Chapter 721: The First Batch of People in the Third Dimension, Reuniting with the Ancestors

A giant black hole emerged in the chaos like a black eye, profoundly unknown. Endless power surrounded, the power of destruction. It seemed like the world was collapsing and the earth was about to fall apart.

This was an incomparably bizarre scene and it was also a place of crisis. Cultivators of the Heavenly Realm could feel the endless pressure when they were near, and those below Heavenly Realm would definitely be shattered by the overflowing turbulence of Wisdom!

Gu Debai, Yun Qianshan, and the rest were hovering in front of this black hole, each thinking a different thought and sporting a different expression.

"Brother Debai, don't you want to enter the third dimension? You do know that there's an abundance of Origins there, right?" asked Yun Qianshan suddenly.

"Of course, I'm going!" Gu Debai smirked. It was apparent he had already made up his mind. "Back then, some of our clan members entered the third dimension and are still trapped there. This will be a happy reunion for us. Heck, they might even have accomplished what they had set out to do."

Yun Qianshan frowned and fell into hesitation. A monster behind him suddenly piped up, "I want to go to the third dimension, too. I want to seek for my ancestor who went in to avenge us many years ago!"

The monster had a pair of black horns growing on its head and its face was full of grief and anger. It was a member of the Divine Chaos Sheep clan. Back then, their ancestor was already a Wisdom Elite, so he might even be a second-step Wisdom Elite if he had gotten some Origins in the third dimension. Their ancestor would definitely be able to avenge those who had been turned into game meat.

"Our ancestor's there, too, so I'm going to the third dimension as well!" said another demon with a body full of black feathers. It was a Chaos Three-legged Crow.

"Me, too! Selling out my team members will be a humiliation I have to carry for the rest of my life. I'll stop at nothing to avenge them!" said an old Cow Demon.

Lord Angel looked at them and shook his head. 'Where are all your filial piety? How can you sell out your ancestors as game meat?'

"How about you, Brother Qianshan?" asked Gu Debai.

Yun Qianshan shook his head and said, "I'm not going."

'Why would I follow you all to look for your ancestors? Besides, I'll be in a precarious situation once you've found them,' thought Yun Qianshan.

"You're a scaredy-cat, just as I expected," said Gu Debai coldly.

He looked at the portal and his mana began to surge. "Eldritchs, follow me into the third dimension!" He then entered the portal while keeping an eye on the turbulent Wisdom current.

"Let's go!" The demons' eyes narrowed and their mana also surged as they rushed into the portal one after another. Soon, only a few people such as Yun Qianshan and Lord Angel were left.

"Haha, how stupid can they get? The third dimension's chaotic and full of unknown risks. It's not worthwhile for me to go there. Now that the Eldritchs are gone, I can have all the Origins of the seventh dimension to myself! Although the Origins aura is still weak, with consistency comes great victory!" said Yun Qianshan coldly.

Before, the Eldritchs had cut off their Origins trail before stealing it. Therefore, he should grab this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity with two hands. He suddenly had a yearning for the Origins when he recalled its deliciousness. He had not eaten it for a long time, so he really missed it.

Then, he looked at Lord Angel and said, "Brother Tianhua, you're also very smart for choosing to stay here. Why not join me in stealing the seventh dimension's Origins?"

The corner of Lord Angel's mouth twitched as he said, "Thank you so much, but I can't bear the smell of the Origins, so I'm giving it a pass."

"You're too shallow. It's just the smell. How can you prove that you've attained Wisdom in such a state of mind? Take some time to think it over. I'll save you some just in case," lectured Yun Qianshan.

"Thank you," said Lord Angel sincerely.

Then, Yun Qianshan excitedly went to prepare for his great cause of stealing Origins while Lord Angel rushed toward the Area of the Gods. His expression changed when he was near the Fallen Immortal Mountain.

He could feel the endless Wisdom swirling about in the sky. Looking from a distance, the sky above the Fallen Immortal Mountain was intertwined with rich Wisdom ripples. He could even vaguely sense the Origins aura in the area rising.

"Gosh! The expert must be offering great fortunes again. I can't believe I missed his party! Gah! I'm so mad that I think I'm about to go crazy." He quickly flapped his fleshy wings to increase his speed and with a whoosh, he instantly arrived at the foot of the Fallen Immortal Mountain.

At this time, the sky was dim and everyone had eaten and drank enough. They were packing up the leftovers and chatting. Li Nianfan had already gone back to the four-part architecture with Daji and Fire Phoenix. It was only natural that the rest would not let him do the dirty work of cleaning up.

Lord Angel twitched his nose, smelling the fragrant smell of food and the Origins aura in the air. His face flushed with anxiety and his hair stood on ends. 'Animals! You're all animals! Why didn't you leave me some?'

He swept his eyes across the scene and discovered that the Jade Emperor and others were still packing. He rushed over immediately. "Give me all those leftovers! I'll fight whoever that dares to take it away from me!" He then picked up the pot and began to drink from it.

The Jade Emperor was very fair and immediately said, "Everyone, stop what you're doing. Let Brother Tianhua have his fill since he's here."

"Brother Tianhua, don't worry. There's still some sauce and meat left. You can start the hotpot again if you want," said Yang Jing who was lying in the chair and stroking a Deified Dog. His aura was much stronger than before. Wisdom could be seen to have manifested around him. This was because he had just broken through and had not mastered his new powers yet.

In addition to Yang Jing, Goddess Nuwa, Cultivator Junjun, and the Jade Emperor had all officially entered the realm of Wisdom Elite. Xiao Chengfeng, Jiang Liu, and the others were a half-step away from being Wisdom Elites. They just needed to train a little more.

"You dogs! I was the only one who was doing my best to serve the expert while all of you ate and drank here. I despise you for your sudden progress in cultivation!" said Lord Angel as he scarfed down the food.

Everyone's expressions changed and they immediately gathered around him. "What's wrong? Has there been any new development?"

"If only I had some sesame sauce to dip the meat in," said Lord Angel profoundly.

"Coming right up!" Cultivator Junjun passed him a plate of sesame sauce and said, "Try this."

"Hmm, not bad." Lord Angel nodded and then said, "I'm so busy with the hotpot and the grill. You have to forgive me if I forget things easily."

"Don't be a stranger, Brother Tianhua. I'll grill the food for you!" said Yang Jing immediately.

"Let us know if you want anything else, Brother Tianhua. We'll make sure to serve you well," said the Jade Emperor.

"Don't push your luck. Tell us what you discovered," said Xiao Chengfeng.

Lord Angel wolfed down the meat and said, "Do you all remember the big commotion that happened previously? Do you know what actually happened?"

"We wouldn't need to ask you if we knew. Tell us everything now!" said Jiang Liu.

Lord Angel smiled enigmatically, and then, he solemnly said, "The portal to the third dimension has been opened."

"Portal?"

"To the third dimension?"

Everyone was shocked.

"You may not know this, but both the third dimension and its Origins are already shattered. They're isolated from the other dimensions. Therefore, there shouldn't be any portals connecting to the third dimension at all. However, some variables must've occurred as a portal leading to the third dimension has just opened up in the seventh dimension. I'm sure it's the work of a person with great magical powers!"

"I bet the expert did it," said the Jade Emperor without hesitation.

"Yes, it's definitely Master. The expert painted a drawing and stamped it with the big stamp composed of the Origins of the third dimension. It was also at that time that the variables in the Chaos occurred," said Shi Tuqin. Even now, her voice was filled with awe and shock when she recalled what happened that day.

The painting had been given to her by Li Nianfan. At that time, she was really struggling to comprehend it, but after having the self-service hotpot and barbecue, she had reached the edge of the second-step Wisdom Elite and could somewhat understand the painting now.

'Sure enough, it's the expert!' The look on everyone's faces showed no surprise.

"There must be a profound reason as to why the expert opened up the portal to the third dimension. Do you think he wants us to go into the third dimension?" said Cultivator Junjun seriously.

"Maybe there's something there that he wants," said Yang Jing.

"I know, I know! Brother Li's all about fertilizing the plants right now. He would sigh every time he goes to the backyard," said Nanan.

Qin Manyun's eyes lit up suddenly. "There are only two things when it comes to fertilizer. One, is the manure from the demons and two, is the wood ash that Master mentioned the other day."

"That means the expert needs demons and wood ash!" said the Jade Emperor.

Goddess Nuwa sighed and said, "Master's game animals are all dead now and we're to blame for it. We must find a way to make it up to him!"

"Then we have no choice but to go to the third dimension to hunt some demons. The demons from the fourth dimension went to the third dimension to seek for their ancestors to avenge them," said Lord Angel with a smile.

"The wood ash might be there, too, since Brother Li was the one who opened up the portal!" said Dragin excitedly.

Everyone suddenly felt bright and were all smiles. They were happy to have understood what the expert wanted them to do. This way they could better share his burden.

"Let's make some preparations. The third dimension's too chaotic. We shouldn't bring too many people over so only the best of the best should go. Therefore, only those who are half-step Wisdom Elites and above can register to go," said Cultivator Junjun solemnly.

Meanwhile, in the third dimension, time and space were distorted, Wisdom was circulating about, and the roars were constant. Gu Debai and the others stepped out of the emerging vortex.

They first glanced at this dead dimension and their expressions were slightly changed by the aura of destruction there. Although they had guessed what the third dimension would look like, what greeted them was far more terrible than whatever they could ever imagine. The third dimension seemed to be filled with a weird aura. It made their hair stand and filled them with uneasiness.

"Oh no! The portal has...disappeared!" Gu Debai's expression changed suddenly. Everyone's pupils suddenly shrank into a line when they turned their heads. "The portal's a one-way passage! We can only come here but we won't be able to leave!" he said in a trembling voice.

"How can this be? How will we ever go back?" asked Gu Lie with shock.

"Are we going to be trapped here forever, too?"

"No! I shouldn't have come at all!"

"This is the first time I've come across a one-way portal!"

Everyone scanned their surroundings grudgingly, even more at a loss. Suddenly, a mighty aura emerged from all directions and it seemed that there were many strong fighters peeping at them. Then, they each showed themselves. They were shocked and overjoyed when they saw Gu Debai and the others.

"Ah, this explains the commotion. Something huge has definitely occurred!"

"Finally, some new blood, but how's this possible?!"

"Haha, does this mean we have a chance at leaving this place?"

"Although it's only a one-way portal, it's definitely better than nothing!"

"Weren't all the portals destroyed? How did they come here?"

The aura of this group of people locked on Gu Debai and his group. They were shocked to discover that the people in the third dimension were all Wisdom Elites. Even Gu Debai became a little scared when he sensed some of the auras that belonged to second-step Wisdom Elites.

They were agitated and were prepared to fight any time. Suddenly, someone in the group asked, "Are you from the Eldritch clan?"

Gu Debai was slightly stunned. He followed the voice and was happy to see his old friend. "Brother Gu Ai!"

"Gu Debai? Gu Lie? You guys came, too! Come over to me now!" Gu Ai laughed and then said, "They're from the same clan as I am so don't anyone dare lay a finger on them."

Everyone immediately retracted their auras from Gu Debai. The fact that Gu Ai was still alive in the third dimension was a testament to his power. No one would dare offend them since both Gu Debai and Gu Lie were second-step Wisdom Elites. too.

"Are you from the Chaos Divine Sheep clan?" asked another voice suddenly. It was a thin old man with double horns and a goatee.

"Ancestor?" The Chaos Divine Sheep demons suddenly trembled as they looked at their ancestor with teary eyes. They all rushed over and cried, "Ancestor, you really are still alive. We've been badly bullied!"

"Chaos Three-legged Crows, come to me!" Another voice was heard, making the Chaos Three-legged Crow demons excited. They flapped their wings and rushed over to the speaker.

"Greetings, ancestor!" they said piously.

After that, only a small group of people were left standing where they were. They seemed so helpless and weak.

"Where's the ancestor of that group of people? Step forward now!" said someone sinisterly.

However, silence blanketed the place.

"Tsk tsk tsk, looks like their ancestor's no good at all."

"Oh well. Let's capture them and peek into their souls to see where they came from and what happened exactly!"

Chapter 722: The Eldritch Clan's Plan, Entering the Third Dimension

In the third dimension, the land of the Eldritchs.

Gu Ai was playing host to Gu Debai and the others. Then, in a serious voice, he asked, "How did you guys come here?"

"We came from the seventh dimension. There's really something weird about the seventh dimension..."
Gu Debai told Gu Ai all that he knew about the seventh dimension.

Gu Ai's expression became more and more solemn before he finally said, "It's obvious that a powerful existence is running the seventh dimension. If not, there wouldn't be that many skilled fighters in such a short time. It would also explain how it was possible for Guzhe to perish."

The most important thing was... How did the seventh dimension open up a portal to the third dimension? It was too illogical and was akin to creating something out of nothing. No ordinary person could possess such strong magical powers. Could it be that some kind of variable had appeared in the seventh and third dimensions?

"I'll go check out the seventh dimension at the first opportunity," said Gu Ai leisurely.

"Brother Gu Ai, can you tell us what happened in all the years you've been here? Did you get the Origins?"

"Do you think I'll still be alive if I didn't get any Origins?" Gu Ai smiled slightly and paused. "The third dimension's broken. Its Origins have become a torrent that's overflowing, scattered everywhere. Only those with great chances can get it, and once the Origins is obtained, his power will naturally advance by leaps and bounds. Not only me, but the ancestors of the demons who came with you also got a part of the Origins."

"If that's the case, why don't we just steal it from the others who have gotten it?" asked Gu Debai.

Gu Ai was already at the pinnacle of the second-step Wisdom Elite and he still possessed the Origins. Now, coupled with Gu Debai and Gu Lie, the group was definitely at the pinnacle of combat power in the third dimension. There was no doubt that they could wipe out the rest of the people there.

"It's not as simple as that." Gu Ai shook his head. "Us Eldritchs aren't welcomed among the seven dimensions. We'll definitely be targeted if we make a move on others. I've been trapped in the third dimension for so many years and many of our people have died since then."

"Do you really plan to let it go just like that? We need to come up with a countermeasure!" said Gu Lie aggressively.

Gu Ai just laughed and said, "Countermeasure? We already set up a trap in the third dimension many years ago. We would've succeeded if it wasn't for the sudden changes in the third dimension."

"Oh? What's the trap?" asked Gu Debai and Gu Lie excitedly, their eyes all lit up.

Gu Ai smiled enigmatically and said, "We're at the tail end of the plan so just wait patiently for it."

Meanwhile, at the Chaos Three-legged Crows' territory, the crows from the fourth dimension were crying to the Crow King about the atrocities of the seventh dimension.

"Crow King, the seventh dimension's really hateful. We Chaos Three-legged Crows are mythical beasts with supreme bloodlines and yet, they see us as game meat and mock us by saying how much they love eating chicken wings! We aren't chicken wings! We're crow wings!"

The Crow King's eyes flashed with cold light and a fierce aura surged in its body. "How can it be! How dare the seventh dimension behave so atrociously? They want us to pay tribute to them as compensation? Where do they even get the confidence to think we'll let them get away with this?"

"Not to mention those two cowards, Lord Angel and Yun Qianshan! They're the shame of the entire fourth dimension for selling our people out like that. I'll definitely make them explain themselves once I'm out of the third dimension!"

"All hail the mighty Crow King. Now that the Crow King has seized the opportunity in the third dimension, he's entered the second-step. Even Lord Angel's no match for you!" said all the crows in unison.

The Crow King smiled coldly and said, "Send someone to guard the portal to the third dimension. Someone from the seventh dimension will definitely come here and once they do, we'll then them and make them pay a little first."

On the other side, the Chaos Divine Sheep clan was also having a similar discussion.

By then, the Heavenly Palace people had gathered at the portal leading to the third dimension. After several rounds of screening, it was finally determined that Cultivator Junjun, Yang Jing, Xiao Chengfeng, and Xing Ya would go to the third dimension while the others would guard the seventh dimension. As for those from the four-part architecture, Shi Tuqin, Qin Manyun, Nanan, Dragin, and Blackie were dispatched.

"It's really chaotic over in the third dimension. Be careful and don't act rashly," reminded the Jade Emperor.

"Don't worry. When have we ever come back in defeat?" said Nanan with a smile.

"We'll definitely reap a bountiful harvest in the third dimension," said Blackie.

"Alright, it's time to go!" said Cultivator Junjun. Then, they all entered the portal.

In the third dimension, everyone was suspended above the ruined sky as they emerged from the twisting vortex. All of them frowned at the same time when they sensed the destructive aura in the air.

"Haha! It's just as the Crow King predicted. More newcomers have arrived!" A hoarse voice was heard, revealing a cold murderous intent that instantly appeared in the void. "Are you people from the seventh dimension?" Behind the voice stood a group of demons with black feathers.

"I'd recognize this bald dog and his leather pants anywhere! It's definitely them alright!" Another voice was heard as the Chaos Divine Sheep Demons with black horns appeared.

In addition to them, other powers in the third dimension were also eyeing Blackie maliciously.

"I already know that the seventh dimension's extraordinary after peeking through the others' souls. Only by catching them and peeking into their souls can I know the secrets of the seventh dimension!"

"He's right! We have to get to the bottom of the big secret they're hiding from us!"

"Their powers aren't bad but they don't even have a second-step Wisdom Elite amongst them. What a joke!"

Their auras flowed from all directions, trying to suppress Blackie and the others. Blackie was in the center of the storm. He swept his gaze across his enemies and suddenly smiled. "The third dimension's indeed wondrous. We've only just arrived and yet, so many game animals are already offering themselves up to us!"

"Die, you stupid dog!" said a Chaos Divine Sheep Demon coldly. "I haven't seen the Dog Demon for a long time and I can still remember how tasty its flesh is. I'll never forgive myself if I don't turn you into game meat!"

The surrounding demons laughed loudly.

"Well said! Remember to leave the thigh meat for me!"

"I want its head!"

"His p*nis is mine!"

Suddenly, a burst of bright light exploded. Endless stars appeared above their heads, turning into galaxies and igniting the sky. Under the dazzling starlight, a figure slowly walked out, bathed in brilliance. He was wearing a mask and was walking under the stars with his hands folded behind his back.

An empty valley-like voice came from his mouth. "Who's the one who said he wanted to peek into our soul? Well, I'm standing here! What are you waiting for?" Such a dazzling entrance, coupled with that unpredictable temperament and domineering words, immediately surprised everyone.

However, they almost laughed out loud after taking a closer look, for they discovered that he was only a half-step Wisdom Elite. 'Who's he trying to fool?'

"Where did this ant come from? Do you really want to die that much? Well, let me grant you your wish!" A brawny man smiled grimly as he stepped forward. In a blink of an eye, he was already in front of Xing Ya. His fingers turned into claws that grabbed Xing Ya by the skull. "I'll suck you dry!"

The Power of Wisdom was running in his palm, trying to search through Xing Ya's memories. However, in the next moment, the expression on the brawny man's face suddenly stiffened as his body trembled violently and his pupils were filled with extreme fear.

"Ah—! How can this be? Why do I feel an incomparable horror pressing on my body? What in the world is in your head? Those are some terrifying taboos!" He roared desperately, madly.

At a certain moment, he suddenly stopped moving. He then turned into a poof of dust which dissipated with the wind.

Silence blanketed everyone.

The people in the third dimension gasped and were filled with disbelief.

How was it possible for a mighty Wisdom Elite to die by the hands of a half-step Wisdom Elite? They would not have believed it if they did not see it with their own eyes.

A smile broke out of Xing Ya's face when he sensed that he was at the center of attention. He paced forward and his starlight became even more dazzling. "Who will reach the peak at the end of the immortal road, behold it's Xing Ya with his immeasurable Wisdom. It's so lonely at the top."

His words shocked everyone to the core. He was enjoying the attention. He reflected on it for a long time, always feeling that it was a bit boring to merely utter a slogan whenever he appeared. Then again, he did not have much power to begin with.

It was rare for someone to ask for a soul peek and today, he ran into the perfect opportunity to display his power, making him feel unbelievably overjoyed.

He laughed and asked, "Who else wants to give it a try?"

"What is it with these people? How is it possible to die just by peeking into his soul?"

"It's so terrifying. Even a Wisdom Elite perished just like that. I'm afraid the secret they're hiding is unimaginably huge!"

"The bigger it is, the more opportunity there is for us!"

"Take them down so that we can force their secret out of them!"

"How dare a weak chicken like you speak such big words! I'll eliminate you first!"

Everyone's thoughts turned sharply. Their momentum was turbulent, and at the same time, they raised their hands as they unanimously moved forward to suppress Xing Ya!

Xing Ya's face turned pale instantly. The hair on his body stood up as he backed away in a panic. "Aren't you guys going to do a soul peek? Why did you suddenly change your mind? Help me, Blackie!"

"Grr, how dare you lousy game animals turn against your masters!" Blackie took a step forward and lifted his paw, condensing a huge phantom that covered the sky and the sun, blocking all attacks.

"How many times have we told you not to act all cool when you don't have enough power?" Xiao Chengfeng glanced at Xing Ya contemptuously. Then, with a sword in his hand, he shouted, "God wouldn't accept the birth of Xiao Chengfeng, but my sword cultivation is still historical like the long night!"

The endless sword aura surged up, and though it looked astonishing, Xiao Chengfeng maintained his position behind Blackie's back.

"Let's work together to take them down!" The people of the third dimension stared at Blackie and others as they exerted a mighty force to seal the surroundings, wanting to suppress them!

"The sound of the music comes and goes like the tide, waking up, we realized everything was just a dream." Qin Manyun played her Guqin with both hands. Wisdom swam around her like a dragon. It was as if she had put herself in an independent, special place where she could override everything in the world.

The sound of the Guqin condensed into sharp blades. The endless tunes swept out of her instrument, mobilizing the power of Wisdom as they turned into countless terrifying wind blades!

The group of people entered into a trance. They felt as if they were drunk as soon as the sound of her Guqin drifted into their ears. Then, they saw a phantom of themselves in front of them. The phantom overlapped reality, charging at them.

In the void, Wisdom manifested. Countless people fought against their own phantoms while being immersed in the sound of the Guqin, unable to extricate themselves.

Shi Tuqin was holding a brush as she smiled at the people who rushed over. She then began to sketch. "Painting eggs is my strong point. You can all take your time to incubate!"

She waved at a demon and an egg was drawn in the void. The body of that person was suddenly squeezed by Wisdom and trapped in the egg!

"One egg, two eggs, three eggs..." Soon, countless eggs were floating in the void.

"Do you really think we're that easy to bully?" Nanan scoffed and with a step, her small body appeared in the center of the sky. She was surrounded by a black aura, making her look like a big black sun.

"There's no trace of time as I devour time itself!" A frightening aura poured out from her body and the intense pressure was a hundred times more terrifying than the wrath of Heaven, suppressing them to the point that they could not breathe. The black light fell on everyone.

"Ah—! What the heck is this spell? It can even devour time itself!"

"A hundred years of my cultivation was devoured in an instant!"

"This is the work of the devil!"

"How are they real? Their ultimate spells aren't of the average first-step Wisdom Elite!"

"Their talents are too terrifying. Their combat power's the same as a second-step Wisdom Elite even though they're only in the first-step!"

"Quick, go get our ancestor!"

On the other side, the Eldritchs were solemnly watching the battlefield.

"Their Wisdom has returned to the source and their ultimate spells are imbued with the Origins aura. I find this really amazing!" said Gu Ai with shock.

Gu Debai and Gu Lie were even more shocked than him and their faces were pale.

"Impossible! This is absolutely impossible! This group of people weren't this strong yesterday. How did they break through their realms in just one night?" asked Gu Debai in a trembling voice.

Gu Lie was shocked to the point that his worldview had shattered. "This can't be real! This is madness. We just fought them yesterday and only the fox and the phoenix were second-step Wisdom Elites. The way they're leveling up will be the death of me!"

"If it's as you say, then the seventh dimension is really too mysterious!" Gu Ai's eyes suddenly narrowed. He solemnly said, "The only thing that can help them advance that quickly are the Origins! What exactly is the seventh dimension hiding?"

"We can't let them leave this place alive. Should we join the battle?" asked Gu Debai.

Gu Ai smiled slightly and said, "Patience. The plan's already been put into motion. We only need to wait and see."

Several more figures came from a distance. Their momentums distorted time and space, and Wisdom knelt before them. It was the Crow King and the ancestor of the Chaos Divine Sheep!

"Let's see just how strong you people from the seventh dimension are!" said the Crow King.

They cast their ultimate spells at Blackie and the others as soon as they arrived. However, a sudden change occurred. A wisp of gray aura suddenly rose from a distance and there was a roaring sound that shook the sky, making everyone distraught.

Chapter 723: Why Be So Irascible When We're Living in Such a Wonderful World?

"The aura appeared again!"

"It's filled with the unknown and it's coming from that forbidden starfield!"

"So that's where the rest of the third dimension's Origins are hiding!"

The battle came to an abrupt end. Even the Crow King that rushed over did not have time to pay attention to Blackie and the others. It looked at the area solemnly.

Cultivator Junjun's eyes narrowed slightly and he said in horror, "What a weird aura. It makes me very anxious. I'm afraid I can't avoid it!"

"This aura's definitely not a good thing. It's not only full of the unknown but also full of extremely powerful destructive force." Yang Jing opened his third eye and a stream of light shot out. He could see through the Heavens and worlds but not through the mist. In fact, trying to see through the mist made his eyes sore. "There's definitely something powerful over there!" he said with shock.

Shi Tuqin frowned slightly and said, "Don't you think that's weird? That there's a large amount of the third dimension's Origins suddenly overflowing there. What could it possibly mean?"

"It means that the destruction of the third dimension is probably related to this aura, and the Origins are suppressed in it," said Qin Manyun thoughtfully.

"What should we do, Crow King?" asked a member of the Chaos Three-legged Crow clan.

"We'll focus on the Origins first since some changes have occurred. These people should count themselves lucky. Let them go and we'll go check out the place." The Crow King glanced at Blackie and the others contemptuously and then with a flash, it was already heading toward the aura with its clan members.

The other people of the third dimension did the same. They did not take Blackie and others to heart and flew towards the aura one after another.

In the distance, Gu Ai smiled and said, "Hehe, it's finally over."

Gu Debai was originally full of doubts about the aura. He was shocked when he heard the words, and asked, "This aura's the work of the Eldritch clan?"

"Yes, it's the strongest setup of our clan, and it's also the oldest in existence in all of the seven dimensions!" said Gu Ai profoundly.

"The oldest existence?!" Gu Debai and Gu Lie were shocked. The seven dimensions had been in existence for innumerable years. No one could say for sure just how long! Even the legends were scarce. No one knew for sure what the seven dimensions were like in the beginning.

"What is it exactly?" asked Gu Lie curiously.

"It calls itself 'Heaven', the 'Heaven' of all seven dimensions."

It was named that because heaven symbolizes the peak! Therefore, when anyone reached a peak in one area, they would always call themselves 'Heaven'. No one had ever seen 'Heaven' but everyone knew that they would have to turn up their face to gaze upon it. Then there was also the saying of punishment from heaven, heaven's wrath, and so forth.

"Is it really the Heaven of all seven dimensions?" Gu Debai and Gu Lie's hearts began to thump wildly as the blood in their veins sped up, making them tremble all over. This was indeed very shocking!

"The reason our clan could suppress the first dimension is that the Ancestor Eldritch met Heaven one day and received guidance from him," said Gu Ai.

"Why would it help us? Isn't it very powerful?" asked Gu Debai.

"The Ancestor Eldritch said that back then, the seven dimensions were one. Later on, however, a group of people defied Heaven and divided the dimension into seven parts with great magic power. They separated them from each other and the rest was history." Gu Ai paused and continued, "And Heaven was also severely injured and sealed under the seven dimensions."

This new secret knowledge set off a wave of a storm in the hearts of Gu Debai and Gu Lie. 'I can't believe something like this happened so long ago and those people were the ones who gave rise to the term 'heaven-defying'.'

Gu Lie glanced at that unknown in horror and asked, "Will this Heaven turn against us?"

"Don't worry, the Ancient Eldritch is more powerful than you and I could ever imagine. He'll definitely replace Heaven one day," said Gu Ai proudly.

"What does Heaven plan to do now?" asked Gu Debai.

Gu Ai laughed and said, "Many people have come here after they found out that the third dimension's Origins had been shattered in hopes of getting their hands on it. Don't you think it would save us a lot of trouble to capture them all in one go now that they've been lured here? Even a second-step Wisdom Elite wouldn't be able to win against a part of Heaven's aura. We just need to sit tight and watch."

All the eyes of the Eldritch clan flashed and smiles broke out of their faces.

"Brilliant! Truly brilliant!" said Gu Debai.

Meanwhile, at the Heavenly Palace, after lots of investigation, Yang Jing had finally discovered some information about the aura.

"There's a chaotic sea of stars all over the starfield, but there's a broken tree trunk on one of the stars. Half a month ago, someone accidentally found the broken tree, and since then, it has been contaminated with the unknown and awakened that gray mist," said Yang Jing.

Xiao Chengfeng also gathered some intel after asking around. He solemnly said, "I heard that if you're infected with the unknown, you'll be covered with white hair and become a white-haired monster. It's extremely horrifying!"

"At first, everyone thought there was a great opportunity there, but later on, even the Wisdom Elite perished. Since then, it has become a forbidden zone! It's unexpected of it to suddenly manifest the Origins.," said Jiang Liu.

Everyone looked solemn. They all found this immensely strange.

However, the eyes of Nanan and Dragin suddenly lit up as they exclaimed, "Broken tree?! Ah! Brother Li said that wood ash is made of broken trees. Such a mysterious broken tree is definitely the best choice for making wood ash!"

Silence filled the room as the Heavenly Palace people broke out in cold sweat.

'We're here nervously analyzing the situation and this is all you can think about?'

'Your conclusion for such a powerful existence is to make it into wood ash?'

'Can you be any more stubborn than that?'

'I guess being by the expert's side will give unimaginable perspectives!'

"So that's why Master opened up a portal to the third dimension. Hurry, we need to get some wood ash for him!" said Blackie.

Immediately, everyone went to where the aura was.

In the chaotic sea of stars, which was no doubt the most bizarre place in the entire third dimension, were countless star fields. Big and small stars alike were suspended in the void and it was like a horizonless ocean. The probability of encountering a broken tree in so many stars was lower than low and because of the changes that had occurred. This sea of stars had been sealed off and turned into a restricted area.

Many people had already gathered here by the time Blackie and the others arrived. They rushed over as soon as they heard the commotion. Looking up, it could be seen that somewhere among the sea of stars, there was an unknown and strange gray fog flowing. There were also white-haired monsters swaying in it. They were covered with white hair and their faces withered with the omen of old age.

Everyone was looking at them with shock and horror. Those white-haired monsters still retained their original mana. There were Chaos Daluo Golden Immortal, Heavenly Realm fighters, and the vague aura of Wisdom Elites.

Someone could not resist anymore and tentatively stepped into the star sea. As soon as he entered, those gray fog seemed to have come alive as it wrapped itself around the person while the white-haired monsters attacked him. The scene was so traumatizing that no one dared to act rashly.

Cultivator Junjun took a deep breath and said in shock, "What exactly is that? Why does a person sprout white hair as soon as it comes in contact with it? Even a Wisdom Elite has no chance against it."

"It's expected that a mission given by the expert would not be easy," said Jiang Liu seriously.

Suddenly, Shi Tuqin's expression changed slightly as she felt the scroll in her arms trembling. The portal to the third dimension appeared after Li Nianfan painted 'A Wonderful World' so there must be some deeper meaning to this. Moreover, she often observed this painting and had attained some comprehension of it.

"Everyone, follow me inside," she said to the Heavenly Palace people, and without hesitation, they followed her forward.

Their movements immediately attracted the attention of the people around them. They were taken back momentarily but then sneered at them.

"I don't know whether to call them brave or stupid to enter the place like that."

"They must not know how terrifying the mist is. How foolish of them to court death like this."

"Oh well, I'll just take it that they're scouting the situation for us."

"Everyone, let's block their path of retreat so they can't come out from the mist!"

Under the gaze of everyone, Blackie and others stepped into the strange sea of stars together! The next moment, the gray mist surged, and the white-haired monsters roared frenetically as they charged towards them.

Cultivator Junjun's and the others' hearts lurched, and their mana surged, prepared to fight at any time.

Qin Manyun was also a little nervous and she could not help but ask, "Sister Tuqin, I trust that you have a plan?" She knew that Shi Tuqin would not put them in danger.

Shi Tuqin nodded as she took two steps forward slowly. At this moment, the gray mist and the white-haired monsters suddenly stopped where they were as if having sensed something.

"It's no good to be so irascible when we're living in such a wonderful world," said Shi Tuqin.

As soon as these words came out, the white-haired monsters actually trembled and groaned as if they were struggling against something. Then, they slowly backed away. The gray mist parted as if it was a mouse having seen a cat.

"Hehe, it worked just as I expected!" said Shi Tuqin with a smile.

Dragin's eyes widened. "Sister Tuqin, you're so amazing!"

The Heavenly Palace people were also taken aback. They did not expect this issue to be so easily solved by Shi Tuqin. It seemed like those close to the expert had also become profound.

"It's not me who's amazing, but the expert. Let's go in now," said Shi Tuqin with a smile.

The eyes of the third dimension's people nearly popped out of their sockets as they followed Shi Tuqin and the others with their gazes. They rubbed their eyes in disbelief and thought they were hallucinating.

"What's going on? How can they go in just like that?"

"That's so weird! The people from the seventh dimension are weirder than that gray mist!"

"How did they do it? We can't let them go any deeper. This opportunity belongs to us!"

"What are we waiting for? Let's all rush in!"

In the distance, the Eldritchs were also dumbfounded. Their mouths were hanging wide open and they found themselves unable to speak for a long time.

"How's this possible? Why would Heaven let them in?" asked Gu Debai in puzzlement.

Gu Lie took a deep breath and said, "The people of the seventh dimension are just full of surprises. I have a hunch that their dimension will be our clan's biggest enemy!"

"They've only entered the periphery. I guess they have something on them that's making Heaven fearful and cautious. They're definitely done for once they reach the depths of the mist," said Gu Ai with a frown.

"I know!" shouted a demon in the Chaos Three-legged Crow group suddenly, its eyes flashing. "The line they spoke just now was the password to enter the mist!"

Realization dawned on the others.

"Hahaha, that makes everything simpler. We shouldn't waste any more time. I'll go in first!" said someone and immediately turned into a trail of light which then rushed into the sea star. Those who did not want to be left behind followed him quickly.

The gray mist and the white-haired monsters closed in on the first person, who just smiled and calmly said, "It's no good to be so irascible when we're living in such a wonderful world."

Sure enough, the gray mist and the white hair monster paused, but before he could take another breath, the gray mist and the white-haired monsters rushed toward him crazily.

"Ah, no, why is this happening? I've already given the password! This must be a mistake!" He was soon shrouded in the gray mist, and white hair began to grow on his body. Thus, there was one more white-haired monster in the scene.

Those who followed him into the star sea suddenly panicked, especially when they saw the gray mist and the white-haired monsters rushing toward them, making their blood run cold.

"Maybe the sentence was wrong?" said someone on a whim as they tried to grab any reason out of thin air.

Someone even went as far as changing his appearance to that of Shi Tuqin, but it was still useless.

"It's no good to be so irascible when we're living in such a wonderful world."

"It's really not good to be so irascible!"

"Please!"

"No, why doesn't it work when we say it? It's just not fair!"

"Ah—! I'm turning into a white-haired monster!"

They began to scream desperately as a layer of unknown shrouded their bodies.

"Haha, fools! That's what you all get for showing-off!" said the Crow King coldly.

"Oh, don't be like that, Crow King. It's because of people like them that we've managed to avoid danger. The spirit of the selfless dedication of this group of people is worthy of our praise. They sacrificed themselves to illuminate us," said the ancestor of the Chaos Divine Sheep in a touching manner.

"It has nothing to do with the password. We have no way of knowing what secrets are hidden in those people. We can only rely on ourselves," said a Wisdom Elite.

"We should join forces. Although this star sea is weird, it's not too powerful to be invincible. Together, we can kill all the white-haired monsters. Then, it won't be too difficult to enter the depths of the gray mist," said the Crow King solemnly.

Chapter 724: The Invincible Willow Tree, Do Not Defy 'Heaven'

"We can't let the people from the seventh dimension do whatever they want. Charge!"

In the end, everyone hit it off and stepped into the star sea together.

As they entered, the gray mist began to surge, causing the star sea to quake as if it had sensed their presence. Those white-haired monsters who had lost themselves suddenly roared and pounced on them.

"Haha, you were just ants in your previous life. I can easily suppress you all even if you turn into white-haired monsters."

Their power had vastly increased after becoming a team. Endless mana surrounded them like a galaxy, isolating the unknown gray mist. There was no need for the second-step Wisdom Elite to lift a finger at all, for the others had already effortlessly eliminated the white-haired monsters.

"Onwards!"

"Even this bizarre thing is no match for us now that we've joined forces!"

Their morale increased suddenly as they rushed confidently forward. However, the deeper they went, the more intense the unknown aura became. It even began to undergo a qualitative change. The white-haired monsters became stronger and stronger, and the white hairs all over their bodies became denser and longer! Ordinary mana was unable to resist the erosion of the unknown aura.

Someone in the team trembled and panicked!

"Ah! No! I've been contaminated with the unknown!"

"Save me! Please, save me!"

"The unknown aura is infiltrating my mana. I don't want to go deeper. Let me go!"

The fighters of the Heavenly Realm started to scream for they were the ones to fall first. They were trembling as white hair began to grow on their bodies!

The Crow King and Chaos Divine Sheep Ancestor, who were both second-step Wisdom Elites, watched all of this unfold with cold eyes. They gently raised their hands and a majestic force surged to block all the unknown aura from their own people. At the same time, they eliminated the people who were contaminated with the unknown before they had the chance to fully transform into white-haired monsters.

The group continued onwards. The white-haired monsters became stronger in both force and aura and the hair on their bodies gradually turned red. Some of them were even of the Heavenly Realm! Coupled with the presence of an unknown aura, everyone's pressure rose sharply.

"What exactly is this? This group of people have not only become white-haired monsters but seem to have gotten stronger in the process!"

"I'm afraid we'll just run into more danger if we continue."

"There must be the most mysterious secret hidden here, for there's great unknown and great strangeness!"

"The unknown aura here is so strong. Why didn't it affect those people from the seventh dimension? How on earth did they evade the unknown aura?"

"The seventh dimension is even weirder than this unknown. We need to keep going deeper. We have to get our hands on the secret no matter what!"

"It's no good to be so irascible when we're living in such a wonderful world. I've already said the password so why won't you just leave us alone!"

They fought hard all the way. Every step was like a deep mire, and they could only proceed with caution.

Compared to them, on the other side, Qin Manyun and others came across no hindrances at all and soon came to the deepest place.

Shi Tuqin's eyes narrowed suddenly and she said, "There really is a broken tree here!"

Cultivation Junjun's eyes were full of respect and he exclaimed, "It's still standing even though it's dead, shrouded in the unknown in the broken third dimension. The origin of this tree is probably beyond anything we can imagine!"

Dragin's small face was full of confusion and she said, "It's strange, I feel a familiar aura coming from this tree..." She walked forward slowly and her big eyes were inexplicably moist as if she was saddened by something.

Suddenly, three monsters appeared from the broken tree. These three monsters were no different from the white-haired monsters, but the hair on their bodies changed from white to red. The long red hairs were filled with enough unknowns to shock the world and their aura had actually reached the second-step of Wisdom Elite! They roared wildly and did not retreat like the white-haired monsters before. Instead, they charged ferociously toward Dragin.

"Dragin, look out!" All the color drained out of everyone's faces as they rushed forward.

Shi Tuqin stepped forward quickly. With a solemn expression on her face, she took out her brush and started to write in the air. "It's no good to be so irascible when we're living in such a wonderful world."

The words in the air glowed and melted into the surroundings. At the same time, she touched the painting in her arms. The piece of paper was exuding a milky white brilliance, and the faint glow fell on the three red-haired monsters, stopping them in their place. Their faces started to contort hideously as they struggled against the force.

The faint glow fell on the broken tree as well. Suddenly, it was as if time and space were intertwined and a strange aura rose from the broken tree. This force moved the River of Time and put everyone in a strange space and time.

It took them to a time countless years before where there was a towering willow tree, born between Heaven and earth, growing in the chaos. Its thousands of willows hung like blood vessels running through the world, holding up the world. The leaves on the branches were like small worlds, exuding vitality.

At a certain moment, a hole opened in the sky, heaven and earth collapsed, and Wisdom was silent! The world was being destroyed and countless creatures instantly vanished. That weird gray mist overflowed from the cracks, carrying with it a monstrous might with an unstoppable power that could override everything!

The third dimension became even more unbearable under the cover of the weird gray mist. Even a Wisdom Elite was just an ant before it and could be eliminated at any time.

The Origins of the third dimension spilled out, became contaminated by gray mist, and was instantly suppressed! A voice from the weird gray mist spread across the three dimensions, "My time's coming. Remember for I am...Heaven!"

At this moment, the willow tree appeared out of the ordinary. Its willow branches shuttled through the endless void, covering the entire third dimension. It engaged in a bloody battle with the gray mist. It was also using its body to hold up the entire dimension.

The sacred brilliance radiated from every branch and every leaf, dispelling the unknown and wanting to suppress it! This thrilling battle formed a turbulent Wisdom current, erasing everything and returning the third dimension to its most primitive state.

A willow tree, holding up the third dimension with an unimaginable posture, was fighting against Heaven! Contaminated by the unknown, its leaves were no longer crisp, and its branches were beginning to break, but still, it fought vigorously, wanting to use supreme power to completely suppress this unknown!

It could be seen to the naked eye that under the agitation of the branches, the gray mist was actually shattered, and the so-called Heaven seemed to be torn into countless fragments!

Finally, Heaven admitted defeat and began to retreat. However, the willow tree blocked its retreat, and with a swing of its branches, the portals between the third and seventh dimensions were all broken. Since then, the third dimension became isolated and restricted.

"This is just one of my many incarnations. I'll let you die since you want to trap me here," came the furious voice of Heaven.

The willow tree said nothing, for its actions said everything that needed to be said. Even if the leaves were yellow, the branches had fallen, and the trunk was broken, it would still suppress Heaven with all its strength.

Between the sky, the voice of a willow tree whirled, "I won't die! I'll return stronger and finish you off! Because I'm invincible!"

End of story.

Dragin and the others were deeply immersed in shock, and they all burst into tears.

"It's Sister Willow. This tree is Willow!" cried Dragin, all worked up.

Nanan nodded and said, "I never knew Sister Willow was so amazing back then. She survived a hundred battles and will eventually return even stronger!"

Qin Manyun took a deep breath and exclaimed, "Sister Willow used her power to protect the third dimension, to prevent this unknown from harming other dimensions. Her strength and courage is admirable."

Shi Tuqin was all choked up and she said, "The willow tree in the backyard has always been quiet. It turns out that we all owe Sister Willow a big thank you."

Blackie scratched his head. "The willow tree must've been one of the Battle Spirit Guardians back then. I wonder if the other Battle Spirit Guardians have also been planted in the master's backyard?"

As for Cultivator Junjun and the others, they were equally shocked. Not only were they shocked by the strength of the willow tree, but also by the awesomeness of the expert. The willow tree was a Battle Spirit Guardian, tasked with protecting the seven dimensions. It was unparalleled in combat strength and invincible, and yet, it was treated as an ordinary willow tree by the expert. It was very terrifying to think about.

"Hahaha, we've finally caught up to you!" Suddenly, a burst of wild laughter came from behind them. The Chaos Three-legged Crows had finally arrived. Dragin and the others wondered how they could still laugh like that when they were still being attacked by the group of white-haired monsters.

At this time, the Chaos Three-legged Crows also saw the willow tree and were immediately shocked by it.

"The Origins are so rich here! This must be the source of it all!"

"What kind of tree is this? Even though it's dead, I can still feel the extreme pressure coming from it!"

"The tree's shrouded with unknown. What exactly happened here?"

"It's a big secret! We can definitely turn it into a treasure once we dig it up!"

By then, the three red-haired monsters had noticed them. With a violent roar, the three of them rushed toward them frantically!

"Oh no, the white-haired monsters have evolved into red-haired monsters!"

"They've become even more terrifying now that they actually have the supreme combat power of the second-step Wisdom Elite!"

"Why? Why do you just attack us and not the people of the seventh dimension?"

"Could it be that they knew they were no match for them?"

Feeling wronged, they were all on the verge of a breakdown and were filled with confusion. They had no choice but to engage in battle with the red-haired monsters. The three red-haired monsters were shockingly powerful and this immediately brought great pressure to the team. Coupled with the erosion of the unknown aura, more and more people were contaminated by the unknown.

"D*mn it. Everyone, bring out all your big guns and quickly take these monsters down!" shouted the Crow King. He suddenly raised his hand and a golden longsword appeared in his hand. There was no pattern on the longsword but the whole body was enveloped with a layer of Origins aura. Wisdom knelt as soon as the longsword came out.

The entire space was shaking. The longsword was indeed the Origins Ultimate Treasure that he got from the third dimension by fluke! He raised his sword and slashed at one of the red-haired monsters, cutting it in two instantly! The Chaos Divine Sheep did not hesitate to take out a mirror and flashed it on a red-haired monster!

There were also three second-step Wisdom Elites. They cast out an attack at the same time. Not only did their attack obliterate the remaining red-haired monster, but it also emptied the surrounding white-haired monsters. Once again, peace returned to the area.

One of the Wisdom Elites looked at the broken tree. Suddenly, his eyes flashed as he threw his spear at the tree. He was the only one among the five second-step Wisdom Elites who did not have an Origins

Ultimate Treasure. Therefore, he called first dibs on the Origins, wanting to use it to refine his weapon into an Origins Ultimate Treasure,

The Origins around the broken tree were floating around it with the unknown. When the spear was about to reach the broken tree, the gray mist contaminated the spear, causing it to lose all its insights. It then fell to the ground with a clang.

"You came because of the Origins and you'll die for the same reason!" A harsh, ruthless, and cruel voice sounded. The gray mist surged, converged, and flowed in the void as if it was some strange creature.

"Tell us what you are!" said Crow King, wanting to get to the bottom of this.

"I'm Heaven!" said the strange gray mist. Its tone was full of arrogance and contempt as if it was born to rule the world. Then, in a mocking tone, it continued, "Seven Battle Spirit Guardians? Ha! They're all laughable and pathetic! The term 'heaven-defying' refers to things that cannot be done which naturally means no one can possibly do it. Yet, they claimed to have done it!

"If only they knew that the greatest disaster in the world comes from the greed of the human heart. As long as your greed continues, I'll eventually get out of my entrapment! Defying heaven's an empty dream after all!"

It was because the news of the Origins spread in the seven dimensions that so many catastrophes had occurred. Too many people went crazy to seize the Origins—they plundered other realms and destroyed their own world. Everything came from greed!

The day the Origins of the seven dimensions would emerge was the time when Heaven would make its comeback. Heaven's words caused the Chaos Three-legged Crow and the others' complexions to change wildly. Their blood ran cold and their bodies began to emit a monstrous chill.

Could Heaven really exist in this world? Not only that, it was a sentient being? They found all this very difficult to believe.

"Don't panic! It's probably trying to scare us off!"

"You call yourself Heaven? Well, let's see what you've got!"

"If it's really that strong, it wouldn't have been sealed here!"

"I don't believe you're really Heaven!"

They spoke one after another, trying to convince themselves that it was not really Heaven in a bid to calm themselves down.

"The Battle Spirits Guardian might have the power to defy heaven but they'll never be able to defy human greed! The third dimension should've lived in my shadow countless years ago. Let's see who can stop me now! Hahahaha."

As soon as Heaven stopped speaking, the weird gray mist burst out like a tide, covering the sky, sun, and everyone in an instant. It went through countless transformations. It was intangible and yet, it could solidify itself. It eroded everyone with its invisible aura while transforming into countless monsters who then rushed towards the group.

Chapter 725: The Wonderful World Purified the Unknown

The weird, drifting gray mist was like smoke, blending into time and space and penetrating everything. It could not be stopped by ordinary magical powers. In an instant, many people's treasures lost their insights and were rendered useless while one-third of the people were infected with the unknown. Trembling, they began to transform into white-haired monsters.

"No! I don't want to become a white-haired monster!"

"Ah—! It's too powerful! Who can save me?"

"This power is above everything. Maybe it really is Heaven?!"

Everyone was shocked. Their eyes were full of vigilance and fear as they watched the rolling gray mist envelop them. They clearly saw the destruction of the world, Wisdom being annihilated, and everything plunged into endless destruction. Even Wisdom could not escape from being contaminated by the unknown and was turned into nothing. Faced with this power, all ultimate spells and Dao skills were useless!

"It's...it's so terrifying!" In the distance, Gu Debai was looking at what was happening with his heart thumping wildly against his chest. "Is this the power of Heaven?"

"Far from it," said Gu Ai with a shake of his head. "It turns out that the variable from countless years ago came from that tree. It was that tree that suppressed Heaven which then disrupted our plan. Now, this tree still seems to be entangled with Heaven. Otherwise, this group of people will be turned into white-haired monsters in a flash!"

"Terrifying, truly terrifying!" Gu Lie took a deep breath. His gaze fell on the group of people from the seventh dimension and he sneered. "The women from the seventh dimension sure are beautiful. I'm really looking forward to seeing them turn into white-haired monsters."

Gu Ai smiled and said, "Don't worry, you'll soon see that no one other than Ancestor Eldritch can resist the power of Heaven!"

Currently, in the sea of stars, even the five second-step Wisdom Elites were overwhelmed. They were like tiny boats in the vast ocean and could be overturned at any time.

"Quick, use your Origins Ultimate Treasure!" The ancestor of the Chaos Divine Sheep roared wildly. The mirror in his hand was shining like a sun and transformed into a barrier to block the gray mist.

The other four second-step Wisdom Elites also used their own methods. Surrounding them, the power of Origins turned into the strongest power, guarding them. They were using part of the Origins they had obtained in the third dimension.

There were also some first-step Wisdom Elites who no longer cared about keeping their Origins for themselves and quickly cast it out. The thick gray mist tossed like an ocean, and in the center, the mist turned into an apparition of a giant, looking down at everyone with cold eyes.

"The power of Origins? How naive of you all to think you can stop me with that when this power's originally controlled by me," ridiculed the gray mist giant. With a wave of its hand, the gray mist suddenly rose in a whirlwind and surrounded everyone.

In the whirlwind, even the Origins were shaking and being blown away! The five second-step Wisdom Elites lost their divine consciousness as a tyrannical aura began to appear in their chests. In their eyes, Wisdom collapsed, the world was destroyed along with them in it. Then, clumps of white hair began to grow on their bodies.

Cultivator Junjun's expression changed and he worriedly said, "Oh no! The game animals have all begun to grow white hair!"

"Master said white hair means that the food has turned moldy! We can't bring them back to Master like this!" said Blackie with a frown.

"I'll wake them up!" Shi Tuqin took out the picture scroll from her arms and said loudly, "Wake up!"

Suddenly, the halo bloomed. A heavy shimmer turned into light, piercing through the gray mist. Although it looked faint, it was like an endless ball of fire in ice, melting it away. Those people suddenly got a shock and recovered. The white hair on their bodies began to fade.

"What happened? I think I just saw the destruction of all seven dimensions."

"What power is this? It can reverse karma and erode people's Dao's Heart. Even the seven dimensions are nothing but toys in the palm of their hands!"

"It can even erode the Origins. How strange!"

"It's really terrifying. I was nearly turned into a white-haired monster."

"I can't believe we were saved by the people from the seventh dimension. Just as expected, only the strange can parry with the strange!"

The Chaos Three-legged Crows and other monsters were all startled. They all turned to look at Blackie and the others and hid behind the group as if by tacit agreement.

The weird gray mist looked at Blackie and the others and there was a rare fluctuation in its tone. "Why do you people have the aura of that d*mn willow tree on you?" it asked angrily.

Nanan stuck her tongue out at it and said, "I'm not gonna tell you!"

"We're going to get rid of you for Sister Willow!" said Dragin fiercely.

"You? Get rid of me?" The weird gray mist laughed loudly, full of disdain. "Let's see who's the one getting rid of who! I'll turn you all into white-haired monsters!"

The gray mist giant suddenly raised its hand and a huge palm fell from the sky. The mist roared and the world sighed with sorrow as the despairing aura enveloped the sky. The force of uncertainty overwhelmed the world!

The powerful force caused everyone's complexion to become frantic and the group of people hiding behind Blackie began to tremble all over. They kept checking their bodies for fear that white hair would grow on them.

Qin Manyun also felt immense pressure and said, "Go for it, Sister Tuqin."

Shi Tuqin nodded and then raised the scroll in her hand high. "Behold, a wonderful world!"

She slowly unrolled the scroll and a brilliant light burst out. The endless holy light was truly dazzling as it illuminated the whole world. It was as if a layer of dust over everything and anything had been blown away, revealing the pearlescent light beneath them.

"Gah! What the heck is that light?" The gray mist giant let out a roar of fright. Its giant palm was shattered into countless pieces by the light before it dissipated into nothingness.

With the further unfolding of the picture scroll, another world faintly emerged above the void. It was a peaceful world, one with warm sunshine, small bridges, flowing water, green trees among flowers, and rainbows hanging in the sky. This vision made the void appear distorted. It was obviously a virtual world, but it seemed to overlap with the third dimension, giving life to its brokenness.

"How did you come to have this power of making Yin and Yang chaotic while reversing the River of Time? Where did you get this painting?" Amidst the gray mist, a voice of fright and frustration rang out. "This is impossible! The Battle Spirit Guardians are dead, leaving only remnants of their breath. How can there be such power in the world? This can't be real!"

The strange gray mist around them roared like thunder as it descended into madness, causing the entire third dimension to quake.

"A wonderful world has no room for the unknown!" Shi Tuqin's face was calm. There was no fear in her at all as she slowly rose into the air and came to the center of the gray mist.

The mist pressed onto her like a meat grinder. It was like a huge gray claw, squeezing Shi Tuqin firmly in its hand as the violent power and ferocious aura shook the sky, wanting to make mincemeat out of her.

"I'm Heaven! I'm invincible! Those who defy me, die!" The weird gray mist roared wildly, wanting to swallow everything in its path, looking hideous and terrifying. An indescribable force roared in the weird gray mist, and time and space seemed to be frozen, transcending the shackles of heaven and earth.

Everyone knew that this was a battle between the weird picture scroll and the weird gray mist. The power of the two was simply shocking, and even a third-step Wisdom Elite would be shattered by it.

Gu Ai was shaking as he said in a deep voice, "I can't believe the people of the seventh dimension have something that can fight against Heaven!"

"No way Heaven will lose!" said Gu Lie with shock.

"Hold on, Sister Tuqin," said Qin Manyun with eyes filled with worry.

Cultivator Junjun stared at the scene in front of him without blinking and in a soothing tone, he said, "Don't worry, the painting was drawn by the expert. So what if it's Heaven? When has the expert ever lost?"

Blackie was the most relaxed amongst them. "Master, invincible!" he said simply.

Behind him, the Chaos Three-legged Crows and the others were anxiously waiting for the seventh dimension people to win. Even though they were not on their side, it was better than having to face Heaven.

Suddenly, a ray of light pierced through the weird gray mist like a sharp blade! This light seemed to be a signal. After that, rays of light dashed out one after another, like the sun poking its head out of the dark clouds! In an instant, the whole place was illuminated by the light and the weird gray mist trembled endlessly, evaporating and dissipating.

"No! I'm invincible!" roared Heaven, struggling and resisting while it transformed into various hideous faces in the void. "The seven dimensions are destined to descend into chaos! No one can stop me. Just you wait!"

With the last roar, the weird gray mist immediately dissipated into nothingness, and everyone faintly saw that a strange life was broken into countless fragments. Suddenly, lightning pierced the sky followed by a heavy downpour of blood. It was as if Heaven's blood was crying about its demise.

The rain of blood fell on the earth, nourishing the dilapidated area and giving birth to countless stars. The Origins in the area began to stabilize and the third dimension gradually regained a trace of life.

The Eldritchs were completely dumbstruck. Their minds were buzzing and they had lost the ability to think.

"Did Heaven just lose to a painting called 'A Wonderful World'? Just how wonderful is this world that it could suppress all the unknown?"

"Oh my God! I can't believe Heaven was really obliterated!"

"This is crazy! What in the world is that painting?"

"Who exactly are those people from the seventh dimension? How can they be so powerful?"

"They're even weirder than Heaven!"

The Chaos Three-legged Crow and the other demons gasped. Their bodies grew cold when they recalled the battle they fought against the people of the seventh dimension. It was at that moment that the fear finally grew roots in their hearts. They suddenly felt everything become surreal.

The painting slowly floated down to Shi Tuqin. It was no longer glowing, making it look like an ordinary picture scroll, but Shi Tuqin could still feel the power of the world throbbing within it. She was positive that she would reap immeasurable benefits by copying it, so she carefully rolled it up for safekeeping.

"Haha! I just know Brother Li's the best! Heaven never stood a chance!" said Nanan happily.

Dragin made her way over to the broken tree and stroked its trunk tearfully. "You must be in a lot of pain, Sister Willow."

Blackie turned to the Chaos Three-legged Crow and other demons and said, "Clean up yourselves and come back with me to become game meat!"

The demons were taken aback. They then frowned in anger.

"I admit that you're all very strong, but that doesn't mean you can do whatever you want! No one in this world can make us become game meat!" said the Crow King.

"Game meat? What do you take us for? Are you trying to humiliate us?"

"We haven't even taken revenge on you. You dare make us into game meat?"

"Maybe we should make you into game meat since dog meat's the best!"

All the demons spoke one after another while smirking at Blackie.

The Chaos Divine Sheep ancestor stepped forward, smiled coldly, and said, "Dog Demon, it's the painting that saved us, but it seems like all the power in it has been used up, so what makes you think we'll listen to you now?" After a pause, it said again, "Without the painting, you definitely don't stand a chance against us but I'm willing to let you all go on account of you saving our lives. What do you say to that?"

The Chaos Divine Sheep ancestor really wanted to know the secret behind the seventh dimension, but what happened just now was really terrifying, so it did not dare to make an enemy out of Blackie or the others. However, there was no way it was going to willingly become game meat and thus, he had no choice but to say what he had said.

"Are you sure I don't stand a chance against you all?" A strange expression flashed across Blackie's face. Then, he patted the broken tree. "Sister Willow, you're up!"

The demons looked at the broken tree with a confused expression. In the next instant, they felt that they were being stared at by an extremely terrifying force, causing the hair on their bodies to stand and their blood to freeze.

A gust of wind blew and at some point, a new sprout appeared on the broken tree trunk. It turned into a willow branch, sweeping toward them! This willow branch looked soft and weak without the slightest strength, but it had blocked time and space, and had suppressed Wisdom, rendering them unmovable!

They could only watch helplessly as the branch swept across their bodies. The movements were gentle but with supreme will. Dazed, the demons changed back to their original form, turning the place into a zoo.

Moo...

Chirp, chirp?!

Baa—

Chapter 726: The Old Nurturing the New

Everyone smiled with satisfaction looking at the group of game animals in front of them.

Cultivator Junjun nodded and said, "Not bad, not bad at all. Just as expected from the demons in the third dimension. Their meat isn't only firm but looks healthy as well. The expert will definitely like it!"

Dragin swept her eyes across the game animals and started to frown. "Cow, chicken, sheep, pig... There are too few of them. We can't open a zoo like this."

"Let's just bring them back first. We can always catch more in the future," said Nanan. Then, she turned to the broken tree next to her and said, "Sister Willow, Brother Li needs some wood ash. Can we dig you up and take you back with us?"

The Heavenly Palace people opened their eyes wide and were almost paralyzed by fright. Although the tree was broken, it was a super boss who had suppressed the seven dimensions before. Even Heaven was no match for it, and yet, they were going to dig it up? It was as outrageous as digging up one's ancestors from their grave.

Their blood froze in their veins as they stared at the sprout, afraid that a willow branch would whip them into oblivion. Instead, the sprout swayed slightly as if nodding, permitting them to dig it up.

The people from the Heavenly Palace heaved a sigh of relief. They chastised themselves for not trusting in the expert's awesomeness more.

Yang Jing gulped and then carefully said, "Goddess Nanan, how are you going to dig it up?"

Although the tree was broken, its aura was still overwhelming. It carried the power of the seven dimensions and it was definitely not something ordinary people could move.

"I'm going to use my shovel of course!" Nanan glanced at Yang Jing contemptuously. With a wave of her hand, she began to dig the ground around the broken tree with practiced movements.

Yang Jing looked at her, dumbfounded. He then sighed internally when he realized that the joke was on him.

On the other side, the Eldritchs were standing stock still and staring stupidly at the scene in front of them.

"I still can't believe that Heaven was suppressed so easily by them," said Gu Lie.

"Our foolproof plan has been foiled again!" said Gu Debai in extreme shock.

Gu Ai's face was pale, too, as he looked at the group of people in amazement. "How could such monstrously powerful people exist in the seventh dimension? Not only did they suppress Heaven, they even possess the ability to dig out the broken tree!"

Their actions were iron-clad proof that the people from the seventh dimension were not normal at all.

"What should we do? Should we fight them head-on?" asked Gu Lie.

"And be killed by them?" Gu Debai shook his head. "Look at the game animals around them. Some of them were second-step Wisdom Elites. You'll only become dinner on their table if you go over right now."

Gu Ai nodded in agreement and said, "Their methods are indeed extraordinary and unpredictable. They must have the backing of a powerful expert, one who could very well be as powerful as Ancestor Eldritch. We should go back now and come up with a new strategy."

On the other side, Nanan had dug a sizable hole and was tugging on the tree trunk with all the strength in her little body.

"Watch me as I, Nanan, pull out this willow tree!" She gave a low shout and with a loud bang, the entire tree was thrown over her shoulder. It was really astonishing to watch.

Blackie did not rest on his laurel either. With a wave of his paws, the Immortal Trap Rope began to wrap itself around the group of game animals.

"We got the wood ash and the game animals. The only thing left to do now is to bring them back," said Shi Tuqin with a smile.

However, they then discovered a problem.

"How are we going back?"

The portal they came from was a one-way portal, meaning to say, they could go to the third dimension from the seventh dimension but not the other way round.

Suddenly, Dragin's eyes lit up as she pointed to the void. "Look over there!"

In the void, a black vortex slowly emerged, opening a gap in time and space. The surrounding Wisdom caused heaven and earth to tremble.

"The portal has now become...a two-way portal!"

"We can go back now!"

Everyone was pleasantly surprised.

"All the portals in the third dimension were cut off by Sister Willow to prevent the unknown from spreading, so it makes sense that Sister Willow can open up the portal now that all the unknown has been suppressed," said Shi Tuqin with awe.

"You're really awesome, Sister Willow!" said Dragin with deep admiration.

"Long live the seven Battle Spirit Guardians!" said Xiao Chengfeng.

"Let's go home!"

Immediately, everyone entered the portal with the game animals and broken tree in their arms. The Eldritchs appeared near the portal not long after they left.

Gu Ai smirked and said, "Looks like it's not all bad that the seventh dimension people came here, for we can finally get out of the third dimension as well!"

"Brother Ai, while it's true the seventh dimension is really powerful, it doesn't mean that they don't have their weaknesses," said Gu Debai with a smile.

"Oh? Do enlighten me."

"The fourth dimension created a kind of bug called the Origins Devouring Bug which can steal the seventh dimension's Origins. I've personally tasted the Origins there and I find the taste to be quite alright," said Gu Debai, laughing.

"We've also sent some back to Ancestor Eldritch and he was full of praise for the Origins. He even requested for more," added Gu Lie.

Gu Ai's eyes were suddenly bright as light bulbs. "Oh my. Why are we still standing here? Let's go!"

Soon after they left, many beings who had been trapped in the third dimension also rushed over.

"The portal's finally opened! Hahaha! We can finally leave this place!"

"The aura just now was so terrifying. I bet even a second-step Wisdom Elite would be like an ant before it. I knew something weird was going on and was smart enough not to come here."

"I'm so glad I was born with a cautious personality. Not only did I not die but I can leave the third dimension, too! This is all because I resisted the temptation of the Origins."

"Let's go! This place has nothing to offer anymore. It's a wonder I didn't die of boredom here."

Nanan and the others went straight to the four-part architecture with their loot as soon as they arrived in the seventh dimension.

"Remember not to cause any trouble for me. We'll let you live as long as you listen to us. We'll even give you good food in exchange for your manure," said Nanan to the wild animals who just stood trembling with their necks shrunk into their bodies.

They did not dare to act cockily now that they were in the palm of her hands. Feeling both anxious and curious, they started to look around at their new surroundings and wondered if there was really a bigshot hidden there.

"Let's leave them here while we greet Master," said Qin Manyun.

Then, they all entered the four-part architecture, leaving the wild game animals behind to stare at each other.

"Ancestor, I'm sorry for dragging you into this. I didn't know the people of the seventh dimension were this powerful," said one of the demons.

"Forget it. These people aren't just powerful, they're preposterously monstrous," said the Crow King with a sigh.

"Yeah, didn't you see how they suppressed Heaven? We have no choice but to surrender willingly," added the ancestor of the Chaos Divine Sheep.

"We can only hope for the people from the fourth dimension to save us now." The Crow King paused and then asked, "Didn't you say that you were able to get Origins from here? Doesn't that mean that the seventh dimension isn't without its weakness?"

A strange aura floated in from the distance as soon as he said that. Then, they saw a swarm of strange-looking bugs.

"Huh? Why do these bugs look so familiar?" Some of the demons who had joined in the Origins stealing activity in the fourth dimension were startled.

"Aren't those the Origins Devouring Bug?"

"You mean they've been stealing Origins from here all this while?"

"Awesome! I can't wait to see just how they steal the Origins."

The demons were suddenly excited. They craned their necks and then watched as the swarm of Origins Devouring Bug rushed into the manure pit without hesitation.

"This familiar scent and this familiar shape... They're indeed the Origins!"

"I think that's a manure pit..."

"Oh my god! Have we been eating poop all this while?"

"Ah—! No—!"

"Blergh—!"

"Oh god, why did you have to let me find out the truth like this?!"

The demons who had eaten the Origins descended into madness and the fur on their bodies stood up on ends. The faces of the Crow King, the ancestor of the Chaos Divine Sheep, and the remaining other demons began to twitch. All this while, they had been jealous of the demons who ate the Origins. Now, they were immensely relieved they missed out on the opportunity.

"Don't be sad. Look at how hardworking these bugs are. This means that those people back there are still eating it. Don't you feel better knowing that?" said the Crow King, trying to comfort them.

"Yeah, and it seems like the seventh dimension people brought us here to produce manure. There's no doubt some of it will be eaten by those people back there, too. Rejoice in that thought!" said the ancestor of the Chaos Divine Sheep while thinking that there was no way the fourth dimension people would come rescue them now.

Inside the four-part architecture, Li Nianfan was playing chess with Little Fox.

"Hey, Brother Li, you're really good at playing chess!"

"Wait a minute, I take back my move."

"Haha, let's see how you can win if I place my chess piece here!"

Little Fox used her cuteness to get away with breaking the rules but Li Nianfan did not mind because he could tell that she had a lot of potential.

He greeted Nanan and the others with a smile when he saw them. "Welcome home. Did everything go well?"

"Brother Li, we didn't just bring back some game meat for you but also some wood ash!" said Nanan happily.

"Really?" Li Nianfan could not wait to see what they had brought back. Then, his gaze fell on the broken tree. It looked to be very ancient and the trunk was covered with a layer of gray dust. It was indeed good material to make into wood ash.

"What do you think, Brother Li?" asked Dragin.

"Well done! This tree's perfect! We need to burn it to turn it into wood ash though," said Li Nianfan.

"Huh? Burn it?" asked Dragin with shock.

"Yes, it'll be easier for the plants to absorb it if we burn it. Xiao Bai, go start the fire. I want to make it into wood ash as soon as possible."

"As you wish, my beloved master," said Xiao Bai immediately.

A layer of weird gray mist was stuck to the roots and the trunk of the broken tree. 'Hahaha, I bet you never thought that I'd still be alive!' thought the gray mist in its heart. For countless years, it had been entangled with the willow tree, suppressing each other. The unknown attached to it would not be that easily erased.

'I can't believe that they actually managed to dig out the tree. Let's see where they've brought us...' It wriggled slightly, feeling everything around it. The next moment, it started shaking as it fell into extreme horror. It began to question its own life.

'What is this place? Why do I feel such a powerful oppression from heaven and earth? Could it be that this Heaven is stronger than me?

'No, it's impossible! How can I, the true Heaven, not be able to control the things around here? Heck, I can't even use my divine consciousness.

'Who created this world? How's it possible that it can override my power? Gah, I feel my power...being suppressed. No, it's going back to zero!'

Then, it felt that it was surrounded by a ball of scorching heat and the raging flames were burning and rising. The broken tree began to burn gradually, and a black carbon color appeared on its surface. The gray mist struggled in the flames, continuously melting before finally merging into the flames.

'I'm a reincarnation of Heaven! How can I be wiped out with such a weird method? This is impossible! What happened in the seventh dimension? Is this the work of the Battle Spirit Guardians?'

The gray mist finally became silent and was burned into ash along with the broken tree. Shi Tuqin and the others took a deep breath at the same time and felt shock in their hearts when they saw what had happened.

They saw with their very eyes how the peak of existence in all of the seven dimensions, though extremely weak in its current condition, was wiped out in an instant as if it was nothing.

To the expert, it was as easy as taking candy out of a baby's hand. He did not even really have to do anything apart from throwing it into the fire. Then, it was turned into ash as if it had been subjected to some irresistible force. It never stood a chance at all.

Li Nianfan, Dragin, and Nanan then brought the wood ash to the backyard and spread it on top of the soil. Some ashes were scattered with the wind and fell on the ground around the willow tree. Its droopy branches began to sway as the leaves became greener. Like how fallen leaves returned to their roots, old life became nourishment, nurturing new life. All things reincarnated, bringing a more glorious tomorrow.

Meanwhile, in the fourth dimension, Yun Qianshan and the others were smiling satisfactorily at the Origins Devouring Bugs who had brought back a full load of Origins to the Heaven Mystery Pavilion.

"Hahaha, here comes the Origins!"

"I wonder why it's been so easy for us to steal the Origins. All the Origins Devouring Bugs came back with full loads."

"Isn't this a good thing? We should rejoice in our good fortune."

"Yes, but the only drawback is that these Origins are a bit dry. They don't seem as fresh as before..."

Chapter 727: The Heaven-Defying People and the Seven Battle Spirit Guardians

Yun Qianshan and the others were happily feasting. At the same time, a powerful artillery fire aura was heading there while releasing huge pressure. The aura was so strong that it formed a suppressive force that felt surreal, almost like a sky curtain pressing down from the sky and making it difficult for everyone to breathe.

Yun Qianshan's expression changed and he asked coldly, "Who is it?"

"It's me, Gu Debai!"

In the space, a group of Eldritchs slowly emerged with Wisdom and a dragon-like aura surrounding them. They looked down at the crowd condescendingly with a horrifying aura. The group consisted of Gu Ai, Gu Debai, and Gu Lie who were all second-step Wisdom Elites, along with another seven Wisdom Elites. The lineup was so powerful that they could even dominate the world.

"What scary power!"

"Wisdom manifested and surrendered to them. They're the second-step Wisdom Elites!"

"It's over now. The Eldritchs are here. How can the fourth dimension fight against them?"

Everyone in the fourth dimension showed fear. They activated the mana in their bodies to resist the oppression from the Eldritchs and because of that, their faces were flushed red.

"You're back?" Yun Qianshan's face sank and asked, "What about the others from the fourth dimension?"

Yun Qianshan was shocked and suspicious. They rushed toward the third dimension excitedly, so why would they return so soon? Was it just a one-day trip?

In the group were a bunch of demons from the fourth dimension. They wanted to look for their ancestors in the third dimension. If they did find their ancestors, they would not be afraid to face the Eldritchs.

"Are you referring to those demons?" Gu Lie shook his head and mocked, "They're quite useless. They went to the seventh dimension with their ancestors to become game meat. I don't think they'll be getting their happily ever after."

'The seventh dimension again!' Yun Qianshan thought. 'Since the Eldritchs dared to enter the fourth dimension and let go of those bunch of people in the seventh dimension, it just means that they think that the fourth dimension's weaker than the seventh dimension!'

Yun Qianshan sneered, "What brings you to the fourth dimension? We have enough power in the fourth dimension to crush all of you!"

Although the Eldritchs had three second-step Wisdom Elite among them, the fourth dimension had Yun Qianshan, Lord Angel, and the mysterious person from Heaven Mystery Pavilion. They were almost on par with the Eldritchs.

Gu Ai said nothing. He glanced and set his eyes on the objects in everyone's hand in the fourth dimension. He raised his hands and the Power of Wisdom flowed, turning into an irresistible force that pulled the objects to him.

"This is the Origins from the third dimension? It does smell like the Origins but the smell is stronger and stranger."

After that, Gu Ai opened his mouth and ate it. Then, he closed his eyes and savored it.

"It's definitely something good!"

A moment later, Gu Ai opened his eyes. Then, he raised his hand and waved again. This time he captured the Origins Devouring Bugs and said overbearingly, "I can't believe the legendary Origins Devouring Bugs exists in the fourth dimension. Where did you get them? They belong to the Eldritchs from now on!"

Yun Qianshan laughed out of frustration. "Are you kidding me? We're ready to fight you if that's what you came here for!"

"What a bunch of ignorant fools. Do you think you have the capability to fight against me?" Gu Ai smiled in contempt. He slowly raised his hand and opened up his palm.

The sky roared with Gu Ai's movement. At that moment, Gu Ai seemed to have the power to control the universe. The entire fourth dimension trembled because of his aura. A huge hand appeared, covering the sky and the Heaven Mystery Pavilion with its shadow. Everyone was feeling scared and trembling.

"Is this aura the Origins? His body actually contains the Origins!"

Yun Qianshan widened his eyes and stared at Gu Ai's hand with horror. The hand was surrounded by a strange aura that had the power to control Wisdom. It exuded a heart-palpitating power.

'He could actually refine Origins in his hands. How much Origins can he get? Gu Ai's close to being a third-step Wisdom Elite!' Yun Qianshan thought.

Gu Debai was stunned, too. He then said with surprise, "My brother Gu Ai, I didn't know you were actually that powerful."

Gu Ai smiled and said, "I obtained countless Origins in the third dimension over the years. It's not a surprise to possess such power."

"Then, when you were in the third dimension..." Gu Lie stopped finishing his sentence. He wanted to ask why Gu Ai did not attack the people from the seventh dimension when they were in the third dimension. However, thinking back at the time, he still felt that the people from the seventh dimension were much stronger than Gu Ai and it was right to back off.

Gu Ai was in control now. Relaxed, he said, "I'll just take it myself if all of you aren't going to surrender."

As Gu Ai finished his sentence, he used his giant hand and applied more pressure on the Heaven Mystery Pavilion.

"You're underestimating all of us from the fourth dimension. Do you think our power hasn't grown after consuming the Origins from the third dimension?" Yun Qianshan shouted angrily as he released his mana with the aura of the Origins flowing inside it.

"Useless." Gu Ai smiled disdainfully. However, just as the two forces were about to confront each other, another force suddenly emerged from the Heaven Mystery Pavilion. It blew away the two forces and disarmed their powers with a breeze.

"Who is it?" Gu Ai asked as he instantly led his people a few steps backward, his face full of vigilance.

A phantom of an elderly man slowly appeared and said plainly, "Although we aren't from the same dimension, that doesn't mean we need to fight and kill each other when we meet."

It was the old pavilion master.

"Third-step Wisdom Elite?" Gu Ai narrowed his eyes and shook his head. "No, that's not right. This aura... It's full of Origins. It's definitely the Origins from the fourth dimension!"

There was a gleam in Gu Ai's eyes showing a trace of greed but it disappeared very soon. There was no doubt that he was after the Origins of the fourth dimension but he was not the opponent of the old pavilion master.

The old pavilion master said, "In fact, it isn't necessary for us to fight to the death. We can instead cooperate to steal all the Origins from the seventh dimension."

Gu Ai thought for a while and said, "I'll accept the offer." He did not bother to ask the reason behind it. He knew it was meaningless and all of it was for their own benefits and agenda. The most important matter was to steal the Origins from the seventh dimension since the seventh dimension was a very mysterious place.

Gu Ai said again, "Since we have the intention to destroy the seventh dimension, we should act fast. I suggest we gather more people. You just need to open the portal of the third dimension and I can invite more people to join our plan."

The old pavilion master nodded and said, "It's a great idea. With more people joining us, we can send out more Origins Devouring Bugs to steal more of the Origins in a short time."

Yun Qianshan said, "If that's the case, I could invite my friends from the fourth dimension over and savor the Origins together. Especially Lord Angel. I can't believe he dares to complain that the Origins smell bad. I must brainwash him and help him overcome his fear."

A smile appeared on Gu Debai's face. "It's a party then? We could feast on the Origins together. What a scene it would be."

Gu Lie laughed and said, "Haha, having the Origins as our meal. I think only we can live this extravagantly among all the seven dimensions."

"It's settled. Let's invite the others to join the party!"

"They'll definitely cry with happiness when they hear we're willing to share some Origins with them."

In the backyard of the four-part architecture, Dragin and Nanan were sitting next to the willow tree. They were listening to the willow tree who was talking about the past.

Dragin asked curiously, "Sister Willow, is the weird gray mist really Heaven? What realm are you in to be able to defeat Heaven?"

A gust of wind blew and the branches of the willow tree swayed with the wind. A gentle voice spoke, "It really is Heaven, but that was just its avatar. I had just leveled up from being a third-step Wisdom Elite and entered into the Wisdom Dictator realm."

"Sister Willow's so amazing to surpass the third-step Wisdom Elite," exclaimed Dragin.

The second-step Wisdom Elite was powerful enough to suppress Wisdom. Being a third-step Wisdom Elite was unimaginable and the willow tree was actually above it. No wonder it was able to defeat Heaven's avatar.

"How powerful is Heaven's avatar anyway?" asked Nanan.

"It's the strongest among all living creatures. There's no way to know its real strength and power," said the willow tree.

"Those who defied Heaven are remarkable people," said Nanan and Dragin admiringly.

"Those who defied Heaven are a group of people. They're marvelous and exceptional people. They had defied Heaven a total of nine times. Even when they failed each time, they would reincarnate into a stronger person and try again," said the willow tree. "After defying Heaven nine times, they finally succeed by setting up a trap that could entirely suppress Heaven. The world was then separated into seven dimensions. As long as the seven dimensions are never reunited, Heaven will never appear again."

"Why must we defy Heaven?" asked Dragin.

"To live," said the willow tree slowly. "In that past, no matter how strong you were, even when you were already eternal, you'd one day be infected with the unknown, turning into a white-haired monster to eventually die. Meanwhile, Heaven would destroy the world and there would be a genocide of all living creatures. Everything would have to start all over again, just like restarting a game."

"Sister Willow, are you one of those who defied Heaven?" asked Dragin curiously.

The willow tree swayed its branches and said, "No. After the success, those who defied Heaven could no longer live. They transformed their determination and souls and became the Battle Spirit Guardians, so they could forever protect the seven dimensions."

The willow tree paused for a while and continued to say, "Since the world was separated into the seven dimensions, theoretically speaking, no one could surpass being a second-step Wisdom Elite. Those who were the Battle Spirit Guardians could reach the peak of third-step Wisdom Elite, and seven Battle Spirit

Guardians guarded the seven dimensions separately, representing the most powerful being in each dimension."

Dragin nodded. "With the Battle Spirit Guardians guarding each dimension and Heaven being suppressed forever, the seven dimensions finally regained their peace."

"That's true." The willow tree paused again and sighed. "However, in the end, we still lost it to the greed in human nature. Some people tried to seek stronger power and used despicable methods to gain it. They were even bewitched by Heaven and brought disaster to the world."

"Sister Willow, what about the rest of the Battle Spirit Guardians? Are they in Brother Li's backyard?" Dragin asked as she glanced around.

"You don't have to look for them. They aren't here," the willow tree spoke with great sadness.

Then it waved its branches at the sky and suddenly, an image appeared in front of them. Seven figures were standing in the image. Their faces were unclear and blurred but each of them looked elegant and graceful. Undoubtedly, they were exceptional people in their era. They were standing in front of a portal with worries all over their faces. In the portal, they could see some grey mist that exuded an extremely dangerous aura. Looking at the image, Dragin and Nanan felt scared and could not move their bodies.

In the image, a tall man said, "The second dimension has fallen into an unprecedented catastrophe and it's being infected by the unknown. We must act together to suppress it in the shortest time."

One of the people with a golden glow said, "If all of us go to the second realm, what about the other six dimensions?"

"Seventh Sister will stay behind while the rest of us go!" another person stood up and said with an extremely decisive tone.

Seventh Sister was the only woman within the group. She was wearing a long light green dress. She was taken aback when she heard it.

"The changes in the second dimension are too sudden. Isn't it too risky to enter it rashly?" said Seventh Sister.

"We have to go even if there's danger."

"If we can't defeat it, then we'll let the second dimension disappear forever."

"Seventh Sister, if we don't return from the second dimension, it's all up to you to protect the rest of the six dimensions."

After that, none of them turned their backs. They entered the portal without any hesitation. The only woman left looked at the portal and sighed.

Nanan and Dragin could not wait to find out what happened. "So what happened to the second dimension? Sister Willow, what happened?"

The willow tree sighed. "I don't know. I didn't expect that that was the last time I'd see them. In the end, I couldn't sense what happened in the second dimension."

Nanan and Dragin's brows knitted together. Dragin said, "You were the most powerful people in all of the seven dimensions. What else could've defeated them in the second dimension? Heaven was already divided into seven pieces so it couldn't have defeated them."

Nanan said, "I wondered if Brother Li will open the portal of the second dimension like what he did with the third dimension. If he does, we can go in to investigate what happened."

"The expert?" repeated the willow tree respectfully as she thought of the possibility. "He saved me from the River of Time, giving me a chance to regrow with just a small trace of vitality. It reversed the boundary of life and death. He reminds me of those heaven-defying people. If there's someone who can reopen the second dimension, then he's definitely the man to do it."

"Sister Willow, we need to some pick fertilizer gold to fertilize the backyard. Let's see if those new game animals are working hard," said Nanan.

"Hmm, we just need to eat them if they aren't!" Dragin exclaimed and said to the willow tree, "We'll come back when we're free."

Meanwhile, it was very crowded and lively in the Heaven Mystery Pavilion. Many people were arriving with anticipation and curiosity. Their mana was flowing around them with Wisdom contained in it. Most of them were Wisdom Elites and there were even a few second-step Wisdom Elites among the new arrivals.

"I heard there's a party here, is it true?"

"That's right. So extravagant to be feasting the Origins from the seventh dimension."

"I'm Shi Zhenxiang, the leader of the Heaven-eyed Donkey. I've brought all of my people with me."

Chapter 728: A New Round Of Fertilizer Gold Battle

"Welcome my friend, Shi Zhenxiang. However, you don't need to bring all of your people here. We've set a minimum requirement to see who's qualified to participate in the feast." Yun Qianshan welcomed him as the host of the party. However, he did not welcome everyone the same.

Shi Zhenxiang laughed and said proudly, "Hehe, our people are born from Wisdom. We're invincible and there are only three of us left. Don't compare us with trash."

A middle-aged man with a third eye on his forehead stepped forward, exuding a powerful aura as Wisdom surrounded him. He said, "I'm Shi Tainong of the Heaven-eyed Donkey clan. Who dares to say I'm not eligible to join?"

Another elderly-looking man walked out slowly and said plainly, "I'm Shi Kelang of the Heaven-eyed Donkey clan. How could the party continue without me?"

Three of them stood together as the sky and earth trembled, their auras roaring and Wisdom flowing vigorously. Although they had not reached the second-step Wisdom Elite realm, they were the top-ranked Wisdom Elites. Even Yun Qianshan was shocked by them as they stood together.

Yun Qianshan immediately said, "Oh, it's the Shi brothers. Forgive me for being rude just now. Please, come inside."

Shi Zhenxiang sighed coldly and said, "Where are the Origins you mentioned? You'll face severe consequences if you lie to us."

"That's right. We come from the third dimension. You shouldn't fool those who can come out alive from there," said someone else.

Yun Qianshan smiled and said, "Don't worry. Everything's prepared. The Origins Devouring Bugs are ready to depart anytime."

Shi Tainong smiled. "Origins Devouring Bugs? Legend has it that the existence of these bugs wasn't allowed in any of the dimensions since it can eat Origins. That's interesting."

"Everyone, many of our brothers and friends are in the hall. You can all head over there and socialize. A great, tasty meal awaits us," said Yun Qianshan.

"Haha! Alright, it has been ages since I've joined a party."

"I like to party, it's going to be very happening."

"I can't wait to see what the Origins from the seventh dimension looks like."

Meanwhile, in a secret room deep inside the Heaven Mystery Pavilion, Gu Ai, Gu Debai, and Gu Lei were standing together with the old pavilion master in front of them. The trio was asking for information about the seventh dimension. After all, the seventh dimension was too mysterious.

Their people did not look like they possessed great power but their planning was extremely thoughtful. In other words, there was someone behind them that was teaching them what to do. The mystery person must know and understand the seventh dimension very well since he knew how to steal its Origins. Despite the mystery man being very powerful, the trio represented the Eldritch clan and had a certain level of influence.

"My friend, as far as I know, the seventh dimension is an extraordinary place. Do you know any information about it?" asked Gu Ai. He needed to know more information so he could report back to Ancestor Eldritch.

"There's no point hiding it from you. The seventh dimension has an expert who has entered the state of the ultimate existence," replied the old pavilion master honestly.

Gu Debai's face suddenly changed as he said solemnly, "The Origins took physical forms and the ultimate existence became one with Wisdom!"

"No wonder!" Gu Ai took a deep breath and said, "No wonder the growth in the dimension surpassed our expectations. That's the reason behind it."

"It's a gamble of life and death for someone to become the ultimate existence in all of the dimensions," said Gu Lie.

"Hehe, it's definitely a gamble of life and death," the old pavilion master sneered and said, "And the truth is that he's going to lose because of me."

Gu Debai laughed, "Haha. The seventh dimension is doomed. Let's hurry and use the Origins Devouring Bugs to gather all the Origins from there."

"It's extraordinary how you could nurture the Origins Devouring Bugs," Gu Ai said as he glanced at the old pavilion master. Then, he walked out after bidding goodbye.

Gu Debai and Gu Lie followed him to a place with no one around and said, "It's a huge matter. Gu Debai, use the Cross Dimension Mirror and contact Ancestor Eldritch."

Gu Debai nodded and with the flip of his hand, the Cross Dimension Mirror appeared in his hand. As he used his mana, Wisdom started floating around the mirror as it started to contact the Eldritch.

Deep within the area of the Eldritch, Guhui's expression was not good. He was waiting for Gu Debai to send back the Origins of the seventh dimension. At the start, Gu Debai had frequently sent back some of the Origins a few times each day. The quantity was sufficient. Guhui felt relieved that Gu Debai did not let him down. Gu Debai was able to get his hand on the Origins of the seventh dimension and sent it back to him so he could happily enjoy it. He knew that one day he could accumulate enough of the Origins of the third dimension and rule the seven dimensions if he continued to eat the Origins. However, just when he was used to eating it every day, the deliveries suddenly stopped.

It was unacceptable. Guhui could not believe that Gu Debai failed to complete his mission. At that moment, he sensed that Gu Debai was contacting him through the Cross Dimension Mirror. He took it out with a big smile on his face. He waved his hand and the mirror flashed with Gu Debai on the other side.

Gu Debai greeted with respect, "Greetings, Ancestor Eldritch."

Guhui frowned and asked majestically, "What's going on? Why did you stop sending me the Origins over the last few days?"

"Ancestor Eldritch, something big happened. I went to the third dimension and discovered a big secret of the seventh dimension," said Gu Debai.

"The third dimension?" Guhui was astonished when he heard it. He said with disbelief "Is that real? How did the third dimension show up?"

"As real as gold. I even met Gu Ai there," said Gu Debai.

Gu Ai approached and appeared in the mirror. "Greetings, Ancestor Eldritch."

"Gu Ai! It's really you!" Guhui was surprised and happy. "Hurry and tell me what happened."

Gu Ai quickly told Guhui what happened. Not only did he mention the seventh dimension, but he had also told him about the situation in the fourth dimension. Guhui was more astonished than ever as he listened.

After listening to everything, Guhui took a deep breath and said, "I didn't expect that a portal to the third dimension would open in the seventh dimension and there's actually an expert who has entered the state of ultimate existence in the seventh dimension. No wonder it's so mysterious. And there are actually Origins Devouring Bugs that exist in the dimension? I guess the world's really changing dramatically. Interesting, very interesting indeed!"

Then, Guhui paused for a while and looked at the stone tablet beside him. He said, "As for the broken tree and Heaven..."

Suddenly, a frightening sound arose. The stone tablet suddenly shook violently. A wild and dangerous aura appeared and a shadow of a human figure appeared.

"Impossible! It's impossible! Nothing bad could've happened to Seventh Sister! There's no way she would become broken!"

Once the shadow appeared, the surrounding Wisdom tried hard to hide their existence. The shadow stared at Gu Ai and spoke coldly in a low tone, "You're lying!"

The cold eyes had an unexplainable strength that could penetrate the Cross Dimension Mirror, sending shocking pressure to Gu Ai. It made Gu Ai's heart beat rapidly and goosebumps appeared all over his body. It was as if the cold gaze could kill him. He was too terrified to talk.

Meanwhile, a gray mist appeared from the stone tablet and transformed into tentacles that wrapped around the shadow. It said happily, "Hehehe. Stop fooling yourself. All of you died in the second dimension and the willow tree died in the third dimension. Once you're all dead, that's it. Stop struggling and accept the truth."

The aura surrounding the shadow surged and broke apart the tentacles of the gray mist. It yelled, "That's impossible. We locked and contained your actual figure in the second dimension. That's no way you could hurt Seventh Sister!"

The stone tablet trembled as the shadow started to attack and struggle against the gray mist. In the meantime, Guhui ordered, "Gu Ai, show us so we can see it."

"Okay," Gu Ai nodded. He waved his hand and played the scenario where the willow tree fought against the gray mist. In the end, the willow tree broke and died together with the gray mist in the third dimension. Then the scene fast-forwarded, showing a white-haired monster and the scene where the people from the seventh dimension dug away the remains of the willow tree. Gu Ai knew what Ancestor Eldritch meant, so he purposely missed out the part where the seventh dimension helped out the broken willow tree.

"No! No!" the shadow screamed in sorrow as the sky and earth trembled. "Who are those people? Why did they dig away the remains of the Seventh Sister? Ahhhh!"

"They're the people from the seventh dimension. They said they wanted to burn down the broken tree and make it into wood ash," answered Gu Ai

The shadow trembled and said hopelessly, "Darn it! We didn't manage to protect you. Oh, Seventh Sister!"

The gray mist tangled up and covered the shadow and smiled weirdly. "The Battle Spirit Guardians are now in the past. Stop struggling. It's meaningless for you to continue to suppress me. Why don't you give up and relieve yourself now?"

The gray mist slowly dragged the shadow back to the stone tablet. Guhui witnessed all of it. He said to Gu Ai after it returned to its peaceful state, "Since there's an expert who has entered the state of the ultimate existence in the seventh dimension, you have to be extremely careful when devouring the Origins with the Origins Devouring Bugs. Remember to get a bigger share when you start to feast on the Origins."

"Don't worry, Ancestor Eldritch. We'll definitely have the bigger share and send it over to you then," replied Gu Ai respectfully.

"Very good. I'll be waiting for it. Remember, the quantity must be more than enough." Guhui nodded satisfactorily and waved his hand. "Okay, get going then."

The trio immediately accepted the order and went to complete the mission.

Meanwhile, at the four-part architecture, Nanan and Dragin were taking out the wooden pail as usual to feed the wild game animals.

Nanan knocked on the gong in her hand and said, "Come on over. To the newcomers, I'm going to explain the rules now. This will be your food in the future."

The bunch of wild game animals were stunned but they still gathered together obediently. They were very curious and were thinking about how their manure could contain the Origins.

'The expert captured us to gather the fertilizer gold, but it's impossible for us to have droppings that contain the Origins. Is there something magical about that pit? Could it be that once we poop inside it, our droppings would magically contain Origins?' thought the wild game animals.

After the explanation from Nanan and Dragin, they finally understood and looked at the wooden pail with affection.

"It's way beyond my imagination. Our food contains Origins in it!"

"The expert treats us so well. We would forever be grateful for the love and care from the expert."

"So this is the treatment we get for being wild game animals? I must say I'm loving it."

"Why didn't you tell us sooner? If you did, we would've just followed you here voluntarily."

"Thank you very much. I can't tell you how grateful I feel to be captured by you to receive such treatment."

"I finally made it! I finally succeeded from eating poop to eating proper food!"

"This tastes so good. Smells good, too!"

The bunch of wild game animals happily consumed their food. They rested for a while after finishing their meals. After that, they started to work on their first shift. Since it was their first time, they were exceptionally hard-working. They wanted to leave a good impression so they would not be slaughtered.

At that moment, all of them were surrounding the big pit and doing their business. One of the Chao Three-legged Crows suddenly remembered and reminded everyone, "Oh yeah, I need to remind all of you that Yun Qianshan and his group would come and steal our poop. When that time comes, we'll need to defend it."

"Don't worry. We'll protect it at all cost," said the other wild game animals.

The Crow King sneered and said, "I'll eat all of them if they dare to come here. Don't forget that we're born to be experts in eating bugs!"

"The Crow King's right!"

As everyone was feeling ambitious, the space above them suddenly twisted and a group of Origins Devouring Bugs appeared, heading straight toward the pit. They targeted the manure menacingly. All the wild game animals sensed something and looked into the sky. They suddenly had goosebumps and even the Crow King who was very confident showed fear on his face.

The sky was full of the Origins Devouring Bugs like huge gray clouds. The bugs dived into the pit. No one would be able to withstand it.

"Oh gosh. How many Origins Devouring Bugs are there? This is crazy!"

"They're too ridiculous for stealing our hard work in broad daylight."

"That jerk, Yun Qianshan. Did he go crazy?"

"If all of our hard work is stolen, the expert will be displeased with us all. They're trying to force us to our deaths!"

"Hurry up, everyone. Remain alert and protect the fertilizer gold!"

"Let's battle it out with the bugs!"

The bunch of wild game animals roared as they searched for weapons to defend the hole. All of the Chaos Three-legged Crows flapped their wings and used their beaks to peck on the bugs. However, there were too many bugs and most of them managed to break through their defenses and enter the pit. Within a moment, the hole was covered with a layer of bugs. The wild game animals roared nervously. The scene was in an absolutely chaotic situation.

"Ah! No! Give me back the fertilizer gold!"

"You bunch of thieves. Stop moving!"

"Yun Qianshan, do you know that you're eating my fertilizer gold? Stop immediately. This is for your own good!"

"Stop stealing so much of it at one time! This is too ridiculous!"

Over a short time, the first battle ended with the Origins Devouring Bugs claiming their victory. The wild game animals were outnumbered. The Origins Devouring Bugs had stolen quite a huge amount of the manure from the hole.

"D*mn it. What should we tell the expert?"

"Where did Yun Qianshan gather so many people? He's out of his mind!"

"That's enough. Let's continue with our business. Even if we're dehydrated from it, we still have to complete today's mission!"

Chapter 729: The Insecticide, Trouble Knocking on Lord Angel's Door

In the four-part architecture, Daji and Fire Phoenix were cooking. They were the perfect combination of fire and ice and were able to cook any dish, ranging from iced drinks, sashimi, seafood, grilled barbecue, stir-fry, stew, and special ingredients that required both ice and fire.

It was just a matter of them raising their hands and the dish would be done. After Li Nianfan's teaching during this period, they had become very adept at cooking with ice and fire. Whenever they raised their hands, they also had the demeanor of the Food God. The most important thing was that their movements were elegant and beautiful, like Goddesses cooking which was pleasing to the eye.

Their looks alone made the dishes they cooked a rare delicacy in the world and with Li Nianfan's teaching and Xiao Bai's assistance, their cooking skills had far surpassed those of the Food God.

Not far away, Shi Tuqin and Qin Manyun looked at Daji and Fire Phoenix with admiration and envy. Since entering the four-part architecture, they had been by Li Nianfan's side. Everyone had been baptized by Wisdom all the time. An occasional teaching or casual words from Li Nianfan was enough to benefit them a lot and help them realize their enlightenment.

Not to mention the treatment they got. From the food that they ate to the rooms that they slept in, they all were filled with mysterious opportunities for them to enhance the affinity of Wisdom.

Therefore, the growth of power was almost unimaginable and they had progressed to a level they never once imagined they could reach. However, although their progress was very fast, they were still far behind Daji and Fire Phoenix.

Qin Manyun was only walking the path of the Guqin and Shi Tuqin was walking the path of art, but Daji and Fire Phoenix, in addition to their ice and firepower, were also learning yoga, cooking, chess, and more. In other words, the powers that Daji and Fire Phoenix had gained and mastered were much more than theirs. In fact, it would not be far-fetched to say they were all-mighty.

Under the baptism of these different powers, the power superimposed on each other was undoubtedly very terrifying, and the strength of Daji and Fire Phoenix obviously pushed them farther and farther ahead of the rest.

Qin Manyun sighed softly. "Sure enough, even though we're also following the expert, there still exists a gap in talent between people."

Shi Tuqin glanced at Li Nianfan secretly, cheeks slightly red as she muttered, "Sister Daji and Sister Fire Phoenix have more important baptisms than us every night. That's probably the key."

On the other side, in the pavilion.

Li Nianfan was relaxing very leisurely. He did not have to worry about anything and was playing chess with Little Fox.

"Checkmate!" said Li Nianfan with a smile.

"What?!" Little Fox was dumbfounded when she glanced at the chess game.

"Brother Li, when did you put your rook here?"

"No, your rook is dangerous. Put it back there."

Little Fox began to put Li Nianfan's chess piece back, as usual.

"Alright, we'll have it your way," said Li Nianfan. He really did not mind her doing that at all.

Little Fox bit her lip and stared at the chessboard, frowning as she found that the situation was completely insoluble.

Looking up at Li Nianfan pitifully, she said coquettishly, "Brother Li, your rook's too powerful. Why don't you give it to me?"

"How many times has this been? How about I just let you win?" said Li Nianfan with a bitter smile.

"But I've never won before so I never got to experience the sweet taste of victory," said Little Fox unhappily.

"Don't worry, it's not because you're too weak. I'm just too strong. You'll definitely win if it's another opponent," said Li Nianfan with a smile.

At this time, Dragon and Nanan walked in carrying the wooden bucket—they were frowning, their unhappiness apparent.

"What's wrong?" asked Li Nianfan curiously.

Dragon pouted and said miserably, "There's too little fertilizer gold."

"How could it be? Are the animals not working hard?" asked Li Nianfan in surprise.

"It's those pesky bugs! They've been stealing our fertilizer gold," said Nanan angrily.

"What? Could it be dung beetles you're talking about?" asked Li Nianfan with an arched brow.

Logically speaking, dung beetles did not hunt in groups but this was the cultivating realm of immortals they were in, so anything could be possible. Heck, he would not even be surprised if the dung beetles could take on human forms. The question was...why were they targeting the game animal's manure?

"What should we do, Brother Li? They come quite often. It's so annoying!" said Dragin.

"Don't panic. They're only bugs," said Li Nianfan comfortingly. Then, he went into the utility room.

Afterward, there was a familiar sound of items moving around. Soon, the sound stopped, and Li Nianfan walked out of the utility room with a transparent glass bottle in his hand. In the bottle, there was a transparent liquid that looked like water. A white label was pasted on the bottle with large black letters spelling 'insecticide', coupled with a skull symbol above the word. Apart from that, there were no other details on the bottle, which made it look relatively low-end. Li Nianfan obviously disliked it. The packaging was not really that good, but since it was delivered by the system back then, it should not be a fake. He would have forgotten all about it if it was not for the bugs.

"What is this, Brother Li?" asked Nanan curiously.

"This is an insecticide, which is specially used to eliminate bugs. Pour this into the big pit and it should kill the bugs if they ever come again," said Li Nianfan.

"We'll do just that, Brother Li." Nanan and Dragin's eyes lit up, their faces glowing in excitement. They could not wait to see the bugs get what they deserved.

Outside the four-part architecture, the game animals were anxiously waiting for Nanan and Dragin to come back. The game animals were afraid that they would be turned into meat rolls because they did not complete their mission for the day. Compared to before, they had all lost some weight and were looking a little haggard.

They quickly looked toward the door when they heard a creaking sound.

"Goddesses, we really did try our best. Look, we've even lost some weight but they were all stolen by those pesky bugs."

"Those bugs are really greedy! They came seven times today! Tell me who can withstand so many attacks in one day?"

"I swear it's not because we're lazy. We're really at our limits. "

"Goddess, is the expert angry? Please, tell him it's really not our fault!"

They all spoke at the same time, panicked and anxious.

"That's enough. Brother Li's given us something to deal with the bugs!" said Nanan. Then, she and Dragin walked to the big pit together and poured the bottle of insecticide into it.

"This is an insecticide, a little something for our guests," said Dragin.

'Insecticide? Isn't that poison? They're putting poison in the manure?' The expressions of the wild game suddenly became weird as they silently mourned for Yun Qianshan and the others in their hearts.

Nanan and Dragin went back to the four-part architecture after completing their task.

At this time, Daji and Fire Phoenix had just taken off their aprons and were each holding a plate. "Master, dinner's ready!" they said with smiles on their faces.

"Hahaha, I can't wait to try both of my lovely wives' dishes," said Li Nianfan happily while taking a seat at the table.

There were five dishes in total—deep-fried pork knuckle, braised three-legged crow, scrambled eggs with chives, braised eggplant, and fish head tofu soup. They were all classic cuisines.

Li Nianfan first scooped a spoonful of fish soup and drank it. Daji and Fire Phoenix were staring at Li Nianfan, full of expectations, hoping to get Li Nianfan's approval.

Li Nianfan closed his eyes, savored it carefully, and said with a smile, "The soup's milky white and there's a delicious milky fragrance to it. Did you put milk in it? Not bad, not bad at all. Your cooking's restaurant-worthy."

Daji's eyes lit up slightly and she said cheerfully, "I'm just glad you like it. If you want, we can make it for you every day."

"Try the fish meat, Master," said Fire Phoenix.

"Is there something special about it?" asked Li Nianfan.

"Master, I helped a little with this dish. Before slaughtering the fish and ducks, I played some music for them, letting them immerse themselves in the music so they would relax and die happily. Therefore, you'll find that there's a taste of joy in their meat," said Qin Manyun.

"Bravo. I'm impressed that the three of you came up with this method," praised Li Nianfan.

"We owe it all to you," said the three girls happily.

Nanan and Dragin breathed in the smell of the food deeply and said, "Brother Li, Brother Li, can we have some, too?"

"Sure, but let me check if you've done your homework first. Did you memorize the poem for today?" asked Li Nianfan.

"Yes!" Dragon and Nanan nodded in unison. "While I was concentrating on studying, unknowingly spring's over, every inch of time is as precious as an inch of gold. Had I not been interrupted by the laughter of the passing pedestrians, I would've delved into the essence and teachings of Confucius."

"Good. I can tell you really put a lot of effort into memorizing it," said Li Nianfan while nodding approvingly.

Then, Shi Tuqin took out her painting and showed it to Li Nianfan for inspection, which she passed with flying colors.

"Okay, you may all eat."

"Yay! Let's dig in!"

"I want some pork knuckle."

"Whoa! This tofu's so smooth. It's like water. Yum!"

Instantly, the sound of happiness filled the entire four-part architecture.

At the same time, in the Heaven Mystery Pavilion, it was equally as lively. Everyone looked at the Origins of the third dimension that had just been transported with faces full of excitement.

"Let's dig in, everybody!"

"Don't mind if I do!"

While eating, Gu Ai suddenly asked Yun Qianshan, "None of the angels from the fourth dimension came?"

Yun Qianshan nodded and said, "Yeah, I don't know what Tianhua's thinking. He's refused us so many times. So much for wanting to do a good thing for him."

Gu Ai frowned and his eyes flickered slightly. "We have to speed up the progress. Go and invite him again. Make sure he's here the next time! He might be hiding something."

"Hiding something?" Yun Qianshan was taken aback. "What do you think he's hiding?"

"Haha, beats me but don't you find it odd that he doesn't want to join us? Who here can resist the temptation of the Origins. Yes, it's smelly but we're talking about the Origins for crying out loud," said Gu Ai.

"Well, now that you've mentioned it... He was really firm on his answer. In fact, he was avoiding it like the plague," said Yun Qianshan with a thoughtful look on his face.

"There's definitely something wrong with that guy!" said Gu Debai.

"We should force him to tell us the reason and we can always kill him if he doesn't want to tell us," said Gu Lie.

After the meal, Gu Debai took out the Cross Dimension Mirror and transmitted the share that belonged to Gu Hui, which he received appreciatively.

Three days passed quietly this way. However, Lord Angel still did not come, and everyone gradually got impatient.

"Let's go to the angel's palace!" said Gu Ai coldly. He then took a step into the void and took the lead in the charge. Yun Qianshan and others also rose into the air and headed straight for the palace.

After a short while, the palace appeared in front of them and the white Angel's Light surrounded the sky. A tsunami of aura burst from Gu Ai's body like a roaring fierce beast, charging straight at the palace.

Above the palace, the sky seemed to be collapsing. An extremely powerful sense of oppression enveloped all the angels with horror.

"Tianhua, I've already tried my best to persuade you, and yet, you still won't come!" Yun Qianshan also rushed over, his mana was thunderous and his voice reverberated over the temple.

Lord Angel, War Angel, and the other angels flew out of the palace, suspended in the void, watching Gu Ai vigilantly.

"Aren't you all being a little too overbearing? I don't want to fight over the seventh dimension's Origins with you all so why do you have to force me like this?" said Lord Angel coldly.

"This isn't a question of whether you want to or not, but we want you to share it with us. I'll ask you one last time, are you going to join us?" asked Gu Ai.

'No way am I eating that poop!' he thought, unable to say it out loud. He never expected that this group of people would force him to join their party. How was this different from forcing people to eat poop? Moreover, this matter concerned the expert, making it even more impossible for him to do so.

He shook his head and said, "The answer's no."

"Do you know something that we don't? Is this why you're being so stubborn? What does the seventh dimension have to do with you?" asked Yun Qianshan coldly. Suddenly, his eyes flashed and he continued, "By the way, I just noticed that all of your angels are actually bald! What happened? Why have you all stripped off your feathers?"

"It's none of your business," said War Angel coldly.

"It looks like we've hit upon something. Oh well, it's not important now because you're all going down!" said Gu Debai domineeringly.

As he spoke, he suddenly raised his hand and launched a punch at Lord Angel. This fist was made from the condensed energy of Wisdom, giving it the ability to travel through time and space. It turned into a vortex and instantly arrived in front of Lord Angel with a terrifying destructive force.

Lord Angel snorted and neutralized it with a punch of his own.

"How dare you behave so impudently when you're the only second-step Wisdom Elite in the entire clan of angels? Die!"

Chapter 730: The Quest for the Antidote, A Struggle of Life and Death

"This is the end for the Angel Clan!"

"Kill them all!" shouted everyone and the violent coercion slammed on the angels.

Only Lord Angel was a second-step Wisdom Elite in the Angel Clan and there was a limited number of Wisdom Elites, too. On the other hand, there were many strong fighters in Yun Qianshan's group, making them unstoppable. The difference in combat power between the two groups was just too big of a gap to cross. One only had to imagine a lake and an ocean to know just how vast the difference was.

"Stay alert, everyone and bring out your head wreaths!" said Lord Angel. He raised his hand, and a head wreath slowly floated in the air, before landing on the top of his head and transforming into a glowing halo.

In an instant, Wisdom was flowing downstream, and the oppressive influence from the Eldtrichs and others was blown away by the wind. Moreover, the overflowing Angel's Light contained a trace of Origins aura. It was not just him, but a halo appeared on the heads of all the angels, and they were bathed in brilliant, dazzling light.

Gu Ai's pupils shrank rapidly as he said with shock, "Is this...the Origins?"

Gu Debai took a deep breath and said, "Everyone has an Origins halo protecting them. Where have they been hiding the halos all this time?"

"So that's why you rejected my offer so many times! How did you do it? Tell me how you got the Origins imbued on your feather!" asked Yun Qianshan, eyes green with jealousy. He finally knew why the angels were all bald. It turned out that they had exchanged their feathers for the head wreaths.

"Tell us how we can get the Origins on our feathers, too!"

"I want to be bald too!" said the other demons.

Lord Angel smiled coldly and said, "The fur on your demon's body is inferior to our feathers! They're not worthy to be stained with Origins."

"Why you... Die!" The demons roared angrily, and together, they shot at the angels.

"Just because you have the halo doesn't give you the right to be so cocky!" The Eldritchs raised their hands to suppress Lord Angel.

"You're acting like you're the only person with Origins. Why, I'll show you!" Gu Ai smiled coldly and raised his right hand. This arm had been tempered into a hand of the Origins, like the hand of God, containing unparalleled power. The power was close to a third-step Wisdom Elite's power.

The void exploded, the entire sky turned into chaos, and a heavy vortex appeared, as if about to engulf the world. Wisdom was shaking, and the law of the universe was annihilated.

"The Angel's Light never extinguishes as it purifies the universe!" Lord Angel gave a cold cry, and all the angels rose into the sky. The halo on their heads floated up and gathered in the void, turning them into a huge light curtain.

Outside the light curtain, the magical powers of the Eldritchs and others roared like a violent wind, driving a multitude of visions that were frantically attacking the light curtain. The two forces were intertwined, each trying to wipe out the other.

Gu Debai's eyes showed a strange light and he was shocked. "This halo's so extraordinary, it can purify our attacks!"

Gu Ai nodded and said. "They are far from our strength, but they can do this with the help of the head wreaths. It's really extraordinary."

Gu Lie said, "What I really want to know is the nature of their relationship with the seventh dimension. Where did they get the head wreaths, and...why don't they want to consume the Origins of the seventh dimension?"

The faces of Lord Angel and War Angel were strife with the struggles of keeping their mouths shut. 'Why won't we consume the Origins from the seventh dimension? If only you knew..."

"Tianhua, I never thought that you'd keep such a big secret from me. You've forced my hands into this! Die, all you angels!" roared Yun Qianshan. His tone was full of murderous aura and his mana surged as he prepared to cast out a Wisdom ultimate spell.

However, the next moment, his body trembled suddenly, and then a mouthful of blood came out as a black aura suddenly appeared between his eyebrows. His eyes filled with confusion as he wondered what was going on with him.

His pupils suddenly dilated, revealing a deep look of horror. He could feel that his mana was trembling, and his Origins of Life was actually fading quickly. How could it be when he was the mighty second-step Wisdom Elite who had surpassed the boundaries of life and death? There was no coming back from this once his Origins of Life were all gone. He could not even imagine how this could come to be.

He seemed to be the first sign of what was to come, for immediately above the void, each of the intruders started to spew a mouthful of blood, causing them to be filled with confusion and fear.

Lord Angel was also slightly taken aback when he saw this scene. 'I haven't done anything at all! Am I really that powerful?'

"What's going on? The Origins of my life is dissipating!"

"No! We've been poisoned! But how could this be?"

"Impossible, how can such poison exist in the world? This is beyond the rules of heaven and earth!"

"It's over. If this goes on, we will definitely die! Is this how it feels to die?"

"It must be the Origins from the seventh dimension! There must be something wrong with it!"

"No wonder the angels didn't want to eat it! They must have known that there is a problem with the Origins from there!"

Everyone kept shouting over each other, and for a while, panic spread among them.

Gu Ai glanced at Lord Angel and then said, "We shouldn't delay anymore. Let's hurry to the seventh dimension!"

"Yes, we need the antidote!"

"We'll kill them if they don't give us the antidote."

They immediately turned around with no more thoughts of annihilating the angels and hurriedly made their way to the portal. Fighting against the angels would only make the toxins in their bodies spread faster so they chose to spend that energy in finding the antidote instead. After all, there was nothing more important than one's own life.

Lord Angel and War Angel looked at each other, with a trace of complexity in their eyes.

"It seems that the expert has done something to the Origins they were consuming," said War Angel.

"Yes, a brilliant move I must say," said Lord Angel, overcome with emotions.

"I didn't expect that not only did they eat poop, but they also poisoned the poop, which is really amazing."

"We should be grateful to him for saving the Angel Clan once again," said War Angel.

"You're right. Let's head over to the Heavenly Palace to warn them so they can stop them," said Lord Angel. The two of them immediately flew toward the portal, too.

In their current situation, the Eldritchs and the others were like desperados, meaning they would do all sorts of crazy things to save themselves, so they must be taken care of.

The Eldritchs and others had already entered the portal and arrived at the seventh dimension. They wasted no time in going straight to the Area of the Gods.

"The seventh dimension's despicable! How dare they use poison against us? If I die, I'll make every one of them go down with me!" shouted Gu Ai. His voice bellowed like thunder, igniting the Wisdom ocean and forming a turbulent flow to the surroundings. Immediately, countless stars in the chaos shattered, and even a small world was blown up with the creatures living there annihilated.

"There's an expert in the seventh dimension who has entered the state of the ultimate existence but I'm sure we can definitely break his state if we attack together!" said Yun Qianshan in a low voice.

"You're going down, seventh dimension!" shouted Shi Zhengxiang.

They roared vigorously and cockily. Filled with the aura of destruction, they disrupted the seventh dimension's Wisdom and killed many beings along the way.

Soon, they entered the Area of the Gods. Just as they were preparing to continue their destruction all the way to the Fallen Immortal Mountain, a dazzling and majestic golden light came rushing in from the distance.

It was the team from the Heavenly Palace, followed by 100,000 thousand Heavenly Soldiers and Generals. They were all looking at the intruders with solemn expressions.

"Halt! The seventh dimension doesn't welcome the likes of you. Get out of here!" said Cultivator Junjun.

"Hehe, it's you guys!" Gu Ai recognized some of them and said coldly, "We've been poisoned by the seventh dimension. Give us the antidote and we'll withdraw but be prepared to feel our wrath if you don't hand it over!"

"We don't have the antidote but don't think we'll let you destroy the seventh dimension either!" said Yang Jing.

"Hahaha, there isn't even a second-step Wisdom Elite among you people, and you still dare say such big words? Don't make me laugh!" said Gu Debai mockingly.

"We shouldn't waste our breath on them! We should just kill them!" said Gu Lie.

"Even if we're in cahoots with them?" At this time, Lord Angel and War Angel had already joined the Heavenly Palace team and were looking at the intruders coldly.

"Tianhua, you're a citizen of the fourth dimension, do you really plan to join forces with them?" asked Yun Qianshan.

"Yes! You've done many evil deeds and you should be punished! Death is your destination," said Lord Angel.

The aura of the two sides intertwined in the void, making the sound of explosions, mana rising like flames, pushing everyone into the verge of a big battle.

Suddenly, several figures came slowly from the distance. They walked in step by step over a path made up of moonlight. The group consisted of a dog, two girls, and a beautiful and seductive woman.

Many demons lost their minds when they saw the beautiful woman as if they had never seen such a beautiful woman before. They were deeply attracted to her and wanted to surrender to her charm.

On the contrary, the Eldtrichs' hearts were beating wildly as they immediately became extremely nervous. 'Oh no! They're here!'

Unsurprisingly, they still remembered everything that happened in the third dimension. They would not even have come to the seventh dimension if it was not for the matter of life and death.

"What are you all doing? What's up with all the noise pollution? Don't you know it's the middle of the night right now?" shouted Blackie.

"Yeah! You all deserve to die for disrupting Brother Li's sleep!" said Nanan coldly.

"You brought this onto yourself from the moment you decided to poison us!" said Yun Qianshan in a low voice.

"Ha! I can't believe you're blaming us for that. You wouldn't have been poisoned if you didn't steal the animal's poop!" said Dragin.

"Steal...poop?" Yun Qianshan thought he heard wrong. 'What's wrong with them? When did I ever steal poop?'

The others were dumbfounded as well.

"Yes, poop! Don't play dumb!" Dragin swiped her hand across the void, and the ripples turned into a water mirror, playing the scene of the Origins Devouring Bug rushing into the big pit.

Looking at what happened on the screen, the Eldritchs and others fell silent for a while. Then, blood began to gradually become congested in their eyes as they trembled with a sense of despair.

"No! We've been eating poop all this while?!"

"This can't be happening? This is what the fourth dimension has been feeding us? Those are not Origins Devouring Bugs but Poop Devouring Bugs!"

"Yun Qianshan, why would you feed us something like this when we hold no grudge toward each other?"

"The most important thing is that there's poison in this poop! It's cruel! Where's the justice in all this?"

"I, I, I...blerghhhh!"

Their brains exploded, Dao Hearts collapsed, and a few of them went crazy on the spot. The mighty Wisdom Elites died of poisoning because of eating poop... This was absolutely a precedent in all of the seven dimensions.

"How dare the seventh dimension play us like this?!" Gu Ai's voice was trembling, his eyes were tearful, and his emotions were on the verge of collapse. Suddenly, a far worse thought came to his mind—a lot of the poop was sent to Ancestor Eldritch, meaning to say that he was poisoned as well!

'I can't believe that even you, Ancestor Eldritch, could not see past the seventh dimension's trick. I regret putting my faith in you...' The tall and glorious image of Ancestor Eldritch suddenly collapsed in his heart.

After a long silence, Gu Debai said, "The poop isn't the point right now. What we want is the antidote!" There was no use crying over spilled milk.

"He's right! Whether it's food or poop, it's just a different form of existence. Everything's equal in my eyes. All food becomes poop in the end," said Gu Lie.

As soon as these words were said, everyone else seemed to be comforted and immediately felt much better.

The expressions of the Heavenly Palace people suddenly became weird. They had to admire the poop-eaters ability to comfort themselves.

Xiao Chengfeng sighed and said, "I always thought that when it comes to talking bullsh*t, I'm the best, but compared to you, I'm completely nothing. Your mentality's really up there! So much so that I don't mind passing on to you the title of 'King of Bullshit!'

Gu Ai gritted his teeth and said, "Stop talking nonsense and hand over the antidote!" A murderous aura exploded from his body and rose into the sky as if he was going to attack them at any moment.

Little Fox stepped forward and blinked innocently at them. "You can have the antidote, but you'll have to play chess with me first. I'll give you the antidote if you win," she said melodiously.

She had been losing to Li Nianfan in chess, and desperately needed to find a sense of accomplishment from others. That was why she rushed over tonight.

Gu Ai's eyes narrowed, and he immediately said, "You promise?"

Little Fox nodded and said, "Yeah, of course."

Gu Ai laughed and said, "Hahaha, good! I accept your challenge! Chess is my strong suit. How should we play it?"

Little Fox flicked her wrist and a chessboard appeared in her hand. Then, she tossed the chessboard into the sky. The chessboard glowed brilliantly and merged with the sky.
