

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 421 - 421 - I'm Sleepy

"After Yeon Ho trusts me again, I will quickly take care of everything," said Dae Hyun while thinking of ways to easily divorce Aeri. There was always something standing in the way.

"Can't you let Yeon Ho go? Sometimes in life you can only choose one," said Soo Yin with a long sigh.

Dae Hyun looked down at Soo Yin, trying to understand what she meant.

'Maybe she's tired from having a relationship like this,' Dae Hyun thought with a hollow smile. He was also tired of always having to hide. He knew that Soo Yin had sacrificed a lot during their time together.

"I will try to accept if Yeon Ho really has to live with Aeri." Dae Hyun tightened his hug. But if he let go of Jo Yeon Ho, his mother would be very against it.

Soo Yin couldn't lie to herself if she wanted to be like everyone else. They were free to join hands anywhere without any fear of being caught.

"Forget what I said. I can understand how difficult it must be for you." Soo Yin regretted saying it. There shouldn't be a need to say that because Dae Hyun will definitely think about what she said.

"Today, let's go for a walk. Haven't we been gone for a long time?" asked Dae Hyun to change the subject.

"I just want to be here. Being with you like this already makes me happier. Outside, I'm always restless because I can't be this close," said Soo Yin.

Her hand held Dae Hyun's nape and kissed his cheek.

Dae Hyun smiled as he ruffled Soo Yin's hair.

"Do you remember Hyo Rin?" Soo Yin lifted her face.

"Hmmm." Daehyun nodded his head.

"She's so weird now. These days she's been so nice to me. Even though she and Li Sa used to make fun of me before," said Soo Yin.

"It's actually good," said Dae Hyun flatly.

Soo Yin narrowed her eyes, it seemed that something was wrong. Her husband must have said something to Hyo Rin.

"Did you do something to her?" Soo Yin said with an intimidating look.

"A little," said Dae Hyun honestly.

Soo Yin pinched Dae Hyun's waist. It turned out that her suspicions were true if Dae Hyun did something to threaten Hyo Rin like when they were at the cinema.

Soo Yin stopped her activities which was pinching Dae Hyun's waist. When her phone rang loud enough when it vibrated on the table.

[Soo Yin, tonight we have to meet. Please don't make me wait too long. Don't forget to bring the necklace] Park Soo Hyun.

Soo Yin's body temperature felt hot and cold when she read the message from Park Soo Hyun.

"What is wrong?" Dae Hyun frowned.

Soo Yin handed Dae Hyun her cell phone for him to read it himself. She tried to be calm and not nervous.

"Come, tonight I will take you," said Dae Hyun after replying to the message.

Soo Yin nodded her head. She was determined not to make Park Soo Hyun wait too long because he also deserved to be happy with another girl.

Since Soo Yin didn't want to go anywhere, Dae Hyun seemed to regret it if they just relaxed and did nothing. Just clinging to each other was not fun.

Dae Hyun then carried Soo Yin's body to their room.

"I'd love to know your new game." Dae Hyun's lips pulled back into a mischievous smile that was so seductive.

Soo Yin's face turned red and hot when she heard that. She was not ashamed when she said it this morning. Because she was still carried away with a little anger because of Aeri's words that hurt her so much.

"Why? Did you forget what you said earlier? About you offering me of what style I want." Dae Hyun smiled as he looked into Soo Yin's eyes whose face was like tomatoes.

"N... no," Soo Yin stuttered.

Last night, Soo Yin watched the movies in a drunken state so it wasn't too detailed to see it. Regarding of what she said this morning, it was just a challenge for her. Luckily, Dae Hyun didn't want to and let her go.

Dae Hyun laid Soo Yin's body on the bed and kissed her eyelids which always melted his heart. Then lied down beside Soo Yin.

Soo Yin just kept silent instead then turned her face away and turned her back to her husband. There was a feeling of shame when she remembered that she said it earlier. It was not like her who was usually shy but willing.

"Why are you silent?" said Dae Hyun, who was ready to know what Soo Yin's game was like. Curious what styles she had seen.

"I'm sleepy," said Soo Yin casually. Although at this time she was trying to remember of what she saw last night.

"Hurry up and start, didn't you say you were impatient?" Dae Hyun stared at the ceiling of the room as he laid on his back. Since then, his lips have grown into a suppressed smile.

"I didn't say it," Soo Yin said while holding her chest because it was beating so fast.

"No need to be shy like that," said Dae Hyun. His hand gripped Soo Yin's finger and squeezed it gently.

Dae Hyun's continuous squeezing of fingers immediately gave a swish effect all over Soo Yin's body. It made her move nervously, afraid that Dae Hyun would asked about what she said this morning.

Soo Yin tried to calm her heart first so as not to be nervous. Although this was arguably the umpteenth time but Soo Yin still felt anxious. This time she was worried that she would embarrass herself and disappoint Dae Hyun.

The atmosphere in the room was quiet. The only sound was the sound of Soo Yin's body moving repeatedly on the sheets.

Never getting a response, with a quick movement, Dae Hyun made Soo Yin on top of him.

"Ughhh," Soo Yin exclaimed in surprise and unpreparedness, until her lips accidentally pressed against Dae Hyun's.

Dae Hyun was silent without moving his lips. Allowed Soo Yin to be as aggressive as this morning.

Finally Soo Yin ventured to start first. She kissed Dae Hyun's lips slowly and so softly while getting used to being what his husband wanted.

Based on an article she just read a few days ago. Most men will look for other women because they did not get satisfaction. Soo Yin thought that Dae Hyun might not find satisfaction in bed with Aeri.

Soo Yin stopped her kiss and then looked into Dae Hyun's eagle eyes.

"Is one of the reasons of why you're marrying me is because you were not getting satisfaction from Aeri?" She said innocently.

"Not really, Aeri is actually very satisfying in bed," said Dae Hyun honestly.

"Then why?" asked Soo Yin as she launched her action. Slowly, one by one, Dae Hyun's shirt buttons were removed. Deliberately talked to him so Dae Hyun didn't notice so that Soo Yin won't be too embarrassed.

"Because I love you. Lust is only for a moment while love will last forever. It will not be beautiful if in life we only rely on lust. Everything must be balanced," said Dae Hyun. Now his body started to stiffen because Soo Yin seemed to be more adept at playing with her hands on his sensitive parts.

Dae Hyun closed his eyes, feeling the heat that was getting hotter.

Now Soo Yin's hands had started to unbuckle his belt. Played her fingers over Dae Hyun's stomach which was able to make women melt seeing his shape.

The sound of sighs began to escape from Dae Hyun's lips which sounded so sexy. Only this time Soo Yin could hear it clearly. Soo Yin smiled when she saw the look on his face. It turned out to be so cute that it made her smile.

Soo Yin kept stalling, letting Dae Hyun feel the stifled rage.

Dae Hyun opened his eyes when he heard Soo Yin's voice which was chuckling in amusement.

"Is there something funny?" Dae Hyun furrowed his brows in between his increasingly passionate desire.

"You look so sexy," Soo Yin whispered in Dae Hyun's ear then bit the tip of his earlobe.

Dae Hyun was getting more and more impatient because Soo Yin never did it even though his desire was now at the top.

"Can't you start right now? You can make me die young if this continues," said Dae Hyun who was already getting frustrated.

"Then you can just do it," said Soo Yin with pouting lips.

"I just want to know how you serve me. Is it much better than Aeri or not." Dae Hyun deliberately provoked Soo Yin's anger, said it with his eyes closed so as not to see her face which must be angry.

Soo Yin's chest started to burn because of Dae Hyun's words which were comparing her to Aeri.

Now she started to aggressively crush Dae Hyun's lips. Until Dae Hyun's breath was now panting even though he was usually the one in control.

Soo Yin continued to take over more of what she watched last night. Didn't care if Dae Hyun would say that she was like a wild bitch. It didn't matter if she was wild for her own husband.

Dae Hyun only followed Soo Yin's game. Allowed her to dominate as she pleased. Wanted to know how far Soo Yin's ability was now.

Seeing Soo Yin's sweaty and exhausted face, Dae Hyun couldn't bear it. With a quick movement, he had turned Soo Yin's body so that she was now under him.

Dae Hyun started to play his role again. He just wanted to know how much effort Soo Yin had for him.

"You're much smarter now," Dae Hyun whispered.

"No matter how smart I am, I can't even keep up with your game," said Soo Yin with a wistful look and gasping for breath.

"You can never do it," said Dae Hyun on the whilst uniting their love.

The time had passed, but Dae Hyun was still holding on and trying to satisfy his little wife who had repeatedly achieved worldly pleasures.

Soo Yin continued to say his name while moaning in a sexy voice and wriggling spoiled.

Dae Hyun stopped it after reaching his pleasure. Then collapsed on top of Soo Yin's body. This time he didn't wear safety because he wanted to spit the love liquid in Soo Yin's womb. Wanted to grow the seeds of their love in her womb. After all, it had been a long time since the miscarriage.

Without realising, time had passed so quickly. It was now evening, Soo Yin was still in a prone position on the bed, only wrapped in her blanket.

While Dae Hyun just came out of the bathroom with wet hair. He then walked over to the bed.

"Honey, don't you want to get ready to meet your brother-in-law?" Dae Hyun said.

Soo Yin still had her eyes closed. It turned out that her body was more tired than usual. It really was like a battle.

"Do you want it again?" Dae Hyun teased in Soo Yin's ear.

"Don't bother me. My body is more tired than usual," Soo Yin grumbled.

"You said you wanted to serve me but why did you fall," said Dae Hyun, chuckling in amusement.

Dae Hyun was now sitting by Soo Yin's side and then did a gentle massage on her shoulder. Slowly his hands moved to her back, pressing her bones.

"Honey, you're very good at massaging me. Why don't you just become a masseur," said Soo Yin while enjoying the sensation of Dae Hyun's massage which was able to relax her body. The soreness slowly began to disappear.

"Are you sure if I can do it? Surely there will be many women who ask for a massage by me," said Dae Hyun.

"I'll beat them up if they do that," said Soo Yin sarcastically.

Dae Hyun shook his head slowly because Soo Yin was still easily influenced and burned with jealousy even though it was just a joke.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 423 - 423 - He's An Adult

"Get ready immediately, meet your brother-in-law. It's a pity if he waited too long," said Dae Hyun, who was still doing a massage on Soo Yin's feet. Traced every curve of his little wife's body on purpose.

"Dae Hyun, don't be naughty." Soo Yin moved her hand to push Dae Hyun's hand away from her sensitive area.

"So get up now. Take a shower and change your clothes as beautiful as possible. After that I will take you to dinner," said Dae Hyun.

"You said I had to meet your brother. How could we possibly have dinner." Soo Yin turned her body in a supine position.

"Well, don't protest too much." Dae Hyun was excited because Soo Yin didn't wake up, so he immediately carried her body.

"Where are you taking me?" Soo Yin said while holding her chest as the blanket covering her body fell to the floor.

"I will bathe you. A woman who refuses a man must take a flower bath first," said Dae Hyun, laughing so crisply.

Soo Yin only complied when Dae Hyun helped her to scrub her back and arms with soap.

If Soo Yin didn't have an appointment with Park Soo Hyun tonight, Dae Hyun will definitely eat her again. Every curve of Soo Yin's body was always able to make him want to touch her.

"Look, your legs always bruise when I do it," said Dae Hyun when he saw the bluish rash on Soo Yin's feet.

"It's okay, it doesn't hurt at all," Soo Yin said with a grimace. She didn't want to make Dae Hyun feel guilty so he would stay away from her like yesterday.

"Ughhh, you always lie," said Dae Hyun. Then took Soo Yin outside after giving her a towel.

Dae Hyun prepared the dress that Soo Yin will wear tonight. He wanted their meeting as planned so that Dae Hyun can breathe a sigh of relief. One of his competitors will crash. It was useless to stall times for too long.

Park Soo Hyun had already sent a message asking them to meet again at the Sky Rose Garden. The place where he confessed his love.

Dae Hyun waited in the parking lot because Soo Yin didn't want him to follow her upstairs.

"Honey, what if he gets angry?" Soo Yin was very nervous because she was afraid that Park Soo Hyun would hate her.

"Calm down, he's an adult. It should be accepted gracefully." Dae Hyun gripped Soo Yin's fingers to ease her nervousness.

"Then, what should be said as the reason?" Soo Yin said.

"Just tell him if you're married to me," said Dae Hyun casually.

Soo Yin hit Dae Hyun on the shoulder because he was always never taking her questions seriously.

"Shouldn't we be telling the truth?" Dae Hyun said. Even though it was painful for Park Soo Hyun, the truth had to be revealed.

"Never mind, I better get out. Talking to you makes me want to be angry," Soo Yin grumbled while pouting her lips.

"Come here, I'm not going to make you angry and at the same time treat it." Dae Hyun leaned closer to Soo Yin's face and pressed his lips to hers for a few seconds before finally letting go.

Soo Yin smiled as she held her lips with her finger.

Soo Yin's phone rang again.

[Soo Yin, have you arrived yet? If not, tell me where to take you?] Park Soo Hyun.

Soo Yin read it without intending to reply.

"Hurry up, it seems like your brother-in-law can't wait to meet you," Dae Hyun said with a chuckle.

Soo Yin nodded her head. Then got out of the car.

Tonight she looked so elegant in a simple peach colored dress but so fit and looked good on her body. Left her long hair loose on her shoulders.

Soo Yin took the elevator in a nervous state. It turned out that this was how it felt when she wanted to reject someone. Even though she hadn't reject him, but there was already pity in her heart.

Park Soo Hyun had arrived ten minutes ago. Since being there, he hadn't sat his butt in the chair at all. His hands were sweating cold from holding back nervousness.

The man stepped back and forth, waiting for the arrival of the idol of his heart. There was an eagerness to know what kind of answer Soo Yin would give. Since the question had been unanswered for too long.

His face immediately blossomed like a rose when he saw Soo Yin walking towards him. His eyes couldn't take his eyes off of Soo Yin who was so charming.

"Soo Yin," he muttered. Then pulled a chair so that Soo Yin sat there.

Soo Yin just bit her lower lip. Didn't dare to look at her brother-in-law in the eye.

"Who did you come here with?" asked Park Soo Hyun.

"I... I came alone by taxi," Soo Yin stammered. Lowered her gaze in another direction.

Unlike before, there were only them. Now the place was quite busy occupied by visitors. Their current table position was in the midst of other diners.

Park Soo Hyun immediately waved his hand to the waiter.

Without asking, the waiter seemed to have understood what Park Soo Hyun wanted.

"Park Soo Hyun, may I answer now?" said Soo Yin who didn't want to be there too long.

"Don't be in a hurry, let's just have dinner first," said Park Soo Hyun.

Soo Yin just let out a long sigh. Since then, she had been sitting restlessly. She repeatedly shifted her ass because Park Soo Hyun didn't even ask about the answer.

All orders were already served at the table. But Soo Yin had no appetite to eat at all. Soo Yin only ate a little because Park Soo Hyun kept pushing her.

Now in the middle of the table, there was a red cake with a heart shape. Park Soo Hyun wanted to throw another surprise in it.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 424 - 424 - I Can't Accept It

Soo Yin took out the necklace that had been in her hand for a long time. With shaking hands, she put it on the table and pushed it towards Park Soo Hyun.

"Soo Yin, what is this?" asked Park Soo Hyun when he saw the necklace in front of him.

"Park Soo Hyun, before I say it. Will you promise about something?" said Soo Yin with a serious face. Ventured herself to look into the man's eyes with a sad look.

Soo Yin wanted to reject Park Soo Hyun with kind words so as not to hurt his feelings too much.

After all, they were family. She didn't want Park Soo Hyun to hate her.

"Of course, I'll do whatever you want." Park Soo Hyun was about to hold Soo Yin's hand which was on the table. But Soo Yin pulled it before it was touched.

"Will you not hate me no matter what?" asked Soo Yin earnestly. Her eyes looked very serious.

"What's up with you? Of course, I would never hate you. How could I do that." Park Soo Hyun chuckled because he found Soo Yin so cute tonight.

Soo Yin let out a long sigh as she didn't want to delay any longer. She will say everything so that her heart will feel relieved and there was no more burden to bear.

"Soo Hyun, I'm sorry...." Soo Yin stopped her speech.

"I... I can't accept it," Soo Yin continued with a tongue that was very hard to speak.

Like the sound of thunder booming.

Park Soo Hyun's mind felt giddy and empty. Didn't understand what Soo Yin actually said.

"No need to joke like that," said Park Soo Hyun who immediately realized.

"I'm not joking. Sorry, I can't accept all of this. You're too good for me. I beg you to find a good girl out there," Soo Yin said softly and her eyes were shady.

The words that came out of Soo Yin's lips were like a hard slap that pierced straight through his chest. Park Soo Hyun was stunned, unable to believe what he was hearing.

Soo Yin was scared to see Park Soo Hyun looked toward an empty direction in a certain place. His hands that were on the table clenched so tightly that the muscles in his hands appeared so clearly.

"Park Soo Hyun," Soo Yin said softly with trembling lips.

Park Soo Hyun closed his eyes for a moment. Tried to calm his heart and kept thinking positively. Believed that what was heard by him was wrong. There was no way that Soo Yin would embarrass him in front of people.

"Not funny, you must want to prank me, right?" Park Soo Hyun laughed so hard that it made Soo Yin feel even more guilty.

"Park Soo Hyun, don't think I'm joking. I'm telling you the truth." Soo Yin tried to explain everything.

"Soo Yin, you're really good at lying," said Park Soo Hyun, shaking his head slowly.

"I'm not lying because I don't want you," Soo Yin said in a slightly louder voice.

"Why did you say that? Don't you love me? Is there someone who threatens you so you want to reject me?" There was annoyance that started to be heard when Park Soo Hyun said it.

"No one threatens me. Sorry, I have to go," said Soo Yin and stood up.

Without daring to look into Park Soo Hyun's eyes, the girl turned around and walked away. Left a million wounds inscribed on Park Soo Hyun's heart.

"Soo Yin, wait!" called Park Soo Hyun as she was getting further and further away.

Soo Yin's breath felt very tight when she heard Park Soo Hyun calling her painfully. He must have been really hurt this time. Even so, she did not dare to turn around because it would hurt her.

With quick steps, Soo Yin immediately got into the elevator to go downstairs.

Empty and unbelievable. This time Park Soo Hyun still seemed to be dreaming because a few seconds ago Soo Yin had just rejected him. His body almost staggered to feel the pain in his heart.

It turned out that all this time he was so confident that Soo Yin loved him. Can he go home after this? His mother had even hoped that she would get good news. The next day, he planned to immediately propose to Soo Yin for her.

Park Soo Hyun was curious who his idol girl came with. So he stepped his foot to the side towards the guardrail. Popped his head into the parking lot below.

It turned out that Soo Yin got into one of the silver Maybach cars in the parking lot. What surprised him the most was that the car was so familiar to him.

Park Soo Hyun tried to think positively. There was no way it was his brother's car. There were many cars in this world that looked exactly the same.

Park Soo Hyun was increasingly curious about who was with Soo Yin. There was a desire to know which man who had snatched Soo Yin from his grasp.

The car slowly left the parking lot along with Soo Yin which left a million very stifling wounds in his chest.

Snow slowly began to fall from the sky even though it was not too cloudy. The night sky was sad to see Park Soo Hyun who was gloomy.

"Soo Yin, why do you have the heart to say it now? Why did you hang this feeling all this time?" said Park Soo Hyun very sadly. He looked down in sorrow. because it was the first time that a girl rejected him. It turned out to be very painful, even to stand, this time his legs felt very weak.

"Arghhhh!" shouted Park Soo Hyun while hitting the guardrail made of iron very strongly.

The people there stared in surprise at Park Soo Hyun who was sitting down. He knelt down, covering his face with both hands. Unable to hold back the bitter feelings, until there was a drop of water that came out of his eyelids.

A man who was known as a woman's type. Now he must be hurting to feel the rejection of a girl. Park Soo Hyun thought maybe it was karma for rejecting so many women who approached him.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 425 - 425 -

Dae Hyun looked at his wife's face, which looked gloomy and had been silent for a long time.

"What's the matter, honey? Are you regret that you turned him down?" Dae Hyun said, just guessing the feelings of his little wife.

"Park Soo Hyun will definitely hate me." Soo Yin said quietly with a downcast face.

"Believe me, he will definitely understand your decision. As time goes by, Park Soo Hyun will surely be able to accept everything." Dae Hyun rubbed Soo Yin's arm with one hand.

"What if he finds out if we have a relationship?" Soo Yin felt guilty because it seemed like Park Soo Hyun was devastated.

"Sooner or later in the end he will find out," said Dae Hyun.

Dae Hyun kept trying to calm his little wife while continuing to drive his car to a place. To cheer her up, Dae Hyun intended to take Soo Yin to a romantic place.

Park Soo Hyun drove his car at high speed without a definite direction and purpose. His gaze did not focus on the road in front of him at all.

If he knew he would be rejected by the girl he loved so much, he thought it would be better if he didn't survive the accident. It turned out to be true that Soo Yin had a man she might love so much that tonight she turned him down.

Then what was all the attention for when he was in the hospital and couldn't walk. Park Soo Hyun thought it was one of the sincere concerns of a lover.

As for the man in the photo, Park Soo Hyun had already investigated and found out. They had been close since they were in middle school. But there was no special relationship whatsoever.

Now it was just a matter of finding out who actually took Soo Yin away. But not now, because his mind was in a mess.

His heart was very hurt, as if there was a blunt sword that stabbed his chest repeatedly. Couldn't kill him but made the wound even more painful.

Park Soo Hyun drove his car until it hit the road divider and almost bounced if his feet didn't hit the brakes quickly.

He was forced to stop his car that was dented on the side of the road. Heartbreak had made him lose his mind.

"You really drive me crazy and I just want to die, Soo Yin!" Park Soo Hyun exclaimed as he hit the steering wheel. He lowered his head for a moment to catch his breath before continuing his journey again.

After 30 minutes of traveling around the streets of Seoul, Park Soo Hyun finally stopped his car at a bar. He needed something to calm his mind and forget everything even if only for a moment. Hopefully this was all just a dream that will never come true.

Once inside, Park Soo Hyun immediately ordered some wine from the waiter. His heart was already shattered into pieces by now. The girl he loved turned out to be just a lie. It turned out that the attention she showed while in the hospital was only a feeling of compassion, not love.

"Why don't you just kill me, Soo Yin?" Park Soo Hyun leaned his head on the sofa. Supported his body because he had a very heavy burden of fate.

Soo Yin was already asleep on the way back to Pyeongchang-dong villa. They were currently still in the car because Dae Hyun had just stopped his car in front of the terrace.

Dae Hyun just sighed resignedly remembering his little wife who was very scared if Park Soo Hyun hated her.

The ringing of the phone snapped Dae Hyun out of his thoughts. It was his mother who called him.

"What's the matter, Mom?" Dae Hyun asked. There was a sense of worry because her mother didn't usually call at nights like this. Something could have happened to Jo Yeon Ho.

"Dae Hyun, can't you ask someone to look for your brother's whereabouts?" Mrs. Park sounded really worried.

"Why?" Dae Hyun asked while massaging his temples.

Everyone knew that Dae Hyun was currently out of town. Chang Yuan had already arranged everything along with the travel documents. So, no one will suspect anything.

"Park Soo Hyun, until now he hasn't come home. He said he went to meet Soo Yin but until now he couldn't be contacted." Mrs. Park seemed traumatized by the accident that happened to Park Soo Hyun at that time.

"He's an adult so there's no need to worry. Maybe there's another reason why Park Soo Hyun doesn't come home," Dae Hyun said with a long sigh. His mother's worries were too much. But Dae Hyun became curious about where his brother really was so that until now he hadn't come home. There was no way that he'll be desperate.

"Anyway, mom doesn't care. If Park Soo Hyun doesn't come home tomorrow, you have to go back to Seoul to look for him," said Mrs. Park firmly.

"Alright, mom." Dae Hyun took a deep breath because his mother still considered Park Soo Hyun like Jo Yeon Ho who still had to be found if a few hours disappeared.

After turning off the phone, Dae Hyun called Chang Yuan to look for his brother's whereabouts. It didn't take long to find out. It turned out that Park Soo Hyun was at one of the bars.

"You two really like to spend time drinking when there's a problem." Dae Hyun squeaked in annoyance, one of his lips lifted upwards cursing his little wife and brother for having the same bad habit.

It was a good thing that Soo Yin didn't love his brother. If that happened, maybe when there was a slight problem they would get drunk together.

"Honey, don't get used to getting drunk again because it's not good for your body," Dae Hyun muttered while staring at his wife's face which was so peaceful while sleeping. It seemed that the anxiety he had felt earlier had started to dissipate.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 426 - 426

Griffin Bar,

Jean was very surprised when she saw that the man she had not seen for a long time was now in a pitiful state. Jean had just arrived because tonight she got a shift from night to morning so she didn't know what had happened.

According to some people, Park Soo Hyun was involved in a fistfight with a fellow bar patron. They were both overcome with emotion because of drunkenness. And was very difficult to separate because they both seemed to want to kill.

Park Soo Hyun's opponent had already left the bar with the help of his friend. Meanwhile, Park Soo Hyun was still lying there because no one brought him home. His face was covered in bruises from the impact. His nose and the corners of his lips were bleeding because dried blood was still stuck to them.

"Master, why are you like this?" said Jean pitifully. Couldn't hold back the pity she was feeling right now. It was like she felt pain that hit her face when she saw Park Soo Hyun's wound.

"Jean, do you know him?" asked one of the men who was her co-worker.

"Yeah, I know him," Jean stammered.

"Could you call his family to come pick him up?"

"Let me take care of it. Can you help me carry him to one of the rooms?" Jean considered everything, it was impossible to bring Park Soo Hyun home in such a state. His mother must be very worried.

The man nodded his head, then helped to carry Park Soo Hyun to the second floor with Jean.

Jean immediately took the first aid kit to treat the wound on Park Soo Hyun's face. Honestly, she couldn't bear to see him because she was used to seeing his handsome face without any flaws. Very different from now that even his eyelids were blackened from the blow.

Carefully, Jean wiped Park Soo Hyun's face with a small towel with warm water.

"Soo Yin, how could you so cruel to me," Park Soo Hyun raved in an indistinct voice but Jean could still hear him.

Jean stopped what she was doing. This time she guessed that maybe Soo Yin had rejected him.

"Soo Yin, tell me who you went with," Park Soo Hyun chirped back with his eyes tightly closed.

"Sir, please don't be like this," Jean whispered in such a sad tone.

Seeing him heartbroken really made her feel the pain. It turned out that Park Soo Hyun loved Soo Yin so much that he had made it this far.

Park Soo Hyun must have been filled with emotions for being rejected by Soo Yin.

Without realising, the sun was starting to show its light. Jean rubbed her eyes as she looked around the room.

Jean was quite surprised to have fallen asleep on the floor in a sitting position. Her head rested on Park Soo Hyun's arm which was on the sofa. She massaged her temples as she remembered that last night she did not work. Even though last night was her shift. It seemed like she must get ready to have her salary cut this month.

There was the sound of a cell phone ringing in Park Soo Hyun's pocket.

Jean let it until it turned off because she felt uncomfortable to have to answer it without permission. But the phone rang again, so Jean had to carefully reach into it.

Park Soo Hyun was still fast asleep so he didn't feel the vibration or Jean's hand.

There was the name 'mother' printed on the phone screen. Jean guessed that it was Mrs. Park.

"Hello, good morning," Jean said carefully and felt very nervous.

"Soo Yin, is this you? Where are you? Why can't I be contacted since last night?" asked Mrs. Park, barraged from across the phone.

"I'm Jean, not Soo Yin," she said with a pounding chest from talking to a woman who was expected to be her mother-in-law.

"Jean? Then where is Park Soo Hyun? Why are you two together?"

"Master is at the Griffin Bar. I just happened to find him drunk last night," said Jean, afraid that Mrs. Park will be shocked and angry

"What?" shouted Mrs. Park.

Mrs. Park's voice was so deafening, until Jean kept the phone away from her ear. Her eardrums felt like they were about to burst. Luckily it was Park Soo Hyun's mother so Jean could still hold back her emotions.

"Jean, I'm sorry if I startled you. Right now I'm going to ask someone to pick him up. Please look after him for a moment," said Mrs. Park after a moment of silence.

"Yeah, that's fine," said Jean.

Jean put the phone back into Park Soo Hyun's trouser pocket even though it was a bit difficult.

Just about to walk away, Park Soo Hyun had held her hand. Made Jean stop in her tracks, her heart was beating very fast again.

"Soo Yin, don't go," Park Soo Hyun muttered quietly.

Jean just froze where she stood, felt the pain of hearing Park Soo Hyun say the name of another girl in front of her. Even that girl had broken his heart.

In fact, even though they hadn't seen each other for a long time, Jean's feelings for Park Soo Hyun were still the same as before.

Jean turned back to see Park Soo Hyun who was still closing his eyes.

With a slow motion, Jean released Park Soo Hyun's grip from her hand. She had to go out to explain to the bar manager if she still wanted to work there.

Half an hour later, finally the subordinate of Mrs. Park, who was about to pick up Park Soo Hyun, came.

Jean chose to hide when she saw them took Park Soo Hyun away. She didn't want to get involved with the man any further. Just observed the handsome face that still closed his eyes from a distance.

The people who supported him even seemed to have a hard time.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 427 - 427 - She Rejected Me

UN Village,

Mrs. Park continued to be restless, worried about her youngest son. She was very surprised that Park Soo Hyun was at the bar.

Even though he should feel very happy because he got an answer from Soo Yin. Was that a way to vent his happiness? Then why was he with Jean?

"Oh my God, what happened to you?" Mrs. Park was so shocked to see Park Soo Hyun's face. Although there was no more dried blood sticking to it but the bruises were still very clearly visible on his face.

"I'm fine," said Park Soo Hyun casually. Then sat on the sofa because his body and head felt dizzy.

"Why are you like this? Tell me why were you with Jean instead of Soo Yin? Weren't you going to meet her?" Mrs. Park tried to find out of what really happened to her son and future daughter-in-law. There was no way they were fine if Park Soo Hyun got into the bar.

"Jean?" Park Soo Hyun muttered to himself for not remembering anything that happened. He only realized when he set foot in the UN Village.

"Never mind, don't talk about it. I'm going to my room first, Mom." Park Soo Hyun tried to get up but Mrs. Park instead pushed him back until he crashed into the sofa.

"Tell me what really happened?" Mrs. Park looked at her son with an intimidating look. Quickly wanted to know what really happened so as not to be more curious.

"Later, mom." Park Soo Hyun was reluctant to say of what happened last night. Especially about Soo Yin, her mother would be very disappointed if she heard about it.

"Tell me right now!" said Mrs. Park firmly and emphatically so that Park Soo Hyun would not argue again.

"What do you want to know?" Park Soo Hyun sighed heavily as if he didn't know what his mother was really asking.

"Tell me how is your relationship with Soo Yin? Didn't you two see each other last night?" asked Mrs. Park while sitting next to Park Soo Hyun.

"What kind of relationship?" Park Soo Hyun closed his eyes. Recalled the answer from Soo Yin that made his heart feel like it was being stabbed with thorns.

"Last night you said that you wanted to ask about Soo Yin's answer. Then did she accept your love?" Mrs. Park's face looked radiant and full of hope that her wish will come true.

Honestly, Park Soo Hyun didn't even have the heart to tell his mother.

"Hmmm," said Park Soo Hyun in a limp, dispirited voice.

"So did she accept you?" Mrs. Park looked very happy to hear that.

Park Soo Hyun opened his eyes and looked at his mother. There was a desire to lie for a while to make his mother happy. But he couldn't do that role.

Park Soo Hyun finally lowered his head and shook his head slowly.

"What do you mean? Did you actually get accepted or not?" Mrs. Park was getting more and more confused with his son. Earlier he said yes but now he shook his head.

"She rejected me, Mom," said Park Soo Hyun in a sad tone.

"You must be lying. There's no way Soo Yin would refuse my very handsome son," said Mrs. Park while chuckling.

"I'm serious, mom." Park Soo Hyun ventured to look at his mother to convince if he wasn't lying.

Mrs. Park's face had now changed drastically. From a happy face to a stiff face. She couldn't believe that Soo Yin had rejected her youngest son. There was no lack of anything from Park Soo Hyun because he was so perfect.

"If you meet her, please don't change your attitude towards her. Stay friendly and kind as usual. Maybe now she wants to focus on her studies first so she didn't accept me." Park Soo Hyun tried to say positive things in order to protect his mother's feelings. Just let him feel the pain by himself.

"Be patient, honey. It might be true what you said if Soo Yin had to focus on her studies." Even though Mrs. Park also felt sad but she wanted to give encouragement to her son.

"I'm going to my room first, Mom," said Park Soo Hyun as he walked with his staggered body.

It's been a few days since the night of the rejection. Today Soo Yin was starting to actively go back to work because she was not comfortable with other employees. Moreover, there was a problem between her and Park Soo Hyun.

Maybe now the man didn't accept it if she had too many days off.

The elevator just opened after reaching the 10th floor. Soo Yin stood frozen in place when she saw Park Soo Hyun was now in front of her.

It was awkward for a split second before Soo Yin lowered her gaze. Didn't want to look at Park Soo Hyun's two empty eyes.

"Good morning, sir," said Soo Yin, looking down.

"Good morning," Park Soo Hyun greeted back with a sour face. There was a feeling of anger in Park Soo Hyun's heart but he couldn't do it. As much as possible, he will act normal as if nothing happened between them.

Soo Yin stepped past Park Soo Hyun with a racing heart. Until Park Soo Hyun's hand almost wanted to hold her but he cancelled his intention.

"Soo Yin," Park Soo Hyun called.

Soo Yin stopped in her tracks without looking back because she was nervous.

"Since Dae Hyun is out of town, you should help me with my work. You can go to my room now," said Park Soo Hyun.

Many people had asked him to get a secretary, but Park Soo Hyun was not interested at all. All he always wanted was Soo Yin.

"Okay, Master," said Soo Yin briefly without denying it.

Yesterday Dae Hyun did go out of town because he had to finish all his work. Now the position was back to normal because Park Soo Hyun had recovered.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 428 - 428 - Just Call Mom

After being rejected by Soo Yin, the man was not enthusiastic about doing his job at all. Park Soo Hyun seemed to have lost something very important in his life.

Park Soo Hyun turned around when he heard Soo Yin's footsteps slowly drifting away. He looked at the girl's back with a feeling of emptiness and hurt. That feeling of love will always be there for her before she married another man.

"If you accept my love, I promise to make you the only girl I love. I won't let you work hard in between your lectures," Park Soo Hyun muttered with a bitter smile. It turned out that reality did not match his wishes.

Park Soo Hyun finally got into the elevator when Soo Yin's back was no longer visible. There was something left in his car so he wanted to get it first.

Soo Yin was already sitting at her desk. Checked some tasks that needed to be done. Now she can't relax because she was not working for Dae Hyun. Usually when with Dae Hyun, she will relax more than work. It was

Chang Yuan who usually did a rather difficult job that Soo Yin didn't understand.

It turned out that meeting someone whose love was rejected was not easy. Even though Soo Yin didn't have any feelings, guilt was still present in her heart.

Moreover, yesterday she just heard the story from Jean. She said if Park Soo Hyun went to the bar and got into a fight with one of the patrons.

A knock on the door snapped Soo Yin out of her thoughts. She let out a long sigh before finally getting up to open the door.

"Mother," said Soo Yin subconsciously with wide eyes. To be honest, Soo Yin wasn't ready to meet the middle-aged woman.

Mrs. Park must have known about everything that had happened between them. But as much as possible Soo Yin behaved as usual.

"Please come in, madam." Soo Yin changed her usual familiar greeting. She knew if Mrs. Park asked her to call her mother because she wanted to make her her daughter-in-law.

"Why call me madam? Didn't I say you should call me mother," said Mrs. Park with a faint smile.

Honestly Mrs. Park was very disappointed with Soo Yin's decision. But she already loved her very much. As long as Soo Yin wasn't married, there was still hope even if it was small.

"Sorry, mother." Soo Yin tried her best to smile as usual.

"Where's Park Soo Hyun?" asked Mrs. Park as she walked in but did not find her son.

"Master was out for a while. Who did you come here with?" Soo Yin was as friendly as ever.

"I came with Aeri and Yeon Ho. Today we will go hang out with friends," said Mrs. Park with a long sigh. If only Soo Yin accepted Park Soo Hyun's proposal, she would definitely invite her. Introduced her to other friends with a feeling of pride.

"Then where are they?"

"They're still downstairs, they'll catch up soon," said Mrs. Park.

It had been a long time since Soo Yin hadn't seen Yeon Ho, causing a sense of longing. She already considered Yeon Ho like her own son. Every time she saw Yeon Ho, sometimes Soo Yin wanted to give up because she didn't want to hurt his feelings.

"Please sit down first, Mom. Let me make you a drink," said Soo Yin.

"Don't bother. We're just stopping by for a bit," said Mrs. Park subtly.

Not long after, Aeri and Jo Yeon Ho finally caught up with Mrs. Park.

Aeri's gaze was still as usual when she saw Soo Yin. Now she disliked her even more for rejecting Park Soo Hyun.

Aeri really hoped that they will get married soon. So Dae Hyun cancelled his intention to divorce her. She had been trying to stall for quite some time. So there were concerns that Dae Hyun didn't care about Jo Yeon Ho anymore, before finally letting her go.

"Yeon Ho?" said Soo Yin with a warm smile when the boy entered the room with Aeri.

Jo Yeon Ho's attitude this time was different from Soo Yin's expectations. The look in his eyes looked like fear, then he hid himself behind Aeri's feet.

Soo Yin frowned. Felt something strange with Jo Yeon Ho this time. Usually he would burst into her arms.

"Yeon Ho, what's wrong with you?" said Mrs. Park, who also felt confused by his grandson's attitude.

"Yeon Ho, quickly say hello to Soo Yin. Don't you usually like her a lot?" Aeri said while smiling happily because she managed to make Jo Yeon Ho hate Soo Yin.

"I don't want to. She's a bad woman," said Jo Yeon with angry eyes toward Soo Yin.

"What do you mean? Why do you say that?" said Mrs. Park.

"He's just a kid. Forget what he said, Mom," said Aeri. It was impossible to tell Mrs. Park. Definitely she will not going to believe it. She also wanted to make Dae Hyun gently return to her arms.

"There you are apparently," said Park Soo Hyun who had returned to his room.

Soo Yin chose to leave the room because she didn't want the atmosphere there to be awkward.

"You won't be able to take him from me, Bitch," whispered Aeri sarcastically as Soo Yin passed her. Hoped Soo Yin will get emotional hearing it.

Soo Yin's hands clenched tightly on both sides. Her pace was a little faster as she made her way down the hall. There was anger rumbling in her chest when Aeri called her a bitch.

She continued to walk with a strong thump on the floor. As a way to vent all the anger that was held back. But soon she realized that there was no need to be angry because Aeri seemed to be doing it on purpose.

Jo Yeon Ho's attitude towards her was scarier than Aeri's words. Her chest felt tight this time because he didn't usually act like that. Usually the child was very kind and friendly.

Previously, Yeon Ho's gaze looked very angry and hated her.

"Does he know if I want to take his father?" Soo Yin muttered with her head hung low. Felt like she was hated by her own son.

"It must be Aeri who said bad words to him," Soo Yin grumbled with a long sigh. Even though she wanted to hug him so she could pour out her longing.

Chapter 429 - 429 - Drunk Girl

Brakk...

Soo Yin's body fell to the ground as she hit someone in front of her.

"Ouch!" Soo Yin groaned as her butt hurt was against the floor.

"Are you okay?" A man who was hit by Soo Yin then reached out to help her up. His gaze did not move when he recognized the woman in front of him. His heart was racing so fast that the sound was loud enough to be heard in his own ears.

'Isn't she that drunk girl?' he said in his heart. Soo Yin's face was still very clear in his mind.

'What is wrong with me?' thought the man who was none other than Gong Yoo. He held his chest with one hand because his heart felt like it was about to jump.

Soo Yin stood up by herself without accepting Gong Yoo's outstretched hand. Always remembered her husband's message not to touch any man. Even if she broke the promise sometimes.

"Sorry sir, I walked without looking," said Soo Yin as she bowed her body.

Gong Yoo was still so caught up in his daydream that he didn't listen to Soo Yin's apology.

Soo Yin moved her palm in front of Gong Yoo's face as she didn't get a response. She also felt uncomfortable with the man's gaze.

"Master," said Soo Yin. Had to pat Gong Yoo's shoulder to wake him up from reverie.

"You surprised me," said Gong Yoo. Even though he was busy observing the plump lips that looked very sexy belonging to Soo Yin. He was a normal man so it was natural to think about it.

Soo Yin studied Gong Yoo's face to find out who he was. But in retrospect it seemed like she had never seen him in that hotel.

"Sir, I don't think I've seen you in this hotel. Are you new to this hotel?" asked Soo Yin while furrowing her brows.

"I'm new here, I was assigned by my father to work here today," said Gong Yoo.

Gong Yoo regretted that it seemed that Soo Yin didn't remember him that night.

"Okay, I'd better go first because I have business," said Soo Yin without further questioning because it was none of her business.

There were too many people who invested in the hotel that Soo Yin was sure she wouldn't recognize him.

"You drunken girl. You don't even know me at all," Gong Yoo grumbled while chuckling in annoyance. He forgot that they had not introduced themselves even though he already knew her name.

Gong Yoo kept looking at Soo Yin's back. There was a sense of curiosity remembering who the man who had picked her up. Hopefully not her boyfriend because Dae Hyun's age looked older than her. There was no way that Soo Yin had a low taste.

He thought Soo Yin was too beautiful to be with a man like him.

Gong Yoo worked at the hotel as a manager who replaced Han. If it weren't for his father's desire to return to Korea, he was also very reluctant. He had been living in a western country for a long time so he had to adapt first.

Not only that, his arrival to Silla Seoul Hotel was also because he will cooperate in the construction of the hotel. Gong Yoo was a contractor as well as an architect. A few days ago, he joined his aunt's company which was engaged in construction.

By working in this hotel, he will get double the benefits. While abroad he was used to being a contractor.

This afternoon Soo Yin followed Park Soo Hyun to attend some meetings. They were currently in the same car without a driver heading to a restaurant.

Even though Soo Yin was sitting in the front, the atmosphere was really awkward. Silence continued because no one wanted to open a conversation. Instead they were talking to themselves.

"Hmmm." Park Soo Hyun couldn't stand it anymore, finally speaking up because he wasn't the quiet type like Dae Hyun.

Soo Yin shifted her body awkwardly. If she knew it would be like this, she wanted to follow Dae Hyun out of town.

"After this meeting, where are we going next?" asked Park Soo Hyun. His gaze focused ahead, only occasionally glancing at Soo Yin.

"Yes?" Soo Yin looked at her brother-in-law, not understanding the direction of his question.

"After this, is there another meeting?" Park Soo Hyun said with a frown to repeat his question.

"Oh, just let me take a look," Soo Yin said nervously. She cursed herself for not paying attention to Park Soo Hyun's question.

Soo Yin immediately checked the schedule, it turned out that after this there will be a meeting but not outside. So she could breathe a sigh of relief because she didn't have to be stuck alone with Park Soo Hyun in the car.

"After this we can go back to the hotel because we will meet Mr. Gong Yoo," said Soo Yin. She thought if the name was still foreign but if it was outsider it was impossible to invite him to meet in the hotel.

"Hmmm, okay," said Park Soo Hyun without asking again.

After that, the silence returned. Luckily not long after that, they finally arrived at the restaurant.

This time they held a meeting with one of the partners who produced furniture. They wanted to talk about cooperation so that The Silla Seoul Hotel will buy their goods for a period of several years.

Soo Yin just listened and listened to their conversation. Working with Park Soo Hyun also required being able to communicate properly. Must be smart in many ways. If usually there was Chang Yuan who could explain things. Now Soo Yin had to do it herself.

It turned out that Dae Hyun had spoiled her too much.

After an hour, the meeting finally ended. It didn't take too long to reach the desired agreement because both parties already understood it.

"Ouch," groaned Soo Yin when she was about to stand up and found that her heel was broken. She reached for the black shoes to examine them.

"Soo Yin, why?" asked Park Soo Hyun worriedly.

"It's okay, it's not a problem at all," said Soo Yin, grinning as she showed her shoes.

"After this we will stop by the shoe store," said Park Soo Hyun firmly.

Soo Yin was about to refute but Park Soo Hyun already stood up and stepped out.

Soo Yin was forced to follow Park Soo Hyun's steps without using footwear. She just looked down when several people looked at her.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 430 - 430 - There Is No Woman Like You

Not long after, Park Soo Hyun had stopped his car in front of a shoe and sandal's shop.

"Stay in the car, let me go down to buy it," said Park Soo Hyun then rushed out of the car to the shoe store.

"No" Soo Yin didn't even have time to refuse because the man disappeared so quickly. She just sighed resignedly and stayed in the car.

Soo Yin was really surprised that Park Soo Hyun knew her shoe size. Though she didn't think if she ever said it.

The man bought light brown shoes that matched Soo Yin's clothes.

Park Soo Hyun bent down to hold Soo Yin's leg.

"No need, Master. Let me wear it myself," said Soo Yin, feeling uneasy. Already been bought and just sitting in the car. Now her brother was putting it on her feet.

"Shut up, let me put it on for you." Park Soo Hyun's tone sounded relaxed but contained orders of what to do.

Soo Yin was forced to comply with Park Soo Hyun's request. Indeed the size was very fit on her feet. The shoes turned out to be quite comfortable when worn.

After finishing, Park Soo Hyun immediately got into the car to continue their journey to the hotel.

Soo Yin didn't understand of why Park Soo Hyun was still being kind to her. It made her feel even more guilty.

"Thank you," Soo Yin said awkwardly.

"Hmmm," said Park Soo Hyun briefly.

"Park Soo Hyun, why are you still so nice to me? Shouldn't you hate me?" Soo Yin said. Wanted to spill curiosity about why Park Soo Hyun was still kind to her.

"Didn't I promise you. If I wouldn't hate you?" Park Soo Hyun looked at Soo Yin while raising his eyebrows.

Soo Yin remembered that that night she asked Park Soo Hyun not to hate her. But not paying that kind of attention either.

"Yeah, I know. But if you pay too much attention like this it might hurt you more," Soo Yin said in a sad tone. There really was no desire to hurt others in her mind.

"I'm fine," said Park Soo Hyun who actually sounded sad.

"I'm really sorry. I hope you will find a woman who is much better than me," Soo Yin said quietly.

"There will be no woman like you," said Park Soo Hyun bitterly.

"One day you will definitely get it. If you know who I am, maybe you will never like me," said Soo Yin with a bitter smile. She wasn't ready to say everything right now.

The situation was quiet again because Park Soo Hyun did not answer Soo Yin's statement. To be honest, the man still really hoped that Soo Yin had feelings for him even though it was small.

Until they arrived at the hotel they remained silent. Soo Yin carried several piles of files that made them fall on the floor because of the wind.

Seeing Soo Yin who seemed in trouble, Park Soo Hyun then grabbed the file and walked ahead of Soo Yin into the elevator. His feeling this time was very complicated.

Soo Yin froze in her place because Park Soo Hyun didn't say anything to her.

Without realizing it was noon, Soo Yin leaned her head on the back of the chair. She thought about what Dae Hyun was doing today. But Soo Yin didn't dare to contact him because she was in Park Soo Hyun's room.

Soo Yin almost fell off her chair when she heard the phone ringing on the table. But her face immediately lit up when she saw the name listed on the cellphone screen.

Soo Yin scanned the surroundings before making a video call. It turned out that Park Soo Hyun had not returned to the room so that Soo Yin could breathe a sigh of relief.

"Honey, how was your work today?" Dae Hyun's face was clearly displayed on the cellphone screen while smiling charmingly. This time, though, his face looked tired.

"Hmmm, not bad. Today I followed Park Soo Hyun. Then, how about your work? When are you coming home? Why are your eyelids puffy? Didn't you sleep all night?" Many questions immediately came out of Soo Yin's lips. She was worried because there were dark circles around her husband's eyes just like pandas.

"Can you ask one by one? I even forgot your question," said Dae Hyun with a chuckle.

"I'm just worried about you," Soo Yin said while pursing her lips.

"I just want to go home to my sweet wife soon so I work overtime. Besides being away from you makes me unable to sleep," said Dae Hyun honestly. His heart couldn't calm down when he thought of Soo Yin with Park Soo Hyun. Even though he was sure that his brother would not dare to tease her anymore.

Soo Yin smiled at that.

"You should pay attention to the time you sleep. Don't let yourself get sick," said Soo Yin with a sullen face. She didn't like it when her husband worked too hard.

"Okay, tonight I'll sleep early. But that means I'll come for you a little longer." Dae Hyun took a deep breath, his face was sour.

"Well, then don't sleep early. Finish your work as soon as possible so you can get back to Seoul," said Soo Yin with a puffy nose.

"Are you looking forward to meeting me? Tell me what will you give me when I come home?" Dae Hyun carved a mischievous smile on his lips.

"No, I just don't want to work any longer with your brother," Soo Yin said with a smile.

"Really? Is he annoying?" Dae Hyun asked curiously.

"No, he's too nice in fact. So I don't want to spend too long with him."

"Hmm, so you didn't miss me?" Dae Hyun teased while glancing mischievously.

"No." Soo Yin turned her face the other way, pretending that she was busy working on something.

"Just look at your blushing face." Dae Hyun chuckled amused because he had managed to seduce his little wife.

"You're so annoying." Soo Yin pursed her lips, pretending to be angry.

"Even though I'm annoying, you also really miss me."

They continued to chat accompanied by chuckles and crisp laughter.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 431 - 431 - Almost Got Caught

Outside, Park Soo Hyun was about to enter his room. His hand almost turned the door knob when he faintly heard Soo Yin's voice laughing so crisply.

He opened the door slightly to find out who Soo Yin was actually chatting with. So that sounded so much fun.

His heart was now sore and tight again when he saw Soo Yin who turned out to be making a video call with someone.

It couldn't be a woman, because Park Soo Hyun could hear Soo Yin call him 'honey' several times.

"Soo Yin, who exactly is that man?" muttered Park Soo Hyun with clenched fists and furious breaths.

Park Soo Hyun hit the wall so hard that his hand hurt quite a bit.

"Shit," Park Soo Hyun cursed while looking at his reddened fist.

This time, Park Soo Hyun couldn't stand hearing Soo Yin's crisp laugh. So with slow and careful movements, he steps his feet inside. He stood in front of the door while looking at Soo Yin who didn't seem to notice his presence.

Soo Yin had not noticed the presence of Park Soo Hyun who had entered the room because she was too busy joking with her husband.

"Hmmm!" Suddenly a loud snort echoed through the room.

The voice shocked Soo Yin beyond measure. Until she almost fell out of the chair because she was sitting too far on the side. The cell phone in her hand fell to the floor, not far from where Park Soo Hyun was standing.

Soo Yin was nervous as her heart was racing so fast. Her eyes widened and her body was shaking. Because Park Soo Hyun stepped towards her with a suspicious look.

Park Soo Hyun tried to relax even though his head felt like it was going to explode. Although he could still recognize the voice of the man who was talking to Soo Yin. But he was not sure because it was impossible for that to happen. He must have had the wrong person and coincidentally their voices were the same.

Park Soo Hyun had bent my body to pick up Soo Yin's cell phone. Hoping that the call wasn't over yet so that he could see the man's face. That way there was no need to guess which will make him dizzy.

Soo Yin stood up to take her phone but couldn't. The phone was too far out of reach. Park Soo Hyun would be even more suspicious if she insisted on taking it.

'Soo Yin, why were you so careless that you didn't notice Park Soo Hyun's arrival?' - Soo Yin cursed inwardly. The scariest thing was that they didn't have time to turn end the call. If the call had not been disconnected then it was over for her.

The atmosphere was getting tenser when Park Soo Hyun had managed to hold it.

Soo Yin's lips wanted to open wide to say the word 'no'. But her voice wouldn't even come out. Cold sweat had started to drip from her body. Could only surrender if they must be caught out right now.

Park Soo Hyun flipped Soo Yin's phone to look at the screen. Curious to see the man's face was unstoppable.

Soo Yin covered her face while standing up restlessly.

The screen turned out to be dark. Park Soo Hyun could only sigh heavily because he wasn't quick enough to pick it up.

"Take it, next time don't get too hung up on the phone while you're at work. What if a visitor comes and sees it?" said Park Soo Hyun with a sour face.

"Sorry, Sir." Soo Yin reached out to take it while looking down languidly. But now she can breathe a sigh of relief a little for escaping something very dangerous.

Luckily, Park Soo Hyun didn't see her wallpaper which showed the scene of Soo Yin kissing Dae Hyun's cheek which was taken while they were on Geoje Island.

"Isn't there a meeting with Gong Yoo now? Get ready and be professional while in the office. Because I don't like spoiling employees," said Park Soo Hyun flatly and then walked away, leaving Soo Yin stunned in her place.

This was the first time that Park Soo Hyun had been indifferent to Soo Yin. Even though it was actually difficult but he had to do it so he wouldn't get stuck with the same feeling.

Soo Yin had already found a man she was comfortable with. So that Park Soo Hyun will learn to stay away. But if Soo Yin changed her mind, Park Soo Hyun's heart was still wide open for her.

Soo Yin immediately arranged the files to be brought for the meeting. They'll talk about it in the hotel restaurant so it was not too far away.

Park Soo Hyun stepped his feet wide. This made it very difficult for Soo Yin to follow him. Soo Yin's breath hitched when she got to the elevator.

"From now on, work more dexterously because I'm not Dae Hyun who is too patient," said Park Soo Hyun. Already guessed if it was possible that Soo Yin would compare him to his brother.

Soo Yin just nodded her head without arguing. A man who had treated her like a queen was now very much different from usual. But it made Soo Yin feel happy.

One day Soo Yin was exhausted, Park Soo Hyun scolded his brother. He said he won't make Soo Yin work hard.

But this time Soo Yin would not bring it up. Because Park Soo Hyun at that time still liked her, not like he was now.

"Soo Yin, tonight accompany me overtime because I have some work to finish soon," Park Soo Hyun ordered in a flat tone.

"Yes, sir," said Soo Yin. From now on she will work hard and not be spoiled.

It wasn't long before they arrived at the restaurant.

It turned out that Gong Yoo was already waiting there. He seemed focused on doing something on paper.

"Master? Are you Mr Gong Yoo?" Soo Yin was quite surprised, it turned out that she will meet again with the man she met this morning.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 432 - 432 - Why Are You With Soo Yin?

"Soo Yin, do you know him?" Park Soo Hyun knitted his brows together. His heart fluttered knowing his idol girl knew another man.

"No, we just accidentally met this morning," said Soo Yin with a sweet smile.

Park Soo Hyun turned his face away so she won't see him smile. It made it even more difficult for him to forget.

"Oh, drunken girl," said Gong Yoo as he looked up at Soo Yin.

"What are you saying?" said Soo Yin who could hear Gong Yoo's words.

"Sorry, I got the wrong person. I thought you were the drunk girl I met at the bar," said Gong Yoo. Deliberately said it to provoke Soo Yin's memory.

"Of course you're wrong because we have never met before," said Soo Yin.

"Hmmm, we should continue the conversation later," said Park Soo Hyun coldly.

"Very... well, Master," Soo Yin stammered. It was unbelievable that Park Soo Hyun was now completely changed and looked like his brother.

Soo Yin sat quietly while listening to their conversation. She didn't really understand so she just kept quiet.

Gong Yoo occasionally looked at Soo Yin while talking about the hotel design plan to Park Soo Hyun.

Likewise with Park Soo Hyun who looked at Soo Yin.

Soo Yin yawned because her eyes wanted to be close even though it was still noon. So she opened a note and scribbled incoherently.

"We should have lunch first," said Park Soo Hyun. They were so focused that they didn't notice it was past lunch time.

"Why not earlier? I can't think when I'm hungry," said Gong Yoo nonchalantly in response.

Park Soo Hyun didn't respond because he was in a bad mood right now.

Not long after, the waiter finally came to bring a variety of dishes. Gong Yoo ordered western food because his tongue had to adapt first to Korean food.

They ate in silence. Only the sound of spoons were echoing.

"Cough... cough..." Soo Yin choked on something in her throat.

With a quick movement the two men in front of her thrust the glass at the same time.

Soo Yin looked at the two in turn. But soon she had her own drinking water which was on the table.

"Thank you, but I have it," said Soo Yin with a grin.

The two men looked disappointed at Soo Yin's refusal. Even if their faces were too obvious.

It was late at night but Park Soo Hyun wasn't done with his work yet. In fact, he was deliberately stalling so that his work would not be finished.

Soo Yin, who usually sat on the sofa when helping Dae Hyun, now chose to sit in her chair. She had to support her head with one hand to hold back the drowsiness. Several times, her head almost fell on the table.

"When will I be going home?" Soo Yin muttered as she looked at the clock on the wall which was almost half past eleven at night. If she worked with Dae Hyun, Soo Yin would have been told to go home or sleep in his room.

Soo Yin looked at Park Soo Hyun who was still busy with the files piled up on the table.

Park Soo Hyun could see Soo Yin's sad face from his desk. Actually the man felt sorry for her tired face. But this was one way for them to be together.

"Sorry, if my actions hurt you," said Park Soo Hyun with a bitter smile.

"If loving you openly scares you. Then maybe this is how I love you," added Park Soo Hyun, who had started to lose his mind after being rejected by Soo Yin.

Especially when he remembered that Soo Yin was talking to other men casually. It made Park Soo Hyun want to have it.

Park Soo Hyun then decided to leave the room to get two cups of coffee for himself and Soo Yin.

But it was a shame because as soon as he returned to the room, Soo Yin had already fallen asleep with her head on the table and her arm as a pillow. Her breathing was soft and regular.

"Soo Yin, wake up," Park Soo Hyun said softly. There was really a sense of regret with his attitude today which had been very outrageous.

"Hmmm." Soo Yin only moved her body slightly with her eyes still closed.

"Sorry, honey. I exhausted you." Park Soo Hyun gently stroked the top of Soo Yin's head.

There was still curiosity to know who the man who had spoken to Soo Yin was on the phone. Park Soo Hyun then took Soo Yin's cell phone which was lying on the table beside her head.

"Damn, the phone is locked!" Park Soo Hyun cursed in a low voice.

Even though it was locked, Park Soo Hyun could see the front screen even for a while. The photo that Soo Yin used as wallpaper had been changed. It was just a scene in Bunjee Artpia, Jeju Island.

Derttt...

Park Soo Hyun almost jumped when he felt Soo Yin's cellphone vibrated in his hand.

There was Dae Hyun's name listed on the cell phone screen.

Park Soo Hyun knitted his brows together. Felt very curious of why his brother contacted Soo Yin at night like this.

Park Soo Hyun immediately pressed the answer button and put the phone to his ear silently. There was silence for a while because no one spoke first.

"Soo Yin, are you asleep?" Dae Hyun said on the other end of the phone because Soo Yin hadn't greeted him.

"She's asleep," said Park Soo Hyun who slipped. Though he intended to keep his mouth shut.

"Soo Hyun, why are you with Soo Yin?" Dae Hyun said with a rising tone.

"We worked overtime and she fell asleep," said Park Soo Hyun lightly.

"What's wrong with you? Didn't you scold me before for asking Soo Yin to work overtime? Why are you asking her now until she falls asleep?" Dae Hyun said in a disapproving tone.

Chapter 433 - 433 - Don't Bother Her

"Never mind, she is now working for me. So it's up to what I will do to her," said Park Soo Hyun.

"You're out of your mind!" Dae Hyun cursed in a very loud voice that Park Soo Hyun had to push the phone away from his ear.

"Never mind, now don't bother her. It's late," said Park Soo Hyun and then turned off the phone.

It was true that the voice of the man on Soo Yin's phone was very similar to Dae Hyun's. But it seemed impossible if it was his brother.

Park Soo Hyun shook his head because there was no evidence. He then put Soo Yin's phone back on the table. Wanted to wake her up but couldn't bear it because Soo Yin looked so exhausted.

He then carried Soo Yin's body and carried her into the room.

Soo Yin squirmed sexy when she was just lowered on the bed. Made her beautiful body look more attractive.

It crossed Park Soo Hyun's mind to do something bad. If he can't get her subtly then it was best to get her by force.

Park Soo Hyun climbed the bed then sat down beside Soo Yin. Started to observe every curve of Soo Yin's body. He gently caressed her cheek and smiled crookedly.

His hand then went down to Soo Yin's neck and shirt which was still buttoned properly. Park Soo Hyun's mind was already filled with possessive lust so his hands started to undo the buttons of Soo Yin's shirt one by one.

"Soo Hyun, wake up. You can't do it," Park Soo muttered, trying to restrain himself from doing something that was forbidden.

Park Soo Hyun chose to stand so that the devil would not continue to tempt him. Whispered words not to be willing if Soo Yin was with another man.

"Arghhhh!" Park Soo Hyun punched the wall because he was so upset. He couldn't have done something so heinous to get what he wanted.

Then he chose to leave the room. He didn't want to be like Dae Hyun who got married because he did something outside of marriage first. For him marriage was important. Besides, he didn't want to disappoint his mother either.

The morning sun was beginning to enter through the gap in the glass window. The glare hit Soo Yin so much that she covered her eyes with her palms. Last night she was so sleepy that she didn't wake up again after falling asleep.

Her eyes stared at the ceiling of the room, observing carefully that it was not the room in the Pyeongchang-dong villa. But the room was also familiar when Soo Yin glanced around.

"How come I slept here?" Soo Yin then sat up and remembered what happened last night.

"Geez, why did I fall asleep," Soo Yin muttered as she rubbed her face with her palm.

Soo Yin immediately got out of bed and went to the bathroom to wash her face. Before work, it might be best for her to go home and change clothes first.

Just when she opened the bedroom door to leave, Park Soo Hyun was standing right in front of her, blocking her from passing.

"Sir, I should go home first. I have to change my clothes," said Soo Yin, not daring to look at the man in front of her.

"You don't need to go home because I already bought clothes for you," said Park Soo Hyun as he handed over the paper bag in his hand.

Soo Yin could only sigh in resignation. Didn't know how long she will be stuck with Park Soo Hyun. Hopefully Dae Hyun will return to Seoul soon.

"Thank you, then I will change my clothes first," Soo Yin said and closed the bedroom door.

The toilet was already familiar to Soo Yin, because she had stayed there several times. But this time this room felt different because Dae Hyun was no longer occupying the room.

Soo Yin went into the bathroom, wanting to clean herself first. When she was about to unbutton her shirt, she realized that some of the buttons were already open.

Her heart immediately pounded as her palms covered her chest, hopefully Park Soo Hyun didn't see her exposed cleavage.

Soo Yin thought that it was impossible for her to unbutton her own shirt while sleeping. All these times, nothing like that ever happened unless Dae Hyun was nearby.

"Perhaps" Soo Yin shook her head. There was no way her brother-in-law would dare to do that. During this time, Soo Yin knew him as a very good man. Just the past few days that he had suddenly been very strange and change.

Soo Yin didn't want to think anything bad about her brother-in-law. Then she quickly took a shower.

After she finished, Soo Yin grabbed the paper bag that was lying on the bed. Unboxed the contents one by one.

Soo Yin's eyes widened when she saw a white top with a thin and transparent material. The underwear was a matching red. While the skirt if used was a bit too tight. Even though she hadn't tried it yet but Soo Yin can already tell if her curves will be very visible.

"What does Park Soo Hyun mean by all this?" Soo Yin put the clothes back on the bed. She felt very uncomfortable when she was about to wear it.

Soo Yin decided to go back into the bathroom to call Dae Hyun.

"Soo Yin, what's wrong? Are you home yet?" asked Dae Hyun who sounded worried.

"Honey, when are you coming home? Hurry back to Seoul," Soo Yin whined. She spoke as quietly as possible so that Park Soo Hyun couldn't hear.

"What's wrong? Did Park Soo Hyun do something bad to you?" Dae Hyun said in a fairly high tone.

Soo Yin bit her lower lip. Wanted to say everything but was afraid to make them fight. After all, it could be just a thought that was not necessarily true.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 434 - 434 Too Small And Tight

"No, I just really miss seeing you," said Soo Yin because she didn't want her husband to feel worried.

"Don't worry, I'll probably be home tomorrow." Dae Hyun can breathe a sigh of relief knowing that Soo Yin was fine.

"Did you work overtime last night with Park Soo Hyun?" Dae Hyun added.

"How do you know if I was working overtime?" Soo Yin remembered if she didn't say anything to her husband.

"I called you but the one who answered was Park Soo Hyun. Luckily I didn't say the word 'honey'," Dae Hyun said while chuckling in annoyance because it seemed that Park Soo Hyun was deliberately taking the opportunity while he wasn't around.

"Then what did he say?" Soo Yin asked curiously. She breathed a sigh of relief because she had changed the wallpaper on her cellphone screen. If not, they might have been caught by now.

"He said because you're working with him, so he is free to do anything," said Dae Hyun.

"Then why did you suddenly turn off the video call yesterday?" Dae Hyun added.

"Yesterday, Park Soo Hyun almost found out that you were the one calling. Luckily you turned it off. I think Park Soo Hyun has started to suspect that there is a relationship between us," said Soo Yin.

"It's okay, he'll find out sooner or later anyway." Dae Hyun tried to calm Soo Yin down so she wouldn't think too much about it.

Knock...knock...knock....

"Aren't you done yet?" Park Soo Hyun shouted from outside but it was still audible to the bathroom.

"Honey, I'll turn off the call because Park Soo Hyun has called me," Soo Yin said nervously.

"Be patient, I'll be home as soon as possible."

Soo Yin immediately turned off the call and then exited the bathroom. She wanted to open the door but she was still wearing a towel so she didn't want to.

"Master, wait a minute," Soo Yin exclaimed as she paced back and forth, thinking about how to get out without wearing those clothes.

Soo Yin herself felt uncomfortable if she wore too sexy clothes in front of people except in front of her own husband.

Soo Yin decided to send a message to Chang Yuan. So far, Assistant Chang had always been good at choosing according to Dae Hyun's taste.

[Assistant Chang, please bring clothes for me to Park Soo Hyun's room asap because it's an emergency] Soo Yin wrote then sent it.

[Alright, Miss] Chang Yuan replied one minute later.

It was not wrong for Dae Hyun to choose an assistant like Chang Yuan because he was very agile and reliable.

"Soo Yin, if you haven't finished, I will go to the restaurant first. You must catch up as soon as possible," said Park Soo Hyun.

"Yes sir." Soo Yin took a deep breath knowing Park Soo Hyun had left the room.

Soo Yin sat back on the side of the bed while waiting for Chang Yuan. Only 15 minutes later, someone knocked on the door.

"Miss, it's me," said Chang Yuan.

"Just put it at the door and I'll pick it up," Soo Yin exclaimed. If it was a woman who brought it, it was fine for her to go out. But unfortunately it was Chang Yuan.

"Okay, Miss."

Soo Yin pressed her ear against the doorknob to listen to the sound of footsteps slowly drifting away.

Her face lit up and smiled happily when she got comfortable clothes that she wanted. Modest clothes but very pretty on her body. It seemed that from now on she had to learn from Chang Yuan in choosing clothes.

Soo Yin decided to follow Park Soo Hyun to the restaurant after changing her clothes... because she was also feeling very hungry. Didn't want to let her stomach relapse. Dae Hyun will definitely scold her if she ate late.

Park Soo Hyun knitted his brows when he saw Soo Yin was not wearing the clothes he chose. Actually it wasn't him who chose it but the shop assistant who found it. He only saw that the clothes were white instead of red.

"Soo Yin, you aren't wearing the clothes I bought you?" Park Soo Hyun raised an eyebrow. There was a slight feeling of dislike.

"Sorry, the clothes are too small and tight. I can't wear them," said Soo Yin, grinning.

"Is it true?" Park Soo Hyun was disappointed because he couldn't give the best clothes. He should have chosen it himself.

"Hmmm." Soo Yin nodded her head.

"I don't know at all. The shop assistant looked for it," said Park Soo Hyun with a bad feeling. Even though he wanted Soo Yin to feel admiration for him.

Maybe after this, he should return to the shop to give the calculations to the shop keeper.

"It does not matter." Soo Yin was grateful that she hadn't told Dae Hyun yet. Turned out it was all a misunderstanding.

Tonight Park Soo Hyun invited Soo Yin to work overtime again for the third time. Without allowing her to go home even if it was just to take clothes. There were various reasons, Soo Yin tried to say it but it always didn't work.

Dae Hyun didn't come home early because he had to finish his work immediately. After becoming a representative, Dae Hyun was even more busy with his work.

Tonight Soo Yin had to go to campus because there was a class, she can only surrender if she was not allowed to go.

She continued to stand restlessly while pacing, thinking of ways to get out of Park Soo Hyun's reach.

"Soo Yin, what are you doing?" Park Soo Hyun just walked into the room carrying two cups of coffee. His brow furrowed when he saw Soo Yin walking to and fro while biting her fingernails.

"Sorry sir, please allow me to go home tonight because I have to go to campus," Soo Yin coaxed with a pitiful face so that Park Soo Hyun felt sorry for her.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 435 - 435 - Can You Open Your Heart To Me?

Park Soo Hyun looked at Soo Yin while considering whether to grant Soo Yin's request or not. The man took a deep breath because it seemed like he had gone too far these few days with his idol.

"Okay, but let me take you," said Park Soo Hyun firmly.

Park Soo Hyun really wanted to act normal like before Soo Yin rejected him but he couldn't do it. His mind kept on inciting to restrain Soo Yin.

"No, I'd better take a taxi," said Soo Yin quickly. If Park Soo Hyun drove her then it would be impossible to return to the villa. While there were books and some things to take.

Park Soo Hyun frowned, suspecting that there was something she was hiding.

"It's okay, going with me will be faster. If you take a taxi then you will be late," said Park Hyun. He did it on purpose, not allowing Soo Yin to leave early so she couldn't help but be escorted by him.

Soo Yin just sighed in resignation. She looked at the clock on the wall, she only had half an hour to get to campus so she wouldn't be late.

"Okay." Soo Yin was forced to agree because even refusing was very difficult.

Before leaving, Soo Yin sent a message to Chung Ho to deliver some books to campus.

Park Soo Hyun immediately drove his car through the bright night street. His mind kept on wishing that Soo Yin became his lover. The image of them walking through the altar hand in hand carved a faint smile on his lips.

Soo Yin who was sitting next to him, glanced at Park Soo Hyun who looked dreamy with one hand placed on his temple. She felt like he wasn't the man she used to know.

Park Soo Hyun turned to Soo Yin when he realized that he was being watched while heaving a long sigh. To be honest he didn't want to push his will too much either. But love had driven him crazy.

"Soo Yin, can't you open your heart to me even a little bit?" said Park Soo Hyun in a sad tone.

Soo Yin gasped at that and then adjusted her seat restlessly.

"I'm not a good girl. I'm sure you will find a girl who is much more worthy to be with you," Soo Yin said honestly. She didn't want to be caught in a lie again that would hurt Park Soo Hyun even more.

"I don't want any girl. Only you who can touch my heart out of all the women I've met." Park Soo Hyun's gaze was far away remembering that there were so many women who tried to be close to him but none of them were really sincere.

"If you continue like this you will only hurt yourself more," said Soo Yin, who was getting impatient because it was very difficult to give understanding to Park Soo Hyun.

"I'm sure there's still hope for you to love me even though it's small. I really want to compete with the guy you called at that time." Park Soo Hyun snorted then chuckled.

"You won't be able to compete with him because I'm not an object to be fought over," said Soo Yin in a flat and slightly annoyed tone.

"Precisely because you are not an object so that many want to get you. Take me to meet that man," Park Soo Hyun asked while looking at Soo Yin for a while.

Soo Yin narrowed her eyes. It was impossible for the brothers to meet because it was possible that a world war will occur.

"Why? Are you afraid if I know him?" Park Soo Hyun asked with the side of his lips pulled up.

"N... no, you can't possibly know him," Soo Yin stuttered. It seemed that her guess was right if Park Soo Hyun started to get suspicious.

"Then why do you look scared like that?"

"It's not that I'm afraid. It's just that he might not want to meet you. Besides, he's not in Seoul," said Soo Yin. She sat restlessly as her hands placed in the middle of her legs.

"Is he on Geoje island?" guessed Park Soo Hyun casually.

Soo Yin was wide-eyed because Park Soo Hyun's guess was so right on target. But as much as possible she acted normal so as not to be suspected.

"Of course not. Why would you guess like that?" Soo Yin asked curiously.

"I just guessed randomly. Maybe my guess was right," said Park Soo Hyun in a flat tone.

Soo Yin did not expect to be involved in a conversation like this with her brother-in-law. She could breathe a sigh of relief because soon the car had arrived in front of the campus gate.

"Park Soo Hyun, thank you for taking the trouble to take me," Soo Yin said before getting out of the car.

"Hmmm, if you'll be home, call me. Let me pick you up," said Park Soo Hyun.

"No need, I better go home alone. I don't want to bother anyone," said Soo Yin as she unbuckled her seatbelt. Without listening to Park Soo Hyun's words again, Soo Yin immediately got out of the car.

Soo Yin continued to walk without looking back. She hoped that Park Soo Hyun will leave quickly because Chung Ho will arrive soon.

Sure enough, not long after, Chung Ho called when he had arrived at the gate.

Soo Yin was forced to turn around, but luckily Park Soo Hyun's car was no longer there.

"Chung Ho, thank you," said Soo Yin as she took some books from Chung Ho's hands.

"It doesn't matter, if you're done just say it, Miss. I'll pick you up later," Chung Ho said while bowing his body politely.

"Okay."

From inside a car hiding near a tree with dim light. Park Soo Hyun observed who came to see Soo Yin.

"I think I've seen him before," Park Soo Hyun muttered.

Park Soo Hyun thought that Soo Yin was no ordinary girl. It seemed that there was something Soo Yin was hiding.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 436 - 436 - Why Did You Lie?

Soo Yin repeatedly yawned while listening to the lecturer deliver the material. These few days, Soo Yin really felt sleep deprived. It turned out that choosing a curfew for college was not right. Can't concentrate anymore.

Half an hour passed, Soo Yin tried not to rest her head on the table. But slowly the drowsiness grew so much that Soo Yin couldn't stand it. She wanted to close her eyes for just a few seconds.

Jae-hwa who was sitting next to her continued to observe Soo Yin. Felt sorry because she seemed exhausted. Luckily tonight the lecturer who gave the material did not pay too much attention.

Time passed so fast, now all the students had left the room. Only Jae-hwa who was still faithfully waiting for Soo Yin to wake up. He had been wanting to wake her up since a long time, but he always cancelled his intentions.

"Soo Yin," Jae-hwa called softly because it was getting late. There was no way they could spend the night there because they had to work tomorrow morning.

There were no response after a while. Jae-hwa can only sigh deeply because Soo Yin was so hard to wake up.

"Hmmm." For the umpteenth time, Soo Yin squirmed then spread her arms to stretch her muscles.

"Wake up, it's getting late and everyone's gone home," Jae-hwa said.

Soo Yin gasped and immediately opened her eyes wide. Her gaze darted around the room. There was no one else but her and Jae-hwa.

"Is it over since then?" Soo Yin rubbed her face with both hands. Her desire to sleep for a while actually ended up very long.

"It's been half an hour," said Jae-hwa with a grimace.

"Geez, why didn't you wake me up?" Soo Yin said as she rearranged the books into her bag.

"You look so exhausted that I couldn't bear to wake you. Let's go home, let me take you," said Jae-hwa.

"You brought a car?" Soo Yin knitted her brows together.

"Grandpa lent it to me," said Jae-hwa.

To refuse Jae-hwa's offer was impossible because it was late at night.

Soo Yin staggered because she had to wait for Jae-hwa at the gate.

At the same time Park Soo Hyun was about to come out of his hiding place when he saw Jae-hwa's car stopped right in front of Soo Yin.

"Isn't he the man in the photo at that time," Park Soo Hyun muttered while observing him carefully. After being thoroughly observed, it turned out that he was someone who worked at his hotel. No wonder Park Soo Hyun felt familiar with Jae-hwa's face.

Park Soo Hyun drove his car to follow them as Jae-hwa's car slowly left the campus.

"Where will they go?" Park Soo muttered as he narrowed his eyes. Realized the direction they were passing was not towards the house where Soo Yin was staying at that time. He remembered that the house belonged to her aunt so she might have moved now and chose to live alone.

Park Soo Hyun stopped his car in a quite distance when they stopped in front of a rented house.

Soo Yin got out of the car in there then waved her hand to Jae-hwa. Until Jae-hwa's car slowly pulled away.

Park Soo Hyun felt something strange because Soo Yin hadn't entered the house. She was still standing on the side of the road as if she was waiting for someone.

Not long after, a black car approached her.

Park Soo Hyun still remembered that the car belonged to someone who had delivered Soo Yin's books.

Chung Ho immediately came out then opened the door for Soo Yin.

"Sorry, I'm a bother. You have to follow us around," said Soo Yin uncomfortably. Even though they should have rested at home on a night like this.

"No problem, Miss," Chung Ho said with a smile because Soo Yin always felt reluctant to ask him for help.

Chung Ho then drove his car, left the rented house and continued their journey to Pyeongchang-dong villa.

Park Soo Hyun continued to follow them. Felt very curious of why Soo Yin had to lie. What was even more surprising was when their car entered the Pyeongchang-dong villa area.

Park Soo Hyun stopped his car when he saw the car entered one of the villas.

"Soo Yin, why did you lie?" muttered Park Soo Hyun while hitting the steering wheel.

He chose to turn around to return to the UN Village. Maybe tomorrow he should find out more about Soo Yin's hidden secret.

As soon as she got out of the car, Soo Yin was immediately wide-eyed to see a silver Maybach already parked in the garage.

"Chung Ho, is Dae Hyun home?" Soo Yin asked to make sure about her husband's whereabouts so as not to be disappointed.

"That's right, Miss. It was master who was going to pick you up but I insisted on forbidding him because it was late. Besides, you must also be very tired because you just got home," Chung Ho explained, afraid that Soo Yin would think badly.

"I understand," Soo Yin said with a happy smile. Then she hastened her pace so that she could meet her husband.

Her disheveled and dispirited face suddenly brightened up again. Earlier, Soo Yin had intended that when she came home, she would go straight to bed.

Soo Yin quickly walked up the stairs to her room. Then entered the room. She saw a suitcase was lying on the floor.

"Dae Hyun, where are you?" shouted Soo Yin as she looked to all corners of the room. But there was no one.

Soo Yin then wanted to go to his study. Maybe he was working.

Check...

Soo Yin turned the door knob to slowly open it. Her gaze fell on the empty desk. Then she looked around the room. Until finally Soo Yin found someone she really missed.

Dae Hyun was sitting while leaning his head on the back of the sofa as his eyes tightly closed.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 437 - 437 - Wait A Moment

Soo Yin smiled as she walked slowly. She was sure that her husband was just pretending to be asleep and wanted to prank her. But as soon as she got behind him, there was a smooth, regular snoring sound that could be heard.

Soo Yin moved her palm in front of her face but Dae Hyun wasn't bothered at all.

"Looks like you're tired. Why don't you just sleep in our room?" Soo Yin muttered with pouting lips.

She looked at her husband's body from top to bottom. It turned out that Dae Hyun was still wearing shoes and a tie. His body was also still wearing a work suite.

Soo Yin crouched down and took off the shoes and socks one by one from Dae Hyun's feet.

Then Soo Yin sat on the sofa while removing the tie that was wrapped around Dae Hyun's neck. Their faces were so close that Soo Yin could feel her husband's snoring breath.

Dae Hyun's body started to move slightly when Soo Yin's hand hit the nape of his neck. He slowly opened his eyes slightly, peeking at Soo Yin who was touching his chin. It caused vibrations like an electric strike running through his body.

Dae Hyun closed his eyes again, hoping that Soo Yin would let go of the touch. But Soo Yin's touch was getting softer and smoother as one of her hands was on his thigh.

"Are you so impatient that you want to do it without my permission?" Dae Hyun said with his eyes closed. His lips curled into a smile to suppress the moan that was about to escape his lips.

"No," answered Soo Yin who suddenly stood up in surprise.

Dae Hyun slowly opened his eyes to see Soo Yin's face that he had missed.

"You tricked me," Soo Yin said while hitting her husband's chest.

"I woke up when you touched me. The muscles in my body feel alive when you are next to me." Dae Hyun winked, glancing mischievously.

"Don't be perverted, let's sleep in the room because it's late," said Soo Yin. He was like a bird that had been released from its cage after a few days of not coming home.

"Wait a moment." Dae Hyun held Soo Yin's wrist as she was about to step out. Pulled her until Soo Yin fell on his lap.

Dae Hyun started to smell Soo Yin's very intoxicating scent. He sniffed the nape of her neck as his eyes closed.

"Honey, it's ticklish," Soo Yin said as she shuddered when she moved her head.

"Your scent is very tempting to me, especially your touch which is getting more clever," whispered Dae Hyun in Soo Yin's ear. The wild desire that had been suppressed began to spread throughout his body.

"Honey, I haven't showered yet. Let's take a shower first." Soo Yin grabbed Dae Hyun's hand when he was about to touch the two lumps on her chest.

"Can't we do it now?" Dae Hyun said in a hoarse voice.

"Be patient, I'm uncomfortable because I haven't showered all day." Soo Yin covered Dae Hyun's lips with her finger. She stared intently into the depths of his eyes.

Dae Hyun closed his eyes and took a deep breath. He was reluctant to obey his wife's request to let go of his grip.

"You always ask me to hold it in," Dae Hyun grumbled.

"You're the one who's too easy to seduce. I didn't even do anything," said Soo Yin with a crisp laugh.

"You seductive girl, it's obvious that you're trying to wake me up but you're still dodging." Dae Hyun tightened his embrace for a moment so strongly.

"Honey, let go. Do you intend to make me unable to breathe," said Soo Yin, trying to loosen Dae Hyun's arms that were wrapped around her chest.

"That's right, I even really want to make you cannot breathe if there are men in the same room you're in," said Dae Hyun with a chuckle.

"Honey, I want to tell you a little about your brother," said Soo Yin.

"Hmm, what about him?" Dae Hyun asked lazily. He rested his chin on Soo Yin's shoulder.

"I don't want to work with him anymore. He almost drives me crazy for not being allowed to go home at all. While working with him, I can't even go home. He kept giving assignments until my work piles up. I was forced to work overtime with him." Soo Yin grumbled to vent the anger in her mind.

"Don't worry, it won't happen again from tomorrow on. You will always be with me." Dae Hyun rested Soo Yin's head on his shoulder. Felt sorry because Soo Yin had been depressed for the past few days.

"When I told him to find another girl, he didn't want to. In fact, he wanted to meet and compete with you," said Soo Yin. She told all of the complaints that were in her heart. Being near Dae Hyun like this made her very comfortable and calm.

"Why didn't you just tell him that he sees me often?"

"How can I dare to say it. Never mind, I want to take a shower first. My body feels very tired." Soo Yin took a deep breath then stood up.

"Go first, I'll follow. I have some files to work on," said Dae Hyun.

"Remember, don't take too long or I'll get mad because you care more about work than me." Soo Yin narrowed her eyes as she pursed her lips forward.

"I promise, it's only ten minutes," said Dae Hyun.

Soo Yin nodded her head then rushed out of the study. Her eyes felt heavy again until when she was about to enter her room she bumped into the door.

"Ouch" Soo Yin exclaimed while holding her forehead which felt quite sore from hitting the wood.

Soo Yin immediately cleaned herself up so that she'll feel fresh and sleep well. After bathing, Soo Yin wished that her husband was already in the room. But it was a shame, because he hadn't come back yet even though he promised that he'll do his work for only ten minutes.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 438 - 438 - Don't Sleep With Me Anymore

Soo Yin reached into her cell phone which was in her bag to text her husband. She was reluctant if she had to scream in the middle of the night.

[It turns out that your work is indeed more important than me. Just sleep with your files from now on. Don't sleep with me anymore!] wrote Soo Yin with anger that was starting to set in.

Which woman who was not upset if her husband was always concerned with work even though he just returned.

Dae Hyun had just closed his laptop when he got a message from his little wife. Instead of being annoyed, Dae Hyun actually smiled when he read it.

During his marriage with Aeri, she never once forbade him to work late and didn't care about him. Maybe it was because they didn't love each other so they didn't really care.

Now that they were about to separate, then Aeri paid attention to him.

The only way to get Aeri to divorce him was to announce his relationship with Soo Yin. Besides, now he didn't need to think about the hotel because Park

Soo Hyun already existed. He better talk about it tomorrow with Soo Yin. Because he knew Aeri will do anything to buy time through Jo Yeon Ho.

After reading the message, Dae Hyun immediately rushed back to the room before his little wife got angry.

"Sorry honey, I just finished it," said Dae Hyun as he approached Soo Yin who was drying her hair in front of the mirror.

"If I don't send a message, maybe you won't be rushing back either," Soo Yin said with a snort and then pursed her lips.

"Ah, it's a shame that my sweet wife is really angry," Dae Hyun teased as he looked at Soo Yin from the mirror's reflection.

"Come on, no need to brag. Now hurry up and take a shower," said Soo Yin as she turned around and pushed her husband's body towards the bathroom door.

"Looks like you're really impatient," Dae Hyun teased with a chuckle.

"Hurry up and shower!" exclaimed Soo Yin who was getting impatient.

Dae Hyun then closed the bathroom door before his little wife raged.

Meanwhile, Soo Yin stepped back onto the bed because her eyes were already sleepy.

Even to go to the dressing room to find clothes, she felt very lazy. Soo Yin kept yawning and slowly finally closed her eyes.

Dae Hyun had finished cleaning himself. His brow furrowed as he approached Soo Yin who had her back to him. Her position was curled up like a fetus in the womb.

"Honey, I'm done," Dae Hyun said as he climbed up and laid down beside Soo Yin.

Didn't get a response, Dae Hyun turned Soo Yin's body into a supine position.

"She's even fallen asleep," Dae Hyun mumbled with a snort.

Without realising, it was already morning. Soo Yin just squirmed without opening her eyes. Sleeping in her bedroom was very comfortable after a few days of not touching it.

Soo Yin fumbled by the bedside to find the man she loved. It turned out that there was only a bolster pillow that was touched by her hand. She was so curious so she slowly opened her eyes.

Dae Hyun slept on the edge of the bed with a bolster pillow as a barrier between them.

Soo Yin looked at her body which was still wearing a bathrobe. Last night, apparently she fell asleep even though she intended to just close her eyes for a moment. Soo Yin then removed the bolster pillow which was a barrier. Inched closer to her husband and hugged him from behind.

Dae Hyun pretended to be asleep, actually since last night he couldn't sleep. Hoping that Soo Yin would wake up, but unfortunately his hopes were in vain. Even though he had woken her up many times, Soo Yin still didn't want to wake up. Just stretched spoiled to show her sexy body. Soo Yin was not wearing underwear so Dae Hyun was very easy to see it.

Soo Yin deliberately tightened her arms while rubbing his stomach which was like torn bread. Then took off the straps of the sleeping robe that Dae Hyun was wearing.

Dae Hyun still remained in his position even though he had to hold on with all his might so as not to move. What amused him even more was when Soo Yin hid her face in his recess.

"Soo Yin, what are you doing? I'm still sleepy," said Dae Hyun with a hoarse voice and then removed Soo Yin's hand that was wrapped around his waist.

"Get up, it's noon now," Soo Yin whined in a spoiled tone and stuck herself even more.

"Get up first, I'm still very sleepy." Dae Hyun pretended to squirm while yawning.

"Honey, wake up. Are you mad that I slept first last night?" Soo Yin shook Dae Hyun's body to wake him up.

"You made me sleepless all night," Dae Hyun grumbled while massaging his temples. Had to turn his body so they were facing each other.

"Why though?" Soo Yin furrowed her brows without feeling guilty at all.

"Look at your chest, you don't even notice it," said Dae Hyun.

Soo Yin lowered her gaze at her slightly exposed chest. At first glance it didn't look like anything out of the ordinary.

"What's wrong with my chest?" Soo Yin blinked her eyes. Didn't realize of what happened.

Dae Hyun let out a long sigh then pulled the bathrobe that Soo Yin had been wearing all night. Until the robe came off and Dae Hyun's hand opened it slightly.

Soo Yin's eyes followed the direction of her husband's gaze. What a surprise to see her chest which was almost full of red marks.

"You did all of this?" Soo Yin stared at her husband's two eagle eyes in disbelief. Because last night she didn't feel anything.

Soo Yin covered her face with one hand. Realized that she was sleeping like a fainted person who couldn't feel anything.

"You didn't wake up even though your lips were moaning." Dae Hyun touched Soo Yin's lips with his finger.

"Really? I don't even feel it at all?"

Chapter 439 - 439 - Letting Go (21+)

"I feel like last night I wanted to bite your body," said Dae Hyun angrily.

"I just had a very good night's sleep last night. Are we working today?" asked Soo Yin. Honestly she didn't want to go anywhere today.

"Don't worry, my family won't even know if I come back because I always come home ahead of schedule. Only Assistant Chang who knows everything."

"Then I'd better send a message to your brother." Soo Yin reached for her cell phone which was on the nightstand.

[Master, today I am can't come to work because there is a morning class schedule. My assignment is piling up too] Soo Yin wrote before finally hitting the send button.

"Honey, I want to confess our relationship in front of many people," said Dae Hyun, expressing his heart last night.

"What relationship?" Soo Yin didn't know the direction of their conversation yet.

"It feels like being separated from Aeri is difficult because she will buy time with Yeon Ho's excuse. You know, I'm very weak when it comes to my son." Dae Hyun looked at Soo Yin's eyes sadly. He felt sad because he can't keep his promise.

"Ughh... they will definitely blame me," Soo Yin said with a chuckle.

"Even though I divorced Aeri and then announce our relationship. Still they will think if you take me from her because we have been together for a long time." Dae Hyun thought whether he said it later or now, the effect would be the same.

"I'm afraid that everyone will hate me," Soo Yin said while biting her lip.

"Believe me, everything will be fine. Everything requires sacrifice." Dae Hyun embraced Soo Yin's face and then kissed her beautiful eyes in turn.

Honestly, Soo Yin felt scared, because the image of the past was ringing in her ears again.

"I will make them shut up with the power of our love." Dae Hyun smiled warmly which was able to calm Soo Yin.

"There are also many people who openly have two wives. Although it might upset my family but now there's no need to worry because it has nothing to do with the hotel. The hotel is entirely Park Soo Hyun's responsibility. Maybe soon he will be pressed to get married immediately." Dae Hyun added.

"Yesterday I met Yeon Ho. He looked at me very cynically and like he was scared. It seems like Aeri said something bad about me," said Soo Yin. Recalled Jo Yeon Ho's unusual gaze.

"I could already guess. Aeri did it on purpose because we made an agreement."

"Agreement?" Soo Yin knitted her brows together.

"Aeri will let me and Jo Yeon Ho go under one condition. The woman who married me must be close to Yeon Ho," Dae Hyun explained a little. Unexpectedly, Aeri took it too far.

"I see, maybe I'll do the same with her. A woman must find it difficult to give up custody to a man. Her heart will definitely restless for fear of her replacement being a bad woman." Soo Yin tried to be wise even though she didn't know what Aeri's intentions were.

"Hmmm, I don't know. But it seems that your goals are different, because Aeri is not a woman as good as you." Dae Hyun took a deep breath.

"Never mind, don't talk about it anymore. Tell me why did you wake me up?" Dae Hyun added. He didn't want to talk about anything else when they just met.

"Nothing, I just missed you," said Soo Yin.

"Really? Don't you want to vent your longing?" Dae Hyun said with a smile.

Soo Yin stayed silent because she was too embarrassed to answer. Instead, she tightened her arms and hid her head in her husband's firm chest. Inhaled his masculine scent.

Dae Hyun couldn't stand it when Soo Yin rubbed his stomach. With a quick movement, he was already on top of Soo Yin.

Dae Hyun looked at Soo Yin's eyes misty. Without a word he began to land his lips. Crushed it slowly to channel the suppressed desire. Traced every corner of Soo Yin's mouth with passionate passion.

His hands were already playing on his wife's two beautiful, unobstructed mounds.

They were small but fit perfectly in his hand. Dae Hyun started to fiddle with his fingers on the red shoots that were so squishy. Touched it to give it a smooth and soft touch which was irresistible.

Soo Yin's body was shaking violently, feeling the sensation of pleasure wanting to get more all over her body. Wanted it again when Dae Hyun removed his hand from the mound.

Her eyes were closed and the moans that came out of her thin lips continued to be heard, which made Dae Hyun even more excited.

After being satisfied with tracing her lips, Dae Hyun turned his lips to trace the recesses up to Soo Yin's ears. Tasted it with so much passion that made Soo Yin couldn't stand it even more.

Slowly Dae Hyun's lips landed on the red shoot that was so tempting. The fruit that men always wanted to devour, so he played it with his tongue there. He felt happy when Soo Yin ruffled his hair and pressed his head.

Dae Hyun used one hand to start playing on Soo Yin's core area so a long sigh escaped her lips.

Soo Yin's hand switched to tightly gripped the sheets until they were crumpled and messy.

Dae Hyun continued to take over to dominate every game. Let his wife continued to feel the peak of pleasure when Dae Hyun pressed the core of her body.

The core of Soo Yin's body now felt full and very congested.

The groans and sighs of the two people who were intoxicated with romance continued to be heard filling the room. It made a sound that was so sweet to their ears.

Soo Yin's breath hitched as she reached her first pleasure. Wanted to stop for a moment but Dae Hyun kept crushing her again with stronger and regular urges.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 440 - 440 - He's Still Sleep

Sweat had already flooded both of them as the heat was seeping through their bodies.

The bed was already falling apart like a broken ship because Dae Hyun asked in various styles. As if he was not tired at all.

They both let out long sighs as the two of them reached the top of the pleasure at the same time.

Dae Hyun's body, which was covered in sweat, collapsed on top of Soo Yin, gasping for air. Between holding tired and the desire that had been channeled. His eyes closed to feel the sensation that had just occurred.

Soo Yin stroked Dae Hyun's hair slowly after catching her breath.

"Honey, come down. I could become deflated if you continue to be on top of me," said Soo Yin but Dae Hyun didn't move at all. Instead, a soft snoring escaped his lips.

"Is he asleep?" mumbled Soo Yin as she struggled to get away from Dae Hyun's stout body. If it continued too long, she might not live anymore.

"Ughhh..." Soo Yin's breath hitched after pushing Dae Hyun's body away from her body. Then she sat up and put her bathrobe back on.

Soo Yin covered her husband's body with a blanket. Maybe Dae Hyun was very tired because he didn't sleep all night. She kissed Dae Hyun's cheek before getting out of bed. She had to clean herself up after a very tiring activity.

After bathing Soo Yin looked at Dae Hyun who was still fast asleep. She didn't have the heart to wake him even though the sun had started to rise.

Confused because she didn't have anything to do, Soo Yin descended the stairs and headed to the kitchen for breakfast as her stomach had been rumbling since then.

"Good morning, Auntie," Soo Yin greeted cheerfully. Her face radiated that she was happy today.

"Finally you came home after a few days of not coming back to this house, Miss," said Aunt Xia with a warm smile.

"Hmmm, working with Park Soo Hyun makes me unable to go anywhere. If last night I didn't ask permission to go to college, I would still be stuck with him right now." Soo Yin sighed heavily.

"Where's Mr. Dae Hyun? Doesn't he have breakfast?" Aunt Xia asked as she looked around.

"He's still asleep, I couldn't bear to wake him up."

Soo Yin pulled out a chair and sat down at the dining table. Her saliva seemed to be dripping when she saw the food that had been served.

"Hmm, has Auntie been living with Dae Hyun for a long time?" Soo Yin asked as she took the food onto the plate.

"Actually, auntie used to work with Mrs. Park but auntie retired when I got married," said Aunt Xia with a long sigh.

"Really? Does that mean you know all of their families?"

"Of course, auntie used to take care of Mr. Dae Hyun and his brother," said Aunt Xia.

"When I was single they were old enough that they would recognize aunt even if they never met me anymore. After ten years of marriage, auntie's husband died so auntie worked hard to earn living expenses for the children. Until one day aunt met Mr. Dae Hyun. He asked aunt to take care of this villa," Aunt Xia explained a little.

Soo Yin nodded her head while enjoying the food on her plate. Didn't ask any further about the family.

"After this, auntie will go to the market because the stock of ingredients in the refrigerator is running out," said aunt Xia, because she had to leave quickly before the fresh fish in the market ran out.

"Auntie, can I come with you? I want to go shopping to learn how to be a good wife," Soo Yin said while scratching her head.

"Then, what about master? He will definitely look for you, Miss." Aunt Xia said.

"It's okay, I'll write him a message later."

"But in that market, the place is dirty and muddy because auntie will be looking for fresh fish." Before leaving, Aunt Xia had to tell her everything so that Soo Yin wouldn't be surprised.

"It's okay, Auntie," said Soo Yin who didn't mind at all.

Aunt Xia then nodded her head. She was happy to take Soo Yin shopping so she had friends to discuss with.

After finishing breakfast, Soo Yin immediately returned to her room. It turned out that Dae Hyun had woken up and had just came out of the bathroom.

"Honey, are you awake?" Soo Yin said while looking for the bag to carry.

"Hmmm," said Dae Hyun with a furrowed brow as he was looking at Soo Yin who was draping the bag on her shoulder. Then she walked to the mirror and combed her hair and tied it in a ponytail.

Dae Hyun approached Soo Yin and then hugged her from behind.

"You look like you're leaving? Isn't there a class schedule today?"

"I'm going to the market. Stay home because I won't be long." Soo Yin broke free and landed her lips on Dae Hyun's cheeks.

"I'll coming along." Dae Hyun held Soo Yin's hand, as she was about to walk away.

Soo Yin was forced to stop in her tracks while looking at her husband.

"Aunt Xia and I are going to the market, not a vacation. After all, Aunt Xia said the place is dirty and muddy. A rich person like you wouldn't want to go to a place like that," Soo Yin said carefully, afraid that her husband would be offended.

"I have to come!" Dae Hyun said in a firm tone. The look in his eyes showed a desire to come along.

"Stay at home because I won't be long. If you are with us then you will definitely feel bored. There are no men who come shopping," Soo Yin explained so that her husband would understand.

"No problem," said Dae Hyun flatly.

"But" Before Soo Yin could continue her words, Dae Hyun had already pulled her hand and landed a kiss on her lips.
