

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 201 - 201 - Don't Go

Park Soo Hyun dropped Soo Yin to her rented house. Initially intended to stop by, but Soo Yin said that men were prohibited from entering as the reason. Even though she hadn't even lived there in a long time.

The snow slowly began to fall on the dark night, making the atmosphere even tighter. Soo Yin lost her way after walking on the lonely streets through the cold night plus snow that started to wet her head. Didn't know how long her feet had continued to move without knowing where to go.

Her body was now shivering so Soo Yin decided to stop in front of a shop, to take shelter on the terrace for a moment. It was almost midnight.

Soo Yin's mind now felt swayed. Her heart was in such a dilemma that she didn't know what to do at this time.

She did go out on purpose when Dae Hyun was in his room. Although as much as possible to get rid of Aeri's words from her mind, Soo Yin still remembered them. It was not that she didn't believe her husband's words to part with Aeri immediately, but right now she wanted to calm down first.

Soo Yin tried to support her weight on her already shaking legs. Too cold made her legs unable to stand anymore so she slumped to the floor. Her hands hugged her knees tightly. What she wanted right now was that Dae Hyun didn't find her.

In different places and at the same time, the snow was getting heavier and heavier. Dae Hyun continued to drive his car through the slippery roads filled with snow which was getting thick. Anxious and worries were now united in his heart. He didn't want anything to happen to his little wife. He should have thought first before he said something. Dae Hyun was irritated by his stupidity. He shouldn't have been provoked by what Doctor Kang said yesterday.

Dae Hyun repeatedly hit the steering wheel hard. He already called Park Soo Hyun to ask where he took Soo Yin home. However, after looking into her old rented house he did not find her.

Just yesterday they were so happy to hear that soon they would have a baby, but the obstacles seemed to keep hindering their happiness.

"Honey, where are you?" Dae Hyun said softly. Tried repeatedly to call her but her number was not active at all.

It had been nearly two hours that Dae Hyun had been walking through the lonely streets. Didn't know where else to go to find Soo Yin. But there was not the slightest sense of despair. He was too worried about her if he didn't find her right away. Didn't want to be too late to find her before she did something carelessly.

Dae Hyun continued to walk right and left. Before finally his gaze stopped at someone who was sitting in front of a shop, while hugging her knees. Dae Hyun continued to observe her for a while before he decided to get off.

Soo Yin felt an intense chill on her body. The atmosphere was getting lonely so that it gave her goosebumps. When it was snowing this hard, it was rare for people to dare to go outside because the temperature outside was like ice.

'Soo Yin, you used to be a strong girl. But why are you this weak now? Has love changed everything?' Soo Yin said to herself. As much as possible Soo Yin restrained herself so that her tears did not fall. Tomorrow she will think about how to survive in the future.

Soo Yin bit her thumb to reduce the grinding of teeth that resulted from enduring the cold. To the extent that she did not listen to a car that stopped not far from her shelter.

"Soo Yin!"

Soo Yin turned her head when faintly heard a voice calling her. It was just an illusion, because there was no way that man would still be looking for her at this dawn. Besides, she was not an important person.

It turned out that it wasn't an illusion or a dream because she hadn't even closed her eyes. The man walked closer to her. Until he held her tightly. Time seemed to stop for a few seconds, to be honest if Soo Yin felt calm in his arms. It was undeniable that she had been so afraid of where to live after this.

Dae Hyun was too happy to find Soo Yin okay. This was the second time Soo Yin wanted to leave his side.

"Soo Yin, don't ever go again," Dae Hyun whispered in a sad voice. He hugged Soo Yin tighter into his embrace.

Soo Yin didn't budge until finally she returned her husband's hug by rubbing his back. Soo Yin's current feelings were swaying like a ship hit by a storm in the ocean. She didn't know what to do at this time. Between wanting to go far and stay afloat.

If she persisted but her heart can't bear it if people call her a bitch or a seductive girl. Wanted to go, but can she see Dae Hyun back into the arms of a cunning woman like Aeri.

Soo Yin repeated some memories that had happened a while ago. Tried to sort out so as not to lose her way. To determine how she will behave next.

Why was God so unfair to give such a difficult choice like this.

Soo Yin's mind seemed to float in the air. Even when Dae Hyun led her into his car. Her feet simply stepped away.

Dae Hyun had already taken off his coat and then put it on Soo Yin's body which was already very cold.

"Honey, why do you want to go? Have you forgotten your promise?" Dae Hyun was worried because Soo Yin had been silent since earlier.

Soo Yin woke up from her reverie. She glanced sideways for a moment before finally her gaze straight ahead.

"I don't want to destroy your family and the trust your mother has placed in me," Soo Yin said bitterly.

ep calm and write something...

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 202 - 202 - Does He Still Want Me?

"I'm sure mom will not be angry. She would agree if she knew about our relationship as if she wanted to marry you to Park Soo Hyun," Dae Hyun said with full hope that his wife would return to normal. He promised not to do stupid things again.

"Didn't you also promise to survive for the sake of our future baby?" he continued. Dae Hyun would rather look at Soo Yin with a sullen face than to look at her flat and expressionless like that. It wasn't like Soo Yin he had known all along.

"Can not a promise be broken?" Soo Yin said.

"Honey, what should I do to make you forgive my mistakes?" Dae Hyun rubbed his face in a huff. He didn't know what else to do so that Soo Yin will forgive him like before.

"You don't have to do anything. I just need time to be alone," Soo Yin said. She wanted to calm her mind first.

"Fine, if that's what you want. But stay in the villa so I can feel calm," Dae Hyun asked. Knowing where Soo Yin's whereabouts made him calmer at work.

Soo Yin nodded her head, agreeing to Dae Hyun's request. Besides, she also didn't know where she was going to live.

After escorting Soo Yin back to the villa, Dae Hyun stayed at the hotel as he planned. For the time being let him not to meet his wife. The most important thing was he knew if she was okay. There were Aunt Xia and Chung Ho who will take care of her.

Almost half a month Soo Yin didn't see Dae Hyun. No phone calls or text messages, just as she wanted. Soo Yin did ask Dae Hyun not to call her for a while because when she was ready, she would call first.

Now she was sitting under a pine tree in the backyard of the villa. Every afternoon Soo Yin was always there with Aunt Xia who faithfully accompanied her. There was a place to reflect on how to plan for the future. Her stomach was also slightly protruding, though not yet visible. But Soo Yin can felt that the shape of her stomach had started to change.

Auntie Xia, who accompanied her every day, felt that there was Soo Yin's deep longing for Dae Hyun. With no feeling of boredom, the middle-aged woman asked how Soo Yin felt every day. But Soo Yin's eyes couldn't hide the longing, even though she always firmly refused to admit her feelings.

"Miss, don't you miss Mr. Dae Hyun?" Aunt Xia asked courageously. It was a few days ago that Soo Yin answered with a no. Maybe today she had changed her mind.

Soo Yin sighed softly. Her eyes wandered deep into the green trees that looked far away in the mountains. It can't be denied, she even missed him when Dae Hyun allowed her to calm down. But her heart refused to admit it.

"Auntie, does he still want me?" Soo Yin said softly. The face that had always been cheerful for the past few days turned gloomy.

"Of course, Mr. Dae Hyun will want and always love you," Aunt Xia said as she brushed Soo Yin's long hair from behind.

"What if he's tired of all my bad attitudes?"

"That's not true, master will always love you. If not, how could master almost every hour wanted to know about your news," Aunt Xia said with a smile.

Soo Yin turned her head with a frown.

"What do you mean, Auntie?" Soo Yin asked.

Auntie Xia immediately reached into the cell phone from her pants pocket. Then handed it over to Soo Yin. There was proof that what Soo Yin was worried about wasn't true. She deliberately did not delete all of his messages to serve as evidence.

Soo Yin read so many messages that have entered Aunt Xia's cellphone. She smiled to herself, how did Dae Hyun ask her to Aunt Xia almost every hour. Although he was a very busy man but why bother like this.

"Miss, do you believe what Auntie said?" Aunt Xia said with a smile when she saw Soo Yin's face glowing.

"Should I hold on, Auntie?" Soo Yin asked, wanting to ask for her opinion so that her heart would become stronger and not be swayed by the obstacles that might be bigger in her way.

"Of course, auntie also wants Miss and Master to be a happy family one day," Aunt Xia said. As much as possible she will make Soo Yin's confidence come back to normal.

Suddenly Soo Yin remembered what an old woman said when they went to Busan. The woman said her relationship would be like the Edelweiss flower.

"Auntie, what is the meaning of the edelweiss flower's love symbol?" Soo Yin asked, she was so curious. At that time she didn't have time to ask about it.

Aunt Xia thought for a moment before answering her.

"The edelweiss flower is a flower that only grows on a mountain with a height of 2,000 feet. It is a symbol of the eternity of love. This plant is often referred to as a symbol of love, sacrifice, sincerity and immortality. Why did you suddenly ask this?" Auntie Xia said after giving a little explanation.

"No, I just want to know," Soo Yin said. Was it true that one day her love for Dae Hyun will be as beautiful as the Edelweiss flower? Did it have to be so many sacrifices to face first?

"Auntie believes your love will last," Aunt Xia said.

Soo Yin smiled faintly at that. Did their love journey really have to go through the arduous twists of life to achieve eternal love. Didn't know, Soo Yin now didn't want to think about it.

After her heart and mind calmed down and received an explanation from Aunt Xia, Soo Yin had decided to stay put no matter what. It was too late for her to back down. Despite the many obstacles, with determination she would not be this fragile. She had to fight for Dae Hyun for the child she was carrying. When the baby grew up, she didn't want her child to have the same fate as her.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 203 - 203 - See It From A Distance

"Auntie, do I look fat now?" Soo Yin asked as she stood up then turned her body several times.

"It's only natural for a pregnant woman to have a little body," Aunt Xia said softly.

"Then, what if my husband doesn't like it later?" Soo Yin felt worried and didn't feel confident about her body's condition.

"Every man will love his woman when she is pregnant even though her body shape changes. Mr. Dae Hyun even always asks whether your stomach has enlarged or not. He said that if he is impatient he wants to meet Miss soon," Aunt Xia said. As much as possible she will reassured Soo Yin's trust in Dae Hyun because it was all for the good of both of them.

Auntie Xia didn't want to see them apart like this. Can't afford to see Soo Yin who sometimes cried up. When pregnant this young, she needed to get more love and attention.

"Is it true that my husband said that? You aren't lying to me, are you?" Soo Yin narrowed her eyes even though there was a hint of a flower blooming in her heart.

"Of course it's true, there's no way auntie could lie. You can prove it yourself," Aunt Xia said.

"If you lie, I will really go," Soo Yin threatened.

"Tomorrow morning, give master a surprise by going to the hotel. He must be happy to see Miss," Aunt Xia said. Looked like Soo Yin's mood had gotten better so she suggested it like that.

"I'll think about it later," Soo Yin said.

They talked and joked until the sun set on the western horizon. They were like a child and mother pair. Soo Yin was so comfortable confiding in Aunt Xia because the middle-aged woman was always able to calm her wavering heart.

The sky was getting dark now, so Aunt Xia invited Soo Yin to enter the house. It was not good for a pregnant woman to be outside at sunset.

After finishing her dinner Soo Yin immediately went to her room early. Like her routine every night, Soo Yin would stand on the balcony until late at night. But not this time, Soo Yin immediately entered the room after being satisfied to see the scattered stars filled in the sky. Intended to go to bed early so as not to be late to wake up. Did not let her intention for tomorrow morning have to fail.

Not accustomed to sleeping fast, Soo Yin's eyes were reluctant to close despite her hard work. Imagining tomorrow, it felt like she can't wait to meet her husband. She wanted the time to quickly rotate fast to the early morning.

Until finally her body was tired of itself because she rolled around. Only then can Soo Yin fell asleep after almost morning.

Dae Hyun's busy work at the hotel never ended. Even today there were some old investors who were withdrawing their investment. Indeed it was only about two people but they were someone who put quite a lot of investment in the hotel.

Dae Hyun was frantic because the funds were large enough that he needed new investors who were willing to work with him.

He suspected that Aeri was behind all of this. He was not as stupid as before who would beg Aeri to help him. Now his friendship network was so wide with entrepreneurs. In the past, people would hesitate to invest because their hotel was still small. Maybe they doubt the benefits they will get. In contrast to the rapidly growing hotel conditions.

Even though Park Soo Hyun was still lazy, thanked to his mother who said that if Soo Yin liked hard working men then he wanted to work even harder.

After a few tiring days that drained both energy and mind, Dae Hyun can now breathe a sigh of relief because he can get through all the problems. Now it remained only to think about his personal problems.

On a bright star-studded night, Dae Hyun could only gaze at the beauty of the night sky from the balcony of his study. He always took a few moments just to observe the stars when the moon was no longer shining. Seeing the night sky made his longing slowly relieved.

Just imagine there was no text message or telephone. Only through Aunt Xia, Dae Hyun could found out the state of his little wife that he had missed. He didn't know how long Soo Yin will calmed down. Even so, he always prayed that everything would end quickly.

He looked at Soo Yin's photo to let go of all his longing. Actually he wanted to go to the villa but was afraid that Soo Yin will make it longer to apart.

Dae Hyun who was quite satisfied looking at the night sky returned to his room. He checked the clock on his hand, which read as eight o'clock in the evening. After that night Dae Hyun never returned to his home in UN Village. Only Jo Yeon Ho occasionally came to the hotel to meet him.

Tonight Dae Hyun decided to go back to UN Village to confirm Aeri's whereabouts. Looked like that woman really didn't have the veins to be ashamed if he came home, her attitude was still normal as if nothing happened between them. Dae Hyun lost his mind so he left the house. Until now, he also had not told his mother about his divorce plans from Aeri. His busy life made him had no time to speak honestly with his mother.

Dae Hyun was currently driving down a busy street.

Somehow tonight he wanted to see Soo Yin so he decided to turn around to Pyeongchang-dong villa. Dae Hyun parked his car some distance from the villa because he didn't want his wife to know his whereabouts. The most important thing was that his longing can be cured.

Dae Hyun stood behind a tree while watching the balcony. According to information from Aunt Xia, Soo Yin will be standing on the balcony at this time. Hopefully tonight he can be lucky to see her because the weather was also good.

Not so long ago, there was a woman who was standing on the balcony with her face looking up at the sky. Her face looked radiant and looked happy. Even though it was not very clear, Dae Hyun can felt happiness in his heart. He became curious about what made her that happy.

Dae Hyun smiled and was grateful that his wife wasn't so gloomy anymore. Hee facial expression was also as cheerful as before.

The wind started to blow gently blowing Soo Yin's hair causing her face to close. Even the wind broke into Dae Hyun's skin. He wanted to scream for his little wife to come inside. But he discouraged. The goal was only to confirm the condition of his wife.

It turned out that Soo Yin was only on the balcony for a while. After his wife entered, Dae Hyun immediately left the Pyeongchang-dong villa. Now it was time to return to the main house to sort things out with Aeri.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 204 - 204 - Sleeping With Aeri

UN Village.

The lights were still bright, coloring part of the room. With leisurely steps Dae Hyun entered the house. The atmosphere was quiet even though it wasn't too late at night.

Dae Hyun climbed the stairs to the second floor, headed to his study to retrieve something from there. It only took a moment, after finding the document he was looking for, Dae Hyun wanted to see Jo Yeon Ho. He poked his head inward to peek. It turned out that his son had fallen asleep so Dae Hyun only walked in for a moment and then left.

Dae Hyun went to the kitchen to get some drinking water because his throat felt dry. Unexpectedly, in the kitchen there was Aeri who was taking drinking water too.

"You finally came home," Aeri said with a smile painted on her lips and walked over to Dae Hyun.

"Hmmm," said Dae Hyun without any intention of seeing her at all.

"Let me take it," Aeri said when Dae Hyun was about to reach for a glass.

Dae Hyun pulled his hand back. Looked like Aeri still wanted to try hard to survive in this house. Dae Hyun chose to sit on the chair in the dining room.

"Please," Aeri said as she put the glass filled with water in front of Dae Hyun.

Dae Hyun drank the water that Aeri had given him in an indifferent manner, not taking his eyes off the document he was reading at all.

Aeri sat across from Dae Hyun while cradling her chin with both hands. Kept looking at him, hoping that the man will reciprocate her. But the dining room was quiet and lonely, there was no conversation between them.

Dae Hyun remained focused, until suddenly his body felt stifling. This may be due to the effect of not having bathed.

"Dae Hyun, it turns out you came back to this house after a long time," Mrs. Park said. As a mother she also missed her son.

"Sorry, Mom. There are lots of complicated work so I didn't have time to go home," Dae Hyun said with a head that felt a little heavy.

"Next time when you are busy, you also have to pay attention to your children and your wife," Mrs. Park said.

"I'll go upstairs for a bit, Mom," Dae Hyun said goodbye. It seemed that he needed to go to the bathroom to wash his head with warm water.

"He's always running away," Mrs. Park muttered who approached Aeri to chat for a while.

Unsteadily, Dae Hyun went into the bathroom. He immediately poured his head under the shower. Nearly half an hour Dae Hyun tried to get rid of the stifling heat and heat that had become unbearable.

With a blurry vision and his mind unable to think clearly, Dae Hyun came out of the bathroom wearing only a towel.

Aeri was stunned to see the man who had just came out. Her saliva almost melted at how hot Dae Hyun was. His body that was like torn bread caught her attention even more. A body shape that hadn't changed since first seeing it.

Even though Dae Hyun was already staggering, he could still see Aeri sitting with her smooth legs which she left open on her thigh.

Dae Hyun shook his head several times so that his consciousness will soon recover as usual. But more and more something strange happened to his body which was accompanied by getting hotter so that he needed an outlet.

Aeri realized that the stimulants she had given had started working. With a sly grin, she walked over to Dae Hyun.

"Don't come near me!" Dae Hyun exclaimed. Even though his head was spinning, Dae Hyun was still able to vaguely see Aeri approach him. There was disgust when he saw it.

"Don't hold back," Aeri whispered in Dae Hyun's ear without caring of what he said.

"Soo Yin," Dae Hyun muttered. Aeri's faint whispers sounded like Soo Yin's voice, so it caught his attention.

Aeri couldn't wait anymore so she pushed Dae Hyun's body onto the bed on his back.

The stimulant drug given by Aeri had a high dose so it would not be easy for a man to think clearly.

Now it was not Aeri who appeared in Dae Hyun's eyes. Instead, he saw that it was his wife's face who smiled very seductively.

oooooooooooo

Dae Hyun woke up in the morning. He was so surprised after seeing who was sleeping beside him.

"Aeri?" Dae Hyun widened his eyes perfectly round. With his head still heavy, Dae Hyun recalled what happened last night to him.

"Shit!" Dae Hyun said. Looked like he had been framed by Aeri. His emotions were getting more and more unbearable now.

"Good morning, dear," Aeri said as she moved and stretched her muscles.

"You were amazing last night," Aeri said with a shy chuckle.

"What did you do to me last night?" Dae Hyun shouted in a high voice. His sharp eyes indicated he was so angry.

"I didn't do anything. I just followed your wish. It seems that last night you couldn't stand it," Aeri said with a smile.

"What drug did you give me last night?" Dae Hyun grabbed Aeri's shoulder firmly. His glare was so sharp, it looked scary.

"What do you mean? I didn't give anything to you," Aeri said, acting innocently.

"Never mind, if you could trapped me in the past. For now you will not succeed," Dae Hyun said. He felt like wanted to commit violence against such shameless women like her now.

"Dae Hyun, why do you always accuse me? Am I really nothing in your eyes? Is it because there is already another woman in your heart?" Aeri asked sadly. Even though in her heart she currently wanted to laugh.

"You really never matter in my heart because I already have a woman who is much better than you!" Dae Hyun said with great emphasis.

Dae Hyun released his grip. Then went to the bathroom. He had to take a bath to freshen his head.

Aeri gripped the sheets so hard. But she also wanted to laugh that she had succeeded in her plan.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 205 - 205 - Want A Divorce

Dae Hyun left the room after changing clothes with a red face holding his anger. He wanted to go to the hotel immediately but Jo Yeon Ho whined, asked him to accompany him to breakfast. But currently Jo Yeon Ho was changing clothes accompanied by Aeri.

"Hyeong, it is unusual for you to come home," Park Soo Hyun said. His forehead wrinkled at the sight of Dae Hyun, who had a sour face.

"Hyeong, why are you silent?" Park Soo Hyun grumbled because Dae Hyun didn't answer his question.

Dae Hyun was silent while thinking hard. He didn't want to fall into Aeri's game anymore. Maybe this was a good time to tell his mother before it was too late.

"Mother, I will separate from Aeri," Dae Hyun said when his mother was setting the plates on the dining table.

Mrs. Park dropped her plate on the floor until it broke because she was still standing.

"What do you mean?" Dae Hyun's statement made Mrs. Park was so shocked that Park Soo Hyun deftly stood behind his mother to support her from falling to the floor.

"We are no longer compatible," Dae Hyun said bitterly but tried to calm down.

"Have you properly thought about what you did?" Mrs. Park asked while holding her chest which felt tight.

"I've been thinking about it for a long time. There's no more reason for me to stay," Dae Hyun said as he stared deep into his mother's eyes.

"But why? Haven't you been all right?" Ms. Park's chest tightened at Dae Hyun's statement. No mother wanted to see her child's household failures.

It turned out that Aeri was already standing not far from them so that she could hear what Dae Hyun was saying. She did not think that Dae Hyun would tell his mother so quickly. This really didn't match with what she was thinking.

"That's because there are other women who have tried to destroy our relationship, Mom," Aeri said, who appeared while holding Jo Yeon Ho's hand very tightly. The child was even in pain because his fingers were turning red.

"Woman? Who do you mean?" Mrs. Park said.

"Later mom will also know who she is. Am I no longer attractive so Dae Hyun wants to leave me? After what he did seven years ago," Aeri said while sobbing.

After placing his mother in a chair, Park Soo Hyun immediately took Jo Yeon Ho out of the dining room. Did not let children as young as him know about the argument that was going on with his parents.

"Don't make it up. Don't pass your blame on to others because this has nothing to do with anyone," Dae Hyun said as he rose to his feet.

"Aren't you the one who's been in a relationship with another man?" Dae Hyun continued.

"Dae Hyun, what actually happened to you?" Mrs. Park asked, half screamed.

"Are you aware of what you are saying? Didn't you say that if there is a problem, say it well and with cool head," said Mrs. Park while approaching Aeri who was kneeling on the floor.

"I'm sorry, Mom. I can no longer afford to maintain our marriage," said Dae Hyun. He then left the dining room without caring about his mother who kept calling.

Dae Hyun immediately went to the hotel without waiting for breakfast anymore. It was useless staying there because Aeri will be acting again.

Aeri roared with tears streaming down her cheeks.

"Mother, please help me so that Dae Hyun discourages," Aeri said as she leaned her head on Mrs. Park.

"Calm down, maybe it's all because Dae Hyun has too many problems so he can't think clearly," Mrs. Park said, tried to calm Aeri down. The woman's instincts will definitely be touched by the tears that came out of Aeri's eyelids.

"What if later he really divorces me? I really love him, Mom," Aeri said between sobs.

"Mother will try to persuade him later," Mrs. Park said.

At this time, she did not know whom to side with because she did not know what was the real problem between them. What can be done now was to calm Aeri down so that she did not act desperate.

A woman whose heart was broken tended to do unexpected things.

"Tell him, if he wants to get married again, for me it doesn't matter, Mom. The most important thing is he didn't leave me," Aeri said. It didn't matter if Dae Hyun will remarry. While she was the first wife she will still be more powerful so that one day she can make the woman left this house.

"What are you saying? No wife will be willing to be cheated on. After all, there is no other woman in Dae Hyun's heart," Mrs. Park said.

"But Mom, Dae Hyun has said it frankly if he now has a side chick. I really don't want to be separated from him."

"Mother will never agree with that woman. Surely she is just a girl who wants our property. No need to worry, you will still be my daughter-in-law," Mrs. Park said.

Aeri looked so happy that her mother-in-law stood up for her because all this time Dae Hyun would have obeyed her mother's words.

'A seductive woman, you will not succeed in snatching my husband,' Aeri said to herself. Although she wasn't sure who Dae Hyun meant. The important thing was that now she had Mrs. Park who will defend her.

Today Soo Yin was getting ready on the terrace, just waiting for Chung Ho who was taking the car out of the garage. Wearing a light blue blouse combined with a slightly fluffy black skirt, Soo Yin looked so elegant. The brown bag strap hung on her shoulder.

Since early in the morning, Soo Yin had been getting ready with her appearance so that Dae Hyun will be happy to see her. The smile also never stopped from her lips.

"Miss, good luck," Aunt Xia said to encourage Soo Yin to succeed in surprising him.

"Thanks, Auntie," said Soo Yin with a pounding chest so she took a deep breath then let it go. She repeated several times to really calm her heart. Long time no see her husband made her heart beat fast. It was like a teenager who had not seen her lover for a long time.

"Remember you also have to walk carefully to keep your womb safe." Aunt Xia kept on reminding Soo Yin to always be careful.

"Take it easy, I'll definitely take care of it," Soo Yin said with a happy face as she rubbed her stomach gently.

Soon Chung Ho was waiting for Soo Yin in front of the terrace. Soo Yin said goodbye to Aunt Xia first.

"Be careful!" Aunt Xia exclaimed when Soo Yin got into the car.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 206 - 206 - My Future Wife

Soo Yin continued to look to the right and left of the road. Soo Yin felt like she had been freed from the cage. Actually Dae Hyun allowed her to come out but Soo Yin herself didn't want it. For her to calm down meant that she must be away from outside of the world.

Everything was fine before the car suddenly stopped in the middle of the road. Even though the distance from the road to the hotel was still a long time.

"Chung Ho, what's wrong with the car?" Soo Yin asked.

"Stay inside, miss. I'll check it for a moment," Chung Ho said as he looked back and then came down.

Chung Ho started to check the engine to see the damage. After that tried starting the car several times. But the car never started.

Soo Yin, who felt hot, immediately got out of the car for fresh air. Even though there was air conditioning, Soo Yin didn't really like it. What's more, sometimes Soo Yin felt nauseous when she inhaled the air conditioner.

"Miss, I'm sorry. Looks like this car must be taken to the mechanic," said Chung Ho who was already feeling hopeless because his efforts were in vain.

"Okay, then I'll just take a taxi," Soo Yin said. She immediately took her bag from inside the car.

Soo Yin walked a little further ahead to wait for a taxi.

Park Soo Hyun drove his car at high speed because he was in a hurry. It's already noon, didn't let him be late because Dae Hyun will definitely scold him. But the cause that he was too late because he had to take Jo Yeon Ho to his school.

Not to mention after the drama this morning, Aeri roared incoherently. He was confused between pity or disgust because her attitude was too much. No wonder his brother wanted a divorce, seemed bored with all of her acting.

If his brother scolds him later, he will get angry back later. Because all of this was also his fault. If not, how could he came late. Mo

Park Soo Hyun suddenly stopped his car when he caught a glimpse of a girl standing on the side of the road. He saw the rearview mirror, still seemed like dreaming of seeing her because he had not seen her for a long time. Excitedly, Park Soo Hyun backed the car so that it stopped right in front of her.

But the girl looked cool, unaware of his arrival so Park Soo Hyun got out of his car.

"Hi, my future wife," Park Soo Hyun said happily. Too long not seeing each other made Park Soo Hyun act like he used to be a bit more aggressive.

Soo Yin turned her head, it was like a familiar male voice was heard in her ears. Sure enough it turned out to be her brother-in-law. Soo Yin was quite surprised when she saw him, coupled with the call earlier which made her even more uncomfortable.

Her little heart regretted that it wasn't Dae Hyun who approached her.

"What are you standing here for?" Park Soo Hyun asked because Soo Yin said nothing. So confidently he thought that Soo Yin must be blown away by his good looks.

"I... I'm waiting for a taxi," Soo Yin stammered.

"Are you going to work today?" Park Soo Hyun asked happily. Hoped if his guess must be correct.

"Hmmm," Soo Yin said with a faint smile. It was impossible if she was lying.

"Come in."

Park Soo Hyun skillfully opened the front passenger car door for Soo Yin. It felt like a dream to meet Soo Yin in a morning like this. Able to made his irritated heart became better.

Soo Yin was forced into Park Soo Hyun's car with heavy steps. Her plan didn't match with what she thought. Even though she was waking up early in the morning to arrive at the hotel earlier than her husband. Now, she had to be late because her car suddenly broke down.

"Soo Yin, how about your college? Is everything going well?" Park Soo Hyun asked.

"Not bad," said Soo Yin with a faint smile.

"Just waiting for the announcement," Soo Yin continued. She even forgot about her lecture.

"You will definitely become a great doctor someday," Park Soo Hyun said enthusiastically.

"Ah, I'm not sure about the result either. The competition there is very tight. They are all smart," Soo Yin said, who started to give up a little. She was too confident to register there with her meager abilities.

Being able to study at Seoul National University was a matter of pride for everyone because the campus was no joke. Almost all Koreans wanted to study there because after graduation they will be guaranteed to work.

"You're also smart enough to go to college there," Park Soo Hyun said.

Park Soo Hyun continued to encourage Soo Yin to never give up and not give up.

Park Soo Hyun deliberately slowed down his car so he can be alone with Soo Yin longer. He didn't need to think about his brother's anger. The most important thing was to be with Soo Yin now. Dae Hyun's business can wait.

Soo Yin got more and more annoyed that they hadn't come to the hotel just yet. But every time she asked Park Soo Hyun to accelerate his car, there was always an excuse he made.

Derrrrt ... derttt ... derrrrt ...

When he was engrossed in looking at Soo Yin's face from the side suddenly his cell phone vibrated. Inevitably Park Soo Hyun checked who was calling him who turned out to be his brother.

"Hello," Park Soo Hyun said lazily.

"Park Soo Hyun! Where are you? Why haven't you come yet? You think you can go your own way!!" Dae Hyun shouted from across the phone.

Park Soo Hyun took the cell phone away from his ear because it was so deafening.

"Hyeong, be patient, don't get angry like that. I'll be there soon," Park Soo Hyun said.

"You should be at the hotel in ten minutes!"

The telephone line had been cut.

"You're impatient," Park Soo Hyun grumbled.

Soo Yin could hear her husband's emotional tone at this time. Didn't know what problem hit him so he got angry at his own brother. But Soo Yin didn't dare to ask Park Soo Hyun even though she was curious.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 207 - 207 - What Happened?

The Silla Seoul Hotel.

Dae Hyun this morning was grumpy because of last night's incident which made him even more emotional. The man took out his emotions on employees who were late.

All hotel employees were even surprised because, Dae Hyun was never like that. Since leaving his house this morning, his face had always been sullen with scary eyes.

Chang Yuan, who used to be able to calm his boss down, really couldn't this time. His current hope was only through his wife. But it was impossible this time to contact her while her cellphone number was inactive. If picking her up to the villa, it will take quite a long time.

The condition of Dae Hyun's room was now scattered so that no employee were allowed to enter. If they had an interest then Chang Yuan will take care of it.

Currently Dae Hyun was sitting in his chair with a thundering chest. Holding his head with both hands. He felt stupid because he had entered Aeri's trap. Hopefully that sneaky woman didn't get pregnant so that didn't keep him from going.

Dae Hyun continued to massage his head so hard. At times like this, he couldn't think clearly. Coupled with Soo Yin who never saw him.

Park Soo Hyun immediately went to his room because there was a lot of work to be done. Didn't let his brother get angry. Having met Soo Yin made him even more enthusiastic in working. He will prove it to Soo Yin if he was a hard worker who can dependable. So that if they got married later, she will not regret it.

Park Soo Hyun also advised Soo Yin to be more careful because his brother was in a bad mood.

As long as stepping into the hotel, Soo Yin's heart was now beating very fast. There was a sense of impatience to meet her husband soon. Hopefully Dae Hyun can still accept her just as Aunt Xia said.

Now Soo Yin had arrived at the door. For a moment, Soo Yin didn't want to knock on the door. The image of her entering the room for the first time made her face flush with embarrassment.

She felt that her attitude had been very childish. Soo Yin dared to turn the knob but the door won't open because it's locked. Luckily Soo Yin brought the spare key that was in her bag.

Dae Hyun deliberately asked Chang Yuan to lock it because he didn't want to be disturbed.

Slowly Soo Yin opened the door then locked it again. Soo Yin's eyes widened to a perfectly round shape when she saw the scattered paper and items that were usually neatly arranged now on the floor. There were even a drink bottles that had broken.

Soo Yin rolled her gaze around the room, until her gaze was fixed on a man who was sitting while lowering his head. With careful steps, Soo Yin walked over to Dae Hyun. It turned out that there was a bottle of drink on his desk.

Dae Hyun still didn't move from his seat. Hadn't noticed Soo Yin's arrival yet. Even though he could faintly hear the door open. He thought it was Chang Yuan who entered.

Now Soo Yin was standing right in front of her husband. She was so surprised to see everything.

"Honey," Soo Yin called so softly. She suspected something happened so that her husband was like this.

That soft voice was able to penetrate into the raging mind. Dae Hyun remained silent for a moment because he thought it was a dream to hear Soo Yin's voice up close.

"Honey, what happened to you?" Soo Yin took another step forward.

Dae Hyun slowly raised his head. He wondered if the voice was just a dream or if it was real. With sad eyes Dae Hyun opened his eyes. It turned out that the face looked so clear.

Soo Yin felt a tightness in her chest seeing Dae Hyun's eyes sad and red. It looked like the man had been drinking.

"Am I dreaming?" Dae Hyun muttered without taking his eyes off of Soo Yin at all. If it was a dream he hoped to never wake up.

"Honey, what really happened to you?" Soo Yin asked, repeating her question again because Dae Hyun didn't answer.

Soo Yin was so sorry for her husband's condition that she walked over to Dae Hyun's side and grabbed his face. Soo Yin leaned Dae Hyun's head against her chest.

Dae Hyun immediately grabbed Soo Yin's waist who was already by his side. Inhaling the scent of the body that he always missed. Too happy to make him unable to speak at this time.

"I didn't dream of seeing you coming here?" Dae Hyun said as he closed his eyes.

"Why are you like this? What exactly happened? Are you mad at me?" Soo Yin asked repeatedly.

Dae Hyun was silent, instead lowering his head to kiss Soo Yin's stomach.

"You've grown," Dae Hyun said as he rubbed Soo Yin's stomach. Without answering questions from his little wife.

Soo Yin released Dae Hyun by pushing his shoulders away from her a little.

"Tell me why are you like this? What exactly happened?" Soo Yin was so anxious to see her husband, because Soo Yin had never seen Dae Hyun in such a condition.

"Have you forgiven me? Will you forgive me again?" Dae Hyun stared at Soo Yin's eyes deeply with longing.

Soo Yin nodded her head while smiling warmly.

"Soo Yin, that sneaky woman looks like she's going to set me up again," Dae Hyun said softly as he rubbed his irritated face.

"What do you mean?" Even though Soo Yin understood who he meant, Soo Yin didn't understand.

"I've betrayed your trust," Dae Hyun said bitterly. It was better to tell the truth than Soo Yin found out then hated him later.

"Aeri set me up last night," Dae Hyun continued with a sigh of resignation if Soo Yin would be angry again.

"Then?" Soo Yin asked while frowning.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 208 - 208 - Aren't You Jealous?

"You can guess what happened next."

"So that's why you are like this? If she finds out you are like this then she will definitely be even happier," Soo Yin said.

"Aren't you angry?" Dae Hyun was quite dumbfounded that Soo Yin was so calm.

"No, if I'm angry then your old wife must be screaming happily. I'm sure if she's up to something."

"Aren't you jealous? Don't you love me anymore?" Dae Hyun asked.

"Don't think all kinds of things. I'm sure you love me so much, I still believe in it. If not, how could you be like this. Look at this room that looks like a warehouse," Soo Yin said, while shaking her head.

"I really can't think properly for fear of you turning away from me again," Dae Hyun said. This was so unexpected, Soo Yin can act understanding.

Soo Yin began to understand that the relationship required sacrifice. She must survive if she wanted to win.

This was totally beyond Dae Hyun's expectation, after allowing her to calm down it seemed that Soo Yin had changed a little.

Dae Hyun immediately stood up and then hugged Soo Yin into his arms.

The scent of alcohol pierced Soo Yin's sense of smell. Made her nauseous until her stomach was stirred up. With all her strength Soo Yin pushed Dae Hyun's body away from her. Her stomach can't stand it anymore so Soo Yin ran to the bathroom.

The breakfast she ate this morning drained away. Soo Yin started to worry that her condition will return to its original. Maybe because she never checked her womb again. It's been half a month since she never went to a doctor. Even though Aunt Xia always asked her to.

"Honey, are you all right?" Dae Hyun exclaimed from outside as he knocked on the door. He put his ear on the door.

Soo Yin came out after washing her face. It was useless in the morning getting ready to look perfect, if in the end she washed her face so that the powder immediately wears off. The thin lipstick she used has also disappeared.

"Please, don't get too close!" Soo Yin said when Dae Hyun was about to walk over to her.

"Why?" Dae Hyun asked.

"Your body smells so bad. I can't stand the smell of alcohol," Soo Yin grumbled as she covered her nose with her hand.

"Okay, I'll clean up right now," Dae Hyun said. Too happy made him forget if he had been drinking alcohol. With wide footsteps, Dae Hyun immediately went into the bathroom to quickly clean himself. Didn't let Soo Yin change her mind so she will run away.

Soo Yin followed Dae Hyun's footsteps to the room. Nothing had changed after almost a month of not working. Everything was neatly arranged. Feeling curious, Soo Yin opened her husband's wardrobe. She was so surprised because the contents were full. Whereas when she used to stay here, his clothes were only a few pieces.

When he came out, Dae Hyun had already changed his clothes. He didn't want Soo Yin to be angry because he changed clothes in front of her.

"Why there are so many clothes here?" Soo Yin asked while frowning. She did not know that her husband always stayed at the hotel.

"Since you don't want to be disturbed, I always sleep here. I just came home last night," Dae Hyun said. He even regretted that he had come home last night.

Soo Yin closed the closet door again. Unexpectedly, Dae Hyun really kept his promise not to interfere. Soo Yin walked towards the curtain-covered glass for a view of the skyscrapers. Actually there was a balcony if she wanted to see it from outside. But Soo Yin was too afraid of heights.

"Don't you miss me? So you don't want to hug me," Dae Hyun said, who was not satisfied with hugging Soo Yin earlier.

"Didn't Aeri hug you last night," Soo Yin said with a flat face. Her tone was as if she didn't care.

Hearing his little wife's statement made Dae Hyun's face return to the way it was before.

"It's not funny," Dae Hyun said irritably.

Soo Yin smiled when she heard Dae Hyun's cool and cold words. She turned around and walked towards Dae Hyun.

Cup....

Soo Yin kissed Dae Hyun on the cheek once. Sometimes people who were older than us were not necessarily mature. That's why there were no standard age, when someone will be mature.

"You never change," Dae Hyun said, who immediately carried Soo Yin's body, lied her down on the soft bed.

Dae Hyun's position was now above Soo Yin. Locked her up so she can't go anywhere. Dae Hyun continued to stare at Soo Yin's crystal clear eyes.

"Bad girls should be taught a lesson," Dae Hyun said with a naughty grin.

Soo Yin was about to cover her mouth with her hand because she already knew what her husband was thinking. But before she managed to close her mouth, Dae Hyun had already scooped her lips first.

The kiss that had been soft turned to heat until their breath ran out. Soo Yin, who also missed Dae Hyun, finally responded to him as an outlet for the longing that had been mounting.

"Didn't the doctor say we can do it," Dae Hyun whispered right into Soo Yin's ear sensually. Right after releasing the kiss.

"Are you not satisfied with what Aeri did last night?" Soo Yin replied, who was able to silence Dae Hyun's mouth. So that now his jaw muscles seemed tense.

"Can you please not remind me about it. Don't let me lose control again," Dae Hyun said with a foggy gaze.

"Okay, I'm sorry, and you seem very sensitive anyway," Soo Yin said, while chuckling with amusement because her husband seemed easily provoked by emotions.

Not to be sensitive but Dae Hyun was still haunted by the shadows of last night.

"I've told mom that I'm going to divorce from Aeri." Dae Hyun got up and sat on the side of the bed.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 209 - 209 - You Can't Go Near Her

"Really? Then how do Mom respond?" Soo Yin immediately sat up and then moved to the side of her husband, she was quite surprised to know that. It was unexpected if Dae Hyun really did that.

"Of course mom is angry, but I've said that I've thought carefully. There's no more compatibility between us," Dae Hyun said while sighing softly.

"Then, what about Aeri?"

"She put out her dramatic stance as usual. I don't care even if everyone opposes her. I still want to part as soon as possible. After everything is done we will go far," Dae Hyun said while embracing his wife's back which turned out to be a little wider.

"I'll wait until that day comes," Soo Yin said as she leaned her head on Dae Hyun's shoulder. It really felt good.

"Your body looks fuller now," Dae Hyun said.

"You will definitely say if I'm fat," Soo Yin said as she pursed her lips forward.

"Even though you are fat, so what? Besides, I still love you at any time. Even if you are fat, black, or thin. My love will never change," Dae Hyun said.

Knock knock knock

Suddenly there was a knock on the door quite loudly. Made the two lovebirds felt annoyed. Especially Dae Hyun who immediately put on a cold face.

"So disturbing!" Dae Hyun grumbled. Even though he already said that he didn't want to be disturbed.

"Let's go out," Soo Yin asked. Before her husband officially separated from Aeri, she didn't want anyone else to know about their relationship.

In the outside, Park Soo Hyun couldn't wait to get in so he loudly banged on the door.

"What's the matter? Didn't I tell you if there is something just call Assistant Chang," Dae Hyun said with a tone of dislike when he opened the door.

"Where's my future wife? Don't make her tired because you told her to work too hard," Park Soo Hyun said while poking his head inward.

"As long as she works as my secretary, it's up to me of what I do," Dae Hyun said curtly.

"This afternoon there is a meeting with new investors. He wants to meet in person with the director of this hotel. You'd better leave quickly before it's too late," Park Soo Hyun said.

"Soo Yin, come with me now," Dae Hyun called because Soo Yin pretended to be cleaning his desk.

"You better be alone. Soo Yin is quite tired," Park Soo Hyun said.

"I don't care," Dae Hyun said firmly.

oo

Dae Hyun really didn't allow Park Soo Hyun to get close to his wife. Even more so after knowing that they were both in the same car when they left for the hotel this morning. It made his chest rumble. It should be her husband who met Soo Yin for the first time, not her brother-in-law. Fortunately, Soo Yin's reason was acceptable because her car broke down.

Dae Hyun and Soo Yin were at the restaurant first while waiting for Mr. Ha Joon to arrive. Based on the promise made, Mr. Ha Joon will come in ten minutes.

They chatted while joking. Even though they didn't hold hands, they looked close. Not a relationship like between subordinates and superiors. The other visitors even thought they were lovers.

They did not realize that they were being watched because without them knowing there was someone watching not far from where they were sitting. The man in the hat took their photos from various angles that looked so interesting.

The man in the hat even took a photo when Dae Hyun opened the door for Soo Yin while in the parking lot.

Dertt... derrtt... derttt....

There was an incoming call. It turned out to be a message from Chang Yuan.

"What's the matter, Assistant Chang?" Dae Hyun asked.

"Sir, please maintain your attitude with Miss Soo Yin because there is someone who seems to be watching. You can see him at the table located in the corner," Chang Yuan said.

Dae Hyun turned his gaze around the corner. It was true that there was a man in a hat who pretended to be playing with his cell phone.

"Yes, I saw him. You take care of him after he left the restaurant," Dae Hyun said.

"Yes sir."

Dae Hyun suspected that the man was Aeri's order who was paid to follow him. He knew that Aeri wasn't the type of woman who was receptive.

"What is wrong?" Soo Yin asked with a frown.

"It's nothing, Assistant Chang only told me if Mr. Ha Joon will arrive soon," Dae Hyun said. At least he lied for good because he didn't want Soo Yin to worry.

Sure enough, a few minutes later a middle-aged man they had been waiting for had arrived with an assistant.

"Welcome, sir." Dae Hyun shook the hand of Mr. Ha Joon and his assistant in turn. Likewise with Soo Yin who followed what her husband was doing.

"Sorry, we're a little late," Ha Joon said while glancing at Soo Yin who was sitting next to Dae Hyun. His eyes continued to observe Soo Yin from top to bottom.

Soo Yin felt uncomfortable with the gaze of a middle-aged man whose age seemed to be the same as her father. She felt like something was wrong with that look. That gaze were usually done by masher men.

Dae Hyun also realized that it seemed that Ha Joon was interested in Soo Yin. Based on the information he heard, Ha Joon was indeed a quite successful businessman. The only drawback was that he often played with young women. There had been many girls who had become victims.

"Hmmm, can we start," Dae Hyun said, trying to hold back his emotions.

"Alright, it seems you are impatient," Ha Joon said, without taking his eyes off of Soo Yin's face.

"I don't have much time," Dae Hyun said in a flat tone.

They also started discussing about sharing the profits if Ha Joon collaborated with Dae Hyun. The middle-aged man seemed interested but it seemed he wanted something so he had not come to an agreement.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 210 - 210 - He's Not An Item

Soo Yin excused herself to the toilet because she was so uncomfortable. This was the first time Dae Hyun had invited her to meet someone whose eyes were wandering. Soo Yin felt as if the man was stripping her naked.

"Who was that girl?" Mr. Ha Joo asked while looking at the toilet.

"My secretary," Dae Hyun said curtly.

"Can I get acquainted with her?" Ha Joon said with a chuckle.

"Didn't you already know her name?" Dae Hyun said with a slightly raised tone.

"I mean, can you give her to me?" Ha Joon said with a crooked smile.

"I will invest all my wealth in The Silla Seoul Hotel, in exchange you have to hand her over to me," Ha Joon continued frankly.

Dae Hyun glared at Ha Joon without caring if he would be offended. His patience was now running out.

"She's not an object. If you don't intend to cooperate with us that's fine. We can just find someone else," Dae Hyun said in a cold tone. He could not understand that this middle-aged man was so shameless. Would love to punch him in the face if he didn't remember this in such a crowded place.

"How much is that girl? Let me pay her right now," Ha Joon said with a sly grin. If he wanted something, Ha Joon was the kind of person who had to get what he wanted.

"Didn't I tell you if she's not an object? She's even more valuable than all the wealth you have," Dae Hyun said who had risen to his feet as his hands pounded the table.

"I do not think if you are so arrogant. Okay, our cooperation is canceled," Mr. Ha Joon said with his chest heaving and holding back his anger. He felt that he had been insulted by Dae Hyun.

"Please, I'm also not interested in working with you," Dae Hyun replied in a cold tone.

Chang Yuan had just finished his task of finding out who the man in the hat was so he was late. Even though he had succeeded in destroying his cell phone, Chang Yuan did not know who ordered him because the man had already fled first.

As soon as he walked into the restaurant, Chang Yuan was quite surprised by what was happening. With quick steps he immediately approached his boss because it seemed like there had been a little commotion.

Ha Joon and his assistant were already standing about to leave, just as Chang Yuan was standing there.

"Mr. Ha Joon, why are you in such a hurry?" Chang Yuan said politely. Accustomed to representing Dae Hyun, made him able to win over and have good relations with investors.

"Assistant Chang, sorry we're leaving. Please contact me if Mr. Dae Hyun changes his mind with the offer I gave," Ha Joon said, who then left the restaurant.

Dae Hyun sat up while rubbing his face in exasperation. His cooperation today was a total mess.

Chang Yuan could already guess what had happened.

"Does Mr. Ha Joon want Miss Soo Yin?" Chang Yuan guessed.

"Hmmm, shameless old man. Even if he gave all of his money I wouldn't let Soo Yin go," Dae Hyun grumbled with an irritated snort.

"Didn't I tell you not to bring Miss?" Chang Yuan said.

"If I didn't bring her, Park Soo Hyun would have been very happy," Dae Hyun said.

Chang Yuan massaged his temples, facing his boss's stubbornness. Indeed, what's wrong if Soo Yin met Park Soo Hyun if Soo Yin still chose him as husband. The boss was now even more possessive.

Soo Yin was already out of the bathroom. She looked at the empty chair and there was no longer any sign of Mr. Ha Joon and his assistant. Even though she didn't go to the toilet that long.

"Where is Mr. Ha Joon?" Soo Yin asked while frowning.

"He just left," Dae Hyun said with a smile.

"Then, how about the cooperation?" Soo Yin asked.

"Don't think about it. There are still many people who are willing to invest in our hotel," Dae Hyun said.

Chang Yuan actually regretted that the cooperation was not going well. But what else can he do, if only he who came, maybe everything will go smoothly. He immediately said goodbye to return to the hotel because there was a lot of work to be done.

Only Dae Hyun and Soo Yin who sat back in their seats.

"We better go home, today you haven't rested," Dae Hyun said. He didn't want his wife to be exhausted.

"I'm bored of being at home all the time," Soo Yin said. It was still too noon to return home. Should she return home quickly after a few weeks of not going anywhere.

"Then we'll just go for a walk," Dae Hyun asked. It had been a long time since he asked his little wife to go out for a walk.

"Don't we have to go back to the hotel?" Soo Yin asked.

"Let Park Soo Hyun take care of everything. If I always intervened, when would he be reliable," Dae Hyun said. His hand was about to grab Soo Yin's wrist, but was quickly pulled by the owner.

Even though Soo Yin wanted to act spoiled and indulge in her longing, it was impossible because they were currently in the crowd. If her husband's family found out, then she will most likely be accused. Even if that wasn't true, no one would believe in a second wife.

"Have you had your uterus checked?" Dae Hyun asked. He heard from Aunt Xia that Soo Yin never came out even though Aunt Xia had asked her to see a doctor.

Soo Yin shook her head softly.

"Let's go to Doctor Mi Young again," Soo Yin said happily.

"That's if you don't mind," Soo Yin continued softly while biting her lower lip. She forgot if the quarrel at that time happened because she insisted she still wanted to have her womb to be checked there.

"Okay, we'll go to the doctor you want," Dae Hyun said. He did not want to repeat his minor mistakes that almost ruined his relationship. Didn't let his selfishness hurt Soo Yin like the other day.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 211 - 211 - I've Never Been Pregnant

"Actually why don't you want to go there again?" Soo Yin narrowed her eyes in suspicion of her husband.

"It is because" Dae Hyun doubted whether he should say it honestly.

"Doctor Mi Young and I actually had a special relationship when we were in high school. But that does not mean I still love her. I just feel not free to ask her about your condition," Dae Hyun said, explaining the reason for not wanting to see Mi Young.

"Is it true?" Soo Yin was flabbergasted by her husband's honesty. No wonder he was furious at Doctor Kang who was teasing him. It turned out that this was the reason

"Hmmm," Dae Hyun said.

Dae Hyun started to tell everything little by little. People had said that first love was hard to forget. Even though Dae Hyun still remembered her, that didn't mean he still loved Mi Young and wanted to have a relationship with her. He didn't want other people to misunderstand. Let the past stay in the past.

Being more honest now, it wouldn't be good if Soo Yin found out from other people. After all, Soo Yin had changed a little now, maybe a little bit matured.

"Do you still want to come there?" Dae Hyun asked after finishing a little story.

"Hmmm," Soo Yin said while continuing to think of her husband's statement.

"I still want to go there. Besides, so what if she's your ex. The most important thing now, you are mine," Soo Yin said.

Dae Hyun could only sigh in resignation. If that's what his wife wanted then no problem. The important thing was to tell the truth so that there will be no more misunderstandings in the future.

"Alright, let's go now," Dae Hyun asked.

Soo Yin continued to follow Dae Hyun's steps behind him until they got into the car.

Pyongyang Maternity Hospital.

Fortunately there was no doctor Kang there so Dae Hyun can freely ask about Soo Yin to Mi Young.

"What about my wife and baby? Is everything all right?" Dae Hyun asked after Mi Young did an examination for Soo Yin.

Mi Young was stunned for a moment to hear Dae Hyun called Soo Yin 'my wife'. She was jealous of Soo Yin, who was treated so well by Dae Hyun. If only she who was now in her position, she would have been the happiest woman.

"Mi Young?" Dae Hyun moved his palms in front of Mi Young to bring back her reverie.

Mi Young immediately regained consciousness.

"Sorry," Mi Young said a little nervously.

"The condition of your wife and baby is fine," she said.

"Doctor Mi Young, please tell us your experience. How did it feel when you were pregnant?" Soo Yin asked enthusiastically.

Doctor Mi Young smiled wryly at Soo Yin's question which was enough to make her gut ache.

"I've never been pregnant," Mi Young said with a sad face.

"Doctor Mi, I'm really sorry," Soo Yin said while holding Mi Young's hand on the table. She really didn't mean anything. She only wanted to ask an experienced person.

"It's okay," Doctor Mi Young said with a smile.

"Mi Young, can we prepare all the baby equipment?" Dae Hyun asked. When his child was born, he wanted everything to be prepared.

"I recommend that later because the womb is too young," Mi Young said.

After telling the truth, Dae Hyun became free and had the courage to ask Mi Young of how Soo Yin and his future baby were doing. Didn't care about Mi Young who occasionally glanced at him.

They were discharged from the hospital in the afternoon after completing all examinations. It didn't feel like it turned out that Soo Hyun's womb was almost three months old.

There was anxiety in Soo Yin's heart. There was no way if later with her enlarged stomach, she can come out freely. There was happiness and worry in her heart.

"Why frown like that? Don't tell me if you were jealous earlier," Dae Hyun guessed.

"Who's jealous. If later my stomach gets bigger it means I won't be able to come out in peace," Soo Yin said sadly. Especially if her status was still a mistress, it was certain that she'll only lived at home.

"Of course, because you have become the honorable Dae Hyun Madame. There's no way I will allow you to go to work. You just sit at home and greet your husband who comes home with a smile," Dae Hyun said with a happy smile. Just imagining it was able to cure his annoyance about last night. Really looked forward to the day when Dae Hyun will announce their relationship to everyone.

"That's not it, it means that I couldn't go to college if I was pregnant," Soo Yin said as she pursed her lips.

"No problem. You can postpone it until you've finished giving birth and your condition has recovered. Now you just have to feel happy like Mi Young said," Dae Hyun said.

"Okay," Soo Yin said to agree that she would try to always be happy.

As per Soo Yin's request, this afternoon they also continued to go sightseeing around Seoul.

oooooooooooooooo

Dae Hyun invited Soo Yin to rest while eating at a fancy restaurant with a VIP room so they can eat in peace without being watched.

After finishing dinner, then they continued their journey to Seokchon Lake. Very precisely because they got there when it was dark.

Seokchon Lake was a lake with a strategic location surrounded by various tall buildings. The place was not too crowded, very much according to Soo Yin's request who wanted to go to a quiet place so that they were more comfortable.

Dae Hyun continued to hold Soo Yin's hand when he entered the lake area. It was quite quiet there when visiting at night. There were only a few lovebirds who visit there. Made Soo Yin not have to worry about someone recognizing her.

They continued along the lakeside on foot. It turned out that they had been walking for a long time, made Soo Yin's legs felt sore. Since being pregnant, Soo Yin actually got tired easily.

Soo Yin let go of her wrist from Dae Hyun's grasp. She then squatted while massaging her legs.

At first Dae Hyun didn't realize Soo was massaging her leg. Thought if Soo Yin picked up something on the ground. He only realized it when he crouched beside Soo Yin's side.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 212 - 212 - Always Romantic When With You

"Get on, let me carry you," Dae Hyun said who could not bear to see his wife looked tired. Actually earlier when he came home from the hospital he had invited Soo Yin to go home but his wife insisted on refusing. Forced Dae Hyun to comply with her request.

"Now my body is heavy," Soo Yin said with a bent face.

"I'm still strong in carrying you. Your weight won't be much heavier in my heart compare to if you leave me," Dae Hyun said, who was already crouched in a position to be ready to carry.

"You'll be tired later," Soo Yin said.

"Not at all, I feel happy," Dae Hyun said.

Finally Soo Yin wanted to get on Dae Hyun's back. Her hands were wrapped around her husband's neck to hold them so she wouldn't fall.

Dae Hyun kept on walking until they finally found a long chair located by the lake. He immediately lowered Soo Yin on the chair.

The place was quite comfortable for someone who preferred to be alone. The colorful lights reflected from the lake water made the scenery even more beautiful there.

"Sorry, I can't take you to a romantic place," Dae Hyun Said while kissing the top of Soo Yin's head.

"Wherever it is, nothing is more romantic than being with you." Soo Yin tilted her head to see Dae Hyun's face.

"To be able to sit with you like this, I think it's very romantic," Soo Yin continued.

"Thank you for wanting to be a part of my life," Dae Hyun said while linking his finger on Soo Yin's finger.

Soo Yin leaned her head on Dae Hyun's shoulder. With their hands clasped tightly as if they didn't want to be separated. She really felt happy right now.

"Are we really going to go far from Seoul later?" Soo Yin asked. There were sadness in her heart if they leave Seoul.

"I just want someday we can live in peace with our little family," Dae Hyun said.

"How much children do you want to have?" Dae Hyun asked curiously.

"Two is enough," said Soo Yin.

"Very little, I want one day our children number is ten," Dae Hyun said.

Soo Yin immediately glared at her husband even though her face looked vague but Dae Hyun can still see it.

"So you will let me get pregnant all year long without resting. You are very comfortable because you do not feel pregnant. Men just like to do as they please," Soo Yin muttered while pulling away a little.

"I'm also tired because I have to work hard to make it," Dae Hyun said while chuckling with amusement because he had managed to seduce his little wife.

"Aren't you never tired when you are in bed. That's what has always been on your mind," Soo Yin muttered with an irritated snort.

One child felt like this. Moreover, up to ten children. Soo Yin can't imagine it at all.

"That's a man, especially if it's not been for long. It is certain that the woman will not be awake all day," Dae Hyun whispered sensually in Soo Yin's ear.

"You pervert!" Soo Yin grumbled with a smile. She remembered the first time she did it when she was on Jeju Island. Dae Hyun didn't keep her up all day.

"Although perverted, but still you don't want to go far from me," Dae Hyun teased. His face was currently so close to Soo Yin.

"Don't come near," Soo Yin said as she pushed Dae Hyun's body.

"Look at him, if I tease him it will immediately put on a sour and scary face," Soo Yin muttered softly so that Dae Hyun could not hear her.

Instead of moving away, Dae Hyun squeezed his body closer to Soo Yin's body and then grabbed her waist very tightly. Hiding his head in his wife's neck, made Soo Yin felt amused.

It was getting late so Dae Hyun invited Soo Yin to go back to the Pyeongchang-dong villa. Moreover, the wind was getting stronger because it seemed like snow was going to happen.

"Aren't you going to stay?" Soo Yin asked as she pursed his lips. They were still in the car because they just arrived.

"What will you give me if I stay overnight?" Dae Hyun kept teasing Soo Yin.

"Go if you don't want to stay the night. Don't expect to see me tomorrow," Soo Yin threatened as she violently removed her seat belt.

"No need to frown like that. It's impossible if I don't stay overnight after I've been separated from you for a long time," Dae Hyun said as he grabbed Soo Yin's face to stare at him.

Soo Yin still pretended to frown even though the look in her eyes told him that she looked really happy.

Dae Hyun kissed those lush lips which tasted very sweet at first glance. It turned out that the taste didn't change so he always wanted it again and again.

The snow had started to fall so Dae Hyun immediately came out to open the door for his little wife. He then carried Soo Yin's body, not allowing her to walk to the room.

Since earlier, Aunt Xia stood on the terrace waiting for Soo Yin. She was worried because Soo Yin didn't come home until evening.

"Finally, Master came to this house," Aunt Xia said with a very happy face.

"Of course, Auntie. It's because my little wife already wants to forgive me. Thank you for helping me," Dae Hyun said sincerely because this was all thanks to Aunt Xia so Soo Yin wanted to forgive him sooner.

"No problem, sir," Aunt Xia said. Her heart was happy to see her two masters getting along.

"Auntie, we will go in first," Soo Yin said, who was still carried by Dae Hyun.

"Okay, we'll go in first because it looks like my wife can't wait," Dae Hyun said with a wink.

Soo Yin's face flushed instantly. With all her strength Soo Yin pinched Dae Hyun's waist until the man grimaced in pain.

Auntie Xia just shook her head looking at them. Dae Hyun, who she knew as a quiet man, seemed to have changed since he met Soo Yin. Although sometimes his cold attitude still lingered. At least Dae Hyun now wanted to joke around.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 213 - 213 - Give An Offer

The Silla Seoul Hotel.

Sweat drenched Jean's face, who looked tired from working too hard today. Her mother was back in the hospital so Jean had to work hard to raise money. Although not too much, the overtime pay was quite meaningful for her.

Slowly, Jean cleaned the room, while holding her aching stomach. Maybe this was the result of not having dinner. Jean was too excited so she didn't rest while the other workers were all resting. Besides, she had to go home early so she could see her mother at the hospital. Tonight her mother will get an operation.

Since Soo Yin took a day off from working at the hotel, Jean can breathe a sigh of relief because Park Soo Hyun rarely looked for her. So that she can focus on working. At the hotel there were rumors that blew in her ears. Many female workers said that she was a material girl who tried to approach Park Soo Hyun because of his treasure.

Jean didn't care about their completely proof crap.

Park Soo Hyun accidentally saw Jean as he passed a new room that would be used for a spa and other facilities.

It turned out that this was a very good time. Speak of the devil. That's how the saying went. He had been looking for her but could not find her. Unexpectedly that he saw her there.

Kim Soo Hyun couldn't delay his plans any longer. Tomorrow night he must succeed in confessing his feelings. He needed Jean to take Soo Yin to a place that he wanted.

"Jean," Park Soo Hyun said as he handed a handkerchief to her when he saw Jean's sweaty face.

Jean paused for a moment from the floor sweeping activity that was being carried out. Still could not believe what she saw. A man as handsome as Park Soo Hyun handed her a handkerchief.

"You better go home because it's already late," Park Soo Hyun said.

Subconsciously Jean reached out to receive the handkerchief and then rubbed her face.

"Sorry, I have to finish my work, sir," said Jean without caring about Park Soo Hyun who sent her home.

"Jean, can we talk for a moment?" Park Soo Hyun said hopefully.

"Go ahead, sir," Jean said. If Park Soo Hyun looked serious like this then there must be something to say.

"I want to ask for your help," Park Soo Hyun said with a bad feeling because it was always a bother.

Jean took a deep breath because she could already guess that if Park Soo Hyun was looking for her it must be because there was something. She could already guess if it had something to do with Soo Yin.

'Sir, could you just find me once not because of Soo Yin,' Jean thought with a tight feeling in her chest.

"Just this once," Park Soo Hyun said hopefully. After this he wouldn't ask Jean to help him anymore. Because after this he can take care of it himself

"If you succeed then I will gift a romantic dinner for you and your lover. You don't have to worry about all the costs," Park Soo Hyun said sparkingly.

Jean just smiled bitterly at that. Lover? She never even thought about anyone other than the man in front of her right now.

Even though she had tried to forget him. Still can't. Jean didn't know what else to do so that her heart didn't want him. At that time she should have just resigned and should not have cared less about the prohibition. Jean felt too stupid.

"How, you must agree, right?" Park Soo Hyun repeated his question with great enthusiasm. Really hoped if Jean will help him.

"Sorry, I don't have a lover, sir," Jean said sadly and then lowered her gaze to look at the floor blankly. Her fingers gripped the broom handle very tightly.

"What if I just treat you to a vacation?"

"No need, I don't want anything," said Jean with tears that unconsciously fell from her lids. How could it be if she could have fun when her mother's condition that returned to drop.

"Jean, I'm sorry I didn't mean to make you sad," Park Soo Hyun said. He thought that Jean had just broken up from her lover so she cried.

"Sir, can you get out of here?" Jean already felt uncomfortable with the words of the female employees who worked at this hotel since Park Soo Hyun asked her to eat at that time.

"I will not go until you are willing to help me," said Park Soo Hyun.

Jean felt quite annoyed that Park Soo Hyun didn't even understand how she felt.

"All right, you don't have to worry, I will help according to my promise," said Jean with a little emotion.

"Is it true?" Finally his attempt to persuade Jean this time was successful.

"Thank you, Jean. You are the best," said Park Soo Hyun while holding up his thumbs.

"You're welcome," said Jean briefly, tried to smile.

Finally, Park Soo Hyun left the room so Jean returned to continue her work so that it could be finished. It's nine o'clock in the evening, didn't want to be late because she had to take the bus with the last route.

Suddenly there were several female employees who came over to her. The sound of their footsteps was so strong that Jean turned her head back to look at the women.

"Jean, you should be aware of yourself. Don't get too close to the master if you don't want to get into trouble," sneered one of them.

"He belongs to all of us so don't you try to approach him."

"If you ever try to seduce him one more time. Get ready because we won't be silent."

The women looked at Jean so cynically. As if she was like a cheap seductive woman.

Jean just frowned without caring with what they said. She was accustomed to hearing such sneers.

"You're deaf! Why are you silent?" said one of them with her hands on her hips.

But their guts shrank when they saw Park Soo Hyun who was standing at the door. With wide strides they immediately left Jean.

Jean looked confused why they suddenly left because she wasn't aware of Park Soo Hyun's arrival.

"Jean, come home, it's already late," Park Soo Hyun said, which made Jean jumped while holding her chest.

"Sir, you startled me," Jean grumbled.

"Sorry," Park Soo Hyun said while scratching the back of his head which didn't feel itchy.

"Go home," Park Soo Hyun continued.

"I have to finish the job first, sir." How could Jean would go home now if her work was not finished. Later she will not get overtime pay.

"You don't need to worry because I've sent overtime money to your account. Now go to the hospital," Park Soo Hyun said. He had just found out that Jean needed money for her mother's expenses. No wonder Jean looked sad when he offered her a vacation. In return he would pay for her mother's hospital fees.

Jean was stunned for a moment as she wondered where Park Soo Hyun knew about this.

"Hurry to the hospital. Your mother must be in need of you right now."

"How do you know if my mother is in the hospital?" Jean was curious because she didn't tell anyone of her problem. Only to Jae-hwa she did tell the story. There's no way Jae-hwa will tell.

"It doesn't matter, now go home."

"Thank you sir." Without thinking, Jean immediately left her unfinished work because the last bus would soon be here. She didn't care of how Park Soo Hyun found out about it. She'll ask him later.

Actually, Park Soo Hyun had intended to deliver her, but tonight there were work to be done.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 214 - 214 - Gyeran Marri

Before Soo Yin got out of bed, Dae Hyun first went to the kitchen to make breakfast. He did not wake up his little wife on purpose. It was still too early for her to wake up.

"Sir, let me make it," Aunt Xia said, who felt uneasy about just standing there and did nothing.

"No, I did that so when Soo Yin woke up she will eat it," Dae Hyun said.

"Very well," said Aunt Xia. She quite understood what her master wanted to do. How lucky Soo Yin was to have such a caring husband like her master.

Dae Hyun made a breakfast menu that was quite simple and didn't take long to make. He made Gyeran Mari, aka an omelette, which was made quite thick. With the addition of various chopped vegetables and seaweed in it. The taste was very tasty and had high enough nutrition so it was very suitable for pregnant women to eat.

Gyeran mari was usually eaten with rice cooked with beans.

When finished, Dae Hyun returned to his room to get ready. He had to leave early in the morning so he prepared food for Soo Yin because he can't have breakfast together.

This morning felt so good for Soo Yin because all night she was sleeping in the arms of her husband. A happy hue flashed on her face. Soo Yin was still lying on the bed because she just woke up when she heard the sound of water gurgling. It seemed like it was Dae Hyun's voice of cleaning himself. The scent of soap also penetrated her sense of smell.

Soo Yin stretched to stretch her body muscles after last night's hot wrestling. She rolled around with her eyes still closed. When there was the sound of the bathroom door opening, Soo Yin slowly opened her eyes.

"You're awake, honey," Dae Hyun said with water dripping from his hair.

"Hmmm," said Soo Yin with a yawn. Her eyes were still too heavy to open.

After changing clothes, Dae Hyun walked over to Soo Yin, who was awake but was reluctant to leave her sleep.

"Why are you awake so early?" Soo Yin asked while rubbing her eyes to open wide.

"I have to leave early in the morning because I have some unfinished work. Later you don't have to go too early," Dae Hyun said while stroking Soo Yin's hair, which had already rested her head on his lap as a cushion.

"Why did you leave so early?" Soo Yin raised her face, feeling unsatisfied with Dae Hyun's previous answer. There was a streak of disappointment that appeared on her forehead.

"Do you still miss me?" Dae Hyun teased with a grin.

Soo Yin nodded her head. She wanted to sleep all day in this condition. She always wanted to feel spoiled in her husband's lap. But she also shouldn't be selfish.

Listened to Soo Yin's answer, Dae Hyun slowly unbuttoned his shirt with one hand.

"What are you doing?" Soo Yin frowned, why her husband took off his neat clothes?

"Didn't you say you still miss me?" Dae Hyun said while winking one eye.

"You are" Soo Yin immediately sat down with a flushed face. She stared sharply as she pursed her lips.

"I just miss us having breakfast together. Aren't you tired after what you did last night?"

"I thought you wanted it again because we only did it once," Dae Hyun said, grinning as he buttoned it back up but Soo Yin immediately helped him button his shirt back.

"Stop being perverted," Soo Yin muttered.

"Honey, it looks like I have to go right now. I don't want to be late for work," Dae Hyun said, who was used to being disciplined in his work.

"Very well," Soo Yin said.

"See you at the hotel," Dae Hyun said, whilst kissing Soo Yin's cheeks alternately.

"Oh yeah, I almost forgot that I made breakfast for you. Before leaving, don't forget to eat it," Dae Hyun said.

"Thank you, you are the best husband," Soo Yin said. She felt so touched to have a husband who cared so much for her. Even though it should be the duty of a wife, not the other way around.

"I'm just trying to keep my promise," Dae Hyun said with a smile. He waved his hand before disappearing behind the door.

Soo Yin looked at the door which was already tightly closed. Then immediately got out of bed by wrapping her body with a blanket.

After finishing getting ready, Soo Yin went to the dining room for breakfast. There was a heart-shaped piece of Gyeran Mari on a plate that was so neatly arranged. Made her even more impatient to finish it all.

By the time Soo Yin arrived at the hotel, it was already quite noon. The employees seemed to see her with a look of displeasure and there were some who also sneered. Soo Yin regretted for not getting up earlier so she can make it to the hotel on time.

When she accidentally took a step she seemed to see the silhouette of Jean who was carrying the tray in her hand. Maybe she just delivered a coffee order to the employees.

"Jean!" Soo Yin called as she took a quick step to arrive soon.

Jean took a deep breath at the voice of her best friend. She wanted to step her feet quickly but she remembered that Park Soo Hyun asked her to take Soo Yin to the designated place. Jean had to stop, by meeting her she didn't have to bother looking for her.

"Soo Yin, it's been a long time since we met," Jean said with a warm smile. She acted like she used to when Park Soo Hyun hadn't entered their world yet. Jean actually sometimes felt homesick for their days that were full of laughter.

"Jean, I miss you so much." Soo Yin hugged Jean tightly.

Jean only returned Soo Yin's hug with one hand because the other hand was holding the tray.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 215 - 215 - The Most Beautiful Woman

"Soo Yin, ever since you are being Mr. Dae Hyun's secretary, your body has been getting more and more fertile," Jean said with a chuckle.

"Yes, maybe because Mr. Dae Hyun always takes me to eat delicious food," Soo Yin said with a thin smile. There was Soo Yin's desire to tell her everything about her relationship with Dae Hyun. But now the time was not right, afraid that suddenly someone would overheard their conversation.

"It's been a while since we went to watch movies and go out for a walk. How about tonight we go out to eat?" Jean asked.

"Very well," Soo Yin said quickly. She thought that Jean was still angry with her after the problem at that time because of Park Soo Hyun.

"Where are we going to eat? Are we going to take Jae-hwa?" Soo Yin asked with sparkling eyes. She was so enthusiastic because she had not been hanging out with her two friends for a long time.

"Just the two of us, is it okay?" Jean asked. There's no way they could invite Jae-hwa. Everything will fall apart because Jae-hwa also had feelings for Soo Yin.

"No problem. What a coincidence I also want to say something to you," Soo Yin said. Later tonight she intended to admit about her relationship. At least if there was a problem Soo Yin can tell Jean. Not burying it to herself like before.

"Very well," Jean said.

No wind, no rain. Suddenly Soo Yin really wanted to drink the coffee made by her best friend.

"Jean, can I ask you a favor?" Soo Yin bit her lower lip because she felt bad.

"Just say it," Jean said.

"Will you make me coffee," Soo Yin said doubtfully.

"Of course, I'll make it for you later."

"Thank you, Jean," Soo Yin said.

Soo Yin immediately returned to her room to meet her husband.

Soo Yin walked into Dae Hyun's room without knocking the door first.

"Good morning, honey," said Soo Yin with a cheerful face. She immediately closed the door tightly then stepped her foot over to Dae Hyun.

"Hi," said Dae Hyun as he looked away from the laptop screen.

"Why have you come? Didn't I tell you if you don't have to come too soon," Dae Hyun said as he got up from his seat. Seeing Soo Yin that cheerful made him impatient to grab her waist.

"I'm just a little late yet the other employees are already looking at me with cynical eyes. What if I leave later than this," Soo Yin said.

"Tell me, who dares to sneer at my wife?" Dae Hyun said.

"Never mind, just let it go. I'm fine anyway," said Soo Yin with a smile that was so sweet that it made Dae Hyun adore her.

Just about to embrace Soo Yin's waist. Suddenly the door opened. So that Soo Yin immediately distance herself.

Dae Hyun's face turned sour when he saw who suddenly entered.

Park Soo Hyun came into the room carrying a large bouquet of Azaleas. It had been a long time since he brought flowers to his future wife. With firm steps the man approached his brother and idol.

"This is for you, the most beautiful person in this room," Park Soo Hyun said while handing Soo Yin a bouquet of flowers. His very charming smile made him looked even more handsome.

Instead of accepting immediately, Soo Yin looked at Dae Hyun, who had a sullen face.

"Looks like you are much prettier than Soo Yin," Dae Hyun sneered as he chuckled irritably.

"Soo Yin, please accept it. Don't listen to my brother's words because I know if she feels jealous," Park Soo Hyun said while continuing to hand the flower in front of Soo Yin. Hearing his brother's fierce words, Park Soo Hyun was not angry at all. Right now his heart was excited enough that he didn't want to make a fuss.

"Thank you," Soo Yin said with a forced smile. Even though her husband seemed to be angry, she could not possibly refuse the gift from her brother-in-law. It could be just an ordinary flower, without any particular purpose.

Park Soo Hyun's face lit up even more. It seemed this was a sign that Soo Yin will accept his feelings tonight. Earlier Jean had said that they had met.

His jaw muscles continued to tighten coupled with his cold facial expression. Dae Hyun looked even creepier.

Soo Yin only hoped that her husband didn't lose control in front of Park Soo Hyun. Right now his hands seemed to be clenched very tightly.

"Hyeong, I almost forgot if mom told you to come home. You better solve your problems. I feel dizzy seeing my sister-in-law who keeps scolding the waiter," Park Soo Hyun said, while looking at Dae Hyun.

"My problem with her is over. She just needs to sign the file," Dae Hyun said flatly. Absolutely not interested in listening to Park Soo Hyun's story about Aeri.

"What needs to be signed? She even tore it up," Park Soo Hyun said.

"Today I will also send a lawyer to come to the house with Assistant Chang," Dae Hyun said. Having suspected that something like this would happen, Dae Hyun had prepared a reliable lawyer who would take care of everything.

Soo Yin chose to go to her desk when they talked about Aeri. Leave it alone because she's not even interested at all. She placed the flower bouquet on the table as usual. Didn't know how many times Park Soo Hyun gave flowers. Very different from Dae Hyun who was very rare. Soo Yin shook her head softly so as not to compare her husband with other people. No matter how bad her husband's attitude was, Soo Yin will always love him.

Occasionally Soo Yin watched those who seemed to be arguing.

Shortly thereafter Chang Yuan came and made them speechless.

"Sorry, sir. We have a meeting right now," Chang Yuan reminded. He had just come from the meeting room but it turned out that his two superiors were actually making a fuss here.

"Park Soo Hyun, go first with Assistant Chang," Dae Hyun ordered with great emphasis.

"Why don't you go first?" Park Soo Hyun grumbled.

"I have to prepare some files in advance," Dae Hyun said to give an excuse for Park Soo Hyun to leave his room immediately.

Park Soo Hyun snorted in annoyance but still stepped to leave. Before leaving, Park Soo Hyun first approached Soo Yin.

"See you later," Park Soo Hyun said while smiling seductively at Soo Yin. He can't wait for the night to come. Park Soo Hyun could not imagine it. It will be confirmed that tonight will be a beautiful night for Soo Yin.

Soo Yin only frowned seeing Park Soo Hyun who looked radiant.

After making sure his brother left, Dae Hyun immediately walked over to Soo Yin. Annoyed, his hand was about to reach for the flower bouquet.

"What would you do?" Soo Yin argued, grabbing the flower first.

"I want to destroy it," Dae Hyun said, still with an annoyed face.

"This flower is completely innocent. If you want to get angry, fine. Don't take it out on innocent flowers," Soo Yin muttered while narrowing her eyes. Will not let Dae Hyun destroy every flower given by others.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 216 - 216 - Cappuccino

Dae Hyun took a deep breath to calm himself down so as not to get carried away by emotions.

"I just don't like that you receiving flowers from other men," he said.

"Okay, later I'll give it to someone," Soo Yin said while rolling her eyes. Now their characters were reversed, she used to be so childish but now it was her husband. Maybe that's the way life was, whose heart was sometimes turned upside down.

"If I come back later, this flower is still there. Don't blame me if I'm really going to destroy it," Dae Hyun threatened.

"Calm down, after this I will get it out of this room," Soo Yin said.

"Good girl." Finally, Dae Hyun was able to smile back after his face was more like a robot.

"Am I going to the meeting?" Soo Yin asked.

"No, I don't want yesterday's incident to happen again." Dae Hyun gently rubbed the top of Soo Yin's head.

"Too bad," Soo Yin said with a sullen face.

"I don't want you to feel tired either." Dae Hyun tried to give understanding so that his wife didn't feel sad.

"Very well," Soo Yin said at last. There was also some truth in that, it was impossible for her to be there but not knowing what they were talking about.

"See you later." Dae Hyun immediately stepped outside. Now Soo Yin was alone.

Before Soo Yin could say thank you, Dae Hyun was out of sight.

Soo Yin felt bored to be in the room all the time. Jean had promised to make coffee for her but hadn't shown up since this morning. Even though Soo Yin really wanted to taste it.

There was nothing she did there because Dae Hyun didn't even let her to do anything. With the excuse that she should not be fatigue that always be his words that cannot be denied.

There was regret for not following her husband into the meeting room. There was no way if now she suddenly be there. All Soo Yin was doing right now was sitting around playing with her cell phone. Really like a useless person.

Knock ... knock ... knock

There was a knock on the door from outside. Soo Yin lazily lifted her head which was resting on the table. By dragging her feet, Soo Yin walked towards the door.

"Jean?" Instantly Soo Yin's eyes lit up. The sleepiness and boredom that had accumulated now all disappeared when she saw her best friend who came. She had been waiting for Jean but she never showed up.

"Sorry, I'm late. I have work to do first," Jean said.

Soo Yin grabbed Jean's hand to enter the room with her. Eager to chat after all this time no chat had been created between them.

"Jean, can we chat for a moment. I'm alone and need a friend to chat."

"I have a lot of work, if you want to chat maybe tonight. Don't you have a job? Mr. Dae Hyun looks very busy earlier," Jean said while knitting her eyebrows. There was a sense of suspicion that usually a secretary was very busy in contrast to Soo Yin who looked relaxed.

"I... I've done all my work," Soo Yin said, stammered. In this world no one would believe that a secretary's job was easy. Always busy if the boss was busy too.

Jean's eyes were fixed on the flower bouquet on Soo Yin's neat table. That flower was the one she saw this morning holding by Park Soo Hyun. Although many of the flowers were the same, Jean was very sure it was the same.

Soo Yin noticed that Jean seemed interested in the flowers on her desk.

"Jean, can you take these flowers away?" Soo Yin said. She almost forgot to get it out of this room. Didn't let Dae Hyun do what he said.

"Why?" Jean asked, frowning in confusion.

"I have a cold so I can't breathe pollen," Soo Yin said while covering her nose. Quickly hand it over to Jean. Hopefully Jean won't get suspicious.

"Very well," Jean said.

"I'll go first, don't forget about tonight." After placing the cup on the table, Jean immediately went outside with a bouquet of flowers in her hand. Even though this flower was not directly from Park Soo Hyun, Jean still felt happy to receive it for some reason.

Soo Yin's saliva felt like dripping so she immediately sipped a cup of cappuccino Jean made while warm. Apparently Jean still remembered her tastes.

Soo Yin returned to be alone so she decided to go into the room to lie down. Drowsiness began to come because last night she only slept a little after almost morning.

Dae Hyun had just finished chairing the meeting after midday. The meeting this time was quite long because they discussed the newest building used for the spa and beauty salon which all facilities will be renewed. Soon it will be inaugurated, just waiting for everything to be ready.

A tired face reflected on his face. His mind was divided into three problems right now. Must think about Soo Yin who was pregnant. Arranging his divorce from Aeri. Not to mention having to work hard to keep the hotel moving. Dae Hyun was getting impatient to live in peace if it continued like this.

Dae Hyun massaged his temples as he stepped into the room.

It was empty, there was no one in the room. Even though Dae Hyun hoped that when he entered, he can see his wife's cheerful face that can restore his mood. A smile from Soo Yin was able to revive his spirits.

"Soo Yin!" Dae Hyun called while casting his gaze to every corner of the room. At first he thought that Soo Yin had come home but when he saw that her bag was still on the table he became doubtful. There was no way Soo Yin came home without her bag.

Dae Hyun immediately checked the toilet but it was also empty. It was impossible if she was asleep. To be more sure, Dae Hyun immediately went into the room.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 217 - 217 - Sky Rose Garden

It turned out that it was true, Soo Yin fell asleep on her back with her clothes slightly exposed so that her stomach that had been sticking out could be seen. A gentle purr escaped her ripe lips.

He saw the clock on his wrist that had passed lunch. Dae Hyun worried if Soo Yin hadn't eaten. He should have just asked her to come so she wouldn't get bored. Now he felt that he was too possessive of his wife. Did not allow her to do any activity.

Dae Hyun climbed onto the bed, lied beside Soo Yin, suddenly his eyes felt sleepy even though he never took a nap in the hot sun like this before.

Bug....

Dae Hyun had just closed his eyes when something hit his stomach hard enough. Made his stomach a little sore. When he opened his eyes, he could see Soo Yin's one leg was on his stomach.

"You, beast!"

"Get away from this world!"

"You crocodile!"

Didn't know what Soo Yin dreamed until she said such a swear word. Even now her legs and hands pushed Dae Hyun's body as hard as she could until he fell to the floor.

"Ouch!" Dae Hyun moaned as his ass touched the floor. He rubbed his pants as he stood up. Looked like he was destined not to be able to sleep during the day. There were obstacles when he wanted to take a break.

Dae Hyun chose to step his foot outside because soon there will be an event outside the hotel. Because Soo Yin was still asleep, Dae Hyun decided not to ask her again.

When he passed Soo Yin's desk, he looked once again and it turned out that Park Soo Hyun's flower gift was gone. Dae Hyun immediately told one of his men to send the exact same flowers and write a letter. He placed the flower next to Soo Yin along with the letter. Looked like today will be hard to meet her.

Shortly after Dae Hyun left, Soo Yin woke up from her sleep. Her gaze was directly focused on the flower that was right in front of her face.

"Isn't this flower already brought by Jean," Soo Yin muttered, who was already seated.

Soo Yin reached out to grab a piece of paper that was on top of the bouquet of flowers. Apparently there was a message from her husband.

*Honey, I'm sorry if I didn't wake you because you seemed to be asleep when I came back.

*Once you wake up, hurry to go home because I will be back to the hotel maybe at night.

*Don't forget to eat.

*I love you.

Soo Yin read word for word that was written there. It's a pity she fell asleep earlier. Too bored, Soo Yin finally decided to just go home. Later in the evening she had to get ready to go for a walk with Jean.

As promised, tonight Soo Yin was waiting at the usual place to meet with Jean. Soo Yin tightened her sweater as the night breeze pushed into the pores of her skin. Soo Yin wore a knee-length maroon dress. Wanted to actually wear pants, but Doctor Mi Young didn't allow her.

15 minutes Soo Yin had been waiting but Jean was no where to be seen. Maybe her best friend was on the way.

Sure enough, there was a taxi that stopped in front of Soo Yin. Jean got out of the taxi still wearing her work clothes from this morning.

"Jean, did you come here straight after you left the hotel?" Soo Yin asked with a frown.

"I didn't have time to go home to change. Is it okay if I dress like this?" Jean asked. What's the use of changing her clothes, if she will soon be home too.

"No problem," Soo Yin said.

Jean immediately invited Soo Yin to take a taxi that had been provided by Park Soo Hyun. Jean, who was usually a chatterbox, was now mostly silent during the trip.

"Where are we going to eat?" Soo Yin asked. They just passed the cafe which was usually used as their hangout place but Jean didn't stop it.

"We'll be there in a little while," Jean said curtly. She didn't ask Park Soo Hyun where the restaurant was, just following where this taxi would take them.

Not long after, they arrived in front of the largest cinema building in South Korea. Jean was also very surprised that Park Soo Hyun brought them here.

"Are we going to see a movie?" Soo Yin asked, flabbergasted.

"Yes, but I want us to go to the 8th floor first. I am very curious about what the Sky Rose Garden looks like." In fact, Jean had no idea what kind of place it was because she had never seen one. She found out about all this because Park Soo Hyun had given her a short message to take Soo Yin there.

"Come on, let's go in. I'm also very curious," Soo Yin said, who immediately took Jean's hand. They immediately headed for the 8th floor using the elevator.

Sky Rose Garden looked deserted, not a single visitor can be seen even though the place was always crowded with young couples.

Both Jean and Soo Yin widened their eyes at the beautiful scene that was now right in front of them. The visitors' tables were surrounded by rose plants that were arranged very neatly. Plus being on the top floor and open, there you can see the night view of the city of Seoul which was really amazing. Soo Yin and Jean dreamed of coming to that place.

"Why aren't there any visitors?" Soo Yin said as she turned her gaze to the empty chairs.

"Maybe they're all watching a movie," Jean said. There was sadness that started to grow in her heart. Soon someone who she loved will propose to her own best friend. Jean tried to be strong and gave happiness to Soo Yin.

Soo Yin continued to surround the area with a sparkling face. Making Park Soo Hyun, who was standing not far away, was so happy to see it.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 218 - 218 - Park Soo Hyun's Plan

"Soon," Park Soo Hyun muttered as he looked at the clock.

Jean could see Park Soo Hyun hiding in a corner. She smiled faintly when she saw Park Soo Hyun giving his thumbs up.

"Soo Yin, I'll go to the toilet for a bit. Stay here and don't go anywhere before I come," Jean said.

Soo Yin who really liked flower beds. Being too focused made her less likely to hear Jean's words. She just nodded her head because they were a bit far apart.

With slow steps and lowering his head, Jean walked over to where Park Soo Hyun was.

"Jean, thank you." Park Soo Hyun felt so happy that on reflex he hugged Jean's body into his arms.

Deg ...

Jean's heart was pounding, embraced by the man she loved, even though it was only for a moment because Park Soo Hyun had to let her go. The world seemed to stop rotating at that time.

"Sorry sir, I better leave here because my job is finished," Jean said sadly and heavy heartedly.

"Jean, I beg you to stay here a little longer. You have to be a witness for tonight," Park Soo Hyun persuaded while holding Jean's shoulder.

"But I have to go back to the hospital," Jean said. Even though she didn't go to the hospital, she still wouldn't be there. Her heart will not be able to accept that harsh reality.

Better not to see it at all. She could already guess that Soo Yin would accept it.

"Alright, thank you again for the hassle," Park Soo Hyun said.

Jean nodded her head slowly. She immediately went into the toilet. A deep sense of sadness made the well-being tears now slowly drip. Jean was sobbing in the toilet.

Soo Yin was now sitting on a chair in there. She imagined that taking Dae Hyun out for dinner at a romantic place like this would be fun.

Just about to get up, it turned out that the lights were all dead, made Soo Yin panic.

"Jean!" Soo Yin called while feeling something with her hand. Wanted to step her foot but afraid of falling.

Boom... boom... boom....

Soo Yin gasped when she heard an explosive sound in the night sky. After an explosion occurred, shortly thereafter was followed by a colorful beam of light in the dark sky.

Stunned, Soo Yin tilted her face to look at the sky with the colorful sprinkling of fireworks. Until a writing was clearly displayed above the head with the words I LOVE YOU. While looking at the unfinished fireworks light, Soo Yin kept wondering who gave her the surprise. Was her husband doing it. Or just a coincidence, maybe someone was celebrating the relationship.

Right after the light ran out, the lights had come back to life, allowing Soo Yin to breathe a sigh of relief. As soon as she turned her body to face backwards, Soo Yin jumped in shock so that her heart would fall out of sight of the man who was now in front of her.

Park Soo Hyun stood up with a smile on his lips. Wearing a red heart shirt combined with black pants. He appeared very neat tonight.

"Sir?" Soo Yin muttered with wide eyes. How unbelievable.

"Do you like it?" Park Soo Hyun asked as he stepped closer to Soo Yin.

Soo Yin inched back a little. Her heart seemed to stop beating imagining what would happen next. There's no way Park Soo Hyun really did this tonight.

"Sit back," Park Soo Hyun said as he pulled out a chair for Soo Yin. This was the first time Park Soo Hyun wanted to express his heart to a woman in this way. Usually it was the women who were after him so there was no need to bother.

Didn't know what urge that made Soo Yin want to sit back in the chair. She wanted to go but her legs felt so heavy.

'Jean? This must be all Jean's plan, '~ Soo Yin thought. She should have been suspicious from the start.

Suddenly Soo Yin was worried about Jean's current state. It must be that her heart was currently being cut to know what Park Soo Hyun did to her. If she found out that Jean planned all this, Soo Yin wouldn't want to come. No wonder Jean didn't change her clothes.

"Where's Jean?" Soo Yin asked.

"Jean has returned to the hospital to see her mother," Park Soo Hyun said.

"Hospital?" Soo Yin was dumbfounded.

"Yes, Jean's mother just had surgery," Park Soo Hyun said.

Was it still proper if Soo Yin was called the best friend? If she didn't even know if her best friend's mother was hospitalized. Soo Yin rubbed her face in a huff.

Soo Yin felt really bad for Jean. Jean should be here, not her. Soo Yin cursed her ignorance of being unaware from the start.

Beep....

There was a text message that came in so Soo Yin checked it right away.

[Soo Yin, I'm sorry I couldn't accompany you. Have a good night] ~ Jean

Actually Jean hadn't left that place yet. She hid behind towering pillars. Maybe this was how she should love someone. It was enough to help him achieve happiness even though her heart was hurt. Jean felt happy to be able to help her best friend and the man he loved. Hopefully one day she can find a replacement even though it was very difficult to forget him.

Jean looked at the two people facing each other with a gaze. Unable to bear to see the smile of the man she adored to other women, Jean decided to just went home.

Soo Yin could felt a deep disappointment from Jean's writing. Soo Yin quickly sent a reply.

[Where are you?] Wrote Soo Yin. Hoping that Jean would respond quickly. But it looked like Jean's cell phone was turned off.

Park Soo Hyun was too enthusiastic to see Soo Yin's face up close. With a smile, he never felt bored looking at her.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 219 - 219 - Will You Marry Me?

Shortly thereafter several servants arrived while carrying trays. They started to serve several menus at their table. When she saw the Cheese cake with Cherry fruit topping on it, it was so tempting. Soo Yin was dying to taste it.

"Eat it," Park Soo Hyun said very softly like cotton. His hand thrust a plate filled with Cheese cake in front of Soo Yin.

Again, out of nowhere, Soo Yin obediently grabbed the small spoon that was on the side of the cake.

'Soo Yin, what you should be thinking about right now is your best friend not food,' Soo Yin muttered to herself. What's the power if the heart and mind were not even in line. Maybe because of the baby she was carrying so she would immediately want something in front of her eyes. Better to think about it after this.

One chew, two chews, still delicious on her tongue. Indeed, form did not lie to taste. The shape was so attractive that it immediately melted in her mouth.

"Cough... cough... cough...."

Soo Yin's throat felt choked when she felt something was stuck there. While coughing, Soo Yin held her neck.

"Are you okay?" Park Soo Hyun panicked so he immediately handed her a glass of water.

Soo Yin did not accept the glass given by Park Soo Hyun. Her hand grabbed an object from inside of her mouth and then hung it in front of her eyes.

"What is this?" Soo Yin said with a frown.

"That... it's actually a necklace," Park Soo Hyun said while scratching the back of his head. The intention to surprise Soo Yin almost made her dying.

"Why is it suddenly in this cake? Did the chef put it on purpose?" Soo Yin asked with an innocent face.

"It's actually me ... I put it in," Park Soo Hyun said with a grimace. It seemed that Soo Yin was not like the other type of girl who immediately glared at the necklace with a diamond pendant.

"Did you intend to kill me?" Soo Yin said.

"N ... no, how could I possibly want to kill you. Don't get me wrong, I actually just wanted to surprise you." With nervousness and a pounding heart, Park Soo Hyun tried to explain. It was unexpected if his idol was too innocent so she didn't understand what he meant.

"Then why put it in the food? What if I swallow it?" Soo Yin grunted.

The dinner that Park Soo Hyun hoped to be the most romantic of dinners didn't seem to go according to what was planned.

"Have you ever watched a romantic movie?" Park Soo Hyun asked to explain it easily so that there was no misunderstanding.

Soo Yin nodded her head as she put the necklace on the table.

"Do you know sometimes when a man wants to propose to his lover through a ring that is inserted into the food?" Park Soo Hyun said while sighing softly to reduce his nervousness. Even though it was not the first time it was still a different experience because Soo Yin was not the type of mature woman who immediately understood what he meant.

Soo Yin slowly remembered watching a romance film like that. Maybe Park Soo Hyun intended to do what was in the film. Soo Yin was now very panicked. She should have understood from the start. Actually what's wrong with her tonight so that her brain was working so slowly. Soo Yin kept cursing at her foolishness.

Park Soo Hyun deftly grabbed Soo Yin's hand which was on the table.

Soo Yin's heart fluttered, not because she was happy but because she didn't know what to do next. There was a sense of regret for eating the cake. If only she didn't eat it, it probably wouldn't have ended like this.

"Soo Yin, tonight I want to say something to you," Park Soo Hyun said while trying to calm down.

Soo Yin had tried to pull her hand out of Park Soo Hyun's grasp but the man was holding it too tightly.

"Oh my God, what should I do?" Soo Yin said in her heart while biting her lower lip. She wanted to feel like contacting Dae Hyun now so that he could help her to get out of this situation. However, if Dae Hyun actually came, there would likely be a big commotion.

"Soo Yin, I've actually wanted to say that I fell in love with you for a long time," Park Soo Hyun said as he continued to stare at Soo Yin's beautiful face.

"Will you marry me?" Park Soo Hyun continued with a serious face. He didn't want Soo Yin to be his girlfriend because all he wants was to make her his wife.

Soo Yin was speechless at what Park Soo Hyun said to her. Her tongue felt wacky when she wanted to say something.

Park Soo Hyun understood that maybe Soo Yin needed time to think about it because the subject of marriage was something that was not a game. Park Soo Hyun patiently waited for Soo Yin to speak.

The man in front of her right now was so brave to say that he wanted to marry her. Soo Yin was a little bit comparing him with Dae Hyun who didn't say anything at that time to her. Her husband only told her father after that they'll immediately married. Really did not think if her love journey was normal.

Ten minutes have passed, Soo Yin was still silent. Her mouth felt like it was locked when she was about to say something. Rather than making a mistake, it seemed better if she thought of a way to get away immediately. Taking too long with Park Soo Hyun made her uncomfortable.

Soo Yin's face also felt even hotter because Park Soo Hyun had been staring at her since earlier.

"I i" Soo Yin's tongue felt heavy to say that she didn't want to. She felt like she wanted to scream if she refused.

"Say it," Park Soo Hyun said, who couldn't wait to hear Soo Yin's answer. His hand continued to grip Soo Yin's fingers tightly.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 220 - 220 - I Can't

Soo Yin took a deep breath to recover her strength to refuse Park Soo Hyun.

"Sorry, but I can't...." Soo Yin's words were cut off.

"I know, if this might be too fast for you. I'll give you one month to think about it carefully," Park Soo Hyun said hopefully.

"But I"

"Never mind, you don't have to worry because I will wait patiently. Now we better just continue eating," Park Soo Hyun said as he removed Soo Yin's fingers from his hand. Then cut a large portion of the Cheese cake back into Soo Yin's plate.

How could she possibly refuse him if she just said a few words but Park Soo Hyun had cut her off.

There was no more appetite for food. Soo Yin was very regret that she came to this place. Now what was in her mind was Jean, who must have been hurt. After this she had to go to the hospital to see Jean.

"I have to go home," Soo Yin said as she put the spoon on the plate. She immediately put the bag strap on her shoulder, was ready to stand up.

"We haven't even finished eating yet," Park Soo Hyun said.

"Sorry sir, I have to go to the hospital to visit Jean's mother," Soo Yin said.

"Let me take you," Park Soo Hyun said who had risen to his feet.

"No, sir," Soo Yin said. If she came with Park Soo Hyun, Jean's heart would hurt even more while she was there to explain everything. If there wasn't any relationship between her and Park Soo Hyun. In fact, she had planned to say that she was married.

"Soo Yin, I want you to bring this necklace. If you accept me later then you will wear it but otherwise you can throw it away," Park Soo Hyun said with a heavy sigh. Park Soo Hyun had put the necklace forcibly on Soo Yin's finger.

There was no more time to argue so without thinking Soo Yin put it in the bag.

Soo Yin stepped quickly to leave the Sky Rose Garden without caring about Park Soo Hyun who kept calling her name.

Park Soo Hyun let Soo Yin go even though he had the intention of chasing her. He had to give Soo Yin some time to think. Perhaps that was just an excuse. According to the book he read, a girl tended to be shy if a man had just told her about his feelings of love. She wouldn't want to answer right away, that's why Park Soo Hyun gave her time.

With a little disappointment, Park Soo Hyun watched Soo Yin's departure. Earlier he was very regret for giving a month. Why not just one week? Park Soo Hyun cursed himself for speaking wrong because he was too nervous.

Soo Yin immediately stopped a taxi after arriving at the roadside after exiting Daehan Cinema. Along the way, Soo Yin was still trying to contact Jean but there's no answer.

Now Soo Yin was even more worried. Hopefully nothing happened to her friend.

Soo Yin headed to Hallym University Medical Center Hospital. Since the then, Jean's mother was in and out of there. Never moved to another place. Soo Yin hoped that everything was fine and Jean's mother was still being treated there.

After arriving, Soo Yin immediately asked where Jean's mother was being treated at the registration department. But the nurse said if there was no patient's name that she meant.

Finally, Soo Yin moved to visit a hospital which was not too far away. Soo Yin had visited several hospital to find Jean's mother but she was not there.

Now that the night was getting late, Soo Yin had just been discharged from the private hospital she last visited. Now her legs felt tired so Soo Yin sat down at the taxi stop. She massaged her legs while waiting for the taxi to come.

It's been half an hour Soo Yin was waiting for a taxi but none of them showed up so she decided to call Chung Ho. Just got connected, her cellphone was already dead.

"Ouch! How is this?" Soo Yin said, panicked. Why should there be obstacles at such a critical time.

If she had contacted Chung Ho earlier, she would have been able to help find Jean. If it's like this, Soo Yin was forced to walk to the bus stop. Hopefully there were still buses operating. Given that it was past nine in the evening.

Slowly, Soo Yin dragged her leg which already felt sore. She took off her shoes because her ankles hurt because the friction between the shoes and the skin made her feet blister.

The strong wind blew even more until it got into the pores of her skin. Soo Yin continued to tighten her sweater.

Soo Yin was very grateful that there was a bus that stopped right when she reached the stop. Inside the bus was quiet, there were only a few passengers. Most of them were male passengers. Soo Yin got scared when a man kept watching her.

Feelings of anxiety haunted her. But she had to endure because soon she would arrive.

When Soo Yin got off, it turned out that the man who had been watching her also got off the bus. Making Soo Yin even more afraid if the man will do something to her. The bus only stopped near the intersection and did not reach the front of the villa.

There was a restaurant that was still open, so Soo Yin decided to go in there. Plus her stomach also asked to be filled, Soo Yin immediately ordered a bowl of Jjajangmyeon to block her hunger while waiting for the man to leave.

When finished, Soo Yin came out of the restaurant. Her eyes wandered over to find the man who had already left.

With fast steps Soo Yin immediately walked towards the villa which was not too far away.

Didn't know who the man was nor why following her. Soo Yin never seemed to had seen him. Never mind, she didn't want to remember. The most important thing now was to hurry home.
