

Chapter 26: Coincidences

After settling their bank cards, the two of them went to the restaurant to eat.

The two of them sat by the wall. Outside was a pedestrian street, and there was only a glass window between them. They could clearly see the scene inside from the outside.

When Qin Churou passed by the restaurant, she caught a glimpse of Qin Sheng's figure.

She was slightly stunned. Why Would Qin Sheng come here? Why would a country bumpkin come to such a high-end restaurant?

Then, her gaze fell on Fu Hanchuan's figure. She only saw a side profile, but it was perfect to the extreme. A tall nose bridge, sexy lips...

Qin Churou's heart raced. She had never seen such a good-looking man.

She almost could not control herself as she walked into the restaurant.

When she entered the restaurant, she happened to see Fu Hanchuan use his slender and good-looking hands to peel the prawns and place them in Qin Sheng's bowl.

Qin Sheng also shamelessly ate them.

Qin Churou gripped her hands tightly, her fingertips turning white. How did Qin Sheng meet such a man? She even asked him to peel the prawns for her!

Qin Churou was also used to acting. Very quickly, she suppressed her jealousy and slowly walked towards Qin Sheng.

"Sister."

Qin Churou's pretentious voice sounded. Qin Sheng put down his chopsticks and asked expressionlessly, "What's the matter?"

"Sister, I wanted to look for you to go shopping together. I didn't expect you to leave so early," Qin Churou complained. She squeezed herself next to Qin Sheng and sat down, looking like a good sister.

This dining table was for two people. Qin Sheng was very thin, and her chair could barely fit two people.

However, it was very crowded. Fu Hanchuan frowned and finally gave Qin Churou a look.

According to the information, Qin Sheng and Qin Churou were carried by the wrong person when they were in the hospital. Qin Churou was the child of a rural couple, but she became the daughter of the Qin family and enjoyed the love of the Qin family.

Qin Sheng had been abused by that couple in the countryside. Ever since she was three years old, she had endless work to do.

If it were not for the pressure of compulsory education and the pressure of the village officials, the Feng couple would not have sent Qin Sheng to school.

They had not paid a single cent for Qin Sheng's school fees. They knew the Feng couple's character. The village officials collectively donated money to help Qin Sheng pay for her school fees. After Qin Sheng grew a little older, she went to find work on her own.

Once she finished junior high school, the Feng family did not allow Qin Sheng to go to school. It was only because Qin Sheng promised to give them a fixed amount of money every month that they continued to let Qin Sheng study.

After Qin Sheng was brought back, Qin Churou still stayed in the Qin family.

According to the information, Qin Churou's talent was extraordinary. She had been recognized by the Master of Painting, Qi Wenshi, since she was young and became one of his students. In the third year of high school, she was firmly ranked in the top ten of the entire grade.

She was kind and filial. When she saw the stray cats and dogs on the road, she couldn't help but feed them and send them to the veterinarian if they were injured.

Fu Hanchuan sneered and looked away.

She was just like Zhou Sihui.

1

Qin Churou noticed Fu Hanchuan's gaze on her. Her face was slightly red. She picked up a glass of juice in front of Qin Sheng and asked casually, "Sheng Sheng, is this your friend?"

Qin Sheng's lips curled into a mocking smile.

Did Qin Churou like Fu Hanchuan this time?

"What does it have to do with you whether he's my friend or not? My relationship with you doesn't seem to be that good. You really don't know your place." Qin Sheng didn't give Qin Churou any face. She disdained to maintain a superficial relationship with Qin Churou.

Qin Churou's face was a little stiff, but she quickly recovered. Her eyes were very red, and her voice sounded very wronged. "Sister, I know that I've monopolized Mom and Dad for more than ten years. You have a problem with me, but that's not something I can stop. If you're angry, I can move out.. Sister, as long as you're willing to forgive me, I'm willing to do anything."

1

Qin Churou used her usual trick of pretending to be weak.

People sympathized with the weak, so she always succeeded in using this method. Many people had been tricked by her.

If Qin Sheng did not ease up, it would appear that she was aggressive.

Qin Churou had a good plan in her heart. No matter what Qin Sheng did, it would be beneficial to her.

On the surface, Qin Sheng was still unwilling to forgive her. She could let this man see Qin Sheng's true colors and stay away from Qin Sheng.

If Qin Sheng treated her well, she could take the opportunity to approach him through Qin Sheng.

Unfortunately, Qin Sheng and Fu Hanchuan did not play by the rules.

Qin Sheng sneered. Just as she was about to speak, Fu Hanchuan's cold voice was heard. "Since you are so considerate of Sheng Sheng's feelings, then you should leave the Qin family. Sheng Sheng hates you."

1

Qin Churou's face was completely frozen. She could not believe it.

Didn't all men like weak women?

Fu Hanchuan raised his hand to look at his watch and then looked at Qin Sheng.

Every time he looked at Qin Sheng, his face carried a doting look that he did not realize. "Sheng Sheng, it's getting late. I'll send you back."

The corners of Qin Sheng's lips curled slightly as she stood up.

"Qin Churou, you're always acting. Isn't it tiring to live with a mask on?"

2

Qin Churou clenched her hands tightly. Because Fu Hanchuan was there, she did not reveal a twisted and ferocious expression. Instead, she still looked weak and gentle.

"Sister, did you misunderstand me?"

"I've said it before. What doesn't belong to you will never belong to you."

Qin Sheng left for a while, but Qin Churou still sat on the spot. Her eyes were full of anger.

What right did Qin Sheng have to mock her?

2

As long as she could get what she wanted, she was willing to act for the rest of her life. Wasn't Qin Sheng very real? But even her biological parents hated her.

In front of that perfect man, Qin Sheng actually didn't give her face.

If it wasn't for Qin Sheng, why would he talk to her like that?

That man obviously saw that Qin Sheng didn't like him. In order to take into account Qin Sheng's feelings, he said something embarrassing to her.

It must be Qin Sheng!

Qin Churou bit her lip. She had to get this man.

No one had ever moved her at first sight.

His clothes and watches were the most expensive brands in the world, and she was the Young Miss of the Qin family. If she could match up to him, Qin Sheng was nothing!

2

Qin Churou made up her mind and began to imagine Fu Hanchuan peeling prawns for her and talking to her dotingly.

3

After Qin Sheng returned to the Qin family, she continued to take orders. She had already taken on several big orders, asking her to set up or maintain a protective system. The price was not low. If they were satisfied, they would need to pay 400,000 yuan to set up a protective system. The maintenance system was half the price.

Qin Sheng was familiar with computer operations, but it was not easy to set up or maintain a protective system. Even she would need at least three hours to do it.

She had already made one last night, and the customer had already paid.

Now, she was dealing with the second big order, which was to maintain the protective system. It only took three hours.

Qin Sheng came downstairs to have dinner. Qin Churou gave her a provocative look.

Qin Sheng looked at the expressions of Qin Hai and Lin Shuya, and the corners of her lips curled up into a mocking smile. It seemed that Qin Churou was up to no good.

She pulled out a chair and sat down. Qin Sheng picked up a piece of vegetables.

Qin Hai put down his bowl and chopsticks. "I heard that you are very intimate with a man?"

Qin Sheng was good-looking. The reason why Qin Hai was willing to take her back to the Qin family was that he liked her good looks. Finding a family to marry would bring a lot of benefits to the Qin family.

Naturally, Qin Sheng's marriage had to be in his hands.

Before this, no matter how mediocre Qin Sheng was, it was fine. The only thing that mattered was if she was innocent.. He couldn't let her mess around with other men.

1

Chapter 28: Win Him Over

Qin Sheng answered expressionlessly, "A friend of mine."

"Sister." Qin Churou wanted to say something, but she hesitated. "I saw him peel shrimp for you. Ordinary friends wouldn't act so close to each other."

Qin Churou hated her. She wanted Qin Sheng to be separated from that man, so she told Qin Hai, which made Qin Hai hate Qin Sheng even more.

She was just an adopted daughter after all. In the end, she couldn't compare to her biological daughter who was related by blood. Qin Churou was worried that one day, Qin Hai and Lin Shuya would wake up and hate her.

So, she had to brainwash them again and again.

1

Qin Sheng ignored Qin Churou and just ate the food quietly. She didn't care about Qin Hai and Lin Shuya's attitude, and there was no need for her to explain. No matter how she explained, they wouldn't believe her.

After saying that, Qin Churou quickly added, "Sister, I don't have any bad intentions. I'm just worried that Sister will be deceived by him and get hurt."

She looked like she was doing Qin Sheng a favor.

Lin Shuya saw that Qin Churou had been wronged and immediately said, "Rou'er, some people will not appreciate your kindness even if you think of them. Instead, they will hate you. You don't have to suffer yourself. You are my daughter, not a servant."

Qin Hai's face also turned black. Peel shrimp?

He sneered and said seriously, "Qin Sheng, how old are you? You just came to H City and you want to find a man? You are now in your third year of high school. The most important thing is to study!"

Seeing that Qin Sheng did not listen to him anymore, Qin Hai was so angry that his chest heaved up and down vigorously.

As expected, she was not raised by his side. She did not even care about him as her father!

He pointed at the door. "If you don't separate from that man, don't step into my Qin family's front door. Our Qin family doesn't have a daughter like you who wants to seduce a man at such a young age!"

Qin Churou lowered her head and the corners of her lips curled into a proud smile.

Qin Sheng slowly put down the bowl and chopsticks. She had already eaten her fill during that period of time.

"I can't wait. But Chairman Qin, please transfer my household registration out of your Qin family first and then give me a statement to sever the relationship."

"You!" Qin Sheng's unruly look really pissed off Qin Hai.

Of course, he wouldn't let Qin Sheng leave the Qin family. He just wanted Qin Sheng to give in. He didn't expect Qin Sheng not to play by the rules.

Seeing this, Qin Sheng sneered and went upstairs, leaving a family of three in the dining room.

The atmosphere in the restaurant was so oppressive that it was terrifying.

2

Lin Shuya lost her appetite for the food in front of her.

“I’m full.” After a pause, she continued, “Ever since she came back, our family hasn’t had a peaceful day.”

She stood up and left, and Qin Churou quickly chased after her to comfort her.

Qin Hai also leaned against the chair and sighed.

His wife was also gentle and generous. How could she give birth to such a daughter?

Although Rou’er’s biological parents were from the countryside, who would not praise her for being gentle and smart?

Qin Sheng was not like the Qin family at all. It was really hard for people to like her.

On the second floor, Qin Sheng sat in front of her desk and recalled the things that happened in her past life. Because she was secretly helping the Qin family handle the company’s affairs, she had obtained a lot of information.

Including the lives of many business elites, there were many who had been down and out. Later on, they relied on their own efforts to occupy a position in the business world.

She could rope them in to work under her.

Qin Sheng was a businessman, so she naturally thought of the greatest interests. Of course, after experiencing the events of her previous life, she also blindly used others for her own interests. What was the difference between her and Qin Churou?

Qin Sheng wrote down a name — Hong Yuan.

Chapter 29: The Game Between Experts

Hong Yuan’s wife was suffering from cancer and did not have many days left. She needed someone to accompany her at all times. Hong Yuan could not get away, so the company’s matters were left to his brother, Du Kaifeng, to handle.

2

He did not expect Du Kaifeng to be so ambitious. He had been jealous of Hong Yuan for a long time. He took this opportunity to bribe the company’s higher-ups to falsify the accounts.

When Hong Yuan found out, it was after his wife passed away. Unfortunately, the company had long been emptied by Du Kaifeng, and he owed the bank a large amount of debt. Even the company’s research results had been swept away.

Twenty years later, Hong Yuan finally stood up completely and took revenge.

However, during this period, Hong Yuan was repeatedly targeted by Du Kaifeng, and he fell quite a bit until he met a noble.

Qin Sheng bit her pen. Now was the time when Hong Yuan had just discovered what Du Kaifeng had done. It seemed that she could go and see him tomorrow.

Then, Qin Sheng wrote down the names of a few more people.

These were all prepared for her to open a game company.

In her previous life, she had figured out an all-intelligent game, but she didn't have the time to implement it.

Qin Sheng closed the book, turned on the computer, and logged onto Black Emperor.

She had her eyes on Hacker C, who could become the number one existence in Black Emperor, which was filled with computer experts. His strength was naturally not to be underestimated.

If she could recruit him into her company, it would be a great help to the company.

1

However, Qin Sheng did not have much hope. Hackers were born with arrogance. Hacker C was also the number one existence in the rankings, so she could not be sure that she could beat Hacker C.

Qin Sheng operated the computer with familiarity. Her fair fingers flew over the keyboard, wanting to follow past records and hack into Hacker C's computer.

In the past, Qin Sheng could do it without anyone noticing. She did not expect to be discovered not long after appearing on Fu Hanchuan's computer.

The protective wall that Fu Hanchuan had set up was almost perfect. He could lure hackers into the protective wall, but they could not come out or enter.

At the same time, the news of the intruder would be sent to his phone immediately.

Fu Hanchuan saw the message and narrowed his eyes.

He turned on his computer and a warning sign for the intruder popped up.

“QS?”

Fu Hanchuan leaned against his chair. Qin Sheng's figure appeared in his mind instantly, and his eyes softened unconsciously.

Even the words he typed had a hint of gentleness. "QS, what can I do for you?"

Qin Sheng's hand paused. This was the first time in her two lifetimes that someone had discovered her intrusion. C was indeed worthy of his reputation.

Immediately after, the corners of her lips curled up with a hint of recklessness. "I want to start a company. Are you interested in joining?"

Fu Hanchuan was a little curious about QS. He couldn't help but be curious because of his name and his free and unrestrained manner.

He slowly typed, "Not interested."

"Okay, sorry to bother you."

Qin Sheng was operating the computer and was about to leave when she realized that she was trapped.

1

Fu Hanchuan's message jumped out of the computer again. "You can't get out."

Qin Sheng narrowed her eyes slightly and her hands moved faster. Lines of code jumped on the screen.

Fu Hanchuan brought a cup of tea and leaned lazily on the chair, watching how QS escaped from his protective wall.

Qin Sheng had been sitting in front of the computer the whole time. Her clear eyes had been staring at the computer, and she was also a little interested in C. It was not much, but there were very few things that attracted Qin Sheng's interest.

This was the first time she had met someone who could trap her.

This was a game between experts.

The code on the computer was deleted and deleted again and again. She only stopped after half an hour.

There was no progress at all.

Qin Sheng's brain spun rapidly, for a long time.. Her eyes revealed a trace of a smile.

1

Her fair and slender hands once again placed on the keyboard and began to type.

Lines of code flashed across Qin Sheng's eyes.

The protective wall set up by Fu Hanchuan could almost not trap QS anymore.

Fu Hanchuan sat up straight and began to move his hands as well.

Qin Sheng tried to break free from the protective wall while Fu Hanchuan was maintaining the protective wall. After an hour, Qin Sheng finally came out of the protective wall.

"You're not bad, but you can't trap me," Qin Sheng said arrogantly and disappeared from Fu Hanchuan's computer screen.

1

Fu Hanchuan smiled and sipped the tea in his hand.

A good night's sleep.

At noon the next day, Qin Sheng came to the entrance of Feiyuan Technology Company. Hong Yuan was standing in front of the company with a dejected face and clenched his fists.

The company had been sealed. As it was a private company, the shares of the company were all under Hong Yuan's name. Therefore, he had to repay the debt that his company owed.

1

After the company was auctioned off, he still needed to pay back more than a million yuan.

He had gone through all the so-called friends and partners in the past. Because of Du Kaiyuan, he probably lost the value of cooperation. No one was willing to lend him money.

His wife's death and the collapse of the company had dealt a double blow. Hong Yuan, who was only 35 years old, had his back bent quite a bit. Many white hairs appeared in his thick black hair.

Du Kaifeng appeared behind him and sneered. "Hong Yuan, ah Hong Yuan, I never thought that you would have such a day."

Du Kaifeng had been jealous of him for a long time. In the same class, Hong Yuan's grades were always the best. He was second, and the teacher's praise was always first.

After work, both of them were graduates of Imperial Capital University. Hong Yuan started a gaming company and was doing well.

As for him, he failed again and again in starting his own business. He even had to save for food.

He did not expect that one day, Hong Yuan would also be down and out. He turned the tables and took 5 million yuan from Feiyuan Technology. He even gave the results of the two newly developed games to Long Yue Technology and became a department manager.

Long Yue Technology was far more powerful than Feiyuan Technology. The three best-selling games on the market were all made by Long Yue Technology.

Hearing Du Kaifeng's voice, Hong Yuan turned around. His eyes were scarlet, as if he was about to eat Du Kaifeng.

"Du Kaifeng, are you worthy of my trust?"

It was Du Kaifeng's acting skills that were good. He was also Hong Yuan's brother for twenty years. That was why he was relieved to hand over the company to him.

Du Kaifeng smiled disdainfully. "In the business world, business is business. There are no personal relationships. You trusted me too much. Did I force you? Blame me?"

Hong Yuan suddenly grabbed Du Kaifeng's collar. "Du Kaifeng, you despicable man!"

Du Kaifeng was not afraid at all. The corner of his lips was still smiling disdainfully. "If you hurt me, you'll have to compensate a large sum of money. Hong Yuan, do you still have money on you now?"

Hong Yuan suddenly lost his strength. The hand that was holding onto Du Kaifeng's collar slowly loosened.

He still had a son. He could not ignore him.

He was fine if something happened to him, but his son had just lost his mother. He could not lose his father again.

Hong Yuan smiled bitterly.

His gaze turned sharp again towards Du Kaifeng. "I'll take revenge one day."

Hearing that, Du Kaifeng laughed mockingly. “Hong Yuan, ah, Hong Yuan, as long as I’m here, you will never have the chance to turn things around.”

Hong Yuan clenched his fists tightly.

Du Kaifeng took a step forward and lowered his voice.. “Your two games are really good.”