

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 261 - 261 - Photo

Park Soo Hyun kept walking away while looking at the monitor screen. Tried to open the code which turned out that the screen had been locked.

"Hyeong, please tell me what the code is," Park Soo Hyun said while showing the phone screen with a display that he had to enter a code if he wanted to unlock it.

Dae Hyun can finally breathe a sigh of relief because his cellphone was already locked. He stopped his attempts to snatch the cellphone from Park Soo Hyun. While his younger sibling didn't know the code then everything will be fine. He turned his body to sit back in his proud chair.

Irritatedly, Park Soo Hyun put the cell phone on the table. It was a shame he didn't know the code even though he was very curious.

"Hyeong, actually why were you laughing by yourself?" said Park Soo Hyun while narrowing his eyes.

"So what if I laugh? I won when I was playing a game, naturally I feel happy," Dae Hyun said with a flat face as he reached out to reach his cellphone which was on the edge of the table.

"Since when did you like playing games? Didn't you hate them since childhood?" Park Soo Hyun said with a look full of intimidation.

"Who said I didn't like it? You don't know," Dae Hyun said with an annoyed snort.

"All right, whatever." Park Soo Hyun gave up arguing with his brother because he would never win.

Dae Hyun deleted all text messages with Soo Yin then put his cell phone in his pants pocket.

"Hyeong, let's go home together," said Park Soo Hyun.

Dae Hyun knitted his brows together. Felt very uncomfortable once his brother invited him to go home together.

"Didn't you bring your own car?"

"My car is in the reparation. If you are tired of driving then let me drive," Park Soo Hyun said with a sparkling face.

"All right," Dae Hyun said as he got up from his seat. There was nothing wrong with going home with his siblings. After all, they came home to the same house.

Park Soo Hyun continued to follow his brother out of the room. The condition of the office was now empty because some of the employees had returned home. In contrast to hotels where there were still many visitors hanging around.

◦

◦

Park Soo Hyun kept his promise to drive the car. This was used by Dae Hyun to reply to another message with Soo Yin who had been delayed earlier. There was always something they talk about even if it was just the little things.

Dae Hyun felt like he was dating a young girl. Soo Yin really made his young soul burn again. It was not wrong if Soo Yin used to think he was like an uncle. In fact, their ages were too far apart.

Park Soo Hyun who was focused on driving averted his eyes from the road. Dae Hyun's repeated oddities made him unable to help but turn his head.

"Hyeong, stop laughing! You're making me not focus," Park Soo Hyun grumbled with great annoyance.

"Never mind, just look ahead. Don't bother with me," Dae Hyun said flatly.

"Ughh, this sucks," Park Soo Hyun grumbled as he sped up his car faster so that his brother was annoyed. So that he won't keep looking at his cellphone continuously.

Tring... tring... tring....

Park Soo Hyun's cell phone on the dashboard rang quite loudly because it seemed like there was an incoming call.

Dae Hyun was curious so he raised his head to see who had contacted him. What a surprise that his eyes almost fell when he saw the woman's photo which was clearly displayed as wallpaper.

Park Soo Hyun immediately grabbed his cellphone, hoping that the angel was the one calling. But unfortunately the number was not known so he put his cell phone back down. Until slowly the ringing of his cellphone stopped itself.

"Park Soo Hyun, where did you get Soo Yin's photo?" Dae Hyun asked, his chest started to rumble.

"Oh, this... of course I got it from Soo Yin," Park Soo Hyun said proudly.

"I can't believe Soo Yin gave the photo to you," Dae Hyun sneered as he raised one lip upward.

"If you don't believe it, just ask her," Park Soo Hyun said. He firmly believes that his brother could not possibly ask Soo Yin that. So that he will not be caught if he was lying. The fact was that he snatched the photo from Soo Yin's photo that was located on top of her desk.

Dae Hyun immediately fell silent without any other messages with Soo Yin. He needed an explanation for all of that from his little wife. If it was true what Park Soo Hyun said then he would really be very angry.

Finally, Park Soo Hyun was able to drive the car calmly until they arrived at the UN Village. Even though he was surprised by the change in his brother's facial expression which had changed by 180 degrees.

Apparently, Park Ji Hoon's two younger siblings arrived, who were none other than Dae Hyun's aunt. They visited after receiving news that Aeri had an accident and had a miscarriage.

Everyone was gathered in the family room including Aeri who was also there. Although her condition had not fully recovered, she still insisted on seeing Dae Hyun's two aunts.

"Aeri, I'm sorry that you lost your future baby," said a middle-aged woman named Shin-hye. She was one of Dae Hyun's youngest aunts.

"Thank you that you want to come to see me, Aunt," Aeri said with a thin smile.

"I heard that Dae Hyun didn't come home when you were in the hospital. What kind of man is he who didn't want to accompany his wife in the most difficult times," Hyun Bin grumbled.

"He had a lot of work to do so he can't go back to Seoul," Mrs Park said. As a mother, no matter how terrible her son's mistakes were, she will still defend him, especially in front of the family.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 262 - 262 - She's Good Girl

"A wife is more important than work. You should be able to tell him to come home," Shin-hye said, while looking at her sister-in-law with displeasure.

Mrs. Park could only sigh in resignation to hear them continued to badmouth her son. In fact, that's exactly what happened even though she knew that Dae Hyun had his own reasons. But it was impossible to tell the real problem that happened between Aeri and Dae Hyun to her two sister-in-law. Everything will turn out badly.

Fortunately, Mrs. Park was not the type of woman who liked to share problems with her family members.

Dae Hyun could hear the words of his two aunts who seemed to judge him. When he got to the living room, Dae Hyun pretended not to hear about it so he tried to be nice.

"Hi, Auntie. Have you two been here for long?" Dae Hyun said while smiling broadly. Even if it's just a small talk, because if he was not polite, then his mother will definitely get into trouble.

Likewise with Park Soo Hyun who also greeted his two aunts. Only after that said goodbye to his room to rest. He was reluctant to listen to lectures from his two aunts when gathered like this. Surely they will ask when will he get married.

"Park Soo Hyun, we heard that you already have a love interest. Tell me who is that girl?" Hyun Bin asked while winking one eye.

Park Soo Hyun stopped in his tracks, it was rude to ignore his aunt's question. He turned with a smile.

"No need to worry, when it's the time I will definitely tell you," Park Soo Hyun said then immediately set foot to leave. As it turned out to be true, the topic would never be missed to be asked.

"Eunnie, looks like you know something about that girl," Shin-hye said to Hyun Bin.

"Of course, because I've met her when she visited this house," Hyun Bin said.

"Really? Quickly tell me who the girl is. I can't wait to see Park Soo Hyun get married," Shin-hye said with a happy face.

"She is Dae Hyun's secretary," Hyun Bin said.

"I was very curious to know how beautiful she is. Hopefully she's a good girl," Shin-hye said.

Dae Hyun's ears get hot listening to those who kept talking about Soo Yin. Even though they didn't talk about her badness, but Dae Hyun didn't like it if they wanted Park Soo Hyun to get married to Soo Yin soon.

Likewise, Aeri was very annoyed to Dae Hyun's aunts for ignoring her. Instead, they were engrossed in talking about Soo Yin. Even though their purpose to come here was to visit her. Actually Aeri wanted to say that Soo Yin was the girl who tried to snatch Dae Hyun from her but that was impossible because Dae Hyun would definitely refute it. So Aeri lazily just listened to their conversation without wanting to join in.

"Dae Hyun, don't you want to comfort Aeri who is sad?" Hyun Bin said, while glancing at Dae Hyun who was just sitting on the edge of the sofa without greeting his wife.

For a moment he looked at Aeri who seemed silent. As a man there was a sense of compassion present in his heart. Regardless of whose the child was, Dae Hyun also felt sorry, even though remembering Han made him hate Aeri even more.

"Excuse me to take a break to the room," Aeri said as she rose to her feet. It was useless sitting there if they just ignore her.

Seeing Dae Hyun who was silent made Mrs. Park stare sharply. Then gave the code for Dae Hyun to help Aeri walk. Didn't want to let his two aunts felt suspicious.

Dae Hyun took a deep breath and then stood up to help Aeri up the stairs.

"Let me help," Dae Hyun said briefly as he led her so as not to fall.

They were both silent as they climbed the stairs until they reached the room.

"Did you really just come home?" Aeri asked, breaking the silence that occurred between them. Just to make sure that Dae Hyun was really on Nami Island. So that the possibility of Han was not caught by him. Because since that night, there had been no news from Han.

Aeri had absolutely no idea what was going on and what Han was planning to do. All she knew was that Han was going to Paris to hide after his plan had worked. Han didn't tell her anything about his plan to harm Soo Yin. Han only said that Aeri didn't have to think about it.

Actually Aeri was also curious whether Soo Yin was with him or not. But Aeri didn't have the courage, she was afraid Dae Hyun would be suspicious.

"Where do you think I am?" Dae Hyun asked, who realized there was doubt in Aeri's eyes.

"I'm just asking," Aeri said nervously.

Dae Hyun walked over to her because he smelled something fishy.

"Are you the one who was spreading the rumors if Soo Yin tries to seduce me?" Dae Hyun whispered right in front of Aeri's face so that Aeri could feel the breath on her face.

"N ... no, aren't I sick? I don't even have time to go anywhere," Aeri stuttered.

"Didn't I tell you not to scapegoat someone into our relationship? Whether there are other women or not, I still want us to separate," Dae Hyun said with great emphasis. So far, Dae Hyun had never confirmed Aeri's accusation about Soo Yin. Even though he sometimes admitted that there was another woman in his heart, but Dae Hyun didn't tell her who that woman was.

"Dae Hyun, why do you have so much heart for me? After you got me, you are now dumping me," Aeri said with frightened tears that were slowly falling from her cheeks. She was afraid that her position would be threatened. There have been many attempts by her so far.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 263 - 263 - Don't Want To Be Apart

Dae Hyun massaged his temples, because it seemed like Aeri didn't just let him go. How can they divorce if Aeri always tore and destroyed all the files. That man had lost his mind to marry a shameless woman like Aeri.

"I did all that because you wanted it. If you didn't mess around, maybe until now our marriage is fine. Why don't you realize your mistakes?" Dae Hyun said in a rising voice. He rubbed his face with a huff.

"I never wanted this. I still want to be by your side," Aeri said, whose body immediately sank to the floor and then sat down. Han was now unreachable so she was determined to stay in the house even though Dae Hyun will kick her out. One thing that became her grip was that Jo Yeon Ho could not possibly allow her to go.

"Oh my God. Aeri, come to your senses!" Dae Hyun was getting frustrated with his first wife.

"If you want to remarry, go ahead. I am willing if you want to marry again but until whenever I will not sign the divorce paper," Aeri said with a little anger. Tears began to slowly ran down her cheeks.

"What do you really want? Why don't you want to divorce me?" Dae Hyun asked in a cold tone.

"I don't want Jo Yeon Ho to be the victim of separation between us. Do you know what it feels like to be a child whose parents are separated? Of course, you don't know what it's like because you were born from a complete family," Aeri said with tears. Remembering how since childhood she lived without the love of a father was very painful. Her father had married another woman and even Aeri had lived with them. But what she got was the continuous torture by her stepmother until one day she ran away and chose to live with her mother. Aeri really felt that she was wrong because she had betrayed Dae Hyun. But she also did it because Dae Hyun never cared about her. Although sometimes evil, Aeri still had a human conscience. Moreover, not having heard anything from Han at this time really made her even more frightened.

Dae Hyun was shocked to hear Aeri's reason to endure. So far, Dae Hyun had also done the same because of that. For the sake of Jo Yeon Ho they pretended to be on the good terms.

"I beg you, don't divorce me until at least if Jo Yeon Ho is a little older. I'm not sure that woman will accept Jo Yeon Ho. I promise to change all my traits so far," Aeri said, while sobbing. Her tears could not be stopped again with a position that was still sitting on her knees. She was sure that Dae Hyun would feel sorry for her because she had known him long enough to know all of Dae Hyun's strengths and weaknesses.

This was the first time Dae Hyun heard Aeri cried so deeply that it touched his heart again. He was not a man without feelings. In fact, a man who was easily touched when he saw a woman crying. Dae Hyun tried to think of the offer made by Aeri. If that was the only thing that made their divorce easy, it wouldn't be a problem. He will prove that Soo Yin can love Jo Yeon Ho more than Aeri.

It was okay to reveal his relationship with Soo Yin. While Park Soo Hyun had become a director, because Dae Hyun was also sure Aeri will ask to separate after knowing if he resigned from his position.

"Okay, I agree. But after my woman is proven to love Jo Yeon Ho better than you, I want you to leave this house," Dae Hyun said.

As soon as possible he will discuss the appointment with Park Soo Hyun so that it can be realized as soon as possible. Even though he had to reconsider his father's words.

Aeri nodded her head while sighing softly.

'I want to know which woman I will compete with,' Aeri thought slyly. She will make Jo Yeon Ho misbehave with her so that she will give up.

"Dae Hyun, tell me who that woman is?" Aeri asked, who was even more curious because every time she gave an accusation, Dae Hyun didn't want to evade or admit it.

"What is clear is that she is better than you," Dae Hyun said while raising one lip upward.

Aeri clenched her fists tightly then pressed them against the floor. It seemed like Dae Hyun was really not messing with what he said even though at first Aeri only intended to bully him. Unexpectedly, Dae Hyun would grant her wish.

Knock ... knock ... knock

"Father, mother, can I come in?" Jo Yeon Ho exclaimed from outside the room.

"Stop crying, I don't want Jo Yeon Ho to know about the fight between us," Dae Hyun said. He recalled when Soo Yin scolded him for the boy listening to their fight. He did not want that incident to happen again. Now what he was doing was getting Jo Yeon Ho to get closer to Soo Yin so that he will slowly forget about Aeri as his mother.

Aeri immediately got up from her seat which was on the floor. Wanted to touch Dae Hyun's wrist but the man had already pulled it.

"Aeri, remember this relationship is just a fake status. The truth is we are divorced," Dae Hyun said, reminding her that there was no longer any relationship between them. The man agreed to Aeri's terms because it was only for Jo Yeon Ho's sake. He was afraid that his son would be devastated.

Aeri was silent while clenching her teeth tightly until her teeth creaked from holding back her anger. Unexpectedly, to conquer Dae Hyun was very difficult now.

Dae Hyun immediately stepped towards the door to open it, after Aeri went to the bathroom to wash her face.

"Honey, you haven't slept yet. Even though father was about going to your room," Dae Hyun said while squatting and stroking his son's hair.

"I can't sleep, I want to sleep with you two," Jo Yeon Ho whined with a pitiful face. Too often ignored, Jo Yeon Ho felt homesick for his parents.

Dae Hyun sighed softly. Initially he wanted to refuse, but seeing him put on a hopeful face made him feel discouraged. What's wrong with granting his wish before they actually part.

"Okay, but I have to take a shower first," Dae Hyun said.

Jo Yeon Ho nodded his head enthusiastically. His face looked very happy as this made Dae Hyun's chest a little sore. Remembering his son even whined that he wanted to sleep together. It was true what Aeri said that Jo Yeon Ho would be devastated by their separation.

But what for to endure anything? Because it won't affect everything.

Dae Hyun immediately went to the bathroom while carrying a change as well. From now on, he didn't want anyone else to see his body apart from Soo Yin. But suddenly remembering what Park Soo Hyun said about Soo Yin giving him a photo made his heart even more irritated.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 264 - 264 - Obey Jo Yeon Ho's Wish

Jo Yeon Ho still didn't close his eyes. He was too happy, so he still saw the faces of his parents in turn who were already fell asleep. Jo Yeon Ho forgot the last time he could sleep with his parents like this. The last time was when he had a fever a few months ago. Especially now that his father, who rarely came home, preferred to sleep in hotel rather than at home.

As a young child he wanted to always be like this. Wanted to be like other friends of how they spent the days so happily with their parents. In the past, when his father was very concerned, his mother didn't care and often got angry with him. Now, when his mother had started to change, his father had ignored him.

Jo Yeon Ho put his palms on his chest and closed his eyes. Prayed to God that his family will remain intact. Hopefully the father and mother will not fight again like that time.

When finished, Jo Yeon Ho held her parents' hands with his tiny hands. Tried to close his eyes, hoping this would be a good start for them.

-
-

The night passed very quickly. Now the sun's rays had started to shine even though it's still shy to show its rays behind the trees.

Jo Yeon Ho woke up earlier than his parents. Their sleeping position was still the same as before going to sleep. The child gently rubbed the cheeks of his parents in turn. Made both of them to wake up.

Dae Hyun immediately hugged Jo Yeon Ho's cute little body. Meanwhile, Aeri actually got up from her sleep and then sat on the side of the bed.

"Yeon Ho, let's take a shower first," Aeri asked her son so he returned to his room.

After kissing his father's cheeks, Jo Yeon Ho immediately got out of bed and then followed his mother to go to his room. Even though usually Aeri never cared about Jo Yeon Ho taking a bath or not. Aeri only did that in front of Dae Hyun to show if she really had changed.

-

o

They went downstairs after everyone had finished cleaning up. Aeri, Dae Hyun and Jo Yeon Ho descended the stairs together with Jo Yeon Ho in the middle while holding their hands. Uncertain outsiders will think that they were a happy family. Even though the fact was that they had always only acted like that in front of other people and Jo Yeon Ho.

Both Dae Hyun's aunts were staying there, even though Shin-hye seldom wanted to stay at her brother's house.

Aeri and Jo Yeon Ho always carved a smile on their lips. Very different from Dae Hyun, who actually put on a sour face and dislike. Instead, he repeatedly checked his cellphone, maybe Soo Yin sent a text message.

Everyone was currently sitting around the dining table. Dae Hyun was just busy looking at his cellphone without listening to what they were talking about. He was not interested in their conversation at all.

Beep ...

Dae Hyun sensed that his cellphone was vibrating so he rushed to check it. It turned out that his guess was correct if it was a message from Soo Hyun.

[Honey, I want to have breakfast with you at the restaurant this morning] Soo Yin.

[Okay, after leaving I'll call you] replied Dae Hyun quickly. He wanted to get straight about the photo so as not to feel jealous.

"Next week is my daughter's wedding. Anyway, you all have to come," said Hyun Bin. Indeed, one of her purpose to visit to UN Village was to notify Park Ji Hoon's family so that they would come to her daughter's wedding.

"Of course we'll come," said Mrs. Park.

"Park Soo Hyun, don't forget to take your girl. Introduce her to us, so that after marriage she won't be awkward," said Hyun Bin while glancing at Park Soo Hyun who was spooning food into his mouth.

"I have to get her approval first, Auntie," Park Soo Hyun said with a grimace. His heart hoped that Soo Yin will accompany him. It was a shame to come to his cousin's wedding alone. His extended family will definitely continue to mock him.

Dae Hyun chose to remain silent while occasionally colliding eyes with Park Ji Hoon who was sitting opposite him.

Park Ji Hoon felt confused by Dae Hyun. His family found out that Soo Yin was Park Soo Hyun's lover. Even though the truth was that Soo was Dae Hyun's wife. He could not imagine if it all came to light one day. He really regretted that this incident happened. If Dae Hyun could have relented just a little, things wouldn't have gotten this complicated.

"Dae Hyun, you also have to bring your wife and son. Don't dare not to come," said Shin-hye.

"Aunt, there's no need to worry. How could we miss our cousin's wedding," Aeri said as she glanced at Dae Hyun who was sitting beside her but the man turned his face away. Instead, he pretended to feed Jo Yeon Ho. He didn't feel like coming to his cousin's wedding if Park Soo Hyun really took Soo Yin.

They all continued breakfast quietly after chatting a little.

"Father, today is the first time I entered elementary school. I want mother and Father to take me," Jo Yeon Ho whined as he blinked his eyes.

Dae Hyun was silent for a moment, weighing the request of his only son.

"All right," Dae Hyun said with a faint smile etched on his lips. He didn't want to turn down a request that was so easy to do.

As he promised, after finishing breakfast and getting ready, Dae Hyun immediately drove Jo Yeon Ho to his school. During the trip, Dae Hyun glanced from the rearview mirror, the look on Jo Yeon Ho's face looked so sparkling. The child sat with Aeri in the back seat.

It seemed like Aeri had changed a lot but Dae Hyun immediately threw off his thoughts of feeling sorry for Aeri. It was too late.

.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 265 - 265 - Think Of The Future Baby

Not long after, they finally arrived at Jo Yeon Ho's school. It turned out that his friends also came with their parents. Luckily Dae Hyun was willing to deliver him, otherwise, Dae Hyun couldn't imagine the sad face of his only son.

Aeri and Dae Hyun got out of car to escort Jo Yeon Ho to the front of his class like other parents.

"Yeon Ho, be a good boy." Dae Hyun rubbed the top of his son's head before the boy walked into the classroom

Likewise Aeri who did the same.

After finishing, Dae Hyun immediately drove his car back to take Aeri first. Even though he could send him home by taxi, Dae Hyun was not a man without a conscience.

Beep ...

Dae Hyun's cell phone rang again, there was an incoming message.

[Honey, you took so long] Soo Yin.

[I was on my way because I just drove Jo Yeon Ho to school] Dae Hyun replied honestly. He was quite traumatized if he told lies to his little wife.

"Is that a message from that woman?" asked Aeri curiously.

"None of your business," said Dae Hyun curtly.

"Is that woman your secretary?" Aeri continued to provoke to find out more about the woman who had stolen her husband. Han once reminded her to be careful to Soo Yin. Too bad at this time Han couldn't be reached.

"Didn't I tell you it's none of your business?" said Dae Hyun in a cold tone as he turned his head to look at Aeri for a moment.

Aeri was very annoyed that Dae Hyun didn't tell her even though if she already knew she would immediately teach her a lesson. But her heart felt very sure that it was that bitch who was teasing him.

Dae Hyun made an appointment with Soo Yin to meet at a restaurant not far from the Pyeongchang-dong villa. So that after delivering Aeri, the man immediately turned the direction to his destination. Dae Hyun checked the clock wrapped in his hand. There was still more or less half an hour for breakfast.

When he was at UN Village, the man had just eaten a little because he remembered Soo Yin asking him for breakfast.

His cell phone had been ringing many times but Dae Hyun didn't answer it. He already knew it must be Soo Yin who couldn't wait. Instead of answering her, Dae Hyun chose to drive his car to arrive quickly.

Once arrived, Dae Hyun immediately rushed out of the car and then immediately entered the restaurant. He had already ordered a VIP table which was closed off from other visitors. So that made them more comfortable because now a lot of spies were stalking them. Earlier he also asked Soo Yin to wait there.

Soo Yin rested her head on the table with her hands as a cushion. She had waited too long to be impatient. Waiting was really boring.

Dae Hyun opened the door with a gasping breath. His gaze immediately fixed on the girl who was sitting while laying her head on the table. Her face looked sour and looked annoyed.

Soo Yin immediately straightened her head while pursing her lips.

"Do you want to starve me to death?" Soo Yin said with a snort.

Dae Hyun sighed softly. Realized his mistake which came too late. He pulled the chair across from Soo Yin then threw his butt there.

"Sorry, didn't I tell you that I have to take Jo Yeon Ho first. This is Yeon Ho's first day of going to school, he asked me and Aeri to take him," Dae Hyun said softly to give understanding to his little wife. There really was no intention of making her angry.

"Is it true that today Yeon Ho has returned to school? I want to see him wearing a uniform," said Soo Yin while cradling her face with both hands. Just imagining it made her amused. Remembering Jo Yeon Ho in her mind, made Soo Yin forget the annoyance of waiting too long.

"Do you want to meet him?" This seemed like the right time to persuade Soo Yin to want to be close to his son.

"May I see him?" Soo Yin asked, who just asked back.

"Why not? He's your son too, you can meet him anytime," Dae Hyun said. It felt good to know that Soo Yin seemed to love Jo Yeon Ho.

"You have to take him to the hotel tomorrow," Soo Yin said.

"Of course, I'll definitely ask him later." Dae Hyun hoped that Jo Yeon Ho can relieve her sadness from the loss.

Not long after, the waiter arrived with so much food. Soo Yin almost tasted everything as her appetite had started to recover. When she was engrossed in eating, her expression suddenly turned gloomy and then put the chopsticks on the plate again.

Dae Hyun, who noticed the change in his wife, immediately frowned.

"Is the food not delicious?" the man asked while observing the sad lines of the woman in front of him.

"I... I remember our future child," Soo Yin said softly as she lowered her head. Her heart was torn as she remembered how she had spent a day when she didn't want to eat. If she can choose she wanted to feel it again.

Dae Hyun grabbed Soo Yin's fingers which was on the table and grasped them tightly to try to give her strength. But his lips were heavy to say just to give her advice to be patient.

"Honey, don't be sad anymore," Dae Hyun said. That's the only word that came out on his lips. Wanted to say something else but was afraid of hurting his little wife's feelings.

Instead of stopping, the tears that had already pooled in her eyes immediately started to shatter along with her loss, which was now back.

Seeing his wife sobbing, Dae Hyun got up and walked over to Soo Yin's side. Held her in his arms. For Soo Yin to shed tears on his chest. Soo Yin sobbed for a long time until finally slowly started to calm down.

"Honey, we should just go home," Dae Hyun persuaded Soo Yin to not working.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 266 - 266 - Don't Sad

Soo Yin immediately wiped her tears with her palm after hearing her husband's invitation to go home. If she was at home she would feel even more lonely and remember everything.

"I'm fine," Soo Yin said while straightening her head as before. She picked up a tissue on the table that she wanted to use to wipe the corner of her eye but Dae Hyun grabbed it from her grasp.

Dae Hyun turned Soo Yin's body to face him. Raised her chin so he could stare at her for a moment then rubbed the corner of Soo Yin's eye with a tissue. It really hurt his heart to see her crying like that. Dae Hyun wanted to kill Han to get his revenge. But Dae Hyun did not want to do that carelessly because he believed he still needed Han.

"Honey, don't be sad anymore. Someday we will definitely get it again. After you recover I will do it for you," Dae Hyun teased, trying to comfort Soo Yin.

Soo Yin pursed her lips then pinched Dae Hyun's waist.

"That's what you always think," Soo Yin said with a smile. Her face seemed to glow again after hearing her husband's words.

"I just don't want to make you sad. No matter how much you ask, I'll definitely comply with your request," Dae Hyun said with lips that lifted and formed a smile.

Soo Yin now pinched Dae Hyun even harder with her flushed red face. Dae Hyun just grinned resignedly to endure the pain for the sake of his little wife.

"You perverted man," Soo Yin said with a chuckle.

It turned out that it was easy to get Soo Yin's mood back. Only a small joke could now made her smile.

"Doctor Mi Young said that if you have to use the safety first. What does that mean?" Soo Hyun remembered that Mi Young gave advice to postpone her pregnancy. For that, Dae Hyun must wear safety so as not to be conceded. Soo Yin tried to find out about it but can't find it.

"Don't worry, later we'll consult to the doctor again," Dae Hyun said. There's no way to explain it to Soo Yin afraid that his wife won't digest it at all.

"Honey, it's already noon. Are you going to the hotel or are you going home?" Dae Hyun can't bear if Soo Yin had to work although her condition hadn't fully recovered.

"I'm going to work," Soo Yin said quickly.

"Okay, but later you don't have to do any work. You just accompany me," Dae Hyun said.

Soo Yin nodded her head. At least being in a hotel can make her momentarily not to think about his future child again.

Dae Hyun even forgot about Soo Yin's photo on his younger brother's cellphone because his wife was sad again. But he will still discuss it after Soo Yin's mood got better.

"Well, we better go now," Dae Hyun asked as he reached out to reach his cell phone which was on the table.

Likewise Soo Yin who put some of her belongings back into the bag.

After they finished they immediately walked out of the restaurant with Soo Yin who was walking a little further behind her husband. The restaurant was quite crowded so Soo Yin was afraid that someone will recognize the two of them.

=====>

The Silla Seoul Hotel,

All day Soo Yin had only done little things. Dae Hyun didn't even allow her to go back and forth from the room. When they arrived at the hotel, all employees had started working so that when they passed through the corridor they did not meet anyone.

Soo Yin had asked Jean to work back to the hotel but Jean said that she didn't want to for now. Soo Yin can understand because Jean was still devastated by losing her mother. Even though being with her sometimes she can laugh out loud but Soo Yin can feel a deep sadness in Jean.

Soo Yin's eyes now felt heavy. She glanced at the wall clock, which showed eight o'clock in the evening but Dae Hyun had not yet finished the meeting. They were looking for a new financial manager to replace Han's position.

Knock ... knock ...

There was a knock on the door from outside.

"Come in!" exclaimed Soo Yin hoarsely while yawning. She then stretched out both hands to stretch her body muscles.

It was unusual for Park Soo Hyun to enter his brother's room to knock on the door first. Usually he would just barge in without asking. Maybe because the man knew if there was his crush inside.

With slow steps, Park Soo Hyun entered while tidying his clothes and hair. Tried to stop his heart from pounding. This was the first time that Park Soo Hyun was nervous about confronting a woman.

Soo Yin was also awkward when she saw Park Soo Hyun who was walking over to her. She was afraid that Park Soo Hyun would ask for answers to all the feelings he expressed at that time. It shouldn't be because it's only been a few days.

"Soo Yin, are you busy?" asked Park Soo Hyun with a little nervousness. Remembering how he almost made out that night made Park Soo Hyun observe Soo Yin's lips which looked so sweet. It was a pity if that night turned out to be just a flower of sleep.

"Ah, no ... no, sir," Soo Yin said, who immediately fixed her slightly messy clothes. Suddenly her heart sank, felt bad that Soo Yin had given false hope to that man.

Park Soo Hyun pulled the chair in front of Soo Yin's table then sat down there. While his brother was busy he wanted to persuade his idol. Luckily the employees at this hotel didn't dare to talk about her anymore so Park Soo Hyun could breathe a sigh of relief.

Didn't want Soo Yin to be rumored to be a bad woman.

"Soo Yin, have you had dinner?" asked Park Soo Hyun to neutralize his nervousness in dealing with the girl he loved so much.

"Yes, sir," Soo Yin said, she lied. Even though the plan was after Dae Hyun's meeting was over then they would go home. Her husband had promised to prepare dinner for them but in fact until now the man hadn't even finished his meeting.

"Can you just call me by my name from now on?" Park Soo Hyun asked for the umpteenth time to say this but Soo Yin still did not respond to his words.

"I find it rude to call you by your name," said Soo Yin with a faint smile.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 267 - 267 - Not Willing

"No need to feel that. I don't want if someday we are" Park Soo Hyun immediately closed his mouth for fear of speaking wrong. Soo Yin hadn't even said anything about their relationship.

Inwardly, Soo Yin kept praying that Dae Hyun will return to his room soon. She was very afraid that Park Soo Hyun would ask her that when she was not ready. At least she needed courage preparation to refuse it subtly.

"Soo Yin, do you have an event next week?" Park Soo Hyun asked to change the conversation that made him uncomfortable.

Soo Yin's heart seemed to stop beating.

'Is he going to ask me to answer his questions next week?' ~she thought .

"If there's no event, will you accompany me to my cousin's wedding?" asked Park Soo Hyun because Soo Yin never answered his question.

"I i" Soo Yin bit her lower lip. Willing to refuse his request, but it felt heavy. To accept it, Soo Yin was afraid of Dae Hyun getting angry if he found out.

"You don't need to prepare anything for your appearance. Let me take care of everything," said Park Soo Hyun.

"Huh?" Soo Yin didn't know what to say at this time.

"Soo Yin, I beg you to come with me," said Park Soo Hyun who immediately grabbed Soo Yin's hand on the table.

Soo Yin who was about to withdraw her hand felt that it was too late. Park Soo Hyun's grip was too tight, so she couldn't move even though she tried to pull it.

Suddenly Park Soo Hyun lifted Soo Yin's hand slightly upwards then kissed her softly for a few moments. Letting his lips felt the softness of Soo Yin's skin.

Soo Yin widened her eyes. Couldn't believe what Park Soo Hyun was doing.

At the same time the door opened wide. Dae Hyun returned to his room carrying something in his hand. Until the tray just escaped to the floor after seeing Park Soo Hyun kissed Soo Yin's hand.

The sound of broken plates made Park Soo Hyun turn to the source of the sound. Looked at Dae Hyun who had a dark face.

Soo Yin immediately pulled her wrist. She felt like she had been caught cheating by her husband. Surely after this her husband will be very angry. Soo Yin then immediately stood up to her husband who was still frozen.

It seemed that her husband had just prepared dinner for them. It was a shame that everything had fallen. Soo Yin immediately crouched down to pick up the plates that were scattered on the floor one by one.

Meanwhile, Dae Hyun stood still while clenching his fists, he looked at Park Soo Hyun with sharp eyes. But tried to reduce his emotions so that nothing would happen. He almost walked up and threw his fist into his brother's face.

"Arghhh!" Soo Yin shrieked when there was a pointy shard of glass that stabbed her.

Park Soo Hyun, who was already standing, crouched down and then examined Soo Yin's bleeding finger.

"Now we go to the hospital," said Park Soo Hyun worriedly.

Meanwhile, Dae Hyun chose to turn around. Slammed the door so hard that it made Park Soo Hyun jump up in shock and even grabbed his chest. He immediately left the room with a raging feelings in his heart.

"What's wrong with him?" Park Soo Hyun muttered seeing the strange behavior of his brother.

Soo Yin was about to run after Dae Hyun but Park Soo Hyun already grabbed her wrist. Didn't let her go.

=====

Dae Hyun chose to leave the room instead of doing something he didn't want. Once in the basement he immediately drove the car with fast speed. His chest heaved erratically. Seeing another man touched Soo Yin made Dae Hyun lose his mind. Moreover, his younger brother who had dared to touch her.

He wanted to feel like throwing his fist earlier if he didn't remember it was his own brother. Dae Hyun continued to drive his car until it twisted like a person who was racing. He always overtook other riders who were in front of him. Now all left behind.

Dae Hyun didn't seem to care about his safety. It was true that love can change the consciousness of someone who was in love. It can be positive or negative like Dae Hyun who was currently unable to control his emotions.

Really his actions this time made other riders feel uncomfortable. As a result of his behavior some of them even almost collided. They kept honking their horns for Dae Hyun to stop the action.

Fortunately, it was already evening so rarely the police were still on guard. Dae Hyun continued to drive his car aimlessly. It was unclear where he was going because his mind was so chaotic. Even repeatedly he hit the steering wheel as an intermediary to vent all his anger.

Dae Hyun just stopped his car when it hit a road divider to avoid other drivers who almost collided with him. His car almost fell into the Cheonggyecheon Stream if only Dae Hyun could not stop it.

Dae Hyun lowered his head over the wheel to catch his roaring breath. It turned out that he was still lucky to stay alive. The man then got out of his car while seeing the colorful reflection of the water in the water. Remembering the first time he brought Soo Yin to a place not far from this place.

In the past, he felt that his attitude was not as possessive as it was now. Even though at that time Soo Yin didn't really love him. It was just the beginning of how Dae Hyun started to make Soo Yin fall in love with him. He shouldn't be jealous because Soo Yin loved him so much. But Dae Hyun couldn't just get rid of that feeling because it was difficult.

Dae Hyun needed to calm down for a while so as not to be reckless. After all, it was him who asked Soo Yin to be kind to Park Soo Hyun.

He sat his buttocks on the grass, sat facing the river that flowed quietly.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 268 - 268 - It's Hard To Let Go

Soo Yin was confused this time between staying where she was or going after Dae Hyun who looked really angry. Soo Yin cursed herself, should have pulled her hand firmly so Dae Hyun wouldn't see it.

"Soo Yin, let's go to the hospital," Park Soo Hyun asked while holding Soo Yin's wrist. Observing the fresh blood coming out of her index finger. Reflex Park Soo Hyun immediately put Soo Yin's finger into his mouth. Sipping fresh blood which tasted a little salty but for Park Soo Hyun it tasted very sweet.

Soo Yin immediately pulled her hand away so that she fell on her back because she was squatting with her knees as support.

Seeing Soo Yin who almost fell to her knees made Park Soo Hyun reach out his hand to pull her until Soo Yin's body was pulled and fell into his lap. Now the position of Park Soo Hyun sat on the floor because he was not ready.

'Oh my God, I feel like a dream that I could be this close,' ~ thought Park Soo Hyun while observing Soo Yin's beautiful face so closely. Made his heart race faster and wanted to jump out. He hoped that Soo Yin can't hear it.

"Sorry," Soo Yin said as she got up.

"Soo Yin, let's go to the hospital. I don't want anything to happen to your finger," said Park Soo Hyun who looked panicked.

"Sir, I'm fine. It's just a small wound," said Soo Yin. She thought that Park Soo Hyun had lost his mind so that the wound that was only the tip of a nail had to be taken to the hospital. All hospital residents could laugh at her.

"It can be dangerous if it gets infected," Park Soo Hyun said.

Soo Yin rolled her eyes then let out a long sigh. It turned out that the younger brother was worse than his brother. She wanted to go after Dae Hyun at this time but Park Soo Hyun definitely wouldn't allow her. He once forbade her not to be near a man who was already married.

"Calm down, this only requires a little medicine," said Soo Yin. She then walked towards the cupboard where there was a medicine box there. After taking it out, Soo Yin looked for a bandage to cover her meager wound.

Park Soo Hyun immediately ordered workers to clean up the glass pieces and food that were scattered on the floor.

First, Soo Yin went to the bathroom to wash her face. Now all she had to do was running away from Park Soo Hyun. Looked like Park Soo Hyun won't let her go home alone. Soo Yin was in the bathroom for quite a long time. She walked back and forth while biting the tip of her nails. Still looking for a way to go without Park Soo Hyun because right now she also had to find the whereabouts of her husband who knows where.

"Soo Yin, you've been taking so long. Did something happen to you?" Park Soo Hyun exclaimed from outside, accompanied by a knock on the door. Made Soo Yin realized that she'd been in the bathroom long enough.

"I'm fine," said Soo Yin who was accompanied by opening the door.

Park Soo Hyun could breathe a sigh of relief, he thought something happened to his idol.

Soo Yin immediately rushed to her desk to pack her belongings into a bag. At the same time it turned out that Park Soo Hyun asked permission to answer the phone. Of course Soo Yin was happy to allow him.

Park Soo Hyun looked busy answering a phone call. So that Soo Yin used to contact Chang Yuan to help her escape from Park Soo Hyun.

"I better take you home because it's already late," Park Soo Hyun said after finishing the call.

"I should just go home alone," said Soo Yin while carving a thin smile on her lips.

"It's not good to go home alone at night. From now on let me take you," said Park Soo Hyun who remained adamant.

Soo Yin's guess was correct if it was not easy to be separated from her brother-in-law. Luckily, it wasn't long before Chang Yuan appeared. Soo Yin's face immediately brightened as if she had received a helper god.

"Sir, you have a file that must be checked now," Chang Yuan said, while thinking hard to find a way.

"Really? Looks like I've checked everything," said Park Soo Hyun while remembering.

"Please check it, sir. It is very much needed for tomorrow morning," said Chang Yuan.

"Soo Yin, I'll go to my room first. Stay here, I promise it won't be long." He immediately stepped out in a hurry.

Soo Yin neither confirmed nor refused. How could she be possible to stay while she wanted to run away immediately.

"Assistant Chang, come help me find Dae Hyun," Soo Yin asked after Park Soo Hyun was out of sight.

oooooooo

Soo Yin was so anxious that she unconsciously kept biting her lower lip. Bad images entered her mind, making her even more worried about her husband's current situation. But if she thought about it, her husband was an adult so it was impossible for him to do something stupid.

"Assistant Chang, why won't he pick up my call?" Soo Yin said uneasily and almost cried. She tried to make a call to Dae Hyun but unfortunately hadn't been picked up.

Chang Yuan sighed softly.

"Believe me, master will be fine. He is old enough not to do bad things," Chang Yuan said with a focused gaze staring at the night street that was faintly visible under the moonlight.

"But I'm very worried," Soo Yin said with teary eyes. She didn't want any more misunderstandings between them. Earlier it was really like being caught cheating.

Chang Yuan can only massaged his temples to face the two husband and wife who were sometimes childish. They always took turns when they were angry, Chang Yuan could not understand why his boss was so childish like that. Wasn't it possible to talk about that problem properly. Unlike this, escaping somewhere. Chang Yuan kept cursing silently because he couldn't grumble in front of Soo Yin.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 269 - 269 - Not Calm

"Assistant Chang, please track him down," Soo whined while holding Chang Yuan's wrist. At least Soo Yin would feel relieved after finding his current position.

Chang Yuan was forced to comply with Soo Yin's request. He took the cellphone that was on the dashboard then began tinkering with it to track the boss' whereabouts via his cellphone. It should have worked because Daen Hyun's cellphone was activated. Soon Chang Yuan was able to track him down.

"How?" Soo Yin asked, who couldn't wait.

"If you look from here. Mr. Dae Hyun is on the bank of the Cheonggyecheon River," Chang Yuan said.

"What?" shrieked Soo Yin when something crossed her mind.

"Maybe my husband wants to kill himself," Soo Yin said hysterically.

"Miss, it is impossible for master to do such a thing," Chang Yuan argued with great confidence. He shook his head too in response to Soo Yin's exaggerated, thought about that made him dizzy.

"Assistant Chang, please take me to see him sooner. Don't let it be too late," Soo Yin said with cold sweat that started to wet her forehead even though the weather was very cold tonight. Maybe because of restlessness that made her like that.

Chang Yuan immediately drove his car to the direction where Dae Hyun currently was, which was at north of the Cheonggyecheon River. It shouldn't be long before they arrived if Dae Hyun didn't hurry to leave.

Soo Yin sat with an uneasy feeling while looking here and there. Hoping to find her husband. She always shifted her body here and there, making Chang Yuan unfocused.

"Miss, master is an adult. He can't possibly do something nonsense," Chang Yuan repeated his words. Soo Yin's exaggerated behavior made him uncomfortable.

How can a young woman worry that her husband who was so much older can do such a bad thing. Chang Yuan sometimes felt that they were a strange couple.

"Assistant Chang, someone who is jealous can do beyond his senses," Soo Yin defended. Indeed she admitted that Dae Hyun was an adult but still she was worried about it.

Not long after, Chang Yuan stopped his car by the side of the road. Dae Hyun should have been nearby because his cell phone signal meant he was there.

Soo Yin followed Chang Yuan's footsteps to walk to the river bank. Until they could vaguely see a silver Maybach car that was right on the river bank. Soo Yin immediately ran after recognizing that it was her husband's car.

She peeked from the window to see where Dae Hyun was but unfortunately the car was empty. There was no one inside. Soo Yin kept banging on the glass and checking several times but still nothing.

"Assistant Chang, how is it? My husband is not there," Soo Yin said with teary eyes. Soon the water will definitely fall from her eyelids.

Chang Yuan tried to open the car door but was unsuccessful because it seemed like it was locked from the inside. He tried calling his boss's cell phone. It turned out that the cellphone was in the car. No wonder Soo Yin had called him but was not picked up.

"Dae Hyun!" Soo Yin exclaimed as she walked along the river bank.

"Honey, where are you?" Soo Yin shouted with tears already streaming down her cheeks

"Assistant Chang, what if Dae Hyun jumped in there?" said Soo Yin while pointing at the riverbed which looked calm but deep.

"Miss, calm down," Chang Yuan said while supporting Soo Yin's body which almost stumbled to the ground.

"How can I be calm if I currently don't know his whereabouts?" Soo Yin exclaimed with mixed feelings at this time. She was very afraid that Dae Hyun would actually jump into the river.

"Miss, you should go back to the car. Let me find him," Chang Yuan persuaded. He actually worried that Soo Yin was doing something unreasonable. Chang Yuan still trusted his boss otherwise it was possible to do that.

"If you want to go then go! Let me look for him myself," Soo Yin said, while grumbling and stood back to normal.

"Miss, I beg you to go to the car. It's too dangerous here," Chang Yuan said tirelessly to persuade his boss's favorite wife.

"I'm not going anywhere until my husband is found," Soo Yin said. She will never be at ease until Dae Hyun was found.

Chang Yuan massaged his temples as he wondered how to persuade his boss's wife to wait. In conditions without lighting like this it was very dangerous to be by the river. The slightest misstep will definitely slip. Chang Yuan didn't want to take too big risk.

"If you don't want to go, at least stay here." Chang Yuan pointed to the short grass so Soo Yin would sit on it.

"Okay," Soo Yin said quietly as she sat there.

Chang Yuan first contacted his men to come to the place. Only then did he start down the river bank again. But somehow Chang Yuan felt that his boss was fine. Even though he didn't know where he was right now.

It had been almost half an hour Chang Yuan was commuting along the riverbank but still couldn't find his boss.

"Miss, it's late at night we should just go home," Chang Yuan said.

Soo Yin quickly shook her head. Even if Chang Yuan would leave, she was determined to stay there.

- o
- o

Dae Hyun had just gone to the auto repair shop to seek help opening his car. His cellphone was left inside because Dae Hyun forgot to take it when he came out.

Earlier he was so emotional that he forgot to take his car keys. Maybe it's because the car was having problems so it can be locked from the inside. He walked fifteen minutes before finding a garage.

After finishing his business, Dae Hyun then returned to the place earlier. His gaze was immediately fixed on a woman who was hugging her knees. From behind, it seemed familiar enough to be recognized.

Dae Hyun walked over to the woman who sounded sobbing.

"Soo Yin," he called.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 270 - 270 - Afraid That You Will Kill Yourself

Soo Yin's heart kept getting restless and made her sob. Soo Yin felt that she was very whiny and spoiled although she wasn't like that before. Over and over again she shouted at Chang Yuan that maybe she had found him. But Chang Yuan always answered that he didn't.

The cool air began to creep into the pores of her skin. The thin clothes made her cold a long time ago but Soo Yin didn't seem to feel it. Her anxiety was greater than the cold that reached her guts. She hugged her knees while continuing to sob.

"Soo Yin!"

A distinctive voice that was always able to arouse her nerves. Soo Yin immediately looked back when the faint voice sounded along with the calm stream of water.

A man stood with furrowed brows while carrying something in his hand.

With a face that looked more radiant, Soo Yin then stood up and then walked towards her husband. With crystal beads falling from her eyelids, Soo Yin immediately rushed into Dae Hyun's arms. Made the man wonder of what happened.

He was a little confused as to why Soo Yin was here even though as he remembered Soo Yin was still in the hotel. Remembering her at the hotel immediately flashed into his mind of Park Soo Hyun's hand that had just touched her.

"Are you still alive?" Soo Yin said in a hoarse voice. How relieved her heart was now to know that her husband was fine.

"Sir, where have you been?" Chang Yuan asked, who appeared from behind the trees. Originally intended to check on Soo Yin but unexpectedly if he found Dae Hyun was with her.

"What did you guys come here for?" Dae Hyun asked without answering the questions of the two people who had been looking for him.

"We are worried about you, afraid that you will kill yourself by jumping into the river," Soo Yin said with an innocent face. She still buried her head in her husband's broad chest.

"Kill my self?" Dae Hyun chuckled with amusement at Soo Yin who thought he committed suicide.

"Do you think I'm that stupid? If I kill myself that's benefited Park Soo Hyun," Dae Hyun said while chuckling. There was resentment and jealousy that ran through his soul when he pronounced his brother's name.

"We were looking for you since earlier but you weren't there. So I thought you jumped into the river," Soo Yin said while looking up to look at Dae Hyun.

"Are you getting ready to be a widow?" Dae Hyun teased. His other lip lifted up.

"Dae Hyun, you are annoying. That's not funny," Soo Yin muttered while hitting Dae Hyun's chest.

"After all, your thoughts are very diverse," Dae Hyun said, about to grab Soo Yin's fingers but remembering that finger had just been touched by another man. Dae Hyun stopped his intention. Jealousy had completely blinded his heart.

"Soo Yin, wash your hands first," Dae Hyun said while moving Soo Yin's body a little away from his body. He then took out a bottle of mineral water from the plastic bag he was carrying.

"Why though?" Soo Yin knitted her brows together.

"I don't want to touch your hands if they haven't been washed clean," Dae Hyun said flatly.

After successfully opening the bottle, Dae Hyun immediately grabbed Soo Yin's arm and then poured water on her finger. It really felt like Dae Hyun was still very upset while remembering Park Soo Hyun's lips stuck to his little wife's hand. Dae Hyun continued to pour mineral water on Soo Yin's two hands alternately until one bottle ran out.

Soo Yin just obeyed whatever Dae Hyun did to her while trying to understand what he meant.

Dae Hyun dried Soo Yin's hands using the scarf that was wrapped around his neck.

"Next time, don't let any man touch your hand," Dae Hyun said, while grumbling and staring disdainfully at his little wife.

"Was it my fault?" Soo Yin grumbled as she pursed her lips. It was all happened because Park Soo Hyun forced her. If not, how could that be.

"One more thing, don't give your sweet smile to other men. You can only smile charmingly in front of me. Don't give false hopes to any man," said Dae Hyun who was not willing if other men saw his wife's sweet smile that could thrill his soul.

"Honey, what's wrong with you?" Soo Yin immediately stood on tiptoe and then touched Dae Hyun's forehead with the back of her hand. It turned out that the temperature was normal and fine.

"I just don't want another man to tease you."

"You are very strange. Aren't you the one who asked me to be kind to your brother? Then, now why are you angry?" Spo Yin asked while rolling her eyes because what Dae Hyun said was enough to annoy her.

"Honey, I asked you to be kind, not let your skin be touched arbitrarily," Dae Hyun said.

"It's up to you," Soo Yin said flatly, reluctant to respond to her husband's words. Her head also started to wobble because of the cold.

"Sir, Miss, will you continue to be here?" Chang Yuan asked to stop the long debate between them.

"Assistant Chang, you take my car after the repair shop's people come. Let me take your car," Dae Hyun said. His intention to calm down for a while finally failed because of the presence of his little wife.

Chang Yuan immediately reached his car key from his pants pocket and handed it over to his boss.

Dae Hyun observed Soo Yin who clasped her hands together. He quickly opened his jacket and then put it on his wife's shoulder.

"You look very pale. We better go home," Dae Hyun said as he grabbed her waist from the side and then led her to walk to Chang Yuan's car which was parked on the side of the road.

Soo Yin nodded her head, it wasn't just her body that was cold. Even her stomach had been rumbling since earlier, asking to be filled.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 271 - 271 - Be Honest To Me

They were currently in the car to make their way home. Dae Hyun was mostly silent when driving his car. It didn't feel so easy to forget that very displeased incident. It reminded him of his wife's photo which was plastered on the screen of Park Soo Hyun's phone.

Soo Yin was also silent, realized that her husband might be jealous and didn't want to argue.

"Soo Yin, tell me. Did you give your photo to Park Soo Hyun?" Dae Hyun asked calmly to break the silence between them.

"No," Soo Yin said curtly as she turned to look at her husband.

"Soo Yin, I beg to be honest with me," said Dae Hyun with a sigh.

"What's the matter with you? I've been telling the truth," Soo Yin said with a frown. Started to look annoyed because Dae Hyun's attitude was too weird.

"If you don't give him a photo, then why is he using your photo as wallpaper. Whereas I don't have any of your photos."

"I never gave my picture to your brother. What am I giving it for?" Soo Yin said while remembering that she never once took a photo or gave a photo to Park Soo Hyun.

Soo Yin remembered something. She then reached into her cell phone that was in the bag. Then showed a photo on her cellphone's screen.

"Is it the photo?" Soo Yin asked.

"Right, so you did give it?" Dae Hyun asked with a hint of anger.

"I put this photo in the frame and I put it on my desk. He could have taken this photo from there," Soo Yin said.

"Is it true?" Dae Hyun said with a surprised face. He didn't even know Soo Yin put her photo in there.

"It's up to you if you don't believe me," Soo Yin said while looking away.

"Honey, I'm really sorry," Dae Hyun said while scratching the back of his head. Felt guilty for having misunderstood. At first he thought that Soo Yin gave the photo.

"Hmmm," Soo Yin said coldly.

If earlier it was Dae Hyun who was silent, now it was Soo Yin who was actually acting very cold. Every woman will definitely be angry if accused of nonsense. Especially young women like Soo Yin, whose emotions often change.

Since on the way, Dae Hyun asked where they were going to have dinner but Soo Yin just didn't want to go anywhere. The woman wanted to go home instead of dinner outside. There was no more appetite for food.

Soo Yin got out of the car then slammed the door hard. Dae Hyun let out a deep sigh as he grabbed his own hair. Regretted his childish attitude. But what if jealousy overcame everything. He looked at Soo Yin who was walking into the villa.

If only he could reduce his jealousy, it would not have happened like this. Although Soo Yin had been so worried about him earlier.

"Arghh! It's all because of Park Soo Hyun," Dae Hyun said while hitting the steering wheel. He rubbed his face in a huff before getting out of the car to catch up with his wife. Tonight, the problem must be resolved immediately.

Dae Hyun closed his eyes for a moment to calm his heart before talking to his little wife. He must get rid of jealousy before speaking for fear of being carried away with emotion.

After his head got cold, Dae Hyun decided to catch up with his wife who was already in the room.

Once inside, Dae Hyun heard the sound of water gurgling from the bathroom. He chose to sit on the side of the bed, and suddenly his hand reached out to reach Soo Yin's cellphone which was nearby.

He opened a gallery containing Soo Yin's photos and sent them to his cellphone. How long he had married Soo Yin but not even a single photo of her on his cellphone. He was jealous of Park Soo Hyun who seemed to really love Soo Yin. Always acted earlier than him. Admittedly, he actually even learned how to be romantic from his younger brother.

Soo Yin just came out of the bathroom while clutching her slightly uncomfortable stomach. Since losing her future child, Soo Yin felt her stomach still hurts sometimes. Maybe it was true if her condition had not fully recovered and needed rest. She even forgot that all day she hadn't taken the medicine that Doctor Mi Young gave her.

Dea Hyun smiled as soon as he saw his wife had come out of the bathroom. Put his cellphone back on the bed lined up with Soo Yin's cellphone. He approached his wife who was still standing at the door.

The scent of roses immediately permeates his sense of smell coming from Soo Yin's wet hair. His wife's open chest really made his heart flutter. Moreover, the towel that covers her body was only able to cover up to the upper limit of her thigh. Which normal man didn't fall for such a sight. But Dae Hyun kept stressing himself not to bother her. He must not touch her until his wife was completely well.

"Stay here, let me get the clothes for you." Dae Hyun led Soo Yin so that she can sit in front of the dressing table instead.

Soo Yin just obeyed without a word on her lips because she felt the pain in her stomach.

Dae Hyun immediately chose a modest nightgown so that Soo Yin wouldn't arouse his passion. A pair of pajamas in green with a cartoon character. After getting them together with her underwear, Dae Hyun came out to his wife again.

Anxious immediately sets in when he saw Soo Yin, who looked bent over her body while grimacing in pain. Instantly Dae Hyun immediately threw the clothes onto the bed.

"Honey, what's wrong with you?" Dae Hyun was in panic at this time.

"My stomach hurts," Soo Yin said while moaning.

"Then we should go to the hospital now," said Dae Hyun, who was ready to carry the body of his wife who was still wearing a towel.

"Just bring me the medicine that's in the drawer," Soo Yin said with her eyes closed to neutralize the pain.

.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 272 - 272 - Still Angry

Dae Hyun rushed to find the medicine that Soo Yin mentioned then immediately gave it along with drinking water.

It didn't take long for the drug to react. Soo Yin was feeling better now. She was about to stand up to put on her clothes but Dae Hyun hurriedly pressed her shoulder.

"Let me put it on," Dae Hyun said. He took Soo Yin's clothes that had been lying on the bed.

"Let me put it on myself," Soo Yin said with a flushed face. How was it possible to let her husband put a bra on her body.

"It's okay," Dae Hyun said with all his might, tried to hold back his long-standing desire.

Soo Yin actually got goosebumps enough to feel the touch of Dae Hyun's fingers which occasionally touched her skin. So that she could sigh deeply after Dae Hyun finished dressing for her.

"Lie down, I will ask Doctor Kang to come here. I will also prepare dinner for you." He kissed Soo Yin's forehead for a moment before finally Dae Hyun called Doctor Kang to come to the villa. He did not care if it was night and disturbed the Doctor's rest.

Soo Yin nodded her head, actually about to refuse not to call Doctor Kang but Dae Hyun had disappeared behind the door. Dae Hyun who acted like this was what she wanted. Be mature and understanding. Not Dae Hyun who was jealous and accused her too much.

Curious what Dae Hyun was doing with his cellphone. Soo Yin immediately checked the two cell phones that were located on the nightstand. Soo Yin didn't need to ask what was the code to unlock because Dae Hyun said that the passcode was Soo Yin's birth date.

She smiled to herself when she saw her photo was on Dae Hyun's cell phone. Although he didn't use it as wallpaper, it was enough to make her happy. When Soo Yin checked her husband's cell phone, it was a shame that there weren't any photos of Dae Hyun. It was true that man didn't like to take his own photos. In the gallery, there were only photos of Jo Yeon Ho with various poses.

After looking for more, Soo Yin finally found some photos that were taken when they went to Namsan Park for the first time. Then there was a photo of Dae Hyun with Jo Yeon Ho. It turned out there was a photo of her with Dae Hyun too. Soo Yin didn't remember taking it because her position didn't seem ready. Maybe Jo Yeon Ho took it accidentally.

Soo Yin immediately sent the photo to her cellphone including a photo of the three of them. In the photo, Dae Hyun was like a father with his two children. Soo Yin smiled amusedly upon seeing him. Soo Yin could imagine what it will be like if they got old. Dae Hyun's hair must have been turned white when they had kids his age.

"Hmmm, what's with the smiles to yourself?" Dae Hyun just walked into the room, while carrying a tray in his hand. If only it weren't for Park Soo Hyun they would have eaten dinner by now.

Soo Yin faltered so she quickly put the two phones back on the nightstand. When Dae Hyun turned around to close the door. Soo Yin hurriedly acted as if she pretended to be ignorant like earlier. Will continue to act like that before Dae Hyun apologized to her. For her, a man needed to be tested for his patience so that he does not go around on his own.

"Why were you smiling to yourself earlier?" Dae Hyun teased with a smile when he sat next to his wife. He thought if Soo Yin was like that then the small misunderstanding that occurred was over.

"Is it not allowed?" Soo Yin said in a flat and indifferent tone.

"Honey, eat it. You haven't had dinner yet," Dae Hyun said while handing the spoon that was already filled with rice and seaweed soup into Soo Yin's mouth. He wanted to prepare another meal but he was afraid that Soo Yin will starve.

"I'm not hungry," Soo Yin lied. Lied if she wasn't hungry right now because the pain in her stomach also seemed to be due to a late meal.

"Honey, are you still angry?" Dae Hyun asked as he put the tray on the nightstand. Dae Hyun really can't stand it if his little wife was silent like this. He thought that he had succeeded in getting her not to get angry.

Soo Yin remained unmoved then turned her face to another direction. Staring at the night sky lit by the moonlight through the cracked glass windows. Actually, Soo Yin couldn't help but answer his question. But she just wanted Dae Hyun to know that being suspected and accused was painful. Moreover, the accusation had no proof.

Dae Hyun grasped Soo Yin's fingers. Then put his lips on Soo Yin's hand for a long time. Dae Hyun kissed the back of Soo Yin's palm over and over again.

"I'm really sorry," Dae Hyun said softly, filled with deep guilt.

"I will not repeat my unwarranted accusations. I was like that because I was very jealous. I really don't like you to be close to other men even though it is my own brother," Dae Hyun said while closing his eyes. While his lips were still on Soo Yin's hand.

"Honey, don't torture me with your silence like this," Dae Hyun said in a sad voice as he opened his eyes. Then raised his face to look at Soo Yin's beautiful face which was still in its position.

"Honey, please talk to me," Dae Hyun persuaded because Soo Yin didn't budge. He stretched out the other hand to tidy up his wife's hair so it didn't cover her beautiful face. Then slowly tuck it behind the earlobe.

Soo Yin was still silent even though her lips can't help but wanted to speak.

Keep calm and write something...

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 273 - 273 - Take Good Care Of Your Wife

Not getting a response from his little wife, Dae Hyun climbed down from the bed and sat on the floor in a kneeling position.

"What are you doing?" Soo Yin said as she turned to look at Dae Hyun who was already under her. She did not like her husband's action who was crouching on the floor with his knees for support.

"If necessary I will bow down so you can forgive me," said Dae Hyun.

"Come back to sit on the bed," Soo Yin said while pulling her husband's wrist.

"I won't, until you forgive me." Dae Hyun remained adamant in his position. It would be better for Soo Yin to torture his body than to torture his mind.

"Okay I forgive you," Soo Yin said with a flat face.

"How can you forgive me when your face looks not like that," Dae Hyun said when he saw the look on Soo Yin's face, which was still sullen.

"Next time think about it first before accusing me. You have to know if being accused is very sick. I didn't even accuse you when you were staying at UN Village. I always think positively if you can't sleep with Aeri even though it could happen," Soo Yin grunted, bursting out her emotions that had been gathering in her chest. Her breath was panting because she spoke too fast.

Dae Hyun remained silent while listening to his wife who was shedding all her emotions. Because he realized that he deserved it.

"I'm just angry that your photo is on another guy's cell phone," Dae Hyun said.

"Then that's why you're being so selfish?" Soo Yin said with resentment still in her heart.

"Sorry, honey. I promise not to accuse you again," Dae Hyun said while lifting his pinky finger.

"Please?" Dae Hyun said very beggingly.

"Okay, but if you repeat it again I will never forgive you," Soo Yin threatened. Whereas how could she not forgive the people she loved. It was just a form of threat so that Dae Hyun wouldn't overdo it.

Dae Hyun immediately got up and sat on the side of the bed, while pulling Soo Yin's body into his arms. Held her tightly.

"I promise not to repeat it," Dae Hyun said as he put his lips on the top of Soo Yin's head.

Check ...

The room door opened, Doctor Kang just stood in the middle of the door while carrying a bag containing his medical equipment. His face immediately turned sour when he saw the couple who was hugging.

"So you just called me so I can see you guys who are cuddling?" Doctor Kang said, whilst chuckling irritably. But still walked in even though he felt lazy.

Dae Hyun turned his head because Doctor Kang surprised him a little.

"Can't you knock on the door first?" Dae Hyun said in a cold tone.

"You guys are too engrossed so you didn't hear me. I nearly knocked the door down," Doctor Kang said.

"Hurry up and check on my wife right away," Dae Hyun said as he stepped aside a little so that Doctor Kang could check on Soo Yin.

"Miss Soo Yin, please ask permission from your husband because I have to check your stomach," Doctor Kang said with a smile. Actually, it was a form of insinuation of how Dae Hyun didn't allow him to touch Soo Yin's stomach.

"It's okay, Doctor Kang," Soo Yin said while looking at Dae Hyun with a sharp gaze. So as not to overdo it like the other day.

Doctor Kang took a cynical glance first at Dae Hyun before finally checking on Soo Yin. As previously explained by Dae Hyun on the phone.

"Have you been doing activities outside the house?" Doctor Kang asked after he finished checking her condition.

"I went to work today," Soo Yin said while grimacing as she glanced at her husband who put on a flat face.

"Geez, so that rich husband of yours told you to go to work?" Doctor Kang quipped on purpose to provoke a little emotion.

"No, I wanted to go to work by myself," Soo Yin argued before her husband got carried away with emotion because his face already looked tense.

"Dae Hyun, next time don't let your wife work. She needs rest because her immune system is still weak," Doctor Kang said. He turned to Dae Hyun who was beside him.

"Okay," Dae Hyun said curtly without wanting to argue with his most annoying friend.

"Miss Soo Yin, you should stay at home for two to four days so that your body condition will recover," Doctor Kang said softly.

"Do we need to see an obstetrician to check her out?" asked Dae Hyun.

"No need, if you can check it by yourself," Doctor Kang said casually.

Dae Hyun's blood immediately seemed to boil at Doctor Kang's annoying words. However, Dae Hyun tried to stay calm and did not get carried away by emotions.

Doctor Kang provided temporary pain relievers. But still suggested that they should still come to the hospital to check on Soo Yin's condition. He immediately excused himself because it was late at night.

"Take good care of your young wife. If you can't take care of her, let me be," Doctor Kang whispered in Dae Hyun's ear when he was at the door.

"Go, before I actually punch you in the face," Dae Hyun said in a cold tone.

"What a shame it is to have to marry a married man. If only she had met me first," Doctor Kang muttered before hastily stepping down the stairs. It seemed that Dae Hyun's temper had been provoked.

"How dare you ...," Dae Hyun said, about to punch Doctor Kang in the face, but he had already run away.

After confirming that Doctor Kang had left, Dae Hyun went back to his little wife who was leaning on the side of the bed. Then stretched out a thick blanket to cover Soo Yin's legs.

"Honey, I'm hungry," Soo Yin whined in such a spoiled tone. It was as if nothing had happened between them. When she wasn't angry, Soo Yin will forget all her frustrations very quickly.

Instead of getting angry, Dae Hyun smiled at her. He really liked the word that came out of his wife's sweet lips which sounded serene and adorable.

"Then let me take it again from the kitchen," Dae Hyun said as he reached out his hand to gently rub his wife's cheek.

"No, I'll just eat that one," Soo Yin said. She pointed to the food that had not been eaten earlier.

"It's already cold, let me take a warm one."

Soo Yin shook her head, not wanting to bother her husband anymore. It was also her fault that the food turned cold.

"It's okay," Dae Hyun said. He knew that Soo Yin felt bad. As the head of the family, he should be able to keep his emotions in check. It was quite the opposite. Dae Hyun felt embarrassed by Soo Yin.

Soo Yin sighed in resignation. Let her husband went to the kitchen. For the umpteenth time, continued to be grateful even though Dae Hyun was sometimes very annoying like earlier.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 274 - 274 - Don't Forget To Give Me News

Soo Yin pushed away Dae Hyun's hand that was curled around her stomach. Touched it lightly so as not to wake up his deep sleep. It was already morning, the sunlight was still faintly visible on the eastern horizon.

Soo Yin got out of the bed then opened the glass window. Letting the fresh morning breeze broke into the room. After that, Soo Yin went to the bathroom to clean up first.

Although today she won't go anywhere but Soo Yin didn't want to lie on the bed. She wore a thin shirt that stretched over her thighs to reveal her smooth legs.

Soo Yin then came out of the dressing room to wake her husband because he had to get ready to go to work. However, Dae Hyun was already sitting leaning on the edge of the bed, while looking steadily at Soo Yin without batting his eyes. Dae Hyun seemed to see an angel walking towards him.

"Take a shower, I've prepared warm water for you," Soo Yin said when she was standing on the side of the bed. Stood in a pose like a model.

"I don't want to go to work," Dae Hyun said in a hoarse voice of waking up.

"Why?" Soo Yin's forehead was wrinkled.

"The clothes you wear make me not want to go anywhere," Dae Hyun said as he looked at Soo Yin's open thighs.

Soo Yin followed Dae Hyun's eyes, then immediately covered her thighs with both hands. Really there was no intention to tease her husband.

"Alright, I'll change it right now." Soo Yin said, about to set foot to leave. However, her hand was immediately pulled by Dae Hyun and made her body unbalanced and fell into his husband's lap.

Dae Hyun immediately reversed his position until Soo Yin was under him.

"Don't change it before I leave," Dae Hyun whispered sensually until a gust of wind blew against Soo Yin's face. He traced Soo Yin's cheek with his finger.

"Go, you'll be late later," Soo Yin said while pushing Dae Hyun's chest a little so there was some distance between them.

"I don't want to go anywhere," Dae Hyun whispered again, made Soo Yin feel a little uncomfortable.

"If you don't work your father will definitely get angry. Don't you hate it when your employees are absent? So why are you so often skipping work lately?" Soo Yin asked.

"That's true, but I have reasons not to come to work."

"What?" Soo Yin shifted her body so she could lean back a little on the pillow.

"My wife is much more important than work. We should go to the hospital today, so I can be more calm," Dae Hyun persuaded.

"I can just go with Jean," Soo Yin said.

"But I want to take you," Dae Hyun said.

"No need."

After going through a long debate, Dae Hyun finally wanted to go to work. Although there must be some conditions that Soo Yin had to do.

Currently Dae Hyun was getting ready. Actually he wanted to prepare breakfast for his wife but Soo Yin insisted on refusing. With an excuse that she felt bad for Aunt Xia who had prepared breakfast for them.

"After arriving at the hospital, don't forget to text me," Dae Hyun said, while kissing Soo Yin's forehead.

"Of course," Soo Yin said while returning a kiss on the cheek of her husband. "I'm leaving now, be careful when walking. Let Chung Ho take you guys later," Dae Hyun said.

"But..." Hadn't had the chance to argue, Soo Yin's words had already been cut off first.

"Don't argue because I don't want something like that time to happen again." Dae Hyun put his index finger on Soo Yin's lips so she can't argue.

Soo Yin just sighed softly then nodded at him.

Dae Hyun kissed Soo Yin's lips for a while to raise his enthusiasm for work before leaving for work.

=====

Pyongyang Maternity Hospital,

As soon as Dae Hyun left for work, Soo Yin immediately got ready. She also asked Jean to accompany her to the hospital. Because after that they planned to go for a walk. They hadn't hang out for a long time.

They were escorted by Chung Ho according to Dae Hyun's request, who did not allow her to take a taxi even with Jean.

"Have you made an appointment with the doctor?" Jean asked as they walked down the corridor of the hospital.

"Dae Hyun have called Doctor Mi Young this morning," Soo Yin said.

"Until now, I can't believe that you are married. This is too fast for me," Jean said while glancing at Soo Yin who was walking beside her.

"I didn't want this at first but at that time my father needed money to pay all of our debts." For a moment, Soo Yin reminisced about the day Dae Hyun helped them pay their debts.

"Maybe you guys are already soulmate," Jean said.

"I started to love him because he was very caring and always gentle with me," Soo Yin said, telling a little how she and Dae Hyun can be together. Yesterday Jean kept asking that question.

"Too bad he's so old," Jean murmured.

"Even though he is old like that, the important thing is that he loves me. Besides, he is not old, only he is more mature," Soo Yin said. However, Soo Yin didn't like it when her best friend told her that her husband was old.

"Ah, all right." Jean chuckled with amusement as Soo Yin's face turned tense.

"Don't be angry like that, later your beauty will fade," Jean teased while jogging to get away from Soo Yin who was ready to hit her with a bag.

Not long after, they arrived in front of Doctor Mi Young's office. Soo Yin knocked on the door first before finally Doctor Mi Young ordered them to go inside.

"Soo Yin, how are you feeling? Are you feeling better or are you still sick like last night?" Mi Young asked as she glanced at the door, looking for Dae Hyun's whereabouts.

"After Doctor Kang gave me some pain relievers, it's getting better now," Soo Yin said.

"All right, let's go inside," Doctor Mi Young asked her to go to the room used for ultrasound. Jean followed behind Soo Yin out of curiosity.

Doctor Mi Young started moving the tools to find out the state of Soo Yin's uterus this time. Thankfully it was in a good condition so there was nothing to worry about.

"It's so unusual for your husband not to come?" Doctor Mi Young finally dared to ask about Dae Hyun indirectly.

"He's busy at work," Soo Yin said curtly

There was no more conversation between them. So Doctor Mi Young immediately prescribed medicine for Soo Yin so that her health will recover faster.

"Then excuse us," Soo Yin and Jean said goodbye because after this they will go for a walk.

As soon as she opened the door, Soo Yin was so shocked that she almost dropped the plastic bag she was holding when she saw who was outside.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 275 - 275 - Three Women

Soo Yin's hand, who was holding the knob, immediately trembled to see who the two women were now in front of her. Instantly, cold sweat immediately came out of her forehead with a heart that continued to pound.

The two women in front of her were equally surprised to see Soo Yin and Jean still standing straight and fine. Even though they hoped that they were already battered like what Han had planned. Li Sa regretted not taking care of everything by herself.

Soo Yin tried to stay calm and did not feel scared. Convinced herself that Aeri was her current rival.

"Miss Aeri?" She muttered, trying to be casual.

"Hey, why did you come to this hospital? Isn't this an obstetrician?" Aeri said while raising one lip upwards to form a mocking smile. Didn't know why when she saw Soo Yin she was immediately carried away with emotion.

"I i" Really Soo Yin didn't expect that they would meet at this hospital. Fortunately, earlier she asked Jean not her husband. It was inconceivable if they were caught.

"Soo Yin, you are really very strange. Why should you go to the obstetrician? Are you planning to have an abortion because there is a masher man who impregnated you?" Li Sa sneered as she squinted her eyes. Long time did not see Soo Yin was like finding a new toy.

"Shut your mouth, Li Sa!" Jean snapped, who didn't like it if they thought Soo Yin was a bad girl. Jean also knew Li Sa because they used to be in the same school. Jean even often quarrelled with Li Sa for defending Soo Yin.

"Jean, you don't have to be pretentious to defend her. You're even the same, your job is just trying to find a rich man," Li Sa said with a mocking smile. Thought back to how they accidentally met at the cinema. Which was really annoyed her at that time because Jean watched a movie with Park Soo Hyun.

"Li Sa, is it true?" Aeri said, who pretended to be surprised even though she already knew.

"Eunnie, she's a girl who tried to seduce Park Soo Hyun. Please remind brother-in-law to be careful," Li Sa said to Aeri who was standing beside her.

"Li Sa, watch your words!" Soo Yin snapped. From now on it seemed like she had to be a brave girl so as not to be continuously insulted by her own cousin.

"What's all this fuss?" Doctor Mi Young was just out of the bathroom. She immediately left her room when she heard a slight of commotion. Mi Young was stunned when she saw Aeri was there.

The world seemed to have stopped spinning, what kind of coincidence was this? Mi Young seemed to dream of seeing two women who were none other than the wives of her former lover at the same time.

"Aeri?" Mi Young muttered with a frown. She looked alternately at Soo Yin and Aeri. To find out whether the two of them know each other or not. Aeri's face as a former top model was familiar to her eyes. So that she immediately recognized her. Unlike Aeri, who didn't know that Mi Young was her husband's ex-lover.

"Doctor, tell me why did they come here?" Aeri said because she was very curious about the two unmarried girls who came to the obstetrician.

"They... they...." Mi Young's lips felt heavy to talk.

Soo Yin looked at Mi Young with a look full of hope so as not to say anything about her to Aeri.

Mrs. Park just went from the toilet straight into the room that had been shown before. Her eyes widened when she saw the beautiful doctor she knew.

"Mi Young, how are you now?" Mrs. Park said with a radiant face, who was standing behind Aeri. Of course, the middle-aged woman recognized the face of her son's ex-lover because Mi Young used to come to the house often. Mrs. Park used to regret that they weren't matched. But now she had accepted everything.

"I'm fine, Auntie. Long time no see," Mi Young said with a smile. Even though she felt awkward, Mi Young was quite happy because Mrs. Park still knew her and wanted to say hello.

"I never thought that after all this time we could meet again. You are now a successful doctor," Mrs. Park said sincerely. There was no grudge in her heart against Mi Young at all. Even though at that time Dae Hyun was devastated when he got the news that Mi Young was going to get married soon.

"Thank you, Aunt," Mi Young said.

"Surely you are now living happily with your husband and children," said Mrs. Park.

Mi Young smiled bitterly at this. Too happy to make her life felt even more empty. If only her marriage was fine Mi Young would never live in Seoul again. The woman immediately put away any thoughts of her current life.

"Do you know this doctor?" Aeri asked with a frown.

"Of course, Dae Hyun and Mi Young used to be close friends," said Mrs. Park, who did not want to bring up the relationship between them.

Aeri just nodded her head without wanting to know more about them because for her none of that mattered.

"Soo Yin, you are here too. It's been a long time since you visited our house." Being too enthusiastic about meeting Mi Young made Mrs. Park almost forget Soo Yin's presence in there. Even though she was her future daughter-in-law for her youngest son.

"Ah, yes," Soo Yin said with a faint smile. Really unexpected that she will meet her mother-in-law at a time like that.

"What did you come here for?" Mrs. Park asked curiously.

"I i" Soo Yin didn't know what to answer. All she did was look at Doctor Mi Young hopefully so she wouldn't say anything.

"Coincidentally Soo Yin and her friend just stopped by here," Doctor Mi Young said. From today's incident, she just found out that Soo Yin as the wife was not known by Dae Hyun's family.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 276 - 276 - Shopping With Mereyu's Mother

There was Doctor Mi Young's pity gaze for Soo Yin. It was very regrettable for a young and innocent girl like her to be involved in a quite complicated love life.

"Geez, it turns out that you guys know each other," Mrs. Park said, while smiling broadly.

"Auntie, I almost forgot not to invite you in. Come on, please come in," Mi Young said as she shifted her body from the door so they could enter.

"I'm here to have a check on my daughter-in-law's condition. Aeri, come inside with Li Sa, mom will be waiting outside with Soo Yin," Mrs. Park said. That woman always wanted to be close when she met Soo Yin.

"Then let's come in," Mi Young said and then entered the room first.

"Wait, Mom," Aeri said.

"Soo Yin, shouldn't you be working? Why are you two just relaxing and not at the hotel?" Aeri said while squinting at Jean and Soo Yin alternately.

"Sorry, we're taking a day off today," Jean said first. Seeing Soo Yin who seemed couldn't answer the question.

"That's right," Soo Yin said briefly.

"What a..." Aeri stopped her cursing because she realized that her mother-in-law was there.

Li Sa was also more silent for fear that if she talks too much her efforts to approach Park Soo Hyun through his mother will be in vain.

"Alright, mother. I'll go inside," Aeri said goodbye and then stepped inside.

Waiting for Aeri who was being examined, Mrs. Park invited Soo Yin to sit on a bench not far from where they were. At first Soo Yin wanted to go home right away but Mrs. Park insisted on forcing her that it made Soo Yin felt bad if she turned her down.

=====

Yeoju Premium Outlet,

After leaving the hospital, it was unexpected that Mrs. Park took Soo Yin and Jean shopping to a shopping center that sold branded goods. The one Soo Yin and Dae Hyun went to a few months ago.

Soo Yin had already called Chung Ho to just go back to the villa because there was no way to take that car either. Everyone might be suspicious, no one would believe a poor girl like Soo Yin had a private driver unless she was the mistress of a masher. Exactly like what Li Sa thought. In anticipation of such thinking from them, Soo Yin and Jean accepted Mrs. Park's invitation to share a car with her.

Luckily, Mrs. Park came so that no bickering occurred between them. Even though Soo Yin wanted to slap Li Sa's cheek again. Now she didn't need to be afraid of her cousin like she used to.

Aeri chose a car together with Li Sa. She didn't want to breathe in the same room as Soo Yin. Even though Dae Hyun didn't say who the woman who teased him, Soo Yin was also suspicious.

Aeri and Li Sa had already entered the Yeonju Premium Outlet area. They went to and fro from shop to shop in search of what they wanted. It had been a long time since Aeri had gone shopping so she used this time carefully.

Soo Yin and Jean just followed wherever Mrs. Park went. They had no intention of shopping at all. At first they only intended to go out for a walk not to shop so Soo Yin didn't bring the card Dae Hyun gave her.

"Soo Yin, please help mom to find clothes that fit. In a week there will be my nephew's wedding," Mrs. Park said while grabbing a hanbok or Korean clothes. Usually, parents will wear hanbok at their sibling's wedding. It was a form of preserving Korean traditional culture.

"You also have to come there," the middle-aged woman continued, while observing the details of the clothes she took.

Soo Yin smiled faintly as she nudged Jean's stomach with her elbow. Jean only glanced at Soo Yin while shaking her head.

"Soo Yin, does this hanbok suit me?" Mrs Park asked, whilst aligning the hanbok with her body.

Soo Yin was stunned because she didn't understand fashion at all.

"Whatever mother wear must be very suitable," Soo Yin said, trying to smile.

"You can always make mom happy. Always say if it's good for mother," Mrs Park said, chuckled at Soo Yin's innocence. Even so, she still liked her honesty who didn't know about fashion.

Soo Yin just scratched her head back in embarrassment.

After helping to choose Mrs. Park's clothes, they immediately went to the clothing shop next door. There were clothes in a dress model to go to parties or other formal events. There were also men's clothes but for formal events only

"Mother, what are we here for?" Soo Yin asked as she spread her gaze to see so many kinds of dresses that could attract the attention of young women. She thought that they would go home right away.

"Of course choosing clothes for the two of you. I'm glad you have you accompanying mother. Aeri and Li Sa have just gone somewhere instead. As a thank you, you guys choose the clothes you like," Mrs. Park said.

"No need, madame," Jean said quickly. The price of the average clothes in there were so fantastic that it can drain the pockets. Although it cannot be denied that Jean wanted one of the clothes in there.

"Don't hesitate," Mrs. Park said as she pushed Soo Yin and Jean slowly to go inside. Because they were currently still standing near the entrance.

Secretly, Mrs. Park sent a message to Park Soo Hyun to follow her to Yeonju Premium Outlet. Luckily his youngest son was not far from there.

Soo Yin and Jean didn't dare to choose clothes for them. All they did was look around without being dared to touch it.

"Jean, let's go home," Soo Yin said, whose legs felt sore.

"If you want to hurry home choose one of the dresses. Looks like your mother-in-law will not allow us to go home empty-handed," Jean whispered, afraid that Mrs. Park heard what they were talking about.

"I don't know which one to choose," Soo Yin said in a whisper too.

"Soo Yin, come here, looks like this dress suits you," Mrs. Park called, which made Soo Yin and Jean surprised.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 277 - 277 - Choose A Dress

Jean pushed Soo Yin's body lightly so that she walked towards her mother-in-law. It made her think that Soo Yin's life was very complicated. Loved by two people who were bound by brotherhood. In her heart, she hoped that one day Park Soo Hyun can open his heart to others.

'Jean, don't get your hopes up!' Jean whispered to herself. Although it was undeniable that until this moment she still loved that man.

Mrs. Park showed a luxurious peach dress above the knee to Soo Yin. According to her, it was perfect for Soo Yin's small body.

"Mother, I'm not going to any party," Soo Yin said quietly, afraid to offend her mother-in-law.

"This is for you to wear to my nephew's wedding. Anyway, you come with us. You can also invite Jean with you," said the middle-aged woman firmly.

"But, Mom," Soo Yin said, about to argue.

"If you don't like this one then you are free to choose another. But try it first," Mrs. Park said as she pulled Soo Yin's hand into the dressing room to try on the dress she chose.

Soo Yin was forced into the changing room. Obediently trying on the dress her mother-in-law chose. When she saw her body in front of the mirror, actually the dress was very beautiful but the upper part was slightly open. If Dae Hyun saw it he definitely wouldn't allow her to wear it. Even so, Soo Yin still came out wearing it even with a sluggish face.

"Jean, what about the dress Soo Yin is wearing? Is that good?" Mrs. Park asked to Jean to give an assessment.

Soo Yin gave the code by shaking her head. In order for Jean to say that the dress didn't suit her.

"Looks like this dress is very good when used by Soo Yin, madam. But Soo Yin's chest is slightly open," Jean said while glancing at Soo Yin who was pointing at her cleavage which was slightly open. She knew that Soo Yin must be very uncomfortable wearing it.

"Geez, that's right. Park Soo Hyun will definitely be angry if he finds out that mom chose this dress for you. He really doesn't like women who wear clothes that are too revealing," Mrs. Park said, while watching Soo Yin's cleavage.

Soo Yin was shocked to hear that statement. Did not think that the brothers had the same taste in terms of women. No wonder they fell in love with the same woman. But Soo Yin immediately brushed off the thought, she hit her head lightly because she was already thinking nonsense.

"Soo Yin, change your clothes again. We should just wait for Park Soo Hyun to come here," Mrs. Park said as she took out her cellphone from her bag to contact Park Soo Hyun but unfortunately it was not picked up. Looked like he was on his way now.

"Mr. Park Soo Hyun is coming here, Mom?" Soo Yin gasped at that. She immediately glanced at Jean to give her an idea of what to do now. Really Soo Yin didn't want to meet Park Soo Hyun.

Jean actually shrugged her shoulders while lifting up her palms which indicated she didn't know either.

"While waiting for Park Soo Hyun to come, mom will choose clothes for Jean," Mrs. Park said while holding Jean's hand. It made Jean feel like her mother had come back to life. It was great to meet Mrs. Park who didn't feel embarrassed to go shopping with a poor girl like her.

It felt like Soo Yin wanted to run away when she heard that Park Soo Hyun was coming. Regretted that Soo Yin was out today, she should just go to the hospital tomorrow. But what could she do if it was like rice had turned into porridge. There was no way time will ever be back.

If she can ask, she even wanted if the time was turned back in the morning. Let her husband at home, then hugged him tightly. Nothing will disturb her if she was in the villa.

"Arghh!" Soo Yin covered her face with her palm. She rubbed her face with a huff. Continued to curse in her heart, regretted her decision to leave the villa.

Soo Yin chose to sit on a chair to wait for Mrs. Park who was choosing clothes for Jean. Her legs were already feeling very sore. Plus her stomach that had asked to be filled because it was soon lunch time.

Park Soo Hyun's arrival at the place also made Soo Yin feel bad for Jean. She can only hope that Jean always understood and believed in her.

Soo Yin removed her palm from her face. Felt tired made her want to close her eyes for a moment while leaning on the back of the chair. Even drowsiness had begun to land in her eyes.

The seat Soo Yin was at was not far from the entrance. So that when Park Soo Hyun entered the shop he could immediately see Soo Yin for the first time.

With wide steps and a charming smile, Park Soo Hyun walked over to Soo Yin.

"Soo Yin," Park Soo Hyun called when the distance was close.

Soo Yin then opened her eyes when she faintly heard someone calling her name. As soon as she saw who had come, Soo Yin immediately sat down properly. Tremblingly, she adjusted her clothes.

Park Soo Hyun threw himself down to sit next to Soo Yin. After the complicated work was done, it was great to see Soo Yin. It was like getting new energy.

Soo Yin shifted her body slightly away. Dae Hyun's prohibition kept ringing in her head of not allowing any man to touch her. Including his own brother, without exception. That really made her dizzy.

"Soo Yin, where is my mother?" asked Park Soo Hyun while circulating his gaze but could not find the figure of the woman he was looking for.

"Mother is with Jean over there," Soo Yin said, while pointing to where they were.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 278 - 278 - Not Yet Over

"Then I'll catch up with them," she continued, while rising to her feet.

"Later, stay here for a while," Park Soo Hyun said as he grabbed Soo Yin's wrist.

Soo Yin hurriedly withdrew her hand. Didn't want yesterday's incident to happen again. It could be that now Dae Hyun was there, because sometimes things were unexpected. Soo Yin felt like a spy was stalking her.

"I'm afraid they are looking for me," Soo Yin said to provide an excuse. Being alone with Park Soo Hyun made her feel uncomfortable for fear that the man would ask her the answer.

"Okay, then I'll come." Park Soo Hyun then stood up and followed Soo Yin's footsteps who had already walked before him.

It turns out that Mrs. Park was waiting for Jean who was trying on clothes in the dressing room.

"Mother, is it finished?" Soo Yin asked.

"Yes, now it's up to you two to choose. Park Soo Hyun, choose clothes that match Soo Yin's dress. You have to look like the perfect couple at your cousin's wedding," Mrs. Park said.

"Very well, Mom." Park Soo Hyun and the others had agreed that at his cousin's wedding he would introduce Soo Yin as his future wife. Whether Soo Yin accepted his love or not. Because Mrs. Park assured that Soo Yin would be willing to accept him.

Jean, who was still in the dressing room, only sighed softly. Tried to calm her heart to be normal. Because Soo Yin had told everything about why until now she pretended to be kind to Park Soo Hyun. Actually there was a sense of pity for the man because his love was unrequited. But Jean won't say anything.

After finishing changing her clothes, Jean immediately came out of the changing room.

"Jean, it's been a while since we saw each other," Park Soo Hyun said. It was nice to meet Jean, since the night when he told Soo Yin his feelings, he hadn't thanked Jean for helping him.

Jean just bent her body and smiled faintly. She lowered her gaze because she didn't dare look at Park Soo Hyun's face. Especially when she saw each other, it would make Jean's chest ache.

"Park Soo Hyun, why are you taking so long?" Mrs. Park grumbled.

"Sorry mother, I have work to do first," Park Soo Hyun said with a soft sigh. Regretted that he was too late to come to that place.

"Alright, let's find clothes for both of you," Mrs. Park said.

Jean just followed wherever they stepped in silence. Since Park Soo Hyun's arrival, her lips felt heavy when she was about to say something. Maybe because she was too nervous to see that man again. Since that night, Jean was determined not to want to meet again. But fate said otherwise, they were reunited in unexpected circumstances.

Of the many dresses in the shop, but none of them match. Jean chose to sit because she was tired of following them. She actually felt sorry to see Soo Yin's face which was already pale but there was not much she could do.

"This seems like a good fit," Mrs Park said after the shop assistants brought out ten sets of matching dresses and men's suits.

Now Mrs. Park was stretching out a white long dress, very beautiful and elegant when Soo Yin wore it because the top was closed. The lower part also covered her legs. Meanwhile, men's clothes also have a matching color, namely white bones.

Soo Yin was forced to obey her mother-in-law to try on clothes for the umpteenth time. This time Park Soo Hyun also tried it. When they stood parallel, Mrs. Park was amazed that they looked so good together.

"Look, you look very suitable," Mrs. Park said while being amazed. Her face which had fine lines, looked happy.

Soo Yin felt like crying when Mrs. Park asked her to hold Park Soo Hyun's arm. It was like rehearsal at their wedding. Luckily Jean wasn't with them. Soo Yin can't imagine if Jean saw it.

"You two are amazing." Mrs. Park chuckled in awe with an applause. She immediately asked them to change clothes after finding the right one.

Soo Yin can breathe a sigh of relief, finally today's activity was over. Now she sat on the bench with Jean. Meanwhile, Mrs. Park and Park Soo Hyun were making payments. Soo Yin patted her forehead, forgot not to text her husband yet. Even she had promised to tell him when she arrived at the hospital.

Soo Yin immediately reached for her cellphone from the bag. No messages came in because it seemed like Dae Hyun was still very busy. Even so, Soo Yin still sent him a message.

"Jean, I'm tired," Soo Yin said as she leaned her head on the back of the chair.

"Hopefully we'll be home soon," Jean said.

Actually they could just go if they wanted to run away but they didn't want to be rude. Especially Soo Yin who wanted to always be nice to her mother-in-law. Regardless whether Mrs. Park knew or not of her status as Dae Hyun's wife. For her, she still had to respect her.

"You must be hungry, let's have lunch first," Mrs. Park said while approaching Soo Yin and Jean.

Park Soo Hyun was already behind his mother while carrying several paper bags containing the clothes they had just bought.

"No, Mom. We better go home," Soo Yin said politely.

"You can only go home after lunch," Mrs. Park said sternly.

Soo Yin's body immediately felt limp. She thought it would end but in fact it was not that easy.

Didn't know what's wrong with today so that many incidents required Soo Yin to meet people who knew about her relationship with Dae Hyun.

Even now they were in a typical Japanese restaurant in Yeonju Premium Outlet. The restaurant belonged to none other than Jung Rok, one of Dae Hyun's friends. Soo Yin remembered that Dae Hyun also took her there even though she hadn't had time to taste the food.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 279 - 279 - Pretend Not To Know

"Where are Aeri and Li Sa? Since they disappeared, they haven't returned yet," Mrs. Park grumbled while trying to contact the two of them. Actually the call was connected but not picked up. Maybe they were still very busy shopping right now.

Jung Rok, who was the owner of the restaurant, immediately met the four of them. He was happy because the guest who came to his restaurant was the family of one of his friends. Although now he was very rare to see Dae Hyun because of their busy schedules.

"Welcome, Auntie. It's nice that you guys want to stop by here," said Jung Rok as he bowed his body in respect and courtesy.

"It's nice to meet you, it seems like we've never met," Mrs. Park said with a friendly smile.

"Yes, Auntie," Jung Rok said, while glancing at Soo Yin who had been looking down. It's been a long time since he saw her that made him forget Soo Yin's face a bit. But he firmly believed that she was Dae Hyun's second wife.

"Auntie, didn't Dae Hyun come with you?" Jung Rok asked to Mrs. Park.

"He's been very busy lately. Even now he often stays at hotels more than at home," Mrs. Park said.

"Does my brother rarely come here?" Park Soo Hyun said who knew that they were close friends of his brother.

"He came here a few months ago together with the others here too," said Jung Rok as he watched Soo Yin's face. Upon closer inspection, he firmly believed that it was his best friend's wife.

Soo Yin still lowered her head. Hopefully, Jung Rok didn't recognize her face. She didn't want him to say everything about her.

"Who are they, Auntie?" Jung Rok asked, while pointing at the two girls who were sitting next to each other. Still pretended not to recognize them to be more sure.

"Let me introduce you, this is Soo Yin and Jean. Soo Yin is our future daughter-in-law, Park Soo Hyun really likes her," Mrs. Park said, did not reluctantly introduced Soo Yin as her future daughter-in-law.

Inevitably, Soo Yin then raised her head to look at Jung Rok for a moment. Cold sweat had run off of her forehead since sitting there. As much as possible, Soo Yin gave a friendly smile.

"Nice to meet you," Jung Rok said while looking at Soo Yin meaningfully.

"Sorry, I want to go to the toilet for a bit," Soo Yin said. She was afraid that Jung Rok will recognize her face because Soo Yin felt that the man was looking at her differently. Without asking any more, she hurriedly stepped into the toilet.

Soo Yin immediately closed the bathroom door tightly. Then leaned in there, while clutching her chest. Her breath was still roaring with nervousness.

"What should I do?" Soo Yin muttered. She was really afraid that Jung Rok will leak about her relationship with Dae Hyun.

After starting to calm down, Soo Yin washed her face repeatedly while looking at her face in front of the mirror above the sink. Wanted to contact Dae Hyun right now but Soo Yin was afraid to interfere with her husband's work. Even though she intended to ask him to contact Jung Rok.

Soo Yin tried to tell herself that everything will be fine. Only then did she decide to leave.

As soon as she opened the door, Soo Yin was shocked because Jung Rok was standing in front of the door. The man's gaze was full of intimidation and deep curiosity.

"Miss, can we talk for a moment?" Jung Rok asked. He needed clarity about his best friend's relationship. Didn't want an innocent girl like Soo Yin to play with Dae Hyun.

With her eyes still wide open, Soo Yin subconsciously nodded her head. Then she followed Jung Rok's steps to the back of the restaurant.

"Miss, please explain to me how can you become Park Soo Hyun's future wife when you are the wife of his brother?" Jung Rok said while standing with his back to Soo Yin.

"Sir, please don't say anything about our relationship to them. Actually they don't know that I'm married to Dae Hyun yet," said Soo Yin softly.

"Then, why can auntie say if you are Park Soo Hyun's future wife?" Jung Rok turned around to meet Soo Yin's eyes. Wanted to know if there were no lies in her words.

"It's because Park Soo Hyun likes me but I really don't like him. Dae Hyun also knows about this," said Soo Yin as she straightened her head.

"Geez, it turns out that your life is very complicated," said Jung Rok, whilst shaking his head.

"Now come back, I'm not going to say anything about your relationship with Dae Hyun," Jung Rok said. It was difficult to distinguish who was the victim among them.

"Thank you, sir," Soo Yin said as she bent her body. Now she can breathe easy because she had said everything.

Jung Rok just nodded his head. Staring at Soo Yin's back who slowly disappeared behind the door.

When Soo Yin returned to her seat, it turned out that there were already Li Sa and Aeri. The table was also filled with various kinds of Japanese specialties. There were Sushi, Sashimi, Unigiri, Takoyaki, Yakiniiku, Tempura and many others.

"Soo Yin, where have you been? Why are you taking so long?" Aeri grumbled as she looked at Soo Yin with a cynical gaze.

Mrs. Park gave her daughter-in-law an unpleasant look. Aeri even just arrived but was cursing incoherently. Even though the one who should be angry was Mrs. Park.

"Aeri, there's no need to make a fuss. Besides, where have you been? Since earlier mother was looking for you," Mrs. Park said to intercede for them. After all, the middle-aged woman didn't want to make Soo Yin feel uncomfortable.

"Sorry mother, we were too busy. So we forgot about you," said Aeri, while grimacing without any guilt at all. For her shopping with her mother-in-law was very annoying. So that earlier she deliberately chose to shop with Li Sa.

"Soo Yin, eat," Mrs. Park said who was reluctant to respond to Aeri's words. Preferred to take food into Soo Yin's empty plate.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 280 - 280 - Always Being Put Down

Wanting to pay more attention, Park Soo Hyun did the same as his mother. Put a different menu on Soo Yin's plate until the plate was full.

"Sorry, I can't eat this much," Soo Yin said.

"Soo Yin, you better finish it all and don't be embarrassed. You must rarely eat food like this," Li Sa sneered with a soft remark. It was impossible if she said harshly because she did not want to make Mrs. Park didn't like her.

Li Sa didn't know that Park Soo Hyun liked Soo Yin because Aeri forgot to tell her everything. All she knew was that it was Jean who was trying to get close to Park Soo Hyun. That's why Li Sa had always looked at Jean like such a disgusting thing.

Indeed, Soo Yin admitted that she never ate it, but Li Sa's words already offended her. Soo Yin tried to act casual as if she didn't hear anything. After all, all this time she was used to swallowing the harsh words that came out of her cousin's mouth.

"Li Sa, watch your words," Park Soo Hyun said with a cold face. He didn't like the words that were leaving Li Sa's lips.

"I'm just telling the truth. Isn't that how it is, Soo Yin?" Li Sa said without any guilt. She glanced at Soo Yin fiercely.

Soo Yin chose to remain silent. Responding to a girl like Li Sa would only make her blood go up.

"Well, let's eat. It's not good to eat while talking," Mrs. Park said.

They then ate in silence, only the sound of the spoon and the plate clashing occasionally that could be heard. They looked very good chewing food made from raw fish meat. Meanwhile, Soo Yin actually felt sick to see it. So she pushed Sushi and Sashimi aside. Then put the chopsticks on the plate because she was full.

Li Sa who saw that raised a lip upward.

"Soo Yin, why don't you eat the Sashimi?" Li Sa asked, who had been wanting to mess with Soo Yin.

"I don't like it," Soo Yin said curtly.

"Girls like you certainly don't like that kind of food," Li Sa sneered.

Soo Yin was silent again, the fact was that she really didn't like the menu.

Suddenly Park Soo Hyun pulled Soo Yin's plate in front of him. Using the same chopsticks Soo Yin used, he feed a piece of sashimi into his mouth.

"If you don't like it, just let me eat it," said Park Soo Hyun while chewing the food that was in his mouth.

Everyone seemed flabbergasted looking at Park Soo Hyun. Including Soo Yin who tried to drink her saliva.

'Can that be said to be kissing?' ~ Soo Yin thought with a wobbly mind. She remembered what Dae Hyun said when they drank in the same glass. With flabbergasted eyes, Soo Yin immediately closed her mouth. About to grab the chopsticks but Park Soo Hyun pushed them away.

"Mr. Park Soo Hyun, why are you eating with chopsticks used by Soo Yin? You will catch the virus later," Li Sa said with her widened eyes.

"Li Sa, what are you. Do you think Soo Yin carries the virus," said Park Soo Hyun with a flat face.

"You better have to be careful. It could be if she is sick," Li Sa sneered without caring about Soo Yin's feelings.

Soo Yin only knitted her brows together at Li Sa's statement. Tried to get used to not getting provoked by emotions. After all, Li Sa used to talk as her will. While not calling her a slut or something Soo Yin can still hold back her emotions.

"Li Sa, watch your words. You don't have to spread bad news like that," Park Soo Hyun said coldly. He didn't want Soo Yin to be said to be carrying the virus.

"Why do you always defend her?" Li Sa said as she pursed her lips.

"Of course because I really like her," Park Soo Hyun said honestly as he glanced at Soo Yin.

"What?" Li Sa really couldn't believe what she heard. She thought Park Soo Hyun was close to Jean, not her cousin.

"Never mind, don't argue. Now eat," Mrs. Park said, who didn't want them to make a fuss. She regretted for contacting Aeri and Li Sa to lunch together.

Finally now Li Sa fell silent. But her fists continued to clench, while holding back her anger because she had just found out the truth. So far, she had been wrong on target. If she knew from the start that Soo Yin was flirting with her man, she would have immediately made a calculation.

"Li Sa, calm down," Aeri whispered in the girl's ear so as not to be carried away with emotion because her face looked already red.

Li Sa just turned to look at Aeri in annoyance. Because from the start she didn't tell her about this.

"Sorry, I forgot to tell you," Aeri whispered again. What was in Aeri's head was that Soo Yin was a woman who had tried to seduce her husband. There was no thought of telling everything to Li Sa.

Li Sa turned her face the other way. She looked at Soo Yin with fiery eyes.

Soo Yin was now sipping green tea to clear her throat after eating. Pretended not to notice Li Sa's gaze upon her. Even though she knew very well that after this she would likely get into trouble. Li Sa couldn't just let her go.

Meanwhile, Jean just looked down, even though her heart ached, but it was not as painful as before knowing about Soo Yin who was married to Dae Hyun. What she felt right now was a deep sense of pity for the man she loved.

"Soo Yin, is your drink tastes good?" Park Soo Hyun asked.

"Of course," Soo Yin said as she put down the cup containing green tea half of the cup.

Again, Park Soo Hyun grabbed the cup, then drank the contents until they ran out.

"You're right, it turns out really good." Park Soo Hyun gulped it down.