

Divorce is the Best Choice by Riley Mccarthy

Chapter 65-70

Chapter 65 I will send you to heaven without hesitation

One thing was enough for her, she didn't want to explain the second thing

She must be out of luck this month, otherwise everything would have gone wrong.

"What happened?" Asked Edwin, while he sensed something was wrong.

"Just listen to me." Only four words were given by Sarah.

Although Edwin was confused, he didn't ask much. No matter what the reason was, he would know it later.

An hour later.

The operation was over.

The doctor sent Jenny to the general ward and accounted the situation to them, "The patient had a miscarriage and there are several bruises on her body. Except for that, she is fine."

"Miscarriage?" Edwin was surprised.

He peered subconsciously at the calm look on Sarah's face. For the first time, he felt a little nervous.

Was the baby his brother's?

Without answering his question, Sarah just expressed gratification to the doctor, "Thank you, doctor."

Then she walked towards the ward of Jenny.

On the way to the ward, he couldn't help but asked, "Is this child my brother's?"

"I don't know." What she said was true.

Although Jason had never slept with Jenny in fact, no one knew whether they had slept or not except themselves.

Edwin was speechless.

Damn it.

If it was Jason's child, what would happen next would be intolerable.

"I'm going to make a phone call." He had to ask his brother to come over so that he could ask him face to face, "You go first. I'll be there soon."

Sarah knew that he was going to call Jason, but she didn't stop him.

She didn't want to get involved in this kind of matter anymore.

Five minutes later.

When Sarah arrived at the ward of Jenny, she found that Jenny had already woken up and the nurse had just performed transfusion.

"Where is Jason?" Jenny asked as soon as she woke up.

Sarah was speechless.

How dare she ask

"The one who drove the car before was the toy boy you hide from Jason, right?" Said Jenny in a low voice, but her eyes were fixed on Sarah. "What do you say if I told Jason that at your toy boy hit me in order to vent your anger on him?"

Sarah frowned subconsciously.

Didn't Jenny know Edwin?

"I don't want to frame you, but I won't rest assured if you don't completely fall out with Jason," Said Jenny in front of Sarah. "I have to be with him. He could only be mine."

"There is a vehicle recorder in the car," That was all Sarah said.

"Do you think that he will believe your vehicle recorder or what I said?"

Her wounds and the baby in her belly would both arouse Jason's desire to protect her.

She didn't expect that she would have a baby with that man before she came back...

It was impossible for her to keep this child. Even if Jason would believe it was the result of the bully in the hotel and never mind it, she wouldn't keep it.

Although Jason didn't care it now, it didn't mean that he wouldn't care in the future.

And the best way to get rid of this child was to make use of Sarah.

Two birds, one stone.

Sarah was not in the mood to be angry anymore.

Of course, Jason would believe what Jenny said. He asserted that the evidence he had found before was fake, so did the vehicle recorder would be fake.

"Aren't you afraid that you might be hit to death or disabled by the car without stopping?" Sarah asked indifferently.

"If I was hit to death, then I would live in his heart for the rest of my life. If I was hurt to disabled, he would love me more." Jenny went to an extreme. "Either of them is worth it.

Her life had been like that. If she didn't get hold of Jason, she would only live a more hellish life in the future. That person would not let her go, and torture her day and night, making her live no better than die.

Jason was her life-saving straw.

No matter what the cost was, she had to seize it!

"Then you have to hold him tight," said Sarah in a cold tone. In case of being taken away by others."

"You can't take him away from me!" Jenny blurted out.

There was a pathetic look towards Jenny in Sarah's eyes.

It was really terrible for a person to live like this.

She told her a new discovery, but her words were still as calm as before, with a little more emotion at the end. "Who told you that it's me who wanted to steal him from you?"

"What do you mean?" Asked Jenny, narrowing her eyes.

“Car accident, and what happened to you in the hotel.” Said Sarah, with her own wishful thinking. “It it weren’t for someone against you, how could those things have happened?”

And the affair that she got beaten up.

Jenny had asked Julian to investigate, but the result was too different from what she thought.

Get Bonh

It could only be told that the person behind the scenes had been hiding too deep. Since it was difficult for her to investigate, she might as well tell a Jenny and let Jason investigate.

If it was only Jenny who had an accident, it could be said that it was the revenge of his enemy. However, the conspirator didn’t forget to frame Sarah up while Jenny was in an accident, neither did she forget to pull Jenny out. It was definitely done by a person who admired Jason.

There was no exception.

“Do you know who it is?” Jenny frowned and asked.

“I don’t know.” Sarah only hoped that Jason could be more efficient. “You can ask Jason to help you investigate.” She said with a little bit emotion.

It was ridiculous.

She actually asked Jenny to take the initiative to look for Jason.

Looking at her expression, there was a moment of hesitation on Jenny’s face.

She didn’t doubt what Sarah said.

Since the first time she met with Sarah in the hospital, she knew that the car accident was not her design. Although she didn’t like her, she knew that she was a person disdaining to lie after meeting her several times.

Jenny didn’t want to hurt this girl if there wasn’t a compelling reason.

But she really had no other choice.

"I'm sorry for what happened today, Sarah." She suddenly said. "But please forgive me. I still have to frame you up."

"I didn't know what does a paradox describe before, but now know." She said lightly without swearing, "You are in line."

Her complexion changed from time to time.

She was so angry that she shouted, "How dare you say it!"

"You can endorse it now," Said Sarah slowly. "It's the first time I've seen someone like you who has a double face, who is insatiable, willing to take advantage but still acts obediently."

"Sarah!" Shouted Jenny angrily.

Sarah didn't respond anymore. She was still waiting for Edwin.

A reminder for you, that if something like this happens, you should call the police at the first time and keep the scene. Don't let the blackmailer be arrogant.

About ten minutes later, Edwin arrived.

He didn't introduce himself, but only gave a few words to her. He wouldn't be softhearted for the sake of a patient.

He dashed towards her.

If he hadn't braked fast while drove slowly, she would have died today.

"What's wrong with you?" Said Jenny angrily, "You hit me!"

"If you want to die, no one can stop you." Edwin still sat on the chair with his legs crossed. "If you try to blackmail me next time, I will send you to the heaven without hesitation."

Jenny was speechless.

Awesome.

Chapter 66 Did something more intimate

"If you hit me to death, you will also be liable for law." The original purpose of Jenny was to let Sarah hit her, but after a long time of observation, she found that Sarah had never driven a car after she moved out.

Edwin looked at Jenny doubtfully. How did his brother like her?

In the past, Edwin only heard from Jason that he was in love, but he didn't officially bring Jenny to meet his family, so he had always been curious about what kind of person had made his brother fall in love with.

Now it seemed that.

Fortunately, he didn't know her at that time. Her intelligence was really disgusting.

"It's you who blackmailed me. As long as I didn't break the traffic rules, even if you were hit to death by me, you would still be responsible for it," Said Edwin arrogantly. "Even if I really have to hold you accountable, I can only take less than 10% of the responsibility. It could be on me."

Hearing that, Sarah pursed her lips. Somehow, she liked him.

It's alright to be on him.

Jenny bit her lips and clenched her fist that without infusion.

This man was really as unlovable as Sarah!!!

"Do you know who I am?" Said Jenny, staring at Edwin with dislike and anger.

Hearing that, Edwin became interested. He raised his eyebrows and said, "I really don't know."

"I'm Jason's wife in future." Said Jenny in a loud voice, trying to frighten him. "As for this matter today, as long as I want to pursue it, he could sue you until your reputation is lost."

"Then ask him to sue me."

"You!"

"It's a good chance for me to experience what life in prison is like."

"Don't think I'm not bold enough."

"Why don't you dare? Your future husband is Jason," Said Edwin with a playful smile. "He is a legend in the business world and the God of the younger generation. It's just a sentence for him to defeat whoever he wants."

Jenny frowned.

She suddenly didn't understand whether the man in front of her was really scared or just laughing at her.

"But..." As Edwin spoke, he stood up from his chair.

"But what?" Jenny stared at him.

"It's just that he doesn't have a good taste." With his hands in his pockets, Edwin began to reveal his identity. "Otherwise, why did he abandon such an excellent sister-in-law of me and choose to be with you?"

When she was about to get angry, she suddenly caught the key word in his words.

Sister-in-law.

Could it be that the man with Sarah was...

Get B

"I forgot to introduce myself. I am Edwin Noth." His voice was lazy and pleasant. With a smile at the corners of his mouth, he said, "The younger brother of Jason."

He said the word "brother" clearly in particular.

With her eyes narrowed, Jenny's face turned pale in an instant.

If this man was the younger brother of Jason, then what she had said just now and the blackmail on the way....

No way!

She couldn't let Jason know.

No way!

"My brother is already on his way here," Said Edwin kindly. He really wanted to see the show now. "Please explain to him patiently about the blackmail incident and the fact that you want him to sue me until losing my reputation."

"You..." Jenny stammered.

"Take a seat, my sister-in-law." Said Edwin, pulling a chair aside and being nice to Sarah.

Sarah was speechless.

Half an hour later.

Edwin was chatting with Sarah, while Jenny was lying on the bed and listening to them.

It was during this period of time that Jenny had thought about how to tell him the accident and found an excuse for herself.

It was almost eleven o'clock.

Now, Jason was here.

He was still wearing the same clothes as before. Because he walked in a hurry, his breath was heavier than before. His black eyes were full of worry.

When he saw that Sarah was also here, he frowned slightly as if Sarah was transparent and walked towards Jenny, "Jenny ."

"Jason."

Tears streamed down her cheeks.

Seeing this.

Sarah even admired her for her ability to cry so easily, that was not something that normal people could get.

He softened his tone and attitude, much more patient than when he was with Sarah.

Edwin coughed a little, "Ahem."

Doesn't Jason think too little of his sister-in-law? His wife was still here, but he began lovers' talk with his lover.

What a jerk.

"What's going on?" Asked Jason, who was still standing there, with displeasure in his eyes towards Sarah and Edwin. "Why is Jenny sent to the hospital?"

Neither Sarah nor Edwin spoke.

Get Four

When Edwin called him, he only told him that something had happened to Jenny in the hospital. He didn't say anything else.

"It's Sarah..." Said Jenny, as she held Jason's hand.

Seeing the deep look in Sarah's eyes, he subconsciously avoided the hand that was stretched out by Jenny.

Noticing that, Jenny bit her lips and continued with her eyes turned red, "I accidentally saw her and your brother were together. She wanted to kill me to keep my mouth shut."

Edwin had a question mark on his face.

Jason, too.

The expressions of the two men were in sync.

Jason wondered if he had heard it wrong, "Did you say Edwin and Sarah?"

"Yes..." Jenny said slowly and felt sad. "At that time, I just wanted to take a walk around, but when I saw the two of them being very much in love, I didn't know he was your brother at that time. I just thought he was the one Sarah found outside to cheat on you."

When Jenny said these words, she spoke slowly and clearly for each word.

Her eyes were red and pitiful.

No one would think she was lying.

"I just called her and declared to tell you that she cheated on you, so she asked your brother to drive the car to hit me." Added Jenny.

"It's a pity that you don't study performing arts." Sarah answered back.

Jenny didn't say anything but looked at her.

"Since you said that I was much in love in the car with Edwin." Said Sarah, who was still sitting there with a cold look in her eyes. "Then tell me how we did that? What did we do and where did we do it?"

"You..." Jenny's face turned red and said to Jason with bashfulness and indignation, "I can't speak it out, Jason..."

Upon hearing this.

With a cold expression on Jason's face, he lost his temperature in an instant.

He glared at Sarah and asked, "What did you do?"

"You can ask her. Why do you ask me?" Sarah didn't have a good attitude towards him.

"Have you ever believed what I said?"

Just one sentence.

He was rendered speechless.

At this moment, there was a bit of complexity in Edwin's eyes when he looked at Sarah. What did his asshole brother do to hurt Sarah like this.

"Jenny, say it." Said Jason in a lower voice than before.

It seemed that Jenny was hesitating. After a long pause, she said in a low voice, "I saw that Sarah leaned to the driver's seat and kissed Edwin. She put her arms around his neck and... did something more intimate."

Chapter 67 The lie of Jenny was exposed

"What's more intimate?" Jason said sharp in a deep voice. His black eyes were rolling with uncontrollable emotions.

Leaning against the sickbed, the hand of Jenny that had been pulled out of the infusion needle tightened slightly. "Edwin put his hand into Sarah's clothes."

"Awesome!"

Edwin blurted out.

Sarah looked at him.

The original anger was eased up and delighted by his words.

"Why didn't you say that Sarah and me had sex in the car?" When he retorted, he was also very powerful. "It's the first time I've seen that you told a bare-faced lie."

"Edwin!" Jason shouted coldly.

Hearing that, a smile played at the corners of his mouth. Thinking of the reaction of Sarah, he replied, "What? You believe Jenny?"

Jason didn't say anything.

Looking at the scene that Edwin defended Sarah, he felt inexplicably depressed.

"Jason, maybe they just fell in love with each other for a while." Said Jenny worriedly, holding his sleeve. "Sarah did it in a fit of pique because she minded the matter between you and me."

"Don't blame her." Added Jenny.

Neither of them spoke.

The two stood there, waiting for Jason's response.

Hearing that, Jason's hands, which were drooping on both sides, tightened. Finally, he asked in a hoarse voice, "Are you sure you saw it?"

"Yes, I am," Said Jenny, nodding her head.

"You didn't see it wrong?" Asked Jason.

"No."

After hearing what she said, Jason stood there silently for a long time.

For a moment.

The three of them couldn't figure out what he was thinking.

"Jason, anyway, you are going to divorce my Sarah and be with Jenny. Why don't you just help us?" Said Edwin as he watched the scene of bustle. "I can definitely be better to Sarah than you. Grandpa won't object."

"Shut up!" The coldness was all over his body.

Jenny was finally relieved.

Since Edwin had admitted it himself, no matter how hard Sarah tried to defend herself, it was useless.

Her words worked.

With Jason's deep eyes falling on the silent look on Sarah, he asked in a complicated tone, "Don't you want to explain it to me?"

"Is there any need to explain?" She didn't want to talk to him anymore.

"Sarah!"

"I said there was nothing between me and Edwin. It's Amy herself who rushed up to look for the car accident today. Do you believe me?" Sarah looked at him.

As soon as she finished speaking.

The whole ward was so quiet that no sound could be heard.

Looking at this situation, Jenny had already thought of the complete fall out between Sarah and Jason.

No man could accept being cuckolded, especially these two people were the closest people to him.

"Ja..." Jenny just said half of the word.

"I do." Said Jason in a cold voice

Sarah was confused.

Hearing this, Jenny's body stiffened.

There was a moment of bewilderment in her eyes, and a sense of panic spread in her heart. She subconsciously reached out her hand to hold Jason's hand and said, "Jason, I didn't lie. She and Edwin really..."

"Do you know who Edwin is?" Said Jason in a low voice. He looked a little tired in a bad mood.

Subconsciously, Jenny looked at Edwin.

Before she could speak, Jason said, "He is my brother. My blood brother who will protect me with his life."

"Jason..."

“Even if he treats everyone badly, he won’t do anything that hurts me.” Said Jason coldly, staring at Jenny with his deep black eyes.

“I didn’t lie to you, Jason. They were really in the car...” Jenny was totally flurried.

“Enough!” The anger in Jason’s voice reached its peak.

The man’s words sent a shiver down her spine.

It never occurred to him that the person he had always trusted would become like this, “Do you think that no matter what you say about Sarah, I will always believe in you?”

Jenny’s face turned deathly pale.

“Edwin won’t betray me, neither will Sarah.” Deep in his heart, he was really angry, and his anger was almost unbearable. “You shouldn’t have splashed mud on her with this kind of thing.”

Sarah was a little confused.

She had thought that she would be misunderstood one thing by another today.

The result was reversed.

“Is there anything wrong with your brother today?” Sarah pointed at her head and chatted with Edwin in a low voice.

“You should say that it’s normal for him to be here today.” Said Edwin with a smile, as if he had expected this result. “It was covered by shit before.”

Sarah was speechless.

Awesome.

“Jason.” suddenly, Edwin called him.

With a chill all over his body, Jason looked at him. He didn’t expect that things would turn out like this. Jenny used to be an innocent person.

“Is her baby yours?” Edwin didn’t mind another scene.

“What baby?” Said Jason, raising his eyes.

“When I drove Sarah home, Jenny rushed up at a corner to forge a blackmail.” Said Edwin, explaining the whole story. “She was hit and miscarried. The doctor said that the baby was gone.”

With Jason’s deep eyes falling on Jenny.

“Is it yours?” Edwin asked.

“No.” Said Jason without hesitation.

He had never had sex with Jenny, and it was impossible for them to have a child.

Realizing that things had gone out of her way, Jenny was extremely flustered and was thinking about how to get over

1. it.

“Why haven’t you told me that you are pregnant?” Asked Jason.

“I don’t dare to tell you...” Tears welled up in her eyes and she curled up on the bed with her arms around her knees. “I’m afraid that you will dislike me and abandon me...”

She buried her head in her knees and sobbed.

At this moment.

People who didn’t know the situation would all felt that she had suffered a lot.

“I’m sorry, Jason.” She said one word after another.

“Was it the night in the hotel?”

“Yes...”

There was no change in the expression in Jason’s eyes. He just asked, “Why did you break the dirt on Sarah and use this way to ruin her reputation?”

"I'm afraid that you will abandon me after you know that I'm pregnant and have other people's baby, and you will think that Sarah is more innocent than me." Cried Jenny, "I'm impure, I'm sorry... I'm sorry..."

She was sobbing with desperate.

She seemed to be immersed in a certain emotion and could not pull herself out.

Jason recalled what had happened to her before. Although he had sent the person who had bullied her to prison, the injuries he had left would need time to heal.

"I didn't abandon you." Said Jason, trying his best to put himself in her aspect. "But it's your fault. Apologize to Sarah and Edwin."

"I'm sorry, Sarah, Edwin." Jenny apologized quickly with sincerity. "It's my fault. I'm so sorry."

Sarah was speechless.

She got full marks for this operation.

Jenny was really good at holding men.

Compared with Sarah's refusing to admit her fault after she took the blame every time, this kind of active confessi and quick admitting fault could easily win a person's heart.

Not to mention that Jenny had a special filter for Jason.

Chapter 68 Slap Jason two times in his face

"No, I don't accept it." Sarah blurted out.

"I don't accept it either." Said Edwin.

With red eyes, Jenny stared at Jason and placed all her hopes on him.

But this time.

Jason didn't indulge her as before.

If it was Robert who was with Sarah today, Jason might have believed half of it.

She would like Robert's appearance.

In that case, Jason would misunderstand her and have a terrible quarrel with her.

"How can you accept it?" Seeing what Jason meant, Jenny took the initiative to talk to them. "Tell me, I'll do it."

Glancing at the two of them, Sarah said, "From now on, please leave him and never appear by his side for the rest of your life. Then I'll forgive you."

"Well..." Said Jenny, biting her lips.

"What? Can't you do it?" Sarah asked.

"Then you slap on Jason's face two times." Said Sarah. "I will also forgive you if you slap him."

Clenching her fists tightly in the quilt, a tinge of hatred appeared in Jenny's eyes.

But even so.

"Sarah, it's my fault. It has nothing to do with Jason..." She had to keep it up.

"I know." Sarah said blatantly, "I just want you to slap him to remind him to control his behavior of young girls."

Jason was speechless.

Hearing that, Edwin raised his eyebrows slightly.

Jenny bit her lips and her eyes were red, as if she was extremely aggrieved.

"Clap!"

She slapped herself hard, and five bright red fingerprints instantly appeared on her fair face.

She knew what to do to make Jason forgive her and how to make him hate Sarah.

"What are you doing?" Said Jason, narrowing his eyes.

"It's my impulse and selfishness to do something wrong." Said Jenny guiltily, "I can't beat you, nor can I leave you. I can only beat myself, so that Sarah can calm down."

She knew how important Edwin was to him, so she didn't drag him into the mire.

But Sarah was no match for her.

“That’s enough.” There was a deep breath of anger in his heart, as well as impatience in his eyes. “This matter is over.”

“No, it’s not.” The one who spoke was Edwin, he’s still fooling around. “If she wronged someone and just paid such a price, then you are telling her that if she did something wrong, she will be fine with only mistake and then pretend to hit herself.”

“What do you want?” Jason’s eyes darkened.

But his eyes were warning Edwin, ‘stop where it should stop!

If Edwin knew what was enough, he would not be the second young master of the Noth Family.

“Let her kneel on the keyboard and face the wall to ponder about her misdeed.” Said Edwin in an innocent tone, trying to vent the anger for Sarah. “Don’t kneel too much, half a day will be good.”

Jenny looked up.

She couldn’t help but feel nervous. Did he really want her to kneel down.

“Edwin!” Warned Jason.

“To be honest, you are not single-minded at all.” Said Edwin, as he walked over and put his arm around Jason’s shoulder. “If Sarah wronged Jenny, would you just let her go so easily?”

No.

The answer popped up without thinking.

As for this farce, Sarah was no longer in the mood to watch it. As long as he didn’t wrong her, she wouldn’t care anymore.

Facing the discussions of the crowd, she only said to Edwin, “I’ll go back first.”

“Let me drive you home.”

“No, thanks.”

Sarah refused.

Without even taking a look at the two of them, she walked out, as if they were insignificant people.

Jason’s heart tightened. Before he could make a decision, he had already chased after Sarah.

When he arrived at the door, he didn’t forget to remind Edwin, “Keep an eye on Jenny. I’ll go out.”

Edwin didn’t say yes or no.

When Jason caught up with Jenny, they had already left the in-patient department.

“Sarah!” Said Jason in a low and imperceptible voice, grabbing her arm from behind.

Sarah stopped and stared at him calmly, “What’s up?”

“I’m sorry for what happened today.” Said Jason, feeling a little uncomfortable, and his body was still cold. “This is not what Jenny usually is like. She might have been mentally injured after being bullied, so she was a little extreme.”

“From who’s perspective do you apologize for her?” Asked Sarah.

Jason paused.

All the words were stuck in his throat and difficult to say.

Sarah was not in the mood to talk to him anymore. “Get out of the way.”

Since she was wronged, not only didn’t he find out the truth, but he also directly believed in what Jenny said.

But he didn’t blame Jenny for what she had done. Instead, he apologized to Sarah on Jenny’s behalf.

What Edwin said was right.

Deep in his heart, he was biased in favor of Jenny.

“Sarah.”

“I asked you to get out of my way.”

“Can you calm down and listen to me?” Jason was not used to her indifference.

Sarah glared at him with her black and white eyes.

She said nothing in fact.

However, he understood what she meant.

She was saying ‘When I told you to calm down and listen to my explanation? What’s your reaction?’

At this moment.

His heart ached.

He couldn’t tell what kind of emotion it was, as if his chest was pressed by a huge stone

He took out the car key and changed the topic, “Let me drive you back.”

“No need for that.” Sarah refused bluntly.

However, Jason didn’t give her a chance.

He grabbed her wrist with his big hand and took her to the parking lot. He put her into the car peremptorily and started the car to send her home.

It was over half past eleven in the evening

Sarah was so sleepy that she fell asleep in the passenger seat.

She didn’t trust Jason in other things, but he was trustworthy in terms of personal safety

She would go to bed at about ten o’clock every night. Even if she was delayed, she would go to bed at eleven o’clock at the latest. Like today, she couldn’t hold on any longer since she hadn’t washed her face at half past eleven.

“Sarah...” While driving, he wanted to have a talk with her.

But after he called her several times, he found that she had fallen asleep.

He slowed down..

Looking at the sleeping girl, his dull heart suddenly softened, and his suppressed emotions dissipated at this moment.

For a moment, he even had the feeling that it was good to go on like this.

The car was driving towards the neighborhood of Sarah.

It was almost one o'clock in the morning when he sent Sarah back to her community. He wanted to wake her up and send her upstairs, but she didn't wake up after he called her in a low voice. So he had to park the car and carry her upstairs.

Chapter 69 The investigation

As usual, she would have already woken up.

But now she was in relaxation, and she was too sleepy to wake up.

He arrived at the door.

He opened the door with Sarah's finger print.

After entering her house, he took her to the second floor. He didn't know which room she slept in, so he could tell them one by one.

When he opened the second room, he saw that there were some daily necessities for Sarah.

He took off her shoes and gently put them on the bed. When he was about to take off her clothes and put on her pajamas, she suddenly woke up.

She grabbed the hand subconsciously at her collar..

"It's me," said Jason with a gentle voice.

Sarah stared at him for a while, as if she had fallen asleep again after making sure that she knew him.

It was her reaction that made him frown subconsciously.

Sarah... Have you experienced something terrible in the past?

It didn't seem to be awake. It was possible that she formed a subconscious behavior of her mind to make sure that she was in a safe environment before she relaxed and continued to sleep.

After helping her changing suitable clothes, he sat on the edge of the bed and looked at her for a long time. He found that he really knew little about her.

Her life or her experience.

He knew nothing about it.

At this moment.

His phone rang.

It was a message from Chris, with a simple words: "Jason, how are you?"

After pleasing Sarah, he walked out of the room with his phone.

Afraid of disturbing her sleep, he went downstairs to the living room.

He turned on the light and dialed a number through WhatsApp.

When Chris saw the phone, he was surprised.

Jason was still awake!

"Hi, Jason." he answered the phone decisively and nervously.

"What's the matter?" said Jason.

"You asked me to investigate Miss Smith's incurable disease. I've already done it." he was really dedicated to his job. No wonder he behaved recklessly in front of him from time to time. "The result is a little different from what you know before."

Standing in front of the French window, he looked at the scene outside and said, "Just tell me."

"There were the hospitalization record of stomach cancer abroad, and the treatment record of Miss Smith." As a smart man, he knew how to make his boss accept it more. "But there is no outpatient record in China."

Hearing that, the hand holding the phone paused for a moment, and then he got his sense. "You mean that Jenny lied to me in her record of disease."

“The effective period of outpatient records are two years.” Chris was so smart that he knew he couldn’t say something so definitely. “Miss Jenny may have done it a long time ago.”

Without saying anything more, he hung up the phone.

Half a year ago, when Jenny called him, she told him that she got the physical report the day before they broke up. The report said that she had an incurable disease and showed him the records of her treatment abroad.

Since she got the test report the day before they broke up, it meant that the test was done a few days ago,

Although the hospital’s outpatient records were only kept for two years, there were so many records left.

It would be prolonged.

Was she lying?

Almost in an instant, he denied.

There was no reason for her to lie to him.

If she just wanted to be with him, there was no reason for her to break up with him.

For a moment.

He was deeply conflicted.

He clicked on the WhatsApp and sent a message, “Are you sure?”

[Yeah.] Chris was a reliable assistant. “In case of any mistakes during the investigation, I’ve asked someone to investigate these things three times, and the results are the same.”

Rubbing his phone.

Soon an idea came to his mind. He believed what Chris said, but he would not easily doubt what Jenny said.

When he learned from Chris that the Jenny was still awake, he made a phone call.

As soon as he received the call from him, a voice full of grievance and crying came, “Jason...”

“Why haven’t you slept yet?” said Jason, who was doubtful.

“I’m afraid you’ll blame me,” said Jenny, “I don’t know why I’ve become like that. I really don’t want to slander Miss Yeats and your brother.”

“It’s all over.” with a slight opening of his thin lips, he continued, “When you recover from this illness, I’ll take you to have a generally physical examination.”

Hearing this, Jenny was stunned.

Thinking of what she said to him, she became nervous all of a sudden. “No, thanks. I’ve done it before. I’m in good health.”

“Miscarriage is a big thing, which is so harmful to your health.” There was a hint of emotion in his eyes when he said these words. “I will feel calm after generally physical examination.”

“Okay,” said Jenny.

There were few something wrong.

After asking her to go to bed early, he hung up the phone and fell asleep on the sofa.

The next morning.

When she woke up and found herself in the room, she was stunned. Her just remembered that she stayed in the passenger seat of Jason last night . She felt very sleepy at that time, so she leaned against the seat and fell asleep.

Then she woke up.

She tried to recalled her memory. When she was about to put on her shoes and go to bed, she found that she was wearing pajamas.

She didn’t think too much and immediately realized that it was done by him.

He had taken care of her like this for many times before the phone call from Jenny. They went shopping or went to dinner together. If it was too late, he would take her back directly.

He helped her clean herself, changed her clothes and covered herself with the quilt.

She just needed to sleep.

It seemed that she was so tired yesterday that she was still sleepy when he changed her clothes.

She took a shower, changed her clothes and went downstairs in slippers. When she saw the person sleeping on the sofa at the corner, she was stunned.

This man... Slept on the sofa all night?

She went downstairs in light colored pajamas, walked to the sofa and kicked his long legs. "Wake up."

He was awakened after her kicking him.

When he opened his eyes and saw the person standing in front of him, he was stunned for a moment.

"It's time for you to leave." with her long hair scattered on her shoulders, she looked a little more ethereal.

"Aren't you too indifferent?" said Jason, who was still in a deep consciousness. He frowned and sat on the sofa, feeling a headache. "If I hadn't taken you back last night, you would still be sleeping in the car."

"Do you want me to express my gratitude?" she said it with a hint of sarcasm.

She was not the kind of person who would forget her old grudge after being gentle to her once.

He pinched the spot between his eyebrows.

Why was this woman so aggressive in the early morning? Did he provoke her?

Sarah didn't care about him and called to order breakfast.

Just for herself,

She was good at many things, except cooking. She felt it troublesome, so she almost ordered food now, and seldom

Chapter 70 The situation set by Edwin

Without leaving in a hurry, he went to her kitchen consciously as soon as he saw that Sarah had ordered the food and went upstairs.

People who didn't like to cook in the kitchen with all untouched things, except for a few simple condiments.

He took out the soybean milk machine and the beans.

Half an hour later.

Sarah's food was delivered.

The breakfast that he had made was ready: soybean milk, sandwiches, fried eggs.

When she was eating porridge, she saw it. She frowned imperceptibly and asked, "Has the kitchen been cleaned up?"

"No, I'm not," said Jason. It was a lie.

All of a sudden, she felt that the porridge in her bowl was not delicious. She was so angry that she said to him, "What is wrong with you! Jason."

Without being affected, he continued to eat his breakfast.

He looked at Sarah unconsciously and an idea came to his mind.

Sarah had moved out for such a long time. How did she solve the problem of having meals? There was very little food in the whole family. He made solid effort to make a breakfast for him here.

"You order take out every day?"

"Does it have anything to do with you?"

"I just care about your life for Grandpa."

Sarah didn't answer.

She didn't believe his words.

She quickly finished her breakfast and reminded him suddenly, "Please clean up the kitchen later and restore everything back to what it was before."

"Do me a favor," said Jason, who had finished his breakfast.

Sarah: "?"

She looked at him suspiciously.

It didn't seem to be something that he could say.

"Give me the list of diagnosed stomach cancer in China," he said to Sarah after putting away his things

What he said?

She really wanted to break his brain to see where did he get this confidence and courage to make this request?

Did she look like someone who would help him kindly?

"Why don't you just say that you want the records of the hospital of Jenny?" she knew his purpose clearly. Nonsense.

"Yeah, you are right" said Jason honestly

"I'm not interested in it."

"Grandpa asked me to investigate this things," said Jason.

Sarah stared at him.

What the hell did he want to do.

"Grandpa doesn't believe that Jenny had stomach cancer before. He asked me to show him all the outpatient records and treatment records of Jenny aboard." with a serious look, he said, "I knew you can finish it quickly."

"Why don't you just ask for it from Jenny?" said Sarah angrily.

He walked towards her and looked down at her. "Can't you find it out?”

“Of course not.” Sarah admitted frankly. “My computer system rejected everything of her . As long as there are something about her, it will automatically eliminated this informati on as a virus.”

Sarah took the car key and threw it at him. “You should go.

Take care.”

He took it over.

He thought she was still angry about what happened yesterday.

“Don’t be angry. Jenny won’t do that.”

“If

it weren’t for the fact that it was Edwin who sent me back yesterday but Robert,” Sarah suddenly wanted to know the answer. “Do you believe what she said or not?”

Silence.

The expression on his face changed, and his eyes stared at her.

“Will you believe her?” Sarah asked

“Why are you with Robert?” hearing the name, he was furious.

and held back his anger.

Sarah answered and explained the possible reasons, “He is my friend, and we have so many chance to meet each other.”

He tightened the car key in his hand.

In the end, he said nothing and left

He didn’t know how to answer this question. If it was about Sarah and Robert, he would have been so angry.

He knew that Sarah wouldn’t really do anything improper with

Robert, but when he thought of the trust and obedience between the two people, he couldn't control his emotions.

Seeing that he didn't answer, Sarah didn't say anything.

She went upstairs and began to work.

That afternoon.

After reading all the projects organized by her bad father,

Sarah was about to have a good rest when she received a call from Edwin.

"Sarah, there is a good chance for having fun, what's your idea?" said Edwin in a casual voice. "I held a party and invited several close friends. Come here.

"No, thanks. I have something else to do."

"Robert is also here," said Edwin ridiculously.

Sarah was speechless

Without giving her a chance to refuse, he said, "Being beautiful. I'll pick you up later. Bye."

Then he hung up the phone without waiting for her response.

The people in the villa looked at him playfully, "Aren't you afraid that your brother will kill you?"

"He won't do that." As a mischievous man, he took the car key and said goodbye to them before leaving the villa.

What a interesting party.

His brother, Jason was the major role in this party. Edwin wanted his brother to know his real love to Sarah.

They may divorce later. He hoped they can understand their authentic love each other and he can avoid the later affairs.

On the way to Sarah's house, he called his brother and Robert.

He knew Robert a little.

But it didn't affect him to ask him out by the excuse of his sister-in-law.

At half past seven in the evening

Then, Edwin appeared outside the villa with Sarah.

Before Sarah say something, Jason explained, "it's too ostentatious for a group of us to go to a nightclub, so I held the party in this villa. Anyway, it's empty all year round and a good place to hold a party."

"Okay," said Sarah lightly, without saying anything more.

She had attended this kind of parties many times when she was in New York.

Every time it was Julian who took her there. Most of the time, she sat in the corner and slept. Sometimes she was forced to play games with them.

When she arrived, there were only two men.

Looking at the two men, she suddenly got it. "Will he also come?"

"Of course."

She was speechless

"He will arrived later, and Robert is still on his way," said

Jason. "There are fruits and food here, you can eat some first.

We can play games after they come."

I

“No, I won’t join in you. I can be the host.” Sarah refused immediately.

They waited for a while.

Later, Robert arrived. He wore the most common gray suit and a pair of gold rimmed glasses on the bridge of his nose.

After saying a simple greeting to the others, he came to sit next to Sarah with a smile and started their chat.

Get Bond

Interesting.

He smiled satisfyingly.

Edgar took out his phone and sent a message through WhatsApp to Jason, “I think you should come soon, or may your beautiful wife will be attracted by another men.”
