

Divorce is the Best Choice by Riley Mccarthy

Chapter 94 - 100

Chapter 94 Don't try to irritate me

"What are you waiting for?" Ordered Edgar.

As soon as he finished speaking.

The bodyguards began to attack Sarah.

"Wait!"

Get Bopus

Eve spoke at the critical moment.

Everyone's eyes fell on her, and the bodyguards stopped moving.

She looked through the gap between the two bodyguards and looked at the tall and noble man standing in the distance, saying, "Why do you have to abort my child? If you can't tolerate him, we can divorce."

Edgar pressed his thin lips into a straight line.

There was an incomprehensible emotion in his long and narrow eyes.

"You're in no condition to have a baby." Edgar finally said the reason. He didn't want to break with her. "I asked the doctor. If you insist on giving birth, the baby will take your life."

Sarah was confused.

She looked sideways at Eve..

Eve laughed at herself, as if she had heard the funniest joke in the world, "Would you be frank?"

"You don't believe me?" Edgar narrowed his eyes, looking dangerous.

“As a mother, I know well about my baby.” said Eve, “I went to the hospital with my assistant every time. The doctor said that the baby was very healthy.”

Eve knew that if it was dangerous to have a baby, the doctor would tell her immediately.

How could such a situation happen as Edgar said.

“Arrest them!” said Edgar without any hesitation, his tone full of hostility.

The bodyguards no longer hesitated. Two of them went to catch Sarah, and the other two went to catch Eve.

It was obvious that they would send Eve to the operating table today.

But they had overestimated themselves and underestimated Sarah.

“Bang!”

Sarah liked kicking.

She made her move without hesitation and had no intention of holding back when dealing with these people.

Seeing that she kicked another one away, Eve stood there dumbfounded, staring at the Sarah who was so cool. The sadness just now all turned into admiration at this moment.

Get Bogue

“Is she still my girlfriend?”

“Such a fighter?”

With sharp eyes and quick hands, Sarah grasped the bodyguard’s wrist and twisted it. It snapped with a click.

“Ah!” the bodyguard screamed.

Then she gave him another kick and kicked him to the side of Edgar.

The whole process lasted less than a minute.

Like a hen protecting a chick, Sarah stood in front of Eve to protect her. She became more and more unfriendly to Edgar, "How could you do that to a pregnant woman? You're such a loser."

"Sir... She is too strong. We are no match for her."

"I think she's as good as Mr. Noth."

"Are we going on?"

The bodyguards were all scared by Sarah.

At this moment, they only hoped that Edgar would say 'piss off and give them a chance to slip away without a stop.

"You can't even beat a woman. Rubbish!" Edgar was really angry. He was very unhappy at the thought that Eve would be taken away by Sarah.

All the bodyguards felt displeased.

"Go try yourself." They thought.

At this time, Sarah became the voice of the bodyguards' heart, "Since you think they can't do it, why don't you do it yourself?"

The bodyguards' eyes lit up.

Ms. Yeats!

You are our Goddess!!!

From their eyes and small acts, Edgar could easily know what they were thinking, and he was very resentful of Jason now.

If he hadn't married such a fierce wife, how could Edgar be in such a predicament?

"You are Jason's wife. I won't fight with you." Said Edgar.

The four bodyguards were no match for her.

And how could he win?

He was not really stupid.

“You don’t have to do that for his sake,” said Sarah relentlessly. “If you are a real man, just do it.”

If he came,

she could help Eve teach this scum a lesson.

Edgar was speechless.

“Sir, don’t show her any mercy. Go and get Madam back.”

“Yes!”

“She’s just a woman. Sir, you can do it.”

“Come on, Sir!”

The four bodyguards who had suffered losses spoke very loudly, as if they were afraid that someone present could not hear them.

Edgar was in a dilemma now. If he went up, he couldn’t win Sarah. But if he didn’t, Eve would think he was a loser.

“Eve, have you decided to go with her?” He changed the topic decisively and made the atmosphere become more serious.

If it was in the past,

Eve must be in a dilemma. She would have wondered whether Sarah could deal with Edgar.

But now!

All she thought about was that her friend was a goddess!!!

So when she heard Edgar's words, she said lightly, "Let's talk about it later. The most important thing now is the battle between you and Sarah."

Edgar was speechless.

Everyone's eyes fell on him.

It seemed that they were waiting for his choice.

"If you can't defeat her, just give up." said Eve briskly.

Seeing her like this, Edgar fell in a trance for a moment, as if the person in front of him overlapped the one when he first knew her.

At that time, she was also lively and cunning like a rose with thorns.

"I can't defeat her." said Edgar. He didn't want to embarrass himself. "But have you really decided to go with her?"

Sarah glanced at him.

Her eyes seemed to say, "you can't beat me. Why talking so much crap?"

Edgar understood what Sarah meant and tightened his grip.

"Eve, let's go."

Sarah took her to get her phone and left. No one dared to stop her. No one wanted to be beaten up again.

Looking at Eve's receding figure, Edgar said nothing.

Seeing this, the bodyguards finally spoke to their master after Eve and Sarah left the hospital, "Sir, we just watched Madam being taken away by Miss Yeats. Don't we do anything?"

"Go stop them." Said Edgar.

"Rubbish. Are you showing off that you can talk? You think I'm in a good mood?" Thought Edgar.

The bodyguards were rendered speechless

The special assistant had been waiting aside. Seeing this, he just walked up and said, “Sir.”

“Follow them and find out where they’re staying.” Edgar didn’t think Sarah had the power to take Eve out of his control. “Bring her back at the right time.”

. “Yes, sir.”

He knew well who Sarah was.

With his eyes darkened, he took out his phone from his pocket and sent a message after hesitating for a long time.

Edgar: Don’t try to irritate me. You can’t afford the price.

When Eve saw the message, she had arrived at Sarah’s residence.

The house had been cleaned up by housekeeping.

After Sarah asked Eve to sit down and have a rest, she went to get some water for Eve. While Sarah was away, Eve checked the messages.

And she just ignored the one from Edgar.

Chapter 95 Offended Edgar

However.

Some things would always come at a price.

Edgar was not that kind of person who was easy-going. He had made up his mind that even if he pushed you into a desperate situation, he had to achieve his own goal.

As soon as Eve put down her phone, she saw the call from his agent.

When the phone was connected, the voice on the other side was a little anxious.

“My God, how did you offend Edgar?” The agent’s voice was loud and anxious. “He stopped all your resources.”

Eve paused.

She didn't say anything but said, "We fell out."

"Are you stupid?" The agent said in a tone of disappointment. "It's not easy for you to be come a B-lister through a villain. But you told me that you are pregnant and need to rest for a year."

"I agree with you. You're not on cast but you can market." The agent said very seriously. "But now you have offended Edgar, and he directly cut off all your resources. What do you do?"

If the marketing couldn't keep up with you, the popularity would soon be replaced by other plays and actors.

At that time, let alone the B-list, it was not impossible for her to return to the small transparent.

Eve understood all this.

She kept silent for a while and replied, "then start from scratch."

"Eve!" The agent had never seen such a twisted person. She had thigh to hold, but why did she offend him.

"It's not a big deal.

I have acting skills and appearance." Eve was confident in her professional ability. "My vocal music, lines, form and performance are not bad. As long as I work hard, I will get something."

The agent didn't say anything.

Before Eve could say something more to comfort her, the agent said, "being banned by Edgar means that you don't have any good resources."

Eve tightened her grip on the phone.

"At that time, it's only the shoddy script. No matter how good your acting skills are in that kind of place, so what?" The agent said the most realistic words. "Are you willing to act that meaningless play all your life?"

She was not reconciled.

This was the first thought of Eve.

Maybe many people didn't believe it, but her dream was to be an actress and artist.

Get Hop

"I've told you what I should say. It's your own business to make a choice." The agent was really thinking about her career.

She hung up the phone.

Eve sat there for a long time, lost in thought.

It was impossible for her to come back to Edgar. She wouldn't make fun of her own child.

But her career...

If she offended Edgar, it meant that she was inferior to the new actors who just joined. At least the new actors could be trained by the director because of their good acting skills, but she was banned by Edgar, and no one dared to use her.

Thinking of this, her heart became heavier.

"Boom!"

A cup of hot water was put on the tea table in front of her.

With a gentle attitude, Sarah said, "have a cup of hot water."

"Okay," said Eve. She didn't want Sarah to worry about her, so she drank it with a sweet smile.

After drinking it, she began to talk with Sarah, afraid that Sarah would find something wrong with her. Her eyes lit up. "Why didn't I know you were so good at fighting before?"

"I didn't need to do anything before," answered Sarah.

Eve praised her, "my little sister is so handsome!"

"I'll support you," said Sarah suddenly.

Eve didn't react for a moment, and her eyes were full of confusion. "What?"

"You don't have to care about what your agent said." Sarah heard it. She stood in front of her with a cup of hot water for a long time, but this guy didn't notice it.

Upon hearing this.

After a pause, Eve smiled carelessly, 'she's just kidding. Edgar can't interfere in my career."

Sarah had already offended Edgar because of her.

How could she let Sarah worry about her career.

"You should take good care of yourself for few months. Don't worry about the resources that have been cut off." Sarah was not joking. She sat in front of her and held her hand to give her strength. "After you give birth to the baby and recover, I will give you a better life if you want to come back."

"Sarah..." Eve coughed and became less depressed.

She found that her little sister was quite interesting.

The way he drew cakes for her was more convincing than her boss.

"What?" Sarah said.

"You have the potential to be a boss." Eve praised her, but her heart has been put down

There must be a road in front of the mountain, and the boat would cross the bridge naturally.

She didn't believe that Edgar would meddle in everything!

"I am the boss." Sarah replied.

Come on. Although you have one billion and four hundred million, it's just a deposit," said Eve, flicking her forehead. "I said you have the potential to be a boss, because the big cakes you drew can't be digested,"

Chapter 96 Sarah is from my family

Seeing that Eve knew what she was doing, Sarah didn't care.

After cleaning up a room for her, Sarah took her to buy some clothes to change. When she finished these things, it was already five o'clock.

If she hadn't received the call from Edwin, she would have forgotten that she was going to the old house tonight.

After she told Eve something, she rushed there.

When she arrived, it was already past seven o'clock..

"You're not very old, but you're quite arrogant. Is it appropriate for so many of us to wait for you?" A person who looked a little similar to Jason's father asked.

Sarah knew this man. He was Ben, Jason's second uncle.

The old house was very lively tonight.

Grandpa, father, mother, uncles, aunts, and their children were all there.

It was indeed her fault to be late. She said two words to the crowd, "sorry."

"Who can't apologize? This is the Noth family. Don't think that you can be disrespectful just because you have married with Jason," Ben continued. He didn't like people like Sarah who had no family background to marry into the family.

Grandpa Noth hated it the most when someone mentioned his Sarah.

Before he could rebuke, a low and somewhat cold voice suddenly sounded, giving off a strong sense of pressure. "Ben, you'd better say this to yourself."

"What do you mean?" Ben was annoyed.

“Sarah is from my family,” said Jason in few words.

Sarah: “?”

Satisfied expressions appeared in the eyes of Grandpa Noth and parents.

It could be seen that they were quite satisfied with what he had done tonight.

“Father, look at how Jason is now.” Ben didn’t know that Grandpa Noth liked Sarah, so he kept speaking ill of her. “He offended the elders for a woman who only knows how to climb up the branches. It’s obvious brother and sister-in-law didn’t teach her well.”

Mr. Noth glanced at him casually and said calmly, “we really don’t children.”

e second brother who can teach

Everyone was speechless.

Everyone knew that the child of Ben’s family was a piece of mud that couldn’t hold up the wall.

He couldn’t do business or study well.

He only knew how to eat, drink and have fun. He didn’t want to do anything serious.

For a moment.

Get Hopas

The atmosphere in the hall was a little strange.

Holding Sarah’s hand, Jason walked to Grandpa Noth and sat down. He looked at Ben and said, “if you could make Daniel less trouble, Sarah and I wouldn’t have come so late.”

“What’s wrong?” Said Grandpa Noth, very cooperative.

“Daniel fought with someone and went to the police station. He said that the CEO of the Noth group was his brother.” With his thin lips slightly opened, Jason said slowly, “if we didn’t deal with his mess, we wouldn’t have delayed for so long.”

Grandpa Noth coughed..

This guy.

He lied so easily.

Did he really think he didn't know that he had waited for Sarah for more than an hour outside the old house?

Uncle Ben's face turned red, and so did aunt.

“Uncle Ben and aunt taught him well. They fought and made a scene in the police station,” said Edwin mischievously

“Brother Edwin, don't you think it's a little offensive?” A girl about seventeen years old said. She was the daughter of Andy. “Haven't you and brother Jason had a fight? Haven't Sarah had a fight?”

“Not really.” Edwin said seriously.

The elders didn't interfere in the matter among the children.

Since Grandpa Noth handed over the control of the Noth group to Jason, Ben and Andy had different opinions.

They were both grandsons. Why should he favor Jason!

“Then let everyone see this.” Tina clicked on a video and raised it so that everyone could see it. “I saw it yesterday when I went to the bar. I didn't expect that sister-in-law Sarah would fight so hard.”

As soon as she finished speaking, the video of Sarah fighting with someone in the bar began to play.

This video had been recorded since the moment she started. Because of the noise around, it was difficult to hear clearly what those people said to her.

All they could see was that she was good at fighting and beating people.

Until the end.

Only then did they hear clearly what she said to the others. "One more word, I'll break your other arm."

The atmosphere in the main hall was a little strange.

Grandpa Noth, Mr. Noth and Mrs. Noth, and the others all looked at Sarah.

They were all shocked by this.

Sarah is so good at fighting?

This was Grandpa Noth's first reaction, followed by his love for Sarah.

"Sister in law, you are my idol," said Edwin. He had already worshiped her. He couldn't even be so handsome with fighting skills.

How did Sarah make it?

Mr. Noth and Mrs. Noth looked at each other and said, "my son's path of pursuing his wife is even more bumpy."

"You said that Daniel couldn't fight, but what about Sarah?" Tina didn't like what he said. She looked at the two of them and asked, "what's the matter with her?"

She was sure.

Grandpa would definitely dislike Sarah after he saw this.

Grandpa hated the kind of people with simple mind and developed limbs the most.

What Sarah did was simply humiliating their family!

“Get rid of the cruel and pacify the good people.” Said Jason unhurriedly.

“Yes,” said Grandpa Noth

“Yes,” said M

and Mrs. Noth.

Everyone was dumbfounded.

Hearing that, Tina became anxious at once. “Grandpa, don’t you think it’s too different? Jasper’s fight is a mess, and Sarah’s fight is to get rid of the tyrant and good?”

“If there weren’t several girls who stood out to stop her, she would have slept with some one upstairs!”

She paused.

Tina became more and more excited.

She just didn’t like Sarah, It didn’t matter that uncle’s family got grandfather’s favor, but why could Sarah get grandfather’s favor.

She was grandpa’s granddaughter!

“Let’s try again,” said Jason suddenly. There was a cold air around him, and his eyes were cold.

Andy quickly pulled his daughter.

If they really offended him, the consequences would be unbearable for them.

“If you’re blind, you can go to the doctor.” With sharp eyes, Jason didn’t show mercy because the woman was his sister. “Sarah is not someone you can splash dirty water at will.”

It was a simple sentence.

It made everyone understand how important she was in this family.

Except for the new year’s dinner every year, they didn’t have much time to meet with her. It could be said that they didn’t know much about her.

Because of this, they didn’t understand why Jason would marry such a person with no family background.

"All right," said Grandpa Noth, pretending to be serious. "What's wrong with a good family dinner? It's noisy.

Can't it be as quietly as Sarah?"

Chapter 97 Have You Ever Seen Whose Heart Grows Right in the Middle?

Sarah was speechless.

The rest of them didn't look good.

After hesitating for a while, Andy said in the most objective way, "Dad, to be honest, you are a little biased."

"Have you never been eccentric?" said Grandpa Noth sourly. "Have you ever seen anyone who has never been partial?"

"I'm talking about you and the younger generation." Andy pretended not to understand what he meant. He coughed and said, "Daniel and Tina are your grandchildren. Why haven't you protected them like this?"

"Humph!"

Grandpa Noth snorted.

It was obvious that he was unhappy.

"Why should I protect them?" He didn't care about anyone's face. As the greatest elder in the family, he had always been straightforward.

"They are your grandchildren," said Andy, still unwilling to give up. "Have you ever seen any grandpa who loves his granddaughter in law more than his own grandson."

Hearing this.

There were some other emotions in everyone's eyes.

They also realized that Andy wanted to embarrass and mock Sarah on purpose. After all, she was just an outsider.

"I'd rather protect and love Sarah than you ungrateful wolves," said Grandpa Noth angrily. He didn't have a good attitude towards them.

"Since childhood, besides being coquettish to me to ask me to help them, have Daniel and Tina ever cared about me?"

"Not to mention Daniel and Tina, even the two bastards, Jason and Edwin, could not compare to Sarah!"

Grandpa Noth said directly, regardless of everyone's face.

Like children, the old needed company and care.

Although both of Jason and Edwin cared about him, cared about his health and his emotions every time they came back, the two little boys still didn't accompany him much.

As for Tina and Daniel, they could hardly see him except that they had something to ask for his help.

"Tina is still young and thoughtless." Andy could only find an excuse. "Daniel..."

Forget it.

He couldn't find any excuse for that brat.

Get Bogus

"Don't make excuses for being thoughtless. I'm old, not stupid." said Grandpa Noth angrily. The more he spoke, the sadder he became. "Who in your two families played chess with me, practiced calligraphy with me, and stood with me like Sarah?"

"None of you!"

"Do you want to use your busy work as an excuse again? Jason is in charge of the big company, right? He can spare some time to accompany me every month. Are you busier than him?"

The more Grandpa Noth said, the angrier he became.

Neither Ben nor Andy's family dared to speak.

They also knew that they hadn't done enough, but practicing calligraphy, chess and standing were so boring. How could they have the leisure time to play with him.

“Grandpa, aren’t you afraid that we will be sad if you say so?” Tina became more and more prejudiced against Sarah. “Who knows if Sarah has known your hobbies in advance and deliberately learned them, so that she can get your love after marrying brother Jason.”

“You can learn as well.” Sarah, who had been silent all this time, started to speak, “As long as you can surpass me in one of those hobbies, I will ask grandpa to give you the Noth Group.”

“That’s okay.” said Grandpa Noth decisively.

He still couldn’t beat Sarah on playing chess.

Sometimes, he was curious about how this girl could be so good at chess. Although every time he won or drew, he could tell that it was Sarah who gave up the game in silence when he played a gain.

Tina was angry. Then she asked, “Have you asked for brother Jason’s opinion for promising this?”

“No problem,” said Nate in a calm voice.

Grandpa Noth snorted.

‘Can he have any objection?’

Jason was speechless.

“What kind of ability do you have to compete with me with what you are good at?” Tina didn’t like this feeling. She was supposed to be loved by everyone. “If you really have the ability, you should compare with me with what I am good at.”

“What does it have to do with Grandpa’s hobby?” Sarah asked Tina.

In the past two years of her marriage, although Grandpa Noth didn’t like her at the beginning, he didn’t say anything unpleasant to her,

Gradually, she found that he was actually a lonely old man.

He didn’t have the traditional idea of preferred boys to girls. He cared about every child the same, but after giving his care, he found that some people were not worth it.

Get Boys

Tina didn't like her very much. "What kind of ability does it count to suck up to grandpa?"

"It's better than you who don't have the sense of respect for the old," said Sarah simply. It seemed that none of these could make her mood fluctuate.

She was not afraid of this little girl.

However, this kind of competition was meaningless. It would only cause the farce.

After hearing that, Tina was pissed off, but Grandpa Noth ordered the meal directly.

No one dared to be presumptuous during the meal, and everyone ate in a proper way. Sarah is no different from when she usually eats. She ate her favorite Chinese food, and used the public chopsticks to pick up grandpa's favorite food for him.

In the eyes of some people, her most basic filial piety was interpreted as flattering Grandpa Noth.

But Sarah didn't care and wouldn't care.

The dinner was over.

The servants cleaned up the table and every family members took a walk with Grandpa Noth in the yard.

. After a while, someone started to stir up trouble. He told something that he had been restraining himself tonight. "I've heard some rumors recently that Jason is going to divorce with Sarah. I don't know if it's true or not."

"The rumor stops at the wise." said Grandpa Noth with an obscure meaning.

Sarah glanced at Grandpa Noth.

Won't they get the divorce the day after tomorrow?

"But one of my friends who works in the Bureau of Civil Affairs said that some time ago, he saw that Jason and Sarah had submitted a divorce application." Ben finally found a chance to talk about it. "According to the time, they will get the divorce certificate in a few days."

With a slight frown, Jason was about to say that's not true.

However, Sarah spoke first, "Yes, we will get the divorce the day after tomorrow."

Grandpa Noth was speechless.

Jason was also speechless.

"The outside world is not as good as the Noth family." said Ben with a snort. "You can not live a good life just by saying good words and coaxing the elderly."

"It's better to remind your own child than to remind me." Sarah was not a pure rabbit. How could she let others talk bad about her all the time? "No amount of money can stop your child from squandering."

Both Andy Noth and Ben Noth relied on the dividends from the Noth Group.

Daniel was a spendthrift.

As a result, there was a huge gap between Jason's father and his two clans.

Hearing her words, Ben got angry at once. When he was about to retort, Grandpa Noth said, "Ben, Andy, you can go back first. I have something to talk with Sarah and Jason."

Although they were unwilling, they left.

Grandpa Noth took the two of them to see Mr. and Mrs. Noth. As for Edwin, No one knew where he had gone.

Chapter 98 Don't Say That You're Our Son. We Can't Lose This Face.

Seeing that there were only Jason's parents and grandpa, Sarah knew that their goal tonight was finally coming.

Her grandfather, father and mother in law probably wanted her to postpone the divorce.

"Sarah, come and sit here." Mrs. Noth greeted her gently and elegantly. It could be seen that she liked her very much.

Then, Sarah walked to her.

Then.

Then, Grandpa Noth began to talk to Mrs. Noth.

Like last time, Mr. Noth was reading a newspaper aside. And Jason stood there alone, like an orphan who no one wanted,.

“What are you doing?” seeing that Jason sat down next to him, Grandpa Noth got angry . “Is this for you? Go over there!”

Jason was speechless.

He didn’t complain and went to the other side.

However, he didn’t expect that he would be disliked by his mother. “Sarah and I don’t want to be next to you.

Stay away from us.”

He could tell that.

They didn’t like him because he and Sarah would divorce soon.

He didn’t say anything more and sat down next to his father. He was finally not driven away this time.

“Haven’t you made Sarah change her mind?” Mr. Noth held the newspaper in his hand leisurely, as if he was watching a play when he asked.

Jason was still speechless.

Are they annoyed?

“Have you visited Sarah’s family?”

“No.”

Hearing this.

Mr. Noth finally had some mood swings. He put down the newspaper and looked at him sideways. “Son, this is not your speed of doing things.”

"It sounds as if you won my mother's heart very fast back then." Jason was not mannerly to his father.

"The speed doesn't important. The most important thing is that I've finally won your mother's heart. Mr. Noth picked up the newspaper again and didn't worry about Jason anymore. "If you still plan to be with Jenny, you won't have the chance to get Sarah back in your life."

Get Ro

Feeling that his father was taking care of him too much, Jason retorted, "If you are free, you can run the company."

"I want to accompany my wife." Mr. Noth retorted.

"You've been showing off your love for twenty-two years. Aren't you tired of it?"

When he was five years old, this man had been showing off their love regardless of the occasion since he got his mother. The two words "My wife" almost became his pet phrase.

Mr. Noth pursed his lips and said, "People who don't have a wife don't understand."

"I have."

"Oh? That Sarah is about to divorce?"

Jason was silent.

"Or the newly married Jenny?"

Jason was speechless again.

He had never wanted to seal his father's mouth.

He shouldn't have helped him get his mother back then. He should have found more rivals in love for him and made him angry.

"You don't have to think about the past." Mr. Noth could see through what Jason was thinking at a glance.

“No matter you helped me chase after your mother or not, I can win her heart.”

“Who can’t brag?”

“Do you know why?”

“...“He didn’t want to know.

*Because your mother has always loved me, and I am her first love that she can’t give up.” It was rare for Mr.

Noth to officially talk to him about this. “Although I misunderstood her, I have never been with any other woman except her.”

“Not to mention breaking up and divorcing her for others.” Mr. Noth added the most important sentence.

Hearing that, Jason was stunned.

Mr. Noth glanced at him and reminded him, “Don’t say that you are the son of me and your mother outside.

We can’t afford to lose the face.”

“Who held me around and showed off that ‘this is my son’?” said Jason. He didn’t expect that his father had the ability to change his face.

Get Boos

“Who?”

Mr. Noth raised his eyebrows and asked.

Jason was speechless.

He refused to talk to him.

As soon as the father and son finished talking, the conversation between Grandpa Noth and Sarah began.

“How about you and Jason divorce after my birthday?” said Grandpa Noth, trying to buy more time. “I really want you to attend my birthday party as my granddaughter in law.”

“I have made a deal with Jason that we will get divorce the day after tomorrow...”

“Jason, come here!” Grandpa Noth interrupted her.

He really didn't want Sarah to divorce with Jason

What a good girl!

Why didn't Jason cherish her?

“You two go to get the divorce certificate after my birthday, is that okay? Grandpa Noth looked at him ferociously. It was obvious that his eyes was saying ‘If you have any problem with it, you should hold it back!’

0

With his eyes darkened, Jason said, “I have no opinion.”

“Sarah, since Jason has agreed, you can go to get a divorce certificate with him after the birthday party.”

Grandpa Noth really wanted to spend more time with Sarah.

“Grandpa” Sarah didn't want to make the old man sad, but she wouldn't give in. “There are only thirty days.

left after the calming down period. Your birthday is on the 15th, and on 16th, Jason will go abroad on a business trip. To avoid any accident, it's better for us to get divorce the day after tomorrow.”

Hearing this.

Mrs. Noth, Mr. Noth, and Grandpa Noth all looked over.

They also understood Sarah's determination through her words. No matter what, she was determined to get divorce with Jason.

The atmosphere in the main hall suddenly quieted down.

“Who told you that I’m going on a business trip?” said Jason as usual, with his darkened eyes.

Sarah thought he was angry that she had investigated his whereabouts. Then Jason opened his mouth,

“Chris.”

“He has been busy with other things recently, and my schedule has been handed over to the people in the secretary department.” Jason said in a serious manner, his eyes as cold as ever. “My schedule of a business trip abroad has been canceled.”

Sarah stared at him.

Why didn’t she believe it.

“Since Jason doesn’t need to go on a business trip, it’s not too late to get it after the birthday party,” said Mrs. Noth.

“Call the secretary department and ask about your 16th schedule.” Sarah was sure that he was lying. She had asked about his schedule this noon, “Turn on the speaker. If it’s true, I’ll go with you to get the divorce license. on No. 16.”

With his eyes darkened, Jason sent a signal to his father with his hand hanging on the side, “Are you sure?”

“Yes, I’m sure,” said Sarah firmly.

“Okay.”

Jason moved closer to her, and took out his phone and unlocked it by his right hand, deliberately using his own movement to attract her attention.

As for Mr. Noth behind him.

Although he disliked his son, he had to help him when he saw his help signal.

He took advantage of the moment when Jason used his body to block Sarah’s sight for him. He quietly took out his mobile phone to deliver the message to the people in the Secretary Department, but he still held the newspaper in his hand and pretended to read it.

After all, he used to be the boss of the Noth Group.

It was easy to get in touch with the people in the secretary department and convey the message.

Even Mrs. Noth didn't notice what they were doing.

"Why haven't you called them yet?" seeing that Jason unlocked the phone and didn't click the address book, Sarah asked him.

"In case you don't keep your words, I should record the voice in advance." In order to buy time, Jason had tried his best, but his face was as indifferent as ever. "Repeat what you said just now. I'll leave a evidence."

Chapter 99 It's All His Fault

Sarah looked at him with her blue and clear eyes.

"What? You don't dare to record it?" Jason couldn't tell what she's thinking.

"Of course I dare." Sarah looked away from his extremely good-looking face and slightly moved her body to look at Mr. Noth behind Jason. "But before recording, please put down your phone, Dad."

Jason was speechless.

Mr. Noth was speechless too.

How shrewd Mr. Noth was! He put his phone away in a calm manner and put the newspaper on his laps with a little confusion. "What?"

Jason hated his father even more.

His father was a good pretender and had deceived his innocent and kind-hearted mother into marrying him.

"It's the phone under your newspaper." with a glance at it, Sarah confirmed the location of the phone, and her eyes were soft. "I think the message should be sent to the secretary department."

It was a simple sentence.

But it made both of Jason and Mr. Noth a little surprised.

Mr. Noth looked at his son and his eyes was saying, 'Sarah is too smart. What should I do?'

'How do I know?' Jason looked back at him.

From the beginning of the plan to the time when Sarah exposed them, he had never thought that she would know.

He had learned how reassuring his father was when he was a child, but he didn't expect that he would fall into a fight with her.

"What?" Mr. Noth was confused.

Seeing his confused face.

Everyone could say he was innocent.

Mrs. Noth was confused and thought that Sarah must have misunderstood. After all, Mr. Noth's expression showed that he really didn't know.

Sarah was not stupid, let alone she had been specially trained in some aspects.

"Nothing." Sarah didn't continue what she had asked before. She talked to the elders and said a few polite words. Then she said, "I have something to deal with, so I'm backing home now. I'll come to see you again when I have time."

Mrs. Noth stood up and said, "I'll send you."

Get Bogat

Sarah didn't refuse. She knew that Mrs. Noth must have something to tell her.

The whole room just watched the two of them leave. Mr. Noth also put the newspaper aside and talked deeply with Jason. "Sarah is so smart. It's good for her to divorce with Jason."

"What?" Jason was confused.

Did dad know what he was talking about?

"She is so smart that I want her to be my goddaughter." Mr. Noth's voice was slow and a little cozy. "Your mother has always wanted to have both son and daughter. She should be very happy with Sarah becoming our goddaughter."

"That's a good idea," said Grandpa Noth.

If Sarah was his god-granddaughter, it didn't matter whether she was with Jason or not.

Mr. Noth raised his eyebrows slightly and discussed with his father, "How about you discuss with Sarah about this?"

"No problem," said Grandpa Noth readily.

Seeing that his father and grandfather was talking about this seriously, Jason was very speechless.

He thought they were playing tricks on him.

"Do you need me to remind you that Sarah is still my wife now?" Jason said very formally. "Do you know what the outside world will say if my parents want her to be their goddaughter?"

"You two will divorce soon." said Grandpa Noth.

"The day after tomorrow." said Mr. Noth.

"As soon as you divorce, I'll go to Sarah and talk to her family about this," said Grandpa Noth.

"I'll

"I'll go with you then." said Mr. Noth.

"Okay." Grandpa Noth replied.

The two ignored him and chatted with each other, not asking for his opinion at all.

In his opinion, they were here to make trouble.

Once they really accepted Sarah as their goddaughter or god granddaughter, he could no longer be with her. He could only be her brother for the rest of his life.

As soon as this idea came to his mind, Jason was stunned.

They shouldn't have contacted each other after divorce. Why did he subconsciously feel that they would remarry.

Grandpa Noth and Mr. Noth looked at each other, seeing that their goals had been achieved, they began to do their own things. One of them was enjoying his tea, and the other was reading the newspaper.

Get Bogus

The two of them were leisurely.

Only Jason's mind was in a mess

Not long after Sarah went out with Mrs. Noth, Mrs. Noth began to speak.

She held Sarah's hand, as if she was a mother who cared about her daughter. "Have you decided to divorce?"

"Yes." said Sarah, nodding her head.

"I know everything about you two." Mrs. Noth looked down at Sarah's fair and slender hands and said, apologetically, "It's all because of Jason's absurd behavior. It's all his fault."

Sarah didn't know what to say.

Since Mrs. Noth treated her well and gave her a mother's love, she wouldn't blame Jason in front of her, but Jason was not a good husband.

"I have an unreasonable request. I hope you can agree." Mrs. Noth was really reluctant to part with her.

The appearance of Sarah.

It made her feel that she really had a daughter, a gentle, sensible and smart daughter, who dared to love and hate.

Sarah said, "Go ahead, please."

"I want you to be my goddaughter." Mrs. Noth said it after careful consideration.

The reason why Mr. Noth and Grandpa Noth talked to each other was to enlighten Jason, but Mrs. Noth really had this idea.

It was not that she liked her daughter-in-law, but that she just liked Sarah.

Sarah didn't expect that it was this matter. After careful consideration, she finally refused Mrs. Noth's request.

After the divorce, she didn't want to have anything to do with Jason except for business. She might spare some time to visit Grandpa Noth and Mrs. Noth, but she didn't want to be Mrs. Noth's goddaughter.

It was easy to have uncontrollable factors in a relationship.

She had to cut it off completely.

Mrs. Noth felt a little regretful, but she didn't force her.

After sending Sarah away, Mrs. Noth went back with a bit of complexity. Seeing that Jason was still standing in the living room, she glanced at him with some dissatisfaction, but in the end, she said nothing.

Although Jason had done something wrong, Mrs. Noth couldn't bear to blame him. In the past few years, she had relied on Jason to survive.

The baby had grown up.

Then he wouldn't be as innocent as before.

"If you really don't want to separate from Sarah, we can move to New York, you can take her as your goddaughter." Mr. Noth stood up and comforted her.

"Sarah refused." Mrs. Noth sighed again in her heart.

She also knew that Sarah refused because she didn't want to have anything to do with Jason.

But it was still a pity.

Hearing this, the heavy stone in Jason's heart suddenly loosened. Thinking that this place was a little far away from Sarah's home, he said goodbye and left.

When he arrived outside, he knew that Sarah had been sent away by the driver of the Noth Family.

"Do you want to see Sarah off?" said Edwin, putting his hand on Jason's shoulder.

Jason didn't say anything, but gave off a feeling that he was much quieter than before.

Edwin patted him on the shoulder and asked, "What's wrong with you?"

"Go and check the bar where Sarah punished others. If there is something wrong with the bar, hand it over to the police, and don't let go of those who beat her." after saying that, Jason went to the garage to get a car and left.

The car drove out of the old house and he was obviously depressed.

He didn't know what was wrong with himself, but he felt a little depressed when he thought that when Sarah left tonight, she had told his parents and grandpa, but she hadn't told him.

Chapter 100 What's Going On? Are You Playing a TV Show?

He didn't know where he was going.

It was late at night and he couldn't go to the company.

He didn't want to go to the Paradise Villa either.

He drove aimlessly on the road. He stepped on the accelerator, held the steering wheel in his hand, and looked ahead, but his thoughts were gradually drifting away.

If he hadn't received a call from Edgar, he wouldn't have known how long he would drive.

As usual, he said coldly, "What's the matter?"

"Can you come here and take care of your wife who is about to divorce with you?" Edgar said coldly than usual. When he saw Sarah who came straight to his door, he was angry. T give you half an hour to pick up.

your wife, or I'll call the police."

With his deep eyebrows frowned, Jason was a little confused about what Edgar had said.

Call the police? Pick up his wife?

“Did you hear that?” said Edgar, who was much more fierce than usual.

“Is Sarah with you?” Jason asked slowly with a little confusion.

Edgar was speechless.

Why did he ask him to pick her up if she wasn't here.

He was not insane!

“Of course!”

After saying that, he hung up the phone decisively.

At the intersection, Jason turned the car around and stepped on the accelerator, heading to where Edgar lived.

After hanging up the phone on the balcony upstairs, Edgar looked at the eight bodyguards who were knocked down by Sarah downstairs.

He pinched between his eyebrows.

Did Sarah made by steel? So many bodyguards couldn't do anything to her.

Standing downstairs and looking at the person on the balcony, Sarah only said, “Hand Eve over.”

When Sarah went back, she found that the door was pried open, and Eve in the room was missing.

In an instant.

She guessed that it was Edgar who did it.

Get Bout

“Miss Yeats, let's not do this the hard way.” Edgar's patience had reached a certain limit. “Do you want me to show you my marriage certificate with Eve so that you can know who she is?”

“Ask Eve to come out. I want to confirm her safety.” Sarah was really worried about her.

Eve was against Edgar.

She was afraid that he would hurt Eve too much when he took her away forcefully.

Moreover, Eve was pregnant.

Edgar didn't respond at all. This was his house. "Why should I listen to you? I just saw you as a woman in the hospital before and didn't want to argue with you too much. But if you don't know what you should do, then it's not my fault for hurting you."

"On the count of three, let go of Eve." Sarah was so worried about Eve that she can't take care of something.

Eve did not answer the phone and she couldn't get in touch with her.

She didn't know what to do if Eve's phone wasn't located here.

"One."

"You don't have to threaten me. I won't let you see her."

Two."

"Jason is on his way here. You'd better behave yourself."

"Three."

Sarah's eyes were getting colder and colder.

Edgar hasn't felt threatened by her. He didn't care at all. "So what? You've already counted to three, can you come in?"

As soon as he finished speaking.

Sarah moved.

There was a poke card of half the size of her ID card suddenly appeared on her left hand.

While Edgar was still provoking her, she exerted strength to her left hand, and the customized little cards flew towards him, instantly cutting off a line on the balcony!

Edgar was shocked.

His eyes widened.

What's going on? She was playing a TV show?

"If you don't hand Eve over, I'm not sure if my hand will slip later." Sarah threatened him. There was coldness in her eyes.

Cetop

Hearing her words, Edgar look a step back subconsciously.

If the strength and speed of the little card came at him just now, he would definitely die.

What was the background of Jason's wife?

How could she know such things?

Seeing that Edgar had no intention of taking action, a poke card appeared on Sarah's left hand again, with the pattern of square 9.

"Wait a minute!" said Edgar. "Please wait a moment."

Then he entered the inside room.

First, he called the bodyguards to keep an eye on Sarah, and then he called Jason.

"When on earth will you arrive?" Edgar was afraid of Sarah. Thinking of Sarah's horrific poker playing which was like a TV show, Edgar felt he might have lost his life. "If you don't come, my life will be taken away by your wife."

"What happened?" said Jason.

"She is going to take my wife away!"

Edgar blurted out.

Jason was speechless.

Hearing this unreliable answer, Jason hung up the phone and sped up.

Sarah had been waiting downstairs for about ten minutes, but Edgar didn't come out. When she was about to break in, the phone in her pocket vibrated.

When she saw a very strange number on the screen, she hung up.

The other side kept calling the second one.

Putting away the cards in her hand, she slid the answer key and said, "Hello, who's that?"

"Is that Sarah? I'm Cindy." a pleasant but anxious female voice came from the phone. "Your friend is in the hospital on the south road now. Someone forced her to have an abortion. Can you come here for a while?"

"Which friend?"

"Eve."

When the one word came out, Sarah was shocked.

She quickly calmed herself down and said "Got it, thank you." after saying that, she hung up the phone.

Before she came here, she checked the location of Eve's mobile phone and thought she was also here.

Now it seemed that Edgar did it on purpose.

She didn't have time to pick with him. When she was about to run out to find a car, she saw that Jason was driving the car and was preparing to stop outside. Without thinking too much, she rushed to him and said that she wanted to borrow the car. Then she got on the car with the car key.

Jason followed her and sat in the car.

Sarah didn't care about his following, she just started the car and stepped on the gas, leaving the villa without any hesitation.

When the bodyguards saw this scene, there was a series of questions came into their heads. They had no idea why Sarah suddenly left.

When Edgar heard this, he was relieved. At last, Jason had taken his wife away.

But when he received the call from the special assistant, he was stunned.

The assistant told him what had happened on the other end of the line, "Mr. Williams, Miss Thomson came here for some unknown reason. She called Miss Yeats and told her that she had stopped us. Is the operation still going on?"

"Cindy Thomson?"

"Yes, sir."

Edgar was furious.

What the hell was she doing?!

"Ask someone to pull her away. The operation must be carried out no matter what happened." Edgar ordered quickly, and at the end, he said, "Take good care of Eve's mood."

"Yes, sir." the assistant replied and hung up the phone.

In the hospital.

In front of Eve stood a girl with long golden hair. She was graceful, and she was wearing the latest fashion clothes of this season.

The special assistant of Edgar, dressed in a suit, said in a businesslike manner, "Miss Thomson, this is president Williams's family matter. If you don't get out of the way, we have to offend you."
