

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 71 - 71 - To Hold You In A Dream

"Let go! Look at you who are very messy," Soo Yin said while trying to escape because the smell of alcohol made her stomach nauseous.

"Soo Yin, let me hug you even in a dream," Dae Hyun said. Didn't care about his wife who kept struggling.

'Geez, does he think this is all a dream,' Soo Yin thought.

Soo Yin didn't understand what her husband was saying. So she just hugged Dae Hyun back. She also missed him very much because it had been a long time since she saw her husband. However the girl was annoyed with his current condition.

Instead of welcoming her with a bouquet of flowers, it actually made her difficult like that.

Dae Hyun let go of his embrace. Reached out his hand to touch Soo Yin's cheek, rubbed it very gently. Then held his wife's chin, examined Soo Yin's lips with sad eyes.

Their faces were now only a few centimeters away. Until finally Dae Hyun landed a soft kiss on Soo Yin's lips then took it off. He still thought that all of this was just a dream.

Soo Yin rubbed Dae Hyun's cheek with a pity look. She didn't know what happened to her husband until he was like this. The girl thought maybe because of the pile of work that made him like this.

Due to the influence of alcohol, Dae Hyun finally collapsed and was unconscious.

"Dae Hyun, wake up." Soo Yin patted her husband's cheek, whose head was on his lap.

"Ahjumma, help me!" Soo Yin shouted for help. It was impossible to take him to the room herself.

"Miss, what's wrong with Mr. Dae Hyun?" Auntie Xia who just walked in asked because she listened to Soo Yin's scream.

"I don't know, he's drinking too much. Better call Chung Ho to take Dae Hyun to the room," Soo Yin said.

Aunt Xia immediately called Chung Ho to help them carry Dae Hyun to make it easier to take him to the room.

Soo Yin treated Dae Hyun's hand wounds with cotton. The man was still asleep while occasionally babbling incoherently. His face looked very messy. There are dark circles on the eyelids.

Soo Yin took off the clothes her husband was wearing. She could not stand the smell of alcohol that overpowered her sense of smell. Clean the stomach until the hands use a towel and warm water.

The girl smiled to herself when she saw her husband's stomach which was like torn bread. She really wanted to eat it.

"Honey, don't leave me," Dae Hyun said, who had been raving like that a long time ago.

Soo Yin just rolled her eyes then let out a long sigh seeing her husband's behavior. This was the first time Soo Yin has seen her husband get drunk like that.

After she finished doing her job Soo Yin went to the backyard. Wanted to breathe in the fresh breeze with a view of colorful flowers. Like not feeling it for a long time. Suddenly there was a delicious aroma of cooking that penetrated her sense of smell. Makes her stomach felt hungry.

Soo Yin looked at the clock on her hand, it turned out that it's time for lunch soon so the girl came back in to help Auntie Xia cook. Even though she only helps clean the vegetables.

"You'd better just rest," Aunt Xia said.

"I'm tired of resting all the time, it's been enough for one month I keep lying down. I want to do something," Soo Yin said with a cheerful face. She never imagined something like that happened to her life. But felt grateful if she heard the story from Auntie Xia how considerate he was during her unconsciousness.

"What if Mr. Dae Hyun is looking for you?" Aunt Xia felt that Dae Hyun didn't know Soo Yin has woken up from a long sleep.

"If he looks for me he will definitely come out of the room later," Soo Yin said while helping Auntie Xia wash the vegetables. But suddenly her ankle felt cramped so Soo Yin bent over to hold it.

"Didn't I tell you to just rest?" Auntie Xia helped Soo Yin to sit on the chair.

"I'm not that weak, Ahjumma." Soo Yin didn't like it when people think she's weak.

Auntie Xia just shook her head to face Soo Yin's stubbornness who hasn't changed. But she can understand because Soo Yin was still very young after all.

"I don't think he knows if you are conscious," Auntie Xia said. Considering what happened to Dae Hyun earlier, he must have thought that something had happened to his wife.

"But last night when I just realized didn't you call him?" Soo Yin asked.

"But why did he drank so much like that?" Auntie Xia couldn't understand what Dae Hyun had done.

"Maybe because there was a lot of work piling up so to lighten the burden he drank so much that he got drunk." Soo Yin felt a little angry with Dae Hyun. How could an adult like him did such a stupid thing.

Dae Hyun opened his eyes when the aroma of cooking entered his sense of smell. Immediately writhing the worms in his stomach because of hunger. Since Soo Yin was in a coma, he didn't really pay attention to his health.

'Where am I?' Dae Hyun thought as he looked around the room. Very familiar with that room which was indeed his room with Soo Yin.

Tried to remember what really happened to him so that there was a wound on his bandaged hand.

Then immediately remembered as if he saw Soo Yin in front of his eyes. Earlier, it really felt like her touch was so intoxicating.

To make sure, Dae Hyun immediately got up from his bed. Walking unsteadily towards the down stairs.

Once he arrived in the dining room, he widened his eyes when a woman who looked like his wife was preparing food. Repeatedly rubbing and blinking his eyes. To make sure it wasn't just an illusion.

"You're awake," Soo Yin said when she saw Dae Hyun standing still at the door. She immediately approached her husband.

"Am I not dreaming?" Dae Hyun asked. Could not believe what he saw.

Soo Yin didn't understand Dae Hyun's thoughts, always saying was it not a dream. Reached out her hand to touch her husband's forehead. The temperature was normal, not hot at all.

Dae Hyun took Soo Yin's hand, pressed it against his cheek for a moment and closed his eyes. If this was just a dream, he really didn't want to wake up.

"Please pinch my cheek," Dae Hyun said.

"Arghh," Dae Hyun shouted as Soo Yin's hand pinched his cheek.

"Never mind, you drank too much so you ended up like this. Let's have lunch! After that hurry to take a shower so that your mind is not messed up." Soo Yin released her hand from Dae Hyun's grip.

Before Soo Yin could leave, Dae Hyun immediately hugged his wife very tightly. It turned out that none of this was a dream. Without realizing the tears he was holding back finally fell too.

"I thought I'd lose you," Dae Hyun said hoarsely.

"Let go! I'm embarrassed to be seen by Ahjumma," Soo Yin said while releasing her husband's hug.

"Leave it, I don't care," Dae Hyun said, he was like a child.

"You're like a child." Soo Yin pushed her husband's body because she felt tight.

Dae Hyun forced to release his embrace. Then sit down on one of the chairs.

Soo Yin fetched Dae Hyun rice and side dishes until they fill the plate. The man must have not paid attention to the food until his cheekbones were exposed.

"Have you not been eating? Look at you now looking thin." Soo Yin pursed her lips.

Dae Hyun didn't answer, chose to watch Soo Yin's every move. He was very grateful to finally be able to come to his senses. All his dreams and fears did not come true.

"You have to finish everything," Soo Yin said like a mother who forced her child to eat.

Dae Hyun glared at his very full plate. Not sure he could finish all of that.

"Why are you just silent? Eat quickly," Soo Yin said as she fed the food into her own mouth.

"I want you to feed me," Dae Hyun whined.

Soo Yin rolled her eyes. She can't stop thinking that her husband will act like that. Soo Yin was forced to feed Dae Hyun, but felt nervous when the man kept staring at her.

"Go back to UN Village. Aeri has been calling your number since earlier and it makes my ears want to crack," Soo Yin grumbled as she tidied the dining table.

"I'll go home with you," Dae Hyun said casually. Besides, he didn't want to go anywhere.

"I won't." Soo Yin remembered the time when Dae Hyun forced her to come with him. Where Aeri and Dae Hyun looked like a harmonious married couple. That moment really made her heart felt sick. She didn't want to do that again.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 72 - 72 - Still Like A Dream

After finishing lunch Soo Yin told Dae Hyun to clean up. Dae Hyun soaked long enough to get rid of the aftertaste of alcohol. Until finally he can think clearly.

Dae Hyun came out of the bathroom wrapped in a towel only from waist to knee. Look for the invisible presence of Soo Yin around the room. Until finally heard like the sound of a closed cupboard. Dae Hyun immediately walked to the dressing room. His guess was right, that Soo Yin was there. It turned out that his wife was getting clothes for him.

Soo Yin chose a complete set of clothes for her husband. Her heart skipped a beat when something suddenly coiled around her waist. The girl turned around when she felt the breath that was familiar to her.

"Actually, what did you do to drink too much? Make a mess of the room without wanting to take responsibility. I almost called the police because I thought there was a robber," Soo Yin muttered while pursing her lips. Trying to get Dae Hyun's wrist off his waist. But the man tightened it even more.

Dae Hyun let out a deep breath. He almost did reckless things because he thought he had lost his wife. In fact, that girl didn't even notice.

"I was shocked when I saw you were not in the room, not even everyone was at home," Dae Hyun said while resting his chin on his wife's shoulder.

"Wasn't when I realized Ahjumma called you?" Soo Yin frowned.

Dae Hyun remembered when Aunt Xia called him sobbing. Made him think something bad must have happened. Because he was already scared, he immediately turned off the phone without asking any more questions.

"I don't know. Last night when I heard Auntie Xia crying, I immediately turned off the phone line and rushed to the airport," Dae Hyun answered honestly.

"So that's why you're acting stupid like that. I can't help but thinking." It's not like being touched, Soo Yin was annoyed with her husband. Even though Dae Hyun should be able to think rationally.

"You know, I'm so afraid of losing you." Dae Hyun turned Soo Yin around, grabbed her shoulders. Staring into his wife's eyes with a look that looked sad and miserable.

"Sorry, I'm just afraid something might happen to you," Soo Yin said while lowering her head. Feeling guilty because she had scolded him a long time ago.

"You don't need to apologize. I should apologize for making you almost" Dae Hyun could not continue his words.

Soo Yin didn't expect Dae Hyun to act like that out of fear of losing her.

"Thank you for helping my son." Dae Hyun hugged Soo Yin tightly.

"Isn't your son also my son?" Soo Yin said while returning her husband's hug.

"Thank you, you have become more mature now," Dae Hyun said while pinching Soo Yin's nose. Actually wanted to ask what really happened but now the time was not right, he didn't want to ruin this situation.

Dae Hyun suddenly lifted Soo Yin's body. The girl was shocked by the actions of her husband. Frightened of falling, the girl hurriedly put her hand around Dae Hyun's neck.

Dae Hyun took the girl to the bed. Lay it down gently. Not getting tired of himself staring at the brown eyes. The girl who made him fall in love again after all this time.

"Are you going to be like that?" Soo Yin said while observing her husband's seductive body.

Dae Hyun even forgot that he wasn't wearing clothes.

"Wait a minute." Dae Hyun immediately rushed to the dressing room. Wearing the clothes his wife had taken for him.

Soo Yin sat on the side of the bed looking at the scenery outside through the glass window. It was like being reborn. Suddenly remembering her father, the girl immediately looked for her cell phone which was above the nightstand.

Soo Yin was panicked, afraid of her father worrying about her. Hope Dae Hyun didn't tell her father about everything that happened to her. Called repeatedly but the number was not active. So Soo Yin sent a voice message. So that after hearing his father could immediately call her back.

Dae Hyun just came out, wearing a white T-shirt that fits perfectly with the bottom of the shorts. It was quite relaxed and comfortable to wear such clothes. Indeed, Soo Yin chose him on purpose, because Dae Hyun had also said that he had no intention of going anywhere.

"Why, dear?" Dae Hyun asked when he saw his wife biting his lower lip.

"Did you tell father about my condition?" Soo Yin asked while looking at her husband.

Dae Hyun was silent for a while as he continued walking toward his wife.

"Sorry, I didn't tell father. Maybe you will think of me as a coward, but I just don't want to make him sad," said Dae Hyun. Be prepared if Soo Yin will get mad at him.

Cup ...

Cup ...

Cup

"Thank you," Soo Yin said while smiling with flushed cheeks.

"Aren't you angry?" Dae Hyun said while holding her cheek. Not expecting that his little wife had dared to kiss him on the cheek voluntarily.

"Why am I angry? I'm afraid you will tell father. I also don't want to made him sad." Soo Yin lowered his head. Feeling homesick because she hasn't seen Kim Nam for a long time.

"I was really afraid you would scold me. I didn't expect to get a small gift," Dae Hyun said, embracing Soo Yin's waist.

Soo Yin covered her face with her hands in embarrassment.

Derrrt ...

Derrrt

Dae Hyun's cell phone rang again for the umpteenth time. Making Dae Hyun upset because someone always interferes with his time with his wife. The man just let go without wanting to see who contacted him.

"Why didn't you answer? Maybe it was an important call," Soo Yin said because Dae Hyun didn't move from his side.

"Just let it go, I don't want to be disturbed. I still want to linger with my beloved wife," Dae Hyun said casually instead leaning his head on Soo Yin's shoulder.

"Isn't that Aeri also your wife?" Soo Yin asked.

"She is indeed my wife but I never loved her. All I love right now is only you," Dae Hyun said sincerely.

"May I ask you one thing?" Dae Hyun continued.

"Hmmm, as long as I can do it," Soo Yin said.

"Stay beside me forever."

"Did you also say that to Aeri?" Soo Yin teased, wanted to know her husband's honesty.

"Ughh, you always mention that woman. Can I ask one thing?" Dae Hyun thought it seemed like the right time to ask that.

"What?"

"I just want to know how you found out Jo Yeon Ho was kidnapped?" Dae Hyun needed an explanation to reveal everything.

"I don't know, I accidentally saw him while I was in the park until late afternoon. So what?"

"Aeri said that she only left Jo Yeon Ho for a while, but I just didn't believe her."

"When I just arrived I did see Aeri out of the park but I don't know if she brought Jo Yeon Ho there," Soo Yin said while remembering.

"Is it true?" Dae Hyun clenched his fists. If she lied then there would be no more chance for him.

"Don't think too badly about hrr. Maybe what she said was true. There's no way a mother could have the heart to leave her child." Soo Yin rubbed the back of her husband's hand trying to calm him down.

"I hope so too," Dae Hyun said, sighed. He will look for the truth that happened.

Birds chirping in a melodic voice. Accompanying a human couple who were making love. Butterflies fly among the flowers that bloom in the morning.

It's been two days since Dae Hyun has been at the Pyeongchang-dong villa. Deliberately turning off his cell phone so that no one can reach him. Because when he was with Soo Yin, everyone always bothered him. Even though they were not having sex, being together with Soo Yin was enough to make Dae Hyun happy. Facing her innocent and spoiled behavior.

As soon as Dae Hyun turned on the cellphone, it turned out that there was an incoming call from Park Ji Hoon. The man was forced to answer a call from his father. Maybe there was something important.

"What's the matter, dad?" Dae Hyun asked lazily without further ado. He can guessed what Park Ji Hoon will say.

"Father heard you left Nami Island, where are you now?" Park Ji Hoon asked in a loud voice. There was a sense of annoyance coming from his tone.

"I'm somewhere. I've taken care and done the work that should be his job. Besides, Dad always spoiled him so he always underestimated his work," Dae Hyun grumbled about his brother.

"Hurry home, father wants to see you." Park Ji Hoon turned off the phone line. It was a sign that his words do not want to be refuted.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 73 - 73 - Don't Wanna Go

Dae Hyun grumbled because he didn't want to go home yet. Still want to linger with his wife.

"Is that Mr. Park?" Soo Yin asked as she put a cup of tea in front of Dae Hyun. Currently they were in the family room.

"No, but this is from your in-laws," Dae Hyun teased while smiling. Staring at his wife's adorable little face.

Soo Yin pinched her husband's waist because he was always teasing her.

"Did Father wants you home?" Her tongue felt stiff when she said Park Ji Hoon's name as Father.

"Hmmm," Dae Hyun replied.

There was a feeling of sadness in Soo Yin's heart because surely Dae Hyun will return to her main house soon. Especially after not seeing him for a while, Soo Yin felt that she still wanted to always be by his side. But she also had to be self-aware and didn't want to be selfish. After all, her husband has another family that also needed love. Maybe his son also missed him because he hadn't seen his father for a long time.

But if she can ask, one day Soo Yin wanted to have Dae Hyun completely. Wanted to tell the world that the girl that the man loves was only herself. Sometimes Soo Yin laughed to herself, imagining how selfish she was.

"If Mr. Park asked where you were for two days, what would you say?" Soo Yin asked. Her face rested on one hand.

"I will tell the truth if I spend time with my wife," Dae Hyun said calmly. Embrace Soo Yin who was beside him. If he could ask, he wanted to leave his world. Living in a small village only with the girl he loved so much.

"I'm serious." Soo Yin pursed her lips.

"I'm even very serious if you want to know," Dae Hyun said while pinching his little wife's cheek.

"When are you coming back here again?" Soo Yin asked.

Dae Hyun frowned. Just now his wife said that she had to go home to see her father. But not yet leaving, she asked when to go home.

"If you miss me like that, I won't go anywhere," Dae Hyun teased as he looked at Soo Yin.

Soo Yin turned her face the other way. Her face flushed with embarrassment. Looked like she said the wrong thing again this time.

"Go, who's going to miss you?" Soo Yin said, pretended to not care. Even though her heart now felt like a flower blooming in a garden.

"Are you sure you will let me sleep with Aeri?" Dae Hyun teased again. He thought his little wife looked very cute this time.

Instantly Soo Yin imagined how they were making out together. Bringing together the love that has long been apart. The thought made her heart ache. The girl glared at her husband for a moment. Her gaze was sharper than a sword.

"Don't be angry, I'm just kidding." Dae Hyun turned Soo Yin's body so he can see her face.

"Never mind, I want to go to the room," Soo Yin said, about to get up from her seat.

Dae Hyun didn't let his wife go. Instead, he sat her on his lap so he could smell the girl's scent. Melt her heart first so she won't get angry anymore. Even though he meant just a joke, it seemed Soo Yin was thinking of something else.

In a different place, Aeri had just arrived at her mother's house. It's been a while since she visited there. Want to complain to her. Because currently there were several problems that she was afraid of. Aeri only came alone without bringing her son.

"Hi, Mom," Aeri said to Mrs. Sun Book who was sitting on the sofa. The woman was wearing a mask on her face.

"You came alone? Where are your husband and children?" Mrs. Sun Book asked while frowning seeing her daughter only came alone. Although she also missed his grandson. Indeed, it was very rare for Aeri to come with Dae Hyun and Jo Yeon Ho.

"Don't ask them, Mom. I'm not in the mood to discuss it." Aeri lied down on the sofa.

"You'd better do better with them. Do you want your career to crash and fall into poverty?" Mrs. Sun Book asked, who knows that his daughter came home, must be because of a problem.

Aeri sat up then leaned her head. Think for a moment of what her mother said. Which turned out to be true. She tried so hard to enter Dae Hyun's family, she didn't give up. Even though Dae Hyun didn't like her, her in-laws really trusted her. It could be used as a means of strengthening her position there.

Beep ...

Beep

Suddenly there was an incoming message. There was no name of the sender, so Aeri immediately opened it. So shocked that she widened her eyes, it turned out that it contained several photos of her at a party when Jo Yeon Ho disappeared.

[Give us money! if you don't want us to leak the photos to your husband]

Aeri trembled at the sight of the message. Directly called the number to find out who was blackmailing her. However, it was not active at all. Even she has tried several times for it.

"He thought he could blackmail me so easily," Aeri grumbled.

"What is wrong?" Mrs. Sun Book asked, worried about Aeri who was pacing around.

"Damn it!" Aeri cursed with great annoyance. Really did not think someone would take the photo.

"What is wrong?" Mrs. Sun Book asked one more time.

"Mother, how about this? Someone took a photo of me at the party when Jo Yeon Ho was kidnapped. If Dae Hyun finds out, my life is over," Aeri said frantically while massaging her head.

Sun Book immediately grabbed Aeri's cellphone to find out the truth.

"So you're still in touch with that guy?" Mrs. Sun Book asked angrily. Annoyed by Aeri's carelessness.

"I love him, Mom. I also need someone like him," Aeri said while biting her lower lip.

"Love will not guarantee you can make your life happy. Didn't mother tell you to end your relationship? If it's like this what will you do?" Mrs. Sun Book didn't think that Aeri was always stubborn.

"I'm tired of facing Dae Hyun's attitude. Especially now that Jo Yeon Ho was almost kidnapped. Now he doesn't seem to care about me anymore. He is more concerned with his secretary, Mom," Aeri said irritably.

"So what about the secretary?" Mrs. Sun Book said.

Aeri did not tell the truth about what happened to her mother.

"She's the one who saved Jo Yeon Ho from the criminals. I really feel annoyed why that girl was there." Aeri clenched her fists whenever she remembered how Dae Hyun always accompanied her secretary at the hospital. While he was not cared for at all.

"From now on you have to be more vigilant about his secretary. She could do it on purpose to get rid of you. If you don't want to be eliminated, from now on, do good to Jo Yeon Ho. Seduce him to like you because he is the only card you have," Mrs. Sun Book explained. Did not want her daughter to be stupid, just consumed by love like that.

Aeri thought about what her mother said. If she get out of Dae Hyun's family then her career will slowly also be ruined. She didn't want that to happen. From now on she intended to do everything she can to stay afloat.

UN Village in the afternoon.

Aeri thought about what her mother said. It was true that if she didn't want to be kicked out of this house from now on she has to do something. Not wanting to be late, Aeri immediately met her son who was in the room. Aeri opened the door and found that Jo Yeon Ho was holding colored pencils. Looks like the kid is drawing something.

Jo Yeon Ho was indeed a smart and very diligent child. Even though he was still in kindergarten, Jo Yeon Ho always studied when he was at home. What's more about painting. The child was very fond of painting or just coloring. For him it all felt very good.

"Honey, can I come in?" Aeri said as she slowly stepped into the room.

Jo Yeon Ho felt a little afraid of Aeri's presence. Afraid like last time getting angry and threatening him. The boy just looked at Aeri while silent. He was surprised by his mother's unusual presence. The child was silent while playing with the colored pencils in his hand.

Aeri approached Jo Yeon Ho, then sat down beside him. Made Jo Yeon Ho shift a little. Still traumatized by Aeri's attitude, sometimes scolding him without understanding the reason.

"Yeon Ho, I'm sorry." Aeri put on a sad face then hugged her baby. Sobbing to convince his son that she had changed and regretted what she had done so far.

Initially he did not return his mother's hug because for him this was all like a dream. But Jo Yeon Ho was just a child who needed his mother's attention and affection. He has been wanting Aeri to hug him like this for a long time until sometimes he dreamt of it.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 74 - 74 - Aeri's Plan

Jo Yeon Ho's heart softened and then returned Aeri's hug with his tiny hands with a happy feeling.

"I'm sorry if all this time I didn't pay attention to you. From now on I promise to correct my mistakes to you. Are you willing to forgive me?" Aeri asked, releasing her hug. Wiping the tears in her eyelids with one hand.

Jo Yeon Ho nodded his head with a smile. Hope that all of this was not a dream and what Aeri said was not just a fantasy.

'It turns out it's very easy to seduce this kid' Aeri thought with a lopsided smile. She thought it would be very difficult to conquer her son.

"Starting tomorrow mother will take you to school and wherever you want," Aeri said with a happy face, her son believed that he had changed.

"Is it true?" Jo Yeon Ho said with sparkling eyes. The look on his face indicated that the child was very happy.

"Of course."

After settling her business with Jo Yeon Ho, there was one thing that had to be done. Aeri immediately went down to meet her in-laws who was chatting on the sofa. They look very harmonious even though they have been married for decades. They seemed to be joking with each other to madr Aeri felt jealous. Never once was she with Dae Hyun like that.

"Good evening, looks like you guys are very exciting," Aeri said with a thin smile.

"To maintain harmony, you who are young must also do the same as us," Park Ji Hoon said while embracing his wife's shoulder.

"Right, daughter-in-law." Mrs. Park agreed with her husband.

"Hmmm." Aeri lowered her head and put on a sad face.

"How could we be like you? Dae Hyun doesn't even seem to miss us. I heard he came back from Nami Island. But why hasn't he come to this house yet?" Aeri said clearly without further ado. Putting on her sad face to shed tears. This acting was okay for her to do because she was used to it.

Mrs. Park immediately stood up to his daughter-in-law then led her to sit down. Very understood Aeri's feelings. Every wife would feel the same way if her husband didn't come home.

"Well, maybe your husband has a business," Mrs. Park said while rubbing Aeri's shoulder to calm her down. Seeing her sad like that really made her feel bad. What's more, Aeri cried because of her son.

"He ... he must be seeing his secretary who was in the hospital. Do I and Jo Yeon Ho no longer mean anything in his heart? So he is more concerned with that girl," Aeri said, sobbing. This is an opportunity to keep Dae Hyun away from Soo Yin.

"Dae Hyun just felt the need to repay that girl after all she had saved Jo Yeon Ho. Besides, father had contacted him to come home soon. You don't have to worry," Park Ji Hoon said.

"I just feel like a stranger in this house." Aeri covered her face with palms.

"Don't say like that, you are still our daughter-in-law at any time." Mrs. Park hugged Aeri, rubbed her back gently. Understood, maybe right now Aeri was feeling jealous, so she thought strange things.

Aeri did indeed shed tears, but her heart was now very happy to hear the words of her in-laws. That meant it wouldn't be easy for Dae Hyun to leave her. It has been a long time since Aeri knew that Dae Hyun wanted to divorce her. But she would never let that happen.

'Dae Hyun, I will do everything I can to survive until finally Jo Yeon Ho becomes the heir' Aeri thought as she leaned her head on Mrs. Park.

"From now on I will quit the entertainment world." Aeri broke away from Mrs. Park.

Park Ji Hoon and Mrs. Park looked at each other. Like they were currently dreaming of hearing Aeri's words. Even though they had long wanted Aeri to be at home taking care of her child and husband. After all, the assets they have will not run out of seven generations.

"Didn't you say that at that time you didn't want to stop?" Mrs. Park asked.

"I realized that family means more than a career. I want to learn to be a good mother and wife like you," Aeri said as she wiped the remaining tears on her cheeks.

"I'm sure Dae Hyun would be happy to hear that." Mrs. Park felt happy if Aeri really with draws from the entertainment world.

"Thank God, if you think like that," Park Ji Hoon said.

oooooooooooooooooooooooooooooooooooo

Dae Hyun just arrived at UN Village. With slow steps and not enthusiastic, immediately entered the house. Surprised by the sight in front of him. Aeri was even at home in the afternoon like this. It was something very rare to happen.

"It's so unusual for you to gather, Although it's still early," Dae Hyun said while frowning. It was not usually Aeri in their midst.

"Finally you remember the way back to your house," Park Ji Hoon said.

Dae Hyun just massaged his temples in response to his father's words. He had a bad feeling when they gathered like this. Especially when she saw Aeri who was rubbing her eyelids with a tissue.

"Dae Hyun, where have you been after coming home? Hasn't it been two days since you returned from Nami Island? Don't you miss your family?" Mrs. Park said while holding Aeri's shoulder.

"You should also pay attention to your wife and son. Besides, I heard that the girl was conscious, that means your job is done. We only need to give whatever reward she asks for," Park Ji Hoon said.

"It's not that easy, Dad. I'm just afraid that the criminal is looking for her. So I want to ..." Dae Hyun wanted to say that he wanted to take care of her but it seemed impossible. Surely his father would never agree to even suspect him.

"We'll invite the girl to our house later. If you want, father can make her an adopted daughter. That way we can take care of her if you are afraid she becomes the target of the kidnapper again," Park Ji Hoon said.

"No need, she still has parents," Dae Hyun said firmly. Even though it was a pretty good offer but he won't let Soo Yin be his adopted sister.

"Looks like your father's idea is pretty good. I see she seems like a good girl, we also don't have a daughter," Mrs. Park said with sparkling eyes. They really wanted girls but they always fail. There were obstacles, there were miscarriages and die.

"I told you it's not necessary, you don't need to worry that I will take care of everything," Dae Hyun repeated his refusal.

"That's right said Dae Hyun. Besides, we don't know where that girl comes from. What if she comes from a bad family?" Aeri agreed with Dae Hyun that she would not let the girl take her place in this house.

"Well, it's up to you," Park Ji Hoon said. Will not force his will even if his wife agreed with the idea.

"Where's Yeon Ho?" Dae Hyun asked, who just realized that his son was not seen among them.

"Oh, he was in his room," Aeri replied.

"I went up first, wanted to meet Jo Yeon Ho." Dae Hyun immediately went upstairs eager to meet his son. While on Nami Island, he missed the two people who were present in his life, Soo Yin and his own son.

This morning the sun was bright in the sky of Seoul. The Azaleas planted under Soo Yin's room have started blooming. Making fragrant smell invaded the sense of smell. Very fragrant and so intoxicating. Like a girl standing in front of a mirror. Gaze at every inch of her body while smiling to herself. Remembering every touch that was still felt on her cheek.

Soo Yin holds the necklace wrapped around her neck. A gift from a man who was now her husband. Hope that everything that was said and promised by him was not just nonsense.

Soo Yin felt bored being at home all the time, so this morning she intended to go to a hotel to surprise her husband. It had been two days since she saw him that she missed him very much.

Early in the morning Soo Yin had prepared breakfast which she would bring to Dae Hyun. With great difficulty learning how to make Bibimbap from Auntie Xia which turned out to be quite difficult for a girl who never cooked like herself.

There was actually a recurring fear of incidents when putting too much chili powder into it. But Aunt Xia always encouraged her if she could do it because it wasn't such a difficult thing. Just need to be careful because Dae Hyun really can't eat spicy.

After finished preparing the lunch that she wanted to eat with Dae Hyun, Soo Yin chose clothes that were appropriate and not too much. Shivering in horror as she remembered how embarrassing she had looked. Looked like from now on she should learn make-up from Do Jin. But how, she didn't has his cell phone number.

After getting ready Soo Yin immediately left. Because Chung Ho had something to do, she left by taxi.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 75 - 75 - Park Soo Hyun

Soo Yin got down by the side of the road while opposing the provisions in her hand. His face looked very cheerful today.

"Soo Yin!" Jean called. Walked quickly to get to her best friend. It has been more than a month since seeing Soo Yin that made her feel homesick.

Soo Yin turned her head when she heard a familiar voice in her ears. Immediately stopped her steps when she saw Jean.

"Hi, Soo Yin," Jean said, who was breathless. Holding her knee because she felt tired.

"Jean, it's been a long time since we met. I really miss you," Soo Yin said, immediately hugged Jean's body.

"Where have you been all this time? As long as you are being secretary, it seems that we don't have time to be together," Jean said while pursing her lips. Made Soo Yin want to laugh when she saw her, which looked really funny. Her face was like a child who was sulking.

"Ah, yes. Shall we go for a walk this weekend?" Soo Yin said, giving an idea.

"If you're not busy let's go. Later I'll invite Jae-hwa too. You know he always asks you almost every day," Jean said with a happy face.

Soo Yin only smiled faintly when she heard that. Not wanting to respond to her friend's words, she was afraid something unwanted would happen.

"Then I have to go first. Give my greetings to Jae-Hwa," Soo Yin said. She couldn't wait to meet Dae Hyun.

"Of course."

They parted ways at the elevator doors because Soo Yin had to take the elevator to the 10th floor.

Soo Yin immediately opened the door when she arrived at Dae Hyun's room.

"Good morning, Hon" Soo Yin didn't continue. Widened her eyes when she saw a man who was sitting in Dae Hyun's chair. A young man with tall build, white skin, light brown eyes. Has a middle part haircut. It was not only gave off a sweet impression but also masculine. His feet were on the table, with one foot on top of the other.

"Who are you?" Soo Yin said as she looked around the room. Maybe because she had been unconscious for a long time, she forgot to make the mistake of entering the room.

But the room was the same as what she remembered. Even glancing at his desk, that was true. There was Dae Hyun's name on it. But why were other people in the room.

The man didn't answer Soo Yin's question right away. He felt bewitched by a beautiful girl who was now in front of him. Very in accordance with the type. She has wavy hair that was left loose, has slanted eyes, was white, and was not too tall so it looked cute. A woman who wouldn't embarrass him if they went to a party.

"Where is Mr. Dae Hyun? Why are you sitting in his chair?" said Soo Yin in a high tone. Repeatedly remembering but that man was still foreign to her. It seems they have never met.

"You're very cute," The man said with a charming smile as he lowered his feet from the table. Got up then walked over to Soo Yin who was still standing.

Soo Yin shuffled backwards as the man walked closer to her. Meanwhile, the young man's gaze had not been distracted from Soo Yin's face.

"My name is Park Soo Hyun, the younger sibling of my brother, Dae Hyun," The man said as he stretched out his hand to shake Soo Yin's hand.

Soo Yin didn't accept Park Soo Hyun's handshake. Letting her hand held the strap of her sling bag. She was confused because Dae Hyun never told her if he had a younger brother. She did not know this at all. After Soo Yin watched for a while, it was true that the two of them had somewhat similar faces.

Suddenly Park Soo Hyun immediately pulled his hand to repay his position. So confident that he thought that Soo Yin was stunned by his good looks.

"Don't be stunned like that, I was really handsome from birth," Park Soo Hyun said confidently. Wiped his hair back.

Soo Yin was silent while putting on an unpleasant face. Even though they were similar, his attitude was completely different from Dae Hyun's.

"Then where is Mr. Dae Hyun?" Soo Yin said matter-of-factly. She came here to meet her husband not to meet the man who was now in front of her.

"What need are you looking for?" Park Soo Hyun asked. Immediately sat down then leaned back on the sofa.

"I'm his secretary so it's only natural that I look for my boss," Soo Yin said sarcastically.

"No need to look for him. How about starting now you work for me? Because starting tomorrow I also work at this hotel," Park Soo Hyun said with a lopsided smile. His gaze accidentally saw the food box that Soo Yin was holding, clutching his stinging stomach.

Park Soo Hyun just arrived this morning in Seoul. He just returned home from Ghosan to take care of the hotel branch there. He always moved places of work so Park Ji Hoon sometimes scolded him. He returned to Seoul because he was tired of living in Ghosan. Once he arrived at the airport, he immediately went to the Silla Seoul Hotel without going home first.

Soo Yin pulled her hand that was carrying the bag containing the lunchbox behind her back as she watched Park Soo Hyun continued to observe her.

Park Soo Hyun stood up then took the bag from Soo Yin's hand forcibly.

"Give it back!" Soo Yin shouted as she grabbed the bag from Park Soo Hyun's hand but she wasn't tall enough to reach it.

"I'm hungry," Park Soo Hyun said as he smelled the delicious aroma of food. Makes his stomach tickle even more asking to be filled.

"Give it back! The food was not for you, it was for Mr. Dae Hyun." Soo Yin was still trying to grab it. Will not allow the food she has worked hard to make for her husband to be eaten by others.

"Arghh!" Park Soo Hyun shouted while holding his stomach. Pretend to be in pain.

"Are you okay?" Soo Yin asked with a panicked face.

"I'm hungry, are you going to let me starve to death?" Park Soo Hyun said.

Soo Yin really didn't want the food to be eaten by Park Soo Hyun. The food she made with great love and affection when making it. She has even planned to enjoy it alone with her husband. On purpose, she didn't have breakfast at home.

In a different place at the same time.

Sunlight emerged from the shadows of the curtains. Dae Hyun blinked his eyes. Maybe because he had been sleep deprived for a long time, he slept so soundly last night that he didn't wake up at all.

"Soo Yin." Dae Hyun fumbled beside him, still remembering that he was at the Pyeongchang-dong villa.

Once the view was clear, it turned out that it was not the room he used to share with Soo Yin. This is his room with Aeri.

Dae Hyun immediately got up, glancing at the clothes that were still stuck to his body. Feeling relieved because it meant nothing happened last night. Already have the determination not to betray the trust that Soo Yin has placed in him.

After falling in love for the first time at school, he fell in love for the second time in his life, namely falling for a girl who was much younger. No matter how the odds this time he will fight for love for Soo Yin. Didn't want to repeat past mistakes.

Dae Hyun immediately rushed to the bathroom to clean himself because it was half past eight. Usually already ready to leave but this time he just woke up. It's fine for him to come late to work. However, as a leader, he must not set a bad example for his employees.

Aeri came into the room and crept in front of the bathroom door. Putting her ear there it turned out that there was a sound of water gurgling from within. So Aeri immediately rushed back to the side of the bed. When she heard the door open, Aeri immediately made the bed and folded the blanket to make it look neat.

Dae Hyun only glanced at Aeri, feeling strange when he saw his first wife doing a job she never did. During her marriage to Aeri, he never once saw her want to do housework unless her parents were in this house.

Dae Hyun chose to pretend not to know what Aeri was doing. Choose to dry his hair with a small towel while standing in front of the mirror.

After making the bed, Aeri immediately walked over to Dae Hyun. This was her chance to show that she had really changed.

"Let me do it," Aeri said as she took the towel in Dae Hyun's hand.

"No need, I can do it myself," Dae Hyun said in a flat tone.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 76 - 76 - Aeri's Changes

"Why are you always being cold to me? Am I nothing in your life after what we did that night at the hotel?" Aeri lowered her head. Said softly and put on a sad expression.

"I'm just used to doing it myself. There's no need to bring up the incident because I don't remember it at all," Dae Hyun said with a tone full of emphasis. The mistake he did at that time was because someone put stimulants into his drink. If not, how could he possibly do such a lowly act.

"Honey, please give me one more chance," Aeri said pleadingly.

"Where have you been all this time?" Dae Hyun didn't need to explain anything more after his request that Aeri leave his job but was ignored at all.

"I'm really sorry," Aeri said with shady eyes and tears as if she was going to cry.

"Never mind, you better stop trying now."

"Hiks ... Hiks ... Hiks, you really have the heart." Aeri sobbed then ran into the bathroom.

Dae Hyun was forced to drag his feet to the bathroom. Immediately knocked on the door to calm her down. If his parents weren't in this house, he would have just let her be. Because as long as there was Mrs. Park then even though Aeri was at fault still Dae Hyun will be blamed and will lecture her all out. Dae Hyun sometimes wondered if it was actually him or Aeri who was her son.

"Aeri, hurry out. Sorry if my words hurt you. If you don't want to forgive me, it's up to you," Dae Hyun said with no sincerity.

"Aren't you going to repeat what you said?" Aeri was very happy. Only this was a chance to melt her husband's heart.

"Whatever if you don't believe it." Dae Hyun chose to leave the bathroom door. Immediately put on clothes in the changing room because there was no time. Shortly thereafter walking outside wearing a tie.

It turned out that Aeri had already come out of the bathroom, rushed over to Dae Hyun, then grabbed the tie that was wrapped around the man's neck. Intended to put it on.

'Since when was she like this? Has she really changed?' Dae Hyun said to himself. Not that he was happy with Aeri's change, but somehow his heart was feeling suspicious.

"Why didn't you wake me up?" Dae Hyun asked as he smoothed his tie.

"I saw you were so exhausted that I couldn't wake you up." Aeri put her finger on Dae Hyun's chest. Wiped it slowly while placing her cheek against the broad chest.

Dae Hyun felt uncomfortable so he shifted her body to escape. If Aeri changed four years ago, there were chances that he would melt away. Even though now Aeri will try her best to be better, it was too late. What's in his heart and mind right now was Soo Yin.

Tok ...

Tok ...

Dae Hyun immediately stepped foot to open the door.

"Dad," Jo Yeon Ho said with a smile spreading across his face. The boy looked very happy.

"Honey, are you going to school?" Dae Hyun was carrying Jo Yeon Ho's tiny body.

"Starting today I will go together with Mother," Jo Yeon Ho said.

Dae Hyun frowned after listening to what his son said. It felt very strange to him this time, since when did Aeri care about her son. Even so, Dae Hyun didn't want to change his son's mood.

"Are you ready, Honey?" Aeri said, kissing Jo Yeon Ho's cheek.

They immediately went downstairs for breakfast first. Aeri clinging spoiled to hook her hand on Dae Hyun's arm. The man couldn't refuse because he had Jo Yeon Ho in his arms. Although their relationship has never been harmonious all this time, Dae Hyun has always kept it hidden from Jo Yeon Ho. He was just an innocent child so there was no need to know his parents' problems.

Mrs. Park and Park Ji Hoon exchanged glances when they saw a very rare sight. After not living with their son and daughter-in-law for a long time, it turned out that their relationship has changed a lot. They thought Dae Hyun had accepted Aeri's presence in his life.

At the time of the wedding, Dae Hyun almost ran away. However, due to persuasion and threats from the father he finally agreed to do it. If the marriage fails, it will embarrass the entire family. Including their efforts will also experience the impact.

Thanked to Aeri who made their hotel go fast. It was all because Aeri promotes to all model or artist friends if they visit Seoul, they have to stay at her hotel. Thanks to Aeri she have many relationships to work together for mutual benefit.

"Good morning," Aeri said to her in-laws with a charming smile etched on her lips.

"Let's have breakfast," Mrs. Park said.

Dae Hyun sat Jo Yeon Ho in the chair next to him.

They had breakfast with full of peace, moreover Dae Hyun only spoke a little. It seemed he has to be careful from now on so he didn't get caught up in the game of the woman who was beside him. Dae Hyun felt like there was a hidden plan.

"Dae Hyun, have you contacted your brother?" Park Ji Hoon asked.

"No, just let him take care of his work," Dae Hyun said in a flat tone.

"But this morning he has arrived in Seoul. The possibility is now at the hotel," Mrs. Park said.

"So he's back?" Dae Hyun asked in a high tone as he rose to his feet.

"Don't be too hard on your brother," Mrs. Park said. Very well know that since childhood they always fought when they were close to each other. Even until they were adults it was still like that.

"I better go," Dae Hyun said, immediately hurried away.

The Silla Seoul Hotel

Upon hearing that Park Soo Hyun had arrived and was now at the hotel, Dae Hyun immediately rushed to the hotel. Afraid that his younger sibling might do something unwanted. Often times he made trouble when he was at the hotel.

Dae Hyun stepped quickly, even impatient when he was in the elevator. Wanted to get to his room soon. As soon as he opened the door, Dae Hyun wore an expression of dislike and immediately slammed the door firmly when he saw Soo Yin and his brother facing each other.

Soo Yin seemed to be trying to grab something that was in Park Soo Hyun's hand.

"Park Soo Hyun, what are you doing?" Dae Hyun said in a cold tone as he walked over to them.

Soo Yin lowered his hand when Dae Hyun came. The girl put on a sullen face.

"Hyeong, I'm hungry. But your secretary didn't even give up the food he brought for me," Park Soo Hyun muttered while carrying a lunchbox.

Dae Hyun looked at Soo Yin for a moment. His wife does not usually bring provisions when working.

"Why don't you just go to a restaurant? Or you can also order from the waiter," Dae Hyun said while massaging his head. The behavior of his only brother sometimes made him very dizzy.

"I can't take it anymore. My stomach is very hungry," Park Soo Hyun said as he lifted Soo Yin's food box. Smelling its fragrance for a moment that made worms in his stomach asked for rations.

"Soo Yin, just give it to him," Dae Hyun said softly with a pleading look at his wife.

"But" Soo Yin said interrupted.

"It's okay, later we will order from the waiter. The food at the restaurant in this hotel is also very good, better than the lunch you bring," Dae Hyun said.

Soo Yin was really surprised when Dae Hyun says that. She was not willing if the food she made for her loved ones is eaten by other people. What made her even more sad was Dae Hyun who was saying that the food was not good.

Soo Yin clenched her fists, her heart ached so much this time. Without saying anything, Soo Yin returned to her desk. Her heart was sad, sorry that she had prepared all that but Dae Hyun didn't even appreciate it at all.

Dae Hyun couldn't do anything if Park Soo Hyun was still in the room. Letting sit on the sofa while enjoying Bibimbap that Soo Yin brought which looked really delicious.

Occasionally glanced at Soo Yin from behind the glass. The girl looked unusually gloomy.

"When finished, go home! Dad's waiting at home," Dae Hyun said. It was deliberately expelling his brother subtly. Having him in the room made him uncomfortable and can't freely talk to Soo Yin. Even though he missed his little wife.

"Hyeong kicked me out?" Park Soo Hyun who was eating food immediately looked up.

"What are you doing here anyway? You better take a break," Dae Hyun said while checking some files. It turned out that something needed to be copied.

Dae Hyun immediately got up and walked over to Soo Yin, who was holding the mouse in her hand. The girl didn't look at Dae Hyun at all. Pretend to be busy.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 77 - 77 - Spilled Coffee

"Soo Yin, may I ask for a favor?" Dae Hyun said.

"Just say it," Soo Yin said in a flat tone and didn't smile at all.

"Please copy all this into 5 sheets each," Dae Hyun said while handing out several sheets of paper. Frowning because he felt strange about Soo Yin's attitude this time. Not usually being this cool.

Soo Yin took the file in Dae Hyun's hand then immediately left without even looking at her husband's face.

"You have no feelings!" Soo Yin cursed when she got to the photocopy. Annoyedly pressed the button carelessly. It doesn't matter if she copied wrong. Felt angry so Soo Yin took the blank paper and tore it emotionally.

Regardless of her assignment, Soo Yin immediately handed it to Dae Hyun without a word then immediately rushed back to her desk.

Dae Hyun looks at Soo Yin's file, massaged his head at the results. Apparently not all of them were copied. There were several sheets left. Some even have an excessive number of copies. Some were not copied properly and were messy.

Maybe if someone else did he would immediately get angry or reprimand them. But this time he couldn't do anything about it. Just trying to be more patient with his little wife. What's more, there was Park Soo Hyun who didn't seem like he intends to leave.

Dae Hyun was forced to copy the files himself. Afraid to hurt Soo Yin's heart if he reprimands her. Besides, the girl was in a bad mood.

"Didn't I tell you to come home? Your presence here is interfering with my work," Dae Hyun said as he looked at Park Soo Hyun when he just got back from the photocopy room.

"You are impatient, soon I'll be home too. Oh well, Hyeong, your secretary looks very young," Park Soo Hyun said while smiling mischievously looking at Soo Yin from a transparent glass booth.

"Then?" Dae Hyun said.

"Doesn't she have a boyfriend yet?" Park Soo Hyun asked curiously.

"What are you asking that for?" Dae Hyun, who was focused on staring at the computer screen, turned his gaze to look at Park Soo Hyun.

"I'm just asking," replied Km Soo Hyun, smiling on his lips. Makes Dae Hyun feel suspicious.

"Stop your bad intention if you want to mess. I will not let it," Dae Hyun said in a cold tone. Already knowing what Park Soo Hyun was thinking, surely he intended to approach her. His younger brother was already well known among women. Easily fall in love but also easy to forget. Indeed, he was already 25 years old. But his attitude was still like a teenager. Always wanted to get pleasure without thinking about all the consequences.

"Hyeong, can I have his cell phone number?" Park Soo Hyun leaned over to give Dae Hyun a closer look.

"No, I won't let you." Dae Hyun glared at his younger brother. Very furious, if he came near her then he would raise the war flag.

"You are very stingy with your own brother," Park Soo Hyun grumbled as he leaned his head on the sofa.

"The more you meet Li Sa, she must be missing you a lot now," Dae Hyun teased. It was deliberately to change the topic of conversation.

"Don't talk about it." Park Soo Hyun put on a sullen face. He didn't want to hear the girl's name anymore. The girl who was always after him and even bluntly willing to be just his mistress.

Park Soo Hyun immediately got up from the sofa, if he continued to be around Dae Hyun, he would definitely talk about it again. Walking over to Soo Yin because he was curious about the girl.

"Hi," Park Soo Hyun said as he read the name on her desk.

"Soo Yin, our names are so similar," Park Soo Hyun said with a happy smile.

Soo Yin, who was feeling irritated, has no interest in serving her husband's brother. Just glanced at him then averted his gaze.

"Can I ask for help? I want to drink coffee," Park Soo Hyun said.

"Okay, wait a minute. I'll get it," Soo Yin said, putting on a flat face. Lazily stepping her feet towards the pantry. Before arriving at the pantry, it turned out that she met Jean in the hotel hallway.

"Jean, can I ask you a favor?" Soo Yin said. It was a very coincidence there was a friend at a time like this.

"Just say it," Jean said with a smile.

"Can you bring a cup of coffee to Mr. Dae Hyun's room? Not a cup, maybe it's two because there are two people there," Soo Yin said. Now she wanted to get some fresh air first. What's more, it was time for lunch soon. Her stomach needed to be filled because she had not eaten since morning. The hope of being able to eat alone with her husband becomes chaotic.

"Of course, I'd be happy to do it for you. Are there guests?" Jean who was curious asked.

"Mr. Dae Hyun's younger brother named Park Soo Hyun was there."

"Then where are you going?" Jean asked.

"I'll go out for a while to get some fresh air. After finishing immediately to the canteen, I'm waiting for you there." Soo Yin immediately walked away.

"All right," Jean said, raising her thumb.

As per Soo Yin's request, Jean brought two cups of coffee to Dae Hyun's office. First she knocked on the door but after a long time, there was no answer. Jean was afraid that if she immediately entered without asking permission, she was afraid to interfere. Until finally there was a sound of footsteps from within.

Ceklek.

The door opened, Jean widened her eyes when she saw the man who was now in front of her. The man was standing at the door with a smile so charming it made her heart feel like melting. Jean stared at Park Soo Hyun continuously with the tray in her hand that almost fell off. Unconsciously swallowed her saliva.

Park Soo Hyun moved his palms in front of Jean's face as the girl kept silent as she stared at him. Until finally the girl realized and lowered her face in shame.

"What is wrong?" Park Soo Hyun asked. Feeling confused because it seemed like he didn't ask the waiter to make coffee.

"Soo Yin told me to deliver coffee to this room, sir," Jean said while looking down.

"Then where is Soo Yin?" Park Soo Hyun asked. Looked behind Jean to find Soo Yin.

"He's been out for a while, it's lunch time after all," said Jean.

"Okay, just put the coffee on the table." Park Soo Hyun re-entered the room followed by Jean behind him.

Park Soo Hyun sat back down on the sofa. So Jean slowly lowered the coffee in front of him but the cup was hot. Jean's hand felt like it was on fire, because a little nervous that the cup slipped making the coffee spill in front of Park Soo Hyun.

"Arghh!" Park Soo Hyun whose chest suddenly felt hot shouted.

Jean was very surprised by what happened. Her body trembled because she had made a mistake.

"I'm sorry, sir." Jean hurriedly took the tissue on the table. Help Park Soo Hyun clean the coffee on his shirt.

"Geez, couldn't you be careful?" Park Soo Hyun asked while looking at Jean with a sharp gaze.

"Once again I'm sorry," Jean said, bowing her body. She was really afraid if this would affect her work. If she gets fired, she cannot pay the hospital fees for his mother.

"You really pissed me off!" Park Soo Hyun swore.

The man's curse made Jean felt like crying. With a sudden movement, Jean immediately knelt before Kim Soo Hyun. Regardless of her pride if it could keep her from being fired from the hotel, it was fine for her.

Dae Hyun, who had just returned to his room, frowned when he saw Jean, who he knew to be Soo Yin's best friend, kneeling like that.

"What is this?" Dae Hyun asked, looking at the two people in turn.

"Hyeong, he spilled coffee on my shirt," Park Soo Hyun grumbled, pointing at Jean with his index finger.

"I'm really sorry, I really didn't do it on purpose." Jean didn't dare to raise her face. Her eyes filled with tears as if they were going to cry.

"Please don't fire me," Jean continued, sobbing.

"Hey, who's going to fire you?" Park Soo Hyun was confused by what the girl said.

"Jean, wake up, no one will fire you just because you spilled coffee," Dae Hyun said.

"Is it true?" Jean quietly then raised her face to confirm the truth.

"Next time you have to be careful," Park Soo Hyun said.

"Thank you sir." Jean slowly rose to her feet while lowering her head again.

"Where's Soo Yin? Why are you here?" Dae Hyun who didn't see Soo Yin at her desk asked. Looked like Park Soo Hyun told Soo Yin instead of Jean.

"Soo Yin said she wanted to go out for a while to get some fresh air after that she would go to the canteen," Jean said.

"Okay, you can go," Dae Hyun said.

Chapter 78 - 78 - Misunderstanding Part 1

Before Jean left the room, once again apologized to Park Soo Hyun.

"You'd better come home to change." Dae Hyun thought this would be a good time to send his brother out of the room.

"Ughh, alright." Park Soo Hyun was forced to agree to go home. It was impossible to keep his clothes wet and sticky like that. Irritated, he left Dae Hyun's room.

Dae Hyun can now breathe a sigh of relief and can return to work in peace. Half an hour has passed since Soo Yin left, but she hasn't returned yet. Just about to stand up suddenly there was a knock on the door.

"Come in!" Dae Hyun said as he sat back down.

It turned out that it was Chang Yuan who had something in his hand.

"Sir, I found this." Chang Yuan handed Dae Hyun a recorded memory card.

Dae Hyun frowned. Without answering, immediately put it in the laptop. Not long after that Dae Hyun immediately played the recording.

In it there was a video recording of Aeri exiting the Namsan Park area while making a phone call. It was an incident when Jo Yeon Ho was nearly kidnapped. Not long after, Aeri left that location.

Dae Hyun clenched his fists after seeing the footage. It meant that what Aeri has said so far was a lie. Actually Dae Hyun already suspected him, but he really did not expect Aeri to really left his son alone in the park.

"Is there anything else?" Dae Hyun asked to gather more evidence so that the woman could not dodge.

"Someone sent me a photo." Chang Yuan showed him the photo someone sent him. The photo was taken when Aeri was having a party in an apartment that made her lose track of time.

"What a bitch!" Dae Hyun pounded the table so hard and it took Chang Yuan by surprise. But did not dare to protest what his boss had done.

Dae Hyun really felt furious with Aeri's behavior. He has been suspicious whenever that woman came home and took care of their child. But Dae Hyun ignored it. After all, he didn't love her so it was up to her to do and he did not care at all.

But this time it was very different. It was so heartless for a mother to left her son alone without a caregiver. Dae Hyun can't imagine that if Soo Yin wasn't there at that time, maybe Jo Yeon Ho would get hurt. What made Dae Hyun even angrier this time was that he nearly lost the life of the girl he loved so much.

Dae Hyun clenched his fists with a fiery gaze. Like a tiger that will pounce on its prey.

"From now on, tell people to follow her wherever she goes," Dae Hyun said. He wanted to have more evidence to escape Aeri's snare. For a long time he wanted to be released but always failed because that woman always succeeded in winning over her parents.

"Okay sir." Chang Yuan immediately withdrew to leave the room.

Dae Hyun looked back at the watch on his hand, there was about 15 minutes of rest time. A glimpse of Soo Yin's work desk was still empty. He needed to see someone to reduce his current anger. Just looking at his beloved woman, somehow his heart felt calm and peaceful.

Soo Yin walked outside briefly to a small park across the street. In front of the hotel there was a small garden, in which there was a lake but it was not that wide.

The girl sat on a long bench facing the lake. The atmosphere there was very calm and comfortable, especially accompanied by a soothing breeze.

'Was I too childish?' The girl thought as she shook her legs under the bench. Was he too upset just because of provisions? Soo Yin didn't care if Dae Hyun thinks she was childish or too much.

Soo Yin closed her eyes for a moment while taking a breath of fresh air. She glanced at the watch, which turned out to be time for lunch. Immediately decided to return to the hotel.

Soo Yin went to canteen because her stomach was already hungry. First queue to get food. She looked all over the area looking for Jean's whereabouts but could not find her. She kept walking while looking for an empty seat. While waiting for Jean, Soo Yin finished her drink while playing with the cellphone in her hand.

Five minutes of waiting, there was someone sitting in front of her. Soo Yin raised her face to see. It turned out to be Jean who had arrived with a disheveled face. Put the food he brought on the table.

"What's wrong, Jean?" Soo Yin asked while observing her best friend. Although earlier she seemed fine. Her face was cheerful as usual.

"I just made a mistake," Jean said, covering her face with both hands.

"Did something happen?" asked Soo Yin worried.

"I spilled the coffee I brought, on Mr. Dae Hyun's brother's body," Jean said, immediately took her hand away from her face.

"You mean Park Soo Hyun? Why is it like that?"

"So his name is Park Soo Hyun? I accidentally spilled it. I hope Mr. Dae Hyun's words are true, that they won't fire me. But I really feel scared," Jean said frantically.

"There's no need to worry, because there's no way Mr. Dae Hyun will lie. I'll make sure you don't quit your job." Soo Yin held Jean's hand to calm her down. Feeling guilty because it should be her job, if she didn't tell Jean maybe her best friend wouldn't get into such a trouble like that.

"I hope so because I really need this job," Jean said with a sad face.

"Calm down, I'll make sure of that." If Dae Hyun had intended to fire Jean, she wouldn't just stand by.

"Hi everyone," Jae-hwa who just came with a tray of food said.

"Hi Jae-hwa, long time no see," Soo Yin said with a happy face.

Jae-hwa was delighted to see the smile etched on Soo Yin's lips. The smile that always excited him. The girl who made him fall in love even though he never had the balls to say it. Can only express his feelings through attention.

"Can I join you?" Jae-hwa asked.

"Of course, don't hesitate. Haven't we been friends for a long time." Soo Yin shifted her chair because Jae-hwa standing next to her, she can't possibly tell him to sit next to Jean. This shouldn't be a problem.

Jae-hwa immediately sat on the chair beside Soo Yin. Over a month of never seeing her, Jae-hwa felt homesick even though he didn't dare to say it. It was enough by seeing the smile of the girl he loved, his longing slowly healed.

Jae-hwa glanced at Jean. Feeling weird with Jean's attitude who was more quiet than usual this time.

"Jean, what's wrong with you?"

"Ah, I'm fine. Let's eat, we need to hurry hurry before the rest time is over," Jean said, changing the conversation. She tried to calm herself down so as not to feel anxious. Really hope that what Soo Yin said was correct.

??????????????

Dae Hyun looked for Soo Yin out of the hotel but didn't find the girl. Until finally asked a worker, it turned out that Soo Yin was currently in the canteen.

Dae Hyun leisurely walked into the canteen area. A place he rarely visited. Most of those who ate in the canteen were servants and other subordinate workers.

All workers look at each other. It felt strange because it was the first time seeing their boss come to the canteen. They all step aside to make way.

Dae Hyun looked around the canteen. Observing the women one by one to find Soo Yin. It took a long time to find her. Until finally he continued to step inward. Which made the employees seem confused by his presence.

After his eyes wandered, he finally found the figure he was looking for. Even though only her back was visible, Dae Hyun was sure that it was his wife.

Feeling hungry, he first took the food which made everyone even more amazed. Although the superiors also eat the same menu. But often they order the waiter to bring it to their respective rooms so they don't have to queue.

Dae Hyun patiently stood in line with his subordinates. There were some employees who felt uncomfortable so they tell their boss to take it first.

After finishing Dae Hyun stepped his foot towards the table where Soo Yin was sitting. His eyes bulged when he saw his wife sitting next to another man. They seemed busy chatting and joking. Made Dae Hyun jealous.

Jean, who saw Dae Hyun's arrival first, was so surprised that his eyeballs almost fell off.

"Soo Yin, didn't I see wrong?" Jean said, not taking her eyes off Dae Hyun who kept walking towards them.

"What is going on?" Soo Yin asked as she ate her meal.

"Look back," Jean said.

Soo Yin and Jae-Hwa turned their bodies simultaneously. Intrigued by what Jean said.

"Can I join here?" Dae Hyun who was standing right behind Soo Yin asked.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 79 - 79 - Misunderstanding

Soo Yin looked in disbelief at what she saw this time. It was like dreaming in broad daylight to see Dae Hyun waiting in line and carrying a tray at the cafeteria.

"Please, sir," Jae-hwa said nervously. For some reason Dae Hyun's eyes were piercing.

"Can you move there?" Dae Hyun said telling Jae-hwa to sit next to Jean.

"It's not good to change places while you're eating. You should just sit there," Soo Yin said without looking at Dae Hyun. Really she still felt annoyed with the incident this morning. It turned out that even though she had calmed down, she still couldn't get rid of the disappointment that was in her heart.

"It's okay, I'll move there," Jae-hwa said as he looked at Soo Yin. Making Dae Hyun really annoyed. From Jae-hwa's gaze at his wife, Dae Hyun suspected that something was messed up between them.

"Just stay seated and continue eating," Soo Yin said while glancing at Dae Hyun.

"Is it okay for you to sit there?"

"Okay." Dae Hyun was forced to sit next to Jean.

Jean and Jae-hwa looked at each other. They look awkward because they were not used to sitting together with a boss. Moreover, like Dae Hyun, they were not even brave to greet him. Although his attitude was friendly, they were still reluctant.

Soo Yin continued eating her food in silence. Didn't care about Dae Hyun who kept staring at her.

"What did he follow me here for?" Soo Yin said to herself. Can't stop thinking about Dae Hyun. After disrespecting her own hard work, he now followed her.

Dae Hyun felt there was something wrong with his wife's attitude who looked cool. Her attitude returned to the old one again. But then immediately thought positively that maybe his wife was just pretending in front of his friend to act like that.

Soo Yin put her cutlery on the table, a sign that she's finished eating.

"I'll go first, see you everyone." Soo Yin stood up and shifted her chair then left them. Didn't care about Dae Hyun at all.

Dae Hyun thought Soo Yin was just pretending to be cool and silent but after returning to the room, the girl still only talked a little. Dae Hyun wanted to chat with her but there was never time. Too much work piling up. Even if there was a time, Soo Yin always avoid and left as if there was no one at all.

It didn't feel like the day goes by so fast. It was now seven in the evening. Dae Hyun immediately walked over to Soo Yin.

"Go home, it's already late. I have to work late tonight," Dae Hyun said because a lot of work has not been completed. Because his job on the island of Nami put some of his work at this hotel neglected. Already many reports and files piled on his desk. Some should be checked immediately.

"Hmmm." Soo Yin immediately tidied up her desk then put her belongings into the bag.

Dae Hyun knitted his brows together. It was unusual for Soo Yin to act like that. Usually the girl would refuse if Dae Hyun sent her home. Will continue to accompany him until late at night. It was really weird this time.

Without looking at her husband, Soo Yin immediately left the room without a word being spoken.

Soo Yin deliberately didn't contact Chung Ho because she didn't really want to go home yet. She had not enjoyed the night outside in a long time.

The girl continued walking down the sidewalk aimlessly. Until she found a place to eat. It's been a long time since she ate Jjajangmyeon. On a cold night like this it felt right to eat it.

Without Soo Yin acknowledge, Dae Hyun had been following the girl from the car. He was worried when he found out that his wife didn't contact Chung Ho.

As soon as he was about to get off, suddenly there was Jae-hwa who walked behind Soo Yin so Dae Hyun was discouraged. Even though he intended to give a surprise. Dae Hyun was forced to choose to stay in the car because it was very cold outside.

"Hi, are you here too?" Jae-hwa said when he saw Soo Yin was eating a bowl of Jjajangmyeon. Feeling like a dejavu for meeting Soo Yin at a time like this. Even though the place and time were different.

"I haven't enjoyed it for a long time. Suddenly I want to eat when I pass this restaurant," Soo Yin said.

"Aren't you joining overtime? I saw Mr. Dae Hyun seems busy," Jae-Hwa said. When she's about to go home, Dae Hyun earlier asked her to make a cup of coffee.

"No, he told me to go home," Soo Yin replied curtly. For a moment it occurred to her that she felt sorry for leaving him alone, although she always accompanied him even though she was just lying on the sofa.

Soo Yin immediately brushed the thought away. Didn't want to think about Dae Hyun this time. It was his fault who didn't appreciate her efforts. In fact, let his younger brother eat.

Jae-hwa frowned when he saw Soo Yin's face suddenly looking annoyed. Eating the Jjajangmyeon in front of him very quickly. Only chewed a few times and immediately swallowed it.

"Did something happen? Why are you eating so hastily?" Jae-hwa asked.

"Ah, no. It's so good that I want to finish it quickly." Soo Yin regained consciousness then immediately developed a smile on her face.

"Oh, yes, I have something." Jae-hwa took something from his bag. Then handed it to Soo Yin.

"What is this?" Soo Yin slowly read it. It turned out that it was a brochure of a famous university in Seoul.

"Maybe you also want to register there," Jae-hwa said, wishing that Soo Yin went to the same place as him.

"Thank you, I'll think about it," Soo Yin said then put it in the bag.

"After this are you going straight home?"

"I don't know, it looks like I still want to take a walk for a while," Soo Yin said.

After that they went out simultaneously. They were walking side by side so that from afar it seemed like they were holding hands. Dae Hyun, who could not stand seeing his wife walking with other men, went out of his car.

"Hmmm," Dae Hyun said aloud. He quickly walked behind Soo Yin and Jae-hwa. So that made them both stop and look back.

Soo Yin thought that she was hallucinating hearing Dae Hyun's voice. But it really was him.

'What's he here for? Didn't he say there's still a lot of work to do?' Soo Yin said to herself.

"Mr. Dae Hyun," Jae-hwa said.

"Sorry to disturb you two of you. I just need to bring Soo Yin back to the hotel," Dae Hyun said.

"Didn't you just tell me to go home?" Soo Yin said could not understand if Dae Hyun followed him.

"Jae-hwa, is it okay if I take her away?" Dae Hyun said.

"Of course, sir." There was no way Jae-hwa will say no. Who was he to dare not agree to his boss's request.

"Once again sorry for disturbing your togetherness," Dae Hyun said while glancing at his wife.

'Geez, what the hell is he? Today just pissed me off,' Soo Yin grumbled inwardly.

"Come in." Dae Hyun opened the front passenger door for Soo Yin.

At first, Soo Yin wanted to protest, but she felt bad because Jae-hwa was there. Jae-hwa will definitely be suspicious.

Dae Hyun immediately drove his car in silence. Soo Yin did the same. Chose to turn her face to face the side. Gazing at the shadows of the trees in the dim light.

Soo Yin was reluctant to ask when the car drove not on the road to return to the hotel. She knew that it might just be an excuse to take her away from Jae-hwa.

Derrrt ...

Dae Hyun's cell phone ring broke the silence. Spooky atmosphere behind the dim light. Two people were in the same place but were silent while enjoying each other's thoughts.

Soo Yin, who usually complained when Dae Hyun didn't answer the call. Now she pretended not to know even though the calls have been repeated.

Dae Hyun took a deep breath when he saw who had contacted him. It turned out to be Aeri. Not usually now contact him.

"What is wrong?" Dae Hyun asked curtly when he was connected.

"Father!" It was not Aeri's voice that was heard. It was Jo Yeon Ho's cute voice that echoed over the phone.

"Hi honey, you haven't slept yet?" Dae Hyun softened his tone.

"When will you come home? It's already late. You won't stay at the hotel, right?" Jo Yeon Ho said.

"N ... no," Dae Hyun said hesitantly. Didn't have the heart to lie to his son.

"Hooray! I'll be waiting for Dad to come home." Jo Yeon Ho's voice was delighted.

"Alright, we'll continue later." Dae Hyun turned off the phone line.

HIDDEN WIFE : BEST HUSBAND

Chapter 80 - 80 - Almost Tempted

Soo Yin can already guess who contacted her husband. Even though Dae Hyun didn't turn on the loudspeaker, Soo Yin can hear Jo Yeon Ho's voice even though it was only faintly.

"Drop me off here!" Soo Yin said as she took off his seat belt.

"I'll take you home," Dae Hyun said.

"No, don't let your son wait too long. It's not good for young children to sleep too late," Soo Yin said in a flat tone.

"No, I'll still take you home." Dae Hyun said firmly.

"Drop me here right now. Otherwise, I'll jump," Soo Yin threatened in a cold tone.

Dae Hyun immediately stopped his car at the curb. Afraid his little wife might actually do it.

Soo Yin slammed the car door hard. Immediately stop a taxi that had just passed in front of him.

"Is she mad because I bothered her together with Jae-hwa?" Dae Hyun cursed while hitting the wheel. Watching Soo Yin getting into the taxi.

Dae Hyun was forced to turn around to return to UN Village. Following Soo Yin to Villa Pyeongchang-dong seemed useless. Better to fix their problem tomorrow.

Dae Hyun stepped lazily into the house in the UN Village area. The house that has long been occupied by his parents and his first wife.

Just entered as usual there was a servant who greeted him to open the door. Just entered Dae Hyun heard several people talking from the living room. Every now and then a laugh came from one of them.

Dae Hyun massaged his temples seeing that all his family members haven't slept yet. Also seen there was Jo Yeon Ho who was sitting on Park Soo Hyun's lap. There was Aeri who was beside him too.

"You just got home, you should be able to come home early," Mrs. Park said, she was the first to see the arrival of his eldest son. Can feel Dae Hyun was not excited.

"Of course, you must really felt at home because you are accompanied by such a sweet secretary," Park Soo Hyun teased so openly that Dae Hyun looked at him with a sharp gaze. Although it was not evasive, at this time he cannot admit that it was true. His little wife was very sweet.

"Is that true?" Aeri looked at Dae Hyun suspiciously.

Dae Hyun didn't respond. It was up to Aeri if in the end to find out about the relationship. After all, he really wanted to part as soon as possible.

"I'm just kidding," Park Soo Hyun said, accompanied by a laugh that was so crispy. Felt funny with the attitude of his brother whose expression became tense.

"Calm down, sister-in-law, my brother is very loyal to you," Park Soo Hyun continued.

"Of course," Aeri who blushed said.

"Is Soo Yin completely healed?" Mrs. Park asked.

"Is she sick or what?" Park Soo Hyun said, felt curious. Looked like the girl was fine.

"She almost lost her life to help Jo Yeon Ho," Dae Hyun said with great emphasis as he glanced at Aeri. But it seemed that the woman didn't feel guilty at all.

"Quickly tell me what really happened. I want to hear it," Park Soo Hyun said impatiently.

Dae Hyun immediately stepped into the stairs. There was no intention to pay attention to what his brother said. Just let the others tell him.

Dae Hyun immediately went into the bathroom. Flushed his head to drown out his anger and irritation. Thinking of Soo Yin who chose to go with another man instead of accompanying him to overtime. No wonder her attitude since morning was very strange.

When he came out of the bathroom, he saw Aeri lying on the bed. Wearing transparent white lingerie. So that it showed vaguely two beautiful hills that were so beautiful.

As a normal man, of course he was so tempted by that sight. However, Dae Hyun immediately snapped himself up, seeing Soo Yin's face in his mind. Especially when I remembered how Aeri left Jo Yeon Ho in the park. Made her lose her passion.

Dae Hyun pretended not to see Aeri then immediately changed clothes in the changing room and then went out of the room.

Aeri, who pretended to close her eyes, immediately opened her eyes when she heard the sound of the door closing. Sure enough, he guessed that Dae Hyun had left the room without even glancing at him.

"Shit!" Aeri cursed, who was very annoyed at not being able to seduce Dae Hyun. It turned out that the man still hadn't changed. Looked like she needed another plan to conquer it.

Dae Hyun chose to go to Jo Yeon Ho's room because he hadn't greeted him when he just got home. It turned out that the boy was not asleep yet. Still sitting leaning on the bed hugging a book in his hand.

"You're awake?" Dae Hyun said while sitting in front of Jo Yeon Ho.

"Father!" Jo Yeon Ho hugged Dae Hyun tightly. Hiding his head against his father's chest. As if it had been a long time since they met, even though this morning they were together.

Dae Hyun rubbed his son's head gently.

"You want dad to read you a story?" Dae Hyun took the book that was in Jo Yeon Ho's arms and opened it.

Jo Yeon Ho nodded enthusiastically and his eyes sparkled. It's been a long time since he listening to his father read a story.

"Dad, when can I meet Eunnie?" Jo Yeon Ho suddenly thought of Soo Yin.

"You want to meet Eunnie?" Dae Hyun already understood that what his son meant was Soo Yin.

"I want to thank her. I also want to give her a gift," Jo Yeon Ho said.

"Okay, later daddy will invite her over here." Dae Hyun was happy because his son liked Soo Yin. Hoping that if he found out that Soo Yin was his stepmother, Jo Yeon Ho can accept it all.

It was already late at night so Dae Hyun started reading out a story about the Spiderman character. Boys must really like the hero character. It turned out that Jo Yeon Ho was very enthusiastic, even chiming in every time Dae Hyun told him.

Together with their son can relieve fatigue after a long day of work. Even though in his mind right now Soo Yin's face was always pictured.

Dae Hyun kissed the top of Jo Yeon Ho's head. Immediately turn off the light then replace it with a dimmer sleep light so as not to dazzle his eyes.

It crossed his mind intending to return to the room but remembering Aeri was wearing clothes like that made him choose to just lay on the bed with Jo Yeon Ho.

Aeri, who hadn't slept in her room because she was waiting on purpose for Dae Hyun, but until late, her husband didn't even return to the room. So she immediately followed Dae Hyun to Jo Yeon Ho's room.

Aeri looked at him with burning anger. The man with a burly and sexy body turned out to be asleep beside his son. Even though she was tired of holding back sleepiness to wait for Dae Hyun to return. Aeri immediately took a deep breath to calm herself down. She should not get emotional if she want to be safe in the family.

Finally Aeri decided to get into bed, lied down beside Dae Hyun. Jo Yeon Ho's bed was big enough to fit the three of them.

"Tonight we will have fun, dear," Aeri said softly with a crooked smile. Not wanting to fail again, Aeri immediately felt his chest to his very tempting stomach. It has been a long time since she felt the sensation of making love with Dae Hyun.

Dae Hyun felt that something was quivering his body when he felt Aeri's hand rubbing his chest. His body temperature immediately felt hot. What's more, now Aeri's naughty hands touch some sensitive points that arouse his desire.

Under the drowsiness that still whacked Dae Hyun, he thought that Aeri was Soo Yin. So he immediately grabbed Aeri's hand which was still on his chest while closing his eyes.

"Honey," Aeri whispered in Dae Hyun's ear accompanied by a sigh that tickled the man's hair.

Dae Hyun who felt annoyed slowly opened his blurry eyes. Moreover, what was in his mind was only Soo Yin, even though he has proven his eyes, he still thought Aeri was Soo Yin.

"Let's go back to the room," Aeri whispered once again, lightly pressing her lips against Dae Hyun's ear.

Dae Hyun's consciousness had not yet recovered so he complied when Aeri led him to walk back to their room.

Aeri smiled triumphantly this time. Not in vain, her efforts not to sleep earlier. It was very easy for her to melt down a man because she was experienced. The plan this time was to get pregnant so Dae Hyun wouldn't dare mess around even though he already knew the truth.

Aeri immediately pushed Dae Hyun's body slowly to lie down then climbed onto the bed.
