

Jean clutched her chest which was beating fast. Now her heart felt a little relieved after someone came to help her.

Park Soo Hyun then turned his body to Jean who was still standing in the doorway. Her hair looked messy and she was still wearing the same clothes as this morning.

"Jean, are you all right?" Park Soo Hyun's tone sounded worried and warm.

Jean was still rooted to the spot. Couldn't believe what she saw. If only Park Soo Hyun could talk to her so warmly like before.

"Jean," Park Soo Hyun called softly.

Jean immediately woke up from her daydream then shifted her attitude back to normal. Afraid that she would be disappointed again like before.

"What did you come here for?" asked Jean sarcastically then turned her face to the other way.

"I came here just to return this." Park Soo Hyun handed the plastic bag to Jean.

With a rough gesture, Jean immediately snatched it away without saying any thanks.

"Jean, can we talk inside?" said Park Soo Hyun. He felt bad if they were chatting at the door.

"If you want to say that you won't be responsible as the father of my future child, it is fine. I will take care of it myself. If they baby asks where the father is, I will say that the father is dead." Jean's tone was quite relaxed but the words she spoke contained quite a piercing satire.

Park Soo Hyun massaged his temples. It turned out that Jean already knew what he was going to say.

"If you keep it, you will be tortured. You better think carefully before it's too late," Park Soo Hyun said, his eyes closed and breaths that felt tight.

"I have made up my mind and my decision that I will take care of this baby. This child only needs a mother and does not need a father to survive," said Jean firmly.

"Jean, I beg of you to understand. That child will someday just be a pain in the ass." Park Soo Hyun didn't want to take any risks in the future.

"Troublesome or not, that's none of your business. It's my child so it's up to me what to do." Jean was gritting her teeth so hard.

"You'd better get out of my house and never see me again!" expelled Jean with mounting anger. The arrival of Park Soo Hyun always made her heart hurt.

Chang Yuan had just parked his car on the side of the road not far from Jean's house. He was worried about the girl after getting the news that she was sick.

Just as Chang Yuan got out of the car, he immediately saw an unpleasant sight. He saw Jean who was talking to Park Soo Hyun with an angry face.

Chang Yuan clenched his fists with clenched jaws and sharp, fiery eyes. He walked closer sneakily, wanting to know what had happened.

The man didn't want to be careless, Park Soo Hyun's arrival at Jean's house probably with good intentions to take responsibility.

"Jean, taking care of children alone is not a good thing. The child will definitely ask where the father is," said Park Soo Hyun.

"It's not good to take care of a child alone, indeed, but it's much worse to kill it," said Jean with emotions that were already on the top of her head.

"Okay, if you really insist on taking care of our child. But if there's something that happened, it shouldn't have anything to do with me." Park Soo Hyun let out a long sigh. His attempts to ask Jean to abort the pregnancy were unsuccessful. After all, it was all for the common good.

"Don't call this child as your child because this child has never had a cowardly father like you," Jean sneered sarcastically and her eyelids felt heavy.

"Get out of here right now before I scream!" Jean threatened because the longer Park Soo Hyun stood there, the more hurtful words that she heard.

"Soo Hyun, get out of here right now!" shouted Chang Yuan as he stepped his wide strides onto the terrace to approach the two of them. Hearing how Park Soo Hyun didn't want to take responsibility made Chang Yuan's blood and emotions rise.

"Assistant Chang?" Jean was quite surprised by Chang Yuan's sudden arrival. There was a feeling of relief because at least Chang Yuan would kick Park Soo Hyun out of there.

Park Soo Hyun knitted his brows as he saw someone coming towards him with an angry face.

Bugh....

"You cowardly man!" Chang Yuan cursed. Without thinking, he then threw his fist very hard at Park Soo Hyun's face.

"Argh!" groaned Park Soo Hyun who had fallen to the floor because he was not ready. His nose was quite sore but he tried his best to stay on his feet.

Before Park Soo Hyun had time to stand up, Chang Yuan grabbed his collar first. Then threw his fists repeatedly without caring about Park Soo Hyun whose nose was already bleeding.

After being satisfied with punching him in the face, Chang Yuan pushed Park Soo Hyun to the ground and then kicked him.

"Chang Yuan, what are you doing?" said Park Soo Hyun as he endured the pain and tried to stand up. Wanted to fight but realized if maybe this was a consequence of not wanting to take responsibility.

"That's the result of being an irresponsible coward like you," said Chang Yuan while squinting his eyes. His chest heaved up and down, holding back the anger that was very tight in his chest.

"Chang Yuan, why are you interfering in our business? Jean is even fine with it but you are the one who is emotional," said Park Soo Hyun as he was about to go forward to repay Chang Yuan's treatment of him.

With disapproval, Park Soo Hyun immediately grabbed Chang Yuan's clothes to take revenge for his treatment earlier.

"Enough, get out of here right now!" Jean expelled in a loud and high-pitched voice at Park Soo Hyun.
