

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 461 - 461 - I'm Better Than You

"He's lying, Mother. He's not at the hotel at all," Dae Hyun said angrily, wanting to say everything that happened but was afraid that his mother would be shocked.

If Soo Yin wanted to come along with him then everything would feel more relieved.

Dae Hyun immediately reached into his cellphone which was in his pants pocket to contact Park Soo Hyun to come home as soon as possible.

"What's wrong?" said Park Soo Hyun weakly.

"Hurry home, don't be a coward. Don't hide if there's a problem," Dae Hyun said in a rising voice.

"You don't have to worry because I'm on my way home." Park Soo Hyun's voice sounded so weak that Dae Hyun wanted to throw a fist at him.

Dae Hyun immediately hung up the phone because he didn't really like to express his emotions with words.

Aeri was quite annoyed because last night Dae Hyun had left her because of an unimportant damn girl.

Today Jo Yeon Ho had left for school so Dae Hyun felt calm. His son didn't need to see if there would be a fight.

"Dae Hyun, then where have you been? Why did you just come back? Shouldn't you two be together last night?" asked Mrs. Park who was suspicious because Dae Hyun rarely stayed at home. Even since coming home from out of town, he always said that he would stay at the hotel.

Aeri couldn't help but speak up. Maybe this was a right time to say it all. But just as she was about to open her mouth, Park Soo Hyun appeared. His steps looked a little wobbly.

"Finally you have the courage to show your face." Dae Hyun immediately approached Park Soo Hyun and then threw a fist that was quite hard to his face.

Park Soo Hyun, who was feeling weak, immediately staggered to the ground. His head was spinning.

"Dae Hyun, what are you doing?" shouted Mrs. Park who was hysterical when she saw Dae Hyun hit Park Soo Hyun's body several times.

Park Soo Hyun just kept quiet without any intention of fighting back because his actions yesterday were wrong.

"Stop it!" Mrs. Park tried to block Park Soo Hyun by being in front of him with her arms outstretched when she saw Dae Hyun about to hit him again.

Dae Hyun was forced to lower his fists because he didn't want his mother to be hit. His eyes were sharp and burning. His breathing was irregular due to holding back the anger in his chest. Remembering how last night Soo Yin had tears in her eyes and looked very scared.

"If there is a problem between you, it should be discussed properly. Not with violence like this," said Mrs. Park as she shook her head.

"What is this?" said Park Ji Hoon, who had just come out of the study.

"Just ask him," Dae Hyun said sarcastically as he looked at Park Soo Hyun.

"Please now everyone sit down and please explain what happened between you two." Mrs. Park helped Park Soo Hyun to stand up and sat him down on the sofa.

Everyone was now sitting on the sofa in the family room. They seemed to want to have a discussion. There was silence without anyone making a sound. Park Soo Hyun sat halfway between his mother and sister-in-law. Meanwhile, Dae Hyun sat next to Park Ji Hoon.

Dae Hyun and Park Soo Hyun both didn't want to open a conversation first.

Dae Hyun turned his face to the other way because he didn't want to look at his brother.

Meanwhile, Park Soo Hyun was holding back the pain in his face from Dae Hyun's punch. Even his nose and corners of his lips were bleeding.

"Why is everyone silent? You two have to talk quickly." Mrs. Park tried to be wise not to defend her two sons because she didn't know what really happened. Although she felt very sorry for Park Soo Hyun who was bruised.

"Soo Hyun, where were you last night? Why did you come home undressed?" said Mrs. Park with an intimidating look. Then sniffed the body of her youngest son. The aroma of wine immediately wafted into her nostrils.

"Have you been drunk all night?" She continued with sharp eyes.

Park Soo Hyun just kept quiet, his mind drifted to imagine that last night he had forced Jean to serve him. The girl who didn't know anything was now the victim.

"How could he dare to go home. He almost rape Soo Yin," said Dae Hyun with a burning breath while squinting his eyes at Park Soo Hyun.

"What?" Mrs. Park was really surprised to hear what Dae Hyun said.

"So you blamed me for that. It wasn't entirely my fault. You were the one who started lying to me, not only me. Everyone was even fooled by what you were hiding," said Park Soo Hyun while snorting in self-defense.

"Of course, because it's you who is at fault. You shouldn't force someone who doesn't want to love you," Dae Hyun pouted with a lopsided smile on his lips.

"I just want to know, why Soo Yin would rather be your mistress than be my girlfriend," replied Park Soo Hyun no less fiercely.

"Because I'm better than you," Dae Hyun said triumphantly.

"What are you talking about? I don't understand at all," said Mrs. Park who felt confused by everything. Her head felt a little dizzy when she heard her two sons arguing.

Park Ji Hoon can't do anything when all their bitter truths and secrets have to be exposed. He didn't want to get involved because his two sons were adults.

"Mother, let me explain everything." Aeri couldn't help but speak, maybe this was the best time for Mrs. Park to believe her.

"Tell me what you know?" asked Mrs. Park who was impatient.

Immediately Aeri put on a sad and pleading face to make it more convincing.

"Mother, actually Soo Yin has been trying to seduce Dae Hyun for a long time. She seduced Dae Hyun because she wanted to have the treasure of this family," said Aeri sadly.

"What? There's no way Soo Yin would do that," said Mrs. Park as she shook her head. Considering Soo Yin was an innocent and very kind girl.

Chapter 462 - 462 - I Loved Her

"I'm telling the truth, Mom. I've been silent all this time because I'm afraid that Mom will trust her more than me," Aeri continued with teary eyes.

"That's impossible," muttered Mrs. Park as she held her chest which felt very tight hearing Aeri's statement.

"Aeri, you don't have to interfere with my problems," said Dae Hyun with a cold tone and piercing gaze at Aeri.

"Mom, I'm really not lying. That's why Dae Hyun has always intended to divorce me. Actually it was all incitement from Soo Yin," Aeri said while sobbing.

"You don't have to blame Soo Yin, because she didn't seduce me at all. I was the one who forced her to marry me," Dae Hyun said firmly to straighten everything out because Soo Yin was completely innocent.

"No way. Dae Hyun, she is a poor girl and you are a rich person. She must have poisoned your mind so that you've been consumed by all her words," said Aeri. As much as possible, she was looking for loopholes to look for Soo Yin's ugliness.

"You're wrong. Just so you know, I loved her since the first time we met. She didn't seduce me at all, I forced her to marry me. I said that at that time I wasn't married so she wanted to marry me," said Dae Hyun. Instead of his family looking down on Soo Yin, it was better not to tell the truth.

"Dae Hyun, how could you lie to us all," said Mrs. Park with a look on her face that looked angry and her body was also shaking.

Park Ji Hoon immediately turned to sit next to his wife with complicated feelings. Then looked at Dae Hyun with an implied look so as not to involve this matter with him. He didn't want this matter to end in a bigger fight.

"Sorry, Mom but I really love her. I've been married to her for a long time, long before she became my secretary. Please don't hate her, I reiterate once again that she is completely innocent," Dae Hyun said hopefully.

"Then why didn't you tell us? Why did you lie to me, pretending to agree with my relationship with Soo Yin." Park Soo Hyun's chest felt tight because the person who was so trusted and became a role model for him had to lie.

"When did I pretend to support you? Didn't I strictly forbid you from the start when you tried to approach her? Should I explain everything one by one in detail?" said Dae Hyun in a cold tone.

"Dae Hyun, I can't believe you would do this to us. Even though you know that Park Soo Hyun loves Soo Yin very much. Don't you care anymore of how Jo Yeon Ho and Aeri feel for all your actions?" Mrs. Park started to sob because she didn't think that her family would be destroyed because of a girl. What hurt her the most was that the girl was very trusted and liked by her.

"I've said from the start that I never loved Aeri. I'm not the type of man who easily falls in love with just any woman. At first I tried to accept and love Aeri but I couldn't at all," explained Dae Hyun in a flat tone.

"What are you going to do now? Do you have the heart to leave Yeon Ho who is your flesh and blood just because of a girl you've only been with for a few months?" said Mrs. Park, subtly asked them to separate. Because Mrs. Park will not be able to forgive them if Dae Hyun chose Soo Yin over his son.

Dae Hyun lowered his head with his hands intertwined. Honestly, he himself was confused because it was impossible to let Yeon Ho go to Aeri.

Aeri smiled happily because of Mrs. Park put Dae Hyun into a corner and he was forced to choose between his son or Soo Yin. There was no way Dae Hyun would leave Yeon Ho for that girl. It was not in vain to make Yeon Ho close to her, indeed.

Dae Hyun bowed heavily because he had to think hard considering everything that might be bad for everyone. But his determination was now quite unanimous with the decision to be taken.

"Quickly tell me which one you chose? Did you choose your son over the girl?" urged Mrs. Park who wanted to know her son's answer immediately. Even though she knew who her son would choose. There was no way Dae Hyun would choose someone else over his own flesh and blood.

"I couldn't possibly leave my son." Dae Hyun lifted his head with his eyes closed then sighed heavily. Because the decisions taken were very difficult.

"You have to be able to choose because it's impossible to have both," said Mrs. Park. She was firm and tried to calm down. Hoped that Dae Hyun's answer will not disappoint her feelings.

Dae Hyun took a deep breath because this was really hard. Maybe this was the right time to choose.

"I won't let Yeon Ho go but I can't leave Soo Yin more," said Dae Hyun while looking deeply at his mother. Apologized because maybe that answer was not the answer wanted by his mother at all.

Everyone was surprised to hear Dae Hyun's statement who preferred his mistress over his own son. Aeri gaped while shaking her head repeatedly. Making sure it wasn't a dream.

"Dae Hyun, what do you mean?" Park Ji Hoon spoke up because as the head of the family he had to be firm. It was enough to play around to let Dae Hyun feel free.

"I will choose Soo Yin no matter what. It's up to you if you don't like it because I don't care. I've said many times that I want to find my own happiness," Dae Hyun said with a feeling that he was relieved because he was able to say everything.

"For hotel matters, you don't need to worry because it won't have a bad impact on whatever I do. I will also leave because Park Soo Hyun has replaced me," continued Dae Hyun.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 463 - 463 - Surprised

Mrs. Park shook her head because she couldn't believe Dae Hyun's answer, which really hurt her mind. It was the first time Mrs. Park saw Dae Hyun as a rebellious man.

Usually he will do whatever his mother says.

"Dae Hyun, do you aware what you have said? You are willing to leave everything just for the sake of that girl?" said Mrs. Park with tears in her eyes, tried to hold back her aching heart.

"I'm well aware, mother. Nothing affects my mind because I've been thinking about it for a long time."

"Dae Hyun, how could you have me and Jo Yeon Ho. Don't you think about Jo Yeon Ho's feelings if you leave?" said Aeri who stood up. Her body immediately felt weak because her efforts to separate them were also unsuccessful.

"If you don't influence his mind, Yeon Ho won't hate Soo Yin. Just so you know that Yeon Ho actually loves Soo Yin more than you," Dae Hyun said without caring if his words hurt others.

"Yeon Ho will never like that woman forever," said Aeri with anger that began to rise until her body began to tremble. Her fists clenched so tightly that her nails stuck to her palms.

"You better get out of this house. I don't want to have a lying brother like you," said Park Soo Hyun while pointing at the door.

"I'm a liar but at least I never impose my will on others," quipped Dae Hyun.

Dae Hyun's words made Park Soo Hyun want to get angry and reply to Dae Hyun by punching him in the face.

"Dae Hyun, you should leave right now because I don't want this problem to continue further," said Park Ji Hoon firmly. He was forced to expel Dae Hyun before things got worse.

"Okay, I don't mind at all if I have to get out of this house. If Jo Yeon Ho misses me, just call me. I'd be happy to come as soon as possible," Dae Hyun said with a flat face so it'll be difficult for everyone to read his facial expressions.

"For you, Aeri. It's up to you if you want a divorce or not. In the end, you will be the one who has trouble if you want to remarry," Dae Hyun continued to bully Aeri to give up.

"I have no intention of marrying again. I will only marry once in my life," Aeri said firmly and gritted her teeth tightly.

Dae Hyun immediately stepped to leave the house. It seemed useless to give an explanation to Aeri.

"Dae Hyun, please don't go. Don't leave me with Yeon Ho. Let her be my competitor but you don't go," shouted Aeri hysterically of what had happened to her household.

"Aeri, let him calm his mind first." Mrs. Park held Aeri's wrist when she was about to run after Dae Hyun.

"What if he doesn't come back, Mom?" Aeri sobbed, for the first time she felt very regret.

"Dae Hyun will definitely come back because in the end a husband will return to his first wife. The important thing is that you survive so you don't divorce him," said Mrs. Park to help their household not be destroyed.

"After he finds out about the girl's ugliness then he will definitely go home. Trust me," said Mrs. Park while glancing at Park Ji Hoon with a ragged breath.

Suddenly Mrs. Park remembered when Dae Hyun was very young, Park Ji Hoon had done the same thing as Dae Hyun was doing now. Until in the end he returned to her because his mistress was acting very badly. That was why Mrs. Park really disliked and immediately hated Soo Yin knowing that she was flirting with a married person.

"No need to talk about it anymore," said Park Ji Hoon quietly while looking at his wife meaningfully. That was why Park Ji Hoon didn't want to get involved in Dae Hyun's problems.

Mrs. Park looked away because her chest felt tight every time she remembered the events that had passed. The reality that had just been with her today, made old scars feel like they were repeating themselves.

"Sun Woo, you should go to your room and rest. Don't think about things that make you hurt," persuaded Park Ji Hoon who didn't want his wife to remember the bad past. It was just a mistake that would be regretted for life.

"Park Soo Hyun, you should clean your body," said Mrs. Park while climbing the stairs. She still couldn't understand what had just happened to her eldest son.

Hopefully everything will pass quickly and the nightmare will end soon.

"Okay, Mom," said Park Soo Hyun with a listless face. Lamenting his pathetic love journey

Pyeongchang-dong villa

Dae Hyun immediately parked the car in the garage because today he didn't intend to go anywhere. Now the burden on his shoulders felt less because he had said everything in front of his big family. Now there was no need to be afraid of holding hands in public with Soo Yin.

The man immediately went to their room to find the whereabouts of his beloved wife with a cheerful hum and a face as bright as the sun in the morning.

"Honey, where are you now?" Dae Hyun exclaimed when he didn't find Soo Yin in every corner of their room.

Dae Hyun immediately walked to the balcony to see where Soo Yin was. It turned out to be true as expected, it was vaguely visible that Soo Yin's body was in the greenhouse that had just been built a few days ago.

"Honey!" Called Dae Hyun with a big smile and waved his hand when Soo Yin looked at him. Finally he could keep his promise after so long.

Dae Hyun immediately changed into more casual clothes. He just wore a T-shirt and shorts and then went down the stairs to the greenhouse which was not too far away. It was located right behind the villa and was still in one area.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 464 - 464 - I Choose You

"Are you not go to work, Sir?" Aunt Xia said with knitted brows seeing Dae Hyun who had changed into his casual clothes. Even though this morning he was dressed very neatly.

"No, Auntie. Starting today I will have a day off," said Dae Hyun with a shining face like there was no burden at all.

Aunt Xia didn't ask any further. Maybe because Dae Hyun just came from out of town so he can take a break for a while.

Dae Hyun walked to his feet with a smile that was so blooming on his lips. Approached his little wife who looked busy with planting media. There was also Chung Ho there who was helping her plant something. They seemed to be engrossed in what they were doing on their own.

"Honey, what did you plant?" Dae Hyun approached Soo Yin and hugged her from behind.

Chung Ho felt bad and self-conscious enough not to bother his boss. Then he left the greenhouse. After all, his heart also felt hot to see the intimacy between them.

"Dae Hyun, stop bothering me," Soo Yin said as she moved her shoulders so that Dae Hyun would remove his chin from her shoulder.

"I just wanted to cheer you up," Dae Hyun whispered. He tucked Soo Yin's hair behind her ear. Then sniffed Soo Yin's neck to smell her scent. He kissed her neck several times and it bothered Soo Yin quite a bit.

"Shouldn't you be going to work? Why are you relaxing like this right now?" Soo Yin tilted her head while narrowing her small eyes.

"From now on I just want to be with you all the time. There's no need to be afraid that anyone will disturb us." Dae Hyun kissed Soo Yin's neck one more time until Soo Yin immediately pushed her husband's body away.

"Did something happen between you two?" Soo Yin immediately turned her body so that they were currently facing each other. Felt suspicious that something bad must have happened.

"No, honey. Our relationship is fine. I just want to set up a restaurant with you," said Dae Hyun with a chuckle. He didn't want to let Soo Yin think and feel guilty about what happened to him.

"Dae Hyun, I don't like being lied to. Don't lie to me again," said Soo Yin, looking at her husband sharply.

Dae Hyun took a deep breath even though he didn't want to tell the truth. But it turned out that Soo Yin can read his mind.

"I've told the truth if I married you," said Dae Hyun with a smile.

"What?" Soo Yin's heart seemed to stop beating for a moment. Her body staggered and floated in the air until she almost fell if Dae Hyun didn't quickly support her.

"Honey, are you all right?" Dae Hyun immediately led Soo Yin to a bench not too far away.

This morning, Soo Yin had told her husband not to say anything about them because she wasn't ready if her life was filled with hatred again. She couldn't stand it if her ears had to hear the insults she felt in the past.

"Why did you say it? Didn't I tell you not to say it for a while," Soo Yin said bitterly and her eyes sparkled with fear.

"Honey, at first I didn't want to say that. But Park Soo Hyun and Aeri have already opened their voices. Badmouthing you in front of my mother. There's no way I'll just keep silent hearing you're always being blamed." Dae Hyun embraced Soo Yin's face, staring at her so deeply.

"What did Aeri say about me?" asked Soo Yin curiously.

"She said that you were the one who caused our household to fall apart. Aeri also instigated mother, saying you were the one who tried to seduce me. There's no way I'll just stay silent without explaining anything to provide a defense," said Dae Hyun.

"Then what was their reaction?"

"Of course they are all angry and asked me to choose between you and Jo Yeon Ho...." Dae Hyun stopped his speech.

Soo Yin was still silent with a look that didn't move from her husband's eagle eyes that were so firm. Left her mouth shut, didn't ask any further who her husband would choose because Soo Yin already knew the answer.

"I choose you." Dae Hyun returned Soo Yin's gaze with tenderness. Convinced her that he didn't regret his choice at all.

"Then, what about Yeon Ho?" Soo Yin really didn't expect her husband to choose her over his son. She knew that the choice would be very hard for him.

"If he wants to be with me it won't be a problem. I will always be a father to him forever," said Dae Hyun, answering all the doubts in Soo Yin's heart over everything that happened.

"He must be very sad because you left him," said Soo Yin sadly. Her chest felt hurt because she had hurt Jo Yeon Ho's feelings. He must have been heartbroken by what had happened.

"Slowly he will also understand and accept everything."

"Then, did Aeri ask for a divorce?"

"She doesn't want a divorce." Dae Hyun took a deep breath.

"That's not important. In the end she will also give up. How can she stand the gossip that befell in her life," continued Dae Hyun. Maybe the news of their quarrel will soon enter the mass media.

Dae Hyun rested Soo Yin's head in his chest when her eyes were already teary.

"I'm just afraid that you'll regret choosing me." Soo Yin's feelings were very touched and sad because Dae Hyun preferred her.

"Don't say that. I will never regret what I thought for a long time. I don't want the past to happen again. Stupidly not trying to fight for my happiness." Dae Hyun rubbed Soo Yin's back gently.

"In fact, I'll regret it if I didn't choose you," added Dae Hyun.

Soo Yin is still dreaming because Dae Hyun is willing to leave his big family just for her sake.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 465 - 465 - You Are So Cute

For a long time she sobbed into her husband's chest with happiness and was touched because Dae Hyun chose her in front of his family.

"Then what about the hotel?" asked Soo Yin.

"I'm out of there too. The hotel is not my responsibility anymore. Park Soo Hyun is already there to take care of it."

Soo Yin nodded her head in understanding.

"Right now let's continue planting it. So that it grows big and I can cook it for you." Dae Hyun pinched the tip of Soo Yin's nose until her face frowned.

"Or do you want me to plant it," whispered Dae Hyun.

"It doesn't matter, I wonder if a man like you can do much."

"I'd rather plant a seed in your womb," Dae Hyun whispered sensually in Soo Yin's ear then nibbled on the tip.

"There's no need to be perverted on a morning like this." Soo Yin pinched Dae Hyun's ear because she was annoyed that he had been bothering her for a long time.

"Ouch, my sweet wife is now a fierce girl," said Dae Hyun while pretending to be in pain.

"Don't overdo it like that," Soo Yin said as her husband's spoiled behavior came out again.

Dae Hyun helped Soo Yin to fill the pot with soil. Soo Yin was not only planning to grow vegetables but would also plant so many flowers.

For vegetable growing media they used hydroponic growing media with paralon media and water that had been assembled in such a way that it can be used to grow vegetables.

Dae Hyun felt very liberated and much happier because he didn't have to work overtime anymore and can spend more time with his little wife. He did not need to be afraid of work problems. Because someone had asked him to work for a construction company.

"Honey, I should just drop out of college." Soo Yin finally spoke up with what she had been thinking for a long time. She didn't want to bother her husband because she knew the tuition fees were very expensive.

"Why?" Dae Hyun turned his body towards Soo Yin because their positions were back to back.

"You're not working now and my tuition is also very expensive," Soo Yin said carefully. Afraid that her husband would be offended by her words.

"Do you think your husband is going to be poor because he doesn't work at the hotel?" Dae Hyun asked while chuckling because Soo Yin had underestimated him.

"It's not like that, I just don't want to add to the burden in your life," Soo Yin said frankly. Dae Hyun was used to living well so it might be difficult to accept everything if their lives were down.

"You don't need to worry because I've prepared everything. There's no way I'll make your life difficult when you're with me," said Dae Hyun.

"I'll think about the job offer that I got."

"You have a new job?" Soo Yin was quite surprised that her husband had gotten a job so quickly.

"Someone offered me a job but I haven't decided because I want to stay at home with you longer." Dae Hyun then kissed Soo Yin's cheek briefly because her cheeks looked so adorable.

Soo Yin glared at her husband for being so fond of doing it all of a sudden.

"Don't be angry, because you will definitely like every kiss from my lips," said Dae Hyun, followed by a laugh that was so crisp and loose.

Soo Yin was so furious that she grabbed the hose and squirted water on Dae Hyun's face.

"You are a very naughty girl," said Dae Hyun as he ran after Soo Yin.

They ended up drenched in water from striking each other with water. Just like children who looked so happy.

Soo Yin had already changed into dry clothes before checking her phone. Perhaps there was an important message.

It turned out that there was an incoming message but the cell phone number was unknown.

[You're satisfied now that you've got what you wanted. I'm sure you guys won't last long]

Soo Yin tried to dial the number but unfortunately it was inactive.

"What's wrong, honey?" Dae Hyun frowned at Soo Yin who looked very serious while looking at her phone.

"There is someone who sent a message. It seems that the person is threatening me," said Soo Yin while showing the contents of the message. This was the second time that they got an almost similar message.

"Just ignore it and don't worry about it. It's not important at all," said Dae Hyun casually. Instead, he wrapped his arms around Soo Yin's waist from behind.

"What's wrong with you today? Why do you always want to stick around?" Soo Yin grumbled, already felt uncomfortable with what Dae Hyun had been doing.

"I just want to be pampered with you. I need a warm hug and a touch of your finger," Dae Hyun said with a smile and thought of something that felt so beautiful.

"Stay away a bit, we'd better come down for lunch." Soo Yin tried to struggle even though Dae Hyun won't let go.

"I'd rather eat your body than anything else."

Soo Yin tilted her head slightly while squinting her eyes. Instead of being afraid, she deliberately pressed their lips.

"You're so cute," Dae Hyun whispered while smiling.

"Don't be perverted because it's still noon," said Soo Yin.

"I'm just praising you. Then why are you scolding me? Is it wrong for me to say that my wife is very cute?" said Dae Hyun while blinking his eyes.

"Never mind." It was better to divert the conversation than let her husband to keep teasing her.

"Where are you going?" Dae Hyun held Soo Yin's wrist as she was about to walk away.

"I'm hungry as well as thirsty. And I won't be full if I only listen to your seduction," Soo Yin said while narrowing her eyes.

"It seems that my words are always wrong in your eyes," said Dae Hyun who pretended to be annoyed.

Soo Yin turned around and looked at her husband intensely.

Cup... she landed a soft kiss on her husband's cheek.

Dae Hyun smiled, finally his little wife came to her senses. Then rubbed his cheek.

"Don't be too much. Let's eat first," said Soo Yin, who immediately pulled Dae Hyun's wrist to follow her steps.

"I always want to do more when I'm around you," Dae Hyun said with a chuckle.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 466 - 466 - Innocent Girl

A few days later,

After that incident, Park Soo Hyun had not had time to meet with Jean. Tonight he planned to look for her after his work was done.

Since noon his work at the hotel had piled up. He was so overwhelmed doing everything alone. No one helped him. Even Chang Yuan suddenly resigned after Dae Hyun left the hotel.

Chang Yuan didn't want to be his assistant even though Park Soo Hyun had offered to raise his salary.

Now Park Soo Hyun felt dizzy because he had to do it himself. Although it was possible to find an assistant but he was reluctant if he had to teach everything from the beginning.

Knock... knock... knock....

Park Soo Hyun was just about to get up from his chair. There was a knock on the door from outside.

"Come in," said Park Soo Hyun in an unenthusiastic tone. His eyes immediately hurt when he saw who it was.

"Soo Hyun, how are you?" Li Sa stepped up to the man. She was deliberately wearing slightly sexy clothes so that Park Soo Hyun was interested in seeing her.

"What did you come here for?" said Park Soo Hyun while massaging his temples. The look on his face was displeased when he saw Li Sa's face. What's more she only wore very skimpy clothes.

"Honey, don't be so angry. I know you're feeling really bad because that damn girl has rejected you. But can't you open the door to your heart for me." Li Sa pretended to put on a sad face, even though what she felt right now was actually very happy because there was no longer her toughest rival. If she'll try just a little, Park Soo Hyun will also melt. Especially now that she was getting close to Mrs. Park.

Park Soo Hyun turned his face to the other way. Felt reluctant to respond to Li Sa's words. He will never open his heart to anyone again.

"I can comfort your heart if you want," Li Sa said sensually.

"I'm not interested," said Park Soo Hyun in a flat tone.

Li Sa didn't care about the look on Park Soo Hyun's face who didn't like her at all. Instead, she got closer to Park Soo Hyun. Deliberately put her hand on the man's thigh.

Park Soo Hyun immediately pushed Li Sa's hand away from his thigh. Didn't interest in a girl like her at all. He didn't like girls who were shameless and overly aggressive.

Now what was on his mind was Jean. Felt very guilty about what he did that night.

Li Sa intentionally puffed out her chest when she was right in front of Park Soo Hyun. The man actually felt very uncomfortable seeing it.

"Can you get out of here?" expelled Park Soo Hyun. Already getting fed up with Li Sa's behavior.

"Come on, honey. Don't be grumpy like that," Li Sa said while leaning her head on Park Soo Hyun's shoulder.

Park Soo Hyun finally got up, causing Li Sa to almost fall to the floor.

"Actually what is Soo Yin's specialty that makes you look so down like this?" said Li Sa who had started to get emotional because Park Soo Hyun had been ignoring her feelings for a long time.

"Obviously she's better than you," said Park Soo Hyun while pointing at Li Sa.

"She even cheated and lied to you but you still say she's better than me," Li Sa said with a snort.

"That's up to me since I'm the one to judge. I don't need to listen to your judgment." Park Soo Hyun immediately stepped out to avoid Li Sa.

"Soo Hyun, wait!" called Li Sa.

Park Soo Hyun didn't care about Li Sa's call anymore. Instead, he walked faster towards the elevator.

"Ah, damn it. Why does it always fail!" Li Sa cursed.

"What exactly does she have that so many men want her?" Li Sa grumbled. Just this morning that she actually heard what happened to their family. She was quite shocked and happy at the same time.

Li Sa chose to stop when she saw a very handsome and dashing man in front of her. Suddenly it occurred to her to get the man if she couldn't get Park Soo Hyun.

"Ouch!" Li Sa groaned, pretending to sprain her leg.

Gong Yoo knitted his brows and glanced at Li Sa who was rubbing her feet. But he didn't stop at all and instead walked away.

"Master, help me." Finally Li Sa asked for help even though at first she didn't want to call him.

Gong Yoo turned around and looked around, there was no one else but him.

"Yes, I called you," Li Sa said while pointing at Gong Yoo.

"Do you need anything?" Gong Yoo furrowed his brows as he felt that there was nothing wrong with Li Sa's legs.

"Oh, my leg hurts. Can you carry me and treat it?" Li Sa said happily. Maybe this man was meant to be with her.

Gong Yoo scanned Li Sa up and down. Looking at her feet that looked like nothing happened.

"Sorry I'm busy. You'd better ask other people for help," said Gong Yoo. He was not the type of man who was easily fooled.

After all, Gong Yoo wanted to find out more about what really happened today. Suddenly the hotel was empty of visitors and hotel gossip was getting more and more widespread. But now it was too late to find out. Gong Yoo didn't know anything because he was busy with his project.

Until finally Gong Yoo passed the two employees who were chatting.

"I really don't think they've had an affair for so long."

"Soo Yin even looks like an innocent girl. I didn't know she was a seductive girl in the form of a fairy godmother."

"No wonder her job has been too casual. She can come to work any time she likes. She even takes a day off at will."

"From now on we have to be wary of girls like that who will enter our lives."

"I'm sorry that Mr. Dae Hyun has been deceived by her. Now it is also affecting the reputation of the hotel. Even though he has resigned from the leadership of the hotel, the hotel will still feel the effects. Now visitors are starting to decrease."

Gong Yoo deliberately slowed his pace to listen to the two women chatting with each other. The man was starting to get a little bit of what was happening. No wonder the deputy director had suddenly been replaced.

"Isn't Soo Yin that drunk girl?" Gong Yoo mumbled momentarily, pausing in his steps as the two women slowly drifted away.

Gong Yoo still couldn't believe what the women were saying. They could be gossiping about something that was not yet clear. His hunch said that Soo Yin was not that type of girl.. He intended to find out about everything that happened.

Chapter 467 - 467 - High Fever

Park Soo Hyun had parked his car at the Griffin Bar. He intended to find Jean there. Hoping tonight was Jean's work schedule.

The man stepped in unenthusiastically. The sound of disco music immediately sounded in his ears with the lights flickering which made his head feel a little dizzy.

"What do you want to order, sir?" A waiter immediately approached Park Soo Hyun. His face was already familiar because in recent times Park Soo Hyun had often come to their bar.

"I don't want anything. I just want to find Jean," said Park Soo Hyun in a flat tone. The memory of that night slowly replayed in his mind even if only dimly.

"Jean? What do you need to look her for?" The waiter's brows knitted, feeling strange. It was unusual for a handsome man looking for Jean's whereabouts.

"Where is she now?" Park Soo Hyun said without answering the waiter's question.

"She has not worked here since a few days ago," explained the waiter.

"Why?" Park Soo Hyun's eyes immediately went wide when he knew this.

"She didn't say much. Jean even just contacted us by phone. Some of her things are still in the drawer but she doesn't seem to have any intention of taking them," said the waiter, shrugging her shoulders.

"May I bring it home for her?" Park Soo Hyun said quickly. It must have been since that night that Jean had not returned to the bar.

"For what? Who are you?" asked the woman with a penetrating and intimidating look.

"I'm a friend of Jean. Let me take them home later. I thought she is still working here," said Park Soo Hyun.

"Okay, let me take it." The woman rushed inside.

Park Soo Hyun waited while sitting on a chair with his head down. Felt so guilty about what he did to Jean that night. It was a shame that Jean had to come to his room. If not, maybe all of that will not happen.

Park Soo Hyun brushed his hair by ruffling it.

Not long after, the waiter came back with Jean's bag and sweater.

"Thank you, I'll drop you off at her house. May I know where is Jean's address?" asked Park Soo Hyun.

The waiter felt even more strange, a friend who didn't even know her address. However, because Park Soo Hyun was a guest who usually spent quite a bit of money at the bar, the waiter finally wrote her address down on paper.

Park Soo Hyun gave some bills to the waiter as a gratitude. Before finally leaving the bar.

????????????????

Jean had a high fever all day. This morning she took the medicine but there was no effect at all. In that house she was alone so no one took care of her.

Jean also couldn't contact anyone because her cell phone was still left at the bar.

Knock... knock...

There was a knock on the door several times.

Jean was about to get out of bed to open the door but her head was too dizzy. Until she nudged a vase that was located on the nightstand until it fell.

The sound was quite audible outside.

"Jean, did something happen?" said a worried Chang Yuan. He just visited Jean again after that night.

No answer was heard from inside so Chang Yuan broke down the door even though it was a little difficult. He was afraid if Jean did reckless things.

After trying hard enough up to several times. Finally the door opened.

Chang Yuan was very surprised to see Jean who was already lying on the floor. The man then lifted Jean's body onto the bed. His skin felt hot when it came into contact with Jean's skin. Chang Yuan put the back of his hand on Jean's forehead. It turned out to be quite hot.

"Mother, don't leave me. I don't have anyone in this world," Jean mumbled with her eyes still closed. Her hand stretched out as if to grab someone's hand.

"Jean, wake up." Chang Yuan patted Jean's cheek to quickly come to her senses. But it didn't work because Jean still mentioned her mother's name.

"Mom, I'm coming." Jean's voice sounded sad and desperate.

Chang Yuan decided to take Jean to the hospital as her body temperature was too high. Worried that Jean's condition would get worse.

Chang Yuan laid Jean's body on the back seat. Just about to get in the car. There was a car that stopped behind him so he canceled his intentions out of curiosity who was coming.

Park Soo Hyun had just stopped his car in front of a small and simple house. Based on the address the waiter gave, the house belonged to Jean.

The man just watched Jean's house from inside the car. Until his eyes fell on someone who was standing near the car that was right in front of him.

"Chang Yuan? Why did he come here? Is it to look for Jean? Do they have a special relationship for him to visit at this late hour?" muttered Park Soo Hyun. He decided to get out because of curiosity.

Their gazes met for a moment. Chang Yuan who used to look at Park Soo Hyun while lowering his head and being polite. Now dared to lift his face. There was a look of anger radiating from Chang Yuan's eyes.

"What are you doing here?" asked Chang Yuan coldly.

"I should be the one asking. Why are you spending the night at a girl's house?" said Park Soo Hyun.

"None of your business," said Chang Yuan. Since knowing what Park Soo Hyun did to Jean, Chang Yuan became emotional because the man was not responsible at all.

"Are you Jean's boyfriend?" said Park Soo Hyun while snorting.

"Even though I'm not her boyfriend, I at least care more about her. I don't make her lost her self-respect," Chang Yuan sneered boldly.

Park Soo Hyun immediately fell silent when he heard Chang Yuan's statement.. The words directly pierced his chest cavity until he could not say a word.

Chapter 469 - 468- She Is Not My Girlfriend

"Then where is Jean? I want to meet her," said Park Soo Hyun.

"She's not at home and has already left. You don't need to look for her if you just want to hurt her feelings," Chang Yuan said flatly.

"Sorry, I have to go," said Chang Yuan, remembering that Jean had to be taken to the hospital at this time.

"Chang Yuan, tell me where is Jean?" said Park Soo Hyun while banging on Chang Yuan's car window.

Chang Yuan had to roll down the window so that Park Soo Hyun could see Jean's current state. Because of what he had done, Jean became hurt.

"Jean?" Park Soo Hyun's eyes widened when he saw Jean was closing her eyes in the back passenger seat. Her body was covered with a blanket.

"Sorry, I have to go." Chang Yuan was reluctant to explain about Jean's current state. He immediately drove his car without caring about Park Soo Hyun.

"Wait!" shouted Park Soo Hyun.

Hallym University Medical Center.

Park Soo Hyun continued to follow Chang Yuan's car which was speeding fast enough until they finally arrived at a hospital. He then approached Chang Yuan who was carrying Jean's body.

"What happened to Jean?" said Park Soo Hyun.

Chang Yuan did not want to answer because it would make his emotions rise and become uncontrollable. Instead, he continued to walk and lay Jean's body on the gurney that had been prepared by the nurses who were guarding in the front.

Chang Yuan continued to follow where the nurse took Jean for immediate treatment. He was really worried right now.

"You'd better wait outside, let us check her out," said one of the nurses to Chang Yuan who wanted to barge in.

"Okay." Chang Yuan finally turned around until now his position was facing each other with Park Soo Hyun.

"Chang Yuan, what exactly happened to Jean?" asked Park Soo Hyun curiously.

"You better go home and don't worry about Jean. I'm here to take care of her," said Chang Yuan. It was useless to have Park Soo Hyun there because he will definitely hurt Jean's feelings even more. That night was enough for Jean to feel it.

Park Soo Hyun finally chose to go home because Chang Yuan didn't want him to be there. His steps were a little heavy and he occasionally looked back. His attempt to meet and apologize to Jean had to fail tonight.

Chang Yuan paced in front of the door. He was waiting for doctors and nurses to come out of the room. Hopefully nothing bad happened to Jean.

It wasn't long before the door finally opened. Chang Yuan immediately rushed to walk closer towards the door.

"Doctor, how is she?" asked Chang Yuan anxiously.

"Your girlfriend is fine. She's just too stressed, you should comfort her so that the stress doesn't continue. It will affect her health," explained a female doctor to Chang Yuan.

"She's not my girlfriend. We're just friends," Chang Yuan said with a bitter smile.

"Sorry, I thought you two were lovers. Then I'll excuse myself," said the doctor, leaving Chang Yuan.

Chang Yuan stepped into the room. He looked at Jean, who had an IV line in her hand. Her eyes were closed as a soft snoring could be heard. Her lips looked pale and dark circles appeared on her eyelids.

Chang Yuan reached out his hand to touch Jean's forehead. The heat had started to drop and even sweat was dripping from her forehead. Chang Yuan could breathe a sigh of relief because Jean was fine.

There was Chang Yuan's desire to tell Dae Hyun about what Park Soo Hyun had done to Jean. But he had not had the time and opportunity to meet his boss.

Chang Yuan also intended to follow his boss no matter what. He can't work with other people. Moreover, how could he remain in the hotel while the person who had recruited him was no longer there.

The night was getting late, Chang Yuan was getting sleepy so he leaned back on the chair then slowly closed his eyes.

????????????????

Jean slowly opened her eyes because the bright light made her dazzle. Then she looked around the white room. The smell of medicine immediately pierced her sense of smell.

Jean wanted to stretch her stiff muscles. However, it was difficult because of the IV that was attached to her hand.

"Where am I?" Jean muttered as she groped the bed until she accidentally touched someone's hair.

Jean immediately turned her face to see who was beside her. His position was facing down so that Jean could not guess with certainty. But judging from his hairstyle and appearance, it seemed that Jean recognized him. After observing for a while carefully, it turned out to be Chang Yuan.

"Assistant Chang?" Jean's brows knitted. How could she be in the hospital with Chang Yuan?

Jean tried to remember what happened last night. She woke up from her sleep when she heard a knock on the door.

Jean couldn't bear to wake Chang Yuan up. She felt bad because last night she had troubled the man.

Her throat felt thirsty because she hadn't been drinking since yesterday. Her hand reached out to reach the glass that was on the nightstand. But the glass was a bit out of reach. So that only her fingertips that could touch the glass.

The glass slipped to the floor, causing Chang Yuan to startle and straighten himself up.

"What's the matter, Jean?" Chang Yuan reflexively stood up.

"Sorry, I woke you up. I just wanted to get a glass because I was thirsty," said Jean while biting her lower lip.

"Why don't you ask me for help?" said Chang Yuan while looking at the floor that was littered with broken glass.

"I just didn't want to disturb your sleep," said Jean while looking down.

Chang Yuan then walked to the dispenser and poured warm water into the glass.

"Drink, you should have woken me up. No need to hesitate," said Chang Yuan. Then crouched down to pick up one by one the shards of glass that were scattered on the floor.. Pushed it to the side so it wouldn't get stepped on.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 470 - 469

"Assistant Chang, why did you bring me here?" Jean bit her lower lip, thinking that her money wouldn't be enough to pay for the hospital bills.

During this time, Jean worked hard to pay off a debt to her aunt that was borrowed by her mother during treatment. Jean only collected a little of the rest of her salary.

"You had a high fever last night and you were delirious so I took you to the hospital. Afraid that something bad would happen," said Chang Yuan, who had already stood up.

"You shouldn't have brought me here. I'll be fine if I take medicine," said Jean carefully. It wasn't that she was ungrateful but she was really penniless.

Chang Yuan took a deep breath. Understood what Jean was worried about.

"You don't have to worry because I already paid for everything. Don't worry, it won't cost too much." Chang Yuan smiled, trying to calm Jean's heart.

"Sorry, I've been troublesome," said Jean while bowing.

"Don't worry about it. The doctor said you were too stressed that it made you sick. From now on, don't think too much about things," said Chang Yuan.

Jean held her head up with a furrowed brow because the doctor could tell that she had been very stressed these past few days. Couldn't even sleep at night.

"Are you still thinking about it?" asked Chang Yuan carefully.

Jean took a deep breath. It was undeniable that she always thought of Park Soo Hyun. His treatment that night couldn't be easily erased from her mind. There was a feeling of joy and pain when she remembered it.

"Never mind, forget it. I'll be home for a while to clean up. Stay here and don't go anywhere. I won't be long," said Chang Yuan.

"Assistant Chang, don't tell anyone what happened between me and Park Soo Hyun," Jean ordered.

Chang Yuan was silent for a while before finally nodding his head.

Park Soo Hyun purposely came to the hospital before leaving for the hotel, intending to visit Jean. His footsteps came to a halt when Chang Yuan walked towards him.

Luckily Chang Yuan didn't see him because he was looking down. He was playing with his cellphone so Park Soo Hyun then hid behind a pole.

If Chang Yuan had known he had come to the hospital, he won't allow him to see Jean like last night. Though he intended to explain everything to Jean.

Park Soo Hyun came out of hiding place after seeing Chang Yuan actually leaving the hospital area. Then walked to the elevator.

Park Soo Hyun took a deep breath before knocking on the door. Tried to think of the right words to say to Jean about what happened that night.

"Excuse me, we want to examine the patient. You'd better wait outside for a moment," said a female doctor who was going to check on Jean's condition this morning because there was an examination schedule.

Park Soo Hyun was so shocked that he held his chest with his hands at the doctor's sudden voice.

"Sorry," said Park Soo Hyun as he stepped out of the middle of the door for blocking the way.

"Good morning," the Doctor greeted Jean with a big smile after that.

"Morning, Doc." Jean shifted her body to lean on the side of the bed.

"How are you feeling right now? Are you feeling better?" asked the doctor while checking Jean's pulse which turned out to be normal.

"Much better than last night, Doc," said Jean.

The doctor then checked the condition of Jean's body. It was a lot better than last night. Her body temperature had completely dropped. Not like the night. The doctor also checks Jean's blood pressure to make sure because usually people who are stressed will have high blood pressure quickly.

"Miss, from now on don't stress too much anymore. Just imagine everything that feels so beautiful," explained the Doctor.

Jean only smiled faintly in response to the doctor's explanation because Chang Yuan had already said if she was too stressed.

After finishing her work, the doctor immediately said goodbye and left the room.

Jean leaned her head back on the side of the bed. The image of that night returned to her mind. The stinging and pain in her sensitive area seemed to be felt again until Jean closed her eyes. Tears welled up in her eyes again when she remembered Park Soo Hyun's words.

'Soo Yin, thank you for this wonderful night.'

One sentence that sounded ordinary but pierced enough to penetrate the deepest recesses of her heart.

Check...

Park Soo Hyun decided to enter the room without knocking on the door first. His heart was pounding wildly as he started to put his feet on the ground.

Jean turned her face forward when she heard the sound of the door opening. Her eyes immediately opened perfectly when she saw who was walking towards her.

Jean immediately straightened her body from the leaned position with her heart beating very fast. Her hands gripped the blanket because she felt nervous and restless. But it was undeniable that her heart felt a little flowery seeing the man she loved come to visit.

Park Soo Hyun looked at Jean with complicated feelings. Really sorry of how that night could happen.

Jean lowered her gaze to what Park Soo Hyun was carrying. It was her bag and sweater that left at the bar that night.

'How could it be on Park Soo Hyun?' Jean thought to herself.

Park Soo Hyun took a deep breath when he was right beside Jean. Trying to find the right words to say.

There was silence for a while and it made Jean feel uncomfortable.

"What have you come here for, sir?" said Jean as she turned her face towards the glass window. Jean wanted to ask of how Park Soo Hyun knew she was in the hospital but she cancelled her intention.

"I came here just to return this." Park Soo Hyun put the bag and sweater on the nightstand which was located beside the bed

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 471 - 470 - I Can't Love You

"Thank you," said Jean briefly without looking at Park Soo Hyun at all. Couldn't stand to look at him because the dark shadow of the night resurfaced in her memory.

"Jean, I'm really sorry about what happened that night. I did it unintentionally and unconsciously." Park Soo Hyun lowered his head with sad and regretful words coming from his lips.

Jean was silent without wanting to respond to Park Soo Hyun's words. Then she looked away from the glass window to look at the man who was now in front of her.

"Jean, I hope you'll forget that night. Go away to find your happiness," said Park Soo Hyun bitterly as he lifted his head. Until their eyes locked each other for a while.

Jean locked her lips tightly with her head bowed again. Who would have thought that Park Soo Hyun would say that at a time like this. Only tears that started to fall from the corners of her eyes. Her heart was torn apart when she heard Park Soo Hyun's words.

Although Jean could hear some regret in his voice. However, it turned out that Park Soo Hyun had no desire to be responsible for what had happened.

"Jean, it's not that I don't want to be responsible. Even though we live together, I might hurt your feelings more. You know that I've always loved her so much. I don't forget everything easily. I hope you understand," said Park Soo Hyun sadly. He was sure that his words would hurt Jean's heart, but he couldn't pretend to love her. It was better to tell the truth than to give Jean false hope.

"I understand," said Jean curtly, her voice was hoarse and her chest was tight.

"Then can you restore my dignity to how it was before? Who would want a girl like me?" Jean ventured to look at Park Soo Hyun with tears in her eyes.

"I'm sorry again, Jean. If you hadn't come that night, maybe this wouldn't have happened." Their gazes locked on each other for a moment.

"So you blamed me for deliberately coming there to tease you? You were the one who forced me that night even though I tried to struggle," said Jean, holding her chest that felt sore. Jean cursed her stupidity because she had been in love with the wrong and irresponsible man.

Park Soo Hyun was silent. He really shouldn't have said that. But maybe this was one way for Jean to forget it even though it'll hurt so much.

"Don't you realize what you have done is destroying my life and future?" shouted Jean while hitting Park Soo Hyun's chest with increasingly hysterical sobs. Jean didn't understand why she had met such a jerk in this world.

Jean kept hitting Park Soo Hyun's broad chest with all her might to vent all the disappointment she was feeling right now.

"Jean, I can't love you. You'll only hurt more if we're together." Park Soo Hyun grabbed Jean's wrist to stop her from hitting him.

"Then why did you come here?" shouted Jean in a rising voice accompanied by a sob that grew weaker. Her shoulder-length hair was so messy on her face.

"I just wanted to apologize," said Park Soo Hyun in a low voice. He didn't dare to look into Jean's eyes who looked very angry.

"Then go because I already forgave you before you apologized," Jean said, instead of making her hurt more.

"You don't have to worry because I won't hold you accountable for what you did," continued Jean in a voice that was so sad and heart-wrenching. But she immediately stopped her completely useless sobs.

Park Soo Hyun then took out the check that he had been prepared since yesterday for Jean. Although he couldn't bring back Jean's virginity that he had snatched, but at least she was able to support her life without having to work hard at the bar again.

"I hope this money will be of use to you." Park Soo Hyun placed the check on Jean's palm. After that, he turned around and walked out of the room.

"Take it away 'cause I don't need the money," Jean shouted sternly as she tore up the check and tossed it in the air.

Park Soo Hyun didn't turn around despite hearing Jean's statement. He kept walking to get out of the room.

"I'm sorry, Jean. I am a coward and completely irresponsible," Park Soo Hyun muttered as he closed the door from the outside.

Soo Yin had arrived at the hospital and was escorted by Chung Ho because today Dae Hyun was going to the location that will be used as a restaurant with Chang Yuan.

"Chung Ho, now you can go home. Maybe I'll be here for a long time," said Soo Yin.

"Are you sure? What if you need something?" Chung Jo was hesitant to leave Soo Yin at the hospital.

"I'm not going anywhere. I just want to accompany Jean," said Soo Yin to reassure Chung Ho.

"Okay, Miss." Obediently Chung Ho immediately drove the car out of the hospital area.

Before entering, Soo Yin bought some fruit at a fruit stall not too far away. Just across the road which was only a few meters away. She didn't forget to buy snacks at the nearest minimarket.

After finishing, Soo Yin immediately entered the hospital building. Soo Yin's steps stopped when she passed Park Soo Hyun who had just gotten out of the elevator. Soo Yin didn't know how to act because Park Soo Hyun already knew everything, regarding her relationship with Dae Hyun.

Soo Yin immediately lowered her head with a pounding heart. She really wanted to say hello but was afraid that Park Soo Hyun wouldn't answer.

Park Soo Hyun's feelings were now mixed. There was a sense of resentment mixed with love that was still in the deepest recesses of his heart.. To be honest, Park Soo Hyun had not been able to forget his love for Soo Yin.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 472 - 471 - I Hope You Guys Are Happy

Soo Yin finally got up the courage to hold her head up as Park Soo Hyun drew near.

"Park Soo Hyun, what are you doing here? Is something sick?" Soo Yin asked nervously but tried to act casual. It was as if nothing had happened between them.

Park Soo Hyun didn't change his facial expression. Although quite surprised that Soo Yin dared to greet him first. Though he thought Soo Yin wouldn't have the guts to ask him.

"No," said Park Soo Hyun briefly without looking at Soo Yin.

"Then what are you doing here?" asked Soo Yin again out of curiosity, it was impossible if Park Soo Hyun came to visit Jean.

Suddenly Soo Yin felt worried that something might happen to Mrs. Park. Could Mrs. Park was shocked that Dae Hyun left the house.

"None of your business," said Park Soo Hyun nonchalantly. His heart could not easily accept the betrayal they had committed. Although it was undeniable that his love was actually getting bigger. Even if following his ego, Park Soo Hyun wanted to snatch Soo Yin from his brother.

Soo Yin took a deep breath. Understood the feelings of Park Soo Hyun who may currently hate her very much.

"Are you satisfied that you took Dae Hyun from Aeri? You must also be very happy over Yeon Ho's suffering who always calls his father every night." Park Soo Hyun purposely said it right in front of Soo Yin. So that the girl realized that what she had done was a big mistake.

Soo Yin's body shook. She was quite offended by Park Soo Hyun's words. Wanted to deny it but couldn't. Even though she explained a thousand times, she was still the one to be blamed. Indeed, Soo Yin admitted that Soo Yin was guilty of lying.

"I congratulate you on your success," Park Soo Hyun quipped with a tone full of emphasis. Deliberately stretched out his hand in front of Soo Yin with a mocking smile.

Soo Yin didn't move her hand at all. Her right hand was still hanging by her side. But with a quick movement Park Soo Hyun pulled Soo Yin's palm and joined their palms.

"I hope you guys are happy for all the chaos that happened," sneered Park Soo Hyun with a lopsided smile. Then he walked away, leaving Soo Yin who was standing still in her place.

Honestly, Park Soo Hyun didn't have the heart to say it, but he just told the truth about what happened to Jo Yeon Ho.

Park Soo Hyun turned his body to see Soo Yin's back when he was outside. His heart was so sad to see her still petrified in her place.

Today, two women had been hurt by all of his actions and attitudes.

"Soo Yin, I'm not too mature to accept everything gracefully, indeed. Give me a little time to accept that you are my sister-in-law," Park Soo Hyun muttered then walked to his car to immediately go to the hotel.

Soo Yin clenched her fists tightly. She wanted to be angry but she didn't seem to have the right to be angry. Her heart fluttered and ached when she heard that Jo Yeon Ho currently missed Dae Hyun. Her heart seemed to pierce when she thought of him whining every night, it made Soo Yin couldn't bear it.

Soo Yin immediately realized what her purpose of coming to the hospital was. Poor Jean who was alone in her room. If Chang Yuan didn't say it, surely now Soo Yin wouldn't know what happened to Jean.

Soo Yin quickly took the elevator to the third floor. Her hand immediately wiped the clear tears that without her realising had spilled from the corners of her eyes.

oooooooo

Jean continued to sob, holding back her sadness after Park Soo Hyun's departure. It turned out that the man's words hurt more than what happened that night.

"How cruel you are to me," Jean whispered at the same time as the sobs that kept coming out of her lips. Jean really couldn't help the pain of her heart being torn apart until she started to violently release the IV needle in her hand.

Jean covered her face with both hands so she didn't notice someone had entered the room.

Soo Yin was quite surprised to see how Jean's current condition was. Seeing her sobbing made her touched. Felt guilty because she hadn't seen her in a while.

Jean was busy at work so she didn't have time to meet Soo Yin.

"Jean, what happened to you?" Soo Yin immediately stepped quickly towards Jean and hugged her even though she didn't know what was really going on.

Chang Yuan just said that Jean was hospitalised without telling what really happened because Jean didn't allow him.

Jean immediately opened her palm that covered her face. Then stopped crying when she lifted her head and saw Soo Yin was there. Jean didn't want to make Soo Yin worry about her.

"I'm fine. My feet just hurts a little," said Jean, smiling faintly. She quickly wiped away the tears with the back of her hand.

Soo Yin felt strange about Jean's attitude. There was no way that just because of her aching leg she would cry like that. After all, her crying didn't sound like it was from an external wound. The cry sounded quite sad, like she was experiencing heartache.

"I fell and as you can see my IV dripped off," said Jean, trying to chuckle even though it was very forced. Jean showed the infusion needle that had drip off.

Actually there was Jean's desire to tell her of what had happened to her. But her heart could not tell everything just yet. Moreover, it was Soo Yin who caused Park Soo Hyun to be like that.

If Jean told her then Soo Yin would feel very guilty.

"Geez, why are you so careless? What if this needle cuts your hand?" Soo Yin scolded like a mother scolding her child.

"I didn't realize it either. I was about to go to the bathroom but I tripped over my foot." Jean just grimaced as she scratched the back of her head.

"Wait a minute, let me call the doctor to put it on again," said Soo Yin.

"No need, I also want to go home," said Jean before Soo Yin left. But it was a shame because Soo Yin didn't listen to her.

Soo Yin had already walked out and closed the door.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 473 - 472 - You Look Happier Now

It wasn't long before Soo Yin returned to the infirmary with a nurse.

Soo Yin sat next to Jean, observing the nurse who was reinserting the IV in Jean's arm.

Turned out it was not too difficult if you've found the veins. It may be difficult to find if a person was overweight because the veins will be covered by fat.

"Thank you," said Soo Yin.

"You're welcome. Next time be careful, luckily the needle didn't hurt your hand," the nurse said to Jean.

"Okay, next time I'll be careful," said Jean with a faint smile.

The nurse immediately left the room because her work was done.

"Soo Yin, I'm bored in this room. My nose hurts because I've been smelling medicine for a long time," said Jean. She wanted to breathe fresh air to comfort her restless heart. Luckily Soo Yin came, if there was no Soo Yin maybe Jean had done something bad to her own self.

"But you have to rest. You haven't recovered much," Soo Yin refused.

"I'm starting to get better. Precisely if I lie down continuously my body will become weak and less powerful," said Jean to find an excuse for Soo Yin to agree.

"You are stubborn." Soo Yin rolled her eyes. But in the end still agreed to Jean's request.

Soo Yin immediately took the wheelchair that was located in the corner of the room. Then pushed it closer to the bed so that it would be easier for Jean to move.

"Can we just walk without using a wheelchair?" asked Jean. Her pain was not so severe that there was no need to use a wheelchair.

"Didn't you say your feet hurts? Can you really walk?" Soo Yin narrowed her eyes at Jean.

"Ah, I almost forgot. You're right my feet still hurts," said Jean while massaging her ankle.

Soo Yin helped Jean to sit in the wheelchair. Accidentally looking at the nightstand, there was food that was still intact and had not been touched at all.

"Have you had breakfast?" asked Soo Yin.

"I'm not in the mood to eat," said Jean.

"Now eat everything first before we go out," said Soo Yin firmly then grabbed the tray containing the menu for breakfast.

"I do not want to." Jean pushed the tray from her face.

Soo Yin didn't care and started to thrust the spoon that was already filled with porridge into Jean's mouth.

Jean could only grumble inwardly because Soo Yin was more pushy than her mother.

Soo Yin was now in the backyard of the hospital, pushing the wheelchair occupied by Jean.

Jean had been pensive since then, trying to calm her heart and accept everything gracefully about Park Soo Hyun's attitude towards her.

Jean's eyes looked far away at the clear sky. It was the complete opposite of how she was feeling right now.

"Jean, are you sleeping?" asked Soo Yin as she took a step forward to see Jean's face. Since getting out of the hospital Jean had been so quiet that Soo Yin thought she was asleep.

"Ahh, no. I'm just a little sleepy," said Jean who woke up from her daydream.

"Don't sleep because it's still early. It's not good for health," said Soo Yin, patting Jean's cheek.

"Ouch," Jean groaned while holding her cheeks which were reddened because Soo Yin was patting her hard enough. Wanted to reply but Soo Yin was already away while laughing heartily.

"Soo Yin, you look happier now," Jean said to provoke Soo Yin to tell her everything about her relationship with Dae Hyun that many people knew. Even though she already knew a little from Chang Yuan but Jean wasn't satisfied.

"It's okay, am I not always cheerful?" said Soo Yin while putting on a funny facial expression in front of Jean.

"I already knew it from Chang Yuan. You don't have to hide it from me anymore," Jean explained, raising an eyebrow.

Soo Yin took a deep breath.

"Actually I don't want that to happen either. There's no intention to hurt others because of my presence at all." Soo Yin's mind wandered, thinking about what had happened in her life.

Jean could understand what Soo Yin was feeling right now. Jean already knew of their relationship but she didn't expect that Dae Hyun's family would find out so quickly.

"It's not your fault. I know if you don't want it. I've known you for a long time. You're not that type of woman. Trust me, you will live happily ever after. Your husband's family will gradually approve of your relationship," comforted Jean. Didn't expect her curiosity to make Soo Yin sad.

"They won't believe it. In the end a mistress is always the one to blame." Soo Yin smiled bitterly, laughing at her own fate.

"I'm sure that someday Dae Hyun's family will accept you as before. Moreover, Mrs. Park also really likes you," said Jean.

"She really liked me at first because she hoped that I would marry Park Soo Hyun. Now she is very disappointed," said Soo Yin with a sad tone.

"Have you met them?"

Soo Yin shook her head slowly. She didn't have the courage to set foot in the UN Village after what happened.

"Never mind, don't worry about that. We'd better think of something else that makes us happy." Soo Yin changed the subject so as not to remember it again. Park Soo Hyun's words were still ringing in her mind. The one that made her uneasy right now was Jo Yeon Ho.

"Right, on the other hand, we should think about something fun," said Jean, agreeing with Soo Yin's words. She also did not want to remember anything that made her stressed.

There was a desire for Soo Yin to ask about Park Soo Hyun, whether his visit to the hospital was because of visiting Jean or indeed there was another need. But Soo Yin didn't want to do it for fear of offending Jean.

Soo Yin pushed back the wheelchair that was occupied by Jean towards the pool located at the edge of the fence.

They then spent time laughing together even though their hearts felt the most pain and ache. Neither of them wanted to share the sadness they felt.

After being satisfied walking around behind the hospital building, Soo Yin immediately invited Jean to go back into the hospital room

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 474 - 473 - Bastard!!

The day went by so fast. It seemed like they had only been together a few hours but it was a shame because Dae Hyun had already told her that he'll be coming to pick her up soon.

"Jean, I'm sorry for not being able to accompany you to stay here again. Dae Hyun already said he would pick me up, even though I already said that I would stay here," said Soo Yin while pursing her lips. There was a sense of irritation because Dae Hyun did not allow her at all even though she had been whining.

"I'm fine. Take good care of your husband because his ex-wife is still waiting for him to come home." Jean chuckled as she said that. Soo Yin's presence was enough to make her forget about the pain Park Soo Hyun had inflicted on her chest.

"Wait? How can Chang Yuan take you to the hospital when it was late at night? Were you two together?" Soo Yin said with a look to further investigate what really happened. She had been wanting to ask this for a long time but Soo Yin always forgot about it.

"I also don't know why he came so late at night," said Jean, shrugging her shoulders.

"Looks like he's attracted to you," said Soo Yin with a crisp laugh.

"Ah, that's impossible," said Jean quickly.

'He only feels sorry for me, not attracted,' Jean continued in her heart with pain. After all, for Jean, falling in love was not as easy as turning the palm of the hand.

"You don't believe me?" said Soo Yin with a snort.

"No," said Jean firmly.

"You can't yet..." Soo Yin stopped her speech and hastily covered her mouth. She wanted to ask if Jean definitely hadn't forgotten about Park Soo Hyun.

"Where's your husband? Why is it taking so long?" Jean pretended to look around, looking for Dae Hyun's whereabouts outside to divert their conversation so it wouldn't be awkward.

"Just say if you're looking for Chang Yuan," Soo Yin teased with a wink. Even though she knew that Jean hadn't been able to forget Park Soo Hyun. But with Chang Yuan's presence, hopefully he can slowly comfort her heart.

Jean just smiled bitterly at that. Where there was a man who wanted to be with her at a time like this. She was not a holy girl anymore.

"Jean." Soo Yin shook Jean's arm because her gaze was blank towards the window.

"What is it?" Jean was taken aback.

"Chang Yuan said you were too stressed. What are you really thinking?" Soo Yin became increasingly suspicious of Jean because she had been watching her looking pensive for a few times.

"Not really, I just didn't get enough sleep while working at the bar. I wasn't stressed at all," Jean said quickly. Jean didn't want to tell her yet because it was for their good for a while.

"Is that true?" Soo Yin was not satisfied with the answer given by Jean. She had known Jean for a long time so she knew that her best friend was not that easy to think about something if it wasn't a serious matter.

There was a knock on the door from outside so Jean could breathe a sigh of relief. There was no need to get caught up in Soo Yin's talk.

'Sorry, I can't say it right now. I don't want you to feel sad,' Jean thought in her heart.

Soo Yin had gone through too much trouble so she didn't want to make the burden of her troubles even bigger.

Soo Yin immediately lit up when she saw the man she had been waiting for finally arrived.

"Good night, Jean," said Dae Hyun with a friendly smile. There was also Chang Yuan walking behind him.

Soo Yin then walked over to Dae Hyun and clung to his arm. Like they hadn't seen each other for quite a long time.

"Good evening, sir," replied Jean.

One more thing that made Jaen afraid that if Dae Hyun found out, it was certain that the man will be very angry at Park Soo Hyun.

Jean was too stupid to have been blinded by love. But her deepest heart didn't want Park Soo Hyun to be blamed. He would hate her even more. Thought she had complained to someone else.

"How are you? Are you all right?" Dae Hyun asked.

"Yes, I'm alright," said Jean.

They then chatted for a while before Dae Hyun finally saw Soo Yin who had yawned.

"Are you sleepy?" Dae Hyun grabbed Soo Yin's waist from the side.

"A little," said Soo Yin briefly with eyelids that felt a little heavy.

"Jean, we should go home. If you can't go home tomorrow, Soo Yin will accompany you here again," said Dae Hyun. Felt sorry because his wife was sleepy.

"Thanks for bothering to see me," said Jean.

"Don't be hesitant. Just think of us as your family," said Dae Hyun.

"Jean, you need to get better soon. We're going home first." Soo Yin hugged Jean's body for a while.

"Take care," said Jean.

Soo Yin and Dae Hyun rushed out of the hospital.

oooo

Jean looked at the door after Soo Yin left the room with Dae Hyun. There was jealousy to see how Dae Hyun loved Soo Yin so much. Especially when seeing them looking at each other with love and affection, it really made Jean want to feel the same way.

If only Park Soo Hyun behaved like that to her. Maybe Jean would be the happiest person.

"Jean, why don't you tell Mr. Dae Hyun? He can definitely help you," said Chang Yuan who threw his body on the chair beside the bed.

"They also just went through the most difficult time. I don't want to add my problems that will be a burden for them," said Jean sadly. A crystal escaped from her eyelids.

"Tell me Jean, did he come here earlier?" Chang Yuan could guess if Park Soo Hyun had come there, because before leaving the hospital, he accidentally saw Park Soo Hyun's car parked in front of the hospital.

Chang Yuan let him go, hoping that Park Soo Hyun's arrival would bring good news to Jean.

"Hmm," said Jean then looked down. Felt hurt again because Park Soo Hyun's words echoed in her mind again.

"What did he say? Did he want to take responsibility?" demanded Chang Yuan who wanted to know right away.

Jean didn't answer, only the clear tears that slowly filled the corners of her eyes again. Even though she tried to hold it back, the tears just escaped, running down her thin cheeks.

"Bastard!" Chang Yuan cursed while gritting his teeth hard in anger. The man was very angry to know that Park Soo Hyun did not want to be responsible for what happened to Jean.

Jean sobbed as she felt her chest cavity hurt again. Even though she tried to comfort her heart, she still felt a tightness in her chest so she felt like she didn't want to breathe anymore.

Chang Yuan finally got up the courage to embrace Jean's body in his arms. He rubbed her back gently to soothe the slight pain she might be feeling right now.

Chang Yuan intended to meet Park Soo Hyun tomorrow. Wanted to teach a lesson to people who have the heart to hurt a girl like Jean.

Jean continued to cry in Chang Yuan's arms with tears running down her cheeks. Her chest heaved up and down, holding back the sobs that felt like they wanted to be released. She was cursing the path of her life that was too bitter to live.

Jean felt so stupid, how she could love a man who was completely irresponsible. She should have closed the door to her heart tightly.

Chang Yuan could feel Jean's deep sorrow. He didn't dare to say any more words for fear that Jean would get sadder.

Slowly Jean's sobs weakened in Chang Yuan's chest. She seemed exhausted from crying for a long time. Chang Yuan lowered his gaze to confirm. It turned out that Jean's eyes were already closed there.

Chang Yuan laid Jean's body slowly on the pillow so that Jean wouldn't wake up. The man felt sad when he looked closely at Jean's tired face. Her eyelids were red and puffy and her cheeks were still wet.

Chang Yuan grabbed the tissue that was on the nightstand. Then wiped the remaining water gently so as not to disturb her sleep.. Then gently brushed away the messy, sticky hair which was on her skin.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 475 - 474 - He Just Misunderstood

Dae Hyun and Soo Yin were still on their way home. Tonight the weather looked so bright with beautiful stars studded in the sky.

Dae Hyun turned his head to the side, looking at his little wife who had been pensive since she was in the car.

"Honey, what are you thinking?" Dae Hyun opened his voice because he couldn't stand the silence.

"I met Park Soo Hyun this morning at the hospital," said Soo Yin. Her gaze was straight ahead, looking at the street which was only dimly visible under the dim lights.

"Did he do something bad to you?" Dae Hyun stopped his car by the side of the deserted road in anxiety. Afraid that his brother had done something bad to Soo Yin.

Soo Yin shook her head slowly as her head now bowed languidly.

"Just tell me what he did to you?" Dae Hyun insisted. There was no way that Park Soo Hyun didn't do anything but his wife's face looked gloomy.

"You should meet Jo Yeon Ho. He must really miss you," Soo Yin said sadly as she looked at Dae Hyun.

"Did something happen to him?" Dae Hyun immediately panicked when he heard about his only son.

"I don't know for sure. I just talked to Park Soo Hyun for a while. He said that every night Yeon Ho looks for you," said Soo Yin.

There was suspicion in Soo Yin's heart that it was Park Soo Hyun who sent the message from the unknown number. But Soo Yin also doubted that, why did he send a message when he had the courage to say it directly.

Dae Hyun continued to look at Soo Yin's face whose expression was very sad and looked very gloomy. Dae Hyun guessed that Park Soo Hyun had said something else.

Dae Hyun cupped Soo Yin's face with his palms. Then he lifted her chin so they could look at each other. Dae Hyun looked at her eyes that looked wistful and uninspired. Even though before leaving for the hospital, Soo Yin was still fine.

After all, they had been together a long time and Soo Yin wasn't very good at hiding her feelings. Feelings of sadness, anger, irritation, and happiness will radiate easily in her eyeballs.

"Tell me, what did Park Soo Hyun say to you again?" Dae Hyun insisted.

"Did he threaten you?" he continued.

Soo Yin remained silent and casted her gaze in another direction. Her lips felt numb and heavy when she was about to tell the truth. Afraid that Dae Hyun will get angry with his brother, his relationship with his family will definitely get further away.

Soo Yin didn't want that to happen. Being away from family felt so bitter for her. Soo Yin had experienced of how being hated by the entire family felt like.

"Okay if you don't want to answer. I'll make sure tomorrow Park Soo Hyun regrets for threatening you," Dae Hyun said angrily.

Soo Yin held Dae Hyun's wrist while shaking her head.

"Don't do anything to him. He just misunderstood," said Soo Yin before Dae Hyun insisted on making a fuss.

"What did he say?" Dae Hyun asked once again. If his words weren't too hurtful maybe he could still forgive him.

"He said that I stole you from Aeri," Soo Yin stammered.

Dae Hyun's face immediately turned red and his eyes darkened with anger. His jaw seemed to tighten and harden so that the muscles of his neck were exposed.

Dae Hyun closed his eyes for a while so as not to be provoked and would hurt Soo Yin even more if he uttered harsh words in front of her.

"Will you accompany me tomorrow to meet Yeon Ho?" asked Dae Hyun after his heart had calmed down.

"To UN Village?" Soo Yin knitted her brows.

"We will meet him outside. I will ask Eun Hee to take Yeon Ho secretly," Dae Hyun said with a smile, knowing Soo Yin's concern that she might not be ready to face his family after what happened. Dae Hyun let go of Soo Yin's face from his grip then held her in his arms.

"Hmmm, I'm afraid if he doesn't want to see me. You'd better go alone," said Soo Yin who didn't want to make a fuss and make matters worse.

"He won't. Believe me, Yeon Ho just needs a little seduction to be able to obey," said Dae Hyun while rubbing Soo Yin's shoulder.

Soo Yin sighed in resignation as it was impossible to refuse her husband's request.

"What about the location? Is it quite strategic and crowded?" Soo Yin lifted her face to look at her husband.

"Pretty crowded and suitable for a restaurant," said Dae Hyun.

"I'm very curious where it is.

"After everything is done I will take you there. Have you eaten?" Dae Hyun asked.

Soo Yin shook her head until her stomach immediately growled. Turned out her stomach asked for rations.

"You always have a habit of late eating. Do you want to make me worry about you all the time?" Dae Hyun then landed his lips on Soo Yin's when he saw her about to open her mouth. Felt angry with his little wife for always being careless and not paying attention to her health.

Dae Hyun crushed it passionately and a little harshly. Soo Yin just gave up because even though she wanted to let go, Dae Hyun already held her neck so tightly.

Dae Hyun deliberately bit Soo Yin's lips when he was about to end it.

"Ouch," Soo Yin screamed when Dae Hyun bit her upper lip.

"Why did you bite me?" Soo Yin grumbled.

"That's a punishment because you don't care about your health and intend to make me worry again," said Dae Hyun casually.

"I forgot because I was too busy chatting with Jean," said Soo Yin.

"Before we go home we should stop by to eat first. Looks like we haven't eaten outside in a long time.." Dae Hyun started to drive his car again.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 476 - 475 - I Want To Eat Grilled Crab

"Right, I suddenly want to eat grilled crab," said Soo Yin with a bright face.

"Didn't we just eat it a few days ago? Don't eat crab too much, because it's not good for health," suggested Dae Hyun.

A few days ago Soo Yin finished a few crabs. Dae Hyun was just worried that her cholesterol will go up. Anything eaten excessively were not good.

"Then let's go home. I'm not interested in eating anything else," said Soo Yin as she turned her face to the other way and her expression was sullen.

"Okay, we'll go wherever you want. Even if you want, right now I'm going to the fish market to buy it," said Dae Hyun to please his little wife. He always couldn't stand it when he saw Soo Yin frown.

"No, I've lost my appetite," said Soo Yin teasingly as she folded her arms across her chest.

"Look at your face when you're angry, it looks sweeter and I want to bite it more," Dae Hyun teased with a chuckle. But it seemed that his jokes this time didn't succeed in making Soo Yin smile.

"Then I'll be angry every day," said Soo Yin with a more sullen face.

Dae Hyun massaged his temples because he had spoken the wrong way. If it was even a little wrong, then Soo Yin will sulk.

"I mean you're prettier when you smile. Do you want to know why I like you even in one meeting?" Dae Hyun provoked to break the tense atmosphere that occurred.

"What?" Soo Yin turned her face towards Dae Hyun.

"At that time I saw you cry and looked desperate. But after I came you smiled even though it was only a faint smile. You looked like a girl who was passionate and never gave up. Honestly after that meeting I couldn't sleep because I was always thinking about you. Until finally you called and I I feel very happy. I purposely said I was busy. Although I really wished you would ask me to come to the hospital." Dae Hyun chuckled remembering how he used to be like a teenager who was in love.

"Then?" Soo Yin raised an eyebrow. Wanted to know more about Dae Hyun's feelings for her.

"Until I was forced to confess to your father that I haven't married yet. Actually I felt guilty but for the sake of getting you, I did everything," Dae Hyun explained while playing back some past memories.

"As expected, because my father couldn't possibly ask me to marry someone who is already married," said Soo Yin.

"I wonder why you finally melted down and fell in love with me?" Dae Hyun said.

"It's because you always force me, so I can't help but want to be a good wife," Soo Yin replied casually. Because she herself did not know why in the end she slowly loved her husband.

"Your answer is very unreasonable," said Dae Hyun while glancing at his little wife.

"It's up to you if you don't believe me. Didn't you always push and seduce me?" Soo Yin said.

"Hmm, it's also called effort. It doesn't hurt to try and it turns out that my efforts were not in vain. Now you won't be able to fall in love with another heart." Dae Hyun laughed crisply with pride because his efforts were not in vain.

"Who said I couldn't fall in love again?"

"If you could, you would have done it. So far, haven't many men wanted you? Still, you are not interested in them," said Dae Hyun.

"That's because you always threaten me not to be near any man," said Soo Yin, rolling her eyes.

"And you don't break it. That means you really love and want to keep my feelings from being jealous," said Dae Hyun, laughing happily.

"It's up to you," Soo Yin said flatly.

Dae Hyun turned his car into a restaurant that sold a variety of seafood dishes.

"What are we here for?" Soo Yin knitted her brows.

"Didn't you say you wanted grilled crab?" said Dae Hyun who actually asked back, maybe Soo Yin forgot.

"Did you forget when you said you are going to the fish market?" Soo Yin narrowed her eyes at her husband.

"So you want us to go there?" Dae Hyun asked.

"Of course," said Soo Yin firmly.

Dae Hyun slapped his forehead because he seemed to have said something wrong again.

Finally, Dae Hyun was forced to drive his car towards the Noryangjin market. Luckily the market hadn't closed even though it was already night. They also didn't need to worry because there always provided fresh fish imported directly from fishermen who had just returned from the sea.

"Honey, are you sure we're going to the market at a time like this?" Dae Hyun asked once again to confirm that Soo Yin might have changed her mind.

Soo Yin nodded her head enthusiastically. The thought of eating grilled crab made her saliva dripping even more.

"Aren't you hungry already? If we get there first it will take a long time. What if you're starving on the way?" Dae Hyun said, trying to persuade Soo Yin to give up her intention.

Soo Yin didn't answer, instead she was busy looking out the window.

"Stop!" shouted Soo Yin as they were in front of a merchant.

Dae Hyun reflexively stepped on the brakes until he squeaked because Soo Yin's scream was too sudden. The man was worried of why Soo Yin suddenly shouted to him to stop the car.

"What's wrong, honey?" Dae Hyun said breathlessly, holding back his surprise.

"Honey, buy me Hotteok so I don't starve. It seems like eating some fruit can fill my empty stomach," Soo Yin whined in a spoiled tone and shook Dae Hyun's arm.

Dae Hyun followed Soo Yin's gaze. On the edge of the sidewalk, he can see Hotteok traders selling their wares.

Dae Hyun sighed in resignation. It was impossible to refuse his little wife's request.

"Okay, let me buy it," Dae Hyun said in a heavy voice.

"You are very good indeed." Soo Yin leaned in closer to Dae Hyun. Her hand cupped his face and then kissed his lips lightly.

Dae Hyun was wide-eyed because Soo Yin wanted to do it without feeling embarrassed at all.

"You're really good at making me excited again," said Dae Hyun while pinching Soo Yin's cheek because he was amused by her behavior.

"Ouch," Soo Yin grumbled while holding her cheek.

Dae Hyun immediately got out of the car so they wouldn't be late to the market. Didn't want to come there too late. Even now Dae Hyun wasn't sure what they were looking for was still there.

Hotteok was a kind of pancake that was cooked by frying. It contained peanuts, sesame seeds, and honey. But there were also those who fill it with various kinds of vegetables.

Dae Hyun immediately got into the car after getting it.

Soo Yin's eyes immediately lit up when she saw Dae Hyun had got it. But Soo Yin's expression turned sour and gloomy.

"Why? Don't you like it?" Dae Hyun said because Soo Yin only looked at the package without opening the contents.

"You didn't buy me a drink? What if I'm thirsty or I suddenly choke on food? Do you want me to die?" Soo Yin said with her lips brought forward.

Dae Hyun closed his eyes as he took a deep breath. Without saying anything else, he immediately went out to buy mineral water. Fortunately the place was not too far away, only a few meters from Hotteok merchants.

It turned out that having a wife who was sometimes very spoiled had its own challenges for him. It really tested his patience. But Dae Hyun can't complain because it was a risk to have a wife who was still very young.

"You're the best," Soo Yin complimented while raising her thumbs up when Dae Hyun was back in the car.

"Don't you intend to give me another present?" asked Dae Hyun who was getting ready to bring his face closer to Soo Yin.

"Hurry up, don't let us get there too late." Soo Yin pushed Dae Hyun's shoulder away from her.

Dae Hyun was forced to drive his car again. Turned out his little wife wouldn't do anything she didn't want.

Soo Yin started to enjoy Hotteok while looking at the highway in front of her with a sparkling face. In contrast to Dae Hyun who had been wearing a sour and bent face.

"If you don't want to go there, then we should just go home," said Soo Yin when she saw Dae Hyun's sullen expression and looked very uninspired.

Dae Hyun turned his head. To be honest, his body was very tired and needed rest. But for the sake of his wife as much as possible he was trying to survive.

"No, I'm just a little sleepy," said Dae Hyun with a more excited tone.

"Don't lie."

"I didn't dare to lie to my sweet wife. I will not repeat my mistakes again," persuaded Dae Hyun.

"Then don't put on a sullen expression because I don't like it," Soo Yin grumbled as she narrowed her eyes.

"Okay." Dae Hyun immediately widened his smile. There was a sense of wonder about his wife today who was more chatty and demanding. But it didn't matter as long as Soo Yin didn't feel sad.

It wasn't long before they arrived at the Noryangjin fish market. The market atmosphere was a bit quiet, only a few people passing by.

Some traders also seemed to have started to sleep. There were also some who had started packing their wares.

"It's a bit quiet already," said Soo Yin while looking around, looking for traders who sold various crabs and the like.

"Of course, it's almost ten o'clock at night," Dae Hyun replied.

They walked around until their feet felt quite sore but did not find a single seller selling crabs. Most of them had run out since this afternoon. Only a few types of seafood which were still there.

"Soo Yin, we should just go home. Tomorrow we will come back again to buy it," said Dae Hyun who was starting to get desperate. They had been around almost the entire market area but they hadn't found one yet.

"Let's go over there again," said Soo Yin, pulling Dae Hyun's hand to follow her footsteps.

With heavy steps Dae Hyun was forced to follow Soo Yin.

After walking around a few times, they found traders who were still selling various types of shells and crabs. Looked like the fisherman just delivered it.

Soo Yin quickly chose what she thought was fresh. Meanwhile, Dae Hyun just stood beside her.

"Sir, did you only come with your daughter? Isn't your wife coming?" asked a middle-aged merchant woman.

'Again, I'm always mistaken for her father,' Dae Hyun cursed in his heart.

"You are very handsome. No wonder your daughter is very beautiful even though you don't look alike," said the middle-aged woman kindly.

"Do we look like father and daughter?" asked Soo Yin with a smile.

"You look much younger," said the middle-aged woman.

Dae Hyun really wanted to scream but he was currently too lazy to argue.

"Soo Yin, hurry up. It's too late," said Dae Hyun with a sour face.

Soo Yin just chuckled at the look on her husband's face.

"Thank you, Miss. Next time take your mother shopping here," said the seller.

"Okay," Soo Yin said while smiling at the thought of Dae Hyun who was now holding back anger.

oooo

Dae Hyun stepped out first, leaving Soo Yin to head to the parking lot. For some reason his heart was still irritated by the woman merchant's statement. Dae Hyun looked at his face in the rearview mirror. If you look closely at his face, he still looked very handsome. Although it was undeniable that his face did not look like a teenager anymore.

"They're really comparing me to Soo Yin too much," Dae Hyun grumbled as he ran his hands through his hair.

"It took you Soo Yin a long time," Dae Hyun mumbled. Even though when he left, it seemed that Soo Yin was already behind him.

Dae Hyun was forced to return into the market to find the whereabouts of his little wife. With quick steps Dae Hyun immediately approached Soo Yin who was sitting on the muddy floor.

"What happened to you?" Dae Hyun crouched down then helped Soo Yin to stand up.. Then picked up the plastic bag that was lying on the floor.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 478 - 477 - Don't Turn Around Until I'm Done

"I tripped over," said Soo Yin as she patted her skirt which was dirty with water.

"You should be more careful. Don't be in a hurry if you walk," said Dae Hyun who was already carrying a plastic bag in his hand.

"I just wanted to chase you but you were walking too fast," said Soo Yin.

With a quick movement Dae Hyun had carried Soo Yin's body. Some of the merchants looked surprised to see them.

Soo Yin wrapped her arms around Dae Hyun's neck and snuggled against his chest as several people stared at them intensely.

"Aren't you ashamed?" Soo Yin whispered.

"Why?" Dae Hyun asked flatly and his footsteps were getting faster.

"They're looking at you strangely," whispered Soo Yin again.

"Alright, don't worry about it."

Dae Hyun then dropped Soo Yin when he arrived at the parking lot and opened the door for her. He didn't forget to put what they bought into the trunk.

"Honey, my clothes are dirty. The car seats will definitely get dirty if I sit down," Soo Yin said as she turned back to look at her buttocks.

"Come in, tomorrow Chang Yuan can wash it," said Dae Hyun.

Finally Soo Yin obediently got into the car even though she felt uncomfortable because her buttocks were wet.

"If you are not comfortable you can take off your clothes," said Dae Hyun. Couldn't bear to see Soo Yin sitting restlessly.

"What?" shouted Soo Yin in a fairly loud voice. Her eyes stared intently at her husband with her mouth gawked.

"Don't be too surprised like that," said Dae Hyun. Then he started to take off his coat. After that, one by one he unbuttoned his shirt.

"What are you doing?" Soo Yin said with a frown.

"What do you think I'm going to do?" Dae Hyun said while carving a lopsided smile.

Soo Yin immediately shifted her body to the edge and rushed to the door when she saw Dae Hyun who was already shirtless.

"Are you out of your mind? We're still on our way." Soo Yin covered her face with both palms.

"What's wrong with you?" Dae Hyun actually felt strange with Soo Yin's overreacting attitude.

"Hurry and put your clothes back on or I'll go out," Soo Yin threatened.

"Do you want to wear your wet clothes? You should just take it off and wear mine," said Dae Hyun, shaking his head because she had misunderstood him.

"Huh?" Soo Yin still didn't understand.

"You should just wear my clothes. Wear it, no one will be able to see from the outside," said Dae Hyun.

Soo Yin bit her lower lip, hesitant to do what her husband told her to do. Soo Yin already knew that Dae Hyun liked to work on her sometimes. This time she was not that easy to believe.

"Don't worry, I won't go beyond the limits. Quickly wear it, I won't see it," said Dae Hyun as he turned his face to the side so that Soo Yin would believe his words.

Soo Yin immediately took off her dress even though it was a bit difficult because she had to look outside afraid that someone would suddenly see her. Moreover, she also had to keep looking at her husband so as not to turn around.

"Don't turn around until I'm done," Soo Yin ordered.

"So what if I turn around before you're done? I've seen it hundreds of times," Dae Hyun said with a chuckle.

"If you dare to peek, you'll sleep outside for a week," Soo Yin threatened firmly.

"Okay."

Soo Yin started to button the shirts she was wearing one by one. It turned out to be much more comfortable.

"I'm done," said Soo Yin. Was about to wear a suit but was worried because Dae Hyun was shirtless and wearing nothing.

"Honey, put it on." Soo Yin handed Dae Hyun a black suit.

"I'm fine. You'd better put it on so you're a lot warmer." Dae Hyun put his shirt on Soo Yin's arm. Then immediately drove the car even faster so they can get home quickly.

Soo Yin finally complied because she didn't want to argue.

????????????????

Soo Yin immediately dried her hair after she finished bathing. Meanwhile, Dae Hyun was still in the kitchen preparing all the ingredients.

Before going downstairs, Soo Yin looked for clothes for her husband. Dae Hyun did go straight to the kitchen without taking a shower first.

Dae Hyun seemed to be in front of the stove to prepare all the ingredients needed.

"Dae Hyun, put your clothes on first because it's late," said Soo Yin who was already standing behind her husband.

Dae Hyun immediately turned around and put on the clothes brought by Soo Yin.

"Are you sure you still want to eat it?" Dae Hyun asked when he saw Soo Yin who had yawned.

"Sure, my stomach is still hungry and I want to eat it," said Soo Yin while looking at two large crabs.

Dae Hyun sighed heavily even though his eyes were already very sleepy. He was forced to return to the stove to burn the crab.

Soo Yin felt that her sleepiness had started to come. So she walked over to the table. Then pulled out one of the chairs to sit down.

Dae Hyun was busy grilling crabs with honey that had been combined with other spices.

"Honey, the smell is very good," said Dae Hyun as he inhaled the aroma that was so delicious rising in his nose.

There was no response from Soo Yin. Dae Hyun then looked back. He could see that Soo Yin was already leaning her head on the table.

Dae Hyun was curious so he turned down the fire and then approached his wife. Upon inspection, it turned out that she had fallen asleep.

"Honey, it's cooked," Dae Hyun said softly to wake Soo Yin.

Soo Yin didn't move at all. Her breathing sounded very regular this time.

"Geez, if I knew this I wouldn't have cooked it," said Dae Hyun while pinching the space between his eyebrows. He wanted to be angry but I can't.

Dae Hyun immediately carried Soo Yin's body and then went to his room. He laid Soo Yin's body on the bed slowly.

Wanting to be angry but seeing her so peaceful when sleeping made Dae Hyun's anger fade instantly.. He chose to sleep beside Soo Yin while hugging her tightly from behind.

Chapter 479 - 478

The birds were chirping and singing songs, welcoming the bright morning. Dae Hyun grumbled because last night Soo Yin fell asleep without eating what he had made.

"Relax, I'll eat it," said Soo Yin to please her husband. Soo Yin then walked over to the cupboard to pick up the grilled crab from last night.

"No need, tonight I will make it again for you," said Dae Hyun. Didn't want Soo Yin to eat crab from last night which was already cold.

"It's okay, I've troubled you. After that I actually fell asleep," said Soo Yin as she opened the crab shell. After tasting it, it tasted quite good, especially if you eat it warm, it will be much more delicious.

"You didn't have breakfast?" Soo Yin said.

"I'm not in the mood to eat. But seeing you eat well, I want to taste it." Dae Hyun reached out his hand to pick up the crab legs.

Soo Yin continued to eat half of it, until she remembered something.

"Oops, I forgot that today there is a class schedule." Soo Yin slapped her forehead and quickly took a sip of her drink.

"Don't be too hasty. Eat in peace," said Dae Hyun.

"There's no more time. I'll change my clothes now." Soo Yin immediately walked quickly up the stairs without caring about Dae Hyun who kept calling her.

There was no time left so Soo Yin quickly changed into a pair of slightly loose trousers and a t-shirt. Tied her hair in a ponytail.

This morning was the schedule of a lecturer who was quite fierce and very disciplined in the first hour. So Soo Yin was afraid if she was too late.

Dae Hyun then followed Soo Yin to change his clothes. Today he wanted to take Soo Yin to campus.

"Honey, I'm leaving," said Soo Yin.

"Wait," said Dae Hyun who was already wearing his clothes.

"What?" Soo Yin turned her head back to look at Dae Hyun.

"I'll take you," Dae Hyun said firmly so that there would be no argument between them.

"Okay," said Soo Yin.

????????????????

Dae Hyun escorted Soo Yin to the campus gate. Soo Yin looked at the watch wrapped around her wrist. Felt relieved because there was still about 10 minutes before entering and starting the course.

"Honey, I'm sorry for not being able to accompany you to meet Jo Yeon Ho," Soo Yin said with a sad face.

"It's okay, he's also in school. We'll see him later after school," said Dae Hyun.

"Shall I come too?" Soo Yin pointed at herself. To be honest, she wasn't ready to meet the boy yet.

"Sure, I'll wait for you here until you get home."

"Dae Hyun, you better go. Don't wait here." Soo Yin gave her husband a complicated look. It was impossible to leave him in the car for long.

"It's okay, I'll be happy to wait for you," Dae Hyun said as he cupped Soo Yin's face with both hands and rubbed her cheek with his thumb.

Dae Hyun was worried that Soo Yin will get into trouble because the conversation about their relationship must have spread widely by now. It was possible for one campus to hear it already.

"If you're bored you can go home," said Soo Yin.

"Hmmm."

Dae Hyun decided not to work first because he wanted to finish building the restaurant.

Dae Hyun leaned over and kissed Soo Yin gently for a while. Then rubbed the top of her head.

"Be careful, dear. If there is a problem you can contact me," said Dae Hyun.

"Nothing will happen to me," Soo Yin said with a cheerful face.

Soo Yin wrapped her arms around Dae Hyun's neck while looking at him.

"Why?" Dae Hyun raised an eyebrow because he felt uncomfortable with Soo Yin who looked at him too much.

"You are very handsome. If someone says we are like father and daughter you don't have to care. Don't be angry and put on a sour face anymore," Soo Yin explained while carving a smile that was so sweet.

"Hmmm, but their words are very disturbing. I'm afraid if you are instigated by their words and leave me," said Dae Hyun honestly. Because there was a certain concern in his heart.

"Loving you requires a lot of sacrifice so I won't just let you go. This heart is already yours." Soo Yin held Dae Hyun's hand and put it on her chest. So that Dae Hyun can feel her heartbeat when they were close.

"Thank you, because you want to love a man like me who can't even make you happy," said Dae Hyun. He'll be so happy if their relationship like this forever.

"I'm happy enough when I'm around you." Soo Yin landed a sweet kiss on Dae Hyun's lips for a while.

Their lips both didn't move and just stuck together. Dae Hyun didn't want Soo Yin to come out in such a disheveled state so he suppressed his urge as much as possible.

"Go, you'll be late." Dae Hyun pulled his lips until their kiss broke.

Soo Yin immediately got out of the car because there were only five minutes left before entering the classroom.

Once out, all eyes seemed to be on her. They looked at her with piercing gazes and seemed displeased. Soo Yin tried to act casual. Pretended not to notice their hateful gazes.

Along the way to her class Soo Yin could see the students whispering to each other while looking at her.

"Look at her innocent face, it's just to cover all the rottenness of her heart."

"If she dares to tease one of my family, I will not hesitate to strangle her neck."

"I feel sorry for the model because now she was dumped just because of a girl who is not attractive at all."

"We have to protest so she'll drop out of this campus."

"Yes, she is like a virus that can infect many people."

"From now on we have to keep our boyfriend from being seduced by her."

Chapter 480 - 479 - I Was Hoping That Wasn't True

Soo Yin continued to walk down the corridor with her chin raised. Pretended not to hear what they said. Even though Soo Yin actually felt nervous if they actually did a riot.

Soo Yin tried to think positively. They couldn't possibly be that crazy just because of her.

Soo Yin was relieved to have arrived at class. But again, everyone's eyes were on her.

Even worse, all the female students walked away and didn't want to be near her. Even though they were usually very friendly.

"Don't go near her. I'm afraid we'll infected by her.."

"Don't be so loud. I'm afraid she'll hear everything."

Jae-hwa looked at Soo Yin with very complicated feelings. Wanted to ask about the truth of what happened to her. But now didn't seem like the right time.

oooooo

During break time, Soo Yin chose to sit where she was because if she went out then everyone would probably keep talking about her. Her heart was not as strong as steel. After all, Soo Yin was afraid of causing chaos on campus.

Soo Yin only looked for activities by reading books to learn everything.

"Hmmm." Jae-hwa shifted his chair to get closer to Soo Yin.

"Soo Yin, may I speak to you?" Jae-hwa looked around to the already deserted room. There were only the two of them inside so it was a good time to ask everything.

"Say it," said Soo Yin with a faint smile. Jae-hwa wasn't usually so quiet. But Soo Yin can understand if Jae-hwa had heard everything about her. Moreover, he was also still working at the hotel.

"Soo Yin, what people say is not true, is it?" Jae-hwa asked carefully. Really hoped that it was all just gossip because Jae-hwa hadn't been able to accept it all.

"What do you think?" Soo Yin actually asked back.

"I was hoping that wasn't true." Jae-hwa heaved a heavy sigh with a complicated gaze at Soo Yin who bowed her head.

There were mixed feelings that Soo Yin was feeling right now.

"What if all of that was true?" Soo Yin said quietly. She can already guess where Jae-hwa's question was going. It was impossible not to hear it because he was also in the hotel.

"Why did you do all of that? You have to realize that what you did was a mistake," Jae-hwa said in a deep voice. His heart felt tight, unable to accept what had happened to the girl he had loved for a long time.

"You won't understand even if I tell you everything." Soo Yin smiled bitterly as she looked at Jae-hwa. The man would definitely think the same as everyone else about her.

"I'll try to understand if you tell me from the start." Jae-hwa grabbed Soo Yin's hand that was on the table. He held it firmly when Soo Yin was about to pull it.

"Soo Yin, I want to tell you the truth," added Jae-hwa.

Jae-hwa intended to say everything even though it was too late. There was a deep sense of regret for having put it off for too long. If only time could repeat the past, Jae-hwa didn't want to waste the opportunity that had been in front of his eyes.

Now it was too late but it never hurt to try. Maybe they will get married in the future.

"Say it, but can you let go of my hand. I don't want people to think I'm a bad girl, even though I know I'm bad," said Soo Yin with a sad tone.

Jae-hwa could feel his heart beating really fast. Now even his hand that was holding Soo Yin's finger was shaking. Not wanting to let go because Jae-hwa knew this might be his first and last chance to hold the hand of the girl he'd admired for a long time.

Soo Yin tried to pull it tightly then hid it in her lap.

"I don't want to get into any more trouble, Jae-hwa," Soo Yin said uncertainly.

"Soo Yin, can't you just leave him? Can't you find a man who loves you sincerely?" Finally Jae-hwa ventured to speak his heart.

Soo Yin was silent because even if she answered, Jae-hwa won't be able to understand if her life was too complicated.

"I've loved you for a long time. Waited for you since high school but I didn't expect that someone else is going after you before me." Jae-hwa's mind drifted to the past where they joked and laughed together.

Soo Yin lifted her head, not expecting Jae-hwa to talk about his feelings.

"Why are you only saying it now? You've never said it to me in the past," said Soo Yin. Actually Soo Yin also used to have the same feelings for Jae-hwa, but the man was too quiet and didn't say anything.

"That's because I want to take care of you and don't want to spoil you. I want us to be successful together first. Only then will I say everything. Then we get married and grow old together." Jae-hwa smiled bitterly remembering that his wish was just wishful thinking. Everything will never come true even in a dream.

"You will definitely get a girl who is much more perfect than me," said Soo Yin.

"I regret that I didn't say it earlier." Jae-hwa lowered his head, feeling a deep sadness in his heart. He couldn't sleep when he just heard the news about Soo Yin. It was like a nightmare that Jae-hwa never wanted to hear.

"Don't regret it. Everything has happened and I can't do anything about it. Find a girl who is more worthy of your love because there are many girls who will love you sincerely out there." Soo Yin tried to be wise so Jae-hwa wouldn't hate her.

"It won't be that easy," Jae-hwa replied as he looked into Soo Yin's eyes with a sad look. Showed how disappointed his heart was right now

"Jae-hwa, can you grant me one wish?" asked Soo Yin.

"Sure, say it," Jae-hwa said.
