

Bigshot 36

Chapter 36: 200 Million a Week

If Hong Yuan knew that Qin Sheng had earned nearly 200 million in just over a week, he would probably be even more devastated.

His hands were practically trembling as he poked at his phone screen. After much difficulty, he typed out a few words. "No, no need. It's enough."

Qin Sheng sent another message. "Okay, you have to pay 1.2 million in advance. You have to repay the money you owe and use the company's money to buy the car. This is the company's benefit for you."

Seeing that the repayment period was almost up, Hong Yuan didn't have any friends to borrow money from. He was too embarrassed to ask Qin Sheng. The house and car had already been taken away by the bank. He had already made preparations. If it really didn't work out, he would sell the few pieces of jewelry his wife left behind.

But he didn't expect Qin Sheng to have already considered everything.

Hong Yuan's eyes reddened. He was touched.

On the other side, Qin Sheng had earned a huge sum of money. The same went for the man who had bought stocks from Qin Sheng the last time. The capital of over 750,000 yuan had increased by 18 times. Now, it was more than 14 million yuan.

Seeing that the stock price was rising slowly, he also sold the stocks. He felt more at ease when he held the money in his hands.

In just three days, he had earned more than 10 million yuan. This was something that he did not dare to imagine.

The man was extremely glad that he had gone crazy and bought this stock with the young girl.

That girl was really a god!

Of course, there were also many regretful stockholders.

Let them have a cheap hand, let them have a cheap hand, and they had actually sold it. Now, they had suffered a huge loss and still had to watch the stock go up.

If they had not sold it back then...

Perhaps it was because Qin Sheng's appearance and temperament were unforgettable. Very quickly, a few stockholders thought of Qin Sheng.

At that time, she said, "This stock will rise."

They did not take her seriously. Instead, they thought she was a prodigal. They treated it as a joke and insisted on selling the stock in their hands.

Didn't they send the money away?

If they did it again, they would definitely buy it with the young girl.

However, it was useless to regret it.

After that, when those shareholders came to the stock exchange, they would subconsciously look around to see if there was that young girl.

They were destined not to find Qin Sheng at the stock exchange. After that, Qin Sheng would buy and sell stocks on her personal computer.

The matter of the capital had been settled, and the preparation of the company was handed over to Hong Yuan. Qin Sheng stopped taking orders online.

The next thing to do was to recruit talents, but there was no rush.

After the weekend, it was Monday, time for school.

This time, when Qin Sheng came to the school, she could clearly feel the difference in the atmosphere. Many people deliberately avoided her when they passed by. Some students glanced at her from time to time when they were talking, and the person they were discussing was Qin Sheng.

Qin Sheng frowned slightly, but she didn't take it to heart.

When she came to the class, the noisy class instantly quieted down. When Qin Sheng looked at them, they hurriedly lowered their heads.

Qin Sheng placed the bag on her back on the table. Huang Xiaoyan's original actions were the same as those of the other students in Class 4.

However, she could not hold back her emotions. From time to time, she would look at Qin Sheng, wanting to say something but stopping herself.

Qin Sheng was reading a book. Huang Xiaoyan's gaze was too obvious. It was difficult not to notice it.

She closed the book. "Tell me, what happened?"

Qin Sheng asked. Huang Xiaoyan seemed to have opened her mouth and no longer had any scruples, "Sheng Sheng, do you know what the school is saying? They're saying that you're a girl from the countryside, wearing branded clothes, and that you're being kept by an old man. There are also people saying that they saw you with their own eyes behaving intimately with an old man and even going into a hotel."

Huang Xiaoyan was very angry. Sheng Sheng was obviously not this kind of person.

Old man, bah!
