

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 61 - 61 - Ideal Man

Dae Hyun reached into the cell phone that was in his coat pocket. Several times contacted Soo Yin but was not answered.

"Where is the toilet?" Dae Hyun asked. He hasn't been here for a long time so he has forgotten the location of the restaurant toilets. What's more, too many changes have occurred.

"Be patient, soon she will definitely come back," Do Yun said as he took a sip of his drink.

"I've called her cell phone but it was not answered. I'm afraid something happened to her." Dae Hyun rushed to the toilet.

"Look at him! He really has lost his mind. Just left to the toilet for a while like a hot worm," Choi Won said.

"You said it because you never fell in love with just one woman," Jung Rok said.

"That's right, I'm not satisfied if I only have one woman unless I find a young woman like Soo Yin," Choi Won said while daydreaming.

Jung Rok and Do Yun just looked at each other. Reluctant to respond to Choi Won's words.

oo

At the same time, Soo Yin was still in the toilet. She stood while holding her stomach that felt so sore. There was a little bloodstains on her skirt. Made her didn't notice that her phone vibrated repeatedly.

Tok ... Tok ... Tok ...

"Baby, are you okay?" Dae Hyun shouted from outside of the door.

Soo Yin caught her breath. Stifling pain in her stomach. Biting her lower lip as she thought about whether to tell her husband about her current state or not.

Since there was no answer, Dae Hyun knocked on the door harder.

"Baby, are you inside?" Dae Hyun called one more time with a loud voice.

"Yes, I'm here," Soo Yin replied with a weak voice.

"Are you sick?" Dae Hyun worried when he heard her trembling voice.

"I'm ... I'm"

"Hurry open the door!" Dae Hyun who couldn't be patient said, he wanted to know what actually happened.

Finally Soo Yin was forced to open the door because Dae Hyun knocked the door endlessly. The door can be broken because of him.

"What happened?" Dae Hyun panicked when he saw Soo Yin's face was pale and sweating.

"I'm" Soo Yin felt embarrassed to tell him.

"Baby, say it!" Dae Hyun held his wife shoulders.

"It looks like my period has started so my stomach hurts," Soo Yin said.

"If so then let's go to the hospital!" Dae Hyun already held his wife's wrist.

"No need, I just need painkillers," Soo Yin said. It's too much to get sick like this to go to the hospital.

"Then we must immediately buy medicine at the pharmacy. Let's go outside," Dae Hyun who was standing in the middle of the door said.

"Can't," Soo Yin whined.

"Why?" Dae Hyun asked, confused.

Soo Yin showed the back skirt which was stained with blood.

Dae Hyun was initially confused when he saw it but immediately understood that his wife needed a sanitary pad.

"Stay here, I'll be back soon," Dae Hyun said as he looked at his wife's face. For Soo Yin, he was willing to do something he never did.

With a deep sigh Dae Hyun approached his friends who were still busy chatting.

"Where is your wife?" Choi Won looked behind Dae Hyun but Soo Yin was not there.

"She has a stomachache. Where is the pharmacy around here?" Dae Hyun asked.

"If your wife is sick you should take her to the doctor instead of leaving her in the toilet." Instead of answering Dae Hyun was lecturing.

"She can't come out right now. Tell me where it is?" Dae Hyun who couldn't wait asked. It was a shame if Soo Yin has been in pain for too long.

"From here turn left," Jung Rok said.

Dae Hyun immediately went to the place indicated by Jung Rok. It turned out that not too far, there was a large enough pharmacy.

"Are you looking for something, Sir?" A young female pharmacist asked. Seemed like she was in her twenties.

"I'm looking for pain relievers," Dae Hyun replied.

"If I may know who is sick and what kind of sick?" The pharmacist asked.

"Stomach ache," Dae Hyun replied briefly hoping the pharmacist would understand without having to explain.

"Ulcer or a sore stomach?"

"No. My wife has pain ... menstrual pain." Dae Hyun ended up being blunt rather than Soo Yin waiting too long.

"Well, fortunately I didn't give her ulcer medication," The pharmacist said, smiling. Then take a special pain reliever drug to relieve pain of menstruation.

"What else?"

"Don't forget that too," Dae Hyun asked.

"What is that?" The pharmacist asked with an innocent face.

"Pads," Dae Hyun said softly, holding back his patience. His head almost burst with emotion.

Without asking again, the pharmacist immediately took the sanitary pads. She was about to ask again but immediately gave up her intention because she saw Dae Hyun's expression that seemed annoyed.

Dae Hyun immediately paid the cashier. His ears could hear the whispers of the female visitors who had been watching him.

"What a dream man!"

"I did not think that there is a husband who is so obedient to his wife."

"He shamelessly buys things for women."

"It's rare for a man like that."

Dae Hyun looked at those who were talking about him. There was both shame and pride in their compliment. Hurriedly he left the Pharmacy.

Dae Hyun also went to one of the clothing stores. Choose a skirt that might fit his wife. Luckily the waiter didn't ask as many questions as he had at the pharmacy earlier.

'No wonder today her emotions fluctuate, it turned out she's menstruating,' Dae Hyun thought to himself as he checked what he was carrying.

One problem has passed even though he had to hold back his emotions. Surely his friends will also laughed at him. It doesn't matter, it was all done for Soo Yin.

"Did you find the pharmacy?" Jung Rok asked.

"What's wrong with your wife?" Choi Won asked.

"Hmmm." Dae Hyun muttered without answering his friends' questions. Walked straight past their table straight to the toilet. If they found out what he had just bought, they would laugh at him all out.

The three friends looked at each other when they saw what Dae Hyun was carrying because they could vaguely see the brand of one of the sanitary pads. They laughed then covered their mouths with their palms. Afraid that Dae Hyun would beat them back. In the past, Dae Hyun didn't accept being teased.

Dae Hyun paid no attention to his friend's laughter. He was no longer the way he used to be easily provoked by emotions.

"Soo Yin, open the door!" Dae Hyun who was standing in front of the toilet door said.

Soo Yin immediately opened the door.

"I'll be waiting at the front." Dae Hyun handed over the paper bag containing the items he bought earlier.

Soo Yin didn't think that a man like Dae Hyun would buy something like this. Unconsciously smiling himself when wearing it. The skirt also fits perfectly on her body.

After leaving, Soo Yin first went to the kitchen to ask for water. Shame if she was taking medicine in front of Dae Hyun's friends.

With embarrassment and red face, Soo Yin approached Dae Hyun who was sipping a drink with his friends.

"Let's go home," Dae Hyun said.

"Go home?" Soo Yin didn't understand that, she was just about to sit down but Dae Hyun wanted to take her home instead. Didn't he invite her here to eat. Soo Yin thought that Dae Hyun was angry because she told him to buy what she needed.

"Yes, I'll explain in the car," Dae Hyun said with a smile.

"You have to bring her at my sister's wedding ceremony," Choi Won whose younger sister is getting married in a week said. It was coincidence to met here at the same time.

"Of course," Dae Hyun replied.

Soo Yin didn't ask where Dae Hyun meant to go home. She thought maybe going back to the Pyeongchang-dong villa. Soo Yin frowned when they were already at UN Village, where Dae Hyun and Aeri lived.

"What did you bring me here for?" Soo Yin asked.

"My parents returned to Korea, so Aeri told me to have lunch at home," Dae Hyun who was still behind the wheel said.

"Then why did you bring me?" Soo Yin knit her brows together. It was impossible to bring her to his residence to announce their relationship.

"You didn't mean to announce our relationship, did you?" Soo Yin wasn't ready if everyone finds out. Her mental still too weak. People said that the mentality of the second wife must be as strong as steel because many people will sneer at her.

"No need to worry. I want you to get acquainted with them," Dae Hyun said as he gently stroked Soo Yin's cheek.

"For what? I don't want to meet your parents yet. After all, won't Aeri be suspicious if I come with you?" Soo Yin asked.

"It's okay, I'll introduce you as my personal secretary. For the matter of Aeri being suspicious or not, I don't care." Dae Hyun got out of the car straight away without listening to Soo Yin's refusal answer.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 62 - 62 - Meet The In-laws

With Dae Hyun's insistence on getting into the house, Soo Yin finally got out of the car. At the entrance there were several servants who greeted them.

Soo Yin followed Dae Hyun's steps behind him, didn't dare to walk too close together. Dae Hyun took her to the spacious and luxurious dining room. There is a crystal chandelier on the golden dining table.

It turned out that everyone had gathered in the dining room. There is Park Ji Hoon and his wife who are none other than Dae Hyun's parents. There was also Aeri who immediately welcomed her husband's arrival.

Soo Yin turned his face the other way. Unable to watch Aeri greet Dae Hyun so spoiled. Subconsciously she clenched her fingers so tightly that her nails stuck into her palms. Truly she was like a stranger when she stood between them.

Dae Hyun also alternately greeted and hugged his parents. Directly sat across from Park Ji Hoon.

"Who is she?" Mrs. Park asked when he saw Soo Yin who was still standing behind the chair.

"Oh, you were with your secretary." Before Dae Hyun had time to answer his mother's question, Aeri had already stepped in.

"Let me introduce, she's Soo Yin. My new secretary who replaces Eun Bee," Dae Hyun said.

Soo Yin bowed her body politely with a smile.

"Why are you together?" Park Ji Hoon asked.

"We were just from the airport dropping off Mr. Peter Anderson when Aeri called me. So I brought her here," Dae Hyun explained.

"Then let's have lunch here with us," Mrs. Park said in a friendly manner.

"Thank you, but" Soo Yin replied doubtfully. Didn't expect that her mother-in-law was so friendly. Even though she had thought that his mother would be ignorant.

"Come on, please sit down." Mrs. Park invited Soo Yin to sit next to Jo Yeon Ho. Opposite her.

Soo Yin finally complied because her stomach felt hungry too. This morning she didn't have time to eat.

"Eunnie, it's nice to meet you again," Jo Yeon Ho said with a friendly smile.

"I heard from your father you had a fever last night. Are you cured now?" Soo Yin asked casually. Although she doesn't really like Jo Yeon Ho, she was still friendly to him.

"Already, I just missed sleeping with Mom and Dad," Jo Yeon Ho replied.

Soo Yin just smiled bitterly without saying anything else. Hold back her emotions so as not to be jealous.

There were so many dishes available at the table. Starting from Kimchi, Kimbab, Bulgogi, Japchae, seaweed soup or Miyeok Guk. There were also Soju drinks.

Soo Yin just looked at Aeri who was getting food for Dae Hyun. Something she probably never did to her husband all this time. Immediately looked away when caught by Dae Hyun that she was observing them.

'Be patient, Soo Yin, your husband is just pretending,' Soo Yin thought to herself.

"Let me take it myself," Dae Hyun said as he pulled out his plate. Felt bad at seeing Soo Yin.

"It's okay, isn't it natural for a wife to serve her husband? Isn't that right, Mom?" Aeri said while looking at Mrs. Park.

"Of course," Mrs. Park replied, who is also in the middle of getting food for her husband.

"Soo Yin, if you marry one day, you also have to do this for your husband," Aeri said as she looked at Soo Yin.

Deg ...

Deg ...

"Hmmm." Soo Yin just pretended to smile a little.

Dae Hyun was surprised by Aeri's behavior today, which was very far from usual. Maybe something was planned.

Soo Yin just silently stared at her empty plate. Suddenly Jo Yeon Ho put rice on her plate along with Kimchi. Soo Yin turned her head to look at the child.

"Eunnie, let me get it for you," Jo Yeon Ho said, although he was struggling to reach the food, the boy still tried to get it.

"Thank you, you are a really good boy." Soo Yin brushed Jo Yeon Ho's hair. Trying to accept the situation that was happening.

"You know each other?" Aeri asked.

"Yes, I often meet her at the hotel. Last week we even went for a walk to the park," Jo Yeon Ho replied in a typical children's accent.

"Went for a walk?" Aeri asked. Dae Hyun never said anything to her.

"Yes, we accidentally met," Dae Hyun said to find the right reason so they didn't suspect him. It was not that he didn't want to introduce her in front of their parents, but Dae Hyun wasn't ready yet.

"We went to the park where we were there before," Jo Yeon Ho said with a happy face. It seemed that at that time he was very happy.

"Yeon Ho, eat first, let's tell the story later." Dae Hyun changed the subject so that his son stops the story.

Jo Yeon Ho nodded obediently, starting to eat his food. Meanwhile, Soo Yin only ate a little while messing up the food on her plate. What used to be a hungry stomach now has no appetite to eat.

Plus, when Aeri still insisted on feeding Dae Hyun even though the man tried hard to refuse. Made Soo Yin doubt what Dae Hyun was telling her if he was not in love with Aeri. But in fact everything was slightly inversely proportional to reality.

Dae Hyun really couldn't show Aeri his dislike in front of his son. Moreover, there were his parents at this time who made him could not move.

"I better go back to the hotel," Dae Hyun said while looking at the clock on his hand which was nearly two o'clock in the afternoon.

"You better not have to come back, just let your subordinates do other work," Park Ji Hoon said.

"But I have to deliver Soo Yin, Father," Dae Hyun said.

"Couldn't he be back in the taxi?" Mrs. Park said.

"Yes, I can go back by taxi," Soo Yin said then stood up.

"I only drove her for a moment," Dae Hyun said insisting on escorting Soo Yin. Can't bear to let his wife to go home alone

"No need, I can do it myself," Soo Yin said.

"Don't mind, it's okay," Dae Hyun said.

After saying goodbye to everyone in the dining room. Soo Yin and Dae Hyun immediately left UN Village.

During the trip, Soo Yin was silent. See the scenery outside.

"Where are you going?" Dae Hyun asked.

"You shouldn't have to take me. I can go by myself in a taxi," Soo Yin said without looking at Dae Hyun.

"Sorry, if that made you uncomfortable," Dae Hyun said. He knew that Soo Yin must be upset right now.

"No problem, maybe I should learn from now on," Soo Yin said while looking at her husband.

"Take me home, I want to rest," Soo Yin continued when Dae Hyun was about to turn his car toward the road to the hotel.

"Okay." Dae Hyun complied with his wife's request.

After dropping Soo Yin off at the Pyeongchang-dong villa, Dae Hyun didn't come home immediately. He continued following Soo Yin's steps to the room.

"Dae Hyun, hurry and go home!" Soo Yin expelled.

"I'm not going home until you're not angry anymore," Dae Hyun said as he hugged Soo Yin from behind.

"I'm not angry," Soo Yin said curtly. Trying to let go of Dae Hyun's hand that was wrapped around her waist.

"You're lying," Dae Hyun said as he turned Soo Yin's body. He stared into her red eyes.

"I'm just irritated," Soo Yin said honestly. It was useless lying because Dae Hyun won't believe it.

"Sorry." Dae Hyun immediately hugged Soo Yin. Feeling guilty for taking her to UN Village.

"Never mind, I'm fine. You better hurry back home," Soo Yin said while rubbing Dae Hyun's back so he didn't have to worry about her feelings.

"But you have to promise you won't be angry with me?" Dae Hyun let go of his embrace.

"Yes, promise," Soo Yin said.

After confirming that Soo Yin wasn't angry, Dae Hyun immediately left. Didn't forget to kiss his wife's lips for a while.

Aeri was busy pacing in her room. Because as long as her in-laws are in the house, Aeri can't go anywhere. Can only pretend to be cute like the best wife. It was no fun pretending to be a mother who cared for her husband and child.

Today was her chance if she wanted to go out and freshen her mind. It has been three days since her husband and father-in-law were not at home. His mother-in-law also seemed to be out today. So Aeri decided to go to the apartment of the man who had been her lover for a long time, even before she married Dae Hyun. This afternoon he invited several friends to celebrate their relationship.

It was one o'clock in the afternoon and in about thirty minutes the event would start. Aeri didn't want to be late there. So get ready quickly. Without realizing it, Jo Yeon Ho entered her room.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 63 - 63 - Aeri's Annoyance

"Where are you going?" Jo Yeon Ho asked. He walked over to Aeri who was in the mirror.

"Mother is going to the salon," Aeri replied curtly without glancing at her son. She could only be kind and considerate when Dae Hyun was with them.

"Mother, I want to come. I want to go for a walk," Jo Yeon Ho whined while pulling Aeri's shirt.

"Take off mother's clothes! If you want to go for a walk, just go with Aunt Eun Hee," Aeri said curtly. So far, she has never liked Jo Yeon Ho. Because of the boy's presence, it nearly ruined her career.

"But I want to go with Mother," Jo Yeon Ho said while looking up to beg Aeri to allow it.

"No." Aeri immediately started to leave her son, but then turned back.

Jo Yeon Ho was very sad because Aeri didn't let him. Even though it's been a long time to cool down on a picnic with his mother in the park.

"Don't tell anyone! If you still want to see your father, or Mother will lock you in the basement again like before," Aeri threatened. Once she did it because the boy didn't do what she said.

"Yes," Jo Yeon Ho said, who lowered his face because he was afraid of Aeri. He thought his mother had changed because as long as Grandma and Grandpa were around, Aeri treated him very well.

Aeri immediately left the room, followed by Jo Yeon Ho to return to his room to draw.

Just as Aeri came down the stairs, it turned out that Mrs. Park has come home from a visit to a relative.

"Aeri, where are you going?" Mrs. Park asked when she saw her daughter-in-law who was very neat. It seemed that if she wanted to go somewhere.

"Mommy?" Aeri widened her eyes.

"I just want to go away for a moment," Aeri replied with a smile. Even though her heart was very angry because the child made her have to meet her in-laws.

"Didn't you say you were going to invite Yeon Ho to go out this morning." Mrs. Park frowned because she was not seeing his grandson with Aeri at this time.

"Ah, he's getting ready upstairs. Then I'll go up, Mom." Aeri immediately turned up the stairs to her son's room. Don't let her mother-in-law find out if she didn't intend to ask him.

"Yeon Ho, hurry and change clothes. Let's go!" Aeri who was standing at the door said without any intention of entering.

Jo Yeon Ho was focusing on drawing using crayons. Only a picture of a boy in the middle of his parents with a balloon in his hand. The image that Jo Yeon Ho had been dreaming of all this time.

Jo Yeon Ho did not turn to look at the source of the sound. Thinking that it was just a sound illusion so he could hear his mother's invitation.

Aeri was annoyed at not getting a response from Jo Yeon Ho. She went straight to the child at the study table.

"Hurry, let's take a walk to the park we visited before." Aeri coaxed her son in a softer tone afraid that her mother-in-law would listen.

"Did you won't go out with me earlier, didn't you?" Jo Yeon Ho asked with an innocent face.

Without answering, Aeri immediately took clothes carelessly from the closet for Jo Yeon Ho. There was no longer time to take care of that child.

"Hurry up and put it on!" Aeri handed the clothes to her son.

Seeing the look of dislike on his mother's face, without answering Jo Yeon Ho obediently immediately put on the clothes. He really wanted to get out of the house. He also want to go to school but it was still on holiday.

It didn't take too long for Aeri to finally arrive at Namsan Park. Jo Yeon Ho liked the place so much that he went straight down. Climbing the stairs with great zeal. In contrast to Aeri who had a displeased face.

Derttt ... derttt

Aeri's cell phone suddenly vibrated, apparently someone was calling her.

"Hello, honey where are you?" A male voice asked from across the phone.

"I'm in Namsan Park," Aeri replied, who walked up the stairs in displeasure.

"What are you there for?" The man asked.

"My son wants to go here. It can't be helped I have to do it," Aeri said curtly.

"Just leave him there. Let him go out alone."

"But, I don't want him to get lost," Aeri said. If Jo Yeon Ho got lost then her life would be finished.

"He's already a big boy, so there's no way he could get lost as well. Hurry over here, everyone's gathered."

"All right, I'll be right there." Aeri immediately turned off the phone connection.

Aeri approached Jo Yeon Ho who was already sitting on a long bench under a ginkgo tree. Simultaneously swung both legs under the bench. His face looked very happy.

"Yeon Ho, you can play alone here, right?" Aeri said.

"Where are you going?" The boy asked.

"I'm going to go away for a while, I'll pick you up this afternoon," Aeri said.

"No problem, I'll play with them." Jo Yeon Ho pointed to a group of children who were chasing each other.

"All right, remember not to go anywhere! Stay around here," Aeri said with great emphasis.

"Yes, I promise I won't be naughty and won't go anywhere," Jo Yeon Ho said.

"If you get naughty, mom won't ask you out again," Aeri threatened.

After making sure that the child was playing with other children, Aeri immediately left the Namsan Park area. Go straight to his lover's apartment. It turned out that his friends had gathered there.

"Hi, you finally came." A man welcomed Aeri's arrival.

"Sorry honey, I'm late."

Aeri was too engrossed in partying to remember her son.

Soo Yin still lazily on the bed, only glanced a little to the o'clock and it turned out it was afternoon. It's been several days Soo Yin barely met Dae Hyun because that man was busy with new hotel branches that will be established that were outside the city.

It turned out that Park Ji Hoon came to Korea to conduct a strategic location review with Dae Hyun regarding hotel construction.

Dae Hyun didn't ask Soo Yin because he was afraid that his wife will get tired. It was useless to ask her if his father was always with him.

Soo Yin yawned as she spread her hands out. Stretching her stiff muscles. Repeatedly checking her cellphone but there was no call or message from her husband. Make her even less excited. Even while Dae Hyun was out of town, she never even went to work.

When she saw her cellphone, there was a photo of herself with Dae Hyun that was taken by Jo Yeon Ho. The photo was taken when they were sitting on the stairs of the Namsan Park area. Dae Hyun insisted that the photo should be a wallpaper.

Seeing the photo made Soo Yin want to go there again. It turned out to be a very beautiful place. No wonder Jo Yeon Ho really likes that place. The day when she visited Namsan Park with Dae Hyun and Jo Yeon Ho, at that time she did not enjoy the scenery there at all because she was burning by the fire of jealousy to see the closeness of father and son.

Soo Yin immediately walked towards the window. Check the weather today which was a bit cloudy. It seemed like it was suitable to go there since the weather was not that hot.

Before leaving, Soo Yin first cleaned up and then had lunch because since this morning she hadn't eaten any food. The food that Auntie Xia had brought to her room was still completely untouched.

"Ahjumma, I want to go outside for a bit," Soo Yin said after finishing lunch.

"Are you going with Chung Ho?" Aunt Xia said. She suddenly didn't feel good.

"No, I want to go alone. Besides, I just want to go to the park," Soo Yin said while checking her bag. It turned out that there was a small knife that she had been carrying when she was following Peter Anderson. Already took it out of the bag but immediately put it back in. Maybe she needed it to peel something off.

"You better go with Chung Ho," Aunt Xia suggested.

"I can take a taxi, let him rest." Soo Yin smiled as she rubbed the middle aged woman's shoulder so she didn't have to worry about her. Nothing would happen in daylight like this.

About thirty minutes drove, Soo Yin finally arrived at the entrance to the garden area. First, she went to the nearest minimarket to buy snacks and drinks that were suitable to be enjoyed under the cool ginkgo tree. Did not forget to buy two ice creams with chocolate flavor. Soo Yin really liked ice cream.

Soo Yin started climbing the stairs while taking some photos of the scenery using the cellphone she was carrying.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 64 - 64 - Against Criminals

Brakk

When she was engrossed in taking photos, suddenly a woman bumped into her, causing her cell phone to fall to the ground.

"Hey" Soo Yin was about to call the person who hit her. But immediately discouraged when she found out who it was. It turned out that the woman was Aeri who walked while talking to someone on the phone without caring about her surroundings. She can see that she was in a great hurry as she descend the stairs.

'What did he come to this place for?' Soo Yin thought while knitting his eyebrows. Immediately took her cellphone which was still on the ground, luckily it didn't break.

Soo Yin immediately went upstairs, not wanting to think about why that woman went to this place. The girl was looking for a very suitable seat to enjoy the gentle breeze. So refreshing under the cloud-covered sky.

Soo Yin enjoyed the snacks she brought while watching the children playing in the distance. She felt like seeing Jo Yeon Ho, but not believing that the child was Jo Yeon Ho. How could that child went here without his father.

After finishing a few packs of snacks, Soo Yin kept walking around until it was already evening. The sun will set soon but Soo Yin didn't want to leave the park yet. Wanted to enjoy the sunset like that time. Even though it was a bit cloudy, there was still a faint orange glow.

The garden was quiet now because at this hour they should be at home. Suddenly there were two people walking in front of her while continuing to chat. Soo Yin only heard vaguely that they would get a lot of money if the task this time was successful. The two men walked towards the place where the children had been playing.

It was getting dark but there was no sign of Aeri in Namsan Park. Jo Yeon Ho has been walking around looking for her mother but can't find her.

"Mom, it's been a long time," Jo Yeon Ho said softly cause Aeri promised to pick him up. The worms in his stomach also sounded because he was hungry and it was supposed to be dinner time soon. The child continued to walk, clutching his stomach. Until suddenly there were two big men who blocked his steps. He looked like a thug who had many tattoos all over their hands. Making Jo Yeon Ho took a step back.

"Hey, don't be afraid," One of the men with bald heads said, squinting and smiling lopsidedly.

"Who are you?" Jo Yeon Ho shouted, trembling. Really scared to see their faces.

"We? Who are we?" The two men laughed simultaneously. Their booming voice was so creepy.

Without thinking, Jo Yeon Ho turned around and immediately ran away from them. But his steps were too easy for the two men to reach. Until they easily blocked Jo Yeon Ho again.

"Please ... please ... pl" Jo Yeon Ho shouted while trying to ask for help like children do in movies that have ever watched.

"Hmphhh." One of them covered Jo Yeon Ho's mouth. Lifting it over his shoulders.

Jo Yeon Ho punched him with his little hand which meant nothing to the man.

In a place not too far, Soo Yin accidentally followed the two criminals. Currently hiding behind a ginkgo tree. Widened her eyes when she saw that it was Jo Yeon Ho who was now with them.

At first Soo Yin was about to leave without wanting to help him. But he still has a conscience. Even though she didn't like the child, he was after all her husband's flesh and blood. If something happened to him, she didn't want to regret it later.

Soo Yin immediately walked towards them with hasty steps. Bravely appeared.

"Hey, get off the kid!" Soo Yin shouted boldly.

The two kidnappers immediately turned to look at Soo Yin.

"Looks like someone wants to be a hero," The bald man who smiled crookedly said as he watched Soo Yin from top to bottom.

"She's very beautiful, how about we bring it to our boss as a bonus," His curly haired friend continued.

They then laughed together so that their laughter erupted in Soo Yin's ears. Want to scream for help but this place was already quiet as if they had planned carefully.

"Hurry up and take her!" The bald man said.

Soo Yin immediately took out the small knife that was in her bag.

"Do not come close!" Soo Yin pointed out a knife which was a meager size.

Without fear, the curly haired man remained close. Soo Yin got really scared when she saw the gun hanging from his waist. With full determination, the girl with all her strength kicked the crotch of the curly haired man to make him quite painful.

The bald man got angry seeing his friend lose to only one woman. Immediately lowered Jo Yeon Ho from his shoulder.

As soon as he saw the bald man off guard because he was putting Jo Yeon Ho down, Soo Yin immediately stabbed the man's hand with a small knife so that his arm was bleeding quite a lot. This was remembered by her when the tragedy of Lee Young Joun attacked Dae Hyun.

Soo Yin quickly took Jo Yeon Ho's little hand and asked him to run. They kept running without knowing where they were going because it's already dark. The most important thing was to get away from the kidnapper.

Due to her haste and panic, Soo Yin ran into the wrong path. In fact, they ran on the road to Mount Nam. It was getting dark even though the two of them still saw the road. The longer they ran, it turned out that the road was getting more uphill, so Soo Yin was tired. She also felt sorry for Jo Yeon Ho who kept walking. The two of them were both breathless so Soo Yin decided to take a break.

Soo Yin handed the bottle of mineral water to Jo Yeon Ho which was in her bag.

"Eunnie, I'm afraid," The boy said softly. From his voice he sounded like he was going to cry.

"Don't be afraid." Soo Yin rubbed Jo Yeon Ho's head gently.

"Hurry, find them! Lest we lose the child." The voice of the kidnapper was heard.

"Come on, get on my back," Soo Yin said as she squatted her back to Jo Yeon Ho.

"Eun ... nie," Jo Yeon Ho said, sobbing.

"Hurry up and go up before they find us," Soo Yin said, she couldn't wait because she heard the sound of footsteps getting closer to them.

Jo Yeon Ho finally got on Soo Yin's back. Cold sweat came out of his body.

Just as she was about to walk up the uphill road, there was a flashlight illuminating Soo Yin from behind.

"Hurry after her!" It was not two men who were chasing after them, but now there were five people who were now behind them.

Soo Yin stepped back slowly. If they worry too quickly they will fall. When Soo Yin at the intersection lost her way, she didn't know where else to go, there were three roads that were equally steep. After careful thought so that she dropped Jo Yeon Ho.

"Honey, run first then I'll catch up," Soo Yin said while pushing Jo Yeon Ho's body to run into a road that didn't seem too uphill while Soo Yin planned to pass the road above it to outwit them.

"Eunnie, I'm afraid," Jo Yeon Ho said, trembling. His tears continued to stream down his cheeks.

"Hide, hurry!" Soo Yin gave Jo Yeon Ho her small knife and also her cellphone for lighting.

She occurred to contact someone but her cellphone didn't get a signal at all so there was no other way if she wanted to survive. If she let Jo Yeon Ho stay with her they would likely get caught.

With a feeling of fear and armed with a cellphone light, Jo Yeon Ho walked alone until he finally found a cave.

Soo Yin deliberately didn't walk first before the criminals saw her.

"I am here!" Soo Yin shouted when she saw that the criminals had appeared while continuing to run into a different path from the road that Jo Yeon Ho had walked. The path was many large stones on its side.

The gang of criminals immediately chase after Soo Yin. But it turns out that the road Soo Yin was walking on was dead end. Right now she was on the edge of a steep cliff. Just stepping on the edge of the ground Soo Yin can felt the rubble falling.

"The child is not with her!" One of them shouted.

"God damn it!"

Dorrr ...

Dorrr

The long-haired man that Soo Yin kicked earlier was very angry because he felt like he was being mocked, he then immediately shot her.

"Aaaaaa!" Soo Yin shouted while holding her hand. Her leg slipped and made her fall. Soo Yin can only surrender this time.

"Dae Hyun, goodbye," Soo Yin said.

Brukkkk

"The girl fell!" The bald man who was still clutching his arm from the stab wound said.

"Poor girl."

"It's her fault cause she wants to be a hero."

"We'd better find the kid right away."

The criminals immediately left where Soo Yin fell. Went back to find Jo Yeon Ho, who didn't know where he was.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 65 - 65 - Disappearing At The Same Time

UN Village.

Dae Hyun just arrived home late in the evening. There was no Aeri in her room so he immediately called Soo Yin's number. Repeatedly trying but still not active. Finally he called Aunt Xia's cell phone number to confirm the situation.

"Hello, sir," Auntie Xia said from across the phone.

"Ahjumma, where is my wife? I repeatedly called her but her cellphone was not active," Dae Hyun said while removing the tie with one hand.

"Actually, Young Miss left since noon today but hasn't returned until now," Auntie Xia said.

"Did he say where he wanted to go?" Dae Hyun asked.

"She only said she wants to go to Namsan Park," Aunt Xia replied.

"Alright, I'll look for her."

Dae Hyun, who was about to take a shower, now walked straight out of the room. Also curious about his son, usually when he came home the child always greeted him when he got out of the car.

Dae Hyun opened the door to Jo Yeon Ho's room but he was not there. Immediately he rushed to meet the nanny but there was Mrs. Park who sat on the sofa.

"Mother, where's Yeon Ho?" Dae Hyun asked.

"He was out with Aeri," Mrs. Park replied.

"Where do they go?" Dae Hyun suddenly had a bad feeling.

"To the park which he said is usually visited," Mrs. Park said.

"Alright I'll look for them." Dae Hyun immediately put on his coat because the weather seemed to be snowing.

Dae Hyun was very worried about Soo Yin's situation. Plus Aeri did not answer the phone.

"Actually, where are you? Why are you not there at the same time," Dae Hyun said as he continued to drive the car.

Before getting down, Dae Hyun called Chung Ho to help him find Soo Yin because he didn't know what happened to her at this time.

When he arrived at Namsan Park, it turned out that the park was quiet because it was snowing quite a lot. The wind was blowing quite hard, piercing the skin of everyone outside the house.

Dae Hyun frowned when he saw that Chang Yuan was also there with Aeri. There was no Jo Yeon Ho among them.

"Chang Yuan? What's the two of you here?" Dae Hyun exclaimed.

"Unfortunately, Jo Yeon Ho disappeared. I've been around looking for him but he's not there," Aeri said, sobbing between her tears.

"How can?" shouted Dae Hyun. Feeling angry that his son is missing.

"I don't know, I told him to sit here. I only went for a while to buy him a drink and after I came back, I couldn't find him." Aeri hugged Dae Hyun while crying.

"Well, go home! I'll look for him with the others," Dae Hyun said while releasing Aeri's hug.

"Why don't you just go home? You must be tired, let Assistant Chang look for it," Aeri said spoiled.

"I'm not calm if I haven't found my son," Dae Hyun said in a cold tone. Somehow he didn't believe Aeri's words.

Aeri was forced to leave the place while thinking of the right reasons if Jo Yeon Ho was found.

After Aeri left, Dae Hyun and his men immediately looked for objections from Jo Yeon Ho and Soo Yin.

"Actually, where are you two," Dae Hyun said while calling back Aunt Xia but Soo Yin had not yet returned to Pyeongchang-dong villa.

There was no CCTV in the park so it was quite difficult to find them.

"We'd better split up," Dae Hyun said, ordering his men.

Dae Hyun walked alone shouting the names Jo Yeon Ho and Soo Yin. Really hope they were now well and can hear his calls as he followed the path towards the slippery Mount Nam.

Bugh....

Jo Yeon Ho, who was hiding in the cave, was surprised when he heard something fall to the ground. Not far from where he stood. Fearfully turned on the cell phone's flashlight Soo Yin gave him.

Immediately jogged when he recognized familiar clothes. Sure enough, it was Soo Yin who had just fallen from above.

"Eunnie, wake up." Jo Yeon Ho shook Soo Yin's body that was lying on the ground in the cave.

Jo Yeon Ho immediately turned off the flashlight when he heard a sound from outside. Like the voice of the man who was trying to kidnap him.

Covering his mouth with his hand because the child was trembling with fear. After not hearing the voice again, Jo Yeon Ho called Soo Yin's name again in a low voice.

'I seemed to hear a voice, am I now in heaven,' Soo Yin thought subconsciously. Soo Yin felt like she was in a very dark place.

If there was a voice calling her name. At that time it was like a bright light was coming. But every time she tried to chase the light, it suddenly disappeared and it returned very dark. Every time she wanted to open her eyes but her eyes felt very heavy.

Jo Yeon Ho has woken Soo Yin several times, but the girl hasn't opened her eyes yet.

"Eunnie, please wake up," Jo Yeon Ho said as he patted Soo Yin's cheek. Tears rolled down Soo Yin's face.

Even though it felt very heavy, Soo Yin kept trying to open her eyes. Until a faint light can be seen.

"Eunnie, you wake up." Jo Yeon Ho immediately turned on the flashlight of Soo Yin's cellphone so that it could shine a light on the pitch black night. Since earlier he had not turned on the flashlight cause of fear that the criminals would find out his whereabouts.

It turned out that Soo Yin fell into the cave occupied by Jo Yeon Ho. The cliff has a cave underneath so Soo Yin didn't fall to the steep bottom. Due to the dark situation, the criminals thought that Soo Yin had fallen to the ground.

Soo Yin can slowly see the face that was now staring at her. Her eyes looked swollen from crying a long time ago.

"You are okay?" Soo Yin said weakly while wiping the boy's tears.

Before he had time to answer, Jo Yeon Ho's stomach was ringing. Indeed, since this afternoon he was starving.

"Are you hungry?" Soo Yin smiled at the sound of the boy's stomach. Soo Yin with great difficulty tried to sit up holding her head.

"Arghhhh!" Soo Yin shouted, unable to endure the pain in her arm. She didn't remember that her arm was hit by a gunshot wound.

"Eunnie, don't leave me." Jo Yeon Ho cried hysterically hugging Soo Yin's body. Afraid something might happen to her.

"I'm fine," Soo Yin said as she patted Jo Yeon Ho's back with her right hand that was not injured.

She immediately took something from her bag. Luckily she did not lose the bag because there was still bread that she bought earlier. At least it can support Jo Yeon Ho's stomach.

"Eat it." Soo Yin handed him a packet of bread while leaning on the side of the cave.

Suddenly her cellphone rang. It was written on the screen with the name Dae Hyun.

"Hurry up and pick up, it's your father!" Soo Yin said while grimacing in pain all over her body.

"Dad ..." Just about to talk, her cell phone was suddenly dead because of running out of battery.

oooooooooooooooooooo

At the same time, Dae Hyun felt relieved to found that Soo Yin's phone number was active again. Once the call was answered, he could hear that it was his son's voice. However, a few seconds the direct connection was lost. After tried to redial her cell phone was inactive.

"Shit!" A furious Dae Hyun cursed. Almost frustrated because it was late at night but the two people he loved so much had not heard from him.

However, Dae Hyun felt very confident that it was likely that they were currently together. If not, how could Jo Yeon Ho answer the call?

He immediately contact his subordinates to look for the whereabouts of Soo Yin's cellphone which had been traced. Without being discouraged, they continue to search, hoping to find a bright spot for their existence.

Armed with a flashlight, Dae Hyun continued up the steep hill. He accidentally found Jo Yeon Ho's torn shirt that had caught on the wood.

"Yeon Ho, where are you? I hope you two are fine," Dae Hyun said softly as he clutched his son's torn shirt. Making him more excited, a sign that her son had been passing this way. Even so, there were many questions in his head why they were trapped in that place.

"Yeon Ho!" Dae Hyun kept calling his son's name.

"Soo Yin!" Dae Hyun shouted.

Until he heard the sound of a child crying from inside the cave. Dae Hyun ran into a dark cave. The cry sounded louder.

"Yeon Ho!" There was a small child who was holding a woman's head at her feet.

Dae Hyun immediately rushed over to his son. Very surprised to see that in his son's lap were Soo Yin.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 66 - 66 - Rescue

"Daddy, help Eunnie," Jo Yeon Ho who was in tears said because Soo Yin was unconscious again.

"Soo Yin, wake up!" Soo Yin's situation was so worrying, her face was pale with arms that are constantly bleeding.

Dae Hyun immediately carried his wife's body. Afraid if something bad happens.

"Yeon Ho, are you still able to walk?" Dae Hyun asked his son. It was not possible to carry both of them at this time.

Jo Yeon Ho nodded his head firmly. Immediately took over the flashlight held by his father. Straight ahead of Dae Hyun. Luckily, it wasn't long before Chang Yuan and his men came. One of them immediately picked up Jo Yeon Ho.

After half an hour they successfully walking back to the park, Dae Hyun immediately took Soo Yin to the nearest hospital. He was about to come in when Soo Yin was brought into the operating room by several nurses and a doctor.

Soo Yin needed quick handling to remove the bullet still lodged in his arm.

Meanwhile, Jo Yeon Ho has been taken care of by Chang Yuan. What was on his mind right now was hoping that his wife was all right.

Dae Hyun paced back and forth in front of the operating room without intending to leave the place. Wanted to know how Soo Yin was.

After an hour in the operating room, Soo Yin was finally transferred to the same room as the one where Jo Yeon Ho was. The kid whined to be put in the room with Soo Yin. Her condition was still unconscious.

Dae Hyun actually wanted to ask what really happened. However, it seemed like this was not the right time to ask. Jo Yeon Ho still seemed scared. He would allowed the child to calm down first.

"Dad, why aren't she awake yet?" Jo Yeon Ho asked when he saw Soo Yin's condition that still closed her eyes.

"She'll wake up in a minute." Dae Hyun approached his son who was still lying on the bed. He was in fine condition, only minor wounds on his legs as a result of being scratched by a steep rock.

"Poor Eunnie, she just wanted to help me," Jo Yeon Ho said gloomily.

"Can I ask you something? Why are you two together?" Looked like this was Dae Hyun's chance to ask.

"Earlier she wanted to help me when I was about to be taken by criminals," Jo Yeon Ho said with a typical children's accent.

"Where was your mother then?"

"Mother left me in the park" Jo Yeon Ho said. His words was cut off because the door was open. There were Park Ji Hoon and his wife and also Aeri behind him. They just arrived after receiving news that Jo Yeon Ho was found.

"Yeon Ho, are you okay?" Mrs. Park immediately ran to hug his favorite grandchild, followed by Aeri.

"Isn't this woman your Secretary?" Park Ji Hoon asked, who still remembered Soo Yin's face.

"Yes, Dad, she was the one who tried to help Jo Yeon Ho from those who wanted to kidnap him." Dae Hyun looked saddened at his beloved wife who was still lying down.

"There's no way Jo Yeon Ho will be kidnapped. It could be just a trick so she can get a lot of money from us," Aeri said, she was afraid that her lies would be exposed.

"Shut your mouth! Who do you think will deceive us and cost her own life!" Dae Hyun said, he did not accept Aeri's words. There's no way Soo Yin would do such a cruel thing.

"Dae Hyun, be patient, hold back your emotions." Mrs. Park tried to calm his son down.

"You too Aeri, you should be grateful that someone is willing to try to save your son," Mrs. Park said.

"Sorry, I'm just shocked that I almost lost my son," Aeri said with a sad face.

oooooooooooooooooooo

Dae Hyun can't let his family continued to be in the hospital. Plus Aeri who always made him want to be angry all the time.

"Dad, you better go home," Dae Hyun said quietly. Didn't mean to kicked them out, he just wanted to be alone with his wife.

Park Ji Hoon took a deep breath.

"All right, I can only hope that the girl will be fine," Park Ji Hoon said while patting his son's shoulder. As a father, he knew that Dae Hyun felt very guilty about what happened to his son's secretary.

"Aren't you coming home?" Aeri asked.

"I'll be here to take care of her," Dae Hyun replied. His gaze did not divert from the girl who was still lying weakly. With a breathing tube and some medical equipment attached to her body.

"Just let Assistant Chang take care of her, after all she's not our family," Aeri who had an unpleasant face said.

"He is much more valuable than what is said to be a family," Dae Hyun said coldly as he clenched his fists to hold back his emotions. Never felt that angry. Aeri's words pierced his heart.

"Aeri, you shouldn't say that to the person who saved your son," Park Ji Hoon said.

"Sorry, Dad, I'm just telling the truth," Aeri said.

"Well, we'll go home. Poor Jo Yeon Ho if he continues to be in the hospital," Mrs. Park said, tried to end the debate between them.

"Grandma, I want to stay here with Dad," Jo Yeon Ho who didn't want to go home protested.

"It's not good for a little child to stay in the hospital for long. After all, you're already cured, do you want Dad to tell the doctor to inject you again," Dae Hyun said while stroking his son's hair. Lure him with the least threat.

"Okay, I'll just go home." Jo Yeon Ho immediately got out of bed because the child was so afraid of needles.

"Smart boy," Dae Hyun said while smiling triumphantly.

One by one, they have now started to left the room, but Aeri was still reluctant to leave the place. Her gaze at Soo Yin was displeasure. She was still upset why the girl had to save his son. If to Jo Yeon Ho talked about all kind of things then it will be an end for her. Subconsciously Aeri wanted Soo Yin to be better die if she wanted to stay safe.

"Do you still want to be here?" Dae Hyun's words immediately interrupted Aeri's reverie.

"Honey, I beg you to come home more. Besides, tomorrow we can visit here again," Aeri whined as she took Dae Hyun's arm.

"Didn't I tell you I wasn't coming home?" Dae Hyun tried to remove Aeri's hand.

"Then, I'll be back tomorrow," Aeri said while hugging Dae Hyun's body for a moment even though the man didn't reply at all.

After making sure Aeri left, Dae Hyun immediately closed the door of the room. Locked it from the inside because no one would ever see her again because it was late at night.

Dae Hyun sat on a chair facing Soo Yin's body who was still closing her eyes. According to the doctor's statement, there was a blow wound to her head when Soo Yin fell into the cave. Doctor could not confirm when the girl will wake up. Meanwhile, bullet wounds were still bandaged.

Dae Hyun held his wife's hand tightly as he continued to pray that Soo Yin will quickly regain consciousness. Really can't bear to see her like that.

"Honey, wake up," Dae Hyun said as he kissed the girl's hand repeatedly. Even though his tears didn't come out, Dae Hyun was really sad. Regret for being there late. If he took Soo Yin out of town with him, the girl must still be fine.

"I'm sorry, Soo Yin. Many times you nearly got hurt because of my selfishness." Dae Hyun looked at his wife with pity. Caressing her face which had a stone scratch wound.

A man's sorrow was not like a woman's crying screams. The sadness of a man can only be seen on his face even though he tried to cover it up.

"Thank you, for helping my son." Dae Hyun thought back to what Soo Yin's dislike of Jo Yeon Ho. Even so, she actually wanted to sacrificed herself to help his son. Dae Hyun suddenly clenched his fists, he had to find out what really happened.

Dae Hyun slowly opened his eyes when he heard a knock on the door from outside. Due to fatigue, he fell asleep in the chair while holding his wife's hand. His eyes were red because he was just trying to fall asleep when it was already morning. Hoping when he woke up Soo Yin has opened her eyes.

Because the door kept on knocking, Dae Hyun immediately stepped his foot to open the door. It turned out that in the outside there was Doctor Eun Ji who will check Soo Yin's condition. A doctor who treated Soo Yin last night.

"Doctor, why isn't she conscious yet?" Dae Hyun asked when the doctor was checking Soo Yin's condition.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 67 - 67 - Coma

"She suffered an injury to her head, although it was not fatal but it could cause her to become unconscious for a while," Doctor Eun Ji said.

"You mean she's in a coma?" Dae Hyun said softly. His body immediately went limp and lost his spirit.

"You could say that," Doctor Eun Ji said, not wanting to talk too much.

"Then when will she wake up?" Dae Hyun asked.

"We can not confirm that. Hopefully there is a miracle so he can wake up earlier," Doctor Eun Ji said.

"What do you mean?" Dae Hyun shouted, his eyes reddened.

"Sir, please calm yourself." It was fortunate that Chang Yuan came so that he could immediately calm down his boss.

"Sorry," Dae Hyun said as he backed off.

"I'm sure she's a strong girl. She will definitely wake up soon, because we can only do our best," Doctor Eun Ji said, tried to strengthen Dae Hyun and then left the room.

"Sir, you should go home for a while to rest. Let me take turns looking after you," Chang Yuan said after seeing Dae Hyun's condition, who was still wearing his clothes last from night. The current situation was even messy. His face looked very wrinkled.

"I'm not going anywhere," Dae Hyun said hoarsely.

"Sir, I'm just afraid your family is suspicious about your relationship with Miss Soo Yin." Chang Yuan didn't dare to look at Dae Hyun. He said it while looking down.

Dae Hyun was pensive thinking about Chang Yuan's words. It was true that they would be suspicious. How could it be that only a secretary would made him have to be in the hospital all the time. They must have thought that was a little too much.

"Tell Chung Ho to bring Auntie Xia here!" Dae Hyun ordered. Besides, they can claim to be members of their family if anyone asks.

"Yes sir." Chang Yuan immediately rushed outside to contact Chung Ho immediately.

After Aunt Xia and Chung Ho came, Dae Hyun was able to calm down a little to leave his wife to them. Very sure that they won't hurt Soo

It's been three days Soo Yin has been treated but hasn't opened her eyes yet. Even though Auntie Xia was looking after Soo Yin, every morning Dae Hyun always took the time to visit his wife before going to work. Clean his wife's body by wiping it with warm water. Not letting anyone do it except him.

This morning Dae Hyun came together with Jo Yeon Ho. Since yesterday the boy had been whining about going to the hospital.

"Dad, why isn't she awake yet?" Jo Yeon Ho asked with an innocent face. He was just a kid so he didn't understand even though Dae Hyun has explained it.

Dae Hyun didn't answer his son's question. Just rub the kid's head gently. He even had the same question as his son.

'Honey, when will you wake up?' Dae Hyun muttered to himself. He really wanted to see his wife's changing attitude. Missed Soo Yin's spoiled and childish attitude. Missed the way she called his name.

Waiting for Soo Yin to wake up for three days, it felt like three months. So torturing his heart and feelings.

"Yeon Ho, will you help Dad so that Eunnie will wake up?" Dae Hyun was still curious about what really happened. Every time they asked about where Jo Yeon Ho will be kidnapped, Aeri always cut them off. So that Dae Hyun didn't have time to find out.

Jo Yeon Ho nodded his head earnestly.

"Actually, where was your mother that day? Why weren't you together?" Dae Hyun asked, crouched on his knees while holding his son's shoulders. Gaze intently at his son's eyes.

"Mother ... Mother ... just went outside to buy a drink," Jo Yeon Ho replied, didn't dare to look at his father's face. The boy was so afraid of Aeri's threats so he chose to lie.

"You're not lying?" Dae Hyun asked.

Jo Yeon Ho shook his head slowly. His hands were shaking as he continued to play his fingers.

Ceklek.

The door suddenly opened.

Sure enough, he was just about to ask something to his son but Aeri has followed the child to the hospital. Even though Dae Hyun had already said that he would take him home first before going to work.

Now the only way to find out what really happened was to wait for Soo Yin to wake up. Even though Dae Hyun can't wait to find out who tried to kidnap his son. Repeatedly his subordinates looked for that but no trace was left. That means they were doing it very carefully and have planned everything carefully.

It turned out that Aeri came with Mrs. Park.

Mrs. Park looked pity as she approached the bed where Soo Yin still closed her eyes. As a mother, she couldn't bear it if it happened to her child.

In contrast to Aeri who was indifferent when she saw Soo Yin. Like no guilt and no gratitude at all.

"Are you Soo Yin's mother?" Aeri asked in a tone of displeasure to Auntie Xia who was standing not far from the bed.

"Yes, Miss," Aunt Xia said simply.

"Just tell me what you will ask us in return," Aeri asked she folded her arms across her chest. Arrogantly thought that they will sue their family sooner or later.

Aunt Xia looked disbelievingly at her boss's elder wife. Didn't expect a public figure who was known to be so polite and calm to say that. The middle-aged woman looked at Dae Hyun for a moment. No wonder his boss remarried someone else.

"What do you mean?" Dae Hyun was no less shocked than Aunt Xia when he heard Aeri's words. He wanted to scream that Soo Yin was his wife. But now was not the right time. Didn't want to reveal his secret before Soo Yin woke up. Soo Yin's words always rang in his head, she was who didn't want to be called a flake.

"Honey, they will definitely sue us. So I offer something before they ask," Aeri said while approaching Dae Hyun.

"Sorry, Miss, we did not ask for anything. Besides, not everything that happens can be exchanged for money." Even though Soo Yin was not her daughter but Auntie Xia was not willing to hear Aeri who seemed to look down on the girl. That her life could be exchanged for money.

"Aeri, please don't make a fuss here. The most important thing is that Soo Yin gets up first. Anyway, Dae Hyun will definitely give her whatever she asks for later," Mrs. Park said in a more polite tone. She didn't want to offend Aunt Xia.

"Mother, isn't Dae Hyun too much to her? Why is he so concerned about her more than his family?" Aeri said with an unpleasant face.

"We, Dae Hyun is just trying to return the favor. You should also do the same as your husband," Mrs. Park said, tried to calm her daughter-in-law but also didn't agree with Aeri's words.

"Alright, Mom, let's just go from here," Aeri said, changing the subject. It was pointless arguing because no one will took her side at this time.

Today Aeri invited her in-laws to go to social gathering with other socialite friends. They just stopped by at the hospital, coincidentally, her friend's apartment passed the hospital where Soo Yin was being treated.

"Yeon Ho, come on with mom!" Aeri said to his son.

"No, I'll just stay here," Jo Yeon Ho said while hiding behind Dae Hyun. The child was traumatized because he had been abandoned at that time.

"Yeon Ho, we're going to go shopping. Are you sure you won't come?" Mrs. Park said, tried to persuade his grandson.

"I'm afraid of getting lost," Jo Yeon Ho said as he peeked out of Dae Hyun's arm.

"Honey, go with Grandma. You won't get lost," Dae Hyun coaxed as he squatted in front of his son. It was impossible to let him remain in the hospital.

Jo Yeon Ho thought for a moment about her father's words. It was true that his grandmother could not possibly leave him like Aeri did to him.

"Besides, there is a mother who will always take care of you," Aeri said.

Jo Yeon Ho finally wanted to leave the hospital. Not because he believe what his mother says, but because his grandmother will protect him.

UN Village,

Dae Hyun just came home from work at night. Actually wanted to went straight to the hospital to see Soo Yin but he had to change clothes first before he went there.

Dae Hyun immediately came out of the room. Haven't seen Aeri since coming home earlier. It's not that longing just felt weird because usually Aeri was always busy and tried to tease him. He was surprised when everyone was dressed so neatly. Like they were going to a party.

Jo Yeon Ho also wore an unusual suit. When also talking with his grandparents on the sofa.

"Father." Upon seeing his father's presence, Jo Yeon Ho immediately ran over to Dae Hyun who was still on the stairs. The child's face looked very happy.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 68 - 68 - A Plan That Failed

Dae Hyun gave his son the hug and immediately picked up Jo Yeon Ho. Alternately kissing both cheeks.

"Why are Father's eyes red?" Jo Yeon Ho asked with an innocent face. Holding Dae Hyun's cheek with his tiny hand.

While Soo Yin was in the hospital, Dae Hyun did not get enough sleep so that his eyelids were black and his eyes were red. Actually he was tired because he had to work then had to wait for Soo Yin also at night. But for him none of that mattered at all.

"Is it true?" Dae Hyun asked, pretended not to know.

"Just ask Grandma, I'm really not lying," Jo Yeon Ho replied as he looked into his father's eyes.

"Dad just looks at the laptop so much that it's like this," Dae Hyun said, smiling as he approached his parents who were sitting on the sofa. Seated Jo Yeon Ho next to him.

"Dae Hyun, don't feel too guilty. What happened to that girl is not entirely your fault. No one thought all of that would happen," Park Ji Hoon said.

"It's true your father said, stop blaming yourself," said Mrs. Park who didn't want his son to be tormented.

"I just wanted to do something for her," Dae Hyun said with a deep sigh.

"How is she doing now?" Park Ji Hoon asked.

"Nothing has progressed yet," Dae Hyun said in a heavy tone.

"Soo Yin is a good girl. Surely she will wake up soon." Mrs. Park rubbed Dae Hyun's shoulder so he wouldn't think too much about it.

"I hope like that too," Dae Hyun said as he rubbed his face.

"Mother," Jo Yeon Ho said.

Instantly everyone looked towards the entrance. Aeri has just arrived wearing a black dress with sparkling pearls on it. With makeup and hair like a princess. Even so, Dae Hyun wasn't interested at all. All he had in mind was an innocent girl who had not been conscious until now.

"Let's go!" Aeri said with a smile on her lips.

"Go?" Dae Hyun asked while raising his eyebrows. Didn't understand where they were going.

"Dae Hyun, did you forget that the daughter of the Choi family got married? Tonight is the wedding reception," Mrs. Park who has risen to his feet said.

Dae Hyun didn't remember at all that a week ago Choi Won had invited him to come to his sister Jie Ran's wedding with a businessman.

"I don't remember at all. You should just go," Dae Hyun said.

"Isn't Choi Won your best friend? What should we say to Choi out if you don't come?" Mrs. Park felt bad for the Choi family if his son wouldn't come. Because during Dae Hyun's wedding, all the Choi family members came without exception.

"It's true Mother said, honey. Besides, why would I dress up to the salon if you don't come," Aeri said while pursing her lips.

"Okay," Dae Hyun said in the end agreeing to come, although reluctantly. Not at Aeri's request, it was more because Choi Won invited her last week.

'I'm sorry, Soo Yin,' Dae Hyun thought. Tonight he was supposed to invited her to introduce her to his friends. What a failed plan.

???????????????

Half an hour later they arrived at the Choi family's residence. The party was held in a large open courtyard with the theme of a standing party. With flower decorations and colorful lights that are very festive. Many invited guests have arrived. So that it almost filled the place.

Jo Yeon Ho joins hands with her grandparents. Meanwhile, Aeri took Dae Hyun's arm very tightly. Her expression was very happy tonight for being the center of attention.

"Aeri, you're too much," Dae Hyun said, looking at his wife with disdain.

"Look, everyone must be jealous to see the two of us who are very harmonious," Aeri said with a happy face.

Dae Hyun was very regretted to have attended the wedding invitation with Aeri. It didn't change at all. Every time she went to an event she always want to be the center of attention.

Not far from the entrance they were greeted by Mrs. Choi and Mr. Choi very friendly. There were also the groom's parents there.

Before mingling with others. First Aeri and Dae Hyun approached the wedding couple to congratulate them.

"Jie Ran, congratulations on your wedding. You look very beautiful," Aeri praised the bride.

"Thank you for coming," Jie Ran said with a very sweet smile.

Dae Hyun also congratulated Jie Ran and his partner. The bride and groom looked very happy at this time. The queue was so long that Dae Hyun didn't stay long at the aisle.

Dae Hyun immediately stepped away from Aeri when Aeri was busy chatting with several other invited guests. It was the only chance for him to leave immediately.

Until finally met his friends who were gathered. There were Jung Rok, Choi Won and Do Yun.

"Why does your face look so wrinkled like that?" Choi Won sneered when he saw Dae Hyun approaching them with sad eyes.

"He doesn't seem excited," Do Yun said.

Jung Rok brought a glass of drink to Dae Hyun which the waiter brought.

"Where is your young wife?" Choi Won whispered. He looked like he was looking for someone.

"That's right, even I want to see her again," Do Yun said.

Dae Hyun just took a sip of his drink until it ran out. Lowered his sad face.

"She's currently in the hospital," Dae Hyun said sadly.

"What?" Do Yun and Choi Won said in unison.

Good thing the place they were standing was not very crowded so no one was listening to their conversation.

"She got hurt when he saved my son," Dae Hyun said, looking away. Imagining his wife who was still lying weak in the hospital.

Not many people know about this incident because they were keeping it a secret so that unwanted things do not happen.

"Then how are things now?" Jung Rok asked.

Dae Hyun took a deep breath. His breath was heavy to answer it.

Jung Rok already understood what was going on seeing Dae Hyun's expression so there was no need to ask that again.

"Poor girl," Do Yun said.

"Let's join the others because it's a bit quiet here." Choi Won tried to change the subject. Didn't want to make his sad friend even worse. Even so many questions were on his mind. Looked like now was not the right time.

After the party was over, Dae Hyun immediately left the Choi family's residence without saying goodbye to Aeri. Head straight to the hospital to see Soo Yin.

It's up to Aeri who will come home with. As for Jo Yeon Ho, there were grandparents who couldn't possibly leave the child.

Because Dae Hyun can't look after and see Soo Yin every day. He decided to take his wife home to the Pyeongchang-dong villa.

During the next two weeks he will returned to out of town. He thought Soo Yin would be safer if she was treated at home. The doctors forbid what Dae Hyun would do because it could endanger the girl's life. But the man remained adamant, convinced that his wife would wake up more quickly if she was at home.

Even though she was brought home, Dae Hyun rented medical equipment and all the necessities needed for Soo Yin's recovery. Not forgetting to pay the nurses and doctors who have to be ready to treat Soo Yin all the time.

Dae Hyun has also confirmed that no one in his family knew about this. He said that Soo Yin was transferred out of town.

This afternoon Dae Hyun will leave for Nami Island. It has been a long time since the resort managed by his younger brother has been neglected, so he has to go there now. Actually his heart was very dilemma at this time. But he couldn't do anything because Park Ji Hoon had entrusted the responsibility to him.

Before leaving, Dae Hyun took the time to visit his wife. Clean the body using warm water. Gently massage her arms and legs.

"Honey, hurry up and wake up. I'm still waiting for the promise you have to keep, I hope you don't forget it," Dae Hyun said with a hollow smile. Even though he smiled, his heart was very sad. Extends his hand to touch Soo Yin's pale cheek. Her body now looked thinner.

"I'm sorry, we won't be able to meet in two weeks because I have to take care of the resort on Nami Island. Pray for me that everything will run smoothly. Get up quickly, so I can take you there."

"Darling, you don't have to worry about us, we just parting ways for a bit. I won't be naughty and glance at other women, I promise." Dae Hyun hooked his finger on Soo Yin's little finger.

"Honey, hurry up and open your eyes. I promise to do whatever you ask," Dae Hyun asked while squeezing his wife's fingers gently.

"I will show the world that you are my wife if you ask for it right now."

"Please don't leave me," Dae Hyun said softly.

"Please, wake up before I return." Dae Hyun kissed Soo Yin's forehead gently for a few seconds. Felt the touch of his lips on the girl's forehead.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 69 - 69 - Wait For Me To Come Home

During the week that Soo Yin fell asleep, Dae Hyun was never bored to talk to her. If the night before bed he even always read a romantic story to his wife.

Auntie Xia, who often witnessed Dae Hyun like that, always shed tears without realizing it. Although Dae Hyun never cried, Auntie Xia could feel extreme sadness every time she saw him.

"Ahjumma, I entrusted my wife. If something happens, please contact me immediately," Dae Hyun said to Auntie Xia who was standing near the bed.

"Yes, Sir." Aunt Xia immediately wiped her tears.

Suddenly Soo Yin's cell phone rang. Dae Hyun immediately took it from the nightstand. It turned out that Kim Nam was now in contact with her. Dae Hyun hesitated for a moment to answer but her cellphone kept ringing repeatedly. Until finally he forced to answer the call.

"Hello, Soo Yin," Kim Nam said on the phone.

Dae Hyun kept silence for a long time, did not answer his father-in-law's greeting. He didn't know what to say at this time.

"Soo Yin, are you listening to father?" Kim Nam said with worry because there was no answer from his daughter.

Dae Hyun took a deep breath before answering.

"Father, it's me."

"Where's Soo Yin? Is she okay?" Kim Nam asked. He felt anxious and wanted to contact her daughter.

"Soo Yin is fine. How is Father?"

"I'm fine, I just miss Soo Yin. It's been a while since we talked," Kim Nam said in a voice that sounded happy.

"Soo Yin is taking a shower, I'll tell her later that father called."

"Dae Hyun, thank you for looking after my daughter well. A while ago we were chatting, Soo Yin sounded cheerful," Kim Nam said.

Instantly Dae Hyun's chest felt so tight when he heard what his father-in-law said. Feeling that he has failed to maintain his mandate. He couldn't even take care of his wife.

"I should be thankful because you have trusted me," Dae Hyun said with a heavy sigh.

"Okay, sorry if father bothered you." Kim Nam felt bad, afraid to disturb them.

"It's okay, I enjoyed chatting with father."

After chatting for a few minutes, Dae Hyun finally hung up on the phone.

"Does Mr. Kim not know about Miss Soo Yin's condition, Sir?" Aunt Xia asked.

"I'm not able to say it, I'm afraid to make him sad," Dae Hyun said with a sad face. Did not know what he did this time, whether wrong or right. It could be that if Soo Yin woke up she might scold him. It's not the intention to hide Soo Yin's situation, but he hasn't been able to meet face to face with her in-laws.

With a heavy heart, Dae Hyun has to leave Soo Yin for a while. Soon he has to go to the airport so he won't be late. Even though it was only two weeks apart, for him it will feel like a long time.

??????????

One week later ...

Soo Yin's body, which was still lying weakly on the bed, suddenly shook violently. Like feeling so much pain that her body was convulsing.

Auntie Xia who was sleeping on the chair beside Soo Yin immediately woke up as the girl grabbed her wrist tightly. Until the girl's nails stuck in her skin. The middle-aged woman was terrified to see Soo Yin's current state.

Aunt Xia was confused about what to do in the middle of the night like this. Usually there was a nurse accompanying her to look after Soo Yin. But tonight the nurse asked permission to go home early because her mother was sick.

"Chung Ho, hurry up and call Doctor Eun Ji!" Aunt Xia yelled to Chung Ho who she remembered was on duty outside the room.

Chung Ho, who was shocked, immediately got up and rushed into Soo Yin's room.

"What's the matter, Ahjumma?" Chung Ho asked, he was still not really conscious from his sleep.

"Hurry up and call Doctor Eun Ji right now!" Aunt Xia shouted hysterically.

Chung Ho immediately took his cell phone and called Doctor Eun Ji's number.

Soo Yin felt like she was walking in a very dark hallway. Ft confused looking for directions to walk because there was no light at all. The girl kept asking for help until finally found a small light that was not so bright. Slowly get up by feeling the wall while walking in the direction of the light. But the light disappeared again and the situation was now getting pitch black.

Soo Yin felt so scared that she shed tears. She was very afraid in a dark place like that. Nobody there at all. Made Soo Yin felt hopeless.

Seeing Soo Yin who was shedding tears, Aunt Xia reached out her hand to wipe it off. Since earlier, her grip had not been completely released from the middle-aged woman's hand.

"Ahjumma, what happened to her?" Chung Ho who just finished his call asked.

"I don't know," Auntie Xia said, her hands trembling. Very afraid of bad things.

Half an hour later, Doctor Eun Ji finally arrived carrying various kinds of medical equipment in her bag. Starting to check Soo Yin's condition such as her eyes, mouth, and body temperature which was indeed cold.

The girl was like shivering and continued to shake without opening her eyes. It was as if she felt such pain that cold sweat came out of her body.

Aunt Xia, who was panicked and afraid that something might happen, immediately called Dae Hyun. Have not had time to say what happened Dae Hyun suddenly closed the call.

Aunt Xia hurried back inside to see Soo Yin. Widened her eyes when she saw Doctor Eun Ji began to remove the breathing tube Soo Yin used to help breathe while the girl was in a coma. Doctor Eun Ji also removed all the medical equipment stuck to the girl's body.

The middle-aged woman really couldn't believe what she saw at this time. It all felt like a dream.

Dae Hyun didn't expect it to happen so quickly. His feet were unable to support his body weight. His throat was choked so she couldn't even make a sound.

He had just returned from Nami Island, immediately surprised when he saw the scene before his eyes. Lots of flower bouquets on the grounds of Pyeongchang-dong villas.

Dae Hyun walked very slowly. His feet could not run fast. When entering the house many people were already there.

They were surrounding someone who was covered by a white cloth. Dae Hyun kept trying to drag his feet closer but the distance felt so far away that it didn't end.

When he saw who was lying down, Dae Hyun sat down.

"Don't! Don't leave me." Dae Hyun shook the body whose body was so cold.

"Do not leave me!" Dae Hyun shouted hysterically.

Derrttt ... Derrttt

Dae Hyun woke up when he felt his cell phone vibrate. Sweat poured out of his body. His breath was panting with fear.

Seen the clock showing one o'clock in the morning. Heaved a sigh of relief as he rubbed his chest because it was all a dream. Even though they all seemed very real.

Dae Hyun opened his cell phone to see who was calling him in the middle of the night like this. His hands shook when he found out that it was Aunt Xia. Instantly thought that something bad had happened.

"What's the matter, Ahjumma? Calling in the middle of the night like this?" Dae Hyun asked as he calmed his heart so as not to panic. His heart was still pounding with fear.

"Sir, Miss Soo Yin ... Miss" Aunt Xia on the phone was unable to utter the words.

"Ahjumma, what's wrong with my wife?" Dae Hyun felt the blood on his body suddenly freeze. Did not be able to listen to anything said by Aunt Xia.

"Doctor Eun Ji is checking her condition right now," Aunt Xia said.

Dae Hyun hung up the line without asking how Soo Yin was doing. His mind felt blank but a few moments later he immediately regained consciousness. He immediately rushed out of bed. Change clothes in haste. "Honey, please wait for me to come home." Dae Hyun immediately rushed out of his place to stay. There was no more time to tidy up his belongings. Only carry a bag containing some documents and a laptop.

Dae Hyun was driving his car at high speed. Regardless of the street. Fortunately, it was already late at night so there weren't many vehicles passing by.

As soon as Dae Hyun arrived the airport, he went straight to the ticket shop, it turned out that the fastest flight would be around 2 hours. This made Dae Hyun's body really weak at this time.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 70 - 70 - Don't Leave Me

Pyeongchang-dong Villa

Soo Yin slowly opened her eyes even though her vision was still hazy. Started moving her finger which felt stiff.

Aunt Xia, who just ended her call with Dae Hyun, was very surprised and very happy. Finally the girl woke up after nearly a month of being unconscious.

Hopefully Dae Hyun listened to her when she says that Soo Yin has regained consciousness so he can come back quickly.

Doctor Eun Ji removed one by one the equipment stuck to Soo Yin's body. After checking the situation was very far from good. Soo Yin didn't need any of that anymore.

"Doctor, is she really healed?" Aunt Xia felt like she was dreaming.

"This is faster than we thought. Even though she is conscious, she may still have difficulty on moving her body because she hasn't moved for a long time," Doctor Eun Ji said.

"Miss, you finally wake up." Aunt Xia immediately hugged Soo Yin's body.

"Doctor, can I help her sit up?" Aunt Xia who saw Soo Yin who was struggling to move her body asked the doctor.

"You better leave it alone, she'll be fine. No need to worry," Doctor Eun Ji said, who was also very happy because the patient he was treating was awake.

"Ahjumma, what's wrong with me?" Soo Yin asked hoarsely as she tried to sit up. Now her views were clear. Soo Yin observed beside her bed where there were medical equipment.

"Why does my body feel stiff?" Soo Yin kept trying to move his legs and hands that felt heavy.

"Do you feel dizzy?" Doctor Eun Ji asked to confirm the state of her head.

Soo Yin shook her head softly. Not at all dizzy but just felt a little sore neck. The girl moved her legs to get out of the bed.

"You should just lie down for a while," Doctor Eun Ji suggested.

"I want to go to the bathroom," Soo Yin said.

As soon as she had just stepped on the floor, her leg felt so limp that she fell to the floor. Aunt Xia immediately helped her to her feet. Then put her on the bed.

"Doctor, is she really all right?" Auntie Xia asked, feeling very worried.

"It's natural. What you need to do is help her to walk," Doctor Eun Ji said.

"To check the situation further, we better take her back to the hospital later. But I have to go now," Doctor Eun Ji continued saying goodbye because there was a little business.

"Okay." Aunt Xia escorted Doctor Eun Ji to the door of the room. Then turned again to see Soo Yin. Didn't want to leave the girl for too long.

"Ahjumma, what exactly happened to me?" Soo Yin didn't remember anything at all.

"You were unconscious after nearly a month," Aunt Xia replied.

"Is it true?" Soo Yin couldn't believe what she just heard.

"Don't you remember?" Aunt Xia asked.

Soo Yin shook her head softly. Just remember the last time she was at the park. After that she didn't remember anything else.

Aunt Xia explained what happened to her in detail. Started from Soo Yin saying goodbye to the park to getting hurt after tried to save Jo Yeon Ho. With Aunt Xia's help, Soo Yin slowly remembered one by one the events that happened to her, although not all of them.

"Then where is Dae Hyun? Does he come here often?" Soo Yin was eager to know how the man in her heart was doing.

"He is currently on the island of Nami taking care of work there. Of course he came here often, he always taking care of you with great patience and affection," Aunt Xia said while remembering how Dae Hyun cared for her and read romantic love stories every night. Wished Soo Yin to wake up soon.

Unconsciously Soo Yin shed tears. The girl was very happy to hear Aunt Xia's story. Even though so far she has doubted his sincerity.

"Miss, don't worry, because last night I already informed Mr. Dae Hyun. Surely he will come back in the morning," Aunt Xia said with a smile.

"Okay, I hope he comes home soon," Soo Yin said. Back to lied down on the bed.

"Maybe you should contact him again," Aunt Xia suggested.

"No need, just let him finish his work first. Ahjumma, thank you for taking care of me," Soo Yin said tearyly. Meeting Aunt Xia made it feel like she had her mother back. She can feel a mother's love.

Aunt Xia only nodded her head. So touched by the girl who was now in front of her. She already felt that Soo Yin was like her own daughter.

Dae Hyun slammed the car door hard. Get out of his car in great haste. Directly enter the Pyeongchang-dong villa. Things are very quiet. Not a single worker has been seen.

Searching for the whereabouts of Auntie Xia and Chung Ho but none of them appear.

Dae Hyun immediately ran up the stairs to his room. As soon as he opened the door he widened his eyes in disbelief. Soo Yin's room was now empty. There was no more bed and equipment used to take care of Soo Yin like the last time he saw her before leaving.

Now his knees were completely helpless. Dae Hyun fell in front of the bed while resting on his knees. Dae Hyun was regretted for leaving his wife. He thought that his nightmare had really happened.

"Arghh!" Dae Hyun shouted, unable to hold back all his anger. His hands were clenched as he lowered his head with a fiery gaze.

Dae Hyun's mind was completely messed up at the moment. He got up then dropped all the items on the dresser until they were scattered. Some items made of glass even broke. He also examined the makeup glass until it broke and injured his hand.

Dae Hyun lost his mind. What was on his mind right now was what happened in his dream last night came true.

The man went to his study, took a few bottles of alcohol. His hopes of being able to make his wife happy have now vanished. Dae Hyun downed one bottle of the drink to the end. Then threw the bottle on the floor. Taking a piece of glass, squeezing it with his fingers to make his hand hurt. He felt frustrated and very guilty at this time.

He wanted to feel like disappearing from the earth right then and there.

??????????????

Aunt Xia lead Soo Yin who just got out of the car. They just came home from the hospital to check Soo Yin's condition. Grateful that her condition was fine so she didn't need to be treated anymore. Only need to take supplements and vitamins to restore stamina.

"Ahjumma, let me walk alone," Soo Yin said, who didn't want to bother Aunt Xia anymore.

Soo Yin stepped slowly to relax her muscles. According to the doctor, if she did not want to move, the possibility of returning to normal will be longer.

Even though Soo Yin refused to be helped, Aunt Xia remained by her side. Fear of suddenly falling so swiftly will immediately help her.

They were surprised when they opened the room door. It was a mess. Lots of glass shards everywhere due to broken glass makeup.

"Ahjumma, what happened? Was there a robbery in this house?" Soo Yin couldn't believe what she saw. When they left earlier it was still fine.

Soo Yin immediately hurried over to the dresser. Open the drawer underneath. It turned out that there was still a necklace that Dae Hyun gave her at that time. If a robber enters, then the necklace was most likely lost.

Soo Yin gripped the necklace tightly then put it on her chest.

"Let me tidy up first. You better go outside," Auntie Xia said.

Soo Yin frowned at the sight of the bag lying on the floor. It was like the bag Dae Hyun used to carry his laptop.

"Ahjumma, please take the bag," Soo Yin said while pointing at the bag that was lying on the floor.

Aunt Xia immediately took the bag and handed it to Soo Yin. After the girl examined it, it turned out that it was true that the bag belonged to Dae Hyun because it contained a laptop and several files.

Soo Yin walked to the balcony, she can saw the silver Maybach car Dae Hyun used to park in the yard. It was a sign that the man hadn't left this house.

Soo Yin was worried because she didn't know what really happened. So hurry out the door. As she passed her husband's study, she heard the sound of a broken bottle throwing.

The girl was curious and immediately opened the door. What a surprise when she found Dae Hyun lying on the sofa holding a drink bottle in his hand.

Soo Yin walked past the scattered glass bottle fragments. Approached Dae Hyun then grabbed the bottle forcibly from his hand.

"What are you doing?" Soo Yin shouted angrily. Furious because he might just come home, but instead her husband drank and made him drunk.

"Are you out of your mind?" Soo Yin swore.

Dae Hyun was half unconscious as if dreaming of seeing Soo Yin in front of him. The man immediately sat up and hugged Soo Yin's body very tightly.
