

She Got A Better Man 181-190

At this moment, he only had one thought. He had to save Elvira Otherwise, he would die with her.

Zach endured the assault of the smoke and heat and quickly climbed to the 25th floor. His hands were already covered in countless blisters, but he did not care. The moment he jumped in, a wave of fire attacked him. Zach ignored the fire on his body and rushed into the restroom.

He knew very well that the only place Elvira could hide now was the restroom. He kicked open the door of the burning restroom and shouted, "Elvira, where are you?"

"Zach, I'm here." Elvira Willis was wearing a gas mask. She was awake, but Cole was already silent.

Zach did not care about the fire on his body and quickly rushed over. He looked at Elvira who was protected by Cole and was relieved to see that she was wearing a gas mask. He helped the unconscious Cole up and pulled Elvira up. The three of them quickly walked out. If they stayed any longer, they would die. Now, the three of them could only think of a way to survive.

By the time the three of them reached the window, fortunately, Spike arrived in a helicopter. The air cushion downstairs had already been laid out.

Spike threw the rope over. Seeing that the fire behind them was getting stronger and stronger, Zach and Elvira grabbed the rope with their hands. The two of them hugged Cole desperately and jumped down amidst the flames.

Spike immediately splashed water on the three of them to put out the fire. Fortunately, he had brought enough water to do that.

After the three of them landed, Elvira fainted. In fact, she had already inhaled a lot smoke previously. It was already a miracle that she could hold on until now.

Most of Zach's hair had been burned off, and his clothes were in tatters. He looked very disheveled. He could not care less about himself and carried Elvira. The bodyguards supported Cole Bennett, and they hurried to the hospital.

After the bodyguards upstairs received the news that Elvira and Cole had been rescued, they quickly retreated and left the firefighters to put out the fire.

Seeing the bodyguards leave in a hurry, Jayden immediately chased after them and asked, "Why aren't you saving them? Didn't you say that your boss is inside?"

"She's already been rescued. We're go to the hospital now," a bodyguard replied coldly as Jayden helped them think of a solution.

"What? She was rescued? How is that possible?" Jayden's eyes widened in disbelief.

When the bodyguard heard this, he looked at Jayden with cold eyes. Jayden chuckled and said, "What I mean is, she was actually saved from such a big fire. That's really impressive."

The bodyguards ignored him and left quickly.

Jayden turned around and looked at the raging fire. He found it unbelievable. "How can a person be saved from such a huge fire? That's impossible."

No matter what, he couldn't stay here anymore. He had to pack up and run. He knew that as long as the fire was extinguished, it would soon be found out that he was the one who started the fire. Jayden took advantage of everyone's attention on extinguishing the fire and quickly slipped away, leaving the building.

*****

In the hospital.

Zach was also burned quite a bit. The doctor wanted to treat his wound, but he refused. He couldn't feel at ease until he confirmed Elvira was fine.

The doctor said that Elvira had inhaled some smoke into her lungs and injured them. She had to recuperate well, and her life was not in danger.

Cole's situation was much more serious. He had inhaled too much smoke and had yet to wake up. His life was in danger, and the doctor was trying his best to save him.

Zach looked at the burns on Elvira's body and felt sorry. He really wished he could suffer these injuries for her.

Elvira woke up quite quickly. The first thing she did when she woke up was to ask about Cole's condition. Zach had to tell her the truth, saying that Cole was still being resuscitated. Elvira immediately removed the needle from her hand and got out of bed to go to the resuscitation room.

When she got out of bed her legs went weak. Zach quickly offered his arms to her. He did not stop Elvira as he knew that Cole got injury in order to save her. Not only Elvira but also Zach was worried. In the past, Zach would dislike Cole. After all, how could he like a man who had a crush on his wife? However, when he saw Cole risking his life to save Elvira today, Zach decided to be grateful to him for the rest of his life.

Zach ignored his ragged appearance and carried Elvira to the entrance of the resuscitation room. The lights in the resuscitation room were still on. Elvira looked at the glaring red light and felt a suffocating pain in her chest. Zach called the medical staff over and pushed the bed over. He asked the doctor to treat Elvira's wound and infusion here.

Elvira came back to her senses and noticed that Zach was also seriously injured. She asked the doctor to apply medicine on him. When he refused, she threatened him, saying she would not get medicine applied, either.

Zach had no choice but to stay with Elvira while letting the doctor treat his wound. Zach's body was covered in large blisters and looked quite scary. The burns on his body were worse than Elvira's.

After Samson finished dealing with the fire at Elvira's company, he came over. He felt really sorry when he found Zach's wounds and asked the two of them to go back to the ward to tidy up, saying that he would stay to keep an eye on the situation there. Elvira refused to leave. She would not leave before she confirmed that Cole was out of danger.

Samson brought them two bottles of water. Zach unscrewed the bottle and fed Elvira a little.

An hour later, Cole was wheeled out. The doctor said that he was not out of danger for the time being because he had inhaled too much smoke. Not only was his lungs damaged, but his head was also deprived of oxygen. It was very likely to cause brain damage. "What will happen to him if his brain gets damaged?" Samson asked.

"It means that his intelligence might regress," the doctor replied tactfully. To put it bluntly, Cole might become a fool..

Elvira almost collapsed when she heard this. If Cole really became a fool, she would never be able to forgive herself for the rest of her life.

Elvira finally fell asleep. Only then did Zach go into the bathroom to get changed and freshen up. He looked at his half- burned hair in the mirror and asked the bodyguard to get him a shaver. He shaved all his hair and gave it a simple scrub. He only came out after changing into a clean set of clothes.

When he came out, he seemed to have changed into a different person. His short buzz cut did not affect his looks at all. Instead, he gave off a different kind of roguish handsomeness.

Spike returned with the results of the fire.

Zach glanced at the sleeping Elvira and went out to meet Spike.

"How did the fire happen?" Zach asked with a frown.

"Someone started the fire. Moreover, this fire was planned for a long time. The arsonist has already been found out. It was done by the security guard who came to that building a month ago. His goal is very clear. He wanted to burn Elvira to death." Spike gave all the results to Zach. Jayden's methods were not brilliant. As long as the surveillance cameras were restored, it would be clear that everything was done by him alone. Moreover, he had planned for a long time to set this fire to kill Elvira.

She Got A Better Man

When the surveillance cameras in the previous days were checked, it was found that Jayden had openly taken gasoline and some other things into the building and hid them. He even deliberately approached Elvira. However, Elvira rarely worked overtime previously, she usually returned home on time at night and would occasionally get off work late. There were other people in the company when she was there, so it was very difficult for Jayden to succeed.

Yesterday, only Elvira went back to work overtime, so Jayden took action.

"Mr. Gilbert, when we were trying to save Mrs. Gilbert, this person even pretended to go back and help. We thought that he was just an ordinary security guard in the building. No one suspected that he had started the fire," the bodyguard said guiltily.

What happened today really frightened him. Even though Elvira had been saved by Zach, both of them were injured. If Zach had been a little later or made a mistake in his decision, Elvira would have died.

"Haven't you caught him yet?" Zach was not in the mood to investigate the bodyguard's negligence. He only wanted to catch the arsonist.

"His identity is fake. I suspect that his face has been disguised. This person has a certain level of anti-reconnaissance ability. Since he dared to commit murder in the building so brazenly, he must be sure that no one would be able to find out his true identity or do anything to him," Spike explained with a frown.

"Who on earth wants to kill Elvira?!" Zach clenched his fists tightly, looking extremely furious.

The Willises or the Gilberts?

"Investigate this arsonist! We must find him no matter what!" Zach ordered coldly.

"Yes! I've ordered my men to lock down the entire city. I promise to find this person." Spike immediately went to do his job.

Zach returned to the ward. He walked to the bedside and looked at Elvira who was sleeping. His heart ached. A portion of Elvira's hair had been burned. Her waist-length hair had been burned dry and lost its original luster. Compared to his and Cole Bennett's injuries, Elvira's injuries were less serious. This was what he was more gratified about.

The medicine used on Elvira had a certain calming ingredient that could allow her to sleep peacefully tonight. Otherwise, Zach was afraid that she would not sleep for the entire night. If that happened, he would be really sorry for her. He believed that Cole did not want to see her in such pain, either

Zach had a lot of burns on his arm, so he could only sleep on his side. He held Elvira's hand and smelled her unique scent before he finally felt at ease.

At the thought of how he had almost lost her tonight, his eyes turned red. Tears welled up in his eyes, but he did not dare to hug her hard, afraid that he would hurt her if he moved her injuries.

He was destined to stay awake that night.

The next day, Elvira was awakened. She suddenly sat up and immediately lifted the blanket to get out of bed. Zach only fell asleep when it was almost dawn. When he heard the commotion, he opened his eyes and quickly pulled her back. Elvira was stunned when she turned around and saw him. "Your hair?"

Zach raised his hand to touch his buzz cut and explained, "Half of my hair was burnt yesterday, so I shayed it. It will grow back in a month."

"That's not what I meant. I'm saying that with your hairstyle, you look even more handsome." Elvira raised his hand and touched his hair as well. Zach held her hand and kissed it.

"Is Cole awake? I have to go and visit him." Elvira was worried about Cole. She got out of bed and walked out without even putting on her shoes.

Zach also got off the bed and stopped her. He insisted on putting on her shoes before allowing her to walk.

The two of them went to Cole's ward. Cole was still unconscious, but the doctor said that he had a reaction last night. It was a sign that meant he would wake up today.

"Will there be any repercussions?" Elvira was worried.

"We'll have to give him a comprehensive evaluation when he wakes up," the doctor answered professionally.

Elvira's heart ached when she saw Cole's wounds. She clearly remembered that she wanted to take off the oxygen mask and give it to him a few times, but Cole protected her tightly and didn't even allow her to move. Later on, she could not break free from him at all even if he fainted. It could be seen how determined he was to protect her at that time.

Zach held her hand and comforted her. "Don't worry too much. He'll be fine."

Elvira turned around and rested her head on his chest. Her tears fell uncontrollably.

A portion of Elvira's hair was also burned, so she could only cut it. Zach got a hairdresser to design a new hairstyle for her. According to the length of the burnt hair, she helped Elvira get a shoulder-length hairstyle.

Zach even got someone to buy a few sets of soft cotton clothes for Elvira so that her injuries would not hurt from the fabric.

When Elvira saw that Zach was still wearing a shirt with stiff fabric, she felt sorry and asked him to change into soft sportswear, not wanting him to wear a shirt and suit for the time being.

Zach did not notice his pain at all. He only cared about Elvira and only wanted to make her feel more comfortable. Only when she reminded him did he realize that his shirt was indeed hurting him.

He held Elvira's face and kissed it. He said, "Honey, you really love me. You're so sweet."

Elvira knew that he wanted to make her happy, but she really could not be happy now. Thinking that Cole's life was in danger, she felt even worse. She asked Zach what was going on with the fire, and she did not think that it was an accident.

Zach originally wanted to not tell her those terrible things for the time being, but he remembered that she was the biggest victim. She had the right to know, and she had never been a weak person, so he told her the truth.

Elvira looked at the man on the screenshot and frowned. "I remember this person. Every time he met me, he would talk to me warmly. When I took a taxi, he would even open the door for me. Why did he want to kill me?"

"He probably worked for someone. If we want to know the truth, we have to catch him. I have two suspects now. One is the Willises, and the other is the Gilberts."

Elvira believed Zach's suspicion was correct. Amber and her daughter hated Elvira's guts and wished they could get rid of her. And if Elvira died, it would be a huge blow to Zach. At that time, the Gilberts would be able to take advantage of the situation and obtain the entire Gilbert family.

No matter what, they had to find the security guard before they could catch the real mastermind.

3

"Why? Why are you doing this to me?"

"Because only when you die can my son get the inheritance. Do you think I really love you? Hahahaha! Why are you so childish? I hate you so much that I can't wait to kill you."

"So you were pretending! You vicious bitch!"

"It's too late now. Go to hell with your mother!"

Cole suddenly opened his eyes. His forehead was covered in cold sweat. He looked at his surroundings in horror. The suffocating feeling made him collapse.

She Got A Better Man

"Cole, you finally woke up." When Elvira realized that Cole had woken up, she excitedly leaned over and saw if he had become a fool as the doctor had said.

"I'll kill you." Cole suddenly reached out and grabbed Elvira by the neck. He grabbed her so tightly that she coughed.

"C-Cole, let go! What's wrong with you?" Elvira grabbed his hand hoping that he would let go.

Cole fixed his eyes on Elvira. Elvira thought to herself, "Oh, no! He really became a fool. He does not even recognize me. Moreover, he strangles me so hard that I can't break free from his tightening grip."

Cole's eyes slowly began to focus. When he realized it was Elvira, he suddenly let go as if he was suddenly shocked.

Elvira was weak. When Cole loosened his grip, she fell onto the hospital bed. She covered her neck and coughed as she looked at him.

Cole suddenly covered his head. Many memories came to his mind. The castle, his parents, stepmother, younger brother. grandparents, and many servants.... Then there was that terrifying scene. The cruise ship, his stepmother, him being pushed into the sea....

"Doctor, doctor, Cole is awake. Come and see what's wrong with him." Elvira quickly called the doctor over.

Soon, the medical staff came in. Cole slowly calmed down. He felt a splitting headache. He looked at Elvira worriedly. "Are you alright? I'm sorry."

"I'm fine. You didn't become a fool, did you?" Elvira looked at him in surprise. When he suddenly went crazy just now, she thought that there was really something wrong with his brain.

Judging from his looks now, he seemed to be fine.

Elvira wondered what was wrong with him just now.

The doctor examined Cole and confirmed that he was fine. He wanted to take Cole for a brain checkup, but Cole refused, saying that he was fine and was sober.

Seeing this, the doctor did not force him and just said that Cole would be fine since he woke up, and if he felt unwell, he could go for a check-up.

After everyone left, Elvira was still very worried about him. "Are you really alright?"

Cole looked at the complicated emotions in her eyes and shook his head. "I'm fine. I'm sorry for scaring you just now."

"Not really. I know you won't hurt me. You should rest well. Don't go to work for the time being. You've been busy for so many years and haven't given yourself a break. Take it as a vacation this time," Elvira advised him. Cole worked desperately. Working overtime was his daily routine. Ever since the company was established, he had never rested.

"No, thanks. I don't need to rest. I have to go back to the company now," Cole said as he lifted the cover and was about to get out of bed.

"No! You have to rest! Look at your injuries." Elvira was getting anxious as Cole wanted to go back to work and did not rest as she said.

"I... I want to be alone, okay?" Cole looked at her and asked.

He needed to recollect his memories. Although he had gotten back a portion of his memories, there were still many things that he had yet to recall. He needed some peace to continue recollecting his old memories. 09:38 Sat, Dec/

"Alright, then you can stay in the hospital alone. I'll go buy some food for you" Elvira looked at him suspiciously. She felt that he was hiding something from her, but since he did not want to tell her, she would not ask.

Cole thanked her. Elvira was speechless and did not think he needed to do that. She went out to buy food for him first. After Elvira left, Cole sat there in a daze. More memories came to his mind. He finally remembered who he was.

In the sewers.

Jayden sat in the deepest part of the sewer. There were many things to eat and use next to him. Rats were scurrying around him. After the arson yesterday, he did not leave Jersten immediately because he knew very well that if he left now, those people would catch him even faster. How could he escape from Zach's men?

He was playing a trick with them now. The place where he was hiding was less than a thousand meters away from the arson site. Those people would never have dreamed that he would stay here. Jayden's phone rang. It was Amber. He picked it up. "What's the matter?"

Amber locked herself in the restroom and said in a low voice, "I heard that Elvira is not dead." She was also a little afraid now. If Jayden was caught by Zach, there would be huge trouble "That woman is really lucky. No wonder our daughter can't beat her. Don't worry. Since I can hurt her once, I can do it again." Jayden frowned and took a sip of wine from the bottle. "That's not the most important thing. Where are you now? You can't be caught by Zach. Once you are caught, Judy and I will be done," Amber said anxiously.

"Don't worry. They won't be able to catch me. Even if they do, I won't expose you and my daughter even if I have to die," Jayden said coldly. Amber was still a little worried, but she did not dare to provoke Jayden now. She could only remind him to hide carefully and not be caught. Jayden said impatiently, "Got it," and hung up.

The sudden knock on the door almost gave Amber a heart attack. She opened the door angrily and looked at the servant who was preparing to clean up. She scolded as she hit the door. "Couldn't you see that the door was locked? Why are you still knocking? What are you up to? You bitch!"

The servant was beaten and rushed out, crying. Amber sprained her ankle when she was chasing after the servant, which caused her a lot of pain. She was pissed off and shouted, asking someone to send her to the hospital.

Spike searched for Jayden for two days and two nights but couldn't get any clues. Jayden seemed to have disappeared into thin air without a trace. Spike felt that that person was too strange. He had gotten thousands of people to search for Jayden but still could not find him.

Jayden's identity information was fake. Now, it seemed like Jayden had even had cosmetic surgery. Spike even found out that Jayden was recommended to work there by another security guard. The person who introduced the arsonist only took two hundred dollars from him and didn't know his background at all.

The lead was cut off.

Zach told Elvira what Spike had found out. Elvira instinctively felt that this matter was related to Amber and her daughter. However, Zach had also investigated and did not find any valuable information.

09.38 Sat, Dec

3

5

3

Elvira was puzzled. Amber-and her daughter could not have conjured such a person out of thin air to kill her, right?

Where did that person come from?

70%

Zach ordered someone to continue investigating this matter. At the same time, because Elvira's company was burned down, Zach had already ordered someone to empty a floor for Elvira overnight so that she could move her company into Gilbert Group.

For safety's sake, he chose the 15th floor for Elvira. This was the highest level that the fire escape ladder could provide. Because Cole had saved Elvira this time, Zach's impression of Cole had changed. He even got someone to prepare a huge office for Cole, which was as luxurious as Zach's office.

She Got A Better Man

78%1

Elvira could not find a suitable office location in such a hurry. Since Zach had already prepared it for her, she happily accepted it Cole just had superficial injuries and refused to continue being hospitalized no matter what. Elvira could not do anything to him, so she let him leave. Cole arranged for the company's people to move.

Actually, there was nothing much to move. The original company had been burned down. Zach had everything prepared for the new company, and they just needed to go to work.

With such a huge incident happening in the company, a few employees felt that something was amiss and did not want to continue working, so they handed in their resignation letters.

The HR manager was very worried. She was worried that the resignation of these people would affect the whole team, so she asked the employees who wanted to leave to stay one by one. She tried her best to persuade them not to leave when the company was in trouble. That way, otherwise, they would have a bad reputation if word got out.

However, the dozen employees were determined to leave. The HR manager had no choice but to let them go.

After she let them go, she was very regretful. She called Cole to report this matter and asked him what to do.

"Ask in the work group and see if anyone else wants to leave. Let them handle the resignation procedures. Cole would not persuade those who abandoned the company when it was in trouble. How sincere could those people be if they stayed? It would be better if they left.

After getting Cole's order, the HR manager did not dare to disobey. She resigned and sent a message to a group chat, asking those who wanted to leave to hand in their resignation letters. The Human Resources Department was still in the building. The building's property management had arranged for a small and dilapidated office.

As soon as the HR manager sent the message, a few more people immediately wanted to leave. The manager could only follow Cole's request and let them go.

This time, more than 20 employees had left. The company did not even have a decent office place now. Who would be willing to come to their company for a job?

The HR manager was desperate, believing that the company was about to close down.

As there were too many resignations, a few people followed suit and came to settle the resignation procedures.

Just as the three of them completed the resignation procedures, Cole personally came to the temporary small office. The HR manager and the other two employees stood up to greet him.

"Hello, Mr. Bennett."

Cole nodded. A trace of embarrassment flashed across the eyes of the three employees who had completed the resignation procedures. However, when they thought about how the company was doomed, they did not think much of it. "There's no need to stay here. The few of you, follow me to the new office," Cole said.

"New... new office Mr. Bennett, the company already has a new office location so soon?" The HR manager was a little surprised. She knew the company's situation. The contract for this rented office on this floor still had five years to go, so the company could not find a new office location in advance.

Everyone had the same thoughts as the HR manager, so everyone unanimously wondered if the company had rented a warehouse or something like that for work.

"Mr. Bennett, where is the location of our new company? Do we need to buy something before we go there? Are we still moving these?" The HR manager asked.

Just take the computers. There's no need for anything else," Cole replied and prepared to leave.

"Mr. Bennett, we still have something to deal with. It might take some time. Why don't you tell us the new office location? We can go over ourselves later." The HR manager was terrified, wondering which corner they were going to move to. The other two employees also felt desperate. The three who had followed suit and resigned looked at each other. They felt lucky that they had chosen to leave. Otherwise, they wondered which damn place they would be sent to next.

"The 15th floor of Gilbert Group is our new office. Everything inside is very complete. You don't have to bring anything with you. Since you are not familiar with that place, Gilbert Group has arranged for someone to receive you downstairs. You just have to report your names. Someone will bring you up. When the time comes, you will be issued an elevator card." Cole patiently told the three of them. After this incident, those who were willing to stay were basically loyal to the company. He was willing to tell them more. After Cole finished speaking, the six of them were stunned. They looked at each other and forgot to ask again. The HR manager wanted to confirm with Cole again if she had misheard, but he had already left.

"Did I mishear just now? Gilbert Group? Is it the Gilbert Group in my mind?" The staff member who helped with the procedures blinked and asked again, feeling uncertain.

"The address Mr. Bennett said is just Gilbert Group, the largest group in the entire Aversa."

"There is only one Gilbert Group in Aversa. Is what Mr. Bennett said true?" The HR manager could not help but gulp.

The three employees who had just resigned were also dumbfounded. Now, the three of them felt that the resignation procedures in their hands were like a hot potato. They really wanted to throw it away. They regretted it and wondered if they could return to the company. Of course, the answer was no.

"Mr. Bennett doesn't tell jokes. Hurry up to pack your things and take a look! Then we'll see. Hurry up and pack up!" The HR manager was excited. If she could really work in Gilbert Group, she wouldn't have to worry about not being able to recruit talents. She was afraid that countless top students would rush over to get recruited.

"Yes. Let's go and take a look!" The other two employees also hurriedly packed their things.

Seeing them pack their things and in a hurry to leave, the three who had just resigned wanted to say something but were ignored.

It was ridiculous. When the company was in trouble, they wanted to leave. Now that they knew that the company had not collapsed and even gotten better, they wanted to come back. Who would want them?

One of the people, who had resigned, said, "I don't believe Mr. Bennett's words. Do you realize what Gilbert Group is? How can they give a floor to our company? Mr. Bennett must be lying

"I think so, too. How is that possible? My uncle is a supervisor at Gilbert Group. He said that the entire building belongs to Gilbert Group. There's no outsider. How can they rent a floor for our company?"

"We'll see if we go and take a look! Let's go! I want to see if Mr. Bennett is so capable."

The three of them did not want to believe this reality, so they found all kinds of excuses, claiming that Cole was lying.

The HR manager and employees were warmly received by the employees of Gilbert Group and invited to the fifteenth floor. The three of them looked at the office environment on the fifteenth floor. It was more than ten times larger than their previous office space. Moreover, the office facilities were brand new and the most advanced.

09:39 Sat, Dec /

The three of them were so excited that they felt dizzy. They wished they could jump up and have fun on the spot, but they were embarrassed because Gilbert Group's employees were around.

In the end, the three of them said they wanted to go to the restroom. Once they entered, they couldn't help screaming and jumping around happily.

She Got A Better Man

The three of them were the first to arrive at the new office. After leaving the washroom, they began posting photos in the workgroup and statuses on WhatsApp to show off.

Over the past two days, they had handled the resignation procedures of more than 20 employees, so they had been holding back their anger. Today, they could finally vent their anger.

The other three people who had followed them secretly entered the Gilbert Tower. Someone came to greet them and asked if they were from Elvira's company. Only after they confirmed their names could they be taken to the 15th floor. The receptionist who greeted them was warm, polite, and firm.

The three of them looked at each other in disbelief. They could not believe that the company had really moved to the Gilbert Tower. The person wanted to confirm their identity again, so they said their names. Suddenly, his expression changed. "You've already resigned. You're not qualified to go upstairs. Security, get these people out!"

The security guards immediately came over to chase them away. The receptionist's face was as cold as ice, scary to look at, and a total difference from the warm welcome earlier.

The three of them had no nerve to stay there, so they fled in a panic without anyone chasing them away.

Looking at the work group that had yet to leave, there were photos of the new company sent by the HR manager and the others. It was too comfortable to work in there. The three of them were filled with regret.

At the same time, the other 20 people who had left also regretted their decision. They had already left the work group and saw the status on WhatsApp. When they saw that the address was Gilbert Group, they looked for someone to confirm it. In the end, they confirmed that the company had really moved to Gilbert Group. Everyone was dumbfounded and regretted it so much that they wished they could slap themselves to death.

Gilbert Group was the number one leading company in Jersten. It was a dream that they could only look up to in their lives. Now that they had a chance to enter Gilbert Group, they directly cut it off because of their selfishness.

The news made their hearts ache even more. Elvira Willis had arrived at the new company along with her husband, Gilbert, Group's CEO, Zach Gilbert.

Before, they just felt regretful when they knew the company was moving to Gilbert Group. Knowing that Elvira was the wife of the CEO of Gilbert Group, more than 20 employees who had left could not hold it in anymore and almost fainted from crying in the toilet.

Just now, they were still consoling themselves that even if the company moved into the Gilbert Group building, it would only be rented and had nothing to do with it. They were totally slapped in the face.

Some thick-skinned people quickly pleaded with the human resources manager, hoping to give them a chance to return to the company.

With Gilbert Group at its back, the company would never face bankruptcy. Instead, it would grow bigger and bigger. Even if their business failed, they still had Gilbert Group to back them up. When the time came, it would only be better if they entered the Gilbert Group to work.

However, there was no time to regret it. Cole would not give these people who had abandoned the company when it was in crisis a chance to return to the company.

The company's employees were all in place. Everyone looked at their new desks excitedly. Not only were their desks larger than before, but their office equipment was also brand new. There was even a small bed at their work desks to rest on. The company had also placed a lot of flowers and snacks. Everyone might be happy to be in that workplace.

The supervisors' office was several times larger than before. They swept away the haze in their hearts and happily took photos to show off.

Zach surprised Elvira by bringing her to her new company. Elvira looked around. All the floor-to-ceiling windows were bright and clean. The place was more than ten times larger than the one she and Cole rented previously, and the environment was better.

If she had been the one who had looked for a workplace, she might not have found such a good place. Most importantly, their work would not start immediately. The company would suffer heavy losses and might even go bankrupt. Also, the movie she was going to compete with Judy would probably not be able to start filming as scheduled.

Elvira happily held Zach's hand tightly. "Hubby, thank you!"

"I should be the one thanking you, From now on, I can go to work and get off work with you every day, and we can have meals together." Zach also squeezed Elvira's hand happily.

"I still have to thank you if it weren't for you, not only would this fire have killed me, but I would also have lost everything Elvira still had lingering fears. Now that Gilbert Group's technical department had helped recover the information that her company had lost, it was also reducing her losses. "Let's go to your office and see if you like it." Zach looked at Elvira's newly short hair, which made her look more capable. She was still as beautiful as a doll, and his heart bloomed when he saw her.

After the two of them left, the employees recovered from their shock. They were already overjoyed to be able to move to the Gilbert Tower. Now that they had actually seen the loving scene between CEO Gu and their boss with their own eyes, they had really forgotten everything. As soon as the two of them left, the office instantly exploded, and they began to discuss.

"That was Mr. Gilbert! He's much more handsome in person than in the photos!"

"Mr. Gilbert and Ms. Willis are really compatible. I would be happy to see them every day, even if I don't get paid!"

"Dream on. You still want to see Mr. Gilbert every day? How is that possible!"

"If you don't believe me, let's make a bet. Mr. Gilbert will definitely come looking for Mr. Willis every day. Let's bet 100 dollars!"

"Okay, okay, go ahead!"

Zach dragged Elvira to her office. Elvira realized that her office was in the exact location as Zach's. In other words, the two of them would work in the same direction in the future. He would be on top, and she would be on the bottom.

"I wanted to give you the top floor, but I was worried about the fire department, so I chose a safe floor for you. Elvira, you really scared me this time." Zach hugged her tightly, not daring to use too much strength to hurt the wounds on her body.

"You saved my life again. Hubby, you're the most expensive benefactor in my life! Thank you." Elvira did not know how to thank him. She only wanted to never be separated from him for the rest of her life,

Seeing that, Zach kissed her lips to stop her from thanking him. She was his wife, his treasure, and the most important person in his life. He would not hesitate even if he had to lose his life for her.

Elvira also hugged his neck and kissed him back. The two of them were kissing passionately when the office door was suddenly pushed open. Elvira and Zach were shocked. Zach quickly hugged Elvira and protected her in front of his chest. He looked at the door unhappily. He wanted to see who would not knock on the door when they entered. It was a bad thing.

She Got A Better Man

It was Zach's mother, and his expression became awkward. Elvira also saw her mother-in-law and quickly pushed Zach who was hugging her away.

However, Zach hugged her tightly and refused to let go. Unhappily, he asked his mother, "Mom, why didn't you knock when you came in?" Skylar was still angry. She walked over and grabbed Elvira's hand. She pulled her out of his arms and looked her down. "Tell mom where you're hurt."

up

and

Elvira did not expect Skylar to know about her injury. She smiled and said, "It's just a small injury. It's fine."

"How can I be fine? How can burns be a small matter? Seriously, you two, why didn't you tell me such a big thing happened!" Skylar pulled Elvira to sit down and wanted to see her injuries.

Elvira had no choice but to pull up her sleeves and let her see the burn on her arm. Skylar looked at the burn on Elvira's arm. Her fair and flawless skin was red, and her eyes were red. "How can this be a small injury? A woman's skin is so important. What if it leaves a scar? How can you wear a beautiful dress in the future? Mom will immediately find the best scar removal medicine for you!" Skylar said as she looked for her phone to make a call.

On a call, Skylar was asked for a high-priced scar removal medicine. When Elvira heard that they were talking about a tube of scar removal medicine, she wondered if Skylar had met a scammer. "Mom, why is this medicine so expensive?" Elvira asked worriedly.

"Good medicine will naturally be more expensive. Don't worry about it. If it's not enough, I'll buy it for you," Skylar said generously.

"Mom, have you met a scammer? I don't want to give Elvira medicine of unknown origin." After all, she was his mother, so Zach spoke without any scruples.

"What nonsense are you talking about? This is medicine from the H Research Institute! The person I called is the director of the H Research Institute. Am I an unreliable person?" Skylar glared at her son.

Zach stopped talking. The medicine from Research Institute H was naturally good. He had planned to buy it for Elvira, but it would take some time. He did not expect his mother to settle it with a phone call.

"He's really not a liar?" Zach was still worried. After all, he was going to use the medicine on Elvira. He did not want to be careless at all.

Skylar was about to be angered to death by her son. He actually doubted her ability, so she said, "The director of Research Institute H is 30 years old this year. He's young and promising. His name is Louver Avernian, a half-blood. I'm quite familiar with him. However, that kid is too greedy. Every time I buy medicine, he asks for a high price. But for Elvira, I'm willing to pay any price!"

Zach was relieved when Skylar explained. He had known Louver before and was sure that what his mother had said was true. Louver was the world's top researcher. He would not doubt such a person, but he could save his life at a critical moment.

"Mom, can you buy me another tube of medicine? My friend is injured, too. I want to buy one for him. I'll pay for it." Elvira wanted to buy another tube for Cole. His injuries were worse than hers, and she hoped that he could recover as well.

Zach had a good impression of Cole. Now that Zach knew that his wife was actually asking for medicine for him, the jealousy in his heart was overturned again.

"I'll just use the same tube as Zach." Elvira seemed to have sensed something. She turned around and Irelid Zach's arm with a loving smile.

Elvira's words instantly heightened Zach's expression when he was jealous and felt uneasy.

His wife wanted to use the same tube as him and buy a separate tube for Cole. It meant that Elvira treated him as one of her own and Cole as an outsider.

"Of course. I'll call Louver immediately." Skylar called to continue buying the medicine. After the call, her face darkened.

She was so angry that she threw her phone on coffee. "That brat is he treating me like a fool? The price this time is 400 thousand dollars!"

"What? He's raising the price?" Elvira was a little surprised. She did not know much about that research institute and was speechless for a moment.

"The people in this research institute are famous for being strange. The price of the medicine they give out is according to their mood. It's normal for 400 thousand dollars. It's good enough that he's willing to sell it. Mother, give him two million dollars. We need three tubes. I'm worried that Elvira's injuries won't be enough. I'll buy another tube as a backup." Zach did not care about the price at all.

"Alright, I called him because of Elvira. Otherwise, I would have kicked him into a puddle if he had tricked me like this!" Skylar called him to order the medicine.

Louver directly asked for 4 million dollars, not a single cent less-three tubes of medicine. Skylar's eyes almost popped out. She was so angry that she spat out a long string of vulgarities on the spot.

Zach looked at his mother, who was going crazy, and silently covered his wife's ears.

Elvira almost burst out laughing. 'I think that Louver was doing this on purpose. He was teasing her.

In the end, the deal was settled. Skylar was so angry that her hands trembled. She said fiercely, "If it weren't for Elvira, I would have kicked that brat into the Pacific Ocean!"

From kicking into the waterhole to the Pacific Ocean, it could be seen how angry Skylar was.

"You should reimburse me. I still have to save my money to buy something good for Elvira!" Skylar glared at her son angrily.

Zach thought to himself, 'What does this have to do with me? Why are you glaring at me? I should be the one who reimbursed her for the medicine I used on my wife.

"When will you get the medicine?"

"Louver said that he's going to Jersten for a business trip. He said that he'll send it over personally. It shouldn't be long. The removal medicine has to wait for the wound to heal. It can't be rushed. It's better to heal the wound first. I'll take care of Elvira next." Skylar held Elvira's hand and looked at her wound.

scar

"Mom, I'm injured too. It's heavier than Elvira," Zach reminded his mother.

"Oh, I see. Just don't eat the soy sauce. A grown man shouldn't be so squeamish," Skylar said nonchalantly.

He did not expect that his mother, who had not received his mother's care for more than ten years, would still not be cared for when she finally returned to the country.

"It's such a pity for Elvira's beautiful long hair. Which bastard wanted to hurt my son? Zach, what's wrong with you? It's been so long and you still can't catch him! What if that person comes out to hurt Elvira again?" Skylar glared at her son angrily. Zach was also depressed about that matter, but that person really seemed to have disappeared into thin air. He had almost searched the entire Jersten.

"Mum, that person is too cunning. All the information is fake. His face is also fake. He is indeed difficult to find. I will bring more bodyguards in the future. I will not let him succeed again. Elvira quickly spoke up for Zach. She did not want to give him too much pressure

00

SUIT, vec o

83%

She could tell that he was sometimes very frustrated about that matter. He hugged her even harder than before. He was actually more nervous and afraid than she was.

She Got A Better Man

"Why don't I come to work in your company in the future? I'll be your cleaner. That way, I can accompany you every day and protect you." Skylar was worried about Elvira's safety.

"Mom, if you join my company, I'll offer you the position of general manager. How could I let you squander your talents? Mom, I know you're worried about me. In the future, I'll make sure to work and leave work with Zach. He'll protect me." Elvira gratefully held Skylar's hand.

At this moment, she felt that life was finally fair. All her relatives mistreated her, even to the point of not considering her as a person. Since her marriage, Skylar had doted on her, compensating for the love she had missed in her youth.

"Mom, my company needs cleaning. Why don't you-" Zach said to his mother.

Before he could finish speaking, he was beaten up by his mother. It was so painful that he gritted his teeth and hit his wound.

"Mom, if there's nothing else, you should leave. I was just about to make out with Elvira when you interrupted me. I still want to continue making out with Elvira," Zach chased her away without any hesitation.

Elvira remained silent.

She looked at Zach beside her in shock. She could not believe that he would say such things to his mother and that he was using it as an excuse to chase her mother away. Then, she quickly looked at Skylar to explain.

Alright, then I'll take my leave, Elvira. Take your time to be intimate with each other. Don't be anxious. Remember to lock the door this time. Don't let anyone disturb you at your intimate moment. If you can't make it, Elvira won't be a widow with you." Skylar elegantly raised her hand to touch her hair. She stood up and walked out.

Zach was almost choked to death by his mother's words. Skylar actually said that he could not satisfy Elvira.

Elvira held back her laughter and accompanied Skylar out.

As soon as Skylar was away, Zach hugged Elvira from behind. Elvira turned around and placed her hand on his shoulder. Her eyes were filled with a strong smile.

"You still dare to laugh?" Zach tightened his grip on her.

"Mom said it, not me. You only know how to pick on the weak." Elvira smiled and pushed him.

"Don't you know if I can do it or not? Besides, I like you to be soft. I like to pinch you. It feels good!" Zach deliberately whispered in her ear.

Elvira's face immediately turned red. She was so angry that she reached out to hit him. 'What nonsense was he talking about? What was he talking about?'

The more Zach thought about it, the more his heart itched. He could no longer restrain himself and lowered his head to kiss her delicate, petal-like cherry lips fiercely. His hands also restrained themselves and entered her clothes to knead wantonly. The temperature in the office kept rising, and soon, ambiguous sounds could be heard.

Zach wanted to leave the memories of their love in every place here, so he worked even harder.

When it ended, Elvira's waist was extremely sore, and her legs were as limp as noodles. She was so sleepy that she could barely open her eyes, but she still insisted on not sleeping.

"Sleep if you're tired. Don't force yourself." Zach carried her back to the lounge to let her sleep.

Elvira shook her head desperately and resisted firmly. "No, the employees are all outside now. You've been in here with me. for so long and haven't gone out.

"It's already making people's imagination run wild. If you don't go out for another afternoon, what will the rumors be like? You have to go out for a meal immediately!"

Zach looked at how sleepy she was and how she was still trying her best to hold on. He felt that she was cute, and his heart ached. Thinking about it, she was the boss of the company, and she had to have prestige in the company.

Therefore, he could only let her wash her face. The two of them changed into new clothes and went out. Zach also arranged for a lunch banquet in the largest hotel in Jersten. He wanted to eat all his wife's employees well.

When the employees heard that they were going to a restaurant, they were all extremely excited. The average price of that restaurant was at least 10 million dollars. If they had to pay themselves, they would probably not be able to spend even once in their lives! Thanks to their boss, they would definitely work harder in the future.

As the group left, Elvira could not resist her sleepiness. When she got into the car, she fell asleep with her head on Zach's lap. Meanwhile, Zach kept rubbing Elvira's cute little face. His eyes were filled with love as he looked at her.

Cole did not appear at the luncheon. Elvira asked her secretary, who said that Cole had some work to do and would not be coming over.

Elvira frowned. She did not blame Cole. After that fire, Cole seemed to be different from before. In the past, he was taciturn. Now he spoke even less. She did not know what was wrong with him.

Spike called Zach about the news of the search for the arsonist, but he still could not find him.

After listening, Elvira said, "Since we can't find him, let's not look for him anymore. It's a waste of manpower and financial resources. Let's wait for him to come looking for us."

"What do you mean?" Zach looked at her worriedly. If he could not find the suspect who wanted to hurt Elvira, he would not be able to feel at ease.

"It's difficult to find someone, but it's much easier for him to find me. As long as I intentionally reveal a flaw, I'm guessing that person will definitely want to kill me again after failing to achieve his goal last time. In that case, let's lure the snake out of its hole," Elvira said calmly, her eyes filled with killing intent. "No, absolutely not. I will not let you take the risk," Zach immediately rejected her idea.

Elvira was stunned for a moment. She knew that he was worried about her and felt uneasiness in his heart. "It must be a good plan. I already said that I deliberately gave him a loophole. We can't do this immediately.

"If we suddenly remove the bodyguards, it will definitely make him more vigilant. After a while, you don't want that danger to always be around, right? Only by using me as bait can we completely eliminate the danger." "No way!" Zach still refused. His face was as darkened.

"I'll leave this to you. When the time comes, we'll just move him into the dark. It's better than being on tenterhooks all the time, alright? I guarantee that I'll listen to you completely," Elvira hugged his arm and said coquettishly.

At that time, Zach did not say anything else. He was thinking about the feasibility of Elvira's idea. In fact, he also knew that she was right. Leaving the poisonous snake in the dark and waiting to bite at any time was better than luring it out and killing it. However, he could not accept using Elvira as bait.

"We'll see. Maybe we can find someone." Zach still could not convince himself to let her take the risk.

11.57 Sun, Dec 8

"Alright" Elvira knew when to stop. She did not force him to a some buffer time. He would slowly accept it in the future.

"By the way. I have something to discuss with you. Carmen's da called me and said that she wants to find a job in your compan pated her head and asked 83%

"Alright!" Elvira knew when to stop. She did not force him to age anymore. She first voiced out her thoughts and gave him some buffer time. He would slowly accept it in the future.

"By the way, I have something to discuss with you. Carmen's daughter is gone, and she does not want to leave Jersten. She called me and said that she wants to find a job in your company wonder if you have a suitable position for her." Zach patted her head and asked.
Sun, Dec

She Got A Better Man

"If she wants to work, why don't you arrange one for her? Why would she think of my company?" Elvira picked up a piece of meat to eat. She felt that request was a little strange. needs to be given a job. She's not in good health. No one will want her if she works elsewhere, Zach explained. He would feel more at ease if Carmen worked for his wife's company. "She said that it was to avoid suspicion, but she doesn't know much. She can even clean up. She

Elvira nodded. "Alright, I'll go back and see what position is available. She's your savior, so she's also my savior. I'll arrange a suitable position for her."

"My wife is magnanimous and righteous!" Zach pinched the flesh on Elvira's waist.

Elvira almost spat out the meat in her mouth. She glared at him and gestured to eat quickly.

The guests, especially Elvira's employees, ate happily. Thinking about their bright future, they were really happy. They even ate an extra bowl of rice.

Especially when they saw how loving Elvira and Zach were, they felt even more confident. In the future, even if the company fails, Gilbert Group will still be used as a backup. They were really lucky to have entered such a company. After eating, Elvira became even more sleepy. She could not even open her eyes. Zach did not care if there were many employees around. He carried Elvira and left the banquet hall first.

The staff members exclaimed and clapped enthusiastically.

Elvira looked at him reproachfully, but she could not resist her sleepiness. She lay in his arms and fell asleep peacefully.

Elvira slept for the entire afternoon. When she woke up, it was already dark outside. She looked at the dark sky outside and stretched. Zach was not around. He might have gone to his office. She took her phone and was about to call Cole, The bedroom door opened, and Zach walked in. Elvira did not expect his coming. She put down her phone and reached out for his hug.

Zach looked at his beautiful, soft, and sweet wife in front of him and quickly walked over to hug her. He carried her to his lap and kissed her again and again. Elvira lay softly on his chest, wrapped her arms around his waist, and rubbed against him. "Why didn't you go to the office? I thought you were going to work." Elvira laid limply on his chest like a cat.

"How can work be more important than your wife? I'm worried about you sleeping alone at home. It's the same even if you use the computer to work." Zach kissed the top of her head again and greedily breathed in her scent.

"Zach, you're too good to me. Sometimes, I feel that it's not real. I'm afraid that this is all a dream. When I wake up from the dream, there will be nothing left. I'm still the pitiful little thing that no one loves." Her father had never liked Elvira since she was young. In the past, she did not understand. Later, she realized that it was because her father's love had been given to his other daughter, so she had always felt insecure. Now, even if she had a man who loved her very much, she would occasionally wonder if all of this was real. She would wonder if she would lose him or not.

The pain caused by her family would take a lifetime to heal.

After listening to her, Zach lowered his head and bit her shoulder. The slight pain made Elvira feel real and at ease. She smiled and said, "I know it's not a dream."

"Get up after you've had enough sleep. Let's go out and eat something. Do you have anything you want to eat?" Zach kissed her lips again.

"Do you want to eat roast duck?" Elvira wrapped her arms around his neck and asked.

"Eat if you want. I'll accompany you," Zach said as he carried her to the washroom.

33%

"Then what do you want to eat? I'll eat with you." Elvira blinked her beautiful big eyes and tugged at his clothes as she asked. He was good to her, and she wanted to be good to him.

"What you want to eat is what I want to eat. Go wash up obediently. I'll go get your clothes." Zach patted her head and went to prepare her clothes.

Elvira washed her face and rinsed her mouth before coming out. Zach had already prepared a pyjama for her to wear when she went out. The soft fabric felt like nothing on her body. He had spent a lot of money to buy it for her. After changing their clothes, the two of them went hand in hand. Zach held a glass of water in his hand, worried that she would be thirsty. He also had some daily necessities in his hand. Meanwhile, Elvira had nothing on him.

Zach got someone to book a private room at a famous roast duck restaurant. On the way, Elvira asked, "Do you mind having another person to eat with you?"

"Who do you want to call?" Zach minded. He only wanted to spend some time alone with his wife.

"I want to call Cole. I saw that he seemed to have something on his mind after the fire, so I wanted to ask him to come out and move around more. You don't know how much of a homebody that guy is usually. He doesn't have any social interaction other than work," Elvira could not help but complain. She was actually quite worried about Cole.

"Sure." Zach immediately agreed. He might have minded others, but Cole's favorability had soared in his heart, and he tried not to mind it.

"If only he was willing to find a girlfriend! Wouldn't he get sick from being alone every day?" Elvira rubbed her chin while thinking about that idea.

When Zach saw that Elvira and Cole really had no other intentions and even took the initiative to help him introduce a girlfriend, he was even more relieved. His smile became bright.

"That's a good idea. He's not young anymore. It's time for him to start a family." Zach agreed with her idea.

"It's a good idea, but it's difficult. That guy is like a monk. I've only seen him with any opposite sex after so many years." Elvira leaned her head on Zach's shoulder in frustration. She was thinking about a suitable candidate for Cole.

Zach felt a little helpless, His wife was exemplary in every way, but she was a little clueless. The person Cole liked was her. Of course, Cole would not have any thoughts about other women.

However, he would not expose that matter. He hoped that his wife would never know.

"I just thought of someone!" Elvira suddenly sat up. Her eyes lit up, and she looked very happy.

"Oh? Who is it?" Zach was quite curious about the person she thought of.

"Cheryl Porez, I think she and Cole are quite compatible. Why don't I ask Cheryl if she interested?" Elvira was suddenly a little excited. That was her first time being a matchmaker.

"Why don't you call Cole and ask him to come out for dinner first? Otherwise, we'll have to wait for him when we get there. You'll have to go hungry. Zach did not want his wife to wait for others on an empty stomach.

"Oh, that's right. Then I'll call Cheryl as well. Can you help me check if the two of them are suitable?" Elvira messaged the two of them.

The two of them replied pretty quickly and said that they would be there soon.

Elvira sent them the address. She hugged Zach and said, "If only they could succeed"

2

She Got A Better Man

"It depends on fate. You see, we didn't know each other at first. Our marriage started from a misunderstanding and ended becoming a real marriage. This kind of thing can't be forced. Fate can't be stopped, so don't be anxious." Zach comforted

up

her.

Elvira considered it and agreed. Although she had not believed in fate in the past, fate could perfectly explain her relationship with Zach.

The two of them had just finished ordering at the roast duck restaurant when Cole arrived. His place was relatively close to the restaurant, so he came quickly. After a few minutes, Cheryl also arrived.

She looked at the people in the private room. She knew Elvira and Cole. However, she did not know the handsome man sitting beside Elvira. That person's aura was too strong. She, who had come happily to meet him, did not even dare to breathe loudly. "Ms. Willis, Mr. Bennett." Cheryl was scared out of her wits. Other than Elvira, she was afraid of the other two men. She was actually quite afraid of Cole. As long as he was around, she felt pressured and did not dare to talk to him. "Cheryl, have a seat. I don't have much to do. I just wanted to treat you guys to a meal. Don't stand on ceremony. Let me introduce you. This is my husband, Zach Gilbert, Zach. She's Cheryl Porez. I've mentioned her to you before," Elvira said with a smile. "Hello, Mr. Gilbert. Please take care of me in the future." Cheryl quickly bowed and greeted Zach. The obedient look of a primary school student made Elvira want to laugh.

"Cole, I don't need to introduce you. You know each other." Elvira smiled and pulled her to sit down.

"Mr. Bennett." Cheryl took the initiative to greet him.

Cole responded indifferently and said nothing else. The dishes were almost served one after another, and Elvira called for everyone to eat.

Cheryl was no longer as lively as when she was alone with Elvira. Elvira wanted to laugh when she saw Cheryl's weakness and helpless look. However, She kept taking care of her while she was eating. Cheryl ate so much until she full. was

Seeing that, Cole said, "We're about to enter the production team. We still have to control our diet."

He knew how important that movie was to Elvira. That was the conclusion between her and the Willis family. There could not be any mistakes.

After hearing that, Cheryl immediately stopped eating. In fact, she was already stuffed. However, with the two bosses sitting here, she did not dare to say that she was stuffed.

"It doesn't matter if you only eat one meal. You seem to have lost weight again. You don't have to lose weight anymore." Elvira looked at Cheryl. She seemed to have lost a little more weight than before.

"I just want to look better on camera. I've lost another 3 pounds recently. I'll try to lose another 3 pounds before I join the production team Cheryl quickly explained.

"No need. Don't lose any more weight. You're already so thin. You can't eat less." Elvira dissuaded her. If she ate less, he would become a bamboo pole. It would not look good, either.

"Cole, ask the assistant to keep an eye on her. Don't lose any more," Elvira reminded Cole worriedly.

Cole nodded. He would carry out Elvira's words without hesitation.

Zach did not say a word from the beginning to the end. He had been taking care of Elvira as he was eating. He even rolled her roast duck. Cheryl was stunned when she saw that moment, she admired Miss Willis even more now. It was really amazing that the two ice-cold men listened to her every word. As expected from Ms. Willis. She must not lose this golden thigh.

Elvira did not even know what it meant to have a meal, but Cheryl had so many thoughts in her little head.

After dinner, Elvira asked Cole to send Cheryl back. First, Cheryl refused the offer, saying she could take a taxi, which Elvira noted was not safe. She then insisted that Cole would accompany Cheryl back.

After watching Cole drive away with Cheryl, Zach pulled Elvira into the car.

"I don't think the two of them have any feelings for each other." Elvira felt that his first attempt at matchmaking had failed. "Yes, I can see that. Don't worry. They will have their own feeling to each other," Zach hugged her and comforted her. "Yes, I'm not worried about Cheryl. I'm worried about Cole. I'm really afraid that he'll die alone:

In the past, Elvira did not think that Cole's cold personality was wrong. Ever since the fire, he had become even colder, making her worry about him.

"Don't worry, he won't. It's just that his fate hasn't arrived yet." Elvira could only comfort herself like that.

Elvira gave Carmen a clerical job and asked her to print out the meeting materials every day and prepare fruits, coffee, water, and other snacks for the participants. She did not want Carmen to feel pressured, so she first gave her some simple and easy jobs. She had even asked the supervisor to take good care of her.

When the supervisor heard that, he knew that Carmen was well-connected and had a good attitude toward her. After working for two days, Carmen felt that she could still accept the workload and slowly relaxed.

it.

Elvira did not deliberately let Carmen look down on her. She hoped that everything would go according to the flow. Elvira could not comfort Carmen about the fact that she had lost her child. If Elvira mentioned it, it would only add salt to her wound. It was better not to say Cole brought news that Judy's movie had already started filming.

After listening, Elvira nodded and said, "There's no need to be anxious. Let's just proceed according to the original plan. Judy Willis is in a mess."

In the first plan, Judy's start-up plan was later than Elvira's. Now that she had suddenly moved forward, it could be seen that Elvira had frightened Judy. Elvira sneered. Let Judy jump around for a few more days.

Ever since the company moved together, Zach would go downstairs to eat with Elvira. Sometimes, he wanted to call Carmen to eat with them. Whenever Carmen saw him, she would run away faster than a rabbit. Elvira also noticed it. She asked, "Why does Carmen seem like she doesn't want to see you?"

"It seems so." Zach also noticed it.

"She's a pitiful person. Let's not disturb her. I think she's been doing quite well these few days. Let her live a quiet life." Elvira smiled and shook the man's hand.

"Okay, let's eat. Eat more." Zach picked up a chicken drumstick for Elvira.

hur hea

They n

Armbur called Jarden in the Thursday. Zach Fire viewed the hope Theme avenue tires people waiting for the pit in the city new. Do you think he did not purpose to rake you losers out of the grand before arriving Monday.

She Got A Better Man

Jayden opened a can of beer and took a few sips. When he heard that, he said, "I don't care what he thinks. I won't go out for the time being. It won't be so easy to catch me!"

Amber had called him out. She was terrified that he would come out and cause trouble for her and her daughter, but she was relieved to see that he had no intention of coming out.

She did not expect Jayden to be so reliable. If she had known earlier, she would have sought him out to solve that problem before Elvira married Zach. Now, Elvira had Zach. It was as if she had armor and was immune to poison.

Amber was tired of fighting Elvira. Even if she did not want to admit it, she had to. She was afraid that Elvira would do something to her daughter again. She heard that she was going to release a movie at the same time as Judy. Because of that, she often had insomnia. She was afraid that Judy would lose to Elvira again. Amber had heard from Judy that she had almost put her life on the line at that time.

If she lost that time, her life would be over.

Hence, Amber was anxious and helpless against Elvira. Now, she was in regret that she did not kill Elvira when she was young. At that time, it would be so easy to kill her without anyone knowing.

"I'm relieved that you're safe. If you need anything, just look for me. I'll try my best to help you," Amber reminded him.

"Alright, I understand. How's my daughter recently? I went to see her secretly. She looks very much like me when I was young. One look and I can tell that she's my child." Jayden thought of Judy's beautiful appearance and felt a sense of satisfaction.

"Yes, she looks like you. It's just that because of Elvira. I'm under too much pressure now. I've been losing my hair because of insomnia. The father of the child refuses to marry her because of Elvira. He doesn't even want the child. How can she be good?" Amber deliberately added fuel to the fire and slandered Elvira. She still had a little selfishness in her heart. After that, incident, she could tell that Jayden was indeed capable. She still hoped that Jayden could resolve the disaster.

"What? Why didn't you say so earlier? I didn't see that she was pregnant when I saw her. Which beast dared to bully my daughter like this? I'll kill him!" Jayden panicked when he heard Amber. He was so angry that he threw the half bottle of beer in his hand to the ground and stomped it.

"It's not the man's fault. It's all because of Elvira. She seduced Judy's fiancé, causing him to refuse to marry Judy no matter what. In the end, the one who deserves to die the most is Elvira Willis!" It was not that Amber did not want Jayden to deal with Calvin. It was just that she was too afraid that Elvira would harm Judy. It was more important to deal with Elvira Willis.

And that Calvin was now a pauper with nothing. She could not even be bothered to look at him now.

"Elvira deserves to die. That heartless man deserves to die, too! I won't let him off! Then I'll deal with that bit of bitch Elvira first. I don't believe that she's so lucky that she can escape every time." Jayden stared fiercely at a little rat in front of him. The rat was so frightened that it did not dare to move. Its eyes were filled with fear.

Amber ignited Jayden's anger again. She put down the phone in satisfaction. She really did not expect Jayden to be so helpful after more than 20 years. He had become the sharpest blade in her hand.

Amber left the toilet in a good mood. She went downstairs and prepared to go to the beauty salon to get her face and body done. She had to take good care of herself so that she could firmly assume the position of Mrs. Willis's family forever. When she arrived downstairs, she saw Karen walking in from outside. Amber immediately smiled and welcomed her mother-in-law, wanting to show off.

After more than 20 years, she had gotten used to it. She walked towards Karen and wanted to help her up. However, Karen slapped her hard in the face. Amber was stunned. She looked at Karen in disbelief and did not know what had happened. 10:00 Mon, Dec 9

Countless thoughts flashed through her mind. Could it be that Karen knew about her daughter's background? That was impossible. Even Zach could not find Jayden, especially her. What else could it be?

"Mom, what happened to you? Did I do something wrong to make you unhappy? Amber looked at Karen apologetically

In the Willis family, she was already used to dealing with Karen, Karen hit her left cheek, she would extend her right cheek so that Karen could continue hitting until she opened her heart, Otherwise, she would think that it was so easy to be the daughter-in-law of a wealthy family.

Many women who married into wealthy families were spat out like phlegm after giving birth. In the end, they would get nothing.

She thought she was the most successful daughter-in-law of a wealthy family. She would never admit defeat.

"You bitch, how dare you cheat on my son!" Karen slapped her face again.

Amber was even more confused. 'Cheating? How could she be so stupid as to abandon the wife of a wealthy family and cheat on someone?'

"Mom, I'm innocent. Did someone tell you something about me? How could I..."

Karen held up a video in front of Amber. Amber carefully looked at the video. When she saw its content, her vision darkened, and she almost fainted.

That was the video in which she wanted Elvira to sleep with her but was tricked into sleeping with another man.

At that time, her husband, Elvira, and Calvin had seen the video,

Because of that incident, her husband was no longer willing to touch her. Every time she took the initiative, he hid. That was the most painful thing for her. 'Why was the video on Karen's phone now? Elvira, it must be that little bitch Elvira! Other than her, no one else knew about that!'

Her husband and daughter could not harm her. It was also impossible for Calvin to hurt her. There was only Elvira Willis.

"Mom, let me explain. It's not what you see. It's Elvira. She harmed me. Actually, Calvin knows about this, too. I really didn't cheat." Amber covered her face and cried as she defended herself.

"Stop quibbling. If it weren't for Judy, I would have kicked you out! We can't afford a slut like you!" Karen did not listen to her explanation at all and left angrily.

She was really disgusted by that video. She did not even want to see Amber anymore.

Amber looked at Karen's disdainful expression and gritted her teeth. 'It was clearly not my fault, but Vincent and Karen despised her so much. Just wait. When Judy completely defeated Elvira, that little bitch, and completely stabilized her position as Willis Group's chairman, she would teach these two useless fellows a lesson!'

Elvira sent the video to Karen. She always felt that Amber had been living too comfortably recently, which made her unhappy.