

She Got A Better Man

Elvira's gaze swept across the crowd and saw Lily, who was a self proclaimed paragon of righteousness, glaring at her. She smiled and asked, "Miss Watson, do you still think I should apologize to Judy now?"

Lily did not expect that Elvira would still ask her a question. Before her vicious gaze changed, everyone around turned to look at her. Lily's expression froze. The cameras and phones were all aimed at her, exposing her ugly side.

Lily had no choice but to reluctantly explain, "Since it's all a misunderstanding, you naturally don't have to apologize." She then cursed Elvira inwardly, Jerz, why call me for no reason?"

Elvira looked at Lily with a half-smile and said, "Turns out that Miss Watson calls intentional framing a misunderstanding. I'm really uninformed then. Are parents really at ease entrusting their children to a teacher like you? If it were my child, I certainly wouldn't be at ease."

"I'm sorry," Lily said. "It was a slip.. a slip of the tongue. Of course, there's no need to apologize for this kind of intentional framing which is directed at you. Instead, the other party has to apologize to you Lily was forced into a corner by Elvira, so she had no choice but to stop arguing. With so many pairs of eyes watching, she did not want to lose her teaching qualifications.

Elvira looked at this woman coldly and responded with a question, saying, "Miss Watson, you have falsely accused me for so long Shouldn't you apologize to me too?"

Lily replied, "T... I'll apologize to you..."

"It's okay, Elvira said. "I don't need your apology. I won't accept it even if you apologize. I won't forgive a morally corrupt person like you. If you truly want to apologize, get out of the teaching profession and stop harming the children of our country. Elvira would never forgive this selfish teacher who only cared about her own interests.

Lily's face flushed red with anger from Elvira's words. Sensing the strange gazes of the people around her, she could not stay here any longer. Blushing, she turned around and left. She truly hated Elvira to the core. She felt that Elvira was deliberately finding fault with her. I didn't witness the real situation at that time, so she can't blame me for misunderstanding her, right? "she thought did you hear that?" Elvira said. "Your Miss Watson has personally said that I don't need to apologize to you. Instead, you should apologize to me. But you don't have to apologize to me either. I won't forgive you. I've done what I wanted to do today. Thank you all for watching the whole thing. There's a surprise. Don't leave."

Jud

With that said, Elvira tossed the microphone and left the stage.

Everyone was curious, wondering what the surprise she mentioned was. A video started playing on the big screen. The explicit scene was accompanied by the super awesome stereo surround sound. It was clearly the voices of a man and a woman making love... The main characters in the video were none other than Calvin and Judy.

Everyone was shocked.

Judy looked at the video on the big screen and screamed in fear, Turn it off. Turn it off. Hurry up and turn it off! This isn't real! This is fake. It's all fake! Ah!"

Calvin's face darkened. He let go of Judy and rushed forward, wanting to turn off the video, but he was stopped by someone.

Karen's face had turned livid. Vincent watched as Elvira left elegantly after completely disrupting the party. He picked up the wine bottle beside him angrily and threw it at Elvira Elvira had just stepped off the stage and was not far from Vincent. The people arranged by Zach, who was beside Elvira, could not stop Vincent in time. Elvira felt the back of her head was hit hard. Dizziness washed over her. As she turned around and looked at the man who was glaring at her and wishing he could kill her, she felt sorrow...

15:33 Sat, Nov 23 Gu Chapter 66

She thought. This is my biological father! Clearly, it's never me who does anything wrong, but I'm always the one who is punished, scolded, and made to take the blame! No matter what Judy does wrong, she's always right. No matter how right I am, it's still wrong! Upstairs, Zach was extremely pissed off when he saw this scene. He immediately got up and rushed downstairs. In less than a minute, he ran to Elvira's side and reached out to hold her. She was about to collapse.

"Honey, my head hurts a little, Elvira said as she covered the back of her head and looked at the man who was embracing her.

Zach lifted Elvira, looked at Kenneth, and quickly said, "Mr. Parker, I'll leave the person who intentionally harmed her to you. I hope you can give me a satisfactory outcome."

Kenneth was also furious. He thought, Vincent is really asking for trouble, daring to harm a woman in front of me like this Does he think he has been living too comfortably lately?

"Take this suspect who caused injury back for interrogation!" Kenneth immediately ordered. His subordinates immediately went forward to handcuff Vincent and prepare to take him away

Seeing that her son was about to be taken away, Karen stopped them and said, "You're not allowed to arrest my son! This is a family matter of the Willis family. Outsiders have no right to interfere."

"Your son is suspected of intentional assault, Kenneth said. "When the victim's medical report is out, we'll decide how many years to sentence him. Take him away!" With that said coldly, his subordinates dragged Vincent away.

Amber said, "Vincent. Vincent. Karen. Elvira is too heartless. She actually got someone to capture her dad. She's not a kind daughter!" She continued to smear Elvira.

But the guests were not foolish. Instead, they looked at her as if she was a fool, thinking, 'Clearly. Vincent injured Elvira. What's wrong with arresting him? What does it have to do with Elvira?'

Calvin and Judy finally found a way to turn off the video of themselves. Both of them were sweating profusely.

Karen had already put on a smile and said to the guests, "Ladies and gentlemen, my unkind granddaughter has already left The party will continue. Please enjoy the food and drinks"

It had to be said that everyone was amazed by Karen. Members of the Willis family made such an ugly scene in front of everyone, and her son had also been taken away. However, she could still continue hosting the banquet without batting an eye.

A few famous big shots in the distance saw the man who had just carried Elvira and walked away. Surprised and uncertain, they came closer together and asked each other.

"I'm not seeing things, right? The person who carried Miss Elvira away just now is the guy from the Gilbert family, right?" "You're probably not seeing things. I saw it clearly too. It's the head honcho of the Gilbert family."

"If that's the case, Elvira's backer is the Gilbert family... I have some matters

""I'm leaving too."

s to attend to at my company. I've got to o go now."

Several influential family heads were leaving early. Karen tried her best to persuade them to stay, saying, "Mr. Wesley, the celebration hasn't officially begun yet. How can I let you make this trip in vain?" "Mrs. Karen, I really have something to attend to, Ronald Wesley said. "Goodbye" Ronald left first.

Karen then turned around to persuade another guest, saying. "Mr. Bush, you should at least stay and observe the ceremony 15:33 Sat, Nov 23 G before leaving

"My family's discipline is strict," Jacob Bush said. "I can't afford to provoke my spouse. Goodbye," Jacob also left quickly.

Karen said, "Mr. Arthur..."

"Mrs. Karen, you have an ulterior motive for hosting this banquet Johnny Arthur said. "Forgive me for not being able to stay. Some people are not one that I can afford to offend. He then quickly left.

II

Karen watched helplessly as the people she wanted to curry favor with left one by one. She frowned, thinking, What exactly do these people mean? Who is the person they can't afford to offend? It can't be Elvira, right? Karen was confused, but she could no longer turn the situation around.

1

She Got A Better Man

The other guests were sharp too. Seeing that these heavyweights left early, they were certain that the situation was complex There was no point in staying any longer. They had come here to make friends with people of a higher caliber than themselves. Now that these heavyweight figures had left, they thought there was no need to stay.

In no time, the banquet, which was initially filled with many guests, had only a few guests remaining. These remaining guests were all minor celebrities and social media influencers.

The internet was filled with criticisms of Judy and Calvin. Judy's reputation was completely ruined. She would be nailed to the pillar of shame as a homewrecker for the rest of her life.

When Karen returned, Judy was crying while hugging Calvin, looking utterly aggrieved. Members of the Kennedy family looked displeased too. Seeing Karen return, Roxanne said angrily, "Elvira went too far. How could she make this matter known to everyone? How can Judy face other people from now on?"

Karen said sternly, "Judy, remember this. Only the weak need tears. You are the future heir of the Willis family. You don't need tears. Since it has already happened, go and solve it. Crying won't solve the problem. Don't be so conflicted over such a trivial matter. "Okay, Grandma," Judy said. "I'll do as you say?" She wiped away the tears on her face and put on a tough look. She truly hated Elvira to the core now.

Tonight was supposed to be her most glorious moment, but it was ruined by Elvira. It ended up being the most embarrassing moment for her. Now, her reputation was completely ruined.

There was a commotion. Shirtless and holding his pants, John ran downstairs, pointed at Karen, and scolded, "Damn old lady, you promised to give me Elvira. What do you mean by giving me a fake now?"

Stacy's clothes were also in a mess as she ran downstairs. At first, she hated Elvira for scheming against her. Later, she analyzed the situation. She was not favored in the Willis family. Karen hated Stacy's mother, and by extension, hated Stacy too. So, considering her situation, marrying a wealthy man seemed quite difficult. I might as well force John to marry me after what happened today, she thought. 'After all, John is a rich kid.

"Grandma, you have to stand up for me, Stacy said. "I lost my virginity today. John, you have to take responsibility for the thing you have done to me!" She stepped forward with determination to grab John.

"I'm not going to fucking take responsibility!" John said. "Don't touch me! None of you from the Willis family is a good person. I've been fooled big time by you people!" John certainly did not want to take responsibility. He thought, "This woman isn't even worth a strand of Elvira's hair. I'd only take responsibility if I were crazy!

John was afraid that Stacy would pester him, so he turned around and ran off.

Seeing the man who was so passionate about her earlier yet showing such disdain now, Stacy burst into tears out of frustration.

Karen scolded Stacy sternly, saying, "Hurry up and get in. Is it not embarrassing enough?"

Feeling utterly wronged, Stacy ran away in tears.

In the car, Zach hugged Elvira tightly and asked her which part of her body she felt unwell. Elvira rested her head on his shoulder and said gently, "I felt a bit dizzy when I was hit, but I'm fine now. It shouldn't be anything serious,"

"Close your eyes and rest for a while," Zach said. "Let's go to the hospital for an X-ray" He gently touched the back of her head. Even though there was no bleeding, there was a bump forming there. An intense sense of menace flashed across his eyes.

15:33

Elvira sensed his anger and tightened her grip on him. She leaned forward and kissed his lips. Th Finally, I've successfully taken the first step of revenge today. I'm very happy!" 364% really fine," she said.

"Don't move, or you'll get dizzy again," Zach said. "I've always known that you're amazing!" He held her neck so that she would feel more comfortable.

Seeing Zach's careful demeanor as if he was afraid she might feel uncomfortable warmed Elvira's heart. However, she did not want to listen to him. She just wanted to kiss him again. "Zach, you know what?" she said. "The luckiest thing in my life is marrying you!" When Zach heard Elvira's confession, his gaze intensified. "Elvira, don't seduce me right now," he said. I'm afraid I won't be able to control myself and end up hurting you?

Elvira widened her eyes and looked at him, saying, "When did I seduce you?

"Your confession just now was seduction," Zach said. "It's extremely seductive!" When Zach heard her words earlier, he wished he could hold her tight against his body. He couldn't handle such seduction from her. Elvira was left speechless.

She thought, I was just talking about my true feelings. How come it ended up as seducing him?"

"You kissing me is also seduction," Zach said. "You know I can't resist your seduction." Zach leaned over and kissed her, their lips and teeth coming into contact.

"Even if you just stand in front of me, that's considered seduction too, Zach said. "Whenever I look at you, my body will become unusually excited. You know that. Zach believed that his body's physical reactions accurately reflected his feelings and desires. Elvira was his best stimulant.

Elvira's face was extremely flushed. She thought. This guy's words are too irresistible."

When they arrived at the hospital, Zach insisted on getting a full body checkup for Elvira. Elvira was carried by him to various examination rooms. The results came out, indicating that Elvira was in good health, and the blow she received didn't cause any major harm. The bulging bump would go down on its own.

It was only then that Zach was at ease and took Elvira home.

The first thing Elvira did when she got home was to take off her gown and hang it in the wardrobe. She had already removed her jewelry when she was in the car. After knowing the value of these things, Elvira was still not particularly bothered when she was at the banquet. However, after leaving the hotel, she found these things very heavy.

Elvira was exhausted. She had a lot of questions to ask Zach and Tracy, but she wanted to rest right now. She decided to wait until she felt more refreshed to ask, not feeling the need to address her questions immediately.

Seeing Elvira's weary expression, Zach offered to help her take a bath. In the bathtub, as he looked at her graceful figure, it was getting hard for him to control himself. Elvira was amused she looked at Zach, who was like a hungry wolf that wanted to devour her but was restraining his desire. She reached out and grabbed his collar, pulled him into the bathtub, and took the initiative to kiss him.

Zach felt her initiative and passion, and his body became even more excited. He kissed her back, and their lips and tongues intertwined. Elvira's hand moved down his chest, all the way to his hard part to help him relieve it.

In the bathtub, the water rippled, and the suggestive voices that made one blush could continuously be heard.

Elvira was fatigued and sleepy. She did not even know how she would get back to bed. After Zach helped her dry off, he carefully blow-dried her long hair. Then, he cleaned himself up and went to bed to hold Elvira in his arms. He kissed Elvira's forehead lovingly and closed his eyes in satisfaction.

When Elvira woke up the next day, Zach was no longer in bed. After getting up, she went to the dining room and saw a sticky note left by Zach on the fridge.

964%

Π

The message read. [Breakfast is in the kitchen. Heat it in the microwave before eating. Don't eat it cold. I have some urgent matters at work, so I'll leave first. I'll have lunch with you at noon.]

Elvira couldn't help but smile as she looked at the adorable sticky note. It was very cute, but Zach's handwriting was sharp, creating an endearing contrast. She was not in a hurry to have breakfast. Remembering the incident with the gown, she called Tracy to ask her about

She Got A Better Man

Chapter 68 64 %1

Tracy was delighted to receive Elvira's call and asked her if she had enjoyed the banquet she attended yesterday.

"Tracy, thanks to you. I dazzled everyone at the banquet yesterday, especially the gown and jewelry you lent me." Elvira said. "Some professionals said they are antiques. Is that true? She had a burning desire to find out about this.

Tracy told Elvira the truth, saying. That gown and jewelry were wedding gifts from my grandmother when I got married. My grandmother was a royal princess, so those things are indeed considered antiques. The gown and jewelry are meant to be passed down to my granddaughter-in-law. I didn't lend them to you. I gave them to you."

"Tracy, your grandmother was actually a royal princess," Elvira said. "This is so cool.

"Yeah." Tracy said with a smile. "My grandmother doted on me a lot, but she passed away many years ago. She left me some other things, which I'll give to you in the future."

"I'll thank you in advance then, Tracy, Elvira said. "But I'll still send the gown and jewelry back to you first. Help me keep them. I'll get them from you when I need them. I'm used to being clumsy. I'm afraid I'll accidentally damage these precious things." Elvira walked into the kitchen to heat up the breakfast that Zach had prepared for her.

"Alright." Tracy said. "Send them over, and I'll keep them for you. But you have to pay me a fee for safekeeping. I won't help you for free. Tracy particularly liked Elvira's emotional intelligence. Every word Elvira said made her especially happy.

"Absolutely!" Elvira said. "I'll hand over all my salary to you and let you buy me delicious food. This way, I'll be the happiest child in the world... Tracy, have you had breakfast? What did you eat for breakfast!"

After heating breakfast, Elvira chatted with Tracy while eating. Both of them had a delightful conversation. There was continuous laughter.

It had been an hour since Elvira ended the call with Tracy. She noticed several missed calls on her phone. Just as she was looking at them, Olivia called her.

"Hey, Olivia," Elvira said. "You have seen the news, right?" She was in a good mood, her tone was cheerful.

"I saw it," Olivia said. "I saw it. Elvira, you're really a badass! I adore you. You were simply the strongest female warrior last night. You're a goddess!" Olivia worked overtime yesterday to deliver babies. It was midnight by the time she finished her work. She was worried about disturbing Elvira's rest, so she waited until morning to call her.

"I still feel that I didn't perform well in some areas," Elvira said with a smile as she bit her fork. I have to review it and try to do better next time."

"You've already scored full marks," Olivia said. "But that surprise in the end, the explicit video between Calvin and Judy, where did you find it? You're amazing. Now that Olivia thought of the video, she felt that she had to buy some eye drops Otherwise, she would end up with sore eyes.

"Well, I got someone to edit it, Elvira said confidently. "It's just AI face swapping. The two of them won't record it when they make love, so there's no way I can find a real one."

After Olivia recovered from her shock, she burst into laughter. She laughed so hard that she slammed the table. "Elvira you're a badass now!" she said. "You can even think of this."

The previous videos are all real and officially verified," Elvira said. "So even if the last video is fake, everyone will still think that it's real. Elvira did not feel that she had done anything wrong at all. She thought. The video may be fake, but the incident is real. How could they have a child if they didn't make love?

"The Willis family deserves it!" Olivia gloated. "They've been trying to harm you all along. You are clearly a child of the Willis family, but they insist on favoring the daughter of a mistress. Now that it has been confirmed that Judy is a mistress, she can forget about working in the entertainment industry from now on." 15:33 Sat, Nov 23

"She has the powerful backing of the Willis family," Elvira said. "As long as the Willis family remains powerful, she won't fall from grace. From now on, I won't stop settling the score with Judy, Elvira understood her own situation well. Even if she did not retaliate against Amber and Judy, both of them wouldn't accept her. They were eager to extract all possible benefits from her before getting rid of her.

So, her relationship with Amber and Judy was going to be perpetually hostile.

After ending the call with Olivia, Elvira immediately returned Zach's call. He had also called her earlier. At that time, she was on the phone with Tracy and could not receive his call.

Zach answered her call right away. His voice was deep and seductive as he said. "You're up?"

Elvira blushed instinctively when she heard Zach's voice, thinking. This guy is truly irresistible. Not only does he look good, but his voice also makes my heart race!

"I've already had breakfast," she said, her voice filled with shyness. Thank you for your loving breakfast, Hubby."

When Zach heard Elvira's voice, he felt his entire body heat up. He was eagerly excited. "Rest at home in the morning," he said. Tll pick you up for lunch to celebrate your victory yesterday."

"Um... There's no need to celebrate this kind of thing, right?" Elvira said, feeling that this was a bit of an overreaction.

But Zach insisted. "Yesterday was your first brilliant counterattack against the Willis family, so it's definitely worth celebrating!" he said. "It's settled then. I've already booked a spot Be good and wait for me at home."

"Alright," Elvira said. "I'll wait for you. Love you, Hubby." With that said, Elvira quickly hung up the phone. Her face flushed as she held the phone. She did not expect that she would be able to say such mushy words so readily one day.

Zach's expression changed completely when he heard Elvira say, "Love you, Hubby." He felt a burning sensation in his chest His entire body warmed up, and he became more joyful.

Spike looked at Zach, who was initially a little unsettled and had a cold expression but became warmer like an iceberg that answering the call. He asked curiously Is that a call from Elvira?" melted rapidly right aff

"Yep." Zach said. "Of course! Of course, it's my wife's calll" Zach affirmed three times consecutively, afraid that Spike would not know that it was Elvira calling him.

"I heard from Samson that Elvira bought a house and a car for a man called Cole, Spike said, asking out of genuine curiosity. "What's going on?"

Zach's face immediately darkened. He raised his hand to touch his tie and deliberately revealed his cufflinks. He said, "So what? She gave me a tie and cufflinks!"

Ever since Elvira gave them to him, he had been wearing them every day. He could not bear to part with them

"Elvira is really thoughtful," Spike said. "Should we look into that guy called Cole?" Spike was puzzled, thinking, "Compared to houses and cars, cufflinks and ties are nothing."

"There's no need for that," Zach said. "You haven't even had a girlfriend. You know nothing just leave. Don't hang around in front of me if there's nothing important." Zach drove him away in annoyance.

Spike was left speechless.

He thought, 'Why get so worked up if you don't mind? If you mind, just investigate. Why do you not want to look into it?'

After Spike was driven away, Zach immediately called his grandmother. Tracy answered the call and said, "Zach, I chatted with Elvira for an hour this morning. She is really a thoughtful and considerate girl. She knew I was bored, so she kept chatting with me. She even said she would bring me to the mall another day to buy me things."

15:34 Sat, Nov 23 GD.

Tracy happily boasted to her grandson about the kind things Elvira did to her.

Zach was at a loss for words.

I @

164%0

"Didn't Elvira ask you about the gown and jewelry?" Zach said. He was a little envious of his grandmother. Elvira had not even spent an hour talking to him on the phone.

Tracy immediately explained, "She did ask. I told her that my grandmother was a princess and that my grandmother gave them to me. I didn't reveal that our family is rich. Don't worry,"

Zach was left speechless.

He was stunned, thinking. That works too. I thought Grandma would honestly tell Elvira about the Gilbert family's family background because of the astronomical price of the antique gown and jewelry."

She Got A Better Man

Chapter 69 YOIL

"Zach, I'm awesome, right?" Tracy said. "Don't worry. As long as you don't let me say it, I will definitely make up a story for

I won't let Elvira know that our family is rich. Tracy was sing. Inwardly, she was overjoyed, thinking. This kid has brought this upon himself. He has to deal with it on his own. I'm not going to help him clean up his mess. Zach was so angry that he did not know what to say. He hung up without saying a word.

When Judy returned to the Willis family's home, she kept crying and refused to let go of Calvin's hand. Calvin had no choice but to stay and accompany her. When she woke up the next day, she hugged Calvin even tighter and said, "Calvin, can you not be mad at me? When I knew that I couldn't keep the baby, I was really sad. I couldn't bear to tell you the truth and make you sad with me. I thought of handling the burden of worrying about the baby's health by myself. I'm sorry. I was useless and didn't protect our child"

Looking at Judy crying so sadly, Calvin wiped her tears. "You should have told me," he said. "How can you bear such a big thing alone? We're still young and can still have kids. There's no need for you to use the baby to frame Elvira."

"I didn't intend to frame Elvira, Judy said. "At that time, I was standing on the steps. Even though Elvira didn't push me on purpose. her slight movement made me sprain my ankle and fall down the steps. I was disoriented at that moment and didn't know what had happened. I heard from Miss Watson and mistakenly thought Elvira pushed me. I was really scared and flustered. Calvin, how could I possibly use our baby to frame Elvira?" Judy had thought about it and realized that whether or not others believed her was not important. What mattered was that Calvin believed her.

"So that's how it is," Calvin said. "At the end of the day, it's still Elvira's fault. She falsely accused you without even understanding the situation. She's really too much!" Calvin was extremely angry.

"Perhaps Elvira has misunderstood," Judy said. "As long as you believe me, that's all that matters. I don't care what others say about me." Judy pretended to be strong and forbearing, causing Calvin's heart to ache.

Amber came to call the two of them to come downstairs for breakfast. In the dining room, the atmosphere was somewhat subdued. Vincent had not been released since he was arrested yesterday. Karen sent a lawyer to get him to be released on bail, but it was not successful

Judy looked at Karen anxiously and said, "Grandma, I'll personally go and beg Elvira to let Dad go."

"There's no need to beg her!" Karen said coldly. "I want to see how many more immoral things that rebellious girl can do. If she is capable, she can sue her own father and send him to jail! I want to see if the world can tolerate her actions." "Karen, the situation is clear now," Amber said anxiously. "Elvira is capable of doing anything now. You can't keep indulging her like this anymore."

"What's with the panic?" Karen said. "The Willis family hasn't collapsed yet. As long as the Willis family remains, Elvira won't be able to do anything. Let's eat first. We'll talk after the meal. Karen was a worldly-wise person, so she was unfazed by the situation.

The few people at the table stopped talking and began to eat, but none of them had much of an appetite, especially Judy. When she thought about how her reputation had been ruined, she was heavy-hearted, so much so that she did not want to eat anything. "Judy, if you can't recover from this setback, the person who will be the most delighted is Elvira," Karen said indifferently. "She did all of this just to bring you down, didn't she? You've got to remember that the more she tries to bring you down, the tougher you have to become to show her. I'll transfer 20% of my shares in Willis Group to you. From now on, you're a shareholder of the company. Don't be down in the dumps over such a trivial matter. Starting today, you'll be on the company's board of directors. I'll personally guide you." When Amber heard that her mother-in-law was going to give her daughter such a large amount of shares, her eyes instantly lit up. The gloom brought by Elvira yesterday was swept away. She immediately looked at her daughter and said. "Hurry up 15:34 Sat, Nov 23

and thank your grandina

647

"Thank you, Grandma," Judy said. "I will definitely work hard to manage the company well." A smile appeared on Judy's face. She did not expect to benefit from this unfortunate incident. Thanks to Elvira, she joined the company's board of directors in advance. She thought, "This way, the one suffering a loss is still Elvira. Elvira doesn't have any shares in the company."

"Okay," Karen said. "You're my granddaughter and the future successor of Willis Group. I'll make sure you have more achievements than me. With that said, Karen started eating, completely unaffected by the celebration yesterday.

As they were eating, Stacy rushed in from outside. After she came in, she began to cry, saying that everyone in the entire city knew that she had slept with John and that she would rather die if John refused to marry her.

As Karen looked at Stacy sobbing, she felt annoyed, thinking, "Yesterday, I arranged for John to sleep with Elvira to protect Judy's reputation. Who would have thought that Stacy would end up sleeping with him instead and ruin my plan? Just thinking about it makes me feel unlucky!"

"You want to get married to John, but it will only work if John is willing to marry you," Karen said coldly. "He refuses to marry you now, so there's nothing I can do."

"Grandma, you can't be playing favorites to the extreme, right?" Stacy said. "Should I tell someone what really happened yesterday?" Stacy went all out to marry John. She thought, If Grandma doesn't help me, I'll expose the fact that she drugged Elvira in an attempt to get John to sleep with her. In any case, if I can't get what I want, no one should have an easy time!

Karen's expression instantly darkened. After thinking for a moment, she said, I'll bring up this matter to the Smith family. Go back and wait for the news. Don't come here if there's nothing important."

"Okay," Stacy said. "I'll wait for the good news from you then, Grandma. I'm a popular person now. Lots of people want to interview me. Grandma, you'd better act fast. Stacy was throwing caution to the wind. She decided to act without restraint. After all, if she didn't marry John, her life would be ruined anyway.

Stacy left after threatening Karen. Karen was furious. She had no choice but to think of a way to fulfill Stacy's wish. I can't let her go out and talk nonsense,' she thought. The reputation of the Willis family can no longer withstand any more trouble.

The netizens were all scolding Judy. A portion of Judy's die-hard fans persisted in following her, offering encouragement and support on her social media accounts.

of

Judy copied the story that she had used to deceive Calvin onto the Internet and easily garnered sympathy from a portion the netizens. As for the matter of being the other woman, Judy's explanation was that Calvin and Elvira had actually broken up a long time ago. They had incompatible personalities and often quarreled. It was only after their breakup that she got together with Calvin. The oversight regarding the engagement contract allowed her sister to take advantage of the situation. The Willis family also got someone to release the news that Elvira was also married, intending to argue that Judy could not be considered a third party at all

The news released by the Willis family, which had a mix of truth and falsehood, surprisingly brought back more than half of Judy's fans. These people swore to staunchly defend Judy and boycott Elvira, whom they regarded as a scheming woman.

She Got A Better Man

COMMENT Chapter 70

Most netizens were still sharp red and were very restant to Jaly Therefore, the Willis family's investment in the movie that promoted Jody remhed in very low here office dance could be id that it failed miserably, with all the invested capital lost, causing the Willis ferrily significant losers

Karen blamed all of this on Elvis, believing that if it weren't for her cung trouble, the Willis family wouldn't have suffered such a huge financial look

Karen arranged for Judy to engage in charity work with great fane to salvage her popularity

Elvirs was not concerned about the affairs of the Willis family. Her top priority now was to bring Marsh out of the Willis family's home. No matter how problematic Marsh's personality was, as his elder sister, she could not bring herself to give up on him. She warned him to correct himself after he left that environme

She was just Marsh's sister, not his legal guardian. She did not have the authority to bring Marsh out of the Willis family home. The only person who could do this was her biological mother, Rowena

For her brother's sake, no matter how unwilling she was, she still called her biological mother. The phone rang until it ended without anyone picking up. After calling three times, someone picked up on the other end of the line in a leisurely manner and said. "Hello, What's the matter!

Elvira felt a pang of sadness when she heard this familiar and indifferent voice, but she had to speak. "Mom, it's me, Kivira she said. "I want to ask you to return to the country to handle something. Marsh can't stay at the Willis family » horre anymore, or he'll be completely useless. Can you return to the country and demand custody of him from the Willis family and let him stay with me in the future?"

"Elvira, it's not that I don't want to return to the country. Rower said. "It's just that I can't leave here. Sandy is still in college, and she can't be without me. Also, Marcus is taking his high school entrance exam this year, which is a critical tume for him. If I leave, it will affect his performance. Besides, even if I return, the Willis family won't give me the custody of your brother He's the only male heir of the Willis family" Rower blabbered. All the things she said were excuses. She refused to return to the country to handle Marsh's custody. Elvira felt extremely angry when she heard that. She wanted to flare up, but she felt powerless. She thought, I shouldnt have made this call in the first place. This biological mother of Marsh and I only care about the children of her tra love Didn't we see that before? Elvara did not even want to say another word to her. She hung up the phone silently, refusing to listen to her biological mother's heart-wrenching words.

When Zach returned, he was holding dessert and flowers. Today, Zach had specifically asked his assistant how be usually coased his girlfriend. The assistant taught him a lot, and he felt that he had benefited a lot

He walked in and saw Elvira sitting on the sofa with her arms around her knees and looking unhappy. His heart ached. He immediately walked over and placed the flowers and dessert on the coffee table. Then, he reached out, carried Elvira, put her on his lap, and asked with concern. "What's wrong? Who made you unhappy? Tell me I'll avenge you."

Elvira was so preoccupied with her upset over her biological mother that she didn't even notice Zach returning home until he put down his things.

"It's because of Marsh's situation, Elvira said "Don't worry. From time. His problems are not formed in a day or two, so expecting them to be solved in a day or two isn't realistic. Elvira wrapped her arms around his neck, and kissed him. Seeing him made her happy "What your brother lacks is the right guidance, Zach said "Even though I've only met him once, I can tell he's very smart. He won't continue to be like this forever. Zach could tell that Marsh was starting and scheming. He was actually not foolish. As long as someone was willing to guide him, he would definitely be able to return to the journey of success and have great achievements in the future..

34

"Okay, I got it," Elvira said. "What delicious treats did you buy? Wow. It's dessert, and it's the chocolate flavor that I crave. The flowers are so beautiful. Hubby, you really know how to choose. I'll reward you." Elvira kissed Zach's lips again.

Zach was in a better mood after being praised by his wife. He hugged Elvira and kissed her repeatedly. He could not bear to let go of her.

He thought, "Who wouldn't love a wife who is so emotionally intelligent and doesn't dampen the mood!"

After the two of them had dinner, Elvira did not freshen up. Instead, she sat on the sofa and picked up her laptop to deal with some work. Zach came out of the kitchen after washing the dishes. Seeing that she did not take a shower as usual, he leaned over and asked, "You don't want to take a shower first, huh?"

Elvira glared at him angrily and said, "If I were to take a shower, would I still be able to get out of bed?"

Zach thought about it and realized that Elvira was right. Every time she took a shower, he would take a shower together with her. Then, he would hug her and do some happy things with her. Perhaps he had really been abstinent for too long. Now that he suddenly indulged, he could not control himself. He kept pestering her every night.

"Don't you want me?" Zach said. He kissed her neck from behind the sofa.

Elvira was ticklish. "Stop teasing me," she said. "Of course I want you too. You're so cute and handsome."

"So, what are you doing now?" Zach said. "Let's take a shower together. Zach took the laptop away from her lap and carried her to the bathroom.

Elvira was so angry that she bit his chin and said, "If this continues, both of us will be exhausted."

"I'll get

Grandma to cook us some nutritious food to restore energy, Zach said seriously.

Elvira was left speechless, thinking. Is he afraid that Tracy won't know that we overindulge ourselves in making love every day?"

"You're not afraid of Tracy laughing at us, but I am!" Elvira said angrily as she hit him.

"Don't worry," Zach said. "Grandma is experienced. She won't laugh at us." Zach went to the bathroom and placed Elvira on the washstand to kiss her.

Elvira wrapped her arms around his neck and raised her head slightly for him to kiss. Soon, both of them were aroused. Half of their clothes were removed, and Elvira's shirt was folded to her waist. Zach kissed her even harder until Elvira took the initiative to express her strong desire for him Zach smiled faintly and leaned forward. At that moment, he hit her lips and engulfed her beast-like whimper....

After tossing and turning in the bathroom, Elvira was very weak. It was as if she had no bones. Zach was still energetic. He personally helped her dry herself and blow-dry her hair. He was already familiar with doing it Elvira enjoyed his care

After taking care of Elvira, Zach went to blow-dry his short hair After blow-drying his hair a few times, he returned to the bed and hugged Elvira, who extended her flawless and delicate fingers to pinch Zach's chin "Mr. Gilbert, it's time for you to be honest with me about something, right?" she asked.

When Zach heard Elvira's words, his heart skipped a beat. He furrowed his attractive brows slightly. He knew that this moment would eventually arrive. In fact, he had always wanted to come clean with her, but as time passed, he found himself growing more and more fond of her, making it increasingly difficult for him to say it.

No matter what the reason was no one liked getting deceived.

Therefore, at this moment, he was so nervous that his body tensed up. He was truly afraid that Elvira would be disappointed fum because he had kept something from her previously