

She Got A Better Man 291-300

Zach was extremely worried at the moment. He wished he could kill Cole for taking Elvira away. His priority was to save Elvirá at the moment. "Elvira, no matter what happens, we will never be apart," Zach said as he held back his tears.

"Zach, I know," Elvira replied softly. No matter what he said, she responded gently.

When Honey returned, she looked at Elvira eagerly. She was a little afraid of the fierce Cole. The person she trusted the most now was Elvira. Elvira spoke to Zach for a while more before hanging up. She then turned to look at Honey who was looking at her eagerly.

Elvira smiled at her and said, "You must be hungry. I'll get someone to bring food."

"Elvira, I don't really want to eat it." Honey was still very afraid just now. She was afraid that she would really die this time. However, when she saw Elvira's gentle smile, she was not so afraid anymore. 29

"You have to eat even if you don't want to. We don't know what's going to happen next. You have to maintain your strength. Cole, bring two portions of food over. Honey and I want to eat." Elvira paused for a moment.

Knowing that Cole had not eaten since he boarded the plane, she said, "You have to eat too. No matter what, we have to maintain our strength." Cole had mixed feelings when he heard this. He went to get two portions of food. One was just an ordinary plane meal, and the other was a nutritional meal for Elvira.

Archer almost broke down when he saw Cole's actions. With Cole's actions, it seemed like he could no longer have the Woolridge family supporting him.

Archer quickly snatched the plane meal away and exchanged it for two portions of nutritional meals. He said, "The nutritional food we brought is enough. The young lady looks quite pitiful, so give her one."

Cole glared at Archer with displeasure. It was not that he did not know what Archer was up to. It was just that he did not want to see Elvira injured again, so he tacitly agreed to his words. He was borrowing Archer's power to bring Elvira away.

No matter how many nutritious meals they had brought, the situation was still uncertain. He did not know how long they would have to stay on the plane. He did not want to waste nutritious meals on irrelevant people.

He stared at Archer coldly. "Bring me the plane meal!"

"Mr. Bennett." Archer wanted to remind him of Honey's identity, but looking at Cole's cold expression, he felt that even if Cole knew Honey's identity, he would not give her a nutritious meal. Therefore, he could only silently return the plane meal to him.

With a cold expression, Cole took the two dishes and left. He placed them in front of Elvira and Honey. Honey was a little afraid of him as she thanked him softly.

Elvira ignored him. She had to let Cole know that she was not tolerant of him. She was very angry that he actually secretly drugged her and wanted to take her away.

Honey opened the box and took a look. It did not look delicious. However, she thought of what Elvira said and started eating.

Elvira opened her box to reveal a delicious and nutritious meal, toney had been pampered all her life, so when she heard Elvira's words, she forced herself to eat the airplane food in front of her, which she found repulsive. But when she saw the delicious meal, she immediately felt that the in-flight meal was hard to stomach:

She looked at the nutritious meal in front of Elvira with longing. She really had no appetite for the airplane food.

Elvira swapped her food with hers. "Eat this."

Elvira could easily tell that Honey was a pampered young lady and knew that she wasn't accustomed to food like airline meals.

Honey's face instantly turned red and she quickly refused, "Elvira, there's no need. I can eat this."

She felt shy about taking someone else's food.

"It's alright. I'm not too hungry yet. I'll just eat whatever is available," Elvira said nonchalantly. When she picked up her fork, Cole took her food away. Elvira felt speechless.

"I'll eat this. You're pregnant now, so you have to eat something nutritious." Cole could only take out another portion of a nutritious meal and give it to Elvira. Meanwhile, he shot Honey an unfriendly look.

Honey was startled. She immediately felt wronged and angry. However, in this situation, she did not dare to say anything.

Elvira gently held her hand and comforted her. "Don't lower yourself to his level. He is always like that. He's not targeting you."

Honey's mood improved after hearing her Elvira's comforting words. She asked, "Elvira, are you pregnant? I couldn't tell at all. I thought you were single."

"I'm married. I'm only three months pregnant, so you can't tell. You look very young. Why did you come out alone? Did you have a conflict with your family?" Elvira asked patiently.

Honey felt melancholic at the mention of this. She nodded. "Yes. I quarreled with my parents and ran away from home."

"Your parents are probably very anxious now. If you have any problems in the future, you have to communicate with your parents. Don't run away from home again." Elvira raised her hand and patted her head.

Honey lowered her head, remaining silent. She whispered, "I was too angry. I'm only 16, but they want me to get engaged to someone. I don't like that person at all, but they forced me to accept it. The only way I can resist is by running away from home."

Elvira didn't know what to say. She thought Honey's parents were really quite ridiculous. Their daughter was only 16, and they were already rushing her into an engagement.

need a nanny? I can take care of you." Honey felt that Elvira was a kind person. She wanted to stay with Elvira "Elvira, do you while she was away from home.

"Sure, you can stay with me for now. When you want to go home I'll get someone to send you home. Elvira saw that she was young and inexperienced. Now that society was dangerous, a young girl like her was easily deceived. So she felt that it would be safe for Honey to stay with her.

Of course, the prerequisite was that the two robbers were willing to give up the crash and let them go.

When Honey saw that Elvira was willing to bring her along, she was instantly happy. She even had an appetite. Elvira's phone rang again. It was Zach. She picked it up.

"Elvira, how are you now?" Zach was especially worried about her condition. He was flustered that he could not talk to her for even a second.

"I'm eating. I'm fine. Don't worry too much," Elvira replied gently

She was clearly in such a dangerous environment, but she kept feeling so uncomfortable that she wanted to cry.

"Did you eat anything? I won't allow you to go hungry. My heart will ache." Elvira guessed that Zach was probably not in the mood to eat after knowing that she was in trouble. When she thought of this, her heart ached a little. She blamed Cole for being impulsive this time. "I will. Elvira, just bear with it for a little longer. The matter will be resolved soon." Zach comforted Elvira, at the same time, he was also comforting himself.

"Then have some food first. Call me later. I'm going to eat." Elvira gently persuaded him before hanging up and starting to eat.

Honey looked at her gentle expression and was very envious. "Elvira, are you on the phone with your husband? You two are really close."

"Yes, we love each other very much," Elvira replied with a smile. When she thought of Zach, she seemed overjoyed.

"In the future, I also want to marry someone like that. That's why I hate the marriage my parents arranged for me! Elvira, I won't compromise. I also want to marry someone I love like you did. Only then can I be happy." Honey looked at Elvira and made up her mind. Elvira thought for a moment and said, "You're right. Your parents shouldn't force you. However, you'd better contact your family after you get off the plane and tell them that you're safe. They must love you a lot."

Honey was doted on by her family. Therefore, even if his parents were at fault, Elvira did not want them to worry too much. It was only right to inform them that she was safe. As for resisting such an unwanted marriage, of course, it was also necessary.

"I know, Elvira. When I thought I was about to die, I missed my parents so much that I regretted sneaking out. If you hadn't saved my life, I really wouldn't have been able to see them." Honey sniffled sadly. "Alright, hurry up and eat. Don't act rashly in the future," Elvira comforted her before starting to eat.

After the two of them finished eating, Honey immediately began to fulfill her duty as a nanny. She tidied up the trash and wiped the table.

Elvira did not stop her. It was actually not a bad thing to have something to do. Otherwise, she would only be indulged in worry in this situation. Elvira's gaze was filled with worry when she looked at the cockpit.

She wondered if she'd get away with it this time. She reached out and touched her stomach. She didn't want the baby to leave before they'd seen the world. It hadn't been easy for them to come.

After the meal, no matter how much Elvira tried to comfort herself, she still looked worried. Honey was the same. In the beginning, she could still chat happily with Elvira, but towards the end, she stopped talking. The anxiety on her face was visible.

The agreed time was up. The two robbers were also waiting for the results. Elvira received news from Zach that one of the robbers' families had been saved, and the other robber's family had been killed.

Elvira felt that this result was very dramatic.

At the same time, Cole also received the same news. Archer quickly continued to persuade the robbers, but no one paid attention to him anymore.

The plane suddenly experienced a violent bump. No one knew what had happened in the cockpit. Everyone was so frightened that they screamed. Honey was frightened. She cried and said that she did not want to die as she held Elvira's hand tightly.

Elvira was also panicking. After all, she was just an ordinary person.

60, 83%

The plane suddenly began to fall rapidly. Everyone screamed even more in fear, thinking that they were definitely dead this time. There were cries in the plane. Elvira had just hung up on Zach, and now he was calling again. Elvira did not dare to answer. She was worried that he would be even more worried if he learned this situation.

When Zach saw that Elvira was not picking up the phone, he became very irritable. His subordinate suddenly said, "The plane is descending. If this continues, I'm afraid the plane will..."

The person at the side hit the head of the person who spoke hard, indicating for him to shut up quickly.

Sure enough, when Zach heard this, his body could not help but shake a few times. He felt a tearing pain in his chest and he tasted the blood. He looked at the rapidly falling plane on the screen and spat out a mouthful of blood, scaring everyone who worked for him. "Mr. Gilbert!"

His subordinates were shocked. They rushed over and helped the swaying Zach to sit down. His eyes were red, and his voice sounded like he was lamenting. "Elvira..."

"The plane has stabilized, it has stabilized!" The person who had been staring at the plane shouted again. The plane that had fallen over 6 thousand feet suddenly stabilized. No one knew what had happened, but the passengers seemed to be safe.

Zach pushed away the person supporting him and rushed to the monitor. He stared at the plane that was slowly climbing again. He found his phone and continued to call Elvira.

Elvira had yet to come back to her senses. The severe weightlessness just now made her entire body collapse. She could not answer her phone even when it rang.

Honey was so frightened that her face turned pale. Her eyes were dull and her entire body was trembling.

The cockpit was opened. Everyone looked at the robber who walked out covered in blood and said, "His family is dead, and he wants to crash the plane. So I killed him. My family is not dead. I don't want to die!"

The robber seemed to have suffered a huge blow. Perhaps it did not feel good to kill his companion with his own hands, causing him to be on the verge of collapse.

Archer immediately rushed over and grabbed him. His subordinates also came over to help tie him up.

Now that the plane was unmanned, they could only let the captain fly it. However, no one dared to take the risk because they didn't know if the captain was innocent. At this moment, Cole and Archer were in a dilemma. Archer regretted not bringing someone who could fly a plane.

"Why don't I give it a try? I have a pilot's license." Honey finally came back to her senses. She knew what problems everyone was facing now. She had gotten the pilot's license because she had nothing to do previously. She felt that it was better to have her fate in her own hands. "Honey, are you sure?" Elvira had recovered and looked at her in surprise. Honey nodded.

"Cole, quickly tie up all the crew members and keep an eye on them!" Elvira had had enough of this feeling of being on the verge of death today. All she wanted now was to get off the plane safely.

She Got A Better Man

Honey knew how to fly a plane and it looked like she was doing well. Everyone heaved a sigh of relief when they saw her flying skillfully.

Archer immediately contacted the ground to confirm the landing. The people on the ground heaved a sigh of relief when they knew that the people on the plane were safe. A hijacking was a big event. If this plane really crashed, it would have a negative impact on the world.

Elvira was invited by Honey to sit beside her. Without Elvira, Honey would not be confident. Only when Elvira sat beside her would she feel at ease and be able to fly the plane.

After Zach learned that the situation was under control, he contacted Elvira. He held his chest and frowned. He felt a sharp pain in his chest. "Hello, Elvira. Are you safe?"

"I'm safe now. Don't worry, Are you feeling unwell?" Elvira keenly sensed that something was wrong with his voice.

"No, I'm just too happy to know that you're safe. Elvira, see you later," Zach endured the pain in his chest and said.

"Alright, see you later." After Elvira put down the phone, her heart suddenly beat very fast. She felt uneasy. It was as if something bad was about to happen..

Cole saw that she did not look well and asked worriedly and guiltily, "How are you? Do you want a doctor to come and take a look?"

In order to ensure the safety of Elvira, he brought a doctor with him. He was afraid that she would feel any discomfort during the flight.

"It's nothing. I'm just a little scared." Elvira rejected his good intentions.

When Cole saw how indifferent she was to him, he felt terrible. He knew that his actions this time had angered her, but he really could not see her get injured because of Zach. He wasn't acting on impulse. He had planned this for a long time.

Honey was so excited about flying such a big plane that she did not notice the abnormality in the cockpit. She was still happily sharing the excitement of flying the plane with Elvira.

The plane landed safely. The people on board were so excited that they cried bitterly. Everyone was taken away. The injured were pulled away by the ambulance, the dead were sent to the funeral home, and the robber's body was also pulled away. The robber who killed his companion was also dead. He was seriously injured when he fought with his companion, and he could not make it.

This made it more difficult to investigate the hijacking incident. However, Cole and the others were already very lucky that they did not suffer any greater losses.

Archer looked at the friendly government officials and suddenly had an idea. He quickly sent a message to his father and asked him to publicize the fact that Cole was the one who saved everyone today. He wanted to establish Cole's reputation and lay the foundation for future power seizures.

After Elvira arrived at the hotel, she immediately called Zach and asked him where he was. Zach's plane was still flying at sea and would arrive in about an hour. He told her to wait for him at the hotel.

Elvira obediently waited for Zach in the hotel. Honey stayed with her, thinking that she would sleep with her tonight.

After Cole perfunctorily negotiated with the officials, he came to look for Elvira. He knew that he could not keep her after this incident. His heart was filled with pain and regret.

Archer, on the other hand, no longer cared about Elvira's whereabouts. As long as Cole left Jersten, he would not be able to return. Elvira let him in. Honey immediately went back to her room. She was a little afraid of Cole. "Zach will arrive in an hour. I will return to Jersten with him then. What are your plans next?" Elvira walked in and asked.

Cole did not say a word after following her in.

"Since you've regained your memory, can you tell me who you are? What's your identity?" Elvira already knew that his identity was not ordinary. However, he did not take the initiative to mention it before, so she did not ask. "Can't you stay?" Cole's voice was dry and weak. Perhaps he knew that his request was a fantasy.

She had a family and a husband in Jersten. The Gilbert family was very good to her. She seemed to like that family very much and treated them as family.

Because Elvira had been neglected since she was young and was abused by her birth family, she yearned for actual kinship. The Gilbert family had made her feel it, so she was definitely unwilling to let go.

"I won't stay because Zach isn't here and my family isn't here. I just want to be with them," Elvira replied firmly.

When Cole heard this, tears instantly flowed out because he knew that he was really going to lose her.

Elvira was moved for a moment, but she immediately restrained her feelings. She loved Zach very much and liked his family very much. She really liked her current life and did not want to change it. Moreover, she had a baby. She wanted her baby to be born and raised in a particularly loving family. She wanted her baby to be loved by everyone and not grow up in such a harsh environment as she did.

Elvira's heart ached as she watched Cole cry. He had accompanied her for many years. She had long treated him as family.

After Cole had cried enough, he began to confess his background to Elvira. He started the story when he woke up from the fire.

Elvira frowned as she listened to Cole's explanation. She did not expect Cole's life to be even worse than hers. He was murdered by an evil stepmother. After everyone thought he was dead, his stepmother and her child took away everything he had. Moreover, his stepmother was too good at disguising herself. Before she pushed Cole into the sea, he actually never suspected her at all. He had long treated her as his biological mother.

Therefore, when she revealed her true color, Cole was stunned and powerless to reverse the situation. This time, Cole came back to take back everything that belonged to him. After listening, Elvira said, "Cole, you earned all the money for the company. I will continue to develop the company and make money to support you."

Elvira knew that seizing power required money. She would support him unconditionally in whatever he did.

Cole looked up at her in shock and asked, "Don't you hate me?"

Elvira was amused by his words. "Why should I hate you? If you have anything to say in the future, just tell me. I've long treated you as family. I'll support you unconditionally in whatever you do." +5

She Got A Better Man

Cole did not expect Elvira to say such words to him. He thought that his selfish act that almost killed her would make her hate him. He did not expect that not only did she not hate him, but she was also willing to support him unconditionally.

"Do whatever you want to do. I might not be able to help you in other aspects. If you need money, just tell me." Elvira emphasized again. She did not want him to have any worries.

"I'm sorry." Cole finally knew that he was wrong. He sincerely apologized to her.

Elvira smiled and said, "You don't have to apologize to me. I don't blame you. I just hope you can understand that since I'm married to Zach, I want to be with him even if there are risks. But don't worry, I'll be more careful in the future. I won't let myself get hurt so easily."

Cole was still very sad. He knew very well that he could not go back after leaving this time. Even if he wanted to abandon everything and go back, those people whose interests were associated with him would not allow it.

"Okay," Cole replied softly, trying his best to hide his bitterness and helplessness.

"You must be tired. Go and have some rest. Don't think too much. Since we've already come this far, we can only look forward." Elvira was very smart. She had already guessed Cole's situation.

Archer was filled with shrewdness and calculation. It was obvious that he did things with a purpose. Fortunately, it seemed that Archer was on the same side as Cole and would not harm Cole. After Cole left, Honey came out of the room. She skipped to Elvira and said, "Elvira, I'm hungry. Why don't we eat something first?"

Elvira looked at her and found it funny. "Alright, but I'm too tired now. I don't really want food to our room. Order whatever you want. Let's rest for a while after eating."

move. Call someone to send the Honey quickly nodded and went to call for food. Elvira was really tired. Although she did not move much, she had been tense for the entire day.

Now, they were not in the country where the plane was supposed to land. There were still uncertain factors on the plane, so no one dared to take the risk. Therefore, they landed on the first available site. Honey ordered a lot of food. She still growing and ate a lot. Elvira had lost her appetite after eating a little. She was very worried about Zach's situation now. After eating, she went to the sofa to rest.

"Elvira, why aren't you sleeping?" Honey asked as she munched on a chicken drumstick.

Elvira smiled. "My husband will be here soon. I'll wait for him to come before sleeping."

When Honey heard that, she was very envious. Even though she had never seen Zach before, she could imagine that he was a very good man.

When Zach arrived, Elvira was a little sleepy. When she heard the knock on the door, Elvira immediately sat up and opened it. Honey was still eating. She stared at the door as she ate. Elvira opened the door eagerly. As expected, Zach had arrived. He stood at the door with anxiety in his eyes, but all his anxiety turned into gentleness the moment he saw Elvira. Elvira's heart ached when she saw how haggard he was. She threw herself into his arms and said in a choked voice, "Zach, you're here."

Zach hugged her tightly and kissed her hair: Smelling the scent that belonged only to her, he finally felt relieved. He tightened his grip on her. This could make him feel more at ease

"I'm sorry I'm late," Zach apologized to her in a hoarse voice.

Elvira shook her head. "You are not late at all. The timing is just right."

Honey looked at Zach who was still very handsome even though he was haggard. It was not that she did not expect Elvira's husband to be a handsome man. She did not expect him to be so handsome.

At this moment, Zach realized that there was someone else in the room. He frowned slightly. Honey quickly blinked and continued eating her food, not daring to look around.

Her heart was pounding non-stop after being stared at by the handsome Zach.

Elvira pulled Zach into the room. When she saw Honey, she introduced her. "Zach, this is Honey Woolridge. She's also a passenger on the plane. She's very capable and knows how to fly a plane. If she hadn't driven the plane back today also a wouldn't have known what to do."

When Zach heard that, his expression improved a lot. He said, "Thank you."

Honey quickly waved her hand. "No need. It was Elvira who saved my life first. If it corpse by now, so you don't have to thank me."

Zach nodded and did not say anything else.

"Honey, you should sleep for a while. I'm going back to my room." Elvira pulled Zach back to her bedroom.

After entering, Zach carefully checked if Elvira was injured. He was afraid that she had hidden injuries that he did not know about.

"I'm really fine. As for you, what's going on? Why do you look so pale? Are you hiding something from me?" Elvira stopped him and held his hand as she looked at him seriously.

Zach shook his head. "I was just too worried about you and got scared. Elvira, The moment I saw your plane plummet, I felt like I was falling with that plane. Fortunately, you're fine." Zach held her face and looked at her seriously as if he could not get enough of her.

Elvira's heart ached when she saw how helpless he looked when he spoke. She took the initiative to kiss him so that he could feel her breath.

"Zach, don't be afraid. I'm fine. Baby is fine too. Baby and I will always be with you," Elvira comforted him as she kissed him. The tears in Zach's eyes intensified and almost fell. In order to not let Elvira feel uncomfortable, he forced back his tears. The two of them kept hugging each other. They were too tired. After this incident, they were both physically and mentally exhausted. The two of them lay on the bed and felt each other's heartbeats before falling asleep.

Elvira was woken up by the heat. When she woke up, she realized that something was wrong with Zach. He seemed to have a fever.

She Got A Better Man

"Zach, wake up. You're sick!" Elvira gently called out Zach's name

Zach snorted softly and did not wake up. Elvira was slightly shocked. She reached out to touch his forehead. It was terrifyingly hot. She quickly took her phone and called the bodyguards to hurry over.

The bodyguards arrived very quickly. The few of them helped Zach out of the door. Elvira did not even have time to change her clothes. She just put on a jacket and followed then out.

Seeing this, Honey quickly followed. She asked Elvira what had happened. Elvira said that Zach suddenly had a fever and went to the hospital. Honey followed her. She did not want to wait in the hotel alone. She was afraid that Elvira would leave and not come back. Cole also followed them to the hospital.

The doctor gave Zach a detailed examination and said, "This gentleman seems to have suffered a huge shock, causing him to have a high fever. I'll give him some antipyretic first. If he continues like this, I'm afraid his brain will be damaged."

The doctor quickly applied medicine to Zach. The fever had already reached more than 100 Fahrenheit. If it continued, it would be bad.

Elvira frowned as she listened. She asked the bodyguard, "What frightened him? Tell me clearly."

The bodyguards lowered his head and did not know if he should say it. It was not until Elvira was angry that someone dared to tell the truth. "Mr. Gilbert has been feeling uneasy ever since he found out that you have gone missing. Later, when he found out that the plane had been hijacked, he was extremely anxious. Later on, the plane even plummeted for a distance. At that time, we all felt that there was no chance of you surviving. I reckon Mr. Gilbert thought so too. At that time, Mr. Gilbert vomited blood. If the plane had not stabilized later, I think he would not have lasted until now."

After the bodyguard finished speaking, Elvira's body swayed. Honey quickly supported her. She could not help but exclaim in her heart that Zach was so concerned about Elvira.

Honey had never seen such a man before. The couples she had met usually were secretly at odds with each other. For example, her parents, sisters, and brothers-in-law were all involved in marriage alliances. On the surface, they looked happy with their partners, but in private, they did not care about each other at all.

She could guarantee that if something happened to her sister, her brother-in-law would not be worried. Honey had always thought that the infatuated men she had read about in books did not exist in reality.

Seeing such an infatuated man today, she was shocked. She could also feel that Elvira loved Zach very much.

It turned out that such sincere love really existed in this world. Honey became even more determined and felt that she was not in the wrong. She wanted to find her own love and not be a tool for the marriage alliance like her parents and sisters.

Cole felt extremely guilty when he saw this scene. His brows were tightly furrowed. He wanted to apologize to Elvira again, but he felt that it was useless to apologize now. The damage had already been done. All of this was caused by his selfishness and narrow-mindedness.

Elvira accompanied Zach to the ward. Zach was still unconscious. The nurse gave him an IV drip. Elvira sat at the side and held his hand as she looked at him.

She knew that he loved her, but she did not expect him to love her so deeply that he was willing to throw away his life. Zach seemed to have sensed Elvira's sadness. He opened his eye slowly. Elvira quickly stood up and looked at him. "Zach, why didn't you tell me that you were sick? You really scared me to death."

"I'm sorry for making you worry." Zach looked at her guiltily, his eyes filled with love.

"Don't apologize. It's all my fault for making you worry. Zach, you have to be fine. If anything happens to you, what should I and the baby do?" Elvira leaned over and pressed her forehead against his. Tears dripped onto his face.

Zach's heart trembled slightly. He gently touched her face and said, "Elvira, don't cry. For you and the baby, I won't let anything happen to me. I'll quickly make myself better." Elvira's forehead moved away from him as she said softly, "There's no need to hurry. You just have to listen to the doctor. The baby and I will accompany you to recuperate."

"Alright, I'll listen to you." Zach held Elvira's hand and felt her warmth. As long as Elvira was by his side, he was not afraid of anything.

Archer told Cole about Honey's identity. "I've discussed it with my father. The Woolridge family is very powerful. If you can obtain their support, it will be very helpful for you to seize power in the future. Therefore, it's best for you to take down Honey." "What do you mean?" Cole was distracted, so he was listening. When he heard Archer's words, he questioned unhappily.

"Make her fall in love with you!" Archer looked at him firmly.

Cole found it ridiculous. "That's impossible!"

"Mr. Bennett, there's no turning back. It's impossible for you and Elvira to be together. You can only look forward and do what's best for you," Archer warned him sternly.

When Cole heard this, he felt frustrated. Bringing Elvira out was his decision. If Archer had forced it, he would have kicked him away long ago.

"What do you want me to do?" Cole looked at him coldly.

"Think of a way to make Honey fall in love with you and obtain the support of the Woolridge family," Archer said without hesitation.

"Are you crazy? Honey is still so young." Cole had long guessed Archer's thoughts.

"Just make her fall in love with you first. You can marry her when she reaches the legal age. I can tell that Honey is a simple person. As long as you think of a way to make her fall in love with you, she will be willing to give up everything for you."

"I have no choice and I have no interest to do so. I will use my own power to take back what belongs to me. I don't need to rely on these unorthodox methods." Cole rejected him very bluntly. He did not want to listen to his nonsense anymore. He stood up and left. Archer fell silent. He thought, 'This person is really stubborn. If not for the fact that he can make my family more prosperous, I really do not want to serve him.'

However, Cole was already tied down with Archer. Archer had no choice but to serve him. Since Cole was unwilling to do it, he would do it. Honey was such a good pawn. He could not let her go to waste.

Zach's body did not recover very quickly, especially since he had been having a fitful fever for the past few days. He also looked very weak. Elvira's heart ached for him terribly. She accompanied him and did everything for him.

Honey had been with Elvira the whole time, so she was also in Zach's ward. Fortunately, Zach was switched to a suite later on, so Honey could sleep on the sofa when she was tired. Occasionally, she would help Elvira do something. The more she saw, the more envious she became of the love between Elvira and Zach.

She brought her drawing paper with her. When she had nothing to do, she would paint while using Elvira and Zach as protagonists.

When Zach fell asleep, Honey asked Elvira about how they fell in love. Elvira told her about her marriage with Zach.

This gave Honey even more inspiration. She planned to publish a love comic, starting with their wedding.

Elvira did not object and asked her to give her a copy when it was published. Honey agreed readily.

Cole had been there a few times, but he did not come in and just sat outside. When Honey saw him, she quickly retreated like a mouse seeing a cat.

He sneered and thought, 'On the plane, I did not treat this little girl well. How can Archer think of a way to make her fall in love with me?'

He was disdainful and uninterested. More than anything else, he found it ridiculous.

Elvira saw that Honey had returned and was sitting on the sofa without moving. She asked curiously, "Honey, didn't you say you were going to buy some food? Why are you back?"

"That horrible man is at the door," Honey said mysteriously.

"What do you mean?" Ever since Zach was hospitalized, Elvira had been attending to him. She did not have the time to think about anything else and did not leave the ward at all. The food was delivered by the bodyguards.

"It's Cole. He's really scary," Honey said angrily.

Elvira felt speechless.

"Actually, Cole is quite reliable. If you spend more time with him, you'll know. He only looks a little cold on the surface," Elvira explained and walked out of the ward.

Cole froze when he saw her come out. He did not want to disturb her. He just wanted to stay there for a while before leaving. "Since you're here, why don't you go in?" Elvira sat on the chair opposite him and asked.

"I'm too ashamed." Cole felt that he was too ashamed to face Zach. He did not have the courage to go in,

"I plan to let Zach recuperate here for a few days before returning to the country. When are you leaving?" Elvira did not want him to see Zach. Zach's illness was caused by his emotions. If he saw Cole, Elvira was afraid that he would not be able to control his emotions anymore.

After all, Cole tried to take Elvira and her baby away. From Zach's perspective, he probably would never forgive Cole.

"I haven't thought about it yet," Cole said with difficulty,

Previously, Archer had been urging Cole to hurry back to the country to prevent any accidents from happening. However he suddenly stopped urging him recently. Cole guessed that Archer was still unwilling to give up on Honey. 10:47 Sat, Dec 21 G.

This was good because Eole did not want to go back. In fact, he had never wanted to go back and fight for power with his vicious stepmother. In the beginning, he accepted this because he wanted to avenge Elvira. He wanted to punish those who bullied her and let them know that bullying Elvira would only pay a painful price.

"Since you've decided to do something, don't hesitate or back down." Elvira looked at him in surprise.

"But I... I understand. Take care of yourself and apologize to Zach on my behalf." Cole really felt sorry for Zach. After saying that, he stood up and left.

He thought, 'Elvira is right. It is impossible between her and me. I might as well carry on with my business.

If he continued to hesitate like this, he felt that it would really make everyone look down on him.

It was not that he cared about the others, but he cared about Elvira's opinion of him. Elvira was a person who would persevere until the end. It was obvious from the way she dealt with the Willis family. After making a decision, she would no longer be soft-hearted and hesitant. Cole wanted to become stronger so he could protect her.

Zach could not bear to let Elvira suffer and tried to do everything himself. His fever eventually subsided.

"Where's Cole?" Zach had never seen Cole since he came here. He wanted to meet Cole.

"He felt too ashamed to see you, so he sat outside whenever he came. If you want to see him, I'll get him to come Elvira was actually quite worried that Zach would beat Cole up, although she wanted to do the same.

Zach was silent for a moment before saying, "Forget it. Let's go back tomorrow. Grandma and the others will be worried if we don't go back soon. I said that you're accompanying me on a business trip. If we don't go back soon, we won't be able to hide it anymore."

"Alright, I'll ask the doctor if it's okay." Elvira was still most worried about his health. He had never been sick before.

"Okay." Zach did not object. He did not want her to feel uneasy.

Elvira went to see Zach's attending physician. The doctor said that he could go back. He just had to pay attention to his condition on the way.

After thanking the doctor, Elvira returned to the ward and told Zach that they could leave.

Honey asked weakly, "Elvira, can I go back with you?"

"I have no objections if you want to go, but do you really not want to tell your parents? They are probably very worried about you now," Elvira reminded.

"I'll tell them," Honey replied weakly. In fact, she was a little afraid now. She was worried that she would be scolded if she sent a message to her parents.

"That's good." Elvira did not want to interfere too much in her matters. She just wanted to make sure that Honey was safe.

Honey took her phone and went out. She was very hesitant about how to tell her parents about this. She did not know if she could really go with Elvira after sending this message.

She paced back and forth on the fire escape. Just as she was thinking about how to deal with this matter, someone suddenly rushed over. She was shocked. Before she could shout, she was knocked unconscious and carried away in a sack.

Elvira saw that Honey had been gone for a long time and had not returned. This had never happened before, so she asked the bodyguards to look for her.

She Got A Better Man

The bodyguards looked around but did not see Honey. They quickly reported this news to Elvira. Elvira was a little worried about Honey's safety. After all, Honey was still underage. If anything happened to her, her life might be ruined. She called Cole and told him about Honey's situation, asking him to help find her. Cole agreed.

Elvira put down the phone and returned to the ward. Zach was ready awake. He looked at her and asked, "What happened?"

"Honey hasn't returned yet. I was worried about her and got someone to look for her. How are you feeling today? Does your chest still hurt?" Elvira didn't want him to worry too.

Zach frowned slightly and said, "I'm much better. You don't have to worry about me. Get someone to go out and look for her."

"I've already sent them out. Let's wait and see." Elvira could only wait for the news.

Zach knew that she was anxious, so he said something else to distract her.

After Cole answered Elvira's call, his first reaction was that Archer was behind this. He immediately called Archer, but no one answered. He called twice, but it was the same. An unfamiliar message was sent to his phone. It was an address. When Cole saw the address, he rushed to an abandoned building. When he went upstairs and heard a girl's desperate scream, he frowned and quickly rushed towards the sound.

When Cole went upstairs, he saw a man pressing down on Honey and was about to forcefully defile her. When he rushed over, the people guarding by the side rushed over to stop him, but they were all beaten down by him.

Just as Honey was in despair, the person on her body was suddenly taken away. Cole directly kicked the person away. At the same time, he took off his coat and covered Honey, whose clothes had been torn apart.

Honey was scared out of her wits. When she saw that Cole had come for her, she felt close to him. She rushed over and hugged him tightly while crying in fear.

Cole glared at those people angrily. Those people quickly retreated and did not stay any longer. Anyway, this was just an act. Honey was really frightened. Cole wanted to push her away, but she hugged him tightly again and cried pitifully. Cole was a little impatient. He wanted to scold Archer for using such a dirty trick, but he did not know where he was at the moment. All he wanted to do now was to quickly send Honey back to Elvira.

With Honey's current state, Cole did not dare to send her to Elvira. He was worried that Elvira could tell that this was a show and she would suspect that he was also involved in this show.

Cole felt annoyed when he thought of this. He became even more annoyed when he heard Honey crying non-stop. He said coldly, "You're already safe. Don't cry!"

Honey was still crying non-stop. Cole would not dare to send her back in this state. He could only ask patiently, "Do you want to eat? I'll bring you to eat something delicious as long as you stop crying."

It seemed that Honey liked to eat delicious food, especially desserts. He hoped that she would stop crying with that offer.

Honey calmed down a little. She looked at him and said, "Send me back to the hospital. I want to be with Elvira."

"No way!" Cole refused decisively. If Elvira saw Honey like this, she knew that she would be pissed.

"Why?" Honey asked in confusion.

"She'll be worried when she sees you like this. She's pregnant now. It's already very tiring for her to take care of Zach every day. Do you want to cause her trouble again?" Cole naturally did not want to cause trouble for Elvira. Honey felt that his words made sense.

She could also tell that Elvira had been working hard every day for the past few days. to take care of Zach. She did not want to add to her worry.

Honey did not suspect that this was a planned incident at all. She believed that he had come to save her and had a good impression of him.

"Then I won't be going back. Thank you for saving me just now. Honey thanked him.

"You don't have to thank me. It was Elvira who asked me to look for you," Cole replied indifferently.

"Still, thank you." Honey finally stopped crying, but she was still very afraid. Only then did she realize that the world was really too dangerous and her family was right about it. "There's a women's clothing store up ahead. I'll go buy you a set of clothes and bring you to eat something. Calm down and give Elvira a call. Don't make her worry," Cole instructed.

Honey nodded to show that she understood. She called Elvira and said that she suddenly wanted to eat a dessert, so she took a taxi out to buy it Because the road was too far and there was a traffic jam, she had not returned yet. She didn't want Elvira to worry about her Elvira was relieved to know that Honey was safe. Elvira was already worried because of Zach's illness. She did not think that Honey would lie to her, so she told her to be careful and go back early.

After Honey put down the phone, she cried again. Cole, who had just returned from buying clothes, was speechless.

"Why are you crying again?" He really didn't understand what she had to cry about.

"Elvira is really a good person... She's so good to me. I'm so touched."

Othe

Cole got out of the car and let her change her clothes. After changing her clothes, he brought her to eat what she wanted to eat. After eating, Honey looked at a claw machine and insisted on dragging Cole to play with her.

ole did not have any feelings for Honey before. Now that he felt guilty towards her, he did not reject her. She Got A Better Man

Honey returned to the ward with a smile on her face. She looked very happy and was holding a few dolls in her hands.

When Elvira saw that she returned, she was relieved. Then, she asked worriedly, "Where did you go?"

"I just wanted to go out and buy some food. My phone ran out of battery. I'm sorry for making you worry," Honey apologized to Elvira with a guilty expression.

Elvira shook her head. "It's alright, as long as you're fine. Rest up. I'm going in to accompany my husband."

Honey agreed with a smile. After Elvira entered, she lay on the slightly wide sofa with a smile on her face. She suddenly thought of Cole's cold and handsome appearance and felt her heart beating wildly.

Honey's mind was filled with Cole. There was a smile on her lips as she thought of everything he did for her.

The next day, Elvira and Zach were ready to return to Jersten. Honey took her time packing her things. It was obvious that she had something on her mind.

"Honey, what's wrong? What's the matter?" Elvira could tell that Honey seemed to have something on her mind.

"Elvira, I suddenly want to go home. I'm sorry, I can't go back to Jersten with you. I'll definitely look for you in the future if I have the chance." Honey made up her mind.

Elvira felt that it was fine for her to go home. Her family would probably not force her to do something that she was unwilling to do after she talked it out with them.

"Alright, just be careful." Elvira felt that it was a good thing for her to go wander the world by herself.

. After all, it was not safe for a young girl to

"I just found out that Cole is going to my country. I plan to go with him," Honey suddenly said happily.

"Is that so? How did you know?" Elvira looked at her strangely. She wondered why Honey suddenly was not afraid of Cole anymore.

"Archer called me and asked me if I wanted to go back with him. I thought that I had been out for long enough and had even experienced tragic events, so I wanted to go back. It's safer to be with them," Honey explained. She naturally didn't say anything about her selfish motive. "Alright, I'll talk to Cole and ask him to take care of you." Elvira saw that she had already made up her mind, so she did not say anything else.

Honey reached out and hugged Elvira. Her tears fell uncontrollably. "Elvira, I'll definitely look for you in the future!" She couldn't bear to part with Elvira.

Elvira patted her back and said with a smile, "Alright, I'll wait for you. Contact me if you need anything."

Then they parted ways. Zach and Elvira left on a private plane. The doctors from Jersten rushed over to take care of Zach and Elvira. They had taken full precautions on this trip.

Cole looked at their plane and felt especially uncomfortable. He knew that he could never go back. He really wished that he had not regained his memory. He even wished that he and Elvir would stay in that small village forever. Unfortunately, there were no ifs. "Mr. Bennett, let's go. It's time to board the plane." Archer came over to call Cole.

Cole did not even look at him, He turned around and strode away. When he sat in the first-class cabin, he saw Honey. She smiled and greeted him, "Cole, I heard that you and I are from the same country, so I am going back with you."

Cole was expressionless and did not say anything. In the end, he nodded. Archer had been observing the interaction between the two of them. Seeing this, he finally heaved a sigh of relief.

He touched his nose and knew that he had offended Cole badly this time. However, he had no choice. He had to do whatever he could to help Cole seize power. This was the only way to help his own family.

After Zach and Elvira got off the plane, the two of them went home.

Zach told his family that he was on a business trip with Elvira. He did not dare to tell the truth. If his grandmother knew that the plane Elvira was on was hijacked, she would probably be so frightened that she would fall sick.

"Get some rest. Leave the company's matters to others." Elvira's heart ached when she saw that Zach's expression was still not good.

"Alright, I'll listen to you." Zach naturally would not refute Elvira's words. However, he could not rest yet. There was another traitor in the company. That person had collaborated with Samuel and wanted to seize his power.

. In other words, Samuel hadn't told his grandma about what happened to Elvira.

Skylar and Grace kept sending Elvira messages, asking when she would be back. Both of them were anxious, so Elvira told them that she was back.

The two of them rushed over immediately. They pulled Elvira along and asked about her. No one bothered to look at Zach's expression.

When Grace turned to look at Zach, she was shocked. "Fuck. Zach, why do you look so pale?"

When Skylar saw his expression, she panicked. "Zach, what's wrong? Are you injured?"

"It's not a serious injury. I suffered some internal injuries. I'll be fine after recuperating for a while. Don't make a fuss about it," Zach replied calmly.

"Look at your face. It's too scary. I'll go ask Louver for some medicine. No, I'll get him to come over and check you Skylar hurriedly took her bag and left. She loved Zach very much. out."

Zach wanted to stop her, but he was stopped by Elvira. Zach's injury this time did not seem to be ordinary. Elvira was also very worried about him. She would only feel more at ease if Louver checked on him. After all, Louver was not an ordinary person.

Grace was also worried about Zach. Although she was usually carefree, she actually cared about her family. She said, "Zach, how did you hurt yourself? Who could hurt you like this? Tell me and I'll avenge you." Elvira looked at Zach with heartache. Actually, she was the one who hurt him. If not for the fact that he loved her too much, he would not have been injured so deeply.

Just as Elvira was about to speak, Zach grabbed her hand and said, "Why are you talking so much nonsense? I won't die. You brat, just take care of yourself."

When Grace heard his words, she almost exploded in anger.

"Serves you right that no one loves you!" Grace said angrily. Elvira said, "I love him very much."

She Got A Better Man

Grace was instantly speechless. Zach smiled slightly and reached out to hug Elvira and kiss her lips. He deliberately showed off his love in front of Grace."

wife loves me. You have a child but your husband still doesn't love you."

Grace was almost driven mad by her brother. Skylar called Louver, but he did not pick up. Even when she went to look for him, she could not find him. The disturb him. stant only said that he had something important to do and did not allow them to Skylar was extremely anxious. She suddenly remembered that Louver seemed to have given her another number. He said that if there was an emergency, she could call this number.

She was too anxious when she saw that there was something wrong with Zach's body. She actually remembered this matter that she had forgotten.

She quickly searched for the number and called it. The call was quickly picked up. "Skylar, what's wrong?"

Louver was conducting important research. When he heard this special ringtone, he immediately took off his gloves and answered the call.

This was the first time Skylar had called him the number he had prepared for her. He knew that it must be something important.

"Louyer, there's something wrong with my son's body. Where are you? Is it convenient for you to come over and take a look at him?" Skylar asked anxiously.

"Don't worry. I'll be right there," Louver immediately agreed. He took off his gloves and was about to leave.

"Louver, the research has reached the most critical stage. If you leave now and someone else beats us to it, our losses will be huge," someone reminded.

"It's alright. I can afford it. You guys can continue. I'll come back after I'm done," Louver said nonchalantly.

Everyone was speechless. Losing hundreds of millions of dollars was like losing a few dollars to Louver.

They could only accept their fate and continue to do what they were doing. However, without Louver, they would not make any progress.

Louver came very quickly. Ever since he found out that Skylar would stay there, he moved a portion of his things to Jersten in order to be closer to Skylar. Louver got Skylar into his car. She opened the door and saw a bouquet of flowers. Skylar asked in confusion, "Who did you buy these flowers for?" "You," Louver said without hesitation.

"Why did you give me flowers?"

ylar picked up the bouquet and fiddled with it.

It seemed like she had not received flowers for many years. After all, she was already so old.

Louver looked at her puzzled expression and thought, 'No wonder my friend said that my way of pursuing her was too reserved. Hence, he said seriously, "I want to pursue you!" "So it's you..." Skylar suddenly paused and looked at him in disbelief. She asked, "What did you say?"

"I want to pursue you," Louver replied seriously.

Skylar quickly threw the flowers away and said, "I refuse."

"Why?" Louver asked with a frown.

"Do you know how old I am? Do you know how much older I am than you? I can even be your mother," Skylar asked speechlessly.

"You're only 18 years older than me. I don't care," Louver said.

"I'm going through menopause. I can't have children anymore." Skylar threw out the most realistic question, trying to cut off his fantasy.

"I don't need children. After I die, I will donate all my money. I never thought of having any descendants." Louver was very honest. He had already thought things through Naturally, he could refute whatever she said.

Skylar looked at him in shock. She did not expect him to think so deeply about the matter. "That won't do either. We're not suitable for each other. If we go out, others will think that we're mother and son

"Do you have some misunderstanding about yourself? You look at most like my sister now. How can you look like my mother!" Louver looked at her resentfully. Skylar thought, "The main point is that we aren't compatible, okay?"

"Think about it. Your children have already accepted it. I'm not in a hurry. Let's go and see how your son is doing," Louver said.

"What? My children? What do you mean?" Skylar was shocked and looked at him nervously.

"It seems like I'm a failure. The whole world knows that I'm pursuing you, but you don't." Louver shook his head helplessly. Skylar thought, 'I have always treated him as a kid. He is no different from my son. Why does he like me?'

Skylar sat there in a daze. The two of them arrived at Zach's residence. After exchanging pleasantries, Louver began to treat Zach.

He carefully examined Zach's body and said, "There are some internal injuries that need to be recuperated. I'll prescribe some medicine for you. You'll recover in no time."

"Dr. Page, please check my wife too. She's pregnant." Zach gently looked at Elvira.

Elvira was stunned for a moment. She did not expect Zach to ask Louver to check on her. She did not feel any discomfort. Ever since they reunited, he had been asking her to go for a checkup.

At that time, she did not feel any discomfort, so she did not go. She didn't expect him to still be so concerned.

Louver looked at Elvira's abdomen in surprise. "Congratulations

Zach's smile widened. "Please be careful."

Elvira did not expect Louver to know traditional medicine. She was very curious.

Louver was very serious and responsible. He smiled and concluded, "Don't worry, the two babies are very strong. They're developing especially well now."

He could tell that she was having two babies just by doing basic procedures. It could be seen that his medical skills were very impressive.

"Thank you, Dr. Page." Elvira also thanked him with a smile. She looked at Zach and said coquettishly, "You should be relieved now, right?"

"I don't feel at ease with you no matter what." Zach looked at her affectionately. Because he loved her too much, he was concerned about her.

Elvira was helpless. She knew that this was a sign of love, but she did not want him to lose himself for her.

"What's there to worry about? I'm right here. How are you going to recuperate like this?" Elvira glared at him helplessly.

"I can recuperate with you around." Zach did not want to miss her for even a minute.

Elvira felt that she should take him to see a psychiatrist. After all, she didn't think that it was possible for them to be inseparable forever.

After Honey grabbed a few dolls, she was a little discouraged because she could not catch the doll she wanted the most.

Cole could not stand it anymore. He helped to grab it and threw to her. "Let's go."

"I still want that doll." Honey pointed at the big doll on the counter, her big eyes shining.

Cole thought that she had indeed suffered an undeserved calamity today. It was only right for him to compensate her. Hence, he asked the owner how he could get that doll.

The owner said that he had to pass a series of challenges to get the big one. Cole paid for the ticket, passed all the challenges, and won the big doll.

Honey was extremely excited. She asked the owner of the entertainment place to put all the dolls she got into a big bag. She carried it on her back and followed Cole back.

Cole saw that she seemed to have forgotten about the kidnapping. He reminded her again in the car not to let it slip and make Elvira worry.

She immediately agreed. Her current state did not seem like she had just experienced kidnapping. She was so happy. Cole felt helpless and thought that she was indeed still a kid.

She Got A Better Man

Louver asked Skylar to go back with him to get the medicine. Skylar could have gone, but Louver had suddenly confessed to her. This made her unwilling to interact with him anymore. After all, she was devastated to suddenly be confessed to by a junior. However, for the sake of Zach and her reputation, she pretended not to care and followed him.

After the two of them left, Elvira looked at Zach and said with a smile, "Mom is quite cute when she forces herself to calm down."

"I hope Louver isn't a scumbag," Zach said worriedly.

Elvira walked over and comforted him. "I don't think so. Louvers an extremely opinionated person. He knows very well what he wants. Since he chose Mom, he must be sincere to her."

"I hope so." Zach's emotions were indescribable. He could also see that Skylar was pretending to be calm. He hoped that Skylar would be happy in the end.

Skylar returned very quickly. Louver also came back with her. Zach and Elvira were used to this. After all, it was only natural for them to do this since Louver wanted to pursue Skylar.

When Zach saw Louver, he felt upset. As long as he thought about how this man who was only a few years older than him would become his stepfather in the future, he could not take him seriously.

Elvira did not think much of it. She could tell that Louver was sincere to Skylar, so if Skylar liked him, it would actually be a good thing.

Grace had also returned. She could also tell that something was wrong between Skylar and Louver. Her eyes were filled with scrutiny. Fortunately, Louver did not show anything. Instead, he allowed her to size him up.

When Grace saw how calm he was, the grudge in her heart dissipated a lot. Elvira fed Zach medicine and accompanied him to sleep. After he slept, Elvira quietly left the room.

At this moment, Grace and Skylar were in the room. Louver had already left.

"Elvira, come over and sit. What do you think of this Louver?" Grace had already told Skylar to find a husband. Skylar was young and beautiful. There was no need for her to be single for the rest of her time. Grace felt that it was unnecessary for Skylar to remain single for her and Zach.

"I think Dr. Page is quite good. Mom, you should think about it," Elvira walked over and sat down. She suggested seriously.

"You two..." Skylar looked at the two of them speechlessly. It turned out that what Louver said was true. She was really the only one who was kept in the dark.

"Mom, I'm serious. If you find someone who's about your age or older than you, they will smell bad, right? Why don't you find someone young and strong who can bring you to experience some new and exciting things and take care of you!" Grace said seriously.

"I agree with this idea. Mom, we're not short of money now. You just need to be happy. If you're happy, we can live in peace." Elvira especially agreed with this idea.

"But I don't want to remarry. I just want to wait for Elvira to give birth and take care of your child." Skylar looked at the two of them helplessly.

Grace said, "Mom, I think this will affect my brother and sister-in-law.

a).ne

Look at how much Zach loves Elvira and cares about the baby. He doesn't need you to take care of his baby. In the end you still have to have your own life.

"From the looks of it, Louver is a reliable man. Mom, why don't you think about it? It's not bad to give yourself another chance in marriage." Elvira also felt that she and Zach could take care of their own kids. Although there was no probably between her and Skylar at the moment, she was worried that they might have disagreements if they took care of her babies together.

Skylar listened to them and changed her mind. She felt that perhaps she could really start a new life.

One month later, Zach's body had completely recovered under Louver's meticulous treatment. At this time Elvira was already more than four months pregnant. Because she was pregnant with two babies, her stomach now looked a little bigger than normal.

Grace, Skylar, and Tracy Gilbert bought her a lot of maternity clothes. Elvira had recently realized that her shoes had become smaller. She was a little puzzled as to why her feet were still growing. After careful inspection, she realized that her feet were swollen.

was

She rubbed her swollen feet and felt a little depressed. It turned out that pregnancy was such a difficult thing. She already felt fortunate that she did not suffer from vomit and sickness.

Elvira suddenly thought of her birth mother. She did not know what her life was like when she was pregnant with her. She wondered what happened to her mother, which led to her being abandoned. After the meeting, Zach rushed down to eat with Elvira. When he came in, he saw Elvira rubbing her feet. He quickly walked over and asked, "What's wrong? Are your feet not feeling well?"

"My feet are a little swollen and my shoes are a little cramped. I have to buy a pair of bigger shoes to wear," Elvira explained

Zach looked at her swollen feet and said with heartache, "It's my fault. I was too careless and didn't notice such an obvious change. I really deserve to die."

"Don't make this such a big deal. Don't talk nonsense in the future," Elvira quickly stopped him.

"I'll get someone to send over a pair of shoes that are a size larger for you to wear for now. I'll get someone to make more comfortable shoes for you." Zach took the phone and instructed someone to do it. Looking at how nervous he was, Elvira could not imagine how nervous he would be when she was in labor. She wasn't worried about giving birth, instead, she was worried about how Zach would react to it. Elvira's swollen leg alarmed everyone in the family, so Elvira received all kinds of large shoes.

"How are things going at the company? I heard from Grace that our father went against you this time?" Elvira looked at Zach and asked worriedly.

"It's just a small matter. You don't have to worry about it. The most important thing now is for you to recuperate." Zach was a little angry at Grace's big mouth. He didn't want Elvira to be worried.
