so it was postponed.

Wilson was dumbfounded, "You also proposed that day?"

When his brother-in-law approached him about the proposal, he thought Pumpkin had given up on it. She was talking about the end of May.

Result! On the same day?!

"Also?" Sarah caught the keyword.

Wilson froze and then realized that Pumpkin didn't know about this matter, and Will kept them a secret.

"A friend also proposed that night and asked me to help him. Does Will know about your proposal?"

"Have no idea."

Damn fate.

Should he say that they really were a couple with 100% tacit understanding?

The engagement ring was custom-made outside together, and now even the proposal was chosen on the same day.

He couldn't believe it!

"Why don't you postpone the proposal for a day?" Wilson still hoped that his brother-in-law's proposal would be successful. "I'll come to help you after my friends on the 12th."

"No." Sarah didn't force him, "If you're busy, it's all right. I'll discuss it with Muffin. If not, I'll look for Julian."

Wilson wanted to say that finding Muffin was pointless, but his thin lips remained straight

Chapter 473 Sarah's Peak Acting Skills

"Don't you want to think it through again?" Wilson asked tentatively.

"It's already settled." Sarah told him, not afraid that he would leak the secret to anyone,

"All of the procedures had been planned and there's no room for delays."

Wilson hesitated. If he didn't help, Pumpkin would go to Muffin. She was their sister-in-law. If she knew Pumpkin was also planning to propose to Will, she would stand by Pumpkin. Most importantly, she might tell her all about Will's plans.

"Let me just make a phone call." Wilson's acting was good, but he thought he talked carelessly, so he deliberately said a little more, "If people are enough on my friend's side, I will help you."

"Okay." Sarah nodded.

Wilson immediately pretended to go to the side to fight. He seemed to chat seriously with others, but in fact, his mind was full of thoughts about whether to reveal a little about Pumpkin's proposal to his brother-in-law, but after five minutes of struggling, he chose to be a good guy. He decided to keep the secret of the two.

He would pretend he was just a guy who didn't know anything.

"It's done. I'll help you on the night of the 12th." Wilson put away his phone, "What do you want me to do?"

"Help me operate the drone to deliver the ring." Sarah said the specific details.

Sarah didn't care if there was an ordinary wedding or none. She didn't care even if there was no one to remind her. She would directly forget and pay no attention, but this proposal was different,

A marriage proposal was a serious and romantic matter. Sarah wanted to make the best of everything she could. She told him her plan.

After hearing it, Wilson was very touched, so he agreed without hesitation, "Okay, I promise to help you finish it beautifully."

"Thank you, brother." Sarah also let go of one thing in her heart.

During the proposal process, Jasmine and Jim took a video together to ensure that everyone and everything could be captured throughout the process. The romantic and beautiful moments and things are worth keeping.

After they talked about things, Sarah went back.

While Will received a message from Wilson, which probably meant he had something important to do on the night of the 12th, he couldn't help him.

Will frowned slightly, "What's wrong?" Sarah was concerned.

"It's okay." He answered, Will send a message to Wilson. He asked if he could adjust it.

If Wilson hadn't been there, the perfect proposal would have been a little bit of a pity. He didn't want Atha to have regrets after being with him.

"Your expression tells me something is wrong," Sarah said slowly, imitating his previous tone.

Will's eyes moved slightly, and he said lazily, "Then, did my expression tell you what I'm thinking right now?"

Knowing Captain Leon has deep routines, she was very witty and didn't continue the conversation.

Will glanced at her face, thinking about Wilson.

Sarah met him once, and he changed her mind.

Could it be that what Wilson said had something to do with Sarah?

"Atha." Will's deep and pleasant voice called him slowly. "What did your brother ask you to go out today?"

"It's nothing." Sarah briefly described, "He doesn't want a blind date. Let me pick him up."

all?"

Will's eyes flickered, his scrutiny fell on her, and he said calmly, "That's

"Um." She hesitated.

"Didn't you say anything else?"

"No."

"Really?" Will said deliberately casually.

It was his tone and casual attitude that made Sarah's heart tense all of a sudden. Could it be Captain Leon discovered something?

"Did I just hear you talking to him about other things?" Will's words were purely deceiving her. "Before you hid and played with your phone in the bathroom, you just talked to him, right?"

Really. Captain Leon was not easy to deal with.

Seeing her expression, Will knew that the sudden failure of Wilson to help him had something to do with Sarah.

What was the thing that could make him refuse to participate in his sister's marriage proposal?

"Tell me, what did you talk about?" Will asked again.

Sarah felt she was now a sheep. She had nothing to look at in front of the big bad wolf, Captain Leon.

Her mind turned quickly, and her mouth echoed his words, "It's nothing." Sarah continued emphatically.

Will quickly thought about all the possibilities and finally settled on one thing, "Are you going to propose to me on the night of the 12th?"

The only thing that could make Wilson describe as important was Sarah. His parents' birthdays are not on these two days. He has no girlfriend, either.

As for brothers and friends, they were not ahead of Atha.

Sarah paused as she stuffed the white rice on her mouth. Her heart was pounding if she hadn't lowered her eyes to eat at this moment, he would have found it abnormal, but even so. Will also noticed that she stopped for a moment.

When he thought this was the case, his whole heart was a little confused, and at the same time, he was surprised and happy but also had some complicated emotions.

"I knew you would say that." Sarah looked embarrassed and uncomfortable and started her acting skills.

Did he guess wrong?

"I want to propose to you, but you did not cooperate." Sarah stared at the pressure in her heart and said, "Don't go out with me to buy a ring and don't tell me what kind of proposal scene you like. Don't ask me too."

Will watched her intently to tell if she was faking it or not, but it wasn't.

"Then why have you been avoiding me?"

"I'm afraid you might have mistaken. I'm going to propose to you after you discover something." Sarah said sincerely, "It turned out that it was a joy in vain."

Will questioned his judgment for the first time; his speculation shouldn't be a problem, but Atha's reaction was also not acted out.

"During this time, I've been helping my brother prepare for the marriage proposal." Sarah had already figured out a way in her mind and said with mixed feelings, "Accompany him to go abroad to order rings and help him to test out girls. The tone of a friend."

"He has a girlfriend?"

"Yes."

Will noticed that things were getting more deviated from what he had guessed.

Sarah's eyes are serious, and her ability to talk nonsense has become stronger after staying with the fox for a long time, "He once had an underground relationship that no one knew about, and they separated. Looking single, I have always pretended to be a person in my heart."

"Then he still goes on a blind date?" Will asked. He found a point of doubt. Wilson doesn't seem like a half-hearted guy.

Chapter 474 Make up a story

Sarah sighed slightly, and her heart became heavier, "He hasn't told his family about his girlfriend yet. My aunt and the others thought he was still single and forced him to go on a blind date. This time, they didn't escape successfully."

"Why didn't he tell his family?"

"The matter between them is very complicated, and I don't know the details. After Wilson told me, he only asked me to keep it a secret." Sarah concealed the things she couldn't explain with complexity, "If he fails to propose this time, Now, don't tell him about it, he won't let me tell anyone."

Seeing her solemn expression, Will believed it.

After all, when he saw Atha abroad, Wilson was indeed there.

"Are you disappointed now?" Sarah suddenly said something.

In terms of momentum, she couldn't beat Captain Leon, but she hadn't made any progress during this period.

In a situation, it depended on a person's will whether he would lose or not.

But she didn't realize that Will had accurately said about the 12th. She might have guessed that Will would propose to her if she wouldn't feel guilty.

Will relaxed slightly and didn't think about it anymore, "What's the disappointment?" "I'm not going to propose to you." Sarah said in a muffled voice, as if it was a bit complicated.

Will raised his hand, tapped her on the head, and called out a fool dotingly and tenderly. This time, even someone as cunning as Captain Leon was a miss.

Feelings were what he cared about most. When Sarah said that Wilson and his girlfriend separated for complicated reasons, he automatically made up a heartabusing story so that his emotions relaxed afterward.

"Give me your finger." Sarah decided to play to the end.

Will raised his eyebrows, "What?"

"Measure your finger circumference." Sarah said very seriously, "Customize the ring and propose."

Will's thin lips pursed into a nice curve, and he smiled. His eyes seemed to be shining.

He very cooperatively handed her his finger and let her measure it.

Sarah's palms were sweaty from nervousness. After all, this was the first time she had lied seriously in front of Captain Leon. She had deceived him.

"You can't stare at me every day for the next two months." When Sarah said these words, Will became even more suspicious, "Even if you find out that I am planning to propose to you, you still have to pretend that you don't know."

"Okay." Will was very cooperative.

Anyway, after the successful proposal the day after tomorrow, this guy would not propose again.

Just let her be happy first.

"Also," Sarah said again.

"Huh?"

"You can't prepare for the proposal during this time," Sarah added.

"So many demands?" Will teased her.

"Yes."

"Do you agree?"

"Right."

"Okay." Will obediently agreed.

He had already prepared everything. The rest was just a matter of proposing.

This evening, before returning to the bedroom, Sarah's heart was beating so fast that she was afraid that any detail would be exposed.

That night, after the two went back to their rooms.

As a final test, Will texted Wilson, "I wish you a successful marriage proposal."

Even if he believed it, he would try it out.

Wilson replied, "You too. Let's work together!"

Thanks to Sarah, she sent him a message as soon as she got back to her room. Otherwise, he would expose.

After all, when Wilson saw this message, he might subconsciously think that Will had sent it to the wrong person and would only throw a few question marks in the past without a reminder.

Seeing this, Will threw the phone aside and began to wash and sleep.

They slept in separate rooms, and he understood everything.

Sarah was still not calm after washing and lying on the bed. She told Jim and Jasmine about what happened.

After the two heard that she told a big lie in front of Captain Leon, they both replied awesomely!

“But as for other things, Captain Leon has already realized something is wrong,” Jasmine replied.

“Yes, you have too many loopholes.” Jim agreed, “It seems a man’s IQ will drop a little.”

Sarah was a little puzzled. She knew there were loopholes, but there were too many.

“You should have said it in a different way, which would be more convincing,” Jasmine suggested.

“What?” Sarah asked.

“Say that the girl your brother likes is back. She secretly asked you to help him test whether your brother like her. If he still, she will directly propose. If not, she will chase after her.” Jim added.

“In this way, it will be more convincing for your brother not to propose marriage to Captain Leon,” Jasmine concluded, Jasmine noticed something was wrong when she sent it and immediately retracted the message.

What a coincidence.

Sarah didn’t see the message.

After Sarah saw the message from Jim, she started to think about everything. She tried to see which way was more reasonable. After she thought about it, her eyes returned to the phone screen, and she didn’t ask about the withdrawn message reminder. It was just that Jasmine made a typo.

Jasmine panicked and had a private chat with Jim, “Pumpkin won’t see it?”

Captain Leon would not spare her if Sarah found out.

Her words would derail the carefully planned program.

“Wait a minute. I posted a message in the group. If there is nothing unusual, then I didn’t find it,” Jim said,

“I will never accept this kind of errand again in the future. It is too easy for people who both parties trust to accidentally,” Jasmine swore.

“Touch your head, don’t worry,” Jim said.

Amidst all kinds of complicated emotions, Jim took up the words just now in the group with a nervous mood, “You know that your brother is a little emotional after going on a blind date with other girls, so I told you about her plan to propose to your brother, in this way, many things will be more rounded.”

“Yes!” Jasmine agreed.

After the two sent the message, they were all waiting anxiously.

Sarah didn't know that Will asked Wilson to help him propose, and naturally, she didn't think about what Wilson did so that Captain Leon wouldn't be too suspicious.

All she cared about was how to clear up her marriage proposal.

“This is not good, I am not familiar with that girl after all, so it is more reasonable to propose to my brother,” Sarah replied.

The two paused, they realized that they were analyzing this matter from the perspective of God, and both Pumpkin and Captain Leon knew about it unilaterally.

Fortunately, she didn't find out.

“I'll leave the day after tomorrow to you,” Sarah said.

Jasmine and Jim said no problem.

After the chat, Sarah put the phone aside and went to sleep. After speaking out what was in her heart, it was not as uneasy as before.

Over the weekend, Sarah and Will stayed at home. Both were looking forward to Monday with their concerns.
