

BIGSHOT MR. FU S WIFE IS SWEET AND WILD

Chapter 6

What the F*ck?

Ji Luo and the others looked at each other. This was the first time Fu Ge was interested in a woman. They were shocked. Could it be that he had taken a fancy to her?

Not to mention anything else, Qin Jianxi was really gorgeous.

Ji Luo quickly came back to his senses and replied, "Brother Fu, she's the eldest young lady of the Qin family. Her name is Qin Jianxi."

Qin Jianxi... Fu Ge repeated her name inwardly and smiled. This woman was really bold.

Ji Luo glanced at his expression and leaned in closer. He lowered his voice and asked, "Brother Fu if you're interested... Shall I arrange it for you?"

Fu Ge glanced at him and coldly spat out, "Get lost."

Ji Luo didn't get any response so he left on his own accord. He had thought that this fellow cared about a woman and started showing interest in a woman. But in the end... Ji Luo was happy for nothing.

Fu Ge was no longer interested in staying there. He stood up, his extremely refined face noble and indifferent. He said, "I'm leaving."

"Where to?" Ji Luo asked naturally.

Fu Ge didn't answer him and walked out.

Ji Luo quickly shouted at him, "Brother Fu, don't forget about the horse race this Sunday."

Fu Ge didn't stop. He just waved his hand to show that he understood...

On the other side, Qin Jianxi walked out of the villa. As she walked, she organized the original owner's memories and recalled the plot of the book she had read. She realized that it was useless.

Forget it, who cares if there was a plot or not? If she's trapped here for the rest of her life, then she'll just live well. Why would she go and seek death?

At this moment, she realized a problem. She was empty-handed. Not to mention a cell phone, she didn't even have a single cent on her!

Therefore, she had to return to the original owner's home first.

Thinking of this inexplicable encounter, she was angry again. She couldn't help but give a thumbs up to the sky and then turn it upside down.

F*ck.

This place was still a little far from the Qin family house. Qin Jianxi wasn't in a hurry, so she walked slowly and thought about her future. To be more accurate, how she could live more comfortably here.

After walking for about half an hour, she happened to pass by a building, where a lot of people were standing around, watching something.

Qin Jianxi originally wasn't interested in this kind of thing. She wasn't a gossip.

However, when she passed by, she overheard someone saying, "Oh my, that's so pitiful. If she falls, even if she doesn't die, she'll still be severely paralyzed, right?"

"Her mother is too cruel. If she wants to die, then she should die by herself. Why does she have to die with the child? It's such a tall building, and the child is so small... But what can we do!"

“Poor child, you’re so young, how could you be so unlucky to have such parents?”

“A couple’s quarrel is one thing, but they’re not worthy of being parents if their child is sacrificed.”

“Why haven’t any authorities arrived to save them yet?”

“I just called the police. Even if they rush over, it will still take ten minutes...”

...

When Qin Jianxi heard this, she subconsciously looked up. Indeed, she saw that on the eighth floor, the window of the house was not equipped with anti-theft windows. A woman was sitting on the window with her child in her arms. She looked like she was about to jump down.

When Qin Jianxi saw this scene, she couldn’t help but want to curse again. This was too ridiculous. As a mother, if she wants to die, then she can just die by herself. Why did she want to jump off a building with a child?

She stopped thinking about it. She couldn’t bear to see such a young child leave this world in the most tragic way before they could feel the beauty of life. It was too unfair to the child. No matter who it was, they had the right to live.

Therefore, she squeezed through the crowd in two or three steps, looked up, and saw a pipe...
