“Do you want to work with us?”

Hua Sheng was stunned.

Before he could figure out what was happening, someone else approached him at the door and asked the same.

And they were from the north too!

They came all that distance to work with them!

When he looked at that man, he noticed he sounded breathless. He seemed to have run all the way here out of fear that they would run out of quota.

What on earth...

What on earth was going on?

“Has the quota been filled?”

As Hua Sheng remained dumbstruck for a long time, the man's face turned pale and became anxious instantly.

He had taken the earliest flight out, then transferred by train and car to rush all the way here. There wasn't even anytime to sit down and eat in between. He didn't want to lose the chance to partner with Lin Group simply because he was late.

“Oh!” said Hua Sheng as he finally pulled himself together and cried, “There's space! There's space! Please come in!”

He quickly came over to shake his hand. Although he was so excited that he wanted to jump with joy, he continued acting calm.

“No, you're still in time. But if it were any later...” smiled Hua Sheng without speaking further. He didn't tell them that if they were any later, the eighth mining zone's distribution partnerships would all be terminated.

But when the man heard these words, he clearly heaved a sigh of relief. He didn't even bother asking for a drink before saying, “Then let's sign the contract quickly. You can set the clauses. We won't object to anything!”

Hua Sheng was stunned.

They could set any clauses they pleased?

That was crazy.

When did they have such status?

Hua Sheng wasn't alone on this. Several people at the operations department were equally dumbstruck. It was as though they had heard wrongly and couldn't believe their ears at all.

“Hurry up!”

Since Hua Sheng and the others didn't say a word, they became very anxious and they pulled Hua Sheng inside.

“Excuse me, is this the eighth mining zone? I'd like to cooperate with you! I come from the north!”

another voice suddenly came from the door.

Hua Sheng and the operations department turned to look, and even the man who arrived earlier turned his head.

“I can't believe you got here first!”

“Why are you here too?”

Both northerners spoke at the same time.

Then they started fighting over the contract.

“I got here first, so I get to sign the contract first! You can raise any conditions you like!”

“Let us sign first! Our company is very strong in the trade, so we are more worthy of this partnership! We should go first!”

Hua Sheng was dumbstruck.

At the sight of those two visitors almost getting into a fight, Hua Sheng quickly stepped forward to stop them.

“We still have quota! There's enough for you both! Please come in. We can sit down for a chat, and we'll sign with whoever offers the best deal!”

He was going insane with joy.

Hua Sheng swiftly got an operations department staff to discuss their partnerships with these northerners.

It was a miracle!

What happened?

Why did people suddenly come knocking on their doors to work with them? Also, they were both from the north. Judging from their tone of voice, it sounded like they had strong backing.

“Mr Jiang is incredible! His tactics must have paid off!”

“It's simply too unbelievable! They actually approached us on their own. We had to do so much begging and suffer all that disdain previously.”

“Mr Jiang is amazing! Just amazing!”

As Hua Sheng listened to the staff shouting excitedly, he started muttering in his heart.

Did the advertisement really pay off?

But he was keenly aware that it merely contained a simple request. There was nothing special about it, except that they were a subsidiary of Lin Group and in need of new distributors. Then they started knocking on your doors.

Was it the words ‘Lin Group’?

Was it truly because of these two words?

“Excuse me...”

Hua Sheng was still in a daze when two more people came knocking at the door!

“We still have quota! We still have quota! You want to work with us, right? Please come in!”

This time, Hua Sheng figured it out without waiting for them to speak and just asked, “Are you from the north?”

“Yes.”

“Please come in so we can discuss the details!”

Hua Sheng’s morning started in anxiety and apprehension, then converted to joy and excitement, but now he was numb.

A total of 26 northern companies were interested in working with the eighth mining zone.

Even at their prime, all they had was nothing more than five distributors.

Since the eighth mining zone didn't need so many dealers, Hua Sheng sent them to the other mining zones. He had to keep assuring them that all the mines belonged to Lin Group before they were willing to go.

His entire body and even his face were stiff.

Even his scalp was completely numb!

It was too much!

When Hua Sheng asked, they said it was because of that advertisement. They hurried over right away and displayed a lot of sincerity because they saw the words ‘Lin Group’ on the advertisement.

Many of them were from powerful northern families.

He didn’t know what it meant to be a powerful northern family. But from the sound of it, they sounded influential.

This swept away all his worry. The operation department was bustling with activity as people fought for the right to be their distributors from time to time. They almost even broke into a brawl sometimes.

Hua Sheng hurriedly called Jiang Ning.

Jiang Ning was climbing a tree with a fruit in his hand when he called. He wiped the fruit on his shirt and took a bite before looking down to ask, "Did you use insecticides?"

"No, we didn't! Don't worry, Mr Jiang!"

Jiang Ning then nodded and continued eating with a peace of mind.

Otherwise, it would be hilarious if the God of War died of food poisoning.

He wanted to personally pick the fruit and select the ones with the best texture to bring home.

RIIIIIING!

When his mobile phone rang, Jiang Ning fished it out with one hand.

"Mr Jiang! We have been saved! Our mining zone's going to be okay! A lot of people came asking to partner with us today. All of them fought to be our distributors. Your ad was brilliant!" said Hua Sheng with a trembling voice. It shook so hard that Jiang Ning had to pull his phone away from his ear a little.

NH

“How can you be so excited over such a small thing?” said Jiang Ning nonchalantly. “You’re getting in the way of my fruit picking. I’m busy.”

He was in no mood to bother with these minor problems. The most important thing right now was to pick the best-tasting fruit.

Meanwhile.

The Mo house, Mo Chenglin’s study.

“What are did you just say?” asked Mo Chenglin with a dark expression on his face as he furrowed his brows hard.

“Is Lin Group that frightening? More than ten powerful families were eradicated because of them, including the Pang family?! Weren’t the Pang family a supremely powerful family?”

Mo Chenglin could feel his throat going dry and voice turning hoarse.

The hand he had on the phone was still shaking.

“That’s right, Mo. You have no idea how terrified the powerful northern families were whenever Jiang Ning and Lin Group were brought up previously. But we didn’t spread it around because none of us dared to. Don’t go around telling everyone about it, okay!”

Mo Chenglin went numb and didn’t say a word.

“Oh yes, why are you asking about this? Let me remind you not to provoke Jiang Ning. Anyone who does is bound to die...”

Mo Chenglin could no longer hear anything from the phone. All he heard was his heartbeat as it palpitated hard.

It was as though his mind went completely blank!

Even supremely powerful families had been wiped out by Jiang Ning. Although the Mo family were influential, they were on par with a second-tier family at best.

They couldn't even compare to a first-tier family, let alone a supremely powerful family!

If Mo Bei forced, threatened, or even made moves on Lin Group, the Mo family...wouldn't be able to bear its consequences!

“Fortunately, I reminded Mo Bei not to provoke Lin Group.”

Mo Chenglin patted his chest as he gasped hard. He felt as though they just survived a major disaster.
