Chapter 1241: She Was Thinking About What to Say

Mo Yesi frowned.

He didn't have a good impression of the word "bootlicking".

He didn't want another woman to lick his screen.

Only Qiao Mianmian could bootlick him.

But Qiao Mianmian was his wife. She could do anything she wanted to him. It didn't seem like it was worth it.

"Mianmian."

Mo Yesi grabbed Qiao Mianmian's hand and promised seriously under her shocked gaze. "I'm yours. No matter what, I'm yours. So, you don't have to care about what other women say. They'll never get me.

"Only you have the right to use me."

Qiao Mianmian was speechless.

She wasn't used to his seriousness.

But she loved hearing such sweet words.

She looked into the man's deep and affectionate eyes and smiled. She took a step forward, tiptoed, and hooked her fair and tender arm around his neck. For the first time in her life, she said to him domineeringly, "Mm, Mo Yesi, you're mine. So, besides me, you can't be attracted to any other woman. In this life, you can only belong to me."

...

Mo Yesi and Qiao Mianmian found a restaurant near his school for Qiao Chen's convenience.

When they arrived at the restaurant, the waiter led them to the private room they had booked beforehand.

He waited for the waiter to leave.

Qiao Chen sat opposite them with an uneasy expression. He clenched his fists and looked up at Mo Yesi, then at Qiao Mianmian. "Sister, Brother-in-law, why are you looking for me? Is... is there a problem with my surgery?"

Because he was in boarding school.

Hence, Qiao Mianmian usually looked for him on weekends.

She rarely went to school to look for him during the holidays.

Qiao Chen felt that something was wrong.

He looked at Qiao Mianmian's hesitant expression and confirmed his guess.

His sister was nervous.

Qiao Chen thought about it and felt that it had something to do with the surgery.

"No, it has nothing to do with your surgery." Qiao Mianmian was afraid that he would think too much and immediately denied it. "Your brother-in-law said that he can perform the surgery for you in a while, and he'll definitely be the main surgeon."

"It has nothing to do with my surgery?"

Qiao Chen heaved a sigh of relief and became even more curious. "Then, what is it? Sister, Brother-in-law, you must have something to tell me, right?"

Qiao Mianmian pursed her lips and turned to look at Mo Yesi.

No matter how good their relationship was, she didn't know how Qiao Chen would react if he found out about his true identity.

Accept or not.

But no matter what, she had to tell him.

Mo Yesi met her gaze and she squeezed her hand gently, signaling her not to worry.

Then, he held her hand and looked at Qiao Chen. He thought for a while and said slowly, "Chen Chen, your sister and I called you out today because we have something to tell you."

Qiao Chen had already guessed it, so his reaction was calm.

"Mm, Sister, Brother-in-law, just tell me directly." He paused and pretended to be calm. "No matter what it is, I can bear it."

Chapter 1242: The Results Could Not Be Wrong

"Alright."

Mo Yesi narrowed his eyes and kept quiet for a few seconds before saying, "Chen Chen, this has something to do with your background."

"It has something to do with my background?" Qiao Chen was confused. "Sister, what does Brother-in-law mean?"

"Chen Chen, you..." Qiao Mianmian took a deep breath. When she calmed down a little, she met his gaze and thought for a while before telling him directly, "Do you remember that day when we went to your brother-in-law's house, there was an uncle who looked like you?"

Qiao Chen replied, "I remember."

It was because he looked like him that he had a deep impression of him.

Qiao Mianmian kept quiet for a while before continuing, "Chen Chen, he's actually... your biological father."

Seeing Qiao Chen's shocked and widened eyes, Mo Yesi gently patted the back of Qiao Mianmian's hand and said the following words for her, "Chen Chen, I'm sorry to hide something from you. The person you saw that day was my Second Uncle. He once had a son, but he was carried away not long after he was born. His whereabouts were unknown.

"All these years, my Second Uncle has looked for him, but it's undoubtedly as difficult as finding a needle in a haystack.

"And the reason why that child was taken away was because of some internal strife. He was taken away by a bad person, so our family didn't have much hope for that child. Everyone thought that he might have passed away long ago.

"When I brought you back that day, Grandma realized that you looked very similar to Second Uncle. You're also about the same age as Second Uncle's missing son. Grandma got suspicious and asked me to investigate something.

"Chen Chen." Mo Yesi looked at Qiao Chen's expression of disbelief and paused. "My men found out that you were carried back by the Qiao family from the orphanage. Also, without your knowledge, I took your hair and did a paternity test with Second Uncle.

"The results show that you're father and son."

Mo Yesi looked at Qiao Mianmian.

Qiao Mianmian took out the report from her bag.

She looked at Qiao Chen with a complicated gaze. With concern and worry in her eyes, she handed the report over. "Chen Chen, this is the report. Take a look."

Qiao Chen looked at her in shock and then looked down at the report in her hand.

After a while, he slowly reached out and took the report.

A moment later.

Qiao Mianmian looked at Qiao Chen's trembling fingers.

She and Mo Yesi didn't say anything as they waited for him to finish reading.

Qiao Chen should have seen it already.

But from his reaction, he couldn't accept this fact.

After a few minutes, Qiao Chen slowly looked up and finally reacted.

"Sister, so, we aren't siblings?" Qiao Chen's eyes were a little red as he clenched his fists.

"Chen Chen, whether we're related by blood or not, you're my biological brother in my heart. You will always be," Qiao Mianmian said word by word.

Qiao Chen pursed his lips and looked down at the paternity test again.

It was written clearly.

The results couldn't be wrong.

Chapter 1243: You Have the Right to Choose

Qiao Chen knew that Mo Yesi wouldn't lie to him about this.

He recalled the man he saw that night.

He felt that there was something wrong with the way that man looked at him.

That man looked a lot like him. Even Qiao Chen was shocked when he saw him.

So, they were father and son.

That was why they looked so alike.

"I'm going to the washroom." Mo Yesi could tell that the siblings had something to say. Qiao Chen might find it inconvenient if he was present.

He found an excuse and left.

Only Qiao Mianmian and Qiao Chen were left in the room.

Qiao Mianmian looked at Qiao Chen and felt a heartache. "Chen Chen, I know you might not be able to accept this for a while. But regardless of whether you're from the Qiao family or whose blood runs in your veins, in my heart, you'll always be my most beloved brother.

"Our relationship won't change because of this.

"Unless you don't want me as your sister anymore."

"How could that be?" Qiao Chen immediately said agitatedly. "Sister, you're my sister for life. I don't care about the Qiao family or the Mo family, you're my closest kin.

"Sister, I just feel that it's too sudden." Qiao Chen was like a lost child at a crossroad. He looked confused and uneasy. "How did I become the Mo family's child? My surname is Qiao. I grew up in the Qiao family. Dad also said that I'm his biological son.

"But now..." Qiao Chen clenched his fists. "Sister, is this true? Why do I feel like I'm dreaming?"

"Chen Chen, I know how you feel now." Qiao Mianmian got up and slowly sat down beside him. She held his trembling hand and shook it forcefully. "I know you can't accept this reality for a while. Your brother-in-law and I are only telling you the truth now. Whether you want to return to the Mo family, whether you want to acknowledge your biological father, we won't interfere with your decision. Think about this carefully. No matter what decision you make, Sister will support you."

"Sister." Qiao Chen's eyes were red, and his voice was choked. Fear and uneasiness could be seen in his eyes.

He grabbed Qiao Mianmian's hand tightly. "No matter what happens in the future, we'll always be siblings, right? Our relationship won't change because of anything else, right?"

“Of course, no matter what happens, Chen Chen is my favorite brother.” Qiao Mianmian saw the uneasiness in the young man and comforted him gently. “Chen Chen, don’t feel burdened. Your brother-in-law and I think you should know the truth, but no one will force you to make a choice.

“You have the right to choose.”

The teenager’s clear and dark eyes flickered, filled with confusion and helplessness.

He looked at Qiao Mianmian. “I can choose whatever I want?”

“Mm, you can choose whatever you want.”

“No one will force me?”

“No.”

“Sister, I want to think about it.” Qiao Chen kept quiet for a long time. The confusion in his eyes faded, and he seemed to accept the truth.

He looked at Qiao Mianmian and said softly, “I’ll consider it.”

...

On the other side.

Qiao Anxin looked at Madam Bai nervously.

Chapter 1244: I Might Be Your Daughter?

She waited and worried the whole night.

She was afraid that Madam Bai would not react.

Thankfully, Madam Bai finally called her.

Qiao Anxin suppressed her excitement and pretended to be calm. “Madam Bai, why are you looking for me?”

Madam Bai looked at her with mixed feelings. After a moment of silence, she said, “Miss Qiao, you told me yesterday that you’re the Qiao family’s adopted daughter?”

“Y-Yes.”

“Did your parents put that mark on you to acknowledge your family in the future?”

Qiao Anxin took a deep breath and clenched her fists. “Yes.”

“Miss Qiao, I think I’d better get straight to the point.” Madam Bai took a sip of her coffee and looked up at Qiao Anxin sitting opposite her.

Even if she knew that the girl opposite her was the daughter she’d been looking for.

She still didn’t like her.

She had no intention of getting close to her.

If Qiao Anxin was really her daughter, it would be rather pathetic.

She didn't like her biological daughter, but she liked a girl who wasn't related to her by blood.

"Miss Qiao, I once had a daughter. I had to give her to a subordinate of my husband because of something that happened back then. In order to acknowledge her in the future, I left a red mark on her."

Qiao Anxin widened her eyes and pretended to be shocked. "Madam Bai, you..."

Madam Bai looked straight at her. "The mark on Miss Qiao's body is the same as the mark I left on my daughter. You're not the biological daughter of the Qiao family, and your biological parents had to give you to someone else to raise because of the disaster back then.

"All these years, we've been looking for Little Seven. Little Seven is the nickname I gave my daughter. She was born on the seventh day of the seventh month.

"Miss Qiao's achievements are exactly the same as my daughter's. So, I asked Miss Qiao out this time to ask you to go to the hospital for a paternity test. I know that it'll be hard for you to accept suddenly telling you this, but...

"I've been looking for her all these years.

"If you're really Little Seven, I hope we can reunite sooner."

Qiao Anxin's hand trembled, and she spilled the coffee on the table.

She was shocked. "Madam Bai, are you saying that I-I might be your daughter?"

"Yes, but we're not sure yet." Madam Bai looked at her shocked expression and softened. She sighed and said gently, "Anxin, didn't you say that you still want to acknowledge your biological parents?"

"Are you willing to go to the hospital for a paternity test?"

Qiao Anxin was excited, but she still looked flustered.

She looked at Madam Bai blankly, and her eyes turned red.

"Madam Bai, a-are you really my mother?" Qiao Anxin bit her lip as tears rolled down her cheeks. She looked at Madam Bai pitifully and choked. "I-I'm not dreaming?"

Madam Bai was soft-hearted and kind.

Although she didn't like Qiao Anxin, she felt that if this was really her daughter, it would be her fault.

Chapter 1245: Mother and Daughter

No matter how much she disliked her, she was still a part of her.

How could she?

Her voice softened as she took out a handkerchief from her bag and handed it to her. “Don’t cry, quickly wipe your tears. I can’t say too much now. You and Little Seven have almost the same fate, and you’re of the same age.

“That’s why I hope to do a paternity test.” Madam Bai kept quiet for a while before saying, “If you’re really Little Seven, and you’re willing to acknowledge us, your dad and I will definitely make it up to you and love you. We’ll do anything for you.”

Qiao Anxin looked up.

She said in a hoarse voice, “Madam Bai, I’m willing. I’ve always missed my biological parents, and I’ve always wanted to find them. I originally thought that there was no hope in my life, but now... So, whether I’m your daughter or not, I’m willing to accept a paternity test.

“Even if there’s only one percent hope, I want to find my biological parents.

“I really miss them.”

Tears rolled down her cheeks.

She looked even more pitiful.

Madam Bai couldn’t bear to watch.

She looked at Qiao Anxin and felt less disgusted.

She sighed heavily in her heart. Sigh, she was a poor child, after all. She shouldn’t have too much prejudice against her.

At the hospital.

Madam Bai and Qiao Anxin waited anxiously for the results.

While waiting, Madam Bai called Bai Yusheng.

Bai Yusheng asked her about the situation, and she told him the truth.

“The results aren’t out yet?”

“Not yet, but soon.” Madam Bai gripped her cell phone tightly. “Yusheng, I’m so nervous now. Tell me, if she’s really your sister, what should I do?”

Bai Yusheng was silent for a while.

“Alright, alright.” Madam Bai hurriedly said, “Come over quickly. With you around, I won’t be so flustered.”

Less than a minute after Madam Bai hung up, the doctor came out with the test results.

“Madam Bai, the paternity test results are out,” the doctor said respectfully.

Madam Bai's heart tightened as she hurriedly asked, "What's the outcome?"

Qiao Anxin was even more nervous than her.

Even though she knew that Shen Rou had arranged everything beforehand and wouldn't make any mistakes, she was still a little worried when the results weren't out.

She couldn't hide the nervousness. "Yes, doctor. What's the result?"

She wasn't faking her nervousness this time.

The doctor glanced at her and handed the report to Madam Bai. "Madam Bai, according to the report, you and Miss Qiao are related by blood."

Madam Bai took it and looked up.

The doctor smiled. "The results are on the list. Madam Bai, you can take a look. If you have any questions, you can ask me."

Qiao Anxin heaved a sigh of relief.

She opened her sweat-covered palms. When she thought about how she would be the daughter of the Bai family's glorious family from this moment on, she was ecstatic. The excitement and joy in her eyes were almost uncontrollable.

Chapter 1246: Had to Accept Reality

Madam Bai was stunned for a while before looking at the report seriously.

A moment later, her fingers trembled as she looked up.

It was written clearly on the report that she and Qiao Anxin were mother and daughter.

Madam Bai had mixed feelings.

She had long believed that Qiao Mianmian was her daughter.

She trusted her instincts.

She liked Qiao Mianmian very much. This liking was different from her liking for Shen Rou.

She felt that it was because she and Qiao Mianmian were biological mother and daughter, and Qiao Mianmian had her blood flowing in her veins, that she liked her so much.

She didn't feel this way about Qiao Anxin.

Even though the results were out, she wasn't too happy.

She felt... a sense of loss.

Madam Bai felt that she shouldn't have such thoughts.

No matter how bad Qiao Anxin was, it was confirmed that she was Little Seven.

How could she despise her own daughter so much?

But she didn't want to lie to herself. The disappointment in her heart was really greater than the joy of finding her daughter.

"Doctor, I-I really have a mother-and-daughter relationship with Madam Bai?" Qiao Anxin could tell that Madam Bai wasn't too happy. She secretly hated her, but she felt happy and smug.

So what if Madam Bai didn't like her?

Could it be that she didn't want her as her "daughter"?

She didn't need to be liked by the Bai family. As long as she had the status of the daughter of the Bai family, she could easily get whatever she wanted in the future.

As for whether Madam Bai and Bai Yusheng liked her or not, it wasn't that important.

Didn't they like Qiao Mianmian a lot?

But now that the results were out, could they still treat Qiao Mianmian as well as before?

"Yes, Miss Qiao." The doctor looked at her and said, "According to the results, you and Madam Bai are indeed biological mother and daughter. I congratulate Madam Bai and Miss Qiao on finally being reunited."

Qiao Anxin immediately covered her mouth and looked at Madam Bai with teary eyes.

Madam Bai turned around and looked at her with a complicated expression.

The doctor left.

The rest also left.

The corridor fell silent.

Qiao Anxin bit her lip and looked at Madam Bai.

"Anxin, I didn't expect you to really be my daughter." Madam Bai had no choice but to accept reality now.

Qiao Anxin really didn't grow up to be what she liked.

She liked obedient and kind girls like Qiao Mianmian.

But no matter how many flaws Qiao Anxin had, even if she couldn't fall for this daughter in a short period of time, she was still her biological daughter.

She owed her daughter for 18 years.

She shouldn't be biased anymore.

Madam Bai couldn't help but feel guilty when she saw how teary Qiao Anxin looked.

She walked over and gently held Qiao Anxin's hand. "Anxin, you... are you still willing to acknowledge me as your mother? It wasn't my intention to give you away back then. I only wanted to protect you. But no matter what, Mom hasn't been by your side for more than 10 years. Mom owes you."

Chapter 1247: Feelings Could Be Nurtured Slowly

"No matter what decision you make, Mom can understand you."

"Madam Bai..." Qiao Anxin looked like she was about to burst into tears. "I-I'm really not dreaming? Are you really my mother?"

"It's true."

Madam Bai still didn't like Qiao Anxin.

But she couldn't bear to see her daughter cry like this.

She hesitated for a few seconds, then reached out and gently pulled Qiao Anxin into her arms. She said in a gentle voice, "As long as you're willing to acknowledge me, of course, I'm your mother. Anxin, don't cry. It's Mom who let you down and couldn't find you sooner. Are you willing to give Mom a chance to make it up to you?"

"Can you come home with Mom? Your dad, your brother, and I will treat you well in the future."

Qiao Anxin fell into her arms and cried even harder.

She couldn't stop sobbing.

Madam Bai couldn't bear to see her like this.

She thought that it didn't matter even if she didn't like Qiao Anxin now.

She could slowly correct her flaws in the future.

She couldn't reject this daughter just because she didn't like her.

Even if Qiao Anxin was a beggar now.

Did she not want it?

It was already a blessing that her Little Seven could live until now.

She shouldn't ask for too much.

At the thought of this, Madam Bai calmed down and wasn't as against Qiao Anxin as before.

She really liked Qiao Mianmian.

But they weren't fated to be mother and daughter anymore.

But Qiao Anxin and Qiao Mianmian were sisters now. She recognized Qiao Anxin, and in fact, she had a mother-daughter relationship with Qiao Mianmian.

Madam Bai felt better after comforting herself.

“I, I...” Qiao Anxin’s heart was full of thoughts, but she pretended to be hesitant. “But if I return to the Bai family, my adoptive parents will definitely be upset.

“They raised me, I can’t... I can’t abandon them.”

Because of Qiao Anxin’s words, Madam Bai’s impression of her changed a lot.

She liked filial children.

Madam Bai was even more impressed that Qiao Anxin still remembered her adoptive parents.

“Of course, I don’t want you to abandon them. Your adoptive parents raised you up. If you abandon them, you’ll be so heartless. Anxin, even if we acknowledge each other, they’ll still be your parents.

“If we let you return to the Bai family, wouldn’t we be asking you to abandon your previous home? In the future, be it the Qiao family or the Bai family, they will be your family. Our family has to thank your adoptive parents. They have done you and us a huge favor.

“If you’re willing, you’ll have two families in the future.

“If you’re unwilling...”

Before Madam Bai could finish her sentence, Qiao Anxin looked up with her red and swollen eyes and said longingly, “I’m willing. I’ve missed you for more than 10 years. I’ve always wanted to find my biological parents.”

Chapter 1248: Still Suspecting Her!

“Madam Bai, I-I can...” Qiao Anxin looked nervous and nervous. She bit her lip and looked uneasy. “Can I call you Mom?”

“Of course. We’re mother and daughter.” Madam Bai saw that her eyes and nose were red from crying, and her face was covered in tears. She sighed softly and reached out to wipe the tears on her face.

“Anxin, so you’re willing to acknowledge me as your mother?”

“Mm!”

Qiao Anxin nodded and looked at her with teary eyes. “Mom.”

Madam Bai’s eyes welled up.

She looked at Qiao Anxin and sighed.

She finally found her daughter.

The four of them would be reunited in the future.

...

Bai Yusheng rushed home and saw Madam Bai and Qiao Anxin talking on the sofa.

Madam Bai held her hand gently.

Hearing footsteps, Madam Bai looked up and smiled when she saw him. "Yusheng, you're back. Come over and talk to your sister. We were just talking about you."

Sister?

Bai Yusheng glanced at Qiao Anxin sitting with Madam Bai and slowly walked over.

"Mom, there's nothing wrong with the results?" Bai Yusheng didn't care about Qiao Anxin's feelings and asked directly, "You only let the doctor do it once?"

Madam Bai was stunned, and her expression changed slightly. "Yusheng, what are you talking about? How can there be an error!"

Bai Yusheng smiled, but it didn't reach his eyes. "It's only one test. Who knows, it might be wrong. In my opinion, we have to do it a few more times to be safe. Our Bai family is also a prestigious family. Even if we acknowledge our relatives, we can't just acknowledge them casually.

"Mom, our family has been looking for Little Seven for 18 years. If we find the wrong person and let someone with ill intentions take advantage of the situation and replace her, wouldn't it be a joke?"

Bai Yusheng looked straight at Qiao Anxin.

Qiao Anxin looked up and met his sharp gaze. Her heart skipped a beat, and panic filled her eyes.

She thought that it was already a done deal and that nothing would happen.

After all, with the test results, even if Madam Bai and Bai Yusheng suspected her previously, they should have dispelled their doubts now.

Moreover, Madam Bai had accepted her.

Just now, Madam Bai was still telling her to pick a day to meet Father and Mother Qiao tomorrow to talk about bringing her back to the Bai family.

Madam Bai also said that because she'd suffered a lot over the years, she couldn't casually take her back to the Bai family.

At that time, they would have to hold a banquet and invite some relatives and friends to formally introduce her to them.

No matter how she looked at it, Madam Bai believed her completely.

She didn't expect Bai Yusheng to still suspect her after the results were out!

And he even doubted her!

Obviously, he didn't acknowledge her as his sister.

The appraisal was fake.

Hence, Qiao Anxin still felt guilty under Bai Yusheng's scrutiny. She quickly lowered her head and didn't dare to look him in the eye.

Chapter 1249: I Don't Accept This Result

“Brother, do you not believe me? Do you think I lied to you? I know I’m not outstanding enough now, and Brother definitely looks down on me, so he’s unwilling to acknowledge me.” Qiao Anxin panicked for a while and immediately pretended to be sad. She rubbed her eyes and said aggrievedly, “Brother, you can look down on me, but why are you framing me?”

As Qiao Anxin spoke, her eyes reddened. “Can a paternity test be faked? Mom went with me. If I did something, how could she not know? Moreover, if Mom hadn’t told me, I wouldn’t have known that I was actually from the Bai family.

“Yusheng.” Madam Bai frowned and disagreed. “Why are you saying such nasty things? What fake? I was the one who brought your sister to do the paternity test. I was the one who found the doctor.

“Your sister was forced to leave us for more than 10 years, and now we finally recognize her. As her brother, not only did you not treat her better, but you also not made her feel the warmth of family. Why did you say such things to make her sad?”

Madam Bai knew what Bai Yusheng was thinking.

After all, she felt the same way.

But the paternity test results were out, and she was slowly accepting this fact.

“Is that so?”

Bai Yusheng’s expression was still cold. “Mom, if she’s really Little Seven, I’ll naturally treat her well. I only have this sister. Not only will I treat her well, but I’ll also dote on her and protect her for the rest of her life.

“But your so-called paternity test seems too casual. So, I don’t approve of this result. Since I don’t approve, I naturally won’t treat her as a sister.

“So...”

Bai Yusheng didn’t miss the panic and guilt in Qiao Anxin’s eyes.

His cold gaze landed on her face for a few seconds before he narrowed his eyes and looked away. “Why should I let her feel the warmth of family?”

“Yusheng, you...”

“Mom.”

Qiao Anxin suddenly stood up.

Her eyes were red, and her face was full of grievance and hurt. She choked and said, “I think I’d better go. This place... doesn’t seem to welcome me. The Bai family is indeed a prestigious family, and my current status isn’t high enough.

“Since Mr. Bai thinks I’m a fake, then take it that I’m really faking it.”

“Anyway, I never thought that I could find my family. Now that I know who my biological parents are, I’m already satisfied. As for acknowledging relatives, it’s not important anymore.”

With that, she covered her mouth and turned to leave.

“Anxin, don’t go.” Madam Bai immediately stood up and stopped her.

“Mom, someone doesn’t welcome me here.” Qiao Anxin felt wronged. “I’d better not stay.”

“Who said that? Who doesn’t welcome you?” Madam Bai turned around and glared at Bai Yusheng. “Stay, don’t leave. This will be your home in the future.”

“Your brother must have some misunderstanding to say that. Stay here, I’ll talk to him.”

Madam Bai then called a few housemaids over. “Treat Miss well.”

The housemaids already knew Qiao Anxin’s identity, so they were naturally very respectful towards her.

She was the daughter of the Bai family that they had been looking for over a decade.

Chapter 1250: Who Doesn’t Want to Be the Daughter of the Bai Family?

Now that he had finally found her, he could imagine how much he would treasure her in the future.

But it seemed like Young Master didn’t approve of this sister.

He even said that the paternity test was fake. It was obvious that he was very unhappy.

But then again, they also felt that Miss Qiao didn’t look like Madam and Master.

She didn’t look like the Young Master at all.

She didn’t look like a member of the Bai family.

Hence, it was normal for Young Master to be suspicious.

After all, it wasn’t a small matter to acknowledge a relative.

But how could a paternity test be fake?

In the study room.

Madam Bai was still a little unhappy with Bai Yusheng’s behavior downstairs. She frowned and said, “Yusheng, I know you don’t like her. You like Mianmian and want her to be your sister. But you shouldn’t have said those words in front of her. It’s so hurtful.

“Whether you like her or not, she’s still your sister.

“Our Bai family owes her for more than 10 years. Even if you don’t like her, treat her better.”

“Mom, do you really think she’s 5-Mar-2021?” Bai Yusheng looked at Madam Bai and asked calmly.

"I suspected it too." Facing her son, Madam Bai naturally told the truth. "But the paternity test results can't be faked, right? I've thought about what you're worried about, so I chose the doctor.

"He can't possibly lie to me."

Bai Yusheng pursed his lips and kept quiet for a few seconds. He still felt that something was amiss.

From the night of the banquet till now, every step was strange.

"Mom, tell me in detail. How did you find out that Qiao Anxin might be Little Seven that night?"

Madam Bai recalled and recounted what happened that night.

Bai Yusheng narrowed his eyes.

He was right. There was something fishy about this.

"You were the one who found the doctor, was it the same for the blood draw?" After a moment of silence, he suddenly thought of something.

Madam Bai was stunned.

Bai Yusheng knew the answer from her reaction.

"Mom, the person who drew the blood wasn't you, but someone else?" Bai Yusheng smiled coldly. "So, this can still be faked. I don't believe in the data, I trust my intuition more.

"If Little Seven is really one of the two daughters of the Qiao family, then I believe that Mianmian is from the Bai family.

"Mianmian looks like you. You said that you have a special liking for Mianmian. I have the same feeling too. But we don't have that feeling for Qiao Anxin. Moreover, she doesn't look like our family at all.

"Do you really think she's Little Seven?"

Madam Bai didn't doubt the results at first.

But after hearing his analysis, she started to doubt it.

"Moreover, Qiao Anxin told you that she's actually 19 years old. Back then, the Qiao family altered her age to protect her. Don't you think this reason is too unreasonable?"

Madam Bai frowned and kept quiet.

"But why would she pretend..."

"Why?" Bai Yusheng sneered. "Who doesn't want to be the daughter of the Bai family? If there's a chance to replace her, who wouldn't be tempted? Moreover, she can even do such a shameless thing as snatching Mianmian's fiancé. What can she not do?"
